OUR CUBAN LETTER

Editor Athens Reporter:

Well, Senor Editor, como esta V. de salud! Estay muy biengracias V. And now, as I have been here over a month, I begin to feel as though I am a Cuban, even if I cannot master the Espanol language (Spanish language) and do not wear a machete continually suspended from my belt. A machete is a large heavy knife, sword fashion, about two feet long. It is used by the Cubans for cutting bushes, trees, grass and, it need be, in self defence.

Now, before attempting to describe to you and the readers of the Reporter, Cuba, its people, their manners and customs, I will try to tell you as briefly as possible of a part of what I saw and noted in regard to the general appearance of a Cuban-Spanish city, Havana, during my first day there. Unlike northern cities with their sky-scrapers, Havana consists of one and two story buildings, although there are a few exceptions as some of the public buildings have the third and fourth floor. They are built of stone and a sort of concrete, and nearly all of the buildings, especially houses of the more well-to-do class of people, have stone (tile) floors and stair steps and tile roofs. With the ceilings from 15 to 20 feet high, and with large double doors on each side of the room, there are always to be found, no matter how warm the day is, cool and comfortable resting places. Havana has some very narrow streets and stone side walks that are barely wide enough for one person to walk on; but the "prado" makes up for this with its beautiful driveways, walks, rows of shade trees, parks, and fountains (by the way, the pool surrounding one fountain contains about a dozen alligators). About 25 per cent of the population of Havana may be termed colored, for a dark man here does not thank you for referring to him as a negro, even though he is as black as black can be. He claims to be moreno (brown). On the streets of Havana, especially just before dark, may be seen a lot of very fine horses, up-to-date carriages and an occasional automobile. But the general heavy traffic of the city is done with mules and monstrous carts with wheels as high as a tall man's head. Havana has an excellent system of trolley car accommodation, and taking everything into consideration, is a very nice, clean and substantial appearing city.

Now, not wishing to encroach on or monopolize the valuable space of your paper, Mr. Editor, I will close for this time by adding the following from the American Bee Journal—

"Wisconsin bears still like honey, if we may judge from the following taken from a recent copy of a Greenwood, Clark Co., newspaper: 'Bears are getting rather numerous around bear yards in this section. Nearly a couple of weeks ago a bear visited M. H. Wright's apiary on the Eau Claire River, three different times, and was shot at by the owner without success on account of the darkness. Finally, Mr. Wright got near enough to Mr. Bruin to see him cuff the tops from the hives and take out a section of honey, and when the bear stood up to eat he was enabled to get a line on him by lying flat on the ground so as to get himself between the bear and the sky line. At Severson's Poplar River apiary a bear, or bears, have broken into a dozen or more hives, and some of them have been completely demolished. So far, the mischief-makers are at large, they doing their work at night when it is hard to see them to get a shot at them. Wisconsin's honey crop this year is estimated at 3,000,000 lbs.'"

So it seems that Wisconsin is still on the frontier and that wild game abounds. We supposed that Sir Bruin had passed on from Wisconsin, but he seems to get around in time to help unload the honey from the hives. But Mr. Wright got some of Mr. Bear's tenderloin. All right. Wonder how it tastes when made out of honey? Must be doubly sweet and palatable.

Yours as ever,

A. G. LEE,
 Candelaria, Provincia Pinar del Rio,

CALLED TO CHICAGO

Rev. Foster McAmmond, formerly of Perth, has been called to and accepted the pastorate of the Douglas Park Methodist church in the centre of Chicago. In a letter to a friend, Mr. McAmmond says he has a nice church and congregation and is very pleasantly situated.

THE MILK-AERATOR

Apparently, the day of the patent milk aerator is about over, and one source of revenue to the inventor and mechanic and one avenue of expenditure to the farmer are nearly closed. A few years ago the airing of milk was considered essential. Now, experts generally are disposed to condemn the practice.

Prof. Dean says: "If the milk could be aired in a perfectly pure atmosphere, I believe beneficial results would follow from aeration. But if it is true, as stated by Mr. Puhlow, that over 70 per cent of the milk cans are kept in barn yards, aeration under these conditions would be one of the worst things that could possibly be done."

HONEY THIEVES

For several years I have noticed reports of the depredations of that miserable class of dishonest persons—honey thieves. Lately, they have, it is reported, destroyed hives, bees and honey in a wanton and wasteful manner. I want to say a word to those who have indulged their low propensity in this line, and also to those in anticipation of a good time coming—remember there is trouble in store for those who destroy bees or steal honey from the apiary.

A few years ago when working with the beekeepers of Lambton county, near Sarnia, beekeepers were bitterly annoyed by thieves. It occurred one night that three hives (very heavy) were stolen almost from under my head. In the morning I traced the reckless destruction a short distance, then returned and drew up a paper offering a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the contemptible perpetrators and in 3 days I had $500 on my paper, posted in many places. One poor fellow with a family turned Queen's evidence, the other three round it convenient to look for employment in the interior of the great lumber woods of Michigan. This class of light-fingered gentry became so enlightened by this incident that no offence occurred in that county for many years after.

A similar act, said to have been perpetrated by fairly well-dressed dudes, was committed near Athens some years since. I at once circulated a paper, similar to the above, and in one day there was on it $150.

I remember Mr. Charles Johnson, then of Elbe, looked at the paper—"Yes," he said, "I will put down $20 if you will add poultry—the rascals stole from me last night 70 thoroughbred white leghorns."

Some of this class call themselves gentlemen; so, gentlemen, bear in mind that a horse in the pasture, cloth on the drying bars of a woollen factory, and colonies of bees cannot be protected by lock and key. Therefore the law protects these with a vengeance.

Lawyer Beale happens to live near the centre of this activity, and he will not charge half as much to give you counsel as he will to defend you. Accept his advice, act on it, and so keep out of trouble, boys. It is cheaper to cut cordwood at 25 cents a cord to get a feed of honey than to steal it. Your names may be called off sooner than you expect. Bee-keepers will protect themselves against this class of insatiate vermin.

Wakeful Children

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N. Tenth St., Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and he is now well and strong. For sale by J. P. Lamb & Son.

CHICAGO STREET CAR EMPLOYEES ON STRIKE.

Attempt of the Company to Run Cars This Morning Met With Much Opposition.

Rejected Lover Drove the Girl Out Into the Street and Shot Her Four Times.

Chicago despatch: At 4 o'clock this morning, the strike of the union employees of the Chicago City Railway Company began and when the residents of the south and southwest sides of the city started for their places of business, they were without their usual transportation facilities.

quickly made available to respond to emergency calls. A car on the Westworth avenue line proceeded north with little difficulty until VanBuren street was reached. There its passage was blocked by trams and delivery wagons, which gathered by the score, locked wheels and refused to move.

Notwithstanding statements by officials of the company that no attempt would be made to run cars to-day, except for postal service, a few passenger cars were started this morning early, on various lines. The result was trouble, almost instantly the first instance reported being the intimidation and flight of a non-union crew on the Cottage Grove Avenue line.

Union men, who reported at the various bars to take out the mail cars, were told by the bare bosses, it is said, that they must take off their union buttons, if they intended to work. This a number of the men refused to do.

Following the trip of the mail car company to move passenger cars to non-union crews, four trains were started on the Cottage Grove Avenue cable line, bound towards the business district. At Fortth street obstructions upon the tracks blocked the trains, and the conductors and crews, a shower of stones followed and car windows were demolished.

Crash-d to Death. New York, Nov. 16.—A despatch to the Tribune from Forest, Miss., says: Henry Bailey, son of a well-known planter of Smith County, was killed by being packed in a bale of cotton at a ginney near Temons. Young Bailey had come to the gin with several wagon loads of cotton sent by his father, and in some manner fell into the press without being noticed. The tragedy was only discovered by a shoe heel seen protruding when a bale was removed from the press. The lad was crushed beyond recognition, but his clothing made the identification complete.

THE EMPEROR'S THROAT HEALING IN REGULAR WAY.

Pope Pius Holds the First of His Public Consistories.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Regarding the condition of Emperor William, the following bulletin was issued this morning at the New Palace, Potsdam:

whole gorgeous picture burst upon their view, arousing a perfect storm of applause and cries of "Long live Pope Pius," and "Long live the Pontiff," which were heard until the Pope had descended from the Scala Gestatoria.

"His Majesty gave up his usual walk yesterday, owing to the sharp wind prevailing. The healing of the wound takes the regular course and the Emperor's general condition remains good." (Signed) Von Leathold, Schmidt, Iberg.

His Holiness was led to the pontifical robes, with the mitre, an immense emerald parure, gold finger rings, and a hand to bless the assembly. Facing him were the celebrated Swiss Guards, the cardinal consistory seated behind them. The Noble Guard came next, escorting the Pontiff, who was followed by a train of bishops, priests, monks and court laymen, at the end of the procession being another detachment of guards.

Rome, Nov. 16.—Pope Pius X. held his first public consistory to-day, five cardinals, including the papal secretary of state, were present.

Silence fell over the assembled throng, and then the new cardinals were introduced by the master of ceremonies, one by one, while the Pope, by one before the Pope, held a cardinal's hat over their heads. Thereupon the Pontiff repeated the usual formula in Latin, after which he raised the five-cardinals. The newly honored prelates then arose, and went to each of their brother cardinals, a dog gave and received the usual fraternal embrace.

At an early hour the thoroughfare leading to the Vatican was crowded with cars carrying thousands of men and women, hurrying to secure good positions from which to witness the solemn function.

Among those present at the public consistory was Bishop Labreque, of Chicoutimi, Quebec.

The ceremonies began at 10:30 a.m. when the five cardinals who were to receive the red hat, Mgr. Merry del Val, Mgr. Callegari, the Archbishop of Panama, Mgr. Aguirre, the Papal Nuncio at Lisbon, Mgr. T. Ham, the Papal Nuncio at Vienna, and Mgr. Kattner, the Archbishop of Salzburg, Austria, went to the Vatican Chapel to take the oath before Cardinals Oreglia, Rampolla and Macchi, heads of the three orders of the Sacred College.

WALLACE TO BLAME. Sensational Evidence Given by Mr. A. E. Ames.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Some very striking evidence respecting the relationship between the Atlas Loan Company, Mr. Wallace, its manager, and Ames & Co., was given yesterday afternoon by Mr. A. E. Ames before the Master-in-Ordinary in connection with the Atlas Loan Company liquidation proceedings. Mr. Ames stated that he had often asked Mr. Wallace for a detailed statement of the Atlas Loan Company's affairs, but had been always put off, and it was only about a month before the failure that he got from Wallace a memo regarding the Atlas situation. He denied Wallace's imputation that he had discouraged the Atlas manager from selling Twin City in 1902, and added: "Wallace was the biggest bull on the market;

He wanted to hold the stock till it struck 200."

Mr. Ames said that Wallace had exceeded his authority as a member of the Ames firm in ordering the clerk to make out a statement purporting to be a sale of 1,100 shares of Twin City stock when in reality there had been no such sale.

Mr. Wallace had taken my advice throughout he would have come out with a profit as the net result."

Asked whether the Atlas Loan Company was a national bank, Mr. Ames replied: "The Atlas Loan had dealt with the Ames firm alone, and not with the other fourteen stockholding firms, Mr. Ames replied."

"If Mr. Wallace had taken my advice throughout he would have come out with a profit as the net result."

When the audience had begun to feel the strain of waiting, a distant murmur advised those who occupied the Sala Regia that His Holiness was approaching. A moment later the

London, Nov. 16.—An Englishwoman in Canada writes to the Leader, candidly criticizing the taste and appearance of Canadian women. She says no English girl who lets her lover go to Canada to make a home for her need fear that he will fall a victim to the charms of a Canadian girl. In Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal the typical face is hard-featured, narrow, frequently made-up, complexioned, no doubt the result of over-eated rooms, parties, and candy. She says: "One seldom sees the pink and white skin of the English girl. The Canadian girls have long, thick hair, dressed in the Gibson girl fashion. The girls are well set up and neat, but have no idea of attending to their hair features; by a less hair style of dress. The London shop girl would look a perfect elegant in Toronto or Montreal. The Toronto woman, when over 30, does not realize that to wear her hair dragged up behind and tight in front, surmounted by a hard-looking felt hat, only serves to intensify her plainness. Royal blue or pure white are two colors which least accord with the Canadian girls' complexion."

A RIDGETOWN HOTEL WRECKED.

Terrific Explosion of Acetylene J.W. Atkinson, London, and A. B. Weir, Ridgetown, Dead.

Cause of the Explosion is Yet a Mystery.

Ridgetown despatch: The explosion of an acetylene plant in the cellar of the Loar House resulted in one of the worst disasters in the history of the town. The explosion occurred shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon, when the place was well filled with people, and the tale of the victims shows two killed and six injured, of whom a couple may not survive. For some time before the explosion occurred people in the vicinity had noticed a small escaping gas, but those inside the building were apparently unaware of the danger until within a minute or so before the discussion. Then the lights suddenly went out, and the proprietor went to investigate.

Whole Building Wrecked. He groped his way to the cellar door, which was in the rear of the front hallway, and as he opened the door was met by a blinding puff of flame, and then came the roar of the explosion. In an instant the doors parted, and the hotel was riven from the cellar up to the floor of the top story. The whole front was blown out, the water poured from top to bottom, and the first and second floors fell with a crash into the cellar. Buried beneath the ruins were at least a dozen people, and to the rescue of the townpeople set to work with splendid gallantry, for it was no light thing to venture within the compass of the ruined building, the high brick walls of which were quivering, as though every minute would see them crash down.

Dead and Dying. One of the first to be taken from the debris was J. W. Atkinson, a Canadian in the London advertiser. He was frightfully injured, and died in a nearby store within half an hour.

A. B. Weir, auctioneer of this place, was also soon reached. He was taken to the Queen's Hotel, but his injuries were such that from the first no hope was entertained. He died at 9:30, never having regained consciousness.

Released Too Soon. Extradition Papers for Alleged Embezzler Arrived Too Late. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—Thirty minutes after he had been released by the courts on a writ of habeas corpus, J. Macdonald Robb, an alleged embezzler from Toronto, Canada, was again the object of an unsuccessful search by the police, extradition papers for Canada having arrived, which would have secured his extradition to Toronto.

The following is a list of the injured removed from the ruins: Capt. Thomas P. Watson, Ridgetown; Col. Wm. Barclay, Ridgetown; John W. McKenna, Howard Township; James Adams, Ridgetown; Michael Loberty, Ridgetown; H. W. Purcell, Ridgetown; John Beddard, aged 7, Ridgetown. Of these Mr. McKenna's skull is fractured. He has regained consciousness, but may not recover. Miss Adams has a bad scalp wound, but will recover. Captain Watson has a slight concussion of the brain, but will also recover. Mr. Purcell's injuries are to the head, but are not serious. The others are not seriously hurt.

Hard on Canadian Girls. Englishwoman Writes Bitter Letter to a London Paper.

London, Nov. 16.—An Englishwoman in Canada writes to the Leader, candidly criticizing the taste and appearance of Canadian women. She says no English girl who lets her lover go to Canada to make a home for her need fear that he will fall a victim to the charms of a Canadian girl. In Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal the typical face is hard-featured, narrow, frequently made-up, complexioned, no doubt the result of over-eated rooms, parties, and candy.

TRADING ON THE BRAND.

The dairymen of Brockville district have established a reputation for making high-grade cheese and they think it is worth protecting. Charges have been made in the press that certain buyers have been obtaining cheese outside the district and selling it under the Brockville brand. The charge is a most serious one, and with a view to obtaining all the facts in the case, at the last meeting of the board, Mr. D. C. McClary, salesman for Roman's factory, gave notice that at the next meeting he would move, seconded by Andrew Henderson, "That whereas, the sale of cheese on the Brockville Dairymen's Board of Trade has become a by-word in many of the cheese districts in this province, and whereas as the members of this cheese board have learned through the Montreal Herald, Kingston Whig, the Brockville Times, and the Kingston Times and News, that cheese from other sections are being regularly shipped with the brand 'Brockville' stencilled on the boxes, and that these cheese are branded as manufactured outside the limits of Brockville section, and whereas the boundary lines of Brockville section have been decided by the Dominion Government at Ottawa, and whereas this illegal branding of cheese is an injustice to the dairymen interests of Brockville section, and if allowed to continue will be of great loss to the farmers.

"Therefore it is resolved that we, the members of the Brockville Dairy men's Cheese Board of Trade, claim protection in this matter and protest against this fraudulent branding of cheese, and do hereby appeal to the proper authorities for immediate investigation into the matter.

"And the Secretary is hereby instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, also a copy of the same to Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner."

The discussion of this subject at the meeting of the board on Thursday next will be heard with interest, and let us hope that once the search-light is turned on it will be kept there until all the considerations that now negate the supposed usefulness of the board are made plain.

It is frequently said that the remedy for some of the disadvantages under which the board labors is in the hands of the patrons. If this be the case, now is the time to take stock and state the matter plainly to the men who are primarily interested in the business, and the remedy will follow.

In a few weeks, it is said that the Grits and Tories of this county will be in the midst of a political battle. In the meantime, they might profitably get together and, leaving the Alaskan Boundary, Imp. Fed. and the Prof. to take care of themselves, unite their wisdom in trying to determine what is really the best way of selling their cheese, and then issue a mandate that their salesman must sell that way.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

As a rule, little interest is manifested in municipal affairs in Athens until nomination night. Then the work of the year is hastily reviewed, hasty and sometimes erroneous conclusions are reached, and in a spirit of resentment or reckless jealousy names are placed on the nomination paper that should not be there and would not be there if ratepayers gave due weight to the important interests that may be committed to the care of their nominees. The village raises and expenditure annually over $4,000, and the importance of securing honest, competent, public-spirited men to receive and disburse this money must be apparent to all, and yet the undesirable features of nomination night, above referred to, continue to exist.

This year there are several matters of public interest that should be thoroughly and dispassionately discussed, in order that the incoming council may be fully informed as to the wishes of the people, and it has been suggested that a public meeting for this purpose be held before nomination night. We have no politics in our municipal affairs just now, and there is no reason why at such a meeting many matters affecting the welfare of the village should not be duly considered and sound conclusions reached.

A man recently convicted at Manchester, Eng., of a serious offence has confessed to being the murderer of Glory Whalen. Whether he is really guilty of that crime or is trying to gain notoriety is now being investigated.

Strength and vigor come of good food, richly digested. "Force," a ready-to-serve wheat and barley food, adds no burden, but sustains, nourishes, invigorates.

New York experiment station, following the lead set by Mr. Ruddick, has been experimenting in the paraffining of cheese, and the result there, as here, goes to show that by paraffining much of the loss in weight was prevented, especially at the highest temperature, and the quality was improved in some instances and not lowered in any.

For a Bad Cold

If you have a bad cold you need a good reliable medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to loosen and relieve it, and to allay the irritation and inflammation of the throat and lungs. WANDERED INTO THE LAKE.

Body of Mrs. H. S. Gray Taken From the Water at Toronto.

she was subject to fits and it is thought that in her partial recovery from one she wandered to her watery death—Marked Schorn, also of Toronto, commits suicide by shooting himself—Other violent deaths.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—The body of Mrs. Gray, wife of Henry S. Gray, of 166 Broadview avenue, who is employed at the Fulham Nurseries, was found in the water close to the lake shore, about 50 yards east of Woodbine avenue, yesterday morning. About 8.30 Peter McEachern, B.A., 4 Kew Beach, was taking a run on the sands, after his morning dip in the lake, when he made the ghastly discovery. Calling to his side Mr. Carroll of Stantley avenue, and a friend, who were passing on bicycles, Mr. McEachern brought the body to shore. The body was face downwards in the water, and the forehead was somewhat bruised by the action of the waves bringing it in contact with the sand and gravel. The deceased was dressed in a seal skin jacket and black skirt and was apparently about 50 years of age. The paternal wagon took the body home.

Mrs. Gray called upon Dr. Bell, Sherbourne street, on Saturday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, and received a bottle of medicine; after this time nothing is known as to her movements. James Boddy of Woodbine avenue states that he assisted a lady answering the description of deceased, who fell in a fit on Queen street a few weeks ago, and one theory is that she had probably had another attack, and in her partial recovery wandered into the water. Mr. McEachern found tracks in the sand leading from the end of the sidewalk on Woodbine avenue to the place where the body was discovered, and from the fact that rigor mortis had not set in was of the opinion that the accident, if it was an accident, must have taken place but a short time before the discovery of the body.

The deceased lady's bonnet, bottle of medicine and purse, said to have contained $10, were missing.

On Saturday afternoon Herbert Schorn, aged 25, an employe of the Christie Brown Company, and living at 19 Dermott place, shot himself in the head and expired in a few minutes. The family can assign no direct reason, but some years ago deceased had left hand badly injured, and since then was more or less irritable, despondent and nervous. Coroners Greig has issued a warrant for an inquest to-night.

Lest a Leg.
In trying to board a moving car at Queen and York streets Saturday evening, Joseph Armstrong, 136 Euclid avenue, had his right leg severed beneath the wheels. At the Emergency Hospital last night it was reported that he was resting easily. He is about 40 years of age.

RUN DOWN AND KILLED.

Sad End of a Leading Military Man of Montreal.
Montreal, Nov. 14.—Major Fortescue, customs house officer, and one of the oldest military men in Montreal, was run down by the Notre Dame Hospital ambulance at the corner of St. John and St. James streets, the shaft striking him. The major, who was so deaf he had to have a tin can attached to his ear, died a short time after being brought to the hospital. Major Fortescue came to Canada 39 years ago, and he has been in the militia 28 years.

THE COLONIES.

Frederic, South Africa, Nov. 14.—Two men yesterday boarded a railway train as it was ascending a steep grade between Pietersburg and Nyström, overpowered the guard, looted the treasure car and made their escape. The robbers, it is reported, secured $20,000, which was consigned to the Standard Bank of Pretoria.

HON. J. A. DAVIDSON DEAD.

Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba Passes at His Home on Saturday.
Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—Hon. John A. Davidson, Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba, passed away at his home at Neepawa, shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday morning, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Davidson, M.P.P., for Beautiful Plains, died at Neepawa, Oxford county, August 19, 1852, and went to Manitoba in 1873. He was first returned to the Legislative Assembly November 2, 1881, on the extension of the boundaries of the Province. He was re-elected at the general election of 1888 and 1892, but an unsuccessful candidate at the general elections of 1886, 1888, 1896 and 1899. He entered the Macdonald Administration as Provincial Treasurer January 10, 1900, and was re-elected to the Legislature at the bye-election March 10, 1900, the seat having been opened by the resignation, February 21, 1900, of R. C. Eanis, who had been returned at the general election. He accepted the same office in the Roblin Administration October 29, 1900, and was re-elected at the general election of 1903. On January 20, 1878 he married at Palestine, Westbourne, Man., Sophia Ellen, daughter of Joseph Hamilton of Beautiful Plains, formerly of the County of Perth, Ont.

BROTHER SHOTS BROTHER.

Wm. Lovelace of Combermere Mistaken for a Deer.
Belleville, Nov. 16.—Lorenzo Lovelace, a farmer, of Combermere, Adirondack County, while hunting deer on Wednesday last was shot through the abdomen by his own brother, William Lovelace, who saw a white parcel the victim was carrying and mistook it for the tail of a deer. The wounded man is still alive and may survive, but the chances are said to be against him. His brother is wild with grief.

Harold Southam Killed.

London, Nov. 13.—Harold Southam, son of Richard Southam of the Southern Printing and Lithographing Company, met a terrible death last evening about 8 o'clock at the Grand Trunk depot. He had been saying good-bye to some friends, who were going west on the Pacific Express, and as the train began to move rushed for the door of the car. In some manner he tripped on the steps, but clung to the railing. He was dragged for some distance in full view of a number of spectators, when he swung under the car, the wheels passing over his body, cutting it in two and mangling it fearfully. Death was instantaneous. Mr. Southam was one of the best known and most popular young men in London, and was known in all branches of amateur sport.

SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER

A radical change from old methods and prices was announced by the Toronto News this week. The eyes of the newspaper world have been upon the News for the past few months, during which time several departures have been made which have given that paper a wide spread reputation for enterprise and originality. This latest move is to place the News at the price of $1.00 a year by mail. Only a deep founded belief in the future success of the News could lead the publishers to make such a reduction in price. But just as the dollar magazine has taken hold of the people, so, we venture to predict, the News will secure a vast and ever-increasing circulation, based not only on the popular price at which it is sold, but mainly upon the intrinsic merits of the paper itself.

We have made arrangements which will enable us to club the News with our own paper at $1.80 a year in advance. Such a combination presents many unique features,—our weekly giving you all the home and district news, and the big 12 page daily keeping you in touch with events all over the world. Send us your subscription to the News, or if you would like to see the paper first, write us and we will secure a sample copy.

A Timely Suggestion

This is the season of the year when prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by J. P. Lamb & Son.

HOCKEY LEAGUE

The meeting of hockeyists held in Lamb's hall on Thursday evening was of an informal character, the main object of the meeting being to consider the formation of a league to include Lyn, Athens, Delta, Elgin, Newboro and Westport. It was thought that such a league would add greatly to the interest taken in the matches, and ensure a fair and thorough test of the ability of the respective teams. Messrs. Fred Barber and Charles Arnold were appointed to correspond with the clubs of the villages named and arrange preliminaries for a meeting of delegates, who will fix the schedule and make by-laws for the government of the league.

The first step necessary, of course, will be the organization of the various clubs, in order that any arrangements made may have official sanction, and this should be done without delay. The position of the Athens club in respect to players was carefully canvassed at this meeting, and it was thought that, as usual, two teams could be formed.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

In these days of history-making in the Empire, and great national development and political growth in Canada, all classes of people are realizing the necessity of following the world's doings, day by day, more than ever before. The public must have the news and have it immediately, and so the daily newspaper supplants the city weekly among all classes. The kaleidoscope of human affairs is rapid in its movements. A week is too long to wait the world's news. In these days of keen business competition, merchants and farmers must have market quotations from day to day. Moreover, it is now possible to obtain one of Toronto's greatest dailies—The News—for the price of the city weekly, $1.00 a year by mail. The News sets forth the news of the day in an attractive form. Its political reports are free from party bias, and its market reports comprehensive and accurate. Every day a chapter of a first-class serial appears—just enough for, say, a half hour's reading.

Neither does The News lack the magazine features of the city weekly. The Saturday edition, containing twenty-four pages, is of special interest to woman, and, indeed, to every member of the family. Everyone should write for a sample copy of The News, and particulars of their generous clubbing offers.

HOUSE OF INDUSTRY NOTE

Thinking it might be of some interest to root growers through this section of the counties I thought I would give you my experience with this year's crop. I fitted up two acres and a half in the early spring and sowed carrots and onions in April and sugar beets and mangolds the first of May. On account of the great drought through May the roots never came up. The last week in May we spring-toothed the ground and ridged it up again, and sowed roots, while some of my neighbors plowed and sowed other grain on account of the lateness of the season. We have just finished harvesting our crop and we have raised:—

Sugar Beets	1480 bushels
Mangolds	560 "
Carrots	240 "
Turnips	85 "
Onions	40 "
Total	2405 "

Also cabbage, 850 heads. Some of our cabbage weighed from 20 to 23 lbs. stripped of their outside leaves.

WM. STEACY,
House of Industry.

SECRET OF SUCCESS

The success which The Toronto Star has achieved during the past four years has been the subject of much comment in the newspaper and business world. From an average daily circulation of a little over 14,000 for the year 1902, The Star has now an average daily circulation of over 21,500. It has so grown in favor, too, with the general public that it now carries more advertising than any other paper, evening or morning, in the city.

The reason for the popularity of The Star, however, is not far to seek. If you are a reader of The Star, you will have noticed that its news columns are put up in a way that makes the news easy to read. Its daily woman's page, with its fashion cuts, is very attractive; its market reports are especially full and accurate; its editorial columns are fair, sane, and strong, and free from partisan bias, while its sporting columns cover the whole field of sport.

The Star's success, therefore, is but the natural result of a newspaper policy which consults the taste of all classes. Its subscription price is $1.50 a year, with the balance of this year thrown in to new subscribers.

Sunday School.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON No. VII.11 NOVEMBER 22, 1908.

The Curse of Strong Drink—Prov. 20: 1; 23: 29.

Commentary.—1. Strong drink causes poverty (vs. 1, 20, 21). A mocker—rather, a scooner. The thing is personified in the words: "The scooner appears as a class of defiant free-thinkers in contrast to the 'wise.' They are proud, self-sufficient, and have a contemptuous disregard for God and man (Prov. xxi. 24). As deceived—ereth—"Revels."—R. V. margin, Not wise—it is the height of folly for a man to degrade himself by using strong drink.

20, 21. Winebibbers—Much of this chapter is spent in giving directions concerning eating, drinking and entertainments in general. The reasons for giving these directions were: 1. The danger of contracting irregular habits and of being induced to lead a voluptuous and effeminate life. 2. The danger from bad company. 3. The waste of money and time. (Cautious eaters)—Eating more than is necessary. Drowsiness—Which comes as a result of excess and gluttony. With rage—Such a source will not only bring poverty and ruin, which it is sure to do, but will unfit a person for work so that he cannot be trusted, and he will be no longer capable of providing for himself and for those who may be dependent upon him.

11. Strong drink destroys happiness (vs. 29, 30). 29. Who—a divine commission to every man to investigate the prevailing causes of woe and sorrow and strife, and thus be deterred from taking the wrong course in life.—Smith. Hath wee—What reason would be needed to someone named of all who could truthfully say "I" to this question? Woe—Direful distress; both the condemnation for a sin committed, and a certain awful condition of suffering. Sin of all kinds brings its own punishment, but there is no sin which so speedily and relentlessly pursues its victim as the sin of drunkenness.—Pentecost. Who hath sorrow—The Hebrew word means, first, poverty and then misery. The drunkard has sorrow of his own making. Who hath contentions?—Those who respond to the first two questions will also respond to this. Nineteenth of all the brawls and fights, quarrels and misunderstandings are traceable to drink.—Pentecost. Who hath babbling—This refers to the tendency of strong drink to foolish and incoherent talking, revealing secrets, vile conversation and noisy demonstrations, which are common in different stages of drunkenness. Wounds without cause—Wounds received in wholly unprofitable disputes, such as come of the brawls of drunken men.—Lange. Redness of eyes—Bloodshot, blurred, or bloodred eyes. "The traveller in the drunkard's broad road to death bears a great bundle of woes. Among them are loss of time, of talent, of purity, of a clean conscience, of self-respect, of honor, of religion, of the soul."—Burdman.

30. They that tarry long—This answers the above questions. He who begins to drink continues to drink, tarrying off a whole night, and from that to day and night. They that go—To places or among people where intoxicating drinks are made or stored or used. Mixed wine—Spiced, drugged, medicated wine, the intoxicating power of which is increased by the infusion of drugs and spices. Such men drink the cup of a costly death.

III. Strong drink ruins character. (vs. 31-35).

31. Look not—This prohibits moderate drinking. Do not put yourself in the way of temptation. He who goes freely into temptation is already more than half fallen. When it is red—The bright color of the wine gives it an attractive look and adds to its fascination and its danger. Its color—Literally, its eye, the clear brightness, or the beaded bubbles, on which the wine-drinker looks with pleasure.—Pentecost. When it goeth down smoothly—This verse pictures the attractive side of wine, when it seems perfectly harmless to sip a little. At such a time, beware! 32. At last it biteth—The pleasure will be attended at last with intolerable pains, when it works like as much poison in thy veins and casts thee into diseases as hard to cure as the biting of a serpent.—Patrick. 33. Eyes shall behold—The loving wife will be forgotten and her goodness despised, and evil desires spring up to fill her place with others, or to go from her with others who have fallen into the same pit of drunkenness. Homes are broken up. Utter perverts—When men or women indulge in the use of strong drink they let down the bars to every sin that follows in the train.

34. In the midst of the sea—To make one's bed on the waves of the sea, would be to be swallowed up in death. So is the drunken man. Top of a mast—The drunkard is utterly regardless of life. He is as one falling asleep, clasping the mast, and when in a few minutes he must either fall down upon the deck and be dashed in pieces, or fall into the sea and be drowned.—Clarke. 35. I was not as awakened that they were seized and self-respect gone, the drunkard boasts of the things which should make him blush with shame. Because he did not feel the hurt of his wrong he cared not for the scars. I felt it not—Angry companions have done their worst to end my life, says he, but their blows did not affect me. When shall I awake? I will seek it again.—Cook. Self-control is all gone. The drunkard is a slave to appetite. He is as insensible to the pleadings and warnings of those who seek his salvation as he is to the beatings of his comrades when he is delirious.

The Chicago Markets. Belleville, Ont., Nov. 14.—To-day there were offered 2,800 boxes of white and 250 co-ored—October and November make. Sales: Watkins CO, Alexander 100, Hodgson 625, at 10 1-2c and 10 3-4c.

Wholesale at Montreal has been fairly active in a number of branches in spite of unusually mild weather. The shipments are heavy now, as they always are at this season. The retailers are experiencing a good trade, and sorting orders have increased. There is good demand for money for the crop movement now, and as the inquiry for stock exchange business is small, there is no stringency in the market.

Wholesale dry goods firms at Toronto are now engaged in taking stock, and report good increases in business. The demand for goods here this week has been good. Buyers of the retail trade are encouraging, sales having kept up very well. Cotton and woolen goods are being purchased with increasing confidence in values.

At Quebec trade during the week has been fairly satisfactory. The demand for seasonal wear is on the increase, and the retail trade is encouraging. Remittances are reported fairly satisfactory.

In Hamilton this week as reported by Bradstreet's, there has been a good demand for goods from the retail merchants to sort stocks. The very firm markets for manufactured goods keeps the situation in a healthy condition, and handsome profits are being made on goods purchased at the opening of the season.

Business in London continues of fair volume. Sorting orders have been fair, and call for good ranges, but quiet in the market. Retail stocks in the country trade centres must be getting pretty well broken into. Values are very firm. In Victoria, Vancouver and other Pacific Coast distributing points business is reported as good for this season, and payments are generally more satisfactory than in previous years at this time.

The fine open weather in Manitoba for some weeks, while it enabled the farmers to get on with fall work, made mercantile trade smaller than would otherwise have been the case. The amount of business passing in wholesale trade at Ottawa is satisfactory, all things considered, and the general conditions of business are sound.

Perfumery on the Riviera. The little town of Grasse, on the Riviera, in Italy, is world-renowned for its manufacture of perfumery. At the beginning of the present year there were 35 perfumery factories in operation. These factories used last year 3,000,000 pounds of roses and 600,000 pounds of orange blossoms. The cost of nearly 3,000,000 francs worth of essences. The most important product of these factories is the so-called "Nero" oil, which is made from the blossom of the bitter oranges, and which is sold at an average price of 150 francs per pound. To obtain one single pound of rose oil no less than 24,000 pounds of roses are required, which usually cost from 1,500 to 2,000 francs.

ONE RULE

That Would Save Many Lives of Hunters in the Woods.

The season is at hand when inexperienced or rash persons going into the woods with high power rifles in their hands see something brown moving between the trees, sight at it, fire, hear it fall and thrash around the leaves, and going forward to cut the throat of a deer, find a dead man. It is remarked by guides that whereas an inexperienced person shooting at a deer under such circumstances, will miss it 90 times out of 100, he will plug a human being every time, making a centre shot. There was a long list of these deplorable accidents last autumn, and there is little sign that there will be any fewer this year.

Various remedies have been proposed, but none of them has proved effective. There is, however, one rule which should be impressed upon the attention of these folk, and impressed again. It is: Never shoot until you know absolutely what you are shooting at.

That rule should be posted in every camp of the Adirondacks and in the woods everywhere. It should be drilled into the ears of visitors. It should be repeated to the guides night and morning. By dint of such repetition it might come in time to work the needed reform. It seems to the man in the city that a deer does not look enough like a human being to render homicide possible, but it is different in the woods. There the moving object is seen a hundred yards away, going slowly. Branches and bushes intervene. At best only a glimpse is caught. That glimpse shows a square of brown six inches across. It may be the hide of a deer or a section of a canvas shooting coat. The man does not live; he can tell one from the other at that distance and under those conditions, and he may as well wait until the moving object comes into clearer view. If it is going away from him he will prefer to let it escape rather than risk killing a fellow being.

The wather will not have long to wait. Whether the moving thing be man or deer it will come into plain view or go out of sight in a second or two. It is inability to wait this second or two that has cost so many human lives. Wonderful tricks are played by the nerves and the imagination on raw hunters wrought up by the prospect of killing a deer. Last season in the Adirondacks a man shot a woman, who was sitting by a trail in plain view. She had on a brown hunting gown, and that did

Liquozone Cost $100,000

Yet We Will Buy a 50c. Bottle and Give it to You.

This company, composed of business, professional and medical men of ability, paid $100,000 for the right to make Liquozone. That is the highest price ever paid for the rights in one country on any scientific discovery.

Liquid Oxygen

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen—no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paul, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in the blood that the blood would be able to live in any medium or tissue.

Kills All Germs

Any drug that kills germs is a poison to you and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs. Liquozone kills them with oxygen—atomic oxygen—the very source of vitality. It kills them because germs are vegetables.

Germ Diseases

- These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

50c. Bottle Free

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on your local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay your druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you to show you what Liquozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

The statistics kept by the Ontario Board of Health indicate that consumption is decreasing. We are afraid that a considerable portion of this apparent decrease may be attributed to the increase in the importance attached to life insurance. In these days relatives of a deceased person are very loath to admit that consumption was the cause of death.

The shortage in the supply of wood last winter is now evident in the prices asked by those fortunate enough to have a supply on hand. Several villagers are buying coal and others are carefully considering the comparative cost of coal and wood. While the present high price will probably not be maintained, it is prophesied by many that wood will never again sell at the figures of four or five years ago.

A female child was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Ledger, Brockville, on Thursday and on Friday it died. The jury returned a verdict that death resulted from the administration of bi-chloride of mercury by some person or persons unknown.

An Ancient Foe

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.
