Travelling and Coach Hire.

The public accounts show that Mr. Chas. for travelling $800 in travelling expenses as a member of the executive and $24 for attending meeting of insular system commissioners in St. John, or a total of $824 in 1893.

Mr. Connell got $234 for travelling expenses as a member of the executive and $29 as an insular system commissioner, or $263 in all for January about.

Mr. Mitchell's provincial secretary received $250 in travelling expenses as a member of the executive $48, and as an insular system commissioner, $48, or $338 in all.

Mr. Blair's travelling expenses as attorney general were $360, and for visiting the insular system commissioner, $48, a total of $408.

Mr. Tweedie was paid $700 for travelling expenses as a member of the executive and $100 for visiting the insular system commissioner, or $800 in all.

Mr. Blair's travelling expenses as attorney general were $360, and for visiting the insular system commissioner, $48, a total of $408.

Mr. A. S. White, as solicitor general, got $350 for travelling expenses. He took to the system and got $48, or a total of $398.

The coach hire bills of the members of the executive are likewise not neglected. Under the heading of executive government is charged $228.

Mr. John A. Edwards also got $78.50 for coaching the provincial officers about.

The following amounts were paid to Mr. John A. Edwards for coaching the several members of the executive.

Mr. Mitchell, $68.00; Mr. Tweedie, $52.50; Mr. Emerson, $52.00; Mr. Blair, $60.00; Mr. White, $55.00; Mr. Connell, $50.00.

These figures, it is to be kept in mind are only for the coaching done by Mr. J. A. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards also got $30 for driving Prince Napoleon about town.

The Mr. Mitchell's bill for coaching, $68.50. It will make 274 coaching trips in the year, or a trip from the Queen to the train for nearly every office day in the year.

Mr. Mitchell is not in a position to pay for his own coaching. Where has the greater part of the $68.50 gone? Surely Mr. Edwards does not charge the province with the expenses, when he is called to take Mr. Mitchell from his office to his private boarding house in a coach.

The $704 paid to Lalibolis is a monstrous charge for a fellow of his stamp and standing, but perhaps he is able to explain that the travelling expenses of some other member of the government are covered up in the amount charged to him.

In considering the amount paid as travelling expenses to Mr. Mitchell, it is in mind that every member of government travels on a complimentary railway pass.—Gleaner.

HIS HONOR JUDGE WILKINSON PRESIDING.

The case of Chas. Amos vs. Frank D. Swin, which was before the court on Friday, was given to the jury on Friday evening last, when they returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $110. Geo. F. Gregory, Q. C., appeared as counsel for Plaintiff, and Messrs. Lawlor & Bennett for defendant.

The case of John Donovan vs. Jabez B. Snowball was tried on Saturday and resulted in a verdict of $25.00 damages for the plaintiff.

This was an action brought to recover damages for the running down, tearing and destroying of a set of nets belonging to the plaintiff, and set in the Northwest Branch of the Miramichi River by defendant's servants, who were navigating defendant's raft down the river.

The defendant contended that the nets were unlawfully set and that there was no mismanagement or unskillfulness on the part of defendant's servants in the navigation of the raft.

The Judge in his charge to the jury instructed them that it did not make any difference whether the nets were unlawfully set or not. The fact of their being the property of the plaintiff and the selection of additional amounts to be added thereto, a voluminous report on the subject was adopted, which the clerk was directed to furnish to the jury.

A HURON CO. MIRACLE.

AN OLD LADY'S STORY OF DEEP INTEREST TO OTHERS.

Mr. Robert Bisect, who was Crippled with Rheumatism for Nine Years, Despite Advancing Years, has found Relief—See His Remarkable Experience that Others May Profit by it.

From the Golden Star.

For upwards of three years the Star has been publishing articles from various papers in Canada and the United States recounting miracles in healing, wrought, often in follow cases, by the use of the preparation known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

A more or less intimate acquaintance with the publishers of several of the newspapers warranted us in believing that the cases reported by them were not exaggerated or sensational advertisements, but were published as truthful statements of remarkable cures from human suffering of the wildest publicity that other sufferers might be benefited.

For some time past we have heard the name of Mrs. Robert Bisect, of Chatham township, mentioned as one who had experienced such benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after years of painful suffering. Curious to know the particulars, a representative of the Star called upon her son at his home and feet store on Hamilton street, and asked how far the story was true. Without hesitation or reserve Mr. Bisect launched into praise of Pink Pills, which he said had a most wonderful effect in relieving his mother from the suffering of a bedridden invalid, crippled by rheumatism, and restoring her to the enjoyment of a fair degree of health and activity for a person of seventy years of age.

"See her yourself," he said, "I am sure she will freely tell you all about her case, and you can judge how much she owes to Pink Pills. I am sure that it is owing to them that she is alive today."

Acting on this cordial invitation, the reporter drove out to the well known Bisect homestead. Mrs. Bisect was found sitting in a room on the second floor at the residence of a neighbor, Mrs. Robertson. She laughingly greeted the reporter with the assurance that she knew what he had come for as her son had told her the day she was in town that she wanted, and although she did not wish to figure in the newspapers she was quite willing to tell the facts in her case. "It is about nine years," she said, "since I was first taken down with rheumatism and for seven months I lay helpless in bed unable to raise or turn myself, doctored with local physicians and I suppose the treatment I received must have helped me for I was able to go around again for quite a long while, until another attack came on, and for two years I was again laid up, never being able to put a foot under me, or help myself in any way. I tried everything, bleedings, leeches, blisters, and medicines, and of course suffered a great deal, being troubled also with asthma. But although I finally got up on my feet again, I was unable to do anything, and could get across the room only with the help of some children leaning on a chair which they would push before me. By and by I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I had taken two boxes I felt they were helping me. I continued them until quite a while, improving gradually until now I am as you see me, although I have not taken them for a couple of months. I can now go around alone, and although I always keep my stick with me

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC AND Stomach and Liver Cure The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years. It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nerve Tonic has only recently been introduced to this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public. This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of falling health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nerve Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nerve Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF Nervousness, Broken Constitution, Nervous Prostration, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Female Weakness, Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Sleeplessness, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervousness of Females, Nervousness of Old Age, Neuralgia, Pains in the Heart, Pains in the Back, Falling Health, Summer Complaint of Infants. All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nerve Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES. As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic in its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve force in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nervous system recovers. As the nervous system supplies a power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear and present mode of living and labor imposed upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nerve Tonic has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous diseases.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOLERA. My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Cholera. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nerve Tonic and she is completely recovered. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Falling Health, from whatever cause. JOHN T. MIZNER, Montgomery County, Pa. Subscribed and sworn to before me this June 22, 1887. CHAS. W. WRIGHT, Notary Public

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA. The Great South American Nerve Tonic. Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unflinching remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is afflicted by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unamalgamated disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic. HAZARD E. HALL, of Warrenton, Ind., says: 'I owe my life to the Great South American Nerve Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from effects of exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general debility of my whole system. Had given up all hope of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no result. The best bottle of the Nerve Tonic I ever bought, and after taking it a few bottles, I was able to get up. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. It will never overtake me.' No remedy compares with South American Nerve Tonic as a cure for the Nerve. No remedy will all the ailments which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. It is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unamalgamated disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic. HAZARD E. HALL, of Warrenton, Ind., says: 'I owe my life to the Great South American Nerve Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from effects of exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general debility of my whole system. Had given up all hope of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no result. The best bottle of the Nerve Tonic I ever bought, and after taking it a few bottles, I was able to get up. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. Itch cured in 30 minutes by W. Colford's Sanitary Lotion. Warranted by E. Lee Street. Minard's Liniment Lumberman's Friend.

Minard's Liniment is used by Physicians. An old lady, who claims to know all about it, says the only way to prevent steamboat explosions is to make the engineers 'bilk their water on shore.' In her opinion 'all the bustle' is done by cooking the steam on board the boat.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house. RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY. South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve force in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nervous system recovers.

A CURE FOR BILLIOWSNESS. Mr. M. Rooney, a well known Halifax Merchant writes: 'I am using Hawke's Liver pills and can recommend them as a sure cure for Billiowsness. What Mr. Rooney says is endorsed by thousands who have tried these pills. Once tried they are always sought for when the trouble recurs. They are easy to take, exceedingly mild in their action, and effective in a marked degree. A PERFECT CURE FOR COLIC IN THE HEAD. 'It cured me of a severe cold in the head, is what Mr. A. D. I don't see what the use of my being vaccinated again, said Tommy, having his arm reluctantly for the doctor. The human body changes every seven years, Tommy. It is not your body that I will conduct me to the place of execution and hasten my soul into eternity. I shall appear before another bar—the judgment bar of God, and there you, who have legalized the traffic, will have to appear with me. Think you that the Great Judge will hold me—the poor, weak, helpless victim of your traffic—alone responsible for the murder of my wife? Nay, I, in my drunken, frenzied, irresponsible condition, have murdered one, but you have deliberately and wilfully murdered your thousands, and the murder mills are in full operation to day with your consent.

All of you know in your hearts that these words of mine are not the ravings of an unsound mind, but God Almighty's truth. The liquor traffic of this nation is responsible for nearly all the murders, bloodshed, riots, poverty, misery, wretchedness and woe. It breaks up thousands of happy homes every year; sends the husband and father to prison or to the gallows, and drives countless mothers and little children into the world to suffer and die. It furnishes nearly to the mortal coil, the business of this and every other country, and blasts every legalized intemperance. You legalized the saloons that made me a drunkard and a murderer, and you are guilty with me before God and man for the murder of my wife.

Your honor, I am done. I am now ready to receive my sentence and be led forth to the place of execution, and murdered according to the laws of the State. You will close by asking the Lord to have mercy on my soul. I will close by solemnly asking God to open your blind eyes to the truth, to your individual responsibility, so that you will cease to give your support to this hell-on-earth traffic—Tallie Morgan, in Domestic Journal.

No satisfactory classification of the small boy has ever been carried out. He is often in the public mind, divided into the two classes of good and bad; but this is purely arbitrary and utterly unscientific, since no two persons would agree as to the line of demarcation between the two divisions, and two observers, given the same specimen to examine, would, as often as not, place it in opposite groups. Another objection to this plan, and the one which really shows its inherent weakness, is its complete break down in the later development of the small boy; since it is no uncommon thing, but rather the reverse, to find the small boy who would be generally assigned to the bad class developed into an exemplary citizen, perhaps the pastor of a church or an active philanthropist, while another, who in youth would have been an unhesitatingly placed in the good class, surveys the world through the restraining bars of the county jail.

Another purely fanciful system of classification for the small boy which some one has suggested is based on the word he uses to designate his father. This plan is complicated, and while it may appeal to the theorist, and does certainly produce well defined groups, nevertheless seems to have but small scientific basis. This would give a large species of small boy, said to abound in the State of Missouri and adjacent territory, who calls his father 'dad.' Another far-reaching species, who calls his father 'paw,' seems to be a native of Illinois or Indiana. Nor must we forget those found in a state of nature in Pennsylvania who call him 'pap,' and the variety, with a somewhat uncertain habitat, who pronounces it 'pop.' In this state we find the kind who calls his father 'pa' very numerous, while in this city, among a great number of species, both native and exotic, there is a kind who refers to his father as 'the governor,' though this is probably only a domesticated variety of the wild species which speaks of him as 'the old man.' Then we have, the class, scattered almost everywhere, who use the word 'papa,' and the peculiar variety

YOUTH'S CORNER. A TERRIBLE CHARGE. 'Prisoner at the bar, have you anything to say why sentence of death shall not be passed upon you?' A solemn hush fell over the crowded court room, and every person waited in almost breathless expectation for an answer to the judge's question.

Will the prisoner answer. 'There nothing that will make him show some sign of emotion? Will he maintain the cold, indifferent attitude that he has shown through the long trial, even to the place of execution?' Such were the questions that passed through the minds of those who had followed the case from day to day.

The judge still waited in dignified silence. Not a whisper was heard anywhere, and the situation had become painfully oppressive, when the prisoner was seen to move, his head was raised, his hands were lifted, and the blood had rushed into his pale, care-worn face, his teeth were firmly set, and into his haggard eyes came a flash of light. Suddenly he rose to his feet, and in a low, firm but distinct voice, said: 'I have! Your honor, you have asked me a question, and I now ask, as a last favor on earth, that you will not interrupt my answer until I am through.'

'I stand here before this bar, convicted of the willful murder of my wife. Truthful witnesses have testified to the fact that I was a loafer, a drunkard and a wretch; that I returned from one of my long debauches and fired the fatal shot that killed the wife I had sworn to love, cherish and protect. While I had the remembrance of committing the fearful, cowardly and inhuman deed, I have no right to complain or condemn the verdict of the twelve good men who have acted as jurors in this case, for their verdict is in accordance with the evidence.

'But, may it please the court, I wish to show that I am not alone responsible for the murder of my wife. This startling statement created a tremendous sensation. The judge leaned over the desk, the lawyers wheeled around and faced the prisoner; the jurors looked at each other in amazement, while the spectators could hardly suppress their intense excitement. The prisoner paused a few seconds, and then continued in the same firm, distinct voice: 'I repeat, your honor, that I am not the only one guilty of the murder of my wife. The judge on the bench, the jury in the box, the lawyers with this bar, and most of the witnesses, including the pastor of the old church, are also guilty before Almighty God, and will have to appear with me before His Judgment Throne, where we all shall be righteously judged.

'If twenty men compare together for the murder of one person, the law power of this land will arrest the twenty, and each will be tried, convicted and executed for a whole murder, and not one twentieth of the crime. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

'I began my downward career at a saloon bar—legalized and protected by the voters of this Commonwealth, which has received annually a part of the blooming from the poor deluded victims. After the State had made me a drunkard and a murderer; I am taken before another bar—the bar of justice (?) by the same power of law that legalized the first bar, and now the law power will conduct me to the place of execution and hasten my soul into eternity. I shall appear before another bar—the judgment bar of God, and there you, who have legalized the traffic, will have to appear with me. A STRONG HOG TROUGH. A strong hog trough may be made of sawed lumber. For every three feet length of trough use a plank support two or two and one-half feet long, twelve inches wide, and two inches thick. Saw out from the middle of each piece a right angle triangular piece with the sides forming a square of the same length. Use boards one inch thick for the sides, and nail the trough together as usual with the triangular sawed out of the two inch stuff for ends. Now set the trough in the angle sawed out, but far enough away from the end piece to nail from the inside of the trough into the supports and put the triangular sawed from the supports for the centre, and nail that after cutting enough from the bottom corner to let water run through.

HENS NESTS. How shall we make our hens' nests, nowadays, a question much discussed by poultrymen. A great many hampages have been invented—wire and cloth, or sack nets, etc.—each one recommending his or her own old or new nest. Full well we know of the temptations of the bird, and the peculiar variety uncleanness of which cloth is not; wire is very good. No matter what kind of nests you use, always keep them clean. There is no part of the hen house worse to breed vermin than the nest is.

The hen wants warmth to the nest in winter, which is what will draw vermin. Never allow one lot of straw to remain over two weeks, unless the hen is sitting, then it is a good plan to throw in sulphur and lime mixed equally. It is a great enemy of lice and will not hurt the eggs at all; put this in twice during the three weeks of sitting. Do not let the nest get the best of you. One hour of work now will prevent ten days when the warmer weather comes on. When you take old straw out of the nest always burn it.—Ohio Farmer.

Farm and Household. A TINNED KITCHEN TABLE. Housekeepers who have never had a tin-covered table for kitchen use are still unacquainted with one of the most valuable articles of domestic economy. It is never too late to get one, however, as an ordinary kitchen table takes kindly to the metal cover. Get the tin-smith to fit a sheet of tin on the table and perforate the edges for tacking. The tin should cover the thickness of the board top, that it may be tacked on the under side of the table. A table so covered needs no scrubbing, is impervious to hot kettles, sheds grease as the proverbial duck's back does water, and in fact cleans the heart of the kitchen inside more than anything on earth except her wages and her company. The woman who does her own work should not let another dawdle find her, without one—If she is not at present rejoicing in it, said a wise family man the other day. Anything which simplifies the domestic labor of the household should be regarded as of distinct benefit to mankind, and he was speaking of a tin covered kitchen table, upon whose virtues his wife was flitting.

Another good use of marble cloth is for the floor of closets. It is easily put down and lifted. Many closets are seldom stepped into, and as there is hardly any air, or at least, but trifling wear, its durable qualities are not tested. Closet floors so covered may be easily wiped over with a damp cloth every morning, thus securing all loose dust, and preventing any injury from it to clothes that may be piled or hanging within.
