AT ALBANY.

Two Men Dead as a Result of Yesterday's Trouble.

Street Cars Running Today With Armed Soldiers on Board.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 17.—E. I. Smith, the prominent citizen and clubman who was shot by a squad from the 23rd regiment, died shortly before 6 o'clock this morning at the Albany hospital, after making a statement to his clergyman exonerating the men from blame. Mr. Smith is 60 years of age. He was the senior member of the large shoe manufacturing concern of Smith, Pratt & Herrick, a member of the Fort Orange club and Albany club, and a prominent republican. He was president of the last American whist congress. He leaves a wife and three children.

Two prominent citizens dead, no cars running and threats of violence if an attempt is made today to continue the armed running of yesterday, is what Albany awoke to this morning. The beautiful summer weather made no favorable impression on people. Gloomy brooded groups of men stood about street corners and discussed the death of the two inoffensive citizens. "Murder" was the term most frequently used, and some of the city papers were so much excited that they even went to the soldiery and in the camp of the 23rd regiment.

Very general regret was expressed this morning over the two deaths. Major General Roe, Brigadier General Oliver and General Barnes of the 23rd regiment, which did the fatal shooting, while regretting it, said this morning that the soldiers were obliged to stop mob violence and shoot if attacked, and the only safety for peaceable citizens was to move away at the first indication of disorder.

No effort had been made up to nine o'clock this morning to move cars, and there was no activity manifested at the Quail street barn, from which all the cars operated yesterday were sent out. The company's line on Clinton avenue has been cut again and other breaks are reported from different parts of the city, so that the first move of the day will probably be made with the tower and repair wagons. They were brought from New York to join the ranks of the strike breakers, were brought to the Quail street barn this morning, and under guard of a battalion of the 23rd were marched to the car barn without any riot or trouble.

It was 10:15 before the road began to operate its cars this morning and then several cars were sent down the hill and up to North Albany. The street corners were rather deserted, but the soldiers in the cars, with their loaded guns resting on their knees, watched closely as the corners were passed.

The second regiment and the 23rd regiment had thrown out men to guard all important points, the same as yesterday. On each car was four extra crews and when the seven cars reached the North Albany barn the extra men were dropped off. They were placed on West Albany cars and shortly after this line of the company began to operate as far west as Quail street. Central avenue, which has been a hot bed of trouble, was pretty well cleared of cars by the 23rd regiment men, and the first car since the strike began ran up the avenue. The company announces that before tonight every line within the city limit will be in operation, but the town operation, of course, before the cars will be running with a soldier guard, but without any fares, for the public is afraid to ride.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The ninth regiment, 50 strong, under the command of Col. William W. Morris, started for Albany soon after eleven o'clock today.

MRS. MCKINLEY.

The President's Wife is Slightly Improved Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 17.—The head of Mrs. McKinley is still in the balance at an early hour today and the attending physician could give no more reassuring information than that her condition was unchanged. There had been some improvement during the night, but the case still was in the hands of watchers were filled with hope, though fearful of a relapse. The patient's vitality was at its lowest ebb during the early morning and not until the critical time should pass could the physicians offer any word of cheer. Should there be no sinking spell today and the slight gain of strength noted last night be maintained it was considered possible that there might be a gradual return to health.

However, the doctors would not express anything stronger than a hope that Mrs. McKinley might recover sufficiently to admit of her removal to her home, and they did not declare with any confidence. At intervals Mrs. McKinley has been conscious and has recognized her husband, who has remained almost constantly at her side. He is bowed with sorrow and his careworn expression is noticeable to all who stand near his bed. He was in Lafayette park opposite his temporary home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 17.—E. I. Smith, the prominent citizen and clubman who was shot by a squad from the 23rd regiment, died shortly before 6 o'clock this morning at the Albany hospital, after making a statement to his clergyman exonerating the men from blame. Mr. Smith is 60 years of age. He was the senior member of the large shoe manufacturing concern of Smith, Pratt & Herrick, a member of the Fort Orange club and Albany club, and a prominent republican. He was president of the last American whist congress. He leaves a wife and three children.

SEA SCARE AND PRAYER.

Remarks by Dr. Parkhurst on the Prayerless Overland Route.

"Devoutness goes out of our hearts just as fast as comfort comes into our souls. We thank God when we are hungry and forget Him when we have had enough. That is why the blessing comes at the beginning of the dinner rather than at the end. This having body and soul tied up in one bundle is a precious experiment. To be clean half dirt and the other half divinity is awkward. Great devoutness is likely to be tied to a body that is skinnier, and full development of body is the easy accompaniment of a soul that is emancipated."

Pastors are often asked to put up prayers for those in distress, disappointment, bereavement, indigence. A man who is making money needs more praying for than the man who is losing it. The man who has abundant health is more in danger than the one who is invalided. Sense of sufficiency is a foe to saintliness and rubs devotion clean out. We are, at any rate, not inclined to trust in God and lean upon Him so long as the appearance is that only our own resources and ingenuity are requisite.

"It is approximately the same distance from New York to California as from New York to Liverpool. Now, first and last, a good many members of the congregation have asked that prayer might be made for themselves and their friends when about to sail for Europe. But, so far as I remember, not a soul ever solicited from me such prayerful remembrance when about to sail for San Francisco by the overland route, of course. Land is more solid than water and the thought is that it takes less God to see a train safely across the continent than to see a boat safely across the Atlantic. At the request of friends I have prayed for good many people across from Sandy Hook to Queenstown; but in only two instances, I think, have I ever been asked to return thanks to God for their having got safely over. People are devout when they are a little frightened of the sea, but recover themselves and turn atheist when they strike terra firma. There are no such lively prayer meetings as those that have been held on the decks of vessels that were foundering or adrift."

"Such cases do not indicate a lack of religious appreciation or of religious conviction. All that is in stock may be on the back shelves, instead of being unburied and put forward in the great windows, but it is there. And when a man who has never prayed since he knelt at his mother's knee stands at the edge of a boat that is at the point of sinking and screams to Almighty God as he feels himself dropping down among the watery depths, it is not because he has just begun to believe in God, the eternal world and the judgment day, but because all the props of his self-sufficiency have been knocked out from under him."

Dr. Inch, chief superintendent of education, has published the following: "The recent death of our beloved queen renders it eminently fitting that Empire day for the year 1901 shall be specially observed as Victoria Memorial day. All lessons and school exercises on that day should have special reference to the progress of the empire during the Victorian era, and to the glorious influence of the life and character of Victoria the Good upon all the people of the British empire, and of the world."

WAS IT MURDER?

Body of Rev. Dr. Phillips of Hazelton, Pa.,

Found in Massage Operator's Rooms—A Very Mysterious Case.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The body of a man found late last night in a house in Ninth avenue, has been identified as that of the Rev. Dr. Edward S. Phillips, of St. Gabriel's church, Hazelton, Pa., who recently had a conference with J. Pierpont Morgan in reference to the threatened strike in the iron and coal regions of Pennsylvania. The coroner says that the identification can hardly be questioned, as papers found on the body seem to prove it. The police are working on the theory of murder. Kirk Stanley, a massage operator, in whose rooms the body was found, is under arrest as a suspicious person.

A great deal of mystery surrounds the case. Decomposition had advanced so far when the body was discovered that a cursory examination was not sufficient to reveal the cause of death, and an autopsy will be held.

Stanley, subjected to a rigid examination, is said to have told conflicting stories. Mrs. Bernius, from whom Stanley leased four rooms, in one of which the body was found, says that her tenant claimed to be from San Francisco and called himself "Dr. Stanley." He was accompanied by a young woman, whom he introduced as his wife. The body was discovered by Mrs. Bernius' daughter, who went into Stanley's apartment to remove some bedding. The police were immediately notified and a search of the body disclosed a number of papers. Among them was a letter from John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, and addressed to Rev. Dr. E. S. Phillips, Hazelton, Pa. There were also several telegrams from Mitchell addressed to the priest. A half fare railway coupon, such as is issued to clergymen, and several receipts made out in Dr. Phillips' name. It was made public for the first time, after the identification of the body, that two confidential alarms had been sent out by captain of detectives, Titus, for Rev. Dr. Phillips, who, according to this information, had been missing from his home in Hazelton since April 28th. The first alarm was sent out on May 8th, and the second on the 10th, and detectives from the central office had been quietly searching the hospitals in this city for the missing clergyman.

Police Captain Donohue, after examining the body, the rooms and the effects of the dead man, sent out a general alarm for the apprehension of Stanley. Shortly after midnight Stanley was seen walking through Fiftieth street and was arrested. The prisoner seemed to be suffering from the effects of drink or drugs. His manner was that of a man badly dazed. He said his name was Kirk Stanley, and he was 32 or 33 years old—he did not remember—that he lived at 720 Ninth avenue, and had come to this city about a year and a half ago. He said they called him doctor, but he had no diploma. He was a massage operator and intended to open an office here.

Capt. Donohue was reticent in discussing the case. All that he would say was that the prisoner had made conflicting statements. He had denied knowing the man whose body was found in his rooms and said he had never seen him before, and that he did not know that there was a body there until told by the police.

Stanley was arraigned in the police court and was remanded to the custody of the coroner. He refused to make any statement.

A SUGGESTION.

The Horticultural Association has done wonders for the park. It has opened up all the beauties of the place by making numerous roads and paths, so that a person on a wheel or a family with a carriage may travel for several miles on the grounds. But could not something be done to make these drives available for the class of people who do not use the wheel and cannot afford a carriage? Take for instance the family of the working man, comprising perhaps some elderly people, a tired mother and small children.
It is a considerable walk from the street cars to the nearest point of the park. To go and see the animals and to walk around the lake is quite a day's work for such a family. Of course the street railway should extend the track to the park's farther entrance, but that has not been done.
Would it not be possible to establish a line of five cent buses on the park drives? A sufficient number could be provided to make trips at regular intervals from some point on the street railway to the park, making a circuit of all the drives. Passengers could be taken up at any point and let off where they wish to stop. It is possible that such a service could be made to pay for itself and yield some revenue for the park association, while it would certainly be a boon to the public.

THE JAIL QUESTION.

It is rather surprising that some members of the municipal council should appear to be opposed to the project of jail improvement. The agitation for a change in present conditions is strongly supported by public sentiment, and however much councillors may criticize the clergyman who so pointedly called attention to the state of the jail some months ago, the fact remains that he spoke advisedly. The cynical view that the ordinary jailbird deserves no consideration and would not appreciate any efforts made in his behalf is unworthy to be entertained. At present it often happens that several prisoners are in the same cell, and if young offenders are thus herded with old and hardened violators of the law the effect is certain to be bad. There is no demand for luxuries. Let there be clean and commodious quarters for prisoners, and if possible let work be provided for them.
The worst possible thing to do with the average lawbreaker is to shut him in with others, in unsanitary quarters and in idleness.

JUVENILE REFORM.

At a meeting of the municipal council the other day one of the councillors referred to the reformatory, and expressed the opinion that it had been disappointing in the results of its work. It is certainly true that the institution has been somewhat unfortunate, but a sweeping condemnation is not justified. The need of such an institution is obvious, and if there have been mistakes in the past, there is no ground for argument that successful work will not be done in the future. If boys get beyond parental control, or are not subjected to such control, and become habitual law breakers, they must either be sent to jail or to a reformatory. Which of the two is most likely to do them good is pretty clearly set forth in the article on juvenile reform which is re-printed in another column.

STREET RAILWAYS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago appears to be suffering as a result of giving to street railways too valuable franchises. One traction company has gradually absorbed the others.
At a meeting of the Municipal League convention in Rochester last week a Chicago man took a very gloomy view of the outlook. A report of the meeting says:— Mr. Ritchie declared that the company's service is the worst in the country, while its dividends are enormous.
Its tracks are poorly constructed, its cars are ramshackle, passengers are hustled on and off with no care for safety, cars are overcrowded and run at too frequent intervals. These are but a few of the annoyances to which the public of Chicago are subjected by the company and from which it seems impossible to obtain relief. It is suspected that the company is heaping these indignities on the Chicagoans so as to force favorable terms for the renewal of its franchises in 1905, should the courts decide that they were not covered by the law of 1885.

ONE CENT POSTAGE.

Reports say that with the beginning of the new fiscal year in the post office department of the United States the financial receipts will show a profit of $2,000,000. On the strength of this prosperity it is predicted that our American friends are on the eve of one-cent letter postage. The chief clerk of the railway mail service, in speaking of the matter says:—
"The day 2-cent postage went into

SCHOOL CLOSED BY RATS.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Owing to an invasion of rats the Hoboken educational authorities have announced their determination to close annex public school No. 3. Janitor Meenan caught 26 in one batch after his traps had been set only two hours. So bold have the rats become that they scurry through the class rooms while school is in session, frightening the teachers and pupils.

A HYPNOTIC SUBJECT KILLED.

A horrible accident occurred in Woonsocket, R. I., last night, when a hypotic subject was crushed to death by a heavy stone, which had been placed on his rigid body. The chair upon which his head was resting slipped and the 600 pound stone fell on the subject's head. The hypnotist is under-arrest, as is also the man who was try-effect people throughout the land began writing letters in greater number.

I do not remember that the year following the reduction showed any perceptible difference in the volume of mail handled in the railway service, but I do know there was a gradual increase every year after that time, and in recent years the increase has been enormous.

"To cut the price of sending a letter through the mails to 1 cent will mean to swell the volume of letters all out of proportion to the present number that people are writing. It will cause a new age of letter writing, both in business and private correspondence. One of the bugbears of the railway mail service now is the circular business letter that commercial houses and corporations of all kinds send out. The letters are unsealed, carelessly addressed, and are tedious for postal clerks to handle.
With 1-cent postage I believe the old business circular will become a thing of the past."

Why not enforce the anti-spitting law and collect enough fines to pay for a series of band concerts during the summer? In New York the other day a man was fined $10 for spitting on the floor of a ferry-boat.

women.

PARLIAMENT.

Hon. Mr. Mulock Will Discuss Preferential Trade With Australia.

OTTAWA, May 17.—In the house today Sir Wilfrid Laurier was asked if the item in the London Times to the effect that Mr. Mulock was empowered to lay before the Australian government a proposal for a mutually preferential trade empire trade were correct. Laurier replied that the postmaster general had no definite instructions, but that he was asked to see how far Australia would be prepared to meet Canada in the effort to improve trade between Australia and Canada.

The bill to confirm $30,000 extra annual remuneration to Prince Edward Island was considered. Hon. Mr.
Fielding stated that if the maritime provinces pressed the fisheries claim and an award was made the fishing bounties would be withdrawn.
Sir Louis Davies stated that efforts were being made to settle the claims of the provinces for territorial jurisdiction over the fisheries in regard to the three mile limit.

Hon. Mr. Blair protested against the introduction of New Brunswick's claim into the discussion, as it would prejudice the interests of that province.
The opposition took the stand that a finality should be reached in all awards so that the claims cannot be introduced year after year.

FARE TWO CENTS A MILE.

DETROIT, May 16.—A special to the Tribune from Lansing says: Beginning next Monday the passenger fare on the Washtenaw line in Michigan will be only two cents per mile. This is the result of the increased earnings of the company, which brings it within the above classification. The company contended that the railroad commissioner was in error in including in its earnings certain items, but the supreme court sustained the action of the commissioner. The result was in regard to the computation of last year, which resulted in the commissioner directing the company to reduce its fare to 2 1/2 cents per mile. The same question was involved last year, when the scheme of the company to cut the rate and the company has notified Commissioner Osborne that it will make the reduction next Monday.

ONE OF HIS LUNGS CUT OUT.

SANTA ANA, Cal., May 16.—Perry Taylor of this place, is one of the new human beings from whom doctors have succeeded in removing an entire lung.
The patient, who is 26 years of age, was stricken about four years ago with what he believed was galloping consumption and was treated accordingly by the physician consulted. Fully 240 cabs were removed in one operation, and then it was decided that the whole lung would have to come out.
The operation was successfully performed.
Taylor seems to have recovered his strength and is in the best of spirits.

U. S. ARMY ON A PEACE BASIS.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A formal order reorganizing the army on the basis of 75,000 men was issued by the secretary of war. The order distributes the troops to the various branches of the service in accordance with the plan submitted by Lieut.-Gen. Miles, and approved by Sec. Root. This plan gave the cavalry 15,800 men, the artillery 15,800 and the infantry 33,200. The total force of the army is 77,387 men.

SCHOOL CLOSED BY RATS.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Owing to an
invasion of rats the Hoboken educational authorities have announced their
26 in one batch after his traps had been
the class rooms while school is in session, frightening the teachers and pupils.

A HYPNOTIC SUBJECT KILLED.

A horrible accident occurred in Woon-
socket, R. I., last night, when a hypotic subject was crushed to death by a heavy stone, which had been placed on his rigid body. The chair upon
the 600 pound stone fell on the subject's head. The hypnotist is under-arrest, as is also the man who was trying to break the stone when the accident occurred.

POLICE COURT.

Some Odorous Veal Under the Judicial Nose.

A Family Affair—Wants His Five Dollars—Mised the Oysters.

James Hogan, of Military road, has a daughter who was quietly married some time ago to a machinist named Thomas Burns. When Hogan received news of the marriage he was very indignant and gave vent to his feelings by making many unseemly remarks.
He also threatened to do serious bodily injury to his son-in-law, and in order to protect himself laid an information against his son-in-law in court this morning. He was arrested and Mr. Burns was released by bail, and after a short discussion of the matter the parties retired to the magistrate's private room, in order that the newspapers might get no further information, and settled the question quite peaceably among themselves.

Sydney Hieatt was reported for working in the city of Ottawa a housemaid, not being a taxpayer. Hieatt works as an apprentice with his brother at the hygienic bakery, and was before the court about a month ago on the same charge. He explained that he could not afford to take out a license as he is only an apprentice. He was fined five dollars or twenty days, which Hieatt considered high-at the time and sent to his brother to raise the amount.

Mr. Sullivan, in a manner denoting anger mingled with fear and trembling, approached the majesty of the law, and bowing his head on the bench said out:
"He won't pay, he won't pay, he won't, won't, won't."
"Mr. Sullivan, this is not civil court day."

"But he won't pay me, and I got a judgment day against him long, long ago."
"You should see a constable and get out an execution."
"I will, I will, and I will have him executed right away."
"That is your best plan."
"He is bad man, he got money from me, but I want that five dollars or you will put him in jail for two months till he pays it—won't you, please?"
"Oh yes, anything to please you Mr.
Sullivan. Good day, Mr. Sullivan."
"Ah-h-h-h. It is Mister Sullivan now, but whenever I go out it will be Micky Hult."

Mary Ellen Cogswell was in most respects quite satisfied with the fine of eight dollars or two months imposed upon her for strolling round the streets in a semi-conscious condition yesterday. Her only one regret was that she had not been able to get her friend Lizzie Carney came back with the oysters.

Robert Wilson, the sailor who was arrested yesterday morning on Bristol street, pleaded his previous good record, that he had been sailing out of this port for twenty-seven years and had never previously been unlucky enough to get caught. He was let down easily, for four dollars or eight days.

John MacDonald, who yesterday sued F. L. Potts for alleged bad meat selsed by him in the country market, was called today, charged with exposing for sale stale and unwholesome veal. The meat was very loud, making its presence known all through the court room. It was also commencing to grow pretty blue whippers, but by some of the evidence given that was the kind of meat that many people in town were looking for, although none of the witnesses appeared willing to eat it themselves. Mr. MacDonald showed an inordinate curiosity to become acquainted with the family history of Mr. Potts, and found some difficulty in confining himself to the matter in question. A number of other butchers were present in the court room, and when one of them was called upon to give his opinion of the meat, the others suddenly discovered that they had been pressing business down town. They were with some difficulty prevailed upon to remain in court, but most of them were afflicted with bad colds and could not judge the condition of the veal from the smell that came from it.
They did not like the appearance of the meat, but Mr. MacDonald himself is prepared to eat it. The magistrate summed up the evidence given by the several different witnesses, and decided that by the weight of evidence the meat was stale. MacDonald was fined four dollars or ten days, and the meat seized.

Thomas McDonald was also up for having veal which is under weight.
An agreement was come to whereby Dr. Simon was chosen to view the remains and report on their condition.

Joshua Corkery and George Robertson have been reported by Acting Market Clerk Potts for exposing for sale veal which was under weight.

John Peatty was sworn in as caretaker of public property, including the old burying ground and King square, and also as a special policeman.

ROYAL DEMOCRACY.

(Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.) If one wanted further evidence of the democratic tendencies of the Netherlands court, there was plenty of it at hand. While the wedding guests were arriving at The Hague the Queen and the Duke were accustomed to drive down to the station to give greetings in person, and with little formality.
When the Queen reviewed the troops from the balcony of the palace an imposing procession of trade and municipal societies she joggled about to keep her feet warm in the most easy-going fashion, and joined heartily in the laughter of the crowd below when the Duke mistreated his independence of his future mother-in-law by firmly refusing to wear the great coat, persistently urged upon him by that excellent lady.

OFFICIAL ORANGE VISIT.

The county master and his officers, accompanied by some of the officers of Grand Lodge, paid an official visit to York St. O. L. No. 2, at the Orange hall in this city last evening. Additional interest was given to the occasion by the presence of Philip Palmer, S. D. G. M., and Fred M. Sproul, past Co. master, both members of Hampton L. O. L. No. 53. The meeting was the largest held by York Lodge for a long time. Speeches were made by P. Palmer, S. D. G. M. of G. L.; G. A.
Blair, grand lecturer; George R. Vincent, P. G. L. of British America; Fred M. Sproul, past Co. master of Kings; A. J. Armstrong, D. G. M. of British America; Neil J. Morrison, G. S.; Scott Morrell, Co. master; George Jenkins, Co. chaplain; W. B. Wallace, Co. secretary; and John Kenney, Jr., Mr.
Sproul's address was the guest of the evening and roused the large gathering to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.
The lodge closed by singing God Save the King.

BIBLE SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Auxiliary Bible Society of New Brunswick was held last night in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. President Geo. E. Fairweather occupied the chair, and there were present: His Honor Judge Forbes, J. R. Woodburn, W. J. Parks, Thomas Graham, C. E. Macmillan, A. L. Law, J. E. Irvine, J. Clawson and F. S.
Sharpe.

Reports were received from the different departments of the society, showing a very satisfactory condition of affairs. The subscriptions from the different churches had largely increased during the past year. The two lady Bible readers employed reported satisfactory development of their work.
The committee of management for the coming year were appointed as follows: J. E. Irvine, W. J. Parks, Judge Forbes, T. H. Somerville, J. Clawson, J. R. Woodburn, A. L. Law, W. S.
Morrison, H. D. Geo. Baynes, H. C.
Tilley, C. E. Macmillan, T. S. Simms, J. E. Purdy, Wm. Peters, T. H. Bullock, S. G. Kilpatrick, G. F. Matthew, W. S. Sharpe, W. S. Fisher, J. B.
Kierstead, Jan. M. Rodgers, Thomas Graham, John Barber, Geo. E. Fairweather and W. H. White.

This committee will meet on Tuesday next to elect officers for the year.

BLAZE ON PRINCESS STREET.

Just before retiring last night the family of Alex. Macaulay noticed smoke issuing through the cracks in the ceiling of the upper rooms of their residence on Princess street. A grate fire had been burning in the room, and judging that the flooring had caught slightly from this source, they telephoned to No. 3 fire station. A ladder truck, with a half dozen men quickly answered the call, but seeing that the smoke was extinguished, an alarm was sent in from box 24, which called out Nos. 1, 2 and 3 fire companies.

The blaze was found to have crept under the flooring for some distance, and required considerable labor with axes and a couple of streams for its putting out. The Salvage Corps, who responded with their usual alacrity, had much of the furniture removed and the rest safely covered before much damage could be done, by the water. The injury to the building and contents is fairly heavy, but by insurance in the offices of E. L. Whitaker and J. S. Kaye.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Yesterday morning Detective Ring went to Sussex and got a warrant for the arrest of a man by the name of William Brown, on a charge of setting fire to a number of buildings in the vicinity of Hammond, Kings Co. The residents of that district have been alarmed by many mysterious fires which have taken place, and the detective, after doing some quiet work on the case, secured enough evidence to warrant the arrest of Brown, who is now lodged in Hampton jail.

HE WAS A TRUE HERO.

History can record no more heroic instance of self-sacrifice than that performed the other day at Indianapolis when William Phelps laid down his life that his companion might live.
The two men were at work in an upright boiler, when, by accident, the steam was turned on. The exit could only be reached by means of a ladder and Phelps, while being literally cooked by the fiery steam, drew back that his comrade might ascend, remarking, "You go first, Jim; you are married." The memory of many glorious deeds have come down through the centuries, most of them record of lives given for country. The names of Arnold Winkelried, Toussaint l'Ouverture and other heroes will live eternally in song and story, but they possessed no braver spirit than actuated Phelps, the humble colored laborer, when he saved his companion at the expense of his own life.—Bangor Commercial.

Every grade is pure Ceylon and Indian Tea. Thousands of people who are using what they call "Black Tea" IN BULK, at 25c. per lb., would never use it again if they tried a package of RED ROSE at the same price; but the grade which is most popular is the "Green Label," which sells at 35c. Compare this Tea with any other that sells at 40c., and you will understand why it is popular. One pound of RED ROSE spends as far as one and a quarter to one and a half pounds of China Tea. ## REFORMATORIES.

They Are a Necessity of Modern Civilization.

How They Should Be Conducted to Produce Good Results.

At the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in Washington yesterday, E. P. Wentworth, superintendent of the Maine Reformatory School, read a valuable and interesting paper on "The Origin and Development of the Juvenile Reformatory." He said, in part:

As we contemplate the subject of juvenile reform, we may well rejoice at the astonishing progress made in the past and the high rank our reformatory institutions have now attained. The present excellence of our institutions is the result of laborious efforts of the past, prosecuted amid difficulties and discouraging failures. It is said that "history is the torch which illumines the path we soon must tread." If so, it may be well to briefly consider some of the principal facts which have been established by past experience that we may profit by them in our future work. I therefore call your attention to a very few of these leading truths:

First.—Juvenile reformatories are a necessity of modern civilization. Boys and girls will sometimes be wayward, will sometimes persistently tread the path of vice and defy the laws of the land, and when the private home can exert no restraining influence, commitment to a public reformatory becomes a necessity. The confinement of juvenile offenders in any place where they can associate with hardened criminals is an offense against common decency as well as public policy, and should never be tolerated in any civilized community. Yet I regret to say that there are still places in our country where boys are confined in jails, penitentiaries or work houses, where they are taking their elementary instruction in vice and crime from older associates, listening with rapt attention to stories of burglary and violence, or with feverish thirst, drinking in revolting tales of debauchery and sensuality, thus preparing themselves to be the actors in similar deeds of daring wickedness in years to come. In many parts of our country there is urgent need of legislation to effectually end this promiscuous association of old and young offenders, the first step toward ending it is to provide suitable reformatories to which criminals may be committed.

Second.—Juvenile reformatories do reform. No fact could be better established than that those who have had experience in the various institutions devoted to this work are unanimous in asserting its truth. No reasonable person claims that all bad boys and girls can be made good. The Saviour Himself wept because of the unconverted whose hearts He could not reach. But it is true that a large proportion of all the boys and girls committed to modern reformatories are reclaimed from a life of sin. Our reformatories are successfully prosecuting the work they were designed to do, and it is the duty of the public to take a lively interest in their welfare, and by wise legislation, intelligent supervision and liberal appropriations of public money enable them to reach the highest possible efficiency.

Third.—Juvenile reformatories must accomplish their work by educational, rather than by retributive or repressive measures. An evil heart cannot be conquered by force of arms. Tying down the safety valve will not prevent the pent-up steam from bursting the boiler. The evil in a boy's heart may be repressed by deterrent punishment, but it still exists there and sooner or later will burst forth with increased fury. Not by direct assault, can we overcome the evil forces of our juvenile delinquents, but rather by the indirect but gentle methods of education, using this word in its broadest significance.

Fourth.—The educational processes must include physical training, scholastic training, manual and industrial training. An education which does not include them all in proper proportion is unsymmetrical and defective and will not be productive of the best results.

Fifth.—So far as is possible juvenile reformatories must teach the occupations or trades which the children are likely to follow when they go out into the world to earn their own living. Many of these children do not have good homes of their own, nor parents who will find them suitable employment and care for them until they become self-supporting. Hence these children must be fitted to earn a living before they leave the reformatory, as otherwise they will go out into the world only to be tramped or to join the great army of criminals.

Sixth.—The juvenile reformatories must be a home. Personal care and love must be paramount. For younger children the cottage system is far superior to the congested account of the greater opportunity to deal with each child according to its individual temperament and personal characteristics, because of the greater freedom from those restraints, because of the facilities it affords for better classification of the delinquents, and finally because the cottages can approach more nearly to an ideal home for the children than can any great building occupied as a congested school. The physical surroundings should be made pleasant. Flowers, pictures, books, games and other accompaniments of the best private home should abound, and every effort should be made to render the life of the children hopeful and happy.

Seventh.—A juvenile reformatory should never be regarded as a "penal" institution. A commitment to it should not be regarded as a "punishment," and life in such an institution should never be called "imprisonment." The use of such words shows a misconception of the nature of the institution and tends to the injury of the children committed to it. In many states the laws should be so revised as to strike out these objectionable words and all others of like import.

Eighth.—Release from reformatories should be conditional. An intelligent supervision of all children out on parole should be maintained and their conduct and treatment carefully investigated. Paroled children not doing well should be returned to the institution for further discipline, or transferred to an intermediate reformatory. Upon the faithfulness and efficiency of this supervision of paroled children the usefulness of a reformatory very largely depends.

Ninth.—The management of reformatories should be wholly divorced from politics. Success can be achieved only when such institutions are controlled by persons of experience and ability, whose tenure of office depends upon the efficiency of their service and not upon the vicissitudes of political parties. Whenever such institutions become the "spoils of office" subject to the patronage of politicians, abuses are sure to creep in and general mismanagement, incompetency and corruption will follow. Public office should be regarded as public trust, and personal "bribe" should be the test, and the only test, for positions in the public service of reformatory institutions.

Chatham's well known Barber, T. N. Murphy, writes June 22, 1900: "I can cheerfully recommend Bentley's Liniment, which I find is better than any other."

BASE BALL.

A Legal Decision.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The injunction proceedings begun by the Philadelphia National Club to enjoin the Eastern League's Eastern League and Pitches Bernhard and Fraser from playing baseball with the local American League club, were dismissed today by the judges of the common pleas court. The judges said the contracts between these men and the national league were legal. The court says if the injunction is granted, the services would be subject to the Philadelphia baseball club for all time, while if the club agreed to do so, it could dispense with him on ten days' notice.

J. H. Papp, the new pitcher for the Aleria, arrived at the club today. He is expected to play with the Bangor team until Tuesday, when he is expected here.

Manager Donovan of the St. Louis team says that the limit rule prevented the club from keeping Bernie Waters, but that the former manager sprang a surprise and made good as a major leaguer.

A New York expert says that Matthews never ends two balls over the plate in succession, alike. Hash in its ingenuity never compared with the mixture served by the game according to the critics.

Larry Lejole's batting average as an American League was .325. This ponderous figure is to be gradually sliced, but Captain Mack's captain is sure to not be a slugging slug, too, for American league batmen.

means the deliberate prostitution of the human reason. It means systematic self-deception.

"I do not know and I do not say that as yet there is any more immorality among the Christian Scientists than there is among any other class in the community, but their teachings as regards sin are practically the same as those of the Gnostics, and in the long run the effects are bound to be the same."

"And you are aware of the frightful excesses to which the Gnostics went. They looked upon the body as deserving no respect, and so there could be no use in trying to keep it pure. This doctrine led to unbridled license."

"Mrs. Eddy teaches that alcohol would be as harmless as milk if it were not that the 'common thought' had misconceived its qualities. A man who gets gloriously drunk, therefore, should blame it on the 'common thought.'"

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Johnson said: "I have known several most earnest and devoted Methodists who have gone over to the Christian Scientists, and it has amazed me to see how in the light of their faith and the conduct of their lives they have testified to the good which they have received. I confess I am perplexed. There is something in it or it would not occupy the place it does in the community today."

HE IS DRUNK—100 TIMES.

To the Editor of The New York Sun Sir:—He is drunk, intoxicated, inebriated, tipsy, full loaded, jugged, fuddled, tight, top-heavy, elevated, half shot, half gone, overcome, overtaken, primed, afflicted, elevated, exhalted, genial, happy, mellow, corned, heavy, winy, groggy, boozey, soaked, chock-a-block, lushy, muggy, cockeyed, bory-eyed, muddled, liggered, foggy, hazy, dizzy, dazed, stunned, moody, dopy, ossified, petrified, paralyzed.

He has a (glorious or elegant) jag on, a load on, a skate on, a bun on, a bran-alagan on, a shine on, a still on, an edge on, a skin full; he has got a cup too much, he has looked on the wine when it was red, he has a bee in his bonnet, he has an applejack gait, he has been taking a little of Paddy's eye water or of red eye, he has been croaking his elbow, he has more sall than ballast, he has his main-brace well apliced, he has the sun in his eye, he can't see a hole in the ladder, and he can't see his hand without holding on.

He is half seas over; three sheets in the wind, on his beam ends, under the influence of the weather, over his boy, in the clouds, in his cups, in his pats, off his trolley, off his nut, on a drunk, on a spree, on a bender, on a racket, on a tear, on the ran-tan, or the re-ran, he is feeling his oats, he is full of mountain dew, full of tangle-foot, full of bug-juice, he is as full as a tick, full as a goat, full as a badger, he is as drunk as a lord, drunk as a boiled owl, drunk as David's sow, he is weak (wabbly) on his pins, all mope and brooms, and about to cast up his accounts.

A Musical Evening at the Institute—Enjoined by All.

The orchestral and vocal treat given by the Boston Sextette, Miss Ellsbree and the St. John male quartet, at the Institute last evening, was indeed a decided success and much thanks are due the St. John Male Quartet for the splendid performance.

Each number was greeted with a hearty encore, and the responses were willingly given. The "Little Feet" song, sung by the quartet, was much enjoyed, as was the negro melody which followed. The sextette won storms of applause, and the string quartet, in their "Good Night" song, with its encore of a pretty little lullaby.

The whole performance was so well rendered and displayed such complete mastery of the musical art that it is impossible to designate any number as the best.

A PENITENT BURGLAR.

In November last the store of William Gulon, of Fredericton, was broken into and some money, two watches, some tobacco and other things taken. The thief was never discovered, but a few nights ago a cigar box was left on the doorstep, and it was found to contain the two watches and $15 in cash. There was also a scribbled note, "I return what I took—forgive." Some of the money was the same that had been taken, but there were one or two new bills, showing that part of the amount had been spent before the guilty one repented.

INDIAN TOWN NOTES.

With the single exception of mill work, all business at Indian town is comparatively dull, and has been so for the past few days. The only life that appears is at Stetson, Cutler & Co.'s mill, where a large number of school-boys are toiling.

Adams Brothers have purchased the load of wood brought down yesterday in the schooner Della B., which was originally intended for H. H. Coeman, of the Seaman's Mission. They are saving and selling it on Bridge street.

A large shipment of barrel staves was brought by a scow to Indian town today from Charles Miller's mill. They are being hauled out to Taylor & White's place on the Pokioke Road. Work on the new mill, which is being built by this firm for saving their own lumber is progressing rapidly.

Some time ago Stetson, Cutler & Co. opened a new branch of their quarry at Pokioke and within the last day or two they have struck on a new lead, which promises a large output of the finest quality of limestone.

Indian town teamsters are strongly complaining about the manner in which traffic on Main street is conducted. Their special grievance is that milk wagons, delivery vans, carriages, and all manner of fairly light vehicles have a habit of stopping and standing on the street, sometimes two and three abreast, with the result that when a heavily loaded sloop comes along keeping to its own side of the street, it often has to turn away to avoid these others, who almost entirely block the passage. Street cars, of course, make matters worse, but the difficulty might be avoided if all drivers would observe the by-law and stop their horses when it is necessary to do so, at the curbstone, instead of in the middle of the street. In this way a sloop could pass between them and the street car, and not have to cross the street as is often required now. All the boats today carried light freights and small passenger lists both up and down the river. Business is not nearly so good as it was last year.

On Monday a down river today the Hampstead passed the tug Champion at Carter's Point, with a large tow of logs, and the tug Joseph, belonging to Reddie Brothers, at Brown's Flats, with a number of scow loads of lumber from Chatham mill.

William Balmer, who was brought down from Oak Point about three weeks ago and taken to the Provincial Lunatic asylum, died there yesterday from exhaustion. Balmer was sixty-six years of age, was a former inmate of the asylum. His body was today sent on the Hampstead to his son, John M. Balmer, at Oak Point.

A very sudden death occurred last night at Wickham. An old man by the name of Haslam, who lived there, went to bed about nine o'clock as usual, and after lying quietly for a few moments gave a sudden start. As this was a habit of his, Mrs. Haslam paid no particular attention to him, but in a moment or two, noticing that he was keeping very still, she spoke to him, but received no answer. In spite of her efforts to arouse him he remained perfectly quiet, and Mrs. Haslam becoming alarmed lighted a lamp and found that her husband was apparently dead. She at once summoned assistance, but by the time neighbors arrived Haslam was dead. He was eighty-five years of age and much respected by all who knew him.

Notices have been posted at Indian town along the river calling attention to the work now being done at Oromocto by the dredge Cape Breton, and warning all sailing ships and vessels of all kinds against fouling her buoys or cables.

ELECTION CASE.

The summons to show cause why the trial of petition in the York county election case should not be set down was returnable today. A. J. Gregory, acting for the respondent, asked for a stay of proceedings so that he might appeal to the supreme court of Canada from the decision of the chief justice on the preliminary objection. Judge Crockett did not allow the request and made Mr. Gregory stand at it in the morning, at Fredericton, as the time and place for the trial. Mr. Gregory then produced an affidavit that it was necessary for the respondent to be present in person at the trial, and that he was detained in his parliamentary duties. Judge Crockett said that if parliament was not then prorogued he would adjourn the trial. O. S. Crockett for the petitioner.

EVANGELIST L. J. KING.

Evangelist L. J. King, who used to hold services in the north end, was in the city today on his way to Havelsburg, where a Bible convention will be held next week. This convention is undenominational and will be addressed by Rev. Mr. Corey and W. H. Traflet of Woodstock. Rev. Mr. Carpenter of Washedemoak, Rev. M. H. Traflet of St. John, Rev. A. L. Bubar, from Oromocto, and Evangelist King. It is the intention of the latter to remove to the city in the fall, open a mission and start what he calls a Reformed Catholic newspaper.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Thomson, auditor, from St. John, is at Amherst.

Mrs. Blair Boland of St. John is the guest of Dr. Bliss, Amherst.

Rev. D. J. Fraser returned today from Fredericton.

Senator King is in town.

Mr. R. B. Ray returned today from a trip to Buffalo, Montreal and New York.

James Osborne, who left Winnipeg today for the east, to assume the duties of general superintendent of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R., was yesterday presented with an address and a solid silver service by the business men of Winnipeg.
