ALLIED PLAN IN U.S. PASSED BY BRITISH HOUSE

John Dillon Answered Critics of Rate of Interest Paid. THANKFUL FOR HELP Mr. McKenna Defends Terms of Transaction as Fair and Reasonable.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The bill authorizing the loan which has been negotiated in the United States passed all stages in the House of Commons today.

In the course of the debate on the bill today, there was some criticism of the rate of interest. John Dillon, supporting the terms, declared that the success of the loan was an index of popular sentiment in America toward the allies.

"It was a business transaction, but more than that," he said, "and 6 7/8 per cent. would have not succeeded in obtaining the money, if it had not been for a deep wave of sympathy in America in favor of the allies."

Therefore a mistake to criticize the loan to which we are now committed, as if the people of the United States had taken advantage of our necessities.

Sir Henry James Dalziel thought Mr. Dillon's interpretation of criticism of the loan unjustified. "We are all one in our sentiments towards the American loan," he said, "and the criticisms made are honest and based on financial considerations alone."

To Pay Trade Debt. "The loan," said Mr. McKenna, "is for the purpose of paying our trade debt and maintaining our exchange in the United States. Our imports from North America have largely increased since the beginning of the war, and our exports have diminished. The increase in imports for the first six months of 1915, excluding government supplies, not included in the customs returns, amounted to £38,500,000 ($292,500,000), and the reduction in exports during the same period was £12,000,000, thus making the adverse balance £26,500,000.

"Some relief for this balance against us may be obtained by the sale in America of securities held in this country. Every effort is being made to obtain relief from this source, but of itself this will be insufficient. "We should not be doing our duty," continued Mr. McKenna, "if we neglected to take other means of maintaining the normal level of exchange. I am sure that the assistance to express its thanks to the commission—its members accomplished their task with skill and success.

"The American people are not accustomed to large external loans, and I believe this is the first of any magnitude in the whole history of the United States. We must not overlook the fact that there are many cross-currents of opinion in that country.

"Altho the transaction was purely for the purpose of meeting liabilities already incurred, no little opposition was raised by some parties whose sympathies were not on the side of the allies. I hope the existence of these parties will not be overlooked during the debate, and that care be taken to avoid the use of any language that might be twisted by hostile element to its advantage and to the detriment of the allies.

Russian Troops In the Balkans Fighting Today Beside French and British to Protect Serbia

France, Great Britain and Russia were in complete accord, he said, and ample troops were available without weakening any front.

HUGHES' STATEMENT

Entire Second Division in Trenches Since September Eighteenth.

Special to The Toronto World. GALT, Ont. Oct. 12.—The new $100,000 armory of the 20th Regiment was this evening formally opened by Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, at a public meeting held in the drill hall, at which over 2000 people were present.

The minister of militia was given a great reception on his first appearance on a public platform in Galt. He said Canada had produced, up to the present, $300,000,000 worth of shells and munitions and hunger had been kept away from the doors of thousands of homes, as there was no doubt many industrial plants would have been forced to close had it not been for these orders.

Sir Sam stated that all of the second Canadian division had been in the trenches since Sept. 18, and the last of the reinforcements had crossed to France yesterday.

"There has been no shortage of recruits in Canada," he said, "and there will be no shortage. Canada can double, yes quadruple, the 150,000 men already under arms."

Sir Sam left tonight for Ottawa. He was accompanied on his visit to Galt by Sir Adam Beck, General Hodgins, Col. Shannon and Col. Smith of London.

GERMANS USE YACHTS TO ATTACK OIL SHIPS?

British Agents Look Into Mysterious Activities in Southern Waters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—British agents are investigating operations of certain yachts, which they suspect have been prepared, or are being outfitted for use against ships carrying oil from Mexico for the British navy. Information has been gathered from Norfolk, Pensacola, and from the Gulf of California.

Recent reports to British sources of the attack on a British tanker, bound from Tuxpan, in the Mexican oil fields, strengthened the belief of the agents that the attacking ship was manned by Germans and carried one gun.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Austro-Germans Advancing Southward Despite Heavy Losses Inflicted.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Serbia is now being attacked from the north and the east. The Austro-Germans, after their capture of Belgrade and Semendria, are advancing southward, while the Bulgarians have sent forces to endeavor to interrupt communications north and south of Nish, the war-time capital of Serbia, and attack the Serbs on the flank if they are driven back by the German Field Marshal Von Mackensen.

The situation is admitted to be a very serious one, not only for Serbia but for the whole allied cause. It is asserted that the Serbs are inflicting very heavy losses both on the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, but with their army of about 350,000 men they are believed to have little chance of making any prolonged resistance against three or four hundred thousand Austro-Germans, and probably 200,000 Bulgars. They already are arranging for the transfer of the capital to Monastir, in the extreme southwestern corner of the kingdom.

Greece Ignores Treaty? Greece apparently has decided to ignore the treaty under which she is supposed to go to the assistance of her Serbian ally in case of an attack. Premier Zaimis, when officially notified of the Bulgarian attack that Greece "remains in a position of armed neutrality."

The followers of the quadruple entente, however, have decided to take energetic action. As soon as the Bulgar attack on Serbia was received, (Continued on Page 2, Column 2).

BRITISH TO MAKE ANOTHER MOVE IN WEST

Preparations Under Way for Another Stroke at Secret Objective.

RUSSIANS STRONGER

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The French in both the Champagne and Artois regions of France are continuing their offensive, but not on the scale of the recent attacks. The British after their success in repelling the big German attack are preparing for another move, but at what point only the commanding general knows. Now that they have started, it is believed here that the British and French on the western line will give the Germans no rest.

It is much the same on the eastern front. The Austro-Germans have brought their offensive to a standstill in the region of Dvinsk, the Russians having recuperated wonderfully, and are still striking back in their familiar way. The Germans claim another success west of Dvinsk, but they are still fighting to the west of Iloukiet.

The Russians seemingly have entirely regained the initiative, especially in Galicia. Here it is reported from Petrograd that the Russians have won a victory on the River Stripa. The territory on which this battle was fought marks the extreme left of the Russian battle line. The Russian offensive on this front started several weeks ago, when successes were won at Pribrowia. Austro-German reinforcements were rushed up, and hard and incessant fighting has taken place since. Gen. Count Von Bothmer commands the Austro-Germans in this sector, and the German official report of today says that the position "of the German troops" with him is unchanged.

FRENCH CAPTURE TRENCHES REACH GULLY IN CHAMPAGNE

Commanding Position at Lagoutte Ravine Captured, Giving Allies Control of Entire Length From West—German Attack Repulsed in Vosges.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The capture of trenches at a point northeast of Souchez by the French is revealed in tonight's official communique, which says that the enemy today violently bombarded these with his artillery, and that the French took in this action 165 prisoners. On the Champagne-front, the French have progressed in the direction of Lagoutte gully and now dominate it from the west, putting them in a position for further decided progress. The repulse of a German infantry attack in the Vosges is reported. The official communique is as follows:

"The enemy this afternoon very violently bombarded the trenches which we took from him by our action yesterday to the northeast of Souchez. The number of prisoners we took in the course of that action was 165, of whom three were officers. The Germans have suffered heavy losses. "Cannonading, characterized by intensity on both sides, has been going on to the south of the Somme, in the region of Tilloy and Plessines, and on the Aisne front, on the plateau of Neuvion. The enemy having dropped shells on Soissons, we replied effectively against his trenches and batteries.

"In Champagne our progress continues in the direction of the gully of Lagoutte, which we dominate, to the west, on a somewhat extended front. "The enemy resumed the bombardment of our positions in the direction of Maisons de Champagne, and to the north of Massiges. "An attempt at an offensive in Lorraine against one of our advanced posts near the Pont de Manhoue, was completely checked by our shelling and barrier fire.

"In the Vosges, after an intense bombardment with shells of all calibres, a violent infantry attack was delivered against our positions at Lingre and Schatzmannelle, but was completely repulsed. Some groups which had taken foot in one of our trenches counter-attacked."

The Belgian official communication reads: "After a quiet night and morning, the enemy artillery displayed activity in cannonading Furnes, our trenches in the outskirts of Dismude and Oortkerke, as well as Nieuwcapelle. "There is an engagement with bombs in the direction of the ferryman's house. In addition to our answering and sustained retaliatory fire we directed our fire on several of the enemy's works."

This would indicate that Greece has decided to ignore her treaty with Serbia.

JAPS MAY GO TO BALKANS

Latest Developments May Justify a Change in Decision.

FULL RECONSIDERATION

Baron Ishii Has Just Returned From Conference in Paris.

TOKIO, Oct. 12.—Advice received here from London that British opinion in some quarters at least favors the despatch of Japanese troops, to the Balkans have suddenly reopened the question in Tokio of what Japan's future course will be. There is a strong impression here that the return from Paris today of Baron Kikujiro Ishii, the recently appointed minister of foreign affairs, and previously ambassador to France, is likely to be followed by a full reconsideration of the international situation with special reference to Japan's attitude for the preservation of her own permanent interests.

Another factor in arousing discussion on this situation is the arrival of Hugues Le Roux, editor of The Paris Matin, who altho without official mission, comes, it is understood, with introductions from and the approbation of M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister, to discuss military questions with prominent Japanese, with a view to determining whether the latest developments justify a change in Japan's decision not to send an army to aid her allies, and the likelihood of despatching troops to the Balkan theatre.

BRITISH CABINET SEAT FOR NOTED FINANCIER?

Sir Edward Hopkinson-Holden Likely to Fill Parliamentary Vacancy.

Sir Edward Hopkinson-Holden is managing director of the London City and Midland Bank. He is a member of the financial commission which arranged the recent Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000 in the United States.

Allies Will Tomorrow Fight Side by Side to Help Serbian People, Says Premier of France—Protection of Greek and Roumanian Interests Guaranteed.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—In response to resolutions adopted by the finance committee and the Socialist group urging the necessity of a complete and immediate explanation on the part of the government, Premier Viviani in the chamber of deputies today outlined the situation with respect to the Balkan states.

"The country, owing to the grave events now taking place," said the premier, "must be informed, and the government takes this opportunity to make a declaration of the situation and its policy."

After reviewing the failure of the efforts to form a new Balkan league, owing to the treachery of Bulgaria, he said in conclusion: "Without weakening our front, we have the further task of fulfilling duties which our interest and our honor impose upon us. We are in full accord with the general in chief of the allied armies. The understanding between the governments of Great Britain and France is complete, and it is the duty of the governments of the world, in the following form, namely: "From now France and England, in accord with their allies, are completely agreed to go to the aid of Serbia, Greece and Roumania respect to the treaty of Bucharest, of which we are the guarantor. The British and French governments are in accord upon the importance of effective conformity to the advice of their allies, and completely agreed to go to the aid of their allies to help the Serbian people, and tomorrow her troops will fight alongside of ours."

"Gentlemen, we have done our duty toward our ally. Never has an accord been more direct and more complete between allies and never have we had greater confidence in a common victory."

Bulgaria's Dissatisfaction. In opening, Premier Viviani said: "The Balkanic question was raised at the outset of the war, even before it came to the attention of the world. The Bucharest treaty had left in Bulgaria profound heart-burnings. Neither king nor people were resigned to the loss of the fruits of their efforts and sacrifices, and the consequence of the unjustifiable war they had waged upon their former allies. From the first day the allied governments took into account the dangers of such a situation and sought a remedy to it. Their policy had proceeded in the spirit of justice and generosity which has characterized the attitude of Great Britain, Russia and Italy as well as France.

"We have attempted to re-establish the union of the Balkan peoples and in accord with them seek the realization of their principal national aspirations. The equilibrium of the Balkans by mutual sacrifices really made by each would have been the best guarantee of future peace. Despite constant efforts, in which Roumania, Greece and Serbia lent their assistance, we have been unable to obtain the sincere collaboration of the Bulgarian Government. The difficulties respecting the negotiations were always at Sofia.

"Bulgaria made claims upon her four frontiers at the expense of her four neighbors. We had hoped that Roumania, Greece and Serbia, by whom magnificent perspectives opened elsewhere, would consent to the sacrifices, in exchange for which they would receive large compensation. "As to Turkey, which had thrown herself into the arms of Germany, there was no need for further consideration.

"Our efforts with Roumania were partially successful. Roumania, the people of which country frequently manifest French sympathies, was not unfavorable to the re-establishment of the Balkan alliance. Her partial mobilization permitted her to repulse any threatened aggression—defend herself against German pressure and oblige to the closest attention events along the frontier, both Austrian and Bulgarian.

"Roumania knew, moreover, that only victory on the part of the quadruple entente could assure her independence and satisfy her national aspirations.

Serbia's Fine Sacrifice. "In their consideration of duty to give the Bulgarian people satisfaction in their aspirations the powers of the quadruple entente did not hesitate to ask Serbia to make heavy concessions. Despite the cruelty of such a sacrifice and the danger of proving their attachment to the allies, which were

KNOX DISAPPROVES ROBINSON REMARKS

At Meeting of Senate Yesterday, Discussion Was Deliberate.

PASSED A RESOLUTION Expresses Extreme Surprise at Utterances While Guest of College.

The senate of Knox College held its regular autumn meeting yesterday to arrange for the work of the session. Immediately on assembling, the attention of the senate was directed to certain utterances of Prof. George L. Robinson of McCormick Seminary while he was representing the seminary at the services connected with the opening of the new Knox College buildings.

Resolution Follows. "The senate of Knox College, having had its attention directed to certain utterances reflecting offensively and injuriously on the attitude and conduct of Great Britain in connection with the present war made by the Rev. Prof. George L. Robinson of McCormick Seminary, Chicago, during his recent visit to Toronto and published in Toronto newspapers, express its extreme surprise that Prof. Robinson, while a guest of the college and its immediate surroundings, should have permitted himself to make such statements."

HIGH PRAISE FOR NEW DAIRY

"Toronto Now Has Finest Dairy in America."

Experienced dairymen, physicians and health authorities and the mothers of Toronto are all agreed in designating the new home of the Farmers' Dairy as the most wonderful building of its kind they have ever seen.

"How white and clean it is," is the first comment you hear. Then, "Why, there are glass walls between the rooms." And then all comments are lost in a flood of questions and exclamations regarding this piece of equipment and that safety device.

"I'll never worry over baby's food again," said one mother of a large family, who had two rosy-cheeked men with her. "My own relatives couldn't be cleaner than this wonderful building. And all their thermometers and pasteurizers and coolers, and it is safe in giving any invalid this milk."

Another visitor has evidently taken an extensive course in higher household science, for she looked at everything with a stern and appraising eye. But in the end she was compelled to find in every precaution has been taken to keep the milk sweet and pure. I must admit that I have seldom seen a place—home, hospital, laboratory—so clean and as easily kept clean as this dairy is.

A prominent manufacturer of dairy machinery who has visited and inspected every large dairy on the continent says: "This is the finest and most modern dairy in America." Every man in the world is invited to see for himself or herself this fine new dairy at Walmer road and Bridgeman street.

Wreath Trimming.

Wool flowers and odd fruit ornaments appear on many hats of fur and velvet, fashioned exclusively for the winter street costume, and result in some of the most chic little models launched in many seasons. It is quite a fad to have the most close-fitting toque made of the same shade of velvet as the suit, in one of the favored tones in green, brown or purple. Besides the ever-present band of soft fur, ornaments of this modish wool fabric, in white or colors, distinguish the most attractive models.

An exquisitely dainty little chapeau of this type, intended for quite a young girl, was made up in a combination of rich brown and bronze. The hat—brimless and very close-fitting—was of soft brown silk velvet. Fitch fur rimmed the upper edge of the band, which included the crown, and about this at intervals were sewn tiny flowers of bronze wool. A smart little bronze metallic cockade, standing erect in front, gave the jaunty and youthful note.

SUPPORTING OPERATIC NOVELTIES.

During the last few days the sale of seats in connection with the forthcoming engagement of the Boston Grand Opera Company and the Pavlova Ballet Russe at the Arena has been going forward by leaps and bounds. The public has awakened to the fact that these productions will not only be the most important musical events of the present season but the greatest operatic happening for many a season. Most satisfactory is the interest that has been manifested in the two novelties that are to be seen. "The Dumb Girl of Portici" (Oct. 21) and "The Love of the Three Kings" (Oct. 22), while large houses are of course assured for "Madam Butterfly" and "Carmen." Those interested in the problems of stage construction would be amazed at the rapid progress that is being made by Mr. E. F. Brunton, technical director of the Boston Opera House, and his large staff of expert mechanics in creating at the Arena a fully equipped stage and proscenium arch.

WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB GREET'S NELLIE MCCLUNG

Was Guest of Honor Yesterday
Shortly After Arrival From Edmonton.

A bumper turnout of the members of the Women's Press Club greeted Mrs. Nellie McClung when she was their guest yesterday afternoon shortly after her arrival from the west. The guest of honor was introduced by Miss Marjory MacMurchy and made a short address, in which she referred to the Women's Press Club of Edmonton, where she now resides. Mrs. McClung stated that the club there is making itself felt at the present moment thru its efforts to effect a change in the high steps of their street cars, to climb which under present conditions was quite an "athletic stunt." As Edmonton is the most advanced city in Canada from a suffrage standpoint—every person over twenty-one years of age who has resided there a month having the right to register and vote—Mrs. McClung thought the effort of the press club would meet with success.

This visitor renewed acquaintance with many of the members whom she had met two years ago when the National Press Club met in Edmonton. The author of "Sowing Seeds in Danny" is accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Anderson, and is the guest of Mrs. A. B. Ormsby of "Orma Cliff."

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated its Growth by a Simple Home Process.

She Tells How She Did It.

A well-known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Orlex Compound and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 19 or 20 years younger."

Members of Parliament and Press Men Started on C. N. R. Transcontinental Tour.

The Toronto section of the parliamentary transcontinental excursion over the Canadian Northern Railway left the city at 11:15 p.m. sharp last night. There were about forty or fifty Ontario members of the house in the party, and they were accompanied by a number of representative newspaper men of the province and of the Chicago press. Sir William Mackenzie was also in the party, and he was accompanied by a number of prominent American railroad men as well.

AGED SUITOR IS HALED TO COURT

Horace Hennessey, Aged
Seventy-One, Trenton,
Ont., is Defendant.

ADMITS SOME KISSES

Mary Ann Fredericks, Fifty-
One, Sues Him for Breach of Promise.

In the jury assizes yesterday, before Mr. Justice Sutherland, Mary Ann Fredericks, aged 51, spinster, of Toronto, sued Horace Hennessey, aged 71, retired farmer of Trenton, for breach of promise, claiming $10,000.

The plaintiff, in giving her evidence, stated that she was an old friend of the Hennessey family, and that during a visit to Trenton defendant got quite friendly with her. He was carrying the mail and would always stop and chat with her, and on one occasion said: "There is always room in my happy home for you." One night he visited her, and during the evening she kissed him and he kissed her in return.

Later he gave an engagement ring and set the date for marriage for Feb. 23. In consequence she resigned her position in the York Knitting Mills and expended $100 on a trousseau, which he examined and said: "They are lovely, and I will not need to buy you any for a long while" after which his attentions ceased and she said she was broken the engagement.

"I am sorry," she said, "but I am not going to sue you for anything."

When asked if he was in the habit of kissing ladies, he replied: "Not so much of late years."

Letters were read out in the court, written by him to the plaintiff, beginning: "My dear Mary Ann." When asked what was the significance of numerous crosses at the bottom of his letters, he blushing said, "I meant them for kisses."

He admitted giving the plaintiff a wedding ring, but said that he had not thought of marriage at the time, and that he was only a good friend to her.

"She did most of the talking about marrying, and all I ever said was 'it is a pity that we don't both think alike,'" said Hennessey.

Defendant also claimed that the plaintiff did not resign her position, but that she was laid off owing to the business depression. His lordship adjourned the case until today, when counsel will address the jury.

James Cameron Says Fine for Having Gun in Possession.

Two charges were read out against James Cameron, a cattle drover, when he appeared in the police court yesterday. One was for being drunk and too other for carrying concealed weapons. Cameron got drunk in a downtown hotel and started to demonstrate his ability as a marksman on the walls. For the drunk charge he was fined $1 and costs and for the gun $20 and costs.

James Cameron, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy in the police court yesterday, was found guilty of selling liquor without a license and was fined $300 and costs or 30 days in jail.

WORD IS RECEIVED ABOUT LIEUT. DAVIS

Uncertainty Ended by Communication From American Embassy at Berlin to Mother.

Mrs. J. R. Davis of 23 Keele street, mother of Lieut. Reginald N. C. Davis, about whose fate since May 24 last there has been considerable uncertainty, has just received word from the American Embassy at Berlin that his body was recovered by a German patrol, and from the identification disk taken from the body it was proved to be the remains of this gallant officer who fell while leading his regiment in an assault on the German trenches on the night of May 24.

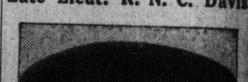

It will be recalled that recently Sergt. Mote of the Q.O.R. was decorated with the D.S.O. for conspicuous bravery in leading an attempt to bring in the body of Lieut. Davis.

Lieut. Davis was a very popular officer of the Q.O.R., having been with the regiment upwards of eight years. He was a member of St. Andrew's Masonic Lodge A.F. and A.M. He was educated at St. Alban's Cathedral School and entered the service of the Dominion Bank, being accountant of the west end branch of that institution at the time he left with the first contingent.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

By Adele Garrison

A Busy Morning.

"It was almost noon when I awoke Monday, the day after our little Christmas dinner."

"Well, good-by, sweetheart."

Dicky swallowed the last of his coffee hurriedly, and kissing me as he usually did, I almost as perfunctorily took his hat and coat and went to the studio.

I lingered over my breakfast. I felt lazy, tired. I am not used to late hours, and they exhaust me. As I finally rose from the table, the telephone rang.

"I will answer it, Katie," I said. "I am going into the living room anyway."

As I looked down the receiver, I heard an unfamiliar feminine voice, its tones cultured, pleasant.

"Is this Madison square 2468?"

"Yes."

"Is Mrs. Graham there?"

"I am Mrs. Graham. Who is this please?"

"Oh! Mrs. Graham, I am Mrs. Smith of the Lotus Study Club. I just received your note, saying you would consider taking the leadership of our history section. I am so glad. Where can I see you and when?"

"I have no engagements this week at all," I answered. "Any day that will suit your convenience will be all right for me."

"How would tomorrow afternoon at 3 do, then?"

"Very well indeed. Where shall we meet?"

"Let me see. You are at Twenty-ninth street. Suppose we say that street. The Sign of the Spinning Wheel, isn't it called?"

"Oh! yes, I know the place perfectly. How shall I know you?"

A clear ringing laugh came over the telephone.

"How perfectly absurd! We neither of us know what the other looks like. Suppose we imitate the marriage correspondence schools, and each wear a pipe carnation."

"I think that will be quite thrilling," I replied.

"All right, at 3 then; good-by."

"Good-by," and I hung up the receiver.

I felt quite excited, shaken out of my laze. I resolved to dress and take a walk.

On my way out of the building I thought of my resolve to ask after the baby who had been brought into my apartment the night before. I came slowly back, and rang the bell of the apartment opposite mine.

The maid who had rushed in with the baby the night before, opened the door. She smiled at me, but said nothing.

"How is the baby this morning?" I asked.

"Better, I hope."

"Wait a minute," she said. "I will call my madam."

She vanished and I heard a whispered comment.

"Oh! that woman from across the hall. I suppose I shall have to see her."

"The woman from across the hall" was walking rapidly away, her face aflame.

AN ACCOMPLISHED PERFORMER

By Will Nies

Do you remember the great old song which begins, "Seated one day at the organ"?

You recall the line, "and my fingers wandered idly over the noisy keys"? And do you recollect that the musician played a wondrous chord which filled his soul with celestial harmonies that ever after haunted him—but which he was never able to reproduce? Poor musician, HE may not be able to play that heavenly melody—but SHE can wake the strings at will on HARP—OR HEART.

But, then, HER fingers do not "wander idly." What they touch MUST respond to the melody in HER heart. For she plays the SONG OF SONGS—the melody that the thrush pipes to his mate in the springtime, and TRUE LOVERS all over the world sing to each other every day in the year. It is the RHAPSODY OF LOVE!

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Has a Check to Measles at Last Been Discovered?

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. M. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

MEASLES is the Patsy Bolivar of infantile maladies. When a healthy man is asked, "Have you ever been sick?" the answer is, "Never in my life—only measles."

Measles is dismissed as lightly as a puff of cigarette smoke. Yet the fatal and annual ravages from measles is greater than that of typhoid, rabies and smallpox, and the legion of defects, such as inflamed eyes, running ears and other deformities, left as its stigma upon human kind after recovery, will never be accurately reported. If you can tell the precise damage done to children by measles, you can solve this riddle.

The inroads of measles upon infants has been checked in recent years only by better sanitation and cleaner houses. Mothers, however, still deceive themselves and endanger the future strength and efficiency of their youngsters by wrongly regarding measles as a trivial or nearly harmless ailment of childhood that "everybody must have." Nothing could be wider of the mark; nothing could be farther from the truth.

Dr. C. Herrman of New York City has carried out recent researches into this age-old distemper which have, to say the least, a distinctly intelligible glimpse to make infants immune to measles before they are five months old. His method is the outcome of a series of well planned experiments, that infants in the early months of life, when near others with measles, consistently escape its depredations.

History of Experiments.

Babies under five months, he points out, who have remained in intimate contact with older victims of the spotted fever, not only fail to fall ill with this infection, but remain frequently immune to it ever afterwards. Dr. Herrman emphasizes this in the report of seven children in one family.

The seven youngsters ranged from 10 months up to 34 years old. The eldest had measles 1 1/2 years ago. The second child was then 8 1/2 months old and, though constantly exposed, gave it the merry go-by. The third and fourth children had measles six years previously. The second, though always near the first, never contracted it. Neither did the fifth child, then three months of age.

The sixth child had measles two years ago and again the second and third children, immune since their third month, escaped the malady. The seventh and youngest child was recently observed in an attack of measles, and again the second and fifth remained uninfected.

These, together with a number of other observations, convinced Dr. Herrman that babies under five months of age were more or less immune to measles. Thereupon he determined to bring about the same result artificially, what accidentally occurs a few.

Method of Immunizing.

Dr. Herrman obtained the consent first of the mother, a personal friend, to inject her four-month-old baby with blood from a patient down with measles. This experiment usually causes measles in older children and grownups who have never had it.

Sure enough, the little fellow escaped the disease, so the savant proceeded to make other children under five months immune. In no single instance of more than forty babies thus "vaccinated" against measles were there any unpleasant or disagreeable consequences.

The vaccine for injection was taken from the nasal fluids of children with measles 24 hours before the skin all broke out. A such children were tested with a Wassermann and other blood tests to insure that they were, except for measles, absolutely healthy.

Swabs of cotton were used to collect the fluids from the nose, and these were kept in sterilized glass tubes. The vaccine of the infants, preferably between four and five months, was made by the application of the moist cotton swabs to the nostrils of the healthy child.

Fifteen of the over forty infants thus vaccinated against measles had, at the end of from eight to fourteen days, a small number of spots on the skin which have been ignored under usual conditions, but when taken by and large with the experiments seem to prove that in such vaccination immunity to measles is accompanied by a mild, almost unobserved fever.

It appears, then, that a means is at last available whereby the depredations of this most contagious of childhood's visitors may be avoided. If a child is stamped out, since practice is very loath to run close upon the heels of knowledge, since man is "set in his ways," there is some other, friend who knows him and will be willing to introduce you to better friendship.

But my dear—why don't you forget him until he sees fit to show his anxiety to meet you by making all the arrangements himself? You may be very anxious that he would find very little difficulty in seeking you out if he really and truly were very anxious to know you better. Have you thought of that?

How She Discovered the Way to Make Scrubbing Dignified.

ONE of the reasons why I used to have a childish dread of ever being compelled to do my own household work was because I couldn't bear the vision of myself in "scrubbing" attire, lying humbly on the floor, vigorously pursuing mud and grime. It wasn't dignified. Now, one can look really beautiful, if one wants to, while cook-

How to Improve Symmetry of Your Figure

By LUCREZIA BORI

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

When you have heard many discussions of the hour-glass figure and the nipped-in waist-line and the new colonial corsets, if you are a day older. Bend forward from the waist with the hands placed together in front. The hands are then moved backward and upward over the head and down to the feet position again. Keep the shoulder blades back as far as possible during this movement. Repeat this ten or fifteen times.

To Cultivate Graceful Carriage.

If you have been bending over a desk or your sewing you will find this exercise useful as well as beneficial where rounded shoulders are concerned. Hold your body erect and lock the hands at the back of the neck. Now stretch the arms out level with the shoulders. Repeat this movement twenty times, keeping the shoulder blades flattened.

To Correct Stoop-Shoulders.

But you should always remember to use the muscles of the waist instead of the shoulder muscles in sweeping. Many cases of stoop-shoulders are the result of leaning forward from the shoulders instead of making the back bend from the hips. This attitude strains the muscles between the shoulders, throws the body forward out of position. The result is drooping shoulders and a hollow chest.

ORIGIN OF COMMON SAYINGS

Clown was at first a tattooed person. In Britain and France the country people retained the habit of tattooing or of painting the faces in imitation of tattooing long after it had been abandoned in the cities.

The word rival at first meant a brook that was applied to the persons who lived on opposite sides and quarreled about the water, and still later it was understood as applying to contestants for any desired object.

A scamp was originally only a traveler, but in the early middle ages most of the scamping was done for some good cause, and the man who scamped was in virtue of the fact adjudged to be a person of bad character.

The word sunny borrowed its original significance from astrology. It described a person born under the influence of the sun, this luminary being supposed to exercise a beneficial influence on the character of the individual.

Imp once meant a child. Shakespeare, speaking of the children in the tower, calls them imps. Jeremy Taylor, in one of his sermons, speaks of "the beautiful imps that sang hosannas to the Saviour in the temple."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

TROUBLED: There is very little that should trouble you, my dear. Just make up your mind to part with him earlier and arrange to see him oftener, if you really and truly feel that you care to have him call more frequently than he does. While it may be very hard to wait for two years until he is able to support you as his wife, don't you really think that your happiness will be greater for having waited at least patiently?

On the other hand, it often happens that marriage is delayed over long through a fear on the part of the man that the woman he has chosen for his wife may not be able to get along upon the salary he is making. If you feel that his salary is sufficient, with rigid economy upon your part—and if you are willing to make all the sacrifices that such a step would entail upon you—why don't you ask him frankly if he feels it necessary for you to wait so long? In other words, my dear, talk to him as frankly and as honestly as you can talk to another woman, for is he not the man of your heart and the one to whom you should be able to bring all your problems and perplexities?

A controversy regarding overcrowding on the street cars took place between Chief Justice Sir William Meredith and H. H. Dewar, K.C., at Osgoode Hall yesterday...

Mr. Dewar, in his argument, maintained that the regulations on which the indictment was based have been superseded by the powers invested in the Ontario Railway Board...

Mr. Justice Magee enquired if he cited that for the purpose of showing that the company's course in overcrowding had received the approval of the board.

"The board has undertaken to deal with overcrowding and has prescribed what must be done," answered the railway counsel.

He was then asked by Chief Justice Meredith to state exactly what the board had instructed them to do as a remedy.

"They told us to build more lines and more cars," said Mr. Dewar.

"I haven't seen any improvement on Church street for the past 15 years. I think they have some of the horse cars running yet," commented the chief justice.

Mr. Dewar replied that he had travelled on the cars and found them the most comfortable conveyance on the continent.

Mr. Justice Garrow has allowed the appeal in the action of Leslie v. Stevenson, on the sale of land bought by Stevenson, in a mechanic's lien case at $2100 and sold by him for $8000.

The judgment of Justice Falconbridge in the case of Fitzgerald v. Canada Cement Co. has been ratified by Chief Justice Meredith.

THE DOBIE-LEYSON MINE IN MUNRO TOWNSHIP

So Far the Most Surprising Gold Mine in the World.

By a World Staff Correspondent.

MATHEWSON, Oct. 12.—A representative of the World spent Monday looking at the gold fields and prospects in Munro and adjacent townships, including a visit to the phenomenal Dobie-Leyson mine, now being developed by the Dominion Reduction Company of Cobalt. Mathewson is once more the centre of a revived mining activity and as a consequence business is looking up, prospectors are going all over the country again, and capitalists and engineers are visiting and inspecting claims, and generally this district is probably more talked about than any place on the continent at the present time, principally because of what has happened on the Dobie-Leyson.

Munro Township begins at a point about six miles due east of the Town of Mathewson and the government have laid out and built a road, not only into the corner of Munro, but for several miles further east, along the south limit of the township, making the Dobie-Leyson mine eight miles east of Mathewson and then one mile to the north. This road is now all graded, has a big drain on the side and a good deal of it is shaped up so as to make travel for the first portion of it fairly good, although the recent rain has made it rather muddy; the more easterly portion has been corduroyed and is being covered with a gravelly sand which has made travel somewhat better. But a team can go from Mathewson to Dobie-Leyson in less than three hours.

This mine was staked and the patent secured some years ago, and offered to a number of parties within the last few months. Late in June it was purchased by the Dominion Reduction Co., who had the courage to blow out the vein and the fine showing of gold that it carried, and to their surprise the showing increased as they went down; and from that time on such wonderful results followed that it is now pronounced by mining engineers who have seen it to be the most surprising gold production in the history of the world up to the present moment; because in that three months the owners have been able to take out free gold to the extent of at least half a million dollars and probably $800,000 in gold, and at the same time to erect buildings, sink the shaft and provide first-class accommodation for their workmen. The men are now in possession of their new bunk houses and cook house, and all the staff have gone into the quarters provided for them including a first-class office and administration building. But besides this the shaft house is now being closed in; a new and improved hoist installed; a very large water tank and lower raised in position and compressed air piped over from an adjacent mining plant.

All this has been done within the last three months, and today the mine has the look of a finished proposition. But from the day the company took hold of it they have been mining quartz which carried an enormous and surprising showing of gold; the vein has been followed down for over a hundred feet, and all the way it has been making a better and better showing in regard to slab after slab of the most spectacular gold ever seen in a mine. The specimens which were exhibited at the Toronto fair and which has been secured by the Government of Ontario as an exhibit, contained in the neighborhood of $18,000.00 worth of pure gold; and mining engineers like Frank Loring who are known in the Canadian gold country say it exceeds in richness anything heretofore found anywhere.

The shaft is a sloping one and follows the vein and the rich deposit in the vein and has got down now over 100 feet. The engineer in charge of the work is Mr. Porter of one of the Prospecting mines and immediately under him the work in charge of Mr. Dampier. Mr. Dampier showed your correspondent the shaft and the vein and some of the more recent specimens of high-grade ore taken out and these were equal to the wonder slab seen at the Exhibition. Besides this, several hundred sacks of gold have been bagged and are awaiting shipment for treatment. One day two large bread pans of pure gold separated from the quartz and valued at thousands and thousands of dollars were taken up to the hoist, and a day or two later sent to the treasury of the company in Cobalt; and time after time similar shipments have been taken up and turned in to the bank. As a result the ore purchase price has been paid long before the original dates agreed on; the buildings have been put up and paid for, over one hundred men are now working, and just as fast as the accommodation can be increased and the shaft extended all other men will be added to the force.

Up to the present the management has been very conservative in making any statement or allowing to be seen the property, as it is believed they were closing up deals for other properties in Munro and Beatty and other townships, more or less in the immediate neighborhood. But all the people in Mathewson know about the finds and the shipping of the gold and so do the railway men; and later on the representatives of the government mining department and the public generally have begun to see and know about it.

Not only then has this mine been the one mine above any other in Canada that has had a marvelous showing right from the start and therefore altogether contrary to the experience in Porcupine and other places; but the prospect is that other finds and other locations in Munro and Beatty Townships may have similar and equally startling development; and for the first time it would appear that more and more properties will be developed and will pay from the start like the early days in Cobalt when free silver was taken out by the carload. As consequence all the other claims in these townships are being looked over, development work started and purchases on the alert to see what men and get hold of them. There can't be only one Dobie-Leyson, they say.

Your correspondent on his way back to Mathewson took a look at the claims recently acquired by the Munro Consolidated, a company lately organized in Toronto, whose mining manager is Mr. Leyson, one of the original owners of Dobie-Leyson, and who was busy installing his camp on Tuesday. They have six claims one mile north of the road to Munro, and will have the camp for their men completed by Thursday of this week and a gang of twenty men at work sinking the first shaft. Your correspondent saw where the vein had been stripped for a couple of hundred feet and where the shaft is already down to a depth of nine feet and out of which quartz carrying a good showing of free gold was taken. Mr. Leyson, who knew all about the Dobie-Leyson, is confident that he will get results similar to those just described in the big mine.

There are other claims in this locality where the quartz is as well defined and where the showing of gold is equally encouraging, so that a surprising activity in this district may be looked for any day or week because it is not likely that there will be only one Dobie-Leyson in a country where similar conditions prevail all around and where equally good surface showings are to be observed.

Among the owners of the Dominion Reduction Company (and the capital is very small), are Mr. Kirby, who is manager; Mr. Mortimer Davies of Montreal, and Mr. Steiner of New York. What this wonderful mine will show a little later on remains to be seen; but what The World correspondent has stated above he knows from actual observation and from the statements of different parties which have been checked up in interview with mining men who have been on the property and from news gathered from ordinary citizens who have been about the mine and have seen the output.

The surprising thing, therefore, is not what has been taken out and done in this mine, but the probability that the same thing will be repeated in several places not only in these townships, but in other fields in the gold belt that are now being explored and developed in this north country. There is the greatest activity in the neighborhood of Sosekink Lake, Kirkland Lake and over at Porcupine, where the Hollinger and the Dome are increasing their output; where the Vipond is making rapid strides in production and where several other mines are getting into the first rank; and not only is the immediate neighborhood of Porcupine growing in importance, but the belt south of it is also showing renewed activity. At least $10,000,000 of gold will be taken out of Porcupine in 1917; and it may be that mine after mine will be put into operation in these northern fields.

Although the situation is worth watching from a public and investing point of view. The night The World man was in the camp he explored and developed in this north country. There is the greatest activity in the neighborhood of Sosekink Lake, Kirkland Lake and over at Porcupine, where the Hollinger and the Dome are increasing their output; where the Vipond is making rapid strides in production and where several other mines are getting into the first rank; and not only is the immediate neighborhood of Porcupine growing in importance, but the belt south of it is also showing renewed activity. At least $10,000,000 of gold will be taken out of Porcupine in 1917; and it may be that mine after mine will be put into operation in these northern fields.
