Toothe and Graydon Excoriated for Tampering with Witnesses.

Claims That the Election Was a Pure One.

And Asks that Graydon's Evidence Be Credited Against All the Others -Judge Robertson and Judge Ferguson Differ On Points.

The last guns are being discharged in the great election battle at the court house. They are big guns, too Christopher Robinson, Q.C., fired his volley for the defense on Saturday night, Speaking from 8:15 to 11:30 o'clock without cessation. The judges sat at night especially for his accommodation, as he had to catch the early train for Toronto yesterday, to make connections for Europe. Mr. Osler kindly consented to have his argument broken to oblige Mr. Robinson, and this morning the great counsel for the petitioner resumed his masterly review of the evidence, clinching argument after argument with statutory authori-

Saturday Afternoon.

When the judges took their seats at 2 p.m., Mr. Osler resumed his address, delivered in his clear-cut, incisive, deliberate style. He launched into the Detroit group of charges, and first took up the case of Thomas Lloyd, a railway man. Lloyd had seen Graydon, and Graydon had solicited his vote. Lloyd said he could not pay his fare to London, and Graydon said Richardson would attend to him. Richardson afterwards "loaned" Lloyd $1 50, and presented him with a railway ticket. Lloyd had not repaid the said Lloyd was friendly to the other side. He was a respectable man, whose evidence could not be assailed. How was his evidence met? Mr. Osler then read from Richardson's evidence at Detroit, in which Richardson admitted he had "loaned" $1 50 and a railway ticket to London. Richardson had not been repaid the money, nor had he asked for it. Richardson could not remember that Graydon had told him to attend to Lloyd, as Lloyd had telegrams: "Don't touch Ingram; arranged for." Toothe sent that telegram sworn. Mr. Osler pointed out that Richardson had started off by deny ing he ever gave anything to Lloyd,

SUBSEQUENTLY CONFESSED to the ticket and $1 50. "Now," said Mr. Osler, "is that a transaction within the act, apart from the question of Judge Robertson-Suppose Richard-Mr. Osler said he would argue that Richardson was an agent. Mr. Osler then cited sub-section "a" of section 84 and section 88. According to subsection "a." any person who loaned. or agreed to give or loan any money or consideration to any voter to induce him to vote, was guilty of a corrupt practice: also by section 88, the same rule applied to railway tickets. Osler read a decision by Judge Street in East Elgin. Judge Street ruled that was a corrupt act for a candidate or agent to loan money to a voter if voter said he would not vote unless he received the loan.

JUDGES VS. JUDGE. Justice Robertson said it was duty of every man to vote, and Lloyd wanted to vote. Was Richardson's loan intended to "enable" Lloyd to vote, or to "induce" him to vote? Justice Ferguson-I don't agree with the general proposition of Mr. Justice Robertson, that a man should vote, if he did not want either of the can-

IT WAS NOT A LOAN. Mr. Osler quoted from Richardson's evidence to show that Lloyd never asked for a loan. It was proposed by Richardson. Lloyd was a stranger to Richardson. Richardson took no due bill and never asked for a return of the money. Richardson kept no ac-count of the loan to Lloyd. Lloyd said he did not have the money to enable him to go to London to vote, and Richardson offered to loan him the means. Mr. Osler submitted that the only question now left was the question as to Harold Richardson's agency. Mr. Osler then started to argue agency on Richardson's part.

AT A PRAYER MEETING. Graveon had sent Richardson into the meeting to get Lloyd. Richardson had therefore assisted Graydon in his work of canvassing and working for Beautie, This was a direct act of agency on Richardson's part. Mr. Osler read from Graydon's evidence to show that Graydon had written to Toothe, saying that Richardson would attend to certain Detroit voters. Here was another proof of Richardson's agency. Toothe telegraphs to Harold Richardson, "Send Harvey down at once." Here was another item of It was a telegram paid for by Mr. Beattie, the candidate. When Graydon was asked to explain this telegram he said that he had men-tioned Richardson to Toothe in connection with Lloyd's vote. Toothe was asked to produce that letter, but did not have it. Was it not proof that such was the case that Toothe had DESTROYED THE LETTER? Business men, who had nothing to conceal, did not destroy letters. Politicians who had something to conceal did destroy them. Mr. Osler further pointed out that Richardson had telegraphed to Gray- deputies, as the Grits were "on to" don on the night previous to the election. Then they had the evidence of Ryckman and Fitzhenry, Graydon, Richardson and others as to the association of Graydon and Richardson on that trip. The two were working in a common cause, as shown by telegram from Graydon to Richardson on election night, "Shake, my boy!" Add to this the whole position and object of the Graydon trip. "Graydon went to Detroit to see laboring men who could not afford to go to London to vote, and we are asked to believe that he went up there merely to see these voters. I am going to ask your lordships to believe that that late had never seen a sub-agent. THE CARTY EVIDENCE. Mr. Osler then went into the Carty evidence against Graydon, Here were three perfectly disinterested witnesses, unimpeached, unimpeachable. Two of them, John Carty and Alonzo Mills, had no votes, and lived in Detroit. It was an established fact that E. J. Carty received a ticket and money in an envelope to come to London and vote for Beattie. E. J. Carty swore N. P. Graydon gave him the money and tickets by the hand of John S. Carty. Graydon was not in the court when E. J. Carty gave his evidence, but when Graydon returned to the court from his unsuccessful search for Lockington in Detroit, he was identified by John S. Carty, to the best of Carty's knowledge. This ticket and money was given during Graydon's visit to Windsor and Detroit. The envelope bore the Crawford House im-

Mills were not impeachable witnesses. GRAYDON'S POSITION UNENVI-"I approach Mr. Graydon's evidence with great regret as a professional man, but I have to do it. "In a delicate class of cases it is laid down by some that it is more dishonorable for a man to tell the truth where the truth brings disgrace on another party whom he has com-promised. At any rate, it is club ethics to be the duty of a man to swear the matter through. Is this not a fair inference of Mr. Graydon's conduct? He confesses his ability to break the law. He has done it in an election. in which he is not interested; but he asks you to believe that although he did it in Norfolk, he would not do it in London! It is too much to ask.' THE TELL-TALE TELEGRAMS.

to Graydon. What did the word range" mean? Simply that Ingram had been paid for once, and Graydon was warned not to pay him again. A CORRUPT TRIP. "Again, my lords, if Graydon's trip was a pure one, why all this rush to Detroit to see witnesses before the commission sat? And why did Graydon search for Ryckman at midnight, and take him to Toothe's office, and keep him there till the hotels had closed? of feet without any pain. What it Simply because they were afraid of the truth. The man who steals votes is worse than the man who steals money. Any man With a clear conscience

"Just fancy a solicitor knowing a witness was under subpoena, and going to that witness. like Toothe has ing to that witness, like Toothe has done, and getting him to make a de-claration! What would your lordships say if it was not an election trial? Fancy such a standard of morality SHARKEY WAS THERE, TOO. "What have we Toothe and Graydon

Mr. Osler then said he would argue that the following were agents: Alf. McCoubrey, who, it was stated, took Johnston upstairs to have a drink, was not called to deny it; That would represent the ticket and the odd money.

THE MYSTERIOUS PAYNE. Mr. Osler then produced Mr. Toothe's private book and said: "There is an entry here of the $3 40 which Mr. Toothe says he paid for Payne's ticket. Put that under a magnifying glass, and you will see the $3 40 is written over other figures. Toothe swears the other item of $4 25 was paid to another Payne. He can't describe this other Payne—can't say whether he is an old or a young man."

Mr. Osler then read from the testimony of Fitzhenry, already published, with reference to getting money and a ticket from Graydon for Lock-You must remember, my lord, that Graydon spent two days looking for "It is true that Fitzhenry and Ryckman were not in the same walk of life as Graydon and had not the same advantages; but is that to weigh of these tickets. Against that you have Graydon's improbable statement -the statement of a man who was giving tickets for voters to go to an-

MEDDLING WITH WITNESSES. Mr. Osler pointed out that Ryckman had been in the court the first day the trial and had fled the next. He was afraid to go into the box and not tell the truth. Ryckman was a highly respectable young man, not of drinking habits, and why should he break his subpoena, except through the terrorization of Graydon, Toothe and others? Mr. Osler strongly denounced Graydon's action, as a solicitor, in attempting to get a declaration from a witness under subpoena.

JUDGES DIFFER. Justice Robertson, somewhat testily presuming all the evidence of the pesid Mr. Osler had no right to criticise Mr. Graydon in this way, as Graydon knew he would be attacked found to be $77 10. That was the abby Ryckman's evidence, and he (Graydon) naturally wished to see what Ryckman was going to say about him. Mr. Osler very emphatically differed amination of between 90 and 100 witwith his lordship. Mr. Graydon's acnesses. For obvious reasons a countions would not be tolerated in civil sel generally brought forward his best or criminal proceedings, and were a evidence first, and this was the re-fair subject of comment.

AN IMPORTANT CASE. As to the Fitzhenry case, it was a question between the credibility of Fitzhenry and Richardson. Richard-son said he did not know Fitzhenry. Richardson said he gave no money; but then he may have given it as a loan, as when the commission met he was simply asked whether he had paid or given the traveling expenses of Fitzhenry. There is one item of corroboration as to the story of Fitzhenry and Ryckman. It belongs to the class which leads almost to a conclusion. In both cases, the evidence is corroborated by the circumstance of the error in the voters' list. There were two men of the name of Wm. Fitzhenry— father and son? Is it possible that Fitzhenry could have invented the story that he was wanted to go down and personate his father? The Conservatives had a voters' list which had the name of his father on it; the real voters' list had "Wm. Fitzhenry, brakeman," on it. This was shown by the canvassing book. The Conservatives alone knew by their canvassing books that Fitzhenry's father's name was on a list in their possession Hence their anxiety to get Fitzhenry to go down early and vote instead of his father, who, they had told him, "the Grits had got hold of."

At 6:30 p.m. the court adjourned till 8:15.

Saturday Evening, The court room was full at the evening session, which by arrangement was devoted to Mr. Robinson, who had to leave the city on Sunday. Mr. Robinson, before entering upon Mr. Robinson, before entering upon his argument, expressed his regret at disarranging the usual order of things by speaking before Mr. Osler had finished. He had cabled in an endeavor to postpone his departure for England, but he had not succeeded. Mr. Robinson, in commencing his review of the evidence, pointed out that Mr. Toothe did not expect to receive one cent extra on account of the ceive one cent extra on account of the election. He was merely to receive his regular salary as secretary of the Conservative Association. Under these circumstances, he refuted his learned against them? Two witnesses swear friend's statement that the election that Graydon gave them money and would have been voided if Mr. Toothe's expenditures had been included in the statutory agent's returns. It was also very doubtful if Mr. Toothe had been guilty of a corrupt act in having voted. The petitioner had not claimed the seat, and upon the evidence it rould have been perfectly useless for him to do so.

Was this case one in which there was a desire on the part of the re-spondent to conduct the election legal ly and purely? He thought it was. Whatever the reputation of London and the developments of former elec tion trials, he could safely congratu-late the citizens of London upon its elevation of morals. In 1874 it was shown in an election trial in London that $40,000 had been spent in open corruption. In the present instance, after a trial lasting twelve days, after solute truth, giving the petitioners the credit of every word which they claimed was true; and after the ex-"I think so, too," said Judge Fergu- Osler had dealt largely in insinuations and reflections upon respondent's agents, for the alleged tampering with witnesses; yet a Liberal agent, one Cooper, had given $5 to a witness in payment for giving evidence. This was undisputed, and proved by Cooper's letter, produced by a witness for the petitioner. The petitioner largely his case on the charge that railway tickets were furnished several voters to come to London; yet they the sworn evidence of four men -Forkey, Howard, Ryckman and Knowles-that they came to vote on tickets furnished by Sippi, in the interests of the petitioner. One man swore he had taken the respondent's money for a ticket, and then had come down on a ticket furnished by the other side. "If this election is asked to be set aside in the interests of purity, then by all means let it stand as it is, always assuming the other side tells the truth. I never before met with a case like this-where the petitioner asked to have an election voided for a corrupt practice which, by the evidence of his own witnesses has been committed to a greater extent on his side than on

A RAP AT MR. OSLER. His learned friend had attributed to every act, apparently innocent, or which might have been innocent and guilty, the character of fraud and liegality. If anything was capable of two constructions, his friend asked that the worst be put upon it. If one went to London in the heat of an election campaign and believed every cock-and-bull story he heard, would not find an honest man in the It was asserted, and the speaker heard it himself, that the Imperial Oil Company contributed $30,to be ridiculously false.

600 to this election, but it was proven Mr. Robinson then ridiculed Col. Leys' wordy letter to Ryckman, and put a very bad construction on it. Mr. Robinson referred to the Lloyd charge, and claimed that there was no arrangement between Graydon and Richardson to pay Lloyd money or a ticket. The loan of $1 50 and the gift of a ticket by Richardson to Lloyd was not a corrupt act, as they were given to Lloyd to influence his e. Lloyd desired to vote for the respondent, and the money and ticket were given him to enable him to reach London.

GRAYDON DEFENDED. Mr. Graydon and Mr. Toothe had accounted in their books for every expenditure they had made, and the insinuation against Mr. Graydon, that because he received money the he went to Detroit, he took it with him to expend in bribery, was an insinu-ation made against a professional man in face of his cath that he did by which a case like this can be referred to the master? (Laughter.)

Judge Robertson—For the purpose of finding where the truth is?

Mr. Osler pointed to the statutory account of the election expenses, and he found there the Free Press account, which included payment for the advertisement, inviting all Conservative sympathizers to the club. The Conservative Association could was most remarkable. Mr. Robinson was not telling the truth. Mr. Robinson referred to the evidence of E. J. Carty, who said he had received $3 and a railway ticket from Mr. Graydon in Detroit. Mr. Robinson referred to the evidence of E. J. Carty, who said he had received $3 and a railway ticket from Mr. Graydon in Detroit. Mr. Robinson referred to the evidence of E. J. Carty, who said he had received $3 and a railway ticket from Mr. Graydon in Detroit. Mr. Robinson by sight at the time, but afterwards saw him in London and never spoke to him about the Detroit occurrence. This The Conservative Association could not repudiate that which took place at this club, as it was their head-quarters.

THE ATTIC ORGIES "On the night in question a number of men, not less than half a dozen voters, and sworn up to 15 or 30, were found incapacitated on these premises, and the club authorities ask your lordships to belless to half a dozen witness. Lockington had been brought from Detroit to give evidence by an unknown agent of the Liberals on the ground that if left to himself, someone might get hold of the witness and induce him to the witness and induce him to the liberals of the witness and induce him to the liberals of the witness and induce him to the liberals of the witness and induce him to the liberals of the l whom they were afraid to trust alone?

THE ATTIC ORGIES. Mr. Robinson took up the attic charges, and said there was even ground for the belief that the attic affair was a job put up against the Conservative party instead of by it. The crowd in the attic consisted of the refuse of both parties. They were helplessly, hopelessly, stupidly drunk. If it was true these orgies were promoted by any party on the most prominent street of the city, in the most public portion of London, and in full view of the other party's head-quarters, as the Conservative Club was, then that party must have sunk to a state of idlocy. Because some men smuggled some beer into a room above the club, which had not been used for weeks, were the club authorities to be held responsible? As well say that because one went home and found a drunken man there the householder was responsible for it? The men in the attic were the most degraded lot in the city, excepting Chalmers, Brock and Loughrey. 'UNIMPEACHABLE" WITNESSES.

Every one of them was contradicted by men of unimpeachable standing. There was not a word of evidence to show that any of the men in the attic had been asked about his vote, and every one of them was at a single corrupt act had been traced to an agent of the candidate. He ridiculed Mr. Osler's contention that all who frequented the Conservative Club were election agents.

He concluded his masterful address, of which the judges took copious notes. At 11:30 the court adjourned till 10 a.m. Monday.

Mr. Osler resumed at 19 a.m., taking up the attic charges with telling effect. Was the orgy all a bad dream on the part of the witnesses who were there? It now stood confessed that there were voters brought to the Con- Fall Into a Trap They Had Preservative headquarters intoxicated. and lured there and made intoxicated after they entered. It was also proven that the Conservative Association had full control of these rooms, for Mr. Toothe, their secretary, admitted he put men on the door, to control the attic in this way. Mr. Toothe and others would argue that they only took control after the harm had been done, and that some persons, not agents, promoted these orgies afterwards. So prominent an agent as Ald. Carrothers took a drunken man into those premises, in a state of inebriety towards which Ald. Carrothers' treat contributed. Now, it was admitted, that upon those premises, there was, earlier in the day, a keg of beer. It was also admitted by the defense that in the morning there were two kegs there. It was therefore made out by the evidence of the defense that sometime during the night, after Mr. Toothe's guards were put on, a further supply went to the attic. Starting with one keg early in the evening, the morning light disclosed the two. Either that, or a sufficient supply of beer was

BEFORE THE ORGY STARTED. As to when the beer went up, it was disclosed by evidence that it went up while four guards were on the door-Ivey, Butler, Graham and Jeffries. The only one of these called says it went up in the night; the other guards were not called to contradict him. They were asked not to believe Walter Stevenson's evidence because he was drunk; but it must be remembered that they were dealing with transactions in which only men were concerned who were subject to intoxicating drink. With regard to Stevenson, they had his wife's testimony, that he was absent from home all Monday night, and came home at 10 o'clock Tuesday (election) morning. She said

Captain-General Weyler Has a Narrow Escape from Capture -- Spanish Gunboat Seized and Burned.

Key West, Jan. 23 .- A horrible story from Jumento, Province of Santa Clara, teiling of quick retribution to the Spaniards for their butchery and barbarous method of war-fare. A Spanish force, under Capt. Martelli, entered the place, which had been the camp of the insurgents, and before going away secretly poisoned the wells and a fine spring n oted for affording extra pure water. That evover 25 men died. The guerilla captain charged the Cuban residents with cipal residents prisoners and snot them dead. He then turned the women over to the tender mercies of the men, who shot young boys who attempted to save their mothers and sisters and burned the village. The next day some of the Spanish troops told the guerillas the story of the trap they had set for the Cubans, and learned that their own companions in arms had been caught by their own barbarous plot.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Yesterday, last night and today, the coldest weather of the winter has been experienced in Buffalo. The mercury ranged yesterday between zero and iten above. Last night the mercury fell slightly below zero, and at 9 this morning had risen to four above, owing to a change in the direction of the wind from the northwest to the southwest. The wind blew a gale of forty-four miles an hour last night.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 25.—An intense cold wave prevailed yesterday, with a strong and bitterly cold wind blowing. Flurries of snow were also experienced. Last night the local weather bureau reports 13 above zero and still Austin, Texas, Jan. 25.—A cold wave struck this section today, and has been increasing in velocity until last night, when a drizzling rain begun, which is freezing as it falls, covering everything with ice. Reports from stock ranges in the west of the State say that much apprehension of severe loss is felt, as many herds are without shelter. At Dallas the mercury dropped from 46 to 16, and snow fell last night—an anomaly in Texas.

BLIZZARDS IN MICHIGAN. Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 24.-The force of the blizzard which has been prevailing for 36 hours seems to be increasing, and so far no delay has been caused transportation. Snow, which fell this morning, was pinkish in tinge, and opinions are divided as to the cause. Some think the beautiful was mixed with sand from Lake Michigan bluffs, the storm coming from that direction.

IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The snow storm, which began on Friday, continues, and is causing many interruptions of travel and other inconveniences. Many sheep and other animals have perished, and the losses sustained by farmers and others will be quite heavy. The snow is so deep between Hastings and Brighton that a number of trains have been blocked, an occurrence which is sel-dom heard of in that part of the country.

Special to The Advertiser. The thermometer this morning at 9 o'clock in Toronto registered 3 below zero. The observatory reports that

THE PARLIAMENTARY "SHE-

London, Jan. 25 .- It can hardly be said whether Sir Wilfred Lawson was in earnest in calling the attention of the House of Commons to the illegality of its own drink traffic, and members of the Commons, so often called "the best club in London," were at first highly amused at the idea of cutting off its own wine and whisky But solemn Sir Richard Webthe Attorney-General, after much research, is driven to the conclusion that the makers of the law are themselves shameless breakers of it and that the only thing to do is t pass a necessary little bill, "if time permits," as no doubt it will. Another way out of this drinkless desert has been suggested by the fact that the Queen has a private room in the House, and that, therefore, as a royal palace, it is above the license law. It is true that at the present moment the sacred precincts of the Imperial Parliament building have been technically nothing but a glorified and magnificent "shebeen," and that the discovery is one of the few sensations of a young but dreary session.

BRITISH SHIPBUILDING TRADE. London, Jan. 25 .- The returns of shipping being built in the United Kingdom during the past year show a considerable revival of the industry. At the present date the tonnage under construction in this country is 784,711 (755,995 steam and 28,736 sailing). This total is 73,000 tons more than the total at December, 1895. During 1896, 628 steamers of 1,113,831 tons and 68 sailing vessels of 45,920 tons have been launched in the United Kingdom. In addition to this tonnage the warships launched during 1896 were 55 of 163,958 tons displacement. The total output for 1896 in the United Kingdom ex-ceeds that of 1895 by 208,000 tons. In 1892 the sailing output was 24 per cent of the whole; in 1896 the sailing tonnage was only 4 per cent of the output, suggesting the steady extinction He that goes to sea must smell of of sailing merchantmen. The Clyde the ship.—Stephen Gosson.

The Government Scored by a still retains the lead in the building of sailing ships, furnishing 77 per cent of the sailing vessels built in this country. At the end of 1896 two first-class battleships were building here for Japan, besides 62,000 tons of steam shipping. Germany, comes, next to shipping. Germany comes next to Japan as a customer, over 10 per cent of our total output for 1896 being for German owners.

"Gentlemen,-I have for a long time been afflicted with extreme nervousness, and ailments resulting therefrom. Frequently I had sharp pains under heart. At times my memory was my heart. At times my memory was clouded, which was a great annoyance to me in my business, causing me to forget orders which were given to me, there was a sort of mist came before my eyes, and I was extremely dizzy. One of the worst features was that business matters of small importance assumed exaggerated forms, and I brooded over them unnecessarily. At night I would often wake up with a start and it would be a long time be-fore I could again compose my-self to sleep. So unstrung were to sleep. So unstrung were nerves that I had fits of trembling occasionally, and cold sensations would run down imbs. The least excitement or noise startled me and set my heart flutter-

New York—Dear Sir: For the encouragement of others in similar circumstances to what I have been, I think it right for me to return my heartfelt thanks to you for the benefit I have received from the use of the Radway medicines. I had been afflicted over six years with tumor in the abdomen. Had been to six of the best doctors I could hear of in Iowa. They all told me the same story, that my trouble was out of the reach of medicine, and that it would in time kill me. I happened to see in your Almanao about tumors being cured. I immediately, as a last resort, resolved to try your treatment. To my great surprise I soon experienced good effects, and with only using three bottles of the Resolvent, one of the Ready Relief, and by continuing on with the Fills longer, I was completely cured. I was so enlarged that I was 4 feet 2 inches around, while now I measure 21 feet around. Before using your medicine I had not laid down in six months. Now, if this sketch will be of any benefit to suffering humanity, I am willing to have it published. Yours with respects.

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Oure

MILVERTON, 28TH JULY, 1895. Gentlemen,-For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four baxes. JOHN BILEY.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Family Turned Out With the Murcury 19° Below Zero-Student Burned to Death

Chicago, Jan. 25,—The four-story residence of Charles J. Barnes, 2,237 Calumet avenue, was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. With the mercury 19 degrees below zero, all were forced to flee in scant attire to save their lives. A maid servant named Kitty, was overcome by smoke and carried out by the firemen. Mr. Barnes' library is said to have been one of the finest in the United States, This was entirely destroyed, and, with the damage to the building and furnishings, will make the loss over $200,- Brattleboro, Vt., Jan, 25 .- The Welcome Ramsdell building, at West Brat-tleboro, was burned early this morning. Leroy Amidon, a student at Brat-tleboro Academy, was burned to death, and the family of L. R. Knapp had a narrow escape

They dared the closed their case! They dared the closed their case! They dared then closed their case! They dared then closed their case! They dared the closed t ute. My learned friends, acting for and then closed their case! They dared not put these men into the box. They knew that these men must confirm the story of those who were imprisoned in the attic. Then from the mouth of one of the witnesses for the defense comes a cogent bit of testimony. Angry at the treatment his brother had, he sees Dillon in the morning, and speaks sharply to him. They have words about it. Johnston says that his brother came in there as a refuge from the 'Grits." Take that incident. Does it not show that Dillon knew all about tive Club and had canvassed his vote. ti? Why should he say, "I would'nt have it occur for $100"? Why should Tracey asked him to vote for Beattle. the difficulty. Here at Deleau we are in a position to profit by the arrange-vote for Beattie"? alluding to the evidence that he had driven a voter to wounds and the condition he was in.
It is very easy for Dillon to say, "I was sitting in the premises playing cards, and I did not go up all night," to be delivered at the Conservative because he did not go up. But this Club. Toothe had paid all the exincident lets the rift of truth in. This penses. INTENTION OF THE OUTRAGE. In reply to the judge, Mr. Osler said that the attic charges came under the 87th section, which declared it was an infringement of the law to encourage a voter to drink, so that he would be helpless, and then to restrain him from going out. Mr. Osler said that the window of the attic was left open for ventilation, which was probably badly needed, and the rush of the voters to these windows had not been calculated on

ALF McCOUBREY'S SHARE IN IT. Wright referred Johnston to Alf McCoubrey, who was behind a counter attending to such matters. Johnston said that McCoubrey told Wright to take him (Johnston) upstairs to have

They the attle; but did they make any attempt to remove it? No; they let it stay there. The janitor, Griffiths, admitted he heard there was a row, and the put in the put could not be got to deny in"

THE ATTACK ON THE WITNESSES "With all due deference to the character of these attic witnesses, they are thought good enough to take to their club rooms. It would have been a good deal better instead of criticis-ing Johnston's evidence, to have met it with the evidence of Wright and McCoubrey.

"That there was restraint on Johnston is proved by the fact that he was the man at the window, and was seen at dusk by independent witnesses. He threw his cap out and his cap was picked up.

ALD, CARROTHERS' CONDUCT. "We have shown that the before election Stevenson was with Cooper, a Liberal, when Ald. Carrothers walks away with Stevenson, and, according to his own account, takes him to a saloon and treats him, Stevenson being already drunk, and then, after giving him more drink, takes him to the Conservative

Judge Ferguson-Wasn't Carrothers' treating general? Mr. Osler—Carrothers treats when it is thought he cannot recover he is selling beer, but on the day before the election he takes a voter away from another man. Mr. Osler showed from the sworn evidence of McFadden that Carrothers had gone down a lane to get Stevenson, who was conversing with a Liberal at the time. Carrothers was just the class of voter Carrothers (who spent $30 a week in treating), was qualified to pick up. This was the testimony of McFadden, a cus-toms house clerk appointed by the Conservatives. Yet Carrothers swore Why was Stevenson in such a condition next day? And why did John- first. UNDENIED EVIDENCE. Mr. Osler then attended to Frank Cameron and John Murphy, who said they were taken to the attic by Thos. ("Skitters") Webb. Webb was not called to deny it. Moss had delivered 200 pounds of ice in the back room of the Conservative Club. "Who ordered the ice?" Moss had been asked. "Goosey Wheeler." replied Moss Wheeler was a hanger-on of the Conservative party, paid by Mr. Toothe. On June 19 Wheeler had been paid $1 50 ter Moss had delivered the ice, Wheeler told him to drive around to the front of the club. Then Wheeler takes Moss upstairs one flight, and Wheeler told a gentleman to give Moss 25 cents. Moss did not know who the gentle-"And yet Mr. Robinson hints that this beer and ice was brought there, and was a job put up by the Liberalst' Mr. Osler pointed out that John Isaiah Cooper was another man who had figured in the attic, but was called by the defense. Mr. Osler then argued that Tracey was an agent and repeated that Major Beattie's advertisement called upon all Conservatives to go to the club to work-not to drink. Tracey was proved an agent by the evidence of John Sherlock, Pat Moore, and John R. Minhinnick. Sherlock said Tracey had canvassed him. Moore said Tra-cey had canvassed him and paid him money. J. R. Minhinnick had sworn that he frequently consulted Tracey about election work. Mr. Beattle, the candidate, also swore that Tracey had told him that he would get his (Tracey's) brother-in-law to vote for him. Howard was a voter, drunk and in danger of being bun in by the police, the day before the election, and Minhinnick, according to his own account, took him up to the attic, and left him sitting near the beer barrel. Minhinnick, Howard swore, invited him to go to the attic to have refreshments, Minhinnick asked him to take two glasses and he took it. Frank Wright tried to take

Mr. Osler referred to the testimony of George Johnton, who gave his evidence very clearly. Johnston said he had been taken to the Conservative Club by Frank Wright to see about his vote.

Mr. Osler read from Hughes' evi-

THE FRENCH CAMP

Visited by Ex-Mayor Spencer, Inspector Sanders, C. C. Hodgins, Ald. Bennet and Others.

Humane Iinspector Sanders and ex-Mayor Spencer paid a visit to the camp of the French gipsies on Satur-Little, C. C. Hodgins and others, a large quantity of food had been supoatmeal, potatoes, apples, biscuits, tea, sugar and other things, including clothing. Mr. Sanders and Mr. Spencer waited on the high constable this morning, but he could do nothing more than he has already done towards recovering their horses.

Mr. Sanders has ascertained that many persons have had their interest aroused by The Advertiser's description of the camp, and that they are collecting articles to send there. Mr. Sanders promises to keep the public informed regarding them, and asks that anyone having either food or clothing to bestow will communicate with him. He knows just what is needed, and thinks too much food is being sent. All money contributions should be given to the inspector. The tribe experienced a cold night last night, and they are unaccustomed to this kind of weather. C. C. Hodgins will likely bring the matter before the County Board of Health this af-

A FATAL SLIP.

Death of a Toronto Lawyer by Falling on the Sidewalk.

Toronto, Jan. 25 .- Two distressing $7,000. deaths of little children have been recorded in Parkdale through falling on the icy sidewalk, and again on Saturday, as a result of a fall, Mr. Henry rival, through the generosity of Mayor T. Ince, a well-known and respected barrister, lost his life. The sidewalk at the southwest corner of Richmond and Yonge streets was in a very slipplied them, consisting of bread, meat, pery condition, and Mr. Ince fell striking the back of his head on the hard stone pavement. While waiting for Dr. Barrick, who had been called by telephone, the sufferer lost con-sciousness, and remained in that state despite all the efforts of a doctor, who found that a blood-vessel of the brain had been ruptured. Mr. Ince never recovered consciousness, and died last evening.

> SHEER ROTTENNESS: London, January 25 .- It appears from latest developments that on Nov. 25 Russia formally assented to Lord Salisbury's proposals. This hasty change of policy probably is due to the Czar's personal intervention, and is strong evidence that an even greater danger than Mohammedan fanaticism was the collapse of Abdul's rule from sheer rottenness.

Monday Afternoon.

When the court resumed at 2:10 p.m., Mr. Osier, who had already spoken seven hours, continued his masterly address. He still devoted himself to the attic charges. Wm. Fletcher, the janitor of the court house, had seen Hugh McGurdy, come out of the Conservative Cluib at 8 a.m. on election morning, as if shot out of a gun. It was in evidence that T. H. Smallman had taken Mc-Gurdy to vote from the region of the Conservative Club. McGurdy had been subpoenaed, but had been sent out of the Province. Joseph Flavin, another witness, had taken the last glass of beer out of the keg in the morning, and had then been taken to the polls in a hack. John Bartlett had also been driven to vote in a hack from the Conservative Club by Hugh Sharkey. Great weight should be given to the evidence of the witness, Chalmers, an ex-policeman, who was not drunk, and Dillon about a note, which Chalmers was trying to meet; but should that weigh against his evidence? Chalmers mentioned those in the attic and the contradict Chalmers, as they might THE BEER RECORDS.

Peel was now in jail, and could have been call-ed by the defense, but he was not. Peel should have been called just as McCoubrey should have been called. How was Griffiths, the janitor, to be believed when he said the door of the attic was broken into? McKenna, Brinstead, Brock, Loughrey and others called to her: swore the door was locked.

HIS GREAT NOSE. Life and Letters of Dr. Samuel Butler.

"There was a certain exciseman in Shrewsbury who was very trim and neat in his attire, but who had a bottle nose of more than usual size. As he passed through the school lane the boys used to call him 'Nosey,' and this made him so angry that he complained to Dr. Butler, who sympathized, and sent for the head boy, to whom he gave strict injunctions that the boys should not say 'Nosey' any more. "Next day, however, the exciseman, reappeared, even more angry than be-It seems that not a boy had said 'Nosey,' but that .as soon as he was seen coming the boys ranged themselves in two lines, through which he must pass, and all fixed their eyes intently upon his nose. "What do you mean, my son?" de-manded his father, who saw that something was very wrong between them, and was almost in despair over his inexplicable conduct.

"Has he not told you how I cheated him out of his wife?" Everet asked, supposing, of course, that that wretched story had been rehearsed. "Cheated him out of his wife!" repeated Colonel Mapleson, growing pale, and glancing apprehensively from one

"Ha!" and now Everet Mapleson seemed suddenly galvanized. "Did Annie Dale have another child?" he demanded, with hueless lips. "No; but she is your mother's child by a former marriage."

"Great heaven!" There was no defiance or recklessness in his manner now. He sank breathless upon a chafr, a horrified look upon his face, a shiver shaking him from head to foot, perspiration start-

"My mother's child! Impossible! Who told you?" the questioned hoarsely.
"Your mother herself. She was un expectedly brought face to face with Mr. Huntress tonight; she recognized him, and fainted. Upon recovering she confessed to a former marriage, and said, in order to conceal the fact, she had been obliged to give away her child—that Mr. Huntress was the man

When the physician arrived he said his patient had evidently been suffer-ing from a severe cold for several days, and that this, with weariness of body and a sudden shock of some kind, had brought on the hemorrhage, while there were also some indications of a brain trouble, and a severe illness would doubtless result.

Mr. Huntress and Geoffrey proposed going away early the next morning, but Colonel Mapleson, who seemed greatly unnerved by the excitment of the previous evening, begged them to remain for a few days at least, as he could not bear to give up Geoffrey so

Fitzgerald, Seandrett & Co,. 169 DUNDAS STREET.

To the Shareholders of the Colorado Gold Mining & Development Co.

The foregoing advertisement is self-explanatory and shows the faith the managing director has in the future of this Company.

The present dividend of 1 per cent. a month on the shares of this Company is guaranteed for a period of five years by Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., Bankers, and the Managing Director, J. Grant Lyman. The same shares offered by the Company, carrying the same dividend, but not guaranteed by Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., or J. Grant Lyman, we are offering for 75c.

It goes without saying that the Company, in order to pay dividends on part of its stock, must pay dividends on all, as there is no such thing as "preferred stock," but in personally and jointly guaranteeing these dividends we make assurance a positive fact, and, of course, such stock is worth more money.

The writer of this letter now holds over 250,-000 shares of this stock, and the proposed improvements should result in a material increase in my dividends as well as enhance the value of my stock, consequently I feel that I can well afford to guarantee dividends on such an amount of stock as it will be necessary for the Company to sell in order that they may make the improvements outlined.

The benefits that will accrue to the Managing Director every shareholder will participate in in direct proportion to his interest in the Company without incurring the liability that the Managing Director assumes.

In order that there can be no question as to whether my guarantee is good or not, I have arranged for a further guarantee by Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., Bankers, thus insuring the payment of the dividends without the shadow of a doubt.

Trusting you will appreciate the efforts we are putting forth for the benefit of this Company,

I remain, dear sirs,

But he grew steadily worse, and raved in the wildest delirium, recogizing no one, although there was no return of the hemorrhage. At the end f four days Mr. Huntress decided that he must go home, but Geoffrey con-cluded that it was his duty to remain with his father until the crisis in Everet's illness should be passed, for Col. presence. He proved the greatest assistance in the sick-room, where he attended Everet most faithfully, and endeared himself to the whole household by his gentlemanly and courteous bearing. At the end of three weeks the fever turned, and Everet was pronounced out of danger of any further brain trouble, although it would be a long time before he would fully recover from the weekness of his langer. from the weakness of his lungs.
Geoffrey withdrew himself immediately from the sick-room as soon as the patient recovered consciousness, realizing that his presence might be annoying to Everet, and retard his convalescence; although he remained at Vue de l'Eau for another week, at the earnest request of both Colonel and Mrs. Mapleson.

Then he felt that he could not stay onger from Gladys, and he returned to Brooklyn, taking with him the knowledge of his father's firm and lasting affection, and Mrs. Mapleson's respect and friendship, together with the handsome fortune which he had inherited from Robert Dale, and which Colonel Mapleson had transferred to

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.-Telegrams from Australia state that the dead body of Lesage, who, along with A. T. Preston and Capt. Leeweller, was murdered by Frank Butler, had been found at Parker, in the bush back of Sydney, N. S. W. A steamer has also reached here from Sydney, which had passed the Nova Scotia ship Swanhilda, (Capt. Fraser), of Pictou, on which Butler fied from Sydney for San Francisco, taking the name of one of his victims, Leeweller. Before the steamer left. Sydney for here the story of Butler's crimes was known. On passing the Swanhilda, the steamer captain signaled Capt. Fra-welve Per Cent.

For the purpose of putting in an electrical plant to generate power sufficient to operate a twenty-stamp mill, hoists, electrical drills and light the mines, The Colorado Gold Mining & Development Company offer 100,000 shares of treasury stock at 85c per share, on which a dividend at the rate of 1 per cent. per month is guaranteed for five years.

In the Keyes, Keyes Extension and Three Chimneys the Company have three splendid properties from which it is now taking pay ore, and negotiations have just been concluded for the fourth, which gives it four great properties in the Keyesville District, Kern County, California, a county which has produced gold to the value of more than a hundred millions of dollars since its discovery.

This group of mines presents a combination of seven full mining claims, making an aggregate extent of two miles with a full width throughout of 600 feet. The body of ore is enormous in quantity and of high grade. It is free milling, and more than ninety per cent. can be saved.

The Kern River, the second largest river in the State, is about one mile from the mines, and it is the intention of the Company to introduce a system of undershot wheels in the river, thereby generating sufficient power to operate the dynamos for the electrical plant as above outlined.

When the proposed improvements are completed, the cost of mining and milling will not exceed $2.50 per ton, and as the average value of the ore is $40 per ton, it is believed our net earnings will average one thousand dollars a day, which will insure dividends of at least three per cent a month on the par value of the shares, and those most intimately connected with the Company are sufficiently assured of its earning power to guarantee dividends on such an amount of stock as it may be necessary to sell in order to provide for the machinery necessary to enhance the Company's earning power to what is believed will prove thirty-six per cent. per annum.

At the price the shares are now offered, with the present rate of dividend, they not the investor at the rate of fourteen per cent. per annum, and we are justified in saying that shares in THE COLORADO GOLD MINING & DEVELOPMENT COMPANY are by far the best investment offered in the Dominion to-day, combining as they do, perfect safety with a high rate of interest.

In order to assure investors of the absolute stability of the investment offered, Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., Bankers, together with the managing director, J. Grant Lyman, persongly and jointly guarantee dividends at the rate of one per cent a month on the par value of the shares for five years.

Every guaranteed certificate will have the guarantee stamped across the face of it and be signed by Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., and J. Grant Lyman. Only one hundred thousand shares of guaranteed stock will be offered and no guaranteed certificate for less than one hundred shares will be issued, and the Company, reserves the right to withdraw it from sale without notice. The price of the shares will be advanced to one dollar on February 1st., 1897. Intending purchasers of mining shares will please note the following features of this enterprise :-

First-The Company is not in the experimental stage, but an established enterprise with an assured earning capacity, extending its operations.

Second-Out proposition is purely a business one, as we buy only such properties as show a profit over our investment and do not buy "prospects."

Third-Every shareholder stands on the same basis, no shares being given away or set aside for an officer or director, except as they are paid for the same as by other shareholders.

Fourth—The payment of the dividends is assured beyona all question.

Subscription books are now open at the office of LOWNSBROUGH & CO., Bankers and Brokers, 22 King Street, East, Toronto, Ont., where J. Grant Lyman, Managing Director, will be pleased to receive your subscription for such number of shares of the above Company as will be agreeable to you: price 85 cents per share, par value $1.00, full-paid and non-assessable, and subject to no further call. Rev. J. W. Pedley on the Great Arbitration Treaty.

Popular Men's Meetings at the Auditorium-Other Church Matters.

The recent signing of the treaty between England and the United States to preserve peace for the next five years was the foundation for Rev. J. W. Pedley's remarks at the First Congregational Church last night, on "International Arbitration." The speaker in an able manner pointed out the tremendous significance of this event. In it was a hint as to the direction in which the world is moving-that is, from war to peace. True, there never was a time when so much money was spent, nor so many preparations made for war as now by the civilized hations of the world; but they day was coming when the military schools would be abolished and the last thing a man would think of learning would be war. The most highly civilized nations of the world; but the day was teeth, ever ready to engage in battle when the fighting mania broke out, just like tribes of savage Indians two centuries ago. It may be that the promoters of this treaty have brought about the greatest event of this greatest of centuries. When it goes before Congress there will be a long, stern, bitter opposition by men who want to think that stocks will go up and have an opportunity to break out; but, -The following advertisement ap- said the speaker, "the fight is on. day Peace, the white-roped

(Dr.) Smith, Mitchell." The future was bright for Christiauity and for social improvement, the preacher firmly held. Despite the cold weather, the church was filled. The cause of home missions was ably advocated yesterday morning in Adelaide Street Baptist Church by Rev. John P. McEwen, of Toronto, president of the Baptist Home Mission Board. The reverend gentleman gave interesting summary of the opera-tions and progress of this important branch of work, and aided by a large map, pointed out the territory covered by the board's missionaries and the vast area in the very heart of the Dominion where spiritual and material destitution prevailed. In the past twelve years the denomination has opened up many new fields, 120 chapels have been built and 100 churches organized. In the same period 65 mission churches have not only become selfsustaining, but have contributed over $5,000 to the work in India and Que-

John Wilhelm, of North Easthope, has invoked the aid of the police to assist, if possible, in ascertaining his daughter's whereabouts. The young woman, who is about 16, and with mind unbalanced, left her Sunday night last, and no tidings so far have been learned of her. Her disappearance has caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood, as the night in question was one of the most old of the season, and it is feared that she may have suffered from exposure. As Mr. and Mrs. Alward, of Strafordville, were driving to Richmond on Friday, a satchel containing about purse, note for $100, and some other papers, dropped out of their democrat. Although they drove back over the route, it could not be found. They passed an old man on the road, and he was followed to Eden, but denied seeing it. After they left him the man hired a party to drive him to Tilsonburg, and then took the train for St. Thomas. It was afterwards ascertained that this man, who turned out to be a sailor named John White, of Sparta, left $20 with a bartender in St. Thomas. He was arrested and will be tried at Eden. The purse was found behind an hotel at Eden, where it is supposed White threw it when he was being pursued.
