SIR CHARLES TUPPER OR IS THE BIGGEST TRAVELER IN THE WEST

Great Enthusiasm at Brockville, Where the Veteran and Virile Leader of the Conservatives Spoke Amid Cheers for Two Hours.

A Coward With an Anonymous Letter is Called Down—Everything Points to a Deluge for Sir Wilfrid Laurier on November 7—Sir Charles Gets Great Ovation Wherever He Goes.

Brockville, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Lindsay, Smith's Falls, Brockville. These are the scenes of the most complete and successful tour of the Conservative principles of Government. All three places have paid flattering tributes to the Champion of Canada for the Centennial by turning out en masse to greet the veteran and virile leader of the Conservatives, Sir Charles Tupper, who is touring the province in the interests of his party.

On the same train with Sir Charles from Ottawa to Smith's Falls were Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Dr. Weston, who boarded the train at Carleton Place. At Smith's Falls Sir Charles held a short conversation with Hon. John Haggart's antagonists. As the train moved away Sir Mackenzie was conspicuous with his hat flapping in the wind, and his activity and his achievements, that have made Canada what she is.

At Smith's Falls Sir Charles held a short conversation with Hon. John Haggart's antagonists. As the train moved away Sir Mackenzie was conspicuous with his hat flapping in the wind, and his activity and his achievements, that have made Canada what she is.

His Arrival at Brockville.
He arrived here at 2 o'clock, and was met at the station by John Charles, the Conservative candidate. Dr. Moore, Thomas Tompkins, W. H. Davis, L. R. Jones, M. L. A., A. E. Williams, John McArthur, W. J. Wright, and others representing the local Conservative Association. The whole afternoon was spent in conversation with persons who called on him. When, with an hour to spare, Sir Charles was ready for the meeting to-night.

An Incident at Smith's Falls.
An incident at Smith's Falls that is worthy of note as showing the affection in which the vigorous leader is held. A widow in whose charming countenance led her little daughter up to Sir Charles, who was walking along the sidewalk, the widow referred to her late husband's admiration for Sir Charles. Sir Charles pressed her hand, recalled the late husband, and expressed his sympathy and consolation and kissed her child. The opera house was filled to overflowing.

THE TRANSVAAL IS NOW A PART OF THE GREAT BRITISH EMPIRE

Proclamation of the Fact Was Made at Pretoria on Thursday Amid Impressive Ceremonies—Desperate Attack on Jacobdals Repulsed—Garrison Lost 14 Killed.

Pretoria, Oct. 25.—The Transvaal was today proclaimed a part of the British Empire, the proclamation being attended with impressive ceremonies. The Royal Standard was hoisted in the main square of the city, the proclamation was read, and bands played the National Anthem. Sir Alfred Milner read the proclamation, and 600 troops representing Great Britain and her colonies, marched past.

A Curious Coincidence.
London, Oct. 26.—It is regarded here as a curious coincidence that the news of the capture of Jacobdals by the Boers should be received concurrently with the expected arrival home from South Africa of the City Imperial League, as Jacobdals has been the scene of the latter's first fight. The town was captured by the volunteers Feb. 19.

HIGHLANDERS SLAUGHTERED. Boers Have Captured Jacobdals After Most Desperate Resistance.

Cape Town, Oct. 26.—The Boers have captured Jacobdals, southeast of Kimberley, after a stubborn resistance on the part of the garrison, which consisted of a detachment of Cape Town Highlanders. The latter suffered severely, losing 34 out of 52 men.

The Place Was Not Captured.
London, Oct. 27.—It now appears that Jacobdals was not captured by the Boers, as had been reported from Cape Town shortly after midnight.

CHURCHILL ATTACKS ROSSLYN Says His Lordship Sent Slanderous Statements Against British Officers.

London, Oct. 26.—Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill, speaking last evening at a banquet given by the Pall Mall Club, attacked Lord Rosslyn for "slandering British officers." In accounts the Earl sent to newspapers from South Africa. He went so far as to give the lie direct to some of Lord Rosslyn's statements.

Julian Ralph to Lecture.
Julian Ralph will shortly make a lecture tour of England. It is probable that he will also lecture in the United States this winter.

Steyn's Latest Capital.
Masera, Basutoland, Oct. 26.—It is reported here that former Premier Steyn and the members of the Executive Council are at Boursburg, south of Bethlehem, and that he has declared Boursburg to be the "Capital of the Orange Free State."

There is a splendid variety here for all sorts of boys, from the little fellow of four years to the young man of sixteen. How smartly they are tailored! Little wonder that mothers are delighted with them and the boys proud to wear them. We take vast pains to make exceptional things for boys, and parents tell us there is no equal variety elsewhere.

ROOM QUESTION UP AGAIN

Members of Sewers Committee Divided as Between Day Labor and Contract Systems.

ALD. NELLIGAN SUGGESTED A TRIP.

But the Committee Sat on It—Liberal Effort to Warm Up—Police and General News.

Hamilton, Oct. 26.—(Special)—The old question of day or contract labor occupied the attention of the Sewers Committee this evening. Tenders were opened for sewers on Sandford-avenue, Kincaid-avenue and Barton-street. Ald. Nelligan advocated the work being done by day labor, and Ald. Nelligan and Ald. Pettit were in favor of the contract system.

Another Disposal Works Suggested. Ald. Nelligan brought up the question of a sewage disposal works on the West End, suggesting that it would be conducive to the general good of the city if he and the two Engineers were given authority to visit places where the system of sewage treatment was in operation. One of these places is Providence, Rhode Island, and the majority of the committee showed a disinclination to put their trust in Ald. Nelligan and Providence, and the trip was set on.

Liberalism of Ward 7. The Liberal hold the Fort-street north, this ward. James Matthews was chairman and W. F. Burton, Dr. McCabe, Editor Gardner, Candidate Trestler and W. McClelland. The committee discussed the question of the day or contract labor, and the majority was in favor of the contract system.

Barbers Form a Union. A Journeymen Barbers' Union was formed to-night by Organizer W. H. Burdick, assisted by Sam Landers and H. Obermeyer of the local Trades and Labor Council. About 20 barbers joined.

Arrived at the "Bank" Hard. Mrs. W. B. Solomon is threatening to institute proceedings against the young lady, Miss Strain, who is said to have figured in the South Side scandal, alleging ill-treatment of the husband's affection. It is possible a settlement of the Solomon matter may be effected, in which case, of course, the threatened action will be begun. W. B. Solomon went to Toronto today.

Government Engineer Here. To-day Government Engineer Johnson of Ottawa is in the city, his particular business being to investigate the level crossing at Wellington-street and Victoria-avenue. He went on a tour of inspection, accompanied by Engineer Wallace of the Grand Trunk Railway.

It is Reported that the Ex-Governor-General of Canada is to Succeed Lord Salisbury

TO DIRECT FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Lord Salisbury is to Remain in the Cabinet as Prime Minister of England.

London, Oct. 26.—(Chicago Record)—Under pressure from the highest quarters, Lord Salisbury has decided to resign the direction of foreign affairs. He will remain in the cabinet as Prime Minister, and it is hoped that in his single capacity he will be able to supervise more thoroughly the workings of his colleagues in the Colonial Office, whose self-interestiveness of late has produced some concern in the regions of the House.

Promotion for Lansdowne. Some serious alterations have been made since Monday to confer with the Queen, and will be immediately started by the Queen's consent. The promotion of the Marquis of Lansdowne to the office of Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs is a subject which has been discussed in the House of Commons.

Unconscious for Two Weeks. Charles Taffe, well-known Beach Club swimmer, died at the General Hospital this morning. Two weeks ago to-night Taffe was struck by a car on the Beach Club, near Dyke. He was trying to signal the car to stop to take on an old man, who wanted to come to the city. Taffe was hurt about the head, and was brought to the hospital. He never recovered consciousness.

Another Remembered. C. R. Raymond of the Post, who will leave to-night for Toronto on the night of the 27th, was remembered by the Spectator. The correspondent is informed that the public will be immediately started by the Queen's consent. The promotion of the Marquis of Lansdowne to the office of Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs is a subject which has been discussed in the House of Commons.

Identified Wrong Body. The local police yesterday received a letter from the Ontario Police, stating that the body of a man who was buried in St. James' Cemetery was not the body of the man who was identified as that of the missing husband. The remains were also sent by Mr. McCarthy to his brother-in-law and they were placed in a coffin.

Like Opium Eaters. The experience, suffering and misery of some coffee drinkers would be almost as interesting as the famous "Confessions of an Opium Eater," says a Boston man. "I have seen a man who had been drinking coffee for twenty years, and he was as weak and nervous as a child. He was unable to do any work, and he was constantly suffering from headaches and other ailments. He was a real opium eater."

A SPLENDID JOINT MEETING

In the Interests of Hon. N. C. Wallace and W. F. Maclean Held in North Toronto Town Hall.

ALL SPEAKERS LOUDLY CHEERED

More Evidence to Show That the Laurier Government of Grifters, Grabbers and Monopolists Must Go.

A splendid joint meeting in the interests of Hon. N. C. Wallace and W. F. Maclean was held at the Town Hall, North Toronto, last night.

The meeting was a decided contrast to that of Messrs. Howell and Campbell, held some days ago, when about 80 persons were present. Last night the hall was crowded, and prominent among the large gathering were many ladies. The meeting was spoken of by those present as an augury of the success of the two Conservative candidates in this portion of their ridings.

A Feature of the Evening. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of two beautiful bouquets, one each to Mr. Wallace and Mr. Maclean, by pretty little Miss Douglas, who was rewarded with a kiss for her gift.

The meeting was highly harmonious, and there was scarcely a murmur of dissent during the whole evening.

Mr. John Fisher Presided. Mr. John Fisher was chairman, and opened with a few remarks, followed with a telling address by Mr. Thomas L. Church. The Liberal Government is going to be turned out of office on the 7th day of November next, was a statement loudly applauded by those present. Mr. Church returned the present Government for its various in Canada had been initiated by the Conservative.

Rev. Peter Campbell Spoke. The Rev. Peter Campbell presided over the meeting, and made a most favorable review of the Laurier Government, and he was warmly applauded by those present. He had been called to take his present position because he was a loyalist from his birth. He dwelt at length on the high qualities of Hon. N. C. Wallace, whom he termed the greatest of our time. He had never heard anything derogatory to Mr. Howell, but why did he not come out and say something of the corruption and vice that had prevailed during the past? That Ballot Stealing. The details of ballot-stealing and other very dirty tricks, and the most appalling feature of the whole, but which were very clearly laid out by Mr. Campbell, who was warmly applauded by those present. The speaker was an attorney for the Liberal Government, and he was very eloquent in his denunciation of the Liberal Government. He was very eloquent in his denunciation of the Liberal Government. He was very eloquent in his denunciation of the Liberal Government.

THE THREE BIG ISSUES. National pride and the waving of the flag was the dominant issue in the British elections. It is also the feature of the United States political battle, and the flag and loyalty forms one of the leading issues in the Canadian contest. In Great Britain the people sustained by an overwhelming majority the Government that stood for British supremacy and British prestige. There is little doubt that the Republican party, representing as it does the Imperial idea and that of national expansion, will triumph in the coming Presidential elections. In Canada the issue that takes precedence over all others turns on the question of nationality. This feature in our campaign has been raised by Mr. Tarte. This gentleman has been endeavoring to make it appear that the Canadian people, in some way or other, owe a certain loyalty to France, over and above what they owe to Great Britain; that the Province of Quebec is, in some way or other, a French colony instead of a British province. Mr. Tarte has raised the issue whether this is a purely British country, whether it is partly French and partly British, whether Canadians or any of them owe allegiance to any other country than Canada and the Empire. Mr. Tarte has raised this issue in such a way that the country is compelled to take notice of it and then pass judgment on it. The theory that Canada owes no particular allegiance to Great Britain was emphasized by Mr. Tarte's endeavor to prevent a Canadian contingent being sent to South Africa, by his speeches in France, wherein he made out that Quebec was French more than English, and that the British connection was a mere formality. The issue has been still further intensified by reason of editorials in European journals and speeches by public men, founded upon Mr. Tarte's diatribe and treasonable utterances. Mr. Tarte's connection with the Government makes the Government a party to the Minister's disloyal conduct, and the Government that has to shoulder the responsibility now that the issue is before the electorate. The national honor is at stake in Canada, just as it is in Great Britain during the campaign. As the national honor was upheld in Great Britain by the return of the Salisbury Government, so must it be maintained in Canada, not by the return of the Government that is responsible for Mr. Tarte, but by the return of the Conservative party, whose loyalty and patriotism is above suspicion.

The second great issue in this campaign is whether the leaders of a party should be held responsible for the pledges and promises given to the people in their official platform and speeches in Parliament. The same rule of honor which apply to individuals and upon which the social fabric rests, must be held as being equally applicable to the men in public life. If the people who have been deceived by the pledges and promises of the Liberal leaders fail to record their indignation at the Laurier Government they will further weaken the moral sentiment of the country and give public men a license to still further disregard their public pledges. The whole fabric of party government will fall to pieces if anti-election pledges are not to be held as binding on the party making them. This issue is as the inevitability of public pledges has been raised by the absolute failure of the Laurier Government to carry out its anti-election promises. If the electors are of opinion, as we believe they are, that public men should be made to honor their promises, then there will be a big demonstration on Nov. 7 against the party that has so flagrantly violated this principle.

A third issue in the campaign turns on the trade policy of the country. The Conservative party says it is in favor of a policy which, worked out in detail, will effect an extension of our trade relations with the Mother Country, which will aid in the development of the West.

Surely the poll at Newcastle-on-Tyne is the surprise of the election. Captain Lambert won by a narrow margin, but he was beaten by nearly 5000 votes. Mr. Storey shares his misfortune, and the result does not affect the balance of parties in an end of Lord Rosebery as a serious statesman. We cannot help feeling sorry for the gallant sailor who has been made the cat's paw of a politician, and so persecuted by his chief and the press that he took credit to himself for having retained the seat. He has shown himself, however, a vigorous personality, and politics apart, we are sorry to see him go to the House of Commons. We do not fancy that Mr. Storey will be very successful in the House. He is a broken-hearted old man, and his only chance of success is in blowing up Liberal Imperialism.

United at Last. The whirling of time that eventually makes all things even, made it possible for both Thomas Hartigan and Susan Thompson to keep their vows that prevented them for half a century from marrying and being united. Thomas Hartigan, aged 70, and Susan Thompson, aged 65, were united in a most touching ceremony at the residence of the latter on Monday evening. The bridegroom was dressed in a suit of black, and the bride in a white gown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Hartigan, who was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Thompson. The wedding was a most touching and interesting affair, and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. The bride and groom were both in excellent health, and the ceremony was a most successful one.

WOMAN'S WORLD BY KATHERINE LESLIE

I wonder if men are possessed of the same mania for trying on each other's hats as women and girls are. When a woman gets her new fall or winter hat, not only every feminine member of the family must "try it on," but every female acquaintance who is interested in her friend's purchase—and what friend or acquaintance is not—is seized with a desire to see how she looks in this hat. In a dressing room, where a lot of women or girls meet, you will see them prancing about before the glass, trying on each other's hats, putting them on front, back or sideways, criticizing, suggesting or making fun of each other's selections. This desire to see how she looks in any and every style of hat seems to be deeply implanted in the feminine breast—of course, there are exceptions, and you, my dear madame, are one of these. I have seen a girl walk round a counter full of hats, and try every one of a dozen or two hats on, not from any desire to purchase a hat, but because she wanted to see "how she looked" in them! And I have seen girls in a dressing room picking up the hats of guests who were below in the drawing room, and taking furtive and hurried peeps at themselves, "just to see how they looked!" What satisfaction girls get out of the process of "trying on" it is difficult to define—it seems to give a mixed pleasure—if the hat is becoming, they are pleased and contented at once; if it is not becoming, it becomes a subject for hilarity and wit, and, if it is "a fright" and makes the wearer an "object," the fun waxes fast and furious. A horrid man, who thought that whiskey was the stuff and he was a performance one night, declared that it was because the trying on of hats

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady Who Cures Her Husband of His Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save Her Home. A PATHETIC LETTER.

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought terrified me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his wife's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save my home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed, next morning and watched and prayed for the result. Alas! I gave him more and also as usual, he never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future ahead of me. I was successful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an affectionate, loving husband, comforted, and everything that a woman's heart; for my husband had sold me that whiskey was the stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine until it was gone, and then I wrote you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst case."

SENT FREE—A pamphlet giving all particulars, with instructions how to take or give Samaria Prescription, sent free in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence considered strictly confidential. Address—The Samaria Remedy Co., 28 Jordan St., Toronto, Canada. Also at Blugman's Drug Store, 100 Queen St.

own deepest feelings? Be that as it may, Prof. Conway is convinced that "the work of hundreds of churches is maintained and pressed far more than they dream of by the influence of spirit, which answers the voice of a living religion in a drone of dead phrases."

This is a tale of the creation of Pte. Murray, and it is good. Kipling, for some inscrutable reason, was desirous of being enlightened as to the admission of women to the various professions in the United States, and he appealed to a friend, who is a New York magazine. By the way, how his eyes must twinkle behind his spectacles as he asked the question! This was the magazine's answer: "Well, sir, in our country we have a great many female doctors, female lawyers, female journalists, female preachers and female in all classes and professions, and female trades; but what we want is more female women!"

Is not that lovely? And how "Old Kip" as a good friend of mine affectionately dubs "Mowgli's Papa," must have chuckled over this bit of condensed wisdom!

The prevailing mode of finishing the back of skirts at present indications will be an inverted box pleat. The box pleat had a short career of usefulness and popularity, but nothing more. It is being replaced by the again the smart thing. As a rule, these are made of silk, and the pleat is "can" few inches below the waist, and allowed to flare below, giving almost the effect of a ruffled skirt. The box pleat is made of the goods with the box-pleated skirts will give the most and some new ones are being made that way.
