ST. TRAIN ON C.P.R. WRECKED

ONE MAN IS KILLED

Man Believed to Have Been Hot From Engine Into Lake Superior When Accident Occurred in Early Hour of Morning

(Canadian Press) St. John, Nov. 21.—C. P. R. in N. B. known as the Imperial Limited, was wrecked on the morning of Nov. 20, early this morning. Reports from St. John indicate that the train was wrecked on the morning of Nov. 20, early this morning.

It was admitted that the train had been wrecked at Heron Bay, that the engine went into the lake, and the train was wrecked. Further than this, details were available early this morning. The delay in receipt of news is said to be due to the fact that wires were down in the vicinity.

The wreck occurred at 2 o'clock near Caldwell, a small station about 175 miles east of St. John. Officials at the railway offices think there has been a further loss of life than the drowned man, but will not say definitely until direct communication is established.

Where the engine jumped the track, the road skirts Lake Superior on a ledge high to fifty feet above the water, the engine plunged into the lake, carrying a fireman to his death. The engine was jumping from the window of a baggage car, club and dining cars and the heavily loaded Pullmans remained on the top of the grade.

(Special to The Times) Montreal, Nov. 21.—A statement issued by the C. P. R. says that the first section of train No. 1 was derailed this morning at Heron Bay on the north shore of Lake Superior. The train, which was composed of only the mail and express cars, struck a broken rail, the engine and first baggage car jumping the track and plunging into the water.

What makes the marriage crisis all the worse, is that while the number of divorces is increasing, the number of marriages is decreasing. The number of marriages per 1,000 inhabitants in 1906 was 8.20, in 1911, 7.90.

ALFONSO SURPRISES THE FRENCH OFFICERS

Paris, Nov. 21.—King Alfonso yesterday astonished the French officers accompanying him, with the depth of his knowledge of military science and his interest in the military museum at the Invalides. He took off his hat and bowed reverently at a case containing the famous grey overcoat, cocked hat and sword of the first Napoleon.

During the last summer the C. P. R. line from Sudbury to Fort William passing along to north shore of Lake Superior through Heron Bay and Caldwell was double-tracked without interrupting general passenger traffic. Heron Bay has been experienced "getting the ballast trains through for the gangs of navies and more accidents it is reported have occurred on this stretch of the track last summer than on the entire system.

The fireman name is O'Connor. He belonged to Scribner, Ont.

DEMAND EXCEEDS ROYAL MINT SUPPLY

Parliament Will Be Asked to Authorize Increased Plant Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The inability of the royal mint to keep pace with the demand for five and ten cent pieces, and the necessity for increasing the refining facilities has caused a change in the plans regarding the mint. Instead of the $50,000 extension that was contemplated, new plans will be laid before parliament for a much larger plant so as to refine as much Canadian coin as possible in this country.

Since its opening in 1908 the mint has handled $5,000,000 worth of silver coinage, two million dollars worth of Canadian gold pieces and a million and a half worth of sovereigns for the British government.

EARLY BERGS ARE SEEN

Ice Mountains In Lanes of Atlantic Steamers

FOUR HAVE BEEN SIGHTED

Far South For This Time of Year But Small and Are Not Considered as Indicating Presence of Large Ones in Path of Navigation (Canadian Press) New York, Nov. 21.—Icebergs have appeared in the lanes of westbound Atlantic liners considerably earlier than usual. The captain of the Hamburg-American line steamship Pennsylvania reported to the United States hydrographic office here yesterday by wireless that he had sighted three such bergs. The message was transmitted through the Cunard liner Laconia, bound for Boston. These bergs were in latitude 45.64 north and longitude 47.27 west, and were described as being 100 feet long and thirty feet high.

Another berg, 150 feet long and fifty feet high, was sighted by the captain of the steamship Bristol City, westbound from Bristol to New York, in latitude 45.45 and longitude 48.00. It is unusual for ice to be so low at this time of the year, but the authorities do not regard the presence of the small icebergs as indicative of larger ones and they are not considered dangerous to navigation.

The wreck occurred at 2 o'clock near Caldwell, a small station about 175 miles east of St. John. Officials at the railway offices think there has been a further loss of life than the drowned man, but will not say definitely until direct communication is established.

MORE DIVORCES AND FEWER MARRIAGES

'Marriage Crisis' Adds to Germany's Troubles in Declining Birth Rate Berlin, Germany, Nov. 21.—Germany for some time has been expressing alarm at the falling birth rate and now has discovered a new sign of social decadence. Latest statistics show an extraordinary rise in the divorce rate. In 1912, 16,780 divorces were obtained in 1911 against 12,180 in 1906. It is believed that in the next set of statistics published, a further increase in the number will be shown.

Further makes the marriage crisis all the worse, is that while the number of divorces is increasing, the number of marriages is decreasing. The number of marriages per 1,000 inhabitants in 1906 was 8.20, in 1911, 7.90.

MILITANTS BURN GREAT LUMBER YARD AND MEET REPRISALS

Tens of Thousands of Dollars Damage Done—In Return Their Offices Are Wrecked Oxford, Eng., Nov. 21.—Vengeance was wreaked on the suffragettes who, early this morning, set fire to a great lumber yard on the banks of the Thames, while the place was still burning the offices of a suffragette society in this city were raided and wrecked. All the furniture and a large collection of suffragette literature was thrown into the streets.

The damage done by the lumber yard fire amounted to tens of thousands of dollars. Confirmation of suspicions of the police that the fire was the work of militant suffragettes was found on postcards left at the scene. On these was written: "Send the bill to Chancellor Lloyd George tonight," and "Democracy never has been a menace to property," a quotation from one of Lloyd George's speeches.

ANOTHER CHARGE IN COURTNEYAY BAY CASE

A case against Charles McNeil was commenced this morning in the police court. A new charge of theft has been made against him, namely stealing a watch and chain from Paolo Durini, in addition to the other charges of stealing a watch and chain from Paolo Durini, $25, two spoons, two forks, and knife, the property of Megan Kuchner, razor and hose the property of Fred Kevlakowski. J. A. Barry appeared for the prisoner. Evidence was given showing that the men from whom the articles had been stolen had been employed at Courtneyay Bay and were in it, and McNeil is suspected to have entered this shack and taken them.

BUSY INSPECTION. John Henderson of the department of marine and fisheries, Ottawa, arrived in the city yesterday on business connected with his duties as inspector of boats.

Fear Lorneville Men Are Drowned

Stephen McCavour and Milford Galbraith Missing Since Yesterday—Were Out in Motor Boat—Oar Picked Up May Point to Tragedy

It is feared that death has claimed two more of the hardy fishermen who seek their livelihood on the waters of the Bay of Fundy. Stephen McCavour and Milford Galbraith, left Lorneville in their motor boat yesterday at noon and since then no trace of them has been seen, with the exception of an oar floating on the waves, and which may have belonged to their boat.

As it grew late the search was abandoned, but was resumed this morning with a larger number of boats. A search was made of the shore for some distance in both directions, and some of the boats cruised far out.

The only result of the morning's search was the discovery of an oar coat.

Near Death in Lake Storm; Sends Message To Wife In Bottle

Pathetic Incident in Connection With Recent Disastrous Gale—Subscriptions Now Are About $68,000 (Canadian Press) Toronto, Nov. 21.—A message written with death near, by Chris Keenan, United States marshall and custodian of the huge Plymouth, who lost his life with six others in the storm of November 9, was found yesterday in a bottle five miles from Fenwick. It was addressed to his wife and children, and was written when the barge had been in the storm for forty hours.

Keenan's body was washed ashore near Fenwick, Nov. 21.—Subscriptions to the Marine Relief Fund are coming forward in encouraging numbers. The fund is now about $68,000.

Several members of the board of trade and grain shippers notified the representatives of the marine interests that they were ready to sign any reasonable contribution to the fund.

It was announced last night that the fund was distributed equally to those entitled to share in it. The Dominion Marine Association will be a committee upon which there will be no representatives from the department of marine and fisheries, and the commercial and financial interests, to investigate the conditions of those to whom money is to be given. The total fund is somewhere about $68,000.

INTERCOLONIAL PIER BERTHS FOR ROYAL LINE STEAMERS HERE

Marine Superintendent Talks Over Matter With Mayor—Another Official Here Harry Milburne, of Montreal, marine superintendent of the C. N. B. Royal Line of steamers, who is in the city to complete the arrangements for the winter service to St. John, called on Mayor Frink this morning to discuss docking arrangements. He said that the I. C. R. pier has the only berth suitable for their steamers, as they have to be bunkered from both sides and the wharves at West St. John are not fitted with rails along the face of the wharf to make this possible. The mayor had no objections provided the harbor master could arrange the matter.

Mr. Milburne said that the first sailing from this port would be on December 10. H. H. Melanson, general passenger agent, and W. H. Estano, traffic auditor of the I. C. R., were in the city yesterday and inspected the dock facilities for the I. C. R. at West St. John, which will be increased in the event of the Royal line coming here. Mr. Melanson said these boats would dock at the I. C. R. pier.

F. Mooney, agent of the C. N. B. steamers at Halifax, is also in the city today in connection with the winter arrangements of the line.

SELLING TO MINOR CHARGED. When Arthur Crawford was arrested a few days ago by Policeman Harry Linton, his age was given as eighteen years. He was said to have attempted suicide by jumping from an overhanging ledge.

May Strike Tonight. Schneckstadt, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Unless an adjustment of their grievances is made before tonight, the more than 15,000 employees of the General Electric Company will go on strike.

OUTLOOK FOR STRIKE

London So Regards Situation in Mexico

WASHINGTON WAITS Belief There is That Huerta Regime is Gradually Disintegrating—The Position of the Constitutionalists—Ambassador Ready to Leave Quickly if so Notified (Canadian Press) London, Nov. 20.—In the official quarters here there is decidedly pessimistic feeling regarding the Mexican situation. Hope of a peaceful solution of the question disappeared when President Huerta's message to the new congress became known. It had already begun to wane.

While the sending of the British warships to Mexico was said officially to have been done to provide for the rescue of British subjects and the protection of British property there is a growing belief that such a contingency is close at hand. It can be said on high authority that the warships were sent only after the British government became alarmed for the safety of British subjects in consequence of cable messages from Mexico indicating that anything may happen at any moment.

The optimism of the last few weeks that President Wilson's peace policy would be successful has given place to the pessimistic conviction that the messengers of peace are being driven back. This is deplored as it is realized that it will mean a long and costly war.

In Washington, Nov. 21.—The convening of the Mexican congress and Huerta's sending of his message are regarded by the British government as the most important step further along, and not as events which forecast any immediate peace. It is said on high authority that the administration officials regard the situation as a serious one, and that the official view of the situation is that the Mexican congress may be called at any time.

Such a favorable attitude by other nations generally strengthens the confidence of the British government in the power of the Huerta regime is crumbling. The fact that many members of congress, by previous agreement, are expected to attend the sessions of congress, is another evidence of the confidence of the British government in the Huerta regime.

While no positive steps are being taken and no action is being taken so far as known is planned, the disposition of high officials is to await developments, but that they deem it probable that the Huerta regime will be overthrown.

Mexico City, Nov. 20.—His face showing none of that whimsical humor which sometimes characterizes him, President Huerta this evening gave a message to the Mexican congress and read his message. Few Mexican deputies have read at the formal opening sessions of congress, and few have confined themselves so entirely to one object as Huerta did. His explanation of his motives for dissolving the old congress, most of the members of which are in the penitentiary, accused of sedition.

The Constitutionalists Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 21.—It was learned today from authoritative sources that one of the principal reasons why the conferences here between Wm. Bayard Haile and General Carranza broke up, was the failure of General Carranza to give the United States government assurances that accepted rules of civilized warfare would be observed by the Constitutionalists, if they were allowed to import arms and ammunition.

Carranza, it is understood, was not in a position to give these assurances, because of inability to control the general in the field.

It is said that Carranza came to the conclusion that he was making a political blunder by permitting the Mexican people to believe he would submit to American dictation, if he succeeded in defeating Huerta. This is said to have led to the story of the demand for Haile's credentials. There are rumors of a disagreement between Carranza and General Villa, which threatens to disrupt the Constitutional ranks.

Macdalena Sonora, Mex., Nov. 21.—General Carranza, Constitutionalist, announced that his departure for the south has been indefinitely postponed. He continues silent on the subject of the termination of conferences with President Wilson's special representative, Wm. Bayard Haile.

Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 21.—The fact that Nelson O'Shaughnessy, United States chargé d'affaires, had had two conferences with the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, during the last few days, became known here today. The only thing gathered is that the net result was to leave O'Shaughnessy unchanged. No instructions have been received from Washington for O'Shaughnessy to leave his post, but it is known that his personal affairs are in such order that he could leave at an hour's notice if the necessity arose.

HAWKES IS CANDIDATE

New Development In Troubled South Lanark

MAN OF 'BRITISH BORN' FAME

Enters Contest on Platform of 'Canada First and Common Sense Politics'—Opposes Rival Conservatives Who Want Place in Commons Toronto, Nov. 21.—The South Lanark bye-election, delayed by the government for some eight months, has now become a three-cornered contest, the third candidate being Arthur Hawkes, of "British Born" fame. Doctor Hanna was named as a regular Conservative candidate of the organization. Colonel Bardon has decided to stand as an independent Conservative.

Mr. Hawkes, the head and front of the "British Born" campaign of the general election of 1911 and recently the exponent of a "Canadian first" campaign against the Borden policy of naval contribution, is in the field with an appeal to the franchise of South Lanark electors.

In his address, delivered yesterday at St. John's, he declared himself as a non-partisan candidate, seeking support on a "Canada first and common sense politics" platform.

Mr. McKenna offered to do anything possible to assist the cause of the coal pocket. He offered to enclose the passengers' enclosure on the ferry boats, to place a glass front to the waiting room on the side of the wharf, or, if supports for the fence could not be secured to erect iron standards to support canvas walls of the same height.

PROTECT PEOPLE AGAINST DUST FROM THE COAL POCKET

Dominion Coal Company Official Willing to Make Changes To Hold Lease A Mackenzie of the Dominion Coal Company had a conference at noon today with Mayor Frink and the city commissioners regarding the renewal of their lease of North Rodney Wharf, W. ORURO IN PORT

The steamer Oruro, Captain Bale, of the Pickford & Black West India line, arrived in port this morning on her last voyage in the service from here to the West Indies, and docked at the McLeod wharf, just a few yards from where her successor, the Cobueque, lies taking in the cargo which would have been here but for a change in service. She left Denzera on November 2 and arrived in port about ten o'clock this morning with a very good cargo.

There were on board five cabin passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop, St. Vincent; G. Boon, St. Kitts; D. Turnbull, Bermuda; and R. Boon, St. Kitts. Besides these there were thirteen second-class passengers, and four steerage.

Amongst the steerage passengers were four Chinese, two of whom a father and child, were bound from Trinidad to Hong Kong, and two from Bermuda to Hong Kong. They are being brought through in bond, and under special guard will be taken to Halifax, whence they will sail on their way back home.

GIRL IS MISSING SINCE OCTOBER 14

Thirteen Year Old Irene Corrier of White Street

DID NOT RETURN FROM SCHOOL

Search Unavailing and Distressed Parents Give Description of Girl to Times in Hope of Getting Word—A Letter To send their child to school one day and to hear nothing as to her whereabouts during the six weeks that have elapsed since has been the sad experience of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corrier of 2 White Street.

The family consists of three girls, the eldest thirteen years of age. Since moving to the city from Campbellton last May, the girls have been attending the Central school, Irene, the eldest, was a pupil of Miss McKeith in the fourth grade. She left for school as usual on the afternoon of October 14 with a companion, Florie Pascoe, who is also a pupil of that school, although in a different grade. Irene was in attendance at the afternoon session but no one remembers seeing which way she went after leaving the school at half past three.

The two younger sisters who are in the lower grades came home as usual and when time passed and Irene did not return the mother became anxious but the younger sisters could not remember having seen her. When their daughter did not return during the evening the mother started out in search of her but not knowing of any other companions except the girl with whom she went to school the efforts of the mother were fruitless. She then notified Chief Clark and requested the police to search for her daughter. This was done but so far without success.

A letter, The only word that has been any clue is the fact that when the mother returned after her daughter disappeared she found under the door a letter, which had been left by the postman. It bore a coat stamp and was addressed to Irene. The envelope was addressed to a strange handwriting but it contained a short note from the girl written on a piece of paper in her own handwriting. The note was without headline or address and read as follows: "I have gone home with this lady and have a good home at last." The police are in a different handwriting and the mother says "How could my daughter know she had a good home after being in it only a few hours."

Mrs. Corrier said today that Irene was always happy at home and was very friendly with her two sisters. With the mother and father the sisters have prayed night and morning for her safe return. She had few companions and took great delight in her studies and was a regular attendant at school. Her teacher was very proud of her and said that she was very apt at learning.

The following description is given in the hope that any information of her whereabouts would be communicated with the Times, Mr. E. B. Hooper, who has interested himself in the case, of the girl.

Miss Corrier will be fourteen years of age next March. She is rather slight, tall for her age, with dark complexion and dark hair and eyes, and is quite good looking. When she left for school on October 14 she was dressed in a blue print dress with white spots, trimmed with lighter blue and wore a black and red stocking cap and button boots.

Mr. and Mrs. Corrier formerly lived in Campbellton but were burned out in the fire there a few years ago. They have come to St. John to live they have met with this and trouble. Under the strain Mrs. Corrier has taken sick and the father has to stay home with her and consequently is at present out of work.

Service Pays in the Long Run

The merchandising pendulum is swinging back. There is less emphasis on the bargain sale than ever before. Storekeepers are beginning to feel that it pays to build business by good service rather than by hurrying.

You notice the net already in much of the advertising. It means progress and evolution, a business-building on solid, substantial foundations.

It means brighter, cheerier, and even better written advertising. That means more interesting advertising.

Watch it. Study the advertising. You will find it well worth while.

INTERESTING HISTORICAL EVENT
The Nova Scotia Historical Society has unveiled a tablet in St. George's Church, Halifax, in the memory of Col. J. F. W. DesBarres.

The memorial is affixed to the north wall of the church, immediately above the tomb of DesBarres in the Crypt. The proceedings were interesting and impressive. The president, Archbishop Armistead, through whose exertions the tablet was secured, gave a brief introduction, recounting the labors and achievements of DesBarres; followed in a brief address by James S. Macdonald who closed his remarks by unveiling the tablet. The inscription gives a fair idea of the versatile genius of the man.

This Tablet Commemorates

MONTREAL ESTIMATES TO REACH $11,000,000; LARGEST IN CANADA

(Montreal Herald) The board of control is engaged in considering the apportionment of Montreal's budget for 1914, which will involve the distribution of approximately $11,000,000, the largest Canadian civic revenue ever recorded. With all the estimates in from the heads of departments the Controllers hope to complete their task by December. The various administrative and other routine matters with which the board of control has to deal were forgotten a day and until the end of the month several hours will be devoted each day to the distribution of the money, which will be greatly increased estimates over those asked for 1913 are requested by the health, water, market, lighting and incineration departments. The supplementary budget will not be made up until after Christmas.

PRODUCTION OF OIL SUBJECT OF ENQUIRY

Ottawa Report Says New Brunswick Shows Considerable Promise. Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Oil production in Canada is the subject of an enquiry now being made by the Dominion Mines Branch, and a reference to the subject is made in the annual report just issued. It says in part: "While the oil business has very generally been viewed by the public as a gambling enterprise, and many companies have conducted it as such, we are now able to say that the taking of great chances is disappearing."

Regarding the discoveries in Alberta the report says the deposits are considerable and the cost of drilling very high. In the Northern Alberta field it is pointed out that it has as yet produced no oil in commercial quantities. Quebec, the report says, gives no indication of petroleum or natural gas. New Brunswick shows considerable promise, while in Ontario production is declining and total depletion is approaching.

BRITAIN AND FREE TRADE

"A wise system of taxation is one which endeavors to adjust the burden in reasonable proportion to the wealth of the taxpayer. The worst of all systems of taxation is one such as this we are banded to oppose, which is not only commercially a blunder, but not only politically a disaster, but which is socially a crime."

The above sentences concluded the last of a series of four addresses by Sir John Simon, the British Attorney-General, under the auspices of the Free Trade Union of Liverpool. The system which he said they were banded to oppose was the proposed tariff reform of the Unionist party, which, as Sir John significantly observed, "meant the shifting of taxation to industry and poverty in order to avoid putting it where it ought to fall."

A report of this last of the four meetings addressed by Sir John Simon says that between five and six thousand people were present, and that there were expressions of the strongest opposition to the proposed tariff policy of the Unionist party by prominent shipping men, who pointed out that the abandonment of free trade would be a great injury to the shipping trade, and to Liverpool and other ports of the country. Sir William Forwood, free trade Unionist, sent a letter expressing the view that all Unionists who held free trade opinions should now declare them, and do all in their power to keep the country "true to the principles which have given us such great prosperity." Indeed the chairman of the meeting was of Unionist sympathies, and a number of other Unionist free traders were on the platform. The chairman observed that "so long as protection in any form remained part of the policy of a political party, and so long as the Tariff Reform League continued to carry on its propaganda, so long would it be their duty to keep the free trade flag flying in Liverpool and throughout the country."

Sir John Simon was able to make out a strong case in favor of the continuance of free trade. He said that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain had visited Liverpool ten years ago and laid it down as a proved fact that the export trade of the country was stagnant and stationary. Mr. Chamberlain has been shown to have been greatly wrong, and his followers are compelled to disguise the facts about the export trade, or "rearrange the figures in some plan that would not make them so horribly satisfactory." One of their methods Sir John exposed. They had published as a most alarming fact the statement that the export of certain articles by Germany to the overseas states of the British Empire had increased one hundred per cent between 1895 and 1905, while the export of the same articles from Great Britain to the dominions had only increased fifty-nine per cent.

"But what were the facts?" asked Sir John Simon. "In 1895 the British export was fifty-two millions. In 1905 it was eighty-three millions. In 1905 the German export was four millions. In 1905 it was eight millions. Did these gentlemen who still desire tariff reform imagine that the British people were going to be taken in by comparisons of that sort?"

Sir John declared that the imposition of a tariff would involve a burden upon industry and prosperity, and that a limited number of people would profit at the expense of the community at large. He pointed out that the American people are conducting their first effort to throw the load of tariffs from their back, and are also deliberately adopting the income tax.

So far as imperial relations were concerned, it was very much better to rely upon the natural bonds than "make these bonds galling and irksome by starting a debtor and creditor account."

"When," said Sir John, "you have stripped tariffs of the imperial tinsel which they wear, and of the patriotic airs they assume, in the last resort they are merely a system by which to shift taxation upon industry and poverty in order to avoid putting it where it ought to fall."

The news that comes to Canada through Unionist channels conceals the fact that there is a strong free trade element in that party. There is, however, and, as we have just seen, a letter from one of them read at the meeting in Liverpool, expressed the conviction that the Unionist party would not be returned to power as long as it held on to tariff reform. The party is divided upon this great question as it is upon many others, and at the present moment its strongest hope of gaining power appears to rest upon a belief that votes can be gained by encouraging dissension in Ireland and race and religious prejudice throughout the United Kingdom. It derives some encouragement from the temporary success of such a policy on the part of the Tories in Canada, but neither in Canada nor the mother country can such an appeal succeed for any length of time.

With great joy the Standard quotes from a Tory Journal in Moose Jaw a statement to the effect that Mr. P. B. Carvell will not be received with open arms in the west. Since when did the west refuse a welcome to any man of ability? But Mr. Carvell is not going west. He has said so over and over again, and the Standard knows it. The trouble with that Journal is its recognition of Mr. Carvell's great ability, and its fear that he will remain in this province to continue his successful opposition to the Tory-Nationalist alliance.

An Ottawa despatch to the Standard says that in connection with the new parcel post system the Canadian Pacific expects special treatment. Of course it does.

The mildness of the weather so far in November is quite remarkable. It is of great benefit to those engaged in construction work, who wish to get as much done as possible in advance of the severe winter weather.

Entrenched privilege in England is making a great outcry against the policy of the Liberal government. That it will be able to prevent the accomplishment of great reforms nobody believes. The most it can do is to delay that accomplishment.

The proposal that the abutters along a street should pay half the expense of paving it is not a radical one. It is the law in many cities in the United States, and they are invariably cities with well paved streets.

While there is a growing demand for a reduction in the Canadian tariff, it is found that the average rate of duty on goods entering Canada last year was 17.08. In the last year of the Laurier administration it was 15.87. Evidently very little relief from tariff burdens may be expected under Conservative rule.

The congratulations sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by King George and many of the foremost statesmen of the Empire yesterday, in honor of his 72nd birthday, are sufficient answer to the attempts of the lower order of Tory journals in Canada to besmirch his record and belittle his great services to Canada and the Empire.

The Standard says that the farmers are gaining the American market without being called upon to pay for the privileges. This is a particularly foolish statement. Not only is the farmer not getting as free entry into the American market as he would have got under reciprocity, but every consumer in the province, and that includes the farmer, is paying the increased local price of produce without getting any compensating advantage from a reduction in the Canadian tariff.

The Standard is wrong in its assertion that the Times is attempting to cast doubt upon the coming of the Royal steamships to St. John. Mr. Hazen and his friends are responsible for any atmosphere of doubt that may prevail in St. John. Everybody expected the Empress steamships to come to St. John, and they were scheduled to sail from this port. They are not coming. Now that the representative of the Royal Line has come to St. John and is making arrangements in connection with the coming of the steamships to this port, it will naturally be assumed that the vessels are coming; but only a short time has elapsed since Mr. Hazen declared that they would go to Halifax and not St. John. St. John, as the Times has before observed, will heartily welcome the Royal steamships. It would also welcome from the Standard an explanation of the juggling which took the Empress away.

Tablet to Dr. Evans.

At the Hampton Methodist church next Sunday morning Rev. Howard Sprague, D. D., will unveil a tablet to the memory of the late Rev. Edwin Evans, D. D., who died last spring after many years in the ministry. The tablet has been supplied by members of the congregation. A handsome communion table has also been donated to the church by the family of the late pastor. A new pulpit Bible has also been placed in the church by the Junior Girls' League in memory of Miss Flossie Peters, one of their members, who died last week. Mrs. J. E. Irvine has replaced the pulpit chairs with a new set.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsced and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is proved as every test can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsced and Turpentine has done much good to my wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsced and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsced and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

Paradoxical Brown
"I understand Brown is close flated."
"Yes and no."
"That's a fool answer. No man can be light flated and generous at the same time."
"Brown can. He gave me this black eye."

Good Place For It.
Newcomer—Is this a good-place for rheumatism?
Old Native—Oh, yes; I got mine here!

Characteristic of the Sex
Ethel (impatiently)—Oh, why doesn't Billy come? He's kept me waiting a whole half-hour.
Her Brother—I always told you that fellow had effeminate traits.

His Ambition
"I can't understand" his wife complained, "why you should wish to run for congress. You haven't any special qualifications for that sort of a life, and think of the worry it will bring. The newspapers will criticise you and you will never dare again to say your soul's your own."
"I know, my dear, but think of the income I will get by lecturing if I succeed in getting into office and become mixed up in a 'bribery' or a lobbying scandal!"—Chicago "Record-Herald."

Dr. Morse's Backward Children Made Bright and Active by Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Many a growing boy or girl is set down as constitutionally slow, stupid or lazy when it is really a question of inactive bowels, lazy liver or sluggish kidneys. The growing child, with a hearty appetite, certainly cannot long remain healthy and bright if the servers of the body, the bowels and the kidneys, are choked up with impurities that should be thrown off promptly.

The maddly complexion, dragging limbs and dislike for mental or physical effort show plainly that the child needs Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills to set up the liver and kidneys and regulate the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills do this most effectively, cleansing the whole system, purifying the blood, aiding the digestion and giving plenty of life and activity.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Charles Forman, United States consul at Turks Island, was transferred to Montreal, N. B., while Michael J. Hendrick, U. S. consul at Moncton, has been transferred to Christiana, Norway. The schooner Ada, with a crew of four men, belonging to Sackville, N. B., which sailed on Oct. 30 from Dalhousie for Summerside, P. E. I., is believed to have been lost. No tidings have been heard of her, and wreckage has been found similar to her cargo.

AGAINST THE PROPOSED WELSH DISMEMBERMENT

Lord St. Aldwyn, one of the speakers, advocated state control of the church. He thought the electorate should be consulted before any move was made to dismember the church. The Bank of Montreal subscription list for the £1,200,000 issue of city of Montreal four and a half per cent closed yesterday in London, the amount fully subscribed. The C. P. R. will now be able to resume partial service with Austria, owing to an agreement between that country and the company made yesterday, but emigration traffic will not be permitted.

TRIAL OF COUNTLESS MAKES A STRIP IN GEE

Berlin, Nov. 21.—All Germany eyes today fixed upon the trial of the "Countess" Fischer, charged with perpetrating a large number of financial operations and with being an "easy mark" matrimonial.

The countless readily admitted it was the daughter of an obscure of Offenbach, and said that, who was eighteen years of age he "sib" to call in the police to help him. It was soon after this divorce that she met Count Fischer, who at the time was in serious financial straits. The marriage took place in a consideration of twenty-five thousand marks. The evidence confirmed the pre-arranged charges that the countess is forty years of age and an avowed drinker and smoker. It was now clear that she took liquor by the liter and often drank three bottles champagne daily in addition to wine.

THE CHRISTMAS SPOILER

These are some of the Spoilers Christmas, that many a time have led the day of gladness into a gloom. First of all is Self-Pity. Minutes of indulgence in the luxury of feeling sorry for yourself is enough to cloud the whole twenty-four hours of our rights; on this day wipe all your Rights, your dues and claims just and think for other people, be content to be neglected; offer you cannot understand the Christ kind of Happiness. The Grouch; vicious Christmas Spoiler; a sly, sly, facet person (no matter what the vocation), who moves among the by-ways of the family on this day, a poison snake among the straw. Extravagance spoils any day, and more than Christmas; for it is not just but mean pride and self-display; lurks under gifts beyond one's means. The simpler Christmas is kept, the genuine it is. Finally, to get the best out of this festival, we ought to make it as nearly as possible a children's day, by play and laughter; an whole-hearted enjoyment of existence. Dr. Frank Crane in December Words.

Miss Irene Vogels of Los Angeles, is the first girl who has ever out to be a locomotive engineer. She has been at practice for some time, operating a ten-wheel passenger engine, it is expected to qualify for a regular within two months.

NEW YORK STRIKE MAY RENDER 300,000 WORK-PEOPLE IDLE

New York, Nov. 21.—Efforts yesterday failed to bring about a settlement of the strike of 400 cloth spicers and cutters which threatens enforced idleness for 300,000 workers in the clothing and cloak industry. The strike began on last Monday. Already there has resulted a shortage of materials in this and other cities dependent upon the thirty-eight firms affected by the strike for their supplies.

Employers on Tuesday granted recognition of the men's union and agreed that the union should have jurisdiction over the apprentices. The strikers further demand a general increase in wages of from one to three dollars a week, Saturday half holiday, and pay for all legal holidays.

MORMONISM GROWING IN CANADA

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The visit which Joseph P. Smith, president of the Mormon Church, is now making at Alberta in connection with the erection of a temple at Cardston, to cost $250,000, arouses interest in the extent of the Mormon population of Canada. According to the census of 1901 there were 4,881 Mormon settlers in the dominion, and in 1911 almost 16,000. The number is now believed to be considerably over sixteen thousand.

In the former decade the principal settlement was in Ontario, the total being 2,277, while in Alberta there were 3,212. By the last census it is shown that more than half the Mormons of Canada are now found in Alberta, the total in that province being 9,978. In Ontario the number is 4,912, the balance being scattered throughout the other provinces.

BARGAINS RULE SUPREME AT MODEL MILLINERY SALON

Record Values in Every Line of Chic Trimmed Headwear at a Mere Fraction of Ordinary Price—Qualities and Styles Best Ever Offered Here at Prices Asked

Record values and rapid sales marked the opening of the Model Millinery Company's week-end bargain event, which took place this morning at their show rooms, 29 Canterbury street. That better qualities and smarter designs were never offered here at the prices was clearly evidenced in every department, taking advantage of this remarkable opportunity to supply their winter headwear needs at prices representing but mere fractions of actual values.

Of exceptional interest is the extensive array of trimmed hats, comprising every style of development in design and coloring effects, at figures which to say the least, are temptingly low.

In untrimmed colored hats, the entire stock was marked—regardless of original values—at just half regular prices.

Another feature of particular importance is a new arrival of ultra-stylish creations in black beaver and black haters plush, offered, during the sale, at only $2 each.

Colored velvets, in all the leading shades, have been reduced to $2 each, away below regular prices and white beavers at $3 each.

Sweeping reductions also prevail in wings and fancy feathers which are marked at the uniform figure of 15 cents each. This is also true of a new lot of velvet roses of which shoppers are given their choice at 25 cents each.

Every offering expresses the last word of fashion, and thrifty buyers should lose no time in making selections, as the choicest bargains will be rapidly picked up.

The Model Millinery Company's show-rooms, at 29 Canterbury street, will be open till 10 o'clock Saturday night.

The cruiser New Zealand is expected at Halifax this afternoon.

MIDDLE CLASS REVOLT

Europe's Small Traders Are Making a Stir
A TWO-EDGED SWORD

They Would Have it Turned One Way Against the Big Shop-keepers and the Other Against the Working Man Who Wants to Advance

(Times' Special Correspondence)
Vienna, Nov. 10.—Europe is made up of two classes—millionaires and middle-class. This remark has just been made at Brno, in Moravia, by a speaker at a meeting of tradesmen convoked to protest against "capitalist oppression." The capitalist oppression condemned was not the oppression of the very poor by the rich and middle-class; but the oppression of the middle class by the rich. It was a meeting of the middle-class tradesmen, who just now are all over Austria and Germany and in parts of Russia, are making a tremendous fuss over the alleged crushing to death, by capitalistic undertakings, of all enterprises of moderate size. The basis of this movement is a demand for drastic state interference and for penalties, prohibitions, and punitive taxation for all persons who, in their commercial operations, exceed certain limits of size. In addition the "Mittelstanders," as they are called, are demanding state interference against intrusion from below; and are doing every thing they can to prevent the laboring class pushing its way into their sacred field.

No month passes without middle-class meetings being held somewhere in Germany or Austria, and all these meetings have the same features: violent denunciation on the one side of capitalists, proprietors of big commercial undertakings, of departmental stores, co-operative societies, men who sell goods on a large scale by post; and on the other side denunciation of unskilled, untrained laborers who push their way into the skilled occupations. And every middle-class meeting concludes with resolutions demanding that the state shall check all competition from above or below which threatens the interests of men of moderate wealth.

Austria's finance minister, Baron von Bilinski, who has steadfastly refused to give way to the middle-class appeal, estimates that about 2,000,000 families in the empire are "Mittelstanders." This includes officials and others with moderate salaries who join the movement on condition of getting support from the tradesmen for their own salary and pension agitations; and it also includes a large number of "middle-class" skilled workers who are warring not on capitalist competitors above but on proletarian intruders from below.

Dr. Hugo Bottger, a Reichstag member who has written several books on the "Mittelstand" agitation holds that Germany has nearly 8,000,000 such fam-

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. NERVES ARE SORE AND PAINFUL

Neuritis, or inflammation of the nerves, is the most painful or nerve ailment. You may feel the soreness of tenderness throughout the body, or it may be confined to certain nerves. In the head it is called neuralgia; in the hips and legs, sciatica; in the face, tic-douleur; and in the chest, intercostal neuralgia.

The application of dry heat affords relief from the lance-like pains, but the essential thing is to build up the exhausted nervous system by the persistent use of such a restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You will have other symptoms to warn you of the depleted condition of the nervous system, and this is your opportunity to restore to the body the energy and vigor of health.

groups everything which is sold in retail shops, and provided that any single shop which traded in more than one of these groups must, if its annual turnover exceeded $100,000, pay a punitive tax. The small shop may trade in as many groups as it pleases. But if a big shop trades at the same time in, say, food and clothes, it is penalized. The punitive tax is heavy. It rises from one per cent of the turnover, which is a big percentage on the proportionately small profits to two per cent, where the turnover is more than $250,000.

The tax may rise to 20 per cent of the ordinary industrial tax. A shop which runs several branches each dealing in different groups of goods must pay 2 per cent of the turnover, irrespective of the amount. The tax is proving effective. From 1870 to 1890 the number of departmental stores with a $100,000 turnover increased from two to sixty-seven; since 1900 they have increased only from sixty-seven to ninety. In Bavaria, Saxony and Wurttemberg the "Mittelstanders" had the same success.

That is the chief achievement of the middle-class movement so far. It expects more. In particular the complaint is made that the big men have the audacity to charge small profits; and this most of all hits the small man. The present demand is to tax the percentages of profit; and the smaller the profit, the bigger must the tax be. The real intent of this demand is to tax the big stores out of existence.

INDOOR WORK REDUCES STRENGTH

because confining duties, lack of fresh air and sunshine gradually weaken even a strong constitution, and the enfeebled system readily accepts sickness and disease.

Scott's Emulsion checks such decline. Its pure cod liver oil is nature's greatest medicinal food while its hypophosphites act as a building tonic. It refreshes the body, puts vigor in the blood, strengthens the lungs, upbuilds the nerves and invigorates the whole system.

Saskatoon, Sask., Nov. 21.—J. C. Drinkwater, a well known citizen has just donated $5,000 to the local Y. M. C. A. This is one of the most popular institutions in the city. It may be remembered that two years ago, the citizens of Saskatoon, within about two days, subscribed $127,000 toward it and the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Drinkwater is at present erecting a ten story building here.

THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson. When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch. It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen. This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often. In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising. There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

"It is better to be sure than sorry."

THE GIANTS' BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

morning. Instead it met us at one in the afternoon. We all hurried in some food and went out to play a game of ball. McGraw was certainly sore, and he hit things about the service and arrangements for the party that made me wonder if he was talking to an umpire who had pulled a raw one on him.

Another night we were hustling through to get to the game. I was scheduled to arrive at one in the morning, but I was not to leave until the first time since leaving Cincinnati in the special. Specials are all right to sleep in, but it is preferable for a permanent arrangement. The train was three hours late and we all got dumped at the station in the morning. It was not a very comfortable night.

Verily, verily this trip has been a great test for the disposition of the "honey-moosers," we have five samples with us. They all stood the rough going fine, though, and I expect to see a single argument. Let them try to do the same thing two years from now under similar adverse conditions and see if their temperamental shock absorbers are working as smoothly.

The latter part of the trip across the continent was very enjoyable. I certainly am struck on California. I expect to remain out here on the Pacific slope all winter and put in my time playing golf and writing a little for newspapers and magazines. Two or three times during the trip across the continent, I was strongly tempted to go all the way around the world. It was the chance of a life time to make the trip.

The party is composed of the best bunch of fellows that was ever gotten together. I hated to leave it on this account. We had a great time on the way to the coast. We were royally entertained in the various towns all along the route. I know it is a pleasure to see foreign countries, only the style of entertainment will be more novel and the sights stranger to Yankee eyes.

I had a very good time on the trip. I was only for not going is that I want a rest from baseball. I have been working at it at a big wage for more than thirteen years now. I want to forget it entirely this winter so I can come back stronger next season. If I pitched all winter, I would probably be stale next summer because I am no longer a recruit.

The boys heard the other day that this country in order to be admitted to Japan. "I'm for cutting the Japs right off our calling list if they insist on foolish stuff like that," declared "Larry" Doyle. "The last time I was vaccinated, my arm was as big as a barrel." If they could vaccinate me against sea sickness, I would have made the trip myself.

JAVELIN Holds the Palm, If This Writer Speaks Truly. There is no species of wild animal more ferocious and bolder than the javelin, or wild muskdog, which has its habitat in the wilderness of chaparral along the lower course of the Rio Grande in Texas.

Extending back from the river, which for 800 miles marks the dividing line between the United States and Mexico, is a rolling country that is covered with low brush and prickly pear. Along the borders of the streams are mast-bearing trees. The mast is the fruit of the cacti and tender roots of the many different kinds of plants and shrubs afford the javelin an ample supply of food at all times of the year.

With all its abundant food which nature has so generously provided they never take on an excess of fat and they maintain a lankness and firmness of foot which enables them to make their way through the thorny brush without hindrance and, in case of danger or attack, they can fairly speed the ground in pursuit of their adversary.

Javelins of the lower border region of Texas possess peculiar characteristics which are not found in the wild muskdogs of other regions. A yellow stripe creases their body near their shoulders. They attain a size almost equal to the largest domestic dogs. Long tusks protrude from both the lower and upper jaws and fit together like pairs of sharp scissors. The females as well as the males are equipped with these weapons of attack and defense.

It is the bears, however, which are mostly to be feared. The animals run in droves of five to fifty and each drove is usually led by two or three bears. They have the power to trail by scent, but this faculty is used by them only in cases of emergency when in pursuit of some enemy, either man or bear. Javelin pigs, when captured very young can be domesticated. These animals are trained and used as "watch dogs" by many ranchmen of southwest Texas. Their ferocity toward strangers and bitter enmity toward other wild animals of the foraging kind make them very useful pets.

So far as known the javelin is the only wild animal which has no semblance of fear in its makeup. It never turns tail and runs no matter how the attack upon it may be made. Sportsmen who visit the chaparral region in search of deer, bear and other big game always try to steer clear of the javelin. The risk incurred in standing up against a drove of these animals is more than the average sportsman is willing to encounter. Some of the most noted sportsmen in America have traveled long distances to hear the javelin in their native wilds, but after being forced to seek refuge in a tree and perhaps keep there for a day or two by the enraged animals before a rescue can be effected, the dangerous nature of the sport is realized and the experiment of hunting the javelin is not repeated.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

HEALTH AND ENVIRONMENT

Dr. James Places Responsibility on Man in Charge. "Man and His Surroundings" was the subject of a lecture given last week at the American Museum of Natural History in New York by Dr. Walter B. James, trustee of the museum, and professor of clinical medicine at the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The purpose of the course of lectures, which this was one, is to present in as simple a way as possible the modern problem of health living. Dr. James said that the practice of healthy living must be carried out by the people themselves, and the responsibility for it rests upon their shoulders. The human body may be regarded as a machine existing in a certain environment and for the purpose of accomplishing certain ends. The usefulness and efficiency, the amount of its output and the infrequency of its breakdown must depend not upon a consulting engineer but upon the intelligence of the person immediately in charge.

The effectiveness shown by the United States government," he said, "in cleaning up Havana and the Canal zone leaves no question as to its ability to cope with such problems, and the real demonstration of the government to handle such matters has strengthened the argument in favor of the extension of government control, and especially the establishment of a National Board of Health with wide powers and views in the cabinet.

"All diseases," Doctor James said, "are the result of injuries to the human body, whether it be from overwork, by the use of too much alcohol, or by bacteria." He warned his listeners against the tendency to protect the body too thoroughly from the influence of anything that is not clean, either by too much clothing, by the use of too much soap, or by the use of too much disinfectant. "The body," he added, "is the only way in which the machinery of the body is kept in order. Without such use, the machinery deteriorates and eventually may find itself subject to breakdown or to rough food and is then able to take care of it."

A MODEL IN CO-OPERATION

In connection with the particulars which "The Oregonian" has been publishing about co-operation, and the sections on the Pacific Coast it may not be uninteresting to notice the progress which the same cause has made in England. The Wholesale Co-operative Society of England has just celebrated its fiftieth anniversary by publishing an account of its origin and business. The purpose of the society is to furnish goods to the retail or wholesale stores which have made themselves so famous in Great Britain and its first year of business amounted to $20,000. Last year it had $20,000,000. This is an astonishing growth, but it has not all been made along strictly mercantile lines.

The society has gradually extended its scope to meet the needs of the retail stores to which it caters. It manufactures shoes, furniture, wire mattresses and other supplies. The by-products of the machinery of the society are sold to the public at a profit. The society has also a department for the sale of second-hand goods. The society has a total of 5,400 members. The tobacco business which it conducts amounts to $20,000,000 a year. The investments back with contempt any other big syndicate.

SAM LANGFORD JOINING THOSE OF OTHER DAYS

FROM T. R. ANDREWS

Milwaukee, Nov. 18.—The French fighters are all steering clear of America for the present, and all because Charlie Ledoux, French bantam weight champion, gave out bad reports about the French way the Americans treat the French boxers here. Evidently Charlie did not feel that he was given much consideration over here, which is rather strange for as a rule foreign fighters are well treated by their Yankee counterparts.

The arguments regarding Sam Langford's form at the present time seem a bit far fetched. The statement that Langford is not yet at his best must have been sprung by some joker. Sam will never be any better than he has been and this is better emphasized by the fact that his manager, Joe Woodman, expects Sam to retire for good in another year. Joe made this statement to me when he was in New York a few weeks ago and he felt confident at the time that which it has made in agriculture are almost endless. It manages farms which supply the retail co-operative stores with fruit and vegetables. It has dairies, creameries and lighthouses in England and tea farms in Ceylon.

Like many similar enterprises, the wholesale co-operative society owes its success to the impetus which it originally received from a devoted apostle. His name was F. T. W. Mitchell. This enthusiast, who was at the same time an extremely capable man of business, conducted the affairs of the society from 1874 to 1885, the year of his death. His fidelity may be estimated from the fact that his estate was valued at $1,200,000 when he died. All his energies were devoted to the society, which he believed would solve many social problems. Co-operation in England has always commanded the services of highly gifted men for small remunerations because its promise to humanity moves them to make sacrifices for it.

HOME LOVING CELEBRITIES (London Tit-Bits) It is a popular belief that genius can only develop in "solitary seclusion." A study of the lives of some of our greatest writers and thinkers, however, revealed the fact that most of their best work was done after marriage, when they enjoyed the companionship of wives and children. Charles Kingsley, for instance, had an ideal home and was never happier than when playing with his children. He gave them the best of everything, the largest and sunniest rooms in the house, and the best part of the family income. He was a devoted and almost devoted to his children, and his griefs made him sad. "A child weeping over a broken toy," he wrote, "is a sight I cannot bear."

Langford would give up the ring for good before 1913. Sam has always been a great fighter, better than most heavy weights, and it is too bad he did not get the chance to measure strength and science with Jack Johnson. The latter never had any great liking for Sam's science, but now that he needs the money and can see it in a match with Langford, he is willing to go ahead with it, but he has requested Joe Woodman to give him a chance to first pick up some of the soft ones. But as to Langford's form again, it might be said that Sam will hardly ever get back to 180 best of shape, for when he met Joe Jeanette he scaled a pound under 200, and there is no denying the ability of Sam as a fighter; every sporting man knows that, but they are also aware that the "Tar Baby" has passed the zenith of his career in the ring.

THE MANAGERS OF PACEY McFARLAND and Jack Britton—Daniel Morgan and Emil Tully—have been throwing challenges back and forth for the last six months and now the promoters have battled into the controversy. Daniel to bet that Jack can hang the prize of Chicago a trimming. It so happens that Britton is also a Chicago boy, but not so much a prize as Pacey. They can see only one light weight in the world, and that is Pacey. The fans about the west want to see them get together and now the promoters are despatching with the two stars. They may clash in the beer city.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK? If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs." Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, sleepless, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative" and mothers can rest after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Syrup Company," San Francisco, Cal. Hand back with contempt any other big syndicate.

his prettiest poems to his wife, while Tompson had a liking for domesticity, and in spite of a happy home, which critics contend is liable to damp genius, was able to write undying verse. George Borrow did all his best work after his marriage, and if he had married earlier would not have wasted so much time writing pot-boilers, while Froude did better after he had started domesticity. Willing that apart from his wife that once when he went alone to Brighton to start a new novel, he had telegraph to her to join him. He tried shutting himself in a room, and walking up and down the shore, but in the end he went to the telegraph office. Browning had one of the best of homes, and some of his finest poems were written to his wife. Southey found domesticity so necessary and soothing that he married twice, while Carlyle's wife was invaluable as the room in the roof to read chapters about the great Frederick to her and their rush back again.

Not True After All. A man in one of the offices in the Indianapolis Federal building was seen to feed into his typewriter a $5 bill and then calmly begin writing on it. On his desk, were a number of other bills of various denominations. Visions of a boundless wealth that would permit its possessor to use money on which to write his correspondence rose in the mind of the spectator. The idea was novel. It appeared to him, that if he thought of how eagerly some of the notes under such conditions would be seized on the idea in their efforts to show the light of their social standing. But alas, the money was counterfeit, and the man who was writing on it was Thomas E. Hall, of the United States secret service. He was writing upon the bills notations relative to their identity.—Indianapolis News.

Most people would be benefited by the occasional use of Na-Dra-Co Laxatives. Gently, thoroughly, and without discomfort, they free the system of the waste which poisons the blood, lowers the vitality, and causes its growth. Near Louisiana, Mo., a walnut log found recently, buried six feet deep, supposed to be at least 200 years old, there was growing over it a "scare" tree three feet in diameter, and "sap" was about 100 years old when ceased its growth.

Board of Trade, Commissioners and Others—Matter of Pickford & Black Steamship Call

The advisability of encroaching upon the 400 foot neutral strip at West St. John to give room for the extension of the proposed government pier was discussed by the council of the Board of Trade at noon today. The members felt that they were not in a position to take a definite stand and that it required rather the consideration of an expert harbor engineer. For this reason they did not favor holding a public meeting at present.

FIRST MAIL FROM ENGLAND SINCE NOVEMBER TWELVE EXCEEDS CHRISTMAS RECORD

New York, Nov. 21.—A record contingent of mail from England, not excepting the great amount brought in at Christmas Time, arrived in New York on one steamer today. There were 5,802 sacks weighing about 158 tons, was brought by the Majestic. The contingent was so large that the steamer's mail room could not hold it all, and many sacks were stored in staterooms not engaged by passengers. HORS DE COMBAT LONG TIME

Fallen Animal Keeps Owner and Spectators Busy For More Than Two Hours

A horse which had evidently seen better days, caused considerable excitement when it slipped and fell while going along Pond street this morning, and it was not until more than two hours had elapsed that the animal was finally raised. The accident occurred about nine o'clock as the team was passing Fleming's foundry. Some people gave assistance to the crew to the horse on his feet again, but every effort was without avail. At six o'clock the harness was removed, but still the horse either could not or would not rise. It was now about eleven o'clock, and the driver, who lived in the city, was beginning to feel that he must soon be getting home. Finally some one struck on a brilliant idea. The horse had fallen just opposite a telephone pole, a block and tackle were rigged on the pole, some wire was secured from the foundry, this was fastened to the collar of the horse and with several persons pulling at the other end, slowly but surely the horse was elevated till he found a more comfortable rest on his feet. The animal was then reharnessed to the wagon and the driver was able to proceed.
