WHERE ARE THE LOYAL ORDERS?

The following remarkable article is from the Evening Citizen, a leading Conservative newspaper of Ottawa:

There is a maggot eating at the heart of Canadian national life; and independent citizens of this country are standing by in silence, witnessing the work of the greedy maggot without a murmur. Materialism has burrowed into the body politic so deep that even things most dear to the honor of a nation do not escape it. Young men, young soldiers, are voluntarily giving their all, their lives, in defence of British freedom, British honor and British tradition; and the political maggot is eating into the health of the citizen army through the sole of its rotten boots.

Having eaten into the health of the soldiers who were strong and well, the maggot is now fattening on the sick and wounded, broken in the Empire's war. Field dressings, even the salves and bandages, for the poor broken limbs and shattered bodies of Canada's wounded men and boys, have been made a medium for the cursed maggot to ply its insidious business. Where are the upholders of the British tradition, the loyal orders, the sons of England and the sons of honor in Canada? Must they remain forever silent while such damnable maggotry is being laid bare?

Here it has been demonstrated and confessed before a committee of members of parliament that a junior clerk in the Carleton Drug Company—of which William F. Garland, M. P. for Carleton, Ont., is principal owner—has made a profit of $9,000 on an order for forty thousand dollars worth of field dressings and other necessities intended for the brave men at the firing line. The drug clerk, a mere inexperienced youth, paid about $15 a week, is introduced to the militia department under the scoundrelly patronage system tolerated by the pinchbeck political practise of this country.

It is pretended that the junior clerk of the Carleton Drug Company is allowed to appropriate this patronage-begotten $9,000 of public money without hint or interference regarding its disposal by his political masters. Taking the pack of patronage middlemen at their political word, and assuming that the $9,000 of profit on the field dressings and necessities for wounded men is to be disposed as pretended, is it not enough to bring tears of shame and indignation to the eyes of every lover of Canada and British honor?

The Red Cross fund is having to appeal for more help; and many good people are giving of their scant earnings to do what little they can for the tender nursing of the Empire's poor broken men. For the sum of $9,000 eighteen trained nurses could have been sent from Canada and maintained at the saving line for a whole year—perhaps till the end of the war—to wash the wounds and soothe the pained bodies of Canada's injured soldiers. One hundred and eighty Red Cross beds could have been sent to the saving line to lay weary, shell-torn and shattered men upon, in cleanliness and comfort, so far as comfort is possible. But the $9,000—just one instance of the work of the maggot eating at the heart of Canada—is now deposited to the account of a junior clerk of the firm of the Carleton Drug Company, of which William F. Garland, M. P., is principal owner.

And the political colleagues of the honorable member for Carleton gloze over the work of the maggot by asking smooth questions. Field dressings and first aid necessities for the wounded are made to yield up a profit of 28 per cent—$9,000 public money—to a politically appointed agent; and Mr. Blain of Peel glibly asks, "Is that regarded as high in your business?" And Mr. Frupp of Ottawa says to the Carleton Drug Company's junior clerk, "Do you not have to account to anyone for the amount?" The clerk answers, "No." Says Mr. Frupp, honorable member for this Capital and royal city, "You are going through college and this will help you." And the obedient clerk answers, "Yes." And the loyal citizens of Canada are quite calm and unmoved about it!

Within a few weeks the political packs will have scattered across the country, and if the ring-leaders have their way Canada will be plunged into the swirl and swill of a general election. Such patriot gentry as the head of the Carleton Drug Company, and the sophist members of the committee investigating the profits over the bodies of wounded soldiers, will be expanding themselves upon political platforms and appealing for the support of the loyal orders and believers in British tradition and honor! They will vow themselves to be the saviors of the Empire. What will the loyal orders and independent citizens say? Britain would surely abhor and repudiate such professed aid. Will it seem well in the sight of the Great Architect of the Universe?

Estella Brooks

Died at Bristol, March 21, of dropsy, Estella Brooks, aged 21 years. She leaves to mourn her father, Rev. D. E. Brooks, mother three sisters and seven brothers. This young sister had not been very strong and healthy for the past three years but was bright and very cheerful for such a sufferer. Her trust in her Saviour was of a marked and marvelous type. Her reconciliation to leave her loved ones and be with Christ her Saviour, and her last words to her mother of seeing the "Tree of Life", is not to be doubted by those who were her constant attendants. Estella can sing now as never before "We'll understand it better bye and bye", Bro. and Sister Brooks and family have the prayers and sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place at the Bristol church Rev. P. J. Quigg having charge of the religious services assisted by Rev's C. H. Orser, J. M. Mallory and G. A. Giberson. The services over we repaired to the cemetery where we laid her remains to rest until the resurrection of the just.

This is the first break in the family and they feel the blow very heavily that their youngest girl, after suffering for so long a time must go and leave them broken hearted, but with the thought of meeting her in the land where death will never come.

Asleep in Jesus blessed sleep
From which none ever wakes to weep
A calm and undisturbed repose
From which none ever wake to woe

MOTHERS PRAISE BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. S. E. Lasrie, Grafton, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets ever since my baby was two weeks old and would not be without them as I consider them the best medicine in the world for little ones." What Mrs. Laurie says thousands of other mothers say. Simply because they have found the Tablets safe and sure and pleasant for the little ones to take. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT

The following letter has been received by Ed. Smith of Hartland from his cousin, Gordon Turner, at the front with the 1st Canadian Contingent.

Dear Cousin Ed: I got a letter from you some time ago, and I can't say that I was too busy to answer it, so I guess I was too lazy. However I will try and write you a few words today.

You need not expect much of a letter since I cannot tell you where I am nor what I am doing, in fact one cannot even date their letters. They are all censored before they are sent out, so one has to be careful what they write or the letter will never go.

At present I am fine and dandy and enjoying life as much as the circumstances and the uncertainties of war will permit. Of course it is not all a picnic, neither is it all hardship, and on the whole I am glad I am here and would not miss it for a farm.

I do not think they will throw this letter out if I tell you we are in the firing line and have been for some time, in fact our guns are the farthest advanced in the whole line. So much for New Brunswick.

What I have seen of war has just been one big artillery duel, and I must say that I am somewhat surprised. I always thought the German artillery was as efficient a fighting unit as could be imagined, but they are not in it for a moment with our batteries. In every way we have them trounced to a standstill.

At present I am sitting on one of our guns which we have christened "Kultur Kuro." We have it painted on several places around the gun and I am afraid if the Germans ever get hold of us it will be good-night.

You spoke of Eric Haywood. Yes I know him—he is a driver in our battery.

Well I guess I will have to get to work, so for the present will say "Au revoir."

With kindest regards to all, I remain

Sincerely yours
Gordon

Saul and B. F. Smith

B. F. Smith in his address at the opening of the legislature said that he was embarrassed and felt like Saul the son of Kish when he was brought before the multitude after having been chosen and anointed to lead Israel. It is probable that Mr. Smith misinterpreted his feelings and that his embarrassment was not through modesty as Saul's but like that of Achan, the son of Carmi of the tribe of Judah when he confessed to Joshua that the wedge of gold and Babylonian garment were hidden in his tent.

His very presence in the house in place of Mr. Fleming's confession of the guilt of the expremier. Perhance while he was speaking his mind reverted to a certain strong box hidden in Woodstock. Whether elections he lost or won it makes no change in the right and wrong of the moral and knowing the the stand he is taking in respect to the sordid transaction, it is small wonder when he stood in the intellectual centre of the province that he felt ashamed and like Saul of old fain would run away and hide himself in the rubbish.

Ellis-Melvin

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. P. J. Quigg, on March 24, when Maude Melvin became the wife of Samuel Ellis, both of Carlisle.

THE CANADIAN NAVY

The Canadian cruisers Niobe and Rainbow, since they were hastily made ready for active service, have performed work that proved satisfactory to the Admiralty. Hon. J. D. Hazen made this admission in parliament on Saturday night. He made some further remarks about armament and higher power guns in modern naval warfare, but when asked if the Admiralty had suggested that the Canadian cruisers be provided with improved guns or armament he admitted that no such suggestion had been made. The cruisers are manned by Canadians. The Niobe has the same equipment as the Ariadne, which distinguished herself in a fight in the North Sea, and the Rainbow is of the same class as the German cruisers Dresden and Leipzig. The Niobe and Rainbow are the vessels that were ordered at by Conservatives, and described as "a tin-pot navy." When war broke out they were in no condition for service, because the Borden government, which did not believe any more than its opponent that an emergency existed, had not kept them in condition for active warfare. They were hastily fitted out and manned after the news came, and have since rendered splendid service. Had the Laurier naval policy been carried out in its entirety, other Canadian cruisers would now be rendering even more valuable service to the Empire—Times.

CARVELL VOLUNTEERED

The following paragraph from the recent speech by F. B. Carvell in the house of commons is a sufficient answer to his traducers:—"The Empire war has come. And we have volunteered. And I want to tell my honorable friend from Annapolis that within a fortnight after the war broke out I personally went to the Minister of Militia and volunteered my service as an officer, and told him that if he would allow me I would raise a battery of artillery and would take it. I went back to him before Christmas and repeated my request. I wonder if my friend from Annapolis has done as well as that?"

WAR CRAFT

In the public accounts committee at Ottawa the threshing out of the Tory war supplies first has provoked widespread amazement and disgust, as is well expressed in an article on the first page of this issue.

F. B. Carvell, as a member of the committee, has brought to light much crookedness and, as usual is causing Tory newspapers paroxysms of anger. Yesterday the Standard reported "Carvell gets worst of it in tilt with witnesses" and gives this contempt of a witness for the committee as the net result of the tilt.

Carvell—Do you expect the committee to believe that?
Witness—I don't care whether they do or not! (Applause by the Standard.)

Quarterly Session

The March quarterly session of the Primitive Baptist convened with the church at Madawaska, Caribou, Maine. The session opened on Saturday March 20, with a number of the Primitive Baptist ilk present. Quite satisfactory to all present during the session the usual appointments materialized with enough union and spiritual effort and power to carry the interest up to a fairly satisfactory point in the minds of all present. The sermons as delivered by the different speakers were quite in common with other meetings, some of them at least producing the same effects on the large audience presented throughout the whole session. The church and friends did themselves ample justice, and received our heartfelt praise and thanks for their bountiful provisions for the temporal needs of this session. There were representatives from a large part of our field in attendance, Hartland, Rockland, Bannock, Carlisle, Wakefield, Wicklow, Bath, Bristol, Perth, Arthurville, Plaster Rock, California Settlement and quite a large number from Aroostook. Seven of the Primitive Baptist ministry showing up, some of the brethren were deprived of this great luxury of attending this session. We were quite willing to excuse them when we learned of them being so well occupied in good cause. Brother Hatfield and Brother Earl Giberson, are having a gracious revival on the Tobique river, having baptized some twenty or more happy candidates, as the work goes on, hoping for a very prosperous year in our field, and to this end we all should pray. "Watch the Papers for Special Offerings"

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

Dear Editor: Anyone reading the Conservative papers would think that the main thing in the coming Dominion election is the personal fight between Messrs. Carvell and Fleming. Nothing could be more absurd. If one or both of these men should die before election day our political business would go on. Others would take their places. They are merely the leaders of two parties that stand each for distinct principles and it is on those principles that the people must decide and not from the popularity of either Fleming or Carvell.

The liberal party is the party of the common people. It is the party most in favor of the masses of which in rural Canada are chiefly farmers. The Conservative party is the party of the Capitalists, The railway Corporations, The Banks, and the manufacturers. The party for the monied men.

Nothing could be more emphatic of this distinction along party lines than the attitude of the present government in power. When it became necessary to raise more revenue they resorted to their old expedient of increasing the duty on imports. Now that works two ways whereas it gives more revenue to the government it also enables the manufacturer to increase the price of his goods by the amount of the tariff so the mass of the people that consume the goods are the one that pay the tax and the manufacturer gets off scot free.

Is it not an outrage when the people in this war crisis are finding times hard enough yet they must bear this extra burden which could be more easily carried by the monied class of the nation? It was only by the exertion of the members of the maritime provinces (including Mr. Carvell) that prevented a heavy tax being imposed on fertilizer and that at a time when the Motherland is calling to the farmers of Canada for increased production. These men would tax the chief source for increasing food supply for our army and the British population and then approach us at election time with the sanctity of a Fleming shouting loyalty.

Not only has the Borden government laid on taxes by the means of the tariff but they have resorted to direct taxation. Here again it may be seen that the taxes are partial to the richer class for example, we pay a tax on every railway ticket but the members of Parliament the railway men and others holding passes and he that rideth in the Private car escape the tax. The imposition is not fairly proportioned among all classes. The millionaire members of the Borden Cabinet do not pay in the same rates as the poor man.

The worst feature of all is that this extra tax is not to provide for the expenses of the war for we have borrowed the money for that purpose and the liberal opposition fully supported the measure but this money raised by this special taxation is to make up for the reckless extravagance of a government that should have conserved the finances like private citizens who have been obliged to economize in such a time as this.

The demands of the war have been met in the most reckless manner. A terrible state of graft has been exposed shameful to the nation. Middlemen have made immense profits on the necessities of our soldiers. The government at Ottawa have trafficked with the blood of our heroes sending our soldiers illfitted to the front and it is without doubt that the miserable footwear provided for the soldiers was the cause of many deaths among our Canadian boys at Salisbury Plains.

The Borden government threw over the naval policy of the Laurier administration yet when war broke out they made haste to buy sub marines for the ports of British Columbia. But what about our Atlantic ports? What about St. John? It has been more from fate than any design on the part of the part of the Borden government that our own ports have escaped a shelling. Had the Laurier Naval Policy been followed we would have formidable cruisers to protect our shores. See what Australia has done in this war? Can anyone deny that Canada might have the same by the Borden government bringing forth an impossible Policy—a policy that cannot be followed until we have an imperial federation. He thus hindered Canada from helping in the Empire's defence at whose door lies the blame? Laurier framed a Policy and put it in force! Borden did nothing.

These are a few of the Principles upon which we are to decide the result of the next Federal election. These may be added to one locally confined. The Conservative party of Carleton and Victoria have taken the obligation by their action to declare ex-premier Fleming guilty of all his conduct concerning the Crown lands and the Valley railway of this Province. Mr. Fleming himself has stated he saw no wrong in grafting immense sums from the treasury of the Province for political purposes. It is not a question of what we think of James K. Fleming as man. The question is do we as a people approve of the Principle for which he stands. Do we believe that a man that was not worthy longer to hold even his seat in the Legislature is a fit person to represent us in the higher political field at Ottawa?

It is a time of great crises in the Empire and in Canada as a part of that Empire we need the best men at the head of the Nation; the time tested, and responsible men the men here fitted to give support and council in this period of great effort on the part of the British people.

Yours Sincerely
Pro Patria.

Cured Fifteen Years Ago of Piles and Eczema

By Using Dr. Chase's Ointment—Certifies That the Cure Was Permanent.

Some people have tried so many doctors and so many treatments in their search for cure for piles and eczema that they find it difficult to believe there is an actual cure.

The strong point about Dr. Chase's Ointment is that it not only brings relief promptly, but brings about actual and lasting cure.

In 1897 Mr. Ketcheson, 88 Douro street, Peterboro, Ont., writes as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty years with itching piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and this Ointment effected a complete cure."

On Sept. 28, 1912, Mr. Ketcheson wrote as follows:—"I received a letter from you to-day, saying that you found on file a statement made by me 15 years ago. I have always given Dr. Chase's Ointment a good name since it cured me, and shall tell you how I came to use it."

"I had suffered for many years from eczema and piles, and had tried doctors and everything I could hear of in vain. Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I purchased it at once, and was soon completely cured. That was fifteen years ago, so there can be no doubt of the cure being a permanent one. I have met a great many people who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Special Notice

The Observer Office is not intended for a loafing place. Least of all is it intended that employees shall loaf—and not one of them wants to. There are no more willing body of workers in the St. John Valley than those employed in this office. The manager has been most fortunate in securing this class of help for a long time. But printers cannot work and have callers. Typewriters cannot work and talk. Such employees as make a practice of encouraging callers are quickly suspended. Therefore as much a favor to those in the back office as to the editor in his sanctum we must declare—and not for the first time either—that visitors are not welcome except those who have business to transact with the manager or a person acting for him.

Employees do not desire to transact their private affairs during the nine hours they have contracted to work for The Observer, and the public will be kind enough to make note of this fact. Other visitors must not steal the time of those hired to do our work. The manager does not want to offend any person, but there are those who have let themselves go so far that they enter the office, absolutely ignore the manager, and proceed to steal that which is our only source of income—the employees' time.

Twice this week did the office become so congested with callers who came to see employees on one pretext or another that the real business of the office was entirely suspended. This must not go on. And surely after such notice it will not.

The manager is willing to admit that his abounding good-nature has created the necessity of this article by tolerating too long the abuse of a special privilege granted to a few.

From Lieut. Shaw at the Front

Lieut. W. B. Shaw writes from his post in France under date of March 10 and 15. The life seems to be monotonous in a way, if one can imagine continuous sharp-shooting and cannonading anything but highly exciting.

In one letter Lieut. Shaw writes on duty observing. It was five in the morning and a 36 hour shift closed at seven. "At this second," he writes, "the bark of a rifle sounds only five yards away."

"I felt yesterday as though the anipers at one time had really spotted me while I was out in a field observing. I thought things were much too hot and took to cover for a while; but the observing has to be done.

"I am glad to be right up to the trenches, just the same as you would like to be close to the stage in some big play. This is some life, believe me. A man says little, talks very unconcernedly, but thinks a great deal. Life is unfolded in an entirely new guise. The artillery on both sides are working fairly overtime. So far we have no difficulty in holding them down."

How Did He Earn It?

Although J. Kidd Fleming, ex-premier, did not actively participate in the affairs of state after the month of April of last year, he drew his salary as premier and minister of lands and mines right up to October 31. He was paid $2400 for his services as premier and $2100 as minister of lands and mines. His sessional indemnity and mileage amounted to $513.20. Besides this he was paid $235 for travelling expenses and the sum of $96 for services as commissioner of the provincial hospital. In addition to this the government also paid the salary of a "stenographer to premier" amounting to 400 and allowed Mr. Fleming $45 for postage. His total salary and perquisites amounted to $5,839.15 and when the enquiry into his conduct was concluded he lost his job. It is fortunate for Mr. Fleming that he was not employed as a clerk in some business house.—Mail.

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

"Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value in Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the skin rids the system of more uric acid (waste matter) than the kidneys. When there is kidney trouble, pain in the back and acid urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty skin action, or constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, aching kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50¢ a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25¢, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

East Florenceville Has Big and Successful Entertainment

The Florenceville folks turned out on Tuesday evening in numbers which taxed the local hall to its capacity to witness the staging of an entertainment which has been on the tapis for sometime. It was the presentation of the three-act drama entitled "Out in the Streets" and the interest it aroused was due to the fact that the company presenting it was composed exclusively of native talent about to make their debut in the histrionic role. The play proved to be the event of the season in its line and the work of the young people in its staging and interpretation received well-deserved and unstinted praise from an audience which evidently felt some pride in the achievements of the home talent. The ticket-window receipts registered the sum of $72.

The scene of "Out in the Streets" is laid in the United States—in a city in the North. The experiences of three homes are involved; the Wayne household consisting of the testy but good-natured Colonel Wayne, his wife and daughter, Nina, and the Arnold household, represented by Solomon Arnold a pious Shylock and his dissolute son Matthew, and the destitute Mrs. Bradford and their six-year-old Minnie.

There was a skeleton in the closet of the Wayne family before the Colonel's marriage. His only sister had been cast out and repudiated by her family because of her infatuation with a worthless Orlan Bradford and a newspaper paragraph had left the Colonel for many years in the belief that she was dead. She is alive however and her dissipated husband having died she returns penniless to the city of her birth. Too proud to approach her brother she seeks toil to provide for herself and her child. As his tenant is a poor hovel she suffers from the merciless cupidity of Solomon Arnold, the villain of the piece. With her sick child she is unable to pay her rent and is thrust out in the streets. It is Col. Wayne who comes upon a poor woman in the public street striving to protect her child from the cold. Charitably questioning her there is mutual recognition on the part of brother and long-lost sister. He takes her to his palatial home and then sets out to deal with the heartless landlord upon whom it develops the Col. has a strange hold, for at one time in his history Arnold had forged the Colonel's name for a considerable amount but had been let off through the force of his snivelling pleading. He is now confronted with his dastardly act of casting out the poor woman and her child and is delivered up to the law to pay the full penalty for his crime of forgery. The closing act shows promise of new happiness in the Wayne household for not only are the restored sister and her child lavishly provided for, but marriage bells ring out. Nina Wayne is given to the lover of her choice, the young Dr. Medfield.

The play yields some excellent situations. The were done admirably considering the inexperience of the actors. The heavy parts were doubtless those of Col. Wayne and Mrs. Bradford. Roy Hunter and Mary Fitzpatrick in these parts made a strong centre of the body of the play. J. F. Waugh and George Melville put character into the villain parts as the Arnolds, father and son. Carrie Carle was a good Nina Wayne. Jean Kilpatrick as the Colonel's better-half was dignified and dilly self-assertive. In a climactic scene P. R. Semple as policeman executed the demands of the law. B. A. Campbell filled the role of Dr. Medfield. Bessie Hunter was a good selection for the part of little Minnie Bradford.

A popular vote would doubtless have made C. H. O. the favorite. A crowd of about 100 boys voted. His was the popular part. As Pete the colored servant of Col. Wayne from "Nori Catby" with his rolling eyes and native stupidity he was every where effective.

The program as arranged provided some good side numbers all of which were well received. A slack wire act in which Pete and the policeman figured was good enough for a while and were making a living out of it. A musical dialogue entitled "We'll have to mortgage the farm" was presented by six children. A lanky local blacksmith and a school boy introduced themselves as "Mutt and Jeff" and had to come back for an encore. A tableau, "England and her Allie" was presented by Mary Fitzpatrick, Stella Hunter, Carrie Carle, Pearl Carle, Annie Rideout, Phoebe McLean and Jean Kilpatrick. A duet was rendered by Mrs. P. R. Semple and Mrs. Roland Semple, Stella Hunter and Crystal Davis were heard in several instrumental duets during the evening. Amy Tompkins was welcomed with her violin and Warren White rendered a pleasing solo. Mrs. G. A. Ross gave a reading, entitled "The Death Bridge of Tay."

The newly-formed Comedy Company asked popular theatre prices for their show and it is safe to say that the large gathering of patrons had two hours and a half of good entertainment. Several of the participants in the vocal and instrumental part of the program were old favorites whom the public always look forward to hearing when they are announced.
