CITY BUILDING OVER $200,000 FOR THIS MONTH

Forty New Dwellings Started in London During August.

SURPASSES 1921 RECORD

Total Number of Permits Issued This Year Reaches 1,312.

Building figures for the city during the month of August, issued by Inspector A. M. Piper Thursday, surpass the record for the same month in 1921, and reached a total of $202,550. As this amount is made up by 141 permits, the largest of which is for $14,000, it is noted that building is brisk in London, with many average contracts being commenced during the month.

Forty new dwellings were started in London this month, the total estimated cost of the work being $146,000. The largest building permits issued in August were those to W. R. Roome, to remodel a dwelling at a cost of $14,000; W. H. Smythe, to construct a two-story brick house for $14,000; and to the Kuntz Brewing Company for a $6,000 warehouse.

In addition to surpassing the total of $198,050 for August, 1921, this month's permits brought the total number issued this year up to 1,312, in contrast to last year's record of 1,297 for the same period of 1921. The total estimated expenditure on buildings during the first eight months of this year is $1,856,430, which amount is slightly below the 1921 figure of $1,873,610.

Among the permits issued by Building Inspector A. M. Piper on Thursday are included the following: L. Boss, to construct two houses, 1 1/2 stories in height, on Matland street, at a cost of $4,000 each; S. G. Moore, to build a store front at 637 Dundas street, $1,100; F. Ford Refuses To Operate Factory On "Bootleggers" Coal

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Henry Ford yesterday refused to avert a shutdown of his automobile plants here Sept. 16 at the expense of the domestic coal users of the northwest, it was learned by the Associated Press.

The manufacturer refused to purchase the fuel, holding it would not be a humanitarian act to take coal intended to relieve the suffering of men, women and children during the coming winter.

Mr. Ford was quoted as saying that "coal bootleggers" had offered to "steal this coal" and sell it to him.

NATION REGAINS TRADE BALANCE

Improved Position Responsible For Return of Dollar to Par.

American Investors Buy Heavily of Dominion Securities.

New York, Aug. 31.—Canadian dollar suffered a slight recovery today when the quotation went back to 1-32 of one per cent discount.

New York, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Press).—Discussing the return of the Canadian dollar to par, the Wall Street Journal this morning says: "Canada's improved foreign trade position, and her financing operations abroad have been the chief source of demand for Canadian funds. From favorable trade balance in the final months of last year, the country's exports declined sufficiently in January, 1922, to bring an unfavorable balance. Thereafter trade improved until total figures for the four months ending July showed a favorable balance of $7,911,000, exports for June and July having been heavily in excess of imports.

Although Canadian financing in New York and London has not been excessive during the past few months, it has been sufficient to take care of Canada's invisible import items. July flotations abroad amounted to slightly over $9,000,000. "Prospects of large demand for Canadian dollars in the late autumn has had its effect. Large international Dominion issues are expected to be floated shortly and foreign investors will probably partake rather heavily. Prospects of a bumper wheat crop, and the increased demand for Canadian products resulting from strikes in this country are also factors. American investors have been buying securities in Canada for some months past.

Dr. Emile Coue Says Human Mind Is Master

PARIS, Aug. 31.—A day at the clinic of Dr. Emile Coue, the healer of Nancy, would indicate that the human mind is the master of human disease. "Concentrate on that pain," he said, "and it is gone." "The pain is going away." Repeat it so rapidly that your mind has no room for any other thought. The pain will leave.

Here is another experiment which advocates of auto-suggestion advance. Put your foot on the floor. Say to yourself, "I can't move my foot." Concentrate on that thought. As long as you hold your mind steadily to the belief that you can't move your foot you will find that the foot is immovable.

URGE NEED OF BUILDING DAM AT SPRINGBANK

Prominent Londoners Point Out Value of Plan to Beautify River.

ENHANCE PROPERTY

Scheme Would Provide Recreation Facilities For Citizens.

With the commencement of building operations on the Western University, it is learned that the attention of the public has been focussed more strongly than ever on the need for river improvements, which could be effected by the construction of a dam at Springbank Park.

Not a few prominent Londoners, interviewed Thursday morning, stated that inspection of the new university site and consideration of its natural beauty demanded that some attention be paid to the river which practically encircles it.

Decried Wastage. In addition, they strongly decried the wastage of natural scenic beauty on account of the shallowness and general unloveliness of the river. "Twenty cents a head for twenty years would be the very outside figure in paying for a dam at Springbank, thereby eliminating all objectionable features which the river now presents," E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, stated.

"Its construction, supplying sufficient water to carry away any ice, would do away with the possible danger of jams in spring floods thus caused by the spring ice blockage, and the beautifying of that four and a-half mile stretch of river, will mean an increase in health, beauty and property values which will amply repay the initial expenditure.

The London Chamber of Commerce have each year signified their readiness to stand behind the construction of a Springbank dam, and there is no question that were such a movement under way it would receive their entire support.

"We should have no doubt that the construction of a Springbank dam Turn to Page 2, Column 3.

Art Teacher Dies

S. K. DAVIDSON. BELOVED member of the collegiate institute staff passes after 36 years service in that institution.

DEATH TAKES S. K. DAVIDSON

Held Position of Drawing Master at Collegiate For Many Years.

Was Affectionately Known to Hundreds of Graduates as "Skidey."

Affectionately known to thousands of students and ex-students of the London Collegiate Institute as "Skidey," the named formed of a combination of his initials, S. K. Davidson, drawing master at the London Collegiate, died at his home, 842 Wellington street, early Thursday morning, following an illness of some length.

Mr. Davidson was acknowledged as one of the finest drawing masters in the province, and in addition he enjoyed a particularly fine reputation as an artist of ability. His paintings have been shown all over the Dominion, and at numerous exhibitions he was awarded honors, which placed him in the foremost ranks of Canadian artists.

For the past 35 years, Mr. Davidson has been in charge of art classes in London schools, and thousands of students have passed under his care. From 1880 to 1886 he was at the London School of Art, leaving there in charge of the art department at the collegiate, which position he held at the time of his death.

During this time, however, he spent a period teaching at the London Normal School, so that there are many teachers in the province who benefited by his instruction and who will learn with deep regret of his death. Mr. Davidson was 75 years old, and nearly 46 years of his life was spent in teaching. It was in his off hours that he managed to accomplish so much work along the lines of his art and to complete pictures which won so widely-established a reputation.

It is more than a year since he was entitled to superannuation, but his love for teaching and the interest he felt in it kept Mr. Davidson at work, and it was expected that when the Collegiate opened next Tuesday he would be at his old post of drawing master.

Even those pupils who were in his classes for the short space of a year feel that with Mr. Davidson's death, Collegiate life has lost a good man and a splendid teacher.

"Few of us will reach 75 and be able to look back on a lifetime of work equal to that of Mr. Davidson," was the comment of one teacher.

Mr. Davidson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen Davidson, and one son, Haldane C. Davidson.

CHICAGO POLICE NAB 3 FOR PART IN CONSPIRACY

Allege Attempt Was to Mark Beginning of Reign of Terror.

DEFER PREVIOUS SCHEME

Planned to Dynamite Train Near Gary, Ind.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—With the arrest of three men early today, Chicago police declared they had bared a plot to dynamite the "western express" on the New York Central at a point between Gary, Ind., and Chicago.

The wreck, according to the police, was to have marked the beginning of a new reign of terror on railroads throughout the United States. The "western express" is a fast passenger train which leaves New York at 6 a.m. arriving in Chicago at 3:15 the following afternoon.

According to information which the police said they obtained with the arrest of the three men, the original plan of the plotters was to blow up the train last Tuesday. The delay, police said, was caused by the capture of four men, accused of wrecking the Michigan Central's "million dollar express" at Gary, August 30, when two of the train crew were killed.

Frank R. Hartman was held as the ringleader of the alleged conspirators. His companions are J. J. Boyle and C. A. Lasham, who, the police said, are striking New York Central shopmen. At least two other men, believed to have been in the conspiracy, were sought.

First information of the intended dynamiting, according to the police, was obtained by private detectives, posing as strikers.

Passing of the Chicago and Alton Railroad into the hands of the receivers, disclosures of new plots to wreck trains and several actual attempts to cause derailments and blow up railroad property, sums up the United States railroad situation today.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Press).—After continuing in conference throughout the morning, members of the four boards of conciliation appointed to deal with disputes between railways operating in Canada and their shop-crafts employees, concluded their exchange of views at noon today. DECIDES JOHN NOT GUILTY OF "ROLLING DICE"

Court Gives Anderson Benefit of Doubt in Alleged Gambling Case.

POLICE ENTER HOUSE
Officers Charge They Saw Money On Kitchen Floor.

"Highway robbery!" shouted John Anderson, colored, of 103 Glenwood avenue, when Constables Ernest Inch and William Snell entered his home early Sunday morning, and charged him and four of his companions with robbing the "workies," and took away some small change which he had in his hand.

Saw Money Passed.
Both officers told of seeing John, George Chantler, James Johnston, Wilson Thomson and Edward Fountain hounding the "bones" on John's kitchen floor. They also saw money passed, they claimed. Finally they entered the house, and found several pieces of silver on the floor and as many more in John's hand. The dice had disappeared.

"We had no dice," protested John in police court this morning. "Mr. Chantler saw the accounts with me. He paid me $4.50 for some work I did for him."

"I wouldn't have let the officers in if we had been gambling. When that officer took my money, and said we were shooting dice, I said, 'What's the matter with you, man? You're talking about shooting dice at your place,' inquired Chief Birrell. "It's like this, your worship. There's no women at my place, and the men have more privileges when there are no women there. Often fellows come along and talk to me. I sleep out at my place, and often a drunken man will come close and talk to me until early in the morning, because he knows that if he goes where there are women he will have no privileges."

Chantler said he had arrived from Port Stanley, where he had been working, and accompanied by Johnston, went over to Anderson's house to see him. Thomson told of meeting Fountain and witnessing a ball game. Then they went to Anderson's place. "Were you shooting dice?" asked Chief Birrell.

Anderson said he had no dice. "No," he said. "If I had been shooting I wouldn't have waited for those officers. When they came, I'm gone, that's all. There was only two of them. I could say I had gone away. You know, chief, you used to chase me."

"Yes, that's right," the chief agreed, grinning broadly. Magistrate Graydon agreed to give the "bones" the benefit of the doubt, although he was inclined to believe the circumstances were suspicious. "Can you decide who owns this money, Mr. Estey?" asked the court. "Yes, it belongs to me," quickly retorted E. T. Estey, counsel for the defense.

His answer was the signal for a riot of laughter.

FINES CHATHAM QUINTET $1 EACH

Magistrate Ignoring Question of Game, Convicts On Disorderly Charge.

CHATHAM, Aug. 30.—Whether or not they had been shooting "craps" or just merely shooting for high man, Magistrate Arnold was not so much concerned when five local young men appeared in city court this morning. He was satisfied their conduct had been disorderly and fined them $1 and costs each. The defendants were Harry Quetch, Anthony Washington, D. McLennan, D. Dauphin and Henry Moore.

C. B. Stringer paid a fine of $5 and costs in police court this morning for a violation of the traffic laws. The court held that the defendant in driving a car had made an improper turn at the corner of Grant street, which had resulted in a collision with a motorcycle driven by Roy Hawkins, who was slightly injured.

An automobile, owned by Fred Labombard, stolen over a week ago, was recovered by the chief of police, Ridgeway. It was located, badly damaged, at Government Park.

BENCH FREES PRISONER AFTER WEEK'S REMAND

Crown Attorney's Request for Adjudgment of Robinson Case Refused by Magistrate.

After being on remand for two weeks on a charge of having stolen goods in his possession, Albert Robinson was released by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court this morning when the crown declined to offer any evidence. The prisoner's cousin, William, also charged as the holder of stolen property, was held for the Hamilton police. He is wanted on two charges.

Howard Cluff, counsel for the two men, objected a week ago to a further adjournment of the case. However, the court assured him that that would be the final delay of the trial. This morning when Acting Crown Attorney Ashton R. Douglas asked for an adjournment until Saturday, the magistrate announced his intention of fulfilling his promise of a week ago.

Police wanted the case adjourned until Saturday so they could interview poultrymen who are meeting in the city Friday, to locate an owner for the 49 chickens and two turkeys found in the possession of the Robinson boys, when they were arrested.

Manifesto Urging Good Will Says Europe Suspicious and Distrustful

London, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The "Need for Good-will" is the title and keynote of a manifesto issued by the Industrial League and Council, containing 200 signatures, headed by that of Premier Lloyd George, and representing all parties. The world desperately needs good-will, it says, and every class must admit the responsibility. While the remedy of good-will is prescribed for the world-wide ill, particularly for the maintenance of peace, the European malady is diagnosed thus: "The whole continent is full of suspicion and distrust. Men lack necessities and opportunities, while there is vast demand for everything Europe produces. Given good-will, the demand can be met and the distress relieved. Forget the past and make an endeavor to mold the future for the common good."

Turks Claim Many Prisoners and Much Booty Taken in Fight.

Smyrna, Aug. 31.—The Greek army in Asia Minor, which has been falling back before the force of the Turkish Nationalist attack along a wide front was understood this morning to be attempting local counterattacks, following the arrival of reinforcements in the battle area. These isolated counter drives were soon to be followed by a general counter-offensive on the part of the Greeks, the advices from the front reported.

The first two communiques issued by the Turkish Nationalists on the battle centering around Afium Karahissar, indicate that the fighting was extremely heavy, says a dispatch from Constantinople. The Turks do not give the number of Greeks taken prisoner, but say they captured considerable booty.

FRANCE READY TO USE FORCE TO CLAIM DEBT

Prepares To Act Immediately If Reparations Committee Rejects Proposals.

WAR OFFICE VERY BUSY
Large Troop Movements Reported From Rhineland, Nancy and Metz.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Grim determination to obtain reparations from Germany, seize guarantees and enforce such payments, in the event that the reparations commission's decision tomorrow should grant a moratorium to Germany without exacting the securities demanded by France, is everywhere evident in French official circles tonight.

While official announcements are withheld, in order not to interfere with the work of the commission and owing to the desire of the French government to allow the German delegates every possible opportunity to make a final proposal which might be acceptable to France, French officials talk and act as if the plan were adopted and France's decision to take coercive measures against Germany had already been decided upon.

World Occupy Ruhr.
The war office is very busy and is in constant communication with General DeGoutte's headquarters at Nancy. Large movements of troops were reported from Nancy, Metz and the Rhineland and there seemed to be no doubt in the minds of the officials that the occupation of the Ruhr was a foregone conclusion should the commission's decision go against France.

Herr Schroeder's propositions to the commission are described as "absolutely unacceptable." Premier Poincaré had long conferences tonight with M. Vivanti and the minister of finance M. De Lasterie. Later he received Andre Lefevre, former minister of war, a most persistent advocate of the adoption of strong measures toward Germany. M. Lefevre appeared in great spirits as he emerged from the Poincaré cabinet.

"It is interesting to compare Springbank with amusement parks in other centers, Detroit, for instance. In the parks there they have not, to my mind, one-half the natural beauty yet they have utilized their river facilities to the utmost, and have deepened canals for canoeing and swimming and the increased beauty of Springbank Park, and in addition to securing an amount of advertising as a splendid place for a holiday, London will become a definite objective to tourists more than a desirable stopping-off place on a round-about tour of the province."

GROCCERS HOLD FROLIC AT BEND

John Statton Wins Prize For Largest Family On Grounds.

Kirkton Ball Team Defeats Grand Bend by 9 to 8 Score.

Special to London Advertiser.
Grand Bend, Aug. 30.—Grocers of Credit, Centralia, Lucan, Ailsa, Craig, Grand Bend and other centers around here, made merry at a picnic this afternoon. The prizes were particularly good, and were for the most part donated by the grocers and the wholesale trade.

Some of the more unusual events of the afternoon were in the largest family on the grounds and the oldest couple on the grounds. In the former event Bruce Bossenberry, of the Imperial Hotel, brought in a car full of the finest little Rossenberrys that one could wish to see, and it did look as though the family that beat him out would have had to do some raising in days gone by. But while this was going on John Statton, of Grand Bend, was busy looking up his family, and when noses were counted it was found that John had him tied for it, eight children, and the father and mother as well. So a coin was tossed, and John Statton won. There is also another son in the west, making nine in all. Then while he was at it John and his wife carried off the coffee and cocoa for being the oldest couple on the grounds. "Well, mother, we'll have coffee for breakfast and cocoa for supper," remarked the sturdy old Grand Bender, as he carted off his prizes.

U. S. CONGRESS FAILS TO REACH COAL BILL VOTE

Proposed Changes in Measure Ripped Out or Decisively Defeated.

EXPECTS ACT TO PASS
Chairman Winslow Predicts Legislation Will Go Through As Framed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—After rejecting all amendments to the administration coal distribution bill, the house ran into an unexpected storm of talk late today and was forced to quit until tomorrow without reaching a vote.

Every change proposed was either thrown out on a point of order or decisively defeated. At the end of the all-day wrangle Chairman Winslow of the inter-state commerce committee, who was in charge of the measure, predicted it would go through as framed.

As the house worked on the measure, which its supporters claimed was the legislation needed to meet the emergency caused by the coal and rail strikes, word reached leaders that attempts to settle the anthracite strike might succeed and that the senate was ready to take up house coal bills as soon as it was through with the house.

President Harding's original suggestion for creation of a buying and selling coal agency was put before the house by Rep. Anderson, Republican, Minnesota, with a provision indirectly authorizing the seizure of mines if found necessary in connection with agency activities, but it went out on a point of order.

REOPEN FURNACES IN PENNSYLVANIA

First resumption of iron producing units, hard hit by coal shortage, was announced today by the Shenango Furnace Company of Sharpsville, Pa., which reopened a blast furnace, idle for five weeks.

Four of the 32 independent furnaces in the Youngstown district are now producing and nine of the 15 corporation furnaces.

NINE LOSE LIVES IN MINE BLAST

CUMBERLAND, B. C., Aug. 30.—(By Canadian Press.)—Nine men lost their lives, and seventeen were injured this afternoon when an explosion caused a small cave-in in a coal mine here, operated by the Canadian Collieries Dunsmuir, Limited. Three of the dead are white. They are Robert Dunstere, John Gibson and J. J. Rohanssen. Four of the dead were Japanese, and two Chinese. All the men at work in mine hours have been accounted for. Of the 17 wounded seven are more or less seriously injured, but it is believed all have a fair chance to recover, physicians say.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. An investigation will be made at once. Repairs to the section of the mine affected are going forward, and will occupy a few days only. No fire followed the explosion. The three white men killed were all married.

STILL DEBATING ON AGREEMENT

TORONTO, August 30.—For two days Toronto city council has been in session considering the draft agreement which gives a free six-track right-of-way into Toronto for the proposed hydro-electric railway.

Adjournment was taken about midnight and the debate will be resumed tomorrow.

Opposition has been voiced from the Toronto Board of Trade, Toronto Transportation Commission and Toronto Harbor Board.

To these Sir Adam Beck and many of the aldermen have pointed out that if Toronto is to keep faith with other municipalities in the radial scheme it must pass the agreement.

WEAVING MEMORIES IN THE HOME

We visited a lady the other day, one of those grand, motherly, silver-haired old ladies, who know how to make home real.

After showing us through her home—we had heard of her almost supernatural powers to make everything she touched delightfully comfortable—she ushered us into the cheeriest living-room we have ever seen, and here she told us this story:

"Forty years ago I was a bride, and in furnishing our home, my husband and I decided that the furniture and everything we purchased for our home should be comfortable and substantial. We selected every piece carefully, and today, so many memories are woven into it, that I could not bear to part with a single piece."

In furnishing your home, are you buying just a "few sticks of furniture" to fill up space, or are you buying with the idea of comfort, plus permanence—the kind that memories can be woven into?

The cost is no greater—it's simply the care in selection, and in this we can assist you.

Bring your housefurnishing problem to us, our advice is without obligation.

Then there's the convenience of our Club Plan, which is worth while your trouble to investigate.

WANT REGISTRY OFFICE BUILT

No. 1 Committee City Council Urges Work Be Commenced At Once.

County Offers To Lease Land For the Erection of the Structure.

Urging that a new city registry office be constructed at once on property owned by the county of Middlesex, facing King street and on a part of the courthouses grounds, No. 1 committee in session Wednesday night recommended to the city council that Building Inspector A. M. Piper be immediately instructed to draw up plans for the new building.

To Lease Site.
Mayor Cameron Wilson explained at the meeting that following a conference with members of the county council, the latter body agreed to lease a site for the new registry office to the city for 99 years at a rental of one dollar per year, and advised acceptance of this offer. The proposed site is immediately west of the lot on the northwest corner of Ridout and King streets, facing the latter thoroughfare.

Mayor Wilson also reported that he had communicated with Premier E. C. Drury with a view to obtaining the proposed provincial memorial to those Ontario heroes who died in the Great War, for London, and had offered a location for this monument provided that London is selected as a site.

He stated further that the premier in reply has promised to place London's case before the special committee of the Legislature which will decide on the location of the monument.

"When the government is ready to talk to us regarding this memorial we will be ready," commented Alderman O. I. Cunningham. The committee agreed to Mayor Wilson's action.

His worship drew the attention of the committee to the fact that only two used by the Grand Trunk Railway and condemned as unfit for further service, were being burned daily along the railway line between Brantford and Mimico.

Ties For Fuel.
The city ought to take some action to obtain these ties and fuel along with other municipalities," he pointed out. "We could place them in the municipal woodyard and employ men to saw them up for fuel this winter. I suggest that the city clerk write to the government asking for some of these ties. We can take three or four carloads if they will give them to us."

The committee decided to accept the mayor's advice and to offer to pay freight to London on these ties if the railway will agree to part with them.

Owing to the fact that the contract made by the Helena Lighting Company to heat the central fire hall winter is conditional on obtaining coal at present prices, this first requested payment for the contract at once. The request was granted.

Is To Be Sub-Let.
Alderman O. I. Cunningham informed the meeting that he understood that the contract for repairing heating apparatus at the central fire station is to be sub-let to a Toronto firm by the Helena Lighting Company.

"If we are going to spend this money it should not go out of town," he asserted. "This winter particularly, we want to keep our own men working. That is a good policy." The committee agreed with him and the matter will be investigated.

It was recommended that the city send a deputation to the deep well waterways convention to be held at Welland Sept. 19 and 20, as London is interested in developing the St. Lawrence River for greater navigation. The city council will deal with this recommendation at its next meeting.

Accept Invitation.
An invitation from the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto to the mayor and city council to attend was accepted. Provided that there is a fund covering the grant in the estimates the committee agreed to make a donation to the navy league.

During the meeting Mayor Wilson complimented J. W. Cunliffe, sales manager of the London Housing Commission, for his good work in selling every house erected by the city on Pine Lawn survey.

TO TALK HYGIENE TO KIWANIS CLUB
Dr. H. DeLamater, director of hygiene in the public schools of St. Joseph, Missouri, will address the local Kiwanis Club at their regular noon luncheon in the Teumessal House on Friday, on the subject of "Hygiene in the Public Schools An Asset to the Community."

Scottish dancers are to be an added feature of entertainment.
The usual weekly bulletin sent to quarters for the Ontario-Quebec District Convention to be held in Windsor on Sept. 21 and 22.

Chickens Got Underweight Bread After All, Says Childs

DURING the meeting of No. 1 committee of the city council Wednesday night, License Inspector J. W. McCallum reported that he had seized 17 loaves of underweight bread.

"What did you do with the bread?" asked Ald. H. Childs, chairman of the committee.
"I took it to the customs house to be weighed and left it there," replied the inspector. "Then I sent Sanitary Inspector Sanders after it to get it for chicken feed, but the man there had given the bread to some woman."

"Oh," commented Ald. Childs. "So the chickens got it after all."

PLAN OPENING OF COLLEGIATE OF COLLEGIATE

Staff of London South High School Prepare For Work.

Provide Excellent Program of Studies In All Subjects.

All pupils resident in South of West London who wish to take first year or second high school work will report to the London South Collegiate Institute. Students of the middle school who have more than four departmental papers to write, and who are resident in this part of the city, are also included in the list.
Pupils will report at the London South Collegiate on Sept. 5, at 9 a.m. At the Central on the same day, the first year pupils will report at 9 a.m., second year at 11, middle and upper school at 2 p.m. These are the orders issued by W. H. T. Mooney, principal of Central Collegiate.

The preparations for the opening of the London South Collegiate Institute Tuesday next, are almost completed and everything indicates that the institution will start under the most favorable circumstances.

The architect and superintendent of works who have been responsible for the supervision of the alterations that are being made, have been able to make very rapid progress in the work, with the result that the building will be ready for occupancy at the time suggested. The secretary of the board, who has been placing most of the orders for equipment, is assured that almost all the equipment will be on hand for the first day of school and that the rest will arrive very soon after.

The staff which has been selected for this school are all enthusiastic over the possibilities in connection with their work and are looking forward to undertaking their new duties with considerable eagerness. Two of the new appointees, Mr. Graham and Mr. Burns, who are moving their families to the city, have already bought homes for themselves in London South.

Staff Appointed.
The personnel of the staff is as follows: Everton A. Miller, M.A., specialist in classics (principal); Joseph F. Calvert, M.A., specialist in science; William G. McNeill, B.A., specialist in English and history; John McKellar, in modern languages; mathematics and physics; Samuel T. H. Graham, B.A., specialist in mathematics, physics and physical culture; Charles J. Burns, B.A., specialist in classics; Ennis McCamus, B.A., specialist in English and history; and Art. Mary K. MacFarlane, B.A., specialist in modern languages and physical culture; Mrs. Morrison Carr-Harris, B.A., moderns and history; Miss Isabelle L. Craig, household science; Samuel R. White, specialist in manual training; Ada MacArthur, secretary to the principal.

The boundary line of the constituency to be served by the London Collegiate Institute has been fixed by those responsible, as the river. Those students who live west and south of the river will attend London South and those living elsewhere in the city will attend the Central Collegiate Institute. The country students have sent in applications indicating which is the more convenient school for them to attend and will be assigned accordingly. It seems likely that the school will be taxed to its capacity.

Studies Outlined.
The program of studies will include courses which lead to matriculation, into the various universities and colleges, and prepare students for admission into the normal schools. At the present time, these courses will comprise the work as far as pass matriculation and the necessary matriculation certificates for second class students. Provision is being made for special courses for those students whose conditions may make such advisable. Every effort is being made to encourage individual attention for the various studies. Those students who have passed a sufficient number of papers in the middle school examinations to enable them to wisely include in their course for the coming year some upper school subjects, will be permitted to attend the Central Collegiate Institute, even though their place of residence may be in the district as indicated above.

Although the boundary line has been fixed as suggested, it may happen that special consideration will be given to students who live east or north of the river, but whose place of residence makes them nearer the London South Collegiate Institute than the London Central Collegiate Institute, so that they may attend the former school if there should be sufficient accommodation for them.

MOTORIST EVADES POLICE BULLETS

Fearless and Fast Driving Saves Johnston From Arrest.

Fearless and fast driving on the part of a man named Johnston, balked the police when they endeavored to apprehend him, as he sped through South London, dodging a fusillade of shots aimed at his tires, after he had pushed one of the policemen from his running board when the latter attempted to investigate the contents of his car, yesterday afternoon.

Late in the afternoon, Sergt. Elmer Walsh, who was driving the police touring car, and Acting Sergt. Percy Last met Johnston's car at the corner of Bathurst and Richmond streets. After attempting to climb into the car and being frustrated, the officer climbed back into the police car, as Johnston and some men with him fled. The police gave chase. Several times the police overtook the other car and stalled in its path, but the fugitive car did not slacken speed, but forced the police to clear the way in order to avoid a collision.
When the officers opened fire on the tires of the car ahead, the driver pursued a zig-zag course, threaded his way through a maze of traffic and disappeared beyond the city limits.

After Saturday night of this week the officers of the Western Fair Association will be moved to the general office buildings at the Fair grounds and all business transacted there.

LONDON OBTAINS HALF SUPPLY OF CIVIC COAL

25 of 50 Cars of Ohio Fuel Ordered Arrive in City.

One half of the fifty car shipment of Ohio lump coal, purchased by the city to avert a fuel crisis this winter, has reached London, nine additional cars being placed in the hands of the dealers Thursday.
These merchants are delivering the coal at $15 per ton, which price allows them a legitimate profit over the cost to the city and a while after the coal which has reached London is not yet delivered to city homes.

The residents were told the county would supply hydro for $23.11 a year, but that it had insisted on 20-year contracts being signed. The farmers did not object so much to this estimated cost of service and consumption, but objected to signing contracts covering such a long period. A few, however, signed.
London's public utilities commission offered to install hydro at a cost of $150 to each ratepayer, plus a small annual service and consumption charge. This offer resulted in several protests by the ratepayers, who claimed the commission had installed hydro for four Westminster men for $25 each.

Ten ratepayers, who had petitioned the city authorities to install hydro, asked why there was such a vast difference in the two prices. Then attacks on the commissioners and county officials followed.

HURON & ERIE EMPLOYEES HOLD JOLLY CORN ROAST

Present Miss C. W. Neely With Rope of Pearls At Dorchester Outing.

On Monday night a most enjoyable corn-roast was held by the members of the staff of the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation and Canada Trust Company on the farm of Calvin Pettit, of Dorchester.

About sixty members and friends left the city in cars at 7 o'clock, reaching the grounds about 8 o'clock, when the various delights of roasting corn, marshmallows, wieners, etc., at the ample bonfires built by the boys were indulged in to their hearts' content.

An interesting event on this occasion was the presentation of a rope of pearls to Miss C. W. Neely, a member of the staff for six years, who is about to leave London to join her mother and brothers in Vancouver, B. C. The general manager, Charles Clarke, gave an appropriate address, Miss M. OBJECT TO SIGNING 20-YEAR CONTRACT

Westminster Ratepayers Want Hydro Service and Fair Treatment.

Although the meeting of Westminster Township ratepayers in Brick street schoolhouse last night, to consider the question of installing hydro in township homes, was poorly attended, a storm developed shortly after the meeting was called to order. The residents were told the county would supply hydro for $23.11 a year, but that it had insisted on 20-year contracts being signed. The farmers did not object so much to this estimated cost of service and consumption, but objected to signing contracts covering such a long period. A few, however, signed.

Lumber Firm Seeks Men To Work in Georgian Bay District

THE representative of a large lumber concern in Western Ontario, in an interview with Mr. J. C. Spencer, of the local branch of the government employment bureau, stated the desire of his firm to secure 75 to 100 men to work in the forests of the Georgian Bay district.

"Lumber will be in big demand next year, and lumbering itself will be an important feature in the employment situation this winter," Mr. Spencer stated.

"I am looking for quite a response from the men in London. Employment should not be very bad in the future, if the Western University, which is to be constructed soon, will confine itself to employing local men."

COMMISSION FAILS AT ARBITRATION

Unable To Name Judge To Act in Pine Lawn Controversy.

Because a party suitable to every member could not be secured to act as an arbitrator to settle the Pine Lawn roof controversy, in time for the meeting of the London Housing Commission held Wednesday afternoon, that body adjourned until Friday noon, when it is hoped that an arbitrator will be appointed.

At Wednesday's meeting, D. J. Tallant suggested that Ex-Ald. Harry Winnit be named to represent the housing commission on the board of arbitration, and his suggestion was seconded by J. W. Cunliffe. However, E. R. Dennis moved that further time be allowed for a selection, and urged that an out-of-town, disinterested, roofing expert be appointed.

Chairman Hessel was not permitted a vote on the question because there was no tie, but Mayor Wilson was summoned from his home to solve the problem. He upheld Commissioner Dennis, thereby creating a deadlock, which was broken by the chairman's vote in favor of postponing action, and the proposal to appoint Mr. Winnit was defeated.

Commissioner Tallant explained that the defective roofs must be repaired on Pine Lawn before the onset of wet weather and urged that the commission arbitrator be appointed at once to meet the representative of Hayman & Willis, contractors, in order that an early settlement of the controversy may be attained.

"There is no hurry," he commented sarcastically, "the contractors have tacked it on our eye for two years. We might just as well wait another two years." The meeting then adjourned until Friday noon.

HOUSING BOARD NOT RESIGNING

Deny Reported Intention To Quit As Protest Against Interference.

Hessel Suggests Erroneous Information Emanated From Beech Park.

In a report published Wednesday it was stated that members of the London Housing Commission "may resign in a body because of the alleged interference of No. 2 committee with the commission's work."

Interviewed by The Advertiser regarding this statement, members of the commission failed to confirm it. "Resigning is a virtue that I don't cultivate," declared Commissioner E. R. Dennis. "I did not hear anything about it until Wednesday afternoon and had no intention of quitting."

"I did not hear a thing about resigning," said R. Hessel, chairman of the commission. "I am not resigning yet. The reporter must have obtained his information at Beech Park."

"You can bet I won't resign until the trouble over defective roofs on Pine Lawn is settled," stated Commissioner D. J. Tallant. "My duty is to stick until the job is cleaned up, and intend to do so."

"As I am supposed to be resigning, I say that I am not going to resign," said Commissioner J. W. Cunliffe, the remaining member of the commission. "I didn't say anything about it."

As all four members decline to resign, the housing commission will continue to function, having arranged Wednesday night to hold a meeting Friday noon.

Children's Hospital Committee Officers Entertained by Institution's Good Friends.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, honorary secretary of the War Memorial Children's Hospital committee, Mr. J. J. Poole, chairman of the men's canvass committee, and Mr. R. I. Watson, director, had the pleasure on Wednesday of attending as guests of honor a meeting of the Kintore Women's Institute, the first to undertake sewing for the hospital. The meeting was held in the church, and the Thorndale members were also present as guests to meet officers who have had a prominent part in making the new hospital an accomplished fact. Previous to driving out to Kintore, Mrs. Greenaway paid a visit on Wednesday forenoon to Mrs. Dunlop, president of the Institute, who is ill in Victoria Hospital, carrying flowers to her. A message of greeting was conveyed by Mrs. Greenaway from Mrs. Dunlop.

DIARRHOEA IS DANGEROUS TO TEETHING BABIES DURING HOT WEATHER

Hot weather is a dangerous time for the babies when cutting their teeth, and all mothers should watch very closely for any sign of diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum or any other bowel trouble. There is no remedy so safe and effective for diarrhoea as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and all mothers who have used it speak of it with the greatest of confidence. Mrs. James E. Green, Vermilion, Ala., writes under date of Aug. 18, 1921, as follows: "A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, started cutting two stomach teeth, and was so sick he couldn't eat or sleep, and had the most terrible diarrhoea, his rectum was raw and bleeding, but after giving him Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days he was as well as any boy could be. I wouldn't be without your grand remedy for untold gold."

"Dr. Fowler's" is for sale at all dealers; price, 50c a bottle; put up by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

A CROWNING WORK WAS CANNING FRUIT

Passing of Gifted Leader Recalls Parkhill's Unique War Service.

Thousands of Women's Institute workers throughout Ontario, as well as hosts of other friends, have been saddened by the announcement a few days ago of the death of Mrs. David C. Wilson of Parkhill, formerly Mina Hutton of Forest, Ontario.

A graduate of Toronto University, enjoying the advantages of post-graduate work in Columbia University, New York, as well as study and extensive travel in Europe, after her marriage to Dr. D. C. Wilson of Parkhill, she entered with enthusiasm into Women's Institute and community work. On the outbreak of war she accompanied her husband, a medical officer, to England. Visiting military hospitals as a representative of Canadian Women's Institutes, she discovered that one of the things for which the Canadian boys most craved was the canned and preserved fruits of back home days.

Returning to Canada and her little home town, she accomplished a work which stands as the crowning achievement of a career, brief, but filled with loving and efficient service for others. Under her leadership, a community canning center was established by the Red Cross and Women's Institute, with three objects in view: (1) To conserve fruits and vegetables at a time when food was a great patriotic need; (2) to make canning a quick operation and relieve it of drudgery for the women of the district, thereby making time for them for the war duties imperatively demanding attention; (3) to provide from surplus and donations canned fresh fruits and vegetables for the sick and wounded in old country hospitals.

The use of the Parkhill Armories was obtained for the purpose and equipment installed. So contagious was enthusiasm that the first year thousands of pounds of fruits, vegetables, canned chickens and soups were dispatched across seas and instead of the surplus practically the whole production of the factory went for the good cause. The radius of interest quickly extended until in a few months fruits, vegetables and chickens were being shipped in, 20, 30, 50 and sometimes more miles. Always a small army of other workers responded to the call of the leader for canning duty.

The following year, with the shining example of Parkhill to inspire and encourage, other community canning centers were opened in various places in the province through co-operation of Red Cross and Women's Institute. Always Mrs. Wilson insisted upon keeping herself in the background, minimizing her own service, never falling to give measure running over of credit to others. Her unflinching tactfulness kept harmony even when the nerves of the loyal women workers were most frayed by the strain of war days.

Previous to 1914 she had been one of the pioneers of the movement for medical inspection of rural schools in Ontario, and the recent advances made in affording country children similar advantages to those enjoyed by city children in this respect brought her much happiness in the last year or so of her life.

During the campaign of the winter of 1917, which definitely inaugurated child welfare activities in London, and immediately preceded the organization of the London Child Welfare Association, Mrs. Wilson gave invaluable assistance to the publicity committee as a representative on it of the Western Ontario Women's Institute. The passing of Mrs. Wilson has removed one of the most gifted workers and winsome personalities of the Ontario Women's Institute.

ATTENTION, DADDY.

Dear Cynthia—I received the address of Daddy, but was surprised to find she lives in the city. I am afraid the old clothes and boots of my husband's are not good enough for the city, but would be useful to anyone living on a farm. I have made inquiries about the cost of sending it, which will be 75 cents. Daddy wishes to take the risk, or if there is anyone else on your list you think they would be more suitable for, I will send it collect at other end. Awaiting further orders, yours truly, RADIO.

P.S.—I enclose another dime for the cot. It would have been nice to have had a "thank you" for my dime.—Radio.

I am leaving it to Daddy. If she wishes to pay the charges on the clothes she may do so, if she thinks they are worth it. They might do her husband to work in. Let us know immediately, Daddy, and if you do not want them, maybe some other Daddy working on a farm would like them. I am sorry if I neglected to thank you for the hospital mite. It was an oversight on my part, but "better late than never." I will say "thank you," now. Also many thanks for the second mite.

MOSS ROSE'S THANKS.

Dear Miss Grey—I have received lovely parcels from Mrs. Reilly and another Boxite, I think her pen-name is Mother of 12, but I am not sure. I hope I have those pen-names right, and I certainly thank them very, very much. I also see where other Boxites were going to send parcels, but have not received any before I see this in print. I also see in yesterday's Mail-Box where Mother of Six in Distress thought it was to her I sent the parcel, but it was to another lady who uses the same pen-name. I have been corresponding with her since last January. I think it was, and yesterday I got a letter from her telling me she got the parcel all right, and the reason she didn't write was because she had an operation for appendicitis. I think this explains the mistake. Well, Miss Grey, aren't you almost roasted these warm days? I think Calamity Ann's idea a good one. I cannot send a mite this time, but I hope to in my next letter. From MOSS ROSE.

It was very good of Mrs. Reilly and Mother of 12 to send you parcels, Moss Rose. Many Boxites have asked for your address, so I think you will be receiving your share of help.

Constipation Can Be Blamed For Diabetes and Bright's Disease!

And, constipation is responsible for most cases of rheumatism, hardening of the arteries, brain fog, sluggishness, headaches and many other organic disturbances! Constipation hastens old age; in fact, authorities tell you THAT 90% OF ALL HUMAN ILLNESS IS DIRECTLY TRACEABLE TO CONSTIPATION! With knowledge like that can you stand by and see yourself slipping physically; see your loved ones fall, as the prey of a preventable condition? Do not minimize the dangers of constipation because you are only "slightly" troubled. Inactivity of the eliminative passage creates toxic conditions which penetrate the intestinal walls, poisoning the blood and affecting the organs. BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—is nature's own positive and permanent relief from constipation. It is the most wonderful corrective food known. Bran is not a "remedy," but a "roughage" that through its mineral salts and ability to absorb water—giving bulk and moisture—assists in perfect elimination. We guarantee that if Kellogg's Bran is eaten regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal—that the sufferer will be relieved permanently! Bran is wonderful for children, for the aged, for every one! Kellogg's Bran is delicious, its nut-like flavor greatly adding to the enjoyment of eating cereals over which it has been sprinkled. Kellogg's Bran makes the tastiest of bakery batches, such as gems, raisin bread, muffins, macaroons, etc. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran. In the "WAXTITE" package.

RESURRECTION ROCK

by Edwin Palmer
Little, Brown and Company

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Had the voice of her father, dead on the battlefield in France, attempted to reach the ear of his daughter, ETHEL CAREW? She wondered and mystery piled on mystery. Bound to the home of her wealthy and grim old grandfather, LUCAS CULLEN, SENIOR, in St. Florentin, where he lived near the scene of his early struggle for the timber lands of northern Michigan, the girl had met the mysterious young stranger who called himself BARNEY LOUTRELLE. He had asked the way to Resurrection Rock, that island of mystery in Lake Huron, and then disclosed to Ethel a letter containing a message from Ethel's father. The letter was written at the time of the armistice. "But my father," chided Ethel, "was killed in June!"

GO ON WITH THE STORY.
"Yes; you told me so," Loutrelle replied gently.
"You don't mean father's alive and—?" Ethel began.
"No," Loutrelle denied quickly. "No; no; you mustn't think of that."
"Do you know Boyne across there?" he asked.

"You mean the little town? What's that to do with my father?"
"If I knew, I'd tell you right out," he assured. "But as it is, the only way I see is to explain how that letter—and what followed—came to me; and that involves a good deal of talking about—"

"What?"
"Myself," he said simply. She glanced up at him quickly. "I don't know where my own people lived, or what they were," Loutrelle continued. "But Boyne is much like this," he glanced about at the trees, "second growth woods, only a bit older; and Indians like Asa Redbird."

"You mean—?"
"I lived with them; yes, Miss Carew. Until I was seven years old. I thought I was an Indian myself. Some Chippewas—a good man, Azen Mabo and his wife—had me. He said this quite without bitterness, simply as a statement of a fact; but Ethel saw his lips press tightly together, involuntarily; his eyes gazed vacantly far away, and something within Ethel's breast seemed to tug and draw taut."

"Azen told me from another Indian—a man named Noah Jo, who had had a boat and moved around a good deal," Loutrelle went on. "He didn't find out much about me; for Noah Jo was sick when he sent for Azen and died about the time Azen got there. Azen took with me, Noah Jo's rifle and bow and arrow and some other things; one of them was a ring which Noah Jo said went with me. Azen showed it to me then, Miss Carew; and years later, he gave it to me. Would you like to see it?"

"Please," Ethel said, that strange tug pulling at her harder. What he was saying to her was not repeated, or clearly told tale, she was sure. It was an old ring, not marked with a date, but of a fashion which suggested a century, or two centuries, gone.

"What did that mean to you?" she asked, holding it a moment longer before giving it back.

He considered it for a moment, holding it in the palm of his bare hand; they were proceeding slowly side by side. "Being a woman's ring," he said, "I supposed it was my mother's—whichever she was and however she happened to give it, and me, to Noah Jo. So I just kept the ring and tried not to think too much about her. Then the war came along, and I went."

"In 1917?"
"I got in our own army then; but I had the luck to go just after the Marne, with the Canadians. I spent the winter of 1915-1916 in London. I was just a kid, temporarily on crutches, with a slight wound."
"All England, Miss Carew—was full of people trying to get in touch with fellows who'd been reported killed, trying to reach their dead. You see 'Raymond' had recently been killed—"

"You mean—?"
"Sir Oliver Lodge's son; yes, Miss Carew. His father and mother and friends were receiving messages which they published and which they were sure must be from him; and thousands of other people were getting communications which they believed must be from their men who'd been killed."

"Oh!" Ethel murmured again. She did not hear the rest he said during the next moments.

They were still following, mechanically and without effort, the wide course of the old St. Florentin road. "I talked a lot about it," Loutrelle was saying when next she was conscious of hearing.

"Somebody in this room seemed to know just about everything concerning me. And I found out that my father was dead, but my mother was living. The medium knew about my ring and Azen Mabo and Noah Jo; about my friends in Boyne high school—people I'd never mentioned to any one."

"How did she know?"
"That's what gave me a jump. Of course, she might have learned those things, if she'd taken the trouble, or if Hus had sent a staff of detectives over here. Everything could have been learned naturally."
"Then why didn't you think it was—?"
"I haven't said it was learned unnaturally, but it was such a mixed lot of facts, Miss Carew. I'm normal, Miss Carew; I don't prefer weird explanations. But I admit I walked the streets of London that night."

"So you believed—?"
"Nothing yet. The next day I had to go back to France. I was at the front; but Hus had stayed in Loudon and kept trying to find out more for me, and on November seventh wrote me the letter I showed you."

"About my father?"
"Yes. Then I got a special discharge. I wired Hus in London that I was coming. But he wired back not to come to England but to get passage to America; said he was writing in explanation. This letter came two days later."

He halted again and put his hand into his coat pocket, drawing out an envelope similar to the other and with English stamp and postmark. Ethel recognized the same vigorous handwriting.

Dear Barney:
If you've never taken anything on trust before, take this from me, out top. Beat it for home—particularly to the town of St. Florentin in Northern Michigan. Do you know it?"

"Now I'll tell you why I'm ordering this. You'd say 'why and how'; but go. Particularly find a place named Resurrection or perhaps it's a house or a town near the water. Wait around. There'll be someone named Bagley there and Carew—not Philip Carew, I've mentioned before, unless there's another; maybe a relation. You're to tell Bagley you're Dick and you'll take things over. Now I don't know what this refers to; and neither will you probably. But it's all I can find out. I don't think you'll learn more except by going. Only, believe me, if I were you, I'd go at once."

Hus.
P. S.—You may have to look out when you get there. But you can see to yourself.

Ethel looked up. "Did anything follow this?"
"In explanation from Hus? No." He put his letter away and proceeded in silence. After a few minutes the trail left the road abruptly and vanished between the trees to the south.

"We're coming to an old lumber camp," Ethel said a little later. "No one's there now, but we keep one cabin sound and stocked with firewood."

Loutrelle pushed ahead and thrust open the weather-beaten door. He removed his skis and Ethel's also and stood them against the wall. Loutrelle closed the door, and a single, rudely glazed window lighted the interior. A telephone instrument was mounted on the wall. There was a fire wood and brush under the chimney, and Loutrelle struck a match and started a blaze.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

ALL NIGHT LONG JACK WAS KEPT ON WATCH. IT WAS A TRYING THING FOR HIM TO LITTLE FLY AND WHEN DAW AND FLIP SOUNDED ASLEEP.

THIS MADE THE HORSEMAN ANGRY AND HE CALLED THE OTHERS TO THE SCENE. THEN THEY ENQUIRED JACK, POOR LITTLE FELLOW, HE WAS PRETTY FRIGHTENED BY THE MEN STARTED AT HIM.

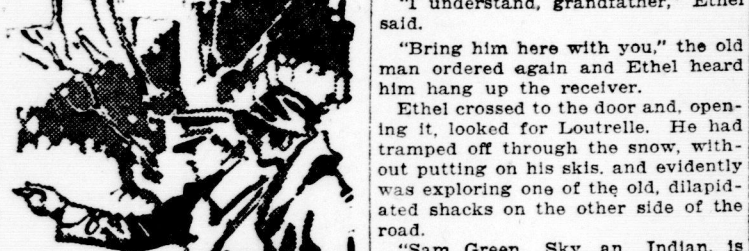

FROTHIN WENT TO A TREE AND KEEP HIM THERE UNTIL THE CHIEF RETURNS. FRID ONE OF THE MEN, FLYING BARBED BY THEM BUT THEY FOUGHT HIM OFF AND TIED JACK UP WITH A GOOD STOUT ROPE.

THE LITTLE ADVENTURER, OF COURSE, DID NOT KNOW THAT THE MEN DIDN'T INTEND TO HURT HIM, THEY WERE ONLY TRYING TO TEACH HIM A LESSON. HE GETS A LECTURE IN THE NEXT CHAPTER.

After a few minutes, the bell rang. "Ah! Ethel!" her grandfather's voice recognized her with irritable welcome. "So you did come, did you?"
Ethel made the obvious response and inquired about him and about her grandmother, inquiries which he ignored.
"You're at the cabin at last, I suppose. Particularly find a place named Resurrection or perhaps it's a house or a town near the water. Wait around. There'll be someone named Bagley there and Carew—not Philip Carew, I've mentioned before, unless there's another; maybe a relation. You're to tell Bagley you're Dick and you'll take things over. Now I don't know what this refers to; and neither will you probably. But it's all I can find out. I don't think you'll learn more except by going. Only, believe me, if I were you, I'd go at once."

WERE COMING TO AN OLD LUMBER CAMP.

"We're coming to an old lumber camp," Ethel said a little later. "No one's there now, but we keep one cabin sound and stocked with firewood."

Loutrelle pushed ahead and thrust open the weather-beaten door. He removed his skis and Ethel's also and stood them against the wall. Loutrelle closed the door, and a single, rudely glazed window lighted the interior. A telephone instrument was mounted on the wall. There was a fire wood and brush under the chimney, and Loutrelle struck a match and started a blaze.

FROSTING

A VERY simple frosting is made by mixing 4X confectioner's sugar with cream, hot water or fruit juice until of a consistency to spread. When fruit juice is not used add a few drops of vanilla or any preferred flavoring extract. Fresh strawberry or raspberry juice makes a very pretty colored frosting, and orange—a very good tasting one. If chocolate is desired, melt one ounce or one square and add confectioner's sugar until of the right consistency.

light, for Her Daddy Over There," also the old song, "Just as the Sun Went Down." I wonder if there are many Boxites very fond of music as I am. I am also a lover of flowers. I like every kind, and think all flowers are lovely.

Miss Grey, in my last letter, which was written over two months ago, you did not recognize me, because I changed my pen-name. Don't you know your old Boxite? I used to sign my name as Miss A. B. W. Do you remember now? I was just thinking I have joined your cosy corner over a year ago, so hope I am one of your friends now. Will close now, Miss Grey, so will sign as before. Remember your PETROLEA READER, NO. 2. Of course I remembered you as soon as you gave your former pen-name. How in the world did you expect me to remember you when you changed your pen-name and did not give your name and address? Did you think I would remember your writing? I wish the Boxites wouldn't change their names, unless it is a case of two persons taking the same name, as it is rather confusing some times. Thank you for sending in the songs, which may be asked for during the winter months.

WHERE ARE THE LANCA-SHIRE FOLKS?
Dear Miss Grey,—Now where are all the Lancashire folks just lately? I have been looking forward to another of those interesting hikes. Nobody took us around Boggart Hole Clough, as was requested. I wonder if any of the Lancashire folks came from any of the following districts: Denton, Gorton, Reddish, Longsight, and last, but not least, Blackley? I have lived in each of these different places, and came to Canada from Blackley. I would just like to be there right now, as the wakes holidays have just about started, and then wouldn't that be fine to be just packing your trunks and bags for a trip to Blackpool or Cleethorpes? Oh, for a ride on the water chute and the big wheel. The last time I went on the water chute I saw Stella Muir's picture company taking pictures for the movies, and it was very interesting watching them. I saw in the paper where Tetten is offering two copies of music for a dime. I would like to get 4 copies, for which I enclose two dimes. Also I would like Yankee Doodle's address. I guess she would be surprised to know another of the Boxites lives on the banks of the River Sydenham. I have had a nice letter from Mrs. H., and I am going to write to her some time today. I am glad to see such a lot of needy ones receiving help through the Mail-Box. I have a girl's coat and velvet dress that may be of some use to a needy one (8-year-old size), if anyone can find use for the two articles, they may have my address from Miss Grey. Will close, as my letter is already too lengthy.

MY LANCA-SHIRE LASSIE.
Why didn't you take us for a visit to Blackpool or Cleethorpes? We will start packing our trunks and bags, and be ready to go with you, so don't keep us waiting too long, or we will be very disappointed. Your name has been forwarded to Tetten, and the songs will be along in a few days. Yankee Doodle will be delighted to get a letter from one of the older Boxites, as she is just one of our little ones. She will be surprised, too, to know you live on the same river. It is very good of you to offer these clothes for some little girl. Thanks for the hospital mite.

is popular. Another trimming is red kid cut into conventional flowers and appliques. Wool crepe, wool Jersey, light serge and flannel are the materials shown in the first fall dresses. Many of the models combine two colors of the same material.

Peasant Styles Now in Girls' Sizes

THE peasant fashions which have been popular for grown-ups are being shown now in children's frocks.

Peasant sleeves and low-waisted bloused frocks are most noticeable of the innovations and distinguish a great many of the new dresses for little girls. The sleeves are quite full and are gathered in on a cuff at the wrist.

Quant smocked designs in peasant colorings are shown on children's dresses, too, and peasant embroidery.

HOW FAT ACTRESS WAS MADE SLIM

Many stare people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this new form of the famous Marmola Prescription, and now, by taking Marmola Prescription Tablets several times a year, keeps her weight just right. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.—Advt.

Radio Radiations

When vocal music was first broadcast by radio, the artists used to give the studio managers cause for worry. They would act while singing. This would lead them away from the microphone into which they were to send their voices and the result would be poor reception at the other end.

To forestall this acting, a clever manager hit upon the scheme of providing a miniature stage for the soloists. It is only a low wooden platform, but the singers feel more at home on it. At the same time the platform discourages them from moving about the room while singing.

LONG-DISTANCE RECORD.
Summer static didn't bother the radio operator on the tug Oncozia, which was anchored at Columbia River harbor, Astoria, Oregon, when he heard Atlanta recently. This is a distance of about 2,400 miles. It is considered a record in radio telephony and is the more interesting in that it was made during warm weather.

1,000 RADIO PATENTS.
More than 1,000 patents have already been issued by the U. S. patent office, covering new designs of materials connected with radio. Between 2,000 and 3,000 patents are pending. With this work ahead of the officials for investigation and approval, the patent office is one of the busiest places in Washington.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE.
Secrecy of messages by radio is said to be assured by the invention of R. D. Duncan Jun., formerly chief of the radio research laboratory of the U. S. signal corps. Duncan calls his invention the "superphone."

CHANGED HER NAME.
Dear Miss Grey,—How are you and all the Boxites keeping this hot weather, although it is getting a little cooler again now, isn't? I am sending in the words of two of the songs I have for any of the Boxites. They are, "Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight."

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD
Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The peroxide powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You get peroxide powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Advt.

Water Drunkards.

WHY bother making wine in the cellar? Water, drunk to excess, is an intoxicant.

Here's how Doc proved it. He fed, to experimental patients, extract from a small ductless gland at the base of the brain.

Then "the patient kept drinking water until he developed marked headache, nausea, a staggering gait, unsteadiness of muscle, and inability to stand or walk, which lasted for a few hours."

The final stage of the water jug, as described by Dr. Rowntree, is accompanied by convulsions and other symptoms resembling delirium tremens.

John Barleycorn is not the only intoxicant. A cup of strong coffee contains as high as five grains of caffeine.

People whose thyroid glands secrete excessively often get as much intoxication from thyroid as they could get out of a pint of whiskey.

The intoxication of excitement is caused by excessive secretion by the various endocrine glands of the body, especially the adrenals and thyroid.

Small wonder, that it is difficult for the nation to agree on what is intoxicating. A quantity of alcohol that would put one person to sleep might have no more effect on another than a bucket of water on a duck's back.

Few of us are ever really sober, or normal. One day we are, figuratively, a couple of drinks below normal. Another day we may be intoxicated without having taken a drink.

Who knows but what the bootleggers one of these days may be selling glandular extract?

Danger Ahead PLAIN TALK to the people of the United States is indulged in in the current issue of the American Baptist, published at Chicago by the Northern Baptist Association.

What is America doing in the face of the actual tumult and the prospective crash? America is marking time, standing idle in the market place, angrily snatching at clubs and stones and firearms, wasting precious working days, wrangling over scales and methods and rules and precedents; or playing and flapping and fagging and endlessly motoring and jolly, as who should say "worry" and all alike, all of us sowing the seed of a fruitful harvest, a harvest of hunger and cold, or privation and misery, of bitterness and sullen resentments, of dangerous cleavages and of social disruption, of political chaos and national disintegration—with a dying world looking on and wondering at our insanity.

Here is something that REPRESENTATIVE MACGREGOR seems to have overlooked: Canada was a participant in the world war.

Canada for month after month fought the battle that United States eventually had to fight.

"To plead the paramount rights of the helpless public, of the millions of victims of the industrial im-

The writer of the article under question is prepared to go the limit in predicting trouble for United States, unless there is a movement which will give the people the determining balance of power, and a chance to assert their rights as greater than the rights of the warring factions.

There are, no doubt, plenty of people in United States, and a number of them in Canada, who will read what the American writer has to say to his own people, and conclude that he is a first-class croaker and nothing else.

WHEN GIUSEPPE PAGLIACCI wore the uniform of an Italian aviator during the years of the war, he was a national figure and a national hero.

The crowned heads and officials of countries took time to do him honor, and place the highest awards, in the way of badges, on his uniform.

That was in the time of the war, when he was busy on destructive work. He had the ability to fly well and shoot with a deadly aim.

Today PAGLIACCI wears another uniform, that of a freight handler on the National Lines at a point away back in Northern Ontario.

Now he is doing useful service. He is helping to handle the freight business of the country, and every hour he works at this he is assisting in the commerce of the nation.

But the heads of the nation are not around pinning any medals on this-daring bird-man.

His only decoration is when the paymaster recognizes him and decorates him with an envelope at the end of the month.

Devotion to duty is essential in war, and devotion to duty is essential in peace, but the sad feature of it is that our civilization seems to stress paying recognition to the former, and forget it in times of peace.

WHEN United States legislators can think of nothing else to say they are almost certain to bring up the question of cutting Canada into slices and trucking some of these slices to the other side of the border.

REPRESENTATIVE MACGREGOR of New York is the latest man at Washington to plan a new method of carving Canada. He has the idea that Britain's war debt to United States can be paid by taking that section of Ontario containing the great lakes, and handing it over to Washington.

It is this same condition that has been religiously avoided in any dealings between Downing street, London, and Ottawa, Canada. Canada is a nation, and the sooner this is fully recognized by United States, the sooner will we get to some fair working basis with the people there.

This business of pie-cutting the Dominion has been mentioned two or three times. The first time it got into the joke columns of Canadian papers, and that was quite the proper place for it. Since then it has been to the front on two or three occasions, and the tragic part of it is that it is brought forward by men who, from their position and standing in the public life of United States, ought to be in a position to know better.

If the tables were reversed, and United States owed great sums of money to Britain, would the reputation take kindly to the suggestion, made in all seriousness, by some official in Ottawa or in London, that the states surrounding the great lakes should be handed over to Canada, and the great waterways system of the country thus given over to a foreign power?

United States would quickly resent such a suggestion, and they would show a very fine national spirit in so doing. Canadians view the slicing proposition from the representative at Washington in very much the same light.

The Innocent Suffer. HENRY FORD has made an announcement in connection with the continuance of the coal and rail strikes in United States. His statement is not good news, but bad.

It is just such an announcement as might be expected under the circumstances. It is not possible for his plants to get coal enough, and in consequence 105,000 employees will have to suspend operations on Sept. 16.

This is just one industry that has been taken by the neck and forced to the point of closing by a strike in which the men most concerned have nothing to do.

The men working in the HENRY FORD plants had nothing to do with the declaring of the strike in the mines or on the railroads. They were never asked to take a vote on it, nor had they any voice as to how long the strike should be in effect.

And yet here they are, 105,000 of them, at the point where they will have to lay down the tools with which they earn their daily bread, and walk out. They are, to all intents and purposes, as much on strike, or will be, as the men who are in the various unions. As a matter of fact, they will be in a worse condition, for the reason that they will draw no strike pay for the time they are out of employment, neither have they the power to take a vote and go back to work, such as the strikers have.

This is one of the most objectionable features of the strike idea, viz.: that it carries with it the possibility of inflicting untold suffering and hardship on a great number of people who have nothing more to say about the whole rumpus than the inhabitants of Mars.

The strike takes into no consideration the larger element of society, and for that reason alone it is wrong.

LITTLE 'TISERS The best way to get along with a poor sport is to get along without him.

Blessed is that man who recognizes that there are many things he does not know.

Decision and action make a great team. Separately they are not worth two hoots.

As we get closer to winter we feel less disposed to crack jokes about the coal situation.

And when we go into the butcher shop and ask for a quarter's worth of liver, the man always says: "Will 25 cents worth be too much?" He's a great salesman.

There's a new disease called pelagra. The Renfrew Mercury says it means only "smarting skin," and that it was very common among the bad little boys at school 30 years ago.

Two big bank robberies in the West inside of 48 hours will lend some strength to the plea that there is still work for the Northwest Mounted Police to do in that country.

"There is no denying the fact that the present fuel problem is a burning one."—Hamilton Spectator.

THE ADVERTISER has a column for things that happened 25 years ago today. How do you wish we could take all the news of strikes and lock-outs and such things and dump them in that quarter of a century ago place.

The mayor of London says that school trustees receiving premiums on insurance from the Western Fair Board are in danger of losing their positions on the board of education. Oh, boy, wouldn't that be a regular knockout!

The British House of Commons, by the very decisive majority of 164 decided to grant protection to fabric gloves, domestic and illuminating glassware and enameled hollow-ware. What has become of "free trade as we have it in England"?

An advertisement reads that the most beautiful blonde in the world is about to impart her great secret. And along comes one wicked paragrapher and says that perhaps she is going to tell the exact date on which she became a blonde.

Farmer's Sun: "Are you too big to kiss?" timidly asked PREMIER KING of the blushing young miss who presented him with a memento on his recent visit to South Essex, in heresy betraying the bachelor's ignorance. Someone should have told him that the bigger they get the more they approve of the gentle art.

Doctors in New England seem to be of the opinion that it is perfectly right and proper to eat pie for breakfast. Strange how these habits change in a few hundred miles. If pie were served on the breakfast table of the average Ontario home word would be passed around that the countryside had suddenly gone daft.

What's become of the dove of peace that we were getting ready to entertain some months back? The nations of the world were then putting dove-cotes on all their royal hats, while now there are so many new guns, bombing machines, and new kinds of gas, that the bird is so scared stiff that it will not stay set any place.

Some of those who hold to the poor old theory that money is power can have a very good illustration of the failure of their pet view in the coal business right now. If they were right, a man with money at his disposal should be able to get coal and lots of it. A man with money in his pocket cannot get coal. If he can get any warmth out of looking at his cash he is entitled to it. When money cannot be put in circulation the man with it and the man without it are on equal footing.

EMORY STORES, the noted Chicago lawyer, attended a banquet of stock breeders in the old Leland Hotel, Chicago, some 30 years ago. When called upon to speak he said: "Gentlemen, I have listened with great interest to the merits and good qualities of the Jersey, Holstein and other fine breeds of cattle, but as an attorney for railroads I can assure you the most valuable and highest priced animal in the world is the offspring of an ordinary cow crossed by a locomotive."

MERCILESS. "You say that this man has a grudge against you?" demanded the judge.

"Yes, your honor," replied Bill the Beggar. "When I was blind he used to steal the pennies from my cup, and when I was a cripple he'd run down the street with my box of pencils."

"Anything else?" "Yes, your honor. Once when I was deaf and dumb he shot off a firecracker underneath me."

Among the high schools pupils of Tillsonburg who leave this week to attend the model school are: Misses Inez Thompson and Annie Hall; Messrs. A. Pellman, W. de Forest and N. W. Snell.

Four young ladies took the veil at the Ursuline Academy, Chatham, Saturday. They were: Miss Bellecourt of Three Rivers, Que., whose name in religion is Sister M. de Chantal; Miss Blanche Pennefasher, Chatham, now Sister M. Leone; Miss Kuhn, Detroit, Sister M. City Clerk Kingston today telegraphed invitations to Lord and Lady Aberdeen, to Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Hon. A. S. Fisher and wife, Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. John Dwyden, to attend the Western Fair. They were signed by Colonel Lelys and by Mayor Little.

She received that amount from her husband on Saturday night and placed it in her parsonage, which she did not use until the next evening. On going over the route taken, a $10 bill was picked up, but no trace could be found of the remainder.

"Where are you running to, my little man?" asked the minister, when he had regained his breath.

"What!" gasped the astonished minister. "Are you eager to have your mamma spank you that you run home so fast?"

"No," shouted the boy over his shoulder, as he resumed his homeward flight, "but if I don't get there before pa, he'll do it."

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY TODAY'S word is—RAPPROCHEMENT.

It's pronounced—according to Webster, ra-prosh-man, with the first syllable lightly and the second syllable more heavily accented, but in its original French form the last syllable is pronounced about half way between "mawnt" and "mong" with the "t" barely, if at all, touched upon, and with the syllables equally accented, a pronunciation lacking an exact equivalent in English.

It means—the act or fact of coming or being drawn near or together; the establishment or state of friendly relations.

It was "lifted" into the English language directly from the French, "rapprocher," to cause to approach again.

It's used like this—"Some French leaders believe they have a chance to get their money more quickly and easily by a rapprochement with Germany than through the use of force."

ADMIT PENSION PLANS UNJUST

Witnesses Point Out How Certain ex-Service Men Were Penalized.

Judge Margeson Attributes Unfairness To Delay in Peace Declaration.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—(By Canadian Press.)—That the 1920 amendments to section 11 of the pensions act had been the means of unjustly penalizing certain ex-service men was admitted to the royal commission investigating the pensions board charges by Judge Margeson, formerly a member of the pensions board.

Judge Margeson declared that this came about because of the declaration of peace having been postponed for nearly a year after it had been expected and the peace-time interpretation of the act came into effect in September, 1920. There was, however, no conspiracy to bring this about, he declared, the pensions board and the parliamentary committee having expected that peace would be effected much earlier.

Judge Margeson will continue on the stand when the commission resumes tomorrow morning at 9:30. Col. Thompson, chairman of the pensions board, explained this afternoon that he had made a mistake in giving evidence a couple of days ago. He had said, in answer to questions by Great War Veterans' Association, that it would make a great difference whether or not the application for pension was received before Sept. 1, 1920.

As a matter of fact, the date of application was of no importance whatever. If it was proven that the disability occurred prior to Sept. 1, 1920, the man was given full pension, as long as the application was received within three years after the declaration of peace, he said.

Judge Margeson was examined as to his evidence before the 1920 parliamentary committee, when he and Dr. Burgess were questioned together. To Mr. Bowler he said he had stated that the proposed amendment to section 11 would not effect former C. E. F. men as compared with the old pensions act. He had prepared the pension board memorandum on the proposed amendments.

This stated that pension would only be payable on a basis of attributability of disability to war service. Cal. Ralston—"Then if a soldier died one day before declaration of peace his dependents would be pensionable; but if after declaring of BRANTFORD, Aug. 30.—The municipal swimming pools, which have been installed in the river, will be kept up until late in September, according to Ald. Hill, chairman of the playgrounds commission, this morning. Ald. Hill stated that the pools would not be dispensed with as long as the children patronized them.

peace his dependents would not be pensionable?" Judge Margeson replied that under the 1919 act a man disabled or dying after discharge was not pensionable unless attributability was proven. "After the 1920 amendments we took away a certain right from some persons," said Judge Margeson.

"There was no conspiracy; it arose from the delay in the declaration of peace and unintentionally penalized the men discharged between that date and the actual declaration of peace."

Mr. MacNeill and the committee and everyone else thought they knew all about the declaration of peace at that time.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO BLENHEIM WAREHOUSE Special to London Advertiser. BLENHEIM, Aug. 30.—The warehouse of the Kent Farmers' Produce Company, Limited, was visited by burglars Sunday night. The burglars borrowed an adze from the ice-house of the P. M. R. R. and forced an entrance to the office of the company. As a reward for their pains they secured only a few coppers when they forced open the till, as the company does not make a habit of leaving money in the office over night. Two strange cars were seen in the neighborhood of the Kent Farmers' about 9 o'clock, but no suspicions were aroused at the time. It is now thought that this was the time when the burglary was committed, but there is no clue as to the identity of the culprits.

A week ago on the grounds here the Dresden visitors were humbled by the score of 9 to 3, and forced from first to second place in the race, a tie with Blenheim. The team here is hopeful that they will be able to repeat tomorrow.

WORLD LEAGUE MUST TACKLE BIG PROBLEM

Geneva Conference Will Be Expected To Place Responsibilities.

EXPECT LLOYD GEORGE

British Premier's Presence Would Add Interest To Proceedings.

GENEVA, Aug. 30.—Arriving delegates to the third assembly of the League of Nations bring reports of pessimism throughout Europe owing to the failure of the Genoa and Hague conferences and the London meeting of the allied premiers.

This promises for next week a lively opening for the assembly, which will take up first of all a report on the activities of the council, after which the commissions will be given an opportunity to raise and discuss every question within the competence of the League of Nations and the council.

Lord Robert Cecil and other delegates declare that the assembly is competent to discuss and ought to discuss every angle of the economic situation in Europe, including reparations, France and perhaps Belgium, will plead that the assembly is incompetent to discuss this question, which is regulated by the treaty, but certain delegates believe that nothing can prevent its discussion, as it is so closely related to the economic situation.

Some of the delegates seem inclined to turn the discussion of the report of the council into a series of interpellations, as is customary in European parliaments.

During such interpellations the council would be questioned and asked to explain itself on all shortcomings in the work of the league during the last year.

The possibility of the presence of Premier Lloyd George largely increases the interest in the assembly proceedings. It is openly stated that some of the delegates at the British prime minister will take this opportunity for a strong effort to force action on the economic situation.

HAS COAL SUPPLY FOR THIRTY DAYS

General Motors Officer Announces Plants Will Not Close Down.

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—Detroit manufacturers were considerably heartened today by announcement from Charles S. Mott, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation, one of the most important industries of this district, that the corporation had a supply of coal sufficient to maintain present production for about 30 days.

The announcement banished, in part at least, the fear felt here that a general industrial shutdown was impending following Henry Ford's decision to close his plants Sept. 16.

We are hopeful the coal crisis will have passed before our coal supplies are exhausted, but of course our action in the future depends entirely upon the progress of the strike," Mr. Mott said.

Officials of the Ford Motor Company today went ahead with their plans to close the company's plants here next month, reiterating Mr. Ford steadily would refuse to pay what he believes is an exorbitant price for coal.

90,000 PRESENT AT BIG EXHIBITION

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—The Canadian National Exhibition was the mecca of 90,000 people today, a gain of 15,500 over the attendance for the corresponding day of last year. The aggregate attendance so far this year is still 19,000 behind the figures for the corresponding period of 1921. This was merchants' day at the big fair and retailers from all over the province were visitors.

Tomorrow, music and women's day, is expected to find 3,000 musicians on the grounds. There will be piano and organ recitals and the program will last from 10 a.m. till 9:30 p.m. A feature will be singing by 2,000 members of the Princess of Wales Chorus.

CAYUGA WOMEN'S CLUB HOLDS MONTHLY SESSION

CAYUGA, Aug. 30.—The August meeting of the Cayuga Women's Institute was held at "The Pines," the home of Mrs. D. Duff, Tuesday, and was one of the most interesting and enjoyable of the season.

Twenty-five members were in attendance, and no more beautiful sitting could have been selected for the meeting than the lawn of "The Pines." The program was given by visitors from the Cayuga branch, and was unusually good.

Mrs. Arrell gave a paper on "Women's Part in the Making of Canada," which contained much valuable information, and Mrs. Paterson's talk on "The British Flag" was inspiring as well as instructive.

Sees Selected Immigration As Solution of Canada's Problem

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—"Selected immigration is the solution of Canada's economic problems," declared Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, in an address at the luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition Association here today.

"The economic need," he continued, "are those people of agricultural experience who will go on the land and stay there."

Hon. Mr. Stewart said it would not be good policy to encourage business, professional and technical men to come to Canada. "We have no place to put them," he added. "One of the things we have to do is to get the population into Canada. We must be very much concerned about the quality of settlers we get and very much more so about getting them in large quantities."

The former Saskatchewan premier said he hoped the bumper crop in the West this year would mean more business from that direction in the near future. Mr. Stewart took occasion to express the belief that the divisions between the East and West would soon pass away. He assured those present that there was no desire on the part of Western Canada to propagate anything that would separate East and West.

MAKE RECORD FOR TILLSONBURG FAIR

9,000 People Pay Admissions On Second Day of Big Celebration.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 30.—The second day of the old boys' reunion and jubilee celebration proved to be a success beyond all bounds of imagination in point of crowds and entertainment. By 9 a.m. Broadway was lined with visitors for the call-thumpian and old boys' parade, which was over a mile in length, headed by the Guelph jazz band.

The judges, Walter A. Schilling and John N. Ostrander of the Great Empire Shows, had a big job on their hands to decide the prize-winners, which were declared as follows:

Parade Winners. Best decorated float, Bell Telephone Company; best decorated auto, old boys of 50 years ago; second prize, Union Jack Club; third prize, Dr. S. Rutherford; best decorated bicycle, Thomas Rogus.

At 1:30 o'clock the huge parade formed on Broadway and led by the Citizens' Band, marched to the Agricultural Park for the afternoon's sports.

Between 8,000 and 9,000 people paid admission at the gate and every class of cattle and poultry contained the biggest exhibits in the history of the fair. The Great Empire Shows on the midway furnished a clean, unquestionable class of amusement.

Ticket selling to the grandstand was stopped at 2:30, the stand being filled to overflowing. The fair will close tomorrow and today's huge record is likely to be upset if the good weather continues. The two harness races today created intense enthusiasm among the very large number of American visitors, who acknowledged that all the good racing was not furnished on the U. S. tracks.

CLUBMAN FACES MURDER CHARGE

Rochester Millionaire Held Following Tragic Battle With Tailor Over Woman.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 30.—Owen D. Dewitt, millionaire clubman and real estate operator, was today charged with murder, first degree, after the slaying of J. Frank O'Connor, tailor, in the latter's home here Monday.

O'Connor died from the effects of a battle, which police say, began over a stenographer. Dewitt was brought to this city last night after his arrest in a Syracuse hotel. Because of his mental condition, due, it is said, to excessive drinking, arraignment on the charge was deferred until tomorrow.

Witnesses questioned today in the preliminary examination, told of attending a corned beef and cabbage party with Dewitt an hour after the crime at which they say he boasted of the fight with the tailor. They say that after the luncheon Dewitt returned to the tailor's establishment, stepped over the body of the dead man, washed his hands and obtained a grip and took a train to Syracuse.

Today, when he was questioned, he denied knowledge of the crime, saying his mind was a blank from heavy drinking.

THREE LIBERALS ARE ELECTED

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 30.—Three Liberals and two Conservatives were elected in the provincial by-elections here today, leaving the standing of the parties in the House of Assembly unchanged.

The government gained one seat in the fifth district of Prince, but lost one in third Prince.

WILL ATTEND BRANTFORD DECORATION DAY SERVICE

BRANTFORD, Aug. 30.—Grand Master T. A. Sharp of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, has notified the memorial committee that he has arranged to be in Brantford for the decoration service on Sunday, Sept. 10.

The grand master will speak at both Greenwood and Mount Hope Cemeteries, and will place a wreath at the base of the I. O. O. F. monument in honor of the local Oddfellows who gave up their lives in the Great War.

Mayor Parker, past grand, will also take part in the decoration service.

KIWANIS CIRCUS MAKES BIG HIT

St. Thomas Organization Entertainment Conducted by London Members.

Proceeds To Be Devoted To Further Playground Scheme.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 30.—The Kiwanis circus in the Michigan Central Park was Wednesday night in charge of the London members who have been generally congratulated on the excellent character of the entertainment which they provided.

Sam G. Amero, who delighted the club with his witticisms at their luncheon Monday, was on the grounds and his impersonation of the old-time hallyhoon man was the cause of many smiles.

The main show had many excellent numbers, the chief of which was a ten-minute wrestling exhibition between Malcolm McIvor and Ed. Lewis, the tumbling act of Rock and Farr and Peter Laing, and the musical numbers of the Brunswick Trio.

Moving pictures were also shown in the main tent. The usual number of minor attractions were in full swing and excellent business was done by the paddle wheel men.

The concert of the 25th Regimental Band was particularly pleasing and the desire was expressed that arrangements be made by the city to make their concerts a permanent thing in the park.

The proceeds were estimated at about 4,000. The proceeds which go to swell the Kiwanis playground fund are of gratifying size, it is understood.

POPULAR RESIDENT OF KITCHENER DIES

John Fennell, Pioneer Hardware Merchant, Passes After Short Illness.

KITCHENER, Aug. 30.—Kitchener lost one of its oldest and most widely-known citizens today in the death of John Fennell, pioneer hardware merchant and president of the Economical Fire Insurance Company of this city.

Mr. Fennell had been seriously ill until about a month ago when he recovered sufficiently to resume his business duties. About two weeks ago he suffered a relapse and for the last two days was in a state of coma.

Deceased came to this city sixty years ago when Kitchener was a village, starting up a hardware store of which he has since been the active head. He was born in Cobourg on August 8, 1857, and received his early education there. In 1885 he began his career in the hardware business, conducting a store at Stratford for three years before coming to Kitchener. Mr. Fennell was identified with the early growth of Kitchener, serving for more than a quarter of a century on the school board.

He was also associated with the local Conservative party in politics, being president of the North Waterloo Association a number of years. He was also the first president of the local board of trade and was still a member of the board at the time of his death, and was instrumental in the organization of the Economical Fire Insurance Company of which he was president for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Alicia Jackson, and the following children: Mrs. M. M. Stewart of Whitby; Miss Bessie Fennell at home; Mrs. Orr, Nashville, Tenn.; James P. of this city. One sister, Mrs. G. O. Stanton, Westmount, Montreal, also survives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gates and family, of Blaney, were Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. Gates returned home with them to spend a week. Foxes are still killing the turkeys and hens in this vicinity and some of the farmers decided on having a fox-hunt Saturday morning, which resulted in Albert Gton shooting the first fox of the season.

CLAIM SOVIET IN ODESSA REPUDIATED BOLSHEVISM

THINK CAR STOLEN FROM LONDONER

Stratford Police Arrest Two On Finding Auto On Erie Street.

STRAITFORD, Aug. 30.—Recently a description of a car stolen from London was sent to the local police. Sergeant Gagen yesterday discovered a coupe answering the description of the stolen car in every particular behind Gillies' brewery on Erie street.

Two strangers in the vicinity were arrested by the sergeant on a charge of vagrancy. Today they appeared in police court and were remanded for a week and in the meantime identification of the car will be made certain. The two young men stated they were from Detroit.

R. E. Jantzi was sentenced to six months in the county jail at hard labor by His Honor Judge Barron this morning at court. Jantzi was charged with false pretences concerning the purchase of a car from Messrs. O'Flynn and Jerry on July 15 last. The time already spent in jail will be deducted from the sentence.

When the local Grand Trunk Band goes to Toronto tomorrow to play at the Canadian National Exhibition, they will be attired in brand new uniforms. The band will participate in the Ontario band contest Thursday afternoon. On Friday they will play in the north bandstand near the Dufferin entrance, from 3 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 8:30 till 10:30 at night. On Saturday they will play at the "Made-in-Stratford" exhibition.

AMUNDSEN POSTPONES FLIGHT ACROSS POLE

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 30.—Captain Raoul Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, has definitely abandoned, for this year, his plan for an airplane flight from Northern Alaska across the North Pole to Spitzbergen or Grant's Land, but plans to hop off next spring, it became known today with the arrival here of the coast guard cutter.

COMPANY CANCELS WOODSTOCK SITE

Brunswick - Balke - Collender Firm Terminates Proposal To Locate in City.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 30.—The long deferred hope of this city to become the Canadian headquarters of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company of Chicago were terminated today by the receipt of a letter from the mother company by the board of trade, containing the information that the company has finally decided not to come.

Back in 1919 the city passed a by-law granting a ten acre site and a bonus of $50,000 to the proposed company, which was later incorporated as the Brunswick Canadian Products Company. Later this bylaw was made valid by means of a private bill passed by the legislature.

In return the company was to erect a $300,000 building here and employ not less than 300 hands from the outset. They were to manufacture photographs and kindred lines. Now the city has the property on its hands, which cost close to $20,000, although it is producing an annual return of $1,500. The incidental expenses in connection with the negotiations, the passing of the bylaw, the private bill, etc., ran up close to $2,000.

The city had a definite agreement with the company in question and its failure to meet the terms of this agreement is a matter which is to come before the city fathers at their first regular session in September.

A huge illuminated alternating electrical sign of "Canadian National Grand Trunk Railways" first attracts the visitor. Along a hundred feet of space, an artistic background throws into effective relief a striking exhibit, having as a center-piece the boiler-head of a locomotive, of the latest Mikado type, carrying the most modern effects and devices of railway construction.

Flanking this great boiler-head is a one-fifth size model of a Mikado locomotive, with tender with full size parts of an engine in the foreground. Everywhere one turns, something of interest is revealed. One table, for example, carries samples and drawings of the work done by the one hundred and twenty-five apprentices in this big Ontario repair shop of the line whose technical education of a high grade is given in mathematics and mechanical drawing. The samples of apprentices' work, in tolls, bolts, screws, etc., place the young workers in the ranks of the most efficient.

Two first aid trophies are another feature of this exhibit, the Wallace Nesbitt and the Montzambert trophies, open to competition among the railway men of Canada. The men who form the Stratford Grand Trunk shops achieved a double honor in winning both trophies in the same year.

To the left of the big center-piece of the exhibit is a model of the Grand Trunk Railway station at Stratford, one of the newest and most attractive on the system. When illuminated it looks real and inviting enough to enter. A model rest room, with "comfy" chairs and settees, writing tables, etc., placed in front of the model station, for real use by exhibition visitors, gives an idea of the comfort features of a new station like the Stratford one.

Nor is this catalogue of the Stratford-Grand Trunk exhibit yet exhausted. A bullseye of penetrating light, an illuminated map shows the Stratford division of the Grand Trunk System, while an air-operated bell and fire-hole door indicate the latest appliances that make easier the work of the engineer and fireman.

The advance being made in details of locomotive and railway construction along every line. The credit of this unusual and suggestive exhibit is due to the Grand Trunk executive and to J. C. Garden, general superintendent of the Motive Power and Car Department, Montreal, and J. Roberts, superintendent of the Motive Power, Stratford; W. C. Sealy, general foreman of the Stratford Shops, and the hundred of men who had a part in its construction.

It is satisfactory too for the public to realize that the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways are in the forefront in mechanical equipment, with all that means to successful railway operation, and this exhibit is a striking evidence thereof.

WILL REORGANIZE FEDERAL FORCE

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—That there will shortly be a radical change in the organization and jurisdiction of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was intimated by Premier King in the course of his speech at the banquet in his honor here tonight. The premier intimated as one of the striking "evidences of the centralizing tendencies" of the recent Union government the change made in the Northwest Mounted Police, whose headquarters were transferred from Regina to Ottawa and its character changed from that of a police force for unorganized territories to a "federal and practically military force."

Already, said the premier, the Liberal government had discharged a large body of the new force and he hoped the time would soon arrive when the headquarters of the force would no longer be in Ottawa.

What are the wild waves saying?

Denies Ferry Service To Be Discontinued.

SARNIA, Aug. 30.—A strong rumor prevalent in the city today that the Northern Navigation Company intended to discontinue its ferry service inaugurated this season between Sarnia and Port Huron, on Sept. 15, was given categorical denial by H. H. Gildersleeve, manager of the company, this afternoon.

Mr. Gildersleeve said the rumor probably had its origin in the fact that no move had yet been made to build winter accommodation at the terminals. This, he said, would receive attention in ample time for cold weather.

WORK DELAYED ON MARKET BUILDING

Failure of Materials To Arrive Holds Up Brantford Job.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 30.—The work on the new Market Building is still being held up on account of the failure of the brick for the walls not arriving in the city. The brick has been ordered for some time from a Hamilton firm, but has not yet arrived here. Considerable delay was also caused by the fact that the lumber, which was also ordered from a Hamilton firm, was delayed in reaching the city, but this took place in the earlier construction of the building.

After a busy summer season the various troops of boy scouts in the city will commence their even busier fall season with the first of the month. Although the troops have held very few meetings during the summer, the program has consisted of camps, hiking, cycling and a number of other items which makes the scout work so interesting to the boys.

With the first of the month the scouts will commence holding their regular meetings and an active program of indoor work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Oldershaw and four children, 322 Chatham street, escaped serious injury almost miraculously, when a Ford sedan which Mr. Oldershaw was driving, collided with a Hamilton-Toronto bus at York and Locke streets this morning.

The bus was coming along York street from the Toronto highway into the city and Mr. Oldershaw was driving north on Locke street, the bus caught the sedan squarely in the center, throwing it across the road and into a telegraph pole. The sedan is a complete wreck, but the six occupants are only shaken up.

A grouch is a man who wants winter to come in summer and summer to come in winter.

HULL FIRE CHIEF HURT IN ACCIDENT

Alphonse Tessier Injured When Car Turns Over Near Tilbury.

Special to London Advertiser. CHATHAM, Aug. 30.—Fire Chief Alphonse Tessier of Hull, Quebec, is in St. Joseph's Hospital here suffering from broken ribs and possibly slight internal injuries as a result of an unfortunate automobile accident which occurred near Tilbury yesterday. The fire chief and his son were being driven by Tom Montgomery to Leamington, when proceeding along the road at only a moderate rate, the car struck a rut and rolled over sideways.

Montgomery and young Tessier sustained bruises, but no broken bones. Dr. McCall of Tilbury was summoned to attend the injured fire chief. The car was only slightly damaged. The unfortunate accident marred the afternoon's outing planned for the delegates to the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs convention by the municipality of Leamington. Scores of cars left the city at noon today carrying the fire chiefs, their wives and friends.

Business of any importance was discussed at the convention today. The morning was almost entirely devoted to demonstrations of sprinklers and other fire-fighting facilities. In the Griffin Theater, T. Grove Smith, Dominion fire commissioner, gave a lecture on the fire menace. He declared that property loss from fire during 1921 amounted to over forty-five millions of dollars.

8 COWS TRAPPED IN OLD BARN STARVE TO DEATH

GORE BAY, Aug. 30.—After days of searching on farms near here for a herd of cows, it was discovered that they had been trapped in an old barn when the door dropped shut. No business was done by the herd, and eight of starvation and thirst and the ninth cow is now being nursed back to health on a diet of oatmeal gruel. Rather than remove the carcasses, the owners decided to burn the barn.

TECHNICAL HIGH OPENS TUESDAY

Splendid Modern Equipment of All Kinds Is Feature of School.

Educates Students With Aim to Prepare Them For Life Vocation.

The London Technical High School opens next Tuesday with all its splendid and modern equipment for both commercial and professional education.

A progressive institution, where thorough academic courses of high school grade are combined with practical training, the technical school ranks in the front line of outstanding educational buildings in the province.

Since its inauguration the policy carried out has been that of educating students with the direct aim of preparing them for success in life. The individual needs of each student are given thorough consideration, and natural tendencies or gifts developed to the utmost.

Variety of Courses.

The variety of courses offered, and the practical experience which may be secured in various trades and professions gives each student ample opportunity of choosing a vocation which will mean a life work and not merely a livelihood. Every effort is made to have a student leave the school with a keen interest aroused in some particular profession, which may be made his life work.

Another important factor for consideration must be the up-to-date equipment and modern building of the technical high school.

Heating, ventilating and lighting, those three factors so essential to the student's health have been carried out along the most modern and scientific lines and with such efficiency and success that they have called for inspection and comment from educationalists and architects in all parts of Canada.

A power machine plant, a power woodworking plant, electrical shop, automobile shop, physical and chemical laboratories, for boys, and complete household science equipment for girls—all these in combination with the academic course offer complete and thorough education in all the branches of technical high school work.

Staff of Specialists.

Equally important is the fact that the entire staff is composed of qualified high school specialists, each of whom rank as a thoroughly efficient and experienced teacher.

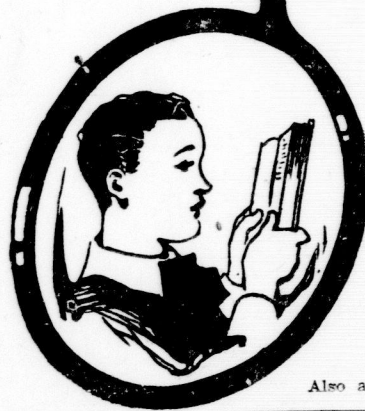

A variety of courses have been arranged to meet the needs of students. The matriculation courses qualify students to enter any of the departments of the university, but specially prepare those who wish to enter the departments of engineering, applied science or household science and arts. The commercial high school course, the only commercial course in the city, given under the London Board of Education, prepares for successful business positions and the higher branches of mercantile life.

Technical high school courses combine a thorough high school academic training with pre-vocational training in the basic industrial occupations.

There has been prepared a special one-day course for those who failed on the entrance high school examinations, and particular attention has been paid to the preparation of a course for those coming in under the adolescent attendance act. The principal of the school will be pleased to meet parents and give information and advice to students. The school is open for this purpose every evening.

MUSICAL ART OPENS FRIDAY

Expects Large Registration of Pupils for 1922-23 Terms.
Concerts and Recitals by Students to Feature Year's Work.

Friday the Institute of Musical Art will reopen after the summer vacation entering upon the fourth year of its existence. More than a thousand pupils were registered last season, and this year the staff has been increased to seventy teachers, providing the finest tuition possible in every department. It is the object of A. D. Jordan, the musical director of the Institute, to produce musicians rather than mere performers, as is so often the case, and while the rudiments of music may be acquired in a few months, the student at the Institute of Musical Art is constantly reminded that the study of music is a life work.

It is scarcely necessary to dwell at length upon the advantages to students obtained through institutional tuition. Not only are the students given every opportunity to broaden their artistic horizon by providing them with instruction in more than one branch of the art—in some cases at no cost to them—but they are surrounded by that musical atmosphere which is so stimulating to earnest study and by the example of others who are laboring to bring their talents to perfection.

Moreover, they are given concerts and recitals in which they sing or perform, and thereby accustom themselves to public appearances, or in which they hear the work of others. To meet the need of musical instruction in very young children, Mrs. Evelyn Fletcher-Copp of Boston, the originator of the famous Fletcher Music Method for Children, conducted a teachers' normal training course at the institute during the summer, music teachers being in attendance from various parts of Canada and the United States. This course provided the institute with four teachers—possibly the largest staff in any institution in this country—of this wonderful method.

Ideal Method.
The Fletcher method ideal in education is not imitation but self-expression; not blind obedience but voluntary and joyful effort; not copying but creation. Because of her love and understanding of both children and music, Evelyn Fletcher-Copp has been inspired to evolve this truly liberating, democratic method.

In order to accomplish this in a way which makes every lesson a joy to a child, the Fletcher method makes use of fascinating apparatus, and games, and the harder the child plays, the more he learns.

A visitor to a class has outlined some of the things noted and enthusiastically commented as follows: "I have seen a whole class sit in rapt attention while the teacher sounded notes on the piano which the children in turn planted on the big staff the note to correspond with the sound.

"I have seen a class of seventeen break the Fletcher piano keyboard to pieces and reconstruct it, showing an ability to reason and explain any and every step taken, which would have flustered many a fine pianist."

Play Game With Scales.
"I have seen the children play a game with the scales, which resulted in each and every one being able to answer questions on the construction, signatures, technical names, intervals, through ear and eye, which most children sometimes cannot answer after three or four years' of private and expensive tuition."

"I have seen the children construct with their time blocks interesting combinations of notes and prove that they could recognize their own inventions by ear when played on the piano clothed with harmonies or rendered more difficult by the melodic treatment they received."

"I have seen the children getting their fingers, hands and feet ready for the future, often using their own inventions to their great glee and satisfaction."

The musical director of the institute, A. D. Jordan, is constantly conferring with parents and advising them regarding the musical education of their children.

RIBBONS AND BRAID.

Ribbons and soutache braid are used in a variety of ways on the new frocks. One of the most effective ways is to have them tinted in graduated shades, from yellow to deep orange, or from orchid to deep purple.

School Bells Ring Tuesday to Tune of Books and Slates

Children Regretfully Turn From Swimming Holes and Playgrounds to Begin Work Again, After Long Holiday.

DOWN through the ages bells have imparted messages of great import to man. But, it is safe to remark, none have given a more fateful one than the school bells after the long summer vacation. Tuesday morning a score of them will ring out the dread news that the swimming holes and the playing fields must be forsaken between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. five days each week by thousands of London school boys and school girls. They tell young London that pleasure is ended, that work lies ahead.

London school children and their teachers will find that London merchants are prepared to comply with every demand.

After a purchasing expedition in London business section, no child will be able to return to school and truthfully say he could not fill his wants. A few of the books may be

It is with regret, mingled with curiosity, as to what will be encountered on the next lap of the road of learning, that the pupils listen to doleful tones issuing from every school belfry.

However, the call to studies must be answered. And it behooves every pupil to prepare himself for the next year's work.

As new ground must be broken in the quest for learning, new tools are needed. Books, and still more books,

London stores have seen to it that the quality of the school supplies this year is of the best. Contemplating a rush they have laid in a heavy supply. And they have not forgotten to place reasonable prices on all their goods.

PLAN MEETING OF PUPILS' PARENTS

Mothers' Clubs Arrange Get-Together Scheme At Victoria School.

The Union Mothers' Club has been requested by Principal Miller of the London South Collegiate Institute to arrange a meeting on Tuesday evening next of the fathers and mothers of the students who are to attend this institution. The president, Mrs. Rose, has already held a meeting of these closely connected with the situation, and had the proposition placed before them. All of the ladies are very enthusiastic over the possibilities of such a meeting, and are making very careful and extensive arrangements so as to insure an opportunity of having explained to them the various courses included in the curriculum, as these are organized according to the regulations brought into effect last year by the department of education. This will enable the parents to cooperate with the principal in helping each student to decide upon the course that he or she should take, and will also give the parents a much better understanding of the way in which

Locked In

CHILDREN who go back to school Tuesday feel that they are going to be "locked in" after the freedom of the holidays. How would they feel were they locked in a dark room for four long years? That is what happened to Dominic Albino of New York. He was kept locked in a dark room for four years, according to officers, who found him in an east side garret.

the affairs of the institution are to be conducted.

The mothers' clubs connected with the various public schools in the district are making arrangements so that an opportunity will be given for the parents to meet the members of the staff of the new Collegiate Institute. They are making provision with this in view for a welcome to the principal and staff, by including in the program for the evening an opportunity for social intercourse and the serving of refreshments.

TO HOLD HARVEST HOME AT MELROSE

MELROSE, Aug. 29.—The annual harvest home anniversary services of the Melrose Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, Sept. 3 at 10:30 in the morning and at 7:30 in the evening. Rev. Mr. Hoskin, a former pastor, will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. Special music will be given by the choir.

On Monday evening, Sept. 4, the annual chicken supper will be served in Melrose Hall from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which a splendid program will be given on the green adjoining the hall. The "Lyric Ladies' Quartet," of London, Miss Marie Westland, reader, of London, and Mr. Auld, tenor soloist, will provide the program.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND U.F.O. PICNIC AT THAMESVILLE

THAMESVILLE, Aug. 30.—The annual U. F. O. picnic was held this afternoon in Fred Mason's grove, with a large crowd present, but scarcely equal to that of last year.

Keen disappointment was felt that Hon. F. C. Biggs and Hon. Manning Doherty were unable to be present as expected. Manning Morgan was chairman for the afternoon and the speakers included Superintendent of Good Roads Pardo Broadbent; Russell Holmes, reeve of Camden, chairman of good roads committee of the county council; Wm. McKenzie, John Buchanan and T. J. Daly.

Sports of all kinds were indulged in by the young folks, including a baseball game between the junior teams of Kent Bridge and Thamesville.

HANGS SELF SOON AFTER DISCHARGE FROM ASYLUM

MITCHELL, Aug. 30.—On Wednesday, Fred Steinbach, a man 38 years old, who had only returned to his home on the 12th concession of Logan, on Aug. 13 from the London Asylum, committed suicide by hanging himself.

He did not make his appearance at dinner time and a search being made for him, he was found in an out-building hanging by a rope which was fastened to a rafter.

An investigation was made by Coroner Armstrong and he decided an inquest was not necessary, as death came from suicide by hanging.

TECS BEAT JUDD, SAINT ACE, 7-2

Haines Keeps Hits Well Scattered, Pepping Up in Pinches.

OR the second time this week the Tec family put the taming iron on Judd, youthful ace hurler of the Barn-Port Huron Saints. Unlike Sunday, he went the full route yesterday to a 7-2 ending. The Tec went into the 8th still ehky from the fright they got in the visiting half of the frame, when their lean one-run margin was in imminent danger of being gobbled up whole. So they fell on Judd for four hits and four runs, putting a decided crimp in the 9th inning anticipations of the Kellys and the game away as it turned out.

Judd had a nice assortment yesterday and all that, but one of the early birds of ill-omen in the press-box noticed the Londoners were hitting them at somebody all the time and quoth he, "Wait a minute and they'll start placing them." For once the quoth right. Judd never struck one of the Londoners out and only four of the London swats were wasted in echoes.

First Two Wasted. The first two hits they got went to waste in the third. Carmen had no sooner singled than Judd heard him scoring off first and pegged him out. Stimpson singled also, but was killed off on Butler's choice. The third hit came in the next frame, a nice clean double by Gadsby, and Schaefer, who had walked, romped home.

In the fifth, after Carmen had popped out, Haines singled to left. Stimpson, next up, blazed a triple to center field. The saints infield almost crowded Butler off the plate trying to prevent him bunting. His first attempt went foul, but his next popped just over the head of the incoming Moehr—about two inches from a double play, which was unnecessary, of course. Judd took a fast throw, running head on first to retire the side.

Up to the fifth the Saints had only managed to scrape two hits off Haines. Here, with one gone, Moehr singled to right. "Poleon Goulat" grounded out, but Ashley, who had a big day on one big hit in Brantford on Tuesday, also singled to right. The pitcher's ball was perfect and Moehr and Mackey felt, with the London catcher covering the plate completely. Fyfe called Moehr out, as he undoubtedly was, for wasn't Mackey sitting on the plate there wasn't any of it showing for the catcher to touch, but his umpire had to take on heated debate against four or five of the Saints, who kept retreating the argument in chorus for a couple of innings until Worley, after a decision at second base in the eighth, took the sole part.

Had Better Luck. In the sixth the Saints had better luck. Worley, on through a choice, was wild-pitched to second, and advanced to third on Gettsie's single. He scored on Brown's sacrifice hit to right, which was another perfect pop from Schaefer. The next hit by Gettsie scored when Kaylor singled to left. Goulat's error on Butler's fly started the merry London eighth. Malmquist came through with a center, scoring the first run, and then came singles by Mackey and Carmen. Brown's error on a foul, Boyle's sacrifice fly and Carmen's hot smash at Worley, totalling up four runs.

Singles by Moehr and Finch-Hittler Walsh were waste by choice which followed them. The score:

Table with columns: Team, AB, R, H, P, O, A, E. Rows for Port Huron, Tec, and London.

Summary. Two-base hit—Gadsby. Sacrifice hits—Brown, Blake, Butler, Malmquist, Boyle. Bases on balls—Off Judd 3, off Haines 2. Struck out—By Haines 1. Double plays—Brown to Gettsie to Maehr. Mackey to Boyle.

This Hasn't Been Done in Mint Yet.

DURING this summer Twilight Leagues have grown popular in several of the big cities, semi-pro teams playing games between the hours of and a clock. Often a brass comes before the games are over.

In a twilight game up around Boston, according to Mark Roth, it was getting almost too dark to see the ball and the pitcher thought up a scheme.

"You hold the ball," he said to the catcher, "and I will wind up and make motions as if I was pitching. Then you slap your hands with the ball still in your mitt and the umpire will call it like."

They had two strikes on the batter already and they tried to wind up a phony one—and turned loose. The catcher with the ball in his hand slapped his mitt.

"Three strikes, you're out!" yelled the umpire, falling for the trick.

"Why you big bum," bawled the batter, "you're blind as a bat. That ball was three feet off the side—anybody could see that!"

BEAVERS LEAVE GELLAR TO FLINT Took Both Ends of Bargain Bill To Make Ascent.

KITCHENER, Aug. 30.—The Beavers climbed out of the cellar today, when they took both ends of a double-header. The first game was a 7-2 win over the Flint. The second game was a 4-1 win over the Flint.

Table with columns: Team, AB, R, H, P, O, A, E. Rows for Flint and Beavers.

WOLVES WIN IN NINTH. BRANTFORD, Aug. 30.—Brantford lost today's game to Bay City, a sacrifice fly by Matzuk in the ninth inning came from behind. Both pitchers were hit hard, and the makeshift infielders and outfielders held poor.

ROBTPONE CHANNEL SWIM. DOWRY, Aug. 30.—Henry Sullivan, of Dover, and Charles Toth of Boston, who intended to start this evening in an attempt to swim the English Channel, were welcomed by President Stollen Bass—Lalonde, Harris, 2, Whaley, Bob Saladina 1. CLAIMS CANADA REQUIRES LESS GOVERNMENT

Premier King Outlines Country's Need At Liberal Banquet in Toronto.

URGES IMMIGRATION
Declares Door Still Open For Merger of Parties.

TORONTO, August 30.—(By Canadian Press).—"There is such a thing as too much government, and we have had our share of it lately, in common with the rest of the world. With a national debt of over two billions three hundred and forty millions, and a population not yet nine millions, the less we have of government that can be avoided, and the more of immigration that can be obtained, the better for the state and every taxpayer in the state."

Concludes Address.
With the above message to the Canadian people, Premier King, W. L. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, tonight concluded his address at the banquet tendered him at the King Edward Hotel by the Liberals of Ontario.

Dealing with Dominion politics the premier gave the intimation that the door was still open for a merging of the Liberal and Progressive parties. The history of politics in Canada, he said, pointed to the fact that third parties were always born during Conservative rule. So it was with the present Progressive party. Addressed the government to secure the co-operation in the government of leaders of the Progressive party. Though the negotiations were not successful, he said it would be the fault of the Liberal party if it did not prove broad enough to make the third party unnecessary in Canadian politics.

The premier paid a feeling tribute to his parents and his early life in Toronto, also to his alma mater, University of Toronto.

The banquet in honor of the premier was given by the Ontario Liberal Association and the Ontario Women's Liberal Association. Hon. A. C. Hardy of Brockville and Mrs. H. Carpenter of Hamilton, presidents respectively of the two organizations, jointly occupied the chair. Madame Belanger of Ottawa, vice-president of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association, and a number of members of the House of Commons and the Ontario Legislature were seated at the head table.

Obligated Very Heavily.
Wellington Hay, M.L.A., leader of the Liberal opposition in the Ontario house, declared that the province had obligated itself very heavily in regard to the Chippewa power development and it must be made to pay. There was no occasion for more steel rails in the province at present, he said, but the present roads in many cases should be electrified.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior in the Dominion government, said that the country needed immigration but it also needed an economical administration and only immigrants that could be promptly and successfully assimilated.

The present government would encourage only immigrants of this character. He sounded a note of warning in regard to the Oriental problem. British immigration would be developed, but at present only such British immigration as would go on the farms of Canada or take up housework.

The premier was given an excellent reception. He remarked that it was the first occasion since he had assumed the premiership that he had addressed in Toronto a gathering from which in the advocacy of Liberal principles he could be assured of undivided support.

Mr. King said that the motive which, above all others, had guided him in his endeavor to have the fortunes of the Liberal party and the larger destinies of the Dominion conform to Liberal aims and aspirations was the "spirit of unity and good will, of which the Liberal convention held in Ottawa in August, 1919, was so outstanding an expression."

The premier said that this spirit, the spirit of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, beloved and honored in life and in death, was the guiding star by which he sought to direct the fortunes of the party.

The premier made some references to Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative opposition. "The one criticism I have to make of my distinguished adversary, the present leader of the opposition in parliament, is that his whole attitude appears to be one of ill-will," said the premier. "His sarcasm, never too refined, has given place to a poignant bitterness. He is, as Sir Lomer Gouin said of him, 'a poor loser.' Everyone is in the wrong but himself."

Tells of Railway Policy.
Mentioning the co-operation between the Liberals and Progressives in the recent session of parliament, Mr. King said:

"I think the experience of a session has been sufficient to disclose that neither the Liberals nor the Progressives have anything in common with the Tory opposition, with Tory attitude or principles or methods; and I think it has helped to demonstrate the greater relative advantage to each of a closer union in seeking to work out the aims we have in common."

On the public ownership of railroads the premier declared that the government had adopted a policy which, aiming at a reconciliation, not an enlargement of differences, was fair to both advocates and opponents of public ownership of the country who were most entitled to consideration. The premier said he had noted a tendency in Canada towards centralization in matters of government, which to his way of thinking was hazardous, if not most dangerous.

Gets Proposals

PARIS, Aug. 30.—(Mile. Augustine Dupont was with the prettiest stenographer in Paris. She received 10,000 francs and other presents—and 224 proposals of marriage in ten days.

It was perilous to national life and it was fraught equally with peril to inter-imperial relations. Most curious of all was the circumstance that it was from the provinces themselves that the danger appeared mostly to arise.

For instance, in connection with the provinces had come to view impatiently the restraints which the constitution imposed for the safeguarding of contracts by reserving to the provincial governments jurisdiction in such matters. Also with respect to unemployment and the fuel famine the provinces looked to the federal government for relief. When the coal miners' strike occurred in Nova Scotia, it was to the federal authorities that an immediate appeal was made for troops.

"We shall have to amend our constitution and the spirit of it as well if, whenever industrial disputes arise and the alarm can be sounded loud enough, the department of national defence is to be looked to for the supply of military, naval, or air forces," said Mr. King.

"As I see the division of function and power under our constitution, in all these problems which affect liberties and local interests, and in a larger way provincial liberties and provincial interests, it is not for the federal government to usurp the rights and powers reserved by the constitution to localities and provinces, nor for localities and provinces to shift their problems for solution into the federal arena. It is for both federal and provincial governments to see that their respective rights and powers were exercised in accordance with the spirit of the constitution, co-operating wherever possible to bring about a truer harmony and a wider unity among the self-governing elements of our vast Dominion."

ADDRESSES WOMEN LIBERALS.
TORONTO, Aug. 30.—An imposing array of speakers, including the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Dominion prime minister, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, Senator Hardy and Wellington Hay, leader of the Ontario Liberals, today addressed the annual meeting of the Women's Liberal Association of Ontario, at which Mrs. Harry Carpenter of Hamilton was re-elected president.

The premier urged the women of the organization to make a thorough study of the constitution of the country, to aid the development of representative and responsible government and to realize that Liberalism signified an attitude of moderation and toleration.

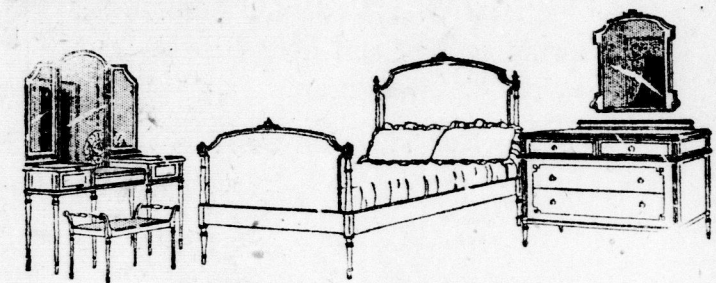

Mrs. Harry Carpenter was in the chair, and delegates present from all parts of the province. A reply to the greetings of Toronto women was made by Miss Rankin of Stratford. Speakers of the morning session were Miss Kinnear of Port Colborne, on "Property Rights of Women and the Custody of Children"; A. H. Bruce of Unionville, on "Proportional Representation"; Mrs. Grant Needham on "The Laurier Memorial Fund for Scholarships"; and Mrs. W. J. Stevens of Toronto, who introduced a resolution that the government should arrange that the next census should provide for the registration of a Canadian nationality.

The meeting adopted a resolution demanding that a doctor's certificate of physical and mental fitness should accompany every marriage license. Senator Hardy, president of the Ontario Liberal executive, told the women Liberals that as women must take their part, not as women, but as citizens; they must take the same knocks as men in politics. The strength of the Progressive party was in the fact that each member was subscribed to the party fund and was interested in the success of the party. In concluding, he urged the association to widen its scope in eastern Canada.

F. Wellington Hay, Ontario Liberal leader, gave a review of the measures passed in the Ontario legislature, dealing with mothers' allowances, the workmen's compensation act and other laws. Mrs. D. W. Macdonald of Edmonton extended greetings from Alberta. Premier King declared that new liberty and new freedom were required for the people of the Dominion. The background of history, ion. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. W. King, Toronto, and Mrs. C. N. Sarny, Florence, Ont.

TRY NEW PLAN TO RESCUE MINERS
Relief Crews Continue Effort To Free 43 Imprisoned Jackson Men.
JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 30.—A new effort was started today for the rescue of 43 or more men entombed in the Argonaut mine here since Sunday last.
While work was continued at reopening a man-way from the 3,600-foot level of the adjacent Kennedy mine into the 4,200-foot level of the Argonaut workings, other crews set to work to break through a wall of rock and dirt from the Kennedy's 3,900-foot level, which would admit of entrance into the Argonaut shaft at a depth of 4,550 feet.
Mining experts directing the rescue work would not estimate the length of time required to reopen either of the tunnels, but the belief was prevalent that neither crew could hope to reach the imprisoned miners in less than 48 hours.
Today rats began pouring from the Argonaut mine in droves. Poison gas fumes are driving them out of the lower levels and they come scampering up the timbering by the hundreds.
"Two years ago when the Argonaut burned, the same thing occurred on the second day after the flames broke out. All gold mines along the mother lode are infested with the rodents.
