WOLFFVILLE SCHOOLS

Now in Full Swing and Doing Good Work—Attendance Large and Will Require Addition to Teaching Staff

The Wolffville public schools, which began the work of the present year on Sept. 5th, are now making satisfactory progress. The teaching staff is as follows:

Principal—B. C. Silver
Vice-Principal—Miss Elizabeth McWhinnie

Preparatory School—Miss Mabel Welsh
Grades 6 and 7—Miss Edna Power
Grade 5—Mrs. Evelyn Everett
Grade 4—Miss Gladys West
Grade 3—Miss Gladys Newcombe
Grade 2—Miss Susie Baxter
Grade 1a—Miss Muriel Haley
Grade 1b—Mrs. Davison

During the summer vacation Principal Silver and Miss Haley took special courses of study at Columbia University, New York, and made excellent records. Mr. Silver specialized in Chemistry and Spanish, making 99 in chemistry finals and second place in a class of 89; while Miss Haley specialized in Kindergarten work and obtained all the modern ideas. Miss Newcombe, the new member of the staff this year, comes from Bridgetown school with splendid recommendations. Besides conducting herself with the school she has also been appointed organist of the Baptist church.

The registered attendance at the opening of the school was as follows:

High School	76
Preparatory School	30
Grades 6 and 7	66
Grade 5	39
Grade 4	39
Grade 3	46
Grade 2	54
Grade 1a	46
Grade 1b	25

Making a total registration of 421 which is most commendable.

Owing to the congestion in Grades 6 and 7, as will be noticed from the above figures, another new teacher will be added to the staff in the course of a few weeks.

In their leisure time the children are kept busy with all kinds of games under the direction of the Principal and the Boy's Athletic Club. Since the baseball season is ended the boys are beginning to play football in which they will do little on account of their being lighter in weight than usual. In a game of baseball played with the Hantsport High School on Saturday the Wolffville boys won by a score of 20 to 7. The Principal and Boy's Athletic Club have asked THE ACADIAN to extend their thanks to those who supplied cars to take them to Hantsport for the game, and also to Mr. Oliver Smiley who umpired the game.

It is hoped that some provision may be made so that outdoor basketball may be played on the school grounds. At present the testers and swings are in constant use showing how much they are appreciated.

THE THREE COUNTIES EXHIBITION

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN

Dear Mr. Editor—Will you allow me space to draw to your readers' attention the fact that Annapolis Royal is holding the Three Counties Exhibition during the coming week, commencing Wednesday, October 4th. The Barnjum Arena has been procured for the purpose, one of the finest buildings of its kind in the province. A large tent will also be erected to cover the Stock Exhibit in case of bad weather.

Without doubt, the Fair will show the finest Fruit and Vegetable display ever exhibited in this province. Special musical attractions are also promised. The Annapolis Royal Concert Band will give afternoon and evening concerts on the opening day (Wednesday), the Yarmouth Concert Band will be in attendance on Thursday, and the Windsor Concert Band on Friday. The railway management are offering Special Fare days from the West on Thursday, and the East on Friday, with trains returning on the evenings named.

Altogether, all is being done to make a visit to our old town an enjoyable one during the Exhibition period, and we hope many will take advantage of these special inducements and see Annapolis Royal rebuilt since the fire of last September.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
Yours very truly,
Claude C. King
Mayor.

One of the pleasing incidents connected with the recent Convention at Wolffville was the recital of sacred music given in the Chapel of Acadia's Ladies' Seminary on Sunday evening after the Convention had closed, when a well-filled room listened with much interest to Miss Marie Wilson, assisted by Miss Rockwell at the piano, as they rendered a program of rich sacred music. Miss Wilson is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Wilson, and is a very gifted singer. Her rich natural gift has been highly trained so that nature and art blend in her work. The recital closed with singing two hymns in which the congregation joined.—Maritime Baptist.

GREENWICH NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. Lilla Forsythe returned home last Tuesday from a visit of a few weeks at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lealie, Dartmouth.

An interesting event took place on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Emma Harvey, when her daughter, Miss Mary Harvey was united in marriage to Conductor Maurice Williams of Halifax, and who is an employee of the D. A. R. Immediately after the wedding the "Newly-weds" left on the 3:15 express for their home in Halifax. A number of the residents gathered at the station to give them a "send-off".

Mrs. Hatt, of Chester, is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Schofield.

Mrs. J. Kaye and daughter Phyllis, of Jamaica Plains, Mass., who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pearson the past two weeks, left on Friday morning to return home.

Miss Miner—nurse—visited her friend Mrs. G. L. Bishop a few days last week.

The annual Exhibition of the schools, White Rock, Greenwich, Port Williams, Church Street and Town Plot, was held at Citizens Hall, Port Williams, last Friday afternoon and evening and proved to be another success in every way. Our schools as usual carried off a good number of the prizes and our committee did good work. The school Exhibition, with its various lines, is a most worthy undertaking and a great help to all school pupils and we wish still further good success to all who are helping. We understand that the usual supper in connection was held in another building nearby this year, thus giving more room in the hall.

Miss Piper, our school-teacher, spent the week-end with friends in Kentville. Miss Bessie Fraser spent the week-end in Wolffville, with friends.

Miss Joyce Harvey, who is one of the teachers of the Kentville school staff, spent the week-end in Kingsport, with her aunt, Mrs. Ceryl Hiltz.

Mrs. Lovitt Bishop, of North Kingston, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bishop.

Miss Jennie Inor, of Canaan, is boarding with her sister, Mrs. Edward Hennigar and taking a course of study at Acadia Seminary, Wolffville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arbuckle, of Boston, Mass., have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Borden, also at Mrs. Arbuckle's (nee Miss Edith Reid) father's home in Aylesford.

We understand Mrs. Emma Harvey has sold her property here, consisting of dwelling house and store, to Mr. and Mrs. John Fenwick, who have been in charge the last year of the boarding house at the Power Plant and Pulp Mill, at White Rock. Also we understand Mrs. Harvey and son will move to Windsor, where the former will locate in business.

What about the plan for new skating rink for this place that we heard talked of among the young people last winter?

PLEASANT SOCIAL GATHERING

The ladies of the I. O. D. E. scored another success last Friday evening when an enjoyable card-party and corn-bowl was held under their auspices at the commodious and hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Graham Whidden, which was freely thrown open for the purpose. Over fifty ladies and gentlemen from Wolffville and Kentville were present and a most pleasant social evening was spent, while a snug little sum was realized to augment the funds of Sir Robert Borden Chapter. Although not known by the guests until after their arrival the occasion also celebrated the birthday of Mr. Whidden who received hearty congratulations and best wishes

ACADIA UNIVERSITY OPENS

With Largest Freshman Class in Its History

Acadia University opened on Wednesday with a large attendance. The Freshman class is the largest in the history of the college, there being about 100 enrolled, and the other classes also have a good number registered. Classes commenced yesterday and the students are gradually settling down to their studies. There are three new professors on the staff this year. Norman MacLeod Rogers, B. A., B. Litt., B. C. L., Rhodes scholar, has been appointed instructor in History. R. P. Bowen, Ph. D., formerly of Syracuse University, takes the chair of French. Dr. W. N. Hutchins has succeeded Dr. A. C. Chute on the Theological faculty.

Previous to the opening of the College the Acadia Y. M. C. A. held its annual Fall Camp at Evangeline Beach, the purpose of this camp being to greet the returning and welcome the new students, stir up enthusiasm and have a general good time together before settling down to hard work. A goodly number of the students took advantage of this outing and the camp was a great success. The mornings were given up to hikes to nearby points of interest, the afternoons to football, baseball and track sports, and the evenings to corn-boils, clam-bakes, etc.

To terminate the round of social events an entertainment was staged in the recreation hall at the Beach on Monday evening. Wolffville talent kindly lent their aid, and contributed greatly toward the success of the evening's entertainment.

"REPUTATION"

Will be Shown at the Wolffville Opera House Oct. 9th and 10th

"Reputation" was filmed at Universal City under the direction of Stuart Paton. It is based on "False Colors", the sensational novel by Edwin Levin. The screen adaptation was by Lucien Hubbard. Universal scenario editor, in collaboration with Doris Schroeder.

Playing a dual role, that of mother and daughter, the star takes every hurdle on the emotional steeplechase and brings the story to a climax that has never been approached for sheer power and soul-stirring effect. The theme revolves around the fantastic pivot of a girl impersonating her mother, a famous actress; appearing in her stead at the opening of a famous Broadway production and being an unconscious witness of the culmination of her mother's life tragedy, the end of an amazing series of sordid and picturesque adventures along the red lane of unrestrained desire.

Niles Welch, Madge Hunt, Rex de Roselli, Spottiswoode Aitken, William Welsh, Harry Carter, Harry Van Meter, Mae Girard, Al Garcia, James McLaughlin, Kathleen Myers, Joey McCreery and many other accomplished artists play the principal roles in the supporting cast.

Gorgeous spectacles and magnificent scenes follow each other in rapid succession, alternating with humble and sordid backgrounds to give the story its striking contrasts. Scenes behind the footlights, a performance of a big dramatic success in a Broadway playhouse and a series of incidents which range from episodes in a small town orphanage, to a Babylonian feast in a London palace provide constant surprises in every reel.

TOWN COUNCIL

Holds Special Meeting and Discusses Street Lighting—No Action at Present

There was a special meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening at which all the Councilors were present, the Mayor being out of town and necessarily absent.

No notice having been given THE ACADIAN there was no representative of the paper in attendance, but we learn that in addition to a number of matters of routine concerning civic finances the chief business before the meeting was the discussion of the Street Committee's report regarding an improvement in the street lighting service, advocated by THE ACADIAN last week. Chairman Young in his report went very thoroughly into the question of street lighting and made a number of recommendations which were considered by the council. One of these proposed a considerable addition to the lights on Main street on a separate switch to be used when necessary required. The report referred to the fact that when the business places are closed the street is very dark and presents a forlorn and gloomy appearance. It was proposed to place a good light on every pole through the business section. The recommendation provided for ten additional lights on Main street, one on Acadia street, one on Prospect street, four on Pleasant street, one on Locust avenue, four on Gaspereau avenue, one on Elm avenue, one on Highland avenue and one on Earncliffe avenue. In some instances these lights would be placed in position at the junction of two streets so as to improve the service of both. Considerable discussion ensued and the matter was finally laid over until another meeting for settlement.

HIGH SCHOOL RUGBY LEAGUE

The annual meeting of the Herald and Mail Nova Scotia High School Rugby League was held at Halifax last Saturday, Acadia Collegiate Academy being represented by Messrs. Corkum and Johnson. Rev. W. W. Judd, of Kings Collegiate School, Windsor, was unanimously re-elected president, and Acadia's representatives on the Advisory Board are Dr. W. L. Archibald and Mr. Johnson.

At last season, it was decided to have senior and junior leagues, with an age limit of 18 in the latter named. In the junior league there are four teams, Acadia, Kings, Halifax County Academy and Bloomfield High School, Halifax. Acadia, New Glasgow High School, Pictou Academy and St. F. X. will play in the senior league. A schedule was drawn up for the junior league, Acadia will play Kings at Windsor on Saturday, and here a week from Saturday.

CLINIC ITEMS

In relation to child welfare, slides will be shown at Clinic Room, Weaver Block, Kentville, Friday, Oct. 6th, commencing 3 p. m.

The new schemes afoot, from which we hope so much, are to be successful, that important factor in the whole matter, the mother, must be the first consideration. The mother does not exist for the municipality, the medical profession, or the nurse; they exist for her, and they must remember it.—Maternity and Child Welfare.

Damage estimated at a million dollars was caused by a hurricane which swept the island of Bermuda on Sept. 21st.

TO SPEAK AT ARMISTICE LUNCHEON

Admiral Sims will be the principal speaker at the special armistice Luncheon to be given by the Canadian Club in Montreal on November 10th. Admiral Sims and Mrs. Sims will be the guests of Sir Arthur and Lady Currie during their two or three days stay in Montreal.

DEATH'S HARVEST

The passing of a promising young life—always an event of peculiar sadness—was particularly so in the case of the death of Miss Geva B. Davidson, which took place on Sunday evening last. Eleven years ago at the age of fourteen, the deceased came to Wolffville from Moncton, N. B., on the death of her parents, to make her home with her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Vaughn. Of a bright spirit and an attractive personality she was popular with young and old and made many friends. Two years ago she graduated from the business department of Acadia Seminary and went to Boston where a sister resides and where she secured a good position.

Never of a robust constitution her health failed during the following summer and she went to the State Sanatorium at Rutland, Mass., to recuperate. In view of her condition which gradually became more serious she pined for the old home and on Saturday, Sept. 9th, she arrived in Wolffville, in charge of a nurse. Kind friends and relatives ministered to her every wish, all without avail, and in spite of a gallant fight the brave spirit faded and she passed away.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon. The service, which was held at the Baptist church, was conducted by Rev. Dr. MacDonald, a simple and comforting address being given by Rev. G. W. Miller. Miss Evelyn Duncanson sang feelingly "Does Jesus Care?" and appropriate hymns were sung by the choir. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, mute tributes of love and sympathy. The interment was in the old cemetery beside her father and mother at Gaspereau, the pall-bearers being Messrs. Fred Bishop, Richard Whitman, Harlan and Waldo Davidson.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

On the rare occasions when an entire city is destroyed by fire, the whole continent is aroused by the disaster, but losses of equal magnitude are incurred as the result of the daily succession of smaller blazes in many different places without attracting more than passing attention. It is only when the losses are totalled that they appear sufficiently impressive to demand public attention, although the total value of property destroyed by fire in Canada each year is great enough to constitute a heavy drain upon the prosperity of the country. The waste is appalling, and the more so because so much of it is inexcusable. Carelessness is blamed for eighty-five per cent of the fires, and carelessness on that scale should be classed as criminal. It is seldom that the careless person is the one who loses the most by the fire he or she has caused; the loss falls more frequently upon those who are not to blame. And even though direct losses by fire may not be incurred, every one who pays for fire insurance is levied upon as the result of the carelessness of others. The insurance rates must be fixed in proportion to the fire hazard, and the greatest single element in that hazard is carelessness.

In order to impress upon the people of Canada the seriousness of the annual losses occasioned by fire, the possibility of preventing the greater part of that loss and the methods by which prevention may be made effective, it has been the custom in recent years to set apart an occasion as Fire Prevention Day, and this year October 9 has been so designated by Royal Proclamation. On that day special efforts will be made throughout the Dominion to disseminate as widely as possible information relating to the subject in order that, through the education of the individual, the loss to the people as a whole may be reduced.—St. John Telegraph.

Large Audience Thoroughly Enjoyed Boston Symphony Ensemble

That the people of Wolffville and vicinity appreciate good music was clearly evidenced by the large number who attended the concert given by the Boston Symphony Ensemble, at the Baptist Church on Thursday evening of last week. It was the best musical entertainment ever given in Wolffville, and Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, of the Acadia Conservatory of Music, is to be congratulated on his bringing such an aggregation to this town. Every one of the party of twelve musicians, conducted by Augusto Vannini, was a master of his instrument, and all the numbers of the program were most artistically rendered. The pleasure of the audience was indicated by the loud and prolonged applause that followed each selection, and five encores were played in addition to the eight numbers on the program. The program was as follows:

1. Overture "Mignon" Thomas
 2. (a) Babillage Gillet
(b) Love's dream after the ball, Czibulka (strings only)
 3. Fantasia "Faust" Gounod
 4. Ballet suite "Sylvia" Delibes
(a) valse lente
(b) pizzicato
(c) processional march
- Intermission
5. Overture "William Tell" Rossini
 6. Reve Angelique Rubinstein
 7. Andante Cantabile Tchaikowsky (strings only)
 8. Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 Liszt

THE TORONTO EXHIBITION

The following interesting description of the Toronto Exhibition is taken from a letter which Mrs. M. P. Freeman recently received from her daughter, Mrs. Pancott: "Well the Exhibition is over for another year, and it has been delightful. Yesterday was the last day and you should have seen the crowds!

On Labor Day the place was thronged, but all were good natured and jolly, and the police and fire-men had no trouble to keep order.

"Young Canada" Day was given over to the children. The entrance fee was five cents for them, and everything saleable at the same price—to children only. It was a sight to see them. A special playground is set apart for them, with swings, slides, merry-go-rounds, and an emergency hospital with nurses in attendance. A tent for lost children was also provided.

The Horticultural Building was splendid with its show of fruit and flowers. The "Pure Food" building is new, large and handsome, all open in the centre with a fountain of running water, suitable for drinking. The booths opened on this court-yard, with stone seats placed at intervals.

There was music, music every where. From the music building large wide megaphones were placed over the doors sending the music to a great distance. On the band-stands, through the Exhibition different bands were constantly playing.

One of the new buildings this year was the Radio car for the music and speeches all over the grounds. This attracted crowds.

The million dollar Coliseum was also new, and so beautiful and artistic that words fail to describe it.

Flower beds every where all aglow making the grounds a scene of enchantment even after the exhibition is over.

The attendance up to yesterday was one million, two hundred and thirty seven thousand, a record-breaking number with thousands of the last day added to it.

The work shown as done by the returned soldiers and some of them blind, was beautiful. Lovely fancy work, dolls, wood-carving, and even a silver tea-set on a large silver tray.

The Exhibition Park covers 300 acres and a hundred more is asked for, as the visitors increase every year.

GASPEREAU ITEMS

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Caldwell on the birth of a daughter at Miss Wood's Hospital, Port Williams.

Miss Lily Payzant, of Kentville, spent the week-end with Mrs. P. J. Gertridge. Miss Lillian Bennett has been visiting friends in Milton the past week. Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Bennett and Mr. George Bennett motored to Milton on Tuesday of this week to spend a few days there.

Mr. William Millett left on Monday of this week for Toronto.

The Women's Institute met with Mrs. Margaret Davison at Kentville on Thursday of last week. A goodly number were present. After the business was transacted refreshments were served.

An ice-cream social was held in the Division Hall on Monday evening. The sum of $25.00 or thereabouts was realized.

The mid-week service of the Baptist church last week was in nature of a farewell to Rev. S. Freeman and wife, who depart soon for the mission field in India.

THE COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES

The approaching elections for Municipal Councilors remind us of the grievous injustice in the matter of representation which obtains in this good old county of Kings. Our reference to the matter is with the hope that measures may be taken for its correction rather than with a desire to "knock" existing institutions. The municipal council which governs the affairs of this county, is made up of representatives from the various wards, fourteen in number. An exception is made in Wards 1 and 6, each of which sends two representatives to the Council board. In the case of Ward 1 there appears to be no valid reason for the increased representation and no apparent justification. Ward 6 formerly included what is now the incorporated town of Kentville and the shiretown of the county. Out of regard for this the additional Councilor might perhaps be reasonably accounted for, but since Kentville many years ago became a municipality on its own account there is evidently no good reason for continuing the additional representation which means extra cost to the county and gives the ward an advantage to which it is no longer entitled.

Meantime the towns of Kentville and Wolfville have no voice whatever in the transaction of the affairs of the municipality, although together they contribute in the vicinity of one-fifth of the total revenue for many of the departments of expense. This taxation without representation is contrary to the spirit of responsible government and should not be expected to continue indefinitely. A suitable representative from each of these towns in the council of the municipality would promote a better understanding and tend to the advantage of county conditions in which we are naturally all interested. Great bodies move slowly and it is high time that a movement was set in operation to correct a wrong that must be apparent to any observer of public affairs.

OUR PORT WILLIAMS SECTION

One of the most progressive and prosperous sections in Kings county at the present time is Port Williams and the district surrounding. The community is one of beautiful homes, with all the conveniences of modern life, and evidences of thrift and comfort on every hand. During recent years wonderful advancement has been made and today the village possesses most of the advantages which much larger towns enjoy. Electric lighting, an abundant water-supply, good telephone service, banking privileges, good stores, a neat little bakery, barber shop, garage, an up-to-date millinery establishment, ice cream parlor, etc., are some of the advantages which the people of Port Williams enjoy, while a big barrel-making establishment and other industries afford plenty of employment for working men. The village is in the midst of a fine fruit growing district and is a busy centre for business.

In order to supply the one apparent present need and afford a channel for proper publicity, THE ACADIAN, beginning this issue, will devote one page each week to the affairs of this enterprising locality. We have secured the services of a competent correspondent who will provide each week an interesting and faithful record of the news of the community and the co-operation of residents is solicited. From time to time articles of local interest will appear and in every way in its power THE ACADIAN will endeavor to promote the general well being of the community and its institutions. The business men of the place are assisting very materially in making the venture possible and in patronizing the Port Williams ACADIAN are rendering a public service which we feel sure will be duly appreciated by their fellow citizens.

TOWNS SHOULD SHARE MOTOR TAX

The province of British Columbia is much more generous in its treatment of the towns located within its borders than Nova Scotia. For some years past there has been universal complaint in this province that the taxation of motor vehicles is monopolized by the legislature to the loss of the town treasuries. Properly these cars should be taxed as personal property and included in the assessment roll of the district in which they are owned. While the same method of collecting the tax obtains in British Columbia the government of that province is now laying aside a portion of the total amount collected and proportioning it among the towns of the province. The town of Summerland, which is about the same size as Wolfville, recently received a cheque from the treasurer of that province for $934.11 as its share of the motor taxes collected by the provincial government during the fiscal year 1921. Wolfville, in common with other towns of the province, receives no such allotment from the provincial treasury although its citizens are generous contributors to the tax. In addition to this we pay a considerable amount into the provincial highway tax and are building and maintaining the trunk road of the province through the entire length of the town at our own expense without any assistance from the provincial treasury. In view of this the recent request from the towns for provincial assistance in the up-keep of their highways appears to be in order.

TOP DRESSING OF HAY LANDS

One of the debated questions in agriculture is whether or not it pays to hold over stable manure from the spring until the late summer for application to hay lands. It is a question that involves too many factors and circumstances to settle with a dogmatic assertion.

A large factor lies in the preservation of the manure. Chemical investigation has proven that manure held over throughout the warm months of summer may lose one-half of its fertilizing value, if carelessly stored. Gases are given off which contain valuable ingredients, especially ammonia, in large quantities. A very considerable amount of this can be prevented by compacting the manure and covering it with loam, swamp muck, or other similar material.

Every farmer knows that when he top-dresses a meadow in summer or early fall, he gets a much heavier crop of hay off it the following year. It is fairly well agreed that if manure is available, the practice has a good deal to commend it, especially if the top-dressing is applied to fields which already have a fairly heavy stand of grass. It emphatically does not pay when the stand of grass is poor.

On the other hand, if the farmer consumes most of his manure top-dressing hay fields and does not save ample for the growing of hoed crops such as potatoes, turnips, etc., his real production will be lower than if he had saved most of his manure for these. Scientific experiment and practical research have shown that these will give the biggest returns in food value for a given amount of manure.

Many of the best farmers, having applied the great bulk of their stable manure on hoed crops still wish to top-dress hay fields and ask: Does it pay to apply a commercial fertilizer, and if so, what should be applied, and when. This question has been fairly well tested out at the Agricultural College, Truro. There it has been proven that 500 pounds per acre of a good quality of basic slag, applied during the early fall to hay fields which were cutting about a ton and a half per acre, increased the yield to nearly an additional ton. This is good business—to get practically a ton of hay for an outlay of six or seven dollars for fertilizer and one year would not exhaust the benefits of the slag. Accrued tests have not been made with fertilizer which might be used as substitutes for basic slag. However, there is a good deal of evidence that a corresponding application of acid phosphate will give as good or even better results. On the richer classes of soil, which, however do not exist to any great extent, bone meal has given excellent results, although it has failed to do so on the College farm.

Sometimes a farmer may have a bag or two of potato phosphate, acid phosphate, or basic slag left over from his spring supply. In this case it is strongly recommended that any of these be applied as soon as the hay crop is removed, at a rate of 400 lbs. per acre and upwards, according to the quality of the fertilizer.

BY-PRODUCTS OF A COLLECTING CAMPAIGN

A recent experience in collecting funds for a good cause afforded such a number of sensations as to suggest the idea of writing about this phase of an undertaking which is generally detested and considered "thankless".
 The field was the scattered, rural community of Greenwich and Greenwich Ridge, and the "cause" that of the Halifax School for the Blind.
 The distance between the houses being considerable, a spirit of buoyancy and hopefulness bred by the fresh air and exercise kept one feeling "fit" for the task and helped one to think up "speeches" on the subject to be delivered to those who should open the doors.
 The courage, however, that upheld one in the open road gave place to chills and sinking sensations as the feet touched some unaccustomed garden path; and the collector's wits would fly "in all directions" as the echoes of the bell or knocker sounded through a hall where one had not entered in a long time—perhaps not since the last "Campaign".
 Thoughts of neighborly duties neglected and of desired friendships still uncultivated, added to the shame of having to ask for money, made one feel like walking very softly and speaking in a very small voice. But when the door opened and the hearty smile of welcome dispelled such thoughts of fear and shrinking, one's set "speech" all forgotten it was easy to tell the needs of the cause in the ear of the large hearted and sympathetic listener.
 While the house-holder or his wife brought the money they were so willing to give, the collector had the pleasure of seeing the newest baby or of talking with the oldest inhabitant. Time was taken for the friendly chat that let one into the kindly atmosphere of homes where it would be good to call more often.
 And how the sum of gifts increased! With increasing zest and pleasure the lengthening line of figures was added again and again. A ten dollar cheque was received with almost a bound of enthusiasm, while numerous fives, twos, ones, halves, and quarters kept one's rusty arithmetical wits scrambling for proven results, until one's mind became a lively place filled with pictures of pleasant faces and acrobatic numerals.
 At last tired but happy, the last of forty-six houses visited, and the last dollar added in, the collector proud of her community and many times convinced of the goodness of all the people, had only to seek the office of the Banker who was to forward the funds, which amounted to $78.00, besides five cents given for postage.
 The school for the Blind had gained a goodly sum for its beneficent purposes, but the collector had gained what no money can buy—gift edged assurances representing human values.
 And so, dear ACADIAN, if among your readers there is a pessimist who thinks that all the best people are dead, let him cure his malady by thus taking part in the next "Campaign".

TRIBUTE TO ACADIA'S NEW PRESIDENT

Western Baptist Union's Tribute to Rev. Dr. F. W. Patterson's Work in the West

The resignation of Rev. F. W. Patterson, D. D., as executive secretary of the Baptist Union of Western Canada was accepted with many regrets at a meeting of the executive board in the Confederation Life building yesterday. Dr. Patterson tendered his resignation to accept the presidency of the Acadia University, Nova Scotia.
 Dr. Patterson's letter, which was read at the meeting, said in part:
 "I should like to assure you, however, that this step is not taken because of any dissatisfaction with the conditions under which my present work is being done. On January 31 next I shall have given 23 years of my life to Western Canada and four years to the executive work of the Baptist Union. The work of the west in all its departments has become a part of myself and I find it difficult to think of myself elsewhere. My association with the members of the Board and with the Baptist Union as a whole has been such as to enrich my life in many ways that I cannot forget. I have rejoiced in the privilege of giving such as I have had to western Canada. Yet I realize that greater than any contribution that I may have been able to make to the work here is my indebtedness to the west as a whole, and especially to those with whom I have been privileged to have intimate fellowship in thought and service. If in any way I am able to render a worth-while service elsewhere, it will be because of the fellowship I have enjoyed here.
 "I need say nothing in regard to my continued interest in the work represented by the Baptist Union and of my desire to continue to serve it as best I can. I hope those who know me will take this for granted."
 In accepting Dr. Patterson's resignation the Executive Board passed the following resolution:
 "That in accepting the resignation of Dr. F. W. Patterson, we place on record our warm appreciation of the services he has rendered to the religious life of the west, and particularly to that of his own denomination. His unremitting energy, his wide and accurate knowledge, his courage in debate and his wisdom in council, have been matched only by his charming affability and Christian courtesy. The executive board unreservedly congratulate him on his appointment to a position so fraught with opportunity and responsibility, and have all confidence that he will adorn the office with dignity and grace. Their best wish is that he may be able to do as great a work in the Maritime Provinces as he has accomplished in Western Canada.—Manitoba Free Press.

MRS. F. M. CHUTE

Waterville, N. S., Sept. 8.—One of Waterville's most respected citizens passed away yesterday evening at five o'clock in the person of Mrs. Laura Chute, wife of Mr. F. M. Chute, one of our most prominent business men.
 Mrs. Chute was 62 years of age, and six years ago suffered a stroke of apoplexy. About two years ago she suffered a second stroke while in Florida. Recently Mrs. Chute's health had seemed to improve and she was reported much better. However, on Wednesday morning she suffered a third stroke and passed peacefully away last evening.
 The deceased was the daughter of the late Samuel Balcom, of Lawrencetown, and besides her husband is survived by one son, Earl, of Waterville, and three daughters, May, teacher of Domestic Science at MacDonald College, Quebec, Hattie, attending the Academy at Truro, and Winnie, who graduated last year from Acadia and who is at home.

Mrs. Chute was an estimable woman, beloved and respected by all who knew her. She was a life long member of the Baptist church.

Rural Route No. 1, Mascouche, Quebec. The Minard's Liniment People.
 Sirs—I feel that I should be doing a wrong if I neglected to write you. I have had four tumors growing on my head for years. I had them cut off by a surgeon about fifteen years ago but they grew again till about three months ago I had one as large and shaped like a lady's thimble, on the very place where my hair should be parted, and it was getting so embarrassing in public that it was a constant worry to me. About three months ago I got a bottle of your liniment for another purpose and saw on the label good for tumors. Well I tried it and kept it for exactly two months, with the result that it has entirely removed all trace of the tumor, and were it not that they had been cut fifteen years ago, no mark would be seen. I have not been asked for this testimonial and you can use it as you see fit.

 P. S.—I am a farmer and intend using Minard's Liniment on a mare for a strained tendon, and am hoping for some results.

FAREWELL AND PRESENTATION

On Friday evening last week the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's Church held a reception in Parish Hall in honor of Mrs. H. E. Flick, who is soon to return to Halifax to reside. The hall was cosily and attractively arranged for the occasion and the affair proved a most enjoyable one in every respect. Games of various kinds were indulged in and dainty refreshments were served. During her residence of some years in Wolfville Mrs. Flick has made herself deservedly popular and has been ever ready to help in any of the activities of the congregation of St. John's, and as a mark of appreciation and esteem she was presented with a handsome Indian hand wrought brass trinket box with enamel top. The presentation was gracefully made by Mrs. Black and fittingly acknowledged by the recipient.

Another instance of the long-keeping qualities of Annapolis Valley apples was illustrated to us the other day by Mr. J. N. Whitman, of this town, who brought to our office a number of "Ontarios" in a splendid state of preservation, and on tasting them we found the flavor still good. The "Ontario" is not regarded as a long keeping apple, being at its best about mid-winter, but under favorable conditions Mr. Whitman has demonstrated the possibility of keeping them until the new harvest is in process of gathering.

WHAT ELECTRIC LAMP DID

(From the Boston Herald) Great preparations are being made in New York city for the celebration this month of the 40th anniversary of the opening there of the first electric lighting station. Like the isolated stations which preceded it, the new venture was made possible by Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp, and the story of that advance is indissolubly bound up with its subsequent developments. For months, it will be remembered, the scientists had predicted that it would be impossible to use electricity for lighting purposes: it would have to be passed through a thin filament of metal and no such filament could be made incandescent without melting. So confident were the experts that W. H. Preece, a distinguished British electrician, voiced their opinion to the effect that "all efforts in that direction were doomed to final, necessary and ignominious failure". But the "wizard of Menlo Park" went on experimenting with various substances and at last found that a tiny wisp of carbon would glow almost indefinitely under the action of the current and come out of the test uninjured.

From that discovery the incandescent lamp was born, and its introduction revolutionized lighting here as well as abroad. Edison used the invention to illuminate his own home and light up houses and roads nearby. The "Edison light" was applied to the Bijou Theatre in Boston, to a factory in Newburgh and to a hotel in the Adirondacks. Single lighting plants were later established in various parts of New England; finally, in September, 1882, Edison had the satisfaction of being able, standing in the first general electric power house on Pearl street, New York city, to send out a current which illuminated the whole district bounded by Wall and Spruce streets, Nassau street and the East river. The original underground system had a total length of about 18 miles. It took only a month to have 1284 lamps in use, and by January, 1883, the number was well on the way to 4000. Think of the developments since, and compare them with the days when Europeans had to carry their own lanterns, and when even in New England the only means of dispelling the darkness were the torch, the tallow candle and the oil lamp.

PORTABLE FIRE PUMP

A new and improved model of the small portable gasoline fire pump designed by the Canadian National Parks Branch for fighting forests fires in the Parks has recently been developed. These units, which were introduced a few years ago, have proved themselves so successful that they have been adopted by practically all organizations engaged in forest protection work in Canada and largely in the United States as well. The 1922 model developed in the branch provides for a higher pressure pump that will enlarge the volume of water thrown and considerably extend the usefulness of the unit. Seven of these units were recently used in one of the parks in relays pumping through one to the other from a mountain stream situated a mile and a quarter from the scene of the fire and excellent results were secured.

The forests of the National Parks are

Hunter's Remarkable Trophy

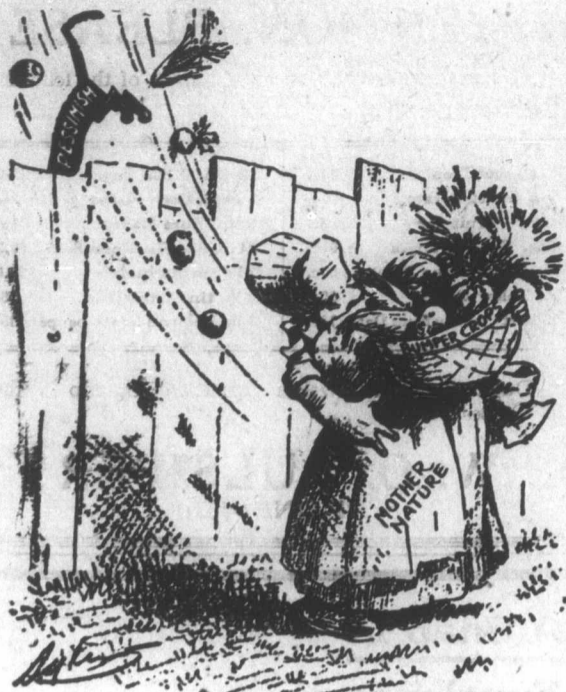

Head of Bighorn or Rocky Mountain Sheep secured last October near Lake Louise, Alberta. This is one of the finest and largest heads ever secured.

The Western provinces of Canada are famous as resorts of big game. Many kinds are to be found, but amongst the most sought are bighorn or Rocky Mountain sheep. The hunters that get a bighorn procure a handsome trophy in the horns. It is said that the biggest and best bighorn heads are to be found in the Rockies. Last October a party of hunters under the leadership of James Simpson, well known Banff guide and hunting outfitter started out from Lake Louise. They hunted through Clearwater, Sheep Creek, and the Saskatchewan River. Many bighorn and wild goats were seen, and amongst the trophies secured was a head with a base 16 inches wide, a left horn 47 1/2 inches, and a right horn 49 inches. The animal weighed 350 lbs. There were twelve bighorn in the group from which this remarkable specimen was taken, and two of the others looked just as large. Bighorn are very much afraid of men, and they make their haunts in the most secluded places. Some good hunting districts are the southern parts of British Columbia, East Kootenay Mountains, Okanagan district, Valley of the Bridge and Chilcotin Rivers, the Cassiar country, East Kootenay is one of the most favored districts, and hunters set out from Golden, Invermere, Michel, Fernie and Cranbrook, all of which are on the C. PRESENTATION TO DR. AND MRS. HUTCHINS

On Their Departure from Middleton to Their New Home in Wolfville

(From the Middleton Outlook)

On Monday evening the Baptist congregation, adherents and a number of invited guests assembled in the vestry of the Church to bid adieu to Dr., Mrs. and Miss Hutchins.

The program drafted for the evening opened by a piano duet by Miss Bernice Bentley and Miss Eileen Dodge. Mr. O. P. Goucher who ably chaired the evening's proceedings first called upon His Worship, Mayor Parsons, to address the gathering on behalf of the town of Middleton. Mr. Parsons rehearsed the many good qualities of the Doctor and his family, and he was sure that he voiced the sentiment of the people when he stated that the town was losing citizens of highest possible order, and that the best wishes of the people of Middleton would always be for the success, happiness and welfare for the Dr., Mrs. Hutchins and their daughter.

Other speakers were Rev. J. G. Hockin, pastor of Victoria Methodist Church; Rev. Mr. Turner; Rev. Mr. Bentley; Mr. A. L. Davidson; Mr. F. E. Cox and Dr. F. S. Messenger, all of whom voiced in no uncertain tone the general regret at the loss sustained in this community by the removal of Dr. Hutchins and family but at the same time all wished for continued success to follow them in the new home and field of labor.

Solos were rendered by Miss G. Balcom, Mr. Hibbert Parsons, Mr. Rex Harlow and Mr. C. Balcom. Accompaniments were played by Miss Parsons, Miss Balcom and Mr. C. Balcom.

The address read by Mr. Cox on behalf of the congregation is as follows:

To Rev. W. N. Hutchins, M.A., B.D., Ph. D.:

On this occasion, marking the termination of the relation of Pastor and people it becomes my privilege to speak a few words on behalf of the Middleton United Baptist Church.

You came to us with full equipment thru your studies at Acadia, Rochester and Chicago Universities and your pastoral experience at Canning and Truro. During the six years intervening you have labored amongst us with untiring zeal giving unsparingly of your splendid abilities.

The years you have spent with us have been most eventful ones including part of the Great War period and the almost as trying years of reconstruction that followed.

We recall those terrible war days when men's hearts often grew faint and we sometimes almost lost faith in the Allwise Ruler. At that time your voice was continually heard urging faith in God and inspiring confidence in the triumph of the Cause of Justice and Liberty. Some of us will never forget the help you gave when we were battling against discouragement and doubt.

And in the succeeding years when many men's minds were in confusion your weekly messages gave clear leadership. They ever seemed to be delivered at random, but always with a definite view to the problems of the day and the needs of your people. We believe your well reasoned appeals will not be forgotten when you go from us, but will still remain as a powerful inspiration toward higher things.

Your work among the young people has been of a substantial and progressive character anticipating in some cases the methods now being introduced in our churches.

The members of your Bible Class will not soon forget your teaching. Many obscure passages that had been a lifelong trouble were made clear and helpful thru your exposition.

In an unobtrusive way you have always shown your interest in the affairs of our town particularly those effecting the school. Your influence has ever been for the progress and improvement of our community.

The efficient and faithful work of Mrs. Hutchins especially in connection with the Missionary Aid Society, Sunday School and Choir have been appreciated. If she felt weary or discouraged she never gave expression to such feeling and the only remembrance she will leave with us will be of cheerful words and a pleasant smile.

In the new field of activity to which you have been called we anticipate an increasing usefulness. Your splendid scholarship, helpful spirit and faithfulness to duty will enable you to render most valuable service to the young men and women who come under your instruction during the crucial days of their college life.

Let me assure you, Dr. Hutchins, Mrs. Hutchins and Miss Margaret that you carry with you from Middleton our most earnest wish for your good health, happiness and continued usefulness.

Fred E. Cox, Clerk. Dr. Messenger, as treasurer of the Church followed Mr. Cox with an inspiring message to Dr. and Mrs. Hutchins after which he presented them with a purse as a tangible token of the esteem and appreciation from those they have labored among in Middleton.

Dr. Hutchins, though taken somewhat by surprise, spoke feelingly of his deep appreciation of the kindness of the congregation, and assured the gathering that he would always remember Middleton and his pastorate here.

The evening was brought to a close all indulging in general conversation and the customary refreshments.

BRIDE'S GRANDPARENTS LIVE AT HORTONVILLE

The following account of a wedding is taken from a Salmon Arm, B. C. paper dated Sept. 14th. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Curry, of Hortonville, and of the late Capt. Fred A. Brown, of Middleton:

Wesley Church, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, was filled yesterday morning at 10.30 on the occasion of the marriage of Ada Wilmona Brown, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Brown, of this city, to William Henry Pickering, of Bell, California.

Rev. E. L. Best officiated, the double ring service being used. The bride's dress was of white crepe de chine, and she wore a family veil held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses and carnations. Miss Laura Raby, as bridesmaid, was dressed in flesh cation crepe, with a white hat. She carried a silver basket containing a bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas. The maid of honor was Miss Helen Brown, sister of the bride, who wore a dress of white frilled marquisette over silk, with a head-dress of tulle, and carried a basket of mauve and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, was gowned in black cation crepe, beautifully trimmed, and wore a hat of black and lavender. Rev. R. A. Redman, of Vancouver, recently in charge of the Salmon Arm rural mission, acted as best man. The wedding marches were played by Frank Wilcox.

After the party had taken its place at the altar, the choir sang "O Perfect Love". F. H. Wood and C. P. Leckie acted as ushers. Miss Winifred Wood sang "For You Alone."

After the party reached the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served to the relatives and immediate friends present, Miss Myrtle Hacking and Miss Alice Wood assisted in serving.

The bride and groom left immediately after breakfast by motor for Kamloops, where they took the train for coast cities. Later they will visit Mr. Pickering's parents in California. The bride travelled in a suit of navy tricotine and grey hat. She wore a set of beaver furs, a gift of the groom.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome toilet set of ivory, while to the bridesmaid he gave an emerald and pearl brooch, and a birthstone ring to the maid of honor. The best man received a watch-chain, and the ushers and organist were the recipients of silver pencils.

The wedding presents were many and beautiful. Linen, a cabinet of silver, cut glass, Limoges, Crown Derby and other china, cheques, and paintings by local people are representative of the things received by the happy couple.

NEW BRUNSWICK RUGBY STAR WILL ENTER ACADIA

Fredericton, Sept. 19—Acadia gets one of the best players of this year's crop from the New Brunswick Inter-Scholastic Rugby League in "Hammy" Kitchen. He had intended going to McGill University, but his plans have been changed and he will go to Acadia, where another Fredericton boy, Alden Clark, is already one of the football stars. Kitchen is a rugged player, a good all-round athlete, and the sharps predict that he is ready to get into inter-collegiate rugby, as he played in fine form for Rothesay Collegiate school.

IF YOU WEAR EARRINGS

Earrings affect the eyes' appearance. If these ornaments gleam and sparkle and eyes are inclined to be dull, the dullness is increased. If the eyes are light blue, blue earrings of a deeper shade should not be worn. A long, thin face should not be framed by long earrings, which will only accentuate the length from forehead to chin. The same idea applies to a round face, which can stand dangling stones as they take away from the apparent width.

COLORED CHINA

Tea sets of brilliant orange-colored china are very popular for use in country homes and on summer porches. Plain colored china, particularly in gaudy colors, is very much liked.

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong, healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured 'Mother,' but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Mrs. P., Montreal.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

The unusual popularity of STUDEBAKER CARS is attested by the fact that the corporation enjoyed the biggest business in its history in 1921.

Notwithstanding the fact that the total number of all automobiles sold (except Ford) was 40 per cent. less than in 1920, the total aggregate of sales for the Studebaker cars was 20 per cent. greater than in 1920—and in Canada 64 per cent. greater than in 1920.

WRAP APPLES FOR LONG KEEPING

There would be very much less waste of the apples put in the cellar for home use if there was more attention paid to the storing of them. Apples are a perishable product that react markedly to the influence of moisture. The apple is not mature as a rule when it is picked from the tree. It has, however, reached a stage of maturity where the flavor will continue to develop in storage and because a very ripe apple is not a good shipping apple, the practice is to harvest the crop while it is in the best shipping condition and still has developed enough to attain full size and some degree in flavor. The later apples that are stored for winter use are also harvested because of the fact that if left to ripen on the tree they would likely be frozen before the crop could be taken off and the object is, therefore, to get them inside where the ripening process can be continued without danger of frost.

There is another point that is often overlooked when providing storage conditions for apples. That is that when an apple is fully ripe, it begins to decay. This process of ripening and decaying is so very slow that such a statement may come as a surprise to some people, but it is nevertheless true. The object of the tree in bearing fruit in the first place, is to bring forth seeds that will reproduce it. The object is not to develop fine, large, fleshy apples that taste good, but merely to develop a large number of healthy and virile seeds. Man, however, has found it to his interest to throw away the seeds and to cherish the fleshy seed covering, forgetting sometimes that Nature's way with the tree is the same, whatever man may take it into his head to do. Consequently if the tree is not robbed of her fruit she will go on ripening the seeds until they are fully matured and then the fleshy, outside covering will start to rot so that the seeds may find their way out and begin the history of another apple tree.

The lesson from this law of nature for us when we attempt to store fruit for winter use, is that whatever we think we are doing in putting the fruit in a cool place in order to save it, what we are really doing is retarding the ripening of the seeds and consequently the flesh of the apple. We are putting off the time when the apple will be completely mature and will begin to decay. There are many chemical and other changes going on within the apple while it is maturing and when the tissues have all been built up, incidental to the completion of seed formation, other changes take place which tend to destroy what has been built up during the growing season. It is to prevent these destructive changes from taking place that the careful studies of storage temperatures have been made and studies of other conditions of storage also.

If fruit can be kept from the air and in a relatively cool place the delay in bringing about these changes is increased and it is for this reason that fruit is capable of being held longer if it is wrapped during storage. There is also another advantage of wrapping fruit, since if decay starts in a barrel of apples or a box it soon spreads from one apple to another and it is not long before the whole lot seems to be rotting. It is of course impracticable to wrap a very large quantity of apples for storage on account of the cost, unless they are sold in boxes and wrapped as they are packed, but for home use, where there are a few bushels of a favorite variety that are being kept for table or dessert purposes, they can be kept much longer by wrapping each apple in a piece of clean white paper, or even clean newspaper. The latter is not as good as plain paper, but where no other paper is available it will do. It does not take a great deal of time and one has the advantage of having a plentiful supply of good eating apples long after the same variety in a neighbor's cellar has become withered up and decayed. Try wrapping a bushel of some favorite variety and compare with the keeping quality of same variety unwrapped. Also be careful to store them in a cool place that is fairly dry.

A FAMILY NECESSITY

No other journal caters so intimately and minutely to the needs of the agriculturist as does the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. From his medical to his religious needs, from the health of his stock to the capabilities of his machinery, from his ladies' embroidery to his pickles, from the minerals on the land to the fish in his brooks, from the books of his leisure hours to the amusements of his children, from his individual cares to his public duties, he finds companionship, help and guidance in the same old journal, which delighted his fathers and is the joy of his children today. He could not afford to be without the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. The subscription price is $2.00 per year.

SAFETY FIRST

"Safety first" is a good maxim in most things, but particularly so in relation to the investment of money. The rich may afford to speculate and to take the risks attendant on high rates of interest. Those whose means are moderate must be careful to see that there is absolute security in their investments. For such people there is no other form of investment which takes such a high rank, combining absolute security with liberal interest, as the bond of the Dominion of Canada. Holders of Dominion bonds bearing five and a half per cent, maturing December 1, 1922, can re-invest their money at the same rate of interest by exchanging the old bonds for new ones running for either five years or ten years, as the bondholder may prefer. Arrangements for carrying out this exchange can be made through all the chartered banks.

The amount of gold in the waters of the ocean cannot be known, but there are millions of tons of it. One estimate places the amount at $50,000,000 worth, for every inhabitant of the globe. The only difficulty is to get it out.

CANADA'S GOLDEN GRAIN AND ITS PROBLEMS

While all Canada is rejoicing over the quantity and quality of the Western harvest, there are some financial problems connected with it. Premier Charles Dunning (inset right), of Saskatchewan, makes the suggestion to the bankers that they be satisfied, this year, with a portion of the amount owing them for advances to the farmers and give extensions for the balance. In turn he suggests that wholesalers, jobbers, retailers, etc., could each do their part by accepting proportionate shares of accounts due. Thus there would be no need for immediately flooding the market with wheat and depressing prices. Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor (inset left) President of the Bankers' Association, who has said there will be no difficulty about financing the crop, will likely have something to say on this idea.

To Holders of Five Year 5½ per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5½ per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

- (a) Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.
- (b) Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Holders of the maturing bonds who wish to avail themselves of this conversion privilege should take their bonds AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 30th, to a Branch of any Chartered Bank in Canada and receive in exchange an official receipt for the bonds surrendered, containing an undertaking to deliver the corresponding bonds of the new issue.

Holders of maturing fully registered bonds, interest payable by cheque from Ottawa, will receive their December 1 interest cheque as usual. Holders of coupon bonds will detach and retain the last unmaturing coupon before surrendering the bond itself for conversion purposes.

The surrendered bonds will be forwarded by banks to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa, where they will be exchanged for bonds of the new issue, in fully registered, or coupon registered or coupon bearer form carrying interest payable 1st May and 1st November of each year of the duration of the loan, the first interest payment accruing and payable 1st May, 1923. Bonds of the new issue will be sent to the banks for delivery immediately after the receipt of the surrendered bonds.

The bonds of the maturing issue which are not converted under this proposal will be paid off in cash on the 1st December, 1922.

Minister of Finance.
