CHAPTER XXXVI. A FRESH MYSTERY.

INTO the long hall she passed, filled with row after row, of white-draped cots containing suffering forms and ghastly faces, each lifted with an attempted smile as she passed.

She paused at last beside a cot, the last in the row, and placed her cool hand upon the fevered forehead of a grizzled warrior who had fought his last battle, and was surrendering to the universal victor—Death.

RETURNED TO WORK IN A WEEK by One Single Treatment of "Father Morriscy's No. 26."

Dalhousie, N.B., Nov. 23, 1905. FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD. For three years I had suffered from Catarrh in the head until March, 1903, when I had to leave my work in the shingle mill, after trying all the so-called catarrh cures, and two doctors who claimed there was no cure. One single treatment of Father Morriscy's prescription cured me and I returned to work in a week after starting to take the treatment, and have never had so much as a cold in the head since.

soldier, a noble man. We lost the battle, but defeat would have been a thousand times worse but for you. 'Your words touched my heart more closely than any I have heard, for if I am not mistaken you are a country man of mine. You are an American, are you not?'

Miss Beaufort's eyes filled with tears, tears of joy and pride. She turned to Colonel Childes and took him by the hand. 'He is here,' she said gently. 'Your words of commendation must have been more pleasing to him even than the recognition of France.'

Letters From a Successful Business Woman to Her Niece.

Dear Joan:
That natty little sample of cheviot that you sent me certainly ought to make an ideal office suit. Yes, I do like it very much better than the f a w-colored corduroy. I think the gentleman who said "a word to the wise is sufficient" must have had you in mind for his title role. While we are on this subject of clothes, I want to tell you a little experience that I had yesterday.
I've been wanting a good seamstress to do some plain sewing for me. Last night I heard of one and hustled right down to see her, because I was told she was pretty hard to get hold of. She was, all right. When I asked her for a week sometime this month she said, "I'm afraid that would be quite impossible. I have every day taken."
I said, "Well, I'll be willing to wait a little longer. What's the earliest you can possibly do for me?"
Then she sort of blushed and stammered, as if afraid I wouldn't believe her, and said, "Well, to tell the truth I have all my time engaged for a year and a half."
What do you think of that niece?
She charges a dollar and a half a day and she does only plain sewing. She has never advertised in any way and yet her time is spoken for for a year and a half ahead.
Can you beat it?

I talked with one of her customers and she says it's because the seamstress is a woman in a thousand.
"She does only plain sewing—doesn't dressmake at all, you know—but she is worth every cent of the money because everything she does is always right. You don't have to watch her, you don't have to worry about her work, and you never have to rip out anything."
I know another seamstress in this city—a medium good worker—who charges only one dollar and a quarter—twenty-five cents less than this woman—and yet she hasn't half the work she wants.
That's the difference between doing work so-so, and doing it right.
That's the difference between getting your dictation all right except two or three misspelled words and three or four commas omitted, and getting your dictation RIGHT.
That's often the difference between hanging onto a job at ten dollars a week, and having the job hang onto you at three times ten.
I think the story of that sewing woman ought to be told at every business college, and every other college, and every other kind of college, for that matter, in the country.
If I didn't have too much else on my hands I almost think I'd go around telling it.
Yes, I know I'm a regular crank Joan. But I've always had an idea that the reason cranks are called cranks is because they are "what mink" the world go 'round. So I don't mind that title.
Laugh at me if you want to, but please don't forget that woman whose work was Right—with a capital R.
As ever,
Your "Queer Old" Aunt.

Ruth Cameron

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.
He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.
It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Peppermint Cure. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

Fads and Fashions.

displaying fascinating necklaces and jewel collars.
Pleats let in at the sides, the back or the front, are characteristic of the popular coat forms, even the most exclusive.
Foulard is becoming one of the most popular silks for fall wear. It is used not only for entire dresses, but for trimmings.
Wide girdles are much used in house dress designs, and usually match a lower skirt trimming or that of the sleeve.
Austrian velvet hats, made derby style, are brand new in fashion and serve bewitchingly for women's equestrian headgear.
The display of wool challis is alluring; some of the prettiest have dainty figures with borders harmonizing in color and design.

A $1,000,000 Transfer.

Of the Pacific Whaling Co., in which Halifax People are Interested—The Company was Originated in this City Five Years ago and has Prospered.

A Victoria, B. C., despatch says: The Mackenzie & Mann interests will, about December 1, take over the business of the Pacific Whaling Company, which they have bought as a going concern for one million dollars, and will organize a new company with a capital of two or three million dollars.

The deal will be followed by an immediate enlargement of whaling operations and the institution of halibut and shark fishing, in connection with which freezing plants and store-houses will be erected at Sechart, in the Queen Charlotte Islands, and in all probability at other points.

Five new whalers have been ordered, and will arrive early next year. It is expected that three will reach Victoria in February and two in March.

The exploitation of the halibut fishing on the Pacific coast as planned by the new owners of the whaling company, will, undoubtedly, result in the building up of the industry.

Up to the present time nearly all the halibut caught off this coast has been taken to Seattle, as the lack of freezing plants, storage facilities, and railway transportation has prevented profitable fishing by Canadian concerns. With the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railway, mainland lines and the erection of adequate plants at advantageous points the industry should prove a most lucrative one, especially when it is combined with the catching of whales and sharks.

It will be remembered that plans are already being prepared by British capitalists for the establishment of immense fisheries on this coast in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific at Prince Rupert, a project in which Sir George Doughty, who recently visited the coast upon the advice of Governor-General Grey, is interested. The operations of the two concerns will certainly result in the building up of British Columbia fisheries to a stage where they will be real rivals, in point of value, to those of the east coast of England.

The purchase of five new whalers by the Mackenzie and Mann interests will bring the coast fleet of these vessels up to ten, and it is proposed to immediately secure sites for the two new whaling stations from which the new vessels can be operated.

In reference to the above, a Recorder representative called on Jas. F. Donahoe, of this city, this morning, and was informed that the despatch was correct. He stated that the meeting of the Pacific Whaling Co. was held at Victoria, B. C., on Oct. 14, when the sale to A. D. McRae, of Vancouver, and Andrew B. Davidson, of Winnipeg, was agreed to. He stated that the action at this meeting was almost purely formal, arrangements for the purchase of the property having reached an advanced stage, and five new whalers ordered by the Mackenzie & Mann representatives.

Mr. Donahoe stated that the purchasers had put up $25,000 as a forfeit in case the deal was not completed. But now it had been and the shareholders will benefit materially. $75 cash for each share of preferred stock.

Each holder of common stock will get $62.50 a share. Besides this each holder of stock, whether preferred or common, will receive five £1 shares for each share held in the old company.
The par value of the Pacific Whaling Co.'s shares was $50.—Halifax Recorder, Oct. 25.

Married On Deathbed.

Nova Scotia Couple Have a Strange Wedding.

Somerville, Mass., Oct. 24.—As an heroic measure adopted as a last hope to put her on the road to recovery, Miss Alwida H. Harlow, lying on what is believed to be her deathbed, was married at 1 p.m. to-day to Frank A. Chute, at 671 Somerville Avenue, Somerville. The bride, who had been apprised that her end was near, and who had been ill since last July, was closely watched during the ceremony by her physician, who, fearing that a sudden rush of emotion might result disastrously, stood ready to administer a heart-stimulant. She is reported a trifle better but her life is still despaired of. She was taken ill at Port Mouton, N.S., her native place, last July, while on a visit with her fiancé. Both are natives of Nova Scotia, met in Nova Scotia, and have relatives there. She is 34 and he is 40. They had been engaged for 15 years. The bride is ill with typhoid fever and an ensuing complication.

Exhibition Opened by Governor Williams.

At 3:30 p.m. yesterday a large audience had collected in the Prince's Rink. On the entrance of His Excellency the Governor the C. L. B. Band struck up the National Anthem. His Excellency took his seat there were around him in the eastern gallery Lady Williams and suite, the Bishop of Newfoundland, the Premier, the Chief Justice and Justices Emergent and Johnson, the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Agriculture and Mines, the Minister of Fisheries, the President of the Board of Trade and many prominent citizens. Mr. H. Monro, President of the Manufacturers' Association, thanked His Excellency and the audience generally for their attendance. He introduced the Minister of Agriculture. Hon. Mr. Blandford emphasized the importance of working the land. He pointed out that the general strike of railway men might be a general strike of farmers would speedily entail starvation. The Agricultural Exhibition was under the auspices of the St. John's Society, and had for its object the stimulation of farming activity. There must also be a utilization of sound and improved stock. He dwelt on the bigger yield of potatoes from stronger seed. What applied to potatoes applied to other root crops. He had also a good word to say for peat. It was necessary to show fishermen how to take advantage of the peat bog at their door instead of losing valuable time, labour and money by going to woods at a distance or paying high prices for coal. The President then called upon Mr. Browning, the Vice-President, and in doing so paid him a high tribute for his enthusiasm and energy in working for the success of the Manufacturers' Exhibition. Mr. Browning expressed his pleasure at the large attendance which was greeting the opening of the Exhibition. They were manifesting a warm interest in what was being done. The Manufacturers had determined to take advantage of the holding of the Agricultural Exhibition to give object lessons in the variety and worth of the goods manufactured locally. Manufacturers in Newfoundland had many difficulties to overcome. The pioneers must have been giants in their day. They faced courageously difficulties which were formidable. Today these difficulties were present in great measure. There were two great obstacles which had to be overcome. There was the difficulty of obtaining labour skilled in producing articles which had never been made here before. In this connection also there was a lack of scientific education among the older artisans which would enable them to see the why and wherefore of the processes they put through. He was not speaking of rudeness among artisans, but of the general body of artisans who had not obtained scientific schooling in their youth. There was, however, hope for the future. Manual training and teaching of nature of these processes were being taken up in our schools. This movement would add much to the value of the artisans of the future, and would do much to improve the whole industrial situation. He also believed that boys would save much valuable time in learning a skilled trade. The second difficulty was prejudice against locally made goods. This was intense. Manufacturers were trying to overcome it, but it was an uphill fight. Let them walk the length of Water Street and they would notice that locally manufactured articles are not on show in the windows. He did not blame the shopkeepers or the clerks. They were catering to the tastes of their customers, and they were aware of this prejudice. The people generally were to blame. They did not believe in local goods.

They were prejudiced against them. The object of the promoters of the Manufacturers Exhibition was to fight down this prejudice. They were trying to prove that this prejudice was wrong. It was not based on reasonable grounds. The Manufacturers had a good case. They were turning out goods equal, very often superior, to imported ones. They wanted the people to see this for themselves. The Exhibition showed the great number of articles made locally, showed the style and quality. The exhibits were on view and would go far to convince the people who saw them that they were better than imported goods. They wished to familiarize the people with facts, to remove their prejudices, and to imbue them with a patriotic pride in what was being done locally. He would illustrate his point by reference to a line of goods he did not manufacture himself, viz., boots and shoes. Local footwear, at prices varying from $1 to $4 were superior to imported goods of the same price. He was willing to forego $100,000 could bring him an imported boot or shoe of this grade which was all leather, and to forfeit the same if a locally made boot or shoe at these prices could be brought to him which was not all leather. The prejudice was not only unsound, it was harmful to the best interest of the Colony. For instance, the Manufacturers who were exhibiting in that rink were paying $35,000 a week or $1,000,000 a year to the 5,000 hands they employ. A bigger sale of local goods would mean an increased wage fund and increased turnover for the retail shops on Water Street. Moreover a keener enthusiasm and support of local goods would stimulate the introduction of a good deal more of local capital in them. At present there was $6,000,000 in the Savings Bank and $1,000,000 put away in stock, which belonged not to merchants or manufacturers but to fishermen. With more encouragement probably half of this would be invested in local factories, and more men of brains, industry and enterprise would be directed in building up the industries of the country. Every new industry created a demand for other industries. If we dropped our prejudices, supported patriotically local effort, sympathized with a brother's trial, extended a helping hand to those who were trying to improve local manufactures, we should be doing good service to our country. The Premier was the next speaker. He observed that Mr. Browning was not only a good manufacturer but a good speaker and a patriot at that. To convince the people of the worth of local manufactures it was necessary to arrest their attention, and to show them their value. There were a great many things in the building up of a successful manufacturing country, capital, protection and patriotism. He was not surprised at the prejudice against local goods. A prophet was not with-out honour save in his own country. He then could boots or shoes as easily as he could a pair of trousers. By observing these three principles America and Germany had built up local industries. It would amaze people to learn that the United States had sent out to the rest of the world, last year, for much that might have been produced or manufactured at home. As to what could be produced at home, he mentioned that even locomotives were being built here now. If such ponderous machinery could be made here by skilled artisans, why not hats and caps for which we paid $70,000 abroad last year. Last year we spent about $170,000 for oats; there was not a prospect of supplying ourselves with local oats. The Premier also made some commendatory remarks on agriculture and paid a warm tribute to the pioneers of manufactures who had passed away, naming Moses Monro, Charles R. Ayre, Mr. Gear, C. Bowring, A. W. Harvey and others. His Excellency the Governor next addressed the assemblage. He congratulated all on the exhibition. He expressed his delight in the fact that Newfoundland was being brought to the attention of the world. Next to his native land, he loved Newfoundland most. The scenery was most picturesque and would attract the best of tourists. He did not know of it. Newfoundland was not a small country. It was large, but the population was small, and it was not well known. It should be more extensively advertised to attract visitors and capital. He instanced as ignorances of Newfoundland a paragraph in a Canadian paper which stated that the Newfoundland shore fishery was carried on by the bay and the sea, while the skilled bodied men went to Labrador, and a letter from an influential person in Canada which was addressed to him by the Lieut-Governor of Newfoundland. Newfoundland had in the past been represented by distinguished Premiers, who had done much to attract attention to Newfoundland, and the present Premier was following in their footsteps. Much might be done in promoting the introduction of capital, developing within proper limits agriculture and establishing manufactures. He congratulated the exhibitors on the fine display that was made and the audience on their keenness and enthusiasm as shown by their attendance. He then declared the Exhibition open and hoped that it would meet with a full measure of success.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its forms can be cured. It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache. I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden. Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; large size, 50 cents.—Oct 29, 1910. THE EXHIBITION.

Grand Display at the Rinks.

The First of Its Kind Ever Held in St. John's—Splendid Exhibits, Beautiful Decorations, Attracts Thousands.

(Continued.) We next visit the handsome enclosure allotted to the exhibits of NEWFOUNDLAND AYALON BOOT AND SHOE COMPANY. This excellent booth is prettily draped in the native colors of pink, white and green, and is set out in artistic manner. The exhibits are a large number of vari-colored electric lights. To attempt to give particulars of the styles of boot shows and shoes and women's girls and boys, would be impossible, but when we can truthfully assert that 400 different varieties are on exhibition our readers can judge in a measure of the wonderful work done by this old and reliable manufacturing concern of which Mr. C. E. Thompson is the energetic and obliging manager. The boots and shoes are perfection itself and can be favourably compared to the best output of the factories of the United States, Canada and Great Britain. The shoes are attractively displayed on artistic brass stands, and the boots are made from which many styles are on exhibition, and being of local manufacture as well as the boots and shoes, should command the attention of visitors to the Rink. Mr. Thompson and the Directors should be proud of their excellent display.

MR. JOHN HENLEY.

The manufacturer of mattresses is to the fore in a very pretty and uniquely arranged booth made in toto with the goods which he turns out at his big factory on Herby street. The exhibits of every size and variety covered in neat stuffs greet the eye, and the booth is so arranged that it takes the shape of a room. The pillows which at night are traced in coloured electric lights giving a very pretty effect. Mattresses of flock, hair, excelsior and wire are shown with pillows and cushions of pretty patterns and many designs, and connoisseurs looking at the beds are not likely to be disappointed. Mr. Henley often has more orders for his pretty and useful wares which is his usual lot. Certainly his booth is well worth a visit.

THE HORWOOD LUMBER CO.

As a booth which will surprise many, it is very handsome and shows the varied manufactures which they handle in the building line. The booth has the appearance of a well equipped office, and exhibits in an artistic manner doors, sashes, windows, window boxes, rails, balustrades, and a host of other things. The booth is tastefully decorated and illuminated with electric lights, and one can see the beautiful display of the best quality and should be largely consumed by our people.

FRANK MCNAMARA.

Mr. McNamara, of the Big Feed Depot, Queen's Street, displays in his artistically embellished booth the products of his smoke house also, and they are well worth seeing. The choicest brands of bacon are set about here, displayed in neat bookshelves and his celebrated Berkshire Hams are of the finest kind and of a flavour which should delight the palate of the epicure. They are smoked by a special process in the proprietor's big mart, and yearly thousands are sold to the trade, with the name of McNamara's on them. This enclosure will repay a visit.

THE RENNIE RIVER TANNERY.

One could hardly believe that such excellent leather could be turned out in Newfoundland as is here exhibited to the eye of the visitor. It is composed of sides of sole leather, heavy and fine grained upper leather, and a variety of other kinds of leathers. The goods in the booth are neatly gotten up, and is a credit to the owners.

THE ANGEL ENGINEERING & SUPPLY COMPANY.

For weeks past this well known and long established company has had a large number of its employees constructing the booth in which its manufactures are displayed. It is enclosed with heavy brass railings, is tastefully ornamented, decorated and lit with many incandescent lights. All kinds of ships and general machinery are made up by this popular concern, and a great variety is exhibited in this interesting booth. Here we can see fish screws under which are casks and drums of cod pressed down in the regulation way; shing machines, winches, jackscrews, vices, circular and other saws, trails of all kinds and sizes, and a great variety of engineers supplies. Mr. Fred. Angel superintended the work of erecting the booth and exhibiting its contents, and its appearance is a testimony to his taste and skill.

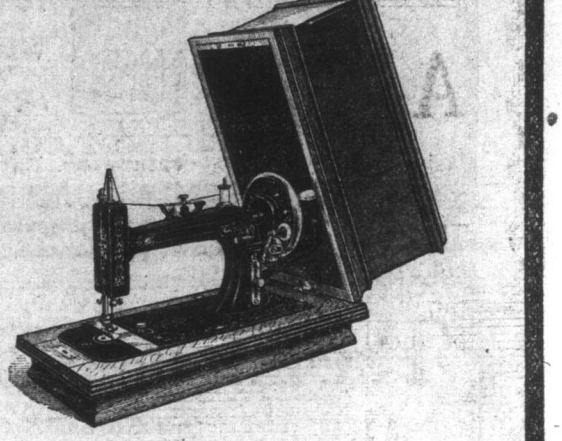

HARBOR GRACE BOOT & SHOE MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

This reputable manufacturing concern has a booth which they may well feel proud of. It is enclosed with a brass railing and is decorated in pink and white and green, while many electric bulbs illuminate its interior. Here is displayed an immense variety of ladies and girls boots and shoes of many styles and of excellent quality. These are shown in separate pairs and in boxes or standing on brackets, and show what native industry and art can perform. None should miss paying this booth a visit. G. BROWNING & SON. Mr. John Browning has worked indefatigably for the success of the Exhibition, and while doing so exerted himself to make an exhibit of the manufacture of his extensive bakery one of the best in the building, and certainly the best in the city. The booth has a bright and attractive appearance, the colours which predominate are white and green, and the interior is illuminated with many white and colored electric lights. Browning's fancy biscuits are sold and eaten everywhere in the country, and they form an excellent selection from the factory. The goods are tastefully set round boxes and cartons of these delicious goods, with the native seal skin not allowed to be seen. In the enclosure there are tastefully set round boxes and cartons of these delicious goods, with the native seal skin not allowed to be seen. AGRICULTURE & MINES.

The visitor to the Exhibition now finds himself gazing at the display of possibly the finest stuffs in two adjacent buildings, the one of Agriculture and Mines, and it is safe to say that it will be found so interesting that he will not depart from the booth for some considerable time. It is a stall of much artistic merit, entered by three arched openings, and should be an attractive place especially for the mineralogist. Last evening and night it was brilliantly lit with electric bulbs, and its shelves contained a number of deposits of native gold taken from the deposits at Grand Lake, Bay St. George and Codroy River principally in interesting exhibits. Here is the vessel filled with crude petroleum taken from the Parsons' Pond oil wells, while there is also shown the various marbles found in Newfoundland, asbestos, soap stones, copper ore, pyrites, iron and slate. Here is also displayed a variety of minerals manufactured by Mr. St. Garret, of Holytown, a shaft of native granite highly polished and loss of different kinds cut from our forests. This booth none should fail to see, and is a credit to the Department of Agriculture and Mines.

JOHN CLOUSTON.

Mr. John Clouston has an excellently arranged stall at the western end of the Rink, near the exit at that end. Here is exemplified all the new methods which Mr. Clouston has adopted for putting up our staple product—codfish. The fish in the shape of fish meal, shredded and boneless cod of the best cure is set along the shelves, either open or in neat tin boxes and cartons, all excellently labelled. The whole exhibit shows that Mr. Clouston paid much attention to detail and supervised the work of putting forward the exhibits with great care. The result of his labors here is so arranged that it depicts the enormous which his energy and ability earned for him yesterday.

MARINE & FISHERIES.

This Government department has done itself credit in the erection of two splendid stalls for the proper display of our fishery products and everything appertaining thereto. One of these is erected in the northwest end of the Rink and the other in the southwest. Mr. Alan Goodridge has had many men for some time past erecting these stalls, and in no small manner is the success of the enterprise due to his skill and ability. The first named booth has for a background some beautifully painted marine scenery, typical of Newfoundland, the work of Mr. Thos. McGrath, of Montreal.

beautifully decorated and brilliantly lit up, and are so disposed as to represent spring, summer and autumn. The walls at the rear, which form the background, are handsomely painted by Mr. McGrath, with scenery typical of these seasons. Miniatures of strainers and vessels at the icefields with men taking their tows of seals on board over the floes, statistically denote the spring season; vessels entering an outer harbor, the flakes, stages and houses of which are shown with a model of a whaler on the hunt for the mammoth fish, designate summer; while the rugged scenery near a northern outpost is depicted graphically to realize to the letter and add a touch of realism to the scenery which depicts autumn, a frowning cliff, part of the scheme is surrounded by a lighthouse in miniature, the beacon in the tower being supplied by a minute electric bulb colored red. There was a great array of exhibits of our fisheries, including scales, codfish of the different grades, codfish put up by the Solihull process, Lake's Parlyte Brand seal steak, steam smoked caplin, lobsters packed by G. M. Barr, casks of cod of different sizes, herring, salmon, codroes, under the inspection of the Board of Trade, and every other variety of fish to be found in our waters.

THE NELD. COOPERAGE.

Makes a very interesting display in a pretty booth on the gallery at the north side of the building. The name of the Company is shown over the arches and each letter is executed artistically on the head of a barrel. The booth is so arranged that it depicts in a graphic manner the interior of the country where the material is cut for the cooperage. Logs for the making of staves and heading, the staves and being cut from these, blocks of great variety, the finished barrels for the packing of herring and berries, barrels made after the Scotch style, white herring barrels, softwood and hardwood oil casks, "donkeys" drums, half-drums, kits and other packages. The booth is a very neat one and was visited by many yesterday.

W. J. ELLIS.
On the south side of the Rink on the lower gallery we visit the booth erected by Mr. W. J. Ellis and embellished in a most artistic way by Mr. Dan Carroll. This is devoted to the exhibition of the granite taken from the Ellis quarries at Petties. This is so arranged that the stone is set to represent the section of a residence, showing the doorway with the granite blocks set in the wall, and some of them highly polished. The steps leading thereto are also of the granite taken from these quarries, and several of the granite taken from the Ellis quarries at Petties. A. SAMUELSON, Cooper.
Mr. A. Samuelson, of the South Side, who runs an extensive cooperage there, has an excellent display of his handiwork shown in a booth artistically arranged and beautifully decorated by the skilled hand of Mr. D. Carroll. This shows the neatest and most substantial kinds of the work made by the coopers, and consists of white oak and other casks, local and other herring barrels, notably those made after the Scotch pattern. Mr. Samuelson indeed makes a creditable showing.

ST. JOHN'S AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION.
This Association, under the supervision of Dr. McPherson, has a pretty booth which shows the various appliances and devices used for the rendering of First Aid to the injured and for life saving generally in all kinds of emergencies. It would be impossible to enumerate everything shown, but certainly the booth demonstrated that great interest is taken in this praiseworthy departure, and Dr. Macpherson has our congratulations.

MANUAL TRAINING CLASS.
In a space kept for the purpose on the main gallery above the entrance, boys from the different Manual Training Schools were at work last night and the place was the centre of attraction for many visitors. Two little lads of the Christian Bros. Schools St. Patrick's Hall, under the supervision of Rev. Bro. Cashman, turned out samples of their work, their tasks being executed deftly and thoroughly. The boys of the Anglican and Methodist Schools will give a display of their work also on alternate nights.

Agricultural Exhibits.

After His Excellency the Governor at the Prince's Rink had declared the Exhibition open, crowds gathered in the Curling Rink. The place was thronged with visitors up to the hour of closing, all deeply interested in the fine display of vegetables, fruit, flowers, etc. When the building was lit up with the electric lights it presented a grand appearance, and the charm of music on a large gramophone that was kept going at intervals all night added to the general pleasure. With the exception of the poultry all the exhibits were in place last night. The specimens of loom work and needlework in the west end of the building attracted a large gathering of ladies throughout the evening. The home-made articles displayed included homespun and blankets, knitted shirts and drawers, socks and mitts, knitted wool quilts, wool filled quilts, floor rugs, floor mats, lace and crochet work, fancy wool and drawn thread work. His Excellency the Governor and suite came from the Prince's Rink, where the Manufacturers' Exhibition is being held, to the Curling Rink shortly after the opening speech had been concluded in the former Rink. He visited all the stalls and stands and made a careful and interested survey of everything. He made many complimentary remarks from time to time on the excellence of the vegetables and appeared to be highly pleased with the whole show. This is not to be wondered at for the root crops were a surprise to the general public, including those who had attended similar events in the cities of the Maritime Provinces and upper Canada. The turnips, cabbage, potatoes and carrots could not be easily excelled in any country. It would be tedious to mention the specimens sent in from one district more than another; however, there can be no harm in saying that the Harbor Grace exhibits were very much admired and praised by all. St. George's were also attractive, and Bonaville made a fine showing. The exhibits sent in from Harbor Grace were taken from a limited territory as compared with others, viz., from Bear's Cove to Mr. Stevenson's, so that the whole collection may be regarded as coming from the town proper. We don't wish to in any way anticipate the actions of the judges who give the prizes, but we believe

GEO. KNOWLING

Has just received DIRECT from HOLLAND, from one of the most reliable Bulb Growers, a splendid shipment of

Including the following, viz.:

- Hyacinths for Glasses and Pots.
- Bedding Hyacinths.
- Roman Hyacinths.
- Double and Single Tulips, including the well-known Double Murillo Tulips.
- Drawing Tulips, Crocus, Daffodils.
- Polyanthus Narcissus (bunch flowered).
- Narcissus Poeticus (the Pheasanteye narcissus).
- Double and Single Jonquils, Snowdrops, Spanish Iris, Freesias and Anemones.

These Bulbs, unlike the early shipment from Holland, are fully matured, are sure bloomers and will be found as good as money can buy, notwithstanding the low prices they will be offered at.

We have received numerous testimonials from responsible parties in consequence of the success they have had in growing our Bulbs, our experience enabling us to import only those varieties suitable to our climate.

that the Bay Metropolis will not be behind. The oats thresher in the shed outside the Rink was a great attraction to the people last evening. It was imported lately by the Agricultural Society and was sent to several parts of the country this fall for the purpose of threshing the oats raised by the large farmers. It was set working last evening and did the business like clock work to the great admiration of all who saw it work. It is the intention, we hear, to have next year where oats raising is carried on. The poultry and live stock exhibition will be added this evening. Following is an additional list of exhibits:

Had Eczema In Both Legs

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."
Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Remedies sent free.

Nutritive Hypophosphites.

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—"doesn't feel like doing anything"—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic. Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares, overstudy, etc.
Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

Supreme Court.

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Johnson were present. They were set for the following cases: M. G. Windsor, Exor., vs. N. G. Vinnicombe, Nov. 25th; Pike and Bradley vs. Robert Moulton, Dec. 12th; A. Anthony vs. A. J. Mosley, Nov. 23rd. An argument took place in the appeal case in which Joseph Pelletier is appellant against the Minister of Finance. Appellant was fined at Bonne Bay for landing a box of tea without reporting to Customs. Mr. Gibbs asked to be allowed to introduce additional evidence, which was granted. Mr. Howley appeared for Minister of Finance. In the case of Bridget Carroll vs. Ellen Keena, Johnson, J., stated he finds the deed which is in controversy sufficiently proved and the assignment is upheld.

A Change of Administration

Motor Boats Collide.

By the fog that we learn that a collision occurred at Change Islands yesterday, Thursday last, between John Roberts' motor boat with 36 qts. fish on board and Elliott's motor launch. Both were coming in opposite directions when Elliott's boat struck Roberts' on the port bow and cut her to the water's edge. She was barely able to float and was run in quickly and beached when the fish were hurriedly taken out of her. The damage amounted to $60 and the matter of settling will be the subject of an arbitration.

Methodist College Wins Footer Trophy.

Yesterday afternoon on St. George's Field the Methodist College and Bishop Field College footballers met in the inter-collegiate series of matches. Victory fell to the former, who put up a splendid game having a walk over their opponents. They scored two goals in the first half and two others in the second, while their opponents failed to put the leather through the net. This victory gives the Methodist lads the cup this season which is the second in succession and they received a holiday to-day to celebrate their victory. We congratulate them on their success.

NOT ROOM ENOUGH.—To show the interest that was taken in the Manufacturers' Exhibition a large number applied for space at the rink, were unable to get space. The space for the stalls had to be reduced even for those who exhibited. Next year it is hoped that arrangements will be made to give all the room they want.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram. ROME, Oct. 31. Six deaths from cholera occurred in the Province of Caserta during the past 24 hours; only 2 new cases are reported during the same period, 2 in Caserta and one in Salerno.

Special to Evening Telegram. BELMONT PARK, N. Y., Oct. 31. Johnstone flying in a Baby Wright for the first time broke the world's record for altitude. He went up 9,714 feet, the previous record had been 9,386 feet. Although his machine turned turtle, Graham White won the speed race, his time being 14 hrs., 12 mins., 12 secs.; McCurdy was second, with the time of 25 hrs., 43 mins., 05 secs.; Graham White was unplaced.

Special to Evening Telegram. CHICAGO, Oct. 31. Four thousand striking garment workers attempted to make a demonstration in the down town districts this afternoon, but were turned back by the police without disorder. The strikers tried to cross the river from the west side, first at the Rand Grand Rapids Street Bridge, and then at the Madison and Harrison St. Bridges. At each crossing they were met by mounted policemen and finally gave up their attempt.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 31. The striking expressmen gained adherents to-day, when between 15,000 and 1,800 workers of Monahan's Express, the Boston Despatch and the Manhattan Delivery Company joined with them. The platform men of the American Express Co. at the Grand Central Station and the same company's way bill clerks went out in sympathy. It had previously been reported that the Boston Despatch and the Manhattan Delivery Co. were involved, but the walk out did not occur until to-day. More than 10,000 men are now out demanding increased pay and shorter hours. There were many small disturbances in various parts of New York city to-day. Strikers attacked cars manned by strike-breakers. Stones and missiles of all kinds were hurled and several drivers and helpers were badly hurt. William Hoyt, a helper on an American Express wagon, had his skull crushed with a brick and probably will die. All the disturbances were quickly quelled by the police, who dealt in a no gentle manner with the strikers. Many arrests were made and fines imposed. Policemen sat with the drivers of the 215 wagons of all companies that made deliveries in the city, and an escort of from one to three mounted patrolmen followed each wagon. It was announced at the strikers' headquarters this afternoon that a conference with Mayor Gaynor had been arranged for to-morrow when the representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will make formal protest to the Mayor against employment of the Municipal police as guards on the wagons of the express companies. It was stated that a meeting of the executive heads of 10 local unions had been arranged to to-morrow to discuss the advisability of calling a general strike of everything on wheels in the city affiliated with the unions except railroads. The loss to perishable goods in the city is to be heavy over the river. In New Jersey there was no disorder to-day.

Special to Evening Telegram. ANON. The Rev. E. K. H. Caldwell, who was forced to take a trip to Canada for the benefit of his health, has returned looking much better. We hope the rev. gentleman's health will ere long be fully restored. Mrs. Caldwell accompanied him on his trip.

The church at Foxtrap has been newly painted and varnished inside and presents a pretty appearance, the work being done by Messrs. Butler and Mercer.

The topic of conversation here is the loss of the Regulus and her crew. Why not open a subscription in all outport settlements to help the widow and fatherless?

Kelligrews Notes.

After three years of successful work as teacher of Codner School, Mr. W. T. Payne has left for Montreal where he will enter the theological college to study for the ministry. May his work there be crowned with success.

Mr. D. R. Bailey has now been appointed Principal of the school at Codner, ably assisted by Miss Greenblatt. Mr. Bailey entered on his duties to-day and we predict for him a full measure of success in his sphere of work. Previous to his appointment here Mr. Bailey taught school at Upper Gillies, where his devotion to school and church work earned him the respect and esteem of the community.

The Rev. E. K. H. Caldwell, who was forced to take a trip to Canada for the benefit of his health, has returned looking much better. We hope the rev. gentleman's health will ere long be fully restored. Mrs. Caldwell accompanied him on his trip.

Newfoundland Missionary Volunteers.

Episcopal Meeting Last Night.
The lecture room of Gower Street Methodist Church was filled last evening with an enthusiastic gathering of young people to listen to addresses from the Methodist Missionary Deputation from Canada, the Rev. Messrs. Stephenson, Marshall, Hartwell and Bond.

A wonderful display of missionary literature was shown under the direction of Dr. Stephenson, the well-known Secretary of Forward Movement for Missions among the young people of Canadian Methodist Church, who has done more than any other in marshalling the young people of that Church to the support of Foreign Missions. His address and remarkable influence with young people were fully shown in his address last evening. If the young people present did not see their duty and privilege in regard to the claims of the mission fields at home and abroad it was certainly not his fault. If ever there was a 'live wire' it is certainly this most versatile and devoted man, and it is impossible to come in contact with him without catching a spark of the enthusiasm which consumes him.

The Rev. Messrs. Marshall and Hartwell also gave admirable addresses. Mr. Marshall was never heard to better advantage in this city. Mr. Hartwell for nineteen years a Methodist Missionary in Western China in simple and most vivid fashion gave an account of his pioneer work in the province of Szechwan, two thousand miles up the great river Yangtze. The Methodist young people of Newfoundland unite in supporting this young medical missionary, Dr. W. J. Sheridan, and Mr. Hartwell interested his hearers greatly in describing him and his work.

The Rev. Mr. Bond took the platform and briefly told of his visit to China and the mission work which he had seen there. He then spoke of the remarkable work of the "Student Volunteer Missionary Movement," which is sending thousands of the brightest and most energetic young men and women of the colleges and Seminaries of the United States and Canada into the foreign missionary field, and appealed for Newfoundland volunteers to join this great movement. No less than twelve young men and women responded to the call, some as having previously decided and others as offering themselves for the first time and a Missionary Volunteer Band the first in the history of Newfoundland, was at once formed.

The gathering in the College hall to-night in connection with the Methodist Branch of the Laymen's Missionary Movement will undoubtedly be a remarkable meeting.

CASE OF THE TINSMITHS.—At the Star of the Sea hall to-night a meeting of the representatives of the different unions will be held when the question of the Tinsmiths strike will be discussed and a decision will be arrived at as to the best course to be adopted.

ALL SAINTS DAY.—To-day being the Feast of All Saints, masses were celebrated at the Cathedral and St. Patrick's at the same hours as on Sunday. Prayers will be conducted this evening at these churches at the usual hour.

A PITIABLE SIGHT.—This forenoon two young men of the emigrant class who are passengers by the Siberian, walked down Water Street to an advanced state of intoxication. They were accompanied by two young girls who were if possible in a worse state than their male companions. Such a sight is rarely witnessed in St. John's for few if any of the women folk indulge in liquor. The incident attracted much attention.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

Rev. T. B. Darby, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. F. S. Coffin, of the Kirk, exchanged pulpits yesterday at the forenoon service.

The Sacrament of Baptism was administered at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the regular service last night when little Miss Archibald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Archibald, was given the very pretty name of Florence Gertrude; Rev. Mr. Coffin officiated.

A large number of citizens took advantage of the excursion rates to visit St. John's, and left by this morning's train. They will thus be enabled to visit the exhibition, and see friends during the week. The week-end excursion of the summer was much appreciated by the public, and many people would be pleased if the arrangement was permanent, so that all seasons of the year friends could visit friends on Saturday, returning on Monday at a reduced rate, many would then go who could not pay the full fare.

Mr. H. Thompson, of the A. A. T. Co.'s staff, Heart's Content, spent yesterday with his parents here, returning to duty early this morning. He likes his work very much.

The service in the Kirk last night took the form of a Memorial Service, and fitting reference was made, in hymns, prayer and sermon to the awful disaster of a week ago when the S. S. Regulus went down with her crew of brave fellows. The choir, Thompson, organist, and the leader, Miss Wallace, had some suitable stinging prepared, which was rendered in a very nice style. Rev. Mr. Coffin touchingly referred to the terrible disaster and invoked the Supreme blessing and comfort on the bereaved families. A large congregation was present, and the service was very affecting.

Constable Dwyer who had been on duty at St. Anthony all the summer, arrived at St. John's by the S. S. Prospero on Saturday. He is expected home to-day.

Good work and attention to orders are being given by the Harbor Grace Boot and Shoe Co., and the hands are kept busy working until 10 o'clock each night to keep up with the orders. Mr. James, the manager, is pushing his business to the fore. Some of the excellent work of this firm may be seen at the General Exhibition at St. John's this week. Mr. James and his foreman are now in St. John's arranging their exhibits.

Consumption has claimed another victim here in the person of Master John Joy, youngest son of the late Capt. Thomas and Bridget Joy, in his 16th year. John worked for the past year or so with the Archibald Brothers, who were very considerate to him and gave him all the outdoor life possible, but the dread disease had made such inroads on his health that a few weeks ago he was compelled to give up work, and gradually weakened until the end came at 10 p.m. on Friday. He leaves two brothers and one sister to mourn his early death. The funeral took place yesterday and was attended by the ladies of the C. C. C., of which he was a member. The coffin was covered by wreaths from his late employers, his fellow workmen, the young ladies of the factory, the C. C. C., Crescent Football Club, and several other friends. A beautiful wreath and glass globe was presented by the Archibald Brothers as a token of respect for one who had always accomplished the work assigned to him with diligence.

Although so young His life's work done; He sleeps in Christ, The battle won.

SHE USED ONLY THE NATURAL CURE

HOW A NOVA SCOTIA WOMAN WAS RELIEVED OF HER HEART DISEASE.

Made her Kidneys right with Dodd's Kidney Pills and all her troubles vanished speedily and completely.

Deel Creek, Cumberland Co., N. S., October 31. Suffering from Female, Kidney and Heart Trouble, so run down, nervous and depressed, that all the brightness had gone out of her life, and never expecting to be a healthy woman again, Mrs. J. W. Leadbetter of this place tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is once more in the best of health. Her simple statement is the best evidence that no case of Kidney Disease is so bad that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure it. "I was treated by five doctors," Mrs. Leadbetter states, "four of them did me no good. The fifth operated on me and that gave me relief for a time. I had Female, Kidney, and Heart trouble. I was so nervous and run down that my friends did not think I would ever get better. An advertisement led me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I found in them a cure for all my troubles. I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

Female Trouble and Heart Disease are caused by Kidney Disease. The natural way to cure them is to cure the Kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Nothing Great Was Ever Achieved Without Enthusiasm

We see this truism exemplified constantly in the every-day life of the "working world."

A good illustration of the above axiom was shown us on Saturday evening last at the premises of the Hon. George Knowling when an installation of High-Pressure Gas Lighting was used for the first time.

The employees of the St. John's Gas Light Company have been working on this installation for some time past, and the successful conclusion of the job on Saturday showed the public what up-to-date gas lighting could accomplish.

The St. John's Gas Light Company, following out their policy of being up-to-date, and give St. John's the best possible gas service, during the past summer sent their Managing Director, Mr. W. H. Rennie, to the Old Country to inquire into the latest developments in gas lighting, and the best way to apply same for the betterment of the Company's service in St. John's.

The result has been the adoption of the "Keith System" of High-Pressure Gas Lighting, and the brilliant exhibition of this system of lighting at the premises of the Hon. George Knowling on Saturday last, as above stated.

The outside lighting is especially brilliant, and consists of eight one thousand power candle lamps, one suspended over each window, and makes an ideal method of shop window lighting. The quality of the lighting is excellent, brilliant, steady and well diffused, and shows up the goods as clearly as daylight, and makes the matching of colors an easy matter.

Briefly, the Keith System is as follows:— A compressor of suitable size is installed in a convenient position on the user's premises, operated in the present case by a 2 1/2 h.p. gas engine. Any power may be used, either existing as gas engine, or electric motor. Very little power is required, the gas is compressed and supplied to specially constructed burners at a pressure of sixty inches, or about thirty times the pressure used in ordinary gas lighting, and the efficiency of the gas lamps is largely increased in absolute steadiness of the lights assured. The efficiency of the lamps is sixty candle power per foot of gas used per hour, and to show the advance made by this system of gas lighting, it is only necessary to mention that the old flat flame gas burner, in common use a few years ago, had only an efficiency of about three and a half power per foot of gas per hour. The efficiency of gas lighting as thus increased twenty times during the past few years.

During his visit to England Mr. Rennie saw many good examples of high-pressure gas lighting, and from his experience thus gained, he planned the installation now in use at the premises of the Hon. George Knowling, assisted by Mr. W. J. Edgar, the Gas Co's. Showroom Superintendent and Assistant Secretary. The result is quite up to expectations, and is as good an example of shop lighting as may be seen anywhere.

The Keith System was adopted because of the excellent results obtained with it in many of London's shops and principal streets. The Strand, King's Way, Fleet Street, New Bridge, etc., have been lighted with Keith lamps for some time past, and before the end of the year these lamps will also be in use for the lighting of Regent Street, Piccadilly, St. James' Street, Pall Mall, Piccadilly Circus, Whitehall, Victoria St. and Parliament Square. The lamps will be of a capacity of from 1,500 to 3,000 candle power.

The work of installing the plant at Knowling's was carried out by the Gas Co's. fitters under the supervision of Mr. W. D. Ryan and Mr. E. A. Ellis. The latter erected the gas engine and the compressor, and the former attended to the piping and the lamps, etc. Their assistants were Mr. Matthew Aylward and Mr. James Thompson, and the result of their work speaks well for local men, locally trained.

We congratulate both the Hon. George Knowling and the St. John's Gas Light Company on the successful completion of an installation that is a credit to both, and adds materially to the attractions of our principal business street.

A curious fashion this season is that of veiling the furs used for trimming gowns. Chiffon is the favorite material for this purpose.

The Oddities of Royal Etiquette.

Good Manners at King George's Court.

When our late King, Edward VII., came to the Throne he relaxed many of the stringencies of etiquette which hedged in Queen Victoria's position. He, however, was exceedingly particular about matters of dress, and on more than one occasion he had to rebuke a guest for visiting him without obeying the Court laws concerning attire.

For instance, before the King ascended the Throne he used to be strict etiquette that none but the regulation white tie should be worn by any guest invited to meet Royalty at dinner. At a bachelor dinner given by King Edward, when he was Prince of Wales, one of the guests turned up in a black silk tie instead of the regulation white one, and received a well-merited snub. A waiter strolled up to him and held out a silver salver, on which was a white tie. "Sir," said the servant, with his accustomed civility, "His Royal Highness has ordered me to bring you this."

When foreign Royalties are visiting a Royal palace it is the custom for the gentlemen of the Court to appear in what is known as "frock dress" and wearing all their orders. At State banquets uniforms must be worn. When the King and Queen visit together gentlemen must wear knee breeches, but when His Majesty is alone ordinary evening dress is the rule. While the Court is in mourning every guest is expected to assume the same degree of mourning as that prevailing at Court.

Ladies who visit the Royal palaces have to be very careful how they attire themselves, though the rules as to dress are not quite so strict as they were in the days of Queen Victoria. Speaking of the etiquette observed at the Court of St. James' during the reign of her late Majesty, Count Paul Vassili, the author of "Society in Berlin" said: "The ladies at the Drawing Room have to wear the three white feathers of the Prince of Wales's escutcheon planted straight up in front, like the crest of a certain bird, or that of a Sioux chief. If the plumes of any of these ladies are not correctly placed the lady is sent back to her mirror. Mrs. Langtry . . . presented herself one day with a graceful coiffure, in which the three courtly plumes were somewhat coquettishly arranged. A chamberlain was sent to the beautiful lady to ask her either to arrange her plumes according to etiquette or to withdraw."

A Private Call From the Queen.

"The Court etiquette often gives rise to amusing episodes, a great number of which might be told. One day an American wanted to be present at a levee in a short jacket, yellow waistcoat and black necktie (who knows whether he had not made a bet on it?). Mr. Dallas, the United States Minister, took the part of his eccentric countryman; but, being offended at the strict orders, he left the Court with his friend."

When the lady has the honour of a private call from the Queen, that lady should deny herself to any other caller during the visit, and it is considered etiquette for the lady of the house to accompany Her Majesty downstairs when she departs. If the King or Queen is entertained by any one, Court rules have it that no one who has not been presented at Court should be asked to meet their Majesties unless ordered to do so by the Royal visitors. Again, when anyone pays a visit to a member of Royalty, he or she should not rise or take his or her leave until a sign of gracious dismissal is given. When the King or Queen visits a private house, however, it is not against etiquette for anyone to retire before His or Her Majesty; but in earlier years to do so was considered the height of bad manners. During the reign of Queen Victoria ladies of the Court were forbidden to seat themselves without permission when in the presence of Her Majesty. Now they are permitted to sit down when the Queen sits, without being asked to do so.

King Edward's Card-Indexes.

Several persons of importance when first presented to King Edward expressed their amazement at the marvellous knowledge His Majesty possessed concerning their affairs, their achievements, and the members of their family. As people never obtained access to His Majesty without a previous appointment or invitation, the Sovereign had plenty of time to order those under him to look up particulars of the "caller" and place the same before him. In this way the King became quite intimate with the affairs of the majority of the people who entered his palace.

Items of Interest.

Flowered silk coats, recalling the palest days of French empire, are seen this season. They are worn with lace skirts for dinner gowns.

Trimmings for dress shoes consist of leather bows and buckles at the throat of the vamp, and fancy buttons of pearl, crystal and cut jet.

Full-length gowns for the boudoir are nearly all made in the classic princess form, with wide effect at the waist, but with few, if any gathers at the top.

Overblouses, whether of chiffon, net or tulle, continue in favor. A single overblouse may be worn with several different slips, quite transforming each.

Jackets of the Madeira eyelet work are usually attractive. Frills for the fancy blouse made of this handwork give an air to one's costume quite to be desired.

The high black boots with the lattice-work design extending from the low vamp to the top, and heavily beaded in jet, are among the most effective dress shoes.

Mother of pearl, cut in odd shapes, is most effective when wrought into the handwork on a gown. It takes the place of the colored jewels so much seen last season.

Nerves Were Exhausted

Wants others to know of her remarkable cure by use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Mrs. Martin's condition as described in her letter below gives some idea of the extraordinary reconstructive power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Such cures as this have placed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food where it stands today as the most popular and most effective nerve restorative that money will buy.

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes:—"Before I began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor in a faint. I could not even sweep the floor without fainting and my nervous system seemed to be entirely exhausted."

"The use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has built up my system wonderfully so that I can do my housework and washing without any trouble, and I want others to know about it."

less strict each year, it is not surprising that this year practically all the prevailing shapes and fancies of colored dresses are repeated in mourning fabrics.

The new veilings are indeed fascinating. They are exceedingly fine; in fact, it would not be at all difficult to draw an entire bolt of some of the filmy materials through one's finger ring.

A little out of the ordinary are the moccasins made of doekin or heavy white suede instead of the chamois. They are embroidered elaborately on the front with beads in white and the soft greens, yellow, pinks and blues.
