The Canadian Turkey was found in abundance in London during the week before Christmas. The birds sold at Late English advices say that the demand for hay has fallen off owing to heavy arrivals and open weather. Sellers are offering Canadian hay, December for January shipment, at from $25.57 $23.18 without loading charges.

The Canadian Pacific have arranged to ship 10,000 bushels of wheat and 1-000 tons of hay to the East, each week from St. John, N. B. This winter at an estimated. This is the first offer of the port for the upper Provinces.

The report that Canada's big cheese has lost its wits, and that on its arrival in Liverpool from Chicago, it was found to be in a very bad condition, emitting an odor which rivaled the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, Robert

Donovan, says the cheese, rescued by him since, states that a few inches on the top of the cheese is damaged, but that the bulk and body are sound as ever.

New Year's Colt Stakes.

The prospect for the Maritime colt there have been so many demands for a change of conditions of the stakes, and to have them conducted on a similar plan to those at the Rhode Island State Fair and other places, where they have been so successful during the past season that it has been decided to accede to these requests for the next year, but colts need not be named until the third payment, July 14, and nominators will have the right to transfer their entry receipts to that date. Under these conditions, should a colt go wrong a nominator will have the opportunity of procuring another, or disposing of his entry if it is a non-runner, as a condition of his being selected the best at the time of the third payment, and a person who fails to comply in the stake, will

HOW TO KILL A TOWN.

VILLE N. B. JAN. 4th 1918 town as with an individual half the battle. A man's often gives him political financial strength and enables him to accomplish things where-the same man without it would be an utter failure on the principle of giving a dog a bad name and then changing him. If the citizens of a place are eager to extol its pleasant features, its advantages for business or pleasure or its sociability and kindness of its people, outsiders naturally will regard the place with a certain amount of deference and consideration and will be more likely to cast their lot with it and help advance its interests. But when residents of a place combine to detract from its merits, to advertise every little defect it may possess, to represent each other as bigoted, unsocial, and selfish, to patronize the tradesmen and manufacturers of rival towns instead of their own, to encourage by their patronage every peddler and drummer that comes in from outside places, to lick away the trade that naturally belongs to the people of the town itself, to take their capital which ought to be devoted to developing the material interest of their own place, away and invest it in enterprises in other towns, and disturbing and condemning every attempt made to build up and to help local industries and create a local market.—When these things take place then we may be sure that the very best means have been taken to kill a town. If on the contrary they pull together in all that relates to their common interests, and if they join hand in hand in developing local industries, in creating a home market for farm and other products, in encouraging people to come in and settle in the place, in not only advertising its good features, but in endeavouring to make it attractive, there is a chance for that town to expand; it gains in reputation and character and people are encouraged to locate and make investments there. We see the advantage of carrying the latter policy in the case of Amherst, Truro, New Glasgow, and even Moncton. Truro is becoming not only an importing and distributing centre, but a manufacturing place of importance arising principally from the fact that the people of that town have confidence in each other, and in their future and combined to accomplish what individually they would have failed to do. When a number of years ago, the Amherst Boot and Shoe Co., was burned down, and their property and capital nearly wiped out, the local capitalists came to the front and re-established it under the management of Mr. M. D. Fries and it has since become one of the most successful undertakings to be found anywhere in the country. A few years later, a disastrous fire destroyed

Rhodes & Curry's factory and stock.

Again the local capitalists united to preserve a local industry, and the result was the successful preservation of one of the most extensive industrial establishments in Canada, giving employment to four or five hundred men.

SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT?

The death of Rev. Cyrus Herbert Rice by his own hand occurred at the residence of Senator Lewis, St. John, on Friday last shortly after noon. For some time he had been ill as a result of overwork and care, and at the time of his death he was suffering from a severe attack of la grippe. No possible reason has been discovered for the rash deed except that weakened physically and mentally by excessive work and tortured by the terrible disease his mind became unsettled and in this condition he sought death.

Deceased was a son of Rev. S. H.

Rice a well known clergyman of the Methodist church now stationed at Corwall, P. E. I. Last spring he graduated at Mt. Allison with honors, and in June was admitted a probationer at the Methodist conference and given the Grand Manor circuit where he has since labored with remarkable success. At the time of his death he was spending a few holidays with St. John friends and enjoying a well earned rest.

He attended the institutions at Sackville for four years and was universally liked in the village. At the College he was regarded by his fellows as a leader and pattern. A brilliant scholar, a fine orator, a splendid athlete, always courteous, kind, and thoughtful for the welfare and comfort of others, and a sincere and practical christian who made his christianity felt on the playground and in the gymnasium as well as at the prayer meeting. Mr. Rice was admired and loved by all who knew him. The funeral took place at St. John on Monday. Many believe that this was a case not of suicide but of accidental death and those who knew Mr. Rice will readily favor this theory.

Byaside.

Inspector Smith passed through here a few days ago.

Mr. M. A. Wall will continue his good work here next term. He is now visiting friends at St. Verto.

—Inspector Hall is the recipient of large suggestions nearly every Sabbath.

Mr. John Read has erected a palatial residence near the shore.

Other improvements and enterprises are but the results of our ambitious and well planned work will be seen in the near future.

—Mr. Bedford Fillmore has also completed the erection of a very fine house.

—Mr. Ritchie Allen has built an addition to his home.

—The Baptist Church is in a good healthy condition here and promises under the supervision of Rev. Mr.

Tasent to be productive of much good.

—The examination of the school taught by Mr. M. A. Wall took place on Friday. The many visitors consisting of parents and friends were there to witness the examinations have felt how pleasant a thing it was to dwell in such a scholastic atmosphere.

The students were examined in Geography, History, Reading, Spelling, Geometry, Algebra, Arithmetic and English. They acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. The examination took place of much hard work on the part of teacher and students.

Mr. Pottinger has promised him a further investigation at some date during the present month.

COBBERS.—The Basket Social on the evening of the 30th December was a success. A goodly number were in attendance and $1.50 was realized and handed over to the Rev. Mr. Thomas towards his salary. A very pleasant evening was spent and all returned to their homes well satisfied.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—On Sunday morning last the superintendent, teachers, and librarian of the Bethel Sunday school presented their pastor, Rev. W. H. Warren, with a hand-crocheted vest, a token of appreciation and esteem. Other friends also kindly remembered the pastor and his family during the holiday festivities with substantial and appetizing favors.

AT DORCHESTER.—On Sunday evening at the close of the service in Trinity Church, Dorchester, Mrs. Geo. W. Chandler, Mrs. Robt. and David Chapman were each presented with a copy of the Common Prayer and Hymns, ancient and modern in recognition of their faithful services in the choir. Judge Hanington and Ward Foster on behalf of the congregation made the presentation and Mr. Chapman and Judge Hanington, for the ladies, replied. M. G. Teed has returned from Calh, Me.

HISTORIAN DEAD.—Andrew Archer, a well known citizen of St. John, after attending the Artillery ball in that city on Friday evening retired to his boarding house shortly before midnight and, shortly afterward expired. He was at one time Editor of the Fredericton Headlight and he wrote for several of the St. John papers. He is better known to the people of Brunswick as the author of History of Canada province in N. UNIVERSITY LONDON.—Mr. Teed, the contractor has succeeded in getting the wall up and the roof nearly covered in, with the exception of three or four days work. The undertaking was a big one, considering the lateness of the season, at which it was commenced and Mr. Teed is to be congratulated on the success which has attended his energetic efforts.

FOUR D. LIAIS AND COSTS.—William Scott, Arthur Marks, and Stanley Sears of Middle Sackville were convicted on Friday last before Magistrate Cahill in a fine of $4 and costs or thirty days imprisonment for disturbing divine worship at Bethel chapel, Middle Sackville, on the 17th December last. The fines against Sears and Marks were allowed to stand for the present on a promise of reform in this respect. Failing in this, payment will be strictly enforced.

KILLED.—James M. Rogers, nephew of Squire James Rogers of Hopewell Hill, was killed while portaging for a mining camp at Windermere, near Donald on the C. P. railway. Mr. Rogers had a six-horse team at work, and while he was adjusting the king-bolt of the wagon during a halt, the team suddenly started, the wheels of the wagon passing over him, causing death. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and was a son of the late David Rogers, who lived in Hopewell many years, but afterwards moved back to Nova Scotia, from which province his father had emigrated. The deceased left five children, N. S., for the most many years ago and has since led quite a roving life. He was unmarried.

LEGAL.—The case of P. Sarsfield McManus, against the well known contractor, J. McG. McDonald, for fraudulent disposal or conversion of moneys of the firm of McManus & McDonald, was up in the police court yesterday and further adjourned till Saturday. The firm of McManus & McDonald had a large contract on the Cape Breton railway and also the I. C. R. extension at St. John, and it was generally supposed that J. McG. McDonald was a member of the firm, but another name was used in the tender and contract and J. McG. McDonald was given a power of attorney to act for the firm. An expert book-keeper recently went to Cape Breton at the instance of McManus and the result of the investigation was ordered for the arrest of McDonald, who is now out on bail. The amount involved is understood to be several thousand dollars.

ONLY 356 POUNDS.—David A. Murphy, school teacher, was in town last week and was the observed of all observers. Mr. Murphy was about 160 lbs. He says he is taking on fat steadily and hopes to reach 160 before long. Mr. Murphy is now 52 years of age and from the old. He was born at Petrolia, Queens county, N. B., and lived with his parents on the farm until about 30 years of age.

OF LOYALIST DESCENT.

(St. John Sun.)

Mrs. Weldon, wife of the member for Albert county, is a great-granddaughter of Dr. Mather Byles, the first rector of Trinity church. A daughter of Dr. Byles married Major Hare, of the 57th regiment, who was on this station in the early part of the century. Major Hare was one of a large family of soldiers, four of whom fought at Waterloo. Not long after he left this country Major Hare was killed at his home in Ireland. This happened in 1822, the year of the "White-boys" organization, when Ireland was in an exceedingly disturbed condition. Dr. Weldon was married at Halifax last Thursday to Miss Louisa F. Hare daughter of William Hare of Dartmouth N. S.
