COMPENSATION A CHARGE ON INDUSTRY FORWARD POLICY ON SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Mr. N. W. Rowell Has Frank and Informal Talk on Important Matter With Large Body of Workingmen at Woodstock.

Says More Attention Must Be Given to the Solution of a Group of Allied Social and Industrial Questions.

Declares He Will Introduce Workmen's Compensation Act Next Session if Government Refuses to Do It.

[By Our Own Man.] Woodstock, Aug. 29.-Mr. N. W Rowell, K. C., M. P. P., leader of the Opposition in the Legislature, had a heart-to-heart talk with the workingmen of this city tonight on social and industrial questions, particularly speech. The hall workingmen, and they entered into the discussion of the problem with vigor and intelligence. The Liberal leader introduced the subject and ther allowed his hearers to give their ideas of the necessary clauses to be in cluded in such a bill. The discussion was frank and open. Many declared It to be the most satisfactory meeting they ever attended. It afforded Mr. Rowell an opportunity of getting in close touch with the men who toil, and the results cannot be anything but educative for the leader, and beneficial to his hearers. The Present Act.

Mr. Rowell made it very plain that the present compensation et was much behind the times. In fact, he declared that Ontario and New Brunswick were not only behind other p tions of the Empire in this kind of legislation, but were behind many European countries, several of which were not considered modern in many He took the ground that every man injured should be compensated; and that the industries of the province should bear that expense as a portion of the capital cost of running their business. He thought the manufacturers would agree that. It was his intention to bring in a modern compensation act at the next session of the Legislature, if the Government did not do so. If Sir James Whitney brought in a measure based on the broad lines he favored, he would guarantee that himself and every one of his followers would sup

Only One Phase.

Mr. Rowell explained that workmen's compensation was only one of a group of allied social and industrial questions. It was because of his interest in social contions that he was in public life. He made a strong plea for the greater consideration of social problems by the Government of the Province, and recommended the creation of a department for this purpose, if the present departments could not be re-arranged so as to permit ene of the present ministers to give these problems ? te time and attention

Rev. Dr. McMullen. Rev. Dr. McMullen presided at the meeting. He was glad to see so large a gathering to help discuss so important a subject. He came himself hear the exposition of a theme that had been close to his heart. Mr. E. W. Nesbitt, M. P., spoke He congratulated Mr. Rowell on calling the meeting. GROUP OF SOCIAL PROBLEMS WHICH ONTARIO MUST FACE

N. W. ROWELL AT WOODSTOCK.

"There is a whole group of social and industrial problems pressing for solution. It is the duty of the Government to address itself to the task, in investigating, and if possible, devising remedies. At the present time it is one of the most important functions that a minister of the crown could undertake. To this end it is necessary that the whole labor service shall

"The public health is one of this group of related questions. While marked advance was made in the legislation of the last session, we have only begun to deal with this subject in any really adequate way.

"All these social questions, this cluster of allied problems-labor, occupational disease, compensation, public health-demand a larger attention than they have been receiving. They are so important that they should occupy one of the ministers of the crown in investigating and bringing forward legislative and administrative measures. If this cannot be secured by a rearrangement of the present departments of the Government, a new department should be created to deal with these matters.

"Workmen's compensation is only one phase of the social problem. In Germany they have insurance provisions against old age, sickness, unemployment and accident. Great Britain has copied this legislation. It does not follow that we in Ontario should adopt exactly similar measures, but we should thoroughly investigate the conditions here, and ascertain whether some solution can be applied that will avert from this province the evils characteristic of other countries. We are only beginning to try to solve a group of social problems that must be faced."

Drainage the Problem. When they got into the problem it was found that it would be impossible to drain the streets if they were paved. The hygienic sewer system was taxed beyond its capacity, and no surface water could be turned into it. At the time the present excellent sewer system was installed, it was recommended by the special engineer, Mr. Chipman, that it be supplemented at once by a storm water system, but the ratepayers have refused to vote for it

As a result the council decided to secure a topographical map of the city in order to find out if there were not some way of taking care of the drainage. The

The improvements to the streets this year have not been extensive, although quite a number have been oiled and rolled. Nineteen miles of roads have been oiled, but not half that amount has been rolled and gravelled. The process has been most successful, it is claimed, at the city hall, and will be extended next

As a result of the year's operations is probable that many miles of streets will be rolled, and temporarily repaired next year, but it is doubted that many pavements will be laid. If the storm sewer bylaw carries the most of the energy of the engineer's department will be taken up with putting down this system. This will consume much time in tem. This will consume much time, in fact it is doubted that it can be accomplished in one year.

The course most likely to be pursued will be to lay a portion of the system next year, and put down some pavements. However, there will be difficulty in selecting the section to be done, and many are afraid that undue friction will re-

The street railway management has reported to the city that it is impossible to obtain rails or to perform the work this year before the frost sets in and the paving question has accordingly been shelved for another council to handle, and perhaps delay again.

Not a Stroke Done. Unanimous petitions asking for the construction of the pavements on Ridout street, between Horton street and Elmwood avenue, and on the same thoroughfare between Garfield and West avenues, have been presented to the council. Tenders have been called for for both works, and the contract awarded for the shorter strip, but thus far absolutely nothing has been done

High Cost of Living and "Dead Beats" Given as the Reasons.

READY TO SERVE CHARITABLE CAUSE

Believe That Profession Must Be Placed on a Business Basis for Those Who Can and Won't Pay.

The physicians of the city are arranging among themselves to place the practice of medicine on a business basis, and as a result of a recent informal session a meeting is to be held within a short time to consider the advisability of increasing the rates at present charged in London. The tariff which has existed in London "from the time of Adam," according to one medical man, has become impossible because of the high cost of living. Hay that at one time could be purchased for $8 a ton, is now worth $22, while gasoline for the physicians' motor cars has also doubled in price. Drugs, too, are increasing abnormally, one instance being given in hydrastis. This drug was formerly worth $2 to $2.50 per pound, while $8 is now the figure charged.

Is Practice Diminishing?

The city is also filled with lodges and fraternal organizations, all of which provide free medical attendance their members, while a number of the larger factories have also special medical men for the families of their employees. The railway companies provide doctors also. From this it may be seen that while the population of the city has increased, the field for general practice is diminishing.

Another of the doctors asserts that one of the reasons for the organization of the physicians is to "beat the deadbeats." Medical men, he declares, are always willing and anxious to look after those who cannot afford to pay, but those who can afford to pay and who will not, must be forced to. Doctors are the first assailed by people vending tickets for church bazaars, raffles, and the like, and in all cases are expected to pay up promptly, while their "customers" sit back comfortably and wait a couple of years squaring accounts

Charge $2 a Visit.

At present there is no recognized charge is $1 a visit, and the same for office consultation. Many doctors charge the two-dollar scale, however. It is now proposed to make the twodollar charge general in the city, and to "get the money" without fall, excepting where there is reason to beieve that the patient is not able financially, in which case attendance will be provided gratis. INTERIM REPORT ON COMPENSATION

School Bell Will Ring Tuesday Are the Boys Ready?

Saturday will be the last day of this great sale of Boys' School Suits. We don't mean by this that ces will advance, but that assortment and sizes in the sale lots will be so broken the sizes you want may not be here.

To revive the interest for the last day of this sale (as we have sold double the quantity we expected to this week), many Suits which it was not intended to reduce have been added to fill up where sizes were sold out, making the assortment complete for Saturday selling, and giving those who could not come earlier in the week a choice of some better grades than have been offered to make up for the lessened assortment.

> "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford." George M. Cohan fairly outdid him-self in transferring the "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" magazine created by George Randolph Chester to the stage. In its dramatic form "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," though straight comedy, moves along with the swiftness that is invariably in a Cohan musical show, with the result that furnishes a play that fairly bristles and vibrates vitality and fun. It is clean fun. and while the hero, J. Rufus Wallingford, might be criticised by some of his prototypes in real life, Mr. Cohan has made this whirlwind promoter such a lovable character that an audience is in sympathy with him and his visionary schemes five minutes after he commences to unfold them. In the company assembled by Cohan & Harris for the presentation of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," which is to be produced here at the Grand Wednesday night, are such familiar players as Jack Webster, James Sweeney, Mulry, A. LONDON, FRIDAY, AUG. 30.

MR. ROWELL'S FORWARD POLICY

Mr. Rowell's conference with the workingmen at Woodstock has vealed him as an exponent of real liberalism of the twentieth century brand. He showed the effects of hard study of the social and labor problems of the present time and the solutions proposed or adopted in various states.

He is ready to lead in a forward policy on a whole group of related questions, industry, health, temperince, accident and invalidity insurance, old-age pensions and the like. These social questions, far-reaching and multiplied, he perceives to be the main concern of a statesman at the present Enthusiastic in these new causes, Mr. Rowell expressed regret that they should be so new in this province as they are. He pointed out that Ontario stands only on the threshold of a development that has already proceeded some distance in most civilized countries. In our material prosperity we have ignored the need of governmental protection, to the working masses in many things. Mr. Rowell advises that the Government should give more attention to social and economic matters. He ridiculed the Ontario Labor Bureau's inefficiency, and called for a new department of government, if necessary, to investigate adequately and devise the means of combating and curing existent evils or defects.

Mr. Rowell has caught the spirit of British Liberalism. He is opening in Ontario what Mr. Asquith called the "unconquered territory of social re-While laying emphasis on Ontario's need of a just and modern workmen's compensation act, he showed that this was only one point in a vast campaign that, must be waged. He made his audience aware done.

workmen's compensation the audience agreed heartily with the Liberal leader that a grave injustice is done to a large class of the people. The manufacturers and other employers are, of course, not particularly to blame. They are themselves to some extent in the hands of the industrial liability companies, and old custom weighs upon us all in our social and economic concerns more than in most things. Even when we see the need of change, It is hard to make it, as is shown just now in the British grumbling over a necessary National Insurance Some scheme of compulsory insurance like that in Great Britain and Germany, however, found considerable favor in the discussion which developed between Mr. Rowell and his audience. The leader was applauded when he denounced the excessive cost of litigation under the present act, and his view that all forms of accident incidental to business, whether due to the worker's negligence or not, should be fairly compensated, was received with general satisfaction. It must be remembered that to the wives, children and dependents of an unfortunate workman it makes no difference whether he was negligent or not.

It is only fair that accident should, fike fire or other disasters, beyond ordinary calculation and control, be made a normal charge on industry. They should come in the same category with depreciation of property and plant and other fixed deductions. With the establishment of a thorough-going system of accident compensation, manufacturers themselves will be relieved of a great deal of worry and anxiety, as they now have to defend in so many cases of litigation, often against their inclinations.

Mr. Rowell's conference is an interesting departure in our provincial politics. He is active, a learner, a progressive, and getting at the people for first-hand information, whether in new or in old Ontario, he is getting ready to lead this province to a better economic and social condition than standstill Whitney's would ever dream of. Some yeast has been mixed into Sir James' sourdough since Mr. Rowell came up.

A TARIFF ILIAD. With all parties, even the Republican, pledged to a reduction of customs duties, with both Houses of Congress passing bills for that purpose, the Lower House having received a distinct mandate to do so from the electors, and with an overwhelming public sentiment in favor of a downward revision, the sixtythird Congress adjourned, leaving the 1909, assented to by all parties. most oppressive schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law intact-on the eve of a Presidential election, too. Such is the triumph of the American constitution. Seldom has it so effeetually done what its authors intended it to do-check and thwart the popular will. The separation of the executive from the legislative power has enabled the President to override both the Republican Senate and the Democratic House-a President parently lost the confidence of the majority of his countrymen and is likely to be voted out of office in two months' time. The Democratic leader of the House of Representatives thus humorously and picturesquely but scathingly reviewed the conditions under which the American people live:

"Under the present oppressive tariff law, the laboring man returns at night from his toil clad in a woolen suit taxed 75 per cent., shoes taxed 12 per cent., stockings and underwear 71 per cent., a cotton shirt taxed 50 per cent., a wool hat and woolen gloves taxed 78 per He carries a dinner pail taxed 45 per cent., and greets his wife as she looks through a windowpane taxed 62 per cent., past a curtain taxed 42 per cent.

"After scraping his shoes on an iron seraper taxed 75 per cent., he wipes them on a mat taxed 50 per cent. He lifts the door-latch, taxed 45 per cent, steps on a carpet taxed per cent., and kisses his wife clad in a woolen aress taxed 75 per cent. She is mending an umorella taxed 50 per cent, with thread taxed 30 cent.

The house is made of brick taxed 25 per cent., and lumber taxed 9 per cent., with paint taxed 32 per Their wallpaper was taxed 25 per cent., and plain furniture 35 per cent. He hangs his pail on a steel pin taxed 45 per cent., using soap taxed 20 per cent. His lookingglass was taxed 45 per cent., and he combs his hair with a rubber comb taxed 35 per cent.

He proceeds to eat his supper which was cooked on a stove taxed 45 per cent., for which his wife used pots and kettles taxed 45 per cent. On their table is common crockery taxed 55 per cent., and cheap glass tumblers taxed 45 per cent. sugar he puts in his tea is taxed 54 per cent., which he stirs with a spoon taxed 45 per cent. His meal is a frugal one, because the cost of living is high. "He uses a knife and fork taxed 10 per cent., bread 20 per cent., potatoes 22 per cent., salt 33 per cent., butter 24 per cent., and rice 62 per cent. He proceeds to read a book taxed 25 per cent., and at the close of the day reclines in an iron frame bed taxed 45 per cent., with a mattress taxed 20 per cent, sheets taxed 45 per cent., woolen blankets taxed 75 per cent., and a cotton spread 45

"He is taken ill, and the doctor prescribes medicine taxed 25 per cent., which, being ineffective, he conveyed to a cemetery in a wagon lible. taxed 35 per cent, deposited in its resting-place in mother earth, and the grave is filled in by use of a spade taxed 45 per cent., while over his grave is raised a monument taxed 50 per cent."

MR. L. GRAHAM H. HORTON-SMITH ADVISES CANADA.

A circular letter on the navy ques tion has been sent to Canadian newspapers by Mr. L. Graham H. Horton-Smith, who writes from the Athenaeum Club, Pall Mall. London. Note the combination of the hyphen, the club and Pall Mall. It suggests a ertain atmosphere and point of view. Both are reflected in the letter.

Mr. L. Graham H. Horton Hyphen Smith warns Canada against giving money to the destestable Asquith Administration, which starved the army and navy in order to find money for old age pensions. To quote Mr. L. Graham H. Horton-Smith:

"The giving of money for the navy by the Dominion of Canada will merely have the effect of saving the pocket of the Liberal Government for other schemes of so-called social reform (which, being interpreted, means further cops to the United Kingdom electorate), and will be of no advantage whatsoever to the by so much the less as would coincide with the extent of the Canadian gift.' If Canada pays money or builds ships, says Mr. L. Graham H. Horton Smith, she must do it only "on condition," the condition being that the British Government shall not curtail naval expenditure correspondingly, "in order to give sops to the Cerberus of the United Kingdom electorate." Note the comparison of the electorate to Cerberus-to the hundred-headed. hundred-mouthed beast that guarded the portals of Hades! How redolent of the Pall Mall club politician! What a typically high Tory view!

The sect of Mr. L. Graham H. Horton-Smith's advice is that Canadians must on no account do anything to lighten the burdens of the British poor by relieving them of one ounce of the crushing weight of armaments. Such benevolence would be only throwing sops to Cerberus, Mr. L. Graham H. Horton-Smith may be asured, however, that whatever Canadians do they will not ha e the impudence to impose "conditions" even on the Asquith Government. Neither will they have conditions imposed upon themselves by the Asquith Government, or the school of Mr. L. Graham H. Horton-Smith, What they ought to do has been already indicated in a famous parliamentary resolution of

The Canadian western wheat crop this year is estimated at 200,000,000 buys from the whole world. Reciprocity or no reciprocity, an increasing only difference will be that without remake no difference to him.

Dr. Bruce's departure will be a great loss to the anti-tuberculosis crusade, unless a very competent successor can be found. He is returning to England to take charge of one of the sanatoria provided for by the new insurance act. The British medical profession is still on strike against the act, so far as the treating of insured persons for other complaints is concerned, but it has consented to join in the warfare on tuberculosis.

GREAT WRITERS WHO CLAIM SPIRIT CONTROL

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Although I was joking the other day at Mr. Lobb's expense, I do not wish of customs, was taken suddenly ill any of my readers to infer that I this morning at the Russell House, think it an altogether impossible thing for Shakespeare to communicate with a living Englishman, nor do I regard it as impossible that he may have been under spirit control when he wrote his great dramas. The whole question of inspiration is most bushels, as much as Great Britain difficult of explanation. As everyone knows the theologians have wrestled with it for half a century and alportion of the Canadian crop must though the majority of them have overflow into the United States. The denied literal inspiration of the Scriptures, no man on earth can say what ciprocity the Canadian grower will get is the boundary line between verbal to 15 cents a bushel less, as the and plenary inspiration. While I do market varies. But that is supposed to not believe in literal inspiration myself, I certainly believe that the old Testament prophets and psalmists and the New Testament writers could not have written such truths in such beautiful language unless they had received help from power outside themselves. And in a lesser degree the same statement might be made of scores of poets. Who taught Shakespeare? Where did he get that style? Who is sufficient to answer that question? What about Chatterton, and Bunyan, and Keats, and Blake, and any number of other poets, who came up out of obscurity to astonish the world with the wonder of

As far as making a direct claim to literal inspiration is concerned, there is the celebrated Coleridge and his incomplete poem, "Kubla Khan." He wrote those marvellous lines to dictation from the spirit world. As far bright wedding day; but have you ever as melody is concerned they are flawless. We cannot understand their meaning fully, although we feel that if we had lived in the palace of Kubla Khan, in that mysterious country long ago, the lines would be perfectly intelligible. Anyway the fragment is one of the wonders of English poesy. Read the lives of William Sharp and of William Blake, and you will find other examples of spirit direction, at least the poet's claim to such their productions?

The most interesting case of this kind, however, that I have ever noticed is from the pen of R. D. Blackmore, the famous author of "Lorna Doone." Women and Friendship

To believe the forming of true friendship between women a practical impossibility is a common fallacy. Such a theory is especially characteristic of a certain class of modern pessimists, who declare that it is woman's nature to be suspicious of her own sex. To their eramped imagination t is impossible for a woman to attain the ideals upon which friendships are built, when there is another woman con-

The error is obvious, if one stops to think. The immense numbers of women whose best, and ofttimes, only friend is another woman, turns the statement against itself. The mere fact that they do exist is sufficient. "That that Granted that some friendships between women are deplerable failures, it is not fair to judge all by that standard. You always find some of these exceptional cases where friendship is in concern. Women's ideas of friendship change with time. The early, transitory friendships of childhood—made in an hour, broken in a month—are excellent character formatives. man whom they call their friend.

There are scores of women upon earth who shudder when they look back to some crucial point of their life, to think of what they might have been but for some woman friend. And, again, there are many women living lonely lives now because such a lot of people know pothing about it.

For instance, there is a case I know where a woman took the blame and suffered the punishment for a wrong which had been done by a man whom she barely knew—who was nothing to her, except this—he was the husband of her friend. Rather than have her friend suffer, the woman suffered herself—slurred her own name to the world in general. An extreme case—yes; bu, nevertheless, a typical and illustrative one.

TEMPTING FRUIT MACEDOINES

or "salads," as these fruit mixtures are called, taste better at this season

For festive occasions a fruit maceloine is often covered with a clear jelly, and is especially delicious when served with cream The fruits should be arranged so that their colors will show through the transparent jelly to the best advantage. Any kind may be used providing its flavor harmonizes with that of the fruits.

The fruits most appropriate to serve in this way are peaches, nectaries, apricots, strawberries, raspberries, mulberries, cherries, pears. oranges, pomeganates, red, white and black arrants and all kinds of plums, apple, banana and grapefruit.

Frothed Jelly.

The banana is particularly good in a fruit macedoine. It makes an excellent foundation, as it has not a very strong flavor of its own, and fruits of various kinds can be combined with it to advantage. The fruits may be mixed directly with the jelly, or merely covered with

it. Sometimes the jelly is whipped to give a light, frothy appearance, or the white of an egg, well beaten, is folded through it when the fruits are added. Another way to serve a macedoine is inside a border mold of jelly. border of jelly flavored with orange or lemon might appropriately be filled with sliced oranges, diced pineapple Maraschino cherries or any fruit in season, all properly sweetened. Decorate with whipped cream. Diced pineapple and oranges, with a little sugar and a few bright cherries to give color, make an attractive combination. Cover with a thin coating of lemon jelly sweetened more than usual, so that the mixture may be served with whipped cream,

No, Ty Cobb Is Not Proud or Plutocratic DNDON SHOULD HAVE WON TWO BUT LUCK WAS WITH LEE'S MEN

Hams Grabbed the First Game, Although Outhit and Outplayed, but London Won the Second Game-Linneburn and Barrett Chased From Game by Umpire Greer.

Hamilton, Aug. 29.-Two good games of baseball, which were nearly marred London by poor umpiring, were played here today between the Kolts and the Kockneys, both teams winning and losing a game. The first contest went to the locals, who had all the luck, by the score of 2 to 1. Chaput pitched good bail for the visitors, and he held Lee's men to five hits. He was given good support, but allowed the locals to bunch their hits in the first and to bunch their hits in the first and the locals to bunch their hits in the the hirade.

Summary: Left on bases—Hamilton 4, London 8. Two-base hits—Fox. Double play—Keenan (unassisted). Sacrifice hits—Neale, Kelliher 2. Stolen bases—Cameron, Gilhooley, Speer, Greenhalgh. Struck out—By Teed 7, by Hynes 5. Bases on balls—Off Teed 3, off Oynes 1. Passed balls—Fisher, Greenhalgh. Nit by pitcher — By Teed 1. Umpires—Strowger and Kockneys, both teams winning and to bunch their hits in the first and fourth innings. The Barrett brigade Greer. found Chief Garlow for ten hits, but they could only send one man across during the nine innings.

Near the end of the first game, Umpire Greer, a new member of Fitzger-ald's staff, chased Manager Barrett and Second Baseman Eddie Linneburn from the game, and would not let the Guelph's Errors Were Costly—Over a latter play in the second game. Greer gave one of the worst exhibitions of umpiring seen here this season, and Ald, Strowger, the local umpire, was called to handle the second game.

London won in easy fashion in the who pitched excellent ball. The London team put up a good exhibition in the field, making no errors in either game. In the second game, the locals' rrors were costly.

FIRST METHODISTS DELAYED THE GAME

Dundas Centre Charges That First Methodist Team Purposely Caused Delay When They Were Losing.

evening between Dundas Centre and First Methodist Church was called at the end of the fourth inning on account of darkness, with the score 11 to 0 in favor of Dundas Centre. The Dundas Centre team claims that the First Methodist put up a very unsportsmanlike exhibition in that they purposely delayed the game whenever the opportunity offered in order that it would be called. The umpire made an effort to make them play ball, but realizing that they were going to lose they threw the ball around and did everything they could to delay the It will be necessary to play another game to decide the winner.

LACROSSE TO BE REVIVED IN LONDON NEXT SEASON

Efforts Are Now Being Made to Organize a Club and Place a Strong Team in This City-Lots of Good Material in the City at Present.

An effort will be made to put London at the lacrosse map next season, and bready a number of players are being ticularly among the big colleges, and on the lacrosse map next season, and already a number of players are being gathered for the purpose. Lacrosse has been dead in this city for some seasons, but this was caused more by the lack of someone to take hold of the situation rather than a lack of material. The city boasts of several good lacrosse players, and there is plenty of good material to pick a team from. There is lots of opportunity to develop a couple of good teams, and an effort is now being made to revive the game in London.

Fred Fitzgerald, son of Chris Fitzgerald, the noted horseman and former sporting editor of the New Yok Sun, is a good lacrosse player, having played with the Crescent Athletic Club in New some good teams have been developed. Mr. Fitzgerald is located in London now, and he has started a movement to put a lacrosse team in this city next spring.

It is also likely that a city league will be formed in order to develop youngsters who want to play the game. Mr. Fitzgerald is of the opinion that a lacrosse team will be a big success in this city, and as he is in touch with several good players, he believes that he can get a strong team. Several local lacrosse players are interested in the proposition, and there is no doubt that London will place a fast team in the field next spring.

REVIVING SCULLING

IN UNITED STATES

Match Between Haines and Greer Has Been Arranged.

[Canadian Press.]
Boston, Aug. 30.—A step towards regiving professional sculling in the United States was taken today, when forfeits of $500 a side were posted for a match beween William Haines, formerly a wellknown oarsman in England, and now coach of the Union Boat Club, of this city, and Frank B. Greer, of Boston, for-mer amateur champion of the United States. The winner of the race will claim the professional sculling cham-pionship of the United States. The match will be rowed in the Charles River basin in Boston on Labor Day, in connection with the New England amateur rowing regatta. The city of Boston has offered a $500 cup for the event, and Courtney Guild, of the Boston Athletic Association, has been chosen referee

Nolan and Coffroth Get in Argument Which Leads to a Scrap. [Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Failing in their efforts to bring off a match on Sept. 9 between Willie Ritchie and "One Round" Jack Hogan, Promoter Coffroth staged an impromptu bout of their own at the Olympic Club last night. Coffroth is said to have had a shade the better of the argument. Nolan exhibited today a fairly discolored cheek as evidence of what he termed Coffroth's assault. Ac-cording to Nolan, he was summoned to the club by Coffroth by phone, and found the promoter in a room with several friends. Coffroth accused him of "running out" in withdrawing Ritchie from the Hogan match. When Nolan expressed resentment, Coffroth, he alleges, violated club etiquette by biting him on the cheek. The men were separated after a lively interchange of blows.

NEW PHASE OF GRAFT

Agents Rented Properties to Gamblers at Enormous Rents, Unknown to the Owners.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Aug. 30. - The defence in behalf of Lieut. Becker, accused of gambling graft, that he accumulated his fortune of nearly $100,000 through stock speculation, was punctured yesterday afternoon when Jas. E. March, the lawyer, declared before the grand leaving but 30 per cent, who under jury that there was no truth in the the law could claim damages. statements attributed to him that he engineered the police officer's stock speculations. March had been quoted as carrying on of the business, saying that he and Becker had a joint clared Mr. Rowell, account, and that as a result of his tips, Becker had made thousands through deals in Erie, Interborough, Rapid Transit and other stocks.

March was then recalled, and after being closely questioned by the jury, stated, it was learned, that he had never conducted any deals for Becker worth mention-

A new phase of graft has come to light here since the publication by the police of a long list of gamblinghouses and their owners. Several owners of properties named on the list disclaim having had any knowledge that gambling was being conducted on their property, and declare that gamblers have got leases from the agents, without knowledge of the owners, by paying exorbitant rents. The agents, hey declare, pocketed the difference.

It was the duty of the Government to investigate the causes of the declee in rural population and prevent it. The Government should also discuss the problems of the cities, and enact legislation remedy the evils to be found.

Mowat's Act.

In 1885, Sir Oliver Mowat introduced he first compensation act based on he British act of that time. The workngman was limited to common law rights with the addition that he could claim compensation for all injuries, unless it was shown: 1. That the werkingman had assumed the risk; 2, If it were shown that while the employer were negligent, the workingman had been in a position to pre-vent the accident; 3, If injuries sustained were due, not to neglect of the IN GRAFTER HUNT tained were due, not to neglect of the employer, but of a fellow-employee.

Present Conditions. Amendments were later made his law, and at the present time these hold good. In addition to the comlaw rights of the workingman, he could claim damages provided-1. That the injury was due to some defect in machinery, works, etc., that had not been remedied. 2. That it was due to the neglect of the superintendent while acting as superintendent. 3. Provided that it was due to the neglect of a man in the employ of the firm or company to whom workingman must conform. 4. Provided that the injury was due WAS PUNCTURED to some act of any person in conforming to the bylaws or rules of the or three years wages. This was not an equitable act, and Mr. Rowell had criticized it before and after the election.

One of the defects of the law was that the right of the workingman to recover damages was dependent altogether upon his ability to establish the neglect, either directly or indirectly, of the employer. Mr. Rowell declared that 50 per cent of the accidents were not attributable to the negligence of either the employer or the employee, being pure accidents. According to the present law half the men injured could not collect damages because of that fact. Still they should be compensated, Neyligence of Employee.

Another 20 per cent of the accidents, according to statistics, were due to the negligence of the employee. This raised the percentage of those unable to claim compensation to 70 per cent should not be. All the men injured should have a right to damages. "If an accident is incident to "the manufacturer or employer of labor should provide for it as a capital ex-penditure, the same as he would for a break in his machinery, or for the wear and tear of his plant. In modern business depreciation of plant, accidents to machinery, in fact, anycan district leader, was first question- thing incident to the carrying on of "What difference does it make to the widow and orphans if the husband and father is killed through his own carelessness? They will still be a charge on the community, and, in my opinion, injury or death to any man should be a charge on the business, except in the case where it can be shown that the man was injured or killed through his own intentional act. If this plan were carried out, 100 per cent. of the men injured would be compensated, not the very small percentage who obtain compensation now.'

One Difficulty.

Mr. Rowell pointed out that one of the great difficulties in the way of obtaining justice for the workingman under present conditions was the expense of administering the law. As it stands now, the manufacturers insured their employees in liability companies. The to charge of making a false statement to Police Commissioner Waldo, it was expected by District Attorney Whitresult of this is manifest. The injured man, that interesting information Expensive litigation is always the lot would be unearthed that would throw of an injured man. The result is that mportant side lights on police black- many settle for a pittance when they were entitled to fairer treatment. This is neither fair to the man nor company. It is not fair to the state.

"I am informed that not 30 per cent. Waldo reduced Hayes to the rank of finds its way into the pockets of the captain. The remainder ployees injured are reimbursed, and not 30 per cent of the money paid out for insurance goes into the pockets of the workingman. These conditions should not exist.

"If the money paid by the manufacturers to insurance companies were paid directly to the workingman, practically every man injured during the year would be reimbursed. The manufacturers would have to pay no greater charge, and the result would be that the workingman and the employer would both profit by the expenditure of the money in this way.

"When it comes to the last analysis, the whole community pays, If machinery is broken, the cost is added to the article, and the consumer pays. I take the ground that any expense necessary to compensate the workingman is part upon the article manufactured. should be carried as a portion of the capital expenditure. The element of litigation should be avoided in the new act, and would be in any legislation proposed by myself."

The Birtish Act. Mr. Rowell took the British act, and that of the State of Washington, comparing the two. He considered that a combination of the two would fit con-

In a scathing denunciation of present conditions Mr. Rowell declared provinces of the Dominion in labor legslation, and was much behind the nawas time that something was done to protect the workingman. "If the Government at its next ses-

Provincial Act Covers Point and Bylaw is Unnecessary.

Ald, Bennett's amendment to the trathe bylaw, compelling motor cars to stop before passing street cars which have halted for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, will not be placed in the form of a city bylaw because of the fact that the question s covered by the provincial motor vehicles act. The matter was discussed by the board of works Thursday afternoon.

The amendment suggested by Bennett was to compel automobiles to halt while street cars were standing, but the provincial legislation will be enforced here, and is considered sufficient.

The motor vehicles act requires automobiles to stop ten feet from a standing car until all alighting pas sengers have reached a place of safety. Contends It is Impossible to Keep the Crossing Clear in Time Allowance.

Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today again declared his intention of abating one nuisance with which the people of London have been bothered for at Wellington street, amounced that the next offender will be assessed the limit-$50-without fail.

It is also the intention of the court to summon Trainmaster W. R. Davidson. Master of Transportation J. C. Crombie and General Card Master J. loughesy, in addition to the crew directly responsible when another prosecution crops up.

P. C. Edgar Fowler, who laid the charge against Morley, testified that 56 pfennigs for checks. Money, 3½ per on Monday last a train was drawn over the Wellington street crossing at 12:57 noon, and that the street remained impassable until 1:13. Kept on the Jump. The results of the court's action were apparent at the depot at noon when the men were kept jumping every minute to avoid breaches of the law. The first track was occupied by No. 6, the eastbound Flyer, the front end of which was over Clarence street. No. 23 for Detroit was on the third track, and was juggled to avoid the crossings, while No. 3 ran in at the same time on the fourth, standing clear of Richmond street, tending half way between Clarence tnd Wellington streets. The Pere Marquette train pulled in a few minutes later, anl was put on the fifth track, while a couple of yard engines hustled in and out making connections. The trains were moved back-ward and forward to clear the crossings at either end, while a couple of breaks were also made. Some delay was occasioned in the handling of the trains, but sot to any serious extent.

BRANT AND NICHOLS MAY PLAY IN SERIES

Manager Cocash Has Wired for Popular Peterboro Players and Expects Them to Come.

Johnny Cocash, who has jumped into fame during the past week, owing to the fact that he will manage the London team during the "world-series" games with St. Thomas, has wired Harry Brant and Charley Nichols, of the Peterboro Club, and it is likely he will have these two "league burners". in his fold for the series.

Cocash has not yet received a reply from the former London players, but he is confident that they will consent to play. Both Brant and Nichols are going great guns at present, and they would certainly add lustre to the aggregation Cocash has collected for the some time, and in imposing a $10 fine first base, but Louie Bierbauer will be on Harry Morley, a Grand Trunk yard foreman, who admitted his reinitial station. If Brant and Nichols come, Brant will play shortstop, and Nichols will play second base, his old position. With Fox at third, and Blercauer on first, one of the strongest infields in the league will be formed, and the team will certainly be representative of London, Dinsmore will go to right field, but otherwise the team will not be changed.

$35,000 REQUIRED FOR NEW BRIDGE

Will Not Consider Erection of Flimsy Structure for $20,000.

Delay in Result of No Investigation Being Made by Council of Last Year.

It now appears that West London will be without a bridge connecting the Wharncliffe road north and south for another year and that the matter will have to go to the ratepayers for additional funds next January. At the beginning of the year a bylaw calling for $20,000 was carried but it has been discovered that a satisfactory structure cannot be erected for less than $35,000. The West London Improvement Association last year requested that a bylaw for a bridge to cost $20,000 be submitted to the people and without securing information as to the feasibility of the scheme at such a figure the council placed the bylaw before the electors. The result is that West London is without a bridge and will find it necessary to secure at least $15,000 more. Lowest Tender $23,000. City Engineer George W. Wright short time ago, prepared plans and specifications for a structure of sufficient strength to carry a traction engine or road roller, and tenders were called for. One firm agreed to provide the steel work for $23,000 to $25,000, while another firm asked This would mean that the abutments, reinforced concrete floors and sidewalks, as well as grades and approaches would have to be taken care of by the city, and the estimated cost of this section of the work is $11,729. $35,000 the Estimate Now. A Toronto firm asked 4½c per pound or the two steel girders, which would therefore, cost about $9,500. The city ngineer estimates that $35,000 would over the work on a creditable structure that would satisfy the people both from a standpoint of beauty and At present it is impossible to take road roller into West London over any of the bridger while South London is only accessible over one span, and that has to be reinforced and braced to stand the strain. The engineer is consequently anxious to have a substantial structure erected, and his views are concurred with by the board of works.

No Pier in Centre. The bridge which Mr. Wright proposes to erect would have no centre Unknown Man Made Daring Attempt to Secure Mr. Andrew Colter's Money.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Aug. 30. — An unknown man attempted to hold up Andy Colter as he was walking along the London road, just outside the limits of the corporation, about dusk.

The stranger stopped him and demanded his money instantly. Mr. Colter, seeing no sign of a gun about the man, promptly elinched with him, but the fellow, who was much larger in build, managed to break away after a fierce tussle and made his escape.

With Railway Double Tracks Teams Would Not Have Room to Pass.

The board of works at last night's session precipitated a merry row with the property owners of Horton street between Richmond and Wellington cil that the sidewalks on the two blocks be moved closer to the frontage line in order to make sufficient room on the roadway to permit the street railway company to double-

Injunctions and suits for damages are threatened by several of the owners, and a deputation will also be sent to the council on Tuesday evening to oppose the change. No Room for Wagons.

The sidewalks were formerly located behind a row of shade trees on Horton street and fairly close up to the frontage line, the street allowance being 66 feet wide. A few years ago, however, the council acceded to a request made in a petition that the new cement walks be constructed further out toward the roadway, and as a result, now that the stret railway company's traffic has become concentrated and double-tracking is necessitated, vehicular traffic is to become cramped. It will be impossible for wagons to remain on the right side of the road without conflicting with the street cars and for that reason the walks must be removed if the new street railway line is to be constructed. Simcoe Line Not Feasible. It is practically impossible to arrange a new line to take care of the heavy traffic of the Hamilton road, Wellington and Ottaway lines, which now converge on Horton street. Some of the residents of Horton street suggest that the street railway company continue the Ottaway and Wellington lines down Richmond street to Simcoe

In order to maintain this high quality of meat, our Ingerfactory keeps three Government inspectors. These men, who are employed by the Government as experts, throw out thousands of dollars' worth of meats each year, but it pays us to do it, as meats sold over the Ingersoll Brand are always maintained to the highest quality. It is stated that the local medical health officer says: "Undoubtedly meat unfit for consumption is sold in the city of London." As far as our store is concerned, we challenge this statement, and the Government stamp upholds us in our If you want only the best, buy from our Model Meat
