VOL. XXXI., NO 198.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 13 1894.

WHOLE NO. 9908

It is observed that no Gospel of Hate is being preached by the various religious bodies of Ontario now in session; and yet the men of light and leading in every denomination are Toulon for Tangier is attracting much atthere taking counsel together on various matters of importance. And, by the way, are those who in back wards and back townships are promulgating the Gospel of Hate-are they those usually to be found at the minister's side in congregational work, the Sabbath school, the week-night meeting? -are they examples of true religion and nndefiled? Just bring before your mind's eye the most noisy of those who are attempting to bedevil the community by irreligious cries, and quietly in your own mind apply to them the foregoing tests.

Court has granted a receiving order against Robert Buchanan, the playwright and author. Protest From the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12 .- The Porte has communicated to the British Government a protest against the Anglo-Belgian treaty in regard to the Congo country. Revolution in San Salvador.

LONDON, June 12 .- The report that the revolution in San Salvador has been successful is confirmed by a dispatch received by Lazard Freres, the bankers to-day. The cablegram adds that the Republic is now Killed by Falling Walls.

BERLIN, June 12 .- The Freidberg brewery at Augsburg, Bavaria, was burned today. Six men were killed by falling walls. The Berlin Brewery Union has subscribed another fund of 300,000 marks and proclaimed a lockout against all Socialists.

Too Many Steerage Passengers. LONDON, June 12.-In the House of Commons to-day Right Hon. James Bryce, President of the Board of Trade, said in answer to a question by Sir George Baden-Powell that German steamers calling at Southampton usually carried an excess of steerage passengers. The Board of Trade was inquiring into the matter with a view of remedying the evil.

Mutiny in Jamaica. KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 12.-There has been an outbreak among the native troops (Second Battalion of the West India Regiment) stationed here.

The mutinous soldiers terrorized the town for a while, wrecking police stations and wounding many persons. The pickets joined the rioters. Order was restored yesterday.

Sick

London, June 12.-Right Hon. Henry Chaplin and Mr. Thos. Waring asked the Government in the House of Commons today what further cases of pleuro-pneumonia had been discovered in Canadian cattle.

Mr. Herbert Gardner said an animal had been landed in Liverpool on June 2 by the steamer Lake Superior which was found to , be diseased in a portion of its right lung. The lung presented the appearance of a contagious pleuro-pneumonia. A special examination of the case would be had, and pending the result the present restrictions would be enforced. Mr. Gardner announced that Mr. John S. Burdon Sanderson, M.A., professor of physiology at Oxford University, and Right Hon. Sir Henry James, M.P., would form a special board to conduct the inquiry into the condition of the lungs of infected Canadian cattle. Mr. Chaplin eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily ack in what respect Sir Henry James was qualified to determine a case of contagious pleuro-pneumonia. Mr. Gardner replied that it was desirable that a lawyer should examine the experts, and Sir Henry James infantry at Cadiz this morning and sailed for Rabat, Morocco.

Toulon, June 12. - Four French warships under the command of Admiral Le Bourgeois sailed from this port for Tangier last evening.

BERLIN, June 12 .- The German ironclad Kurfurst Freidrich Wilhelm and the cruiser Speerber have been ordered to proceed at once from Wilhelmshaven to Algiers.

London, June 12.—The Pall Mall Gazette calls attention to the jealousy of the Powers in regard to Morocco, and says that M. Dupuy may seize this opportunity to offset England's success in Egypt by dealing a blow at English prestige elsewhere. The Gazette believes that France and Spain would find it to their interests at home to enter upon an aggressive policy in Morocco with a view of securing dual control of that country to the total exclusion of England. The Globe expresses the belief that the question of succession to the throne of Morocco can only be settled by civil war, and advises the immediate augmentation of the British fleet off that coast in view of the action of France in reinforcing her naval squadron there.

The St. James' Gazette comments on the situation in a similar strain.

The news from Morocco indicates that civil war can scarcely be averted. Advices from Tangier report that the Sultan's brother, Muley Ismail, is already preparing to contest the succession to the throne of the Sultan's younger son. The news of the departure of the French fleet from tention here in view of the known hostility of the Dupuy Ministry to Engish interests in Africa.

Proceedings of the London Conference at Ridgetown.

The Next Annual Meeting to be Held in Strathroy.

Superannuation Scheme-Sunday School Publications to be Sold Cheaper-Report on Temperance-Niagara Conterence Business.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.] RIDGETOWN, June 12 .- The London Conerence resumed its sessions this morning. Rev. J. R. Gundy presented the sustentation committee's report, showing total receipts for the year amounted to $808, this amount being distributed among the poor circuits. Rev. Dr. Antliff read the pastoral address, and it was adopted.

Strathroy was selected as next year's meeting place on the first Thursday in June. It was decided that the subscription for the superannuation fund should be on the pro rata principle and 21 per cent of salary. The whole question of conference boundaries was referred to the General Conference.

A resolution recommending the reduction in price of Sunday school publications was carried.

A complimentary resolution expressing regret at the retirement of Rev. James Graham was carried by a standing vote. John Charlton's persistent efforts in favor of Sabbath observance was recognized by incorporating it in the committee's report.

The temperance committee's report recommended the abolition of the canteen system among the militia, the lessening of the number of licenses issued, and condemned the bar in the Parliament House at Ottawa. A warm debate ensued over an amendment to recommit the report with instructions to amend a paragraph commending the Mowat Government for its stand.

The report was recommitted without in-

Rev. W. Quance introduced the following resolution: "That this conference memorialize the General Conference to amend the Discipline so that the chairmen of districts shall be elected in the annual conference by ballot by the representatives, ministerial and lay, from that district, at the same time as is now provided for such election to take place." After a warm discussion it was forwarded to the General Conference. Rev. G. W. Henderson presented the report of the conference special committee. Moved by Rev. Walter Rigsby, seconded by Rev. S. T. George:

"Recognizing the difficulties connected brakes, but before it was responded to with the stationing of our ministers, and deceased oll and received the fatal injuries. believing as we do that a modification of The trait was going at a very slow rate the present system could profitably take place, we would therefore suggest as a conterence to the General Conference the advisability of adopting some more equitable system which will commend itself to the judgment of our people, by which the present difficulties shall be at least in a measure overcome:

"1. No absolute arrangement shall be made between churches and ministers that may not be without question altered by the stationing committee.

"2. Every circuit shall have the right to send to the chairman of committee a list of not less than three names in the order of preference, whom they desire sent to their respective circuits.

. 3. Each member shall have the privilege to send a request as to the circuit to which he would like to be appointed. "4. Any church shall have the privilege to send a properly appointed representative "5. The same privilege shall be accorded to each minister to appear before the com-

"6. The conference shall, as its last order of business, elect a stationing committee composed of an equal number of ministers and laymen elected from within the bounds of said conference, the number not to exceed one in fifteen of the minis ters, with alternates to fill vacancies during the year. (The presence of laymen to depend upon a modification of the present representation of laymen, viz., only laymen on various committees.) "7. The only ex-officio member shall be the president of the conference." The above resolution was on motion referred to the committee on General Conterence matters to report at a subsequent

From the Sabbath school committee's report are gathered the following gratifying facts: There have been 1,960 conversions during the year; increase of 380 over the previous year. Increase in the number of scholars, 741; 7,695 scholars have taken the total abstinence pledge; 7,630 are members of the church, an increase of 1,202 on last year. There has been an increase in missionary contributions by the schools to the amount of $135 91.

The Onward was heartily commended as a paper of excellent qualities, supplying a felt want in the church, and its more general introduction into the schools and young people's societies was urged. The following are elected delegates to the General Conference: Ministers-Revs. W. W. Shepperd, J. R. Gundy, G. Jackson, J. Learoyd, J. W. Annis, M.A., A. L. Russell, B.D., Dr. Hannon, S. Bond, W. J. Ford, LL.B., J. B. Aylesworth, LL.D., Dr. Antliff, W. Rigsby, W. McDonagh. Reserve ministerial delegate, Rev. S. J. Allin; alternate, Rev. Dr. Pascoe. Laymen—G. Robinson, A. B. Powell, H. Bishop, W. H. May, W. R. Johnson, R. P. Wright, T. B. Shillington, Dr. A. Maxwell, J. E. Stone, J. N. Kenny, W. G. Collins, C. E. German, T. Haynes. Reserve lay delegate, Dr. E. A. Teskey; alternate, Benjamin Hopkins.

Niagara Conference. WOODSTOCK, June 12 .- The business of the conference this morning consisted chiefly in reading reports of committees. A report was made strongly maintaining the sanctity of the Sabbath and recommending that Sunday funerals, parades with bands of music and such unnecessary use of the Lord's Day be discontinued. The following young men were received on probation for the ministry: Andrew Robb, of Hamilton; Geo. E. Smith, of Stoney Creek; W. D. Masson, of Troy; Charles L. McIrvine, of Princeton; Robt. G. Green, of Bright; Alfred E. Lovell, B.A., of Woodstock; Geo. F. Barker, of Eddy, B.A., of Oakland.

G. T. R. Traffic.

The restriction recently placed on all classes of traffic, owing to the scarcity of coal, in consequence of the strike on the other side, is removed, and the Grand Trunk Railway is now carrying all freight as freely as before the embargo was put on. Christian Endeavor Rally.

The annual rally of the London Local Union of Christian Endeavor was held last evening in the First Presbyterian Church, about 300 being present. Mr. Wesley J. Cunningham occupied the chair in the absence of the president, Mr. N. I. McDermid, and introduced the various items of the programme with a few pertinent remarks. Reports from the various societies showed a marked increase in membership, while the total number reached eighteen, nearly every denomination being represented. The report of the treasurer showed a satisfactory belance on hand. Rev. A. F. Mc-Gregor, of Woodstock, the popular vicepresident of the Provincial Union, was attentivey listended to and urged the societies not to lessen the number of their meetings, but rather to increase them, as a means d strength. He referred to the power tie C. E. had in their undenominational principles, and thought by that only was ther power held so universally. Mr. McPheson then spoke on "Cleveland '94," and the grand preparations made for the accommodation of visitors. After the address the consecration meeting and roll call of he societies was conducted by Mr. Cunningham, which closed a highly successfulmeeting.

No Peison to Blame. The adjourned inquest into the cause of Robert Johnston's death, resulting from injuries received on the Grand Trunk at Komoka, was held in the police station last right. Coroner Flock presided. Engineer Turton, Fireman Wm. Lester, Conductor Wm. Farrell, the crew in charge of the gravel train, were witnesses. Their statements showed that at the time of Johnster's fall he was standing on the end of a gavel car, on a platform about two feet square. A signal had just been given to the engineer to apply the air of speed When his comrades picked him up Johiston said that no person was to blame—that it was his own hard luck, and he remested to be taken home. Dr. Gardirer told of the injuries, which amounted to a severe bruise over the bridge of the nose, puncture of the left ankle, compound fracture of the right shoulder and several crushed fingers. The jury's vedict exonerated the company and employes rom all blame and stated that death wa accidental.

The Cit by Gas Light.

A coure of plans of the city with 1,200 and 1,406 lue spots thereon were presented at No. 3 committee last night, and while the aldemen were wondering whether the papers hd the smallpox or not the chairman infrmed them that the plans represented te city as lighted by gas, and each spot meat a light. The plans were accompanied it a memo from the engineer estimating te cost of a twenty candle-power light pe year at $16, or $1,600 for a thousand ligts. The chairman announced that Light Cmpany, would be in town to-day and that special meeting of the committee would beld this week to assist the special meeting of the committee would be a special meeting of the committee would electric lighting with him. The gas proposition was accordingly laid over.
Mr. J. C. Smith applied for a

FOOLING THE SENSES. The Latest Spiritualistic Device That

Deceives Scientists. Spiritualists are much agitated over a numbug that has recently been produced by an ingenuous Yankee in London, says the Pittsburg Commercial. The alleged phenomenon is known as the "haunted swing." It consists of a swing that does not swing. It is built like a parlor, containing all the furnishments that would be found in a nicely appointed drawing-room. There are mirrors and pictures on the walls, finely upholstered furniture, bric-a-brac and all of the little fancy knick-knacks that go to make up a beautiful room. The floor is entirely stationary, being as solid as a rock. The room, with its walls and ceilings swings about the floor upon an axis and all of the furnishments, being solidly in place, swing with it. It goes tumbling with a quiet, symmetrical motion that so deceives a person sitting upon that solid floor that he imagines the walls are stationary and the floor is in motion. The illusion is perfect. Scientific gentlemen who have investigated the phenomenon, while knowing full well the nature of the apparatus, have testified to their dizzy condition after witnessing it. Mme. Jane Warde, the noted English spiritualistic medium, has an apparatus of this kind in her apartments, which she shows to the easy believers with the explanation that the propelling power comes from the mysterious beyond. Thousands of people have been attracted to her place and humbugged, and, strange to say, many of the most intelligent spiritualists have been deceived by her.

PRINCIPAL GRANT'S DEFENSE.

('loronto Star, Independent.) Principal Grant has given an emphatic denial of the charge that his support of Sir Oliver Mowat was influenced by a Provincial Government grant of $7,000 a year to the mining school at Kingston, and if his critics desire more than the learned educator's word of honor, surely they should be convinced by his clear statements that the mining school has no connection, not even affiliation, with Queen's University, of which he is the head. It was a despicable charge to make against a man of high principle, whose life is free from even the suspicion of a stain. Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilia is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

NO MORE FITS.

Mrs. William Langley Was Subject to Them :er Five Years - Dodd's Ridney Pills, which Never Yet Failed, Cured Her.

London, June 11 .- Mrs. Wm. Langley, of 21 Euclid avenue, South London, has for the past five years been subject to fits. She was treated by doctors in Lansing and Detroit, Mich., and by three different physicians in London. No one of them could cure her. About two months ago she began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Since then she has no return of the fits. To-day she is perfectly cured. Her trouble was undoubtedly due to kidney disorder, a fact which the physicians who treated her never discovered and consequently their treatment was in vain.

Annual Meeting of the Company at Waterloo.

A VERY PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Excellent Showing of the Annual Report.

Congratulatory Addresses by President Bowman, M.P., Mr. B. M. Britton, Q.C., and Other Gentlemen.

The 24th annual meeting of the Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company was held in the town hall, Waterloo, on Thursday, May 24, 1894, when, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, quite a large number of representative policy-holders and agents throughout the Dominion attended. The president, Mr. I. E. Bowman, M.P., occupied the chair, supported by the manager, Mr. Wm. Hendry.

On motion of Mr. Alfred Hoskin, Q.C., Toronto, Mr. W. H. Riddell, the secretary of the company, acted as secretary of the meeting. The minutes of the last annual meeting were formally taken as read and The president then read the report of the directors, which was as follows: Your directors, in submitting the following as their 24th annual report, desire to congratulate the policy-holders upon the very satisfactory progress which the company made during the year 1893, notwithstanding the general depression which has prevailed in almost every branch of busi-

During the past year 2,092 new policies were issued for assurance, amounting to $3,004,700, this being the largest amount of new assurance issued in any one year since the organization of the company. The total assets of the company as at the close of the year are $2,593,424 67, and the surplus on hand, after providing for the full reserve required to be held under the regulations of the Dominion Insurance Department, is $226,120 21, but of which a liberal sum will be divided among the policy-holders during the year 1894.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS. In commenting upon the report Mr. Bowman said that it would doubtless commend itself to the meeting for its brevity, inasmuch as it contained all the material facts, and in such form as business men could readily understand, without first finding their way through a labyrinth of words which might be mystifying and unsatisfactory. The president referred to the depression which had prevailed in the business world throughout the past year, and the difficulty on that account of inducing people to insure their lives notwithstanding which new assurance had been taken during the year to the extent of over $3,000,000, an increase of $328,000 over the amount of new assurance written during the previous year. During the past two or three years the company had, owing to the increasing difficulty in most sections of the country of finding suitable investment in real estate, because of the large decline in the value of mortgage sccurity, being obliged to invest its funds to a greater extent in municipal debentures. The mortgages on real estate have not, however, become is any way impaired by the decline in real estate values, the very easy terms of repayment enabling borrowers to gradually reduce the amount of their indebtedness. To show the careful manner of investment the president pointed out that during the past year applications from borrowers were received for no less a sum than $1,127,200. The amount accepted was $313,650, or just about one quarter of the amount offered, these only being held to be up to the company's standard of value. The remainder, $813,550, was declined. Of the $313,650 accepted by the board, investments to the amount of $146,600 only were actually placed. As for the balance, the borrowers could not accept the terms offered by the company. The increase in the amount of the president, was due largely to the openof agents to cover the field thus extended. The death rate and cost of obtaining business being low, the surplus had accordingly been considerably increased. In concluwas probably somewhat increased. The president then moved the adoption of the amid hearty applause on the part of the numerous policy-holders present.

Mr. Robert Melvin, of Guelph, the second vice-president, seconded the adoption of the report. In doing so he remarked that the report showed the affairs of the company to be in a very satisfactory condition. It was true the company had been unable during the year to secure as high a rate of interest on new investments taken as it had done in some former years, but it superintendent. had thus secured a much better class of investments than would have been the case if it had obtained a higher rate of interest on an inferior quality of security. The company had confined its operations to investments on mortgages on improved farm property, to choice town and city loans, all doubtful securities, such as railway and was amply justified when the recent depreciation in railway stock and similar securities on the other side of the line was taken into account. Municipal debenture security was undoubtedly good and safe, and the same might be said of all security held by this company. He held it was the data of every income. the duty of every insurance company to so select its securities that there could be no possible doubt of their absolute and entire ability to meet their obligations as guaranteed under their policies when the same became a claim, whether by maturity, as in the case of endowments, or at death, as in the case of life policies. He regarded the report as eminently satisfactory. Proper care had been exercised in the selection of investments, and it was to the credit of the company that no losses of any importance whatever had accrued under mortgage or any other securities held by it. The management of the company had been conducted on the usual lines of economy as well as enterprise. The directors did not believe in locking up its funds in the erection of costly buildings, such as have been found a poor investment by such companies as have seen fit to indulge in that class of luxury. It had frequently been found that the returns from this class of expenditure were doubtful and unsatisfactory. He closed by congratulating the policy-holders on the satisfactory nature of the report presented.

The report was then unanimously adopted.

THANKS TO THE DIRECTORS. Rev. G. F. Salton, Ph.B., of Stratford, then moved the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Daniel Buckberrough: "That the hearty thanks of this meeting are due and are hereby tendered to the president, vice-president and directors for the care with which they have conserved the interests of the company during the

Mr. Salton referred in elequent terms to the gratifying progress made by the company since it first pioneered its way into existence in 1870. He was glad to see that the president, first vice-president, second vice president and manager were just as they were when the company started out with the humble assets of $6,000 and insurance of some $500,000, as compared with the present assets of $2,500,000 and assurance of over $17,500,000. The company had been founded on correct principles, and its success was certain from the first. Its growth, though slow, was solid and sure, as might be seen from the following figures, indicating the assets and assurances at different periods from its foundation to the Continuing, Mr. Salton pointed out that since its organization the company had The total number of policies in force at dividend and surrender values no less the close of the year is 13,496, covering than $768,858, in addition to which it held at the present time for the security of its present policy-holders the handsome sum of $2,593,424. Mr. Saiton concluded with a graceful compliment to the president on the careful and courteous attention which he had devoted to the affairs of the company, the effect of which was evident in the successful record of the company and The executive committee has again care-fully examined the securities held by the meeting. Mr. Salton's remarks were

THANKS TO MEDICAL REFEREE. Mr. J. A. Halstead, banker of Mount Forest, moved the following resolution: "That as a company's success much depends on a prudent selection of risks, and inasmuch as the mortality experience of this company has always been of the most favorable character, the thanks of the policy-holders be offered to Dr. J. H. Webb, the medical referee, and to the company's examiners throughout the Dominion for their care in and attention to

In speaking to the resolution Mr. Halstead said that as a policy-holder he was pleased to notice the satisfactory progress made by the company. As an essentially Canadian and a purely mutual company it had been a notable success. This he attributed largely to the prudent men selected from time to time as directors. In the course of his remarks Mr. Halstead mentioned that a member of his family had taken out an endowment policy in the company and at its maturity the actual results achieved showed that, apart from the protection afforded during the life of the policy, the money paid on account of premiums constituted also a profitable and absolutely sure investment.

Mr. Alex. Millar, Q.C., of Berlin, seconded the resolution, which was put to the meeting and carried with hearty applause. Dr. Webb, on behalf of himself and the medical examiners for the company throughout the Dominion, made a brief and appropriate reply in response to the resolu-

THE MANAGER AND STAFF. Mr. B. M. Britton, Q.C., of Kingston, seconded by Mr. F. C. Bruce, wholesale seed merchant, of Hamilton, moved the following resolution:

"That the thanks of the directors and of this meeting are hereby tendered to the manager, secretary, officers and agents of the company for their unremitting attention to the company's interests during the past year, and for the very satisfactory state of its business which the efficient and faithful discharge of their respective duties has enabled the directors to submit on this occasion.'

Mr. Britton, in moving the resolution, referred to the great amount of work involved in the care of the constantly increasing volume of business of the company. He thought there was cause for great congratulation on the part of the policy holders that the officers of the company had done their work so well. He paid a new assurances written for 1893, continued high tribute to the efficiency of the general staff, especially eulogizing the manager, ing up of new districts and the appointment secretary, actuary and superintendent for the faithfulness with which they had discharged their duties. Mr. Britton said he thought the agents also deserved a word of thanks. Mr. Bowman resumed his seat company really depended upon. He congratulated the company on being in poses sion of these essential features of success.

The resolution was carried with much applause. Suitable responses were made by the manager, Mr. Wm. Hendry, on behalf of himself and the effice staff; by Mr. E. M. Sipprell, manager of the company's agencies in the Maritime Provinces, and by Mr. W. S. Hodgins; the company's

-Who does not enjoy music in Victoria

-Did you ever notice that in a political campaign the man who thinks the least talks the most.

-The aggregate debt of the Dominion has increased since June, 1883, from $300, 054,521 to $304,691,110. By piling up the debt in this way an imaginary "surplus" can be talked about by high tax orators.

-Many falsehoods recently set on foot to discredit Sir Oliver Mowat will have a short life, anyway. They will die with the great victory for Ontario's Grand Old erty in London. Mr. Meredith advances Man on June 26.

-There has been a marked change for the better in the relations existing between the Uunited States and Great Britain. One hundred and ten years ago we parted in anger, after bloodshed. Now we meet city. Our city contemporary cannot deny together as the reconciled members of one family .- [Lord George Hamilton.

-Elgin county council has refused to abolish the fee system on the ground laid down by many sensible Patrons of Industry and by Liberals generally, that the man who requires the services of a registrar, or a sheriff, or a county court clerk, should pay for them.

-If the Opposition can show me that the separate school amendments have hurt the public schools one iota I will retire from the contest .- [Standing challenge of the Minister of Education.

It is now some weeks since this challenge was issued, but no Opposition orator or newspaper has produced a tittle of evidence to controvert the point made.

-Canada's live resident baronet, Sir James L. Robinson, lately a clerk in Osgoode Hall, Toronto, lies seriously ill at his residence on Jarvis street, that city. He is nearly 80 years of age. For many years he has been out of sight, and yet he inherited an imperial title from his father, and though a humble clerk was entitled to be addressed by his fellows as "Sir James."

-"I stand upon a platform that was laid down more than 1,800 years ago, and that platform is, 'Do unto others as you would have others do unto you.'"—[Speech by Mr. Hill, Liberal candidate in West York.

This is a good enough platform for any candidate. It is Sir Oliver Mowat's platis not the platform of the anti-Mowat Conservative orators, who go forth from this city to pose as "no party men," and to malign and misrepresent Ontario's Grand Old Man and all who support him.

-The following resolution, passed by the Ontario and Quebec Congregational Union by an overwhelming majority, is important at this juncture:

"That the union takes this opportunity of reaffirming the principles of civil and religious liberty for which our foretathers contended and suffered, the absolute equal rights of all religions in the eyes of the law, with freedom for all, and neither proscription nor favor for any, and, while careful to abstain from all interference with individual liberty, we regret the formation of organizations which appear to us to conflict with these principles."

This stand should be taken by all patriotic men. Ostracism cannot be without a breach of the golden rule.

-Those who oppose Sir Oliver Mowat on some paltry side issue, or because he legislated, with the agreement of every member of the Legislature on some particular point of public policy, ignore the fact that he saved for Ontario 100,000 square miles of territory that the Ottawa authorities that cry was not sufficient to win enough desired to grab and distribute among their favorites. These opponents exist but to arp and grumble at Sir Oliver, with no very clear idea why. "But," as Rev. J. B. Silcox recently put it, "it is easy to criticise; it requires little brain and no grace; it is a business upon which one can start with very little capital, and brings in a correspondingly small amount of income. But however critics may talk, they never work, and the real test must always be the amount of work done."

TORONTO'S ABSENTEE LANDLORD At last the best defense that can be formulated for running a paid officer of Toronto as a candidate for London has been made. It is confessed that Mr. Meredith deserted London in 1888; that he recognizes that city as his home, having built a fine new house for himself within its corporation limits; and that he has seldom come to London in recent years except to carry money out of it.

But, the newspaper organ of the Toronto corporation lawyer points out, Mr. Meredith collects the rents of two stores and two houses in London, in conjunction with seven other members of his family. And, it argues, he is thus more devoted to the interests of London than Mr. Hobbs, who only conducts wholesale warehouses and factories, distributing over$1,000 every week the year round in wages. Mr. Meredith pays the taxes, we are told. It is not so, however. The tenants of the Meredith family pay the taxes, as doth every tenant in this city. In this matter Mr. Meredith is no more benevolent than the New York man who owns propthe rents to pay the taxes and the cost of wear and tear, and after these incidentals are provided for (out of the earnings of tenants) the Toronto absentee landlord carries off the remainder of the money to Toronto, to be spent in building up that this statement, and therefore it flies off the handle, and tries to introduce issues entirely irrelevant to the question of which of the two candidates are most to be preferred from the point of view of devotion to the city and determination to build up and advance her industrial

We contend that we have proved that both in and out of the Legislature, Mr. Hobbs is better adapted to serve London than the man who has deserted the city and become the paid servant of Toronto. The electors would stand in their own light if they chose the man who deserted them for a rival city in preference to the progressive business man who is the candidate of the majority of the people of in Toronto Junction the other day Sir Oliver Mowat, in dealing with the charge that the Government is under the domination of the Church of Rome, said:

"I am prepared to say to you that during the 22 years of my Premiership I never had a single demand from any Roman Catholic priest or bishop, and with reference to the acts which have been passed in regard to separate schools there is not one in respect to which I ever had an interview with any of the Roman Catholic clergy or ever received a letter from any of them. These acts were passed at the instance in every case of laymen of that church, and they were passed because the general sentiment of the country approved of them. When Governor of Ontario, dated January 31, they are referred to as proofs of the subserviency of the Reform party and the Reform Government to the Church of Rome it should be remembered that the fact is what I have just stated, that every one of these laws which are now objected to form. It is the platform of his party. It had the approval of the general sentiment of the country. There was not a church or society that objected to them; there was not an individual that I have heard of in the Legislature or out of the Legislature who follows: "Vert a sprig of three leave of objected to them. They were not objected to, in fact, until years afterwards, when our political opponents, anxious to find some policy or other that might bring them votes, chose to adopt this cry of subserviency to Romish authority and Romish demands, notwithstanding the fact that these acts had been passed with the concurrence of the Opposition themselves."

Sir Oliver dealt with the charges that had been made against the Government in connection with the separate schools, and showed that they are absolutely foundationless. It was folly, he said, to assert that Protestantism would be crushed out by what had been done for separate schools, and to say that one-sixth could crush out five-sixths of the people was a heresy. It could not be done, and there was not the slightest danger of it. Sir Oliver might have added that Mr. Meredith and his friends opposed not one of the changes which were introduced to make the separate schools more efficient, and in fact issued "Facts for the Irish Electors," to be distributed among Catholic families, to prove that the members of that body had not been treated with sufficient generosity by the Liberals. Then when of votes to defeat Sir Oliver, these weathercock politicians turned round and pursued an entirely new tack. They allege now that the legislation to which they were consenting parties is too fair to the men who, but the other day, they were moving heaven and earth to make believe were down-trodden by Sir Oliver! When defeated on the 26th of June, as they will be, if every portent can be trusted, it need surprise no one if they turn around on the old tack, and issue a new edition of "Facts."

ENGLAND.

The Free Press continues to sneer at Mr. Hobbs, the London citizen candidate, Edward, Zulfikar Pasha, de Lalaing, Count / that it may buttress its Toronto candidate. standing as a member of the Sons of Eng. land. One would have thought that the newspaper advocate would have been ashamed to again refer to this matter in view of the fact that when Mr. James Carter, past district deputy of the order, wrote a short letter defending Mr. Hobbs, and pointing out wherein the Toronto candidate's organ did his fellow-Englishman a grave injustice, the Free Press did not have the fairness to print the manly rejoinder to its attacks. Instead of hat our contemporary suppressed the cardinal point of Mr. Carter's letter, and left its readers in ignorance of the contentions of that representative member of the order to which Mr. Hobbs is proud to belong. In that our contemporary followed out the plan it pursued with the communication of the London Trades and Labor Council, and with the letter sent to it by Mr. Peter Ryan. Only on the threat of a libel suit did it consent to do justice to the last-named. To the others the organ of Mr. Meredith persists in doing injustice. We do not grumble because of this attitude, and we only refer to it here to exemplify the style of campaign by which it is proposed to promote the candidature of Mr. Meredith. If the Free Press had a good case for its Toronto candidate it would never resort to such tricks as the gerrymander of Mr. Carter's letter. Its methods are making votes for Mr. Hobbs daily.

STORY OF THE CROSS.

The Wonderful Sensation Set on Foot By "The Eye Opener"-A St. George's Cross. (Toronto Globe.)

The wonderful P. P. A. Tory green campaign blanket sheet, The Eye-Opener, gives place on its first page to the childish story that a flaming Roman cross adorns the ceiling of the chamber of the nev Parliament buildings as a visible emilem and evidence of Rome's domination over the Legislature and Government.

Such a yarn would seem to be too absolutely silly to be noticed, and yet, as has been said, some of those self-appointed guardians of Protestantism are using it in the present campaign, though it is impossible to believe that one of them has credulity enough to believe it for hmself.

The subdued silver outline that these precious sectarians probably refer to is no ess an object than the cross of St. George, which is, as they perhaps do not know, an integral part of Ontario's coat-of-arms; in fact, the frescoes on the ceiling are called a treatment of the Provincial coat-of-arms. The whole was the accepted design of the well-known firm of decorators, Elliott & Son, of Toronto, both of whom are leading members of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church in Toronto, and, of course, neither the then Commissioner of Public Works, nor the Public Works Department, nor the At a great mass meeting of the electors Government, had anything to do with it beyond selecting it as the best design submitted, as being purely Provincial in character, and, therefore, eminently appropri-These ardent strife-stirrers are, therefore, objecting to our Freyincial emblem, which in turn forms part of the great seal and emblem of the Dominion, and is to be found on every genuine Canadian flag, or Union Jack adapted to Canada, and on every flag carried by such organizations as the Sons of England. They might as well claim that the cross on an election ballot is a secret tribute to the Pope, and placed there at his instigation. There is on file in the department of the Provincial Secretary a letter from Joseph Howe, Secretary of State for the Cdonies, to the Hon. W. P. Howland, Lieuenant-1870, which reads: "I have the honor to transmit a copy of Her Majesty's warant, granting armorial bearings to the everal Provinces of the Dominion, and a great seal to the Dominion, with the sweral armorial bearings represented in color. The Queen's warrant above referrd to contains a representation in colors of the armorial ensign chosen for and allotted to Ontario, with the technical description as maple, slipped, or, on a chief argent the cross of St. George." The armorial design since allotted to Manitobe also contans a St. George's cross.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich, an old soldier, 529 E. 146th St., N. Y. City, writes us voluntarily. In 1862, at the battle of Fair Oaks, he was stricken with typhoid fever, and after a long struggle in hospitals, lasting several years, was discharged as incurable with Consumption. Doctors said both lungs were affected and he could not live long, but a comrade urged him to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before he had finished one bottle his cough began to get loose, the choking sensation left, and night sweats grew less and less. He is now in good health and cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla as a general blood purifier and tonic medicine, especially to his comrades in the G. A. R.

UNSATISFACTORY SETTLEMENT. Miners Kick Against the Columbus

Compromise. Seven Railway Bridges Totally or Partly Destroyed by Alabama Strikers.

OPPOSED TO THE COMPROMISE. WHEELING, W. Va., June 12.—Extreme excitement prevails among the miners on the Baltimore and Ohio, Cleveland, Lorraine and Wheeling and Lake Erie throughout this section over the strike settlement. The men have been able to work at any time at a 70-cent rate, but stood out to aid their brothers, and are now ordered to return at 60 cents. Leaders of the miners say that fully 8,000 votes will be cast by the miners in this section against the ratification of the compromise.

IN INDIANA. FARMERSBURG, Ind., June 12.—It is now believed that by next Thursday all the mines at Sullivan, where the struggle has been most fierce, will be in operation. The miners of this city returned to work today. All the miners in Suilivan county are

AN ABORTIVE CONFERENCE. ALTOONA, Pa., June 12 .- A largely attended meeting of operators and miners of the Central Pennsylvania district was held here to-day. The operators absolutely refused to make any concessions, and the miners would not accept the terms offered. The meeting adjourned without having accomplished anything.

PREPARING TO BESUME. PITTSBURG, Pa., June 12.—Fifty-seven coal operators and companies in the Pittsburg district who had pledged themselves to abide by the result of yesterday's conference of the operators and miners at Columbus are preparing to resume work at the compromise rate agreed upon. Many of the operators who opposed the conference say they will not pay the 69 cent rate, and the strike will doubtless be continued at their pits. It is the general opinion among friendly operators, however, that the agreement will put an end to the importation of non-union men by the operators in the thick vein district.

(By Charles Austin Bates.) Every advertisement that goes into a newspaper ought to contain some definite information.

People are hungry for knowledge. It is an inquisitive age. The advertiser who supplies the most pertinent information will get the most trade, other things being equal. Every advertisement should tell the why of everything. If a price is low-why? If a quality is excellent -- why? If better

Wednesday, June 13.

dince our last weekly review there has been very little change in values of grain and provisions. There has been moderately good receipts of all kinds. The inquiry for grain was good and for other staples steady. The price of wheat in Chicago was bulled up be during the week, but did not affect local markets either here or in the west.

Oats have continued to move up slightly Closing prices show an increase of ic to 2c per 100 lbs-$1 07 to $1 09, an occasional lot selling Hardly any peas, corn, buckwheat or rye offered.

The price of eggs was 9c to 10c by the basket, and 11c to 12c by the single dozen. Butter sales ranged from 10c to 16c, according to quantity and quality.

Spring chickens sold from 30c to 40c per pair, and last year's birds at 50c to 70c.

The quantity of meat offered was not so heavy as a week ago, and a better feeling prevailed. Beef sold at 4c to 6c; mutton at 5c to 6c; veal at 5c to 6c; spring lamb at 75c to 1 25 per quarter. Hides and skins steady, with no change in prices; demand firm.
Wool active at 16c to 16le: supply steady, but not overly large.

Potatoes were away up. Almost none came in, and the price was anything the seller asked; B1 25 to $1 40 were closing prices.

Green vegetables steady and unchanged.

Victoria Park for Pleasure.

The citizens showed their good sense on Sunday by occupying all points of shade vantage in the park, whether on the grass or not, and the police showed their good sense by, so far as I have heard, not

Parks are for recreation and pleasure, and should have necessary conveniences which ours has not, there being no watercloset on the grounds, nor, outside the band stand circle and summer house with one other solitary exception, is there a seat to be had anywhere but on the grass. I most respectfully suggest that seats be placed in all shady places in the park, so that those who are worried and tired can sit down without the annovance on being pent up in the ring of seats about the band stand, where the crowd and smoking make the air hotter if anything than in the open; besides which, on Sunday afternoon, all are compelled to listed to the din of the Salvation Army. (I don't disparage the Salvation Army, but people who come to the park for quiet and rest find them a great nuisance there.)

Of the thirteen acres in the park I should judge about one only is foot paths, which. except after rain, are so dusty as to be practically unfit to walk on; and it is absurd to try to force people on to these shadeless dusty walks. The cry of trampling and destroying the grass is a most absurd one, except where straight cuts are made-such of these as are necessary are now made, and where there is an inclination that way again, a few movable hurdles (like those which disfigure Wellington street at present) put across would be a sufficient deterrent. Indeed, what if a few yards of grass is destroyed each year. It can easily be replaced at an expense of one-quarter the cost of keeping a constable to order people off. Give the people plenty of latitude and lots of seats

"Turn to the Right."

The town, late in rising after its orgy, lay very still and quiet. The morning was gray and warm, with a cloudy sky. The flags, and warm, with a cloudy sky. The flags, which had made so gay a show yesterday, hung close to the poles, or flapped idly and lell dead again. I walked slowly along beneath them, keeping a sharp look out on every side; but there were few persons moving in the streets, and I reached the Castle gates without misadventure. Here was something of life; a bustle of officers and soldiers passing in and out of courtiers. soldiers passing in and out, of courtiers whose office made their presence necessary, of beggars who had flocked hither in the night for company. In the midst of these I recognized on a sudden and with great surprise Simon Fleix walking my horse up and down. On seeing me he handed it to a boy, and came up to speak to me with a red face, muttering that four legs were better than two. I did not say much to him, my heart being full and my thoughts occupied with the presence chamber and what I should say there; but I nodded kindly to him, and he fell in behind me as the sentries challenged me. I answered them that I sought M. de Crillon, and so getting by, fell into the rear of a party of three who seemed bent on the same errand as myself.

One of these was a Jacobin monk, whose black and white robes, by reminding me of Father Antoine, sent a chill to my heart.
The second, whose eye I avoided, I knew to be M. la Guesle, the king's Solicitor-General. The third was a stranger to me. Enabled by M. la Guesle's presence to pass the main guards without challenge, the party proceeded through a maze of passages and corridors, conversing together in a low one; while I, keeping in their train with ny face cunningly muffled, got as far by his means as the ante-chamber, which I cound almost empty. Here I inquired of the usher for M. de Crillon, and learned with the utmost consternation that he was not present.

This blow, which almost stunned me, opened my eyes to the precarious nature of my position, which only the early hour and small attendance rendered possible for a moment. At any moment I might be recognized and questioned, or my name be required; while the guarded doors of the chamber shut me off as effectually from the king's face and grace as though I were in Paris, or alhundred leagues away. Endeavoring to the best of my power to conceal the chagrin and alarm which possessed me as this conviction took hold of me, I walked to the window; and to hide my face more completely and at the same time gain a moment to collect my thoughts, affected to be engaged in looking through it.

Nothing which passed in the room, however, escaped me. I marked everything and everyone, though all my thought was how I might get to the king. The barber came out of the chamber with a silver basin, and stood a moment, and went in again with an air of vast importance. The guards yawned, and an officer entered, looked round, and retired. M. la Guesle, who had gone in to the presence, came out again and stood near me talking with the Jacobin, whose pale nervous face and hasty movements reminded me somehow of Simon Fleix. The monk held a letter or petition in his hand, and appeared to be getting it by heart, for his lips moved continually. The light which fell on his face from the window showed it to be of a peculiar sweaty pallor, and distorted besides. But supposing him to be devoted, like many of his kind, to an unwholesome life, I thought nothing of this; though I liked him little, and would have shifted my place but for the convenience of his neighborhood.

Presently, while I was cudgeling my a person came out and spoke to La Guesle; who called in his turn to the monk, and started hastily towards the door. The Jacobin followed. The third person who had entered in their company had his attention directed elsewhere at the moment; and though La Guesle called to him, took no heed. On the instant I grasped the situntion. Taking my courage in my hands, I crossed the floor behind the monk; who, hearing me, orlfeeling his robe come in contact with me, presently started and looked round suspiciously, his face wearing a scowl so black and ugly that I almost recoiled from him, dreaming for a moment that I saw before me the very spirit of Father Antoine. But as the man said nothing, and the next instant averted his gaze, I hardened my heart and pushed on behind him, and passing the usher, found myself as by magic in the presence which had seemed a while ago as unattainable by my wits as it was necessary to my safety.

It was not this success alone, however, which caused my heart to beat more hopefully. The king was speaking as I entered, and the gay tones of his voice seemed to promise a favorable reception. His Majesty sat half-dressed on a stool at the farther end of the apartment, surrounded by five or six noblemen, while as many attendants, among whom I hastened to mingle, waited near the door.

La Guesle made as if he would advance, and then, seeing that the king's attention was not on him, held back. But in a moment the king saw him and called to him. "Ha, Guesle!" he said with good-temper, "is it you? Is your friend with

The Solicitor went forward, the monk at his elbow, and I had leisure to remark the favorable change which had taken place in the king, who spoke more strongly and seemed in better health than of old. His face looked less cadaverous under the paint, his form a trifle less emaciated. That which struck me more than anything, however, was the improvement in his spirits. His eyes sparkled from time to time, and he laughed continually, so that I could scarcely believe he was the same man whom I had seen overwhelmed with despair and tortured by his conscience.

Letting his attention slip from La Guesle, he began to handy words with the noble-man who stood nearest to him; looking up at him with a roguish eye, and making bets on the fall of Paris.

"Morbleu!" I heard him cry gaily, "I would give a thousand pounds to see the Montspensier this morning! She may keep her third crown for herself. Or, peste! we might put her in a convent. That would be a first wordened!" be a fine vengeance l"

'The veil for the tonsure," the nobleman said with a smirk. 'Ay. Why not? She would have made a monk of me," the king rejoined smartly. "She must be ready to hang herself with her garters this morning, if she is not dead of spite already. Or, stay, I had forgotten her golden seissors. Let her open a vein with them. Well, what does your friend want, La Guesle ?"

I did not hear the answer, but it was except the Jacobin fell back, leaving the monk standing before the king; who, stretching out his hand, took from him a leater. letter. The Jacobin, trembling visibly, seemed scarcely able to support the honor done him, and the king, seeing this, said in a voice audible to all, "Stand up, man.

You are welcome. I love a cowl as some love a lady's hood. And now, what is this?"

He read a part of the letter and rose. As he did so the monk leaned forward as though to receive the paper back again, and then so swiftly, so suddenly, with so unexpected a movement that no one stirred until all was over, struck the king in the body with a knife! As the blade flashed and was hidden, and His Majesty with a deep sob fell back on the stool, then, and not till then, I knew that I had missed a providential chance of earning pardon and protection. For had I only marked the Jacobin as we passed the door together and Jacobin as we passed the door together, and read his evil face aright, a word, one word, had done for me more than the pleading of a score of Crillons!

Too late a dozen sprang forward to the king's assistance; but before they reached him he had himself drawn the knife from the wound and struck the assassin with it on the head. While some with cries of grief, ran to support Henry, from whose body the blood was already flowing fast, others seized and struck down the wretched monk. As they gathered round him I saw him raise himself for a moment on his knees and look upward; the blood which ran down his face, no less than the mingled triumph and horror of his features, impressed the sight on my recollection. The next instant three swords were plunged into his breast, and his writhing body, plucked up from the floor amid a transport of curses, was forced headlong through the casement and flung down to make sport for the grooms and scullions who stood

About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DIScovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3 The black diamond is so hard that it cannot be polished.

Canal That Cost $476,000 Instead of $132,000 as First Stated,

And Returns $135 for an Annual Outlay of $21,000!

Apt Illustration of How Money Is Spent by the Government for Election Purposes-The House in Supply.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) OTTAWA, June 12.—In the House, on the motion to go into committee of supply, Mr. Charlton brought up the subject of the Tay Canal, sometimes known as "Haggart's Ditch." This work runs from the town of Perth (where Mr. Haggart lived until he entered the Cabinet) to the Rideau Canal, six miles distant. In 1882 Sir Charles Tupper asked for the first vote for this canal, and said it would cost $132,000; in 1883 an amended estimate of cost of $186,-000 was given to the House. In 1885, after an official assurance that the last vote had been taken, another vote of $10,000 was asked. Additional votes were taken in 1887 and 1888, when $77,000 was asked to pay for balances due to contractors, and it was stated that the total cost would be $358,000. In 1891, when another sum was asked, it was stated that the total cost would be $440,000. In 1892 a further sum of $30,000 was asked for an extension to Haggart's mill. The extension cost $36,000, and since its completion (presumably for the purpose of navigation) the only boats which passed up the extension was Peter McLaren's steam yacht. (Hear, hear.) The total cost of the Tay Canal to date has been $476,000. The traffic on it was carried, according to the official returns, by one scow, one skiff, two yachts and a tug. (Laughter.) The cost of this ditch (half a million dollars) involved an annual charge of $21,000. The cost of the canal, with the cost of annual maintenance capitalized, amounted to $538,000. Last year it cost $2,486 to maintain the Tay Canal, and the receipts from the canal amounted to $135. In other words, the annual charge of $21,000 was 158 times greater than the receipts. Mr. Charlton declared this to be a specimen of the way the Government squandered the follows "That this House expresses regret that so large a sum as $476,000 was expended in a way which no sound consideration of public policy could justify. That the benefits conferred are trivial and comparatively unimportant, and that this House is of opinion that the magnitude of the public debt is due in no inconsiderable degree to that wasteful and unwarranted expenditure of which the Tay Canal is a type."

people's money. He moved an amendment reciting the above facts and concluding as

Mr. Haggart made a short speech in defense of the job which he acknowledged had been undertaken at his request and for the benefit of the town of Perth and county of Lanark. They had been taxed for public works in other localities, and he considered he had a right to this expenditure. The chief points he made were that the Opposition were in great straits who resurrected an issue which had been threshed out in 1891, and that they made no objection to the work when the various votes were being taken in the House.

Sir Richard Cartwright condemned the expenditure of $500,000 on the ditch in question as a scandalous waste of public money. The real reason had been stated by the Minister concerned, namely that the object of the expenditure was to strengthen him in his election, and to this end the expenditure had been so spread over so many years as to include three general elections, 1882, 1887 and 1891.

Dr. Sproule (Ministerial) undertook to proved by a reference to the Fort Francis Canal, that if this was a mistake it was not Mr. McMullen, in reply, referred to the double-tracking of the Intercolonial, when Sir John Thompson rose to a point of order, contending that Mr. McMullen was not talking to the question. Mr. Speaker ruled that Mr. McMullen was within the rules. A division was taken resulting in the defeat of the amendment by 68 to 101, a Government majority of 33. Col. O'Brien voted with the Government.

The House then went into committee of supply.

The claim has been set up that the lack of growth of population as shown by the census of 1891 was due partly to the fact that the census of 1891 was more strictly taken, and that for instance persons who had gone to reside permanently in the United States were not counted. Dr. Borden, the member for Kings, N. S., exploded this claim very effectually by producing a list of 50 names, 48 of which were counted in the census according to a certificate of the Dominion statistician. Dr. Borden showed that every one of these 48 persons had been residents of the United States for years prior to 1891. Some of them for 22 years, others for seventeen years and others for five, six and eight years; some of these counted as in Canada had been naturalized citizens of the United States for years. Dr. Borden read affidavits of respectable residents of King's county certifying to the facts. No reply to this damaging statement was made from the Government benches. The discussion arose on the vote for the statistical year book, which was shown by the Opposition to be unreliable. The item passed. On the item of $73,000 for the Trent Valley Canal, a revote, Sir Richard Cartwright demanded the policy of the Government. Mr. Haggart asked him to postpone his questions until the supplementary estimates were brought down, which would contain an item to complete the portions of the navigation between Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe and between Peterboro d Lake Field, with eight or nine locks in each section. The locks would be 130 by 33 feet, The item carried. House adjourned.

IFE INSURANCE IN A WELL-MAN-AGED COMPANY.

The good management which has always characterized the Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company is exemplified in the report, published in another column of today's ADVERTISER, presented to the share. holders at the recent annual meeting in Waterloo. This purely Canadian mutual insurance company has now been in operaation for almost a quarter of a century, and it has had an unbroken successful career. Starting out in 1870 with $6,000 assets and an insurance of $500,000, it has gone straight on until now it has the handsome assets of $2,593,424, and insurance on firstclass lives of $17,751,107. Of this sum, no less than $3,004,700 was on 2,092 policies received last year, which full y demonstrates the popularity of the company, in spite of the strongest opposition by foreign and native companies. The Ontario Mutual Life very properly provides that only firstclass risks shall be accepted by their medical advisers; that the revenues of the company shall be invested in undoubted securities, and that the profits shall be periodically divided among the policyholders. This careful, liberal policy has had the desired effect. The managers and directors are to be congratulated on the showing which they make for the shareholders. It is most creditable to them.

LONDON'S FASHIONABLE HATTER.

400 RICHMOND STREET. to the occasion by their presence. Wellspread tables and the jolly light-hearted demeanor of the guests made the affair a pleasant one for all. The bride was conducted under the canopy by Messrs. Gold-stick and Cornstein. The groomsmen and bridesmaids were Mr. Saskin and Miss Uttal, Mr. Friedman and Miss Harris, Mr. Baker and Miss Courts, Mr. Bloomgarden and Miss Kaminsky, sister of the bride. The dresses were of white satin and very beautiful. Dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Ontario Medicos. The Ontario Medical Council opened its 29th annual meeting at the building of the association in Toronto yesterday, Dr. Cl. T. Campbell presiding. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Dr. Phillips, Brantford; vice-president, Dr. Harris, Brantford; registrar, Dr. R. A. Pyne, Toronto; treasurer, Dr. W. T. Aikins, Toronto; solicitor, B. B. Osler, Q.C.; stenographer, Alex. Downie. President Campbell went at some length into the questions raised by the Medical Defense Association and defended the action of the council.

Elocution at Hellmuth College. A very fine programme was presented Monday evening at Hellmuth College by the members of the elecution and physical culture classes of 1894. The opening number, a fancy drill entitled "My Lady's Scarf," was the very poetry of motion and evinced much careful training on the part of both teachers and pupils. Miss Glancy, Miss Morris and Miss Landon are to be congratulated upon the success of their numbers, each one of which in the especial Jossip," a pantomimic comedy by the Misses Donn and Murray, proved irresistibly funny, and was rewarded by a hearty encore. Miss Lucy Morrow, the graduate of the evening, gave five numbers in splendid style, showing marked versatility and much conserved power. Particular mention must be made of her rendition of the difficult "Letter Scene" from Macheth, which was given with much concentrated force and intensity; also of the delightful manner in which she played Lady Teazle in the well-known scene with Sir Peter, whose character, by the wav was splendidly given by Miss Grace Morey. A series of tableaux mouvants closed a charming entertainment. These moving pictures were really beautiful, captivating alike the artistic and the aesthetic perceptions, and proving a rare lesson in the enormous power in the human form for emotional portraiture, even without the assistance of words. Mr. English and Miss Oakley are to be heartily congratulated upon this further success of their labors. The following was the pro-
