PREMIER WHITNEY A DICTATOR BLOCKING NEEDED TAX REFORM DEMANDED BY HIS OWN PARTY

Opposition Leader Rowell in Vigorous Speech Attacks What He Terms "Autocratic Assumption" of Premier—Drove Thirty-Four Miles to Address Large Meeting—Appeals For Rule by People.

(By a Staff Reporter.) BRIGHT, Ont., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—"Why are we forced to obey the autocratic assumption of a dictator?" asked N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Liberal opposition in Ontario, at a meeting here, which is the north wester town of his own constituency. In a terse speech he assailed Sir James Whitney for what the speaker termed his reactionary methods on the question of assessment reform, and declared the writing was on the wall for all opponents of needed tax reform. Mr. Rowell drove thirty-four miles in almost zero weather to keep a deferred engagement with his electors who live in part of the riding. The first seventeen miles were covered in a blinding snowstorm, when the journey had to be postponed at the eighth mile for half an hour, and refuge was sought the residence of a hospitable farmer. A large crowd attended the meeting, and by the interest shown in the question demonstrated that it is receiving attention. He deplored what he characterized as the tendency of the present administration to belittle self-government and to hold back reforms for no particular reason. "Why cannot we have this legislation in this province?" he asked. "Why cannot we have it?" he reiterated, amid applause. "Cannot we manage our own affairs? Are not we supposed to legislate for ourselves? The reasons are that we have a dictator who is determined to force his own whims and fancies upon us but has no ear for public needs. How long are the people going to stand by? We have never been subjected to such systems since the days of the family compact."

Local Option in Taxation. He urged another demand for local option in taxation, saying that the government had no right to say absolutely how the money should be raised when it had nothing to do with the spending of it. "Good roads are of no more value to the progressive farmer than to the man who pays no attention to the improvement of his property," he said, "but the man who is enterprising enough to derive all the profit procurable out of his possessions is taxed on a higher basis for their upkeep than the farmer who is indifferent. "Is this state of affairs fair?" he questioned. "Why should these discouragements exist when there is no necessity for them? They could be removed."

THOUSANDS HEAR MESSAGE OF SALVATION

Miss Evangeline Booth's Visit to Toronto Marks an Epoch in the History of the Salvation Army in Toronto—Massey Hall Crowded at Meetings.

Miss Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, last night held the attention for an hour and a half of more than four thousand people in Massey Hall, and delivered a message of salvation that was possibly the most powerful and passionate ever heard in Toronto. In the course of her address Miss Booth used as many modulations of her voice as any. At the end of her message 30 persons acknowledged that they had softened to her touch, and as the big gathering left Massey Hall these 30, in answer to her call, worked their way to the front of the building and there, beneath the platform and the massed bands of the Toronto division, they knelt upon chairs and sobbed for comfort. Only the most skeptical, cynical and depraved could have attended the evening meeting and have remained unmoved. Sometimes kneeling with head and hands uplifted, and sometimes in a sitting posture, with head bowed, the noted Salvationist told of the unlimited possibilities of the power which raised John B. Gough from the gutter and had turned John Bunyan from the most blasphemous living creature to the author of the "Pilgrim's Progress"—the power which could save the vilest sinner "on the trap-door of hell." "That's the teaching of our Salvation Army in a nutshell," cried the speaker, with a characteristic slap of her hands.

"Competence Engaged" was the subject Miss Booth chose for her evening meeting, and in connection with this subject she read from the Bible the following verses: "Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save, neither is His ear heavy that it cannot hear." The subject was the best she could have chosen. It provided her with ample opportunity to speak with her customary effectiveness. Commissioner David M. Rees of the Canadian Army acted as chairman, and Col. Pugmire led the singing.

The evening meeting was the second Commander Booth had addressed in the city, and the fact that she was not exhausted at the end is proof that she is still in the prime of life. Continued on Page 7, Column 4.

Navy Discussion Shelved

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—(Special.)—The cabinet met practically all day Saturday, but Premier Borden had no announcement to make at its close. There will be no naval talk this week, and there is practically no change in the political situation, at least upon the surface. Tuesday is mentioned as the day when the opposition will hold a caucus to discuss the party's future attitude towards the naval bill, but this by no means is definite according to Liberals who are about the lobbies tonight. Premier Borden has a slight influenza, and it is likely he will be kept out of the house for a few days.

JUAREZ FEARS REBEL ATTACK

Insurrectos Have Large Forces Which Threaten Slimly Garrisoned City—Railroad Lines Demoralized.

EL PASO, TEX., Jan. 19.—(Can. Press.)—After burning many bridges on both railroads between Juarez and Chihuahua City, rebels have permitted the repairing of the telegraph lines. This enables them to use the wires for their own purposes, and at the same time hear all that is transmitted by the federals. No attempt has been made to repair either road. Apprehension again is felt at Juarez, protected by less than 300 federal troops and practically no artillery. By cutting the Mexican Central Railway, the rebels left the two military tracks far to the south as well as one hundred troops of the Juarez garrison acting as escort for a passenger train. The missing passenger train of last Wednesday arrived safely today at Chihuahua City.

The rebel general, Ines Salazar is on the Mexican Central line midway between Chihuahua and Juarez, says a rebel courier, who arrived here today. It was said that Salazar has more than 1000 men, while other reports are operating along the Mexican Northwestern Railway to take west.

ADRIANOPLE NOT TO BE YIELDED

Porte Willing to Make Other Concessions in Return For Right to Retain City.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 18.—(Can. Press.)—The Turkish foreign minister, Noradunghian Effendi, tonight submitted to the council of ministers a draft of the reply to the note of the powers. It is understood that it insists upon the retention of Adrianople for the following reasons: First, because the Bulgarian inhabitants are in the minority in Adrianople, not only in comparison with the Moslems, but as compared with other Christians. Second, because of the splendid defence of the garrison. Third, the loss of Adrianople, containing the tombs of the Caliphs, would ruin the prestige of Islam. Fourth, the loss of Adrianople, which is the gate of Constantinople, would endanger the existence of the Empire.

Fresh Sacrifices. "The Porte therefore prays," continues the reply, "that the powers take consideration of the vital necessities of the Empire and make with a view to peace. Turkey sincerely desires to find a common ground of understanding and will even consent to fresh sacrifices." Regarding the Aegean Islands, the reply says that Turkey refuses to abandon the islands near her coasts, but is ready to continue pourparlers respecting the distant islands. Noradunghian Effendi has instructed the Ottoman ambassadors abroad again to ensure the powers with regard to Adrianople. The superior council of war has handed the council of minister a report on the military situation.

TURKEY IS LIKELY TO YIELD TO DEMANDS

Calling of National Assembly Tomorrow Will Relieve Turkish Cabinet of Serious Responsibility—Should Answer Be Unsatisfactory Powers Will Be Consulted.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—(Can. Press.)—The Porte's decision to call a national assembly on Tuesday to take under advisement the Balkan situation probably heralds further concessions on the part of Turkey—concessions which could not be yielded by the cabinet without risking its fall. In any case, the Balkan delegates in London do not believe that the Porte's reply to the joint note of the powers will be such a flat refusal as foreshadowed from Constantinople. Yesterday's despatches reported that the Turkish Government had reached a decision not to cede Adrianople or the Aegean Islands, but was willing to enter into negotiations respecting those islands some distance removed from the Dardanelles. If Turkey's answer is unsatisfactory, the allies, in deference to Europe, will ask the powers whether they have means to compel Turkey to comply with their wishes. If not, the allies will carry out the plan already announced, leading to the resumption of the war.

Will Withdraw Concessions. In such event, the allies will regard all concessions heretofore made for the sake of peace, either to Turkey or the powers, as void. Thus they will not recognize the undertaking consenting to an autonomous Albania, or the promise of Servia and Montenegro to retire from the Adriatic. Questioned as to the possibility in this case of Austria employing force, the head of the delegations said today: "We shall see whether the triple entente, and especially Russia, will permit such action on the part of Austria. If we are forced to fight another war, the cost of which is nearly $1,000,000 daily, will not be a small matter. Two or three people each day would ask him to make a fire for them." In one case a man told Stein that he wanted to have a fire, but that he could not have it until the following week, because he wanted to move out of his new place. Accordingly the plan was moved out and Stein went ahead.

MORE CHURCHES FOR ITALIANS

Archbishop McNeil Says Two Will Be Built Before the Close of This Year.

Two more Roman Catholic Churches for the Italian population of Toronto are to be built this year, according to the announcement made at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel by His Grace Archbishop McNeil last evening. His Grace paid his first visit to the church, and was accompanied by Rev. Dr. Kidd, Dean Hand and Rev. Father Longo, pastor of the church, received the archbishop, who addressed the congregation in English and Italian. He complimented the Italians on their industry, and announced that two more churches to accommodate the Italians in Toronto would be built before the close of the year. At the conclusion of the service the president and delegates from the Italian religious and patriotic societies in Toronto were received by the archbishop.

ALEXANDER MACKENZIE WROTE REMARKABLE LETTER AGAINST COMMERCIAL UNION WITH U. S.

Hon. James Young Makes Public a Document in Which the Pioneer Reform Dominion Premier Severely Arraigned Projected Political Entanglement With Neighboring Republic.

In 1802 the Hon. James Young, late member of the Dominion and provincial parliaments, provincial treasurer of this province, published an interesting and valuable volume of recollections, embracing the story of Canadian Confederation under the title, "Public Men and Public Life in Canada." The book ran out of print several years ago, and in response to continued solicitations has now been re-issued. Mr. Young has added a second volume, giving a succinct account of the stirring events which followed the making of the Dominion. The volumes, he explains, treat of entirely distinct subjects, the first narrating his connection with public men and public life as a journalist, the second giving his connection as a member of the first parliament with all the leading men of confederation during the first twenty years of its existence. As a more complete review of this important contribution to the historical literature of Canada will appear in an early issue of the Sunday World, we propose only to indicate its general character and one or two of its more salient features. Mr. Young is nothing if not impartial, contrasting profitably in this with the recently published "Reminiscences" of the late Sir Richard Cartwright. That stout old chief, with vindictive his own course of action at the not-withstanding of his political career, and ruthlessly attacked not only his parliamentary friends but such of his willow friends as managed to incur his displeasure. Mr. Young, however, is eminently fair and appreciative of the better qualities and striking personal characteristics of the eminent statesmen on both sides of the house of commons. His pages are enlivened by many pleasant anecdotes and his descriptions of parliamentary struggles and estimates of the effect of particular speeches of special moment are always picturesque and judicious. Mr. Young has done Canadian good service in re-issuing his previous volumes and continuing his recollections down to the beginning of the Laurier administration. In his concluding chapters he briefly records the marvelous growth of the Dominion, notes its future political outlook and its place among the English-speaking nations.

WILL ASCERTAIN CAUSE OF DELAY

Youth's Life Might Have Been Saved Had Ambulance Been Summoned Earlier.

Walter Beldmere, aged about 19, was found in a room at 85 Wilton avenue yesterday in an unconscious condition. The gas jet in the room was turned on full. The police ambulance took the young man to St. Michael's Hospital, but he died upon reaching there. The people in charge of the house state that Beldmere came there on Saturday night and rented a room. They did not see him again until he was found. Some of those connected with the case say that the young fellow was discovered about 11 o'clock in the morning, others hold that it was 2 in the afternoon. At any rate the authorities believe they could have saved the life of Beldmere even if the ambulance had been called at 3 o'clock instead of 4. An inquest will likely be held to find out who was responsible for the delay in communicating with the police.

Colder Weather and Curlers Will Play Today

Note and Comment

The mild weather has been with us it has been a good thing for some of the curlers, for two more seasons will reduce the single rinks to an even sixteen.

The Saskatoon Curling Club's annual bonspiel starts on Jan. 23 and continues until Jan. 29. There will be 11 sheets of ice under one roof which claim is the largest curling rink in the world.

Quebec's margin of two goals was about what the champions deserved. The game was anything but square.

Whether or not there is any foundation for the stories that the N.H.A. games in general and the last one between Toronto and Tecumseh in particular, are not on the level, had no effect on the faith of the followers, who cheered Howard and George and Art and Billy like true heroes.

As a matter of fact there is no foundation for the belief that pro hockey at the Arena is anything but square.

Canadians, who lead the league, turned the tables at Ottawa. Just as Quebec did here. The Frenchmen, who have beaten twice this winter, the Tecumsehs having the other victory to their credit.

Toronto could not keep up their winning gall on the Wednesday ice and are forced to play themselves at the bottom of the table.

Likely the six-man style of game appeals also to the fans, as well as the honesty displayed by the pro teams for the N.H.A. drawing twice as big crowds as the amateurs, who are playing at half the price.

They have a player in the B.C. League who never talks back to the referee and he is none the less effective, because he never speaks. Silent Dick, as he is called, is the star of the Victoria team, who has featured in one of his scores the winning goal in an over-time play against New Westminster.

Ed. Barrow says that he was misquoted when he was asked to take the salary limit agreement. He merely wants to repeat the individual club clause, which several clubs found stumbling block when they came to send out contracts.

Spike Kelly of Chicago has formally claimed the wandering referee's championship yesterday from Memphis with his manager, Fred Simmons, and on the strength of his victory last week over Ray Brown of Indianapolis to claim for recognition. Kelly won every one of the eight rounds with Brown and at no time during the entire affair did Referee Willis Haack have to worry about the slightest glimpse of the referee's claim to the title as good as anybody's now and he is prepared at any time to meet Wilkes at Ferns, or Gibson of any of the others for the title.

Toronto Hockey Teams Not Among Saturday Night Winners

CHAMPIONS ON NICHOLSON'S INDIANS

Tecumsehs Ahead Right Up to Middle of Final Period—Big Crowd Saturday Night in the Arena Gardens.

Quebec should be well satisfied with the amount of revenue they succeeded in raising. The champions were apparently peeved over their defeat in their own back yard two weeks ago.

The game was great from the viewpoint, there being very few vacant seats in the big amphitheatre, with the standing room sign out in the bleacher section. The people and the fine game and were there to enjoy it.

WANDERERS FROM PROS PLAY AT MONTREAL IN WATER AND SLUSH—Notes of the Game.

Small Crowd See Pros Play at Montreal in Water and Slush—Notes of the Game.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—Wanderers 3, Toronto 1. Over going that was covered with water and slush, the Wanderers had little difficulty in proving themselves a better hand of hockey players than those brought from Toronto by Manager Ridd.

The locals assumed the lead early in the game and held their opponents well in check. At times the Toronto would display bursts of speed in end-to-end rushes, only to terminate in unsuccessful efforts to land one past the Wanderers.

The visiting line were always kept well outside the local defence, which prevented their chances of getting clear shots. The game was as poor an exhibition of hockey as has been here in some time, due largely to the condition of the ice.

It was impossible to make the westerly wind within thirteen seconds of the six-man game. Combination play was out of the question almost at all times, and the locals excelled at individual rushing.

The ice conditions gave the game an appearance of being rougher than it was really, although severe fines were imposed, the severest penalty going to Russell, who cross-checked Wilson over the head, and was given a match foul and ruled off for the remainder of the game, the mix-up taking place in the final period. The changes were frequent during the game, so as to keep the men well freshened up.

Foyson and Wilson were changed at periods of ten minutes each, while Currie, who was recently signed by President H. H. Gorin, was given a chance, being used on two occasions as relief man. He did not show any great ability, although he was asked to play over.

The attendance was small, there being less than 200 in the Arena. After their recent victory over the Tecumsehs, many fans for the Wanderers to put up a stiffer argument, but they seemed to go to pieces once the Wanderers took the lead.

By just until within thirteen seconds of the expiration of time in the final period that the Toronto scored, thus saving themselves from a shut-out.

Q.O.R. AND GRENS. WIN OFFICERS' GAMES

Indoor League Team Display
First-Class Baseball—
The Official
Scores.

There was another fine crowd at the armories Saturday night to witness the two games of the Officers' League. This is a well-balanced league this season, and the teams are putting up a very fast and glib article of ball, with some very clever players on the different teams. The new men on some of the teams seem to be a move in the right direction, for with the new material these teams have shown a wonderful improvement even last season, and bid fair to be the teams to beat for the pennant.

Queen's Own surprised their friends by the excellent showing they made against the strong Cavalry team, giving them a sound beating, and dispatching all kinds of possibilities for the Cavalry. They showed strongly in all departments, each man holding up his end. For the Cavalry, it must be said they were a little off-color in their fielding, with one exception, Barton at left short, who played a magnificent game, his work being one of the features of the match.

The second game was more even, being nip-and-tuck all the way, with the greys a trifle the steadier in the pinches and hitting more opportunely. Dunlop and Morrison are a very strong battery and it takes a good team to beat them. Greys at first base for the Greys, as if he needed a little practice, he looks as if he needed a little practice, he looks as if he needed a little practice.

BUSY WEEK IN ATHLETICS

AT WEST END Y. M. C. A.

Hamilton Tigers Coming Saturday For Senior Basketball Game.

December saw the close of one of the best months in the history of the physical department of the West End Young Men's Christian Association. The monthly physical report shows that over 6000 men and boys used the privileges, as compared with 3000 a year ago. When one considers that this means an average of over $25 each working day, there is proof that the directors of the department are kept busy.

The coming week will be a busy one in every section of which the following is a summary:

Athletics—The senior events for Wednesday night will be running high jump and 220 yards walk. As these events will be handicaps, all wishing to enter should hand their names to M. Wilson as early as possible.

Wrestling—Great interest is being taken in this club, the members of which will meet on Monday and Wednesday nights.

Swimming—Geo. H. Coran, who has charge of the teaching of swimming every Friday night, was kept busy last Friday. Over 50 senior members had instruction. There is still room for more who would like to learn to swim.

Basketball—The senior and business men teams are going strong, greater interest than ever being taken by the members.

All of the members are looking forward to the coming game Saturday night when the Hamilton Tigers will play their first O.B.A. game on the West End floor. From all accounts this will be a fast game.

MR. FORMAN AND TAX REFORM.

Commissioner Forman has placed himself in the hands of his enemies to the extent of writing a book. We are not one of Mr. Forman's enemies, but his very good friend, and we are sorry that in his statement he leaves himself so open to criticism as he does.

The chief interest of the statement is the absolute clearness with which it shows Mr. Forman to be in opposition to all the new and equitable methods of taxation. He commits himself to the rule of thumb method in one notable paragraph, which practically sums up the whole difference between the new and the old ideas of assessment.

"Ability to pay, governed by the earning power of the property, seems to be a sounder basis for revenue purposes than the carrying out of a theory or principle."

One might ask if the various assignment houses scattered throughout the town are assessed on this principle of ability to pay. One does not need an answer. The question is sufficient and punctures Mr. Forman's pragmatic position, if it is pragmatic. For we believe it will be exceedingly difficult for Mr. Forman to show that his method of taxation achieves the best results. If it did, there would not be the present clamor for reform.

His new proposal of exemption is one that can only be regarded as a palliative, and the principle of exemptions is wrong and had in every way, there would be no need for its application, if the land tax reform were adopted.

His objection to the reduction of the assessment on buildings, by 25 per cent, is based on the belief that the tax would have to be increased from 18 1/2 to 20 7/8 mills on the dollar. If the plan were carried out properly, the 25 per cent removed from the buildings would be transferred to the land and the tax rate instead of going up would yield as large, if not a larger revenue.

A striking feature of the report is the absence of any allusion to the fact that assessors do not assess property up to the limit of value, but use their own arbitrary judgment to assess at 50, 60 or 75 per cent of the value, except in the case of the smaller class of houses, where a recent report shows that they were taxed from 90 to 185 per cent of their value. No wonder then that Mr. Forman proposes an exemption of $1000 in these cases. But is the poor man willing to be exempted $1000 in order to have the rich man exempted $50,000 to $200,000? That is the actual milk in the cocoanut and decent rich men as well as oppressed poor men equally object to it.

Mr. Forman admits the whole case for tax reform in a somewhat ingenious way. He comments on the difficulty of fixing values when transactions are made at prices above the earning value of the land sold. This is an admission of the necessarily arbitrary character of the present system of taxation. Under that arbitrary system Sir James Whitney, like many another citizen, is heavily over-taxed on his St. George street residence. And then Mr. Forman declares that if the 25 per cent reduction were applied to buildings and business and income assessment, a rate of 20 7/8 mills would have to be struck. But what if Mr. Forman abolished his arbitrary method of assessing property at a reduction of 25 to 50 per cent, and put it all at actual value as established by sales under the scientific systems adopted in many cities? The tax rate would not have to be raised, but a thoroughly just and equitable assessment would give an adequate revenue levied impartially. In many cases a lower rate has been found to be sufficient.

And again Mr. Forman has committed himself, apparently without intending it, to the tax reform principle, when he declares that the basis for taxation ought to be the earning power of property. This seems to be the idea behind the mysterious clause 26, which asserts that the value of the building shall be the increased value of the land occasioned by its erection. The land tax reform is much simpler and goes to the root of the matter at once, by recognizing that it is the land that possesses the earning power, whether directly or indirectly. If Mr. Forman will put all the taxation on the land value, which value certainly arises out of its earning power, he will have satisfied his own proposal, and adopted the land tax reform at the same time. But Mr. Forman seems to be unable to see this—yet, Mr. Forman objects that buildings erected for the purpose of business or for investment, should not be exempt, but surely he can see that if the land on which they stand is assessed accordingly to its earning power, that must include the revenue derived from the building that stands upon it. And the land tax assessment has the advantage of covering the cases of vacant lots as well as those with profitable buildings on them. The land next to a sky scraper building on King or Yonge street, is just as valuable as the land on which the sky scraper stands. Sir James Whitney objected that a poor man would be prevented building on his lot next to a mansion or skyscraper, but poor men never wish to build in such circumstances. They sell and become rich. And the land tax gets their share of the municipal revenue. Mr. Forman's method unfortunately does not.

Another point upon which Mr. Forman seems to be in some confusion, is raised by his assertion that the tax rate would be increased from 18 to 20 7/8 mills. That would depend entirely whether all real estate was valued at its full value or not. If valued at actual market worth, we believe the assessment of the city would show an astonishing increase, probably sufficient to permit the tax rate to remain stationary. Mr. Forman practically admits as much when he declares that properties are changing hands at prices much above the present assessments, and that when properties are required for civic purposes, the compensation asked is greatly in excess of the assessment.

We desire to acquit Mr. Forman of any desire but that of making a fair assessment, and we admit the difficulty of his position in a time of transition, when even Premier Whitney and those behind him cannot see what is going on. Mr. Forman has had two members of his staff for three years past, continuously revising land values, with the result of the great increases in the city assessment which have been made. But as Mr. Forman says, they only follow to a certain extent the increasing prices in the city. We are glad, however, that Mr. Forman has brought the matter into discussion, and feel sure that the recent vote will encourage a more progressive attitude in other quarters than the city hall.

U. S. STANDING TIMBER.

In a letter to the president, covering part one of his report on the lumber industry, Mr. Luther Conant, U.S. Commissioner of Corporations, calls attention to the marked degree of concentration in the ownership of standing timber in that country. Since, he says, the amount of standing timber is steadily diminishing and its value rapidly increasing, this concentration involves problems of far-reaching public importance. These conditions are largely due to the land policy of the federal government, especially the great federal land grants to railroads and the faulty operation of some of the federal land laws. The practical result has been a high degree of concentration of ownership instead of a wide distribution in the hands of numerous independent owners, as was apparently contemplated.

Mr. Conant commends the change of policy made in the nineties and the principle of retaining the fee title to the land and selling the timber only from time to time, with a view to the wisest use of the supply for its proper conservation. He notes that attempts are still being made to secure the transfer of timber lands to private owners under the same plea of settlement of the timber land, which in the past often proved wholly specious and insincere. The United States Government still owns, exclusive of the Alaska forests, about one-fifth of the country's total supply of merchantable standing timber and the report clearly points to the desirability of maintaining the integrity of the national forests and of extending the principle of retaining the fee of the land at least until the timber is removed.

THE ROOT OF CIVIC INEFFICIENCY.

One wonders what object The Telegram can have in misrepresenting its neighbors. Scrupulous fairness gives a newspaper some reputation and standing, but repeated falsification degrades it to a level where it may taint the opinions of those who read no other paper, and on that level a reputation is of little value and cannot command the respect of those who keep in touch with all sides of public affairs. One is driven to the conclusion that The Telegram does not see its way to support the reputation it seems to desire without misrepresenting its contemporaries. It has persistently represented The World as a defender of the works department, although nothing has been more prominent in The World's civic program for years than a demand for the reorganization of the whole city government, which was and still is, often in principle and system, in spite of the improvement made by placing Mr. Harris at the head of the works department. Mr. Harris' usefulness is greatly curtailed and he will be robbed of much of his efficiency by the practice of aldermanic interference of which The Telegram is and always has been the chief exponent. The Telegram, in fact, is not satisfied if it is not conducting the affairs of the city thru its city hall agents. The present situation in the waterworks department is only the culmination of a long series of abortive efforts on the part of the engineers who knew what should be done and recommended it, as the civic records will show, but who were unable to overcome the executive inertia of the Spences, the Gearys, the Fosters, whose hands still bog the progress of civic improvement. The Telegram has been a potent force in the city hall ever since the Fleming majority, and the influence and spirit of those days still continue in the city hall. We are willing to accept the Telegram's own self-delusion that it is a beneficent force in municipal politics. But there is not a business man of any eminence in the city, there is not a labor man who has studied municipal politics, there is not a civic reformer in Toronto who could not tell The Telegram the truth about its influence. In the face of all this for The Telegram to keep tapping away with its little hammer trying to make people believe that The World is responsible for a system against which it has never ceased to protest, is merely absurd.

And when we ask for argument in place of bare assertion The Telegram retreats to the foot of Cherry street and makes faces.

THE JANUARY THAW

There is a custom of our land ordained by ancient law, which not a man can understand—the January thaw. It comes in winter's very heart, and its best is to try and fool us with deceptive art that this is mid-July. Within the Frost King's icy grip we've shivered weeks and months, while round the eaves would snort and rip real Arctic-made typhoons; the world for many days has been a dreary, snow-clad waste, we viewed the same old wintry scene whichever way we faced. The land we dwell in longed to be beneath its robe of snow, which covered hill and dale and plain about ten feet or so; and while on every side we saw the snow and ice and what a sight we met! Last night the ancient law said "The frost will hold." In these our rushing modern days old winter must not fool and waste his time in this way—"he's bound to break the rule." Emboldened by such words as these, one day we his obedient slaves, and at our ease, for still the wind is north; our rubbers and our overcoats we glance at in the hall, umbrellas we do seldom use, all uncomplaining and upon these guardians of our health, these shelters from the storm, as once more the wind whistles and whines our manly form. But as we hurry to our work the wind veers right around, and springing like a fleeing Turk, it whistles and whines the clear sky of an hour before with rainclouds now is dark; the flood comes with such a roar, it sweeps the Ark; the snow before it disappears and water floods the street. We hasten home to still our fears, and what a sight we meet! Last night our pesky water-taps to spite us went and froze; but now thru all the chinks and gaps into our basement flows a deluge from the sky, and the landscape far and wide the winter billows roar.

Winter in Algonquin Park.

With Switzerland as the winter playground of Europe, Ontario is taking its rightful place as the winter playground of America. Nowhere are the most popular districts where opportunity is found for healthful sport and where an invigorating atmosphere may be enjoyed, is the Algonquin National Park of Ontario, 200 miles north of the City of Toronto, and 178 miles west of the City of Ottawa. "Highland Inn," with accommodation for about 100 guests, is being operated as a winter hotel, and its popularity has been demonstrated by the fact that they have been running to capacity up to the present time. The rates at the hotel are $14.00 to $16.00 per week. A handsome booklet telling you all about it, will be sent on application to the Manager, "Highland Inn," Algonquin Park Station, Ontario.

The sports indulged in are tobogganing, skating, skiing, snowshoeing, fishing thru the ice, etc. The park is 2000 feet above the sea level.

Strong Charges Made at Miners' Convention Concerning Situation in West Virginia Coal Fields.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—(Can. Press).—John P. White of Oskaloosa, Iowa, was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America over A. Bradley of Mount Olive, Ill., by 85,668 1-2 votes. The committee, which has been canvassing the vote since made the announcement.

Frank J. Hayes of Illinois had no opposition for re-election as vice-president. Edwin Perry of Iowa was re-elected secretary-treasurer over his two opponents, former-State Senator William Green of Ohio and Joseph Richards, also of Ohio. Perry received 75,534 votes, Green 69,871 and Richards 20,851.

In his annual report of the activities of the United Mine Workers during the last year President White criticizes the West Virginia authorities for their action during the strike in progress there. The report, which will be presented at the annual convention, says:

"The United Mine Workers' organization is engaged in one of the bitterest struggles in the Cable Creek regions of West Virginia that have ever characterized our history. For brutal and inhuman treatment no industrial conditions, was appointed and empowered to manage the details. At a mass meeting of non-union garment workers, 200 recruits pledged themselves to join the organized workers in case of a strike. Union organizers are said to be working in many big garment factories, urging non-union employees to join the organization.

A DISTINCTIVE BLOUSE.

For a foundation there is a plain, front-closing waist of white chiffon, with lace frills on front and sleeves. Around the bust is tied a double-faced grosgrain ribbon with a pleated edge. One side of this ribbon is a bright mustard yellow; the other, a rich olive green. The lighter side is folded forward at each edge before fastening in place.

The outside waist of black chiffon closes at the throat and opens gradually to the waist line, showing the frill and ribbon bow. The little knot at the collar is of black velvet with pink embroidered flowers.

Parent-Training

After all, perhaps it is not so much child-training we should discuss in this column as parent-training. If the parents are trained, it follows that the children will be, but so many of us refuse to be parents first, and men and women second, that we must be if we aim to become successful child-trainers. The worst victims of our modern, complicated style of living are the children, and upon them the drifting away from sane and simple ideas falls the hardest. We love our children, but often we do not love the child while all-important as our study of what is best for the child, whether it satisfies our own notions and desires or not.

In this way the child should train us, should develop our characters, sweeten our natures, simplify our lives. And only after its simpler nature has been trained, should we attempt to train the child. That is the only kind of child-training that is worth while. It comes from the child to the parent, and is then applied to the child's needs with parental love and experience. If we knew our children better, we could learn more from them than they can from the writers and lecturers on child-training. In the universe.

And begin the study with the child's food, its dress, its hours of sleep. Character-training is simple if parents see to it that what goes into the body is wholesome; that what goes out of the body is simple and comfortably healthy; that the hours of sleep are sufficient to repair the waste of a long day; that the surroundings are true; that the children are not strangers to God's creatures and flowers and sunshine and fresh air; and so we keep our children and ourselves simple, remembering that the greatest man the world ever saw, was a child in humble surroundings, fed with plain food, clothed with plain clothes, and lived in a simple home.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY.

Consider how you spend your money, and avoid wasting it. Some danger threatens you, and even small surplus will be of great value to you.

Those born today will be generous and talented, but unreliable, and their training should emphasize the importance of keeping promises and not giving up a task without making serious efforts to accomplish it.

HICHENS' STORY AND SHAKSPERE

Attractions of First Order at Alexandra and Princess Theatres This Week.

"THE DRUMS OF OUDE"

Vaudeville's Best Attraction at Shea's—"Way Down East" at the Grand—Concert Seat Sales.

The erotic Bella Donna of Robert Hichens' well-known and popular novel will hold the stage tonight at the Princess Theatre in the charming and fascinating personage of Madame Nastova. The company which will be seen in the support of Madame Nastova is exceptionally clever and capable.

With a performance of "Hamlet," the first role in which he won distinction as a dramatic actor, Robert H. Mantell will open his annual engagement at the Alexandra Theatre tonight. The role of Ophelia will be introduced to Toronto playgoers by Mrs. E. C. Wright, who will be seen in the supporting cast. "Hamlet" will be presented on Wednesday evening. The Thursday matinee bill will be "The Merchant of Venice," and on Thursday night Mr. Mantell will plunge into the exceedingly heavy role of Hamlet. On Friday night Mr. Mantell will present "King Lear," and will close his engagement on Saturday night with "Richard III."

"Way Down East" at the Grand. The Grand Theatre is presenting "Way Down East," which will be seen again at the Grand this week. Its native pathos and homely humor, its famous snow storm, and the real live horses and cows of its farmyard scenes have made it one of the most popular appeals in stage offerings.

"The Drums of Oude" at Shea's Today. The new play "The Drums of Oude" is the most important dramatic production in vaudeville. It is a powerful play of English life in the days of the Indian Mutiny of 1857. In the cast are: E. J. Riddell, Harry Rose, John Thomson, William Phillips and H. H. McCollins. Among the special features are: "The Winning Widows," "The Gayety of the Hunt," and "The Millionaire." The "Winning Widows" will be offered by Max Spangol and his company. The play begins with the matinee today. The cast includes Miss Alva Potts, Sam Michaels, Harry Rogers, Mrs. Rose, Harry Lamont, Daisy Davenport, Clyde J. Kerr, the Three English Girls and Julia May.

MISS WILKS' HORSES RESCUED FROM BLAZE

Modern Barn of Famous Owner Near Galt Entirely Destroyed by Fire on Friday Night.

GALT, Jan. 18.—Fire, which started from some unknown cause, last night destroyed one of the immense modern barns on the estate of Miss Katherine L. Wilks, at Blair, near here. In the barn were 75 horses, including some of the most valuable of the famous Wilks' string, such as Great Mikado and Paronello Todd and other stallions. It was fortunate that the blaze was discovered before it had gained much headway, for it gave the men at the farm time to free all the horses and about 50 head of cattle. None of the animals was injured, but 180 tons of hay and 2000 bushels of oats were entirely destroyed.

WOMEN SAMARITANS

Work of the Samaritan Club in Helping the Needy and Suffering Consumptive.

It is hardly more than six months ago when a number of Toronto ladies, interested in the consumptive poor of the city, came together and organized themselves into a society that is very fittingly named the Samaritan Club. The presidency was assumed by Mrs. R. N. Burns, with Mrs. J. Herbert Denton, vice-president; Mrs. H. R. Riley, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. E. C. Wright and Miss E. E. Black, an executive committee. The club is affiliated with the National Samaritan Association, and obtains valuable assistance in its work from Miss Stewart, the visiting nurse of the association.

When it is put on record that in connection with this work and the dispensary of the association at 345 West King street, 1301 visits to sick ones have been made up to Jan. 18, one can perhaps form some idea of the splendid activities of the Samaritan Club. Much more is done than this. The needy ones are helped in a practical way. For example, 109 pounds of milk have been given to the needy, 38 dozen eggs, 238 cups of soup, 92 garments, groceries to families, rent paid to avoid distress, all this furnished consumptives.

The real telling work that is being done by the Samaritan Club and the visiting nurse may be illustrated in a case like the present reported upon by Miss Stewart. She says: "Mrs. — has been given the cleaning at the King street offices of the National Samaritan Association and the dispensary. For this work she is earning nearly twice as much as she could make by taking in washing, as she did formerly, and finds it most easier work. She says that two years ago at this season she and her two little children (one an infant of a few weeks) were literally on the street. Last year things were a little better, but at least had a roof over their heads, although it took more than $1000 to make it so. Now, through the Samaritan Club, the entire family are warmly clothed, and she has had time to make her own help. The work which the club has done in this case alone more than justifies its existence."

Helen Gould and Her Wedding Trousseau

Not to Exceed One Thousand Dollars—Description of the Wedding Dress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Altho she is one of the richest women in America, Helen Miller Gould will confine her wedding trousseau expenses to within $1,000. The latter figure was that set by Madeline Forde, new widow of Colonel John Jacob Astor, when she was married, and it was a shock to Fifth Avenue modistes. Many wealthy brides have spent ten or twenty times this.

When Miss Gould marries Finley J. Shepherd at her Tarrytown home next Wednesday she will be gowned in ivory white, with satin and rose point lace trimmings, with a court train and a rose point veil. Miss Gould's favorite colors are purple and gray, and most of her trousseau is made up of these colors.

TWELVE COPS TO ONE WOMAN

Hatpins Used With Deadly Effect by Strikers and Police Were Forced to Form Hollow Square.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—With hatpins and umbrellas several hundred women fought the police today in one of the fiercest riots since the beginning of the garment workers' strike. A lone policeman who tried to protect male strike-breakers was beaten black and blue.

The policeman arrested one woman, but had to summon 12 more bluecoats before he could get his prisoner to the station. The police accomplished this by forming a hollow square which was beset on all sides by the battling garment workers.

Five women were arrested in this riot and in another which started when the women assaulted a truck driver delivering mattresses for the use of strike-breakers.

Posted as Lost.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Morgan Line freight steamer El Dorado, ten days overdue at Galveston, Texas, after leaving Baltimore, Jan. 11, was seen on Jan. 17 by the Maritime Exchange today as officially lost. She carried a crew of 32 and no passengers.

Jas. L. Hughes, Chief Inspector of Toronto Public Schools, Gives Opinions on the Ontario School System.

By M. L. H.

In all Ontario there is, perhaps, no one who has had better opportunities to form opinions and reach conclusions on the subject of our schools than James L. Hughes, chief inspector of Toronto. His long experience and his everywhere recognized alertness in things educational have given him opinions and valuable suggestions in the interests of the children and older pupils of the community, and we have much pleasure in publishing his statements on the subject which have been received here. On the "entrance examination" Mr. Hughes has already spoken, and in some quarters what he has said on the large majority of Ontario. But then, again, when we consider that everything human is subject to change, that other educational methods once thought perfect have often been condemned and discarded, and better substitutes employed, it would, it seems, be well to weigh the "entrance" from the new viewpoint rather than to deny, without trial, the judgment of experience. In complying with The World's request, Mr. Hughes says:

I am asked to state in what way the educational system of Ontario may be improved.

I believe that the educational system of Ontario, as a whole, is keeping up with the general advance of educational ideals throughout the world. Ontario was the first province on the continent in the world to make the kindergarten an organic part of its school system. While at first we were a little slow in recognizing the great modern movement in favor of manual, industrial, technical and general training, the department of education has for some time been fully convinced of the great value of these studies, and the departments of educational work. Dr. Seath's report on these subjects is the best report yet issued, and the regulations of the department of education for Ontario are fully up to the best, and provide for a very complete system of day and evening schools for the thorough training of the young people to fit them for a successful life in all departments of productive work.

The greatest blot on the educational system of Ontario today is the entrance examination to high schools. It has been in existence for the last two generations of parents and teachers have been trained under it, and so have come to regard it as an essential element in educational work. It has degraded the ideals of parents, teachers and pupils in regard to education more than any other cause. It has prevented the general development of true educational ideals. In nearly every part of Ontario today the supreme test of the schools in the cities and towns is the number of pupils who pass the entrance examination. Teachers in making application for positions give as the highest proof of their fitness for appointment a statement that they have been successful in passing large numbers of pupils at the entrance examination, and they are wise in doing so, because school boards have had their ideals degraded to such an extent that they generally value teachers by the success at the "entrance." Pupils go thru school with the idea that to qualify them to pass the "entrance" is the reason why schools were established.

Elementary Schools.

The elementary schools of England for a long time suffered more than any other schools in the world from government examinations. Eleven years ago they were made free, and since that time they have made more progress than they had previously made since their first establishment. During the recent Christmas holidays the principals of the great English public schools at their convention in London passed a resolution against examinations.

Different Ideals.

There are two widely different ideals in regard to what education should really mean. One is based on knowledge of books, the other is based on true and well rounded development of the child. One aims to store the mind with knowledge, the other aims to develop the power, skill, and character of the child. The most blighting half truth of the past was the statement that "knowledge is power." Book knowledge was the aim of the old education. The bright students were those who could most successfully cram and remember facts, and pass written examinations. Thoughtful educators marveled in after years because the head boys of schools of the so-called dunces. They know now that the power tests were wrong, as well as the aims of education. Examinations cannot test power, skill and character.

As men and women get clearer conceptions of the true functions of the schools, they lose respect for and confidence in such examinations as the "entrance," and the next generation of Ontario will be getting free from the "entrance examination," so that parents, teachers and pupils may be able to realize more clearly what the true aims of education are.

Serious Objections.

While the objection to the entrance examination is the dwarfing of educational ideals, and the prevention of the best development of the children and young people of Ontario, there are other serious objections to it.

It leads to most of the excessive home work given to pupils. Home work interferes with the necessary play of the children, with their true development, and with the cultivation of a taste for reading good literature, as it leaves practically no time for such reading on the general health of the children, and is especially injurious to the nervous system.

"The unnecessary strain on a child's vitality by writing for days at the close of the year's school work during hot weather cannot be too strongly emphasized, and will not be tolerated much longer."

The department of education for Ontario has issued regulations which prohibit the admission of pupils to high schools without passing the entrance examinations, and, no doubt, this provision will prove to be a disadvantage by the people of Ontario. Until this examination has lost its grip on our province, we cannot claim to be leaders in educational work.

We are making progress towards a more reasonable course for children after they leave the kindergarten, so that they are not forced to study formal knowledge too early, but we need to continue to make progress along this line.

Larger Play Grounds.

We need to secure larger play grounds, to pay more definite attention to physical training, to guide the children in both school and home gardening, to develop habits of thrift by the introduction of the penny bank system, to get more and better pictures in the schools, and to make education more executive and transforming as a basis for a more productive moral development.

Doctors May Help Insurance Scheme

British Medical Association Releases Members From Pledge Not to Serve.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The members of the British Medical Association today decided by a majority of 115 against the scheme of state insurance proposed from the pledge they had given not to serve under the National Insurance Act, which provides for the penny balance and medical attendance to the working classes during sickness.

The opposition of the doctors to the scheme of state insurance was based upon the amount to be paid them for their services to the insured persons which they declare was too small. It is, however, suspected that politics have much to do with the doctors' resistance, especially in London.

The minority at today's meeting was composed entirely of London practitioners, and the campaign against the act continues in the metropolis.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

KEELE ST. SEWER HAS COLLAPSED

Gang of Men Worked All Day Yesterday to Build Another Cut-Off.

WATER WAS SHUT OFF

Residents Had to Get a Supply to Last While Repairs Were Being Made.

An alarming condition of affairs was discovered Saturday morning, when the residents on Keele street, just below Bloor, found that several thousand cubic feet of their street had disappeared during the night, and a huge yawning gulf, nearly 20 feet deep, was there instead.

A glance into this chasm told the story. The ends of the 16-foot sewer half-way up the side, still running sewerage into the hole, and several lengths of the detached pipe at the bottom showed the huge cave in to have resulted from a burst sewer.

watermain at the extreme east of the street was bared and showed signs of breaking away altogether. The residents in the vicinity were given 15 minutes to accumulate a water supply, and the main relieved of the heavy pressure by having the water shut off. The surface of the soil is irregular in shape, some 50 feet in length, 25 feet wide, and of an average depth of 15 feet.

The land in this district is sand, and in all broken ground, to that, there is considerable danger from such an occurrence to the residences. It is believed that the leak was at first a very small one, but the gradual washing away of the light sand quickly augmented it. The comparatively slight vehicular traffic on this street below Bloor is the only reason which can be given for the prevention of a serious accident and probable fatality.

Hurt in Accident.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday morning one of the large three-horse tractors of Priety Dairy, which had knocked down two civic street cleaners on Dundas street, near High Park avenue, was seriously injured. Fred Blake, aged 75 years, is lying seriously injured at his home, 414 Dundas street, west. He is 64 years of age, living at 18 Hugo street, was the driver of the tractor. He was struck by the tractor while driving through the street below Bloor, and was thrown into the air. He was later, however, allowed to go.

Annette Old Boys. All the old boys of Annette Street School are requested to attend the special meeting called for tonight in the school building, corner Clendenan avenue. The date of the annual banquet is to be fixed, at which the medals, cast from the old bell, will be presented to the members of the association. Discussion will also take place of the character of the medals. The principal, Mr. William Wilson, will deliver an address on the history of the school.

HARSH NOTICES BEING SENT OUT

Residents of North Toronto Complain of Officialdom Since Town Was Annexed.

The Ratopey Association of North Toronto, having received permission from the city council to hold fortnightly meetings in the old town hall, the first meeting under the new order of things was held Saturday evening, and was fairly well attended. Ald. Risk, Rowland and Burgess were present. At the outset, President Kleiberger read the executive committee's report, which was as follows:

A DUBIOUS ADVANTAGE

Question of Connecting Water Supply With City System Not Favorably Considered by Some.

"We regret to report that what many were afraid of, that is, officious officialdom is being resented by our residents. Many complaints are received of the manner in which the health bylaws are being enforced. Notices are being sent to residents to make changes accompanied by police court threats. Because our residents were under regulations created by a proper qualified medical health officer and health board, previous to our annexation, it is not their fault that they are lawbreakers and deserve the least lenient police court treatment at the expense of their peace of mind and comfort.

PROVERB CONTESTANTS SOON TO KNOW WINNERS

Examining, Checking and Filing the Many Thousands of Proverb Sets Soon to Be Completed.

The work of picking the winners in The Toronto World's great $500 Proverb Contest is nearly completed, but it must still be some days before the successful contestants can be made known.

Practically 10,000 sets of answers were sent in in this great contest, and, naturally, the work of examination is a slow and tedious task. Great care has been exercised by the examiners to prevent errors from creeping into the work, so that at the close those who are adjudged the winners will have won fairly.

Contestants need have no fear that their answers will be penalized or marked wrong where the correct answers are included. However, thousands of competitors have been put out of the running on account of submitting but one answer to a picture. These contestants seem to have failed to follow the contest closely, and consequently they should be fair now when they discover that they have missed the wording of some of the extremely easy problems.

Every contestant was duly informed from time to time through the news stories and special announcements, and through the published rules, which appeared nearly every other day, of the prizes to be won. It was also made in allowing contestants to incorporate the slightly different wordings of proverbs of the same meaning upon one and the same coupon, and contestants who have submitted their answers in this form, and where the correct answer is given, have been given full credit. Because contestants failed to study the rules closely, they were often advised to do so because they did not take advantage of submitting more than one answer; or because they failed to mark themselves of any of the liberal privileges extended, and contestants should blame no one but themselves.

Many sets of answers have also fallen on account of the trifling mistakes in spelling and punctuation. Many of these contestants should watch the World closely for announcement of the exact date upon which the winners will be published.

Thousands of letters commenting upon the Proverb Contest as one of the most interesting and entertaining features ever conducted were enclosed with the sets of answers.
