Coal Strike May Last 6 Weeks Industrial Paralysis Grows

Keir Hardie Looks for Triumph of Men Within 10 Days, But Advises Preparation for Long Siege—200,000 Factory Workers Idle.

LONDON, March 4.—(Can. Press.)—It is quite impossible to hazard a guess as to the probable duration of the coal strike. James Keir Hardie, the independent labor member of parliament, expresses the opinion that the strike will end in a triumph for the miners within ten days, but that the men will be prepared to remain on strike for six weeks.

Premier Asquith's statement in the house of commons today gave no new information and was only interesting as showing that the government had not lost hope of bringing the disputants together.

A report was received from Derbyshire of a movement on the part of the miners in the midland counties to bring about an amicable arrangement with the mine owners. Such a partial settlement is hardly probable, but if it really came about, it would do much towards effecting a general settlement.

Like a Creeping Paralysis
The coal strike is now affecting every class of the community. Tens of thousands of workers have been dismissed, and the railway service is dislocated and disorganized. Like creeping paralysis, the stoppage of the coal supply is threatening the whole life of the nation. The miners are making holiday. The are, as they put it, "having their fling" while the nation suffers, the poor go cold and hungry, and their fellow-workers are turned into the streets.

Factory after factory is closing down all over the United Kingdom as a result of the national coal strike, and those responsible for the trouble are simply marking time for the present, altho it is expected that negotiations will soon be resumed.

Besides the miners, considerably over a million of whom have ceased work, it is now estimated that there are upwards of 200,000 workers in other industries idle owing to the strike, and this number is being added to hourly.

The crews of coal-carrying vessels lying in the coaling ports are now being discharged, as the ships are unable to get cargoes, and the railroad employees are suffering in a similar way because of curtailment by the various companies of their train services. One short railroad line in Yorkshire has discontinued working entirely.

Fell in French Ports
PARIS, March 4.—(Can. Press.)—The effects of the British coal strike are beginning to be felt at the French channel ports. The transportation companies announce that they will not guarantee the arrival of freight and from England. Passenger service is partially suspended by way of Boulogne and Folkestone, and will also be restricted by way of Dieppe and Newhaven. In the event of the strike continuing all freight and passenger services between Saint Malo and Southampton will be suspended. As a consequence most of the dock workers at Saint Malo and Saint Servan will be out of employment.

The price of coal at Cherbourg has risen $1 a ton.
CANADA A BARGAIN COUNTER:
MONTREAL, March 4.—(Special.)—The big European financial houses of Lazare Brothers, with offices in London and Paris, will open up here shortly. In the meantime their Canadian representative, Mr. Frederick Perry, left this evening for Winnipeg, via Toronto to spy out the western land. Mr. Perry says that Canada is the best bargain counter of the world.

MORE RAILWAY LINES ARE NEEDED

G. T. Somers, President of Toronto Board of Trade, Says West is Growing so Fast That Railways Cannot Keep Up With Development, and More Outlets Are Needed.

"Every day a few more miles are added to Canada's railway system in the west. Despite this enormous development the railways cannot cope with the problem of handling the immense growth of grain. What is needed most of all by the prairie farmers is an outlet in the east and west for their wheat. More railway lines north of Lake Superior is the main essential."

Returned from a four weeks' visit in the west, George T. Somers, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, spoke to The World yesterday regarding the knotty problem of transportation facilities.

Mr. Somers stated that the west was growing and becoming populated too rapidly for the railways. They could not keep up with the pace. More Americans from the south were flooding the Canadian west this year than ever before, and they were taking up land. Easterners were flocking to the country west of the Red River in greater numbers. And all this expansion meant greater need of more transportation lines.

More Outlets.
"The network of lines on the prairies themselves is a great help," said Mr. Somers. "But what is needed principally are outlets for the grain. The prevalence of present conditions means delay and loss of money to the farmers."

He said there was more optimism this year regarding the possibilities of better crops in the spring and autumn than in all his experience with western conditions. The spring crops looked especially good and the yield will be greatly in excess, if weather conditions are favorable, over those of previous years. He thought that the majority were making money, and few farmers were suffering financially to any extent. The extension of the C. N. R. and G. T. P. meant a great boon to the country.

Fake Real Estate.
He was very outspoken in denunciation of the tactics of real estate "sharks" in advertising alleged good property in cities and towns, which are located far from the hives of business activity and away out in the suburbs. "One great harm that is being done the west is the wild-cattling schemes of some real estate men," he said. He considered that their methods were far worse and more deteriorating to the country than any crookedness that ever had been perpetrated in Cobalt.

People's Vote to Decide Naval Policy.

OTTAWA, March 4.—(Special.)—In answer to a question by A. A. Mondou (Yamaska), Right Hon. R. L. Borden this afternoon replied: "After such consideration and enquiry as may be necessary, the government will present its naval policy to parliament and to the people. That policy will undoubtedly require legislation which will involve the repeal of the present Naval Service Act. In the meantime, that act will remain on the statute book for purposes in connection with the fishery protection service and otherwise. Before any permanent naval policy is put into force, the people will be given an opportunity to pronounce upon it."

The house, he told P. E. Lamarche (Nicolet), would not be given an opportunity to discuss or declare itself on the resolution of Albert Sevigny (Dorchester) in favor of the repeal of the Laurier naval bill, because there were so many applications for the consideration of resolutions on public bills and orders that it would unduly delay the work of the house to accede to such a request.

LAURIER'S BOMB JUST MERE SOUB

In Debate on Manitoba Boundary Settlement, the Burning School Issue Was Studiously Avoided—Sir Wilfrid Kept Aloof, and is Apparently Playing Waiting Game.

OTTAWA, March 4.—(Special.)—The Manitoba boundaries bill was introduced by Premier Borden today for a second reading, and the debate which was expected to set off a series of fireworks was almost as tame and as dull as the discussion on the grain act. There was not a breath in regard to the school question by either side.

That the opposition to the measure is petering out is shown by the very evident lack of enthusiasm displayed by the Liberals and the very perfunctory line of argument which was followed. The attack was surprisingly weak and that there was dissension in the Liberal ranks over the measure, was stated by your correspondent, was shown by the small opposition attendance and general lack of interest.

Critics Were at Odds.
Entirely different lines of argument were followed by the Liberal critics. Hon. William Pugsley complained that Manitoba was getting too much and submitted that there should be a conference of the provincial premiers before the matter was finally settled. Hon. Frank Oliver, on the other hand, thought that Manitoba was getting the worst of it in handing back her provincial swamp lands, tho he finally wound up by accusing the Dominion

MRS. DAVIDGE ON DEATHBED SAID HUSBAND SENT HER TO DR. HAWKE FOR OPERATION

Coroner's Jury Returned a Verdict Holding the Fugitive Medical Man Responsible for the Woman's Death—Auto-Mortem Statement Read, in Which Dying Woman Told of Paying $25 for Operation Which Cost Her Life.

Dr. B. E. Hawke, a fugitive from justice, was held responsible for the death of Mrs. Esther Davidge at the inquest conducted by Coroner Dr. W. A. Young in the morgue last night. Several witnesses were heard touching upon the circumstances connected with the death of the 22-year-old wife of William Davidge, who died in the Western Hospital on Sunday afternoon after an illness of two weeks.

The verdict returned by the jury was: "That Mrs. Esther Davidge came to her death on or about Sunday, March 3, as a result of blood-poisoning, caused by an illegal operation by Dr. B. E. Hawke of 21 Wellesley-street."

William Smith, member of the board of education, was foreman of the jury. Five physicians were called and gave corroborative testimony regarding the circumstances, and woman's ante-mortem statement, incriminating Dr. Hawke was produced. William Davidge, the husband, who is now in custody, was not called, but was represented by J. R. H. Starr, K.C.

Addressing the jury before its retirement, Coroner Young said: "The chain of evidence is complete. It is shown that this woman went to Dr. Hawke and paid him $25 for an operation, which was performed. He used instruments. A day or two after she had a miscarriage and died as a result."

Commenting on Davidge's connection with the case, if any, the coroner said: "According to the law, if he is an accomplice to an illegal act, he is in the same position as the principal in the case."

Ante-Mortem Statement.
George Angus, the official stenographer, who took the ante-mortem statement from the woman, then testified. He said the statement was made in the hearing of Jacob Cohen, J.P., Dr. W. Charlton and Miss Laura Burton, a nurse, in the Western Hospital two days before her death. Dr. Harrington asked the questions.

Mrs. Davidge knew she was dying. Asked why she was dying, she answered: "For murdering my baby and the act committed by Dr. Hawke." She said Dr. Hawke had used an instrument and committed a criminal operation. She did not see the instrument, but heard it. "Will sent me there," she said, and "Will gave her the money, $25. After the operation, the pains never ceased. Asked if she got a receipt, she answered in the negative, and also that she had never seen Hawke afterwards. She said: "Will had sent her to Dr. Hawke's house. Asked for the identity of "Will," she said it was her husband. She couldn't remember what night she had gone to the house, but it was after seven o'clock. Her husband and herself had agreed that she should see Hawke after seeing his ad in a newspaper.

Dr. Hannah Emily Reid of 830 West Bloor-street said she first attended Mrs. Davidge at her home, 55 Hilton-avenue, on Friday, Feb. 23. The patient was fully dressed and lying on a bed. Mrs. Davidge said she had caught a cold and had fallen on the ice. She was suffering abdominal pain, was nauseated and sick in the stomach. Her temperature was 104 degrees, and the physician thought she had contracted influenza, as she detected no suspicious circumstances in connection with the case. The doctor saw her again the following day, and the woman was suffering intense agony. During the days following she became worse and rallied several times and the temperature varied. A miscarriage had taken place.
"Did she make a statement wherein any other party was mentioned?" asked Coroner Young.
"I trusted the girl, having attended her during two of her confinements," said Dr. Reid. "In this case, I never suspected anything. On Wednesday morning last week she seemed a little better. I questioned her and asked her if she had taken anything about which she had not informed me. She called me to her bedside and said that Dr. Hawke had caused an abortion. That was all she said."
Dr. Reid said she had informed the husband, William Davidge, regarding the seriousness of his wife's illness and suggested calling in a consultant. Davidge mentioned the name of Dr. Hawke. Dr. Reid, not knowing Dr. Hawke, called in Dr. H. T. Mitchell.
Dr. S. M. Hay of Palmerston-boulevard was called in on Wednesday, Feb. 28, by the woman's father, A. Cunningham. When he made a diagnosis of the case he realized that Mrs. Davidge could have no chance of recovery. He questioned her as to what brought on the poisoning.
"When I asked her she refused to answer for a moment because she didn't wish to get anyone into trouble," said Dr. Hay. "Later she said Dr. Hawke had performed an operation. So as to make certain of her facts, I asked her if she had anything which she again replied "Dr. Hawke." "How much did you pay him?" I asked.
"I gave him $25," she said. She said her husband had persuaded her to do this. He would come home at night and she would see him. He said she and he said: "No, I do not want to be afraid. Then he would sneer at me."
Dr. Oliver R. Mabey, who conducted the post-mortem, stated that the primary cause of death was acute septic inflammation. Whipped Sometimes.
The husband denied any knowledge of the operation, said Staff-Sergeant McKinney on the stand.
Davidge said he had consulted Dr. Hawke in regard to having the abortion performed, because a doctor had been sent out on his mother. "We expect to land him pretty soon," said the staff inspector. "We believe he's in the States."
JUDGE CHISHOLM VERY ILL
BERLIN, March 4.—(Special.)—His honor, Duncan Chisholm, county judge of Waterloo, is lying critically ill at his home on South Queen-st., having suffered a severe attack of pneumonia. His honor was appointed to the judgeship here in 1884, coming here from Port Hope.
W. C. Chisholm, former city solicitor of Toronto, is a son.

Authorities Do Not Deny It, But Say It Is Hard to Keep Boys From Running Away When So Many Fields Are Near—Boy Will Be Brought From Brockville for Mimico School Inquiry, and Man Volunteers to Testify.

One man will swear that on more than one occasion he has seen a boy in the yard of St. John's Industrial School at Kingston-road and Bantlers-avenue with an iron around his leg and carrying under his arm a brass cylinder about a foot long and loaded with lead. This was attached to the leg iron by a chain. The school authorities do not deny this, but say that it is hard to keep boys from running away from an institution when they are allowed the freedom of open fields. Occasional whippings are admitted, as is the existence of confinement cells and the bread and water diet.

When The World was informed that this boy had been seen so manacled, two members of the staff visited the school, which is a Roman Catholic institution, corresponding to the Mimico Industrial School, where non-Catholics are committed and confined. It is in charge of the Order of Christian Brothers, who have sole control of the discipline of the school. Bro. Abna is the superintendent, but is at present in St. Michael's Hospital, recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

The brother who is filling his place was exceedingly courteous. He said that he did not wish to say anything about iron whips, the superintendent was away. He vouchsafed that it was hard to keep boys in open fields, and declared that the management of the school were ready and anxious to adopt modern and improved methods at all times.

There are about 30 boys in this institution, which is fed from the juvenile court to-day and from the old children's branch of the police court previously. There are also inmates from outside the city, as reported by the province, as in the case of the Milton institution.

He offered to show The World over his building and showed two dormitories where the boys sleep with a broom sleeping in an ante-room. He showed also three cells, which were more like ordinary schoolrooms, one of which he used as a reading room. He showed also a very pretty room, reported by the province, as in the case of the Milton institution.

Witness From Brockville.
Property Commissioner R. C. Harris, who sits on the commission of enquiry into the Mimico School with Dr. Bruce Smith, has been furnished with the address of Cecil Rathwell in Church-st., Brockville, who declares that his abdomen was cut by a strap in the hands of Supt. Ferrier of the Mimico School, when he was being whipped for smoking a cigarette, and who declares that he saw another boy knocked down and kicked by a guard because he allowed a cow to get out of a field. He will lay the matter before Dr. Bruce Smith and himself to-day. Mr. Harris said that there would be no difficulty about the authority of the commission to bring witnesses from out of town points.

Beaten at Mimico.
The World was told by another boy who was in the Mimico School 15 years ago, and who has since grown up and is living with his wife in the city, that he ran away twice, and on each occasion was beaten by Supt. Ferrier, who laid him over a chair, put his knee on the small of his back and beat him with a strap.

He says he is prepared to swear to his story before the commission if his name is withheld from publication, as he does not wish it known, on account of his wife and mother, that he was in the school.

Saw Boys Beaten.
He declares that "The Walk" was in existence even in his day, and that he frequently saw boys beaten in their beds before all the other boys in the dormitory where they slept. He remembers having seen an officer named Black kick a boy who had dropped out of line in a fit, and that this same officer kicked and punched him when he was not more than 10 years old, because he had told the mother of a boy named Willie Pilgrim that Mr. Black had beaten her son, who was also an inmate.
He was in the school three years.

Soft Hats.
For the spring there will be a big demand for soft felt hats. Soft felt hats are absolutely proper for morning wear in the coming season. The Dinsen Company is showing some particularly stylish lines by the best of English makers, including Henry Heath of London, England.

A CRIPPLED GUN

GUNNER LAURIER: If I was only sure she wouldn't bust.

The Reign of the Wee Yorkies.

The Wee Yorkies have Toronto by the throat, and they are going to make the city gasp. The city council was as reactionary as possible yesterday, killing all the big measures and passing only a few little ones. There is no intention of annexing North Toronto, and it is reported that Mayor Geary will oppose the attempt of the northern municipality to get pure water. Commissioner Forman declares that there is a boom on, and that it must be stopped for three years. How long will the people stand by the rule of the Wee Yorkies?

LAURIER'S BOMB JUST MERE SMOKE

of trying to buy the province by paying a lump sum of arrears of over two million dollars.

Sunny Smile Missing.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not reveal his hand and sat in his seat all day long, moodily watching the debate. However, he had not a word to say and is playing a waiting game. It is believed that he is waiting to see what action the Nationalists will take.

It is not believed that more than four or five will bolt, and the opposition to the bill, both from the Nationalists and Liberals, seems to have completely flattened out.

Arthur Meighen and J. A. M. Aikins spoke on behalf of Manitoba and strongly defended the measure on the ground that it gave only plain simple justice to the province and placed it on the same basis as Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Hon. T. W. Crothers closed the debate for the government to-night.

At the outset of his speech, Mr. Borden gave the house some information as to the population now in the territory added to Manitoba.

It was stated that there had been a development of settlement as yet, but that possibly the population might spring out of the building of the Hudson Bay Railway and the extension of the T. & N. O. Railway to Uxbridge would not be far off.

As far as the boundaries were concerned they were the same as those agreed to on July 13, 1906. At that time Saskatchewan made a claim to the land north of Manitoba, but it had not been approved.

Made Claim in 1884. With regard to the date from which the financial provisions should take effect, the premier recalled that as far back as 1884, Manitoba had laid claim to the territory now granted her.

This claim was renewed in 1891, and at the constitution of the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan in 1905 when Sir Wilfrid Laurier had given as the reason for not complying with the request at the time that Ontario and Quebec had not been consulted.

Why should Manitoba suffer from that delay? asked the premier. The present government had not seen fit to go back as far as 1906, which Manitoba asked, but in so doing she had boundaries now settled had been approved by unanimous resolution of the house in July, 1906, and was not right that the financial arrangements should go into effect as on that date.

The bill provided for an increase in the Manitoba lands in entirety of from $100,000 to $562,500, estimated on the same basis as that of Saskatchewan. But the government was asked why Manitoba had consented to a deduction of $149,250 for university and swamp lands leaving an increase in indemnity as respects public lands of $413,250.

Million in Swamp Lands. Hon. Frank Oliver had claimed that the swamp lands which the Dominion was receiving were worth $1,000,000. Mr. Borden did not accept his method of computation, but declared that at least it showed the proposal of the government was a reasonable one.

Manitoba was being charged what she had actually received for these swamp lands. This was no more than plain simple justice.

Manitoba had also been charged with 150,000 acres of university lands, valued at 42 cents an acre, which were in a somewhat different position, as the proceeds of these were not received by the province, but by the University of Manitoba.

But it might be asked, said Mr. Borden, why Manitoba should be given any compensation at all. This principle, he declared, had been agreed to by parliament in 1905 when the late administration fixed the terms of the constitution of Alberta and Saskatchewan. She could surely not object to it now.

Public Demand Revenues. The premier then called the attention of the house to the revenues received by the other provinces in 1910 from their public domain, as follows: New Brunswick—Territorial revenue, $41,461.64; Nova Scotia—Mines, $699,010; Ontario—Mines, $1,000,000; Quebec—Lands and forests, $1,150,741; mines, fisheries and game, $132,132. Total, $1,282,773. British Columbia—Timber licenses and licenses, $2,335,000; land sales and revenue, $87,600. Total, $2,422,600. Ontario—Lands, forests and mines, $2,351,423.

The premier quoted from Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1905, the following expression in regard to the swamp lands: "The swamp lands are perhaps the most valuable lands in the Province of Manitoba. They require some preliminary work for drainage, but when drained there are no better lands in the whole province. When the late government gave to the Province of Manitoba the swamp lands, they made her a valuable gift and it has proved to her a most important asset."

Justice to Manitoba. "It may be asked," said Mr. Borden, "why do we not hand back the rest of the lands to Manitoba instead of taking back the swamp lands?" That policy, he declared, was a good one and would be carried out after proper enquiry, but the necessary delay in doing this was no good reason for refusing to do justice to Manitoba now. That matter should be dealt with at once, and the same time and the lands handed back to the three provinces together.

"When this question came to be considered, it would only be just to consult the Maritime Provinces, whose boundaries could not, for natural reasons, be enlarged, especially in regard to making them the same just compensation."

The debt allowance of Manitoba was being increased from $178,947.69 to $377,551.19, and Saskatchewan and Alberta each received $43,375, just deductions being made in the case of Manitoba. But it was asked "Why should there be discrimination? Shall the accident of the date of their establishment make any difference among the provinces in that respect?"

Hon. William Pugsley had argued during the debate on the resolution, that Manitoba was an old province, established 40 years ago, and was not entitled to the same consideration as Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Changed in Forty Years. But considerations had changed in the last 40 years. All three of the provinces were established after confederation and were, therefore, in a different position from the other provinces.

Manitoba, Mr. Borden pointed out, had in 1905 wanted her boundaries extended west as far as Regina. That had not been acceded to by the late government, but, suppose it had, what debt allowance would have been made in that case? Would the member for St. John (Hon. Mr. Pugsley) say that it would have been anything less than what was actually made to Saskatchewan?

His present argument was not consistent with the attitude taken by his leader in 1905.

In the territory there would have been the same public works to be constructed and the same expenditure to be met in this territory. Manitoba would be called upon to develop its population or administrative government. The extension of the boundaries of Manitoba and the subsidy on account of public lands, were a simple act of justice that should have been granted long ago.

Mr. Pugsley, says Pugsley, Hon. William Pugsley attempted to draw some very subtle distinctions in his reply to the premier. The unanimous resolution of 1906, he claimed, was not a bargain. It had not been agreed to by Manitoba, and remained uncompleted until now. It was therefore not binding on the Dominion or the province.

Manitoba, he said, had not during the last 40 years been called on to perform any burdens in connection with the added territory, yet the premier asked $2,000,000 arrears for her. It was absolutely unjustifiable.

Then, resolutions had also been passed in 1908 with regard to the extension of the boundaries of Ontario and Quebec. What compensation was proposed to be given to them?

Not Entitled to Compensation. Mr. Pugsley contended that the principle that Manitoba or any other prairie province was entitled to compensation for public lands had never been recognized, to which the premier retorted by reading from Hansard of 1908, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's definite advocacy of the principle. All that Mr. Pugsley could find to reply was the rather hair-splitting argument that Alberta and Saskatchewan had been given grant for want of public lands, not in compensation for their public lands.

The ex-minister declared loudly against special treatment being given one province without paying consideration to the rights of the others. "There was a wide difference," he argued, between making a new province and altering the financial terms of an old province. Moreover, a debt allowance had been made Manitoba when it came into confederation, and this had been raised when the Dominion resumed the financial terms of all the provinces in 1885.

Why not deal with the claims of British Columbia? he asked. Why not show consideration to the maritime provinces, which had borne the burden of confederation? He did not like the "sawed-by-and-by" argument. It was all very well to say that this would be attended to when the western provinces were given back their lands, but the time to deal with the claims of the maritime provinces was now.

Urged a Conference. He called on the premier to let the question stand over till a conference of provincial premiers could be held and a basis arrived at that would give satisfaction to the whole people of Canada.

Mr. Pugsley also objected to the order-in-council giving Ontario a strip of 40 miles wide, and as he estimated, 240 miles long, comprising 760,000 acres, thru the Province of Manitoba. What right had they to give away the property of the Dominion to one province without consulting the others?

There was no stipulation, moreover, that Ontario should build a single mile of railway.

Further, it had no power under the B. N. V. Act to build a railway outside the province, and he doubted if the Dominion could authorize them to spend the money of the province where the legislature could not.

In the ten-mile strip on the Nelson River, he saw a possibility of the Hudson Bay Railway being constructed from securing proper terminal facilities.

Periodical Readjustments. Arthur Meighen (Portage la Prairie) pointed out to Mr. Pugsley that periodical readjustment had been made from time to time since confederation of the financial terms of the provinces in lieu of debt, and no objection had been raised. Canada has assumed a per capita debt of $14.43 for the four older provinces, and when others came in with less or no debt, an allowance had been made on this basis.

There had been done with Manitoba and later with Alberta and Saskatchewan. The allowance of Manitoba itself had been increased in 1871, and again in 1873.

He taunted the opposition with endeavoring to work up jealousies among the provinces on the ground that Manitoba was getting too much, while their party friends in the Manitoba Legislature were shouting that Manitoba was getting too little.

Oliver on War-Path Again. Hon. Frank Oliver declaimed in his usual recurrently explosive style against the Dominion handing over to Ontario "the only piece of property of real value" in the territory annexed to Manitoba. The arrangement was fair neither to Manitoba, Ontario, nor the Dominion. Ontario had the port of Nelson, but had no jurisdiction; Manitoba had the jurisdiction, but not the port. If it were fair to give Ontario the port, it would have been possible to arrange the boundary so as to give her jurisdiction over it.

He contended that the increase in debt allowance to Manitoba was unfair in comparison to Alberta and Saskatchewan, which had much larger effectively populated areas.

The increase in Manitoba's population, he contended, was largely in the City of Winnipeg, and did not materially increase the expenses of government.

Termed it a Bribe. If the government, said Mr. Oliver, attempted to buy out the people of Manitoba with this bribe of $2,000,000 of arrangements, they would find that they were not for sale. The swamp lands the Dominion was taking away from them were worth much more than $3 an acre, as assumed by the government.

J. A. M. Aikins (Brandon) remarked on the favor the bill had met with among the opposition when one ex-minister (Pugsley) had complained that Mr. Oliver was going too much to the other (Oliver) had complained that she was not getting enough.

The whole policy of the opposition, he said, was to sow seeds of discord between the provinces, so that out of the havoc that would result they might somehow derive political benefit. The same thing was seen in the resolution of Mr. Rowell in the Ontario Legislature that the boundary should be extended to Fort Churchill.

Should Consult Provinces. Why, he asked, in reference to the argument of Hon. William Pugsley, did not the late government call a conference of the provinces when Alberta and Saskatchewan were constituted? The three western provinces were in an almost identical position in 1905.

Why, then, should not Manitoba be treated as Alberta and Saskatchewan were in 1905?

As to the arrangement with Ontario, Manitoba would be glad to join with her in making of Nelson or Churchill a port that would be a simple matter.

Thinks White is Easy. F. B. Carvell (Caledon, N. B.) declared that while Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were given a debt allowance of interest on $500,000 to $750,000, they had handed over at confederation assets of $1,000,000 in the case of Nova Scotia and $800,000 in the case of New Brunswick. They would be glad to take back these assets such as the I. C. R. and pay their own debts.

He advised every province to make haste to get a grievance, as the minister of finance seemed to be disposed either to give whatever was claimed or a fat donation in lieu thereof for the sake of peace.

Will Not Coerce Owners, Says Asquith

attitude. His object was peace. (Cheers.)

Employers Are Protected. Proceeding, Mr. Asquith affirmed that the government's acceptance of the principle of a reasonable minimum wage was subject to two conditions: First, that the wage must vary district by district; second, that it must be accompanied by safeguards protecting the employers against abuse and providing against diminution of the output, which in the long run would be disastrous to all concerned and to the industry. He pointed out that the men recognized both conditions, but declared that the federation schedule contained the lowest possible rates beyond the range of negotiations or revision.

Mr. Asquith detailed the objections of the mine owners to the schedule, and asked if it was possible for any government, when it had recognized the principle of a reasonable minimum wage, to ask parliament to coerce one of the two parties who had presented such a formidable criticism and objections to the minimum wage schedule, as it stood, to accept, not merely the principle, but the figures without enquiry or negotiation.

He put that argument to the men. He thought it had never been his good fortune to present so good a case and thought he had almost persuaded them.

Admits a Deadlock. Coming to the present position, he said that the negotiations had not come to a breakdown, but to a deadlock. Altogether the result for the moment was lamentably insufficient. He could not but hope and believe that as time went on there would come together an approach of points of view and possibly of the machinery of adjustment which last week seemed so remote. But so far as the government was concerned, it had done what it could and would continue to do what it could with that object in view.

He wished, however, to say also that, apart from this the government was not idle. It felt strongly that the best way of fixing a reasonable minimum wage in the various districts was by experiment between the parties, and he still hoped that that might be done. Nevertheless the government felt it to be its duty, at least as far as was undertaking a careful and rigorous examination of the figures, which had been presented by one side and the other, and was showing an adequate sense of the magnitude of the task imposed upon them, then, also, it felt it necessary to debate the whole question he hoped they would not do so to-night. (Cheers.)

He had spoken advisedly, he said, and with a full sense of his responsibility laid before the house an absolutely full and candid account of what had happened. (Cheers.) He declared that efforts had been unavailingly made to avert a national catastrophe, and he said the responsibility of these, whether the government or either of the parties to the dispute or those advised by them, who, having it in their power in any way to minimize this terrible national calamity, did not use it to the full, would be responsibility which history would not fail to measure. (Cheers.)

Mr. Asquith thrust spoke with ex-show and was showing an adequate sense of the magnitude of the task imposed upon them, then, also, it felt it necessary to debate the whole question he hoped they would not do so to-night. (Cheers.)

Bonar Law Approves. Mr. Bonar Law, the Unionist leader, said that he did not dream of criticising the government, nor did he desire to discuss the question. He agreed the premier that the opposition would do nothing to make the task of the government more difficult, and thanked Mr. Asquith for his clear and frank statement. (Cheers.)

A. B. Markham, Liberal member for the lands division of Nottingham, then asked for an early date to be set for the debate.

Premier Asquith in reply said he regretted that such a request should be made and praised Mr. Law's patriotic attitude. (Cheers.)

AT THE THEATRES

At the Royal Alexandra.

Pomander Walk. One of the most delightful of recent comedies is Pomander Walk, by Louis Parker. It proved highly popular in Toronto at its first appearance and its charm was unabated last night. The Royal Alexandra has a large and appreciative audience, that followed with keen enjoyment the fortunes of the families who have drifted into that most charming of London suburbs. Its exact location matters little; suffice that it is vaguely out Chiswick way. Hazy to Fairy Land, the individual may be, it is a casement opening on a toid-time idyll, reminiscent of romance sufficiently remote to leave nothing but the aromatic fragrance of its brighter homes.

Into that quiet eddy in the great stream of city life have drifted various residents who have been more or less participants in the wider world. Their lives are largely occupied with themselves and their neighbors, especially their neighbors, and not a little of the humor that pervades the play rests on that curiosity never so much displayed as in these little isolated communities. But even there the great world pursues them and within their little bounds there are some pursuits and escapades. The history of the father is repeated in that of the son, but out of all the trouble comes happiness and peace.

Much of the success of the comedy depends on the players and in the case of "Pomander Walk," they are admirably adjusted to fill the individual roles. The comedy carries a large cast, but all have so caught the spirit of the theme that they become the parts they play. Miss Cynthia Brooks as Madame Lachens and Miss Dorothy Parker as Marioline could not be more nature. The play is a comedy of the world, and the presentation of Admiral Sir Peter Antrous. Reginald is the same scene as the first, a beautifully staged bit of woodland with the waterfall behind and the fretful fishing about. The water sprays wake the sleeping Zorka, who welcomes her betrothed. The wild swing of Magyar melody runs all through the overture to the finale. The first act is quite worthy of grand opera and was splendidly sung by Marguerite Sylva and Arthur Albro. The second act, "The Land of Fancy" in the first act is quite worthy of grand opera and was splendidly sung by Marguerite Sylva and Arthur Albro. The third act, "Leons in Love," was enclosed three times; the Baby duet four times, and the "Melody of Love" which the gallery whistled antiphonally whenever it was introduced in the score, five times.

At the Grand.

"St. Elmo." The dramatization of St. Elmo, as presented by Vaughan Glaser's Company at the Grand last night, follows the original story by Augusta Evans Wilson with a fidelity that will readily be recognized by the numerous readers of this popular story. The condensation necessary to tell a story that fills 565 printed pages, within the limits of an ordinary theatrical performance and to preserve the unities of time and place. The novel extends over a period of 15 years and ranges from New York to Tennessee and Georgia.

A pastoral scene in Dixie is discovered in the first act, when the curtain rises on the farm of Aaron Hunt. Edna Earl, the grand daughter, appears barefoot. Directly under "the spreading chestnut tree" a duel is fought. Murray Hammond is killed and St. Elmo, whose aim has been true, flees to escape the wrath of Agnes Powell, his cousin. St. Elmo meets the blacksmith's granddaughter five years later in the aristocratic home of his mother. She still considers him a murderer and wins his admiration by telling him so. He tests her by entrusting to her care damaging letters written to Agnes Powell and kept for the purpose of wreaking vengeance. Throughout the remainder of the play St. Elmo tries to gain the affections of the girl, but she has had her love. The audience is held in suspense until the closing scene of the last act, when St. Elmo, standing at the grave of Murray Hammond, wins the girl he loves.

"St. Elmo" on the stage is interesting to those who have never read the novel and fascinating to those who have. Martin Alsop makes a capital St. Elmo and is supported by an exceptionally good company. The production scenically is first-class and the manner in which the play was received by the audience last night indicates that the engagement will be big one. The matinees on Wednesday and Saturday will do doubt be well patronized, as the play appeals to the ladies.

AKShea's

Bertha Kalich and Laddie Cliff. It could hardly have been expected to last. The excellent, high-class bills which Shear's have offered the last two or three weeks were so good, that there had to be a let up. This week's show has dropped some in all round average, but still it is pretty good, and Bertha Kalich in a "Light From St. Agnes," presented a tragic one act drama that had a wonderful, deep touch to it. The story is of those who have sunk low, and Bertha Kalich's acting was poignant with feeling and sad with misery mingled with passing joy.

Laddie Cliff, English comedian, is there with John and his own queer dances. As usual he makes a hit, but he's getting less boyish as the years go by.

Harry Linton and Anita Lawrence in "The Piano Store," get off a clever musical number. Further than this, the bill includes the "Angelo Trio," sensational equilibrist; George W. Barry and Maude Wolford, and the Three Earnests. The bill is mostly musical.

At the Star.

Miner's Jardin De Paris Girls. Say, there's a good show at the Star Theatre this week. Without doubt it is one of the best burlesque shows on the road. The bill is a first-class organization there, headed by the Jardin de Paris Girls and Merry Minstrel Maids, which is second to none. Variety is the rule of the life, and the stage, and there certainly is variety with this company. Even Zeks Rollins, the sheriff, who takes the part of an "Old Cornucop," has a charm all his own. The bill is bright, with Pearl Reid, a dainty singer, and Ray Leavitt, Dixie Emmet and Winona, who sing a bit of everything. But there is even more originality shown in the minstrel show with all the regular features supplied by the "Jardin de Paris" girls. Two clever boys, Hilton and Lewis, are good laugh-producers. Their impersonations of Harry Laddie brought much of the success of the show. Repeatedly they have introduced "Oh, What a Night," and it is some night, you'll be sure. A chorus of pretty girls adds to the attraction and their costumes are varied and beautiful.

Is Taft Too Free With Party Lash?

Senator Bristow's Resolution Hints at Undue Activity of Office Holders. WASHINGTON, March 4.—(Can. Press.)—Senator Bristow today a firebrand into the senate to-day when he introduced a resolution, apparently aimed at President Taft, urging an enquiry into reports that ten nominations of federal officeholders in North Carolina had recently been made by the president to influence politicians in that state. The enquiry also would be directed to learn if political inspectors were being sent thru the country as political emissaries and if postmasters were being sent to support certain candidates by the president to influence politicians in that state.

MAPLE PRODUCTS IMPERILED.

The market is now flooded with pretended maple syrups, many of which contain absolutely no sap of the maple tree. Other kinds of a mixture containing a little of the poorest black maple syrup and a great deal of cane sugar, are being sold. These mixtures, flavored with hickory bark and various chemical compounds, and labeled in such a manner as to mislead the consumer. The case is a mixture of pure maple syrups, or what means the same thing to the average buyer, "maple compounds" and "maple flavors." The extent to which these mixtures are taking the place of the genuine product of the maple tree may be seen by the fact that the pure maple syrups are advertised and sold for no other possible purpose than to make molasses and other cheap syrups taste something like maple syrup.

AT THE STRAND.

Yesterday's production at The Strand Theatre was of sustained interest. The feature photo play of John Ruskin's love story made a series of thrilling incidents that closely held the attention of the large audience. That very popular series of world events which has made the house conspicuous is very good and provides many points of interest to all interested in the making of history. In addition there is a delightful musical program, James McMahon from Cleveland fully realizing the expectations raised by the advance notices. Miss Kummerly repeated her last week's success, and this production at The Strand will tend to still further establish its reputation as the favorite matinee house.

What Makes You Tired

So Tired That Even Sleep Fails to Restore. There Are Poisons in the Blood That Can Be Removed by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS. You get tired. That is only natural, whether you work with brain or muscle. But when you are not restored by a night's sleep there is something wrong. The process of living is something like the burning of a fire. When the nerves are consumed by the activity of life and work there is a build-up of the system an ash in the form of poisonous waste matter. These poisons in the system cause pain and give rise to feelings of fatigue. Nothing will so quickly sweep these poisons from the system as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is quickened in action, the bowels move regularly and the kidneys take on new vitality. The blood is purified, the waste matter which has been clogging and retarding the organs of digestion is removed. The appetite is sharpened, digestion improves and you feel fine in every way. A single box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, at a cost of twenty-five cents, will convince you of the promptness and certainty with which this great medicine cleanses the filtering and excretory organs and restores to health and vigor the whole digestive system. One pill a day, in a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

THE WOLFEY FOR TEACHERS

Six Thousand Dollars Additional Placed in School Estimates, Together With $1000 for Mr. Hughes

"If we take in North Toronto we shall have to treat them the same. That will be only fair," said Chairman Brown at the board of education finance committee yesterday afternoon. This was a sequel to a brisk skirmish between Misses Love and Hill over the former's motion that the five teachers in Ward Seven, who came in at annexation be graded as having served the whole time under the "Wolfey" plan. The adjustment will mean an increase of $900 a year and was adopted, Trustee Hill voting "nay." Six thousand dollars was placed in the estimates for additional teachers, and $1000 for the half year's superannuation for Chief Inspector J. L. Hughes.

BRITANNIA TO RULE THE AIR

One Hundred and Eighty Officers to Qualify Yearly as Aviators. LONDON, March 4.—(Can. Press.)—When introducing the army estimates in the house of commons, Mr. Clement Col. John Edward Bernard Seely, secretary of state for war, announced that the aviation school to be established at Salisbury Plains, the great manoeuvring ground in England, would be the training of soldiers, sailors and civilians. One hundred and eighty officers would be passed thru the school yearly. The training to be given to the officers would be to fly at their own expense, they would receive when they presented their pilot's certificates and appointment to the flying corps, $375 to recoup them for the expense they had incurred. The government, he said, was purchasing 121 aeroplanes.

OTTAWA, March 4.—(Special.)—Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, stated to-night that it had been decided to postpone the introduction of the new bank act until after the election of the House of Commons. The act was one which would require many weeks' deliberation, while many deputations would want to be heard. A bill will be introduced shortly to extend the charter of the banks, which run out on July 1.

Corot and the Customer

You probably read not long ago in the newspaper that Pierpont Morgan had bought another "Corot."

If you are an art lover you will know that Corot was a famous French painter, and that his pictures are worth a king's ransom.

The average man buying that painting would take it home, put it up in the living room, and forget it. The only satisfaction he would get for his thousands was the knowledge that he had a genuine "Corot." His neighbors or friends would never guess it, or, at best, probably listen to his claims with mild amusement.

Why? BECAUSE the picture as a picture wouldn't look the part. He did not know how to place it in the proper setting. Now mark the difference. When Morgan takes the "Corot" to his gallery, he carefully arranges it on his wall, hangs it just so, in such-and-such a position at a certain height—carefully studies distances—then he surrounds the picture with rows of electric lights—turns the button and behold, the picture inspires the reverence, awe and admiration that only an old master can inspire when it is so exhibited.

As a merchant, whom do YOU represent in this case? The average man or Morgan?

ARE your goods displayed in a light that makes them look the price—look the quality—excite the appreciation of customers! Or is their beauty and value obscured by poor illumination.

YOUR merchandise is on exhibition. People will judge their value by how it looks, more than the price tag. Proper lighting will not make the goods worth more, but it will make them look more. It will enhance their value in the eyes of purchasers because you yourself show sufficient regard for them to display them with a careful consideration of their character.

PUT your store and your goods in the spotlight of favorable illumination. Secure from our illuminating engineers, without cost or obligation, an impartial estimate of your lighting requirements.

PRIME MINISTER AND LEADER OF OPPOSITION PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF EDWARD BLAKE

In Conspicuous Ability in His Profession and in Public Life, He Was in All Probability Easily the Equal of Any in the Ranks of Great Men of Canada.

Tributes of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Edward Blake occupied the whole time of the short session of the legislature yesterday. In asking for an adjournment of the house Sir James Whitney moved the following resolution, seconded by N. W. Rowell: "That out of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Edward Blake, former prime minister of the Province of Ontario, this house do now adjourn."

In commenting briefly on the life of the late statesman, Sir James said that when Edward Blake died three days ago, the life of a great man—a very great man—had come to a close. "Canada," said he, "has produced many men entitled to the qualifying adjective great—men of high standing and great in the learned professions, in journalism, in commercial life and above all, in political life. For many years he was the leader of the party in Ontario, and in public life, he was in all probability easily the equal of any in the ranks of the great men of Canada. Beyond that, he was a man of duty and the purity of his life were perhaps the most marked and outstanding characteristics of his career. Canada is the better for reason of his having lived, and Canada mourns because of his death."

Men's Derby at $1.00
It has long been our aim to give the very best possible hat that modern methods of business could provide for $1.00. Our buyers have given much time and study to this matter and have brought into play the largest order and ready-money buyers that are always items of interest to the manufacturer. The Derby we offer Wednesday is a new arrival from England in a pure fur felt trimmed with pure silk bands and binding, and has calf leather sweat. The shape shows a rather low crown and medium-width brim, and is one that promises to meet with the approval of most men. Our special price, $1.00.
A New Soft Hat for Spring is shown in the popular mix effect in medium grey and fawn with silk trimmings and leather sweat. It is distinctly a young man's hat, and may be worn either in Fedora or Telescope shape. Price is $1.00.

DUNLOP Traction Tread

Another Opinion:
"I have found Dunlop Traction Treads eminently satisfactory. They give a first-class grip on a slippery pavement, and I have not had a skid of any kind. They are also efficient in giving traction when the car gets in a mud-hole."

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 5, 1912

WHERE CANADA FAILS.

The editorial announcement by The Toronto Globe, that the only case brought under Mackenzie King's Anti-Combines Act is "destined to be a dawdling failure," is not in the nature of news. Several months ago it became known that the United Shoe Machinery Company and the complainants had come to some understanding. So far, so good; but who is looking after the public interest?

Section 30 of the Anti-Combines Act provides that the minister of labor may request the minister of justice to employ counsel, to attend and follow the proceedings before the board of investigation appointed under that act. But neither Mr. King, when minister of labor, nor his successor has ever made any such request. No one has appeared, or is appearing, before the board of investigation into the United Shoe Machinery case on behalf of the public, and, therefore, the complainants and the company are at large to conduct and terminate the hearing as they would a private lawsuit.

Legislation to prevent combines, trusts and mergers is not a new thing in Canada. We have legislation as severe and as drastic as any nation in the world, but there is no federal machinery provided for its enforcement. The private citizen is required to come forward at his own expense and furnish the testimony and may even have to employ counsel before the statutes are put in operation. It is not peculiar to anti-combine legislation; it is the basic defect to all such legislation enacted by the Dominion parliament. We have no attorney-general's department at Ottawa; as that term is generally understood; we have no federal courts, our parliament passes a law, but charges no one with the duty of enforcing it, and appropriates no money for its proper and diligent enforcement.

The Anti-Combines Act of 1910 has apparently accomplished nothing in the way of preventing, regulating or destroying combines, mergers and trusts. The only case brought under it seems destined to be a "dawdling failure." But the person to blame for that is Mr. Mackenzie King, who took no steps to have counsel appointed to represent the public. Federal enforcement is absolutely necessary to vitalize many acts of the federal parliament.

SUNDAY POLICE EMPLOYMENT.

For a second Sunday in succession a detail of constables has been assigned to the duty of protecting the slides in the city parks from desecration. Last week The World drew attention to the fact that the objection to Sunday sliding was enforced by much lamentation on the part of the Lord's Day Alliance over the additional toll laid on the police force thru the necessity of regulating this particular form of exercise. It also ventured the forecast that not a word would be heard from that organization about the employment of constables to keep people off the slides. The Lord's Day Alliance ought not to play fast and loose with argument in this fashion. But it will continue to do this, for the real truth is that it was not in the least concerned about the police, but only about the restriction of the liberties of the common people. No doubt the action of overzealous constables in preventing skating on the ponds and bicycling on the natural slopes also meets with its approval. Clearly, if the Lord's Day Alliance had its way the whole police force would be rightly employed in keeping all citizens off the streets and driveways except those rich enough to own automobiles and subscribe largely to church funds.

FREE SUGAR FOR THE UNITED STATES.

That the United States will soon admit sugar free of duty appears quite probable. The house will pass a free sugar bill at once, which will undoubtedly pass the senate and go to the president. To be consistent, Mr. Taft should veto the bill, but it will require superhuman courage for him to do so, at the opening of his presidential campaign.

There seems to be little reason for the tariff on sugar in the United States, except that of the large revenue it produces. To lose $329,000,000 out of one's annual budget is no trifling matter, and Mr. Underwood's scheme to make up the loss by an income tax is generally accepted. But if free sugar proves to be as popular as anticipated, some other means will be found for raising the money needed for the expenses of the government. The measure will reduce the cost of sugar to the consumer by one and

TRUST METHODS AND RESULTS.

During his examination before the interstate committee of the United States Senate, Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, a well-known Boston lawyer, who has made a special study of trust methods, took up the position that when any business increases to a very great extent, the man at the head has a diminishing knowledge of the facts and in the second place a diminishing opportunity of exercising a careful judgment upon them. Furthermore, he added, and this is one of the most important grounds of the inefficiency of large institutions there develops a centrifugal force greater than the centripetal. Demoralization sets in; a condition of loosened efficiency presents itself.

This thesis he proceeded to demonstrate by various examples and among them the steel-trust. In spite, he said, of the control of raw material, of transportation, of certain trades thru its railroad associations and of other trusts thru its money power, the trust has been a steady loser in percentage of the iron and steel business of the United States. The quality of the product has also deteriorated, as shown by the derailments due to defective rails. In 1902 there were 72 derailments from this cause; in 1911 there were 248. Another test of the steel trust's inefficiency is also shown by the loss of prestige in the world's steel market, where the tonnage increase of United States exports is only fractional as compared with that of Britain and Germany.

Trust methods are again reflected in the condition of the employees of the steel trust. The boasted distribution of $12,000,000 among them in ten years only amounts to $6 a year, or to fifty cents a month for each employee if divided equally among the 238,000 workers. What is this compared with the $62,500,000 of clear profits made by the syndicate and the $12,500,000 received by J. P. Morgan & Company, not for their participation in the syndicate but purely as its managers. Contrast with this, too, the fact that a fourth of the 30,000 workers reported on are employed eighty-four hours a week on starvation wages, and that one-third had a regular working week of more than seventy-two hours, and that almost fifty per cent. work seventy-two hours or longer. Over $200,000,000 represents the dividends paid out on the common stock, which was all water, and upon the forty per cent. of the preferred stock, which the United States commission found to be water. A day of reckoning is coming for these things as surely as French conditions led to the revolution.

Life Saving Station at Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 4.—(Special)—A communication was received to-day by the board of trade from William German, M.P., stating that every indication pointed to the early establishment of a life-saving station here, as a result of the recent ice bridge tragedy. The United States is making an effort to have the congress establish a station over the river.

BABY FOUND IN SUITCASE

Toronto has a suitcase mystery. A 16-month-old child, weeping at the top of its voice, was smothered in a suitcase on the boulevard of Dovercourt-road yesterday afternoon, when two men found it half smothered to death. So far the police have little idea who laid it on the side of the road, nor whom it belongs to, further than that some person dressed as a stylish young woman jumped from a cab with the suitcase in one hand and the baby in the other, opened the case, deposited the child and rushed back into the cab and was lost from sight within before anyone discovered what had been done.

As the two men in question strolled up Dovercourt-road they noticed the cab going at an ordinary gait and drawing close to the curb. The woman quickly alighted and rapidly slipped the child into the case, and closing it hurried back into the cab.

No one was very near at the time and it was fully two or three minutes before the two men were attracted by the wails of the youngster. In all probability the babe would not have been discovered until after death had set in, and screamed as the men passed. They opened the case and after carrying it into a nearby house telephoned to No. 7 police station. Two detectives were put in charge of the case, and at an early hour this morning they had it in their hands and expected to make an arrest to-day.

Riverdale is now the proud possessor of a modern full-fledged Y.M.C.A. building. Last night hundreds of friends of the old Y.M.C.A. building and its successor, the Y.M.C.A. of Riverdale, gathered at the new edifice. In view of the new edifice, the Y.M.C.A. of Riverdale, under one central board the president of the Toronto Y.M.C.A., E. R. Wood, presided.

W. A. Kemp, treasurer of the building committee, transferred the keys of the building to G. Tower Ferguson, chairman of the board of trustees.

John A. Godoy, who presented an illuminated address appreciative of the work in the building of the Y.M.C.A. building, founder of the Riverdale Y.M.C.A., presided.

A life size, three-quarter length oil painting of the Y.M.C.A. building, by J. R. L. Porter, was unveiled by Noel Marshall. As Mr. Atkinson rose to reply one of the boys, stepping forward and presenting him with a handsome gold watch from the boys' department.

Mr. Atkinson, in a happy response, said that the artist had certainly done him proud. He desired it to be clearly understood that he had in no sense been crowded out. He had five years ago completed leaving the Riverdale work, it having become firmly established, while the needs of work for boys more in the centre of the city had been largely supported by friends in other parts of the city. His last word to the supporters of the Y.M.C.A. was about that was that boys if looked after were safe, and that if neglected they were in danger of becoming liabilities.

Mr. Ferguson, in a happy response, said that the idea of presenting Mr. Atkinson with a purse of gold had been abandoned as the money proposed to be raised had been passed into the work for boys, which Mr. Atkinson, with the co-operation of Noel Marshall and J. M. Atkinson, was about to take up in downtown Toronto. Hence the portrait had been adopted, while Mr. Atkinson's name was given to the work of the most generous support.

Mr. Ferguson, in a happy response, said that the idea of presenting Mr. Atkinson with a purse of gold had been abandoned as the money proposed to be raised had been passed into the work for boys, which Mr. Atkinson, with the co-operation of Noel Marshall and J. M. Atkinson, was about to take up in downtown Toronto. Hence the portrait had been adopted, while Mr. Atkinson's name was given to the work of the most generous support.

Mr. Atkinson, in a happy response, said that the artist had certainly done him proud. He desired it to be clearly understood that he had in no sense been crowded out. He had five years ago completed leaving the Riverdale work, it having become firmly established, while the needs of work for boys more in the centre of the city had been largely supported by friends in other parts of the city. His last word to the supporters of the Y.M.C.A. was about that was that boys if looked after were safe, and that if neglected they were in danger of becoming liabilities.

FOSTER TO DEAL WITH EMPIRE TRADE
Will Represent Canada on Im- perial Commission, Which Aims to Develop Natural Resources of All Britain's Dominions—Will Leave for Australia in Spring.

OTTAWA, March 4.—(Special.)—Hon. Geo. E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, has been recommended for appointment as the representative of Canada on a royal commission which has for its purpose the investigating and reporting upon the natural re- sources of each part of the empire, the development attained and attainable and the facilities for the production, manufacture and distribution of those resources.

The commission has also for its ob- ject the investigation of trade of each part of the empire with the others and with the outside world, the food and raw material requirements of each and the sources available. The commission will also investigate to what extent it

EXTENSION OF VICTORIA ST. KILLED BY THE CITY COUNCIL
By Vote of Ten to Nine it Was Decided to Abandon the Scheme—More Than $600,000 Will Be Spent on Necessary Im- provements—Controller Hocken's Motion to Give Property Holders the Right to Vote Was Defeated.

By a vote of 10 to 9 the city council last night decided to abandon the Victoria-street extension scheme. The vote was taken on the recommendation of the board of control that the matter of forming a street, which was referred back, but this was defeat- ed, and the report of the committee on a $100 piece of real estate. The real estate investment, he continued, did not require the same amount of enterprise as the business. A foreigner, he said, came into the country and bought a little shack and thereby got a vote, but the man who had $100,000 invested in an incorporated company was deprived of a vote on municipal invest- ments.

Controller Church said it was too late in the session to even introduce the bill "The principle," he said, "is nothing but a Yankee fad. All the great legis- lators have opposed this scheme, and the ratepayers of this city don't want anything like this. The city debt is getting so large that it is getting un- controllable, and this principle would only make matters worse. It is advo- cated by real estate men who think if the plan were adopted, they would get the annexations they desire." The controller said that some of the American cities which had adopted this idea, were now abandoning it.

Ald. Maguire said that Toronto was not ripe for such legislation.

Controller Foster wanted to know why the taxes when there were many vacant houses in the city, it was the propertyholders, he said. He thought that everyone should own property and the present scheme was con- ductive to that end. If Controller Hock- en's scheme were put in force, he be- lieved that the tax rate and debt would be pushed out of sight.

Ald. McBride said it was the most vicious scheme which had ever been brought into the council.

In again speaking on the question, Controller Foster said that three news- papers in the city had endorsed the scheme. Public sentiment, he said, was favorable to the idea. In the present system the minority were ruling.

When the motion was put to a vote, it was defeated.

HON. GEO. E. FOSTER
any, the trade between each of the dif- ferent parts has been affected by exist- ing legislation in each, either benefi- cially or otherwise.

Follows Imperial Conference.
This recommendation is the direct re- sult of the Imperial conference held last June in London. During that conference, Hon. Mr. Fisher, the premier of Australia, had on the order paper on June 16, two resolutions urging that trade between the different parts of the empire should be more fully developed.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier proposed on that day that the committee on the trade development should be a body of representatives of each part of the empire, the outside world, the food and the raw material requirements of each and the sources thereof available. To what extent it is possible to come to an agree- ment with the existing fiscal policy of the divergents has been affected by existing legislation in each, either benefi- cially or otherwise.

Relations With Australia.
The proposal was warmly greeted by the other members of the conference, and in the concluding part of his short speech supporting his resolution, the then premier stated: "By way of illus- tration, I may here say that our rela- tions in Canada with our brother- land from Australia are not as satisfac- tory as they ought to be. We have been t- rying to get mutual preferment but we have not been able to reach up to the present time."

Afterwards, on the initiative of Mr. Harcourt, the following words were added to the resolution of the premier of Canada: "And by what methods consistent with the existing fiscal policy of each part the trade of each part with the others may be improved and extended."

Sir Joseph Ward, General Botha, Sir Edward Morris, Mr. Fisher, all agreed, and it was understood and agreed upon that the expenses of this commission would be shared by the different units of the empire represented.

Conference at London.
The Hon. Geo. E. Foster has been re- commended for appointment as repre- sentative of Canada on this commis- sion, and it is probable that he will leave for London after the conclusion of this session. Afterwards, he will go to London for the meeting of the other commissioners representing the other parts of the empire on the proposals above mentioned.

HUSBAND WRONGED GREATLY.
BRANTFORD, March 4.—(Special.)—"The saddest case I have ever heard of," said Magistrate Livingstone in sentencing Arthur Taylor to two months' hard labor here to-day for theft from John Drake.

Taylor was arrested in Toronto re- cently, having eloped with Drake's wife. He also took a sum of money belonging to her husband and left a board bill of $60. He has a wife and family in England.

ASK CITY TO EXPLAIN
Meeting Protests Against Danforth Frontage Prices.

Declaring that the prices offered by the city for their frontage was ridicu- lous, Danforth-ave. property owners, representing about ten thousand feet of land, last night passed a resolution asking the aldermen of the first ward and an official of the assessment depart- ment to meet them on Wednesday night and explain how the values are being fixed.

The meeting was held in the Mennon- ite Mission Hall on Danforth-ave., near Woodbine-ave., and the Wednes- day night meeting is to be held in the same place. The three aldermen have already signified their willingness to be there.

RE-SPRING OPENING.
Gentlemen,
There are so many sudden changes and additions in the styles for men; that one must be constantly on the alert if they are to keep closely in touch with Fashion's whims.

For example: Since our showing of advanced styles a few weeks ago, many new style creations have since appeared, as well as some exceptionally attractive weaves from the looms of the great foreign mills. These are such an important addition to the earlier ideas, that we have decided to hold another Opening on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, to enable all our customers, and the public in general, to come in and see how closely we are in touch with the latest style creations for men in London, Paris and New York; as well as the exclusive creations of our own designers.

We cordially invite you, and all those who can possibly do so, to be present.

Yours Faithfully,
HOBBERLIN BROS. & CO.

MICHIGAN'S FRUIT CROP HIT
Severe Cold May Mean Ruin, Report to Niagara Growers.

ST. CATHARINES, March 4.—(Special.)—From statements made at the annual Fruit Institute of Niagara District Growers here this afternoon, there is a possibility that the entire crop of the State of Michigan will be ruined as the result of the severe winter, the trees having been exposed to over 20 degrees of frost.

C. E. Bassett, secretary of state for the horticultural society, made the statement, which was partly qualified by saying that, if any orchards produce a yield, it will be due to use of covers, which hindered the fall growth of trees and buds, so that they entered the winter hard and solid.

Prof. Gussow of Ottawa declared that yellow and brittle peaches cannot be cured, as both are what he termed constitutional diseases.

FIREARMS IN OCEAN'S MAW
Hundreds of Weapons Will Be Deposited in Davy Jones' Locker.

NEW YORK, March 4.—(Can. Press.)—Fearing to conflict with the Sullivan law governing the possession of firearms, Police Commissioner Waldo announced to-day that the usual yearly sale of firearms and other weapons which fall into the hands of the police would be abandoned this year and instead the present collection, valued at over $3000, would be dumped into the sea. Arrangements have been made for a police boat to go out early Thursday morning loaded down with revolvers, 200 shotguns, 100 pipes, 250 blackjacks and knives of all shapes and sizes, all of which will be thrown overboard.

WOMEN SUFFER THRU LACK OF VOTE

Men Do Not Use Political Power as They Should, Says Miss Pankhurst, in Praising the Action of the Striking Tailors and Garment Workers.

What are the things a newly married housekeeper must have for her home? The poorest as well as the richest must have beds, tables and chairs of course. So, too, they usually have floor coverings and whether these be priceless or home-made depends entirely upon the financial condition of the bridegroom to be.

It is the matter of details that is of moment to the inexperienced housekeeper. Take the matter of linen for bed and table. How many tablecloths and napkins are necessary for a young couple. What is necessary in the way of sheets, quilts and pillow cases? It is not necessary for a girl to deny herself the dainty little feminine trifles just because she feels she must stay in a large stock of linen. Careful management in keeping the supply up by purchases from time to time will prove much more satisfactory. Few beds need more than a pair of sheets and six pairs of pillow cases. Linen sheets are a delight for warm weather, but for general use good cotton is preferable. The housekeeper of to-day does not think it essential that she hem her own sheets and make her own pillow cases. She buys them ready made and is quite satisfied. But very few girls are content unless they have pretty embroidered cases for the guest room at least. These can be purchased already stamped and ready to work, and the embroidery and buttonholing is easy and delightful.

It is hard to be more careful when buying towels. There are so many kinds and designs and surely every housekeeper has a passion for these necessities. One woman only has two towels about two dozen good towels. Some of these may be guest towels, but the more embroidered towels the better, even if the work is a little scalloped edge and an initial. Half a dozen Turkish bath towels should be had at least. For the kitchen one needs a dozen towels for china and who suffering, and there is one cause to which this is largely due. The men do not use their political power as they should. Conscienceless women suffer because they do not have a vote. Recently in the east and in London the dock hands struck, and the women left the jam factories, the biscuit industry, to go out and help the men win their rights. We like to see one body of workers help the other, and that is what you are doing here. One body came out to help the other.

BOUNDED TO WIN WOMEN'S VOTES

Miss Pankhurst Says Present Outbreak in London is Only Part of Concerted Plan.

When interviewed with regard to the imprisonment of her mother and the effect it would have on the suffrage cause, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was not at all downhearted about the militant outbreak. According to her the only way to obtain a hearing was to cause financial loss to the government. The action last Friday was only a part of a concerted plan in the campaign for votes for women.

"We are bound to win out this time," said Miss Pankhurst. "Imprisonment increases the desire of the average man to give us the vote. The public have a great admiration for the way we have fought our battles. We have no quarrel with the public, but solely with the government, and we have the majority of the house in our favor. The government is therefore foolish to stand in the face of public opinion."

Small Decrease in Visible Takes Starch Out of Wheat Pit

Discouraged Holders Attempt to Liquidate and Thereby Depress Prices—Corn and Oats Lower.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Owners of wheat showed discouragement to-day owing to the smallness of the visible supply decrease. Largely in consequence the close was at a loss at 1-1/2 to 5-8c. Final trades left corn 1-3/4 to 1-1/2, oats off 1/2 to 5-8c, and hog products 2-1/2 to 1-1/2 less expensive than 48 hours before.

Profit Taking, Weakened Corn. Owing to unsettled weather, corn opened with a bulge to the highest point yet reached on the crop, but general selling to realize profits ensued.

Wall Street Interests Ignore Adverse Status of Conditions

Upward Movement in New York Market Resumed at Opening Session of New Week.

NEW YORK, March 4.—In the face of conditions and factors to which the widest stretch of imagination could hardly attach the slightest degree of optimism, the stock market today resumed the upward movement inaugurated in the final days of the preceding week.

Short Interest Problematic. In fact, the market seems depressed to advance for no other reason than that it had declined to go down in the several weeks during which it suffered from almost unopposed stagnation.

London Untroubled Stocks. London valued itself of the higher range here to a goodly amount of stocks, variously estimated at from 20,000 to 30,000 shares, mostly steel.

ON WALL STREET. Erickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Beatty) wired: During most of the day stocks were noted for strength, with an entire absence of outside selling.

FOREIGN HOLDINGS OF U. S. STEEL STOCK. Within the last three months the number of stockholders of the U. S. Steel Corporation has increased by between 2000 and 4000 to approximately 100,000, as shown by the list made up for the payment of dividend for current quarter.

MONTREAL MARKET INCLINED TO WORK OFF General List Subject to Pressure - Union Bank at Sharp Advance.

MONTREAL, March 4.—With the exception of Union Bank and the Sherwin-Williams issues, the more active stocks were inclined to work off to some extent.

TO GO SHORT OR NOT, THAT'S THE QUESTION. In view of the recent attitude of Wall Street regarding certain issues, the following query seems pertinent at the present moment.

Beautiful Hand-tailored Suit, in taupe novelty serge, new model skirt 50.00

The Note of the Season for the Dress Trimmings is "STEEL"

Fringes, flouncings, bandings, edgings, all are made of beautifully fine cut steel beads. This fashion will be dominant in Paris, London, and New York, therefore you can see a splendid selection of same in our famous "Trimming Department."

A fashion that will never become "vulgar." The price prohibits that.

Where Descriptions Fail

No words can paint the rainbow, they say, and when it comes to our wonderful display of

New Spring Millinery

No words are adequate to give you the faintest idea of the endless variety of novel shapes and shades that make the section a harvest for spring buying. Come when the display shows all its best New York and Paris models, and get suggestions for your new chapeaux.

There Lies before You, Madame and Mademoiselle, the Quest of Your Spring Suit

Don't shrink from setting out. The days are past when you must weary your feet, as well as your eyes and your head, in studying material and style, then trying on one model after another until you were

READY TO DROP We saw it, though you perhaps might not imagine so, and we planned for your comfort while you are our guests in shopping.

All through our suit department there will be chairs, not a chair here and there for the first lucky comer, but hundreds of chairs, so that you may

SIT AT EASE while working out your own problem or waiting for a friend to solve hers.

With the bright sun pouring in at our big windows, the softness and silence of the rugs beneath your feet, you will linger. I am sure, because you will be

SO INTERESTED If the spirit of eternal change in the life of nature, it is also the life of the fashions, and you will be sure to notice this season striking tendencies that have invaded even the conservative lines of the tailored suit.

You have observed the precision with which the tailor has always balanced the sides of his garment—a button on one pocket, a similar button on the other pocket—a seam here, a corresponding seam there.

This season THE TAILOR DARES TO DEFLY that time-honored precedent. He not only trifles with it, as in some cases, he casts loose from it altogether in others.

He has tampered with the seams! He has displaced the buttons! He has completely demoralized the revers!

SERIOUS CHARGES were the results not arresting, glowingly, attractive, charming.

Indeed of the very nature of that "change" which gives a refreshing zest to the semi-annual rehabilitation in which we women indulge.

Irregular, you say, unsymmetrical suits? Yes, a dainty, well-held-in-top-sidiness, and you have seen those faces in which the very departure from the "lily regular" of the Grecian model gives charm, piquancy.

Transfer that piquancy to things sartorial and you have the spirit of the season's styles.

A REVERSE for instance, instead of buttons, dolefully to a stop where its small unadorned mate ends in the exact centre of the coat, spring a few inches up a left seam, then turns and crosses the back, finishing horizontally.

If only by a few buttons, scattered with apparent carelessness at one side, omitted at the other, the determination is shown to depart from the beaten track, to read a declaration of independence against custom.

But—up you a bromidiad—"You must see it yourself."

A BIT OF A BELT affecting, in a reserved sort of way—it knows it has been banished for seasons—to confine the smooth, semi-fitting back of a coat, spring a few inches up a left seam, then turns and crosses the back, finishing horizontally.

If only by a few buttons, scattered with apparent carelessness at one side, omitted at the other, the determination is shown to depart from the beaten track, to read a declaration of independence against custom.

But—up you a bromidiad—"You must see it yourself."

200 Travelers' Samples in Coats and Suits for Spring Wear

Embracing all the newest ideas in smart fitting styles, and in a wide range of materials for your selection. Only one of a kind.

ONE-THIRD TAKEN FROM PRICES. These suits are out on fashionable lines, coats 34 to 36 inches long, with silk, satin, or serge linings, manish tailored throughout; notch collar, some inlaid with silk, others have the correct long revers, turn-back cuffs with pipings of silk or braid. Others have novelty trimmings. Materials in the lot are serge, panamas, fancy tweeds, homespun, vicunas, and white serges. Only two and three of a style.

Models for This Spring and Summer AMONG THE COATS.

All the newest styles are found in fancy mixture of tweeds, serges, and panamas, cut on semi-fitting lines, with long revers, or notched collars, inlaid with silk or satin of contrasting shades. Deep turn back cuffs with manish tailored sleeves. Some have the new one-sided back ornamented with buttons, while others have fancy braid stitched across back just above the high waist line. No more than two silks for you to choose from, and indeed these are truly a big bargain so early in the season. Worth $25.00, WEDNESDAY ONE-THIRD LESS.

Novelty Ribbons

One of the season's newest ribbons is a 4-inch satin in the best colors, with four narrow black velvet stripes over the satin, the black velvet combined with the colored satin is very smart. While the price is very small and the quantity is not large, 29 Wednesday, per yard
