BRUTAL HOLD-UP IN THE STATES

Paymaster and Driver Riddled With Shot—Robbers Secure 3,000.

Hundreds Hunting for the Perpetrators—Seven Italians Have Been Arrested on Suspicion.

Johnstown, Pa., July 30.—Charles Hayes, a driver employed by the Puritan Coal Company, is dead, and Patrick Campbell, the company's paymaster, lies perhaps fatally wounded at the Altoona Hospital, as the result of a brutal hold-up on the township road leading from Portage, this county, to the mining town of Puritan at 10.15 a. m. to-day. The two men were in a buggy, taking a satchel containing $3,000 with which to pay the coal company's employees at Puritan, from the Adams express office at Portage to the coal town, when they were suddenly fired upon by three men armed with shot-guns. Hayes fell to the bottom of the buggy pierced by thirty-seven buckshot wounds in his neck and breast, and died about half an hour later. Campbell was hit in the shoulder and fell from the buggy. The highwaymen came out from their place of hiding in the woods to the right of the road, seized the satchel of money and escaped. According to their usual custom on the Saturdays nearest the first of the month, Campbell and Hayes went to Portage this morning, and had breakfasted at the Portage House at 9 a. m. They went to the express office, where they obtained about $3,000 in gold and bills, which they placed in a small leather satchel. Armed with forty-eight-calibre revolvers as a protection against possible robbery they got into their buggy and drove out on the township road. This was the last seen of them before the shooting occurred. At ten minutes after their departure Wm. Hazell, a farmer, drove over the road the paymaster and his driver had taken. Three quarters of a mile from town, where the road is flanked by woods, he suddenly came upon a man writhing in great agony in the middle of the road. Getting down from his wagon Hazell discovered the wounded man to be Campbell. The latter was drenched with blood, which was flowing from a wound in the right shoulder. Although in dreadful agony, Campbell whispered to Hazell that he and his driver had been fired upon by robbers, that he was dying, from his wound, and had fallen from the buggy which had gone on. Hazell staunchly the man's wounds, lifted him into his wagon, and started in search of team and driver. He had not gone fifty yards when he came upon the paymaster's buggy. Hayes lay across the bottom of the buggy. Investigation showed the man's body from the base of the abdomen to the neck was a mass of gunshot. The driver was taken to Portage, where he died. Meanwhile Campbell had regained consciousness, and gave an account of the hold-up. He said that nothing unusual or suspicious had occurred during the ride from Portage to the scene of the shooting. He and Hayes had the money satchel in the seat between them. Hayes was driving with both hands, while Campbell had one hand on the satchel and the other in his left coat pocket, where he kept his revolver. Of the hold-up he could tell but little. There was a sudden blinding flash from the woods to the right of the road. He felt a sharp pain in his right shoulder, and, becoming suddenly dizzy, found himself falling from his seat out over the top of the buggy. He saw three men run out of the woods, approach the buggy and then scurry away again. He could give no description of them, except that he thought they were Italians.

Campbell may die. News of the tragedy spread through Portage, and hundreds of persons visited the scene armed with guns and revolvers. The men started off into the woods in search of the murderers. A policeman arrested on suspicion a man who was seen attempting to board a freight train, east-bound. The suspect carried a gun.

Seven Italians were taken into custody at Wilmore on suspicion. Articles, evidently stolen from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, were found in their quarters. A lavender slouch hat, such as Paymaster Campbell is said to have worn this morning, also was found. This is the strongest bit of evidence against the suspects.

LACROSSE

The Ypsilanti Band and the Commandery Band of Detroit have been secured to play at the lacrosse game to-night at 6.15 at the fair grounds, when Wallaceburg and the Chatham Tecumsehs will play the first game in the series for the Gray cup. Wallaceburg has strengthened and there are prospects for a good game.

Lord Duns said has one asset—the idea. Apart altogether from the details of his quarrel with the Government, he is greatly liked for his exceptionally charming personal qualities.

A PERIOD OF GREAT ANXIETY

Says Colonial Secretary Lyttleton of Britain's Foreign Relations.

Example of the King Has Been of the Greatest Encouragement in Conciliation.

London, July 30.—Colonial Secretary Lyttleton, addressing the British Medical Association at Leamington to-day, many foreign delegates being present, said—"It is no rhetorical exaggeration to say that at the present moment we live, as regards our foreign relations, in a period of great anxiety. Obviously the first duty of the country, the ministers and the Crown, is to assert so far as in them lies their lives, property and liberty. Secondly, and scarcely less important, it is right to remember two things—first, that the right to credit her with a desire to act in a friendly and pacific spirit towards us; second, that it is right to use no such language in any remonstrance that may have to be made, which will enlist upon the side of unauthorised aggression the honor of the Government, which has not sanctioned those acts. You may well imagine how in endeavoring to enforce these principles the example of the King has been of the greatest encouragement and the most animating stimulus to the Government of this country."

ARE AFTER THE ARMORIES

Officers of 24th Regiment Decide to Stir Up the Government.

Liberal Grant to the Band for Concerts Rendered on Tecumseh Park.

The officers of the 24th Regiment are thoroughly in earnest in their determination to secure for the Maple City's crack corps one of the finest armories in the Province. This was evidenced in a practical manner at the special meeting of officers, when the commanding officer was authorized to proceed to Ottawa with the member for Kent, re-enforced by a strong and unanimous resolution calling for the immediate commencement of the building upon the original plans which were specially promised by the Government through George Stephens, M. P., about two months ago, when assurance was also tendered that the work would be started within five weeks.

The absence of Hon. Mr. Sutherland through illness is said to be the cause of the delay, and in his absence Hon. Mr. Hyman, of London, has apparently taken it upon himself to make certain changes in the plans as promised by Mr. Stephens.

As the regiment is already in receipt of applications for the formation of two extra companies and is now over-strength the special meeting was called to deal with the situation. There were present Colonel Rankin, who presided, and Major Massey, Capt. Cornell, Capt. Hall, Capt. Black, Capt. Turner, Rev. R. McCosh, chaplain, Lieutenants Smith, Jewett, Lewis, Harper and Anderson.

On motion of Major Massey and Lieut. Lewis the resolution to the Government asking an immediate commencement of the armories on their original plan was unanimously passed, and on motion of Lieut. Jewett and Capt. Cornell the C. O. was asked to accompany Mr. Stephens to Ottawa.

Many complimentary comments were made upon the Regimental Band concerts on Tecumseh Park, which are so thoroughly enjoyed by the people. Lieut. H. D. Smith moved, seconded by Lieut. N. D. Harper, that, whereas the Regimental Band have given two excellent public concerts on the Park, which were so largely attended, showing the desire of the public to have them continued and their appreciation of them, the officers of the Regiment make a grant of $100 to the Band in order to have them continued.

The motion carried unanimously. A strong committee was appointed to wait upon the City Council re the settlement of the grant promised.

RECORD RUN

Dr. G. W. Cornell made a record run in his handsome automobile yesterday. With Mrs. Cornell, Miss Massey and Ald. Piggott, the enterprising chauffeur made the run from the city to Mr. Piggott's cottage at Erie Beach in 35 minutes. The roads were in excellent condition and the trip was a most enjoyable one. The distance is over thirteen miles.

It is a good thing to have time to think about the things we should not think about.

CLOSE IN ON PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Have Occupied all Outside Positions and Threaten Fortress.

Russians Deny Statement—Japanese are Active and Make Great Progress.

Che Foo, July 31, 2 p. m.—A Japanese merchant has received word from a Chinese whom he trusts, to the effect that the Japanese have occupied every position surrounding the besieged fortress of Port Arthur, with the exception of Golden Hill. The Chinese stated that both sides suffered tremendous losses in the operations necessary to bring about this state of affairs. The members of the Russian intelligence bureau here, while denying the report that Port Arthur has been captured, are inclined to believe the reports true to the extent that the Japanese have made great progress in their operations about the besieged fortress. The party of Russian refugees expected here to-day have not as yet arrived.

WHAT RUSSIANS SAY.

St. Petersburg, July 31, 3.40 a. m.—In view of the rumors of the storming and fall of Port Arthur, the general staff authorized the Associated Press to declare positively that not a single position forming a part of the land defences of Port Arthur has yet fallen into the enemy's hands, and that the besiegers are nowhere nearer than eight or ten miles to the fortress.

The general staff also declares that the bombardment reported July 26, 27 and 28 was nothing more than preliminaries to an attempt to the capture of the outer positions, probably Luntan, to the east. If the Japanese shall succeed in taking one of these positions they will have to bring up siege guns under a flanking fire from the adjoining positions and from the sea. It is this task which is the only will the Japanese be able to bombard the fortress itself, and prepare for the final assault, and it is easy to see what a long, dangerous and difficult operation lies before them.

THE RUSSIANS SMILE.

St. Petersburg, July 30, 7.18 p. m.—The reports of the storming of Port Arthur were received here with smiles of incredulity. The war office contradicts the rumored fall of the fortress.

There is no change of importance in the situation in Manchuria, except that the Japanese have made a slight advance toward Hai Cheng, that they are developing a flank movement from Simou Cheng—15 miles from Hai Cheng—and that they also continue active at Sikseyan.

5,000 RUSSIANS IN RETREAT.

London, August 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at New Chwang in a despatch dated July 31, says that there has been heavy fighting for two days in the marshes south of Hai Cheng during the gradual retreat from Ta Wehe Kiao of 5,000 Russians, forming the rear guard, and that the peril of this force increase daily.

HEAVY FIGHTING.

New Chwang, July 30.—Continuous and heavy fighting is heard from the direction of Hai Cheng.

THAT SQUADRON.

Washington, July 30.—The state department has received the following cable from Minister Griswold, at Tokio, dated to-day:—"Officially reported that Russian squadron has returned to Tsugaru Straits, bound westward."

A despatch received at the Japanese legation to-day states that at 2.30 p. m. July 30, the Vladivostok squadron entered Tsugaru Strait and went westward.

DIED IN DRESDEN

Dr. A. W. Thornton received word this morning at eleven o'clock, of sudden death in Dresden of Rev. T. E. Harrison, the Methodist minister there.

Deceased had been ill for some time with nervous prostration and has been unable to attend to his ministerial duties. This morning at six o'clock he got up from his bed and almost immediately afterwards he was taken with a fainting spell. A physician was immediately called but Mr. Harrison never regained consciousness and passed away at half past ten o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Harrison was the pastor of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, at London, where he was greatly appreciated both as a preacher and pastor. He was subjected to nervous prostration and was ill at the last conference, when he was given the pastorate of the Dresden church, where it was thought his work would be easier and he would be able to regain some of his former health.

He went to Dresden on the 1st of July, but he was never able to take charge of his church. His sudden death was quite unexpected and he is mourned by a large circle of friends. He was well known among the Methodists of this city, who extend their sincere sympathy to the sorrowing wife and family.

CHAMBERLAIN.

In Mr. Chamberlain's latest speech there is no sign that his intellectual vigor has become dimmed or that his natural force has abated. He continues to be the strongest force in politics throughout the empire. At the Massey Hall meeting in Toronto the other night a casual mention of his name drew forth applause so spontaneous and tumultuous as to be almost startling. Mr. Chamberlain has apologized for comparing his change of position on the trade question to the famous conversion of Sir Robert Peel to free trade. There are points of resemblance in the political careers of both statesmen, although the men themselves are not alike. In each case there was the courage to avow a change of opinion, and to welcome exclusion from office as a consequence of it. Toward each, also, has been directed the most virulent criticism, although it fell to Peel's happy lot to be attacked by a foe worthy of his steel, while Mr. Chamberlain has had to bear the petty abuse of the small-bore politicians. It must be admitted that he cuts a better figure in the present controversy than Mr. Balfour, whose attitude on the fiscal issue seems to be one of evasion and contradiction beside the clear and uncompromising statements by Mr. Chamberlain that his faith in free trade is shaken, and that he is prepared to exchange it for a policy of preference. The British political situation is exceedingly doubtful, the only certain indication being the steady loss of popularity by the Government.—Toronto News.

THE KING'S PRIZE.

The winning of the King's prize at Bisley by Private Perry, of British Columbia, is a great achievement. Only once before has this coveted honor among marksmen been secured by a Canadian rifleman. It was won in 1896 by Sergt. Hayhurst, of the Thirtieth Regiment, Hamilton. The winner of this prize may almost claim the honor of being the champion individual rifle shot in the world, as well as in the British empire, because the competition is the most representative and the process of elimination the most strenuous of any existing competitions. At Bisley are gathered the best rifle shots from all parts of the empire. These are selected in the first place after an exacting test from among the best in the country they represent. At Bisley their eligibility to even compete for the prize is determined by their scoring in the preliminary matches against all competitors, so that it is an honor to achieve the distinction of competing in the finals for this prize. To win it is the highest success that can be gained by a British or colonial marksman. Apart from the honor, the material reward of the successful competitor is probably the highest which can be secured in any similar competition in the world, consisting of a gold medal and $1,250 in cash.

It is a curious coincidence that Private Perry was the last man of the forty-four chosen to represent Canada at Bisley. This fact goes to bear out the contention that the marksmen who are to shoot at Bisley should be selected the same year they compete, instead of the previous year as has been the custom. The Bisley team is made up for the following year from the men making the highest score at the Dominion Rifle Association matches which take place in the latter part of the summer. Expert marksmanship is largely a question of physical condition and very often a man who shoots remarkably well one year will be out of condition the next. The last gold medalist, Hayhurst, fell off very much in his shooting during the next and subsequent years. The existing system is much like training a race horse until he is in the pink of condition and then postponing the contest for a year and taking chances of him going "wrong."

Private Perry, the second Canadian winner of the King's prize, though now a resident of British Columbia, received his training in the Royal Grenadiers, of Toronto, and served with the Toronto company of the Royal Canadian Regiment in South Africa. He is the first native-born and trained Canadian to win the prize, Sergt. Hayhurst being an Englishman and having served in the English militia before coming to this country.

ANNOUNCEMENTS ARE CHEAP.

Ottawa Citizen.
One of the first fruits of Lord Dundonald's exposure has been the announcement that at last an ammunition factory is to be established outside of Quebec, namely, at Ottawa. But then it doesn't cost anything to make announcements.

HARD ON CAP.

Ottawa Citizen.
The Globe, referring to the release of the Toronto ballot-box stuffers, picturesquely remarks—"The way of the electoral transgressor ought to be made very hard." When Cap. Sullivan reads that somebody will have to slap him on the back or he'll choke.

OH, FOR A GAG.

When Canada's government is threatened by another foreign enemy, Lord Dundonald to wit, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has but to speak the word, per his solicitor-general, and Lloyd George, Winston Churchill and Timothy Healey fly to defend the poor little frightened rulers of this country.

MAKING FRIENDS.

Ottawa Citizen.
Lord Dundonald lacks judgment. The reception given him last night in Toronto afforded him an opportunity to make friends and to leave behind the most favorable impression. He was incapable of turning the opportunity to advantage.—Hamilton Times.
"Making friends" is good. If the general allowed himself to be lied about and vilified and abused by the government press and did not have backbone enough even to correct the misstatements, he would have "made friends" with the Times and the Globe and all the other falsifiers. He lost this magnificent opportunity.

THE "MILITARISM" MYTH.

Toronto Telegram.
All these pulpits denunciations of militarism are so many hollow sham-fights against a non-existent foe. Militarism is an abstraction that can be safely denounced by pastors who do not care to assail concrete rascalities.

These concrete rascalities are sheltered by the Grit or Tory partisanship of congregations that delight in and demand spirited pulpits dealing with the remote iniquities of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat.
It is so easy to fight abstractions, and pulpits virate can find its cheapest outlet in attacks upon militarism. Militarism, like Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, has no friends in this country.

Corruption has many friends, even in the churches. Pastors cannot say a word against the public men who perpetrate and profit by corruption. Politics should be kept out of every pulpit discourse. Preachers who must dabble in politics should grapple with enemies more real than their ridiculous militarism myth.

MONEY NOT EVERYTHING.

Toronto Star.
A few days ago in New York a young woman from California, heiress to a fortune of millions, committed suicide through grief on the death of her father. She had been in ill-health, and the loss of her parent was a severe blow. Money is of very little use in itself. Some recent cases in Toronto enforce the lesson that a man's wealth counts for little with him, if in securing it he has lost health and has missed the happiness which is within reach of the humblest worker in the city.

Men strive for money as if it were everything, but those things which are absolutely essential to the enjoyment of life are not purchasable, and the too determined pursuit of money may fritter away that which is worth more than all the wealth a successful man can amass. Health of body and mind is the main thing. A man risks this precious possession in the ardent pursuit of money; he does not risk it consciously, not lose it suddenly, but by insidious drains on the store of his forces he parts with it. He risks also in too close application to money-getting the affection of his family, the regard of his friends, the respect of his community. Without these, wealth is a burden, and let no man believe the slander on human nature that with wealth any man can buy these things of inestimable value. They are not anywhere on sale, although base imitations flood the market where rich men go to purchase what they lack. In the end they discover themselves hoaxed.

A man's family and his home and his friends should be more to him than his business, for he is in business. When he finds that he is reversing this principle, he may well take heed to himself. He has his obligations and his duties down town, and these he should scrupulously meet for the comfort of his conscience and the repose of his mind, but the man who tries to hoard his happiness, for use at some future day, finds it turn to ashes on his lips.

HORSE CHARACTER.

"Did it ever occur to you," said a well known horse and cattle dealer at the market this morning, "that horses have as many eccentricities as human beings. Now, I am brought in contact with all kinds of horses, and they differ in disposition and temperament the same as men. There is, for instance, the kind, gentle horse, who lets you pat it, and rubs its nose against your shoulder, and the vicious beast, who tries to make a free lunch out of you. Then probably you have noticed the horse with a humorous turn to it. This sort always tries to get the reins under his tail and keep them there in spite of your tugging and strong language. Inquisitive horses generally have a long nose, and when you are driving it through the country, insists on turning in at every open barn-yard gate to see probably, what the latest horse gossip is about. The horse is a mighty clever animal. Now, there is a friend of mine in the city, who boards at

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT

I saw the church courts granting the local churches the privilege of sending their very best pastors, with young assistants, to the most needed foreign fields, as Paul and Barnabas were sent from Antioch.
I saw the missionary churches continuing to sustain their pastors in this foreign work financially, and to maintain the local, financial and spiritual work of the church as at present.
I saw the preaching and teaching carried on by laymen, accompanied by the reading of a letter from the absent pastor every Sunday.
I saw the different church boards meet monthly, or oftener when needed, and make all arrangements to continue this work efficiently.
I saw how they chose the annual representation to their higher courts.
I saw the deacons, elders, class leaders and lay preachers do their pastoral duties, visiting the sick, the tried and tempted, burying the dead, etc.
I saw every man, woman and child who knew and loved the Lord Jesus Christ heartily engaged and interested in this work of God, and I saw the divine blessing descending on such missionary churches as never before in their history.
I saw the weekly letters from their absent pastors, report hundreds of heathen idolaters turning to God. Was it all a dream? —M.

The Chatham Business College

CHATHAM, ONT.
It is unquestionably Canada's greatest business school.
No other school gets such RESULTS.
It is now current talk throughout the country that the student who wants the best training and a good position when graduated must attend this school.
250 students placed in year 1900
304 " " 1901
350 " " 1902
375 " " 1903
If these were placed in picturesque positions worth $5 or $4 per week, the showing would not be worth the space in this paper that it takes to tell it. But when the salary averaged $500 per annum, a few of them over $1000, the public should know that no other business school in Canada publishes such lists and gets such RESULTS.
Many of our former graduates are now commanding salaries from $500 to $1000 annually.
WHY SHOULD IT NOT BE YOU?
We pay your railway fare up to $3.00.
Good board in Chatham, $2.00 to $2.50.

CHINA AND GLASSWARE.

A Good Deal Depends Upon the Way
They Are Washed.

There is nothing which delights the heart of the housewife more than pretty china, sparkling glass and bright silver pieces for the dinner table. It is not considered necessary to have all the pieces match, and if collected whenever opportunity is offered one will scarcely miss what they cost.
Bowls and sauce dishes in many pretious shapes may be obtained in plain tableware or beautifully decorated.

The preservation of decorated china
depends a great deal upon the way it is washed. This task is quickly accomplished, and if the proper utensils are provided it is not a disagreeable
one. Tin dishpans wear out so quickly that it seems a waste of money to buy them. Galvanized iron is hard to keep clean, while granite ware seems to be the perfect material for the purpose. Two pans are needed, one for washing, the other for rinsing, and a larger tray—a rack is better—should be provided for draining.

Use water that is as hot as the hands
can bear comfortably and add enough powdered soap to make a good suds.
Have a clean dishcloth or mop and all the clean, dry towels necessary. Wash
the glasses first, dip them in the pan
of rinsing water and dry immediately.
Then wash and dry the silver, after that the china cups, saucers, plates
and larger dishes in the order named.
Silverware that is treated in this way will be kept so bright that it will not be necessary to use the silver polish often than once in two weeks.—Chicago News.

DUST IS DANGEROUS.

Be Careful How You Send It Flying
About the House.

Whether the bacilli that cause tuberculosis in the human being are the same as those which cause it in other warm blooded animals and even fish or whether they merely change their appearance with their environment is a question for the bacteriologist expert. That we may become infected from other animals has not the vital interest that the undoubted fact has that we can and do become infected by the germs that other men carry about and that the home, the place where we take refuge from the ills of life, is precisely where this dread disease attacks us.

Inside the four walls of our houses
is where these deadly germs are implanted, are nurtured and bring forth their harvest. It is at home we must begin to defend ourselves. It is the part of wisdom to do away with dust catching draperies and carpets. Have the rugs shaken and beaten out of doors. If you must have carpets, sweep them with wet tea leaves sprinkled on them. Wipe the furniture with a moist cloth; don't flit the dust about with a bunch of feathers on a stick.
Dust is dangerous. Remember that.
Better to have some critic write
"Sloven" in the dust upon the mantelpiece than cloud the air with it and poison your whole family.—Everybody's Magazine.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Palpitation of the heart may be arrested by bending down so as to allow the blood to run to the head.

It is said that a muskrat skin worn the fur side next to the lungs will bring certain relief to asthma sufferers.

Fomentations of hot baked onions will not only relieve earache, but will sometimes cure the deafness that results
from earache and hard clogs.

Blisters which form after burns or scalds should be pricked immediately,
the water squeezed out and pressed down gently with cotton wool.

The skin of a boiled egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boil. Peel it carefully, wet and apply to the part affected. It will draw off the matter and relieve the soreness in a few hours.

The Figure and Walking.

A woman who leads a very active life has a theory that the preservation of a good figure depends to some extent on the manner of walking. Many experts, she says, as they advance in years allow themselves to walk heavily and without elasticity, so that the whole weight rests on the lower part of the limbs at every step, the only effect of exercise being weariness of the legs and feet. Instead of this the body should be held erect and poised so as to have a perfect balance. In this way the muscles are braced and strengthened throughout, the lungs must of necessity be well expanded, and it seems quite reasonable to suppose that the tendency to increase the weight may be checked. At all events a lighter step and a brisker and more enjoyable manner of walking can be kept up, and that in itself is a very great gain.

Medicinal Baths.

Here is a simple and available recipe
—a medicinal bath for the nervously worn and those who cannot sleep at nights. It was the prescription of an old physician. Recipe: Take of sea salt four ounces; spirits of ammonia, two ounces; spirits of camphor, two ounces; of pure alcohol, eight ounces, and sufficient hot water to make a full quart of the liquid. Dissolve the sea salt in the hot water and let stand until cool. Pour into the alcohol the spirits of ammonia and camphor. Add the salt water, shake well and bottle for use. With a soft sponge dipped in this mixture wet over the surface of the whole body. Rub vigorously until the skin glows. When nervous or "blue" or wakeful do not omit the bath. The rest and refreshing that follow will amply repay the effort required to prepare it.

JUSTIFIED IN WHAT HE SAYS

Why J. J. Perkins Owes his Life
to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Doctor Had Given Him up and he was Hopeless and Desperate Before the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy put Him on His Feet.

Tyndall, Man., August 1.—(Special).
—When a man has had Kidney Disease; when the doctor has given him up; when that man takes Dodd's Kidney Pills, begins at once to recover and is soon a well man, that man is surely in a position to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved his life.

That is the experience of Mr. J. J.
Perkins of this place. Speaking of his case Mr. Perkins says:

"For two years I was troubled with my kidneys and at last became so bad that the doctor who was attending me gave me up and said I was incurable."

"I continued to grow worse. I was unable to work and was becoming destitute when to please a friend I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"The first box did me so much good I felt like a new man and after taking five boxes I was completely cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys, and cured kidneys cure Dropsy, Rheumatism, Heart Disease and all other diseases resulting from impure blood.

Bible Translation.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century the Bible was current in some forty languages—today in some 400.
It is necessary to use sixty different sets of types to print in these many tongues, while some fifty languages require to be printed in more characters than one to be legible to all races
and creeds in that particular country.
Again, to translate the Bible into one foreign tongue is in itself a work of more than a lifetime very often. What must be then the labor required to learn some barbaric tongue which has no writing, no characters or alphabet
of its own and to supply all deficiencies before the task of translation can begin? Moreover, the Biblical metaphors and similes have to be altered and made comprehensible to un-tutored minds. One translator, Henry Nott by name, spent twenty years in Tahiti to learn the language, after which he spent another twenty years
in translating the book into the Ta-hitan tongue.—London Chronicle.

A Singular Coincidence.

One Sunday afternoon in the summer of 1889 Mrs. K., a northern woman, said to her husband: "I don't know why it is, but all the afternoon I have been thinking of our old friend, Emma, in Natchez, Miss. We have not heard from her for several years. I believe that I will write to her." She did so. The letter was mailed that evening. It would reach Natchez on the next Tuesday. On Tuesday morning
Mrs. K. received a letter from Emma, dated Sunday afternoon, commencing:
"My dear Mrs. K., I don't know why it is, but I have been thinking of you all the afternoon and concluded that I would write to you. It has been several years since I have heard from you." Hence these two ladies, one in the far south, the other in central Illinois, were thinking of each other, writing in almost the same language and evidently at the same moment.

Where It Is Always Leap Year.

In one part of "all the Russias," the province of Ukraine, it is always leap year as far as the female privilege of proposing is concerned. It is said to be customary there when a young woman falls in love with a man for her to go to his father's house and in the most tender and pathetic manner plead with the young man to take her as his wife. She promises the most submissive obedience to his will if he will but accept her. If the young man says,
"I beg that you will excuse me from this," she tells him that she is resolved not to depart until he shall promise to take her for better or worse. She accordingly takes up her abode there and remains until he is wooed and won or until he ends the siege by fleeing to parts unknown.

Smoothering Trouble at Sea.

"Once, crossing the Atlantic," said
an old traveler, "a tremendous row arose among the sailors. They fought down in the forecabin like a pack of wild beasts. Luncheon was going on at the time, and the first officer left the table to see if he could quell the disturbance."

"He had only been gone a little while
when the hubbub began to die down.
Everything was quiet when he returned.
The captain called across the saloon to him in an approving tone:

"Things seem to be smoother now."
"Yes," returned the first officer; "we have ironed the sailors, sir."

DIVINE OPTIMISM.

I held it rash, with him who sings
To one clear harp in divers tones,
That men may rise on stepping-stones
Of their dead selves to higher things.

I sometimes hold it half a sin
To put in words the grief I feel;
For words, like Nature, half reveal
And half conceal the Soul within.

But, for the unquiet heart and brain,
A use in measured language lies;
The sad mechanic exercise,
Like dull narcotics, numbing pain.

In words like weeds I'll wrap me o'er,
Like coarsest clothes against the cold;
But that large grief which thence enfold
Is given in outline and no more.

I hold it true, whatever befall;
I feel it, when the sorrow moves;
The better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all.
—Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

PERPETUATE CHARTER.

The Ontario Government Purchases the Toronto Medical School Building.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed authorizing the Government to purchase for $1,000,000
the building of the Toronto
School of Medicine on Gerrard street, which, since the federation of the universities, is no longer required.
Recently an Order-in-Council was put through, taking over the building at the price stipulated, as well as the charter of the Toronto School of Medicine. There can be now no revival of that school as a rival to the university," said Premier Ross, speaking of the matter. "It is believed that the property can be sold for at least the price we paid for it under the terms of confederation, and probably for more than that. We will sell it as soon as we get our price for it."

The Toronto School of Medicine
was incorporated in 1851 by special act of Parliament, the charter being granted to Dr. John Rolph, Dr. Joseph Workman, Dr. W. T. Atkins, Dr. James Langstaff Gavin, Dr. Russell and Dr. T. D. Morrison. The corporation at the time of its incorporation was as follows: Dr. J. H. Richardson, Dr. Hugh Ogden, Dr. James Thornburn, Dr. W. W. Ogden, Dr.
Moses Atkins, Dr. R. A. Reeve and
Dr. William Oldright.

An interesting little ceremony took place in the office of the Minister of Education when the charter was formally turned over to the Government. The nominal members of the corporation now are: Hon. R. Harcourt, Mr. J. R. Cartwright, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General; Mr. John Millar, Deputy Minister of Education; Mr. Thomas Mulvey, K.C., Deputy Provincial Secretary, and Dr.
C. A. Hodggets, Assistant Registrar-
General.

The charter of Trinity Medical School was surrendered to Trinity College some time ago, and in the federation was absorbed by the University of Toronto.

OUR PEDAGOGUES.

Provost Macklem Gives Some Good Advice
to Embryo Teachers.

The closing exercises of the Toronto Normal School were marked by forceful addresses to the students from the Minister of Education and
Rev. Dr. Macklem, provost of Trinity University.

Mr. Harcourt dwelt on the importance of inculcating Christian character in the minds of children. Added to this was perseverance, which was the foundation of genius, a high aim and tenacity of aim. The habit of reading should also be inculcated, and the direction of pupils in the selection of literature was most important.

Provost Macklem said that teachers were looked to just as preachers to foster higher ideals and assist in the formation of character. That the Canadian youth required training in manners was hardly open to question. The average boy knows little of respect and nothing of reverence.
The Bible Society meeting in Massey Hall, of which they were thoroughly ashamed, proved there was much to be done. The lack of good manners ran like a thread through our whole social system.

"Each of you should become such a book to your pupils that in future
life they will keep you on the shelf
of memory," said the speaker in referring to the inspiration which each should give to the scholars. "Success was impossible without discipline
and true success was achieved easily and naturally and not forced. Fact was the greatest possession, and it was comprised of joy, love, faith, meekness, confidence and moderation."

In conclusion he impressed upon the graduates high ideals, broad sympathies and unflinching hopefulness.
Narrowness was always weakness,
while broadness meant strength; and they should always keep in touch with the best and greatest in the movements of the world.

A Successful Canadian.

Dr. Adolf Lehmann is a Canadian who has met with success in India.
A native of Simcoe County, Dr. Lehmann graduated from the Ontario College of Agriculture, Guelph,
in 1889, and later went to India.
Five years ago the Maharajah of Mysore decided that his Government should take up the question of scientific agriculture, and to this end, Dr.
Lehmann was appointed to establish the department and to be its head.
The appointment was for five years,
and when the term elapsed a few months ago he was re-appointed for a similar term and given a year's furlough. The other day he was at the Parliament Buildings renewing acquaintance with Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. Dr.
Lehmann said that there were very few Canadians in Mysore, a fact which caused the doctor some surprise. He thought that Canadians would do good work in the Indian Civil Service. The examinations had to be taken in England, but the appointments were very lucrative, ranging from $2,000 a year up as high even as $20,000.

Woe unto the politician whose nerve
has become effete.
Woe not for the fools the wise
guys would get left.

Holman and solos by Harry Horstead and Miss Jackson. There was a good attendance and a very enjoyable and profitable service was held.

MET DEFEAT

The Good Rink and the Legal Rink Bowl on the Teemseh Park Lawn—The Lawyers the Victors—

Saturday afternoon the famous ministerial rink of bowlers were downed by the lawyers in a friendly match. Since their defeat of the rink skipped by the redoubtable John Lee, the good rink has been somewhat elated. They lay the cause of their defeat on the Crown Attorney and W. E. Gundy. They say that the powerful legal explosives used by these two lawyers during the progress of the game so rattled them that they got excited and if there is one thing you should not do in a game of bowls, it is get excited. The man who made the game didn't figure on having any excitement in it. During the progress of the game Skip MacGillivray paused to remark with evident disgust to Mr. Mallott, who had just delivered a ball—"You're narrow." Then as an after thought, he continued—"we're all narrow." The Crown Attorney wanted to know if this was any forecast of the morning's sermon. "Wanting to know is one of Mr. Smith's strong points. When the game ended the score was 13 to 15 in favor of the law as against the church. The ministerial rink—The Rev. Mr. Hoyt, Rev. Mr. Cobbledeek, Rev. Mr. Mallott and Rev. Mr. MacGillivray (skip) 13.

The legal rink—E. E. Newman, H. D. Smith, W. H. Robinson and W. E. Gundy (skip) 15.

At 1:20 in the afternoon, a procession was again formed headed by both bands and they marched through the principal streets again rounding up at the curling rink. Speaking was then held in the park. The gentlemen billed for speeches were Mayor McKeough, Geo. Stephens, M. P., H. S. Clements, M. Houston and others. J. C. Richards was chairman.

Sports were also held, including a fat man's race, foot races, tug of war, ladies' races, etc. Prizes were given for all of the races.

In the evening another parade will be held, headed by the bands, after which a sumptuous repast will be given in the curling rink. The whole celebration will be concluded with a dance in the rink, the music to be furnished by the orchestra from the Oddfellows band.

The committee who have the management in charge are M. Robinson, J. F. Scott, J. B. Johnson and David Lee, Henry Weaver, chairman, J. M. Cooper, secretary, and James Dooe, marshal of the day.

EMANCIPATION

Successful Celebration Being Held To-Day—Dance This Evening

The big Emancipation celebration which has been looked forward to for some time, by the colored people of Chatham and vicinity, is being held to-day and is proving very enjoyable and successful.

The management certainly deserved great credit for the manner in which they are handling the celebration. There is an excellent crowd present from all of the surrounding towns. This crowd has been greatly increased by a large delegation from Windsor and Detroit.

This morning local order of Temp-lars paraded to the Grand Trunk depot and met the Detroit people, who were accompanied by the Detroit Odd-fellows' band and the Ypsilanti band. A procession was formed and they marched to the curling rink, where dinner was served to all who came.

At 1:20 in the afternoon, a procession was again formed headed by both bands and they marched through the principal streets again rounding up at the curling rink. Speaking was then held in the park. ### BACK FROM ST. LOUIS

P. C. Dezelia and Mrs. Dezelia have returned from a pleasure trip to Chicago and St. Louis. Mr. Dezelia has many splendid things to tell about the great St. Louis Exposition.

St. Louis, too, is a fine city, and the weather was delightful during his stay there. He visited the Anheuser-Busch Brewery and was shown all through the immense plant, which covers 125 acres and employs 5,000 hands. This is the largest brewery in the world, and a wonderful plant.

The private stables of Mr. Buesch are finer than any residence in Chatham.

St. Louis is a nice city and Mr. Dezelia enjoyed going around just to see the place and the parks.

The Exposition is the finest ever seen in America. It is much larger than the Buffalo fair and the buildings are much finer than the ones at Chicago in 1892. The sunken garden is something grand, but the crowd is always found on The Pike, which is about a mile long. In the various buildings the manufacture of silk, shoes and glass electric globes attract considerable attention.

Mr. Dezelia was visiting friends on Jonas Ave., but he advises all who go to stay at the Innside Inn. When he first went he took the Intramural railroad and saw the whole exposition from a distance. He then hired an automobile and inspected the grounds and buildings at close range. The Canadian building is a very pretty structure.

Mr. Dezelia has many excellent stories to tell about his trip.

NEW OIL FIELD

John H. Carman, of Leamington, was a visitor in the city Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Carman, who was a resident of Chatham during the Raleigh oil boom, is now engaged in taking contracts for putting down wells in the new Leamington field. In conversation with The Planet he said:

"The Leamington field is one of the nicest fields in Canada. We have got a number of big productive wells all put down since the first of the year. The Leamington company have got ten wells all producers, the United Gas Company have got four, and there are 30 others all owned by different people. There are ten rigs drilling there now, mostly Ohio drillers, two of them Canadian drillers, and there are ten more rigs contracted for which will come in this summer."

"There are four wells pumping at Wheatley, but the Raleigh oil field is not in it with the Leamington field. There was a production of 900 barrels of oil one week, and I know that the production now is 250 barrels per day."

From present appearances this field will be a permanent and lasting one.

Uncle Terry

By...
CHARLES CLARK MUNN

Copyright, 1900, by LEE & SHEPARD

CHAPTER XXV.

HOW did ye like the prayer meetin'?" asked Uncle Terry the next morning as Albert stood watching him getting ready to start on his daily rounds. "Did the Widder Leach make ye feel ye was a hopeless sinner?"

"It was an interesting experience," replied Albert, "and one I shall not soon forget."

"Oh, it don't do 'em no harm to git together an' pray an' sing, an' most likely it diverts their minds from other troubles; but, in my way o' thinkin', prayin' is a good deal like a feller tryin' to lift himself by his boot straps. It encourages him some, but he don't git much further." Then he added, "You haven't thought o' no way to git me out o' my scrape, hev ye?"

"I have thought a good deal about it," replied Albert, "and the best way, it seems to me, is for you to go to Frye and tell him you can't afford to carry the case any further and offer to pay whatever fee he sees fit to ask. You can tell him you will give up the case entirely, and ask him to return the proofs you want. I may decide to have a detective within hearing, so that if he refuses you these things we can use the detective as a witness in a replevin suit. Most likely he will demand quite a sum, but it is best to pay it if we can get the proofs. I will advance money enough to cover what he is likely to ask. What I want you to do is to wait until he sends for more money; then come to me at once."

Uncle Terry looked at Albert a moment and suddenly, grasping his hand, exclaimed, "I can't thank ye 'nough for yer offer to help me, but I kin say how sorry I am I distrusted ye at first, an' as long as I've a roof to cover my head ye're sure to find a welcome under it an' the latchstring allus out."

"I thank you for your kindly words, Mr. Terry," responded Albert, "and I am likely to avail myself of your invitation again before the summer is over. I expect my friends back today and must join them, but I assure you I would much prefer to stay here for the two weeks I have planned for my outing."

"Ye won't go till I see ye again, will ye?" asked Uncle Terry anxiously.

"No. If the Gypsy shows up today we will stay in the harbor tonight, and I should like to have you and Miss Telly visit her." Then as the old man pushed off and pulled out of the cove with long, slow strokes, Albert watched him with a new interest. "Poor old fellow!" he thought. "He is honest as the day is long and has a heart of gold beneath his blunt speech. How hard he has to work for what he gets, and what a vile thing in Frye to rob him so!" When the old man was out of sight Albert strolled over to the village. On the outer side of the harbor and opposite where the houses were he came to some long rows of slat benches, and busy at work spreading split fish upon them was the old lady who had thanked the Lord so fervently at the prayer meeting.

For an hour he strolled around the harbor watching the men at work on boats or fishing gear and sniffing the salt sea odor of the ocean breeze, and then returned to the point and began sketching the lighthouse. He was absorbed in that when he heard a sharp whistle, and looking up, there was the Gypsy just entering the harbor. He ran to the cove where he had left his boat, and by the time the yacht was anchored had pulled alongside. To his surprise no one was aboard but Frank. "Where are the rest of the boys?" he asked, as that young man grasped his boat. Frank laughed. "Well, just about now they are playing tennis and calling 'fifteen love' and 'thirty love' with a lot of girls down at Bar Harbor. The fact is, Bert," he continued as Albert stepped aboard, "our gander cruise has come to an end. They ran into some girls they knew, and after that all the Gypsy was good for was a place to eat and sleep in. I've run her up here and shall let you keep her with you until you get ready to go home. I'm going to cut sticks for the mountains, and if I can get one of the girls to go with me I may visit Sandgate."

Albert laughed heartily. "Want to hear some one sing 'Ben Bolt' again?" he queried.

"Well, maybe," replied Frank. "The fact of the matter is, the whole trip

She bade him goodbye.

has gone wrong from the start. You know what I wanted, but as it couldn't be, I did the next best thing and made up this party, and now the cruise has ended in a fizzle. By the way, where is the girl with the wonderful eyes you met here?"

"Just now I imagine she's helping her mother in the house," answered Albert quietly; and then he added, "Well, what is the programme, and where are you going with the Gypsy?"

"I want to be landed at the nearest port where I can reach a railroad, and then you can do as you please with her. My skipper will do your bidding."

"What about the rest of the boys?"

"Well, you can run to Bar Harbor and dance with the girls until the rest want to come back, or you can do as you please. The Gypsy is yours as long as you want her after I'm ashore. I think I'll run up to Bath and take the night train for the mountains if there is one. If not, we will lie at Bath overnight."

"I must go ashore and leave word I am coming back," said Albert. "The fact is I've found a client in this Mr. Terry, and it's an important matter."

"So is the blue eyed girl, I imagine," observed Frank, with a droll smile. When the irrepressible owner of the Gypsy had deserted her Albert returned to the Cape and remained there for a week. How many little trips he induced his new found friends to take on her during that time, how much gossip it created in the village and how many happy hours he and Telly passed together! The last day but one of his stay he invited everybody at the Cape, old or young, to go out on a short cruise, and nearly all accepted.

When the morning of his departure came, Uncle Terry said, "I hope we'll see ye soon, Mr. Page, and ye're sure of a welcome here, so don't forget us," and then he pulled away on his daily round to his traps.

Telly accompanied Albert to the cove where his boat was and bade him goodbye. When the yacht rounded the point she was there waving an adieu and remained there until lost from sight.

CHAPTER XXVI.

THE one point of pride in Nicholas Frye's nature was his absolute belief in his own shrewdness. "They can't get the best of me," he would say to himself when he had won an unusually knotty case. He knew he was both hated and feared by his fellow members of the bar. Being hated he didn't mind, and being feared flattered his vanity to an intense degree. When Uncle Terry put himself in his power, and, like a good natured old sheep, stood to be sheared, Frye only laughed at his client's stupidity and set out to continue the robbery as long as possible. Messrs. Thygeson & Co. of Stockholm, who had first employed him to hunt up an heir to the estate of old Eric Peterson, whose son Nells and his young wife had been lost on the coast of Maine, fared no better. To them he only stated that he had found several promising clues and was following them as rapidly as possible, but it all cost money, and would they kindly send a draft on account for necessary expenses, etc. When Albert had taken away his best client the old scoundrel suffered the worst blow to his vanity he ever received. "Curse the fellow!"

he would say to himself. "I'll pay him and have revenge if I live long enough. No man ever got the best of me, and in the long run no man ever shall!"

But there is a Nemesis that follows evil doers in this world, ready to strike with an invisible hand all who are lost to the sense of right and justice. In Frye's case the avenging goddess lurked in his inordinate belief in his own shrewdness, coupled with a fatuous love of speculation. A few lucky ventures at first in the stock market had fanned the flame.

Then along came a war cloud in Europe. Stocks began to drop and provisions to advance. September wheat was then selling in Chicago at 90 cents. Frye bought 50,000 bushels on a margin.

France and Germany growled, and wheat rose to 94. Frye sold, clearing $2,000. Then it dropped a cent, and Frye bought a hundred thousand bushels more. Once again the war cloud grew black, and wheat rose to 98. The papers were full of wild rumors, and the Wall Street Bugle said wheat would look cheap at a dollar and a half inside of a month. Then it advanced to $1, and Frye lost his head. His holdings showed a profit of $7,000, and sudden riches stared him in the face. Once more the two bellicose foreign powers growled and showed their teeth. Wheat rose another cent, and Frye doubled his holdings. Then the powers that had growled smiled faintly, and in one day wheat fell to 93 and was still falling. At every drop of a cent he was called upon for $2,000. Day by day it vibrated, now going up a cent and then dropping two, and when Uncle Terry and Albert were discussing how to checkmate his further robbing of the lighthouse keeper he was, with muttered curses, watching his ill gotten gains vanish to the tune of many thousands of dollars per diem. He neglected his business, went without his meals and forgot to shave. He had mortgaged his real estate for $20,000, and that was nearly gone. Wheat was now down to 80, and France and Germany were shaking hands.

Frye could not sleep nights. His nerves were almost exhausted and his resources as well. He had put up $40,000, and if wheat fell 3 cents more it would be all swept away. Then he executed a second mortgage at high interest and waited. It was the last shot in his locker, and all that stood between him and ruin, but wheat advanced 2 cents, and he began to hope. He had absolutely ignored business for two weeks, and now he went to work again. To collect the little due him and raise all the money he could was his sole thought. He wrote to Thygeson & Co. that he had at last found the heir they were in search of and described what proofs he held, at the same time stating that on receipt of his fee of a thousand dollars all and sufficient proofs of identity of the claimant would be forwarded. Then he wrote to Uncle Terry and demanded $300 more. September wheat had now fallen to 78.

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and state boards of medical examinations, has perfected a startling method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes; so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he has both the method and the ability to do as he says. Dr. Goldberger, the discoverer, will send the method entirely free to all men who send him their name and address. He wants to hear from men who have suffered that they have been unable to get cured, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicocele, lost manhood, blood poison, hydrocele, excruciating pain, impotency, etc. His wonderful method not only cures the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, nervous debility, etc. The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It would seem, therefore, that it is to the best interest of every man who suffers in this way to write the doctor confidentially and lay your case before him, and it he accepts your case for treatment it is equivalent to a cure, as he does not make any consideration accept insurable cases for treatment and, remember, if he does accept your case you may not pay when you are cured. He sends the method, as well as his booklet on the subject, containing the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address him simply

VARICOCELE

CURED TO STAY CURED.

Varicocele impairs vitality and destroys the elements of manhood. Surgical means should not be employed to treat this complaint, as operations always weaken the parts. We daily prove by successful results that Varicocele can be cured without operation. Instead of maiming and mutilating the organs, our VITALIZED TREATMENT strengthens the parts, removes all pain or aching, restores the circulation, reduces the swelling, vitalizes the nerves and establishes the vigor of manhood. Our treatment is the result of 30 years' experience. You feel its magic influence during the first week.

PAY WHEN CURED.

We cure Blood and Skin Diseases, Strictures, Varicocele, Nervous Debility, Prostatic Troubles, Chronic Kidney, Urinary and Bladder Diseases. Consultation Free. Booklets Free.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm. Walding, Kinfa, & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Uncle Sam's Soldiers.
The subsistence of United States soldiers costs not quite 20 cents a day each, or less than $6 a month per man, and their clothing $45 a year, so that the yearly cost of food and clothing for each enlisted man in our service amounts to about $115.

VERY REMARKABLE CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

"About six years ago, for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment, without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by All Druggists.

Mildewed Cloth.
When cloth has become mildewed rub in a little common salt and afterward apply powdered chalk mixed with cold water to make a paste. After this is dry brush it off, and if the mildew is still noticeable repeat the application several times if necessary.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by All Druggists.

Growing blackberries and mushrooms by law are not private property in England. One may be prosecuted for trespass on land where they grow, but not for theft in taking them.

CURES COLDS IN ONE HOUR.

Many cold cures are dangerous because composed of deadening opiates. But fragrant, healing, Catarrhose cures colds in one hour and is both harmless and delightful to use. Even the worst colds, sneezing, sniffeling colds with running eyes are stopped very quickly when the balsamic vapor of Catarrhose is inhaled. Catarrhose acts like a charm on colds, kills the cold germs, prevents their return on the throat. For colds, catarrh-throat trouble use only Catarrhose. Complete outfit $1.00, trial 50c. at all druggists.

Chinese Money.
Chinese yen, worth about 50 American money, is divided into 100 sen, or cents; the sen into 10 rin, the rin into 10 mo, the mo into 10 shu and the shu into 10 kotsu. In the Japanese retail trade the mo and shu are frequently used.
