

Births, Marriages, Deaths

Notices of Births, Marriages and Deaths which are inserted in The Daily Advertiser also appear in The Western Advertiser. Births 25c, Marriages and Deaths 50c.

DIED.
GRAFTON—In Toronto, on Sunday, Nov. 20, at his residence, 19 Gerrard street west, George Henry Grafton, formerly of this city, in his 46th year.

Amusements and Lectures

Advertisements under this heading, two cents per word, or ten cents per line, each insertion.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
Tonight and every night this week, with matinee Thursday and Saturday.

VAUDEVILLE AND SPECIALTIES.
At popular price, 15c, 25c, 35c. Seats for all performances now on sale.

PIERO AT AUDITORIUM, TUESDAY next.

P. D. A. ADVANCED CLASS OPENS
Wednesday evening, Dec. 7. Primary classes—Gentlemen Monday evenings, Ladies Tuesday evenings, children Saturday afternoons. Pupils can join class any time. Dayton & McCormick.

ANSBACH, THE GREAT GERMAN MA-
GICIAN, assisted by Miss Frederica W. Paul, vocalist, and the Imperial Quartet, under the auspices of the Conservative Club, at the Auditorium, Monday, Nov. 22. Admission 25c; reserved seats 50c. Plan opens at 7 P. M. A., on Saturday, Nov. 22.

INDOOR BASEBALL—THANKSGIVING
Day, Westminster rink, London vs. Woodstock. Afternoon game 8; evening game 8.

TWILIGHT ORGAN RECITAL BY MR.
W. H. Hewitt, at the Imperial Quartet, Church, Saturday afternoon next, at 4 o'clock, assisted by Mr. J. Coates Lookhart, tenor. Silver collection at the door.

JUBILEE RINK—WE HOPE TO OPEN
Thanksgiving evening. Watch ads on street cars.

THANKSGIVING LUNCH IN CLARENCE
House all day.

AMERICAN, ANCHOR, CUNARD, RED
Star Lines Christmas excursions to the Old Country, via New York. No war tax. Allan and Beaver Lines via Canadian route. F. B. Clarke, Richmond street, next Advertiser.

GRAND CONCERT—CHRIST CHURCH
School room, Friday evening, Nov. 23. Tickets 15c and 25c.

VOICE CULTURE
EVA N. ROBYN.
Studio, Bell Place Parlors. Residence, No. 392 Dundas street. Concert engagements. Telephone 1274.

PRIVATE LESSONS IN DANCING.
Rapid teaching, low rates. All who desire a thorough knowledge of the art of dancing should avail themselves of this opportunity. Lessons any hour. R. B. Millard, teacher of dancing, 345 Prince Avenue.

Meetings.

I. O. O. F.—GRAND DRILL—DOMINION
Hall, No. 43, this (Wednesday) evening. Visitors invited. Geo. E. Logan, N.G.; Thos. D. Hastings, R.S.

Thanksgiving Services.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE—DUNDAS
Center Methodist Church, tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Saunders, will preach. Appropriate music by the choir.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH—THANKSGIVING
Service, Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Service of praise by the choir, assisted by excellent outside talent; address by the pastor—"Lessons of the Year."

ST. JAMES' PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—
Thanksgiving service tonight at 8 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. J. MacGillivray, M.A. Visitors welcome.

Domestics Wanted.

WANTED—HOUSEMAID—REFERENCES
required. Apply 423 Colborne.

WANTED—COOK AND DINING-ROOM
girl. Apply Mrs. J. B. Jennings, Westminster Hotel.

WANTED—A GOOD GENERAL SERV-
VANT. Apply 333 King street.

WANTED—GOOD PLAIN COOK—TELE-
PHONE No. 54 between 7 and 9 o'clock this evening.

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT
—Apply 287 Queen's avenue.

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT
—Apply 634 Queen's avenue.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED—MALE SCHOOL TEACHER—
holding a first or second class Normal certificate, for school section No. 17, North Dorchester; state salary; personal application preferred. Apply H. Jackson, Gladstone Post office, Ont.

WANTED—BLACKSMITH HORSE-
SHOER, good floor man, William Walker, Dorchester Station.

FOUR ENERGETIC SALESMEN CAN find clean, permanent and profitable employment by calling, with references, at Room B, Dominion House.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN TO DRIVE
delivery wagon; must know city well. Apply 329 Midland.

WANTED—TEACHER FOR SECOND division Belmont public school; one holding Normal School certificate. Apply J. Cousins, Secretary, Belmont.

Help Wanted.

WANTED—TELEGRAPH OPERATOR—
must read very rapidly or abbreviated messages. Box 88, Advertiser.

Business Chances.

A GENTLEMAN WITH A SMALL CAP-
ITAL can secure the best business in Canada by applying to the undersigned at the Dominion House. Mr. McCallum.

COLD WEATHER AHEAD.

—You'll need a heavier Overcoat. Come in and we'll show you some of the finest heavy cloths that have ever been imported into the city.

—Our prices are right, too.

DEEKS & CO.,
Merchant Tailor,
393 Richmond Street.

No Hunting

allowed on these premises. That's the way some people warn you against trespassing, but be don't. On the contrary, we give you a cordial invitation to hunt our place of business and we assure you that you will find just what you are looking for in the line of footwear. Here you will find the latest and best of the market affords, and we guarantee you a positive saving on every purchase you make whether it be in leather goods, rubbers, overshoes, felts of any kind, overgaiters, leggings or anything else in footwear.

J. P. Cook,
173 Dundas Street.

Agents Wanted.

MAN OR WOMAN OF ENERGY AND
business ability to travel for established firm; $50 a month and all expenses. P. W. Ziegler & Co., 235 Leguist street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED—WE WANT LIVE
agents everywhere. No "double selling" or high-grade nursery stock and seed potatoes. Write us before engaging elsewhere. It will pay you. Blackford & Co., Nurserymen, Toronto.

WE SHALL SOON NEED TWO MEN OF
ability to fill responsible positions in connection with the foreign sale of "Canada, an Encyclopedia of the Country." Must be men of education, character and record. Macintosh Publishing Company, Toronto.

WANTED—CITY CANVASSER—ON SAL-ARY; a permanent position. G. Marshall & Co., 238 Dundas street.

Lost and Found.

LOST—GOLD TIE PIN WITH DIAMOND
setting. Finder rewarded on leaving at this office.

Articles For Sale.

SMALL STOCK OF GROCERIES AND
furniture for sale; in good locality in city. Address Box 29, Advertiser.

ELEGANT FOLDING-BEDS—CHAMP—ONE
black walnut, one oak; large plate mirrors, cost $140; are as good as new. We are selling them for a customer at low price of $85 each. If you want a parlor bed room secure above quick. John Ferguson & Sons, King street.

200 LANTERN SLIDES, 100 COLORED,
$35. snap, Japanese subjects. C. J. Denham, Petrolia, Ont.

FIRST-CLASS WOOD—HARD AND SOFT—stove lengths or cordwood. Prompt delivery to any part of the city. Prices reasonable. Phone 1,312. S. Gilles & Son, Sawmill, East London.

FOR SALE—POCKET KNIVES, DOOR
keys, sewing machines, repaired and overhauled. D. McKenzie & Co., 354 Richmond street.

GENUINE POCAHONTAS COAL FOR
kitchen ranges and furnaces. Bowman & Co. now have this coal in addition to their world-famous Scranton. Prompt delivery for all orders at F. B. Clarke's, Richmond street, next Advertiser. Bowman & Co.

OBTAIN MY RATES FOR FIRE INSUR-ANCE before you insure. F. B. Clarke, Richmond street, next Advertiser.

WE ARE SHOWING AN ESPECIALLY attractive line of cakes for Thanksgiving. George Peters, confectioner.

A BEAUTIFUL LARGE UPRIGHT PIANO,
75 octaves, will be sold cheap and on easy terms. Party leaving. Party leaving. Also must be sold. Heintzman & Co., 217 Dundas street.

IMMENSE STOCK STOVES, RANGES,
oven burners, heaters all under inspection. 20 per cent discount. Stringer's, 141 King street.

BOLOGNA, 4 POUNDS FOR 25 CENTS—
Small sausage, 4 pounds for 25 cents. Ham, bacon, lard, butter, eggs, cheese and fruits. Lowest prices. Park & Corner Market Lane.

R. M. MILLAR, ELECTRICIAN, NO.
434 Talbot street, between Carling street and Queen's avenue. All work done efficiently and at moderate prices. A specialty of Medical Batteries.

BEST HARD COAL AND WOOD DE-
LIVERED in all parts of the city. W. G. Eadey, 771 Dundas street. Phone 1,124.

KERNE'S, MASONIC TEMPLE, IS THE cheapest place to buy stoves or furniture. Large stock on hand.

Houses, Etc., To Let.

TO LET IN SPENCER BLOCK—LARGE rooms, or hall, formerly occupied by Y. W. C. T. U. Store 276 with 10 rooms. Also rooms on lot, 2nd or 3rd flats. W. M. Spencer.

TO LET—NO. 427 KING STREET—APPLY at 427 King street.

TO LET—BRICK HOUSE—FOUR BED-
ROOMS, parlor, dining-room, kitchen and basement. Apply 138 Queen's avenue.

TO LET—THREE FINE NEW COTTAGES;
fine locality and central; fitted with all modern conveniences. Also fine 2-story house on Prospect avenue; at low rent.

HOUSE TO LET—323 KING STREET—AP-PLY 323 King street.

TO LET—COVERED MOVING VANS—
When moving have your furniture and pianos carefully moved. Address 97 Carling street. Phones 1,162 and 1,167.

Hotel Cards.

"THE RICHMOND—CORNER OF KING
and Richmond streets. H. L. Felde, new proprietor. A. call collected.

EUROPEAN HOTEL—33 DUNDAS street. Choice wines, liquors and cigars. Chas. Stevens, proprietor.

O'NEIL HOUSE—CORNER TALBOT AND
York streets; new and convenient; stables. Wm. Collins, proprietor.

CITY HOTEL—LONDON—BEST $1 A DAY
house in Canada; good stables in connection. J. McMartin, proprietor.

THE ST. LAWRENCE HOTEL—MON-
TREAL—Centrally located and first-class in every respect. H. Hogan, proprietor.

TECUMSEH HOUSE—LONDON, ONT.—
Largest and best hotel in Western Ontario. No charge for baggage or sample rooms. Rates $2 and $2.50 per day. C. W. Davis, proprietor.

RIGG HOUSE—LONDON, ONT.—REFUR-
NISHED and renovated throughout. Large and light sample rooms for commercial men. Rates $1.50 and $2 per day. M. O'Meara, proprietor.

Judge Koon, of Minneapolis, Recently Said:

"Making money and successfully caring for it are two things rarely combined in the same individual. Business men, after having acquired a competency, meet with reverses, lose the fortune acquired, and are often objects of public charity. The prudent business man guards his declining years by some form of life insurance."

The Ontario Mutual Life.
C. E. German, Gen. Agent.

Notice to Creditors.

NOTICE is hereby given that all persons having claims or demands against the estate of Joseph Pigot, carrying on business at the city of London under the name, style and firm of Pigot & Bryan, merchant, deceased, who died on or about the 19th day of October, A.D. 1898, are requested by post, prepaid or deliver to the undersigned solicitors for James Fiddis and Patrick Mulken, executors of the last will and testament of the said deceased, on or before the 26th day of December, A.D. 1898, their Christian and surnames and addresses, with full particulars in writing of their claims, and a statement of their account, and of the nature of the security, if any, held by them. And further take notice that after the said 26th day of December, A.D. 1898, the said executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice, and said executors shall not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by them or their solicitors at the time of such distribution. Geo. C. Gibbons, solicitor for said executors, London, Nov. 17, 1898. 94N19.23.36D6.14.17

Real Estate.

A SNAP—THAT HANDSOME NEW
modern residence, 330 Central avenue, near park. Has been reduced in price away from $1,200 to $1,000. Ten rooms, closets, bathroom, lavatory, all modern appointments. Open for inspection from 5 to 6 p.m. See this for a bargain.

FOR SALE—THAT DOUBLE BRICK
situated on the corner of King and Colborne, part of lot No. 11. Has a frontage of 58 feet on King and a depth of 121 feet. Offers will be received for the purchase of houses and lot. Enquire at 413 King street or on premises.

Wanted.

HIGHEST PRICE PAID FOR GENTLE
MEN'S cast-off clothing. A. F. Baum, 30 King street. Mail orders attended to.

Swedish Massage.

MISS MILLAR, 359 PRINCESS AVENUE
Swedish therapeutic massage, graduate of the Hugo Oldenburg Institute, Chicago.

Livery Stables.

LILLEY'S LIVERY—NO. 619 DUNDAS street, East London, Ont. Telephone 661.

THOMAS TREBILCOCK—STAR LIVERY
—833 Richmond street. Best hacks, coupes, etc. Light livery a specialty. Careful attention to drivers. Phone 428. Open night and day.

FIGHTING IN AFRICA

A French Force Captures 30,000 Prisoners—German Activity in the Cameroons.

Paris, Nov. 23.—Official reports say that when the French force defeated Samory, the King of Soudan, they captured 30,000 prisoners. In pursuing the king the road was so blocked by decomposing bodies that the army was compelled to take another route.

Advices from Southwest Africa report great activity in the Cameroons. Two German men-of-war are in the bay, many men are being enrolled, and a large preparation is being made for an important expedition into the interior, under command of Governor Puttmacher and Lieut. Carnap. The expedition is probably to co-operate in the large scheme of German expansion to Lake Chad.

London, Nov. 23.—The first contingent of British missionaries to work in the Sudan since 1873 left this week for Khartoum. It consisted of Rev. R. Sterling, lately of Palestine, and Rev. Douglas M. Thornton, of Cambridge. Upon arrival the party will be in charge of Dr. F. J. Harpur, a medical missionary in Egypt now in Cairo.

A LION-TAMER ATTACKED

Receives Severe Injuries After Entering the Cage.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23.—Behind the scenes at the Standard Theater Sunday night Trainer Hall was attacked by a lion, the biggest of the three trained lions, and nearly killed before his rescue. Hall was in the cage brushing the lion off for presentation to the audience. Prince was evidently in a bad humor, for as soon as the trainer entered the cage, his mane began to bristle and he showed his big teeth viciously, snapping wickedly at Hall whenever he approached. The trainer gave Prince a prod with his steel rod. The attendant's rush to his right arm to ward off the blow. The lion's claws cut deeply into the flesh of Hall's forearm, ripping open his hand, and the trainer was at Prince's mercy. The attendant's rush to Hall's assistance, and succeeded in beating the animal off with iron bars. Hall's injuries are severe, but not necessarily fatal.

THE ATTITUDE OF SPAIN

Peace Commissioners Waiting to Hear From Madrid.

Premier Sagasta Says the U. S. Will Take the Philippines,

Spain Being Unable to Contend Against—American Demands—A Carlist Rising Imminent.

Paris, Nov. 23.—At the request of the Spanish peace commissioners, there will be no joint session today, pending instructions from Madrid. The date of the next meeting is not fixed.

As late as 1 o'clock this morning a Spanish commissioner affirmed that he and his colleagues did not know what to do regarding the American offer.

In an interview, Prime Minister Sagasta said that the United States would undoubtedly take the Philippine Islands, Spain being unable to contend further against American demands.

Spain, however, would absolutely decline to accept the proposed indemnity for the cession of the islands, considering that the amount offered was simply proposed as charity to her, and aside from this, the acceptance of the offer would involve the admission of the absurd American claim that Sagasta declared that Spain would certainly not pay the Cuban debt, such as the falling upon whose takes the sovereignty of the island. He added that he believed that the rebellion in the Viscaya Islands was a studied scheme on the part of the Americans to create difficulties for Spain and to make the Philippines an easier prey.

OPEN DOOR INTENTIONS.
London, Nov. 23.—Most of the newspapers comment upon and express satisfaction at the "open door" intentions of the United States in the Philippine Islands. The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Whatever may happen in Porto Rico, and eventually in the United States themselves, America's colonial policy in the Pacific is 'the open door.' It is a wise decision on every ground, in the interest of the prosperity of the Philippines themselves, and as securing the good-will of nations really friendly to America in the Pacific. The commercial interests of the two English-speaking nations are thereby definitely assured. The Daily Chronicle editorially criticises 'the premature rejoicing of the press over the alleged policy of the 'open door' in the Philippines,' because, it says, 'Washington can do nothing until congress meets.'"

CARLIST RISING.
London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Biarritz says: "Prominent Carlists declare that a rising is imminent simultaneously in several towns where there is hope of military support, the idea being a sharp, short conflict, instead of prolonged and sporadic risings in the rural districts."

PELTED THE PREMIER.
Budapest, Nov. 23.—Stringent precautions were taken in view of possible disturbance during the session of the lower House of the Diet. There was considerable commotion in the streets, and several bands of students had to be dispersed. But, when business in the lower house was resumed, the trouble of yesterday was smoothed over by Baron Gozs Ezerjavar, the minister of national defense, who imputed lack of honor to the national party, and the deputy who declared the minister had no sense of honor with-drawing their mutual recriminations on the ground that they were based on mishearing and misapprehension. During the students' disturbance in the streets, Baron Banffy, the premier, was stoned while driving to the parliament house.

A HOPEFUL SIGN.
Paris, Nov. 23.—The postponement of today is regarded as a hopeful sign that the treaty will be signed. While the Madrid Government has not yet received the text of the American ultimatum, the Spanish ministers received quite enough by telegraph on Monday night to enable them to instruct their commissioners to retire, were such their intentions. It was confidently believed by several of the Americans and those who conversed with the correspondent of the Associated Press today, that before the expiration of the time fixed by the Americans, namely Monday next, the Spaniards will acquiesce in the United States' Philippine offer, and that ultimately the treaty will be signed by all the Spanish commissioners. It is true that the course which Senor Montero Rios, president of the Spanish commission, will follow, is still uncertain, as he continues to "play to the gallery," but a leading member of the American commission believes that in any case, his place on the commission will be speedily filled, probably by Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador here. Senor Montero Rios sent a communication to the American commissioners yesterday evening, asking a number of questions. The most important of them asked in effect if the Americans really meant that the ultimatum must be answered by Monday. The Spaniards were assured that they did, and the answer has cleared the air.

SPAIN'S LAST ANSWER.
A member of the Spanish commission this morning assured the correspondent of the Associated Press that the next meeting of the commissions will take place on Friday or Saturday and that Spain's answer then will be the last she will make, and that it will be a definite conclusion of the matter in hand. This utterance is looked upon as indicating that Spain will sign the treaty of peace.

Madrid, Nov. 23.—After the meeting of the cabinet council a minister said that nothing had been decided on the subject of peace.

Mr. Hays, general manager G. T. R., denies the reported agreement to at once raise passenger rates. The traveling public are not kicking.

UNCLE SAM GETS AN ISLAND

As a Coaling Station in Bab-el-Mandeb Straits.

Lord Aberdeen's Words of Praise for Canada—Alfred Austin's Latest—Dowager Empress of China's Birthday Celebration Dropped.

London, Nov. 23.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says it is semi-officially announced there that negotiations are on foot between Great Britain and the United States, with a view of conceding to the latter a coaling station in the Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb, the straits uniting the Red Sea with the Indian Ocean. With this object in view, the island of Socotra in the Indian Ocean, 120 miles east of Cape Guardafui, the eastern extremity of Africa, is to be leased to the United States, who undertake to erect lighthouses east and west of the island, which must not be fortified. It is further stipulated, the correspondent says, that only warships are to be allowed to coal there, so as not to injure the English coal trade at Aden and on Perim Island. The Daily Chronicle, referring to the dispatch from its Vienna correspondent regarding the supposed lease of the island of Socotra to the United States, says: "We are doing a great deal for America, and everybody is glad of it. Naturally, we hope she is going to do something for us."

GOOD WORDS FOR CANADA.
Liverpool, Nov. 23.—The Earl of Aberdeen, the recent governor-general of Canada, who, with the Countess of Aberdeen, arrived today from Quebec, on the Dominion Line steamer Labrador, speaking in this evening at a banquet given in his honor, referred to the "keen gratification experienced by Lady Aberdeen and myself during our sojourn in Canada," adding that they felt now they had "ties of lasting associations with the Dominion." Lord Aberdeen applauded Canada's policy in turning towards England when the markets of the United States were closed to her. After eulogizing Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion premier, he said: "The proximity of the United States is a great factor in Canadian affairs, and therefore we all rejoice in the tendency toward a good understanding and friendship between Great Britain and the United States. I am sure we all welcome whatever will help the unity of the whole Anglo-Saxon race, and in this respect the commission now sitting in America has an important and significant bearing." Referring to the French-Canadians, he applauded their devotion and loyalty, remarking that he was glad they treasured their own traditions, they would do their duty if ever called. In concluding his speech, which touched upon various Canadian matters, he said she was working for her own development and destiny for her own sake, but in so doing she is necessarily working also for the sake of the great empire of which she forms so splendid a portion.

THE KAISER AT POLA.
Pola, Austria, Nov. 23.—The imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the Emperor and Empress of Germany on board, arrived here today. She was saluted by the forts and Austrian warships. The latter were decorated with flags.

ALFRED'S LATEST.
London, Nov. 23.—The Times this morning publishes a poem from the pen of the poet Laureate, Mr. Alfred Austin, entitled "Pax Britannica," eulogizing England's display of her preparedness for war and the display of her enemies. The eleventh stanza reads thus:

"But they who watch
From where the west wind blows,
Since great themselves,
Proud that their kith are great,
Say: 'See what comes
When England with her foes,
Speaks at the gate!'"

IN THE FAR EAST.
Pekin, Nov. 23.—The projected birthday audience of the dowager empress to the ladies of the diplomatic corps has fallen through, owing to the difficulties raised by the Chinese in regard to ceremonial matters. The ministers of the foreign powers insisted that foreign interpreters should accompany the European ladies. To this the Chinese objected. The health of the Emperor of China is said to be again improving, and grave anxiety to those about him. He is described as being unable to walk unassisted, and it is believed in well-informed circles that the end is near.

The Pekin correspondent of the London Daily Mail says: An Anglo-Chinese railway syndicate has obtained an important concession for a railway from Canto to Cheng-Tu, in the province of Sze-Chuen, crossing the Yang-Tse-Kiang, where it will join the projected extension of the Burmah railway.

CABLE NOTES.
A Simla cable says: The mad fakir of the Swathas has retired from the frontier. Gen. Lockhart has gone to the front.

A special from Rome says that Mgr. Keane has informed the pope that favorable results have been achieved for the protection of Catholic rights in the Philippines in Archbishop Ireland's negotiations with President McKinley.

Anonymous donors have paid to the official received in bankruptcy, through the cathedral authorities, the cost of the gold communion plate which Mr. Ernest T. Hooley, who is now in bankruptcy, presented to St. Paul's. The money is for the purpose of freeing the vessels from doubtful associations.

The Birmingham Post understands that negotiations have begun between certain prominent houses in London and New York for the formation of a colossal trust for operating financially and commercially in Cuba and the Philippines.

Five women, forming a gang of female burglars, who have for several weeks worked successfully in the Picpus quarter of Paris, have at last been arrested. During two weeks they had secured over $15,000 in plunder.

Mr. Amasa Thornton, a lawyer, of New York city, had a private audience with the pope on Tuesday. Mr. Thornton said his holiness was in excellent health and spirits, and discussed with the keenest interest the current political questions.

The new Canadian steamship line, to run between Milford Haven and Pasphebe, Quebec, announces a reduction in the steamer rate to 23. This may bring about a rate war. The new company expects to run steamers to Pasphebe throughout the winter, but the venture is problematical. The first sailing will be on Dec. 3.

The Constantinople correspondent of the London Daily Chronicle says: The sultan has ordered the closing of an orphanage at Zeitung, which shelters 60 homeless victims of the Armenian troubles. The institution is admirably managed by American missionaries, being chiefly supported by British charity. Mr. Oscar Straus, the United States minister, and Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British ambassador, are both intervening energetically.

"PURITY" BAKING POWDER

Is the best.

It is renowned for making finest cake, hot biscuits and rolls.

Made fresh daily, and guaranteed absolutely pure. 20c lb.

Gairncross & Lawrence,
Druggists—Two Stores.

THE ASSAULT ON ADDISON

A "Suspect" Bailed in the Sum of $2,500.

Harry Jones Pleads Guilty to Stealing Overcoat and Gloves—Jack Palmer in the Toils Again—Fte. Miller Charged With Perjury.

There was no dearth of business at this morning's session of the police court, and great interest was taken in some of the cases. Walter Richards, an ex-employee of the street railway company, who was arrested last evening, was arraigned today on the charge of complicity in the brutal assault upon Austin Addison, the street railway conductor, on Monday night. Dr. English appeared in court, having just come from Addison's house. The injured man is reported out of danger. He was suffering from five lacerations of the scalp, numerous contusions and many body bruises, and will not be able to appear in court for at least ten days or two weeks.

Bail was asked for Richards' release, and the amount fixed at $2,500—the prisoner in $1,000, Robert Simmons, Add. English and W. Richards, in $500 each.

Harry Jones, aged 18 years

The Waters of Life

Wealth Without Interest Is a Worthless Portion—
Rev. Dr. Talmage's Sermon.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached from the text, Joshua, xv., 19: "Thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs." He said:

The City of Debir was the Boston of antiquity—a great place for brain and books. Caleb was a man of letters. He offered his daughter Achsah as a prize to anyone who would capture that city. It was a strange thing for Caleb to do, and yet the man that could take the city would have, at any rate, two elements of manhood—bravery and patriotism. Besides, I do not think that Caleb was as foolish in offering his daughter to the conqueror of Debir as thousands of this day who seek alliance for their children with those who have large means without any reference to moral or mental acquirements. Of two evils I would rather measure my happiness by the length of the sword than by the length of the pocketbook. With Caleb's daughter as a prize to fight for General Othniel rode into the battle. The gates of Debir were thundered into the dust, and the city of books lay at the feet of the conquerors. The work done, Othniel comes back to claim his bride. Having conquered the city it is no great job for him to conquer the girl's heart, for, however she is treated, a woman herself may be, she always loves courage in a man.

The wedding festivity having gone by, Othniel and Achsah are about to go to their marital home. Suddenly the cymbals may clash and the laughter ring, parents are always sad when a fondly cherished daughter goes off to stay, and Achsah, the daughter of Caleb, knows that when the time to ask almost anything she wants of her father. It seems that Caleb, the good old man, had given as a wedding present to his daughter a piece of land that was mountainous and fertile, lying southward toward the deserts of Arabia, swept with some very hot winds. It was called "a south land," but Achsah wants an addition of property. She wants a piece of land that is well watered and fertile. Now, it is no wonder that Caleb, standing among the bridal party, his eyes so full of tears because she was going away that he could hardly see her at all, gives her more than she asks. He said to him: "Thou hast given me a south land. Give me also springs of water." And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs.

The fact is, that as Caleb, the father, gave Achsah, the daughter, a south land, so God gives us his world. I am very thankful he has given it to us. But I am like Achsah, in the fact, that I am not satisfied with the portion. Trees and flowers and grass and blue skies are very well in their places, but he who has nothing but this world for a portion has no portion at all. It is a mountainous land, sloping off toward the desert of sin. It is a "south land," a poor portion for any man that tries to put his trust in it. What has been your experience? Queen Elizabeth, amid the surroundings of pomp, is happy because the painter sketches so minutely the wrinkles on her face. Hogarth, at the very height of his artistic triumph, is stung almost to death with chagrin because the painter he had dedicated to the king does not seem to be acceptable, for George II. cries out: "Who is this Hogarth? Take this trumpery out of my presence!"

Water Scott, fumbling around the inkstand, trying to write, says to his daughter: "Oh, take me back to my room! There is no rest for Sir Walter but in the grave!" Stephen Girard, the wealthiest man in his day, or at any rate, only second in wealth, says: "I live the life of a galley slave. When I arise in the morning my one effort is to work so hard that I can sleep when I go to bed at night." Pick me out ten successful worldlings—and you know what I mean by thoroughly successful worldlings—pick me out ten successful worldlings, and you cannot find more than one that looks happy. A man of small means may be put in great business straits, but the greatest of all embarrassments is that of the man who has large estates. The men who commit suicide because of monetary losses are those who cannot bear the burden any more, because they have only $50,000 left.

Oh, my friends, this is a "south land," and it is a "south land," and the prayer which Achsah made to her father Caleb we make this day to our Father God:

Every woman wears a crown who is the mother of a healthy child. The crown is a puny, sickly, peevish baby bears a cross. It rests with every woman to decide whether she will be a mother of a healthy child or a mother of a sickly child.

The woman who takes the right care of herself during the months preceding maternity may rest assured that her baby will be a strong, healthy, happy one. The woman who neglects herself during the months preceding maternity may rest assured that her baby will be a puny, sickly, peevish one. The woman who neglects herself during the months preceding maternity may rest assured that her baby will be a puny, sickly, peevish one.

The dealer who tries to persuade you to take some other medicine, than that you ask for, is a quack. The best doctors in Kansas City told me that unless I went to the hospital and had an operation performed I could not live. I wrote Miss Brookie Galloway, of Wilder, Johnson Co., Kan., I had alliteration and weakness, and each month I would get down in bed and suffer severely for twenty-four hours. Four bottles of your "Favorite Prescription" cured me.

For constipation—Dr. Pierce's Pellets.

"Thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs."

Where shall I find words enough threaded with light to set forth the pleasure of religion? David, unable to describe it in words, played it on a harp. Mrs. Hemans, not finding enough power in prose, sings that praise in a canto. Christopher Wren, unable to describe it in language, sprung it into the arches of St. Paul's. John Bunyan, unable to present it in ordinary phraseology, takes all the fascination of allegory. Handel, with ordinary music, unable to reach the eighth of the theme, rouses it up in an oratorio. Oh, there is no life on earth so happy as a really Christian life! Where there is a thorn, there is a whole garland of roses. Where there is one groan there are three doxologies. Where there is one day of cloud there is a whole season of sunshine.

I bless Christ for the present satisfaction of religion. It makes a man all right with reference to the past. It makes a man all right with reference to the future. I wish I could make you understand the joy religion is to some of us. It makes a man happy while he lives and glad when he dies. Oh, you who have been trying to satisfy yourselves with the "south land" of this world, do you not feel that you would this morning like to have access to the "nether springs of spiritual comfort"? Would you not like to have Jesus Christ bend over your cradle and bless your table and heal your wounds and strew flowers of consolation all up and down the graves of your dead?

"The religion that can give Sweetest pleasures while we live, 'Tis religion can supply Sweetest comfort when we die."

But I have something better to tell you, suggested by this text. It seems that old Father Caleb on the wedding day of his daughter wanted to make her just as happy as possible. Though he was taking her away, and his heart was almost broken because she was going, yet he gives her a "south land." Not only that, but the upper springs. O God, my Father, I thank thee that thou hast given me a "south land" in this world, and the nether springs of spiritual comfort in this world, but more than all I thank thee for the upper springs in heaven!

It is very fortunate that we cannot see heaven until we get into it. O Christ, my Father, I could see what place it is, we would never get you back again to the office or shop, and the duties you ought to perform would go neglected. I am glad I shall not regret that I will enter it. But as people who cannot afford to pay for an entertainment sometimes come around it and look through the door ajar or through the openings in the fence, so we come and look through the cracks into that good and which God has provided for us. We can just catch a glimpse of it. We came near enough to hear the rumbling of the eternal orchestra, though not near enough to know who blows the cornet or who rings the bells or who plays the glads! Upper springs of light! Upper springs of love! It is no fancy of mine. "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water."

God, my Father, roll in upon our souls one of those anticipated raptures! Pour around the root of the parched tongue one drop of that liquid life! Toss before our vision those fountains of God's rainbow with eternal victory! Hear it! They are never sick there. They are never tired there. They never sin there. It is as easy for them to be holy as it is for us to sin. They never die there.

I could stimulate you O Christian man, to the highest possible Christianity. The day of your deliverance is coming, is coming rolling on with the shining wheels of the day, and the jet wheels of the night. Every stroke of the heart is only a hammer stroke striking off another chain of clay. Better scorch the deck and coil the rope, for harbor is only six miles away. Jesus will come down in the Narrows to meet you. "Now is your salvation nearer than when you believed."

Man of the world, will you not today make a choice between these two portions, between the "south land" of this world, which slopes to the desert, and this glorious land which thy Father offers thee, running with eternal water course? Why let your tongue be consumed with thirst when there are the nether springs and the upper springs, comfort here and glory hereafter? You and I need something better than this world can give us. The fact is that it cannot give us anything after awhile. It is a changing world. The Alleghenies are dying. The dews with crystalline malice are hammering away the rocks. Frosts and showers and lightnings are sculpturing Mount Washington and the Catskills. Niagara every year is digging for itself a quicker plunge. The body was taken home, and the shores are making mighty changes in bar and bay and frith and promontory. The earth itself, that was once vapor, after water—nothing but water—afterwards molten rock, cooling off through the ages, has now become a solid globe. Animals might live, and men might live, changing all the while, now crumbling, now breaking off. The sun, burning down gradually in its socket. Changing, changing, changing, until the last great change to come over the world even infused into the mind of the heathen who has never seen the Bible.

The Hindus believe that Brahma, the creator, once made all things. Then Brahma laid down to sleep 4,320,000 years. After that, they say, he will wake up, and then the world will be destroyed, and he will make it over again. But while Brahma may sleep, our God never slumbers nor sleeps, and the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and all things that are therein shall be burned up.

"Well," says some one, "if that is so, if the world is going from one change to another, then what is the use of my toiling for its betterment?" That is the point on which I want to guard you. Do not want you to become misanthropic. It is a great and glorious world. If Christ could afford to spend 33 years on it for its redemption, then you can afford to toil and pray for the betterment of the nations, and for the bringing of that glorious time when all people shall see the salvation of God. While therefore I want to guard you against misanthropic notions in respect to this subject I have presented to you this thought, that this world is a poor foundation to build on. It is a changing world, and it is a dying world. The shifting scenes and the changing sands are only emblems of all earthly expectations. Life is very much like this day through which we have passed. To many of us it is storm and darkness, then sunshine, storm and darkness, then afterwards a little sunshine, now and again darkness and storm. Oh, build not your hopes upon this certain world! Build on God. Confide in Jesus. Plan for an eternal residence at Christ's right hand. Then, come sickness or health, come joy or sorrow, come life or death, all is well, all is well.

In the name of the God of Caleb and his daughter Achsah, I this day offer you the "upper springs" of unfading and everlasting rapture.

WESTERN ONTARIO

Well-Known Downie Farmer Found Dead on the Roadside.

Prominent Chatham Man Dies at Hot Springs—A Shooting Accident at Woodstock—G. T. R. Sectionman Has Both Arms Broken—Kent To Bacon Growers Organize—Henry Wagner Dies of His Injuries.

The telephone fight is still being waged in Windsor.

Every foundry in Galt is working overtime. Some have night shifts.

The Windsor football club will play in Chatham on Thanksgiving Day.

Cornelius Duke, the well-known Norwich hotel-keeper, died on Saturday morning.

The Belle River board of trade is discussing the advisability of boring for gas in the village.

Miss Mary Chevalier, daughter of ex-Customs Officer Chevalier, was buried in Chatham yesterday.

St. Andrew's Church, Stratford, was started 60 years ago, and the congregation on Monday night celebrated the diamond jubilee.

The death is announced of Capt. John H. Molloy, who sailed the lakes for many years. He was the son of the late George Molloy, of Southwold, and was about 60 years of age.

William White and James Brady, the couple who broke in Rehder's store at the Paris station, have been sentenced to three and four years respectively at Kingston penitentiary.

Early on Monday morning fire broke out in the stables of the International Hotel, Courtwright. The large stables, driving shed, outhouses and small dwellings were consumed.

The Engineering Contract Company, of New York, has been given the contract for the E. and H. division of the Lake Erie Railway at Chatham. The work will cost about $10,000.

Joseph Savoy's fish shanty, which has occupied a position in Sarnia Bay on the channel bank, just south of the Point Edward coal docks, for many years past, was burned on Monday evening.

The new Methodist Church at Merlin has been dedicated by Rev. E. N. Baker, chairman of the district. Over $50 was taken in collection at the services, entirely wiping off the debt. The edifice cost $4,500.

The funeral of James Naylor, age 64, of Essex, was held on Monday afternoon. Mr. Naylor died on Saturday night of heart disease. He was a justice of the peace and ex-mayor of Essex. He was one of the best-known business men of Sandwich South.

The Kent Tobacco Growers' Association has been fully organized, and negotiations are in progress for the establishment of a factory in Chatham, to use the product of the Kent county growers. This move is the result of alleged combine among Canadian buyers to keep down the price of the raw leaf.

Word was received from Chicago on Tuesday morning of a serious accident that had befallen Walter R. Clements, son of the late J. W. Clements, of Chatham. Mr. Clements' face was badly crushed by a falling elevator. He is now in hospital, where an early recovery is looked for.

As the result of injuries which he received while working in Clare Bros' foundry, in London, on Oct. 17, Henry Wagner, died in Galt hospital on Monday morning. He was carrying a ladle of molten metal, when he in some manner stumbled and a quantity of the contents was spilled over him.

Thomas Moore, who was supposed to have been robbed near St. Marys on Friday night, is now shown out, met with an accident, having been thrown out of his rig. He underwent an operation on Sunday, when the fractured portion of his skull was removed, and he is now resting easier, though still in serious condition.

The municipal council of the town of Galt and the Galt Gas Company have agreed upon the sum of $67,750 for the gas and electric light plants. This the company will accept. A money bill will be submitted to the people, who will say yes or no to the question: "Shall Galt own and control the gas and electric light plants?"

John Thompson, a well-known farmer residing on lot 17, con. 8, Downie, a short distance below Avonport, was found dead on the road near St. Paul's Monday afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

The body was taken home, and the shores are making mighty changes in bar and bay and frith and promontory. The earth itself, that was once vapor, after water—nothing but water—afterwards molten rock, cooling off through the ages, has now become a solid globe. Animals might live, and men might live, changing all the while, now crumbling, now breaking off. The sun, burning down gradually in its socket. Changing, changing, changing, until the last great change to come over the world even infused into the mind of the heathen who has never seen the Bible.

The Hindus believe that Brahma, the creator, once made all things. Then Brahma laid down to sleep 4,320,000 years. After that, they say, he will wake up, and then the world will be destroyed, and he will make it over again. But while Brahma may sleep, our God never slumbers nor sleeps, and the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and all things that are therein shall be burned up.

"Well," says some one, "if that is so, if the world is going from one change to another, then what is the use of my toiling for its betterment?" That is the point on which I want to guard you. Do not want you to become misanthropic. It is a great and glorious world. If Christ could afford to spend 33 years on it for its redemption, then you can afford to toil and pray for the betterment of the nations, and for the bringing of that glorious time when all people shall see the salvation of God. While therefore I want to guard you against misanthropic notions in respect to this subject I have presented to you this thought, that this world is a poor foundation to build on. It is a changing world, and it is a dying world. The shifting scenes and the changing sands are only emblems of all earthly expectations. Life is very much like this day through which we have passed. To many of us it is storm and darkness, then sunshine, storm and darkness, then afterwards a little sunshine, now and again darkness and storm. Oh, build not your hopes upon this certain world! Build on God. Confide in Jesus. Plan for an eternal residence at Christ's right hand. Then, come sickness or health, come joy or sorrow, come life or death, all is well, all is well.

In the name of the God of Caleb and his daughter Achsah, I this day offer you the "upper springs" of unfading and everlasting rapture.

"Thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs."

Where shall I find words enough threaded with light to set forth the pleasure of religion? David, unable to describe it in words, played it on a harp. Mrs. Hemans, not finding enough power in prose, sings that praise in a canto. Christopher Wren, unable to describe it in language, sprung it into the arches of St. Paul's. John Bunyan, unable to present it in ordinary phraseology, takes all the fascination of allegory. Handel, with ordinary music, unable to reach the eighth of the theme, rouses it up in an oratorio. Oh, there is no life on earth so happy as a really Christian life! Where there is a thorn, there is a whole garland of roses. Where there is one groan there are three doxologies. Where there is one day of cloud there is a whole season of sunshine.

I bless Christ for the present satisfaction of religion. It makes a man all right with reference to the past. It makes a man all right with reference to the future. I wish I could make you understand the joy religion is to some of us. It makes a man happy while he lives and glad when he dies. Oh, you who have been trying to satisfy yourselves with the "south land" of this world, do you not feel that you would this morning like to have access to the "nether springs of spiritual comfort"? Would you not like to have Jesus Christ bend over your cradle and bless your table and heal your wounds and strew flowers of consolation all up and down the graves of your dead?

"The religion that can give Sweetest pleasures while we live, 'Tis religion can supply Sweetest comfort when we die."

But I have something better to tell you, suggested by this text. It seems that old Father Caleb on the wedding day of his daughter wanted to make her just as happy as possible. Though he was taking her away, and his heart was almost broken because she was going, yet he gives her a "south land." Not only that, but the upper springs. O God, my Father, I thank thee that thou hast given me a "south land" in this world, and the nether springs of spiritual comfort in this world, but more than all I thank thee for the upper springs in heaven!

It is very fortunate that we cannot see heaven until we get into it. O Christ, my Father, I could see what place it is, we would never get you back again to the office or shop, and the duties you ought to perform would go neglected. I am glad I shall not regret that I will enter it. But as people who cannot afford to pay for an entertainment sometimes come around it and look through the door ajar or through the openings in the fence, so we come and look through the cracks into that good and which God has provided for us. We can just catch a glimpse of it. We came near enough to hear the rumbling of the eternal orchestra, though not near enough to know who blows the cornet or who rings the bells or who plays the glads! Upper springs of light! Upper springs of love! It is no fancy of mine. "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water."

God, my Father, roll in upon our souls one of those anticipated raptures! Pour around the root of the parched tongue one drop of that liquid life! Toss before our vision those fountains of God's rainbow with eternal victory! Hear it! They are never sick there. They are never tired there. They never sin there. It is as easy for them to be holy as it is for us to sin. They never die there.

I could stimulate you O Christian man, to the highest possible Christianity. The day of your deliverance is coming, is coming rolling on with the shining wheels of the day, and the jet wheels of the night. Every stroke of the heart is only a hammer stroke striking off another chain of clay. Better scorch the deck and coil the rope, for harbor is only six miles away. Jesus will come down in the Narrows to meet you. "Now is your salvation nearer than when you believed."

Man of the world, will you not today make a choice between these two portions, between the "south land" of this world, which slopes to the desert, and this glorious land which thy Father offers thee, running with eternal water course? Why let your tongue be consumed with thirst when there are the nether springs and the upper springs, comfort here and glory hereafter? You and I need something better than this world can give us. The fact is that it cannot give us anything after awhile. It is a changing world. The Alleghenies are dying. The dews with crystalline malice are hammering away the rocks. Frosts and showers and lightnings are sculpturing Mount Washington and the Catskills. Niagara every year is digging for itself a quicker plunge. The body was taken home, and the shores are making mighty changes in bar and bay and frith and promontory. The earth itself, that was once vapor, after water—nothing but water—afterwards molten rock, cooling off through the ages, has now become a solid globe. Animals might live, and men might live, changing all the while, now crumbling, now breaking off. The sun, burning down gradually in its socket. Changing, changing, changing, until the last great change to come over the world even infused into the mind of the heathen who has never seen the Bible.

The Hindus believe that Brahma, the creator, once made all things. Then Brahma laid down to sleep 4,320,000 years. After that, they say, he will wake up, and then the world will be destroyed, and he will make it over again. But while Brahma may sleep, our God never slumbers nor sleeps, and the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and all things that are therein shall be burned up.

"Well," says some one, "if that is so, if the world is going from one change to another, then what is the use of my toiling for its betterment?" That is the point on which I want to guard you. Do not want you to become misanthropic. It is a great and glorious world. If Christ could afford to spend 33 years on it for its redemption, then you can afford to toil and pray for the betterment of the nations, and for the bringing of that glorious time when all people shall see the salvation of God. While therefore I want to guard you against misanthropic notions in respect to this subject I have presented to you this thought, that this world is a poor foundation to build on. It is a changing world, and it is a dying world. The shifting scenes and the changing sands are only emblems of all earthly expectations. Life is very much like this day through which we have passed. To many of us it is storm and darkness, then sunshine, storm and darkness, then afterwards a little sunshine, now and again darkness and storm. Oh, build not your hopes upon this certain world! Build on God. Confide in Jesus. Plan for an eternal residence at Christ's right hand. Then, come sickness or health, come joy or sorrow, come life or death, all is well, all is well.

In the name of the God of Caleb and his daughter Achsah, I this day offer you the "upper springs" of unfading and everlasting rapture.

"Thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs."

Where shall I find words enough threaded with light to set forth the pleasure of religion? David, unable to describe it in words, played it on a harp. Mrs. Hemans, not finding enough power in prose, sings that praise in a canto. Christopher Wren, unable to describe it in language, sprung it into the arches of St. Paul's. John Bunyan, unable to present it in ordinary phraseology, takes all the fascination of allegory. Handel, with ordinary music, unable to reach the eighth of the theme, rouses it up in an oratorio. Oh, there is no life on earth so happy as a really Christian life! Where there is a thorn, there is a whole garland of roses. Where there is one groan there are three doxologies. Where there is one day of cloud there is a whole season of sunshine.

I bless Christ for the present satisfaction of religion. It makes a man all right with reference to the past. It makes a man all right with reference to the future. I wish I could make you understand the joy religion is to some of us. It makes a man happy while he lives and glad when he dies. Oh, you who have been trying to satisfy yourselves with the "south land" of this world, do you not feel that you would this morning like to have access to the "nether springs of spiritual comfort"? Would you not like to have Jesus Christ bend over your cradle and bless your table and heal your wounds and strew flowers of consolation all up and down the graves of your dead?

"The religion that can give Sweetest pleasures while we live, 'Tis religion can supply Sweetest comfort when we die."

But I have something better to tell you, suggested by this text. It seems that old Father Caleb on the wedding day of his daughter wanted to make her just as happy as possible. Though he was taking her away, and his heart was almost broken because she was going, yet he gives her a "south land." Not only that, but the upper springs. O God, my Father, I thank thee that thou hast given me a "south land" in this world, and the nether springs of spiritual comfort in this world, but more than all I thank thee for the upper springs in heaven!

It is very fortunate that we cannot see heaven until we get into it. O Christ, my Father, I could see what place it is, we would never get you back again to the office or shop, and the duties you ought to perform would go neglected. I am glad I shall not regret that I will enter it. But as people who cannot afford to pay for an entertainment sometimes come around it and look through the door ajar or through the openings in the fence, so we come and look through the cracks into that good and which God has provided for us. We can just catch a glimpse of it. We came near enough to hear the rumbling of the eternal orchestra, though not near enough to know who blows the cornet or who rings the bells or who plays the glads! Upper springs of light! Upper springs of love! It is no fancy of mine. "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water."

God, my Father, roll in upon our souls one of those anticipated raptures! Pour around the root of the parched tongue one drop of that liquid life! Toss before our vision those fountains of God's rainbow with eternal victory! Hear it! They are never sick there. They are never tired there. They never sin there. It is as easy for them to be holy as it is for us to sin. They never die there.

I could stimulate you O Christian man, to the highest possible Christianity. The day of your deliverance is coming, is coming rolling on with the shining wheels of the day, and the jet wheels of the night. Every stroke of the heart is only a hammer stroke striking off another chain of clay. Better scorch the deck and coil the rope, for harbor is only six miles away. Jesus will come down in the Narrows to meet you. "Now is your salvation nearer than when you believed."

Man of the world, will you not today make a choice between these two portions, between the "south land" of this world, which slopes to the desert, and this glorious land which thy Father offers thee, running with eternal water course? Why let your tongue be consumed with thirst when there are the nether springs and the upper springs, comfort here and glory hereafter? You and I need something better than this world can give us. The fact is that it cannot give us anything after awhile. It is a changing world. The Alleghenies are dying. The dews with crystalline malice are hammering away the rocks. Frosts and showers and lightnings are sculpturing Mount Washington and the Catskills. Niagara every year is digging for itself a quicker plunge. The body was taken home, and the shores are making mighty changes in bar and bay and frith and promontory. The earth itself, that was once vapor, after water—nothing but water—afterwards molten rock, cooling off through the ages, has now become a solid globe. Animals might live, and men might live, changing all the while, now crumbling, now breaking off. The sun, burning down gradually in its socket. Changing, changing, changing, until the last great change to come over the world even infused into the mind of the heathen who has never seen the Bible.

The Hindus believe that Brahma, the creator, once made all things. Then Brahma laid down to sleep 4,320,000 years. After that, they say, he will wake up, and then the world will be destroyed, and he will make it over again. But while Brahma may sleep, our God never slumbers nor sleeps, and the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and all things that are therein shall be burned up.

"Well," says some one, "if that is so, if the world is going from one change to another, then what is the use of my toiling for its betterment?" That is the point on which I want to guard you. Do not want you to become misanthropic. It is a great and glorious world. If Christ could afford to spend 33 years on it for its redemption, then you can afford to toil and pray for the betterment of the nations, and for the bringing of that glorious time when all people shall see the salvation of God. While therefore I want to guard you against misanthropic notions in respect to this subject I have presented to you this thought, that this world is a poor foundation to build on. It is a changing world, and it is a dying world. The shifting scenes and the changing sands are only emblems of all earthly expectations. Life is very much like this day through which we have passed. To many of us it is storm and darkness, then sunshine, storm and darkness, then afterwards a little sunshine, now and again darkness and storm. Oh, build not your hopes upon this certain world! Build on God. Confide in Jesus. Plan for an eternal residence at Christ's right hand. Then, come sickness or health, come joy or sorrow, come life or death, all is well, all is well.

In the name of the God of Caleb and his daughter Achsah, I this day offer you the "upper springs" of unfading and everlasting rapture.

"Thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs and the nether springs."

Where shall I find words enough threaded with light to set forth the pleasure of religion? David, unable to describe it in words, played it on a harp. Mrs. Hemans, not finding enough power in prose, sings that praise in a canto. Christopher Wren, unable to describe it in language, sprung it into the arches of St. Paul's. John Bunyan, unable to present it in ordinary phraseology, takes all the fascination of allegory. Handel, with ordinary music, unable to reach the eighth of the theme, rouses it up in an oratorio. Oh, there is no life on earth so happy as a really Christian life! Where there is a thorn, there is a whole garland of roses. Where there is one groan there are three doxologies. Where there is one day of cloud there is a whole season of sunshine.

I bless Christ for the present satisfaction of religion. It makes a man all right with reference to the past. It makes a man all right with reference to the future. I wish I could make you understand the joy religion is to some of us. It makes a man happy while he lives and glad when he dies. Oh, you who have been trying to satisfy yourselves with the "south land" of this world, do you not feel that you would this morning like to have access to the "nether springs of spiritual comfort"? Would you not like to have Jesus Christ bend over your cradle and bless your table and heal your wounds and strew flowers of consolation all up and down the graves of your dead?

"The religion that can give Sweetest pleasures while we live, 'Tis religion can supply Sweetest comfort when we die."

But I have something better to tell you, suggested by this text. It seems that old Father Caleb on the wedding day of his daughter wanted to make her just as happy as possible. Though he was taking her away, and his heart was almost broken because she was going, yet he gives her a "south land." Not only that, but the upper springs. O God, my Father, I thank thee that thou hast given me a "south land" in this world, and the nether springs of spiritual comfort in this world, but more than all I thank thee for the upper springs in heaven!

It is very fortunate that we cannot see heaven until we get into it. O Christ, my Father, I could see what place it is, we would never get you back again to the office or shop, and the duties you ought to perform would go neglected. I am glad I shall not regret that I will enter it. But as people who cannot afford to pay for an entertainment sometimes come around it and look through the door ajar or through the openings in the fence, so we come and look through the cracks into that good and which God has provided for us. We can just catch a glimpse of it. We came near enough to hear the rumbling of the eternal orchestra, though not near enough to know who blows the cornet or who rings the bells or who plays the glads! Upper springs of light! Upper springs of love! It is no fancy of mine. "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water."

God, my Father, roll in upon our souls one of those anticipated raptures! Pour around the root of the parched tongue one drop of that liquid life! Toss before our vision those fountains of God's rainbow with eternal victory! Hear it! They are never sick there. They are never tired there. They never sin there. It is as easy for them to be holy as it is for us to sin. They never die there.

I could stimulate you O Christian man, to the highest possible Christianity. The day of your deliverance is coming, is coming rolling on with the shining wheels of the day, and the jet wheels of the night. Every stroke of the heart is only a hammer stroke striking off another chain of clay. Better scorch the deck and coil the rope, for harbor is only six miles away. Jesus will come down in the Narrows to meet you. "Now is your salvation nearer than when you believed."

Man of the world, will you not today make a choice between these two portions, between the "south land" of this world, which slopes to the desert, and this glorious land which thy Father offers thee, running with eternal water course? Why let your tongue be consumed with thirst when there are the nether springs and the upper springs, comfort here and glory hereafter? You and I need something better than this world can give us. The fact is that it cannot give us anything after awhile. It is a changing world. The Alleghenies are dying. The dews with crystalline malice are hammering away the rocks. Frosts and showers and lightnings are sculpturing Mount Washington and the Catskills. Niagara every year is digging for itself a quicker plunge. The body was taken home, and the shores are making mighty changes in bar and bay and frith and promontory. The earth itself, that was once vapor, after water—nothing but water—afterwards molten rock, cooling off through the ages, has now become a solid globe. Animals might live, and men might live, changing all the while, now crumbling, now breaking off. The sun, burning down gradually in its socket. Changing, changing, changing, until the last great change to come over the world even infused into the mind of the heathen who has never seen the Bible.

The Hindus believe that Brahma, the creator, once made all things. Then Brahma laid down to sleep 4,320,000 years. After that, they say, he will wake up, and then the world will be destroyed, and he will make it over again. But while Brahma may sleep, our God never slumbers nor sleeps, and the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and all things that are therein shall be burned up.

"Well," says some one, "if that is so, if the world is going from one change to another, then what is the use of my toiling for its betterment?" That is the point on which I want to guard you. Do not want you to become misanthropic. It is a great and glorious world. If Christ could afford to spend 33 years on it for its redemption, then you can afford to toil and pray for the betterment of the nations, and for the bringing of that glorious time when all people shall see the salvation of God. While therefore I want to guard you against misanthropic notions in respect to this subject I have presented to you this thought, that this world is a poor foundation to build on. It is a changing world, and it is a dying world. The shifting scenes and the changing sands are only emblems of all earthly

London Vs. Simcoe

London's Team That Will Play Football Tomorrow.

The Sharkey-Corbett Fight Was a Fizzle.

Sharkey Gets the Decision on "a Fluke," but He Beated His Opponent.

Hamilton Jockey Club Board and Officers Re-Elected—Horsemen's Organization Formed—Turf, Football and Other Sporting News.

FOOTBALL.

TOMORROW'S GAME.

The following is the team chosen to play in Simcoe tomorrow: Spry, Labatt, Gilmour, Little, Hobbs (captain), Bece, Noworthy, Catton, Hodge, Ashplant, White, Somerville, Fraser, Field, Ried and Wilcox.

CHALLENGE FROM OTTAWA COLLEGE.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—Ottawa College has sent the following telegram to President Bayly, of the Canadian Rugby Football Union, and to Secretary, Treasurer Fitzgibbon: "Ottawa College will meet Ottawa City in Ottawa on Thanksgiving Day on neutral grounds. We suggest Lansdowne Park. We will accept for officials, Fitzgibbon, Ballantine and Counsel, of Toronto; Harland, McDougall, E. Fry and Schwartz, of Montreal. We will not accept Collins, or Bayly, or Toronto, or Crathern or Donahue, of Montreal. A reply is being awaited by the college executive before a final decision is reached."

BASEBALL.

BUFFALO'S POSITION.

The Milwaukee Daily News says that Buffalo will take the place of St. Joseph, Mo., in the Western League. Mr. R. Killea, president of the Milwaukee baseball team, is at the meeting in St. Joseph. Mr. Killea says that Buffalo has come to terms as to the franchise, etc., and at the meeting to be held in this city tomorrow of the Western League magnates, the formal transfer will be made.

THE INDOOR VARIETY.

At Westminster Rink, on Thanksgiving day and night, London and Woodstock will play two games of indoor baseball. The London team has been strengthened by three good players since they met Woodstock last week. They are sure of making an interesting time for the visitors.

SOUTHERN ONTARIO ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Southern Ontario Hockey Association will be held on Friday, Dec. 2, place of meeting to be decided on at an early date. The association this year will be made up of the following teams: Simcoe, Ingersoll, Niagara Falls, Niagara-on-the-Lake, St. Catharines, Beamsville and two possibly to be added from the west. Teams that were members of last year have withdrawn, and formed a central association.

TURF.

A HORSEMAN'S ORGANIZATION.

New York Sun: The men who exhibit at horse shows in all parts of the country have at last done what they have threatened to do long ago and organized for their mutual protection—and it remains to be seen now whether or not they will succeed in having carried out any of the reforms they have urged the management of the various horse shows to make. The new association is to be known as the American Horse Show and Exhibitors' Association, and at the meeting in the Gilsey House, last week, when it was formally organized, its objects were outlined for distribution among exhibitors who have not yet joined. The association ask for the united cooperation of horse show exhibitors in the outlining of standard horse show rules and regulations; the settlement of vital questions affecting horse shows by a board elected from members of this association; to co-operate with the management of horse shows in the matter of the selection of judges; to decide the question of horse show circuit, and in other respects, generally, to assist the management of horse shows, with a view, if possible, of raising the American horse show to a still greater standard of efficiency than that which at present exists. Exhibitors and horse show officials have joined in the organization of the association, so that it is meeting in the will be a harmonious arrangement on all questions that come up for discussion. The officers and directors elected are as follows: E. C. Thayer, president; W. H. Catlin, first vice-president; Joseph E. Widener, second vice-president; George B. Hulme, treasurer; Harry E. Field, secretary. Directors—(Officers ex-officio) Prescott Lawrence, E. D. Jordan, G. Jason Waters, Frederick R. Bronson, H. H. Salmon, Charles F. Bates, Howard Willets, A. C. Postwick, Harry E. Field, E. T. H. Talmage, S. W. Taylor, F. C. Stevens, H. K. Bloodgood, W. Seward Webb, H. McK. Tomblay, John R. Gentry, John S. Bratton, John Russell Gladding, M. H. Tichnor, E. H. Weatherbee, D. R. Ladew, Arthur Batony, H. L. Herbert, J. B. Perkins, H. J. Crocker, Henry Fairfax, Chas.

"A cold on the chest."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

"A cure in a night."

E. Stillwell, F. S. Kimball, Charles Raitley and Adam Beck.

HAMILTON JOCKEY CLUB OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Hamilton Jockey Club, the election of officers resulted in the following being again chosen: Messrs. Samuel Barker, P. D. Crerar, J. M. Lottridge, J. M. Harris, Wm. Hendrie, Junr., Dr. A. B. Osborn and F. C. Bruce. The directors subsequently met and re-elected Mr. Samuel Barker as president, Mr. Wm. Hendrie, Junr., first vice-president, Mr. F. C. Bruce, second vice-president, and Mr. T. B. Martin, secretary.

AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—Track slopy yesterday. First race, amateurs, 2-year-olds, 11-16 mile—Lightning Express won, Juanita 2, Prince of Orange 3. Time, 1:13. Second race, 1 1/2 miles—Great Bend won, Estabrooks 2, Ernsple 3. Time, 2:03. Third race, 3 furlongs—Mayne M. won, Estabrooks 2, Tynsple 3. Time, 1:21. Fourth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Horseshoe Tobacco won, Hampden 2, Bon Jour 3. Time, 1:21. Fifth race, maidens, 1 mile—Preliminary won, Bethlehem Star 2, Rediet 3. Time, 1:50.

AT INGLESDALE.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Track slow at Inglestide yesterday. First race, selling, 11-16 mile—Rio Chico won, Sam McKeever 2, Ocorono 3. Time, 1:15. Second race, selling, 7 furlongs, 3-year-olds, Imperius 2, Inverly 3. Time, 1:30. Third race, 6 furlongs, selling—Mainstay won, Mistral 2, Ostler Joe 3. Time, 1:43. Fourth race, 5 furlongs, maidens, purse, 1 mile—Jerry Hunt won, Felicite 2, Feversham 3. Time, 1:57. Sixth race, 7 furlongs—Judge Stouffer won, Leon Star 2, Lady Britannic 3. Time, 1:51.

AT BENNING.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Summaries at Benning yesterday: First race, 6 furlongs—Kelpner won, 2, Kinkinnie 3. Second race, 5 furlongs—Lady Dora won, Sparrow Wing 2, Savilla 3. Time, 1:34. Third race, hurdle, 2 miles, over 8 hurdles—Floraline won, Marshall 2, Eder 3. Time, 3:58. Fourth race, 8 furlongs—Vignette won, Col. Tenny 2, Fast Black 3. Time, 1:17. Fifth race, 1 mile—Thomas Cat won, Lotterer 2, Walkenshaw 3. Time, 1:44 4-5.

WHEEL.

The authorities in a number of places in Scotland have at present under consideration questions as to the licensing, regulation and taxation of cycles. The latest body to take up the matter is the corporation of Glasgow. Jimmy Michael is now in Europe, but he will return before the New Year and will probably do some riding on the winter tracks, although it is now believed that he really intends to become a jockey, and will take a mount next spring.

Montreal expects to hold an international bicycle meet right after the winter meet, wherever that may be held, and the Canadian promoters hope Boston will be the place, as that would mean a big list of American riders at their races.

Cycle skates are popular in Brooklyn, and big rinks are being built for the use of the cyclists and others who have taken to the rubber-tired, ball-bearing, unwieldy—appearing two-wheeled skates that can also be used on good pavements.

The ambition of the enthusiastic wheelmen of Pennsylvania has been at last accomplished. This week the membership of that division is greater than that of New York, which now stands in second place. The total membership of the League of American Wheelmen today is 78,077. Pennsylvania has 17,762, and New York, 17,686. Massachusetts is third.

Spoken of by the bicycle, Dr. Sarah H. Stevenson says: "No class of people is in greater need of the benefits of the bicycle than is the laboring class. Besides the harmonious muscular development it brings something equally precious, diversion, pleasure. Instead, then, of converting all the bicycle riders into laborers—desirable as that surely would be—I should convert all laborers into bicycle riders, both for their own good and for the good of their work."

A good plan to preserve a wheel if one does not intend to ride during the winter months is to suspend it from the ceiling, where it will be out of the way, and the tires will keep in shape. The weight. A dry atmosphere is essential, and a sheet should be thrown over the machine to keep the dust away. Enough air should be left in the tires to keep them in shape. The bearings should be well oiled, and the plating given a thick coat of vaseline to protect it from rust.

NOTES OF SPORTS.

Von der Ahe and Muckenbach have fallen out, and Chris says the team and the whole shooting match are his. J. C. Comstock, the "Michigan giant," will wrestle W. H. Quinn, for the Canadian championship, and $1,000 a side, at Montreal soon.

W. J. White, of Cleveland, who bought Star Pointer for $15,000, got him for $900 less than James A. Murphy paid for him a year ago.

Both the Toronto and Argonaut rowing clubs will have hockey teams this year.

Mr. Sheldon, of Chatham, a well-known horse owner and wealthy citizen, died at Hot Springs, Ark., Monday.

George Dixon got $3,000 for whipping Dave Sullivan. The loser's end was a trifle over $1,000. The receipts of the show were over $8,000.

The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States has denied admission to the League of American Wheelmen. Mr. Henry Brophy was chosen to represent the Canadian association on the A. A. U. board.

The next matches of importance in England are between Plimmer and Palmer at 116 pounds and Dick Burke and Bobby Dobbs at 144 pounds. Dobbs is a colored man from New York who never did anything in America to put him in Burke's class.

PEEPING TOM.

Kingston, Nov. 22.—The police have under arrest Thomas Arnell, the alleged "slippery Jake." "Peeping Tom," who has frightened so many ladies in the upper part of the city during the past month or six weeks. He was caught while trying to break into the house of Mrs. Finlay, aged 72 years. He fought hard for his liberty. Arnell has an unenviable reputation, and has already served time for offensive acts.

What we learn with our sweat and our blood is worth our ink.

A FIZZLE

Disappointing Termination of the Sharkey-Corbett Fight.

New York, Nov. 23.—The twenty-round glove fight for a purse of $20,000 between James J. Corbett, of California, the ex-champion heavy-weight boxer of the world, and Tom Sharkey, of Dundalk, Ireland, who first was known as a fighter while serving the United States in the navy, drew an enormous crowd to the Lenox avenue club house last night.

$100 FOR A TICKET.

Tickets for seats in the immediate vicinity of the ring brought fabulous prices. The original cost was $20 each, but last night twice that sum could not purchase one of them. In some instances they brought $100 apiece. The other tickets, costing from $5 to $15, brought prices increased two or three-fold, and the club management did not put any of the $3 admission tickets on sale. In some cases $8 was paid for the privilege of standing up at the extreme ends of the building. The gambling instinct was in evidence as soon as the sports began to gather. Corbett's stock was always in preference, and the odds on the big Californian opened at 100 to 80. One well-known member of the Produce Exchange took the Sharkey end of one of the largest wagers of the night, which was $1,500 to $1,000 on Corbett. Corbett's backers forced the price of the Californian to $100 to $70 just as it was learned that the ex-champion had reached the club house and was in his dressing rooms.

A close estimate placed the attendance last night at 9,000, and it was learned that the receipts exceeded $45,000.

A SURPRISE.

The affair ended in a most disgraceful fizzle. Corbett had all the worst of the fight, and the referee, who was Connie McVey, jumped into the ring, appealing to the referee, thus violating the rules, and the referee, "Honorable" John Kelly, had no alternative but to disqualify Corbett and to award the bout to Sharkey.

Sharkey was very confident of success, and the manner in which he acquitted himself in the ring while the fight lasted, showed very plainly that his confidence was not unfounded. Corbett's quickness and aggressiveness were astonishing from the beginning, and from the first it was seen that he held Corbett safely. In the second round there were wild swings from both sides, and the first man, when he floored Corbett with a right swing on the head, which was preceded with a powerful blow on the body. It was 2 to 1 on Sharkey after the second round. In the ninth round, Corbett seemed to be stronger than at any time during the fight, but it was evident that he was slowly but surely fading under Sharkey's onslaughts, and had McVey not interfered he would undoubtedly have won handily.

THE PRELUDE.

In the first of the two preliminary bouts the principals were two local boxers—Jack Sullivan and Charley Schütz—and were announced to go to the ring at 7:30. The referee, who was himself for the seventh, when Sullivan was knocked out.

The second preliminary bout brought Kid Harris, of Chicago, and Mickey Kelly, of New York, to the ring. When Roden went to the corner in the ninth it was found that his jaw was broken, and the referee stopped the bout and awarded the fight to Harris.

THE FLASCO.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when the fight began, and round 1 Corbett failed to show any of the great cleverness with which he has been credited. The round ended with Sharkey at his man. In round 2 Sharkey sent Corbett down, and the referee ordered him to get up. In round 3 Corbett was evidently too much for the Californian. In the ninth and last, clinches were frequent, and the men refused to break together. Corbett struck Tom rather hard in the head, and the referee appealed to the referee Corbett shoved Tom from him, and said, "Oh, you go away." The men were in the center of the ring, mixing it up in the liveliest manner. O'Rourke, the referee, was in the center, and the referee stopped the bout and awarded the fight to Harris.

As daylight broke Mr. Sinn's efforts increased, and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected. At last the little car moved to the house, another and another, and soon the depot was reached. The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked on the suffering traveler, the body of the dead man was being prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn started at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commenced. Mr. Squire and Mr. Miner were half beside themselves with grief, and it was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Sinn kept them sufficiently calm to complete the 41 mile run. A hand-car is small for four men to carry it, but when an extra man, and a corpse, are added, the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the inky darkness of the night.

As daylight broke Mr. Sinn's efforts increased, and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected. At last the little car moved to the house, another and another, and soon the depot was reached. The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked on the suffering traveler, the body of the dead man was being prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn started at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commenced. Mr. Squire and Mr. Miner were half beside themselves with grief, and it was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Sinn kept them sufficiently calm to complete the 41 mile run. A hand-car is small for four men to carry it, but when an extra man, and a corpse, are added, the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the inky darkness of the night.

ANOTHER: HUNTING PATALITY.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23.—Gerard R. Van Buren, of the publishing firm of Lawrence and Van Buren, was instantly killed while hunting on Monday. A companion was climbing a fence with a shotgun over his shoulder, and the piece was discharged, Van Buren receiving the entire charge in the chest. He ran 30 feet and fell dead. Deceased was 27 years old and a son of the late United States Marshal Wm. Van Buren.

Persic Plant Food enriches the soil. Use it with plants being taken indoors. At your dealer's.

Patriotism begins at home, but does not end there. As to the length of life of fish, it is said that the ordinary carp, if not interfered with, would live about 600 years.

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Heads. They make pure blood and strong nerves, and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by all druggists.

Two British Gulana stamps, dated 1850 and worth originally two cents each, were sold in Berlin not long ago for $5,000.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

The actions of a 13-inch gun speak louder than words.

MAYPOLE SOAP

THE GREAT HOME-DYE

Is the Best. DYES ANY MATERIAL ANY COLOR. CLEANSES AND DYES AT ONE OPERATION. MAKES NO MESS OR DIRT. NEVER "STREAKS" OR "CROCKS"....

"It's the only perfect home-dye made, the only one that may be relied on to do first class work. Previous experience not necessary, follow the directions and success is assured."

Sold by all Druggist and Dealers everywhere.

10c. FOR COLORS, 15c. FOR BLACK. FREE BOOKLET BY ADDRESSING US.

ARTHUR P. TIPPET & CO., Managers. 8 PLACE ROYALE, MONTREAL

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Carried a Corpse Twenty-Five Miles Through the Bush.

A Montreal Man's Story—Another Hunting Fatality in Michigan.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—Mr. George M. Sinn, of the city ticket office, C. P. R., was shot and killed at a hunting station on Saturday, after a short business trip to the Temiscamingue district, during which he had a thrilling experience, never to be forgotten. It was a case of "ten times told is never believed" with the accidental killing of Mr. Edward Miner, a wealthy manufacturer of Kingsville, Ont., highly respected in Montreal and throughout Canada, and the champion pigeon shot of the Dominion. The story of the accident is a particularly sad one.

Early last week Mr. Miner, his brother, and Mr. Bennett Squire, of Windsor, Ont., set out on a hunting trip, and were soon buried in the woods, 30 miles from Temiscamingue. On Wednesday they commenced the sport. Mr. Squire fired at a fine moose, and the enraged animal charged the hunter, who attempted to fire a second time his repeating rifle. Something was wrong, however, and the moose did not get prepared for the second shot. Mr. Squire was wounded, and the enraged animal charged the hunter, who attempted to fire a second time his repeating rifle. Something was wrong, however, and the moose did not get prepared for the second shot.

Seeing the danger of his friend, Mr. Miner stepped forward, and was in the act of raising his rifle to fire at the beast, when Mr. Squire's gun went off, and he fell, his head striking Mr. Miner's head, and killing him instantly.

The brother and unhappy friend became crazed with grief. They were 30 miles from the nearest railway station, and there was absolutely no means whatever of conveying the corpse thither except by carrying it.

For 15 miles they carried the body through the terrible wilderness, and, finally, exhausted and half-famished for want of food, they reached the track at a small signal station, seven miles from the nearest railway station.

Literally incapable of making another move the two gentlemen sank to the ground, and with the body of friend and brother between them, the coming of assistance. The circumstances were soon explained to Mr. Sinn, and as quickly as possible he secured a hand-car and got the corpse and two men on board. When they got to Temiscamingue, it was found that no trains were running, so Mr. Sinn determined to take the party on the car all the way to Mattawa.

The funeral could be prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn started at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commenced. Mr. Squire and Mr. Miner were half beside themselves with grief, and it was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Sinn kept them sufficiently calm to complete the 41 mile run.

A hand-car is small for four men to carry it, but when an extra man, and a corpse, are added, the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the inky darkness of the night.

As daylight broke Mr. Sinn's efforts increased, and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected. At last the little car moved to the house, another and another, and soon the depot was reached.

The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked on the suffering traveler, the body of the dead man was being prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn started at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commenced. Mr. Squire and Mr. Miner were half beside themselves with grief, and it was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Sinn kept them sufficiently calm to complete the 41 mile run.

He was found at his office this morning, but not in any too good a condition for work. When I asked him about the matter he said: "I have not much to say. I did what I thought to be my duty."

ANOTHER: HUNTING PATALITY.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23.—Gerard R. Van Buren, of the publishing firm of Lawrence and Van Buren, was instantly killed while hunting on Monday. A companion was climbing a fence with a shotgun over his shoulder, and the piece was discharged, Van Buren receiving the entire charge in the chest. He ran 30 feet and fell dead. Deceased was 27 years old and a son of the late United States Marshal Wm. Van Buren.

Persic Plant Food enriches the soil. Use it with plants being taken indoors. At your dealer's.

Patriotism begins at home, but does not end there. As to the length of life of fish, it is said that the ordinary carp, if not interfered with, would live about 600 years.

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Heads. They make pure blood and strong nerves, and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by all druggists.

Two British Gulana stamps, dated 1850 and worth originally two cents each, were sold in Berlin not long ago for $5,000.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

The actions of a 13-inch gun speak louder than words.

MR. WARMAN'S POEM

A correspondent of The Advertiser writes:

Readers of Mr. Warman's poetry will agree with the remarks in a recent issue of The Advertiser that "Hercules" is his happiest effort. I think Mr. Warman has here struck a higher note than in any of his previous poems. His theme is not a new one, to be sure, but the tale "ten times told is never believed" with the everlastingly made new by the art of the teller, and Mr. Warman, in a sweet and lyrical vein, muses on thoughts of life beyond the grave in a manner which touches the deepest emotions—that primal requisite of all good poetry. We are all familiar with Hamlet's soliloquy on "That sleep of death," and his fears of

"What dreams may come When we have shuffled off this mortal coil."

with his unsatisfying conclusion. Tennyson, in the "Two Voices" wrestles with the argument that death ends all. He argues that if death does end all, what, then, is that subtle, indefinable suggestion that makes us even doubt it.

"Who forged that other influence, That heat of inward evidence, By which he doubts against the sense."

So will we ever match that hope, that "inward evidence," that faith in immortality, that come from we know not where, against the evidence of sense. "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and yet thou canst not tell whither it cometh or whether it goeth."

So Mr. Warman, with his "Reason in thy rhyme," wrestles with the sense for proof of a future, or as to what it will be like, but appeals to that "something is that something seems," "that heat of inward evidence."

"Dost thou believe that when we take That last, long sleep, a day shall break The dreamless night? Shall we awake?"

"Tell me with reason in thy rhyme, Dost think there'll be no end of time, Nor end of bliss in that blest clime?"

The answer to this is withal most beautiful. He will not trust to "reason"—itself so frail, so fallible an instrument:

"I do not know for sure, I said; I do not know whose light feet tread Yon shore; or if the dead be dead."

"I've seen the summer birds take wing, When winter comes, and in the spring Come back again to soar and sing."

"I've seen the red rose in the glen, Hid 'neath the hoar frost, die, and then In brighter hours bloom again."

Man will be one with one nature; he dies, but shall live again; he shall be sown in corruption and raised in incorruption. If there is to be a future in life—and countless thousands believe so—then they should go fashion themselves that.

"Where all are good, though many strange, Thou may'st not feel too great a change."

The thought contained in the last line is certainly a fine one, and justifies the use of the lines.

"Do unto man thy whole life through As thou would'st have him do to you," which otherwise would have been open to the charge of the commonplace and hackneyed.

Perhaps the best lines in the poem are those beginning, "I do not know for sure, I said," and the two following stanzas.

Mr. Warman has here, as I said before, perhaps struck his highest note. The whole poem is beautiful in its simplicity and melody, and will add to the author's reputation.

Koladernic Skin Food, a pleasant toilet preparation.

Musical Instruction.

MRS. AND MISS NOBLE, TEACHERS OF Piano, organ and harmony. Residence 525 King street.

J. COATES LOCKHART (TENOR), PUPIL Wm. Shakespeare. Church or concert. Instruction in singing for finish or beginners. Studio 400 Dundas street.

INEZ ETHELYN SMITH, TEACHER OF PIANO Soprano soloist. Teacher of singing. 244 Queen's avenue.

MR. CHARLES E. WHEELER, ORGANIST St. Andrew's Church—Instructor of piano, pipe organ, singing and harmony. Teaching resumed Sept. 5. Address 315 King street.

MISS A. E. PROUDFOOT—TEACHER OF PIANO (elementary and advanced students), at the LONDON CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

Also teaches "Fletcher Kindergarten Music Method." Classes now being formed. For rates, etc., apply at CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, 374 Dundas street.

W. H. HEWLETT—ORGANIST DUNDAS Wesleyan Church, Dundas, Ontario. Organ, piano and composition. Telephone 1,221. 418 Queen's avenue.

Architects.

McBRIDE & FARNCOMBE—ARCHITECTS and surveyors, 213 Dundas street, H. C. McBride, F. W. Farncombe, H. S. C. E.

MOORE & HENRY—ARCHITECTS and civil engineers. Members Ont. Assn. Architects, members Ont. L. Surveyors Assn. members Am. Waterworks Assn.

HELBERT MATTHEWS—ARCHITECT (formerly with C. C. Haight, New York) Carling Block, Richmond street.

Insurance.

A. N. UDY—INSURANCE AGENT—Office over C. P. R. ticket office. Telephone 72.

London Advertiser.

(ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1863.)

Managing Director and Editor, John Cameron
London, Wednesday, Nov. 23, 1898.

Colonial Lessons for the United States.

The London Chronicle vigorously expresses British disappointment at the application of the United States navigation laws to Porto Rico, whereby none but American ships may be employed between the United States and the island. It is an illiberal act, but if the American Government goes no further than this, British and Canadian mercantile interests will be fortunate. It is altogether likely that the Porto Rican tariff will be molded for the special advantage of the United States, and that in time the Cuban tariff will be similarly arranged under the guise of a commercial treaty. The manufacturers of the United States will doubtless compel this policy against the personal convictions of President McKinley and his advisers. The latter, if they have studied modern colonial problems, must have heeded the lessons of failure taught by France and Germany, and aptly pointed out by the Chronicle. Germany has been in the land-grabbing business for fourteen years and has gathered in territory to the extent of 820,000 square miles, or nearly eight times the area of the Philippines. Yet in 1897 there were only 3,812 resident Europeans in these colonies, of whom 2,182 were Germans, mostly officials. To maintain this colonial empire costs Germany $2,300,000 a year, or over $1,000 for each German resident. The total trade between Germany and her colonies is $3,500,000 a year. Allowing Germany 25 per cent profit on this, her loss would be $1,500,000. This is the result of trying to develop colonies by closing the doors to the trade of foreign countries. France has made even a more dismal failure. Her extensive colonial territory, containing over 40,000,000 people is an enormous and increasing drain on her financial resources. It costs her $25,000 per day to govern Tunis alone. Not a single French or German colony has any prospect of becoming self-supporting under existing conditions. Spain and Portugal afford examples of colonial policy even more fatuous than France or Germany. Yet little Belgium rules the Congo Free State on the open door plan, and the Free State flourishes. It is to Great Britain, however, that the Americans should look for guidance in their new imperialism. If the dispatches from Paris are reliable, President McKinley has decided to copy British methods in the Philippines at least, and to allow all nations to trade there on equal terms. Any other course, in view of American sympathy with the British attitude toward China, would be grossly unjust and inconsistent. With the open door assured the world should welcome American control of the islands, as it promises a commercial development, impossible under Spanish misrule.

Womanhood Suffrage in New Zealand.

As New Zealand is eminent for its radical experimental legislation, it is a little surprising to learn from the Hon. Hugh H. Lusk, a former member of the New Zealand Legislature, that the people of the colony are conservative in their views. Mr. Lusk treats in the N. Y. Independent of womanhood suffrage in New Zealand. The people in granting it, he says, were moved by purely practical considerations, and not by the plea of abstract justice. It took nearly seventeen years to develop public opinion to the point of bestowing complete franchise upon women. The first step was taken when, in 1877, women who were themselves householders were entrusted with the right of voting for the members of district school committees. The result was so satisfactory that in 1882 the Parliament granted to women—or at least to such women as were ratepayers—the right to vote equally with male ratepayers for the election of the licensing boards to which the law commits the entire control of issuing licenses to sell intoxicating liquors within their respective districts. This innovation also was successful, and in 1887 the general law regulating the government of municipalities was amended so as to enable all female ratepayers not only to take part in municipal elections but also to be themselves candidates for election, either as mayors or councillors. The final step was reached in 1893, when women were allowed equal franchise privileges with the men in all elections. The results are thus described by Mr. Lusk: "Two Parliaments have now been elected by the united male and female suffrage of the inhabitants; and while no revolutionary changes have taken place, there has been a steady improvement in the personnel of Parliament. The proceedings, both before and during the voting, have gained an orderliness from the presence of women, and the character of candidates has counted for more, while their more showy qualities have been less regarded than when men alone held the franchise. Other advantages, too, are increased the influence of the family as distinct from the individual in politics. There is a tendency to make the vote of the family a family council; and this, it is said, increases the bond of family union, and renders more strong and effective that feature of Anglo-Saxon life which throughout its whole history has been the chief strength and safeguard of the race. Nobody in New Zealand alleges that women who vote are less womanly than they were before they possessed the franchise, and it may very safely be said that few, if any, respectable citizens would today wish that the reform could be annulled."

Alleged Mismanagement in Montreal.

The Montreal Herald has shown great courage in its crusade against what it believes to be widespread corruption in several departments of the city government.

If half the Herald's allegations are true—and they are very circumstantial—the ratepayers have been led by an organized system of pilfering. Already suits for libel have been entered against the Herald by the officials accused of wrongfully diverting public money to their own pockets. The defense will be watched with great interest.

Apart from any specific cases of malfeasance, mentioned by the Herald, one would infer from its general remarks that the city's affairs are administered in an extravagant and slipshod method, and that some of the spending departments need stricter oversight. Apparently the personnel of the Council is also capable of improvement.

If the Herald can prove all it says it will have rendered a great service to the public, which is usually slow to take the initiative in municipal reform.

Lord Aberdeen is already rendering service to Canada in Great Britain.

Judging by the scenes in Budapest, the Hungarian Diet is a kind of bear food.

The open door in the Philippines shows that British influence has already broadened the ideas of American statesmen.

Mr. Whitney is to have a banquet in imitation of Mr. Hardy. The Liberals will not object. It may put Mr. Whitney in better temper.

If Uncle Sam would open the door at home a little, Canada would reciprocate, and the work of the international conference would be smoother.

The Buffalo Times fears that our canal system will divert American commerce to Canadian waterways. We hope the fears are well founded.

Gen. Hutton may be excused for having been a trifle warm about the Seventh Battalion, when fewer than 100 members turned out in his honor.

Little Japan is fighting her rebellious subjects in Formosa. It is to be hoped Japan's experience of imperialism will not discourage Uncle Sam.

If Great Britain has handed over an African island to the United States, as reported, the republic will be able to boast that the sun never sets on its dominions.

The great banquet to Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, in London, England, began at 7:30 p.m. In Canada the idiotic practice prevails of not starting banquets, usually, until nearly 9 o'clock.

The New York Outlook points out, in the recent election results in the United States, the fading out of third parties. In English-speaking countries there seems to be some eternal law that renders more than two parties an impossibility.

A French spy in Germany has been sentenced to six years' imprisonment. The employment of spies is another sign of the immorality of the military system of continental Europe, which the Dreyfus case has thoroughly exposed to the world.

The Argentine Republic is very desirous of extending its trade and is looking northward with that object. Canada's exports to that country last year were valued at $558,254, of which all but $14,945 worth consisted of manufactured lumber. Our sole imports consisted of $19,902 worth of coffee.

Gen. Hutton is accused of being too hasty in his attempt to regenerate the Seventh Battalion. Whatever his methods the general's intention was good. He saw that the battalion needed a shaking-up, and he went at it without circumlocution. We believe results will show that he did the right thing.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Basis of Church Unity.

(Hamilton Times.)

"Can there be church unity?" asks the Mail and Empire. Certainly. All that is necessary is for everybody to accept my doctrines and the thing is done.

Mr. Whitney's Regrets.

(St. Thomas Journal.)

In the beginning Mr. Whitney wanted no saw-offs. Time went on, and he thought a few would be all right. And now it looks as if, in the end, he might wish he had sawed-off all of them.

Good Word for Mr. Dearness.

(Windsor Record.)

The securing of the presence of Inspector Dearness at their convention this year was a happy thought on the part of the teachers of the city, and the visit of such a man is of inestimable benefit to the cause of education. It could be seen at once that the long service of Mr. Dearness as an inspector has been spent in close observation of all matters connected with public instruction, and in all his talks he is full of practical and always on the ground. With his profound insight of methods and his modest bearing withal he made an impression as an advanced educationist and as a man which will not soon be forgotten by the teachers. His visit will doubtless have the effect of stimulating improved ways of doing things and of promoting a desire to excel in the noblest and most responsible of all human callings.

Tit for Tat.

(Belleville Sun.)

Guelph and London city councils have both decided that the electors of those cities are not competent to pass judgment on municipal reform. The electors, no doubt, will return the compliment at the January municipal elections.

The Mayor's Position

(Brockville Times.)

Why is it that the position of mayor is so much more honorable than that of councillor? Is it not largely because the mayor is the representative of the whole town, while a councillor only represents a small section of the town? Absolve the ward system, have every councillor elected by the whole town, and the position of the town councillor will be a highly honorable one.

Uncle Sam's Exclusive Laws.

(Hamilton Times.)

A New York Times cable tells us that the British people are surprised at the United States applying their exclusive tariff and shipping laws to Porto Rico. Can it be possible that any considerable number of the British people thought that the United States would not take advantage of the possession of new territory might give him? If his shipping laws shut out British and Canadian ships that is his affair.

The Newfoundland Question.

(New York Times.)

The persistent nagging antagonism with which France has disturbed the British Government for several years has been nowhere more spitefully inflicted, more exasperatingly maintained, than in the colony of Newfoundland. Among the questions which the continued naval preparations in England seem to indicate, long, it is quite likely that the subject of French fishing rights in Newfoundland comes somewhere near the head of the list. Mr. Chamberlain's speech at St. John's, however, can scarcely be otherwise interpreted.

The Makers of Canada.

(Quarterly Review, London, England.)

Canada's position in the empire is one of which her people may be justly proud; but as Canadians review the past, with its many evidences of devotion to the empire, of capacity for self-government, of statesmanlike conception and action in the administration of public affairs, they must not forget how much they owe to the men who laid firm and deep foundations of their national structure. French Catholics and Huguenots, Puritans and Cavaliers of the days of the Stuarts, Scots from the Highlands, the Hebrides, and the Lowlands, Scottish Irish Protestants from the north, and Catholic Celts from the South of Ireland, Englishmen from the hop gardens of Kent and the meadows of Devon, from all parts of that ancient kingdom where the Saxon and Norman have so happily blended in the course of centuries—all these have contributed to form a Canadian people who have planned and themselves successfully and firmly over the vast region which stretches from east to west, to the north of the federal republic. To some of the eminent makers of Canada the majority lie in quiet churchyards, where the finger of time has obliterated even their names from the most carefully preserved records. But though these pioneers may be now forgotten, their spirit still survives in the confidence and energy with which the people of the Dominion are laboring to develop the noble heritage which they possess in America, and in the loyal affection which all nationalities and classes of that people feel for the British crown and empire.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

Accommodating.

"Are you aware, young man, that my daughter has been reared in luxury?" "Yes, sir, and if you give me her hand in marriage I will give you nothing in your way to continue it."

They Would.

Most men feel that if they had their lives to live over again they would not make the same mistakes; but the wisest of them suspect that they would make others just as bad.

A Tough Proposition.

Patrick's face was so homely that it had been described as an "offense to the landscape," and he was as poor as he was homely. One day a neighbor met him and said: "And how are ye, Pat?"

"Mighty bad," answered Pat. "It is starvation that's starvin' me in the face."

"Is that so?" said the sympathetic inquirer. "Sure, and it can't be pleasant for anythin' of ye."—Weekly Telegraph.

When He Came Home.

"When he comes home we'll fill the place with flowers and guests, from gate to door; and music and dance," we said, "shall greet the merry day that he comes home!"

When he came home we bade no guest; the place was hushed from gate to door.

We laid roses on his breast, All wet with tears, when he came home!—Truth.

Frozen Over at Last.

The young man who has come back from the far north and describes the Klondike as "one vast, measureless hell of frost, ice and snow," evidently has an imagination which would make him a most successful advertising agent for a circus.—Chicago Times-Herald.

CONDITION OF MANITOBA CROPS.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The minister of agriculture for the Manitoba Government, writing officially, says that the past week has been very favorable for threshing operations, and that the crops are found not nearly so badly damaged from the frost as was at first reported. Owing to the bad condition of the roads, however, and the disposition among farmers to hold on for high prices, the deliveries of wheat have been slow. The crop bulletin will be published until early in December.

NO NAGGING OF CANADIANS

Powderly Says It Will Be Stopped at the Frontier.

Excepting Those Who Attempt to Enter During Labor Troubles—Canadians Desirable Citizens.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Globe Special.—I have had a somewhat lengthy interview with Mr. T. V. Powderly, who was appointed commissioner-general of immigration by Mr. McKinley. "I would like the people of Canada to know," said Mr. Powderly, "that so long as I am charged with the administration of the alien labor law there will be at the frontier no nagging of Canadians who come under ordinary conditions to better their condition in the United States. My experience of the people of Canada, and especially of Ontario, is that they are just as good as the people of the United States, and nothing will be done under my direction to humiliate them at the border. So far as Canada is concerned, the alien labor law was only intended to prevent the importation under contract of workmen to take the place of American workmen who had gone on strike or during labor disputes, not to prevent poor individual nurse girls from entering the United States. The officers at the frontier now understand the situation, and there will be no annoyance except in the contract labor cases incident, which will be vigorously dealt with, as I hope they will be on your side of the line when American workmen are imported to take part in labor disputes. I am glad that the misunderstandings on this question are being cleared away and that a better feeling is taking their place. There is really no difference between the people."

SHIP CAPTURED BY BIG FLIES

Sugar-Laden Vessel Attacked by a Savage Swarm—Crew Saved by Timely Arrival of Birds.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—The British steamship Kensington, sugar-laden from Sourabaya, a port in Java, while on a voyage to New York, ran into a vast field of seaweed. These weeds were the home of a large and voracious species of the dragon-fly.

Thousands of them penetrated the hold and feasted upon the sugar. Thousands were upon the decks, seeking to get below. Big enough to do mischief, they got savage and attacked the crew. Captain Langwell had thirty-two men, and they had the battle of their lives. The flies could not be driven off. The crew were something terrible. Captain Langwell said, and it was not long before the body of each man of the crew was a mass of blood.

The terrible pest of flies lasted for five days. Then far up in the sky the dragon-fly sailed down, and the dragon-fly of the Indian Ocean. Upon the dragon-fly the dragon-fly alighted, and the pest these birds chiefly gobbled, and just as the steamer was directly under them they swooped down. These birds of the sea resemble a dove, but are many times larger. They have long tails and sharp beaks. The dragon-fly was a timely rescuer. The flies had no chance. They were eaten by the boatswains as quickly as a flock of barnyard fowls. The crew's daily meal of corn, and soon there was not enough of the flies to cause further trouble.

From skipper down to cabin boy, all bear traces of their terrible experience with the vicious dragon-fly.

EXPERT PLOWMEN

Annual Competition at the Ontario Agricultural College—The Badge Winners.

Guelph, Nov. 23.—The annual competition in plowing sold by the first and second year students of the Ontario Agricultural College was completed on Saturday. The judging was performed by Messrs. Tolton and Wm. Squibb.

In the evening the result was announced, and each of the first ten in the contest received a badge. There were 40 entered in the contest. The following are the names of the successful competitors: 1. W. G. Cowie, Ontario county; 2. A. Stewart, Middlesex; 3. R. Wilson, Huron; 4. M. Switzer, Wentworth; 5. J. R. Hutchison, Leamington; 6. J. Black, Dufferin; 7. J. A. Hall, Barry Sound; 8. J. A. Sangster, Glangary; 9. C. Kidd, Simcoe. The above received badges. The following six were highly recommended in the following order: W. J. Black, Dufferin; J. A. Hall, Barry Sound; J. Hilborn, Wellington; J. R. Shields, Lanark; T. L. King, Oxford; and G. A. McIntyre, Renfrew. President Mills spoke to the young men on the importance of the thorough cultivation of the soil, and urged the necessity of a thorough mastery of all the details of farm practice, such as plowing, cultivating, seeding and such operations. Mr. Kemble handed the badges to the successful competitors. In his remarks he said that the plowman this year was the best average they had ever had.

75 SQUARE MILES

Of Indian Territory Burned Over—Loss $25,000.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 22.—The most disastrous prairie fire that ever brought to an abrupt stop by heavy rains. The fire started two weeks ago in Chickasaw and Choctaw nations, and it is estimated that property valued at $250,000 has been destroyed. An area of 75 miles square was burned over.

When you are nervous and sleepless, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes the nerves strong and gives refreshing sleep.

A Scotch lunatic doctor thinks that bicycling may be a cure for insanity. He has tried it with good results on some of his patients.

Not Grudge Matter. Scott's Emulsion is Cod Liver Oil perfected, and is prepared upon the principle of its digestion and assimilation in the human system; hence it is given without disturbing the stomach.

CANADIAN SEALING FLEET

Valuators Before the International Commission.

Prospect of Soon Settling the Bering Sea Question.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Bering Sea question was the main topic before the Anglo-American commission yesterday, when it resumed its sessions after several days' recess. For the first time the two sides were prepared to exchange their estimates on the value of the Canadian sealing fleet, the purpose being to arrive at some fair valuation and retire the fleet by a purchase. The initial steps in this direction were taken while the commission was at Quebec, since which time Capt. H. T. Taylor, in behalf of the Canadians, and Mr. Thayer, in behalf of the Americans, have been making appraisals of the fleet. After several weeks at Victoria, Taylor and Thayer have arrived here, accompanied by Capt. Cox, who represents the sealers.

The two appraisers made their reports to the respective sides, and these reports in turn were exchanged by the commissioners, with a view to common ground of agreement. It is understood that both appraisers are considerably below what was expected, and instead of running into millions, they do not exceed much over a half million. Under the circumstances, strong hopes are expressed by members of the commission that a sum may be agreed upon for the buying out of this industry and the final settlement of this long-pending and vexatious controversy.

It is said, however, that there is still considerable difference between the appraisals of the Canadian and American experts, which will have to be reconciled before an agreement is possible. After the joint meeting of the commission, a special committee, consisting of Lord Herschell and Sir Louis Davies, Senator Fairbanks and ex-Secretary Foster, took up the Bering Sea estimates. Besides the written reports of the appraisers, the latter were called in person and examined regarding the sealing fleet.

At the afternoon session of the Bering Sea commission, it was agreed that both sides would place their appraisals on the stand, allowing him to be examined by the other side, as to the justice of his appraisal of the sealing fleet. The examinations proceeded throughout the day, Senator Fairbanks and Sir Louis Davies for the Canadian, and Lord Herschell and ex-Secretary Foster for the American side, and it is hoped that thereby errors may be detected and a balance struck between the two estimates.

1898 A. D. and B. C.—A Coincidence.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Our theologians and Bible students seem to have overlooked the coincident anniversary of some Old Testament events. According to the chronological tables of the authorized version, the year 1898 B. C. played an important part in the religious history of the Jews and the Christians. The Jews and the Christians were changed to Abraham, and Sarai to Sarah. The rite of circumcision was established, and Abraham and Ishmael underwent the ordeal. The promise was made of Isaac's birth, and the destruction of Sodom and the cities of the plain was revealed to Abraham, and Abraham acted as intercessor in their behalf. In this same year Lot departed from Sodom, and his wife became a pillar of salt. The foundation of the Moabite and Ammonite nations was laid, etc., etc. The coincidence of years B. C. and A. D. is all I wish to point out. Yours, etc., GEO. W. ARMSTRONG.

A New Enterprise.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: There are many questions asked about the new brass works. Just tell your readers that the bell and brass foundry's new company is to manufacture new lines of goods. Bells are used in Canada, but not made in the Dominion, we having the credit of casting the largest bell cast in Canada up to the present—650 pounds—but we propose to cast much larger, as business will warrant. We have the best assortment of patterns for all kinds, and know how to make the best in tone, in construction and durability. But we want more help, and will try to form a company, and many citizens would like to help a company who could make bells and new lines of goods profitable. Builders' hardware has not been made in Canada, yet there is plenty of scope in our favored land. Allow us to cry aloud in the ever-ready assistance, and the petitioner will every pray, etc., JOHN LAW.

ARE others just as good? Why, at the World's Fair, the judges of award selected

Pabst Malt Extract The Best Tonic

as alone thought worthy of the highest possible marking—

100 points of perfection.

They adopted it as the standard by which all others should be judged.

All druggists sell it.

Canadian Depot: PABST MALT EXTRACT, 66 McGill St., Montreal.

WESTERN SCHOOL OF ART

Spencer Block, Dundas Street. Will Open Monday, Oct. 3

Evening Classes—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 7 to 9 p.m. Fees for 36 lessons, $3. Freehand, model, drawing, modeling in clay, oil and water color painting. Afternoon Classes—Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, from 2 to 4 p.m. Fees for 36 lessons, $2.50. Oil painting, drawing, etc.

Weak Lungs

There are many people who catch cold easily—whose lungs seem to need special care and strengthening. Such should take

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

It so heals and invigorates the Lungs and Bronchial Tubes as to render them capable of resisting colds.

"I was troubled for years with weak lungs," says E. J. Furling, Lower Woodstock, N. B., "and could not get any relief, but on trying Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, it acted splendidly, healing and strengthening my lungs." Price 25 and 50c. at all dealers.

Nestle's Food

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

"An excellent Food, admirably adapted to the wants of Infants and Young Persons, and being rich in Phosphates and Potash is of the greatest utility in supplying the bone-forming and other indispensable elements of food."

SIR CHAS. A. CAMERON, M.D.

EPPS'S COCOA

GRATEFUL COMFORTING

Distinguished everywhere for Delicacy of Flavor, Superior Quality and Nutritive Properties. Specially grateful and comforting to the nervous and dyspeptic. Sold only in 1½ lb tins, labeled JAMES EPPS & CO., Limited, Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST SUPPER

The "Enfield" ARMY RIFLE

With bayonet and 20 cartridges, a

$3.00

Suitable for either shot or ball. Secure one while they last from

A. Westman's

111 Dundas Street West.

Branch Store, 654 Dundas Street East.

75 Shillings.

MALRY'S IRISH FRIZEE ULSTER

COATS DEFY THE COLDEST

CANADIAN WEATHER.

They are supplied at above price, carriage paid to Halifax, N. S.,

Quebec and St. John's, Nfld. They are lined with Irish Tweed, have wind proof sleeves, deep collar and belt. Patterns, etc., free on application to J. M. MALRY.

The Irish Tweed House,

27 Rosemary St., Belfast, Ireland.

65 unced

John Ferguson & Sons

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and

EMBALMERS.

FIRST-CLASS IN ALL APPOINTMENTS.

174-180 King Street.

Telephone—House No. 373; Store No. 543.

The Cowan Company, of

Toronto, will demonstrate the superior qualities of their COCOAS at T. F.

Kingsmill's Drygoods Store

every day for the next four weeks, from Nov. 14.

Demonstrations all day long. A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of London to call and sample them.

THE EUROPEAN

SHOULDER BRACES

are the best to expand the chest and lungs.

Made to order at 29 1/2 Dundas Street, between Waterloo and Wellington Streets.

Prices range from 60c to $1.50. Ladies' free origin Mrs. Webb with these orders will receive good value and satisfaction.

SHIRT COLLARS IRONED STRAIGHT

so as not to hurt the neck. Stand up collars ironed without being broken in the wing.

Let those now drink
Who never drank before,
And those that have,
Why, let them drink the more.

A Latter Day 19th Century Luxury.

Lead Packets Only—25c. 30c. 40c. 50c.
60c. All Grocers.

THE QUEEN OF THE SEASON

CHAPTER XVIII

er and nearer came the trot, and the horse's hoofs, and now he heard the driver of the light pull up sharply, and utter an exclamation of surprise and alarm as if he had seen something of the most startling nature. The sound of his vehicle she heard an audible "Thank goodness!"

opened her eyes. It was not her brother nor Sir Innis Hatherfield, a stranger, a bluff, elderly farmer who was driving his comely wife market. Against the sight of a day lying by the wayside in such a plight, he threw his reins to the good woman, that he might alight and ascertain whether she was dead or alive.

"I don't think I am much hurt," said Vivien, as with his ruddy face full of concern he bent over her. "If you will help me to my feet, perhaps I can stand while you catch my mare. Will I mount her again? Yes, certainly I will, if she will let me."

The creature was docile enough now, and the farmer soon contrived to secure the reins. By the time he had accomplished this Vivien—to whose assistance the comely matron had hurried—had made the pleasant discovery that she was comparatively uninjured. A little stiff and sore, certainly, but these were trifling unpleasanties that would soon pass off, and her spirits rose again as she began to cherish a hope that she might be able to conceal her misadventure from her own party.

With a little help from the farmer's wife, who kept up a continual chorus of "Deary me!" and "Lawks!" she smoothed her disordered hair, pinned up a rent in her habit, and arranged her veil so as to conceal the white blisters raised on her delicate cheek by the sting of the nettles.

This done, the farmer assisted her into the saddle, and thanking the worthy couple gratefully for their ready aid, she resumed her journey.

Concealing suary aches and pains under an air of smiling unconcern she rode up the hill, on the summit of which the ruined castle was situated, and was received with many expressions of pleasure.

"We were beginning to think something had befallen you," said one. "We have done the ruins and were longing to be off, for the air is bitterly sharp up here," said another.

"Vivien knows that with my weak chest, exposure to the cold is really dangerous," Lady Esselyn murmured, fretfully. "But she never thinks of me."

"I am so sorry you all waited," said Vivien, ignoring this rebuke altogether. "Where is Aymer?"

"He rode after you when your mare plunged away so madly. But here he comes!"

And the earl, who had contrived to lose himself in the bye-lanes, now came up hot and tired, and not in the best of humors, as he testified by an ungracious speech as soon as he saw that his sister was safe.

"I'll have those boys of Douceby's out tomorrow, and try whether I can't take some of the mischief out of them," he exclaimed to her. "He was an idiot to let you ride a brute that makes everyone uncomfortable by its tricks."

"Nonsense, my dear boy. Don't be fussy. I am very well satisfied with the mare," said Vivien, wishing, however, in her heart, that the creature would not pull so hard and almost defy her efforts to keep it under decent control.

Her annoyed brother turned from her without reply, and she saw him join Sir Innis, who, while making pleasant replies to Cressida's not over-wise remarks, contrived to hear and see all that passed around him, and had drawn certain inferences from the young lady's changing looks and ill-concealed weariness of which she did not dream.

Vivien was too much engrossed in herself and her fidgety mare to take much notice of anyone else. The cottage was now taking a homeward route, and in pity to the other ladies who were timid equestriennes, and shrieked and startled every time the bay grew restive, she reigned back her unmanageable steed until they were a few yards in advance.

"My dearest Vivien, what have you done to your face?" cried Julia Estridge, as she went by.

"Gnats," was the brief response, for Vivien was growing irritable. The difficulty of retaining her seat was becoming greater every moment, for her head ached, and the hand that grasped the reins was so numb she could hardly use it.

"Oh! to be at home at Esselyn Manor, and able to throw herself on her bed awhile, instead of feeling bound to hide from everyone what she was suffering!"

But now she found Aymer standing beside her, and holding up his arms to assist her in alighting.

"Come, Vivien, don't keep us waiting any longer," he cried impatiently. "You are going home in the dog-cart."

"No," said her wilful ladyship. "Why should I?"

"Because you're not fit to ride; that's why."

"Who says so?" she demanded, as in a very peremptory fashion she released her foot from the stirrup.

"Who says so?" she repeated, determined that, if he answered "Sir Innis," she would insist upon retaining her seat in the saddle.

"I do. I suppose I may use my own judgment sometimes?"

"But I hate riding in a dog-cart, especially on the back seat," she objected.

"You'll not have to do that. They have found room for Cressida in one of the carriages, so make no more excuses."

Vivien still murmured and resisted, making the exchange at least with an air of dignified submission, as if she was yielding solely to the wishes of her brother. Yet she sank back on the cushions of the vehicle with a sigh of relief, even though it was Sir Innis who was arranging them for her, and whose eyes were keenly observant of the twinges of pain that stole the color from her lips as well as her cheeks.

She essayed to make a few civil remarks as he took his seat beside her and drove on; but in a little while she found it as much as she could do to keep at bay the sickness that threatened to end in a swoon.

The struggle did not last long, for as they drove through the village that lay at the foot of the hills, a groom who, in obedience to a whisper from the baronet, had ridden on in advance, handed him a small flask, and Vivien found that he was holding something to her lips.

"You are faint, Lady Vivien. A few drops of this will revive you. Excuse me if I insist that you swallow them."

She was in no condition to refuse; and the next thing she found herself forced to submit to was the sipping of a handkerchief dipped in a road-side spring, around her swollen wrist.

"It is nothing. I am not ill," she began to say, but a sob of vexation impeded her utterance, and when she glanced furtively at her companion, he not only detected the glance, but she saw in his eyes the same gleam of amusement that had already provoked her more than once. To be treated like a child was bad enough—to be laughed at was worse, and she would not endure it.

Her revolt against the summary proceedings of the baronet gave her strength to sit up and protest against them.

"I am quite well, pray do not treat me as if I were not."

"Perhaps, as you are quite well, and you know this, you would prefer going back and riding the bay mare home?" said Sir Innis, mischievously. "Shall I stop?"

No; Vivien knew she could not nerve herself to act upon the money and perfect her temperance.

"I would not be worth while, I hate giving trouble, or making a fuss," she said carelessly.

"Would not your arm be more comfortable if I contrived a sling for it?" asked her companion.

The polite offer was declined, and then she saw his eyes fixed in the long rent in her skirt. Why would he persist in seeing everything she wished to conceal?

"Yes, my poor habit has come to grief," she said, affecting a laugh; "the bushes, I suppose."

"It must have caught in your stirrup when you fell," he observed coolly. "It is fortunate that the material gave way, or you might have been dragged along the road."

(To be Continued.)

In Woman's Interest

Our Mannish Coats.

What say Paris' best-known modistes? That the fate of the long coat has been settled by elegantes.

They will wear it in its broadcloth silkiness and in shades of chestnut brown.

Some of the prettiest models are to appear in all shades of blue and in dark green.

Tall, slim women look with favor on the paleots, a style that copies a man's great-coat.

These are clumsy to walk in. They are exceeding smart in cut. Their very simplicity demands perfection in shape and finish.

Paleots reach to the bottom of the dress skirt, are double breasted and padded at the shoulders, the pads being called by the French tailor "American epaulettes."

The sleeves of the paleots are perfectly straight and trimmed at the wrist with wide turn-back cuffs.

Queen Victoria's Teahouses.

The Queen, says the London Mail, has just had plans prepared for a number of dainty little teahouses, which are to be erected during the coming winter in the grounds and on the more extended drives about Balmoral. Spotted with lovely views of the mountains and of the River Dee have been chosen by the Queen herself, and on these they will be built. Each will have a "parlor," a dressing-room and a tiny kitchen. The walls are to be lined with pine wood from the forests about, and the roofs are to be quaintly thatched with heather and fastened with bands of the silvery birch tree. The cottages will be finished in May.

Girls Who Are Shunned by Men.

There are many such, and for the most part the fault lies with themselves.

The girl who never exercises herself to be agreeable unless she can have everything her own way is one of them, for there is not a man alive who will give way in everything to a girl.

The girl who scolds is another type; she may be perfectly good-tempered, but she has contracted the scolding habit, and so she is left alone to scold at her pleasure.

Then there is the girl with the haughty manner and cold stare. No man dares to make love to her, because there is nothing whatever to love in her. So the girl scowls at what she considers their bad taste, utterly ignoring the fact that her own foolish conduct is the sole cause of their neglect.

Another girl, without a lover is a painfully shy maiden. She likes to see men at a distance, but the moment they draw near she drives them back with her embarrassment. They retire simply out of pity, feeling her disconcerted and awkward bashfulness.

Some Expenses of Woman's Dress.

The man who thinks it costs a woman a small fortune to dress does not know all her necessities. A woman is as particular about that part of her clothes worn underneath as that which the world sees; or she should be if she is not. And she can carry this feeling to any extent. For instance, there is the big gold hook, exactly in the shape of the every-day hook, which fastens into an ordinary every-day eye, which is secured to the corset to support the skirts. That hook in plain gold will cost $5. In the Duchess of Marlborough's trousseau to every pair of corsets was fastened one of these gold hooks. If the hooks are set with jewels, diamonds, sapphires or emeralds, they will cost many times as much as the one of plain gold. And the corset clasps! The steels for the front, covered with white kid, have in each of the little gold buttons, over which a gold loop fastens, a diamond which will cost $58 at the lowest calculation. If they come direct from a jeweler's they will cost more. And the clasps for side clasps, also gold, with a diamond or two set in one or two places, where they will be least in the way, will cost $55; and there are only two or three small items purchased, and a good sum of money expended.

That Well-Groomed Look.

It has certainly been shouted from the house-tops that smartness of apparel can never be attained without utter spotlessness. It is as impossible for a woman to make an impression of modishness with a creased gown, as it is impossible for a man to make an impression of the same sort unless part of his attire is properly creased. Yet it is certain, from the signs seen on all sides, that women have not yet learned the art of neatness and perfect neatness. It seems still to be a question of temperament whether a woman has this last touch about her or not. Many women who can and do have most beautiful gowns lack the finish needed to carry them off—that well-groomed look; while other women who have to be most moderate in their expenditures for clothes have the air of the well-groomed woman. It should be more a matter of temperament. It should be a matter of the difference between a lady and a would-be aspirant for that title, this cleanliness.

Clean gloves, polished shoes, well-brushed skirts, spotless collars, dusted hats, fresh veils, are far more necessary to pleasing and fashionable attire than are gowns imported from Paris.

Dressing is an art, not an inexpensive one, by any means, but she who does her dressing with brains will need scarcely a quarter of the money to accomplish her purpose successfully that will be used by the woman who gives little thought to the matter, or, rather, whatever thought she gives, does not apply the right kind.

A well-known man on women and their attire the other day advanced the theory that women would look younger and fresher if they would only wear plain clothes, just as men do, contending that at 30 a man looks younger than a woman of the same age, on account of the difference in dress. The core of the matter he did not touch in his argument. It is the difference in their cleanliness. This is not the only difference between the sexes, but it is apt to be out of doors more and lead more active lives, and this has much to do with youth. But the look of freshness which a man often wears after a woman of the same age has lost it is explained by a well-known fact, that his face at least gets a much more liberal allowance of soap and water than hers does. And it is often true that he uses soap and water oftener on all parts of his anatomy. Happily, this day and generation is learning the value of water applied early and often.

Tinted Cheese Balls on Lettuce.

The wholesome and pretty dye extracted from spinach, together with a little home touch, will so improve the ordinary cottage cheese that it will truly be transformed into an article of "quite another color." One or more of the 5-cent rolls of cheese are to be pressed through a sieve; it will fall in delicate flakes, and each ball should be coated with a large teaspoonful of soft butter; salt to taste, a dash of cayenne pepper, and a few drops of the coloring. Roll into small balls, place each one on the light-colored leaf of heart lettuce, with either French or mayonnaise dressing, and the effect will be cool, pretty and appetizing.

Several of these small cheeses worked over in this way with either cream or butter, made into one mound and garnished with a little parsley, then set away to cool, is a delightful change eaten with thin bread and butter for luncheon or tea. Sandwiches are also very good made with this improved cheese.

CATARRRH

Can Be Cured and Is Being Cured Every Day by

DR. A. W. CHASE

Thousands of people have been cured of catarrh during the last thirty years by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. Some of them had merely a cold in the head; many of them had suffered for fifteen or twenty years and had experimented with doctors and patent medicines, but they were disgusted and discouraged. It is just such cures that have made Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure famous throughout Canada and the United States. It is just such cures of chronic long-standing catarrh that have proved Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure to be a positive and absolute cure for catarrh.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure is perfectly free from cocaine and similar dangerous drugs, which only deaden the membrane and do more harm than good.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure clears the air passages, allays inflammation, heals the ulcers and produces permanent cures. It gives instant relief, stops headache, sweetens the breath and restores hearing. It prevents consumption by curing catarrh. 25c a box, blower free.

All Dealers, or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto, Ont.

JOHN W. KEELY OF MOTOR FAME

Induced People to Invest in a Seeming Fraud

And Lived in Luxury for Years on the Scheme.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Back in 1872, John Worrell Keely, who died here on Saturday, started the scientific world by announcing that he had discovered a mysterious force which might be used for motive purposes and which possessed almost magic power. He claimed to have invented a motor for the application of this marvelous force, the existence of which was unknown to scientists, and the exact nature of which he jealously kept secret—so secret, in fact, that imprisonment in 1888 for contempt of court failed to wring a statement from him, and death itself did not unlock his lips.

The Keely motor was a curious affair. In Keely's little two-story, red brick workshop at 1422 North Twentieth street, on a moveable wooden stand resembling a truncated cone, there stood for many years a strange piece of mechanism which the inventor called his "vibrating and vibrating," and which resembled nothing in heaven above or earth beneath known to mortals. The thing was about the size of a cheese-box, made entirely of metal, pulley wheel, and something like a pulley wheel, and studded with scores of rods left free to vibrate when struck, radiating from a circular frame were 40 tubes or keys, standing out like miniature canons.

LIVED IN LUXURY.

With this apparatus of mystery, assisted by his magnetic personality, and indomitable assurance, Keely for years maintained himself in luxury. Periodical "Keely motor" crazes were incited by announcements that he had at last perfected his machine, and credulous people greedily snapped up stock in the promotion company of which Keely was autocrat, only to be disappointed by some fresh failure, always charged to some overlooked imperfections in the machine which was to "utilize the currents of the earth."

For years the Keely Motor Company was sustained by Mrs. Moore, a wealthy Philadelphia lady, who supplied Keely with $500 per month for expenses for a long period, in consideration of which he was to do nothing without her consent. Her dealings with Keely cost her about $25,000, and to a suit in 1888, begun by stockholders who demanded the production of tangible results—an attempt which proved useless. Stockholders from time to time put an approximate total of $500,000 into the company, and the price of shares fluctuated all the way from 10c to $150 each. Fortunes were made and lost in dealing in them. John Jacob Astor, in 1895, headed a syndicate to resuscitate the Keely Motor Company. At another time, twelve California millionaires backed the company.

CONFLICTING CLAIMS.

Scientists professed themselves puzzled at times, and at other times decidedly skeptical as to Keely's alleged discovery. Keely himself made apparently conflicting claims—sometimes that his force was earth currents—again a mysterious gas—then an application of air as motive power—but never pressed far enough to get a patent on any of his machinery or to make wholly successful experiments, although it is claimed his motor fly wheel occasionally made 400 revolutions per minute. Skeptics claimed Keely was simply experimenting with the propulsive force of soda gas. His death will probably settle the problem.

In 1888 Eustace Wyszynski, a Chicago engraver, claimed to recognize Keely as a swindler named John Adam Huss, whom he had known many years before, and who had swindled Louisville inventors out of $450,000 with a motor mystery. Keely successfully denied the charge, and Wyszynski was unable to make it stick, or to weaken Keely's hold on his followers.

You Should Know

what Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to do for those who have impure and impoverished blood. It makes the blood rich and pure, and cures scrofula, salt rheum, dyspepsia, catarrh, rheumatism, nervousness. If you are troubled with any ailment caused or impure blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla at once.

HOOD'S PILLS are the only pills so efficient, easy to take, easy to operate.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pulmonary of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claim to public confidence.

Washing is done in Japan by getting into a boat and letting the garments to be washed drag after the boat by a long string.

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entered into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.

Electric Light and Bell Wiring

Electric Bells, Medical Batteries and all Electro-Medical Apparatus Repaired.

R. M. MILLAR
434 Talbot Street.

Army and Navy Blend

OF CEYLON TEAS.

At 25c, 40c, 50c and 60c per pound is the best value in the market. At all first-class grocers.

JOHN GARVEY,

Sole Agent for Canada. London, Ont.

Blue Ribbon Tea.

Ask your friends about it.

A Pretty Foot Goes a Long Way

But what is the use of a pretty foot, in this country in the winter time, if you do not have a perfect fitting Rubber or Overshoe. Now, this may be news to you, but you will find it to be a fact; there is only one make of Rubbers and Overshoes, in this country, that are right up-to-date in fit, finish, quality and durability and they are the

Granby Rubbers

and OVERSHOES

thin, light, comfortable. Extra thick at ball and heel.

"GRANBY RUBBERS WEAR LIKE IRON."

HINTON & RUTBALL THE UNDERTAKERS.

360 Richmond Street.

Private residence, 46 Bechoer

Telephone—Store 440; House, 432.

Don't Burn Your Rags

We use enormous quantities in our paper mills. Sell your rags to the nearest rag man. We buy them and make them into paper, which we sell throughout Canada.

The E. B. Eddy Co., Limited.

Mammoth Mills at Hull, Branches and agencies at Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Hamilton, Kingston, St. John, Halifax, London, Winnipeg, Victoria, Vancouver, St. John's, Nfld.

Navigation and Railways.

CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR CPR

THANKSGIVING DAY RATES.

Round trip tickets will be sold at Single First-Class Fare between all stations in Canada, Port Arthur, Sault Ste. Marie, Windsor and East, and to and from Detroit, Mich., and from stations above specified, but not from Buffalo, Black Rock, Suspension Bridge and Niagara Falls, N.Y., good going on all trains Nov. 23 and 24, and good returning up to and including Nov. 23, 1898.

C. E. McPHERSON, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agent, 1 King Street East, Toronto.

THOS. R. PARKER, City Pass. Agent, 161 Dundas street, corner of Richmond.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Thanksgiving Day

Nov. 24, 1898.

Will issue return tickets at SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE between all stations in Canada, and all stations in Canada to and from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich.; from all stations in Canada to Suspension Bridge, Niagara Falls, Black Rock and Buffalo, N.Y. Good going on all trains Nov. 23 and 24. Good returning from destination not later than Nov. 28, 1898. For tickets and information apply to E. DE LA HOOKE, City Passenger and Ticket Agent, "Clock" corner, C. E. HORNING, G. T. R. depot, or from M. C. DICKSON, D. P. A., Toronto.

WHITE STAR LINE

CHRISTMAS SAILINGS.

MAJESTIC, from New York Dec. 13, at noon, arriving at Queenstown Dec. 19, Liverpool Dec. 20.

CYMBRIC, from New York, Dec. 14, 3 p.m.

Saloon rates by this steamer $50 and upwards. No second cabin. Steerage $25. Passengers by these steamers will be able to reach any part of Great Britain and Ireland in time for Christmas.

E. De La Hooke,

"Clock" Corner, Richmond and Dundas streets, Sole Agent for London.

Navigation and Railways

ALLAN LINE

Royal Mail Steamships, Liverpool Calling at Rimouski and Monville.

NUMIDIAN, Nov. 26, 9 a.m.
MONGOLIAN, Nov. 28, 9 a.m.
PARISIAN, Dec. 1, 1 p.m.
LAURENTIAN, Dec. 21, 1 p.m.
MONGOLIAN, Nov. 16, 9 a.m.

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin, Derry and Liverpool, $32.50 and upwards; return $60 and upwards. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, London, $35; return, $60.50. Steerage, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, London, everything found, $22.50. Glasgow-New York service. Cabin—$47.25 and upwards; return, $89.75 and upwards; second cabin, $32.50; return, $61.75; steerage, $22.50.

AGENTS—E. De la Hooke, "Clock" corner Richmond and Dundas, Thomas R. Parker, southwest corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, and F. B. Clarke, 416 Richmond street.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL

"The Niagara Falls Route."

THANKSGIVING DAY, NOV. 24th

EXCURSIONS AT SINGLE FARE

For the Round Trip, to all local stations in Canada, Detroit, Mich., Suspension Bridge, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo, N.Y. Tickets will be issued Nov. 23 and 24.

GOOD TO RETURN NOV. 23.

Rates, tickets, etc., at City Ticket Office, 365 Richmond street.

JOHN PAUL, City Passenger Agent.

O. W. RUGGLES, Gen. Pass. and Tkt. Agt.

Intercolonial Railway OF CANADA

The direct Route between the West and all points on the Lower St. Lawrence and St. Lawrence, Province of Quebec; also for New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton, New Brunswick and St. Pierre.

Express trains leave Montreal and Halifax daily (Sunday excepted) and run through with out change between these points. The through express train cars of the Intercolonial Railway are brightly lighted by electricity, and heated by steam from the loco motive, thus greatly increasing the comfort and safety of travelers.

The Paper On Your Wall....

Looks a little shabby, doesn't it? You ought to change it. It will not only make the room look better, but will be healthier. We have some handsome effects in designs and colors.

O. B. GRAVES
222 Dundas Street.

BROCK'S Smokeless Cartridges

are a permanent success because they may always be depended upon to give the Highest Velocity with Low Pressure, Full Even Pattern. They are Clean and Smokeless.

W. A. BROCK,

192 Dundas St., London, Ont. Phone 501

W. B. LAIDLAW,

Barrister, solicitor, etc. Money to loan at low rates. Bank of Commerce Bldg.

Wall Paper.

At the low price we are selling wall paper your room at small expense. Come in and see the bargains.

H. & C. COLERICK
448 Richmond Street.

EASY READING.

When you have the electric light to read with in the long winter evenings your eyes will not suffer from the steady and continuous strain put upon them.

Electric light is handy and does not accumulate dirt and smoke. Let us give you prices. Phone 552.

LONDON ELECTRIC CO.,
339 Richmond Street.

WE STUDY LAUNDERING

Just as a lawyer studies his case. We make every point of our work tell as strongly as possible, so that the thing shall be perfection. Phone 552.

Parisian Steam Laundry.

$10,000.00
for 30 cents per day.

The Manufacturers' Life

is issuing a NEW policy that is within the reach of all. For further particulars apply to

VIVIAN REEVE,

District Manager, 180 Dundas Street

SPECIAL NOTICES.

We have just opened out a fine line of furniture coverings, imported direct from England. All the latest shades and designs. You should see them. At Trafford's, 95 to 97 King Street.

STOVES, STOVES, STOVES.—Cheap Cook Stoves, Square Baseburners, Parlor Stoves, Extension Tables, Bedroom Suites, Spring and Hair Mattresses, Goose Feather Pillows, Down Cushions, made to order at the Feather Bed and Mattress Cleaning Factory, 533 Richmond Street North. HUNT & SONS, Telephone 597.

Don't have corns on your fingers by using dull scissors when you can have them sharpened for 5 cents by PERRY DAVID, 559 Richmond Street, two doors north of Albert. zv

PRETTY FACE AND PRETTY TEETH. Give care and attention to your teeth: when they set in use Andrews' Plugs, 10 cents a bottle. x

The flesh of young giraffe, especially that of a young cow, is extremely good, somewhat like veal, with a gamelle flavor. The tongue, from 18 to 20 inches long, is also very good. But the marrow bones afford the greatest luxury to the South African hunter.

When Beauty Fades.

In response to repeated inquiries from ladies with whom Dr. Chase's Ointment has become so popular for skin diseases, asking if face powders are injurious and can be used while using the Ointment, we state that while the majority of face powders are injurious we can recommend the recipes given in Dr. Chase's supplementary recipe book on page 45, which will be sent to any address on receipt of 5 cents in stamps. Dr. Chase's Ointment is the ladies' friend for all skin diseases. Address Dr. A. W. Chase Co., Toronto.

We Are Ready

at all times to supply you with the choicest cuts from high-grade beef, mutton lamb or veal, and we are artists in the cutting and preparation of meats for the table. Our choice hams and bacon will be found delicious and appetizing for breakfast just now.

J. H. GATECLIFFE,
267 Dundas Street.

How About Your Stoves?

The Famous Active Baseburner and the Famous Active Range are the best stoves in the world—broad assertion, but it's so. Bought by everyone who sees them. You will buy also if you come and look at them.

STEVELY'S,
302 Richmond Street. Phone 453

Eacrett's Bazaar

A nice line of Fleece-Lined Cashmere Gloves, for 20c per pair; Cashmere Hose, 25c pair; Ladies' Long Sleeve Vests, 25c.

CUTLERY—

White Metal Tea Spoons, 25c per dozen; Knives, only 45c per half dozen; Knives and Forks, 60c per half dozen; Children's Knives and Forks, 14c per pair; Scissors, 5c per pair; Bread Knives, 15c; Carving Sets, 75c.

SOAPS—

If you want Toilet or Laundry Soaps of any kind come to

EACRETT'S BAZAAR

200 Dundas Street. Phone 663

FAIR AND DECIDEDLY COLDER.

Toronto, Nov. 22—11 p.m.—The important disturbance which has been advancing from the Western States is now centered over the Straits of Mackinaw, and a subsidiary development is occurring over the middle Atlantic coast. The cold wave continues pronounced. Fresh to heavy gales prevail over the lake region, and the weather is becoming generally unsettled throughout Eastern Canada. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 38-42; Kamloops, 15-24; Calgary, 10 below-4 below; Qu'Appelle, 28 below-zero; Winnipeg, 18 below-2; Port Arthur, 2-24; Parry Sound, 38-50; Toronto, 23-51; Ottawa, 22-41; Montreal, 28-45; Quebec, 30-34; Halifax, 36-50.

Probabilities: Toronto, Nov. 23 — 1 a.m.—Lower lakes: Strong winds and gales, westerly to northwesterly; light, local snowfalls or furies, but mostly fair and decidedly colder. Thursday, fair and decidedly cold.

Local temperatures: The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the observatory here on Tuesday, Nov. 22, were: Highest, 53; lowest, 22 degrees. The thermometer fell 31 degrees between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. here yesterday.

Come and See

—OUR GREENHOUSES ON THANKSGIVING DAY.

GAMMAGE & SONS,
Oxford Street, Opp. Wolseley Barracks.

THE WATSON-JOHNSTON CO.
Importers of Fine Woollens
239 Dundas Street.

London Advertiser.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS:
107.....Business Offices
134.....Editorial Room
175.....Job Departments

A LOCAL BUDGET

—Ansbach, the German magician, entertained at Wolseley Barracks last night.

—Thanksgiving service in St. James' Presbyterian Church, Richmond Street, tonight.

—St. Andrew's Church will hold its annual Thanksgiving praise service tomorrow night.

—Ingersoll Chronicle: Mr. Jas. Johnston, of London, was calling on friends in town yesterday.

—Messrs. F. Pocock, F. Jeffrey and W. S. Clay, of this city, were registered at the Atlantic House, Ingersoll, yesterday.

—Madie Brown, the peg-leg awaiting trial for murder, has received a photo of his sweetheart, Zella M. Harkin, of Lampasas, Texas.

—Mr. Alf Primrose, a native of this city, and brother of Mr. George H. Primrose, of minstrel fame, was in the city yesterday.

—There will be no union Methodist Thanksgiving service tomorrow, but there will be a separate service in most of the churches.

—Rev. Geo. Fowler, formerly of this city, who went to South Carolina a short time ago for throat trouble, has returned to St. Thomas.

—St. Catharines Journal: Mr. Clarence Taylor, of the Bank of Toronto, left this afternoon for London, to which branch he has been transferred.

—Woodstock Times: Mr. Marshall, tea merchant, of London, was in town yesterday. Ed. Dingwall, of London, has accepted a position in the Hand-in-Hand store.

—Lieut.-Col. Buchanan, Lieut.-Col. Holmes, D.O., and Capt. Carpenter, R.R.C., London, are among the umpires chosen for the sham fight at Toronto tomorrow.

—Grand Councilor Davis and Grand Representative Legg, of the Order of Chosen Friends, of London, attended a meeting of the executive of that order at Hamilton yesterday.

—The London Poultry and Pet Stock

The Biggest Snap Yet.

Thirty dozen Fine Blue Fleece-Lined Underwear, worth a dollar and a half, selling for $1.00 a Suit.

See Them In Our Window.

BOUGHNER.

ANDERSON'S

Xmas Numbers.

Black and White. London News, Graphic, Pears' Annual and Puck's Kalendar for '99 to hand.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Daily, Weekly and Monthly Papers and Periodicals for 1899 at publishers' prices.

Association have raised $106 to be paid out in special prizes at the January exhibition of the Ontario Association, to be held in Toronto.

—Woodstock Sentinel-Review: Mrs. Whitman, of London, is visiting Mrs. R. Blandford, Vansittart Avenue. D. A. Brecken, of London, was at the Oxford yesterday.

—Vancouver World: Mr. E. V. Brown, of the Bank of Montreal, has been promoted to post on the London, Ont., branch. He left for the east on Monday's C. P. R. express.

—Gideon McKinnon and Wm. Waddell were committed for trial yesterday by Squire Lacey for theft. They are charged with stealing a buffalo robe, quilt, bags, etc., from farmers on the town line between Nilestown and Belmont.

—Thanksgiving service, exactly an hour in length, beginning at 11 a.m., will be held tomorrow in First Presbyterian Church, when Rev. W. A. Clark will speak on the great world events of this epoch-making year, 1898. Everybody is welcome.

—Rev. A. F. Sowerby, M.A., Ph.D., formerly pastor of the Baptist Church, Aylmer, now of Boston, Mass., has been appointed president of the Roger L. Smith University at Nashville, Tenn. His many friends in London will be pleased to learn of this success.

—Notice is given in the Ontario Gazette that application will be made by the London Street Railway Company to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, at its next session, for an act to legalize and confirm bylaws Nos. 1,000 and 1,005, of the corporation of the City of London, and the agreements therein referred to, bylaw No. 351, of the corporation of the township of London, and the agreement therein referred to, and bylaw No. 50, of the corporation of the township of Westminster.

—George Woolcox, of Komoka, has been committed for trial by Squire Lacey on the charge of appropriating to his own use money belonging to C. W. Smith, of East London. Woolcox is charged with misappropriating $41 of Mr. Smith's money, which he drew to pay for 138 barrels of apples, purchased in October, from J. Carmichael and Thomas Wilson, of Lobo. Woolcox was bailed. W. B. Laidlaw is acting for Smith and Macpherson for defendant. An action is threatened against Smith for alleged false arrest.

THE EMERSON TROUPE.

St. Thomas Journal: The Duncome Opera House was well filled last (Monday) night, when the W. D. Emerson Stock Company opened their engagement of three nights and Saturday matinee. The play was the well-known comedy, "All the Comforts of a Home," with Mr. and Mrs. Emerson in the leading roles. The company is an exceptionally strong one, and the large audience was delighted with the performance. Mrs. Emerson, as Fife Oritanski, and Mr. Emerson, as Alfred Hastings, were excellent. Special mention must also be made of Ernest Willis, as Theodor Benden, and Miss Fay Robinson, as Mrs. Benden. Indeed, every member of the company sustained his or her role to perfection.

ANNIVERSARY CONCERT.

A large audience gathered in the school room of the Dundas Center Methodist Church last night. It was the occasion of the anniversary concert. The programme was well selected, and every number was heartily applauded. The following well-known artists contributed: Miss Myra Pickard, soprano; Mr. Wm. Skinner, bass; J. Roscoe Pococke, violinist; Mr. H. S. Saunders, cellist, and the school orchestra, led by Mr. Robert Jex. Mr. W. H. Hewlett was accompanist. The programme: March, "Halt Acht";verture, "Rosa-mundi"; orchestra; solo, "The Rose of the Earth," Mr. Skinner; violin concerto, Mr. Roscoe Pococke; (a) Menuetta, (b) Hungarian Fantasia, orchestra; solo, "The Heavenly Song," Miss Myra Pickard; andante religioso, "St. Cecilia" (violin obligato, Mr. Robert Jex), orchestra; cello solos, (a) "Lament," (b) "Ancient Dance," Mr. H. S. Saunders; Barcarolle in F minor, orchestra; duet, "I Feel Thy Angel Presence," Miss Pickard and Mr. Skinner; violin solo, "Reverie," Mr. Roscoe Pococke; overture, "Shamus O'Brien," orchestra.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

The magnificent tomb in the world is deemed to be the palace temple of Karnak, occupying a space of nine acres, or twice that of St. Peter's at Rome. The temple space is a poet's dream of gigantic columns, beautiful courts and wondrous avenues of sphinxes.

A DINNER PILL—Many persons taken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food taken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

SOUTH LONDON LIBERAL CLUB

The Annual Meeting—A Full House—Officers Elected—Resolutions of Condolence.

The annual meeting of No. 6 Ward Liberal Club was held in their cosy rooms on Bruce Street last night, and, as usual, there was a full house, and much enthusiasm. First Vice-President McKenzie occupied the chair, and after outlining the business programme of the evening, made a short address full of advice and good points.

The treasurer's report showed that the club was on a sound financial footing, the liabilities being nil. This was, indeed, felt to be very gratifying, inasmuch as it is run on purely voluntary principles, and that it had not even been found necessary to canvass for subscriptions.

The election of officers resulted in the following choices: Honorary president, Lieut.-Col. F. B. Leys, M.P.P.; president, Mr. Philip E. McKenzie; first vice-president, Mr. Robert Southcott; second vice-president, Mr. William A. Westland; treasurer, Mr. William Kennedy; secretary, Mr. C. Jarvis. Ward division representatives to the executive and other committees were also elected, amid much good-natured rivalry.

After the election of officers, feeling reference was made by the members to the loss by death of three of the most active and valued members of the club since the last meeting previous to the summer vacation, namely, Messrs. James Thorburn, John Milne and Wm. Westcott. Resolutions of condolence were passed, and copies ordered to be presented to the families of deceased. Three more stalwart or better representatives of the club, or those whose loss the association would more keenly feel, could not have been taken. Considerable domestic business was also pushed through. It was decided to hold an "at home" and formal opening on Tuesday evening next, when a musical programme and refreshments will be the feature of the entertainment.

Interesting addresses were delivered by Messrs. John Macpherson (school trustee), W. A. Westland, ex-Ald. Ed. Parnell, J. M. McElroy, Ald. Gerry, Ald. Greenlees and others.

WARM TIME IN SYDNEY

Terrible Heat and Drought—A Final Relief—The Clergy Anticipated.

Mr. W. H. Sallmon, B.A., of Sydney, N. S. W., in a letter received in this city says:

20th October, 1898.
The heat this week has been intense. Yesterday the thermometer climbed to 97° in Sydney in the shade, and a few miles inland it was 103. The discomfort was intensified by a scorching hot wind which made the air seem like blasts from a furnace. Today the mercury has dropped to 83, so you can see how sudden and great the changes in temperature are. The country is suffering dreadfully from the drought. Sheep are dying by thousands, and in many districts the farmers are so despairing of a harvest that they are turning the stock into the fields to graze on the wheat, which they do not expect to come to ear. Next Sunday has been set apart as a day of humiliation and prayer for rain. There is a rumor that a cloud as big as a man's hand has appeared somewhere near, and a march may yet be stolen on the parsons.

NO WASTE OF WORDS.

Evidence Which is Right to the Point and Reliable.

Judge Frank Ives, of district court of Crookston, Minn., says: "For a long time I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with seeming great benefit with few exceptions. I have not been so free from indigestion for twenty-five years."

George W. Roosevelt, U. S. consul to Brussels, Belgium: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, safe, pleasant to take, convenient to carry, give keen appetite, perfect digestion."

W. D. Tomlin, mechanical engineer, Duluth, Minn.: "One box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has done its work, and I am again gaining flesh and strength."

O. E. Ransom, Hustonville, Ky.: "I was distressed and annoyed for two years with throwing up food, often two or three times a day; had no certainty of retaining a meal if I ate one. Four boxes of the tablets and my druggists have fully cured me. I find them pleasant to take, convenient to carry."

Rev. G. D. Brown, Mondovi, Wis.: "The effects of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is simply marvelous; a quite hearty dinner of broiled beefsteak causes no distress since I began their use."

Over six thousand people in the State of Michigan alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50 cents, or sent by mail on receipt of price from F. A. Stuart & Co., Marshall, Mich. Send for little book on stomach diseases mailed free. 95c zv

Our ideal moments are our best ones; our practical moments are risky. God teaches socialism; man elects to study individualism at his peril.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all Skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by all druggists.

It is hard to be imagined how simultaneously we can love and hate. Nature is formless and valueless until reflected in the soul of man.

Why will you allow Cough to larvae your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This syrup is pleasant to taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

Children are naturally ungrateful—God's children, especially.

The experienced handle life cautiously—they dread its fangs.

SNAPS

Snaps Kingsmill's

Snaps Kingsmill's

Snaps Kingsmill's

Snaps Kingsmill's

Snaps Kingsmill's

Snaps Kingsmill's

KINGSMILL'S

Dundas and Carling Streets.

Heavy All-Wool Serge

—Good quality; 52 inches wide; colors, light navy, dark navy, hussar blue, cardinal, grenat, scarlet, myrtle, black, cream, new browns; came to hand late; made to sell at 90c; yours today at....

55c

Brochea Trimming Silk

—17 inches wide; colors, medium brown, dark brown, gray, myrtle, olive, fawn; regular 60c; per yard.....

20c

Oddments in Black

All-Wool Dress Goods

—42 to 44 inches wide; Indian Cashmere, Jacquard Mohair Spots, Serges, Small Raised Figures; regular 45c to 60c per yard; today.....

30c

Seal Brown Silk Velvets

—oddments; 16 to 18 inches wide; various qualities; per yard..

25c

Two-Tone Velveteens

—Good qualities for trimmings; 25 inches wide, regular 75c, per yard.....

37½c

New Stripe Velveteen

for trimming—Scarlet and white, heliotrope and white, brown and white, black and white; regular 50c, per yard.....

25c

Pure Mohair Chinchilla

—for Children's Cloaks; brown and white, black and white, 54 inches wide; regular $3; per yard.....

$1.95

Bright Cardinal Mohair Curl

—for Children's Coats, 54 inches wide; regular $2; per yard.....

$1.40

Gentlemen's

Mufflers

And

Gloves

OUR stock of Wool, Cashmere and Silk Mufflers now complete. All the latest colors.

We also have a very choice range of Lined Gloves, in silk, wool and fur lined, for cold weather, in all sizes and at low prices.

GRAHAM BROS.

WORKING OF BUTTER

After the butter is salted it should be left for two or three hours, to allow the salt to dissolve. Then, by a second working, the excess of moisture may be expelled, the salt thoroughly mixed, and any streakiness in color corrected. It is not necessary that butter to be put in small prints, or for immediate consumption in a local market, should be worked the second time. The second working makes it drier. Care must be taken that the butter be not over-worked and made greasy. This may result from the butter being worked at a temperature either too high or too low. Where practicable, it should be worked at a temperature which leaves it in a waxy condition, causing it to bend about one-half towards the under layer when it is being doubled on the butter worker. A temperature of 50 degrees Fahr. will usually put the butter in the best condition for being worked. Sometimes injury results from a larger quantity being placed on the butter worker than can be handled conveniently.—Prof. Robertson.

Temptation is a spy upon our virtue, to be shot at sight.