At the conference between C. P. R. President Van Horne and representatives of the city, Mr. Van Horne agreed to take the alternative site proposed at Ottawa the other day, namely, from Yonge to York, and south of the Union Station, between York and Simcoe, provided arrangements can be effected whereby the Grand Trunk will release its claim on land lying south of the Union Station.

At Osgoode Hall counsel on behalf of Mrs. Sarah Wilson, who formerly lived at 23 Sullivan street, issued a writ against Chas. Wilson, her husband, claiming $10 a week alimony and separation. The husband and wife separated some time ago. Mr. Wilson still lives in his house on Sullivan street.

UNDER THE SEMAPHORE.

The Dominion Government has approved of the amended plans for the Tobique Valley Railway in Northern New Brunswick.

The Erie Road has contracted with the Johnson Railroad Signal Company to equip its Jersey City yard with the interlocking system. Three towers will be built.

Thousands of men are at work on a new cut-off for the Pennsylvania between Trenton, N. J., and Dowington, Pa. The cut-off will be 40 miles long and will save ten miles of travel over the present route through Philadelphia. It will be in operation in January.

The presence in Michigan of the officials of the Grand Trunk Railroad last week, although they claimed that their trip was simply one of inspection, was looked upon by the knowing ones with much curiosity, and their movements were closely watched for any evidence of their real purpose. Rumors have been numerous recently that the Grand Trunk was seeking to extend its lines in Michigan so as to bid for a great deal of traffic directed both east and west, which now fails to the lot of other roads which reach the Saginaw Valley. The Chicago and Grand Trunk road, from Portland, Me., to Chicago, passes through Durand, but comes no nearer to the Saginaw Valley than this point. From Durand to Bay City runs the Cincinnati, Bay City and Mackinac road. This road, if operated by the Grand Trunk, would open up another direct outlet for traffic from the valley. It is now stated with apparent good reason and by parties who are so situated as to make their information authoritative, that the Grand Trunk officials on their recent tour completed a deal by which they will take possession of the Cincinnati, Saginaw and Mackinac road within a short time. Mr. W. J. Spicer, the general manager of the Chicago and Grand Trunk, was asked yesterday as to the reliability of this information. He stated that he knew nothing in regard to the deal.—[Detroit Free Press.

A Distinguished Heifer.

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Sept. 17.—Mr. Robert Young, V.S., of this town, has a Jersey heifer, 2 years old, that has been giving from five to six quarts of milk a day since May last and has never had a calf. This is said to be a most remarkable occurrence.

Business Troubles.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—These assignments in Ontario are reported by Bradstreet's mercantile agency: Upper Canada Furniture Company, Bowmanville; Flett & Clarke (D. C. Clarke only), boots and shoes, Brantford; M. D. O'Brien, wagonmaker, Oil City, to James Flintoft, Sarnia; C. E. Burris, fancy goods, Toronto; Smith Bros. (W. E. Smyth only), grocers, Toronto.

A News Agent in Trouble.

MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—R. N. O'Brien, the Montreal agent for Dunlap's Cable News Agency, to whom is attributed the sending of the dispatch about Prince George's arrest, is charged with libel. He was released on $1,800 bail. He has retained leading lawyers, and will contest the case. He states yet that he drew his information from a good source, but he thinks he was the victim of a practical joke.

In Chains for Fifteen Years.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 17.—A shocking case of inhuman treatment of the insane has been unearthed in Richland township, this county. The victim is Margaret Orr, and she has been kept by her brother on a farm near Ellenton station, on the Alleghany Valley Railroad. She is about 40 years of age and has been confined in chains in a smoke house for over fifteen years. It was with difficulty that the brother was induced to allow her removal to the Warren Asylum for the Insane, where she now is.

In a Lion's Jaws.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 17.—Wallace & Co.'s circus, which exhibited here last week, left Trinidad Saturday for Clarendon, Tex. Near Barola a number of cars jumped the track. A "hustler" sitting on the top of one of the cages with his legs dangling down the sides attracted the attention of a lion. The beast reached out with one of her claws and fixed its nails in the man's leg near the knee and stripped the flesh from the bone to the heel, and before the poor fellow could be released it was necessary to pry the beast's jaws open with iron bars.

Two Men Found Dead.

TORONTO, Sept. 16.—Jas. Buchanan, of Harwich county jail, came here to visit the Fair on Monday and applied at the Wilson House on York street for a bed. He then went to 142 York street and went to bed about 8 o'clock. This morning about 9 o'clock a friend called to see him and he was found dead in bed. He had apparently blown out the gas and been suffocated.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Sept. 16.—The dead body of a man was found on Rasburgess farm, near Woodstock, yesterday, which turned out to be that of a man by the name of D. McKay, a carpenter from Paris. No marks of violence were found on the body.

The McKinley Bill Denounced.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 17.—The Democratic State Convention met yesterday with 502 delegates in attendance. The mention of Cleveland's name by the chairman called forth great applause. A platform was adopted which declares for such a revision of the tariff as shall admit crude materials of manufacture free, and lighten the burdens upon the necessaries of life, and charges the decline of over one-half in farm values in Connecticut to the Republican tariff policy. The platform continues: "We denounce the radically unjust and panic-breeding McKinley Bill, which will increase the cost of living and reduce the cost of luxuries. It is the most outrageous measure of taxation ever prepared in the American Congress. We accept Jas. G. Blaine's interpretation of it as 'infamous.'" Luzon B. Morris was nominated for Governor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution urging that the McKinley Tariff Bill be amended so as to extend the time for removing goods now in bond to Feb. 1, 1891.

A Tight-Rope Dancer's Tumble.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—A tight-rope dancer named Weigert lost his balance-pole while performing on a rope in Victoria Park Monday. In his fall he missed the net and came violently to the ground, breaking his arms, legs and several ribs. He is in imminent danger.

Cholera on the Increase.

MADRID, Sept. 17.—The hot weather has increased the number of cholera victims in Toledo and Valencia, Spain, and has caused the appearance of the disease in many villages. The epidemic is attacking the upper classes. Most of the victims are women or children.

Bernhardt Will Dye Her Hair Black.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Mme. Bernhardt announces that she proposes to play Cleopatra with her hair dyed black and her neck and arms tinged to a dusky Egyptian hue, despite the fact that the features of Antony's favorite are said by the best authorities to have been modelled after the purest Greek type. Mme. Bernhardt also proposes to appear to kill herself nightly while caressing a snake, and has contracted with a serpent fancier at Fontainebleau for the necessary supply of reptiles.

Portugal Perturbed.

LONDON, Sept., 17.—A dispatch from Lisbon to the News says the Portuguese Cabinet has resigned, and that Chrysostomo Abren has been intrusted with the formation of a new Ministry. The Post's Lisbon correspondent says the excitement over the Anglo-Portuguese treaty continues, and there has been several riotous demonstrations. In one instance a mob attacked a police station and released all the prisoners.

It was rumored last night that an English man-of-war had arrived in the Tagus, and that the officers and men who landed were attacked by a mob and compelled to re-embark.

The Lisbon correspondent of the Times says: "In view of the agitation in the country it is believed it will be impossible for the courts to ratify the convention with England."

The Slave Trade Flourishing.

ZANZIBAR, Sept. 17.—Travelers from the coast confirm the report of the issue of a decree by the Germans at Bagamoyo authorizing traffic in slaves. The decree was signed by the German commandant and was posted at Bayamoyo and Dar-es-Salaam. The slave dealers expelled from Zanzibar have established themselves at Bagamoyo, and are doing a thriving business. It is reported that the Sultan has telegraphed to Europe for assistance.

The Berlin Post says: "The Sultan's decree prohibiting the slave traffic does not operate in German territory where under existing treaties a German commissioner exercises public power. Germany never had any intention of unqualifedly abolishing all forms of slavery. The Reichstag agreed that measures regarding slave traffic and man-hunting should be taken only by degrees with due regard to the existing order of things." Official circles and the Government newspapers take the tone of the Post in regard to the slavery question in Africa, but the Liberal press loudly condemn the action of the Government authorities at Bagamoyo.

THE WORLD OF WORK.

Fencing Out Canadians From Buffalo—Overworked Women.

The Buffalo Council has issued an order to all city contractors to employ none but residents of the city, the order, of course, being aimed at Canadians.

Pinkerton's men have been withdrawn from patrol duty on the Central road in Albany, N. Y., but there are still 200 of his men at West Albany, and 100 at East Albany.

A meeting of the Toronto Builders' Laborers' Union was held Tuesday evening, when a substantial sum of money was voted to aid the New York Central strikers.

Cluett, Coon & Co., the largest collar and shirt manufacturing company in Troy, N. Y., was fined $20 in the police court of that city for violation of the factory laws in working women over time. The factory inspectors are preparing suits against other parties for overworking minors and women, and employing children under 14 years of age.

At the Convention of the International Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors at Toledo, Ohio, 123 delegates are present, representing 81 divisions in the United States, Mexico and Canada—an increase of 44 divisions for the year. The membership is between 9,000 and 10,000. The finances of the order are in good condition.

A Schooner and Five Men Lost.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 17.—The steamer Charles Hebard reports the loss of the schooner Ben Brink with a crew of five men on the rocks off Eagle Harbor, Lake Superior.

"Three R's."

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Chauncey Depew, in his address at the State Fair, said: "In the present condition of the world organization is the necessity of existence. The farmers' organization should inscribe upon its its banners the three R's, Reciprocity, Retaliation and Revenue. So long as we maintain the protective policy we cannot object to any tariff which may be imposed equally and impartially by other Governments, but when Great Britain pretends to discover pleuro-pneumonia in our cattle, when France and Germany claim that there is trichinosis in our pork and by these subterfuges keep our live stock and our provisions out while they freely admit those of other countries, the duty becomes imperative for us to show them the application of the familiar rule, "One good turn deserves another." In my judgment we are near the bottom of the grade of agricultural depression and will soon begin to climb the other side."

THE METHODISTS.

The Quadrennial Conference Solid on the Temperance Question.

MONTREAL Sept. 17.—The proceedings of the Methodist General Conference at Montreal yesterday were principally of a receptional character. A delegation from the Dominion Temperance Alliance attended in the afternoon, and in the evening Rev. Dr. McMullen, fraternal delegate from the Irish Conference, was introduced, and made an eloquent speech, which was acknowledged by a resolution and by brief speeches from Dr. Douglas, Dr. Potts and others. The following resolution was carried unanimously.

That this Conference has listened with unbounded satisfaction to the statement of the deputation representing the Dominion Alliance, and begs to assure them and the united support and the co-agency of the Methodist Church in the future, as in the past, in their labors for the extinction of the liquor traffic, employing our influence as ministers and members of the church, our families, in our churches, and through our public and political institutions, with unwearied and ever-increasing zeal and faith, and until the great end we all seek shall have been satisfactorily accomplished.

The report on the general superintendency which was adopted in committee and stands for consideration, is as follows:

That in view of the financial position of the General Conference funds, and in view of the expressions of opinion as shown by memorials sent to this General Conference, and in view of the competency of our general superintendent to do the work as manifested during last year, we are of opinion that one general superintendent will be sufficient for the needs of our work; therefore, we recommend that the office vacated by the death of our late lamented Dr. Williams be not filled.

Rev. A. C. Courtice gave notice of a motion expressing the opinion that there should be a national system of education with scriptural and moral instruction.

Rev. James McAllister intimated that he will move to strike out part of the discipline requiring young ministers to render obedience to their elders. He will also move that the Stationing Committee be composed of not more than five members nor less than three.

Rev. A. B. Chambers also gives notice of a proposal that the stationing committees shall be composed of the general superintendent, missionary secretary, president of the annual conference and chairman of the districts within the bounds of Conference.

A report recommending that no change be made in the children's fund was adopted, after which the Conference rose.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 17.—This morning after an appeal from Mr. Bulmer, leader of the Maritime Prohibition party, the Temperance Committee unanimously resolved to ask the Conference to send a deputation to interview the Government and the Liberal leaders to learn explicitly the attitude that each party was disposed to take on the temperance question, thus forcing both parties to declare themselves.

The Education Committee discussed the disposal of the fund for training theological students. At present three-fourths go to the General Treasurer and the remaining fourth to the various conferences. Often where candidates are not forthcoming this fourth lies idle. In the future it will be divided among the conferences according to their actual need. There was nothing but committee work again this morning, and some delegates anxiously ask how long Conference will last.

Ideal Cheesemaking.

"O wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see oursels as ithers see us!
It wad frae many a blunder free us
And foolish notion."

As in the case of many a proverb there may be an exception to the poetic sentiment of Burns expressed in the lines above. Men and methods by repute may seem fairer than the reality. This idea crops up in the following conversation supposed to have taken place in the State of Wisconsin. Mr. Cheesemaker is giving one of his patrons, Farmer Brown, an idea of how they do things in Canada—for example in the Ontario cheese districts. The ADVERTISER takes pleasure in reproducing it just to show what a fine reputation we have established, and which at all costs must be maintained. By keeping up to this ideal permanent success will attend this great cheese industry of Canada. If any patron or maker is not living up to this standard, then by all means get there at once, because the Senate of the University of Wisconsin have had an eagle-eyed man, Mr. J. W. Decker, over here learning all about Canadian cheese-making, so that he can introduce the practice at home, and he may be telling tales out of school:

FARMER BROWN'S LAST KICK.

"Good morning, Mr. Brown."

Brown—Good morning Mr. Cheesemaker. Say, has that State cheese man been here again? What an awful nuisance that is, eh? And I hear he gets over $100 per month, the State paying such a humbug price to a fine-haired gentleman to come and peak his nose into our milk cans to see how clean they are, and smell and taste the milk. If I forgot to wash my can, or stir and cool the milk, I don't want everybody to know it, eh? They say he teaches the Canada system of cheesemaking. What for a system is that?

Cheesemaker—Well, Mr. Brown, I can explain that to you in a few words: You must milk your cows in a very cleanly manner, in a clean stable, into a clean tin pail, air your milk three minutes, let it stand twenty minutes, then cool it in a clean can set in a clean tank—clean, cleaner, cleanest! Can you remember that? It is the biggest word in cheesemakers' language.

Brown—Must the Canadians do all that?

Cheesemaker—Yes, sir; and if the inspector finds it is not well done, he sends the milk right back.

Brown—Oh, how glad I am I don't live in Canada.

Cheesemaker—Well, I don't know about that, Mr. Brown. If you were in Canada now you would be getting 8½ cents for cheese.

Brown—8½ cents!

Cheesemaker—Yes, 8½ cents.

Brown—Why, we only get 6 to 7 cents.

Cheesemaker—Do you think those Canadians take such good care of their milk for fun? They get handsomely well paid for it as you can see.

Brown—Well, but see here; that State cheese man is a humbug anyhow! We used to get ten pounds of cheese for 100 pounds of milk, now this fellow comes and shows you the Canada way of making cheese and makes you work three hours longer and then we get only from 6 to 9½ pounds of cheese to 100 pounds of milk. Isn't that a humbug, eh?

Cheesemaker—Well, now, see here, Mr. Brown, let me explain again. The cheese we used to make was about nine-pound cheese, containing one pound of whey, making ten pounds in all, while the Canada cheese is simply nine pound cheese with the whey all out. Our English cousins, over in old England, eat over one-half of our cheese. The whey-soaked cheese will get badly off flavor in from 30 to 60 days, so that by the time the cheese arrives there they are in such a shape that they will have to be sold at a sacrifice; while the Canadian nine-pound cheese, with all the whey out, will improve into a mellow nutty flavor for six months, and that is another reason why Canada outsells us from 1 cent to 3 cents per pound.

Brown—I always thought we were as sharp as the Canadians.

Cheesemaker—O yes; the fact is that we are too sharp, and think of too many deceitful Yankee tricks. We wanted to sell our cousins over there one pound of whey with every nine pounds of cheese, and we got justly punished for it. While the Canadians got richly rewarded for their splendid system of cheese making.

Brown—Say, Cheesemaker, when will that cheese instructor come again?

Cheesemaker—O, he will be over here pretty soon to test our milk to see if there are any rascals in this vicinity watering and skimming.

Brown—Say, you tell that cheese instructor to stay longer when he comes again, will you? We can't afford to sell our cheese for 6 cents any longer.

Cheesemaker—Now, Mr. Brown, let me explain one more point, and then I am done. As you all know, most all cheese factories in Wisconsin make cheese on this plan: 4 cent goes for supplies and incidental expenses, 1 cent goes to the manufacturer and the rest the farmer gets. Now, don't you see all the benefit of good cheese making is the farmer's profit? I hope you will be shard enough to see the point and ask the Legislature to appropriate money for cheese instructors for the benefit of the farmer. Good-bye, and don't dream too much of cheese instructors.—[A. Schoenman, Plain, Wis., in Hoard's Dairyman.

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a preparation for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early? Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

A. DORENWEND,

The Goderich Fair.

GODERICH, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Northwestern Fair is open. The number of entries is larger than at any previous exhibition held here, and a number of novelties have been introduced, which are proving attractive. A beautiful aquarium has been erected in the heart of the pavilion, which, with its full streams in play and display of fish, turtles and a live Florida alligator, has been a great point of interest. The Wild West Show by Broncho John and his company of cowboys also proved a great attraction, and the drill of the temperance cadets, under Capt. Stewart, is a pleasing exhibition.

Extending the Experimental Farm's Usefulness.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—The Executive Committee of the Central Farmers' Institute met yesterday. In the absence of N. Awrey, M.P.P., president, the vice-president, Mr. T. Lloyd Jones, Burford, occupied the chair. Prof. Shaw, of the Guelph Experimental Farm, suggested how to make field experiments more useful to farmers. He pointed out that the experiments made at the Guelph College were valuable only to a limited section, and the varied natures of the soils in the different parts of the Province made it impossible that they could be otherwise. For instance, Manchester wheat at the college last year and this year rusted badly and was not worth growing. But in Middlesex county the results were different and that variety of wheat did very well. The remedy Prof. Shaw suggested was that the Government obtain ten acres in three or four parts of the Province, where field experiments could be carried an under the direction of the officers of the Ontario College. The results received from the different parts of the Province would be much more reliable and a safer guide to the Ontario farmers generally.

The discussion showed that members were generally favorable to the putting into operation of the scheme. The proposal to add fruit-growing to the range of experiments at the proposed stations, was unanimously passed on the consideration of the Central Institute.

Sing a song of sixpence,
The price of "Diamond Dyes;"
The fairest of all colors,
That please the ladies' eyes;
They happy make each mother,
Each wife and daughter true;
And all tell one another,
What "Diamond Dyes" can do
So sing a song of sixpence
For what these dyes have done,
In giving glorious colors,
That hold in rain or sun.

"TUNNEL TOWN."

Sarnia as It Is and as It Promises To Be.

A Live Business Town and a Budding Pleasure Resort.

The G. T. R. Company Gives the Residents a Forty-Acre Park.

Sarnia, at the southern boundary of which the St. Clair tunnel takes its start from the Canadian side, is a good deal talked about these days, but it is a town which will be heard more of in the future. There is every reason to believe that it will continue to progress. In the past the advancement of the town has been steady. The moneyed men who make up the backbone of the place, commercially speaking, have invariably frowned down any attempt at a boom, and in the long run they have proved their wisdom. A boom may help a few land speculators, but it is demoralizing to the majority of persons who get caught in it, and rarely results in any permanent benefit to the place in which it runs its course. Sarnia, as the capital of the ably-farmed county of Lambton, is a prosperous commercial point. Its merchants are good buyers and good sellers, and though it has comparatively few factories those that exist are run by men who know how to make the most of their opportunities, even in these days of restricted markets and consequent dullness in business. Municipally the town has been fairly well managed. Though the taxes are at present 2 cents on the dollar, the people have a good deal to show for them. The town is well drained, and it has good waterworks. The supply is obtained from the St. Clair River, near the bay, and far enough above the outlet of the main sewer to reassure most people on the question of its purity. There is a trouble, however, in the fact that navigation of the river renders it a somewhat dangerous operation to keep a water pipe in the stream, where it is liable to be injured by the anchors of vessels when being brought to a halt opposite the town. The taxpayers, when they make up their minds to a change, can easily alter conditions for the better, and provide for

from Lake Huron, just beyond the village of Point Edward, which can readily be supplied by the same main. At comparatively little expense, when contrasted with the advantages to be derived, could the change be brought about. Point Edward will one of these days unite its fortunes with Sarnia, just as Fort Gratiot will become a portion of Port Huron, on the opposite banks of the river, and then Sarnia will be added to the list of progressive cities contained within the borders of Ontario. First will come Windsor, with Sandwich united, then Sarnia, with Point Edward as a northern suburb. At present, the only thing that separates the two places is Sarnia's new park—a fine stretch of 40 acres, the northern confines of which lie contiguous to the borders of "the Point." This park was recently donated to Sarnia by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and a splendid present it is. It faces on the bay shore, and is of especial value to citizens, inasmuch as it is the only strip of unoccupied land on the water front between the lake shore and the vacant space below the St. Clair tunnel. The land is rather low-lying, but the enterprising park commissioners speedily devised a scheme that has not only thoroughly drained the park, but has added to its natural attractions, and they are considerable. With a steam dredge a right around the park, the fall in the land making it possible to have a steady stream, several feet deep running from the bay on the northern limits to the southern end, where it again empties into the bay. With the earth obtained from the cutting a fine carriage drive is being built around the park, and all hollows have been filled up. The canal drainage is supplemented with tile drains in various parts of the park, and the result is a beautiful pleasure resort in embryo, at infinitesimal cost. In the north-western corner a splendid half-mile track has been laid out. Further down nearer the lake, a pavilion, with all modern improvements, capable of accommodating 2,000 persons, has been constructed, from the top of which a magnificent view of the bay and surroundings can be obtained. There are several clumps of trees, under which picnicking parties may assemble, and at the bay-side, on a shelving beach, to meet the desires of all sorts of bathers, are bathing houses for both sexes. The street railway to Point Edward interfering with the symmetry of the park, it has been arranged to carry its track round by the back, instead of along the shore. These improvements are but a beginning. When the park is completed, it will form one of the

COMMODIOUS CANAL HAS BEEN CUT

and will be available not only for the citizens of Sarnia and Point Edward, but for pleasures-seekers from all over Western Ontario. The Grand Trunk Railway will put down a platform at the grounds and run its excursion trains right into the heart of the park. The generosity of the company in donating the grounds in fee simple, so long as it does not require them for railway purposes—and with the tunnel now built that seems to be a most improbable thing—is highly appreciated by the citizens with one or two exceptions, who perhaps would have proved objectors in any case. It is likely that the people will show their appreciation of the kindness of the G. T. R. General Manager by naming the ground "The Hickson Park." One of the most enthusiastic advocates of the scheme which has so nearly reached fruition is Mr. Harry Gorman, proprietor of the Observer, and a former member of the ADVERTISER staff. He has secured a magnificent lot near the park, on which he is constructing a handsome residence. Lots in the vicinity of the park have already been enhanced in value, and the Sarnians may look for a steady stream of new settlers on available sites all around the park. The grounds are managed by a Board of Park Commissioners, nominated by the Mayor, under the provisions of the Ontario Parks Act. That measure empowers the commissioners to make a requisition on the Council for a tax for park purposes to the extent of ½ of a mill on the dollar. Municipalities are authorized to spread their debentures over from 20 to 30 years, but the Park Commissioners can borrow money, to be paid back, principal and interest, in 40 years. Thus the future generation, which will be so much advantaged by the forethought of their fathers, will be called upon to pay a modicum of the expense—a very fair proposition. The Sarnia Park Commissioners have borrowed $12,000 with which to lay out their park. With an assessment of ½ mill they can at present raise $900 a year. Out of this they will pay $600 towards clearing off the debt, and the other $300 will be devoted to running expenses. As the population grows and the assessable value of the town increases, the amount at the disposal of the commissioners will be enhanced, and in 40 years the entire indebtedness will be cleared off. The completion of the park will no doubt result in making Sarnia more and more

A RESORT FOR EXCURSIONISTS.

For the past two summers the Grand Trunk Railway Company has run a special cheap excursion to the town once a week, and residents of London and other points along the Sarnia branch have liberally patronized it. With the additional attraction of a splendid free pleasure grounds and ample bathing facilities, the natural advantages of Sarnia will become more marked and the excursion traffic will be greatly augmented. All around Sarnia there are excellent sites for summer cottages and for camping parties. Enterprising Londoners and others already occupy the ground in part, but there is room for many more. Down at Stag Island, five miles below Sarnia, good camping grounds for adults are available with fine swimming facilities. Mr. Halle, of London, and his friend Waugh Lauder camped there last summer. On the shores of Lake Huron, about two and a half miles north of the town, there is a fine large hotel, which has been successfully run by a London manager this season. If the merits of the establishment were better advertised it would be crowded from its opening to the close. In the same vicinity, Judge Davis, of London, Mr. D. M. Cameron, Strathroy, Mr. Atkinson and Mr. Donnelly, Detroit, and Mr. Charles Mackenzie, M.P., have built houses, while two of Petrolea's well-known citizens—Mr. Moncrieff, M.P., and Mr. Frank Smith—have acquired lots, and, it is reported, will soon add to the number of pretty cottages in the neighborhood. One of on the St. Clair is the ease with which short trips can be made on the water. There are few more delightful rivers than this magnificent stream, and a sail to Detroit and back or to one of the many attractive places along either bank is not only exhilarating but positively health-giving. If thought advisable, the trip can be extended to Lake Huron on one side or Lake Erie on the other. Then the tremendous traffic of all kinds of craft that is continually passing up and down the river aids in keeping the holiday-makers from wearying when resting on shore. Sarnia is bound to go ahead.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

The Stratford tax rate has been fixed at 21 mills.

There were 200 loads of barley weighed on the market scales at Guelph Tuesday.

The Guelph market fees have been sold to Mr. D. Spragge for the sum of $1,850.

Mr. Mook, the contractor for the natural gas well at Stratford, reports the prospects as very encouraging.

Mrs. Angus Beattie, of Westminster, who has been quite ill for some time, is rapidly improving in health.

The Windsor Building and Land Company (limited), with a capital stock of $100,000, has been incorporated.

Only one of the Pond Mills cheese factory patrons has been caught this year watering his milk, and after being warned he thought it better to send the milk pure.

Wm. Thompson, who was convicted at Stratford of having stolen a horse some time ago from Mr. G. M. Doe, of Goderich, has been sentenced to five years at Kingston penitentiary.

Newton Kemp, convicted of shooting Joseph Reid at a Crighton Beach colored dance, was sentenced by Magistrate Bartlet, of Windsor, to the Central Prison at Toronto for nine months.

The body of Wm. McMaugh was discovered floating in the St. Clair River Monday morning by two Indians from the Sarnia Reserve. It was shipped to St. Catharines, his former home.

An Aylmer correspondent to the St. Thomas Journal writes: Wm. Holmes, of Malahide, dropped dead Monday while at work for John Chalk. The cause of death is supposed to have been heart disease.

Sharp Butterfield, of Windsor, who was superintendent and judge of poultry at the Detroit Exposition, was presented on behalf of the exhibitors, with a gold pen and pencil; also a cake basket for Mrs. Butterfield.

A sneak thief has been operating around Port Burwell of late. On Saturday night he broke into the residence of Geo. Cameron and stole a valuable watch and a pair of boots. He also ransacked the cellar of Nelson Van Amburg.

Robt. McDonald, was presented with an elegant hanging lamp, a pretty teapot of china and silver, and a fine carving knife and fork the other day by the employes of Kloepfer & Co., Guelph, he being a highly respected traveler of that firm, and about to join the benedicts' ranks.

G. J. Reynolds, committed for trial on two charges of indecent assault upon little girls at St. Thomas recently, has been released on bail, himself in $1,000 and two sureties of $500 each. His sureties were Ald. J. P. Martyn and his son-in-law, Mr. John E. McGregor, M. C. R. conductor.

The Hendersons, father and son, were before the County Judge Tuesday, when the Judge, who evidently believed it was the old man who stole the horse, discharged the younger and sentenced the father to 23 months and 23 days in Central Prison, the sentence to commence at the expiration of his present term, 43 months in Woodstock jail for stealing the guns from his son.—[St. Thomas Journal.

Mr. Trato has started to work in the Opera House, touching up the scenery and painting new scenes for the opening, which is expected about Oct. 2.

A VOICE FROM THE FARM.

The High Tax Fraud Exposed By a London Township Man.

Who Pays the Duty? Who is Fleeced? and Who is Profited?

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

A recent number of the Free Press states "that the Government cannot raise the price of the farmers' produce, as that is fixed by competition, but no one can deny that the Government can assist the industries." Very true; but the question that most interests us is, at whose expense is this assistance given? One case will illustrate both:

The Millers' Association had 50 cents protection on a barrel of flour. This did not satisfy. They went to the Government to be assisted and got 75 cents per barrel. Now for the two questions:

1. Did it increase the price of the farmers' wheat? Certainly not. The price of wheat (as the Free Press states) is fixed by foreign competition. Who then is benefited? The millers.

2. At whose expense? Certainly every member of the Government who purchases a barrel of flour assists the industry. So does every laboring man who purchases a barrel of flour. He must labor more hours or the children must eat less bread. Why this unjust labor and uncalled for privation? To assist the millers. Were we not told that the Government assisted the industry? Yea, verily, they do by unjust legislation, oppressing the poor. The millers have received their reward. We will next consider how the Government receives their reward. Will these millers be independent electors? Certainly not; there is a price paid for them. Whether that price may be sufficient to purchase them all or not, I do not know, but this I do know, that as long as individuals receiving Government assistance be allowed to vote, purity of elections are not possible. Every person being a member of a corporation or company receiving Government aid must be for the time deprived of the use of the franchise in the election of that Government. I wish also to call attention to another statement I saw in one of the numbers of the Weekly Free Press. In speaking of the McKinley Bill it states that "as in the past the Canadian farmer would not pay the 30 per cent. duty on horses, but that the American would have to pay the duty." Allow me to state one case. Mr. H. B. Kennedy, of Ilderton, took a very fancy carriage team to the World's Fair at Philadelphia. When he crossed the American line he gave bond that if he sold the team he would pay duty. He took highest honors and has a beautiful medal, honor not only to himself but to Canada. He sold the team for $1,500 in gold, came back to the American lin and paid the duty in gold. Now the Free Press might reason with Mr. Kennedy for 127 years, but would fail to convince him that some Yankee paid the duty for him.

A hundred cases might be named, but just allow me space to name another. You will remember that winter the binding twine combine called upon the Government. They had then 25 per cent. protection, but they convinced the Government that 25 per cent. would not keep out the American twine, so the Government gave them 30 per cent. protection, or to be plain, gave them the power to rob the farmers 30 cents on the dollar for all the twine they purchased. Now, suppose some Scotch, English or Irish-American came over from Buffalo just as the fall wheat was about ready to cut and offered manilla twine for 8 or 9 cents per pound, would your Conservative farmers — Scotch, English, Irish or Canadians—say, "No I will not encourage flooding the country with cheap goods; I must buy from a Canadian firm and pay 14 cents." "But," says the American, "that would impoverish you." "Oh! never mind me," says the self-sacrificing Canadian Conservative, "let me go to the dogs; it will help the binding combine and strengthen that beautiful policy of robbing one citizen to enrich another and fill our beloved country with Governmental paupers."

PRIZE FARMS.

Awards of the Agriculture and Arts Association.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association yesterday, communications were read from Hon. Chas. Drury, resigning his position as a member of the council and appointing Mr. Sissons, of Crown Hill, in his place; and from Mr. J. C. Ford, secretary of the Institute of Jamaica, asking for the association's assistance in holding an exhibition of modern farriery at an early date. Messrs. Hobson & Donaldson reported that the following awards had been made in the prize farm competition:

North York—Chas. J. Brodie, Bethesda, gold medal.

East Simcoe—John A. Swan, Penetanguishene, silver medal.

East Simcoe—Chas. Rankin, Penetanguishene, bronze medal.

South Simcoe—W. F. Fraser, Bradford, silver medal.

West Simcoe—Henry Parkhouse, Crown Hill, silver medal.

West Durham—Thos. Pascoe, Solina, silver medal.

The letter from Mr. Drury, resigning his position, was received with expressions of regret. A resolution was passed expressing congratulation at the appointment of Hon. John Dryden as Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. It was also resolved:

That, whereas we the members of this board have observed with satisfaction the comprehensive nature of the work in the grain and other field experiments which are now being conducted at the Guelph College Farm; we also take pleasure in expressing our satisfaction with the careful manner in which these experiments are at present being conducted and we are convinced that they cannot but prove of much service to the country; we are satisfied that if these experiments were confirmed by repeating them on exactly the same lines in other parts of the country their value would be greatly increased.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the Minister of Agriculture to press upon his attention the necessity which exists for the adoption of some such scheme as that indicated in the resolution.

The Zurich Show.

At the annual Fair of the Hay Agricultural Society at Zurich the inside department was good, and well filled in all its branches. The outside was better than ever before. The crowd was unusually large, and the receipts at the gate exceeded any previous year. The membership has also increased, which puts the society on a good footing. On the whole the show was a success.

Miss Tancock has removed her dressmaking establishment to 180 Dundas street over Allaster's bookstore. She will be pleased to see all her old customers in her new place of business, and also solicits the custom of those ladies who have not yet called. b

THE BOON OF RECIPROCITY.

Reciprocity would cause a general revival in business of every description as soon as a treaty was entered on.

Not a Canadian farmer, not a manufacturer engaged outside the combines, but would feel the benefits of it.

Workingmen, wage-earners of every description, would have steadier work and better pay.

Reciprocity would secure a better market and more money for Canadian horses.

Reciprocity would bring a greater demand for Canadian cattle, sheep and poultry, and higher prices would be paid.

Reciprocity would increase the value of every farm in Ontario, because of the steadier market for perishable products and of many animals now annually sent to the States.

Reciprocity would so develop legitimate Canadian industries as to secure for them almost unparalleled prosperity.

Reciprocity would make Western Ontario—the finest farming section on the continent—blossom as the rose.

Under reciprocity instead of an average of 50 families a month leaving the London district for the States, we would have a steady influx of settlers from the neighboring Republic, ready and able to turn their purse and their energy to account in developing our latent natural resources.

Through reciprocity, the population of London would speedily number 70,000 or 80,000, instead of less than half 70,000, as now.

Under reciprocity with its great natural advantages, splendid railway facilities and fine farming surroundings, the city would advance beyond precedent. Its prosperity would be shared in by the entire population, as was the case when the last reciprocity treaty was in force.

Reciprocity would help the western towns and villages as well as London, though probably not to as great an extent. The increased prosperity of the agricultural class would, however, react favorably upon everybody who had anything to sell, whether labor or goods, and all would be benefited by the extension of trade.

Reciprocity would be a boon to every Canadian. If not looked upon as a political question, it would be indorsed by nine-tenths of the people. Every person, exclusive of the monopolists and their apologists, in and out of Parliament would favor it.

Where is the honest man who will say that it would be an injury to Canadians or their neighbors to trade as freely as is possible with each other? The people of neither will trade if it is not advantageous to them as individuals. They would be very foolish if they did not either buy or sell if they were to be benefited. We may rest assured that the people of neither place will exchange products, which is all that there is in trade, unless it profits both parties to the transaction.

The man who works against reciprocity, or who is even willing to support any half-hearted or limited reciprocity advocate for public office stands in his own light, and is aiding to perpetuate that most undesirable state of affairs which has done so much to retard the growth and prosperity of the Dominion.

People may contrive to exist on the "short commons" incident to the foolish restrictionist policy, but under reciprocity they would not only exist, but live well, and be enabled to lay by a penny for a rainy day.

Reciprocity makes; restrictionism mars.

Reciprocity brings good times; restrictionism brings prolonged periods of hard times and of impoverishment of the people.

Reciprocity is so manifestly just and profitable that nothing can stay its progress. Even the Government of the combines will have to step down and out when the Canadian people fully comprehend the situation. They have many object lessons these days. They will have more before the winter is over.

Reciprocity must carry the day, because it is equitable and would be profitable to the peoples of both countries.

—Ought rich men to be attacked merely for being rich? The Central Labor Union in New York lately adopted a resolution denouncing the members of the Vanderbilt family by name for spending thousands of dollars in frivolities at Newport; but what would the leaders of the Central Labor Union think if they were denounced by a meeting of houseless wanderers for indulging in occasional recreations and amusements impossible to those who beg from door to door? If it is a crime to be rich, it is a crime to try to be rich, and of that few workingmen are innocent. The true test must be the use made of money, whether the amount in possession be great or small.

A BLOW AT GAMBLING.

There is will power enough in the United States legislative bodies to pass good laws; if there is any drawback at all it lies in the apathy of the public which fails to see that the moral measures are properly enforced. A very good proof of what can be done in the way of providing laws for combatting a demoralizing traffic on the credulity of the people has just been supplied by the passage of the Anti-Lottery Bill by Congress. The bill was first passed by the House of Representatives; now it has received the unanimous indorsement of the Senate, and will undoubtedly be signed by the President and become law.

When this change is brought about, the Louisiana Lottery Company and kindred undertakings will be confronted with so many difficulties that it will be next to impossible for them to carry on their fleecing operations if public sentiment is at all alive to the enforcement of the law. Any newspaper which uses the mails for reaching its subscribers will not care to advertise a lottery, for such an infraction of the law would result in its being deprived of that privilege. In addition to this, heavy penalties can be collected from papers which in any way aid the lotterymen. Indeed, the only agency through which a lottery manager can communicate with the public is through the express companies, for no information, tickets or money can be sent through the mails. It is just possible, too, that the express companies will yet be deprived of the right to act as agents of the lotteries, but when the matter was before Congress the right to prohibit them was contested, and it was thought well not to vitiate an otherwise good measure by running any risk of having it declared unconstitutional. The same doubt was also raised as to the right of the United States Government to seize foreign newspapers, containing lottery advertisements, when sent into that country, and that point was not pressed. But the measure will no doubt be pretty effective in retarding the gambling spirit and saving people from the effects of their own folly.

The hope of getting something for nothing—of being the lucky one to snatch a prize of a few thousands for an investment of a couple of dollars—is a fascinating one. But then it should not be lost sight of that for one that receives a return of any kind hundreds of thousands are doomed to disappointment, the spirit of avarice is fostered in many, and sturdy, manly independence and determination to earn an honest living is no longer deemed desirable. No self-respecting people can stand by and see such results without protest, followed by action. The United States Congress has not moved to render the business of these lottery sharks difficult, if not impossible, a moment too soon.

But if lotteries are to be effectually suppressed, as it is in the interest of the people that they should be, the Federal authorities must have the sympathy of the State authorities as well. In Louisiana, they cannot expect to have that assistance, for the crafty lottery managers have agreed to share their plunder, to the amount of a couple of millions or so every year, with the State Government. So huge a bribe is a great temptation to a not too rich community, but even Louisiana will tire of the arrangement, and find it far from being as profitable as its indorsers now imagine, if outside States and countries, in their own interest, honestly enforce laws to combat the lottery managers, and compel them to look for their gains to the people who profit by their operations. Almost the whole of the subsidy guaranteed to the State by the lottery men is collected from credulous persons living outside of Louisiana; if the people of that State alone contributed to the coffers of the lotteries they would very soon tire of the transaction.

Snowless and tepid summer cometh on,
Mudless and warm, chill, humid fall is here.

The Mormons believe that the United States protectionists are their friends. According to the Republican Salt Lake Tribune, it was the polygamist vote in Wyoming which won that territory for the Republicans in the recent Congressional elections. It will be interesting to know what the inducements were which brought about this coalition.

—Ingersoll is considering the best means of disposing of its sewage. The Chronicle warns the citizens not to run the sewers into the River Thames. It says that the sewage system to be adopted must not have the river as an objective point, as the Provincial Board of Health would not permit the disposal of the refuse in that manner.

That was a proud claim that Hon. G. W. Ross made for the Province of Ontario at the opening of the Hamilton Public Library. Speaking after the Earl of Aberdeen the Minister of Education pointed out that Ontario was the Premier Province, the center of trade in Canada, and the first Province in educational interests. Too bad that so fine a Province should be "cribbed, cabined and confined" by an absurd restrictionist trade policy.

—Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Hector Langevin are at their old tricks. They gave the loan of their names to the Canadian Dead Meat scheme, which resulted so disastrously to British investors and caused many a hard word to be said about the Dominion. They are now indorsing a crazy project to build a railway through the wilds of Labrador. It is too bad that public men, for a consideration, should be willing to indorse schemes that are almost certain to be doomed to failure. Canada cannot afford to have any doubtful enterprises promoted by the agency of those having the ear of the Government.

—Great preparations are in progress in Scotland for receiving Mr. Gladstone when he visits the North next month. The Liberal leader is expected to reach Edinburgh on October 20. He will be met by Lord Rosebery, and driven out to the Scottish residence of that peer at Dalmeny, where he will be a guest for ten days. During this time he will address three meetings—probably at Edinburgh, West Calder and Dalkeith—and should further meetings be found necessary arrangements will be made accordingly. At the close of his Midlothian engagements, Mr. Gladstone will in all likelihood visit his nephew, Sir John R. Gladstone, at Fasque, Kincardineshire. On his way thither he will stop at Dundee to receive the freedom of that radical city, probably on Wednesday or Thursday, the 28th or 29th of October. His visit to Dundee will, it is understood, be of a purely non-political character.

If a community desires to progress, or even to maintain supremacy, it should encourage enterprise. AN ERROR CORRECTED.

Port Huron Times.

There are some facts with regard to the shipment of United States produce across the border at Port Huron, Detroit, and perhaps other points, which are misleading. In the statistics, as usually published, it would appear that all the grain, cured meats, etc., which cross the border into Canada are taken by the people of the Dominion for their own use. This is an error. As a matter of fact fully three-fifths of all such shipments from the United States into Canada is for export to England. This being so, it follows that Canada has been credited with receiving and consuming a much larger proportion of United States produce than it actually does use.

RECIPROCITY ONLY ANOTHER NAME FOR TARIFF REFORM.

St. Paul Pioneer Press (Rep.)

Reciprocity means tariff reduction and tariff reform. Only the name, not the substance, suffers change. Therefore it has caught the West and Northwest by a word. Therefore it is recognized and accepted by the people everywhere. Therefore convention after convention declares for it, as consistent with the highest national interest and with the ancient, true and accepted creed of Republicanism. And in its instant and universal popularity the builders of excessive duties and Chinese-Wall tariffs ought to read the verdict of the nation. This overwhelming sentiment is not unnoticed or unfelt at Washington. Already there are half a dozen amendments pending to the Tariff Bill, all looking towards a modification in the direction of reciprocity.

BY a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fullness, and beauty of the hair.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has caused my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Bishopville, Md.

NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY

A Great Blood Purifier

A Sure Cure for Dyspepsia

A Medical Triumph!

HOW THE HEALTH OF ONE OF BELLEVILLE'S CITIZENS WAS RESTORED.

Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia.

MR. SAMUEL T. CASEY, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies, and applied to my physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of Dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever, except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. NORTHROP AND LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now seventy-nine years of age, I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well known in this section of Canada, having lived here fifty-seven years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case."

A Very Bad Case!

DYSPEPSIA VANQUISHED.

MR. JAMES JOHNSTON, 4th con., 7th lot, Amaranth, writes: "Two bottles of NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY cured me of Dyspepsia. Mine was a bad case and I had tried a number of other preparations without getting any benefit from them."

Dyspepsia Had to Go.

MR. W. J. DEYELL, Wingham, carpenter and builder, writes: "Three years ago I was greatly troubled with Dyspepsia; a pain between my shoulders was so bad that I thought I would have to quit work altogether. No medicine gave me ease until I got a bottle of NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which gave me relief. I continued using the medicine until I had taken three bottles, when I was perfectly well. I consider it invaluable as a cure for Dyspepsia. I know of several persons who have used it with the same benefit."

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS IN LONDON.

Something About Their Principles and Practices.

Interview with a Member of the Faith in the City.

Mr. Robb Explains the Science to a Reporter—Claims the Power of Healing by Prayer—Possible to Overcome Death Itself—People Who Have Been Treated.

For some time the public of London have been aware that a certain sect, calling themselves "Christian Scientists" have been residing in the city and it has also come to their knowledge that the "Scientists" profess to practice the healing art through the divine power, dispensing with any material aid, and in a manner which seems like unto the miracles performed by the apostles of old; but as to the exact principles and peculiarities of belief upon which "Christian Science" is founded, and the tenets which they claim as supporting their assumption to these curative powers with the modus operandi of the same, the majority of the people are not enlightened.

With a view to ascertaining something about these people for the edification of the public, an ADVERTISER reporter called on one of its members, Mr. Robb, who resides at 465 Queen's avenue. He was shown to a room and was met at the door by Mr. Robb, a young man of short stature, apparently about 20 years of age and wearing a frock coat. He received his visitor cordially, shook hands and invited him to a seat. The reporter then explained that his motive in calling was to secure from him a few plain statements relative to what "Christian Science" was. Mr. Robb intimated his readiness to impart the desired information and the conversation commenced.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. ROBB.

"How long have you lived in the city, Mr. Robb?" was the first question.

"About eight months. I came from Toronto where we have 100 students. In the United States we have 100,000 adherents."

"Are you the only member of the faith in London?"

"I'm the only one who practices the science medicinally, although there are a few other believers here."

"Do you mind naming them?"

"Well, there's Mr. William Rose, the road master of the C. P. R., and his wife, besides the lady of this house, Mrs. Geo. Kellum, who is out at present. They're the only 'Christian Scientists' in the city to my knowledge, except myself. Of course we have a Bible class every Sunday afternoon in my rooms here, with an attendance of over twenty people, to whom we expound our doctrine."

CASES OF CURE.

"You profess to deal with sickness by your own method of treatment, I believe. Have you had any patients under your care?"

"Yes; quite a number have applied to me."

"Have you effected cures in most cases?"

"Yes; in fact, it is the work which brings the people here."

"Have you any objection to naming some of these?" persisted the reporter.

Mr. Robb demurred a few moments and then said: "Well, the lady of the house, Mrs. Kellum, for one. She was pronounced to be in consumption and consulted the best physicians in the land, among them Dr. Aikens, of Toronto, and others, and they all gave her up. She was then treated by us in Toronto and subsequently by me here and is now as well as I am."

"Were there any others?" pursued the inquisitive scribe.

Mr. Robb admitted that the family of Mr. Thos. C. Higgins could give some information respecting the efficacy of their treatment. He said he had attended one of the daughters, who had been cured.

In answer to further questions he could not recollect any other patients residing in the city, but stated that many came from the surrounding country, especially from Dorchester.

THE METHOD OF TREATMENT.

"Now, Mr. Robb, as regards your method of treatment will you kindly enlighten me a little?"

"Certainly; but to the first place it is necessary to understand the principles of 'Christian Science.' 'Christian' means pertaining to Christ, and 'science,' knowledge, therefore the words literally mean 'knowledge pertaining to Christ.' We acknowledge the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, and the atonement of Christ and base our belief entirely on the Bible. Sickness or death we look upon as errors caused by sin, which, we believe, can be overcome."

"Do I infer that the tenets of your faith and belief hold that physical death is a thing which may be avoided by mortal man?" inquired the reporter, somewhat astonished at this assertion.

"That is our doctrine. You know Christ says the last enemy to be destroyed is death, and of course we believe that man will overcome sin and sickness and everything else before conquering death. The Savior also says: 'He that keepeth my sayings shall never see death.' We contend that this is not confined to spiritual death only, but to physical also."

"Is prayer your sole method in dealing with your patients?"

"It is. Prayer is the highest power, but the cures are wrought by God through our instrumentality. The object is to bring the patient's mind in harmony with the divine mind to a correct understanding of what God is, which manifests itself in health. When the subject is brought into this state an effectual change in bodily condition is, according to our belief, a necessary consequence."

DO NOT LAY ON HANDS.

"Do you use no external means at all in your treatment, such as the 'laying on of hands' and forms ascribed to other sects, said to be similar in principle to your own?"

"No, nothing but prayer, although the Latter Day Saints practice 'anointing by oil' and 'laying on of hands.'"

"Now, it has been rumored that a certain clergyman in the city has secretly professed conversion to your belief. Is there any truth in the report?"

Mr. Robb appeared embarrassed for a moment.

"Well," he admitted, "there is a minister who tried our course of treatment, but he never said he had been brought about to believe our doctrine, although I heard he had told somebody else that he had done so."

"There could be no harm in mentioning the name of the reverend gentleman."

"I am not at liberty to inform you. He is out of the city at present."

"Attending the Montreal Conference, I suppose," casually remarked his questioner.

But Mr. Robb was not to be caught that way and maintained silence.

COST TO PATIENTS.

"Do you charge your patients the same as a physician?"

"Our regular fee is $1 a visit to those who can afford to pay it, but I attend many poor people and as a consequence have many free patients."

"Do you impose a fee when no cure has been effected?"

"Well, we charge for our time, certainly. If more than one visit is necessary we go as many times as required."

Mr. Robb further stated that a public lecture would shortly be delivered by a prominent "Christian Scientist," and application had been made for Victoria Hall, which was under consideration. He handed the reporter some literature of "Christian Scientist" persuasion, including the organ of the sect, the "Journal," published monthly in Boston, and politely bowed him out.

MRS. ROSE CONVERSES.

The residence of Mrs. Wm. Rose, 142 Mill street, was next visited. Mrs. Rose was at home, and the reporter found her a most estimable lady, perfectly willing to communicate to him anything regarding her belief, in which she seemed thoroughly sincere.

In reply to a question, she stated that Mr. Robb, her husband and herself were the only "Christian Scientists" to her knowledge in the city.

"Were you converted to the faith by Mr. Robb?"

"Oh, no; Mr. Rose and I studied with Mrs. Stewart, our leader in Toronto, before coming here?"

"Do you know of any cures effected by your 'science'?"

"Yes; myself, for instance. I was troubled for years with a complaint which the best physicians in Toronto pronounced to be chronic. We thought it would be as well to spend a little money in trying what was called 'Christian Science' as waste it on the doctors, so I began to take their course, more as an experiment than anything else. From the first I began to recover, and after a few treatments I was as well as ever. It is two years and six months since I have used any medicine."

"Did the cure lead you to adopt your present belief?"

"Yes; Mr. Rose and I then felt that our lot was with the 'Christian Scientists.' We joined them, and our studies have confirmed us in our decision. We are not of that class who are blown about with every theological wind."

DIFFERENT FROM FAITH CURE.

"What is the difference, Mrs. Rose, between the principle on which your sect and the so-called 'faith curists' practice bodily healing?"

"My conception is this: The 'faith carists' claim 'faith' only, as necessary, while, in addition, we require 'understanding' in the patient, who must be brought to that realization."

"Mr. Robb informs me that according to their creed, death may be overcome. Do you entertain the same doctrine?"

DEATH CAN BE OVERCOME.

"Yes; Christ did so, and God says that man was made in his own image and after his own likeness."

"That literally means, then, that mortal man can live forever. Do you not also apply this in a spiritual sense?"

"Well, we don't count much on the body. We believe that all human beings are sprits, reflecting God. Sickness and death are the works of Satan, and the Heavenly Father has power to overcome these."

"You have a Bible class at Mr. Robb's every Sunday, if I mistake not?"

"Yes; we have regular attendants. Of course 'Christian Science' is something which requires deep study to thoroughly comprehend, and cannot be explained in a mere conversation. Again, one who practices the healing art, besides being versed and learned in the 'Christian Science' doctrine, must be thoroughly earnest in his belief; otherwise there will be no efficacy in his prayers."

A CLERICAL PATIENT.

"I have heard there is a clergyman here who has been treated by your method,"

"You mean Rev. Mr. Fife. I don't mind telling you; it's no secret in London. He has been taking our treatment, and although he never professed conversion, he studied 'Christian Science' and has some of our literature."

The visitor thanked Mrs. Rose for her kindness and was accorded a pleasant "Good afternoon."

A YOUNG WOMAN CURED.

For the purpose of corroboration, the same individual called at Mr. Hodgins' store, and was met by Mrs. Hodgins, who asked him to be seated, when he explained the object of his visit.

"I have been told that Mr. Robb has effected a cure in your family, Mrs. Hodgins?"

"Yes; my daughter was under his treatment and is much benefited."

"What was the complaint?"

"Well, there was a complication of diseases. She had been constantly afflicted for eight years, sometimes so badly that she could hardly walk across the floor, although she was generally able to be around and work."

"Did you try the physicians?"

"Yes; we had several, but they never improved her."

"Do you think she is permanently cured?"

"Well, I will not say she has entirely recovered. These things must be assisted by nature, you know; but she is certainly much better, and is able to go to work."

"How many treatments did she take?"

"Oh, she went just when she felt like it. The cost of the course was far less than that of a physician would be."

MR. JOSEPH TRIMBLE'S CASE.

The reporter subsequently dropped into the store of Mr. A. Trimble, corner Waterloo and Simcoe, and commenced a conversation with the proprietor.

"I believe you had a brother who was treated by Mr. Robb, the 'Christian Scientist'?"

"Yes; my brother Joseph was the man. He is in the States now."

"How was he affected?"

"It was the time the grippe was prevalent, and he had a bad attack of inflammation of the lungs. The doctors said he was as low as he could be."

"Did he consult the Scientist then?"

"Yes, and the improvement was immediate. Before that he used to cough all night, but the first night after the treatment he only coughed once. The next day he was up and walking around the streets."

"I suppose he looked upon the cure as little less than miraculous?"

"Well, it did strike him that way, I presume."

"Do you know of any others whom he attended?"

"He cured a little daughter of Mr. I. L. Yerex, on Simcoe street, who was troubled with her eyes. There's a Mr. Anderson on the same street who is now under his care."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and cause a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

THE TORONTO INDUSTRIAL.

A Good Attendance—Results of the Homing Pigeon Contests—Rosebery's Remarkable Jumping.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—There was not the tremendous crowd on the fair grounds yesterday that marked the afternoon and evening preceding. The attendance was very large, however, and was made up in the main of excursionists from outside the city. The judging of cattle was completed, and the inspection of the horses well started. A number of the British farmer delegates were on the ground, and spoke in terms of the highest praise of what they saw. They confessed that they had never in any part of Britain seen a finer all-round exhibit of live stock than that shown here. At the directors' lunch a number of prominent guests were present. Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, was expected, but did not put in an appearance, nor was any explanation given of his absence. Several of the English farmer delegates were present.

The contests for messenger pigeons which have been in progress for some time past have been decided and the prizes awarded. The 50-mile race from Guelph to Toronto came off on Saturday, Aug. 30, and had sixteen entries. The silver medal was won by a bird owned by Mr. Fred Bauckham, and the distance was covered in 1 hour 18½ minutes. The trial from London to Toronto, about 120 miles, brought out ten competitors which were released on Saturday, Sept. 6. The first bird reached Toronto in 3 hours 10 minutes. The winner is the property of Mr. James Wright. The trip from Sarnia was a dead heat between birds owned by Mr. James Wright and Mr. John Collyer, the time of the winners being 6 hours 6¾ minutes. Each owner will receive the first prize, a silver medal. There yet remains the 300-mile race, for which the birds will be released at Charlotte, Mich., on a date yet to be fixed.

A feature of the day was the jump competition for a special prize of $300 to the horse breaking the Canadian turf record of 6 feet 6 inches. Rosebery, Glenora and McGinty were the entries, but as 5 feet 6 inches was as high as the latter could jump the battle for the big purse was left between Rosebery and Glenora. Glenora jumped exceedingly well. First she cleared 5 feet 6 inches without a tip, followed by Rosebery; then 5 feet 9 inches. The height was then raised to 6 feet 1 inch, both horses clearing the top pole beautifully. When another pole was put on, making the height 6 feet 3 inches, she made an attempt but stumbled and fell, throwing her rider, who narrowly escaped being injured. It was thought that Glenora would now withdraw, but her owner allowed her rider to give her another trial. This jump was a successful one, but it was evident that she could go no higher that day, and after one attempt at six feet five inches she was withdrawn, leaving Rosebery to beat the record. He failed to scale 6 feet 5 inches on the first jump, but cleared it nicely the second time. Another pole was now put on, making the height one inch above the record, and on the first trial this wonderful horse cleared it without a knock-down, thus winning the prize. Mr. Pepper has offered to refund the $300 prize if the exhibition people will hang up a prize of $500 for a jump of over seven feet by the same horse. Six feet was the highest jump on turf last year, but at Buffalo this year Rosebery jumped 6 feet 6 inches, and at Elmira 7 feet 2 inches, which is the greatest jump ever placed on record. His owner believes him capable of jumping 7 feet 6 inches.

NOTABLE EXHIBITS.

THE AUTOMATIC FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

A unique exhibition, which attracted an immense crowd, including many prominent citizens, was given in the southern part of the grounds about 4 o'clock in the afternoon by the Canadian Fire Protection Company, head office 4 Adelaide street west. This company handles the Automatic Fire Extinguisher, an appliance which is already in use in many of the best-known public institutions and business houses in the city and has made a fine record for itself in the protection it has afforded to valuable property. In order to show what the extinguisher could do a practical test was made. A wooden structure about fourteen feet high had been prepared and this was filled with wood, the whole being thoroughly saturated with coal oil. A match was touched to this inflammable pile and in a trice it was ablaze from top to bottom. The throng of people fell back step by step as the heat increased until the wide distance between the most adventurous of them and the blazing wood gave eloquent testimony to the fierceness of the fire. At a signal an officer stepped forward, armed with the automatic extinguisher, and turned the faucet so as to throw a thin, spray-like stream upon the flames. In an instant the spot touched became black and dead, and in exactly 27 seconds from the time the first drop of the extinguishing fluid touched the fire the fiercely-blazing pile had disappeared, and in its place stood a charred and broken wreck. An inspection of the wood after the work was done proved that this was no mere matter of extinguishing the light flame of coal oil, for the wood had been charred deep, making the speed with which the fire was suppressed nothing short of marvelous. The test was made under the direction of Mr. R. B. Hamilton, manager of the company. The Automatic Extinguisher is is a new invention, having been patented in April, 1888. One of its greatest advantages is that it will extinguish a fire not merely when it is new and when the fluid with which it is charged is fresh, but at any time. The machine is perfectly simple and will not get out of order, nor is it liable to be set in motion by careless handling. It is an ornament to any room, and is so small and light as to be easily portable. The fluid which it throws upon the fire is of such a character that it will not damage furniture or garments. The company which controls the patents has the most flattering testimonials from many well-known business men in Toronto and elsewhere in Canada, as well as from the heads of many important public institutions. Not only that, but the chief of the Montreal fire brigade has written a letter to the company in which he says of the extinguisher: "I deem it my duty to recommend it as a first-class machine."

TORONTO RADIATOR MANUFACTURING COMPANY (LTD.)

The grandest exhibit of radiators for hot waste and steam heating at the Exhibition is that of the above company. Their exhibit is in the stove building, and is composed of all the different sizes and styles which they manufacture. The general expression made by all who have seen their exhibit of radiators is emphatically that the "Safford" patent radiators down all other makes for efficiency, durability and beauty of finish. These radiators are screwed together with the Safford nippers, doing away with all the unsightly bolts, which have proved to be a failure by all who have used radiators constructed in the back-woods manner. These radiators have no bolts or packing of any kind, and each radiator is tested, before leaving the factory, to 120 pounds pressure, thus insuring them against all leaks or possibility of giving their users any trouble. This company is composed of some of the best men in Toronto, each stockholder having a thoroughly practical knowledge of the construction of heating apparatus. Their factory is situated on Dufferin street, Toronto, and is the largest radiator works in North America. All the large public and private buildings heated during the past few years have been supplied with the "Safford Radiator Plant." The latest contracts are for the new Upper Canada College, the School of Practical Science, and the new Board of Trade building.

THE REINHARDT MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

As the holiday season approaches the curiosity of the public to ascertain the latest novelties in fancy goods very naturally increases. This curiosity is more than granted by a peep at the exhibit of the Reinhardt Manufacturing Company, of Montreal, which is located on the first gallery of the main building, near the southern door. Here can be seen a display that is resplendent with all the colors of the rainbow, and that is beautiful in the arrangement of the good. It may not be out of place to describe as few of the articles for presents that are here shown. There are dressing cases in plush and satin of all shades and in all descriptions of fancy leather, manicure cases, workboxes to charm the hearts of the fair sex, all filled in ivory, celluloid ivory, black or oxidized silver; odor cases filled with fine cut glass bottles, perfume cases filled with the costliest perfumes, jewel boxes fit for the cabinet of a queen, whisks and holders, Indian novelties, jewelers' cases, paper boxes and all kinds of fancy goods and bric-a-brac. The Reinhardt Manufacturing Company sell to the wholesale and retail trade, and dealers in fancy goods of this description can save enough money to pay their expenses to the Fair by calling at the exhibit. Here they can have a choice from as fine a selection of goods of this description as can be procured. The oxidized silver goods form a new feature that is rapidly coming into favor, being considered just the thing in the United States. The exhibit is in charge of Mr. M. M. Vardon, who will be at 67 Yonge street after the close of the Fair with a full line of samples suitable for all-comers.

FAMILY KNITTING MACHINES.

Cushman Bros., of Georgetown, Ont., manufacturers and exhibitors of family and steam-power knitting machines, claim to be the pioneers in Canada in manufacturing these useful machines, and take pride in referring to their eighteen years' success and experience and to their many ingenious and practable inventions in knitting machines, the latest of which must prove a boon to millions of homes now waiting for it. It is a cheap family knitting machine, called the Dollar machine; "a real dollar maker," a happy thought of the inventors which cannot fail to make home life easier and happier. The dollar maker not only speaks for itself, but makes everybody speak about it who sees it, or hears of it. It will be found in the main building where they give free the gold and silver dollar advertisement. Get one; it is worth dollars. Look out for this interesting exhibit at London Fair.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The grain deliveries have been good during the past week as compared with the same week last year, and prices ruled fairly steady.

Wheat was the only kind in which any unusual fluctuations occurred, keen competition making things lively on one or two days. Millers paid 95c per bushel standard, and an occasional 96c was bid, while shippers and those who adhere to the old cental system paid $1 58 to $1 62. The latter price was only given under sharp opposition, and for very good qualities at the close 95c was the price per standard bushel, and $1 58 to $1 60 for choice, and from that down as the sample merits, by the cwt.

Oats met a constant and strong demand all week and were quite active, selling from $1 12 to $1 15. The tone of the market was weak and prices were only sustained by the moderate receipts.

Barley sold at 95c to $1, as to quality.

No corn or beans came forward.

Peas sold steady at $1, any kind and any condition, from those soft as though soaked to the best hard and dry.

Rye sold at $1 to $1 05.

Hay sold some days at $8, but more at $6 and $7; about $7 to $7 50 per ton was the closing price.

Butter was steady at 17c to 18c for pound rolls; 15c to 16c for crocks, and 12c to 14c for tub.

Eggs in good demand, and sold readily at 17c retail, and 15c to 16, by the basket.

Cheese—Good August is quoted at 9½c to 10c in a jobbing way; some lots sold at 9c.

Beef quiet and easier. Prices ranged from $5 to $5 50. Lamb and mutton unchanged.

Poultry—Receipts moderate; sales easily made; chickens, 50c to 70c per pair, and ducks from 40c to 80c.

Tomatoes opened at 50c, and sold steady for most of the week at that price. Saturday and Tuesday, at the close, they were very weak, sales being made down to 35c per bushel. Outside of the above change values are about the same.

Notwithstanding the short apple crop they went begging on Saturday. The receipts were large, and the bad weather and the quantity of other seasonable fruit being consumed at this time of the year was probably the cause of the drug. Quotations are as follows:

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Hogs—Light mixed, $3 85 to $4 80; mixed packing, $4 05 to $4 60; heavy shipping, $4 to $4 60; rough grades, $4 to $4 15.

Cattle—Receipts, 10,000; half Texans and Westerns. Market steady.

Sheep—Receipts, 7,000; market steady.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—Sixty loads were marketed yesterday, including 600 sheep and lambs, 300 hogs and 50 calves. The market was only fairly active, and not until late in the forenoon was any business done, further arrivals being expected. The expected supply came with the effect of overstocking the market, and consequently prices fell somewhat on last day's quotations. Fat cattle sold at a slight decline on last day's prices, the best figure quoted being a lot of 21, averaging in weight 1,325 lbs each, at 4½c per lb. From ¼c to ½c per lb was, however, the general run of business. Stockers ranged from 2½c to 3½c per lb, but the bulk of the sales were from $3 to $3 12½ per cwt. Stock bulls ranged from 2c to 3½c per lb.

Butchers' cattle were in fair demand, although the quality hardly deserved to be ranked as fair. The pick of the lot was bought up at from 3½c to 3¾c per lb, the general average being 3½c.

Export sheep sold at from $5 to $6 per head, but were not in demand; lambs at from $3 80 to $4 10 per head, at which price they were cleared out.

Calves were a poor supply, and changed hands at from $6 to $8 50.

Hogs were easy, as to price. Stores sold at from $4 50 to $5 per cwt; mixed lots at $4 75 to $5, if there were good ones in the batch, and light fat at from $5 25 per cwt.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—The receipts of milch cows at the Viger market this morning were very small, and all common stock. There was little demand, but prices may be quoted at $25 to $35 each. Calves on the market sold at from $2 to $4.

The Dairy Markets.

INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 16.—At the cheese market to-day 21 factories boarded 10,000 cheese, August make. Sales: 150 at 9½c; 500 at 9¾c, whites; 500 colored at 9 13-16c. The call board was adopted to-day for the first time on this market. Members apparently well satisfied with the system.

Petrolea Oil Market.

PETROLEA, Sept. 17.—Oil unchanged—opened and closed at $1 30 to-day.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—The encore Hog must go.

—Sir Joseph Hickson and Sir Henry Tyler are in Stratford to-day.

—Mr. Ed. Towe, of the G. T. R., leaves in a few days to visit his brother in St. Paul, Minn.

—The trout season closed this week. There have been many good catches, but not in the Thames.

—Prof. J. Bowman has returned home after spending a profitable time in botanical researches on the Bruce peninsula.

—Mr. John Pringle, accountant, Bank of Toronto, London, has been appointed manager of the Gananoque branch.

—Mr. Fred Templeton has returned from a three-months' trip to Great Britain, and reports having a delighted time in Scotland.

—Mr. Robt. A. Jones and wife left Monday for Australia, where they propose spending a year or two for the benefit of Mrs. Jones' health.

—R. W. Bro. A. B. Munson, D.D.G.M., will pay his first official visit to Kilwinning Lodge, No. 64, A. F. and A. M., G. R. C., on Thursday evening.

—Mr. H. McCowan, formerly of London, and now engineer on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, is spending a couple of months in the city.

—Mr. William Ellis, formerly organist of St. James' Church, South London, has resigned on account of ill health. He has occupied the position for more than six years.

—Among those in attendance at the fifth annual session of the General Masonic Relief Association of Canada and the United States, which is being held at Montreal, is Mr. R. B. Hungerford, of this city.

—Mr. Sam Moorehead, of Chicago, is visiting his parents in this city. He has a poor opinion of the proposed World's Fair, to be held in the Western metropolis, and thinks it will fall far short of the reckonings.

—The celebrated McGibeny family will give two concerts in Victoria Hall in October. This talented musical combination, comprising nearly twenty members of the same family, travel in their private car, which is a model of elegance and comfort.

—Farmer Land arrived at Windsor from Kentucky yesterday with Detective Norris and went to Sandwich jail, where he recognized Haynes (arrested in this city) as one of the men who buncoed him out of $5,000 on May 1. Land is worth in the vicinity of $90,000.

—Flags, bunting and evergreen are not expensive, but if used by the many business and private houses of the city, would have a very pleasing effect during Fair time. At Victoria Hall the use of a large number of Chinese lanterns has been decided on. This would add to the attractiveness of any decorations. Starting on Friday the city should have a holiday appearance.

A Montreal dispatch says: "It is understood that Mr. W. Whyte, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific (western division), Winnipeg, will be appointed manager of transportation, to succeed Mr. T. A. McKinnon, who leaves to accept the position of general manager of the Montreal and Concord Railway the last of the present month." Mr. Whyte was formerly station agent for the Grand Trunk in this city.

—A car on one of the London and Port Stanley trains tumbled over on its side just north of Talbot street, St. Thomas, yesterday. The peculiar mishap is believed to have been caused by one of the trucks jumping off the track. Several Londoners were on the train. Mrs. George Hirst, of St. Thomas, and a 5-year-old son of Ald. Ferguson, St. Thomas, were the only passengers injured to any extent, although all received a shaking up.

Death of an Octogenarian.

A telegraphic message was received yesterday from Vancouver, B. C., announcing the death of Mr. John Kent, one of London's pioneer settlers, who had been visiting in that city. The deceased came to Canada with his parents in 1823 and together with his father worked a 200-acre farm where London West now stands. After his marriage to Miss Sarah Shoff, the daughter of a London township settler, he purchased a farm about three miles east of the city, where he remained until 1858. In that year he removed to London South, where he resided in one of the most tasteful residences in the new ward. Two children survive him, Malcolm Kent, of the London Loan, and Elizabeth, the wife of Dr. McAlpine, whom the deceased was visiting at the time of his death. He was a brother of Thomas, William Sextus and of the late Charles Kent, all well known citizens.

Strauss on Friday.

On Friday evening the great Strauss and his orchestra will be at the Queen's avenue rink. Harper's Weekly say: "The opening of the Madison Square Garden was an event of interest, as introducing the Strauss orchestra to New York. That it is an admirably well-drilled body of musicians for its peculiar work, there is no doubt. The father of Mr. Strauss was the father of the modern waltz, and his band preserves all the traditions of the music to which 50 years ago the gayest circles of Europe and America glided and swayed with delight. The waltz music has a singular charm. It is to be enjoyed not by comparison, but for itself, for its own suggestions and associations. Our recent musical taste in the city has been trained in a somewhat different school, and we are doubtless disposed to greet the Strauss measures as Berlin greeted Flotow's—'Ach Himmel! Tanzmusik!' But it is precisely for the enjoyment of such music that the Strauss orchestra should be heard. The sentiment and romance of the waltz are expressed most fully and sympathetically by De Quincey, whose glowing words can be now tested by listening to the orchestra of Eduard Strauss, the most famous waltz orchestra in the world." Seats are on sale at Nordheimer's.

Couldn't Discover Perpetual Motion.

ELIZABETH, Sept. 17.—Christopher Stanley, an old inventor, killed himself here with paris green, because, as it is alleged, he was unable to discover perpetual motion. He had experimented for years and spent hundreds of dollars. He was 74 years old, a veteran of the Franco-German war, and was a fine mechanic, but an eccentric character. He ate half a can of the poison, told his landlady he was tired of life and his struggle for fame, and, giving her $75 to pay for his funeral expenses, lay down in his bed and died.

Why the Crops Failed.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—Rev. Cure Decary, of St. Henri, in addressing his congregation, referred to the general failure of the crops in the Province, and said that this might well be put down to the sins of the people. Each should bring home the responsibility to himself. Blasphemy, intemperance, extravagance in dress, and lust—these were the sins of the period, which were calling down the wrath of God. Referring more especially to intemperance, he said that at the very moment when he was speaking there were taverns in the parish where fathers of families and young men were assembled reveling in blasphemy and profane songs. The keepers of these taverns had had their license certificates signed last winter, and they would get the necessary signatures again next winter. Otherwise very respectable citizens, knowing well how such houses were kept, had not the pluck and energy to refuse their signatures, but would openly testify that the places were properly kept. Where was the sense of responsibility in all this? The disorders referred to were public scandals, and the responsibility and consequences rested on the whole community.

DIANA WENTWORTH,

Or, The Professor's Daughter.

She set out with John along the rugged mountain-path, winding through the deep valley, with the stream rushing at the bottom. It was an exquisite morning again, gem-like in the sparkling brilliance of sun and hoar-frost and dew-drops. The hearts of both were full to overflowing of thoughts that lay too deep for words; yet they did talk from time to time, and Diana grudged each step that took them nearer to the station.

She shrank from the thought of entering the station, where she might meet people she knew, who would greet her and ask her for an explanation of this early journey without luggage or even a servant to speed her on her way. It would not occur to any one that John could be her companion. It was to prevent such a meeting that she had chosen the earliest available train, and her step became quicker as they went through the little town and down the steep hill to the station.

They were only just in time, and there was no one she knew on the platform. John put her into an empty carriage, and then went to the booking office. He came back and seated himself opposite to her, shutting the door behind him.

"I will go with you to Bellingham," he said. "You will have an hour to wait there, and I have something to ask you."

Immediately she knew what that something was, and her heart failed her. Such a conversation she knew was impossible in the train, which would stop at every station between Garsnill and Bellingham, and at any station they might be interrupted; but that short railway ride of 40 minutes seemed to her so many hours.

It was still early when they reached Bellingham, and there were few people about. She was tired, yet restless, and when John asked if she would like to sit down, she said she would rather walk, and for a time they paced up and down the platform in silence.

"You will let us know that you get safely to your journey's end?" said John.

"I will write to-morrow," she answered.

"I said I wanted to ask you something," he began, abruptly, after another pause. "It is this: Will you marry me?"

She did not answer for a moment. She was looking straight before her. Bellingham was not; waiting-rooms, booking-offices, porters and newspaper boys were gone; she saw them not, but her mother's drawing room at Whitfield; the man standing close to her was not John Garthwaite, and words long ago spoken by herself were still sounding in her ears: "I promise faithfully to engage myself to no man until you and I have met again."

The intense bitterness of the recollection stung her into consciousness again, and she spoke quickly almost breathlessly:

"I cannot; you should not ask me."

"I must ask you," he answered. "I began to ask you long ago, and was interrupted before I had finished. I know that if I had would have refused me then. Is it so now?"

"Yes: I should have said 'no,' and I must say it again now."

"But why?" he persisted, not heeding her white face and averted eyes. "You cannot doubt my love for you."

She said nothing, and he asked again,

"Do you doubt it, Diana?" Say yes or no I beg of you."

"No, I do not doubt it," she answered, almost in a whisper.

"I offer you all I have," he went on; "the strong and enduring love of a man who is not wont to change. Is it not enough? What more would you have?"

"Nothing. It is enough and more than enough, but I cannot have it."

"Cannot have it!" he cried, catching at her words. "You do not say you will not."

She said nothing and he went on—

"When I asked you before, I think you would have said, 'I will not have it.'"

"Yes," she answered, almost in a whisper "I should have said so then."

"But now, now?" he pressed eagerly. "If it is not that you will not, why do you still refuse?"

"I have told you that I cannot. Why do you persist? Why do you torture me like this!"

"Torture you!" he echoed. Torture is a strong word. Tell me one thing, Diana—not, 'Will you marry me?' but, 'Do you love me?'"

She could not dissemble; she was weary and sad and heart-sick. She had thrown off all home-ties; she was going to throw herself on the mercy of a friend. He was the only being in the world who seemed secure and firm. At another time she might have denied the truth; now she could not, and she answered simply,

"With all my heart and strength."

They were sitting down now—her force had given out; she felt weak and shaken in mind and body—the feeling of relief which followed her last words was almost too much for her.

"And now," was John's question, "what impediment is there to our marriage?"

This was the question which Diana dreaded most of all. She felt she would rather do or suffer anything than tell John of her promise to Tom; and she knew perfectly well, at the same time, that if he made up his mind to know her real reason, she would in the end tell it to him. To his question, therefore, she gave no answer at all. John waited a moment, and then spoke again:

"I am at loss to imagine what impediment can exist, except of your own making."

"It is of my own making," she said, rather bitterly; "but it is none the less real for that."

"But perhaps I could help you to remove it?"

"No; no one can help me. I have acted very, very foolishly, and I ampunished for my folly. I believe it is generally so."

He sat by her side bending forward a little, his eyes fixed upon the ground, a frown on his brow. He seemed to be making up his mind to something, and after a moment he spoke.

"I am going to put the whole situation before you. I don't want to frighten you, but I do want you to understand that our position is a sufficiently serious one. I love you. I have loved you for a long time, and during nearly the whole of that time it has been my dearest wish that you should some day be my wife. You have just told me that you have some of that same feeling for me, and the knowledge that it is so has made the world seem different to me. For a long time I never dared to think that you cared for me at all, and only lately have I let myself think of it as at all probable. Sometimes I felt it almost a certainty, and again it seemed nothing but a fantastic dream. Even now you say our marriage is impossible, for some reason which you refuse to tell me. I cannot force you to tell me, but I can assure you of this. This is probably our last chance of understanding each other. My time is up. I had a letter to-day telling me that I must start in a week. The day after to-morrow I go to London. I may be gone by the time you get there, even should we be there at the same time, it may be that, with the best will in the world, I shall not be able to see you. I shall have much to do, and my time will be short. I shall be away for some years—four or five years. It is impossible to foresee what might happen to either of us during that time, and it is equally impossible to me to leave you without having come to a clearer understanding than this. To know I have your love is an infinite blessing, but I want more than that—I want yourself. I had intended if you had not brought forward this obstacle, to ask you to marry me at once and sail with me to Brazil, and still hope to do so. We have known each other long enough to dispense with the usual engagement. I believe I have your full confidence, as you most assuredly have mine; all I most earnestly beg of you to tell me why, in your opinion, we cannot be married. This is not a time for hesitation and reserve. If we are not frank now, we may lose forever the chance of being all in all to each other. Do not refuse in this; you will be wronging both yourself and me."

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION

Miss De Vere a New York church choir soprano, is paid $4,500 a year, but the canny New Yorkers with their usual thrift require her to give notes for the amount.

Hair Magic.

Is a good name for Dr. Dorenwend's German preparation for the hair. It really works like magic. All who have used it pronounce it to be unequaled for remedying the lost vitality of the hair roots, restoring gray hair, removing dandruff, etc. Just try it. It is first-class. All druggists sell it.

Ten ordinary eggs will weigh a pound, the statistician of an esteemed contemporary informs its readers. And he might have added that one egg boiled hard and eaten at night will sometimes weigh a ton.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority

She (pining for pleasant words)—Oh, George, I cannot understand it. Why do you lavish this wealth of love on me when there are so many girls more beautiful and more worthy than I? George—I'm blowed if I know.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

It is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For weak and "broken-down constitutions," nothing else has proved so effective as this powerful but perfectly safe medicine.

A Mass Meeting—The Fat Men's Convention.

The American Eagle must be a queer old bird—he is bald. If you don't want to be bald, use Hall's Hair Renewer, and you won't be. Try it.

Writes a Georgia editor: "We have resigned from the band, and we now offer our brass horn for a club of ten subscribers. If the horn is played scientifically, we guarantee that it will keep an entire neighborhood awake seven nights in the week."

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething; it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

"My object in calling this evening," he began, with a nervous tremble of his chin, "was to ask you, Katie—I may call you Katie, may I not?" "Certainly, Mr. Longripe," said the sweet young girl. "All of papa's elderly friends call me Katie." And he said nothing further about his object in calling.

An Instantaneous Cure.

[From the Philadelphia North American.]

One of the most sudden recoveries from unconsciousness, by a peculiar treatment, occurred last night at the Pennsylvania Hospital. The patient was William Brazen, 22 years old, who had been brought in the patrol wagon from the Twenty-fifth district. He had been picked up on the street drunk, and when placed in a cell he complained of being sick, and soon after lapsed into unconsciousness.

When received he was placed in a cot in the receiving ward, and an examination showed his temperature, pulse and respiration to be normal. Soon after Dr. Howell made the discovery that the patient was watching him out of the corner of his eye. Dr. Downs came in shortly after, when Dr. Howell gave him a quiet tip, and then in an ordinary tone, which could be heard by the patient, gave a history of the case.

"It's a serious case, Doctor, and requires immediate attention," said Dr. Howell.

"What do you think is the trouble?"

"I'm not able to say; but it's something the matter with his liver or heart."

"What had better be done?"

"The best thing will be to take out his liver first."

"Are the knives sharp, Ben?"

"Here they are, sir, all right," responded Ben Lloyd, the nurse.

"Come on, then."

"No, you don't," yelled the patient as he cleared the cot with a bound; "you ain't going to carve me up."

There was a patter of feet over the floor, the front door flew open, and the last seen of Brazen he was heading down Eighth street at a breakneck speed.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to purify your blood and give you strength.

Miss Alice Longfellow, daughter of the poet, is said to be the best amateur photographer in America. Her favorite field of operations is along the Massachusetts coast, and her snap shots there taken in the stormiest weather are attracting the attention of publishers, and her illustrated storms will be a feature of a new book of sea songs.

The Deadliest of Serpents.

The cobra destroys less life in the aggregate than the various forms of cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, diarrhea, dysentery, croups, colic, etc. Mortality in Canada from these causes is light, owing to the general use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which is an unfailing specific for all bowel complaints.

—Statements have been made that the late Richard Berry, while a slave in his earlier days, had been sold to hard masters. Such was not the case, as Mr. Berry was the property of one man, Mr. Robertson, of Dannville, Ky., until he purchased his own liberty and that of his wife at the age of 25. Since Mr. Berry's death, his relatives have received numerous expressions of regret and sympathy.

—Henry Brier, a powerful-looking man with one leg and a badly cut face, acknowledged being drunk at the Police Court this morning. He was discharged, and on the way out the Magistrate asked after the welfare of his family. The retiring offender replied that he had no family and said that he found it difficult enough to look after his one leg. The Magistrate repented his leniency, and calling Brier over to his desk, delivered a sharp lecture to him, after which he dismissed him from his presence.

God Save the Queen.

Everything Ready.

Preparations for the opening of the theatrical season in this city to-morrow evening have been completed and the appearance of Miss Margaret Mather and her company in "The Honeymoon" will attract a large house, as the rapid sale of seats testifies. On Friday evening "Romeo and Juliet" will be the bill by the same company. On Monday evening the talented and attractive actress Kate Purssell will appear in "Queen of the Plains" in several characters. The Toronto Empire says: "She has that versatility that enables her to interpret these characters which go to make the life of the piece. Her acting can hardly be overestimated." The attractions billed for the whole season, in fact, are of a first class description, among them being the Conried Opera Company in "The Gypsy Baron" for Sept. 30.

"Harvest Home" in East London.

Queen's Park Methodist Church held its annual Harvest Home festival last evening, when a large crowd assembled to enjoy the programme and the dainty repast. The church was tastefully decorated with evergreens, fruits and flowers, the altar presenting a very neat appearance in its dress of fresh-cut flowers. Refreshments were served in the school room by the ladies till 9 o'clock, when an adjournment was made to the main part of the church, where the programme was carried out, Mr. A. B. Powell acting as chairman. It consisted of short addresses by Revs. Messrs. Boyd, Lyttle, Harrison and Hayhurst, interspersed with selections by the choir, and followed by a recitation by Rev. Mr. Harrison. The gathering was a success, and the Committee of Management has cause for feeling elated over the result of their labors.

Four City Schools Visited.

School Trustees Jeffery, Love, Turner, Brady, Woodward, Childs and Overseer Dodds, representing No. 2 Committee of the School Board, took a drive yesterday afternoon to visit several of the city schools, the object being to inspect the work done by the contractors, and to make suggestions or discover whether anything further than included in the contracts might be necessary towards the proper fitting up of the buildings. The Talbot street school was found in good condition, though the painters were still at work. The whole school will be opened in a few days, but the junior rooms have been used since the opening of the term. The Smead system of ventilation and heating was in operation and the members appeared satisfied. Waterloo north school will be ready for occupancy on Monday, when it is proposed to secure a brass band and celebrate the opening with great eclat. Lorne avenue school is completely transformed, and no one would recognize the former antiquated building in the fine new structure. This is Trustee Childs' ward, and he showed he had the interest of his constituents at heart by discovering with great assiduity several things which required alteration. This school will not be ready for a month. The members were satisfied with the way things were being done at Hamilton road school, which will also not be ready for some time.

A Great Honor.

A private telegram received in this city states that Dr. C. T. Campbell has been elected on a second ballot to the honorable position of Deputy Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., which is meeting at Topeka, Kan. This is the second highest office obtainable by any member of the order, which extends over the entire world. Dr. Campbell is a past grand master of the Ontario Grand Lodge, and for several years has been representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge. The Sovereign Grand Lodge has control over the order in every section of the world, and that such an honor should be bestowed on a Canadian, and a Londoner at that, is a cause for congratulation. This is the highest office ever attained by a Canadian Oddfellow. Dr. Campbell is well known throughout this section of the Dominion as an energetic worker in the interests of Oddfellowship. He was initiated into Dominion Lodge on Oct. 9, 1867, and was elected past grand July 1, 1870. On his removal to Stratford in 1873, he took out his withdrawal card and deposited it in Stratford, where he has since retained his membership, although a resident of this city during recent years. His numerous friends will take pleasure in congratulating him on his return from Kansas.

Vigor and Vitality

UNIVERSAL.

That's what we aim at, and we are going to accomplish it. Everyone using the most wonderful, effectual and ever-to-be-depended-upon "Blood Remedy" ever sold to humanity.

No trouble to get testimonials of the bona fide stamp "Not Spurious." Mrs. Wm. Riddle, Hamilton road, says: Diamond Tea is truly a wonder-worker, it has cured me of dyspepsia after other blood remedies failed.

But we say, try it for yourselves, it will only cost 25 cents; or come to the office, 73 Dundas street, and get a sample. For sale by druggists and medicine dealers. xxv

SERVICE OF PRAISE.

The first Service of Praise for the present season in the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church, by Mr. W. J. Birks' well-known choir, was given last night, the building, as usual on these occasions, being completely filled.

The ever-thrilling words of the Te Deum, "We Praise Thee, O Lord," to an arrangement from "The Elijah," made a suitable opening. The duet, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," well suited itself to the fine contralto voice of Miss Brown, and the massive bass notes of Mr. Williams; Mr. Percy Carroll's tenor solo, "Remembrance," was given in excellent voice and with poetic insight. Then came what was probably the pearl of the programme, in Gounod's chorus, "Come Unto Him."

Come unto him, all ye who labor; your Lord will give you rest and peace, comfort for all your sorrows. Ye weary, he will give you rest for your souls. O turn from the pleasures of sin and behold your Lord on his cross, who dies for the sins of the world. Come unto him, all ye who labor! He will receive you, he will refresh you, he will give rest to your souls. Behold on his cross our Redeemer, nailed there by our transgressions, calls all men to himself. He pleads his blood; he shows his streaming wounds as he makes intercession; he cries, "Come to me and I will save your souls."

There is something wierd and powerful in Gounod's music. It is surcharged with sentiment. He seems to touch chords of the spirit not often reached. Mr. Birks' choir last night fully entered into the spirit of the composer. Nothing could be more dignified and pathetic than the closing part of this noble chorus. Quite in contrast, yet almost as effective, was Hatton's male quartet, "Blow, Bugle, Blow," given, without accompaniment, by Messrs. Carroll, Southcott, Belcher and Williams. Miss Ziegler's recitative and aria, "Fear Ye Not, O Israel," was well received. The first half of the programme terminated with Mendelssohn's double chorus, "Judge Me, O God," without organ. There was a little hesitancy during the first half-dozen bars—like soldiers freshly under fire—but the chorus soon took on a firmer stride, working up to a strong and confident finale. In Miss Hiscott's alto solo was sympathetically told the story of the children of high degree who played in their beautiful gardens, and of the little beggar maiden outside the gates to whom one of the children of the gardens had once given a flower, and how, finally,

That high born child and the beggar
Passed homeward side by side,
For the ways of man are narrow,
But the gates of heav'n are wide.

Here followed in succession (1) a duet by Miss Gilmour and Mr. Williams; (2) Mendelssohn's double quartet, "For He Shall Give His Angels," Misses Ziegler, Gilmour, Hiscott, Smythe, and Messrs. Carroll, Armstrong, Winlow and Williams; and (3) a bass solo, rich and sonorous, "The Mighty Deep," from Mr. Williams. Very sweet and effective was Shelley's sextet and chorus, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," the solo by Miss Ida Smythe. This lady possesses an interpretive voice. She only needs a little more attention to the matter of clear-cut enunciation of her words. This number with its closing chorus burst,

Till morning's joy shall end the night of weeping,
And life's long shadows break in cloudless love, would alone "make" a Service of Praise.

Altogether, the service was eminently a success. Mr. Birks possesses the rare art of choir training, in its proper sense, and of developing the individual capacities of his singers as to tone. Whatever excellences a choir should display—precision, vigor, tonal effect, delicacy of shading—these are to be found in Mr. Birks' chorus, which is unsurpassed by any church choir in the Dominion.

And now let us relieve the monotony of praise by a few words respecting some things at the service which should not have been, and which we hope may be avoided in future:

1. Squeaking boots. It does not add to the effectiveness of a delicate passage to hear the usher and some late comer squeak their way up the aisle. If people will come late, make them remain in the lobby until the pending number is concluded.

2. Applauding is out of place in a church and at a Service of Praise, and should be discountenanced. A reverent spirit and demeanor would more befit the place and the circumstances.

3. The encore nuisance is seldom in place anywhere, but emphatically not in "a Service of Song in the House of the Lord." New York Life has recently been satirizing the American Hog: i.e., people who try to get two seats in a railway car when they only pay for one, etc. The encore fiend belongs to the Hog family. Nine-tenths of the audience may want the programme to go on according to what is printed, but the few members of the Hog family insist on the wishes of the nine-tenths being sacrificed to their hoggish desire for "more" It is usually an artistic mistake for a singer to give a number over again. Its freshness is gone, and the effect cannot be reproduced. Better be content with the success already achieved. Then the encore business is apt to be unfair. Some of those who fail to be recalled may have sung just as well as those "favored" with encores—personal acquaintanceship or personal popularity often making the difference, not artistic merit. Let Mr. Birks lead and let us all assist in relegating the Encore Hog to his proper place.

We take leave for the present of Mr. Birks and his famous choir with nothing but good will, and with the strains ringing in our ears of a delightful musical evening, during which no single number was poorly performed, and in which several numbers were given with unwonted effect, notably Gounod's "Come Unto Him;" Hatton's "Blow, Bugle, Blow," and Shelley's "Hark, Hark, My Soul."
