JACK JOHNSON

Refused to Make a Reply and Chose to be Locked up--He Had Shipped two Automobiles to Canada.

(Courier Leased Wire). CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, was taken to the county jail here last night to await the judgment of Judge George K. Carpenter, of the United States District Court, as to whether his bail bond of $30,000 should be forfeited. ... When the pugilist's party, consisting ... of his white wife, two white sons ... and a valet, returned here after ... being turned back at Battle Creek, ... Mich., from a Canada-bound train, ... Johnson asked to talk over the tele ... phone to Charles F. Dewoody, Su ... perintendent of the United States de ... partment of justice. At the conclu ... sion of the conversation, Johnson told ... Deputy Marshal Meyers that Mr. ... Dewoody would allow him to spend ... the night at his own home. ... Meyers refused to accept the order ... unless given from Mr. Dewoody ... direct. The pugilist and his retinue ... were then taken in automobiles to ... Mr. Dewoody's residence. ... Johnson, if you did not mean to ... stay out of the jurisdiction of the ... federal court, why did you ship two ... automobiles to Canada?" de ... manded Mr. Dewoody. The pugilist ... hesitated in his reply, and Mr. ... Dewoody gave him his choice of being ... kept in a hotel in Chicago in care of ... the deputy marshals, or being taken ... to jail. Johnson chose the jail. He ... was allowed to take his wife home ... and to change his clothes, and then ... was locked up. ... Later (Courier Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Jack Johnson, who was brought back to this city from Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday was surrendered in court to ... by John Morris, one of his bondsmen. ... Crowds gathered in front of the ... government building to see the prize ... fighter and it required a half dozen ... bailiffs to clear Judge Carpenter's ... court room. ... Johnson is under $30,000 bonds to ... answer to charges of violating the ... Mann White Slave Act. He told the ... court that he had no intention of ... evading trial. He said he wanted ... to talk with Tom Flanagan, his former ... manager at Toronto, Ontario, on ... business matters. ... "But you shipped two automobiles ... didn't you?" inquired Judge Carpen ... ter. ... Johnson said that was true, but ... that he had merely intended to ... enjoy a few days vacation before ... shipping them back to Chicago. ... He was allowed out on the same ... bail.

(Courier Leased Wire). CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Evidence pointing to the existence of an "arson club" in Chicago, composed of at least twenty persons who have multiple insurance companies out of millions of dollars yearly, has caused State's Attorney Roynes to start a widespread investigation. ... Joseph Clark, a fire insurance adjuster, has been arrested in connection with his alleged attempt to bribe an assistant state's attorney who was conducting a grand jury investigation of the store Clark is said to have of the attorney $2000 if a "no bill" was returned in the case. ... The arrest of Clark was followed by the secret examination of fifteen fire adjusters. It was said that they told how independent fire adjusters worked in a conspiracy with employees of insurance companies lowering honest fire losses and raising incendiary ones. The inquiry was not ended until after midnight. It will be resumed to-day. One of those examined last night was Edward Covitz, of the firm of Covitz Brothers, in connection with the burning of whose store Clark is said to have offered the bribe. He denied any connection with the alleged bribery, saying he and his brother gave Clark the claim to settle, and then their activity in the case stopped. Covitz probably will be interrogated further to-day. ... Hungry Pets (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A score of hungry pets, cats, and dogs and a parrot and a turtle—crying for food led neighbors to break into a Brooklyn apartment during the night where they found Fannie Luff, a charity worker, sixty years old, dead. It is believed she had been dead since Saturday, probably having succumbed to heart disease. A policeman, who led the invading party of neighbors, was almost bowled over by the rush of the hungry dogs and cats, which had long before picked clean to the bone a number of lamb chops strewn about the floor.

DIVORCE EVIL IN STATES

Still Continues to Reach Alarming Proportions--More Than Seventy Thousand Children Deprived of One or Both Parents From This Cause During Last Year.

(Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—More than 70,000 children, mostly under the age of ten years, were deprived of one or both parents by divorce in this country during the past year, according to figures with which the Rev. Francis M. Moody, stirred members of the New York State Marriage and Divorce Commission at its meeting yesterday. ... "The Pacific Coast," he said, "has been the greatest divorce centre of the entire world. In the year 1912 alone there were granted in the United States over 100,000 divorces. In forty years, 3,700,000 adults were separated by divorce, and more than 5,000,000 persons affected by these cases. Illinois alone provided 120,000 divorces; Pennsylvania 55,760, California, 50,000 and New York 44,450. New York State, however, sent 18,160 of its couples into other states to procure divorces, and there were probably many migratory cases that are not recorded in this total. At present 90 percent of the cases go by default with only one party represented. ... Mr. Moody offered a resolution to organize a Federal commission in this state to work for a uniform Federal law governing marriage and divorce, which should be the central organization for all state commissions of this character which have already been formed in some states, and which would meet in convention in Chicago in May. The Rev. Dr. Samuel McCune Lindsay was appointed temporary chairman of an organizing committee.

It is contended one cent pieces will help the poor and reduce the cost of living to them, giving them odd cents in making purchases. The retail merchants will be asked to approve the scheme. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 15.—A bill was introduced in the legislature yesterday by Senator Brown of Los Angeles, which has for its object the stamping out of prize fighting in California. The bill, which makes prize fighting a misdemeanor, provides that boxing exhibitions at which no admission fee is charged, may be held, the exhibitions to be limited to ten rounds. Contestants are prohibited from receiving any prize other than a medal or trophy not exceeding $25 in value. ... FOR THE FIRST TIME (Courier Leased Wire). BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The wireless station at Nauens, reports that it is in wireless communication with New York yesterday. This is stated, is the first time direct wireless communication has been established between Germany and America. ... THE STORK (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A cable from Paris says: According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of Le Temps, the stork is expected to visit the Russian Imperial family in the spring. This is said to account for the absence of the Czarina from the annual Christmas tree festivities of the Czar's Cossack guard, a ceremony which she usually attends. The Court Chamberlain has been ordered to omit the name of the Czarina from all great functions until further notice. ... "HIS SWAN SONG." (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A London cable says: Punch this week publishes a cartoon on President Taft's arbitration speech entitled "His Swan Song." It represents Mr. Taft as a dying swan, singing the following to the American eagle, dressed in the Stars and Stripes: "Arbitration I adore, 'Sometimes less and sometimes more. 'If you love your dying swan, 'Keep it up when he is gone."

Home Rule Bill Enters on its Last Stage--Statements of Premier Asquith and Ex-Premier Balfour in Connection Therewith.

(Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Home Rule Bill entered upon its final stage in the House of Commons this afternoon. When this last debate has been concluded, which it must be to-morrow night, the measure will be passed on to the House of Lords, where its rejection is a foregone conclusion. ... Public interest in the Home Rule question was manifested by the great demand for seats on this occasion. They were all allotted over a week ago. ... On the formal motion being introduced to-day that the Home Rule Bill be now read a third time, Arthur J. Balfour immediately rose and presented to the House the official Unionist motion for its rejection. ... Mr. Balfour. (Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Jan. 15.—Mr. Balfour's speech was in the nature of an appeal to the country to try to realize the risks it was running in allowing the Home Rule to become law. The present British Government he averred, had duped everybody and the principal dupes were the Nationalists who thought that Ireland by this bill had been made a nation, and the English citizens who thought they had secured political peace. ... Mr. Balfour termed the Home Rule Bill an abortive attempt at federalism. He said the fact that Premier Asquith had offered safeguards was sufficient justification for the claim of the province of Ulster to be given federal separation from the rest of Ireland. ... Mr. Balfour concluded by comparing the case of Ulster to that of the rebellious American colonies. He said: "Something will arise to stir the people of this country and make them realize what it is that Ulstermen complain of. ... 'If blood be spilled, which God forbid, the real assassins will be those who have never had the courage to face the situation.' ... 'Absolutely Fatal' (Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Jan. 15.—Premier Asquith, who repudied for the government, characterized Ulster's claim to defeat the "great constitutional" declaration of Ireland as "absolutely fatal to democratic government." ... Apart from all the safeguards contained in the bill there would he said be influences which would operate most strongly—namely self interest and common sense. ... The Premier declared he was satisfied that the bateful influence which had kept the two countries apart in the past would be exercised.

Roblin Goes After Ralph O'Connor

(Courier Leased Wire). WINNIPEG, Jan. 15.—In his speech in the Legislature yesterday on the MacDonald bye-election Premier Roblin referred to Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph O'Connor) whom he described as a "political person." Sir Roblin declared that a person who descended from the pulpit to mix in party politics deserved all he got. Speaking of the resolutions condemning the MacDonald election methods passed by the Presbyterian Synod at Brandon, Sir Roblin declared they had been introduced by the machinations of a designing political person, who condoned and approved of this (Liberal) debauchery. ... "I repeat that this resolution was engendered by Rev. Gordon to whom and his beelers from Saskatchewan this province. I charge him to-day of being the man who supports corruption, and immorality and the degenerate conditions of which I have submitted ample and sufficient proof to convince any reasonable man." ... The Premier termed R. L. Richardson, the defeated candidate, in MacDonald, "the essence of irresponsible political excrescence." ... He read an affidavit from Frank Turcotte, in which the latter declared he had spent three hundred received from Fred Woodrow at the Liberal executive office, on whiskey in the interests of Richardson. He absolved the Liberals of Manitoba from responsibility, and declared the money and whiskey was brought in by Frank Oliver and Thomas McNutt and his beelers from Saskatchewan.

U. S. CRUISER

Is Ordered to go to Mexico--A Desperate Condition is Said to Exist, With Americans in Very Great Danger.

(Courier Leased Wire). WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The cruiser Denver has been ordered from San Diego, Cal., to Acapulco, Mexico, where a desperate situation is reported with Americans in danger. She will sail to-morrow and should arrive at the American port in about four days. Commander Washington has about 270 blue jackets aboard and about a company of marines. ... The United States Government's decision to send a warship to protect American lives and property, was reached early to-day after alarming reports of the activity of a rebel band under Julio Radillo had been received through Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. Consul Edwards at Acapulco had suggested that inasmuch as the Mexican federals were unable to protect Americans, and the Mexican commander of the town had admitted his inability to reinforce the garrison, a warship should be sent. ... The last reports from Acapulco said Radillo's men were operating in the country about there, and that refugees from every direction were pouring into the town, which is one of the most important Mexican ports on the Pacific. Deprivations and atrocities by the approaching rebel band were reported. Foreigners will be taken aboard the Denver when she reaches there if they so desire. The Denver is the nearest ship to the danger line.

THE POWERS

Are Discussing a Method by Which to Stop the Threatened Renewal of Hostilities in the Balkans.

(Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Jan. 15.—To-day's meeting of the ambassadors of the European powers at the British Foreign Office, was devoted chiefly to a discussion of the means of putting a brake on the threatened resumption of the war in the Balkans. Breathing time was given for efforts in this direction by the decision of the plenipotentiaries of the Balkan allies in the course of a meeting this morning to delay further action until the Turkish Government had had opportunity for discussion of the note to be presented this week by the Ambassadors of the powers, and also to reply to it. It is quite evident that both sides would welcome the discovery of an acceptable way to avoid further fighting. The Turkish delegates argued that but for the fact that the European powers have shown bias in favor of the claims put forward by the Balkan allies they would have been able to compromise with their adversaries long ago. ... The delegates of the allies deny the assertion that the European powers have raised an objection to this announced intention of breaking off the negotiations for peace and of denouncing the armistice. They point out that on Saturday last they notified Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, and all the European ambassadors of their intention and none of them remonstrated. ... The representatives of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Serbia declare that they must protect their own interests, especially in avoiding indefinite procrastination on the part of the Turks, as since the conclusion of the armistice in December, the maintenance of the four allied armies on a war footing has represented an outlay of $200,000,000 which is a heavy sacrifice for countries that are not rich. This must come to an end they say. Within a week Turkey must either cede Adrianople in a peaceful manner or lose it by the resumption of the war, which in the end would be less costly than this expensive peace.

Two Thousand Welsh Miners are Out

(Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A special cable to the American from London says the reason for striking, in the case of the 2,000 Welsh miners who quit work yesterday is that they were kept waiting for their pay half an hour Saturday in a drizzling rain without shelter, while the cashier finished his luncheon. The men were so incensed they gave colliery officials 24 hours to dismiss the cashier. As the officials did not do it, the men stopped work against the advice of their leaders.

AN ADVANCE

(Courier Leased Wire). OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—A heavy advance in the price of brick was announced by local manufacturers to-day. High grade veneer brick goes up from $12 per thousand to $14 per thousand, and the cheaper grades are advanced between one and two dollars. Shortage of supply at outside points is given as the reason. Montreal is taking heavy shipments from Ottawa. ... 200,000 STRIKERS (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Fifty thousand flaming red posters distributed in some 600 girls dress and shirt waist factories to-day turned nearly 40,000 more workers into the ranks of the strikers in the garment making trades, now numbering nearly 200,000. The posters were the official call for a strike among the dress and waist makers, who had approved such action by an overwhelming vote. All of these employees are girls, some of them under 14 years old, and the organization have appointed committees to guard the idle workers against agents of the white slave trade. They declare that the lesson taught by the Asch building fire, in which 147 girls lost their lives, has not been heeded, and that they are forced to work in unsafe and unsanitary shops.

BRANT COUNTY

Won First and Second Places in the Small Orchard Competition.

We are glad to announce the results of the orchard competition for South Western Ontario; Brant County wins both first and second place in the small orchard class, where nine counties were competing.

Mr. A. E. Westbrook, Oakland took first place, while Mr. Wm. Dickie of Burford, took second. These gentlemen are to be congratulated upon the success which attended the careful attention given their orchards during the past summer.

When it is considered that several competing counties have been spraying much longer, and consequently had more chances for wiping out the success scored this year by Brant County appears all the more important. It shows that here in Brant County we have a district that can produce apples second to none. It is to be hoped that this success may be followed up next year by a large number of entries in this competition, for nothing succeeds like success.

HON. MACKENZIE KING MUST BE A JOKER.

The Conservative attitude on the naval question was the same old question of not trusting the people—Expositor report. The above is one of the gems of thought which fell from the lips of Hon. Mackenzie King, during the address at the Liberal banquet. The Conservatives don't trust the people, eh? King says so, presumably, because the offer of three Dreadnoughts to the British navy was not before the voters at the recent election as a plank in the Borden platform. Well how could it be?

Now let us have a look at the conduct of this champion of the people and of the Laurier Government with regard to another important proposal—the most important and far reaching that has ever faced the Dominion, viz. Reciprocity with the United States. That was a move which involved the destiny of Canada, and many think that to an extent the future of the British Empire.

Did Laurier, Hon. King's idol, go to the people on that big issue? Not much.

Worse than that he did not even consult with his other Ministers, but kept the thing as a hole and corner game between himself and Fielding and Paterson.

Still worse than that, there was not even a conference with the rank and file of the Grit members in the House.

Mr. Lloyd Harris, the then Liberal member for Brantford, in a public speech, made the latter statement and asserted that the whole thing came like a bolt from the blue to himself and the other Grit M. P's.

What did Mackenzie King, this self styled champion of the people do, in view of the fact that not only the populace, but also the adherents of the party itself were ignored? He swallowed the whole dose with his eyes shut and then smacked his lips for more.

It was not the Liberals who went to the people on that pregnant proposal but the Conservatives who FORCED them to do so, much against their will.

Laurier et al, with King as a willing "me too," wanted to railroad that project through without trusting the voters—that project which Taft in a letter to Roosevelt said was intended to make Canada "an adjunct" of the United States. The Conservatives said "No" and we all know the result.

It is rumored that the real object of Hon. Mackenzie's visit to this city was to look at the possibilities of the Brantford canal for the launching of the Laurier Canadian built Dreadnoughts.

Brantford Liberals have struck a pretty fast gain, and they must keep going—Expositor. That's just what they have been doing for some time past. The four Brants for instance.

The reappointment of Mr. Fair as Chairman of the Waterworks board will be generally appreciated. He brings a practical knowledge to the position, which is of very great value. In Mr. Frank, Secretary, the municipality possesses a most valuable official, so also in Engineer Webster and the rest. It is to be doubted whether any other corporation possesses such an all round lot of competent public servants as we do.

UNIQUE GIFTS (Courier Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—It was learned today that two unusual gifts are on the way from St. Louis for the wedding of Helen Miller Gould and Finlay J. Shepard at Tarrytown next week. The Railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at St. Louis has been done in a gold and bronze miniature and made into a clock. The other gift is a gold and bronze jewel case, a miniature reproduction of the Gould private car "Atlantic." This is the gift of thirty Railroad Y.M.C.A. branches scattered over the Gould lines in the southwest.

THIEVES WERE DISTURBED (Courier Leased Wire)
TORONTO, Jan. 15.—But for the fact that they were disturbed thieves would have made a good haul from the home of J. W. Flavell, in Queen's Park, on Monday night. They managed to get away with jewelry valued at between $500 and $600 as it was. The family were at dinner when the thieves were at work and it is thought they were porch climbing. They entered the room of Miss Clara Flavell and took the top tray out of a silver jewel case that was on the dresser. They were then disturbed and threw the tray under the bed where it was found the next day. Among the articles taken was a diamond bracelet, a gold watch and some rings and brooches. The thieves had no time to get to Mrs. Flavell's room or they would have made a big haul. It is thought that a member of the household going upstairs about dinner time scared the thieves away.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TO CONTRACTORS.
SEALED TENDERS endorsed "Tender for Work" will be received at this Department until noon of January 17th for heating, plumbing and electric wiring and plastering of the new Veterinary College, corner of Anderson St. and University Avenue, Toronto. Also for heating, plumbing and electric wiring of the new Dormitory Building at the Institution for the Blind, Brantford. Plans and specifications may be seen at the Department of Public Works and the above Institution.

An accepted bank cheque payable to the order of the Hon. J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works for five per cent of the amount of the tender and the bona fide signatures and addresses of two securities approved by the Department, must accompany each tender. The Department will not be bound to accept the lowest or any tender. By order, H. F. McNAUGHTEN, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ontario, Toronto, Jan. 4, 1913. Newspapers publishing this advertisement without authority will not be paid for it.

MODEL MAKING.

It is the Most Interesting of Britain's Recent Hobbies. There is something very fascinating about a model that works, be it windmill, locomotive, or motor-boat, and in the scientific age in which we live it is not surprising to find that both young and old are keenly interested in miniature reproductions of the triumphs of the engineer. The practice of model-making is by no means new, for a hundred years ago the celebrated James Watt invented steam-making improvements in the steam-engine while engaged in repairing a little model.

It is within the last decade, however, that models have got their hold on the public at large, and have captured the boys of our youth, to say nothing of the amusements of a mature age. Nowadays the model locomotive, the miniature torpedo-destroyer or battleship, the baby electric motor, and the tiny aeroplane, are the order of the day in our play-rooms and our open spaces, and every other boy we meet is a building engineer. Grown-ups, too, are keen on things mechanical, and the well-equipped home is complete without its workshop.

Probably the locomotive is the most popular type of model, and the easiest model to construct is the model railway. It is interesting to see anything he desires in the way of engines, rolling-stock, lines, signals, bridges, tunnels, stations, and every accessory of a model railway, even down to the miniature advertisements for the station platforms, and a complete staff of railway officials to add a lifelike appearance to his installation. The cost of such an outfit may be anything from a few shillings to a thousand pounds, and there are many model railways in existence on which a sum running well into three figures has been expended. In some of the smaller model clockwork is the motive power, but steam and electric locomotives are made in great variety, bearing a most faithful resemblance to the crack "engines" of the leading British railway companies. The more wealthy among model railway owners frequently lay down systems on which trains carrying several grown-up passengers are run with both comfort and success.

Other enthusiasts content themselves with building miniature reproductions of well-known engines, or models to their own design. A Brighton doctor, for example, has built a most perfect scale-model of one of the express locomotives on the L.B. & S.C. Railway. This took him thirteen years to complete, and as a specimen of beautiful workmanship is equal to anything in the country. A popular member of the London Stock Exchange is responsible for an admirable model of one of the historic locomotives in the South Kensington Museum, while two doctors in the south of London have constructed a realistic model of the railway between London Bridge and Croydon.

So keen has become the interest in these branches of amateur engineering work that a school of model-making has recently been equipped in the heart of London in connection with the journal, "The Model Engineer." Here amateurs of all ages are taught how to use a file, a lathe, and other metal-working tools, or how to make and handle models and electrical apparatus. The Society of Model and Experimental Engineers, founded some fourteen years ago, has also equipped a workshop of its own in the west end of London, where its members can make and run their models and talk over their various ways of doing things—London Tit-Bits.

Garden Towns and Health. The value of suburban garden towns for the housing of workmen of large cities has been demonstrated in the British Isles since the passage of the Housing and Town Planning Act three years ago. Henry Vivian, chairman of the co-partnership tenants' movement in England, has gathered interesting statistics as to the effect of country life upon the height and weight of children. He finds that the average child of seven years brought up in a garden town is three inches taller than the average child of the same age living in a densely populated city. At the age of fourteen the difference is still more marked, the garden town child having the advantage of the city child to the extent of five inches in height, and thirty pounds in weight. In some of the crowded manufacturing towns in England the death rate is forty for every thousand inhabitants, but in garden towns the rate has been forced down to between eight and nine a thousand.

Co-operation in India. At the conference of registrars of co-operative credit societies recently held in Calcutta, the president was able to give a very satisfactory review of the progress in the establishment of these societies in different parts of India. Since 1906 the number of societies has risen from 243 to 8,177 and the number of members from 19,000 to 403,000, and this increase, although rapid, has been generally speaking, of a sound and definite character, indicating that the co-operative movement has come to stay, and that it has been able to command in a great degree the confidence of the agriculturists.

Second Silver Wedding. A most unusual record has been set up by Mr. Arthur Hoare Bolls, a Surrey J.P. who has just celebrated his second silver wedding—that is to say, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his second marriage. This is, of course, far more out of the common than a golden wedding. Mr. Bolls, who is, eighty-two, has a neighbor in the person of a centenarian bachelor.

Picture Profits. Buying and selling pictures when conducted by experts frequently yields large profits. It is a case recently heard at the London law courts it was stated that Sir George Donaldson bought a seascape by Turner for 25,000 and sold it for 215,000 and a landscape by Van Goyen for 400, which he sold for 65,000.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Joe Marks and his clever little star, Grace Marks, with a strong supporting Co. are entertaining the patrons of the Grand Opera House each evening this week with new and wholesome dramas and refined night "The Girl from Sunny Alberta" is by a Canadian playwright with its scenes dating from the great Canadian Province of Alberta in which a Canadian girl has met a young Civil Engineer and has become infatuated with him in her childhood days. Through recommendations this young man has been induced to visit the Mother Country to undertake a job of engineering, and knowing that his young bride has migrated from "Sunny Alberta" under the wing of a maiden aunt to the greatest of all isles, who wants to secure at a price a title or cornet for her brother's daughter. Now this Albertian girl is a typical Canadian girl, who is governed by her likes and dislikes, and it is hard to harness her in the stereotypical lines of the English aristocracy. However she is introduced into society and arrangements are made in advance between the Albertian girl and the lord of the manor of "Whercomb Hall" England, with the conditions of course of all back debts being paid and a quantity of large sum being settled on him. Now providing this settlement is made he does not ask her to love him she may love anyone whom she pleases. But the love of this true Western girl has been placed once and for all, and she invites no incumbencies, and against the wishes of her maiden aunt and the glare of coronets and titles, is true to her first love. Grace Marks made a typical Western girl, and carried off the laurels of the evening. She was ably supported by Mr. Beckwick, as Archie Northrop, the civil engineer, and Mr. A. Brewer, as Sir Blakely Beresford, while Mr. Fred Mills as Howling Hawk, the Western rancher was good. The balance of the supporting cast were above the average and we predict a big run for this clever Company. To-night "The Bachelor's Girl" will have its first presentation here and from all reports is sure to please.

Don't think because you have taken many remedies in vain that your case is incurable. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many seemingly hopeless cases of syphilis, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaint, dyspepsia, and general debility. Take Hood's.

STRAIGHT TALK

Is Given by Premier Roblin--He Makes Very Severe Charges Against Liberals in Connection With the Macdonald Election.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15. — Sir Rodmond Roblin made good his promise to answer to the libel charges regarding the Macdonald election on the floor of the Legislature yesterday. The Premier dealt with charges in no uncertain tone, and not only rebutted the libel charges, but vastly disturbed the Opposition members by a recital of the methods employed in an endeavor to elect the reciprocity candidate.

"Mr. Speaker, I now come to deal with the administration of justice in this province for the references that have been made in connection with the election in Macdonald. In doing so I feel that it is incumbent upon myself and others who stand for honesty and clean elections and good citizenship not to make defence of anything that was done, but I ask for commendation and praise for our efforts to stay the tidal wave of political corruption and immorality that was inundating that electoral division.

"My honorable friend and those associated with him have felt, apparently, that it was in the interests of the Liberal party in this province that misrepresentation, exaggeration and slander should be indulged in to the injury of the province in connection with this election. Now, what are the facts? They are simply these. An election was called in Macdonald. Long before the writ was issued the constituency was invaded, not by Manitoba, but by a horde of political heeled and wire pullers from other parts of Canada, for the purpose of securing a declaration from the people of Macdonald that the conditions in this country were not as good as they were in the United States, and that therefore it was necessary for us to surrender our individuality as a nation and hand over matters and things pertaining to our fiscal affairs, which would make us hewers of wood and drawers of water for the people to the south of us.

"Political Crooks Imported.
 "I give my honorable friend credit for not taking much interest in the election. He was only dragged into it at the last moment and had it not been for interests other than Manitoba I believe he would not have put his foot in that electoral division. The election was directed adminis-

This Girl States That She Was Kidnapped

(Courier Leased Wire)
 NEW YORK, Jan. 15 — Eleanor Oxley, a 15 year old girl, who says she was kidnapped in the street near home in Philadelphia, on Monday was recovered by her father at her uncle's home in Brooklyn to-day. She escaped from her captors after a train ride with them to Jersey City and made her way to the uncle's home, she says. The girl's father recently served on a federal jury which investigated white slavery in Pennsylvania, but said to-day he did not consider this coincidental with his daughter's abduction.

Eleanor Oxley was on her way to answer a want advertisement for a stenographer when approached by two men who directed her to accompany them, she told relatives to-day. She refused, and was seized and a handkerchief was placed over her face. She was led to a lot, threatened with death if she cried out or tried to escape, and was taken on a street car to a railroad station, where a train was boarded. At Jersey City, she saw one of the men again, leaving her in the other's care, and when his attention was attracted elsewhere she walked away.

Montgomery, seconded by Mayor Hartman. That Mr. Jno. Fair, the old Chairman, act as Chairman of this Board for the year 1913. Carried.
Mr. Montgomery, in moving this resolution, expressed his appreciation of Mr. Fair's services as Chairman and also thanked the Mayor for the harmonious manner in which the meetings were conducted and the Board to serve the public as a whole rather than any class.
The Mayor expressed himself in a similar manner.
Mr. Fair thanked Mr. Montgomery and the Mayor for the honor conferred upon him being elected chairman, and outlined the policy of the Board and the necessity of prompt action in carrying out the wishes of the ratepayers in the general improvement of the plant. Mr. Montgomery then remarked to the other members that he hoped that at the commencement of another year to be in line for the Chairmanship

Moved, by Jno. Fair, seconded by A. G. Montgomery. That a thoroughly competent, independent Engineer be engaged to act in conjunction with our City Engineer to carefully investigate the conditions of our Water Works plant with reference to enlarging the mains, increasing the pumping capacity and supply to meet the requirements and recommendation of the Inspector of the Canadian Fire Underwriters Association, and the increased demands made upon the works, and report to this Board at as early a date as possible. QUEEN'S COURTSHIP

Lord Escher in His "Girlhood of Queen Victoria" Quotes From the Girlish Diary Which Records the Romance—She Conferred With Lord Melbourne Concerning the Method of Proposing to Prince.

"At half-past twelve I sent for Albert; he came to the closet where I was alone, and after a few minutes I said to him that I thought he must be aware why I wished him to come here, and that it would make me too happy if he would consent to what I wished (to marry me). We embraced each other, and he was so kind, so affectionate, I told him I was quite unworthy of him—he said he would be very happy * * * I really felt it was the happiest moment of my life."

"This passage from the diaries of Queen Victoria, which is quoted by Lord Escher in "The Girlhood of Queen Victoria," once more illustrates the time-honored saying that love levels all, and that it is the victor in the end, if once she falls a victim to Cupid, is very human after all. And there can be no doubt that Queen Victoria's marriage was the result of genuine love. Who can doubt it after reading her impressions of her first meeting with Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg? The Queen had been prepared, to a certain extent, for a possible marriage with Prince Albert by her uncle, King Leopold of Belgium, for whom she had a deep love and veneration; and apparently she liked him immensely the moment they first met, in 1839, when she was seventeen years of age.

"Albert," she recorded in her diary, "is extremely handsome. His hair is about the same color as mine. His eyes are large and blue, and he has a beautiful nose and a very sweet mouth with fine teeth. The charm of his countenance is his expression, which is delightful—a full of kindness and sweetness, and very clever and intelligent."

Lord Melbourne was particularly anxious for the marriage, but the Queen, in spite of her admiration for Prince Albert, seemed disinclined to take a husband when the subject was broached to her after the meeting. Three years after her first meeting with Prince Albert she records in July, 1839, a conversation with Melbourne.

"I talked of my cousins Ernest and Albert coming over. I mean my having no great wish to see Albert, as the whole subject was an odious one, and one which I had to decide about. There was no engagement between us, I said, but that the young man was aware that there was the possibility of such a union. I said, 'I wished, if possible, never to marry. I don't know about that,' he replied."

The Queen, however, changed her mind; for when, shortly afterwards, Prince Albert visited that country, Her Majesty was agreeably surprised to find that the hero of her girlish admiration had in no way changed.

"At half-past seven," she writes, "I went to the top of the staircase and received my two dear cousins, Ernest and Albert, whom I found brown and changed and embellished. It was with some emotion that I beheld Albert—who is beautiful, I embraced them both and took them to mamma."

There is no doubt that this second meeting with Prince Albert aroused an admiration akin to love, for the next day we find her again paying tribute to his personal attractions, "Albert is really quite charming," she wrote, "and so exceedingly handsome—such beautiful blue eyes, an exquisite nose, and such a pretty mouth, with delicate moustaches and slight, but very slight, whiskers; a beautiful figure, broad in the shoulders, and a fine waist."

Two days later she had decided to marry, but how to bring about the consummation of her desire in that direction was a problem that perplexed her not a little, judging from her remarks to Lord Melbourne when she talked the matter over with him. She thus relates the incident in her diary.

"After a little pause, I said to Lord M. that I had made up my mind (about marrying dearest Albert). 'You have?' he said. 'Well, then, about the time?' 'Not for a year,' I thought, which he said was too long. 'Then I asked if I hadn't better tell Albert of my decision soon, in which Lord M. agreed. How? I asked, for in general such things were done the other way—which made Lord M. laugh.'"

How the proposal was made has already been related at the head of this article. That a deep attachment existed between Queen Victoria and the man she had chosen as consort is evident from her rhapsodies over the perfection of her future husband. "I sat on the sofa with dearest Albert," she writes, "I played two games of tactics with dear Albert, and two at fox and geese. Sat up until twenty minutes past eleven—a delightful evening."

Again: "I feel the happiest of human beings"; while on her wedding morning she thus writes: "Get up at a quarter to nine—well, and having slept well; and breakfasted at half-past nine. Mamma came before and brought me a nosegay of orange flowers. My dearest, kindest Leizen (the Prince) gave me a dear little ring. Wrote my journal and to Lord M. Had my hair dressed and the wreath of orange flowers put on. Saw Albert for the last time alone, as my bridegroom."

And after describing the wedding ceremony in her diary, she wrote: "Dearest Albert came up to fetch me downstairs, where we took leave of mamma and drove off at near four. I and Albert alone."

A UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE.

Sir William Ramsay Suggests Signs For Communication.

To make possible the exchange of ideas among all the peoples of the world Sir William Ramsay, the eminent English scientist, has begun to develop a pictorial sign language based somewhat upon Chinese, which he hopes will eventually spread among all races.

The Chinese character to express "man," for instance, is made with two converging lines that represent simply his legs, looking much like the legs of the crane man that the schoolboy draws.

"The first thing that one thinks of," he argues, "is existence expressed in the verb 'be.'"

So he has, arbitrarily perhaps, selected the arithmetical equality mark to denote existence. All things relating to one's state and condition can be expressed by these two parallel lines.

For time that stretches away or action that is constant he uses a dash. Simultaneous time action represents with a dot. Thus a dot placed squarely between and in the middle of the two lines of the equality mark denotes the immediate present.

"I am." Similarly the word when placed at the left and between the two lines denotes past or "I was" and when placed to the right indicates the future tense or "I am."

To denote a woman Sir William draws a line closing the diverging ends of the legs of the sign for man. Or the theory that "I" is the most important thing in the world to any man Sir William utilizes the straight vertical line that represents the body of his man figure to depict the word.

At a Cabinet Meeting. I falls now and then to a law officer to attend a meeting of the Cabinet in order to keep members right on points of law, and a story is told about a remarkable conflict of wit across the table between Mr. Gladstone and the Attorney-General of the day who had been called in.

The Attorney-General was Sir Richard Bethell, who was never a very manageable man, and was proving a thorn in the side of Mr. Gladstone, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, with some big schemes on hand.

Mr. Gladstone was determined to take a certain course, and Sir Richard Bethell was equally determined against it.

He told the Cabinet that it would be contrary to the law, and by way of supporting himself, produced a bulky and forbidding book of law, from which he read at great length.

Mr. Gladstone asked to be allowed to see the volume, and turning over the leaves began to read another passage which qualified away the one which the Attorney-General had read and set matters right from Mr. Gladstone's point of view.

Coming away from the meeting, a member of the Cabinet asked Mr. Gladstone how he came to know that such a passage as the one he had read was in the book.

"It was not," said Mr. Gladstone, "and neither was the passage which Bethell read."

British Military Biplane. By reason of the fact that the British war office barred the use of monoplane in the grand maneuvers in England because of the death of several officers in the army in accidents with these machines, the biplane owned by the Government, and especially those built by the war office workmen, came in for thorough testing.

All of the machines behaved well, but the army officers were especially pleased with the machine built at the royal aircraft shops. The machine most liked was a biplane of the tractor type, in which the streamline form was followed not only in the construction of the body, but of the struts as well. The manoeuvres were brought to a sudden close because of the extreme usefulness of both armies being so plainly seen by the aerial scouts that there was no chance for working out problems on the ground.

The Oldest Soldier. Gunner Samuel Parsons has been sixty-eight years a soldier, and for the last fifty-three has been the Royal Gunner at Windsor Castle. He is nearly eighty-seven years of age, and is probably the oldest soldier serving in the British Army who has drawn full pay for sixty-seven years. He recently celebrated his fifty-third year at the Castle. Gunner Parsons was born at East Loos, Cornwall, in 1859, and at the age of nineteen years and three months he enlisted in the Royal Regiment of Artillery at Devonport, and served with his battery in the Crimea. After the Crimea, Parsons went to Woolwich, and was appointed Royal Gunner at Windsor Castle in 1889. He holds six medals, including bars for Inkeremann and Balachava.

Rector of Navvy. The Rector of Ashley, the Rev. J. Richards, has taken up naving work to save the ratepayers of the parish expense. The entire sewerage system of the parish, which is near Market Drayton, in Shropshire, has been ordered to be brought up to date, and the cost of the material is being found by voluntary subscription. Mr. Richards volunteered to assist in the work of excavation, and is backed up by farmers, a grocer, and helps from every class. The volunteer navvies hope to finish their task by the end of the year.

GREEK STRATAGEM.

Military Tactics That Won Where Strength Was Lacking.

After the decline of Rome the center of the world's military progress was for seven or eight centuries transferred to the Greek empire. Constantinople ruled elements of a much less homogeneous nature than Rome in her prime had depended upon. There was less loyalty to the central rule there and far less liberty under it.

The decisive victory of the east was, however, that Byzantium had to contend against overwhelming numerical superiority in its enemies. South of it, from the Indies to the Atlantic, was the Saracen empire, burning with the zeal of a new religion. To the east were the Seljuk Turks, while to the north were the Bulgarians and the Slavonian and Hunic tribes.

Against such odds it was useless simply to match man for man. The military leaders of the empire were full of military spirit and took keen delight in war as a game, but they were the descendants of Ulysses, and they made of war a game of finesse, of cleverness—in short, a war of wits. By their spring and bribes, by stirring up treason in the enemy's camp, by surprises, simulated retreats and ambush, they illustrated the saying of Bacon that stratagem is a weaker kind of policy than that of those who are not strong enough to win by fairer methods—Edward D. Jones in Engineering Magazine.

THE GAME OF GOLF. It is a Very Serious Matter With the Real Sport Enthusiast.

In Fifo and the Lothians every one plays golf—men of leisure, working men and loafers, the last class producing the finest players. Many of the Scotch towns have public courses, and even where they are private the artisan clubs may use them on generous terms. Says Stewart Dick in "The Pageant of the Forth."

"There is something very Scotch about the Scotch golfer. He seems to suit the leisurely and contemplative game. 'Keep your eye on the ball,' 'Slow back' and 'Aye be up' are written all over him. As a nation one would say the Scotch were professional, the English amateur, golfers, for there should be nothing dilettante about the game of golf."

"How serious a matter it is may be judged from the old story of the Scotch minister. Emerging after a hot and unhalloved strife in the bunker, his profane words still echoing in his ears, he mops his heated brow and exclaims bitterly: "'Ah man gie it up! Ah man gie it up!'"

The Peacock at Home. The real home of peacocks or peafowls is in India. There they were and are hunted, and their flesh is used for food. As the birds live in the same region as the tiger, peacock hunting is a very dangerous sport. The long train of the peacock is not its tall, as many suppose, but is composed of feathers which grow out just above the tail and are called the tail covert. Peacocks have been known for many hundred years. They are mentioned in the Bible. Job mentions them, and they are mentioned, too, in 1 Kings x. Hundreds of years ago in Rome many thousand peacocks were killed for the great feasts which the emperors made. The brains of the peacock were considered a great treat, and many had to be killed for a single feast.

The Mystery of Sleep. It is impossible to give any precise explanation of the phenomenon of sleep. Yet many theories have been advanced. Legendre has shown by fairly conclusive arguments that it is due neither to "brain pallor," nor to intoxication by carbonic acid, nor to the presence of narcotic substances in the blood, theories that have been in turn advanced. Legendre intimates his preference for the view that sleep is the result of fatigue, but is an inherited instinct designed to protect the organism against the ill effects of fatigue—Harper's.

The Aleutian Islands. Until the time of Peter the Great the Aleutian islands were unknown. The famous Russian monarch, consumed with curiosity as to the distance between Asia and America, started, in 1725, the first of the expeditions that at last revealed those haunts of the bear, the beaver, the ermine and the seal. But Captain Cook told more about the islands than did all the Russian explorers before him.

"Then why don't more of us succeed better?"

"The trouble is that Opportunity wants us to go to work."—Pittsburg Post.

Anticipation. "Mrs. Justice—let think of it. dearest one! Twenty-two years from day before yesterday will be our silver anniversary"—Judge.

A DRUGGIST IN WINNIPEG

Cured Himself With GIN PILLS

No greater compliment could be paid GIN PILLS than to have a druggist use them. Mr. Rogers being in the business, tried all the ordinary remedies, but it was not until he used GIN PILLS that he was cured of a severe pain in the back.

Winnipeg, May 19th, 1912. "In the autumn of 1911, I suffered with a continual pain in the back. As a druggist, I tried various remedies without any apparent results. Having sold GIN PILLS for a number of years, I thought there must be good in them otherwise the sales would not increase so fast. I gave them a fair trial and the results I found to be good."

Refreshments were then served and the evening was voted a great success by all present.

Brilliant audiences are assured for both the concert of the National Chorus of Toronto, given in Massey Hall Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, in association with the New York Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Wainwright is to-day a beautiful woman, mirroring that 18-year-old girl who suddenly leaped to popularity at Booth's ideal Ophelia, but her hair is silvered, and there are traces of the years in her face, although it still retains its brightness and a youthful smile. She was one of the first of that long line of well-bred women who left homes of culture and refinement for the precarious life of the stage and its uncertain rewards.

Her grandfather was Bishop of New York, her father was a Commodore in the navy during the Civil War; her brother a captain who achieved distinction at San Juan during the Spanish-American conflict. The entire family has been identified with the church, the stage, the army or the navy for several generations.

She was the first member of it to turn her eyes toward the footlights, and although her progress was speedy after she once had the opportunity to reveal her dramatic talent, the stage did not welcome her with outstretched arms when she first offered herself as an actress. In fact, she was obliged to pay for her premiere.

She knew in her heart of hearts that she could act Juliet convincingly, so Frederick Ward, then one of the handsomest of young leading men, was engaged to play Romeo and they gave a performance. This was her debut—bought and paid for—and her example would not be a good one for others to follow but it gave her the opportunity to reveal extraordinary talents, and from that time her name has carried weight with lovers of the drama.

The cold water loosens the dirt, more especially, the sooty dirt that a housekeeper who lives in town has to contend with, and the curtains keep a far better color if washed in this way than if put direct into suds.

LAUGHTER LINES.

Startled the Clergyman.

A well-known rector in Toronto was riding in a crowded street-car on New Year's eve when one of his parishioners was squeezed forward and held to a strap in front of him. They recognized each other.

"Perfectly full to-night," remarked the rector, glancing about the crowded car.

"Yes, I am," admitted the parishioner, shame-facedly. "But I'm sorry for it. Met a lot of my old friends."

"Only that afternoon had the travelling show arrived, but now the merry business was in full swing.

"Now then 'ladies an' gents," roared the showman, in stentorian tones, "walk up and see the live giant! He's the biggest giant you ever saw! Only two-pence to see the real giant!"

Business was not very brisk however, and the more the showman strained his lungs, the feebler was the response to his invitation. The man grew angrier and angrier.

"Come, come!" he cried at length, nearly exasperated. "Who wants to see the giant? Only here for one evening, off again to-morrow! Now, walk up, please, and see the biggest man ever born—nine feet high in his socks!"

"Nine feet!" ejaculated the unbelieving countryman. "E ain't nine feet high! Why, your van ain't much higher than that!"

"But he's not standing up," said the showman, "he's lying."

Mr. Jordan Goes to Europe.

At the conclusion of the Schubert Choir practice last night, Mr. Jordan, after discussing the matter with the executive committee that there would be, after this concert in February, none given for two years. Plans were made to keep the organization intact. Mr. Jordan announced his intention of going to Europe to visit the great centres of music, to devote some time to study and acquire any ideas that will be of any assistance in his musical work.

Mr. Jordan will miss him greatly in these matters. His successful work here in the past ten years as conductor of the Male Chorus and Schubert Choir fully attest his ability; he will have the very best wishes of our citizens, who no doubt will welcome him back with the renewed strength and equipment he will acquire. He leaves Brantford early in the summer and is expected to return before the end of the year.

any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

PARIS

(From our own correspondent.)

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Colts bonspiel opened yesterday, although the weather of Saturday looked very much like a postponement. A goodly number of the "knights of the broom" are attending and each one seems to be having a good time. The smoking concert was held in the Theatreum on Monday evening.

Rev. Mr. MacBeth preached in Dr. Dickson's church, Galt, on Sunday. His pulpit here was occupied by Dr. Murdoch MacKenzie of the North Honan mission field, China, who is spoken of as "one of the strongest men in the Presbyterian church, Mr. MacKenzie both morning and evening spoke of his work among the Chinese, and some very interesting facts were touched upon. Regarding the density of population, the speaker said that an area of approximately 180 square miles contained as many people as the whole of the Dominion of Canada. He has 650 villages in his field, 122 of which now profess Christianity. The gospel was first preached in North Honan in 1890. Now there are 1800 Christians, from three to four hundred of whom are studying for native teachers. Dr. MacKenzie is touring Canada speaking in the interests of the Presbyterian mission in China.

To-day marks the anniversary of 50 years of wedded bliss of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Brien of West River street, and they are holding a celebration in honor of the same. Bishop Dowling of Hamilton, will conduct a special service in the R. C. Church in the morning at which special music will be rendered. All the family of nine are home, seven married daughters and two sons. Three of the daughters are from Jacksonville, Fla., two from Augustus, Fla., one from Chicago, and one from Woodstock. One of the sons is from Winnipeg and the other from Niagara Falls. Congratulations.

The officers of the Horticultural Society which organized Friday evening are: President, R. Schuyler; vice-president, W. E. Coates; Second vice-president, Miss Jeanette Bursnall. A board of directors were also appointed.

Robert Kyle, 23 years of age, received a bad cut in the face while skating on the river. He fell and his face came in contact with a friend's skate, cutting a huge gash just below the eye.

There is a movement on foot to organize a hockey league among the churches. A meeting of delegates will probably be called during the present week.

Mr. Arthur Strickland of Temiskaming, Northern Ontario, has been spending the past two weeks with his grandfather, Mr. Chas. Flanigan.

Paris rinks of Colts lifted the trophy at the Bonspiel yesterday by five points, from St. Mary's. The Paris rinks were skipped by Messrs. Wylie and Cavin. Each player of the winning rinks will be presented with a gold locket. The 'Runners Up' were presented with a cut glass pitcher. London rinks won the consolation prize from St. Thomas.

On the whole the bonspiel was a huge success and large crowds watched the final games with great interest.

Ames, M. Hawley and J. McGillivray, Auditors, W. N. Bell and Dr. Dunton. The installation ceremonies were followed by addresses by the newly elected officers and a general social time.

Monday evening, the Baracca Class of the Baptist Church and the Manhood League of the Methodist Church met as one class in the school room of the Methodist Church, Mr. Lee, president of the League, acting as Chairman. A debate, "Resolved that the Naval Bill of the Borden Government is in the best interest of the country" was then opened, the affirmative being taken by Messrs. Brown and Barker, while the negative was handled by Messrs. Evans and Newell. The judges, Dr. Gould, Mr. Bell and Mr. Cunningham certainly had their hands full in the decision. However they favored the negative. While the judges were consulting, Mr. Strickland rendered an instrumental selection.

Interesting Lecture.

The regular meeting of Zion Church Y.P.G. was held on Monday evening. After opening exercises, several items of business were disposed of, among others a challenge to debate with the Young People of Central Presbyterian church, Galt, which was accepted. The meeting was then taken in charge by Miss J. Mitchell, vice-president of the Educational department. The feature of the evening was a lecture by Mr. Geo. Scott on "Mythology and folk-lore." The subject which is a most comprehensive one, was handled by the speaker in a masterly manner. He outlined the origin of "demons" in many countries, and related legends vividly illustrating the terrible superstitions believed by ancient peoples. An account of a "devil-dance" in Ceylon proved most interesting and amusing. The suffragettes present were delighted with a tradition relating to Adam, which showed that even in the Garden of Paradise, the suffrage movement had its origin. Great satisfaction was expressed at the way Mr. Scott presented this very difficult subject, and each felt they had gained much valuable information. During the evening Miss J. Allen sang a Scotch song in her usual efficient manner, and Miss E. Buchanan charmed all by her rendering of a piano solo, which was enthusiastically encored. This brought to a close a most successful gathering.
