MISS ALICE D. BURROWES.

Principal Soprano of the Metropolitan Methodist Church and one of Toronto's Favorites.

Miss Alice D. Burrowes is one of the young vocalists of Toronto, who has come into prominence on her merits. Her voice is a mezzo-soprano with a range of nearly three octaves, and sufficiently powerful for any demands that may be made upon it. Miss Burrowes began her musical studies under Mr. R. W. Schuch, and afterwards took a term with Sig. Vegara, with both of whom she made rapid progress. Still later she studied at the College of Music with Mr. Torrington, and a little over a year ago joined the professional ranks. During last season Miss Burrowes filled a large number of engagements, covering the ground from London and Saratoga in the west all the way to Montreal in the east. The newspaper notices of her singing are all very flattering, and as showing the remarkable range of her voice it may be noted that some of the critics place her as a contralto, others as a mezzo and still others as a soprano. But all agree in characterizing her work as finished and expressive to a more than ordinary degree. About a year and a half ago Miss Burrowes was engaged as prima soprano in Mr. Torrington's fine choir in the Metropolitan Church, and her singing has given every satisfaction to the veteran choir master and the critical congregation. In fact a solo by Miss Burrowes is always regarded as one of the pleasantest features in the church service.

Armenians Betraying Each Other.
New York, Oct. 27.—A special to The Herald from Constantinople says: One case of dynamite and three bombs have been found in the Salamis quarter of Scutari. These reported finds do not stir up any greater danger in this city than before, but are merely proof that the Armenians lately captured here to be trying one another and revealing everything owing to the manner in which the police have covered them.

Albany Police Law Not Sound.
Albany, Oct. 27.—The Court of Appeals has handed down a decision declaring the Albany police law passed by the last Legislature to be unconstitutional. This decision will also apply to the new Greenback law.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.—Mr. S. Ackerman, Commercial Traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for inflammatory rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I have since used it in summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil handy, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me."

Prince and Princess at the Review.
Rome, Oct. 27.—The Prince of Naples and his bride, Princess Helene of Montenegro, were present at a review of 17,000 troops on the parade grounds to-day. The weather was bright and sunny and the arrangements for the review were perfect. An immense crowd of people witnessed the movements of the troops.

J. S. SAYS: "I was in a dreadfully weak and nervous condition, unable to sleep and utterly unfit for work, and Miller's Compound Food cured me."

WHEAT DEMAND IS GENUINE

In the Opinion of an English
Corn Exchange Man.

THERE MAY BE A REACTION

But it Will Only be Temporary, as the Rise in Price is Justified.

Stocks of Foreign Wheat at British Ports
Would Not Last a Fortnight—The Absence of the Surplus of Former Years
Has Stimulated Trade—Continental
Markets Show a Slight Decline—London
Standard Says the Tendency is for Higher Prices.

London, Oct. 27.—Mr. Philip B. Skelton, secretary of the old Corn Exchange in Mark Lane, in an interview with a representative of the United Associated Presses, said in regard to the recent rise in wheat: "I certainly think the demand genuine and the rise justified. A reaction is probable, but it will be only temporary and caused by people having stock on hand being induced to rush to sell. A number of cargoes are already on their way to India. Everybody is waiting. The shortage of corn and wheat in India will compel purchase. The fall in prices to-day was in sympathy with the foreign markets. I believe that there will be wheat enough brought to market in the next six months to supply the necessities of the world. The absence of the surplus of former years has stimulated trade. The statements which have been made that there is a manipulation of the market to support the Presidential candidacy of Bryan in the United States is absolutely nonsense. Indeed, he is sure to characterize the market as a manipulation of the market. Until confirmation is received that India and other countries have no reserve as upon themselves, this indiscretion causing a glut in the European markets and a resurgence of prices."

THE SUPPLY IS SHORT
And the Tendency in England is for Higher Prices.

London, Oct. 27.—The Daily Telegraph says of the demand for the supply of wheat: "The stock of foreign wheat at the principal British ports, it is said, would not suffice to feed the country for a fortnight. The slight fall in American exchanges on Saturday gave the English markets a downward tendency. It is the opinion of one of the best known corn factors in Mark Lane that American wheat will speedily rise with a bang, and that by Christmas prices will be much further enhanced. During the recent excitement business was in comparatively few hands. The operators are reported to have reaped a rich harvest. Speculation both in England and America was carried beyond reasonable bounds. American operations were decidedly unbecomingly and excessive, but in the market the opinion is positive that at least a portion of the rise of prices is for the time being ended. The Evening Standard this afternoon says that the tendency in wheat is for higher prices, adding: 'The failure in India will divert California wheat from the transatlantic market. Only the tremendous effort in the United States to hurry wheat across the Atlantic to exchange for gold prevented a much greater increase in prices, and when the influx is past there will be a further rise. At the Baltic this morning business in wheat was very dull, and the tendency was towards earlier prices.'

Higher at Liverpool.
Liverpool, Oct. 27.—The wheat market opened higher in sympathy with yesterday's closing in America, falling away upon selling orders and poor milling demand. Larger arrivals and a cessation of outside speculation weakened it still further, the weak bulls resulting in a steady decline. The lower prices stimulated buying, and towards the close the market rallied 1-2d, finally closing at 11d to 11-12d lower. There was an active business, covering 10,000 quarters.

Continental Markets.
London, Oct. 27.—Reports of the continental wheat markets have been received at the London office of the United Associated Presses to-day as follows:
Antwerp—Wheat inactive and nominally unchanged, but there must be lower prices before any business can be done. The demand is poor, and consumers and importers are becoming more willing to consider counter offers.
Paris—Flour and wheat opened unchanged, but became weak later in the day.

Said 15,000,000 Bushels.
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 27.—A paper here has compiled information showing that the farmers of Eastern Washington have since the recent rise in wheat sold 15,000,000 bushels at an average price of 60 cents, the crop netting about $3,500,000 more than last year. This season the farmers were enabled to borrow money on warehouse receipts, which enabled them to hold their wheat until the rise.

MISS ALICE D. BURROWES,

A charming mezzo-soprano vocalist, soloist of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Toronto.

LOOK OUT FOR BOGUS MONEY.

Many Fruit Growers Across the Lake said to have sold their Produce for Counterfeit Silver Dollars.
Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—There is a large sized rumor current at this place to-day among interested parties to the effect that a large amount of counterfeit money is in circulation in the town and neighboring vicinity. The money has just been detected, and is found to have been paid out to many of the fruit growers from American buyers. Suspicions were aroused from the number of new silver dollars which were getting into circulation, but further than trading them to some of the fruit growers nothing can be learned of their origin. The police claim to know nothing of the matter whatever, but the general opinion is that they are quietly working on it. It has been said that it is a clever crook who avoids the Niagara Falls police, and this was demonstrated to two successful knaves of the road last night, when Officer Kimmins captured them at the M.C.R. depot. The two prisoners were caught in a freight car, and will doubtless turn out to be two burglars who had been in the city for some time. They were dressed in new clothes, hats and gloves, which, though tailor-made, did not fit. The single gold standard, high protection Hagens methods and McKinley.

A. T. Campbell, grocer, has been committed for trial on the charge of defrauding his partner, Alex. Craig, of $300, which Craig, who came here two months ago, from Grimsby, gave Campbell to put into the business, and which the accused promised to deposit in a bank. It transpires, however, that the firm has no account there.

Pulpit Stump Speaking.

The ministers who turn their church services into political meetings and make stump speeches from their pulpits were at work again Sunday in all of the single gold standard, high protection Hagens methods and McKinley.

These preachers are highly respectable and do not doubt very worthy persons. They are, well, fed individuals, and a little to do to satisfy fashionable congregations who have no idea of the reason people have any concern in religion or that laborers have any need of salvation. They receive comfortable salaries, with preservatives, liquors, slippers, comforters and neckties thrown in. They go to Europe or to the fashionable resorts, and take God out of town with them in the hot season and leave Satan to rule in the winter. But they return invigorated in the winter and ready to bruise the people with a heavy heel and to play mischief with such political as not with a view to the approval of their wealthy congregations.

It may be just as well for these reverend and pious gentlemen to reflect whether it is quite in harmony with their calling and professions to make such conclusions. It may be very well for scheming, dishonest politicians to call their opponents Anarchists, to charge them with a desire to spread ruin and disorder through the land, to secure the election of their dishonest, and the dismember of the nation. But Campbell, who has been taught the lesson of Christian charity, and with their great example of brotherly love before their eyes might be expected to be more lenient in their criticisms and more cautious in their assertions.

Is it a Wrong Precedent?
Editor Torrey: I always understood that when lawyers become judges in law courts they are barred from giving advice or opinion to clients (without fee or with it). But we have Sir Oliver taking instructions from a client as it were to street car mileage. What does this mean? Has he, or any Attorney-General or Senator, legal right to thus usurp the business of legal practitioners and courts in any of our cities? Or is he bound to not interfere in actions after once appointed Attorney-General or Senator?

If Sir Oliver had not power as judges in courts have not then he must have made a mistake, and so establishes a wrong precedent. Can any lawyer clear up this mist effectively? A Puzzled Voter.

Denunciation of the Triple Alliance.
London, Oct. 27.—The Rome correspondent of The Times reports that he is authoritatively informed that the treaty for the denunciation of the Triple Alliance ends in May, 1897, and not as was formerly reported in 1896. The treaty was renewed in 1892 for 12 years, with power to denounce it in the fifth year; the treaty, if it should be denounced, terminating in 1898.

"GOD BLESS THE UNION JACK"
Bishop Hartzell, Francis Britain's Treatment of Her Colonies.

New York, Oct. 27.—At yesterday's meeting of the Methodist preachers at 100 Fifth-avenue, Bishop J. C. Hartzell, who was elected at the last General Conference of the church to succeed Bishop Taylor, retired, as head of the missionary work in Africa, addressed the preachers on his outlook in his new field of labor. The Bishop spoke of the long struggle which has been carried on for hundreds of years by philanthropic and Christian people for the moral, mental and social elevation of the negro, and reminded his hearers that the colored man is the victim of the most cruel and inhuman system of slavery and degradation in the world. He said that the future of Africa is in the hands of the Christian people, and that it is their duty to work for the redemption of the continent.

At the attitude of Great Britain toward her colonies and misdeeds, the Bishop spoke in warmest commendation. "God bless the Union Jack," he said, "and to see the troubles between the United States and Great Britain settled, and set

THE LATE JOSEPH ROWELL.

Funeral of One of Toronto's Pioneer Citizens Yesterday He Was a Hero When He Was a Boy.

The funeral of Joseph Rowell took place from Zion Congregational Church at half-past 3 o'clock Monday afternoon to the residence of the late gentleman at 1000 Bloor-st. The services were conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Peckmore. There was a very large attendance, composed chiefly of old residents of Toronto.

Mr. Rowell was one of the most prominent citizens of this city 50 years ago. Away back in the forties he was an enthusiastic volunteer fireman and was captain of the hook and ladder division at the Bay-street hall, on which street he carried on the business of blacksmith for a number of years. This was on the corner of Queen-street, exactly where the tower of the new municipal buildings now stands. He was an advocate of total abstinence and was a good platform speaker. In 1850, when Mr. Maine Law was being agitated, he was one of the country. Mr. Rowell was one of its most daring and persistent opponents.

In 1854 he entered the City Council as alderman for St. Andrew's Ward and held this office for three years, during which time he was also a member of the Board of Health.

Mr. Rowell was in the Council when the outbreak of cholera took place. He was one of the heroes of the hour, and he exposed himself to the danger of the plague by going in and out among the poor and afflicted. He was not only a hero, but a hero of the hour, and he was a hero of the hour.

Some years later Mr. Rowell went to the United States, where he lived for a number of years. On his return he lived with his sister in Clinton, where he died on Saturday at the advanced age of 72 years.

How Many Men Walk Their All the Time? Their Distinguishing Characteristics From Ensign.

"Do you know," remarked an old resident of East Toronto, and a keen observer of men, to a local reporter yesterday, "that you can tell from the walk of a G.I. man on the streets what branch of the service he is in?"

"Take for instance, the brakeman. From constant walking along the top of a car he soon acquires the wide walk and roll of a sailor and this, with the absence of general responsibility in common that many carry off the 'jolly tar' of lands."

"Then the conductor. He was once a brakeman and has the same wide walk, but he is a lord and master of the rail, he walks with an air of authority that you can't mistake."

"An engineer, during his run, generally has a look of the most intense concentration about him. He is a man who is used to a stout man from want of leg exercise."

"The fireman, from whom ranks the most common, is a man who is used to a stout man from want of leg exercise. He is a man who is used to a stout man from want of leg exercise."

"There is still another class, the repairmen. They are generally lifting heavy things and hammering away at them. If you look at their arms and hands you will find the evidence of their work."

A DAY AT THE CITY HALL.

The Question of Improving Queen-street. A Special Consideration—What the Plan is—Departmental Notes.

Chairman Hallam called his committee together on short notice yesterday to consider the proposal to improve the Queen-street-avenue. He had a plan prepared with an estimate of cost amounting to $500. The plan showed a roadway 24 feet wide, with a center path five feet wide under the trees and a bridge path adjoining University-street. There was some difficulty in getting a quorum and Aid Boustead protested that the meeting was illegal, as sufficient notice had not been given the members. He also alleged that a suspicion that the chairman had called it hurriedly in order to get the plans adopted and get ahead of the petitions that were being signed against the construction of a bridge path adjoining University-street, one of which he presented to the committee.

Ald. Leslie reminded the committee of the storm of protest which greeted the proposal to run a street car track on the spot where it was now proposed to place the bridge path.

Ald. Boustead urged that it was a question of the convenience of the classes or the masses. The avenue was the great playground of the children of St. John's Ward, and it would be dangerous to let us see if we can't convert the horsemen to get them to give up their path south of College."

He said that Hallam, upon being challenged by Ald. Boustead to express his own opinion, stated that he was in favor of the plan, but that he would be glad to do all he could to convince the horsemen of this. He would be glad to do all he could to convince the horsemen of this. He would be glad to do all he could to convince the horsemen of this.

The Mayor entered at this stage of the proceedings and at his suggestion a new plan will be prepared, showing a thirty-foot street. The committee will decide whether there shall be a six-foot bridge path on each side of a 12-foot path on the east side of the roadway.

The committee will meet again in a few days, when Ald. Hallam says the matter will have to be settled one way or the other.

Yesterday Chairman Hallam received advice of the arrival from the Government of a consignment of two hundred flowering shrubs and deciduous trees for the city parks. There are about 50 different varieties and the Chairman was much pleased at the great success which attended his recent "begging" expedition to Ottawa.

At the meeting of the Parks and Gardens Committee yesterday, Ald. Hallam made a complaint about the horsemen who had ridden their horses upon the newly laid sod in the Queen's Park early in the morning. The Mayor has requested the Chief of Police to have a mounted policeman there to summon the offenders if they again attempt any short cuts.

There are 31 appeals entered against the decision of the Court of Revision upon the Third Ward assessment. The many friends of Mr. Nicholas Hughes will be glad to hear that he is rapidly improving in health. Yesterday he was speculating upon the future of the city and the future of the city.

City Engineer Keating spent yesterday morning upon Huron-street, giving his personal attention to the brick pavement being laid there.

The meeting of the Sunday Car Committee, called for yesterday afternoon, was cancelled owing to the diversity of opinion among the aldermen as to the best course to pursue. The committee will meet again on Monday.

MARK HANNA DEFENDED.

Employee of the Republican Boss Affirms That He is Humane and Just as an Employer.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Oct. 27.—At a mass meeting of the employees of the Chapin Mining Company, held yesterday afternoon, the following resolution was adopted: We, the undersigned, in mass meeting assembled, of our own free will and without any suggestions from our superiors or anybody connected with M. A. Hanna, or the management of the Chapin Mine, where we are employed, wish to make the following statement: That we have not at any time seen or heard of any coercion from the management of the Chapin Mine regarding our politics; that we have not been nor do we believe that any unjust or willful discrimination against union men exists at the Chapin Mine, and that we have no complaints to make against existing rates of wages, and believe that they are somewhat higher than at other mines; that we, in short, have found M. A. Hanna as an employer of labor humane and just, and the very opposite to what the Democratic papers wish to make him. (Signed) Adolf Strindan, Secretary.

A HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

Evidence That an American Miner Was Buried and Came to Life After Four Days in the Coffin.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27.—Advises from Juneau, Alaska, state that Carlton F. Wells, who left Southern Oregon two years ago for the Arctic gold fields, where it is said he accumulated $20,000, was stricken with heart disease in Juneau last May. When he became ill Wells forwarded a bulk of his little fortune to his wife, now living in Treadwell, Alaska. A month ago the undertaker who buried him received a letter from his widow asking that the remains be exhumed and shipped East for permanent interment. When M. H. Hopkins, the undertaker, opened the coffin containing Wells' almost decomposed body he discovered that the man was still alive. He was found in a state of semi-consciousness, and he was able to give a full account of his experiences. He had been buried for four days and he had come to life after four days in the coffin.
