All side lines to be run parallel to governing lines.

72. Every Surveyor shall run all division or side-lines, which he may be called upon by the owner or owners of any lands to survey, so as to correspond with and be parallel to that boundary line of the concession in which such lands are situate, from whence the lots are numbered as aforesaid, provided such division or side-lines were intended, in the original survey performed under such competent authority as aforesaid to run parallel to the said boundary. 12 V. c. 35, s. 35.

When that end of a concession, from which the lots are numbered, is bounded by a Lake or River, or other natural boundary, or when it has not been run in the original survey performed under competent authority as aforesaid, or when the course of the division or side-lines of the lots therein was not intended in the original survey performed as aforesaid, to run parallel to such boundary, the said division or side-lines shall run parallel to the boundary line at the other extremity of such concession, provided their course was intended, in the original survey performed as aforesaid, to be parallel thereto, and that such boundary line was run in the original survey. 12 V. c. 35, s. 35.

When division or side lines not intended to run parallel to the side lines at either end of a concession.

74. When in the original survey, performed under competent authority as aforesaid, the course of the division or side lines in any concession was not intended to be parallel to the boundary line at either end of such concession, they shall be run at such angle with the course of the boundary line at that end of the concession from which the lots are numbered, as is stated in the plan and field-notes of the original survey, of record in the Office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, provided such line was run in the original survey as aforesaid, or with the course of the boundary line at the other extremity of the said concession, if the boundary at that end of the concession from which the lots are numbered was not run in the original survey; or if neither of the aforesaid boundaries of the concession were run in the original survey, or if the concession be bounded at each end by a Lake or River or other natural boundary, then at such angle with the course of the line in front of the said concession, as is stated in the plan and field-notes aforesaid. 12 V. c. 35, s. 35.

When a division or proof line has been run between lots, the same shall govern.

75. If any division or side-line between lots, or proof-line intended to be parallel to the division or side-lines between lots, was drawn in any such concession in the original survey thereof, the division or side-lines between the lots therein shall be drawn parallel to such division or side-line or proof-line. 12 V. c. 35, s. 35.

76. When two or more such division or side-lines or proof-lines were drawn in the original survey of such concession, that division or side-line or proof-line which is nearest to the boundary of the concession from which the lots are numbered, shall govern the course of the division or side-lines of all the lots in such concession between the boundary of the concession from which the lots are numbered and the next division or side-line or proof-line drawn in the original survey, and such last mentioned line or proof-line shall govern the course of the division or side-lines of all the lots up to the next division or side-line or proof-line drawn in the original survey, or to the boundary of the concession towards which the lots are numbered, as the case may be. 12 V. c. 35, s. 35.

Where there are two of such lines, the line nearest the end of the concession, from which the lots are numbered, to govern to the next of such lines.

What shall be deemed the front of a concession in certain cases.

79. In those Townships in Upper Canada which are bounded in front by a river or lake where no posts or other boundaries were planted in the original survey on the bank of such river or lake to regulate the width in front of the lots in the broken front concessions, the division or side-lines of the lots in such broken front concessions shall be drawn from the posts or other boundaries on the concession line in rear thereof, parallel to the governing line determined as aforesaid to the river or lake in front, and when the line in front of any such concession was not run in the original survey, the division or side-lines of the lots in such concession shall be run from the original posts or monuments placed or planted on the front line of the concession in the rear thereof, parallel to the governing line determined as aforesaid to the depth of the concession—that is, to the centre of the space contained between the lines in front of the adjacent concessions, if the concessions were intended in the original survey to be of an equal depth or if they were not so intended, then to the proportionate depth intended in the original survey, as shown on the plan and field-notes thereof of record in the office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, having due respect

In those Townships in Upper Canada in which the concessions have been surveyed with double fronts, that is, with posts or monuments planted on both sides of the allowances for roads between the concessions, and the lands have been described in half lots, the division or side-lines shall be drawn from the posts at both ends to the centre of the concession, and each end of such concession shall be the front of its respective half of such concession, and a straight line joining the extremities of the division or side-lines of any half lot in such concession, drawn as aforesaid, shall be the true boundary of that end of the half lot which has not been bounded in the original survey. 12 V. c. 35, s. 37.

Mode of drawing lines in double fronted concessions.

81. And whereas some of the double front Concessions in the Townships in Upper Canada, are not of the full depth, and doubts have arisen as to the manner in which the division or side-lines in such concessions should be established:—Therefore in such concessions the division or side-lines shall be drawn from the posts at both ends thereof, to the centre of the concession, as provided in the last preceding section of this Act, without reference to the manner in which the lots or parts of lots in such concession have been described for Patent. 18 V. c. 83, s. 9.

As to concessions in cases where alternate concession lines only have been run.

82. In those Townships in which each alternate concession line only has been run in the original survey, but with double fronts as aforesaid, the division or side-lines shall be drawn from the posts or monuments on each side of such alternate concession lines to the depth of a concession, that is, to the centre of the space contained between such alternate concession lines; if the concessions were intended in the original survey to be of an equal depth, or if they were not so intended, then to the proportionate depth intended in the original survey, as shewn on the plan and field-notes thereof of record in the office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands; and each alternate concession line as aforesaid shall be the front of each of the two concessions abutting thereon. 12 V. c. 35, s. 38.

the corresponding post or monument in the front of the concession next in rear, that is to say, each such lot or parcel of land shall be surveyed and bounded according to the provisions of this Act, independently of the other lots or parcels mentioned in the same grant or instrument. 12 V. c. 35, s. 44.

84. Every Land Surveyor employed to run any division-line or side-line between lots, or any line required to run parallel to any division-line or side-line in the concession in which the land to be surveyed lies, shall, if it has not been done before, or if it has been done, but the course cannot at such time be ascertained, determine by astronomical observation, the true course of a straight line between the front and rear ends of the governing boundary line of the concession or section, and shall run such division-line or side-line as aforesaid, truly parallel to such straight line, if so intended in the original survey, or at such angle therewith as is stated in the plan and field-notes as aforesaid, which shall be deemed to be the true course of the said governing or boundary line for all the purposes of this Act, although such governing or boundary line as marked in the field be curved or deviate otherwise from a straight course; and the same rule shall be observed, if a line is to be run at any angle with a front line or other line, which may not be straight. 12 V. c. 35, s. 39.

Rule when a line is to be drawn parallel to a governing line.

85. In all cases when any Land Surveyor is employed in Upper Canada to run any side-line or limits between lots, and the original post or monument from which such line should commence cannot be found, he shall obtain the best evidence that the nature of the case admits of, respecting such side-line, post or limit; but if the same cannot be satisfactorily ascertained, then the Surveyor shall measure the true distance between the nearest undisputed posts, limits or monuments, and divide such distance into such number of lots as the same contained in the original survey, assigning to each a breadth proportionate to that intended in such original survey, as shewn on the plan and field-notes thereof, of record in the office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands; and if any portion of the line in front of the concession in which such lots are situate, or boundary of the Township in which such concession is situate, has been obliterated or lost, then the Surveyor shall run a line between the two nearest points or places where such line can be clearly and satisfactorily ascertained, in the manner provided in this Act, and shall plant all such intermediate posts or monuments as he may be required to plant, in the line so ascertained, having due respect to any allowance for a road or roads, common or commons, set out in such original survey; and the limits of each lot so found shall be the true limits thereof. 18 V. c. 83, s. 10.

89. The sum to be raised under the last preceding section in any Municipality, shall never be less than the sum which the said percentage on the assessed value of the assessable property in such Municipality, according to the assessment Rolls for the year 1858, in the same Municipality, would have produced;—but if in any year the assessed value of the assessable property in such Municipality be less than it was in the year 1858, the rate to be paid under the said last Section to the Receiver General shall be so increased as to make the sum so payable equal to what it would have been at the rate hereinbefore mentioned on the assessed value of the year 1858,—but the said rate shall always be payable on any increased assessed value over that of the year 1858. Id. c. 15, s. 2, No. 2. 91. The sum aforesaid shall be instead of the payments which the Municipality would otherwise be bound to make to the Receiver General under the Acts hereinbefore mentioned; But if it be not paid as hereinbefore required, the Municipality shall be held to be in default, and shall be liable to be dealt with in the manner provided by this Act, with regard to Municipalities in default. Ib. No. 4.

Municipality may pay a larger sum in any year.

Application of proceeds.

96. The proceeds of such rate shall be applied by the Treasurer exclusively towards the payment of the sum payable by the Municipality to the Receiver General in each year, if such sum be not then already paid, but if it be then already paid or there be any surplus of the said rate after paying it, the rate or surplus may be applied to the other purposes of the Municipality, in like manner as the proceeds of other rates. Ib. No. 3.

TITLE II.

CRIMINAL LAW.

CAP. LXXXIX.

An Act respecting the Treaty between Her Majesty and the United States of America, for the apprehension and surrender of certain Offenders.

WHEREAS by the tenth article of a Treaty between Her Majesty and the United States of America, signed at Washington on the Ninth day of August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, the ratifications whereof were exchanged at London, on the Thirtieth day of October, in the same year, it was agreed that Her Majesty and the said United States should, upon mutual requisitions by them or their Ministers, Officers or authorities respectively made, deliver up to justice all persons who, being charged with the crime of Murder, or Assault with intent to commit Murder, or Piracy, or Arson, or Robbery, or Forgery, or the utterance of Forged Paper, committed within the jurisdiction of either of the High Contracting Parties, should seek an Asylum or should be found within the Territories of the other; provided that this should only be done upon such evidence of criminality as according to the Laws of the place where the fugitive or person so charged should be found, would justify his apprehension and commitment for trial if the crime or offence had been there committed; and that the respective Judges and other Magistrates of the two Governments should have power, jurisdiction and authority, upon complaint made under oath, to issue a Warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive or person so charged, so that he might be brought before such Judges or other Magistrates respectively, to the end that the evidence of criminality might be heard and considered, and that if on such hearing the evidence should be deemed sufficient to sustain the charge, it should be the duty of the examining Judge or Magistrate to certify the same to the proper Executive Authority, that a Warrant might issue for the surrender of such fugitive, and that the expense of such apprehension and delivery should be borne and defrayed by the party making the requisition and receiving the fugitive; and whereas it is by the eleventh article of the said Treaty further agreed, that the tenth article hereinbefore recited should continue in force until one or other of the High Contracting Parties should signify its wish to terminate it, and no longer; And whereas certain provisions of the Act passed by the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Session held in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's Reign for giving effect to the Treaty aforesaid, and intituled,

An

Ashburton Treaty.

An Act for giving effect to a Treaty between Her Majesty and the United States of America, for the apprehension of certain Offenders, have been found inconvenient in practice in this Province, and more especially that provision which requires that before the arrest of any such offender a Warrant shall issue under the Hand and Seal of the person administering the Government, to signify that a requisition hath been made by the authority of the United States for the delivery of the offender as aforesaid, and to require all Justices of the Peace, and other Magistrates and Officers of Justice, within their several jurisdictions, to govern themselves accordingly, and to aid in apprehending the person so accused, and in committing such person to Gaol for the purpose of being delivered up to justice according to the provisions of the said Treaty, inasmuch as by the delay occasioned by compliance with the said provision, an offender may have time afforded him for eluding pursuit ; And whereas by the fifth section of the said Act it is enacted, that if by any Law or Ordinance to be hereafter made by the local Legislature of any British Colony or Possession abroad, provision shall be made for carrying into complete effect within such Colony or Possession, the objects of the said Act, by the substitution of some other enactment in lieu thereof, then Her Majesty may, with the advice of Her Privy Council (if to Her Majesty in Council it seems meet,) suspend within any such Colony or Possession, the operation of the said Act of the Imperial Parliament, so long as such substituted enactment continues in force there, and no longer ; And whereas it having been deemed expedient to make provision for carrying the objects of the said Act and Treaty into complete effect within this Province, other enactments were duly substituted in lieu of the said Imperial Act to the following effect : Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of Canada, enacts as follows :

By whose order and on what evidence persons charged with crimes committed in the U. S. may be arrested and detained.

1. of the said Treaty ; and the said Judge or the said Justice of the Peace shall issue his Warrant for the commitment of the person so charged to the proper Gaol, there to remain until such surrender be made, or until such person be discharged according to law. 12 V. c. 19, s. 1.

2. In every case of complaint as aforesaid, and of a hearing upon the return of the Warrant of Arrest, copies of the depositions upon which an original Warrant in any of the said United States may have been granted, certified under the hand of the person or persons issuing such Warrant, or under the hand of the Officer or person having the legal custody thereof, and attested upon the oath of the party producing them to be true copies of the original depositions, may be received in evidence of the criminality of the person so apprehended. 12 V. c. 19, s. 2.

Properly attested copies of depositions taken in U. S. to be received as evidence of criminality.

3. The Governor, upon a requisition made as aforesaid by the authority of the said United States or of any of such States, may, by Warrant under his hand and seal, order the person so committed to be delivered to the person or persons authorized to receive such person in the name and on the behalf of the said United States or of any of such States, to be tried for the crime of which such person stands accused, and such person shall be delivered up accordingly ; and the person or persons authorized as aforesaid, may hold such person in custody, and take him or her to the territories of the said United States, pursuant to the said Treaty ; and if the person so accused escapes out of any custody to which he or she stands committed, or to which he or she has been delivered as aforesaid, such person may be retaken in the same manner as any person accused of any crime against the laws of this Province, might be retaken upon an escape. 12 V. c. 19, s. 3.

Governor may order the delivery of the offender to the U. S. or to any one of the States.

Offenders escaping may be re-taken.

4. In case any person committed under this Act and the Treaty aforesaid, to remain until delivered up in pursuance of a requisition as aforesaid, be not delivered up pursuant thereto and conveyed out of this Province within two months after such commitment over and above the time actually required to convey the prisoner from the Gaol to which he has been committed by the readiest way out of this Province, any of the Judges of Her Majesty's Superior Courts in this Province, having power to grant a Writ of Habeas Corpus, upon application made to him or them by or on behalf of the person so committed, and upon proof made to him or them that reasonable notice of the intention to make such application has been given to the Provincial Secretary, may order the person so committed to be discharged out of custody, unless sufficient cause be shewn to such Judge or Judges why such discharge should not be ordered. 12 V. c. 19, s. 4.

Any person so arrested and not delivered up within two months may obtain his discharge unless good cause for his further detention be shewn.

5. This Act shall continue in force during the continuance of the tenth article of the said Treaty, and no longer. 12 V. c. 19, s. 5.—Proclamation 28th March, 1850.—See Canada Gazette, Page 8295.

And if evidence not deemed sufficient, may be transmitted to the proper division, &c.

52. When any person appears before any Justice of the Peace charged with a felony or suspicion of felony, and the evidence adduced is in the opinion of such Justice, sufficient to put such accused party on his trial as hereinafter mentioned, but does not furnish such a strong presumption of guilt as to warrant his committal for trial, such Justice, jointly with some other Justice of the Peace, may admit such person to bail upon his procuring and producing such surety or sureties as in the opinion of such two Justices will be sufficient to ensure the appearance of the person so charged, at the time and place when and where he is to be tried for the offence; and thereupon such two justices shall take the Recognizance (S 1, 2,) of the said accused person and his sureties, conditioned for the appearance of such accused person at the time and place of trial, and that he will then surrender and take his trial and not depart the Court without leave. 16 V. c. 179, s. 15,—14, 15 V. c. 96, s. 15.

If sufficient to be bailed or committed, &c.

In all cases where an information is laid before one or more of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for any Territorial Division of this Province, that any person has committed or is suspected to have committed any offence or act within the jurisdiction of such Justice or Justices for which he is liable by law, upon a Summary Conviction for the same before a Justice or Justices of the Peace, to be imprisoned or fined, or otherwise punished, and also in all cases where a complaint is made to any such Justice or Justices, upon which he or they have authority by law to make any Order for the payment of money or otherwise, such Justice or Justices of the Peace may issue his or their Summons (A), directed to such person, stating shortly the matter of the information or complaint, and requiring him to appear at a certain time and place, before the same Justice or Justices, or before such other Justice or Justices of the same Territorial Division as may then be there, to answer to the said information or complaint, and to be further dealt with according to law. 4, 5 V. c. 25, s. 57,--c. 26, s. 30,—c. 27, s. 40,—14, 15 V. c. 95, s. 1,—16 V. c. 178, s. 1.

Where an information is laid, &c., before a Justice of the Peace, &c., such Justice may issue a summons to such party.
2. Every such Summons shall be served by a Constable or other Peace Officer, or other person to whom the same may be delivered, upon the person to whom it is directed, by delivering the same to the party personally, or by leaving it with some person for him at his last or most usual place of abode. 14, 15 V. c. 95, s. 1,—16 V. c. 178, s. 1.
