LONDON, THURSDAY, MAY 1. THE STIFLING OF JUSTICE.

The withdrawal of Mr. Proudfoot and his counsel, Mr. Dewart, was the only means left them of protesting against the arbitrary attitude of the Privileges and Elections Committee The partisan majority of the committee refused to permit certain questions to be asked bearing upon the payment of the $500 to Mr. Hanna by the Government contractor, Mr. Taylor. The chairman persistently impeded Mr. Proudfoot's counsel during the whole inquiry, and capped the climax by ruling that as the payment of $500 had been admitted, no evidence tending to throw light on the motives of Mr. Hanna in accepting or asking for the money, was admissible. As Mr. Dewart said: "How is the committee to know whether such actions are correct and subversive of good government if I am not permitted to go into details? I want to show the relative positions of the parties (Mr. Hanna and Mr. Taylor) at that time, and the relations between them." The committee's response to this is summed up in the defiant remark of Mr. Mc-Garry, M. P. P .:

"There is nothing for us to invesmade by the Provincial Secretary's of the community. counsel."

With the partisans of the commitself against a stone wall. "It is doing have to be withdrawn. me a great injustice," said his counsel, "and it is impossible for me to bring out in this committee the facts necessary for this investigation."

The chairman showed his grotesque inconsistency by (1) declaring ther the payment to Mr. Hanna was Chairman Ferguson appeared to be hard lives of the women and children evidence bearing on the question of counsel for the defendants. corruption could be admitted, (3) by proclaim the purity of his motives, and take money from Government con-(4) by then expunging Mr. Hanna's defence from the record. There was never a more stultifying parcel of contradictions in the name of judicial inquiry! The finding of such a tribunal is discredited in advance. If Sir James Whitney and Mr. Hanna are satisfied with such coats of whitewash, their public virtue is not much deeper than these vestments.

THE POWERS AND PEACE.

Ever since it became evident that in the contest between the Turk and the Balkan allies, the former was going to be defeated, the great powers of Europe have been trying to arrange terms of peace Had the Ottoman leaders recognized the inevitable when negotiations first commenced, it would have been better for all parties. The Turks would have saved some territory, and the allies would have saved both blood and treasure. Besides which, peace might have been arranged without complica

The result is that now, when peace seems to be agreed upon, conditions arise which threaten war. Both the powers and the allies appear to have proud boast: been of the opinion that Albania, a Turkish dependency south of Montenegro, should be made an autonomous state. If that is done, then Scu- are trying to jam through Parliament tari is the only available and natural place for the capital. But Montenegro wants Scutari, has got it, and proposes to keep it, despite the arrangement made by the powers. Will this arrangement be insisted upon? Then will Montenegro be forced out, or

The probabilities are that if it were not for Austria, the other powers would be content with the present situation. It does seem rather hard that the little mountain state, which was the first to throw down the gauntlet to Turkey, which has spent more money and lost more men, and done more fighting, in proportion to its population, than any of the allies, should be deprived of the fruits of its victory. Is it worth while for her big neighbors to rob and humiliate her in the interests of peace? But Austria insists, and it looks as though that empire must be reckoned with if the little Balkan war is not to be the flame that shall set all the other nations on fire. And this, after all, is the important question. It may be considered probable that, if Turkey and the Balkan States were alone concerned, they might have been allowed to fight it out are rare." With her own Slavonic population at home, and with an uncertainty as to what allies among the other powers she could depend upon, the risk is too great to admit of hasty action. So that we may hope diplomacy will find a way out of the imbroglio.

A PIECE OF PATERNALISM.

A characteristic piece of paternalism on the part of the Ontario Government, and yet also a typical example of the slackness and ignorance of its personnel appears in the new Library Board Act. Met with protests on all sides from men interested in the boat for, Pat? the Public Library movement, Dr. Pyne has to confess that he had known nothing of the details of the act. About all he knew was the name of it. But his bureau put it through under his stamp, without consulting either him or library men, pro bono publico.

The legal committee and the executive committee of the Ontario Library Association, who are supposed to advise the Government, were as much ignored as the advisory council on education. Not even mere courtesy was shown them. The Library Association was taken entirely by sur-

[Halifax Chronicle.] Hon, George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is a high authorty in the Conservative party. He is inquestionably the ablest member of When in he present Government. England last summer, he made speech at the London Chamber Commerce, in which he made "We have no steamroller in Canada or guillotine or kangaroo, and I pray God we may never have it." Mr. Foster is far away in Australia today, while his colleagues measure which embodies the steamroller and the guillotine, and which in some of its features is worse than even the kangaroo. No wonder, as Dr. Pugsley aptly suggested, that Mr. Foster was sent away.

S. Hyman team, with the aid of a couple of Mr. Deneau's pitchers, managed to put up a pretty respectable article of ball against the local Canadian Leaguers at Tecumseh Park. For nine innings the teams played good baseball, with the pitchers carrying the bulk of the work. The final score was: London 4, Hymans 1, a decided relief from the double-figured scores of Monday and Tuesday.

NICHOLLS PITCHED FOR HYMANS. The game was arranged on short notice, so that it was impossible for Manager Parker, of the Hymans, to get his full team together. However, he managed to get nine players over to the park and with the kindness of Manager Deneau, "Duck" Nicholls was loaned to the tanners for a few innings. The result was a good ball game, and the hundred and fifty or so fans who were present enjoyed every bit of it. It was real mid-season baseball and a glance at the error column will disclose the fact that neither team made a

ENGLISH POLO TEAM HAS BEEN REARRANGED

Shift of Players Said to Make Team Much Stronger. [Canadian Press.]

New York, May 1. - A cable to the Tribune from London says:
Although the loss of Walter S. Buckmaster from the English polo team is regarded as a great misfortune, in some quarters there seems to be a growing idea that the team will really be strengthened by the substitution of Capt. Lockett.

One of England's best-known polytoday players said when questioned today:
"I would not for a minute make any reflection upon Buckmaster or Freake, but I really believe the team as now constituted will be superior to the former four. Buckmaster and Freake have long been known as splendid, heady players, but youth will be serv-ed, and Capt. Ritson, Capt. Edwards, and Capt. Cheape are full of action "Capt. Lockett, even if not so brilliant as Buckmaster, is still a reliable man. I feel that the chances of winning are much better today, following the changes, than yesterday, and expect to welcome the cup back to Eng-

Rev. Mr. Fysh Says Protestants Need Waking-The Ne Temere Decree Discussed.

Bilingualism was perhaps the most prominent topic of discussion at the at him. Protestant mass meeting in the Auditorium on Wednesday evening. The Auditorium was well filled. Mayor Graham presided as chairman at the meeting and introduced as the first speaker Mayor Hocken, of Toronto.

Mayor Hocken commenced his address by referring briefly to the past history of the Orange Order, which, he said, had always been tolerant-minded, and had always preached and eneavored to practice tolerance.
"A band of men who have been incorruptible politically for over half a century is a band of citizens worthy of consideration," he said. He then took up the question of bilingual schools in Eastern Ontario, and in other counties. "Every person," he declared, "who knows the value of the English language as a means of com-Detroit, May 1.—Tommy Hudson's the fact that bilingualism, and multihopes of a return to prominence in the lingualism, which it leads to, is a fistic game were shattered last evening thing to be abhorred." be right. The Supreme Issue.

He reviewed the work done by the Orange Order in bringing the attention of the Ontario Legislature to the condition of affairs in the eastern pects are that London will have one most of the seats. In its early stages it was not especially enthusing. Coulon did not start to set any pace until the fourth round, though during the time preceding he had shown his class as a two-handed fighter, with an especially worrying left jab, and an ability to block blows. Hudson was willing all the way, and made a good fight of it, mixing it with the champion, and frequently landing on him.

The condition of affairs in the eastern part of the Province. Bilingualism he considered the supreme issue in Ontario. Transport of the Province and advocate of prohibition, and I believe in temperance, but I think that bilingualism is the supreme issue in Ontario. It is a greater menace than any question we have. This thing strikes at the very existence of the Province are an English. ence of the Province as an English-speaking province. There could be no greater degradation to the people of Ontario than to have the English language driven out of a single coun-

Alleges a Conspiracy.
He expressed the belief that there was a conspiracy to get hold of all the land in Eastern Ontario and set-tle it with French Catholics, and that money from secret sources was being supplied with this end in view. Thus the French element gradually became deminant in the community, French school trustees were elected, and the schools soon became bilingual and Roman Catholic in their influence. Many affidavits had ben obtained showing this to be true.

He touched briefly upon the ne temere decree, and the Mrs. Tremblay case, in which he said the Orange Orler had put up $2,000 to help a woman who was not even a Protestant, and never would be, in order to show that British law is British law in Canada as elsewhere, and that cclesiastical decrees were of no effect. "If we could organize Protestants nto a great non-partisan political party there would be no reason to fear for the future of this great country," h remarked in closing.

Rev. H. A. Fish. Rev. H. A. Fish, of Owen Sound, in ommencing his address, endeavored to lear away some of the misapprehensions which, he said, existed in the public mind toward the Orange Order. He went on to speak of the situation in London as he has found it during his stay here. "I have found a condition of affairs in this city that is astonish ing," he said. "I have found the Protestant body fast asleep in regard to questions confronting Canada."

Many citizens were of the opinion that the Roman Catholic population of London was much greater than it really is, he averred. He quoted from figares obtained at the city hall to show that the Roman Catholic population of London was only 5,435 as compared with over 45,000 Protestants. The trouble with the Protestants was that they were content to be called by that name without any definite understand-ing of its principles, and the result was surprising apathy to the great questions which are facing the province at he present time. Reviewing the situation in Eastern Intario, he produced a number of ffidavits secured there, relating to the chool question. He also touched briefy upon the ne temere decree and its workings in this country. The su-preme court had declared that in thery it was not worth the paper it was written upon, and Protestants should see that it was not allowed to work out any better in practice. "Check" Parkinson was the hitting fiend for the Hyman team yesterday. "Check" copped off three nice singles in four times up and scored the only run the tanners made. Guess your job is cinched, "Check."

Harry Furssedonn whiffed the atmosphere four times in four times up yes-terday. "Fuzzy" didn't even hit a foul luring those four times, showing that he is batting in his old-time form.

Mr. Higgins looks like the real goods. He loosened up yesterday for a stretch and while he was at it the official scorer's lead pencil caught a cold. The rumor that the official scorer fell alseep is, however, denied.

Harry Tozer started out to break all base stealing records yesterday after he had singled in the second inning. He pilfered second all right, but was caught at third. He was caught at third because Mr. Deneau made a bad guess.

While Manager Deneau was umpiring the players seized the opportunity to sit out on the grass in the sun, deserting the bench entirely. A fresh fan notic-ing this yelled, "Come on, Rube, put these plants in the greenhiuse."

Quick, Painless Way To Remove Hairs

[Beauty Culture.] [Beauty Culture.]

ASK FOR CASH TO IMPROVE MARKET

Number Three Committee Recommends Tearing Out Dairy Hall Sides.

$1,000 FOR THE EAST END

Canadian Rubber Company Gets the Contract for Water Wagon Hose.

The amount required this year for he maintenance of the public lavatory on the market square will be $1,433, according to the reduced estimates passed by No. 3 committee Wednesday night. A hot water heating system will be installed at a cost of $517. This amount will include $75 for a gas heater to supply hot water all the year round. The committee recommended that a male caretaker be paid $9 a week, and a female attendant $6

Improve Dairy Hall. On the motion of Ald. Stein $400 was placed in the estimates to tear out the sides of the dairy hall and build a cement walk down the centre, the spaces on each side to be rented to market gardeners and florists. Market Clerk Maker thought this would be advisable, but Ald. Ashplant objected to it. He did not think there would be room enough in the basemnt of the meat market for the farmers' wives to sell their produce. Besides it was damp down there, and they probably would not come to market if obliged to leave the dairy hall.

For East End Market.

Without any discussion for or against, $1,000 was placed in the estimates for maintenance and buildings for the East End market.

A tender for 300 feet of 21/2-inch sewer hose for the watering carts was let to the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Company at $105. The tender called for six-ply hose, and the committee worried for a long time over the problem, because the samples sent contained only two plies of fibre. Fire Chief Aitken thought the company counted the inner and outer coats of rubber as two additional plies, but the committe decided to get six-ply Only two companies Ald. White favored one and Ald. Stein the other. It was a long time before Ald, Ashplant would break the tie. At last he voted with Ald. Stein, on the ground that the hose favored by him was the more pliable. Quotations ranged from 75 cents to $1.40 per foot.

Seizure of Bread. Inspector McCallum reported on the seizure of bread, the loaves of four bakers, averaging respectively 5.4, 5.8, 4.9, and 4.2 ounces less than the poundand-a-half required. Two other bakers were found to be conforming to the Bread weighed from the Gwalchmai and Bridle wagons showed these two bakers to be conforming to the law. A communication from the city audior was read to the effect that a frontage tax can be legally levied on the roperty having a rear frontage on the northeast court of the market square for the purpose of laying a pavement ditions surrounding their premises, as far west as the meat market build-

The sanitary inspectors, who annually report to Inspector McCallum the dogs, will this year require from No. committee the sum of $250. This is he amount that the board of health asks, increasing their bill from $200 formerly charged on the ground of a larger area to cover this year.

The tender for screen doors for the narket went to L. H. Martyn for $62. The engineer will report on the requests for additional street lights on Maple and Fullarton streets and Ot-

Unhitch the Horses In Market Place

A bylaw requiring market gardeners, farmers and others to unhitch their horses immediately upon arriving at the local market, will be recommended to the city council by No. 3 commit-tee on the advice of Market Clerk Maker. He reported Wednesday night that some persons drive ten miles to market and back without feeding or unhitching their horses. He also complained of the danger of leaving horses standing on the market untied and stated that accidents had occurred as a result on several occasions.

Alarm Bells Placed On the Bell Poles

A communication from the Beil Tellights placed on downtown street corners by the fire department had been placed on the company's poles without their permission.
