CHRONICLE ATHOLIC

VOL. XIX.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1869.

No. 33.

BISHOP OF MONTREAL,

Publishing the Apostolic Letter of Our Holy Futher Pope Pius IX. to the Protestants and other Non-Oatbolies.

IGNATION BOUNGET by the Grace of God and the favor of the Anostolic See Bisbop of Montreal Assistant at the Pontifical Throne.

To the Secular and Regular Clargy, the Religious Communities, and all the Faithful of Our Diocese, Health and Blessing in Our Lord.

 δ 1.— PREAMBLE.

On the thirteenth of September last, Our Holy Father the Pope addressed to our separated brethren an Apostolic Letter breathing nothing but charity, to invite them to seek the true religion, in order to profit by the Ecumerical Council which he convoked on the twentyninth of June last. This Letter has been sent to Us, D. B. B., in order that we may take some means by which those, who, living outside of the fold of Jesus Christ, cannot bear the voice of His Vicar upon earlh, may be made acquainted with the Pastor of the who'e Catholic Church. Wherefore, after carefully considering the matter in the presence of God, we have judged it our duty to make use of you all, D. B. B., to bring this important Letter to the knowledge of those to whom it is directly addressed. In consequence thereof, We cause it to be published in all the churches of this Diocese, charging you, D. B. B., to be the faithful interpreters of the sentiments which animate our common Father towards brethren whom we all love in Jesus Christ. This means has appeared to us the most proper for attaining an object so desirable for all the children of the Church.

For many of them live in our midst: they are your neighbors, your friends, your fellow citizens your associates, your patrons or your clients, and perhaps even your near relatives. I: follows therefore, that you have inlimate relations with them, more or less frequently, either on account of business, or on account of politeness, friend ship and civility.

Amid this intercourse, it is guite natural that you should speak to them of our grand beautiful ceremonies and of the instructions which are given in our churches. By this means you excite in them a laudable curiosity which induces them to come and see what is done, and to bear what is said at our religious assemblies. There are, furthermore, many among them who like to well understood; if it did not excite a lively irterest, as is becoming to a document of such have never ceased during the whole course of great importance; if it were not appreciated as Our supreme Pontificate, to give to Us and to it ought to be; if it were not protected against false interpretations which will not fail to be made; if. in a word, it did not produce, throughout the whole world, a great movement in the voked by Us in this present century, will, under minds and hearts of those who call themselves the children of God.

But if this Letter were to be only a dead letter, D. B. B., would it not be a veritable dishonor for our holy religion, a great ignominy for our common Father, and a profund humiliation for ourselves? Undoubtedly, you all feel this acutely in the innermost of your souls; and you resolve to apply yourselves seriously to the work. to render yourselves capable of fulfilling the mission with which you are charged. Reigion expects of you that you will do your duty. Oace more, it is necessary, that the Apostolic Letter addressed to our separated brethrea by Oar Holy Father the Pope, should come to their knowledge through the medium of good Catholics, who will communicate it to them by every means in their power. You will therefore listen with holy avidity, to the instructions which your zealous pastors will not fail to give you on the subject. Rest assured that the Lord will inspire them what to say to you on so serious a subject, and he will give to you the intelligence you stand in need of, to seize those principles which it is necessary to engrave in all hearts.

Such, dearly beloved brethren, are the principal reasons which should inflame your zeal, in order to second the efforts made by the common Father of the great Christian family, for the conversion of our dear separated brethren.

Whilst listening to the Apostolic Letter he has addressed to them, you will observe, that he presents himself to them as the successor of St. Peter, set over the government of the whole church, and that he calls their attention to the intimate union which exists between himself and all the Catholic Bishops whom he has convoked in cesumenical council.

Why then, D. B. B., this preamble? Is it because our separated brethren ignore that the reigning Pope is the immortal Pius IX? Certainly not; many of them have seen this admirable Pontiff, have heard him, have spoken to him, have assisted at the grand demonstrations of which he has been the object, during his long and glorious Pontificate; and it may be affirmed, PASTORAL LETTER OF HIS LORDSHIP THE they are walking in a bad way; if it were not which so admirably attaches unto us and to this Jesus Christ, and his Apostles, has always exerthis Holy See the most convincing marks of their love and respect ; we entertain a wellfounded hope that the Œcumenical Council, conthe inspiration of divine grace, like the other General Councils in past ages, bring forth abundant fruits, a source of happiness, for the greater glory of God and the eternal salvation of men."

> § 3 .- Marks of the True Church of Jesus Christ.

> Such, D. B. B., are the first words which the good shepherd addresses to those of his dear flock, whom he sees wandering outside the fold of the Lord. It is in order to prepare them to receive those luminous and incontestable truths which he will propose after this magnificent preamble. For, as you are just going to see, he declares that there can only be one true Church of Jesus Christ: that this Church has been built upon Peter, who is like an immovable rock by the immutable stability of her teaching ; that she is infallible, because her divine founder has promised to be with her until the end of the world: that those who wish can always recognise ber, because she has striking and visible marks which distinguish her from other Churches, being " One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic." This is what you are going to see, D. B. B., whilst listening to the following words :

> "For this reason, buoyed up by this hope, 10cited and urged on by the charity of Our Lord Jesus Christ who gave his life for the salvation of the whole human race, we cannot help, on the occasion of the future Council, addressing Our Apostolic and paternal words to all those who recognizing the same Jesus Christ for their Redeemer, and glorying in the name of Christian, do not however, profess the true faith of Jesus Christ and do not follow the Communion of the Catholic Church. And We do this, in order to warn them, to conjure them and to beg of them, with all the ardor of Our zeal and in all charity, to consider well and to examine seriously if they follow the way traced out by the same Jesus Christ Our Lord, and which leads to eternal salva tion. No one can deny, or call in doubt, that Jesus Christ himself, in order to apply the fruits of his Redemption to all human generations, has built upon Peter, in this world, his unique Church, that is to say, the 'One, Holy, Catholic and Apos tolic Church, and that he gave to him all the power necessary that the deposit of faith might be preserved inviolate and intact; and that the same faith was taught to all peoples, to all races and to all nations, in order that all men might, through baptism, become members of his mystical body; and in thein might always be preserved and perfected this new life of grace, without which no one can ever merit and obtain life everlasting; finally, that this same Church, which constitutes his mystical body, might ever remain stable and immovable in its own nature until the consummation of ages; that she might live ever blooming and in a condition to furnish all her children with the means of working out their salvation."

Holy See, these same Venerable Brothers, who cused through her legitimate pastors, and still exercises the divine power which was given to her by the same Jesus Our Lord, such a one ought easily to he convinced, that no one of these societies, nor all of them together, constitute in any way, nor are they this Church Ope and Ca. tholic which Our Lord has founded and built, and which he wished to create. And no one can furthermore affirm in any way, that these societies are a member, a part of this same hurch, since they are visibly separated from Catholic unity. For, such societies being deprived of that living authority established by God, which especially teaches men the things of faith and the discipline of morality which are of rule in all that regards eternal salvation; they have constantly varied in their doctrines, and this changing and this instability in these societies, never cease. Every one then, perfectly understands, every one sees clearly and manifestly, that this is in complete opposition with the Church instituted by Our Lord, since in this Church, truth should always remain stable and inaccessible to all change, in order to preserve absolutely intact the deposit which has been confided to her, and for whose guardianship, the presence and the assistance of the Holy Ghost have been promised her forever."

§ 5.—From these divisions in the Church spring up deplorable evils in the State.

After exposing, as you have seen, D. B. B. the deplorable evils which are caused to Religion by these fital divisions, which reign among the Religious denominations separated from the Catholic Church, Our common Father descends to the lamentable disorders which they produce, even in the civil societies and governments of the world.

occasion, from the mouth of him whom is the highest Power that exists upon the earth, and who evidently stands at the head of his age, prove, once more, that Religion came down from Heaven with her divine founder, not only for the spiritual welfare of souls, but also for the prosperity of human societies. Oh! what happiness would reign throughout the entire world, if everywhere, people were attached to the true Church, which, ever guided by the Holy Spirit, ceases not to preach unto man the necessity of loving his fellows, of doing no wrong to any one, of holding revolutions in horror, of obeying every fatherly love, and embrace in Our charity, all established government. In fact, whosoever acknowledges that Religion is the founda tion of human society, cannot fail to perceive with what powerful influence this division of principles, this opposition and this conflict of religious societies among themselves act upon civil society; and with what violence, this negation of the authority established by God to govern the belief of the human mind and to direct the actions of man, as well in his private as in his social life, has engendered, propagated and sustained these deplorable charges in things and times, those troubles which, at the present day, upset and op-As you have just seen, D. He has shown them, that the Catholic Church, of which he is the supreme head upon earth, is the only true Church founded by Jesus Christ, that she alone has truly the marks of unity, of sanctity, of Catholicity and of Apostolicity, which indicate to serious, reflecting minds, where they will find the truth; that in this Church How we ought to fear for all those who are thus alone, is preserved intact the deposit of beavenly held, the terrible misfortune that awaits them if truths, with the infallibility which is assured to they continue to sail on this stormy ocean ! Finally, he has drawn a moving picture of the inappreciable advantages for the governments of the earth, which flow from the principles of public order professed by the divine religion, the government of which has been confided to him.

§ 6.-Appeal to our Separated Brethren.

After these frank, clear and luminous explanations, the good Pastor makes a fervent appeal to all the sheep whom he sees exposed to the fury of the wolves, because, unfortunately, they are given up to the errors of the human mind and are deprived of the divine assistance, which has been promised only to the Apostles and their legitimate successors, who alone, are the heirs to the infallible promises of God the Redeemer .---Observe in what moving, fatherly terms, this truly grand and solemn appeal is conceived. For he who speaks is the Vicar of Jesus Christ, the universal Pastor of the Church, the common Father of Christians; and he speaks to children who have the misfortune to be in error, through the fault of their ancestors and the evil of the times. Whilst listening, with religious attention, to this magnificent appeal repeating these words of charity and mercy which he has left in the Gospel : " And other sheep I have, that are not of this fold : them also I must bring ; and they shall hear my voice : and there shall be made one fold and one shepherd." (John 10.16.)

"Let all those who do not possess the unity of truth of the Catholic Church, seize the occasion of this Council, wherein the Catholic Church, to which their forefathers belonged, gives a new proof of her profound unity and of her invincible vitality, and giving satisfaction to the wants of their heart, let them endeavor to leave this state in which they cannot be assured of their salva-The touching words which fall on this solemn tion. And let them not cease to offer up the most fervent prayers to the God of mercies, that he may break down the wall of division, may drive away the darkness of error, and may lead them back to their Holy Mother the Church, in whose bosom alone is preserved and transmitted entire, the doctrine of Jesus Christ, and the mysteries of heavenly grace are dispensed."

" For ourselves, to whom the same Christ Our Lord has confided the charge of the Supreme Apostolic Ministry, and who ought, in consequence, to fulfil with the utmost zeal, all the functions of a good shepherd, and love with a men scattered over the earth, we address this But, D. Upon this so ardently desired return to the truth and the communion of the Catholic Church, depends the salvation not only of india viduals, but also of all christian society. The whole world is unable to enjoy true peace, if it does not become one flock under one shepherd. "Given at Rome, near St. Peter's, September 13th 1868, and the twenty-third year of Our Pontificate." Now, D. B. B., since we have heard these moving words, we shall further penetrate into the heart of Our Father, in order to be imbued with the sentiments that animate it. After his example, let us seize the occasion of the future Ecumenical Council to labor, as far as we can. tp recall our separated brethren to the bosom of the Church, to which their forefathers belonged as well as our own. It is only three hundred years since they separated from it, and before that time they were Catholics like ourselves .---Evidently their religion does not go back to the Apostles, and consequently, it is not Apostolical. Let us make them understand that the Catholic Church, through this Appeal which she makes to them, causes to shine before their eyes her perfect using and the spirit of life which animates her. in order to encourage them to go away from error to satisfy the need they all feel of truth, and of assuring their eternal salvation. Let us engage them to unite their prayers with ours, to obtain of the Father of mercies the grace hear the word of God, and who feel themselves interiorly attracted towards the religion of their forefathers. Besides, they are tired at seeing themselves continually fluctuating amid the doctrines which change like the wind, and which. consequently, are unable to satisfy the hearts of those who seek the truth with sincerity.

On the other hand, God who has created them like ourselves to his own image, and redeemed them at the price of his blood in order to give them eternal happiness, does not fail, in His infinite goodness to ware them interiorly, that they are on a false road, walking in the way of error ; and that they ought to seek the truth which alone can produce them peace of heart.

If then, D. B. B., you tell them that Our Holy Father the Pope, whose name is so glorious throughout the whole world, has addressed them a Letter which breathes naught but love and charity; and that in all the churches, this admirable document is read; may we not presume that they will like to hear it read and ex plained by your pastors, and even to procure themselves copies of it, in order to examine it more attentively in private.

The mission you have to fulfil, D. B. B., is very simple, but also very important, it you seriously consider it. For you are charged to collect with religious respect, the words which fall from the mouth of the Church's common Father, to be penetrated with them yourselves, in order to transmit them to brethren whom you love, but whose errors you deeply deplore. You thus become echoes of that mysterious voice, which pronounces so many oracles, makes known so many truths and spreads abroad so many flames of divine charity, for the salvation of countless millions of souls.

For this end, it behaves you to be well acquainted with this Letter, which contains the grand principles upon which repose all the solidity and harmony of our holy religion. You will therefore make it a duty to study it carefully, by listening attentively to the instructions which will be given to you upon it, by reading for yourselves this colemn appeal of the best of Fathers to cherished children, whose loss he bitterly these same Venerable Brothers, called to share regrets, and by contemplating in it, the immensity Our solicitude, we may take all the resolutions ther, seeing his children in such imminent danger of the purest charity with which it overflows, in order to let us see the length and the depth and whether to dissipate the darkness of so many the width of his fatherly love.

that those among them who are the most honorable on account of their education and their lofry sentiments, respect his person, admire his wisdom and love the mildness of his government.

Why then, once more, this preamble? Because, since the Reformation, that is to say, for more than three hundred years since the ties were broken which united the forefathers of our separated brethren with the Holy See, the Pope has hardly been known to them save under the name of Antichrist; and Rome, the capital of his empire, as a veritable Babylon.

It was therefore necessary, on making them hear his voice as Pastor and Father, for the first time since that unfortunate and fatal epoch, he should officially inform them that he truly occupies the chair of St. Peter ; that he governs the Church with all the authority which Our § 4.-That none of the Protestant Churches Lord Himself has given unto him : that all the Catholic Bishops recognise him as their chief; that they would soon arrive in Rome, there to hold a grand Council; and that he calls them also thither, that they may derive the most precious advantages from the Council.

With these general observations, you will per fectly enter into the meaning of this beautiful and admirable Letter of which the following is the preamble.

But it was not sufficient for the charity of the common Father, to have caused the distinguishing characteristics of the True Church of Jesus Christ to shine in all their brilliancy, before the eyes of our separated brethren. For, urged on by an ardent desire of showing them the road of truth, which can alone lead to everlasting life, he clearly shows them that none of the churches separated from the Roman Church, which alone press nearly every people."

Let us continually breathe wishes that this good Father may at length have the consolation of receiving into the house of the heavenly Father, those dear children who have the misfortune of living so long a time in deplorable errors, and of enriching them with the inexhaustible treasures of the divine mercy.

Let us well understand, as the Holy Father assures us, that the salvation not only of individuals, but also of all Obristian society, depends upon this so ardently desired return of our separated brethren. The entire world in fact cannot enjoy true peace, if it does not become one fold under one shepherd. It is by entering into these beautiful sentiments, that we shall plainly prove to our separated breturen, that Catholice are very tar from wishing to damn Protestants. as the latter are sometimes fond of repeating to throw odium on the former. It is true that Oatholics believe, and assert in conformity with their belief, that as there is but one God, there can only be one religion which is pleasing to Him, and in which man can be saved; they say of those who, knowing the true religion neglect to embrace it, what they say of bad Catholics, who, living in the true faith, do not live up to it, and die in their sins.

It is also true that we do not say and cancot say that every religion is good, since this would be admitting that error and truth. justice and iniquity are one and the same thing which is revolting to faith and even to reason itself. But we nothing the less desire the salvation of our separated brethren, and we share the admirable sentiments which St. Auguetin felt in himself and expressed in the following terms so full of force and unction :---

" Let those treat you with rigor, he said to the Donatists, who know not how difficult it is to find the truth and avoid error : let those trest you with rigor, who are ignorant how painful it is to rise above the vaiu phantoms with which one has once been impressed ; let those treat you with rigor, who know not the extreme difficulties one meets with to purify the eye of the interior man, in order to render it capable of seeing the truth which is the sun of the soul. But for our part, we are very far from following this conduct towards persons estranged them. solves but because they were entangled in the wandering of others. On the contrary, we offer our prayers to God, that whilst refuting the false opinions of those whom you follow with a steadfastness which we tax rather with imprudeace than malice, he will grant us the grace to bring no other than the spirit of peace, which is touched with no other impressions thon those of charity, with no other interests than those of Jesus Ohrist, no other desires than that of your salvation." These beautiful sentiments of the doctor of grace, we intend, D. B B., to appropriate to ourselves, dren ; how obedient the children are to their parents ; whilst employing all the ardor of our zeal for the bow scrupulously they avoid houses and associations conversion of our separated brethren.

which oppose the conversion of our dear separated brethren. For we cannot doubt but that it conta them a great deal of saorifice, to rid themselves of the prejudice of their childhood, to reform the ideas , of their earlier education, to overcome human respect | and his whole family. Is it not also the Lord who which forcibly retains them in the circle of their relations and friends, to expose themselves to the persecution which awaits them, if they change their religion, to profess themselves catholics at the risk of losing the good will of persons who are very dear to in earnest the true Church of Jesus Christ, outside of them, and even of being despoiled of their inheritance which there can be no salvation ? and reduced to want, to subject themselves to the mortifying practices of Religion to fasting, abstinence, and especially to contession. Let us for a mothe means in our power to cause them to enter able to judge what a painful sacrifice we should have into the fold of Christ, who is the Son of the to make in order to embrace the true Religion, and living God Like bim, let us dread having to what specious pretexts we should probably allege to bim the must profound homage, he said : 'Now

Your daily prayers, your communions, your fasts, your austerities, your sacrifices, your alms, all will be offered, all will be performed with this intention. You will especially think of it, when with your BEsembled family you recits the holy Ro-ary, that beau. tiful prayer of the Beads, which the Blessed Virgin herself taught to St Dominick, as a powerful means to convert the greatest sinners, and heretics the most obstinate in their errors The marvellous success obtained by this great servant of Mary, through preaching the devotion of the Beads, is a convincing proof of the efficacy of this prayer. We shall there. fore, have recourse it now with fervor. Ob! how many, many souls will be saved, if everywhere the Beads he suid with true devotion whilst religiously meditating on the mysteries of the life, passion and resurrection of the Divine Savior, and on the dolours of his August Mother l

But it is absolutely necessary that we labor to make these practices salutary, by vivifying them with good example and a life truly catholic. For that assuredly, is the most moving instruction for all our separated brethren, and the one most capable of making an impression upon their bears. Otherwise, we should in vain seek to prove to them that the catholic religion is Holy in its faith and morality, if the household of the faith live without restraint, without morals and according to the impulse of their pas-8:019.

Penetrated with a profound continuent of zeal for the conversion of so many souls that perish in the ways of error, we are going, D. B. B, to so regulate our life, that it may be for all our separated brethren, as an exquisite perfume which may draw them to our religion, which may make them love and admire it, and muy especially engage them to embrace it courageously and to observe all its duties with fidelity.

Let our life then be such as that which our fathers in the faith used to lead ; and our separated brethren, like the pagans of those diys will exclaim with wonder: " see see the catholics, how faithfully they observe their religion, how they sanctify the Sundars and Festivals, by religiously assisting at their solemn offices; how respectfully they listen to their pestors when they reproach them with their wicked life; bow they amend when they go to confession and communicate ; how happy and contented they seem when they have confeased their sins; how honest they are in all their dealings; how eract they are in repairing any injury they may have done to their neighbour: how they fear false oaths in Courtand elsewhere; how they respect all lawfully constituted arents biin dangerous to morality; bow they abstain from all excess in eating and drinking; how well their inns are kept; bow honest they are as workmen, how good as servants; how charitable they are towards their poor ; how zealous they are to favor their educational establishments and charitable institutions, While Peter was yet speaking these words, the Holy Ghost fell upon all them that were hearing the word."

Let us hope, D. B. Oh ! D. B. B, how great will be our happiness, if we contribute sumewhat to an event, which will console the Church, our Holy Mother, in her bitter sorrows, and crown the glorious Pontificate of the immortal Pius IX, with so splendid a halo! How great will be our joy at seeing these dear separated brethren reunited to the fold of Jesus Christ, feeding like ourselves in the rich pastures of the Lord; humbling themselves like us at the tribunal of penarce ; associating themselves like us with all the joys of our Mother the Church, in her grand and devont solemnities ; receiving like us at the hoy table, the Bread of life descended from Heaven honoring as we do the Virgin Immaculate, the Angela | tion. and the Saints; praying as we do for the repose of the holy Souls in Purgatory; inciting themselves as we do to true piety, in presence of the Relics and Images of the Blessed Friends of God ; forming with us only one fold, under one and the same Shepherd lifting up as we do all their desires, all their bopes, towards the heavenly country, reserved for those alone who will have died in the true faith and in the charity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and

At thy sacred feet, O Virgin Immaculate glorious Mother of God, we humbly prostrate ourselves, to lay before thee this little work, and to beg of thee to bless it, that it may produce some happy result for the glory of thy adorable Son, and the advantage of his divine Religion. We have recouted to thee, U Virgin a thousand times blessed, because the holy Oburch teaches us to celebrate thy victories over the errors which have hitherto infested the guilty earth Gladstone's proposal for the purchase of Irish railwe inhabit, by placing on our lips this beautiful canticle: " Rejoice, O Virgin Mary, theu alone hast de-stroyed all the heresies in the entire world. For thou art the sceptre of the orthodox faith. It was on this day, that by the holiest of alliances, thou wast confided to the guardianship of thy dear spouse, the gloricus St. Joseph ; deign then, on this account, to charge bim with the cares of the Church, exposed to so many and to such imminent dangers. We are on our way to the eternal city : be our guiding star amid the storms of ocean. We are satting out for the Ecumenical Council: be for Us, a burning amp which may enlighten our steps and preserve us from all error. Place Us under the protection of the holy Angels, that they may accompany us in all our ways, and may bring us back with peace, and health and joy to our earthly country, there to finish our course, by consecrating the remainder of our strength to the service of thy most holy and immaculate beart. ISIBH EJECTMENTS.-It is estimated that the total cumber of ejectments actually executed in Ireland in 1867 was as many as 4,865. This number is made up thus : - first, warrants at petty sessions - viz., 273 against cottier tenants, and 3,228 against overholding weekly tecants in towns ; and, secondly, ejectments by the superior courts and civil bill ejectments, estimated at 1,3 4 - viz., 501 in Leinster, 309 in Munster, 384 in Ulster, and 170 in Connaught, the numbers of the population in the four provinces being to one another as fourfourteen, fifteen, nineteen, and nine. The returns continue to afford evidence of the satisfactory workiog of the clause in the Landlord and Tenant Act of 1860, by which the necessity of disturbing all the undertenants in every ejectment of a head tenant was removed. It appears that in the counties from which returns have been received no fewer than 59 undertenants were, by consent, left unmolested on the execution of ejectments, and adding an estimate of 56 for the rest of Iteland, we have about 115 families in one year saved from unnecessary disturbance by this salutary charge in the law. TER ECCLESIASTICAL TITLES ACT. - On Monday Mr. MacEvoy moved for leave to bring in a bill to repeal the Act of the 14th and 15th Victoria. cip. 60 entitled 'An Act to prevent the Assumption of certain Ecclesiastical Titles in respect of places in the United Kingdom,' and of sec. 24 of the Act of the 10th George IV., cap. 7. Leave was given after, of course, some opposition on the part of Mr. Newdegate and Mr. Walpole.

DUBLIN, Feb. 19. - The little convect case which sprouted prematurely here and promised to yield some seasonable gossip is likely to be nipped in the growth by being transplanted to the chilling atmosphere of the Court of Obancary. It came yesterday formally before the Lord Chief Justice in con sequence of an order made last week upon the application for a writ of hubeas corpus, and stands over for another week. Counsel appeared on behalf of Mr. Summers, one of the persons to whom the writ had been addressed requiring ber in the rigid language of the law, to bring up the body of the young lady, the Hon. E'eanor Maria Margaret French, unless she should be prepared to show that the lady's state of health should render it unsafe to bring er inte court. He read an affidavit in which Dr. Oruise stated that he had visited Miss French in the Lorretto Convent, Kathfarnham, on the previous day, and that it would be attended with great risk to remove ber. Oounsel for Lady French admitted that sufficient reason had been shown for allowing an adjourn. ment, the illness being bona fide. Lady French had seen her daughter. Counsel on behalf of Lord French stated that he had taken steps to have his daughter made a ward of Chancery, and that an application for that purpose would be made on Saturday next. The chief justics intimated that this course would not interfere with the writ of hubeas corpus, and postpored the case until Thurslay next. - [Times Cot. Mr. J. F. Accordingly, an Asylum for Imbeciles at Lucan near Dublin is projected. The prospectus sets forth that, whilst persons of every religious denomination will be receiv. ed, yet, as religion must be the basis of instruction, all will be instructed in the broadest principles of Protestantism. His Eminence the Cardinal, in a letter to the parish priest of Lucan, takes occasion to warn bis flick of the danger and impropriety of giving any countenance or support to this institution ; and forthwith he is accused of intolerance, and the committee issue & manifeste, the chief point of which is, that idiots cannot be made censible of the differences of dogma between the Catholic and idiots. The Committee are evidently not very hopeful about their success in effecting cures smongst those entrasted to them; but, if they consider idiots incapable of imbibing doctrinal truths, why insist on Protestantiam being taught, when it is evident that the patients-taken, as they must be, from the poorest classes - in nine cases out of ten will be Catholica? However, inmediate stops will be taken to establish an asylum, under the protection of his Eminence, for the purpose of receiving Catholic children. A meeting will be held next week to consider the subject.

DUBLIN. Feb 23. - In spite of every effort to banish the thought of the 'evil day' which is approaching, and to postpone the duty of preparing to meet it, the Church is at length beginning to awaken to a full sense of the necessity of taking measures for the future. Some organized representation of the clergy and laity is felt to be indispensable, but no plan for obtaining it has yet been adopted Various sugges. tions have been offered, but each is met by some objection. The majority who are opposed to all ideas of submission or compromise, and who will not believe that the danger is imminent notil it is actualy upon them, are unwilling to unite in any morement with those who are not prepared to resist to the last. The Lay and Cigrical Association recent-ly made a proposal that at the approaching vestries persons should be appointed to represent the Church in diocesan or provincial synods. At first it seemed to be received with approval, but upon a scrutiny of the committee it has been discovered that some are upon it who are prepared to accept disestablishment and disendowment as inevitable, and one at least who in Parliament has advocated the severance of Church and State as desirable. This has created a disincline tion to act upon the advice of a committee so constituted. The Dean of Limerick has increased this unwillingness by suggesting, what seems reasonable enough, that the time for holding the ordinary Easter vestries is too remote, and that the laity should be consulted at an earlier period. He aleo proposed, however, what is highly objectionable, that the machinery of the Protestant Defence Association should be used in the formation of the representative body. This recommendation is not It is objected to on the grounds likely to find favour that the association was formed for a wholly different purpose, and, moreover, that its organization does not extend over the whole country. The Er. press advocates the immediate bolding of special vestries or nectings of each congregation, to select a certain sumber of laymen to confer with the Bishops in each diocese and each diocesan conference to select representatives to meet in a central or gentral conference. Meanwhile, other modes of sesem. bling have been slready commenced. The clergy and 'lay consultates' of the rural deanery of Antrim met last week under the presidency of the Rev. Alfred T. Lee, LL.D , one of the most ernest defenders of the Establishment. Lords Templetown and Massereene and Mr. O'Neill M P., were among the laity who took part in the proceedings. Resolutions were passed declaring the duty of maintaining the existing constitution in Church and State; appointing a

§ 8.-On the zeal which Should Animate Every Good Child of the Church to Labor for the Conversion of our Separated Brethren.

We shall exercise this zeal, we, pastors of souls by remaining between the vestibule and the altar, to make our sighs be beard and to offer the incease of our prayers ; by giving to our people solid instructions on the troths of faith : by incling the faithful confided to our care, to live as true Oatholics, that our seosrated brethren may the better understand that the Church is boly; by spreading good books which tell the trath, without offending persons ; by causing good souls to pray according to the charitable intention of our common Father, whose sighs are now heard throughout the entire world

You, likewise, will feel this divine zeal, you, religious gouls, who live under the shadow of the altar, causing day and night the sighs of the dove to be heard; who, being fed in the rich pastures of the good Shepherd, so keenly feel how happy it is to live under bis crock; who, being called to the sublime state of virginity, live upon the house-top like the solitary sparrow, to give yourselves up more freely to the holy rigors of penance. You understand the rived for cur dear separated brethren. price of souls, and to save a single one, you would be ready to sacrifice a thousand lives. Make yourselves, therefore, victims of proplitation for so many millions of infidels, heretics, schiematics and sinners who are being lost; mingle your tears with those of the Mother of Sorrow, who has suffered so much for conversion of the Centurion Cornelius, which corlove of souls; join your prayers with those of Holy Oburch, who so earnestly prays for the conversion of these poor wandering souls. Imitate the seraphic st. Thereas, who emitted so many sighs and sobs. on learning from the lips of missionaries that a great many souls were lost in their missions. Oh, it is not now the voice of a simple missionary, but it is that of the Father of the great Christian family which rescands throughout the entire world, to invite it in union with himself, to ask for the conversion of so many millions of schismatics, heretics and infidels who are being lost before our eyes.

You will have this boly zeal, you, good christians, who,faithfully fulfiling the duties imposed upon you by religion, taste, by happy experience, the great happiness of living in truth, in justice and in piety.

Alas? It is not so with those who live in error or in sin. For their life is passed amid trouble, remorse, fears and anxieties, which prevent them from enjoying all the other advantages of life; they are very unhappy and much to be pitied, even amiest the honors and wealth with which they are laden, because they are unable to taste peace of heart, which is to be found only in the practice of the true Religion. It is God himself, who in his infinite gocdness, urges them, solicits them, interiorly torments them, to make thom enter into the good way which leads to heaven. For God, all good and all merciful, wishes that all men should come to the knowledge of truth, because He wishes all men to be saved. Now, such should likewise be our continual desire, if we are the true children of our Father who is in heaven, and if we well understand what we ask of Him, when we so often repeat: "Hallowed be thy name; thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven."

Our zeal will become more and more ardent, D. B. B., if we pay attention to the enormous difficulties Church is the only true Oburch, because she alone is de ention.

which are so numerous and so magnificent." Oblyes, D. B. B., all this is fit to open the eyes of these men who are serious and capable of appreciating the grand spectacle which we should offer to our separated hrethren, if we were all such as we ought to be; and if we are not, we have reason to fear lest the name of God be blasphemed through our fault. But, no ; so great a misfortune will not befall us ; for we are immediately going to set to work, to acquit ourselves worthily of the honorable mission we have to fulfil with regard to our separated brethren.

But, in order to incite us the more, let us reflect that now there is a question of the greatest glory to God, of the honor of oar holy Religion and of the salvation of many millions of souls.

Let us take courage, too, in the exercise of our zeal, in the remembrance of so many remarkable conversions which are taken place every day, and which evident'y prove that the time of mercy has ar-

Let us consider that Providence ever adorable and amiable, wishes at the present day to rejoice the afflicted Leart of our common Father, by the conversion of our separated brethren, as it formerly rejoiced that of Peter, whose successor he is, by the version has been coasigned in the Holy Scripture to show that the Lord is always with his church and with those who govern it, for the sanctification of souls and the consolation of Pastors.

"Cornelius, says the author of the Acts of the Apostles, (Acts 10) was a religious man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always."

How many of our separated brethren are making themselves pleasing in the eyes of God and men by similar good works. Does it not suffice, to convince us of this fact, to see the great number of Churches they are building around us, and which they frequent not only on Sandays, but also several times during the week ? Let us hope they will be rewarded for this as Cornelius was. For the azgel of the lord appeared on to him and said ; " your prayers and your alms-deeds have ascended in remembrance unto the presence of God." From this ungestionable fact, must we not conclude that God will rather send one of his Angels, than allow those to perish who fear him and who sincerely desire to know the truth?

"And now, said the Angel to this religious Centurion Bend men to Joppe, and call hither one Simon, who is surnamed Peter he shall tell thee what thou must do."

This Angel was well able of himself to instruct Cornelias. But he does not do so ; he sends him to the chief of the Apostles, in order that, in all ages, we may well understand that the care of souls has been confided to the Apostles and their legitimate successors And has not the same thing been going on before our eyes for several years? Do we not see the most celebrated doctors of the English universities going over to Rome, when, directed by extraordinary ways in their search after the true Re-

The fate of the unfortunate young woman, Catherine Lenane, the girl-widow of the cld oyster-man, Tom' Lenane, who committed suicide some two years ago, as will be remembered, who has been missing since Obristmas last, has been determined by the finding of her body which was picked up about three or four miles down the river by a passing turf-boat, and brought to Limerick, where at the new docks an inquest was held. The remains were after some difficulty recognized by a young man named Thomas O'Donnell, the brother of the deceased. THE LAY KLEMENT IN ECCLESIASTICAL COUNCILS. -A manifestation of muscular counsel is recorded by the Freeman's Journal as baving taken place the other day at Moy, near Dungannon. The rector, in repairing and renovating the roof of the church, caused a portion of it to be decorated with golden stars over a blue ground, and a text from the sacred Scriptures to be painted on the wooden framework supporting it. It was immediately notified to the incombent by his dutiful parishioners, who took offence at the 'Popush device' that if it was not obliterated forthwith they would themselves have it done by force. A verse from the Koran would have proved less objectionable to these lay coansellors, whose advice and aid the Anglican Behops in their difficulties seek with such confi ence.

THE POLITICAL ANNE TY. - Regret is fel that her Majesty's clemency is nor to include all the political prisoners. The course taken by the Legislature is an acknowledgment of the existence of grievances, and the length of time these grievances have remained without even an attempt to redress them, is a justification for the discontent, diseffection, almost despair which impelled those men to their rash and foolish enterprise Their liberation now, if the Goveroment are in carnest about remedial measures, can do no harm, for the people have given evidence of confidence in their rulers, and will await the event On the the other hand, if disappointment should again be their reward, the detention of the prisoners will but serve to excite the worst feelings of the disaffected. It should not be forgotten, also, that big talk and silly writing formed a great part of their Crimer.

There recently died in the South Union Workhouse, Dablin, a man named Matthew Pheton, at the very advanced age of 108 years. The decensed had been in good bealth up to within a few days of his death, and had occasionally worked at his trade, as a carpenter, until quite recently. A week before bia drath he told his daughter, berself an aged woman, with whom he resided in Fisher's-lane that, for the first time in his life, he felt unwell, and, therefore, he would go into the workhouse to die, that she might be spared the expense of burying him from her slender means. Accordingly be went to that institution, where he died in a very few days. The old man retained his intellect and intelligence, which was remarkable, to the last. One of his reminiscences was a recollection of seeing Lord Edward Fitzgerald dragged out of the house, 102 Thomas street, in which he had been arrested, bleeding from the wounds which had been inflicted on him in bis struggle with his captors. Pheton, who at that time resided in Hoey's-court, formed one of the crowd which was actracted by the spectacle, and, for uttering some word of sympathy for the gallant pri-soner, was struck to the ground by one of the satellites of Sirr, Swan and Ryan, by a blow on the head with the but end of a pistol. To his dying day Pheton bore the ecar inflicted on that memorable occasion.

THE IBLE OHURCH QUESTION - Five dynastice, 10 generations, 18 sovereigns, and 333 years have witnessed the hopeless experiment to force the Protes tant Reformation on Catholic Ireland. Henry's packed Parliament of the Pale declared him Head of the Church. The Irish Bishops refused to take the Usth of Supremacy. Some Englishmen were found reads to submit, and Adam Loftus, El zabeth's youthful and accomplished favourite was intruded into the Primatial See of St. Patrick He did not venture, however, to approach nearer to Armagh then Drogheds. Falling back on the richer and and better protected See of St. Lawrence, under shelter of the guns of Dublin Castle, to the functions of Archbishop he rapidly united those of Lord Charcellor, Lord Justice, and the incumbency of numerous valuable livings. It was Loftus that ien the way in the worst persecutions of the period ; the barbarous tortures and cruel execution of the learned and venerable O'Hurley, Archbishop of Cashel, leaving an indelible stain on his memory. Gradualiy, the religious fabrics and foundations, the educational ins'i utions the See and glebs lands, the titles, and the whole of the ecclesiastical revenues of the natives, were alienated in favour of the few followers of the new creed. Their mission being wholly barren of religious fruits, the Bishops constantly urged upon the Lord-deputy and the civil Government that it is only through conversion of the natives that the Pale could be excended, and English power plant-ed, throughout the kingdom, and that this could be affected by repressive means along.-Popery was too firmly rooted to be eradi caled by any other than strong measures --Banishing the clergy, cutting off the supply of priests, by making education penal, both at home and abroad; closing the Mass houses; fining the Papists for absence from church, and also fining them for attending Mass; depying Catholics access to the pro'essions ; excluding them from trades; bunishing them from the chief walled towns; forbidding them the right to hold land ou lease beyond thirty-one yeirs; pro- no uneasinees as to the consequences of protracted hibitirg them from the possession of a horze worth more than £5; excluding them from the magistracy, and from commissions in the army and the pavy; denying them the franchise; incapacitating them from acting as trus ees; seizing their minors, and handing them over to the Protestant Court of Wards ; and setting a premium on apostasy, by enabling a conforming son to acquire his Catholic father's or his 'elder brother's property; - these form only a faint outline of the milder forms of the terrible Code of Penal Laws inspired and enforced by the alien Prelates of an alien Church against the native Irish. Massacre, Insurrection, rebellion, war, with their inevitable results, confiscation, beggary, and erile, followed. These who stimulated the resistance were the chief parties who monopolized the plunder of the varquished. If we examine the peerage, the list of territorial magnates, and the aristocracy, it will be found that neasly all are imported episcopal families, created out of alienated Church lands, or out of estates of the old septs, confiscated since the Refor mation. And throughout those blocdy and savage wars, the gaiding spirits, on the side of crueity, were must be beaten by men who sall good meat cheap at the Bishops and clergy of the Established Church. Loftus burning Archbishop O'Hurley because he refused to conform; Primate Usher drawing up the Declaration against Toleration, that defeated the graces promised by Charles; Primate Boulter denouncing the decline of persecution, and founding the charter schools to kidnap Catholic children; Primates Bereaford, who organized opposition to Emancipation; intimidated the civil government; made or marred Cabinets; and, for a full century, treated the Lord Lieutenant more as their own family satrap than as the Viceroy of the Sovereign;-these are but more promizent types of the men who laid the foundation of Irish disaffection, poverty, and discontent Reconciliation or mutual trust between Ireland and England, cetwcen Catholics and Protestants was impossible But, besides the action of the Penai Laws against Popery, there was the direct missionary effort of a relatively large staff of clergymen, seconded by a monopoly of munificently endowed schools and colleges. Parochial schools, diocesan schools, and the University of Dublin (Trinity College), had their foundation almost with the Reformation: while several great collegiate or royal schools, endowed from the confiscated estates in Ulster, complete a series of graded institutions munificently provided and appointed. Trinity College, alone, holds one acre in every hundred of the whole soil of the kingdom; some 200,000 acres of the best land in eighteen of the thirty-two counties, the annual Poor Law valuation of which is £100,000. The supreme seat of learning, the sole source of academic degrees and honours; the mint that impressed the stamp of nearly all the professions; the Divinity school school of the clergy; a college, which from the to the porter, through all its princely fellowships, its lucrative professorships, and its scores of scholarships, was exclusively Protestant, tempting literary embition to apostasy. In fact, Trinity, and its affiliated royal, diocesan, and endowed schools, has been a source of incalculable strength and support to the Established Church, and a powerful promoter of the missionary efforts of her clergy. Like those clergy, however, Trinity College has ever led the van in exclusiveness, intolerance, and persecution. The site of the founda-tion is a dissolved monestery; its landed endowments are the confiscated estates of Catholics ; yet such is its constitution and character that, after nearly three centuries, not five per cent. of its alumni are Catholics ! With all these vast advantages, the growth of 333 years, and the fact that every office was held by Protestants, let us now briefly indicate, in simple figures, the status of the Established Church, as to endowments and flocks in Ireland. Of the whole population, in 1861, the religious elements stood

ARMY AND NAVY SAVINGS .- It is generally believed in well informed circles that the saving which Mr. Ohilders will propose to effect during the financial year of 1869 70 will be from £900,000 to a million eterling. It is expected that the saving in the Army Estimatee, which are now nearly completed, will be something over one million sterling .- [Army and Navy Gazotte.

THE RITU LISTS - A most explicit statement of the Catholic faith in the Real Presence and Sacrifice of the Mass is cust into the form of a petition to Conrocation, and is being largely signed by Anglican Clergy and Laity.

PAUPERISM .- The number of paupers returned each wick for the metropolis, shows on each consion a decrease indeed upon the number in the corresponding week last year, but a considerable increase upon the return made in 1867 and 1866. But this is not the full account of the increase of pauperism. Mr. Pardy has recently published his official return for England and Wales, and from this it appears that in the end of November last the pauperism throughout the country was 26 526 in excess of what it had been at that date in the year before.

The London Standard (Conservative) says :- 'If Englishmon would refrain from making admission of wrong doing on behalf of their country, which studiously ignore these facts. Americans would more readily perceive the unreasonableness and absurdity of the pretensions they are now disposed to advance. CHEAP MEAT. - Australian meat seems at last to be arriving in England in large quantities. It was stated at a dinner given to about 200 gentlemen by the Messrs. M'Call, that the Australian Meat Company had in 1867-68 exported 1,164,9701b of beef preserved by enclosure in hermetically sealed tine. This beef is sold at 7d, per lb, without bone, equivalent to 51d. per lb., and is said to be perfectly fresh and good, though it comes over nearly cooked The Company is now trying mutton, and had opened an establishment in the Strand. Every attempt of the kind deserves encouragement; but those who make them should rely a little more on quantity and a little less on price for profit, and remember that a good article in universal demand will always sell in London, without dingers in its praise. The butchers a profit, without taiking of the pecessities of the poor, who can no more pay 7d a 1b. than 10d.

The London Telegraph (Liberal) says: If the real offence was our acknowledgment of the South as a belligerent, why does not Mr. Seward send in a a claim against France, which recognized the South in the same way at the same date, and against the other naval powers which speedily followed suit? Then the 'reclamations' regarding the banquets to Confederates the House of Commons' cheers' for Mr. Laird the leading articles in the papers, are really too ridiculous to be seriously rebutted. Must we, to please Brother Jonathan, 'retract' our dinners and apologize for our cheers ? Are we to send over in chains every speaker who said a word against the North? And would the Americans oblige us by remitting ' in return' every Yankee orator or editor that has ever penned a word in disparagement of Britain ?

BEET ROOT SUGAR .- An English journal says :-Some vigorous efforts are at last being made to in troduce into this country the manufacture of sugar from beet root. Some samples have recently been exhibited in the market and sold at current prices, although they possessed the characteristic drawback of sugar expressed from the beet, viz., a peculiar and offensive odour. A company is now in course of formation, to be called the Builish Beet Root Manufacturing Company, and the object of which is said to be ' to purchase and erect beet root sugar factories in England, Ireland, and Scotland; manufacture, buy and sell all kinds of beet root sugar; to grant the right to use all invections belonging to the Company; sequire land, machinery, &c., and generally to do all things necessary for the above objects '---Sugar thus menufactured of course comes under the the excise duty. The law regulating the mode of assessing the duty, under which a similar attempt was made, some years ago, is still in force This Act, 1 Vic. cap. 57 (1837), indicates two modes of assessment, and leaves to the revenue officer the discretion of choesing the one which he may think will yield the highest amount of duty. These modes are, first, according to the gravity of the syrun, and, secondly, according to the weight of sugar produced. In the first of these cases an average rate of duty is arranged between the Revenue Department and the manufacturer. In the second, the Customs' duties (which in the instance of sugar are the same as the excise) of the time being, are imposed. The factory or dead, there 115,252 women who responded that which was established in Ireland some twenty years ago produced sugar upon which a daty of ten shillings was imposed. This was thought at the time to be disedvantageous to West Indian sugar of similar quality, which would have been charged 11s 81 before being allowed to pass into consumption. The credit of six weeeks allowed to the manufacturer was also strongly objected to. The sugar that was seen upon the market a few days ago was charged with 10s 6d duty, and this rate was not an unfair one, when the difference in the rates of duty now and twenty years ago is considered. We shall regard with great interest the progress of the new company.

Very few weeks-probably six-will now see the completion of the great engineering undertaking of forming a direct line of railway between the south of Scotland and the west coast of Oumberland by means of bridging the broad estuary of the Solway Firth. The earthworks are completed throughout, the mascary may likewise be said to be finished, the viaduct has been entire for some time, and the permanent way has been laid for sixteen out of the eighteen miles of the line. The principal work remaining to be done is ballasting, the formation of the junctions, and the stations. The wet and stormy weather of the winter has very much retarded the progress of the contractors, who had hoped to be quite finished with the work by this time. An anreclaimed moss on the Cumberland side, over a mile and three quarters of which the line had to be carried has been a great difficulty in the construction, very heavy and extensive draining operations being required, and infinite labor being consumed in laying the way over it. The distinctive feature of the line is the viaduct across the Solway. At the point where the railway crosses the Firth, the distance from shore to shore is 2,544 yards, or a mile and be-tween three and four furlongs. Of this stretch nearly 600 yards are composed of sea embankment, and the remaining 1,950 yards consist of the iron viaduct.

CHILD MURDER IN THE UNITED STATES .- The consus of the State of New York for 1865 discloses some curious facts upon this subject. The method of taking this consus was different from all others in this respect, that it was taken by families. The census reported in 1865 a total of 780 931 families-196 802 families living without children, 142,208 with only one child, 140,572 with two, and 107,342 with three children. Here is almost one-fourth of all the families in the State in which not a single child was found; and in 592,924 families-more than three-fourths-there war, on an average, only a small fraction over one child in each family. In answer to the inquiry put to every woman who was or had been married [in all 842,562], how many chil-dren she had had, whether present or absent, living they never had had, a child, 124,818 only one child, 123,219 two and 108,324 three children. Here we find 115,253 women who were or had been married -almost one-seventh of all-who never bore a single child, and 471,872-more than one-half of allwho will average less than one child and seventenths to each woman. These figures include both the foreign and American classes, but a large proportion applies to the strictly American. If the law settled by mortuary statistics, that two fifths of all children born die before reaching adult life, be applied to the above facts, it will appear that on an average only about one child to each woman over reaches mature age, that is, one-half the original stock is supplied as far as these women [481,772] sre concerned. The whole population of the State of New York is composed, in its descent, of such mixed races that it is impossible to draw the exact line between what may be considered American and what foreign ; but the compiler of the census-Dr. Franklin B. Hough-became convinced that there is at the present time no natural increase in the population among the families descended from the early settlers of the State: From an examination of the census report this general fact is evident throughout the State, namely, that the married women of foreign origin have much the largest families - Harper's Monthly.

KNOW-NOTHINGISM .- We learn from an exchange in New Hampshire, that Know-Nothingism is being revived under another name, and with a more secret organization throughout New England ? Just as we are in need of the industry of the Irish, the French, and the Germans more than ever, the fanalice, finding the slavery hobby played out, are endeavoring to get up a new persecution of the Catholics and foreign born citizens. In the days of Ned Buntline, the Democracy stood by our adopted citizens, and were often persecuted as fiercely as the unfriended emigrants themselves. We well remember that we always openly denounced these Know-Nothing persecutions, often at the risk of personal violence. If you should say one word in opposition to Know-Nothingism in any place of public resort, crowds of Kaow-Nothings would rush upon you, bound together by private signals and desperate oaths, and menage you with personal assaults. Who does not recollect when one of the present Christians in New England, Father Bapst, was mobbed for his religious belief, in a country which undertook to have every man worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. In the elections soon to take pince, let those who have felt Know-Nothing persecution stand by each other, and elect true-hearted and whole-souled men, who believe in holding out our country as an asylum for the oppressed - [Maine Democrat. A CONTINENTAL 'DAM.'-A correspondent in Atlants, Ga., offers the following plausible explanation of this term. He says :-- I do not claim to be ver-sed in slang pbrases ; but I must confess that my knowledge of them is sufficient to explain the origin of an expression of this nature, of which Mr. Richard Grant White admits he can give no account. In his article entitled 'Words that are no Worde,' which you recently published, he says with regard to the combination of words, 'Not worth a Continental damo, I am at a loss to sign a source, etc.' Those who are familiar with American bistory will know that during the Revolution of 1776, the Continental currency be came of little value. This currency was conterfeited to such an extent, that it became neces. sary for the Government to take some steps to ascertain which was genuine. To this end, they re-quired that it should all be brought to the common tressury. Here the spurious were distinguished from the genuine notes, and such counterfeit notes had the word dam - an abbreviation of the Latin word damnatus, condemned-stamped upon their face. When the very small value of the genuine Continertal notes, and the utter worthlessness of those marked dam., is considered it will be easy to assign a source to this phrase. The addition of the letter n to the abbreviation requires no explanation. Don Platt says :- ' With Boutwell in the Treasury, and the House organized by Mr. Blanie in the interest of the New England monopolies and Pennsylvania pig iron, we, of the agricultural interests of the West, may hang our harps upon the willows, and soffer outrage and wrong for the next four years. The vast power of the general government will be driven with merciless vigour over our prostrate trade, to enrich the already wealthy monopolists of New Epgland and Pennsylvania. Our grain may rot in our barns, and our sheep be killed to save the tallow and pelt, while our party has nearly two-thirds of a mejority in Congress. The rich grow richer and the poor poorer. I can tell my political friends at the West that the day is not far distant, when all the glories of the late war, and all the noble impulses in behalf of coloured humanity will not save us. A sickened and disgusted people will be sorely tempted to hand the government to the hated Copperheads.' THE OUBANS ASSISTED FROM THE U.S. -- NEW YORK, Merch 15 .- The World's special says : The Spanish legation represent that the insurrection in Cuba has been kept alive by expeditions from New Orleans, New York, and Boston, and that a serious question is about to arise between the two Governments. They requst our Government not to take any action a in recognizing the insurgents until they have heard, from Senor Roberts. The Spanish envoy from Spain has just arrived.

Orange Ulster is uncommonly quiet at present The 'brethren' have, as it were, changed their nature, and transformed themselves from rabid wolves into docile lambs. - Neither beat of drum nor partisan note fram fife or whistle offends the Catholic ear, Brown Bess is hung up, like some warrior's arms, whose ruce has been run; Orange banners are stowed away in the lumber room; processions are aban-doned; and even Parson O'Flanagan has crased to use the threat of kicking Queen Victoria's crown into the waters of the Boyne. That such a calm hes set in amongst the 'brethren' will appear as a mystery to some of the people, who do not know the conning of the Orange boys. But to us there is no mystery whatever in the quiet position they assumed. Our readers are aware that there is a law in the stathte book, called the Party Processions Act, which has enabled the government to place many of the 'brethren' in the dock. This law has given great offence to the Orangemen. Having got full license for half a century to kill and slay the Catholics, and having escaped punishment for that long period, although they committed crimes of the darkest dye, they gnash their teeth, and rave like madmen, on finding themselves restrained in their wicked career. And so they desire to have the law repealed, that they may again commence their disgraceful doings. Mr Johnston of B-illykilbeg has brought a bill into the House of Commons for this purpose, and strange to say, excentric member for Trales, the O'Donoghus, has put his name with that of Johnston on the back of this bill. This will explain why Orangedom is so calm just at present The 'brethren' are to be orderly and quiet, that Johnston may point to their conduct, and asy, 'Is it right to fling this law in the face of a peaceable and orderly community? It is tyranny of the most oppressive kind, and the law which insults and annoys such a peaceful people should be repealed.' The entire business has been cunningly managed by all classes of the 'bretbren.' The Ohiefs have given the word of command, and the Orange boys are as peaceable as possible. We do not know if all this dexterity will be able to impose on the legislature; but we hope that it will not. We have no ill-will towards the Orangemen; but we do not wish to see them again let loose on the unoffending Catholics, to wreck Ostholic churches and chapels, and set fire to the dwellings of Catholics in the most wanton manner. It was to punish perties guilty of this conduct, and for parading in Orange sashes and playing offensive party tunes that the Party Processions Act was passed into law. That act cannot be a grievance to any man that conducts himself properly. It is only for the wicked and the bad that laws are made, for the quiet and good man needs not to be restrained by human laws. The Orangemen have only to change their conduc', and the law of which they complain cannot touch them. But their processions and insulting conduct cannot be endured; and if they follow these practices, and are punished, they have no one to blame but themselves. -- We hope, therefore, that the bill of Mr Johnston will be defeated. He cannot be blamed for introducing it, as he has pledged himself to do so; but we trust that it will be thrown out as there are strong reasons for continuing the law as it stands. When the Protestant Church is disestablished and disendowed, and Protestants will be obliged to support their own Church ; when ascen-tacking the police van and killing Sergeant Brett. Griffiths was a barber, and had a shop near the railway arch, where the attack was made. The pri soner had attacked Griffiths and assaulted him on Thursday in Shudehill Market, remarking, 'It was a bad job for you when you gave evidence at the Fenian trials.' Griffiths complained that after these trials he was subjected to such annoyance that he was obliged to give up his shop, and was now in a very destitute condition. Mr. Fowler fined the prisoner £5, with two months' imprisonment in default of payment. The fine was paid, and the magistrate ordered half of it to be given to Griffiths.

The Evening Star announces with jubilation that the ever to be lamented conversion of the Marquis of Bute is at length abundantly compensated. The mourning of the Protestant world is turned into joy. If a Marquis has deserted them, probably from some incurable eccentricity of character, a Duke, and the premier among Bukes, is about to cast off the errors of 'Romanism,' and embrace the unadulterated truth which, as everybody knows, was first revealed in the sixteenth and following centuries. The Duke of Norfolk, according to the Evening Slar, is on the eve of becoming an Irvingite We know not who gave this information to our credulous contemporary, but we are quite sure it was not the Duke, nor any member of his household. We happen to know that his Grace has not the slightest intention of becoming a disciple of Mr. Irving, nor of any other human teacher Thatsoever. It may be a subject of lamentation, but the Duke of Norf. ik is at present a devout Catholic, and there are few people in England more likely to remain so. The late Mr. Irving, we have no doubt, was worthy of all esteem, though his religious opinions were peculiar; but if that singular individual, who is commonly supposed to have been insane, has gained some conquests among the Anglicans and other Protestant sects, his admirers must abandon all hope of having a Catholic Duke in their number. The Evening Star must look for Irvingite recruits clsewhere. Why not announce boldly that the Archbishop of Canterbury has seen the error of his ways, and become an Irvingite 'spostle'? He is much more likely to do so than the Duke of Norfolk. We recommend this idea to the Evening Star .-Tablet,

CATHOLIC ADVICE TO RITUALISTS .- In common with the rest of the Catholic body in England, we should feel greatly obliged in fact, take it as a personal favour-if Anglican clergyman of the Ritualistic school would abstain from wearing the peculiar neckcloth known as the ' Roman collar.' They cannot plead that to do so is 'Sarum use,' for it is in every possible sense of the word of Rome, Romish. It was introduced into this country by the late Cadinal Wiseman, and was for several years the distinctive mark by which a Catholic priest was known when in plain clothes. But of late the Rituals have aped us in this matter (as in many others), and often bring, by their fantastic folly, not a little discredit upon what used to be called during the Crimean war, when soldiers were compared to 'gents in uniform,' the ' real thing.' The Roman collar is very well and very proper upon a seal priest. But when you add to it fantastic whiskers, and to the whiskers perhaps a fancy beard, and to the beard slate-coloured kid gloves, and to the gloves croquet-playing. and to croquet-playing a little flirtation, or a wife and a (From the North W.stern Chronicle.)

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

We have some further details of Mr. Gladstone's scheme for settling the Irish Church question. He proposes to expend any surplus that may remain, and which he estimates will yield a revenue of something over £300,000 per annum, in making provision for certain charitable institutions not at present reached by the Poor Laws, and in endowing hospitals. But here again, as in the case of schools or colleges, the religious element will create great difficulties : for the question arises, by whom shall the proposed charitable institutions be managed ? and we may well fear that if they are made what is called "non-sectarian" they will soon degenerate into rank proselytising establishments. On the whole, as given in the papers, Mr. Gladstone's scheme is a wretched compromise which unsetties every thing, which settles nothing, and which, as always is the case with half measures, will make every body discontented. It will disgust the Protestant Ascendency party; and it will not establish religious equality in Ireland, since it proposes not only to leave in the hands of the Protestants many of the old Catholic ecclestastical buildings, but to support these edifices, of which Protestants are to have it seems the exclusive enjoyment, out of the public funds. So after all the entire principle of State-Churchism is to be continued; unless indeed as a set off, a sum of money-or equivalent in the ratio of population-be assigned from the public lunds, for the keeping in good order of Cathedrals and ecclesiastical edifices for the use of the Catholic population of Ireland. Of two things, one: Mr. Gladstone's scheme does a great deal too much, or a great deal too little, and will we fear rather increase than allay poru far disaffection. When the motion for the second reading of the Bill came on, Mr. D'Israeli opposed it, in a vigorous speech, and concluded by moving that st be read that day six months. There is little doubt of its success in the House of Commons ; but by the Lords it will probably be either re jected-or so mutilated, as to defeat the intentions of Mr. Gladstone. It is reported that the Prince of Wales, now on his travels, proposes to pay a visit to Garibaldi. We hope for the sake of the national honor that this may be a false report. Still it must be remembered that the young Prince has no sage mentor, like the late Duke of Newcastle, by his side ; and as there may be some foundation for bonour its Patron Saint to-day ? Will mare royaterthe rumors-to the effect that in the Royal Family of to-day, the same unhappy relations exist, as existed betwixt George the First and his eldest son, betwirt George the Second and Frederick Prince of Wales, betwixt George the the things that are Casar's, and to God the Third, and his Prince of Wales-it may not be impossible that our Prince of Wales may be meditating a visit to the head of the European Bevolution, out of spite to his august mother, to whom such a visit from her son to a fellow like Garibaldi would of course be inexpressibly pain. ful, and inconceivably humiliating. We hope, however, that the report is ill founded ; and that the heir apparent to the British throne will be better advised than so to degrade himself, and his royal lineage. On the evening of the 22nd, in the House of Commons, Mr. Fortescue, Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced that it was not the intention of Her Majesty's Government to recommend the extension of the Royal clemency, at the present moment, to any of the Fennan prisoners, still in surprised, because the Gazette is not in the confinement.

land vice Reverdy Johnson, is attributed by some of The Trne Uditness. Grant's friends to the fact that he has been carefully considering what policy will be best to pursue in re-gard to the Alabama claims. Some people here who profess to be familiar with his views, say that he has resolved to adopt a very decisive course with Kogland, and that the smount of his diplomacy will be simply the sending of a bill to the British Government, seking pryment for the depredations of the pir te ships on the Apierican commerce."

> A correspondent of the Witness wishes to know what steps have been taken to procure justice for the Indians lately arrested at the Lake of Two Moustains, for threats, and acts of violence against the proprietors of that Seigniory, the gentlemen of the Seminary of St. Sulpice. As the Witness has on more than one occasion. insinuated that the Indians are the victims of in justice on the part of the Seminary, we will give him the desired information, which however we do not think he will care to publish.

The complaints of the Indians-Iroquois and Algonquins-resident at the Lake of the Two Mountains, upon the lands belonging to the Seminary, have been laid before the Government, carefully inquired into, and finally adjudicated upon. The decision has been communicated to the Indians, and is in substance as follows-as the Witness will fied to be the case, if he will put himself in communications with the Algonquin Chiefs, Jako Misok, Basil Odjick and others.

These are informed that the Sulpicians do not bold the Seigniory of the Lake of the Two Mountains in trust for the Indians, but are the absolute owners thereof; and that consequently neither Iroquois nor Algonquins have any proprietary rights therein whatsoever.

They are moreover informed, in substance, that though the gentlemen of the Seminary, of their pure benevolence, allow the Indiacs to cut wood thereon growing, for their own use-they the Indians, have no right, without the permission of the said Sulpicians, to sell one stick thereof.

They are also reminded, that it is only by the sufferance of the Seminary that they, the Indians, reside on the Seigniory in question: and that, if that residence be irksome, there was a Govern ment Reserve of 45,750 acres situated on the rivers Desert and Gatineau, set apart in the year 1854 for the especial use of the Algonquins: and out of which each family of that tribe, can, on application to the agent, receive a free grant of about 80 acres on the condition of settling and cultivation it.

And lastly, the Indians are gently reminded that for several years the Seminary has actually been expending for their benefit a greater sum than it derived from the Seigniory-that roads have been made for them, the Indians: and other services readered for which they ought to be grateful; and that consequently they must learn to respect the proprietary rights of the Seminary, which the Government will enforce ; whilst at the same time, it is always striving to improve the condition, and elevate the social condition of the Indians.

tions put by the Gazette? When did the Irish of Montreal ever conduct themselves on St. large a community there are to be found some rowdies, some who do no bonor either to the land of their birth, or to the religion which they profess, is no doubt true ; as it is also true of Englishand Scotch Protestants, of French Canadians, and of all other communities. But in proportion to their numbers, there is no class which can show a greater number of good citizenr, and of good Christians, than can our Irish Catholics of Monireal. If not for the most part very wealthy, they are, to say the least, as honest, as industrious, as sober, and as virtuous in every relation of life, as are other classes of Her Majesty's subjects : and need advice from no one, except their clergy, as to how they should comport themselves on St. Patrick's Day, or on any other day of the year.

And were it true, as the Gazette seems to insinuate is the case, but to which instituations the wast numbers that took part in the solemn religious ceremonies of the 17th inst. gave the lie-that Irish Catholics have in a measure discarded their ancient faith, and cast aside their respect for religious authority, the complaint would still come with a bad grace from an Englishman, and a Protestant. Why! for three centuries the entire influence of the British Protestant world has been exerted to undermine the influence of the Catholic priest, to persuade the Irishmen to throw off the yoke of " religious authority;" and if, in certain instances these influences have been unhappily successful, the Protestant Englishman has no right on that account to taunt the Irishman, and the persecuted Catholic. The fact we admit, that the Catholic, whether Irish or French Canadian, who becomes 'democratized and Yankeefied," is "generally the worst of citizens :" but who are they, we ask the Gazette, who are ever striving to "demo cratize and Yankeefy" them-and to inspire them with a spirit of rebellion to "religious authority?"

We have so good an opinion of the writer in the Gazette, that we think that, when his attention is called to the purport of his remarks, he will recognise the fact that they were uncalled for, and unjust towards the Irish. Would he, for instance, have ventured upon similar counsels to the men of any other nationality in Canada? to the English on the 23rd of April? to the Scotch on St. Andrew's Day? to the French Canadians on the Festival of St. Jean Baptiste? No he would not: and yet, we repeat it, to say the least, the men who celebrate the Feast of St Patrick, are in every respect the equals, in poin of morality, of good citizenship, and good Christianity, of the sons of St. George, of the sons of St. Andrew, or the children of St. Jean Bap-This reply was in substance addressed to the tiste. We challenge for them no superiority; but as lovers of truth, of justice, and of fair play we will protest against their being placed on a lower level-and certainly an attempt so to place them is implied in the very peculiar remarks and counsels which the Gazette presumes to tender to them. The Irish Catholics of Montreal have the Pastors of their Church, and need no other teachers, political or literary, to instruct them as to their moral duties, whether as citizens or as Christians. To these Pastors-to these authorized teachers, men of wisdom, and unblemished reputation, let us leave them: and in stead of obtruding on them, on all occasions, our unnecessary and uncalled for counsels, let us rather try to imitate some of their virtues : or if we must preach, let us preach to them, not by word of mouth, but by example. Let us, if we can, give in our own persons an illustration of the Christian life, and civic virtues which we wish th see reproduced in them; of our sobriety, our integrity, and of our earnest desire to promote peace and good will amongst men of all races, and of all creeds. In so doing we shall only be seconding to the best of our humble abilities the earnest teachings which the Irish Catholics of Montreal constantly receive from their exem plary Pasters.

which their people listen to those instructions. the authorities of our Church to encourage, or Ritualists would not have an inch of ground to What need was there of the string of ques- | to tolerate the cruel treatment of pupils in Catholic schools. That these authorities may not always, in spite of their precautions, be able to Patrick's Day, otherwise than as "good Chris- prevent occasional abuse of the power which is tians and as good citizens?" That amongst so placed in the hands of the teacher in order to enable him to keep in order a lot of boys, of whom some will always be unruly, may be granted: but we know that Protestants themselves will repudiate the slanderous insinuations of the Witness, to the effect that the beads of our Catholic educational institutions, encourage that abuse, and reward those who have been convicted of it.

> As a general rule the discipline of all Catholic schools is, in the matter of corporal punishment, far milder than that of Protestant schools-at all events of such schools as we have formed acquaintance with. We appeal to all who may remember what the best and most frequented schools in England-Etoo, Westminster, Harrow -cum multis aliis, were in their younger days, some thirty or forty years ago: and whether > severe punishments for a grammatical error, or a false quantity were not common ! How many are there who would most decidedly object, if called upon to renew the painful memories, the infandum dolorem, of their school boy days; and yet who would deem it most unjust to condemn the entire system then pursued because, of their masters, the tempers were often basty, and the bands beavy.

Of the facts of the case commented upon by the Watness we know nothing. They very probably have been grossly exaggerated, and they may be strictly true for aught we know. If the latter be the case, the teacher richly deserved his sentence, and we may be sure that he will never again be tolerated as a teacher in any Catholic institution, whose object is not to repel, but to attract pupils. But whether he be guilty or innocent, the editor of the Witness, as we are sure all candid Protestants will admit, has been guilty of a most unfounded calumny against the Catholic Church : and by his malicious libels on, and wanton insults towards his Catholic fellow citizens, he is doing his best to stir up strife betwixt them and Protestants.

MARRIED PRIESTS .- The Liberal press is in great glee over what it calls the 'marriage' of an apostate priest in the Kingdom of Naples ; and as the Civil Courts have decreed the civil validity of a union which, of course, in matter of fact, is simply concubinage, the same Liberal organs are all proclaiming that, in a few years, the Church herself will sanction these unions, and that there will be a lot of married priests in Italy performing priestly duties.

There prophets are not careful in their use of words. It is very possible that, ere long, there may be many cases of lewd priests in Italy, who shall approve themselves false to their ordination vows, and who will consequently adopt a state of Concubinage; it is also very possible that the State may assure to these men the enjoymen of the emoluments of the priestly office ; but it is certain that they will never be able to perform priestly duties,' unless Sacrilege be a priestly duty. Every religious act performed, every Mass celebrated, by one of these perjured priests, every host by him consecrated, will be a mortal sin, a sacrilege, and an insult to the Body and Blood of Chirist; and though no doubt his consecrations will be valid consecrations, they will none the less be a desecration of holy things in the eyes of all Catholics. If the law in Italy should allow the priest to marry, it would but place him in precisely the same position as that in which the Catholic priest in any part of the British dominions now finds himself. As before the State, he will be a married man; as before the Church, he will be one bound by his ordination oaths to celibacy and chastify, and in spite of these oaths, as one who lives in a state of concubinage-and as one, therefore, from whom the Church will withdraw all spiritual jurisdiction, and all right to exercise any of the functions of the priesthood ; whilst the faithful will everywhere shrink from him and his sacriligeous ministrations with contempt, and horror, lest they should be partners in his guilt. Besides, we may be very sure, from the history of the past, since the days of Luther to those of Chinquy, that when the priest violates his vows of chastity, he will also discard other peculiar doc trives of the Catholic Church, especially with regard to the Eucharist and its celebration. Incontinence, and renunciation of the faith, invariably stand to one another, in so far as priests are concerned, in the relation of cause and effect.

stand upon. The reverend propounder of this scheme, is confident that it will prove easy of accomplishment, since the number of those who even now communicate in the Church of England, or accept the consecrated bread and wine from the heads of its ministers, is, as compared with the entire numbers of the Anglican body, absurdly small; and since the vast majority of the latter would enthusiastically support any measure which would destroy the encroachments of Rome, and oppose the progress of Catholic principles in the Establishment. A very simple alteration in the

and a second state of the second s

Anglican Liturgy, which Parliament is guite competent to make, would therefore restore peace to the church. The Ritualists would growl no doubt a little at first, but would finish of course by accepting it - under protest : and in like manner the old sacerdotal rites connected with baptism might be got rid of, by prohibiting the use of water, and the invocation of Father. Son, and Holy Ghost. Some such changes will probably be adopted as a death blow to sacer. dotalism, ritualism, and the entire sacramental system.

We find in one of our U. Canada contemno. raries, the Victoria Warder, a very gratifying report of the progress of Catholic education in Lindsay, of which parish the Rev. Mr. Stafford is the pastor. The reverend gentleman may well be pleased with the result of his labor in the cause of Catholic education, to which he is also it appears a liberal contributor in a pecuniary point of view-having at his own cost furnished much of the materiel of the Lindsay school ;-

We did ourselves the pleasure last week of paying a visit to the new Roman Oatholic Separate School House in this town, and can well understand why Dr. Ryerson, in his late visit, should have pronounced it, 'so very fine,' and ' the finest of the kind in the Province.' It is certainly very perfect as a whole and in all its parts-the rooms high and cheerful and perfectly ventilated - the desks and chairs of the very best style, furnished by Jacques & Hays, of Toronto, at a cost of $550. The stoves, Ruttan's Combined Heaters and Ventilators. The Maps, Wlobes, Tellurions, Planetariums, Microscopes and other apparatus to the value of $200; the gift of the Rev. Mr. Stafford. All is perfect and certainly reflects high credit on all concerned. The contractor Mr. William Bell, who though, we learn a heavy loser, nevertheless, honestly and honourably carried out his contract to the last. But special bonour must be awarded to the Architect and superintendentto the head that planned, and the eye that carefully watched over the whole structure from its in. ception to its successful completion-that is, to Mr. William Duffis. of Lindsay. We say nothing of those who furnished the supplies -- they have their reward ; and the town has an ornament.

There is a circumstance we may be allowed to notice which says much for the people of Lindsay as illustrative of the total absence of exclusiveness and narrow-mindedness prevailing here; and that s the well known fact that there is perhaps not one citzen in the whole town, of whatever country or creed, who has not contributed something towards the erection of this School House. Ling may it stand as a monument of the past, and a pledge and guarantee of future, kindly feeling and mutual good services. - [Victoria Warder.

We have received the first number of a hybrid Yankee paper, called the New Idea, edited by M. Lanctot of unenviable " stone quarry contract" notoriety. It seems that he has not gone into the evangelical preaching business, as was stated a few days ago : but is about to enlighten the world with the new idea, that the political Gospel according to Lanctot, is the one thing needful for its salvation. We have looked over the paper, and could scarce repress a smile at its turgid bombast, and exquisite fooling, called by the Yankees highferluting. We give the following as a fair specimen of the style of its editor, who after the disgraceful exposures before the City Council in the "stone quarry" job, prudently resolved to leave a country whose moral atmosphere was by no means suited to his pecuiar constitution :---' On the altar of patriotism, innated in all noble bearts for the country of their ancestors and of their birth, we offer the sacrifice of a voluntary exile, in the interest of the deliverance of Canada, by the legitimate means of intellectual and political warfare, of the corrupt, debased and infamous colonial rule which exhausts the people without developing the resources of the country, and piles social absurdity over chronical insignificance and national dishonour.

New York Herald has the following remarks Britan and the United States :---

Algonquins. The Iroquois who were more violent in their complaints, and more impudent in their menaces, received, so we have reason to believe, a somewhat sterner rebuff. But the answer to all their complaints, and to all the insinuations of the Witness, is to be found in the decision that, to the gentlemen of the Seminary of St. Sulpice, belongs the absolute ownership of the Seigniory of the Lake of the Two Mountains; and that consequently the Indians have no rights of property therein whatsoever. The Wetness is now answered.

We read with painful surprise, the following remarks of the Montreal Gazette of the 17th inst., noon the celebration of the day, that our Irish fellow citizens delight to honor :---

To day is the festival of St. Patrick. The sons of old Ireland will celebrate it with all due observance. Perhaps there are no people in the world who cling with so much foudness to remembrances of the land of their birth as Irishmen. But will they really ing festivity do this? Will they honour the ' Land of the Saints,' by obedience to the behasts of the saints? By the cultivation of peace and good will? Will they honour it by obedience to Christian doctrine? By the fear of God and honouring the Sovereign? Will they render unto Cæsar things that are God's? That were a fitting observance of the good Saiat's day. To act as good Obristian and good citizens, to act on the precapts of the greatest of our Canadian Irishmen-now so was the love of all mankind, and obedience to the powers that be. And in the olden times the simple faith and allegiance of the Irish was based on their allegiance to the Church and obedience to its rulers Has that faith departed ? Have they ceased to love their Ohurch and yield obedience to their spiritual ad visers? That, perchance, is one of Ireland's dangere, about which the lovers of the empire, of peace and order, may well take thought. Those who learn to scoff at religious authority are generally those who scoff at all authority, and the democratized and Yankeefied Irlahman is generally the worst citizen.

We are pained at these remarks, for they convey an unworthy, and quite groundless insinuation against the Irish of Montreal: we are habit of playing the part of firebrand, or of try-

A teacher employed in the Christian Brothers' Schools in France-a lad only 18 years of ages and therefore we suppose only a novice-has, so we read in the Protestant papers, lately been tried and condemned to six months imprisonment for inflicting brutal corporal chastisement on his pupils. The facts as alleged are very bad, and if true, merited severe punishment, and the reprobation of all good mer.

But what they did not merit, or call for, were the following comments from the Wrtness :-"The prisoner received his sentence with the utmost indifference, knowing well that when he comes out of jail, he will be feted, promoted by the heads of the order, and looked upon generally as a martyr of the enemies of the church."

It is Protestants, whom the Witness pretends to represent, and whose sentiments he professes party, and religious strife, happily nearly extinct to echo, who have most cause to feel aggrieved by this language on the part of their organ the

A CURE FOR RITUALISM .- A very simple and infallible remedy for this disease as it shows itself in the Anglican communion especially with regard to Eucharistic celebrations, is proposed by the Reverend Mr. Voysey, a dignitary of the Church of England in Yorksbure, a staunch Protestant, and a distinguished opponent of Ritualism.

The Rev. Mr. Voysey's plan, like that of all really great discoverers, is very simple. He proposes that Parliament shall merely abolish al- was perceptible to the senses in the floor, or in the together the rite, or ceremony of consecration in machicery, except when the eve was turned to the the Encharteries adaptation with the delicate needles attached to the "The delay in the nomination of a Minister to Eng. peace and good will, and to the docility with mony, and know well whether it is the custom of the Eucharistic celebration, which done, the gaages.

After many severe tests it is now admitted that Mr. Bartley's steam engine is a complete success, and furnishes the City with a sufficient supply of water. We heartily congratulate Mr. Bartley and the City upon this happy termination of his labors. The following is from the Herald's correspondence :-

' In the first place the city has been well supplied for the last three days, as all our citizens know, and we may add that this has been done whoily by the steam engine. At the same time, and by the same agency the water in the reservoir has been gradualy raised in such a manner as to put us out of danger of defiency in case of fire With these facts to start from, we visited the engine house yesterday morning, and found both the breast and turbine wheels at test. The bead of water was not sufficent to run the breast wheel, and it had not been taught desirable to draw it down too much by the use of the turbine, though it was intended to set that in motion in the course of the forenoon. The steam engine, therefore was the only agent by which the town was being supplied and the reservoir replenished, and both these things were going on simultaneously. How did the engine do its work ? Apparently with the greatest easo. Though of course there is a gigantic wrestle constantly going on between its force, and the resistance which it meets from its work, no jer

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE--MARCH 26, 1869.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATIONS.

The Day was duly honored in this city by our Irish fellow-citizens, and the weather was fortunately fine. At the hour indicated, and in the order arranged by programme, the different lation kept up by an annual immigration of 18,000. pational, benevolent, and religious societies marched to St. Patrick's Church, where Solemn High Mass was sung by the Very Reverend the Superior of the Seminary of St. Sulpice; the If Bogland is advancing in the Faith and that in sermon, a most nowerful discourse, was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Bakewell, who took for his text the words of Romans, X, 18: " Have beat of the day: He gave some details of the progress they not heard? Yea they have heard; the sound of their voice bath gone through the whole world, and their words have reached the ends of the earth." The music performed was Haydo's 16th Mass, the choir being efficiently conducted by Mr. Teulon, M. Meilleur presiding at the organ. The following is an analysis of the sermon, from the Montreal Herald :--

The Rev. Mr. Bakewell ascended the pulpit and took for his text the words from Romans X. 18 : Have they not heard ? Yea they have heard ; the sound of their voice bath gone through the whole world, and their words have reached the ends of the earth' The reverend gentleman prefaced his sermon by vindicating his claim to the position he occupied before them on that day, although an Englishman. since he owed his spiritual life to the Saint whose day they had met to celebrate. Why, it was asked, with the strong love of the Irish for their native land, and their faith in God, should they have been forced by the hand of God to leave their native country. The sufferings of Ireland were to some an enigma to others a proof of the errors of Oatholicism. But the emigration was not due to social or political causes, nor was it caused by famine. These were but second-The prime cause was in the will of Almighty God that they should spread the Gospel of His Son. Those to whom it was an enigma had forgotten the teachings of revelation and this the preacher proved by various passages, Romans, X 11; Hebrews, XII.: Mark, X, 29, &c. The extension of the Roman Empire was intended to facilitate the spread of the Gospel, and in like manner the extension of the British Em ire, allied as it was with Ireland, was intended to spread the Oatholic faith throughout the world The subject divided itself into three heads. How God had prepared Ireland for this mission ; how she has accompliched and how she is accomplishing it. The date of the introduction of Christianity into Ireland is unknown. Paladius, it is certain preceded St. Patrick, but the latter was designed of God to he the true missionary of the Irish People Ireland had been preserved from Roman corruption : no proconsul had set his foot on her soil. To use the words cf one of her own poets ' She embraced the faith with the sudden brightness of a Northern summer' He then referred to the decadence of Rome; the invasion of the barbarians; to the state of war in which Europe was so long engaged while Ireland was left comparatively tranquil; to the monasteries, colleges and schools erected there, from which proceeded the men who founded the different universities of the world, and to the missionary spirit which pervaded the people and which urged them to go forth as Missionaries to preach the Gospel to the whole earth. No fewer than eight nations of the Roman Empire had done their work and fallen, but the Church remained. The warriors from the North became subject to her, and barbarians acknowledged her sway. Ireland, Island of Virgins and Island of Confessors, had not yet been baptized in the blood of her children. After referring to the penal laws of the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth conturies and to the manner in which Ireland arose reeking with the blood of her chi'dren, yet grasping the closs yet more dearly loved, he said that Ireland was exposed to a yet severer test to ber fidelity. Emancipation was offered on condition that the Government would obtain influence in the appointment of the Bishops and a share in the Government of the Church. She resisted and successfully and had come forth with glory, but never had she been more glorious than in that long death of centuries. Her people had come forth with souls unharmed. Their nationality still survives along with the other features of the national character, and oratories in all England ; no convents, no monasteries. In 1869 there were thirteen Bishaps, 1288 Churches, 1639 priests, 227 convents 67 monneteries and 21 preparatory schools and colleges What was the secret of this : That out of the 21,000,000 inhabitants of England and Wales, 7,000,000 were Irisb, a popu-The large number of Oburches growing up is due to the Irish Oatholics. Though it is true that within the last 25 years 50 churches had been erected by English converts at their own expense, what is this o the vast number raised by Irish Roman Oatholics? London alone Dr. Manning is admitting 1,000 converts a year to the Church, yet the glory should still be given to those who have borne the burden and made in the British possessions throughout the world and to those in British North America in which there were 1,500,000 of Irish Roman Catholics, and said that in Lower Canads, although the foundation had been well and firmly laid by those of another race, yet what had been done by the Irish Rom-n Catholics was known to them all, and to the sternal mind of God. In the United States fifty years ago there was only one Bishop, 68 priests, and 80 churches and stations; now there are 61 bishops 2,500 priests, and nearly 4000 churches with a Oatholic population of 5,500,000, children of St. Patrick. As their heavenly Father had willed the exile of St Patrick for the sake of the Cross, so had He willed that his children should be exiled to plant the church, to nurse it and to be themselves the germ of the seedling tree, to take vigorous root in the virgin soil of newly discovered lands, and to show to the world that Catholicism is the founds. tion of every virtue, of the patriotism, benevolence, religion for which the Irish are so renowned. It was this which led them in 1854 to send to their filends in Ireland $8,650,000, and in 50 years more than $70 000,000, and to expend about three times as much for extending religion in foreign lands. The Irish faith, continued the preacher, the Emerald Isle, old Ireland, is the brightest jewel in the Church's crown, Over the entire face of the globe the Ohurch beholds not a people more devoted to Catholic Unity; to that Holy Roman Church which is its immoveable centre Ireland has ever been attached by the cords offaith and love to Rome, and Rome to Ireland. May it be ever so. It is the favour I ask of God for Ireland through the intercession of St. Patrick 'the sound of whose voice - have they not heard ? Yes. they have beard ; the sound of his voice had gone through the whole world, and his words have reached the end of the earth.' It is the biessing for Ireland which is wished also, and especially to-day by another priest on earth, by the great successor of Celestin, whose long pontificate furnishes abundant proofs how lovingly he has cherished Ireland and her sons, styled by himself his ever faithful and most beloved people. To-day he has traversed the streets of Rome and entering the church of St. Agatha, in the vestry room of which is securely kept the silver urn containing the sleeping dust of O'Connell's golden heart, the earthly father of the world now in the glorious autumn of his life has lifted up his hands in blessing Irelan ; in thanks to God for all he granted to St. Patrick in prayer that that zeal for the faith-that Foith which is the bond uniting man to God, and man to his fellow man may be kept alive in Irish hearts and Irish homes, a blessing which God's angels have borne over every clime, which has reached ourselves. On this St. Patrick's Day will you, dear brethren, strive to cruch every spirit of division, from whatever source it springs, bot bear in mind and heart the Shamrock, representing the union of which it is the most perfect symbol, which will bring you peace and prosperity in this life, and in the life to come that everlasting rest and peace and joy, the sure heritage of the children of the Gross. Amen.

After Mass the Procession reformed in front of the church, and marched through the main streets, returning to the St. Patrick's Hall, where several addresses were delivered, and the morning ceremonies were brought to a close.

In the evening there was a most numerously ttended, and highly successful Concert at the City Hall, at which were present His Hodor the Mayor, and the representatives of all the other National Societies. There the evening was

HELP FOR THE BLIND. - On Wednesday evening next, the 31st inst., will be held in the Nazareth Asylum, St. Catherine, Street a Source in aid of the funds of the Institution. To commence at 7 pro. Price of entrance Fifty cents.

The object of the Source is to raise funds for the Asylum for the Blind in which these afflicted members of Our Lord, are not only housed, fed, clothed, and have all their physical wants sup plied; but in which they are taught to read, and i made to learn trades, so that they may in time contribute to their own support. On another occasion we may have another word to say on the subject ; for the present we content ourselves with warmly recommending the Soiree of Wednesday next, to the favorable notice of the charitable.

ORDINATIONS .- On Saturday the 14th inst., at the Cathedral of Quebec, the Order of the Diaconate was conferred by His Grace the Archbishop of Quebec, upon the Rev. MM. Louis E. Chavigoy, and M. Polycarpe Dassylva, both of the diocess of Quebec.

We learn from the Courrier du Canada of the 15th inst. the death of M. Charles Lange vin of Quebec on the 14th inst., in the 88th year of his age. "He led the life" says the Courrier, " of a good Catholic ; and it will be a great consolation to his family to know that he has left behind him the purest reputation that any man can wish for."

A TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR.- A paragraph in the Montreal Herald of the 17th inst. runs as follows :--

"Horses are now so numerous in New South Wales that they have become a real nuisance. One equatter has killed 1500 which encroached on his land, and the product of their carcasses hardly pays for the powder and shot A lot of one hundred and eighty collected in the Blayner pound were sold at one penny each."

Not " horses" but " rabbits," so the paragraph should run. The difference is worth noting.

THE ROOF OF ST. PATRICK'S HALL. - The contract for the new root of St. Patrick's Hall has been awarded to Mr. Howley for $15,150 and on Saturday morning about 40 men were at work on the scaffolding necessary for the erection of the temporary roof. Some time ago we announced that the sum of $15000 was the amount which would be required to re-roof the Hall, and the result has shewn we were not far wrong.

MONTREAL MILITARY SCHOOL .- O. the 16 inst., under the presidency of Lieut. Colonel Fielden, a long and brillant examination took place; the following Cadetes have obtained a second class certificate :- viz. George Napoleon Watter, Montreal: Patrick Kirwin, Montreal;

David Tufl, Montreal ; Archibald Macphie, Montreal; Moise Trudeau, St. Hubert; and George Labelle, Boucherville.

THE PRICE OF BREAD - We (Montreal Herald) have letters of complaint from corres pondents regarding the present price of bread. passed in well ordered festivity, with music, One of them pu's the matter very outbut thus:

It is rumoured, and, we believe, with truth, that Mr. Dorwin, broker, who lately left the city, had in his hands several sums of money belonging to St. Stephen's Church and the Church of St. James the Apostle, and also a sum of money belonging to the Rev. Mr. Ellegoode. We understand the amounts are not very large ones.-Gazette 17th inst.

We understand that Mr. Canfield Dorwin has taken away with him more money than at first re-ported; namely about $80,000. Some of his victime will be reined. One is a poor man from the country who loses $1,089, which is, we are told, his all. He had been induced to deposit by the temptation of interest, at 10 per cent. on his balances. Two maiden ladies lose $4,000. Messrs, Hudon & Bover bought a bill of $6.000 gold, on New York on Saturday for which they caused the arrest of the partner, but he was released. There is much sympathy in the city for him, he having put a large aum-in the neighbourhood of twenty thousand dollars, in cash-into the concern. The firm of Canfield Dorwin & Co. has a large sum of discounted promissory notes in some of the banks, on which the loss, however, will probably not be very great. Mr Dorwin had been preparing to abscond for some time previous, and had actually caused an express slay to wait on him, but day after day put off, owing to the state of the weather. The circumstance of his absconding excites the very greatest astonishment, as Mr. Dorwin's credit stood high, and some of the most knowing persons in Montreal had considerable sums of money in his hands, to get the 10 per cent. on the deposit-and among these are persons whose experience ought to have been valuable. Mr. Dorwin was American Consul here under Mr. Buchanan's administration .-Mont. Gazette.

ards the Imperial government :-- You cannot well understand this general disposition of the enlightened public, becaure you do not know exacwell tested ill-luck in the management of foreign affairs. Not one man-I speak of the educated and impartial part of the nation-bas any doubt of the good and patriotic intentions of the Em-his unrestrained power, fills with wholesome fear

every intelligent Frenchman who loves his coun.

them all in an unanimous apprehension at the least sign of a movement or intention to move in foreign matters. His friends are afraid for him and for the country, and his enemies for the country, the fate of which, especially in war, it is bard to separate from him. That general and sincere feeling among the upper classes is one of the least precarious guarantees of peace, because he is himself surrounded by the influence of that universal belief and cannot avoid imbibing it to a certain degree, so as to become less and less self-confident and daring. Fancy some great per-

-We are glad to learn from an amusing dialogue in La vie Parisienne that the necessity of classifying French novels has at last been recognized. A lady entering a circulating library asks for a novel : " I don't know how to tell you exactly the kind I want,' she says. 'Oh, I think we shall tly the predominant feeling entertained here about be able to suit you,' was the reply. 'I mean the present Government. It is not at all batred, something lively,' explains the intending reader : the sort of book that would not be precisely past faults. It is simply a deep and and well- suitable for the library of a young girl," Marie, sattled conviction of its peculiar inability and too cries the keeper of the book shop to the assistant, 'novel for a woman of thirty-five.'

BELGIUM

Among the Belgian Bishops the greatest unanimity prevails. In August last they collectively addressed the Holy See in words expressive of enthusiastic thankfulness for the convocation that the present Emperor would be known in of a General Council. Since that time they have published a joint Pastoral to the whole of 'Napoleon le Bien-intentionne. But it is pre- Belgium in the same sense ; and at Liege public conferences are being given, by order of the Bishop, upon the subject of the Church and her General Councils. Here in Belgium also, as in France, there is a liberal party, which explains away the Syllabus and dreads the decisions of mon to friends and to enemies alike, and unites the General Council. This party counts a certain number of the younger clergy in its ranks. but is represented by no mer of note. The Bishops in Holland have followed the example of their Right Rev. Brethren in Belgium ; and the prevailing sentiment among the Catholics of Holland, as in Belgium and France, is one of thankfulness, expectation, and faith in the work which Pius IX designs to accomplish by means of his General Council.

The story of six nuns being confined in a damp cellar at Louvain, Belgium, is described by the rector of the American College at Louvain as an infamous calumny.' He says the whole truth work, having rather rashly taken his drag into is, that six ladies, 'not being pleased any longer some great throughfare, and having got locked in the convent,' arplied to the Archbishon of with many vehicles and upset some, and caused Malines to obtain for them a dispensation from altogether much trouble and danger; fancy him their vows, and the Archbishop complied with their request.

Dutch engineers have long been challenged to try their power in draining the Zuyder Zee, which, before the inundations in the 12th and 13:h centuries was pastured by flocks and herds, alove, take care not to run over us and upset but the colossal nature of the works required has discouraged them. Precisely at the moment when the national destiny of Spain must be recast by the wisdom of and they instinctively feel that the General Coun- a popular Assembly, we are presented with an authentic history of that branch of its affairs on which it has been said that political conclusions must ultimately turn. Great Revolutions, it is affirmed, always bioge, at some stage or other, on questions of finance, and Spanish Finances will certainly count, as they have already counted for much, in the Revolution of last September. It is sufficient, indeed, to say that the accumulated deficit left by Queen Isabella's Government amounted to 25,000,0002. Nominally, the public income of Spain is, or was, a little short of 26 000 0002. ; its expenditure a little above that sum, so as to exhibit a deficiency of some 700 000%. on the accounts of ble though temporary effects of the Revolution, that while on one hand the national expenditure is rapidly increasing, there is little hope, on the other, that the national revenue will be ever got in.—Times. The notion of Protestantism in Spain is almost as fantastic as that of the rain in Egypt, or a clear sky in London. The Christian World. a pious newspaper, in which there is a little of the Christian and a good deal of the World, is evidently not quite at ease about the simultaneous apparition of so many representatives of Protestant ' hydra' in the country of Ferdinand and Isabella. 'We cannot help asking ourselves,' says the journal with the remarkable name, whether the separate action of 'several divi sions' of the Protestant Church is either seemly or wise ? Would not success be more likely by combined efforts? The question seems to us judicious, but when our contemporary goes on to say, 'Can we not agree to forget our ' isms' for a time ?' we are tempted to remind him, that disunion is the only essential characteristics of Protestantism, and that when its professors forget their "isms,' they are apt to forget every form of Christianity whatever .- [Tablet. OPPOSITION TO CONSCRIPTION LAW .-- Serious disturbances, arising out of the opposition of the people to military conscription, are reported in Andalusia. At Montero barricades were erected and there was some fighting between the people and the troops. In the latter place two men were kitled and six wounded. No disorder has occurred in Cadiz. Minister Sagasto has advised the Cortes not to enforce Sagasto has advised the Cortes not to enforce Other authorities state, on the contrary, that he the conscription. The members of the Cortes, meditates a coup-d'etat with Ratezzi, and another without distinction of party, have offered their attempt on Rome. assistance and support to the Government to maintain public order at any cost.

coup d'etat and dissolution of the Chambers, to be followed by the publication of a manifesto to the nation, and the advent of Oialdini and Rattazzi to office. This is perfectly possible, and the King (short of abdication) has no way out of his difficulties rave a bold measure of this kind. The interpellation of General Bixio on the accumulations of warlike stores at Civita Vecchia is banging over the head of the Menabres Cabinet like the sword of Damocles, and the debate will be a very lively one in all probability. Menabrea has, according to the Milanese journals, done his bost to obtain some sort of reply from the Tuileries as to the duration of the French occupation, and M. de Lavalatte, according to the same authorities, has replied that 'after the elections a new situation will be created,' but that for the present moment the Government need the support of the French clergy. There is great reason to lear such hopes have been given to Italy. PROFITS AND LOSSES OF THE MEAL-TAX - The probable profit to Government of the meal tax for the given at ten millions of 'lire' 'So many persons killed for so little gain l' observes the 'Unita Cattolica;' and the misery of which this wretched tax has already been the provoking cause is by no means summed up in the list of the killed and wounded. There are the prisoners to be taken into account, From Alezandria we hear of the extreme destitution to which so many of the poor of Emilia are reduced from this cause alone; for most of the individuals arrested are fathers of families dependent upon their labour for daily bread. The state of the prisoners themselves is also very pitiable, huddled together as they are in great numbers, in different places of detention. In the fort of Bormida alone there are still 245 pensants immured, out of 411 lately confined within its walls. The troubles also can by no means be yet said to be entirely quelled, and from time to time news reaches us of fresh disturbances, manifesting the uneasiness and discontent still prevalent on the subject.

PROTESTANT PROGRESS. - A borrib's profanation of religion tood place at Venice during the last days of Carnival. A party of young men, dressed as prieste, went to the cafe, and, opening a packet of hoste, proceeded to give a barlesque of Holy Communion, with the most blasphemous insults and jests, in which the bystanders joined. Several, however, left the cafe in disgust, and the Venetians have protested against the outrage in a very numerously signed address to the Patriarch.

Roms .- Last Tuesday, 23:d ult., the new French Ambassador presented his credentials to the Pope .-The appointment of the Marquis de Banneville has given great satisfaction to the Catholic party in France, and is a sign of the good relations which exist at present between Rome and Paris It is well it should be so, as the Imperial policy with regard to Rome has not always been clear, and too often the Emperor has tried to serve the revolution at the expense of religion and justice. Now that the Oburch is preparing for the Conneil, it is of great importance that it should not be d sturbed by political intrigues and difficulties. The usual ceremonies were observed on the occasion of the new Ambassador's official reception.

ROMAN FINANCE .- The prosperity which reigns within the diminished Pontifical States contrasts forcibly with the disastrous financial condition of the rest of Italy. The delay of the Florence Government in paying its quots of the Pontifical debt necessitates a temporary loan, which will be effected on the best conditions. The Roman budget is constantly improving. The postal revenue, hitberto deficient, yielded a profit last year of 200,000 francs. Hardly any coupons of the last loar, and these only of trifling smount, remain unpaid. Rome is as free from the financial embarrassment which reigns in the kingdom of Victor Emanuel as from the disorders of every kind by which it is produced.

ROMAN VOLUNTBERS. - The decree for the new regiment has appeared, and it will be immediately carried into effect, though under rather different conditions from those first talked of. Instead of three hundred patricians, it will be raised to the effective strength of one thousand twelve hundred volunteers, taken from the nobles and from the middle classes. and will directly depend upon the War-office, and be liable to serve on patrol and garrison duty within the city in case of the regular troops being required elsewhere. It will be subjected to regular military drill, and exercised every week, and will be armed with the Remington or Snider rifle. Salviati, Al-

The Chambers have at length antherized the Tribunals of Naples to proceed against one of their body, the deputy Matina, for wilfal murder. He fired, as your readers will remember, into the Church of Sta Maria di Carita, intending to kill the Cardinal Archbishop, and only succeeded in shooting the Cavaliere Marziani, kneeling devoutly at the foot of the altar. . The king's visit has shown the intense hatred of Piedmontese domination which exists, and the noblesse are beginning to show a solid and courageous front of opposition.

SPREAD OF RATIONALISM. - A correspondent of the English Independent writes : ' Great commotion reigns in the Canton of Neuchatel, in Switzerland. Under pretence of effecting some improvement in the primary schools, a virulent attack has been made upon the morality of the Old Testament. The standard of Liberal Protestantism has been unfurled in the very heart of the cinton, and several of the most renowned and able expositors and defenders of this elastic kind of doctrine have announced their intention of visiting Nouchatel in order to support this hold attempt, and to rally as many friends as possible round their flag. For generations past the National Oburch of Neuchatel has adhered very steadfastly to the old orthodox doctrines. In Berne and Zurich rationalism has for some time past been making progress, and it has not been without adherents in Geneva and other parts of the country, but until quite recently it had obtained ne footing in Neuchstel.'

In Neufchatel, Switzerland, a new Protestant congregation has been created. The members paraded the streets bearing a flag with the following inscription :- A church without priests, religion without a catechism, worship without theology and the Almighty without men's systems.

AUSTRIA.

PESTH. Feb. 18. - However disparagingly public pinion in Europe may have looked at the results achieved by the late Paris Conference, every day brings fresh proofs that its activity has had a beneficial effect, not only in allaying the Turco-Greek conffict-the immediate object for which it was called together but likewise in producing a healtby reaction as regards the D nube countries.

An armed conflict between Turkey and Greece, if left to itself, might have been inconvenient, but It would not have been very dangerous, for the Turke, having a more tangible enemy before them than they had in Crete, could have used their superiority to some purpose and thus there would have been no danger of another long desultory struggle more exhausting than the severest war against an organized Goverment.

The real danger of the Turco-Greek conflict was just that it was not likely to remain isolated, or that those dissatisfied populations which are stirring all over the Turkish Empire would be drawn in by degrees. The idea of a solidarity of interests has been gaining ground very much among these populations, and although all that has been said about common plans of action and definite engagement is very much exaggerated, the concentration of most of the available military and naval resources of Turkey on one extremity of the empire would have been too tempting an occasion not to be taken advantage of even withcu: any previous understanding. And this occasion would have been used by them with so much the more assurance as a war between Tarkey and Greece would have been itself a sufficient proof that there was no more harmony among the Powers in Europe to prevent such a war. and that therefore those among them who might not be so very anxious about the maintenonce of the Turkish Empire had now free hands to act as they might think it their interest to do. - Times Cor. Two hundred and eleven persons, says 'L'Univers,'

WATER POWER FROM NIAGABA FALLS - A writer in the Scientific American proposes that the water power of Nisgara Falls shall be used in driving the machinery at Buffalo, now an important centre of manufactures. The mode which he has devised for applying the enormous force of Niagara to the purpose is novel and ingenious. By means of turbine wheels he would compress air into a vast receiver, from which he would lay a large main pipe to Buffalo, with branches to distribute the compress ed air to establishments desiring it, just as gas and water are now distributed: It is estimated that a

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT.

Having presed sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrap was just the thing needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home, and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse ; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing That night all bands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practised upon Ler, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. 25 cents a bottle .--Sold by all Druggists.

A PERPETUAL NECESSITY FOR PURGATION is created by the use of strong cathartics. They destroy the natural vigor of the intestines, and render them dependent on artificial means for the relief which nature should afford. On the other hand Bristoi's Vegetablo Segar-coated Pills permanently restore the normal action of the bowels, and do not require to be admin:stered more than a few times in order to produce this desirable effect. Their corrective influence as a stomachic and antibilious medicine is most remarkable. Acidity of the stomach, flatulence, oppression after eating, pain in the right side, and all symptoms of indigestion and biliousness are speedily relieved by their operation.

ingenuity is, perhaps, powhere more conspicus ously displayed than in devices by which they contrive to show their political opinions without uppleasant consequences to themselves. Ou Sunday last one of the 'conferences,' now so much the fashion in Paris, was held at the 'Theatre de l'Ambigu-Comique on ' the phenomena of light,' a subject one would have thought about as unpolitical as could well bave been chosen. Not a bit of it. The lecturer, in order to demonstrate certain theories, proceeded to enlarge some photographs of celebrated persons. Now, this being done by means of a strong magnesium light, all the theatre, except in the immediate neighborhood of the operator, was in almost total darkness. The audience could be heard, not seen. The portrait of the Emperor was received with a storm of bisses and cries of 'A la porte !' 'Vive la Republique !' 'Il s'en ira bientot !? &c. That of the Empress met with a worse reception, if possible, than her husband's. On the other hand, the portrait of Maximilian was received with cheers and cries of 'Qui l'a trah ?' Maximilian, as a bystander remarked, probably owed his popularity to the fact of his having been shot. The operator, like a pulent man, soon brought his experiments to an end, and when the gas was turned on the 'agents' were very busy looking about, but of course every one looked intensely loyal. Can any one fancy a similar scene at one of Professor Tyndall's lec tures ?- Pall Mall Gazette.

THE BASTILLE OF PARIS .- A discovery has ust been made on the Place de la Bastille. In digging the foundations for a block of houses some remnants of the foundations of the state prison of lugubrious memory have been brought to light. It appears that the general idea of the position of the Bestille was erroneous; it was supposed that the site was that of which the Column of July marks the centre, but it is now found that the building was at the entrance of the Rue Saint Antoine, as indeed some archaeologists have asserted. The form of the Bastille is well known-it was octagonal, with massive towers at each of the angles, surrounded by a deep fosse and approached by two drawbridges; the parapet on all sides was machicolated and bristled with cannon. The first stone of the Bastille was laid by Hugues Aubriot, Provost of the Merchants of Paris, in the year 1370. 'The names of the gagement was of short duration, but was very eight towers were :- The Corner and Well towers, to which the remnants that have now been discovered belonged; the Bertaudiere and Liberty towers-the latter name must surely appeared at Ratamea, the mountains near Alhave represented liberties taken, not accorded ; meira. KINGDOM OF NAPLES. - The visit of Victor Emanuel to the southern provinces ended just as might be ex. pected. His Majesty's life was attempted by some agents of the Mazzinian societies, by means of an Orsini bomb thrown at him on the staircase of the Palace, and he gave orders for his departure early next day, ending his suite by way of Rome, and taking the Toggia line with his aide-de-comp General Della Rocca only. As 1 mentioned to you before, the reception was a 'fasco solen-nissimo,' and the arrest of thirty loyalist gentlemen and priests on the Kings arrival made a most deplorable impression on the public mind.

The Duke of Maddaloni, one of the most able partisans of Frincis the II, was seized and beaten nearly to death by a band of desperadoes in the pay of the Syndic. Signor Rudini and several other noblemen were attacked in the streets by the same ruffians on leaving the ball given by the Duchess of Bivona, and which had nearly emptied Princess Margaret's salon; only sixty ladies being found to accept, and four bundred gentlemen, principally officers of the garrison and employes of the municipality: The Duke of Eivora was threatened with exile, but be frankly told Victor Emanuel's envoy that if he were banished it should be by force. and the gendarmes would have to carry him handcuffed to the frontier, as he should not submit to an illegal order ; and as he is a cousin of the Empress of France, and as the Muratist party are oneply protected by the French Cabinet, and are very active just now, it was thought wiser to let matters rest as they were. The King's addication is much spoken or, and is the more credited as he has entirely filed the vacancies in his honsehold with Piedmontese and will probably, in such a case, retire to Turin with his morganatic wife, the Countess Miraflores.

A letter from Naples to the 'Correspondance de Roms' informs us that Victor Emanuel has left behind him some unpleasant memorials of his visit. As the Neupolitan aristocracy would have nothing lusia still continue. At Jerese de la Frontera to do with bim, and even the Princess Marguerite was saluted by robody in the streets, he ordered that the Phil harmonic and Boutbon clubs should be closed. They 'talk' of liberty in Italy, but we understand it better in England. A council, of which General Pettinengo was president, decided that 'the officers' must avenge the outraged royal family. A certain Basilio, a lieutenant famed as a duellist, was their elected champion The bully addressed an insolent, letter to Count Henry Statello, a faithful fol lower of Francis II. The young nobleman had the weakness to accept the challeoge of the ruffian, which we regret sincerely, and nearly cut his head

Disorders of a scrofthous type, and af-fections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofthous matter, have been radically curred in such numerous in-stances, in every softlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most crases a specific and absolute remedy. Scrofthous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unscen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeching or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuber-cles may be suddenly deposited in tho lungs or make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable. It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no erup-tions or humors appear, there must be no scrothlous taint. & These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body he so re-duced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of fife. It is a common error, also, that scrothla is strictly hereali-tary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure bhood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, licentious habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices gen-erally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the most constant and judicions care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an appar-ently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effec-tual remedy.

In every instance in which they have been employed they have never failed to produce the most pleasing results, and many parents have, unsolicited, testified to their valuable properties. They can be administered with perfect safety to children of most tender years.

in St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, In St. Authong's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, for Tetter, Sait Rheam, Scald Head, Ring-avarm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other eruptivo or visible forms of the diseases caused primarily by the scrofulous intection, the Sarsaparilla is so er-ficient as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the miscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, re-moves the cause of the disorder and produces aston-ishing cures.

Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, re-moves the cause of the disorder and produces aston-ishing cures. It is an orthogonal produces aston-ishing cures. It is aided by the er-tracts combined with it, of still greater power. So potent is this union of healing virtues, Syphilits or Fenereal and Mercurial Disenses are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate malatics by any medicine. Leucorrheat or Whites, Uteriae Uterations, and Female Disenses in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and puri-fying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpicity, inflammation, alcess, etc., caused by raching poisons in the blood, have their remedy also is not son set the blood. So we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla. This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restora-tive power is soon feit by those who are Languid, Lisitess, Despondent, Steeplees, and filled with Nerrons Apprehensions or Frans, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symp-tomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youth-ful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed huoyant with that prolife life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountins of life were advans sturide, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.
