Captured the Capital

Two Thousand More Matabeles Slaughtered.

Buluwayo Falls Into the Hands of the British.

Coal Retailing in Some Sections of England at $15 a Ton.

Ministerial Utterances at the Guildhall Banquet—Protest from Labouchere Against Mashonaland Management.

An English Jockey Killed.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The English jockey Rowell was thrown in a hurdle race at Auteuil to-day, and soon afterwards died of his injuries.

Coal Strike Cost $150,000,000.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 9.—At a meeting of the chamber of commerce the president announced that the loss by the coal strike was estimated at $150,000,000.

Coal $15 a Ton.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—In some districts coal, in consequence of the strike of the miners, is retailing at 60 shillings ($15) per ton and prices threaten to increase. The weather is cold and the prices demanded for coal place it entirely out of reach of the poor.

Great Russian Canal Scheme.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—The State Council has adopted the amended plans for a canal across the Isthmus of Pereko, between the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov. The canal will make the Crimea an island. A French company will find the needed capital, which is estimated at 80,000,000 francs.

The Sultan Calls Off the Riffians.

MADRID, Nov. 9.—The Sultan of Morocco has acceded to the Spanish demands for reparation for the attacks on Melilla by the Riffians. The Sultan has sent 2,000 horsemen under command of his most trusted chief to the Riffians, ordering them to cease hostilities against the Spanish. If the Riffians refuse to obey the Sultan will send an army to enforce his order.

The Barcelona Outrage.

BARCELONA, Nov. 9.—Soldini, the Italian Anarchist who was arrested, made a confession last night, but it is discredited owing to his many contradictory statements. At 9 o'clock last evening nine Anarchists had been arrested in Barcelona on suspicion of complicity in the dynamite crime. The Government has decided to expell all foreign Anarchists from Spain and to pass drastic bills as soon as possible against Spanish Anarchists.

Priests Exiled—A Severe Fight.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Advices have been received from St. Petersburg that 22 Catholic priests were a few days ago exiled from the Vistula district on the charge that they had opposed the authorities. They were to be sent to Grodno and Kieff. Yesterday, under guard, the priests started for their destination. A large number of peasants gathered and made an attempt to rescue the priests. A desperate fight followed and finally the Cossacks fired into the crowd, killing and wounding many persons.

The World's Fair in 1900.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The sub-committee of the committee on organization of the World's Exposition to be held in this city in 1900 has unanimously approved the project to hold the exposition on the Champ de Mars, with the addition of the grounds of the Palais du Trocadero, the Quai d'Orsay, the Esplanade des Invalides, the Quai de la Conference, the Cours la Reine and the Palais de l'Industrie. This will place the exposition on both sides of the Seine. The grounds of the Palace of the Trocadero are connected with the Champ de Mars by the Pont d'Iena. A large bridge will be constructed across the Quai d'Orsay in front of the Esplanade des Invalides, connecting with the Quai de la Conference, the Cours la Reine and the Palais de l'Industrie. The various side shows given in connection with the exposition will be at Vincennes, on the outskirts of Paris.

London's Senseless Show.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The annual circus provided by the city of London on the occasion of the new lord mayor's installation was witnessed by many thousands of people to-day.

Ald. George Robert Tyler, representing Queenhithe ward, is the new chief magistrate of the city, and he assumed the reins of office with all the pomp and ceremony attendant upon such a proceeding, to the disgust of the many thousands of unemployed people in London, who were of the opinion that the money spent on such a useless parade should have been used in assisting the starving poor of London.

Then, again, the terrible distress existing in the coal regions was recalled, and it is not wondered at that many of the more audacious spectators actually made a show of hissing the procession, which outburst was promptly smothered by the public, who dearly love a lord mayor's show. The usual circus programme formed a great attraction, however, and business along the route which it followed was suspended from early morning until the close of the exhibition of municipal stupidity.

Lord Mayor Tyler succeeds Rt. Hon. Stuart Knill. He was born in 1835, and is the son of a former alderman of the corporation of the city of London. The new lord mayor became a member of the corporation in 1877, and was appointed an alderman ten years afterwards.

Great Britain's Position.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guild Hall this evening was attended by 2,000 guests. Lord Herschell, the Earl of Kimberly, H. Campbell-Bannerman, Earl Spencer and A. J. Mundella represented the Cabinet. As First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord Spencer spoke mostly of naval affairs. The Government, he said, was pledged to maintain and strengthen the navy to the point where it would be fit to defend not only the British islands, but the whole empire. (Cheers.)

Campbell-Bannerman, Secretary of State for War, answered the toast of the army. He said: "The army is no longer the refuge of the dissolute and destitute. It is now being filled in an increasing degree with highly-educated, disciplined and well-behaved men, from whom the country may expect something better than the blind obedience of the human machine. The British army is now the best service in the world for the comfort of the men." (Cheers.)

The Earl of Kimberly, Secretary of State for India, responded for the Ministers. There were undoubtedly many present, he said, who would be glad to see the present Cabinet tottering to the fall. The relations of England to the powers were thoroughly harmonious. England's relations to the United States did not give the slightest ground for uneasiness. Those relations had been signalized by the settlement of a dispute without the arbitrament of war. (Cheers.) There was no greater nation than the great American Republic, which had with Great Britain submitted to the tribunal of arbitration in Paris. (Cheers.)

Lord Kimberly expressed sympathy with Spain in her troubles with the Riffians at Melilla and in her sorrow for the victims of the Santander and Barcelona explosions.

Natives of India Restive Under British Rule.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9.—It is the opinion of foreign residents of India that the native population is growing more than ordinarily restive under British rule. It can be said that close students of the Indian character profess to believe that it would take only a small spark to kindle a fire of revolution that would be far-reaching in its consequences. There recently occurred in Paspawur, the capital of the district of the same name in the Punjaub, a series of alleged incendiary fires that resulted in a great loss of military stores. Paspawur is on the Afghan frontier and is an important strategic point, being aside from its military importance the northwest terminus of the Indian railway system. Rumors are current that attempts were made at Rawaul Pinde, another important point, to set fire to the Government stores.

The Civil and Military Gazette of Lahore, commenting upon these facts and reports, declares it is unwilling to believe that they are ominous, but at the same time it questions whether there may not be sparks from the volcano upon the crust of which British rule in India is based. The paper instances the riots in India growing out of the cow question, the increase of crimes of violence throughout the country, the spreading broadcast of incendiary pamphlets and other signs of unrest, and says the situation needs careful watching.

Buluwayo Captured.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A special dispatch from Johannesburg to the Pall Mall Gazette says the Fort Tuli column, consisting of 300 Bechuanaland police and a number of Chief Khama's men, under the command of Commander Raaf, captured Buluwago on Nov. 2, the day after the column had repulsed an attack made upon it by the Matabeles, under command of Gombo, Lobengula's son-in-law, during which engagement Gombo is reported to have been killed. The Matabeles fought with desperate fury, but found it impossible to stand up against the machine guns which laid the dead in swathes upon the field. It was not until 2,000 of the Matabeles were killed that the remainder of the Impis retreated and allowed their king's capital to fall into the hands of the British. This is the severest blow yet dealt to the Matabeles, and it is believed Lobengula will now treat for peace. The British loss was three men killed. Many of the horses of the troops were shot beneath their riders. After Buluwayo was captured the place was set on fire and burned to the ground. The magazine containing the greater part of Lobengula's ammunition was blown up. It is reported that some of the Matabele induas, or commanders, committed suicide after the fight at Shanganani, being impelled thereto by the cowardice shown by their men during the attack upon the British. The chiefs along the route to Buluwago sent presents of cattle and mealies to Dr. Jamieson, administrator of the British South Africa Company, who, with the Victoria and Salisbury columns, was marching upon Lobengula's kraal when the Tuli column captured it. Two powerful chiefs beyond the border have joined Chief Khama in aiding the forces of the Chartered Company.

Mr. Labouchere said the company had exhausted its capital and was only existing by the aid of temporary loans. Its bankruptcy was inevitable. The war had been started merely for the purpose of seizing Matabeleland, which was said to be far richer in gold than the territory of Mashonaland covered by the concession. Finding itself on the verge of bankruptcy the company thought it could float more stock and get on its feet again by seizing the rich gold reefs in Matabeleland. He did not approve of Lobengula's method of government, but to him Lobengula seemed to be far the most respectable person connected with Mashonaland or Matabeleland.

Mr. Gladstone, in reply to Mr. Labouchere, said the Ministers did not attempt to disassociate themselves from the responsibilities of the Matabele war. They recognized that although the South African Chartered Company had a serious responsibility in the war, events were occurring during the progress of the conflict in which the Government must have the chief interest. Whether the company was right or wrong was exceedingly difficult to determine. He wished that his honorable friend (Labouchere) had exercised more self-restraint in the use of strong language, inasmuch as with the facts now at hand it was impossible to pass final judgment upon the company's course. The immediate cause of the war, it was alleged, was that the company's demand that King Lobengula cease raiding the Mashonas. Moreover the company had called on Lobengula to withdraw his demand that a number of Mashonas be handed over to him. The company believed that Lobengula meant to put these Mashonas to death. It would have been a crime against humanity if the British authorities had not refused Lobengula's demand. According to these statements the British authorities were justified in regarding Lobengula's course as sufficient provocation for hostilities."

LONDON, Nov. 9.—In the House of Commons to-day Henry Labouchere, who is bitterly opposed to government by chartered companies and to government by the British South African Company in particular, obtained permission to move the adjournment of the House, in order to discuss the question of allowing the British South African Company to establish a claim to or contract engagements in regard to Mashonaland. Labouchere also discussed the question of allowing the company to continue the war it is now carrying on. He declared that when King Lobengula granted the concession to territory in Mashonaland to Mr. Budd, on which the British South Africa Company was founded, he was ignorant that he thus gave to the whites permission to dig for gold in any part of the country. When he learned this he repudiated his actions. The concession, Mr. Labouchere declared, was obtained by trickery and the company had obtained its charter by trickery. The Queen had given a specific promise to Lobengula, which the company had not fulfilled.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—In the House or Lords to-day the Marquis of Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, read the latest telegraphic dispatches from Sir Henry Lock, governor of Cape Colony and high commissioner in South Africa, dated to-day, and a dispatch from Major Goold Adams, chief commander of the Fort Tuli column, dated Nov. 6. These dispatches showed that the Matalukas had sent delegates to the British asking for protection. The column from the east was in possession of Buluwayo. King Lobenguela had fled toward the Gwai River, northwestward of Buluwayo.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 9.—Dispatches from Dr. Jamieson have been received at Fort Victoria. They confirm the report that Buluwayo, Lobengula's capital, was captured by the forces of the Chartered Company. The Matabeles were 7,000 strong. The Matabeles left 1,000 dead and wounded on the field. The forces of the Chartered Company lost 3 killed and 7 wounded. Buluwayo was found empty but for a few old people and the white traders, Fairbairn and Usher. Lobengula had blown up his magazine, containing 80,000 cartridges and 2,500 pounds of powder.

A Terrible Tale!

Particulars of the Disaster Near North Bay.

Thirteen Men on the Blazing Ship Known to be Drowned.

Four Thought to be Unaccounted For—Toronto Men Among the Victims—Efforts to Save the Boat.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 9—The steamer John Fraser, which met such a terrible fate on Wednesday, was a side-paddle steam tow, 103 feet long, built about four years ago by Alexander Fraser, of Westmeath, and used by him on Lake Nipissing for general passenger and freight business. Last summer she was purchased by Messrs. Davidson & Hay, the wholesale grocers of Toronto, who, in addition to their Toronto business, own and operate extensive timber limits on the north shore of Lake Nipissing, about 30 miles west of here, in what is known as Township No. 2, North Shore, Lake Huron. These limits are 68 miles square in extent, and employ about 350 men in six camps, the season running from August until the snow goes, so that operations are now in full blast. The steamer Fraser was used to carry supplies to the camps, and bring back tows of saw-logs to the mills at Cache Bay.

Wednesday she loaded up with oats, sugar, dried apples and general supplies, and sailed from Calendar, which is eight miles down the line from here, at about 8 o'clock with her crew of six men, as detailed above, and the remainder shantymen. Most of her load of supplies was in a scow, which was towed behind. All went well until shortly after 11 o'clock, when fire was discovered in the engine-room over the boiler. The alarm was at once given and efforts made to lay on the hose, but before anything could be done the flames burst forth with such a fury that the men were driven back, and a rush was made to lower the boats, of which there were two, each capable of carrying eighteen or twenty men. The port boat was lowered successfully, and sixteen or eighteen men got into her, when she drifted under the paddle-wheel and was immediately capsized, throwing the entire company into the water. Of these but one was eventually saved. Some were struck by the revolving wheels and stunned. Others rose struggling to the surface, and attempted to swim, but their clothes hampering them they struggled in vain, and one by one sunk to rise no more. John Adams alone reached the scow, where four others had already succeeded in securing a refuge and subsequently two more joined their comrades, making up the total o the saved. Just about this time Capt. Burritt, who runs a boat for Messrs. J. B. Smith & Sons, Franks Bay, on the main land some six miles north of the spot where the burning steamer lay, noticed the blazing boat, and, with the assistance of Peter Commands, an Indian, he set out to the rescue in a sailboat. The day was bright, mild and clear, and there was a light wind off the land. Progress was slow, however, and it was an hour and a half before they were able to make the scow, which, in the meantime, had been cut loose from the burning steamer and was lying practically motionless on the calm bosom of the lake. He took off the seven castaways and sailed around, hoping to see others; but there was no sign of life on those cruel waters. Turning his boat shorewards, he made the best time possible to land, and transferred his precious freight to William Smith's boating house at Frank's Bay, where the half-drowned survivors were taken good care of until yesterday morning, when they were put on board the steamer Sparrow and taken over to Sandy Island, and from there to Sturgeon Falls, where six stayed, Adams coming on here last night.

THE LOST.

The thirteen who are known to be lost are:

Captain William Carr, Cache Bay, married, children; Captain A. T. Douglass, Cache Bay, married, six children; Alfred Barbeau, first mate, Rocklyn; Wm. Storey, engineer, Cache Bay; Thomas Osborne, deckhand; J. Smalley, Lyle; Thos. Bowers, Joseph Sutherland, T. Massey, Matthew Brennan, Toronto; J. McCann, Toronto, married; Isaac How, Rousseau, married; John How, Bracebridge, nephew of Isaac How. It is a matter of doubt whether there were any others on board. The principal reason for believing that there are four unaccounted for is that the cook states he set dinner for 24, after counting the number of persons on the boat. Of the whole number enumerated above five were married, and of these five four are lost.

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Meeting of the Executive Committee—Next Annual Meeting—The Ellis Case.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—The executive committee of the Canadian Press Association, which met to-day, accepted an offer from the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway, extending special privileges to members of the association. The annual meeting of the association will be held on the second Thursday and Friday in February. J. B. McLean has been appointed secretary-treasurer, vice J. E. Atkinson, resigned.

Considerable discussion took place on the case of John V. Ellis, editor of the St. John Globe, and the following resolution was adopted:

"That whereas J. V. Ellis, editor of the St. John (N. B.) Globe, has been imprisoned and fined under the law for alleged contempt of court, and

"Whereas it is apparent in his case the judicial prerogative of punishment by the exercise of that law was not unjustly strained, and

"Whereas this case, whatever its own merits or demerits, indicates that the law relating to contempt of court in its present vagueness is liable to be stretched by unworthy judges or magistrates into an exercise of gross injustice and tyranny;

"Resolved that the Canadian Press Association petition the Dominion Parliament to define the law of 'Contempt of Court' in such a manner that while judges or magistrates may have summary power to maintain the decency and dignity of proceedings in court and power also to check and punish criticism or proceedings outside of the court, which may prejudice juries, or may before delivery of judicial decision assails the court, there shall be no possibility of any citizen being otherwise subjected, without trial by his peers, to arbitrary punishment for any alleged contempt or libel."

COLD DAY IN NEWFOUNDLAND!

For the Candidates of the Opposition.

Returns So Far Received Show Twenty Government Men Returned and Five Conservatives—The Opposition Leaders Left Out.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Nov. 9.—The results of the election in this island up to noon today show the Opposition has sustained a crushing defeat and the Government will be returned to power with a very large majority. There are still eleven districts to hear from out of the 36. At present the officicial count stands: Government, 20; Opposition, 5.

The Premier, Sir William V. Whiteway, has defeated one of the Opposition leaders, W. Baine Grieve, in Trinity, which returns three Government supporters—Whiteway, Bond and Watson.

Placentia returns two Government men—Emerson and McGrath, but O'Dwyer has beaten in this district by Donnelly, Opposition.

Burin returned two Government men—Tait and Payne.

The Opposition are pretty well demoralized. They have lost Sir Robert Thorburn, who went over to the Government in Bonavista, and both Messrs. Monroe and Grieve have suffered defeat in St. Johns and Trinity.

The two leaders of the Opposition, Messrs. Grieves and Monroe, are badly beaten and the Opposition defeat is complete.

FOUR MORE

SUICIDE IN TORONTO!

Mrs. F. T. Chestnut Takes a Fatal Dose of Laudanum.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 9.—MRS. F. T. Chestnut, 29 Maitland street, wife of the head of a department in the store of W. A. Murray & Co., committed suicide to-day by taking laudanum.

This morning when her husband left for the store deceased told him to take the key of the house with him and have lunch down town. She was going out to visit friends and would not be back till evening.

When Mr. Chestnut returned in the evening about 6:30 he found the house in darkness, and going through and upstairs he found his wife lying on the bed prepared as if for burial and in a comatose condition from the effects of a dose of laudanum.

He at once called medical assistance and the usual remedies were applied, but without success, deceased dying a few minutes after 10 o'clock without having recovered consciousness.

She left a note on the dressing table addressed to her husband, saying she intended putting an end to her life for private reasons and asking him to keep it from the public if possible. The couple have no children, and the husband claims they lived comfortably together.

THE ALERTS' RECORDS.

Percentages in Batting and Fielding—Splendid for an Amateur Organization—Letter of Thanks to the Public.

The percentages of the Alerts in batting and fielding have been figured out by a member of the ADVERTISER staff and are given below. In comparison with records figured out by Mr. Joe Weber, very little differences occur. The results are highly complimentary to the players. It was a noticeable fact during the season that while all were striving to do their best, not one member shirked a play for the sake of a record. The batting of some of the members is interesting. Johnson's stick work in the latter part of the season was very heavy and steady. In the last sixteen games played he made 35 hits. As will be seen, the redoubtable Sippi is always up. The averages given below are taken from Alert games only.

BATTING RECORD.

	Games.	Times at bat.	Base hits.	Per cent.
Collins	3	16	7	.437

LETTER OF THANKS.

The Alerts' management have handed in the following letter for publication:

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

The baseball season of 1893 having ended, the Alert Baseball Club desires to thank the citizens of London, especially the ladies, for the liberal patronage bestowed upon us during the past season. Our aim has been to provide our patrons with good, honest sport, to uphold the honor of London—the best ball town in Canada—and to be a credit to our native city by gentlemanly conduct on and off the field, at home or abroad. How far we have succeeded in doing this we ask the citizens to judge. If we have satisfactorily entertained the several thousand ladies and gentlemen who have attended our games this season, many of whom would probably have spent their holidays away had there been no games here—then we are satisfied. Although the pennant for 1893 will not float in London, we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have kept our organization a strictly amateur one, which is probably more than the champions would care to assert. We also ask the press of the city to accept our hearty thanks for the splendid manner in which they have supported us, for we fully appreciate the fact that without their aid and approval it would be very doubtful if we could attain the position we hold at present. The Alerts will continue their organization throughout the winter months, and hope to put a team in the field next spring fully as strong, if not stronger, than the present one, and we hope to merit the continuance of the patronage that has been ours in the past.

IMPORTANT!

"Win a Crown and wear it," is a very good motto. HEINTZMAN & CO. having worked for and obtained a reputation as first-class piano manufacturers, do not feel that they are called upon to share it with any other firm, who by fallacious argument try to make the public believe that the Piano they make or sell is "just like THE HEINTZMAN," or that it is THE "Heintzman." The public and intending purchasers especially, are asked to bear in mind that there is only one HEINTZMAN & CO. Piano. Our trade mark is registered, therefore do not be induced to buy a piano unless it bears the good old name of "Heintzman & Co." It is a safe guarantee that the piano bearing it is reliable in every particular. We have some new and beautiful designs in stock at our London Warerooms, "C. P. R." 129 Dundas street. Also some excellent bargains in second-hand Pianos and Organs by other makers. Inspection invited, terms easy.

AGAINST THE "OLD POLICY."

The Rev. Dr. Douglas States His Views.

He is Opposed to the Fiscal as Well as the Religious Policy of the Thompson Regime.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—Rev. Dr. Douglas, who is recognized as the Quebec champion of equal rights, is spoken of in Toronto as one of the orators who will address a monster convention to be held there in December in support of D'Alton McCarthy as a federal political leader. In Montreal, however, it is doubted by many that the reverend doctor will give any countenance to Mr. McCarthy's policy on the trade question, or on any federal issue, save that of equal rights. Dr. Douglas has removed all doubt on the matter by declaring in an interview last evening that, though now and always non-partisan in politics, and though eschewing on the platform every issue save that of equal rights, he was, nevertheless, free to say that he opposed the fiscal as well as the religious policy, so called, of the Thompson Government. He had been through Ontario during the past summer, from Cornwall to Port Huron, and throughout the Province he found a universal conviction that the cost of government was too high, with wheat selling at the phenomenally low price of 55 cents a bushel; there was a general feeling of unrest, which was intensified rather than allayed by what the doctor termed "the relentlessness of Sir John Thompson in his avowed determination to adhere to the old policy." Moreover, he believed the Government had alienated many of its strongest supporters by creating new offices in connection with the Cabinet at a time when dissatisfaction was widespread among a people of 4,000,000 or 5,000,000, governed by 60 or 70 Cabinet Ministers. Especially among the farmers, this discontent, he said, prevailed. The shrinkage of farm values was phenomenal. So, too, was the depopulation of the villages and towns. Notwithstanding the depression in the United States, the exodus continued unabated. He instanced the towns of Port Hope, Napanee and Belleville, which he knew as well as Montreal. In these towns houses in excellent condition were selling he said, for one-third of their cost. There was, therefore, an imperative demand for reduction in the cost of government, and reform of the tariff. It was outrageous that a country of Canada's population should have to support 800 paid politicians. It was draining the very life out of the community. He believed in moderate protection, which would conserve the interests of workingmen, and yet relieve the country. But it was iniquitous to continue protection to millionaire manufacturers. Adverting to the subject of equal rights, he said that much apprehension existed in Ontario lest the Dominion Government should yield to the machinations of a "secret league," whose object was to obtain large land subsidies for the separate schools of the Northwest. If the Government resorted to such a policy as a means of getting over their school difficulty they would find in Ontario the sternest defiance. He (Dr. Douglas) had the assurance of one of the strongest supporters of the Government in Ontario that he would never support such a policy. His own view of the situation was, Dr. Douglas said, anything but hopeless. He believed the time would come when Catholics, emancipating themselves from the influence of the clergy, would abandon sectarianism in educational affairs. The tendencies of the times were all in that direction. This was proved by the liberal attitude of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland and their liberal action was generously met by the Protestants of the United States. In all the common schools inaugurated on the Faribault plan the rights of Catholic teachers were recognized, and when they were properly qualified they were engaged everywhere. He agreed with those Catholics and others who urged the necessity of ethical teaching as a part of common school education. But pure ethics could be taught without the base alloy of sectarianism. For his part, he was not one of those who insisted on the Bible-reading in the schools. The Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount were quite sufficient, and upon some such common ground Christians could and should agree upon a national educational system against which the charge of "Godless schools" could not be with justice made, and such a system would break down the barriers of separation which now unfortunately existed between youths of parents of different persuasion.

MERMAIDS ARE NOT IN IT.

The Hydrograph Talks Trough Water Over Their Heads.

The problem of communication between ship and ship, and between ship and shore bids fair to be solved in a new and unexpected way, thanks to the enterprise and ingenuity of Capt. Neale. Utilizing the high conductivity of water for the transmission of sound he has constructed a signaling apparatus, which consists of a transmitting and a receiving instrument, which, when in operation, are in no way connected with each other except through the medium of water.

As at present arranged, the operator has an acoustic apparatus connected with the drums, by means of which he hears the sounds from a bell as they are received by the drums, and, by a manual arrangement, he records each sound on a tape. Two punts were moored in the Thames at Kingston, about two-thirds of a mile apart recently, and signaling was successfully carried on from the one to the other. Messages were correctly transmitted and recorded, although naturally somewhat slowly, owing to the apparatus being at present worked by hand. The trial, however, demonstrated the practical character of the invention and the correctness of the principles upon which it is based. In practice each ship or station is intended to have both a transmitter and a receiver.—[Westminster Gazette.

"Who hath not own'd with rapture-smitten frame
The power of grace, the magic of a name?"

Asks Campbell, the poet, in his "Pleasures of Hope." Pleasures of Hope, forsooth. Many and many a woman knows them no longer. They are in despair about their health. They are run-down, debilitated, suffering from what they know not. It may be dyspepsia, heart disease, liver or kidney disease; any or all of them. The sicknesses of women are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That's where the magic of a name comes in. This improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels nervousness and melancholy, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. It is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to sour in the stomach and cause distress. It is as peculiar in its composition as it is marvelous in its remedial results.

TWIN SISTERS GO INSANE.

Annie and Ellen Taylor Confined in Bellevue Hospital.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Annie and Ellen Taylor, two mild-mannered spinsters, 40 years old, who earned their living by dressmaking, became insane on Sunday. Though very dissimilar in appearance, the sisters are twins. Annie is fat and good natured, while her sister is small and slight. On Sunday afternoon Annie told her sister that she was feeling queerly and her head buzzed. Ellen then began to feel strangely also. After talking it over the sisters concluded that they had smallpox or some other ailment, and decided to go to the hospital. They locked up the rooms and went around to St. Vincent's Hospital. They two women acted so queerly when they reached the hospital that the doctors decided to admit them for examination as to their sanity. All night long the sisters raved, and they became so violent that it was decided to send them to the insane pavilion at Bellevue Hospital.

Liberal Tariff Platform.

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare:

That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;

It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

It has checked immigration;

It has caused great loss of population;

It has impeded commerce;

It has discriminated against Great Britain.

In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people.

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government.

That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessaries of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States.

We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we unhesitatingly accept, and upon it we await with the fullest confidence the verdict of the electors of Canada.

An East York Conservative Association Talks to Mr. McLean, M.P.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—The Chester Conservative Association has unanimously passed the following resolution:

"In view of the prolonged commercial depression throughout Canada, and on account of the heavy duties upon imports, reducing the purchasing power of our currency by nearly 40 per cent.; and that as a matter of principles we object to such high taxation, made solely that we should be compelled to purchase at the highest price the (for most part) very inferior manufactures of this country to the exclusion of cheaper and superior goods manufactured in Great Britain; and on the principle that Canadian manufactures, if any good, can easily stand upon their merits, and need not, therefore, fear a rivalry that has to come a matter of about 3,000 miles to compete with them; if, on the other hand, they are not good enough for that, then they are not worth bolstering up by an exceedingly high tariff;

"Therefore be it resolved that this association do urge upon the Dominion Government the urgent desirability of reforming the tariff to such an extent as would give us free trade with Great Britain, which, in our opinion, would be of inestimable advantage to this country;

"And further be it resolved that this association do hereby ask our member, W. F. Maclean, Esq., M.P., to do all in his power to further the cause of 'tariff reform.'"

Tupper's Latest Confession.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—Talking here Sir Charles Tupper said he had not read the dispatch of the London Times on Canadian relations with Great Britain. "But," said he, "it is quite natural for the Times to talk free trade. England is still unquestionably a free trade nation." "Even to the point of refusing to discriminate in favor of colonel trade?" "Yes," he replied, "the English people are at present, at least, opposed to such a policy."

THE GERRYMANDER.

Then, too, there was the matter of the gerrymander of constituencies. Was it in accord with Conservative principles that the party governed the country by living the Grits so that, although they had a majority of the votes of the electorate, they had a minority of members in Parliament? It was the attitude of Mr. McCarty and myself with regard to that question, which stunk most in the nostrils of the Ministers who had wanted to gain a few seats by that most contemptible kind of party warfare.—[Col. THE LONDON AND PORT STANLEY FUTURE.

Wednesday night's mass meeting of citizens to consider the London and Port Stanley lease emphasized two facts more especially:

(1) That there are undoubtedly two sides to the question as to the best course to pursue to maintain the interests of the city; and

(2) The great advantage of publicity.

Many facts were brought out on both sides that were before secret to the public, but there are good reasons for believing that they were not unknown to the railways interested in the deal, and therefore Mayor Essery's somewhat infantile plea that secrecy is a necessity to the proper conduct of public business is easily apprehended. A voluminous correspondence was presented to the meeting. It was altogether conducted by the president and secretary of the London and Port Stanley Board and the railway companies interested, with the exception of the letter by General Manager Seargeant in reply to a letter from Mr. F. A. Fitzgerald, of the Imperial Oil Company, written by the last-named after the tenders were opened. Mr. Fitzgerald's letter, to which this communication was a reply, however, was not submitted to the meeting. At the close the show of hands was declared by the chairman to be in favor of the motion submitted by Mr. T. H. Purdom, Q.C., and seconded by Dr. Gardiner, which held that the line should be leased to the G. T. R.

The majority of the London and Port Stanley Board being favorable to the terms proposed by the Walkerville company, as expounded and supported at the meeting by Mayor Essery and others, the ratification or rejection of the agreement is in the hands of the City Council, which will hold a meeting for that purpose shortly. We have said all along that the representatives of the people must have a free hand to deal with this question, and with the object of helping them to a right conclusion we purpose to present the two sides of the question, as brought out at the mass meeting, in as brief shape as possible.

Taking the Walkerville offer, which the mayor and his coadjutors deem to be the best sent to them, the contention for it is that by granting the lease to that company the city not only gets a rental of $10,000 a year, but on all expenditures for repairs of bridges, etc., it will be paid an interest of 4½ per cent. a year by the company. Then, it is contended that the port will be kept open, and that merchants and manufacturers here will be able to maintain and to extend their business in competition with cities like Toronto and Hamilton that are built on the water, and thus be able to enlarge the manufacturing and industrial establishments in the city, and maintain the rate of wages. It is further maintained that in the event of there being freer trade relations between the United States and Canada—as seems highly probable within the next year or two—there will be an immense increase to our intercourse and business with the United States. In the matter of coal alone, Mr. Yates said, there would be a saving of $15,000 a year to city consumers, even if the reduction was only 25 cents per ton.

In opposition to this bargain, the argument was adduced that the Walkerville company has no direct interest in London, that it will take trade from the city rather than to it, and that it will be no more interested in keeping Port Stanley an open port than is the Grand Trunk.

For the Grand Trunk side the argument was adduced, with some force, that the city had grown up with that corporation, and that it was not advisable to "butt" against it. It was alleged that if the company desired the lease, and could not have it, it was in its power to injure the city, and to curtail its force of workmen at this point, who, by the way, are of the best stamp of citizens. Incidentally, it was asserted that though the Grand Trunk manager had emphasized that the two questions should be settled separately, the fact that the city had refused the lease to the company would militate against London in the final disposal of the car shops question.

In opposition to the view that the awarding of the lease to the Grand Trunk would best promote the welfare of the city was put forth the argument that the G. T. R. Company was a business corporation which, like all business concerns, is not influenced by sentiment. Under these circumstances it was argued that the Grand Trunk was looking at the railway lease as well as at the car shops question from its own standpoint. It was also complained that the company had not put in an offer that the London and Port Stanley Board could fairly consider till after the tenders were opened, and that in any case the letter containing the basis of agreement was to a private individual from the general manager, and distinctly stated that it would be subject to review by the home board in England. This led to the further argument that, in the event of the Walker offer being rejected, and of the Grand Trunk Board making stipulations incidental to their tender that could not be accepted as for the benefit of London, the city would have no alternative.

The car shops question was brought prominently into the discussion of both offers. But it is well known that the railway lease must be first disposed of. That is the desire of the Grand Trunk authorities, as voiced by the general manager. Then let us have the best possible agreement that can be drawn up with regard to the car shops, and let the people vote for or reject the bonus bylaw as they believe the welfare of the city demands. In any case we will require practical unanimity of manufacturers, merchants, mechanics and wage-earners of every description to carry any bonus bylaw, and it is to be hoped that no step will be taken in the meanwhile that will render it difficult to secure that united action.

The ADVERTISER has endeavored to present both sides of the question to its readers and to the members of the City Council, who have now before them facts and figures that would not have been available, or could have been but ill-digested before a vote was called for, if the secret meetings against which we have protested had been continued down to the end of the chapter. The responsibility rests with the civic representatives in any case, and with them we leave it.

—We have seen of late, in the eastern portion of our Dominion, an unwonted liberty taken with the liberty of the subject. The judge has cast the editor into prison, but he has cast the ermine into the mire; he has made all righteous Canada guilty of a commendable contempt of court; he has converted the venerable sceptre of British justice into a venom-laden shaft and has done more to justify irreverent criticism of the dispensation of our laws than a score of righteous judges can do to suppress it.—[Rev. R. E. Knowles, Ottawa, on the Ellis case.

WAIF IMMIGRATION

"At North London, a poor woman, who seemed in great distress, complained to Mr. Lane that her son, a boy of 6—a weak and delicate child who suffered from fits—was going to be sent to Canada by Dr. Barnardo without her consent. Mr. Lane said that Dr. Barnardo had had great experience in these matters and he was hardly likely to attempt what he had not a legal right to do. Recent legislation, passed at that gentleman's instigation, had given him a power to control children where the parents had signed legal contracts parting with their children. The applicant said she signed a paper, but she did not know what it contained. That morning she had received a letter from Dr. Barnardo intimating that the child would be sent away, and that she could write to him if she chose. She was not even offered an opportunity to see the child. She did not want the child to go away at all, and was now in a position to keep him. Asked why she allowed the child to go into the home, the applicant said that eighteen months ago her husband died. A month after another baby was born, and she was altogether unable to provide food for the children. She had no difficulty in getting the child into the home, in fact they wanted her to leave the baby there also. She was now in regular work and wished to have the child back. She could not bear the idea of the poor little fellow being taken away and probably dying in a fit thousands of miles away. Mr. Lane said that the applicant must go to the High Court and no doubt she would find many people willing to provide legal aid. The applicant was referred to Mr. Holmes, the court missionary."

The sooner this class of immigration is absolutely prohibited the better. In any case, the policy of subsidizing professional philanthropists to send these waifs to Canada should be departed from. Dr. Barnardo boasts that he has sent out 6,571 boys and girls since he began business, including no fewer than 834 dispatched this year. He gets a bonus for each juvenile immigrant sent to Canada, and it is collected from the taxpayers by the Dominion Government.

—Mr. McCarthy cleared one point up at Owen Sound. Hitherto his party friends have said that he struck out on an independent course because he was not taken into the Cabinet. Mr. McCarthy's reply is that he was offered a seat in the Government when Sir John Macdonald died, but declined unless the Administration were in accord with his principles as stated in Parliament.

INJURES ALL BUT A FEW.

It is but reasonable that the church should feel the effects of the general depression of business which prevails over the Dominion. Industry is retarded, means of living reduced, and the church, in common with other interests and institutions, suffers.—[Toronto Presbyterian Review.

That is so, but the Review should have a care. Does it not know that to state the condition of affairs, and to suggest a remedy is a gross act of disloyalty? At least the high tax rulers at Ottawa have so decreed. We are like the Review; we refuse to keep silence in order that extravagance may run wild at Ottawa, while surpluses are built up, to be squandered as opportunity offers, through the over-taxation of the people. A few days ago the "protectionist" agents of the Sir John Thompson Government were asking the people to rejoice that several millions of dollars had been collected by over-taxation. Was that anything to approve of? When Hon. Alex. Mackenzie's Government had a surplus, which came to them under the low tariff then prevailing, Sir Charles Tupper, as financial critic of the Opposition, declared that the Government had no right to have a surplus—that it was just so much money taken out of the pockets of the people. If that criticism held good then, how much more strongly does it apply now that the expenditure has been raised from $23,000,000 to nearly double that sum? If the millions of dollars alleged to be lying in the banks, at the call of the Government, had been left in the pockets of the people, how much better it would be for farmers, for business men, for wage-earners, and for all of us but the parasitic beneficiaries of the high tax system.

The country needs a change.

THE OPEN FORUM.

The Port Stanley Railway.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Wednesday's railway meeting in the City Hall was an important one, and its effects will doubtless be far-reaching either for good or evil to the city. While I entertain strong views as to which of the two propositions voted upon is the better one, I do not write to express them. I desire, however, to give expression to two ideas.

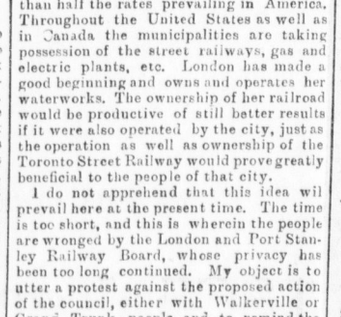

1. The people cannot be too freely consulted by their representatives in matters that affect their welfare as business men and as citizens. There was no information given at last night's meeting that might not have been safely given to the public weeks ago. That information has not yet reached the great body of the electors, yet the vote taken by those who were present is intended to influence the votes of aldermen at the City Council meeting to-morrow night. My point is that if the people are consulted at all—and they ought to be freely and frequently—there should be no mistake made about obtaining the true sentiment of the ratepayers.

2. London ought to operate as well as own the London and Port Stanley Railway. There are no safeguards that can be made with any railway corporation leasing the road that will thoroughly protect the interests of the city. The objects aimed at when the road was built can never be fully secured until the action I suggest is taken. And why should it not be taken? Every improvement on the road must be paid for directly or indirectly by the citizens, and if other parties make the improvements they will exact ample remuneration for doing so. The tendency of the age is towards municipal and government ownership of railways, gas and electric plants, waterworks, etc. Germany to-day owns and operates nearly all her railways at a great saving to her people. France owns and operates her telephone system and England her telegraph system with the best results. The English Government has a margin of profit from telegraphing after charging less than half the rates prevailing in America. Throughout the United States as well as in Canada the municipalities are taking possession of the street railways, gas and electric plants, etc. London has made a good beginning and owns and operates her waterworks. The ownership of her railroad would be productive of still better results if it were also operated by the city, just as the operation as well as ownership of the Toronto Street Railway would prove greatly beneficial to the people of that city.

I do not apprehend that this idea will prevail here at the present time. The time is too short, and this is wherein the people are wronged by the London and Port Stanley Railway Board, whose privacy has been too long continued. My object is to utter a protest against the proposed action of the council, either with Walkerville or Grand Trunk people, and to remind the citizens that while it may be too late now to arrange for the operation of the L. and P. S. road by the city, it is not too late to prevent the placing of very valuable franchises in the hands of other corporations that desire to control our street railways and our gas and electric plants.

Whether or not the London and Port Stanley Railroad should be leased to the Walkerville or Grand Trunk people is a momentous question; but one that affects our citizens far more largely is whether or not that road should be operated by commissioners, elected by the people as our waterworks commissioners now are. Yours, etc.,
GEORGE WRIGLEY.

Blood Poisoning

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. Her husband spent hundreds of dollars without any benefit. She weighed but 78 pounds, and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says, "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 pounds, eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

Mrs. M. E. O'Fallon.

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

TWENTY THOUSAND TROUT

The American Turf Congress Revises Its Racing Rules—General Sporting News.

PISCATORIAL.

LONDON GUN CLUB FISHING RESORT.

There was an air of pleasurable excitement and fresh fish about the London Gun Club's famous angling resort at Dorchester yesterday. It was a big event in the history of the club. Twenty thousand young trout, by actual count, were deposited in the great pond, in which the hooks of the members will dangle. "It is the largest shipment of 9 months trout ever made in America," said Mr. Charles Wilmot, the proprietor of the big nurseries at Credit Forks, Ont., where the fish were hatched. "As a matter of fact no trout of that age have ever been shipped in Canada before."

The trout left Credit Forks early in the morning on a special car, packed in 65 large cans. News of the consignment traveled ahead and at stations along the route, notably at Guelph, crowds gathered to see it. The car arrived at London at 2 p.m. and was attached to the 2:20 p.m. train for Dorchester. The fish were taken in wagons to the club resort and deposited in the pond by Mr. Wilmot and others, amid much enthusiasm. Among the members present were: C. S. Hyman, M.P., Geo. C. Gibbons, Q.C., Fred T. Trebilcock, Messrs. Mauret, A. E. Pavey, James Duffield, D. B. Dewar, John P. Evans, Ed Beltz and Charles Bowman. The fish were from four to six inches long and next season will be ready to catch with the fly. It is the intention of the club to keep the water stocked permanently with from 25,000 to 40,000, and a hatch of that size will be added every year. The wise course has been taken of securing the trout in this mature condition, though the expense is greater, instead of purchasing the small fry, a large portion of which would be almost certain to be destroyed. The deposit yesterday will be supplemented by another of 5,000 in a short time.

"The enterprise of the London Gun Club," Mr. Wilmot told a reporter, "is one of the largest in the country. It will undoubtedly prove a huge success. The pond and the surroundings are among the finest in Canada. The quality of the water is superb and specially suited to the preservation of the fish. Some grand sport is in store for your citizens. The members deserve great credit for the manner in which they have created the resort, and a great deal is due to the energy of the club's secretary, Mr. Fred Trebilcock. I may say that nursery ponds are the only means by which fry can be reared successfully for club purposes."

Boat races were held in celebration of the affair. Mr. Dewar's crew defeated Mr. Pavey's and Mr. Trebilcock's left Mr. Hyman's a length behind.

THE TURF.

RACING RULES REVISED.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.—The American Turf Congress was in secret session here yesterday. Among important changes was a rule requiring owners to register their colors with the turf congress, also a rule requiring all horses to be entered in the American stud book. These are precautions against "ringers."

An important change is the following: Two-year-old geldings are allowed three pounds. Geldings 3 years old and over are allowed five pounds from March 1 to Sept. 1 and three pounds thereafter.

A rule was adopted penalizing a starter or his assistants for seeking or acquiring a knowledge of the betting before a race.

A more important rule is one that in dead heats in selling races the owners may divide, in which case both horses must be sold and the excess, if any, be divided between the association and the third horse.

An extreme penalty is affixed to a proposition or agreement to bid or not to bid on the winner of a selling race.

Jockey fees in races bringing under $500 to winner are fixed at $5 for losing and $15 for winning; in all other races in the absence of a contract the fees shall be $10 and $25.

Extreme penalties are affixed to outsiders for offering and to jockeys for accepting offers of extra fees, except by permission of the owner.

TIPS.

It is said that the Futurity for 2-year-olds at Independence next year will be worth $40,000.

Thomas Sargent, a colored jockey, who was thrown while exercising a horse at Hawthorne Park last week, has died from the injuries then received.

BASEBALL.

E. Harry Decker, who was a clever catcher when Cushman managed Toronto's professional baseball club, is insane. His hallucination is that he owns the city of Chicago.

Cincinnat is to have a new baseball park for 1894.

THE KENNEL.

A Windsor item says Maj. Guillot has purchased from Editor Gorman, of the Sarnia Observer, his St. Bernard pup, Lord Dufferin, for $500.

FIELD TRIALS CLUB OFFICERS.

Following are the officers elected at Chatham for the International Field Trials Club for the ensuing year: President, Dr. Totten, Forest; first vice-president, F. W. Eddy, Detroit; second vice-president, T. G. Davey, London; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Wells, Chatham; executive committee, C. R. Atkinson, Montague Smith, I. L. Nichols, Jos. Kime, Thos. Johnson, J. G. Armstrong, Geo. Briggs, H. D. Mitchell and R. Bangham.

INTERNATIONAL TRIALS.

CHATHAM, Nov. 9.—The third day of the international field trials is over. It was expected that they would have been completed by this evening, but owing to the heavy and damp fog which hung over the grounds all morning the sportsmen were able to do but little. The all-aged stake was continued during the entire day and will be concluded to-morrow.

ACTIVITY DISPLAYED

By the Temperance Workers of South London.

Meeting in Askin Street School House—Addresses by Revs. Thos. Cullen and M. P. Talling.

The interest throughout the city in the approaching plebiscite continues to increase, and the residents of the only prohibition ward are as actively engaged in the work as the residents of any other district. In the school house of the Askin Street Methodist Church last night a large and enthusiastic meeting of temperance workers was held. Only two speakers were present, but they handled the question so effectively that the services of a larger number were not necessary, especially when the present condition of the ward in regard to number of hotels is taken into consideration. A good programme had been prepared, which added greatly to the evening's enjoyment. The solos were all especially applicable to the occasion, being of a temperance character. The South London male quartet rendered two selections, both of which were heartily applauded. A recitation by Miss Cullen entitled "Only One Vote," and a solo, "Father, Come Home," by little Laura Wheaton, were equally well received.

The chairman for the evening was Rev. Thos. Cullen, pastor of the Askin Street Methodist Church, who delivered a short address. "I want" said he "every man, woman, girl and boy to feel that they are in the temperance movement and for total prohibition. I will receive their hand in friendship, and any one who cannot see their way clear, I will say, "Come brother, and I will talk with thee." The reverend gentleman declared his position at the present time on the question of the hour and said that it was the same during the whole of his life.

Rev. M. P. Talling was then called upon. In his introductory remarks reference was made to a recent visit to Chicago and the immense size of the buildings there. "But," said Mr. Talling, "I am sorry to say that we have probably the biggest distillery on the continent in this fair Canada of ours. It is situated in Toronto, and would it not be an equally large task could we close it up? The temperance question has now reached such a stage that nearly every man and woman is thinking and talking of it. Should there be a man or woman ignorant of the importance of this leading question such person should be instructed. Since I came to the city of London vast advances have been made. Forty licenses have been cut off and I am sure better than that can yet be done. Next year there will be a still larger number in favor of prohibition than last year. The largest vote possible will have to be polled in the coming election, whether it be for prohibition or not, as with such a vote there can be no misunderstanding. If we have a majority the men can throw up their hats, while the women can borrow their husbands' hats and equally join in the rejoicing. Should the liquor men have a majority, what will we do? Will we let them have their own way? Never! We will win their numbers over, and with the work still kept up the victory will sooner or later be won. We do not want prohibition that will not prohibit. We want prohibition proper, and what the people vote for." Reference was made to the workings of the Dominion commission, the speaker saying that they would be no further advanced at the close of their labors than when they were appointed. What was wanted by the appointees of that body was to delay the issue as long as possible.

Mr. T. Brenton, an old temperance worker, was called on but said that he would withhold his remarks for a future meeting. The meeting was then brought to a close by the singing of the doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction.

THE musical instrument called the jews-harp, once very popular among the negroes of the South, and mentioned by a doubtful chronicler as one of two instruments the Connecticut Puritans might lawfully play on Sunday, was really not named in honor of the Jews. It was once called the jous-trump, or toy trumpet, and the name jews harp is the result of a popular misapprehension.

Two granddaughters of Michael Balfe, composer of "The Bohemian Girl," are living in poverty in Jersey City. One is the wife of a decrepit barkeeper; the other, Miss Maud Balfe, was a member of the Salvation Army until her sister fell ill. But, badly off as they are, they hope to be helped by the Duchess de Frias, wife of a grandee of Spain, who happens to be their aunt and the composer's daughter. There's a contrast of positions for one family.

Fifth Annual Convention of Canadian Ticket Agents' Association.

Business First, a Drive About the City Afterwards,

And a Banquet in the Evening—Officers Re-elected—Those Who Were Present.

The fifth annual convention of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association in this city yesterday was very largely attended. The proceedings commenced at 11 o'clock, and the first business was the adoption of the minutes of the last annual meeting and the financial statement, as presented by the secretary-treasurer. An address followed by the president, W. R. Callaway, on the objects and benefits of the association. An adjournment was made at 2 o'clock, when a drive was taken to the principal points of interest in and about the city. On returning at 4:30 the election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted in the re-election of all the officers of last year as follows: President, W. R. Callaway, Toronto, first vice-president, J. A. McKenzie, Woodstock; second vice-president, W. E. Rispin, Chatham; third vice-president, W. H. Bowman, Berlin; secretary-treasurer, E. De la Hooke, London; auditor, W. Jackson, Clinton; executive committee, T. Long, Port Hope; J. P. Hurley, Peterboro; P. J. Slatter, Toronto; J. Paul, London; H. G. Hunt, St. Catharines.

The matter of ticket brokerage in Canada was introduced by Mr. John Paul and was referred to the executive committee. A paper on "Our Association; Its Aims and Uses" was read by Mr. J. A. McKenzie, of Woodstock, and proved to be a very interesting subject. At the close of the proceedings a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. W. R. Callaway for his able management of the meeting. The members present were: W. R. Callaway, C. P. R., Toronto; J. A. McKenzie, G. T. R., Woodstock; W. E. Rispin, G. T. R., Chatham; W. H. Bowman, C. P. R., Berlin; E. De la Hooke, G. T. R., London; W. THE BANQUET.

The banquet in the evening was attended by a large number of guests from London and outside places. Besides the gentlemen of the association named above there were present: Mr. Crane, assistant passenger agent of the Wabash; Mr. Dickson, district passenger agent, G. T. R.; Mr. Weeks, general feastern passenger agent, West Shore; H. J. Ball, general western passenger agent of the Lackawanna; S. A. Hutchinson, general traveling passenger agent of the Union Pacific; Mr. Weatherston, general eastern agent of the Intercolonial; Mr. Mason, traveling passenger agent of the Northern Pacific; Mr. Lanigan, traveling freight agent of the G. T. R.; Mr. R. Herring, editor Petrolea Advertiser; Ald. McMurrich, Toronto; Messrs. Vanston and Anderson, of the Grand Trunk, London; Chas. S. Hyman, M.P., Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Hodge, David Cowan, C. F. Colwell, S. Munro, Ernie Ruse, Alex. Stewart, Chas. Tatham, Ben Holman, Mayor Essery, Dr. Piper, W. H. McWhinney, Jas. Houston, N. P. Graydon, Mr. Bowen and others of this city. W. R. Callaway occupied the chair, and J. A. McKenzie, Woodstock, the vice chair.

In his opening remarks Mr. W. R. Callaway welcomed all present on behalf of London. Mr. De la Hooke had promised them a good time and he believed that they had had one. (Applause.) He asked the gathering to join with him in honoring the health of the Queen and the royal family on this the 52nd anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Wales. The toast was right royally responded to, those present singing "God Save the Queen."

Mr. Callaway also spoke to the toast of "The General Passenger Department." "The departments," he said, "that cause us poor gentlemen trouble are gray hairs and bald heads. (Applause.) They send us debits and they send us tariffs. (Hear, hear.) No end to them, and they read very often like a Chinese puzzle. But, gentlemen, we have got to submit, we are theirs; they are not ours, but we all hope to get there some day. (Applause.)

Happy responses were received from Mr. Crane, assistant passenger agent of the Wabash; Mr. Dickson, district passenger agent, Grand Trunk; Mr. Weeks, general eastern passengers agent, West Shore; Mr. H. J. Ball, general western passenger agent of the Lackawanna; S. A. Hutchinson, general traveling passenger agent of the Union Pacific; Mr. Weatherston, general eastern agent of the Intercolonial; Mr. Mason, traveling passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, and Mr. Lanigan, general traveling freight agent of the G. T. R.

Songs were sung by Messrs. Alexander, P. Mulkern, Duffy and Davis. Mr. Simpson, Toronto's favorite elocutionist and ventriloquist treated the assemblage to a most clever exhibition of his art.

"Our Association" brought a happy reply from Mr. J. S. Symington, Sarnia.

Vice-Chairman McKenzie then took charge of the toast list. "Our Guests" brought short speeches from Mayor Essery, Chas. S. Hyman, M.P., Dr. Mitchell, Dave Cowan and Ald. McMurrich, Toronto.

Songs were sung by Ald. McMurrich and Samuel Munroe.

"The Traveling Passenger Agents" was replied to by Mr. Bastedo, Canadian traveling agent of the Santa Fe road.

Mayor Essery then sang a song.

"The Ladies" and "The Press" were honored and responded to, and the gathering broke up at 1 a.m.

Local Market Quotations.

Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son.

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 9.

Grain receipts were only moderately good to-day, and prices ruled steady at about the same prices as on Tuesday. The average price of wheat, however, was not so high; $1 03 was now and then paid, but the bulk of white wheat sold at $1 to $1 02. Red wheat had about the same experience, selling usually at 99c to $1, according to quality, but occasionally $1 01. The price paid for oats was 92c to 93c, 93c and 94c being the chief prices. One or two loads of barley offered and sold from 80c to 85c. Other kinds of grain scarce and unchanged. Butter was about 1c per lb easier all around. Eggs steady and unchanged. Poultry, turkeys and ducks quiet and no change in values. Receipts of potatoes were good and prices only moderately firm; loads sold at 65c, and single bags at 70c to 75c. All kinds of fruit quiet. Meats steady, with the exception of dressed hogs; they sold lower at $6 to $7; some nice hogs sold at $6 75. Hay sold moderately well at $8 to $8 50. General quotations are as follows:

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Major-General Herbert and staff went east Wednesday night at 5 o'clock.

—The M. C. R. will place a new time table in operation in about a week.

—Thomas Hanlon has taken out a permit to build a one-story brick cottage on Hill street.

—A favorable impression was created at the Nora Clench concert in Stratford of the singing of Miss Belle Brown, city.

—Village Constable Ward, of London West, has been appointed under the Fish and Game Laws to inspect the river and dams.

—Market Clerk Wilson has six prospective cases of infringement of the huckster bylaw in view. Two of them will be heard next week.

—A petition for a public meeting in the East End Hall to discuss L. and P. S. R. matters is being circulated by Mr. Murray Anderson.

—Nine prisoners from Windsor and Chatham passed through the city early Wednesday morning in charge of Bailiff English. All were bound for the Central Prison.

—Ed. M. Westland, South London, starts for Los Angeles, Cal., this evening, accompanied by his sister Carrie, who is on a six months' trip for the benefit of her health.

—Jacob E. Lauler, of Strathroy, was appointed a county constable provisionally by Judge W. Elliot yesterday morning, the appointment to be confirmed at the next adjourned sessions of the peace.

—Next Sabbath will be termed "Chrysanthemum Sunday" at the young men's meeting in Victoria Hall. This beautiful flower will be profusely used for decorative purposes, and Rev. Ira Smith is expected to make a short address.

—Work on the new Park Avenue Presbyterian Church is being vigorously pursued at present. It is expected that the plastering will be finished and dried by Dec. 1, and some anticipate the opening sermon on the 17th of that month.

—A meeting of the Young Liberal Club will be held on Thursday, Nov. 16, at which President L. W. Burke will deliver his inaugural address. Messrs. C. S. Hyman, M.P., and others will be present and a large attendance is requested.

—A citizen was protesting loudly about the lack of seating accommodation at the City Hall Wednesday. "It's a shame," said he, "that in a City Hall of a place the size of London there should not be seating accommodation for everyone. A country school house would furnish more seats than the City Hall did last night. I believe that it had a direct effect on the vote. Many citizens left the hall tired and weary long before the motion was put."

—Dennis Donnivan, who stole an overcoat from St. Joseph's Hospital recently, was given two months in jail yesterday at the Police Court. Mary Wilkinson, charged with being insane, who is now in jail and progressing nicely, was remanded until next Thursday. It was thought that at the present time the excitement of appearance in court might affect her injuriously.

—A very pleasant and successful plebiscite meeting was held in the Methodist Church at Thorndale on Wednesday evening. There was a large and respectable attendance, some driving in for miles to be present. Mr. Robert Stevenson presided, and addresses were given by Rev. B. Clement, of West London; Rev. Mr. Corbett, Church of England; Rev. Mr. Kerr, the pastor, and Mr. T. W. Casey, of London. Several other meetings are being arranged for in the township.

—The London branch of the Cigarmakers' Union, No. 278, held a concert and assembly in the East End Hall Wednesday. The services of Sim Fax had been secured, and in his character songs made a decided hit. He was repeatedly recalled. The programme comprised songs by Sim Fax, J. A. Birmingham, T. Selby, J. O'Neil and T. Robinson; song and dance by Messrs. Morkin and Johnson; recitations by J. Pevler, and instrumental selections by Messrs. Wilkinson and Rocket.

—Sheriff's Officer Graham has returned from Kingston, to which place he took John F. Ottwell. While there inquiries were made as to the three Freeman brothers. Their conduct since removal there has been very good. George is engaged in the kitchen, while William Henry and Alexander spend their time in the yard doing odd jobs. It is also rumored that steps are being taken to secure a new trial. Burke and Wilson are working in the stone-cutting department, and so far have caused no trouble to the authorities.

—William Fitzgerald, John Dixon and John Harvey were brought before Squire Smyth yesterday on a charge of trespass on the property of the Grand Trunk. All the prisoners pleaded guilty and were discharged with a caution. A charge of stealing an overcoat and two razors from a conductor's van at Glencoe was also dismissed. Firearms were found on Fitzgerald at the time of the arrest, but as the prisoner pleaded ignorance of the law in that respect the weapon was confiscated and the charge dismissed.

—The London Plebiscite Campaign Association have arranged for a series of meetings in the interests of the campaign as follows: On Thursday evening, Nov. 16, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; Friday evening, Nov. 17, in Colborne Street Methodist Church; Monday evening, Nov. 20, in Wellington Street Methodist Church; Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, in Dundas Street Methodist Church. At the last two meetings mentioned the Rev. J. H. Hector, of Toronto, "The Black Knight," will be the principal speaker. Mr. Hector will also commence a week's campaign in this city on Sunday, Dec. 3.

The Lease and the Council.

The city solicitors are still working on the proposed lease of the Port Stanley road to the Lake Erie and Detroit River people, and are not expected to get through until to-day. This means that the council will not meet to-night. After the lease has been drawn up Mr. Hope, of Hamilton, and Mr. Leggatt, of Walkerville, the counsel for the L. E. and D. R. Company, will come here and look after the interests of their clients. Then when everything is adjusted satisfactorily to both parties the lease will be printed and distributed to the aldermen. After they have had 24 hours to look it over a meeting of the council will be called. From present appearances this cannot be done until Monday or possibly Tuesday night.

Killed.

Richard Bassett, a laborer at Leonard's, living at 9 Smith street, this city, was killed Wednesday. He was driving in with a load of wood from the country in the evening in company with his two sons and his brother-in-law, Mr. Joliffe. While driving down a steep hill near Plewes' mill on the Hamilton road the weight of the load pushed the horses too hard. Bassett went to hold the horses' heads. He stumbled and fell and the load of wood toppled over on him. His sons found him in the dark and extricated him from the wood. He was gasping, and in five minutes died, without speaking a word. Dr. Gardiner was notified, but of course it was too late. The body was brought home. Deceased, who was past middle age, leaves a widow and a large family.

A Fireman's Fall.

Fireman James Riddle, of the Central Station, had a narrow escape from death Wednesday afternoon while repairing the line. He was working upon the top of a pole at the corner of Simcoe and Henry streets when the pole broke close to the ground. Mr. Riddle fell with the pole and struck on a picket fence. The fence was broken, but strange to relate none of Mr. Riddle's bones were. He was badly injured, however, and was removed to a neighboring house and two doctors summoned. His injuries are in the nature of bruises, extending from the left hip to the shoulder. He also received a bad blow over the kidneys. Mr. Riddle was removed in the wagon to his home on King street, where he will be confined for some time to come. Firemen state that these occurrences are altogether too frequent, and they often have to risk their life on rotten poles.

Died, Aged 103.

Mrs. Margaret McLaren, the remarkable old lady of whose life the ADVERTISER gave an account some time ago, died Wednesday at the residence of her grandsons, near Springbank, aged 103 years, 5 months and 25 days. Deceased was born in Scotland and came to New York State with her parents when but 6 years of age. In this State she lived for upwards of 38 years and married Mr. McLaren, and to them were born ten children. The family came to Canada 59 years ago, settling in Westminster, where Mrs. McLaren has resided ever since. Up to a year or so ago deceased was active and had the use of all her faculties, though the century mark had been passed. Only three of the family are now living, the father having died 26 years ago. The children surviving are Mrs. Griffiths, of con. 3, Westminster; Mrs. Macdonald, now residing in California, and Mrs. James McLaren, now a resident of the State of Illinois. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from the residence of her grandson to the Brick Street Cemetery.

New G. T. R. Bridge.

Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, presented a report at the annual meeting of the company in London recently recommending the building of a single arch bridge across the gorge at Niagara Falls. The report was adopted. It will be remembered that early in the spring it was announced that a new bridge would span the gorge soon for the accommodation of the Grand Trunk, whose traffic arrangements with the Lehigh Valley, West Shore, Erie and Ontario and Western from the east and Wabash from the west give it all the road can handle at this point. The new bridge will be a steel arch bridge, which will rest on two ledges of rock formed midway between the water's edge and the top of the bank. The bridge would be about 600 feet long and cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Annie Pixley Dead.

A cable dispatch of yesterday says: "Miss Annie Pixley, the well-known American actress in this city, died last night at the residence of her brother-in-law, Edwin Fulford, No. 188 Pentonville road, London? England. Her husband was present at the time of her death, which was caused by brain fever."

The above will be a shock to the celebrated actress' friends in this city—and they were many. Miss Pixley (Mrs. R. Fulford) and her husband have spent a portion of the summer in Port Stanley for years past, Mr. Fulford being a brother of Mrs. Wm. Fraser, of the Fraser House. Her only child, a boy, is buried in Woodland Cemetery, this city. The fond mother had there erected a beautiful monument over his grave. It is surmounted by a marble bust of the little one, which attracts great attention. Every year Mrs. Fulford visited the spot and deposited flowers on the mound. The actress was in the front rank of her profession, but was no less admired in private life. She was a charming woman. Her talents on the stage amassed for her a modest fortune.

The Chancery Sittings Adjourn.

At the sittings of the Chancery Court Wednesday afternoon the case of Dunn vs. Douglas & Douglas, an action brought to rectify an agreement, was settled, judgment being given for the plaintiff by consent.

London Mutual Fire Insurance Company vs. Brown, an action for a debt on bond of $500, has been settled, judgment being given by consent. Meredith, Cameron & Judd for plaintiffs, Yarnold for defendant.

In Jeffrey vs. Ferguson, judgment has been given for the defendants without costs.

Mowat vs. Eastman, an action on an interpleader—Judgment has been given for plaintiff on issue and pleading. Costs reserved. Mowat and Smith for plaintiff, Meredith, Cameron & Judd for defendant.

Gray vs. Gray—Action for judgment on consent minutes. Judgment given.

Through some arrangements made by Mr. Justice Meredith, which prevented the continuance of the session, an adjournment was made till the 17th, when court will be resumed at 11 a.m.

The only remaining cases to be then disposed of are: Dominion Savings and Loan Company vs. McMillan, re possession of certain lands, and Wright & Durand vs. the Board of Trustees of the London Separate Schools to recover money held back by the defendants on a contract for carpenter work done by plaintiffs.

TARIFF REFORM WILL COME.

Speaker Crisp on the Recent Elections —Democracy Will Fulfill Its Pledges.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—Speaker Crisp was here yesterday. He said: "I do not attach any particular significance to the recent elections. Local causes affected the results in all the States. We expect to make the Congress which convenes on the 4th of next month a business Congress, which will redeem the pledges of the Democratic platform We expect to pass a tariff bill which has been prepared on the lines of the Democratic platform and which is for revenue only. This will cheapen the price of goods. The bill will also enlarge the free list. The taxes on the necessaries of life will be largely reduced, and in some cases taken off altogether."

"With such a tarifl reduction, will there be sufficient revenue from it?"

"We may increase the tax on whisky and beer, which will bring a large additional income. Then the ways and means committee is now considering an income and an inheritance tax. Personally I favor both."

No Use for Prize Fighters.

TALHASSE, Fla., Nov. 9.—Word reaches here from Jacksonville that the ministers of that city and prominent citizens will memorialize the Governor and use every other legitimate effort to prevent the Mitchell-Corbett fight from taking place in that city.

Two Provincial Bye-Elections.

Writs have been issued in connection with the vacancies in the representation of North Bruce and East Lambton for the Local Legislature, caused by the death of Mr. David Porter and Mr. Hugh McKenzie, the late representatives of these ridings. Nomination day will be on Nov. 25 and election on Saturday, Dec. 2. Mr. James Pearson, of Burgoyne, is the Liberal candidate for North Bruce, and Dr. McKinnon, of Alvinston, the candidate for East Lambton.

SELF-WILLED.

"There is no pink in his face at all," remarks Philippa, calmly. "It is quite white. There is something sad and troubled about the eyes, too. He looks tired and worn out. There is no doubt but that he has been ill. Father says that he is very much like the earl, but much handsomer. The way his hair ripples away from his forehead gives him rather a Spanish——"

A burst of sarcastic laughter interrupted her.

"My dear Philippa, control your admiration for the fair and noble stranger. To go down at the first shot is too unblushingly weak. Sad eyes, rippling hair, Spanish licorice—was it licorice?—Philippa, my dear, good sister, you have been bewitched! Take care; or is it too late? Have you entirely gone down before my lord's manifold charms?"

Philippa laughs, and pulls out her watch. "You'll be late for dinner, she says, acidly.

"I don't know that I shall come down," says Carrie, curtly.

"Not—come—down—to dinner!" repeats Philippa, staring.

"No, I don't want any dinner; I've a headache."

Philippa smiles incredulously.

"I dare say. Tell that to the marines, my dear child."

"Flippa, don't be vulgar."

"Not want any dinner! You mean that you are ashamed to meet him after calling him 'a child and an enfant terrible.'"

"Philippa, you are—brutal," turning a crimson face to the glass. "After that, I would come down though my head were splitting. Ashamed! Philippa, I regret to say that, though we have known each other some years, you fail to understand me."

Philippa laughs, with hidden enjoyment of the irony of the sweet round voice.

"You do not understand me, Philippa. Ashamed! You shall see! Give me that dress, my dear."

"Which? This old black thing?"

"Yes, that old black thing, as you rudely call it," calmly.

"But, my dear Carrie! Why, you haven't worn it in the evening for months, and it is quite shabby!"

"Is it? I think not. At any rate, I am going to wear it. I suppose, because you think fit to deck yourself in your newest and best in honor of this aristocrat, other people are your servile spirit. Philippa, you are mistaken; I am going to wear that dress tonight because it is shabby—and it is shabby, I admit!"—with a grimace at the garment,—"because I wish to mark my independence. It shall never be said that I put on warpaint for Lord Cecil Neville! One at least of the Harringtons declines to bend the knee to the proud patrician——"

"There is the bell. For goodness sake don't be late! Father will be famished tonight, and we can't very well go on without you; Lord Neville would think it so strange."

"Ah!" says Carrie, with a long breath. "Already do we begin to truckle to the lordling. We must put on our society manners that his delicate refinement may not be shocked. Philippa Harrington, I am afraid you are a toady. There, button those top buttons for me!—and mind, Philippa, do not expect me to be even civil to him. I believe I hated him before he came, but I am certain that I do now. I never did like handsome men, and a man with rippling hair and languishing eyes I detest. My lord Cecil Neville and Caroline Harrington will have to keep apart, or there will be war to the knife——"

"And fork," says Philippa, cheerfully. "Be quick. I can hear father grumbling and edgeting even up here," and she goes down.

Carrie, with elaborate slowness, pins the little white collar and gives the last comprehensive glance at herself in the glass.

Notwithstanding the shabby, well-worn dress, the glass contains a picture that is—alas! for the hearts of men!—only too charming. The sun and her excitement have planted a red rose on either cheek, which makes the dark, liquid eyes sparkle; the expressive lips are set in a tantalizing curve of mingled hauteur and defiance; the dark eyebrows meet above the delicate nose. If she but knew it—or does she know it?—the old black dress sets off her fresh and girlish loveliness more, perhaps, than an elaborate costume would have done, for it "hides but to indicate" the lithe, graceful figure to which it has so often clung.

"There, I think I have made as complete a dowdy of myself as is possible," she says, taking a mouthful at the glass. "His lordship will not be able to flatter himself with the reflection that I have put on my war-paint in his honor."

As she enters the dining-room she sees her father standing beside his chair, making a vain attempt to look as if he were not hungry, and Philippa standing by the fireplace trying to appear as if she were not waiting. Then she hears a step behind her, and knowing that it is Lord Neville's, keeps her eyes fixed straight before her.

Looking straight in front of her, she takes her seat, and not even when her father says: "My youngest daughter, Lord Neville," does she deign to glance at the guest.

"I have had the pleasure of being introduced to Miss Mary——"

"My name is Carrie," she says, sharply, and with a crimson flush; and she darts an angry glance at him. As she does so, she sees that he has put on his evening dress. Reluctantly—she acknowledges it inwardly and bitterly—not only handsome, but distinguished; but the fact of his having dressed for dinner makes her all the more implacable.

"I beg your pardon—Miss Carrie—begins he says, calmly, and with a faint tinge of dryness in his voice, as if he were disposed to battle with her.

"Ah," says Mr. Harrington, busy with the wine upon which Philippa's eyes are fixed enviously, for has it not been added to the welfare at the last moment? "That's all right; then you have made the acquaintance of the family. What will you drink? There's some sherry, and I've got some decent hock."

"Thanks, sherry," says Lord Neville, and he turns his attention to his soup-plate as coolly as if he had been dining there for years.

"Yes, certainly," thinks Carrie, "he is self-possessed;" and, she admits it grudgingly, his self-possession has something grand and impressive about it. Another man, finding himself in evening dress where evening dress was not expected, would have felt slightly embarrassed; but not so Lord Neville. Though the snowy shirt-front and single diamond stud make a striking contrast to Mr. Harrington's cutaway coat and black stock, Lord Neville does not seem to remark it. He finishes his soup and his fish, and then Philippa, at the end of the table, considers it her duty to make conversation, and does so by offering the somewhat feeble remark that it is a long way from London to Devonshire. He raises his eyes—"Yes," thinks Carrie, "there is something sad about them," and she at once concludes contemptuously that he writes poetry and regards Philippa as if he had come up from the bottom of a mental mine, and had awakened to a sense of her existence.

"It is rather a long journey," he says, "but a pleasant one. I have made shorter ones that have seemed more tiresome."

"Of course you know the country," says Mr. Harrington, as if every one with any sense must know Devonshire.

"No," says Lord Neville. "I do not. This is my first visit."

"Your father has some estates here," remarks Mr. Harrington.

Lord Neville nods.

"Yes. So I believe. He rarely comes here, himself, I think."

"Ah, well, you will have to pay a visit of inspection," says Mr. Harrington. "My daughter Carrie knows every inch of the country, or ought to do so, for she is always gadding about, and she will give you every information."

"There is a map of Devonshire hanging in the study," says Carrie, concisely.

Lord Neville looks at her with the same mixture of weariness and surprise, as if she were some wild, willful creature whom he would like to study if it were not too much trouble.

The glance maddens Carrie.

Philippa colors and fidgets with her bread, and even Mr. Harrington looks rather surprised at this point-blank snub; but Lord Neville is quite unmoved.

"Thanks," he says, as if she had supplied him with a piece of valuable information. "I will consult it."

"Do," says Carrie, "and if you can make anything of it you will be cleverer than the rest of us."

"That would be impossible," he says, not with a polite and society smile, but with the same low, steady inflection of voice.

Carrie winces. At every turn she is beaten and foiled in her attempt to rouse him.

"Oh, we are slow folks in these parts of the world," says Mr. Harrington. "I'm afraid you will be bored to death by us. But you must make the best of it."

"It will not be difficult," says Lord Neville. Then he turns to Philippa, and begins to talk to her, and to her exclusively, as if the beautiful girl opposite him were not in the room; and Carrie at first makes a great effort not to listen, but gradually finds herself watching the pale, handsome face, with the "rippling hair," and then listening with all her ears to the musical voice. For a man who had not been in Devonshire, he seems to know a great deal about it, and Carrie, with a feeling of surprise, hears them talking of their ferns and ruins, rivers and mountains, as if he had lived amongst them all his life.

Philippa's awkwardness wears off, and she is so interested that she forgets to be anxious about the dinner, and Mr. Harrington has to ask twice for his second helping of junket, which he always indulges in.

"Let me advise you to go in for our milk dishes, Lord Neville," he says. "Nothing like them for an invalid. By the way, if there is anything special you want in the way of diet, you must mention it. In fact, you understand, I hope, that you will do just as you please while you are with us. We are quite prepared to humor any amount of invalid whims.

Lord Neville smiled.

At Death's Door.—Dyspepsia Conquered.—A Great Medical Triumph. GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. JEAN VALCOURT, (Signed.) General Merchant. Wotton, P.Q. 2

Jagson says the man who declares that he will forgive but can never forget has never tried to mail his wife's letters.

Hacking coughs, obstinate colds and all throat and lung troubles are promply cured by Norway Pine Syrup.

Over 300 lynchings have taken place in the South during the present year.

Do not neglect coughs, colds, asthma and bronchitis, but cure them by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

BRANT.

Superintendent Cameron, of Brantford, was on Wednesday waited upon at his home by a delegation of Six Nation chiefs and presented with an address and beautiful clock as a token of esteem in connection with his recent marriage.

Grace Church, Brantford, was crowded Wednesday night upon the occasion of a church choir festival, in which all the city choirs and a surpliced choir from Stratford took part. The choristers and visiting ministers first passed up the aisles singing a processional hymn, and the service was intoned by Dr. Pearson, Toronto. Canon Dumoulin preached a forcible sermon.

ESSEX.

The Methodist Church in Ruthven was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by fire Wednesday morning. The fire resulted from a defective chimney. Loss covered by insurance.

Henry Moore, of Gesto, who was kicked by a horse last week, died Wednesday from the injuries received.

G. W. Hanna, of Windsor, has obtained an order releasing on bail George Stone, who was committed by Magistrate Bartlet last week on a charge of criminal assault. The amounts were fixed at two bondsmen at $1,000 each and the prisoner at $1,000. This was furnished and Stone was released.

KENT.

The death of James E. Smith, of Chatham, in the public hospital, of typhoid fever, took place Tuesday. The deceased was a highly-valued agent for R. S. Williams & Son, piano dealers, and was in the service of the Chatham Manufacturing Company and W. Gray & Son.

A company has been formed at Thamesville to be named "The Thamesville Natural Gas and Petroleum Company." The following directors were elected: Dr. R. N. Fraser, president; John Duncan, E. S. Hubbel, Alex. Murdock, Elias Graves, R. N. Harmon and Wm. Sherman. Work will be commenced at once, and the highest pressure of gas or oil is looked for. The directors will make three tests of 500 feet each.

LAMBTON.

The liabilities of the township of Euphemia have increased $12,000 during the present year.

Engineer Henry Wooley, who drove the excursion train which caused the Battle Creek disaster, is an old Lambton boy, from Warwick. He is a nephew of Mr. Morris, of the 5th line of that township.

MIDDLESEX.

Glenwillow was visited by thieves one night last week and a quantity of butter, fruit, harness and other articles taken. An investigation is being made to bring the guilty parties to justice.

Harry Browning, the 16-year-old son of Dr. Browning, Exeter, walked through an open window in his sleep nearly two months ago and fell 30 feet to the hard pavement. For some time he lay unconscious, and from the nature of his injuries—his skull being frightfully fractured—it was not deemed possible that he could recover, but to the utter astonishment of all he has slowly woke to life, and now he lies comfortably in his bed, cheerful and with the full use of his intellect, and hopes are entertained of his ultimate perfect recovery.

The opening and dedication of the new Zion Church, Mitchell road, Woodham circuit, will take place Sunday, Nov. 19.

At the last meeting of the London Township Council it was moved by R. Dreaney, seconded by J. H. Hodgins, that whereas the Pork Packing Company has caused to be built an embankment on the flats of the creek in lot 7, con. 1, and whereas the said embankment interferes with the bed of the creek and will be the cause of backing the water, to the injury of the corporation by endangering the bridge on Second street, the clerk be instructed to notify the company that this council will hold them responsible for any damage that may be caused by the same. Carried.

Miss Jessie Campbell, of Middlemiss, has been engaged to take charge of the village school at a salary of $300.

The Melbourne Presbyterian Church has organized a society of Christian Endeavor with the following officers: President, Mr. Stewart; vice-president, Mr. J. Campbell; secretary, Miss A. Campbell.

James Rowe's store and residence in Avon was found to be on fire Tuesday, catching fire from sparks from the kitchen chimney. After some time it was got under control, but not until it had burned a large hole in the roof. A few minutes more and it would have been impossible to put it out. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Roy Mackenzie, the tallest and probably the strongest man in British Columbia, has returned to Westminster after an absence of several months spent up the line doing mason work for the C. P. R. He has been summoned to Chicago to take part in the final heats for the tug-of-war championship of the world, and will pull with the never-defeated Ontario team, of which he was formerly a member. One of the team was taken ill a short time ago and Mackenzie was sent for to take the sick man's place. When Mr. Mackenzie left Westminster last spring he was 6 feet 10½ inches high and weighed 240 pounds. Now he measures 6 feet 11 inches and weighs 257 pounds, with a chest measurement of 46½ inches, and though 24 years of age is still growing. His height has been increased by something over an inch in less than two years. Besides being one of the best tug-of war men in the world he is also a first-class athlete. He is as straight as a pin, well built, and betraying no awkwardness in his movements; altogether he is a magnificent specimen of humanity.

Alfred Harris, of Newbury, had the misfortune to have two of his fingers badly mangled by the big saw in Robinson's mill recently.

The event of the week in Glencoe was the nuptials of a bridegroom whose locks have been whitened by the frosts of some 82 winters and a bride of some 60 summers.

A ballast train has commenced work on the Air Line between Glencoe and St. Thomas. This portion of the road will be put in first-class condition during the winter for passenger traffic. Through passenger trains between Buffalo and Chicago will be run over the Air Line and Glencoe-Kingscourt extension next spring, it is expected.

The other afternoon while kicking football on the public school grounds, Eddie, son of Richard Pickard, Exeter, had both bones of one of his legs broken, the result of a miss-kick delivered by Frank Willis.

My Toothache!

Is an exclamation heard every hour in the day. Toothache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one-minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications. Ten cents fills the bill. Polson's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for toothache and all nerve pains. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

"Methinks I scent the morning air," remarked the swill collector, as he drove down the street at 3 a.m.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over FIFTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING with PERFECT SUCCESS. It SOOTHES the CHILD, SOFTENS the GUMS, ALLAYS all PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHŒA. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Yes, Minerva, there is a difference between getting an option on apartments and getting a flat refusal.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Ripans Tabules

act gently but promptly upon the liver, stomach and intestines; cleanse the system effectually; cure dyspepsia, habitual constipation, offensive breath and headache. One TABULE taken at the first indication of indigestion, biliousness, dizziness, distress after eating or depression of spirits, will surely and quickly remove the whole difficulty.

Disease commonly comes on with slight symptoms, which when neglected increase in extent and gradually grow dangerous.

If you suffer from Headache, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, TAKE RIPANS TABULES
If you are Bilious, Constipated or have a Disordered Liver, TAKE RIPANS TABULES
If Complexion is Sallow, or you suffer Distress after Eating, TAKE RIPANS TABULES
For Offensive Breath and all Disorders of the Stomach, TAKE RIPANS TABULES

Ripans Tabules are prepared from a prescription widely used by the best physicians, and are presented in a form acceptable to the stomach. An infallible cure if given a fair trial. Contain nothing injurious.

—St. Thomas Journal, Wednesday: The remains of Mr. J. B. Smith were taken to London this morning for interment. Rev. J. A. Macdonald conducted the services here, the pall-bearers being Messrs. J. McLean, J. Laing, J. Carrie, J. Midgley, J. Pincombe and W. Mickleborough.

—A tent of the Maccabees will shortly be organized in the city. The growth of this order has been very encouraging to its members. There were organized during October, under the Supreme Tent jurisdiction, 29 new tents, representing 1,528 new certificates. Five new tents were organized during October in Ontario alone.

—The report set afloat by the London papers that fifteen Grand Trunk locomotive engineers and the same number of firemen had been ordered to transfer from Sarnia to Stratford is premature. There has been talk of proposed changes in the location of certain of the train crews, but no orders have been issued.—[Sarnia Canadian.

—Mrs. Boomer desires to acknowledge very gratefully on behalf of the London Convalescent Home the following sums intrusted to her care for its benefit, each accompanied by many kind words of appreciation of the good work which the year's report shows has been accomplished by that institution: A friend, per Mrs. Bremner, $30; Mrs. G. Harris, Colborne street, $2; Rev. J. O. Crisp, $10.

—Major-General Herbert arrived in the city last evening from London and registered at the Queen's Hotel. He was much pleased with his London inspection. He said that he would visit the fort this morning and return to Ottawa as soon as possible. He knew nothing as to whether Col. Dawson had resigned or not. He had not seen such a resignation.—[Thursday's Empire.

—The secretary of the Methodist Church Missions has received word that Rev. Jas. Endicott and H. M. Hare, M.D., two missionaries recently sent to China, have arrived safely at Shanghai. Dr. Kilburn, of the missionary force in the Province of Tz'chuen, met them and by this time the whole party are doing good work in that part of China. The Rev. J. H. McArthur, B.D., and Mrs. McArthur, recently appointed missionaries to Japan, will sail on the 13th inst. from Vancouver to Yokohama.

Neglected Children Meeting.

Owing to the funeral yesterday many prominent citizens were prevented from attending the meeting called to hear an address by Mr. J. J. Kelso, and to consider the advisability of organizing a children's aid society in London under the recent act. Those present decided in favor of a public evening meeting at which all interested would be made welcome. This meeting has been arranged by Mayor Essery to take place in the city council chamber, on Monday night, and it is hoped that citizens will turn out in force in the cause of the little ones.

A Ball and Concert.

Although the London Bicycle Club is not now forwarding the interests of a race meet, or enthusiastically advocating the desirability of a cinder track, this progressive organization does not contemplate a winter of inaction. It has at present two events on the tapis—a ball and a concert—both of which will be anticipated with expectancy and induce unbounded enjoyment. The ball, which will be undertaken first, is likely to occur early in January. The cyclers are already commencing to make preparations, and this function will probably be the most fashionable of its character this season. The concert will enliven the spring months. Some celebrated singer, it is rumored, is to be the central attraction. The foregoing programme for the winter months will be heartily approved by every wheelman, and is well calculated to conserve the interest in the pre-eminent pastime.

Hodgins—Pratt.

Stratford Herald: Last evening a happy event occurred at the residence of ex-Ald. F. Pratt, Ontario street, when his daughter, Miss Annie and Alonzo J. Hodgins linked their lives and fortunes together under the sanction of the marriage ceremonial as conducted by the Rev. G. F. Salton, Ph.B. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sophie, and by Miss Ethel Hodgins, of Cleveland, sister of the groom. The groomsmen were William Pratt and Irving McKelvey. There was a fine array of wedding presents, attesting the deep regard in which the bride is held by her numerous friends. She has been an earnest and active worker for some years in the Central Methodist Church and Sunday school, and will be much missed from the ranks of the young people. Among the guests present on the happy occasion were Misses Wilson, of London, and Wm. Taman, of Blyth. The groom was formerly in the employ of Joseph Rankin, baker, of this city, but for the past couple of years has resided in Cleveland. The happy couple left this forenoon via London for their home in Cleveland.

Funeral of T. A. Mara.

The drawing-room of a residence on Waterloo street was yesterday afternoon a scene of grief. About the casket containing the mortal remains of the late T. A. Mara was a group of mourning relatives. Among these were H. S. Mara, brother, Toronto; James Brandon, brother-in-law, Toronto; H. Hollinrike, Toronto; James Hollinrike, Milton; E. Long, St. Marys; Edward Mara, Lucan; E. W. Harding, St. Marys; F. W. Long, St. Marys, and the members of the deceased's family. On the casket had been placed by loving friends a number of beautiful floral remembrances. Rev. J. W. Annis conducted the funeral service, assisted by Rev. J. R. Gundy and Rev. Dr. Antliff. The pall-bearers were George C. Gibbons, Q.C., John Green, Thomas McCormick, Samuel Abbott, W. M. Spencer, T. R. Parker, Fraser McMillan and Edward Paul. Interment took place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. A large number of prominent citizens comprised those in the cortege.

School Matters.

—The session of No. 2 committee of the Board of Education last night was mostly taken up with orders for supplies and repairs for the various schools. Plans for wider steps were referred to Trustees Blackwell and Martin to consult with Architect Henry and to obtain prices. The report of Miss McKenzie as to tables at Talbot street kindergarten was referred to Trustees Blackwell and Jeffery with power. Mrs. Hamilton, janitress at Colborne street school, was granted $10 on woodcutting. Two lamps were ordered for the janitor at Lorne avenue school; sundry repairs as reported by Inspector Perry were ordered; advertisements for a school site on Richmond street north and a woodshed at King street were also ordered. The question of the removal of some trees at the Collegiate Institute was referred to Trustees Blackwell and Martin, while the dispensing of Inspector Perry's services as soon as practicable was left with the chairman. Rubber tipped pointers will also be procured, subject to the approval of Inspector Carson and Principal Merchant. Present: Trustees D. W. Blackwell (chairman), Jeffrey, Martin and Anderson.

A Settlement Probable.

A settlement of the long-lasting dispute over the Wortley road drain is now probable. The matter was again brought up at last night's meeting of the Board of Works. Mr. Beattie, of South London, addressed the members of the board on the subject, and it will be recommended to the council that the drain be constructed between Elm and Stanley streets, and that the tender of Harding & Leathorn be accepted. Mr. Edward Winnett complained of the condition of a drain on William street north, which, on account of being blocked up, did considerable damage to his property on Huron street. The London Township Council had expressed their willingness to pay half the expense of repairing it. The matter was referred to the engineer and chairman. The tender of W. A. Hagerman to supply oak planking for bridges was accepted at $30 per 1,000 feet for joisting, with 18-foot material; and $28 per 1,000 for 16-foot and 9-foot covering. The steam pipes on the west end of the arcade will be boxed in. After the accounts had been passed $2,923 23 remained to the credit of the board. The members present were: Ald. Garratt (chairman), Thos. Jones, Dreaney, Shaw and Taylor and Secretary Bell.

Found Dead in Bed.

STRATFORD, Nov. 9.—John Forrest, who lived near Hampstead in North Easthope, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. He was found by one of his nephews who lives near him. Mr. Forrest, who was 62 years old, was a bachelor and lived alone. Some time ago as he was working about his barn one of the big barn doors blew shut and he was struck about the body. Since then he has not been in very good health. He was also subject to heart disease and this was undoubtedly the cause of death. He was a quiet, hard working man and highly respected by his neighbors.

Our readers will find inclosed in this week's Echo, little yellow books containing some really wonderful cures, which have been accomplished by that marvelous liquid known as Williams' Royal Crown Remedy. We would direct our readers' attention to their cases in particular and ask their careful perusal, and if they know any friends similarly affected, to send them the circulars.

1. That of Mr. John Weir, of Birr, whom four physicians declared could not live over 24 hours.

2. Mr. H. F. Hallands, formerly of Mitchell, but now proprietor of King's Roller Mills, Ingersoll, whom all the town knows suffered for twenty years with rheumatism.

Last, but not least, the sworn testimony of "a loving wife" Mrs. Sarah Hall, of Brantford, who deceived her husband by pouring out the doctor's medicine, which was bringing Mr. Hall slowly to the grave and surely saved his life by giving him Williams' Royal Crown Remedy in the doctor's bottle, so as to disguise it. These are three of the most wonderful cures ever effected and well worthy perusal, and we can vouch for the truth of all of them. 21u bw
