Aunt Nan's Mission.

Being as she had never married, and being she had reached the age of forty-five, most of the people of the village of Millville spoke of Miss Spooner as Aunt Nan and she raised no objection. She had an income, and she lived alone. It was said of her that she was a disappointed woman. She was, but not in the sense that she had loved and lost. So far as anyone knew she had never loved at all, though several widowers had cleaned their muddy feet on her doorstep and tried to interest her in affairs matrimonial. Just what was the matter with Miss Spooner was that she was a woman with a mission, and did not know exactly what that mission was. Up to the age of thirty she thought it to be to convert the heathen of China and Africa, but the returns were so uncertain that she had finally decided that she was on the wrong track. Then it dawned on her to take up the temperance question, but here she was handicapped. Old St. Pritchard was the only one in the village that got drunk, and his wife said that she would sooner have him come home drunk than sober, as he broke fewer dishes, and he delivered a brief lecture on missions, and ended by calling her an idiot. Then he walked out and went over and stole the minister's horse and buggy and drove away. Three days later Aunt Nan called on the good man to ask:

"Parson do you really believe I had a mission?"

"If you did you made a fool of it!" was his blunt reply as he thought of his first name and buggy.

A Sane Road Policy.

Under the caption, "The George M. Murray System of Provincial Highways," the Weekly Post, Sydney, says in part—

"A sane road policy is the one thing that the people of this province must have, unless we are content to be hopelessly handicapped and crippled in the march of progress. This is not simply a matter of comfort or convenience or sentiment. The public highways of the province, as a consequence of almost a generation of neglect and indifference on the part of the Murray Government, and the corrupt administration of road monies for political purposes, have been reduced to a state of such deplorable condition that our farmers are excluded from their best markets for months at a time. There are roads in the county of Cape Breton, in the vicinity of populous towns, which at certain seasons of the year are literally impassable. As a consequence, our farmers are often shut off from these centres when the very best prices are prevailing for the commodities they have to sell, and farm products are imported by boat and by rail that ought to and could be supplied by our native farmers.

"It is evident that the Murray Government either does not know that these scandalous conditions exist, or is totally indifferent to them, or is too old and feeble to exercise its full faculties and evolve a rational highway policy. If anyone thinks this is an overstatement, let him reflect on the fact that last year Mr. Murray spent $771,000 more for all than in 1907, but only $1,000 for the purpose of improving the public roads of the province.

"When the stupid highway policy of the Murray Government is criticised, and the wretched, disgraceful condition of our public roads is made matter of comment, the answer of the Murray apologists is that there is no money for this important public service. But there is more money for Mr. Murray in the shape of increases in their official salaries, and more money for the people to pay interest on the monumental public debt that Mr. Murray and his associates have created.

GOOD BLOOD AND GOOD HEALTH

is the Result Obtained When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Used.

To have good health you must have good blood. It is only when the blood is bad that the health is poor. The blood is the life-giving fluid of the body—it is therefore an absolute necessity that it should be kept free from all impurities and poisons. To do this nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These Pills make new, rich blood with every dose; they drive out every impurity—every poison—and thus give good health. Concerning this Miss Adelaide Lapointe, of St. Jerome, Quebec, says:—"For several years my health was very bad—my system was completely run down. I had indigestion almost continually; my heart was weak; I had headaches and backaches, and was sore all over. My blood was very poor and more than once I was in despair. I tried many supposed remedies but none of them helped me. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, telling me that she had found them good in a case similar to mine. I followed her advice and began taking the pills. They soon gave me some slight relief. Encouraged by this I continued their use for several months and they effected a complete cure. I am today in excellent health and always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house for if I feel a little out of sorts I take a box of Pills and am soon right again."

Thousands of young girls through out Canada suffer just as Miss Lapointe did. They are totally unable to take the enjoyment out of life that every healthy girl should. They need a tonic to build them up—to enable them to withstand the worries of household or business duties; to give them strength to enjoy social life. Such a tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The pills give blood to bloodless girls; they strengthen the nerves; banish headaches and backaches; cure indigestion, rheumatism, heart palpitation and relieve the many ills of girlhood and womanhood. Sold by all medicine dealers or direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Ushen, 2 02 1/2, trotting, was sold on Sept. 29th, to F. M. Jones, Memphis, for $15,000.

Liquor in the Parliament Buildings.

An extraordinary thing occurred in the Presbyterian Synod yesterday. A committee submitted a resolution regretting that liquor was sold in the precincts of the Houses of Parliament. Senator McGregor, of New Glasgow, took the platform and assured the Synod that to the best of his knowledge liquor was not dispensed in the Parliament building. He stated that he frequently visited the restaurant and had seen no liquor served and had no reason to believe that it was furnished in these precincts. He was certain that it was not supplied in the Senate and believed the same was true of the Commons. Such an authoritative statement made the resolution appear to be a slander, and it was withdrawn as the only course that could be taken which would not be a refusal to accept the Senator's word.

Now it is a fact that liquor has been supplied in the Parliament building regularly and openly to all who ask for it during the whole period of the Parliamentary session. It can be got and is got at all hours of the day and at any time in the night until the Houses have adjourned. It is furnished at meals to those who desire it. There is a large room adjoining where members and senators, officers of the House, reporters, or visitors who have members with them, may sit and call for liquors. When it is called for it comes. There is more or less social drinking of this kind going on every day, and every evening. It is no change either for the better or for the worse. Probably there is on the whole less drinking to excess than formerly. There is not much drunkenness, because there are not many members or senators who would get drunk at Ottawa or anywhere else. But if a member or senator desires to get drunk he has ample opportunity.

Without casting doubt on the good faith of Senator McGregor's statement, we say that not many members of either chamber are ignorant of the fact. The member of Parliament for Pictou could correct the impression of the senator from Pictou, and Mr. Macdonald is one out of nearly three hundred members of senators—many of them total abstainers—who can do so.

There is no politics in this. The parties seem to be equally responsible. The custom has prevailed from the beginning. When Senator McGregor says there is no liquor sold at the Senate end, he is correct. He knows, though most members of the Synod do not, that when last session began both the Senate and the Commons restaurants in the basement of the building, together with two institutions which elsewhere would be called bars, went out of business. The Parliament building had been enlarged and new quarters were provided at the top for eating and drinking, the Senate and the Commons jointly using the rooms for both purposes. That is the explanation which Senator McGregor did not give why last session for the first time no liquor was sold in the Senate end. But all the activities that were formerly conducted at the two places, popularly known as bars, are now carried on at the stand above. The system is probably the same as at Westminster. Perhaps it is hard to change it, but there is no virtue in concealment.—St. John Standard.

Mr. Borden.

The leader of the Opposition has arrived in Canada after a vacation in Great Britain and the Continent. It was not wholly a holiday, especially the period in the British Islands, nor Mr. Borden was called upon to speak on many occasions, and the number of interviews with him published in the journals of London and the provinces, exceeded those with any of the ministers.

Mr. Borden's course as a political leader has been followed rather closely in the Motherland. His strong campaign in favor of pure elections, against party patronage as employed without regard to public interest, in favor of conservation of the public domain, and of a non-partisan civil service, have attracted attention. It is known on both sides of the water that the existing competitive system of appointments to the inside civil service is a partial acceptance of a plank in Mr. Borden's platform of 1907; that this platform advocated rural mail delivery which also has been partially adopted; that he initiated the movement which has given the railway commission jurisdiction over several public utilities. They know him in England as a strong advocate of the management of Government railways by an independent commission. Especially they know him as they do Mr. Porter, as a strong advocate of a preferential trade system. These are other features of Mr. Borden's leadership which have made him a conspicuous Canadian on the other side of the water. If he comes to the position of Prime Minister of Canada, he will not need to be made acquainted with the other eminent statesmen of the Empire.—St. John Standard.

Under the Captions.

There was a second visit and a third. The tramp grew more mellow at every visit. He was ready to go and did promise everything asked of him, including truth, sobriety, industry, economy, ambition and excelsior. Then Aunt Nan went home and enlisted the aid of her minister in the mission. They worked for a parable but failed to get it. No one else seemed to have a spark of sympathy for a down-trodden man who wanted to climb. Then came a moral struggle in which the minister did not participate. It was all Miss Spooner's event. She wanted that tramp to get it that he might lose his time in beginning a new life.

When Miss Spooner visited the jail again she carried a couple of files with her, and they were left there. She had convinced herself that her mission was greater than the law. It took the tramp two nights to file through the bars, but on the third night as the plaster sat alone in her house with swelling heart, he entered by the back door. She was expecting him. She was to give him $10 to go far away and make a good start. He was to keep her in his hands and feet were tied, and she was helpless.

Then the tramp hummed a cheerful tune as he began to search the house, he got her jewelry again; he got $50 in money from a bureau drawer, he got her Sunday dress and her silver spoons and forks. She had some current wine down cellar, and he drank three bottles and sat down beside her and delivered a brief lecture on missions, and ended by calling her an idiot. Then he walked out and went over and stole the minister's horse and buggy and drove away. Three days later Aunt Nan called on the good man to ask:

"Parson do you really believe I had a mission?"

"If you did you made a fool of it!" was his blunt reply as he thought of his first name and buggy.

A Boon to Mothers.

WHEN CHILDREN ARE INJURED!

Children are always sustaining cuts, bruises, burns, etc., and so frequently contract ringworm, scap diseases, and similar skin troubles at school. Mothers will find Zam-Buk without equal for all these accidents and diseases.

Mrs. Thomas Allen, 156, Water Street, St. Mary's, Ont., says:—"My daughter Mildred, 1 year old, was severely burned by falling on a hot iron. She was burned on the heel, instep, and on the thigh very badly. I at once applied some Zam-Buk, which eased the pain, and in the course of a few days the wounds were thoroughly healed."

Mrs. George Aldridge, 12 Louise Street, Stratford, says:—"While playing barefooted about the yard my son Nathan, six years old, stepped on a broken glass bottle, which cut very deeply into his big toe. The cut was so deep that I sent for a doctor and had the foot properly dressed, the doctor leaving a lotion to be applied daily. Under this treatment, however, the wound seemed to get no better, but on the contrary inflammation set in. A kindly neighbor then recommended Zam-Buk. We obtained a supply, and after a few applications the child seemed to rest better, and the pain was very much reduced. In a few days, under the Zam-Buk treatment, the wound assumed a better appearance, and from that time healing was very rapid. Inflammation and soreness were finally completely banished, and in ten days from the first application of Zam-Buk, we took the bandages from the foot. I feel sure that but for Zam-Buk, the child would have had a very bad toe, and might have had to sacrifice the toe."

Not only for cuts, burns, bruises, etc., is Zam-Buk effective, but also for serious skin diseases such as eczema, ringworm, alopecia, etc. It also cures poisoned sores, chronic wounds, bad leg, piles, festering sores, chapped hands, cold sores, frost bite, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere sell at 50c. a box, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto; 3 boxes $1.25. You are warned against harmful imitations sometimes represented to be "just as good."

It's difficult to settle a case in court while the litigants have any money.

If a man has a good reputation and tries to live up to it, his neighbors are likely to consider him a hypocrite.

The Nerves Not Understood

By most people and by many doctors—Hence their treatment fails.

It is not so very many years since diseases of the nerves were attributed to the presence of evil spirits and more recently suffered from nervous degenerations have been said that they only imagine they are sick.

The very best authoritative claim as Dr. Chase, that the only way to cure diseases of the nerves is to make the blood rich, red and nutritious and to build up the wasted nerve cells by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. W. R. Richardson, St. Andrew, Man., writes: "In 1903 I was stricken with paralysis, fell helplessly to the floor and had to be carried to bed. The doctors pronounced it a bad case as I had no power in my tongue and left leg. For six months I lay in that condition without benefit from the doctors' prescriptions. My husband advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by use of this treatment all the symptoms disappeared. I can now talk plainly, my leg is all right and I can do all my own housework. It cost me a box, 8 boxes for $5.00, at all dealers or Edmondson, Haines & Co., Toronto.

Union-Reform Convention.

Mr. C. A. Campbell, M. L. A., of Port Williams, and Mr. N. W. Eaton, merchant, of Canning, were the unanimous choice of the Union Reform Convention which was held at the Court House in Kentville last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of nominating candidates to contest the county at the next general election for the local legislature in the interests of Temperance and Moral Reform. It was a charming autumn day—most favorable for any sort of farm work—and the large number of busy men who assembled gives full testimony of the deep interest in the aim to secure suitable men to represent the county in the government of the province. At the close of the nomination proceedings earnest addresses were given by the candidates, both of whom unhesitatingly accepted the task laid upon them. Addresses were also given by President Newcomb, of the Kings County Temperance Alliance; Rev. H. R. Grant, Secretary of the Provincial Alliance; Rev. P. S. MacGregor, Dr. J. Chipman, of Grand Pré, and others.

It is expected that when the general election takes place voters will play a greater part in the fight than ever before. Some 250,000 will enroll themselves as electors. They are members of the Women's Liberal Unionist and Tariff Reform Association, the Primrose League, the Women's Liberal Federation, the Women's National Liberal Association, the Women's Social and Political Union, the Women's Freedom League, and the Women's Union of Suffrage Societies. Their activities will be various. The Primrose League will work against the budget; the Women's Political Union, against the Conservatives; and the Suffragette Union against any candidate not in favor of the franchise for women. The opinion prevails that it will be the hardest-fought and most riotous election ever known in England. Thousands of members of the different women's societies are eagerly enrolled.

The public exercises in connection with the opening of the new Carnegie Science Building will be held in College Hall on Thursday, Oct. 21st, beginning at 10.30 a. m. The principal address will be delivered by Professor H. A. Bunsell, of Yale University, who has kindly accepted an invitation to be present on this occasion. It is expected that addresses will also be delivered by Lieutenant Governor Fraser, the Superintendent of Education, Principal Sexton of the Nova Scotia Technical College and others. After the exercises the speakers will be entertained at a luncheon, after which the science building will be visited, followed by a short automobile drive to interesting points in the surrounding country.

The Institution for the deaf in Halifax has reopened after the summer vacation. The school is provincial and receives a grant from the government; consequently all children throughout the province whose hearing is so defective that they cannot be successfully taught in the ordinary hearing school, are eligible for admission. Parents are only called upon to provide clothing and pay traveling expenses. Seventy five per cent. of the pupils are taught speech and lip-reading. Firmest knowledge of many children will place communicative with the Principal, Mr. J. Pearson.

The Canadian Universalist Conference will be held in the Halifax Universalist church from Wednesday evening, October 27 and 28, 1909, for the organization of the Canadian National Conference of Universalists and other religious thinkers and workers. Rev. Charles Huntington Penney, Minister of the Halifax Society, who is leading in this matter, invites correspondence with all who desire further information about the Conference or who wish any other literature.

The death of Charles S. Wilcox, M. L. A. for Hants county, occurred at the Payzant Hospital, Windsor, on Monday evening. He was fifty-six years of age and was a public man of the very highest type. His removal is a distinct loss, not only to his own county and province but to the whole Dominion. Such men we cannot afford to lose from our public life.

In the course of a speech before the Canadian Club of Vancouver, the Governor General uttered these great truths: "You can never raise a great nation when the boys, for instance, do not play fair at their games; and that woman is rendering the greatest service of all to the State, who rears the largest number of happy, healthy, righteous and God-fearing children."

Hon. W. T. Pope, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, died very suddenly in Cambridge, Mass., on Thursday afternoon of last week. He was on his return from a trip to the Pacific Coast; had called on a friend in Cambridge, complained of feeling unwell, lay down, and died almost instantly. He was fifty-nine years of age.

A merger of the car building concerns of Halifax is announced. The firms interested are the Rhodes, Curry Co., of Amherst, and the Dominion Car Co. and the Canada Car Co., of Montreal. The new company will be capitalized at ten millions.

The Reviewer.

Piety is a word in common use, and yet no word in the language is undergoing greater change and transformation than it. It comes to us from the past with associations that make it largely foreign to our modern life. It suggests loyalty to some form or formula, and outward manifestation, the assumption on the part of an individual of the possession of the qualities of sainthood.

We are more and more discovering, however, that religion is not a matter of form or phrasing. It is something not to be expressed by word of mouth or particular deed. Its reality is disclosed not in the so-called sacred act, but in the everyday performance of that which bestows benefit on the race. The day has gone when a man's piety will be accepted at its face value or the depth of his religion be measured by the distance between his chin and his brow, or the length of his coat on the Sabbath, or his professions when assembled where he can be seen and heard for his much speaking.

Words are cheap, appearances are deceptive, a good cloak may hide an evil character; things are not what they seem; always, and piety does not adequately prove. The greater the professions of piety, the greater is the doubt of others concerning its genuineness. As a result of this transformation in the public attitude, most of us to-day shun the word as one that suggests hypocrisy rather more than it expresses fact. The truest saint is frequently the one whose denial of sainthood is most strenuous.

The plea of piety as a word designating old associations and meaning is rapidly being left behind in the progress and growing sanity of the race. It is to be realized, however, that there is a practical piety which is entirely modern and absolutely essential. It is that quality in a man whereby his devotion to his highest ideal is expressed in deeds rather than in words, in contribution rather than in confession, and in the equating of this life rather than in the doctrines of another. It may never find voice in words. It may never find expression in a religious form, in long prayers in public, in hysterical exhortations and public professions and ecstasies, it may never seem anything but secular performance, but the reality of the quality is there, not because of works, not because of church doctrine, but because of its presence and sure reality.

If a man wishes to reverence God let him show it by reverencing the highest creatures that he has made. If he wishes to pay tribute to the universal ruler, let him become subservient to the dictates of the highest within himself. Let him show his piety by his attitude of reverence and respect for the divine in himself and his fellows. This is not implanted by church prelate, or organization, but by the divine ruler himself.

Worked out in terms of social relation this means the transformation of a man's life. Instead of starting from a mystical and imaginary top and thinking down, he starts at the everyday bottom and works up. His piety is not a mere cloud in the sky, but is rather a matter of substantial, concrete construction on the common earth, where we live and where we act.

It is this kind of piety that we need to-day, and we need no other. Though it is to be wisely acknowledged that the churches are doing a large good for mankind, we must nevertheless see that it is only in so far as worship finds its outlet in work and religion finds its largest expression in reality that the world is really benefited and the race uplifted.

Whoever wishes to continue to claim the word piety as expressing his own attitude and attainment, let him be fully warned. He will find that his fellows care nothing for the mere assertion, for the outward form, the solemn countenance, the facial contortion, they demand that a man produce the goods. Religion must at last take up its place with all else, producing its credentials, demonstrate its worth and standing or falling by its actual performance and products.

Humanity in this age recognizes the degree to which piety and piety may cover a multitude of sins and imperfections and insists upon making a closer examination than that afforded by the superficial surface. If a man would be considered pious and have the respect of his fellowmen, let him show his piety by the good he does, the helpfulness he shows, the gift he makes to the cause of the common welfare.

Advice from a Mother to all Other Mothers.

The young mother—the inexperienced mother—is always glad to get the advice of the more experienced in the care of her little one. Thousands of mothers have emphatically said that there is no medicine equal to Baby's Own Tablets for keeping little ones well, or restoring health if illness comes suddenly. The young mother can safely follow the lead of these others. Mrs. John S. Smith, of Georgetown, Ont., says: "I would not be a day without Baby's Own Tablets in the house. I believe they saved my youngest child's life. At the age of three months she cried all the time with indigestion. Our doctor did all he could for her, but did not seem to help her. Then I got Baby's Own Tablets and they worked a wonderful change. They seemed to tone the stomach, moved the bowels regularly, and she has ever since been a healthy child." Sold at 25 cents a box by all dealers or by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Send Rowdy Students to Jail.

THIS MAGISTRATE SAVES STUDENTS WHO ANNOY THE PUBLIC WILL GO TO JAIL.

Toronto, October 11.—In the open court to-day Magistrate Denison proclaimed himself to be the patron saint of all down-trodden, strapped, pointed and initiated freshmen whenever they come under the discipline of upper classes. "Pleasants should be put up in all colleges telling freshmen that if they come to me with their grievances and the names of upper-year men who maltreat them, I'll see that these same freshmen get their rights," said his worship. And as an earnest of his promise he assessed a fine of five dollars and costs of a fine of one dollar and costs on four students of the Ontario veterinary college, who in joy of the fight with first-year men, last week mistook an innocent spectator for a freshman and put him through the mill, following up their exploit by roughly using some policemen who interfered. The magistrate intimated that if any more students came before him for hazing people he would send them to jail without the option of a fine.

At the meeting of the Halifax Presbytery last week the matter of the call of the congregation of Montague, N. S., to Rev. David Wright, of St. Andrew's church, this town, was taken up, and the resolution was taken to take effect after the 24th inst. Rev. Henry, of Canada, was appointed to deliver the pulpit of St. Andrew's church on the 21st inst. and he was appointed interim moderator. Rev. A recent press notice says: 'Not for many years, if ever, has there been given from a public platform in Sydney, such an earnest, eloquent, and practical address, as was delivered by Mrs. Wright last evening. It was full of reliable and striking data, with interesting facts, at times pathetic, full of brightly practical thought, and devoid of even a suggestion of narrowness or fanaticism. It was the honest expression and appeal, based upon inward, heartfelt, personal convictions, of a person who had consecrated her life to the uplift of her fellow creatures.'

One of our preachers objects to Sunday remarks with reference to the North Pole topic. Too far removed from fire and brimstone.

With 250,000 women mixed up in the next and approaching election in Great Britain there ought to be an early rise in the price of shares in the artificial hair market.

As nearly as can be figured at this distance what the female suffragettes are after is the privilege to do what they please and when it pleases them; also to have anything they want at the moment they want it.

The English suffragettes who were fed with a stomach pump when in prison, refusing to take nourishment in the ordinary way, are now suing the authorities for having thus forced them to live when they wanted to die. Come to think of it, perhaps those prison folks did make a mistake.

A man called Bourassa, so the papers say, occupied a Conservative platform up in Quebec somewhere. Lemme see, where have I heard that name before?

How can those dear and interesting suffragettes hope to succeed when they refuse to get together? Here we read that while some of them had to be fed with a tube by the English jail officials, another insisted upon being spoon fed and a third wanted a feeding bottle, while the rest of the party took theirs in the orthodox way. The ladies are certainly amusing.

Iconoclastic Science tells us that the English habit of turning up the bottoms of the trousers is a sure cause of influenza. Well, what is a little thing like influenza when weighed against a great, sacred, national custom? Next time we will be told that a female who goes to College, attends the class meetings, and swings her arms and limbs like a New York alderman, is admired by gentlemen.

A new critic of Peary and Cook has been appointed in the person of that highly College educated female, Lady Blount, who maintains that there is no North Pole and that as a consequence neither of these explorers can have reached the spot in question. This lady characteristically drops into poetry on the subject for she writes 'Alas for a phantom goal and the globetrotting ladies race! Alas for earth's axial Pole, Alas it is not there.'

Lady Blount is an upholder of the flat earth theory. According to her view, if Peary and Cook went very far north they would tumble off the edge of the earth into space. In that case of course neither would be able to return and call the other a feker. We fear Lady Blount did not prove a diligent student when in her Sophomore year in College. Such an opportunity is never regained.

The Reason why We Feel Tired. The system is overloaded with poisonous waste matter. You ought to be tired when you have been working hard, for the activities of the muscles or brain cause a building down of cells, or burning up. But you are often tired when you have not been working hard and in such cases the conditions are such that the waste matter is due to the derangement of the excretory system and the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Under such circumstances you cannot possibly do better than use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for they have a direct, specific and combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, thoroughly cleansing the excretory system and restoring healthful digestion.

There is no medicine of more frequent or effective use in the family than Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for they have no equal as a cure for constipation, biliousness, liver troubles and kidney derangements. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers of Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Heart a Great Worker.

What a wonder is the heart. It pumps out blood through the body and never tires or wears out so long as it is supplied with rich, red blood such as is formed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. While sending supplies of nutrition to other parts of the body the heart receives and rebuilds its own wasted cells and so retains health and strength.

Fisherman (chaffing pensioner)—"They tell me that, Kenny, that all your old-age pension goes in drink. Kenny—No, ma, no a penny of my pension am I spendin' on the drink. Fisherman—Where do you get the money for whiskey, then? Kenny—Just from real gentlemen like yourself."

A Sensible Merchant.

Brookfield, Aug. 26, 1908. MRS. J. L. LINDMONT, LAMBERT. Dear Madam:—I have just received your letter and am glad to hear that you are getting a large quantity of my MINARD'S LINIMENT. We find this best liniment in the market, making no exception. It has been in business 13 years and has handled all kinds, but has dropped them all but yours, that sells itself, though others have to be pushed to get rid of it.

Back to the Fields.

There may be lack in church attendance, interest in the grand old teaching of the religion of the Rock of Ages may be wanting, in the towns and cities, but we feel safe in saying it is not so in the country districts. Travelling on Sunday through the rural districts of Pictou, we meet people, young and old, men and women, either going to or returning from their respective places of worship, many of them, some on foot and others in carriages, having to travel miles to do so. Back there in the country we meet on every hand every evidence of the 'simple life,' yet withal at the grand life.

Perhaps it is this fact that causes the majority, the vast majority of the residents of the towns and cities to years at times for life in the country. It is the inherent desire to get back to first principles, the great heart of mother nature. God bless the good old rural districts. 'Till happy memories they stir up. Back to the fields, back to the forests, back to the inland streams and sheets of water, those of our boyhood days.

The associations and teachings of those early days in the rural districts are the sheet anchors that keep us from drifting, helplessly from the path of truth. Let us cherish them.—New Glasgow Reporter.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay. Grantville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me. It has restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what a wonderful medicine it is. It is a direct request for the person's acquaintance, and these cards are quite important with announcements. It is enough that the card should just mention the 'at home' date with the address. There are very few changes in announcement cards, and those who care for the most elaborate choose a kind wherein the recipient's name is written, as in some wedding invitations. They are sent out the same as cards with two envelopes. stamped to be mailed right after the ceremony, and it is a decided mistake to delay in doing this.

Stomach troubles would most quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, comes into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these 'inside nerves' fail, then the organs must fail. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by A. V. Rand.

Care of New Trees.

Many beginners who plant trees and shrubbery are somewhat disappointed that the trees do not immediately go to growing. It generally takes trees and shrubbery one season to fully recover from transplanting. No matter how carefully the work is done, there will always be a loss of roots, from which the tree must recover before much growth is made.

If the trees come out in leaf and seem to hold their own pretty well, it is about all you can expect the first season. Some of the shoots and first branches of newly-planted trees die, while the roots will come out nicely. Dead shoots should be all cut off. Use a sharp knife and cut close back to the green wood.

When fall comes heap earth several inches high around the base of each tree and tramp it down very hard. This keeps the tree from working loose during the winter season. Many trees die the first winter from neglect of this precaution. Of course, we need hardly add that the first business the following season is to remove these mounds and restore the ground around the tree to its former condition. The mounds are hardly necessary the second winter, as the trees are generally sufficiently established to get along without it.

Go to the blood, if you are to drive out Rheumatism. A Wisconsin physician, Dr. Shoop, does this with his Rheumatic Remedy and with seeming success. His own says the doctor never did cure Rheumatism. It is more than skin deep—it is constitutional, always. Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy is perhaps the most popular in existence. It goes by word of mouth from one to another, everywhere. Greatful patients gladly spread results. It is an act of humanity, to tell the sick of a way to health. Tell some sick one. Sold by A. V. Rand.

The Country Weekly.

As definite an excuse for being in the world as can be furnished by the city dailies. Such a publication is not only a business guide, but is a pulpit of morals; it is a kind of a public rostrum where the affairs of its immediate vicinity and the country at large are considered; it is a supervisor of streets and roads; it is a social friend, a promoter of friendship and good will. When edited by a broad and just man such a publication also treats the different sects so that they realize their brotherhood and become in reality what they are pictured in print. The town weekly dare not be Episcopalian, Methodist or Presbyterian, but it must select the valuable in each church, and thus it becomes the harmonizer of discord. It binds those whom theology would often separate. Even the so-called small matters of a village or town are small only to those whose hearts are too full of personal interest. It is very important if some school boy reads a good essay, or speaks well a piece, or sings well a song, or stands high in the class room, that mention should be made publicly of that kind of success, for more young minds are injured for the want of cheering words than are made vain by an excess of such praise.

The wholesome, harmless green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountain shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Tickling or dry bronchial coughs quickly and safely yield to this highly effective cough medicine. Dr. Shoop assumes that those that can with safety give it to even very young babies. No opium, no chloroform—absolutely nothing harsh or harmful. It calms the distressing cough, and heals the sensitive membranes. Accept no other. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Sold by A. V. Rand.

The Saxby Gale.

The recent high tides have reminded the older residents of the occurrence of the famous Saxby gale with its tide of unparalleled height. The great storm took place on the night of Monday, Oct. 4, 1869, and did not abate until the following day. It was predicted ten months before its occurrence by Lieut. Saxby of the British Navy, who repeated his warning a few weeks before the storm happened. Many seafaring men heeded the caution and remained in port, while others scoffed at the idea and sailed boldly forth. The storm arrived promptly on the date foretold, and it left terrible destruction in its wake. The night was one of inky blackness, the wind blew with hurricane force, the tide rose to unheard of height while the waves played havoc on the water front. Houses were blown down. At sea many a staunch ship's company went to their doom. The property loss was reckoned in the millions. 'The Saxby Gale' was used as a date of comparison for many years and is still recalled by elderly people on the occasion of any unusually high tide or wind.

Hotel Clerk—Just sign your name please. The other guests would like to register. "Don't you hurry me, young man. I don't sign nothin' that I ain't read carefully."

Wedding Etiquette.

Girls who are married quietly should be sure to send out many announcements cards to their friends, and to say that these announcements should be scattered broadcast is none too strong. It is much better to err on the side of commission than omission. The inclosure of an 'at home' card is a direct request for the person's acquaintance, and these cards are quite important with announcements. It is enough that the card should just mention the 'at home' date with the address. Fifteen Years of Agony

"Fruit-a-lives" Promptly Cured Him After Doctors Had Failed To Give Relief.

CHARLES BARRITT, Esq. Harbor au Bouche, Antigonish Co., N.S., March 24, 1909. "I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the great benefit received from taking 'Fruit-a-lives.' I suffered from Biliousness and Dyspepsia for fifteen years suffering, and I am willing to take many kinds of ordinary medicine, but got no relief. I was in miserable health all the time and nothing did me any good. I read the testimonial of Archibald McCochie, of Ontario, and I decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' I have taken a number of boxes of 'Fruit-a-lives' but before I had taken one box I felt better and now am entirely well.
