Up to March 1st 757,400 Troops have travelled over Government Railways.

Thousands arrive each week at Halifax and are sent forward to Dispersal Areas.

Since the war began in 1914 up to March 1st, when S.S. Belgic disembarked her returned soldier passengers at Halifax 757,400 troops have been carried on special trains over the Canadian Government Railways.

The first train which carried troops over the Government Railways the year the war was declared was numbered one and all special troop trains to and from Halifax since that time have been numbered consecutively. Canada and The League

Hon. N. W. Rowell has done a service to the cause of world peace by his plain speaking at the League of Nations Conference at Geneva. Mr. Rowell and his fellow delegates from Canada have the advantage over many of the representatives of other nations in coming to Geneva unhampered by diplomatic tradition, and with no long history of alliance and counter alliance to honour and enmesh their policy.

Mr. Rowell puts his finger on the danger which has been the object of no small amount of adverse criticism against the League when he refers to the growing tendency of the Great Powers of Europe to control the machinery of its operations. Article Twenty-three of the Covenant provides that bureaux for the study and regulation of economy and finance, of transportation and transit and of health, shall be instituted by conventions of the members of the League.

Lord Grey, on his return to London at the end of his term as special ambassador to Washington, sent a letter to the London Times, in which he discussed this Article Ten. He showed that while in Great Britain the Government is daily responsible to the representative authority of the House of Commons, and in case of conflict between the House and the Government the latter must immediately give way, in the United States a President, through his representative on the League of Nations, might commit the United States to a policy which the Legislature of that day might disapprove.

So far as France was concerned, Premier Clemenceau scoffed privately and in public at the League. "I do not believe that the Society of Nations constitutes the necessary conclusion of the present war," he said in the Chamber.

"Find your solution and report back to us next year," he says in effect, "but do not take any decisions which may have a vital effect on world peace, and which, therefore, are Canada's concern no less than the concern of every member of the League, until we meet again in the full assembly of all the nations."

A SENSIBLE MERCHANT. Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains, and have no bad after effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 25 cents a box.

Article Ten And The League

The action of Canada's delegates at Geneva in moving for the deletion of Article X, and the announcement that Sir Robert Borden at the creation of the Covenant opposed this contentious clause, leaves President Wilson apparently alone in his devotion to what he described as "the teeth of the League of Nations."

The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled. It has been pointed out before in The Star that this English version is not exactly identical in meaning with the French.

The opening words of the Covenant are: "The high contracting parties, in order to promote international co-operation and to achieve international peace. . . agree to this Covenant." It is not without significance that the 'establishment of international co-operation' is placed in the very forefront of the preamble, and Mr. Rowell made it quite plain in his address that he was anxious that the member nations should grapple with the financial, transportation and health problems. He does not want the solution of those problems to be adopted by a small executive committee of the society of which his country is a member.

So that, save for America, there were no champions of the famous Article in the Council that sat at Paris, and there was more than one strong opponent. As it turned out, the hostility which President Wilson's enemies were able to conjure from various interpretations of the Article proved his own undoing and a stumbling-block for the League itself. It would appear, now that the clause is likely to disappear, or to be modified so that the dangers its critics fear will be abolished.

In any event, the future of the League depends far more upon its spirit than the letter of its laws. It needs a constitution through which its ideals can function, but a constitution that chafes is worse than none at all.

Christ's Image

In the city of Naples the annual fair was in progress. Along one of the streets a dealer in images had set up his booth and displayed images of various kinds, of animals and of men. Among them was also the image of the crucified Redeemer, a solitary one. Countless crowds patronized the booth and bought the images of princes, diplomats, generals, as well as of domestic and foreign, tame and wild animals. 'But the image of the Crucified none bought. No one asked for it, although it was cheap. Finally, it alone remained. A blind man then appeared, led by a boy, along the street. The blind stood still and contemplated the neglected, remaining image. 'Joseph,' inquired the blind man, 'why art thou standing here so long? 'Alas, alas,' responded the youth, 'there remains here an image of the dear Saviour, entirely alone, while the people have bought all the others.' 'What may be the price of the image?' the blind beggar asked the dealer. As it was not high in price he bought it with his begged money. 'If everybody is buying his idol,' he remarked, 'then I shall buy my God.' 'But, old man,' mockingly observed the dealer, 'thou canst not however see him.' 'Oh, yes, I can though,' retorted the blind beggar. 'I—the blind one—see him; but the seeing ones see Him not.'

This is a striking remark for our times. The world takes interest in everything, but only not in God and Christ; it coldly passes by His image and is blind to His glory and power.

Interest In Rome

Rome's attractions are appreciated more and more by Eastern Christians in these days, and it is probable that the steps taken in the Eternal City to satisfy the desires of the Orientals will have some important results. On a recent date Mgr. Ephrem Rahmani, Syrian, Patriarch of Antioch, lectured in Rome on the historical notabilia of his patriariate. The lecture was the first of a series which has been arranged for by the Oriental Pontifical Institute. It was a great success, the audience being very large.

When the Kidneys get out of order a back is sure to become affected, dull pains, sharp pains, quick ones all point to the fact that the days need attention. Waters and Liniments may relieve a short time, but to get rid of these you must get right at the seat of the trouble. You can do this by using Dorr's Kidney Pills and thus obtain permanent relief. Miss J. B. Robinson, 115 Stephen King Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I., writes: "I certainly must praise your Dorr's Kidney Pills, as they relieved me from my kidneys, and I would have never paid any more money for such a relief as your Dorr's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise I feel better. I could not work hard all day, and my back would not pain me at all. I can't praise them too much. Dorr's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Imperial Relations

In his speech at Winnipeg Mr. Crerar expressed concern regarding our Imperial relations. He declared against "development of any centralization of Imperial power," because "the creation of centralized authority of any kind between the Mother Country and the various overseas Dominions will, in my opinion, in the end produce nothing but unfortunate results."

It is in the face of pronouncements and pledges such as these that Mr. Crerar asks Canadians to accept a tariff policy based largely upon the supposition that United States markets will be "more and more open to Canada with each year."

The truth is that the United States, which already maintains a higher tariff against Canada than Canada maintains against the republic, is apparently on the verge of a period of high duties which are bound to bar out Canadian goods.

Additional evidence of the strongest character, that the Government of Canada stands for equality of nationhood has been abundantly furnished by the attitude assumed by our representatives at the Geneva Assembly of the League of Nations just about closing.

Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the United States Government, who recommends that the United States should spend a billion dollars now on naval expansion, is training his guns, not at possible foreign enemies, but at domestic political foes, if the Philadelphia Public Ledger (Independent Republican) is to be believed.

Canada and D. S. Markets

Mr. Crerar, in his speech at Winnipeg on Friday, predicted—"That the markets of the United States would be more and more open to Canada with each year."

A swift reply comes in the introduction of a bill in the House of Representatives by a North Dakota Congressman asking an embargo for one year against importation into the United States of wheat, wheat flour, barley, rye, oats, flax, wool, hogs, cattle and sheep, the embargo to be followed by a permanent schedule of import duties upon these items.

Nor does this demand represent merely the isolated desire of a single state. On the contrary, President elect Harding and the Republican party are pledged to the hit to a higher tariff. The platform which carried them to victory last month contained the following plank:

"The Republican party reaffirms its belief in the protective principle, and pledges itself to a revision of the tariff as soon as conditions shall make it necessary for the preservation of the home market for American labor, agriculture and industry."

During the campaign Mr. Harding elaborated upon this plank. Speaking to a delegation of Californians on Sept. 15, he made direct reference to Canada, when after declaring that "protection for agriculture is vital," he went on to say:

"Manchuria, South Africa, the Argentine, Canada, Siberia, Australia, New Zealand, may, in the advancing years, invade our markets and under-bid our farmers. In the case of Canada wheat, Argentine corn; cane sugar from the tropical islands; beet sugar from Europe; rice from the Orient, beans and peas from Manchuria, meat from South America and other imports may threaten the life of our own production. It will be necessary to give full and adequate tariff protection to those industries."

It is in the face of pronouncements and pledges such as these that Mr. Crerar asks Canadians to accept a tariff policy based largely upon the supposition that United States markets will be "more and more open to Canada with each year."

The truth is that the United States, which already maintains a higher tariff against Canada than Canada maintains against the republic, is apparently on the verge of a period of high duties which are bound to bar out Canadian goods.

Additional evidence of the strongest character, that the Government of Canada stands for equality of nationhood has been abundantly furnished by the attitude assumed by our representatives at the Geneva Assembly of the League of Nations just about closing.

Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the United States Government, who recommends that the United States should spend a billion dollars now on naval expansion, is training his guns, not at possible foreign enemies, but at domestic political foes, if the Philadelphia Public Ledger (Independent Republican) is to be believed.

Naval Competition

Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the United States Government, who recommends that the United States should spend a billion dollars now on naval expansion, is training his guns, not at possible foreign enemies, but at domestic political foes, if the Philadelphia Public Ledger (Independent Republican) is to be believed.

The Public Ledger bitterly assails the naval construction proposal, and urges that the United States itself propose a five year 'naval holiday' to Britain and Japan. It declares that there is absolutely no purpose or reason in spending huge sums now on enlarging the American navy.

Nor does this demand represent merely the isolated desire of a single state. On the contrary, President elect Harding and the Republican party are pledged to the hit to a higher tariff. The platform which carried them to

by any nation or group of nations outside these three. For them to increase their naval establishments, then, is for them to compete only against one another. And, if all three engage in this competition, they will be in the same position relatively five years from now as they are today.

As a further reason why it is absolutely unnecessary for the United States to prepare for war with either Britain or Japan, it is pointed out that she is the only one of the three financially able to contemplate war. Britain will not recover for some time from the exhaustion of the world war, and Japan has never emerged from a condition of financial inferiority.

It might be added that an agreement for a five year cessation in construction between the three powers might include a provision that they would exercise their joint influence to prevent any other nations from attempting rivalry.

Premier's Christmas Greeting

The Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, sends out the following Christmas Greeting to the Canadian people: "My fervent desire this Christmas time is that as a nation we may be guided by the light which came to earth twenty centuries ago. Let us look for present inspiration to the teachings which grew out of the tremendous event. Let us realize anew the significance of that sublime presentation of true democracy. Let there be Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men. As a nation we have endured the tribulations of the past six years bravely and sanely. We can regard the retrospect without regret and we shall look forward to the new prospect without fear."

Judge Gary Speaks Out.

Judge Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, removes Japan as a menace to the United States. The danger, he says, faces the other way. "If the two nations clash the people of this country will be more to blame than the people of Japan."

Although specifically reserving claims to racial equality in certain islands of the Pacific which will pass under control of Australia and New Zealand, Japan, Friday, abandoned the policy whereby she has prevented the granting of mandates of the type known as class C. The Council, therefore, approved plans drawn up by the Allied Supreme Council whereby New Zealand will assume the mandate for Samoa, Australia for New Guinea and other former German possessions south of the Equator; England for the island of Nauru, the Union of South Africa, for German Southwest Africa, and Japan for German Islands in the Pacific.

League of Nations

Geneva, Dec. 18.—The 48th member of the League of Nations, Albania, was elected yesterday with surprising unanimity, and no one was more surprised than Albania herself to find that she would be represented on the floor of the assembly at the closing session tomorrow. The committee on the admission of new states had reported unfavorably and all hope of Albania's election had been abandoned. Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, and Hon. N. W. Rowell of Canada led in the final effort for the admission of Albania yesterday morning on the floor of the Assembly. To the surprise of all, the French and British delegations abandoned their opposition and Albania was elected unanimously.

Geneva, Dec. 17.—For the first time since the sessions of the Assembly of the League of Nations opened here last month, the Canadian delegation today found support from the British delegation on a contested question when Hon. M. W. Rowell pleaded Albania's case successfully. Albania was elected a member of the League at this morning's session. During yesterday's voting the British Empire was divided on nearly every question, Canada and South Africa voting against Great Britain regarding Armenia, and Australia abstaining from voting when the application of Bulgaria was before the Assembly. Immediately after the opening of today's session, Lord Robert Cecil, although appointed to make a report on the admission of Albania to the League, took the floor and declared he disagreed with the report of the committee on admission of new States, which was adverse to according Albanian membership. He asked the Assembly to elect Albania a member. Mr. Rowell then took the floor and appealed to the Assembly on Albania's behalf, supporting Lord Cecil's viewpoint. After Mr. Rowell had concluded, H. A. L. Fisher, of Great Britain, told the Assembly that although the British delegation had voted against Albania in the committee it had since carefully studied the question and decided to vote for her admission. Delegate Inman of India dwelt upon the excellent impression the admission of Albania would make upon Mohammedans throughout the world. Rene Viviani, of France, and Signor Schanzer of Italy rallied to the support of the C. C. proposition. These factors broke down all opposition and Albania was elected unanimously. Applications of Azerbaijan, the Ukraine and Liechtenstein, the little Tyrolean principality, for membership in the League were rejected.

Geneva, Dec. 18.—The official protocol establishing the International Tribunal under the League of Nations has been completed and those delegates who had received authorization from their governments, began the process of signing it Friday afternoon. It is expected that a dozen signatures will have been affixed before Saturday's adjournment, and the remaining number necessary before the inauguration of the court will be obtained, it is believed within two months. In the meantime, the Assembly has voted an appropriation of 1,500,000 francs for the maintenance of the tribunal during the first year of its operation. It is expected that thereafter the court will require at least 2,000,000 gold francs for its yearly support. The seat of the tribunal will be in the peace palace at the Hague. The Council has requested that all international law societies prepare at once the outlines of an authoritative resume of the accepted international legal rules, and also urges that the academy of International Law at the Hague begin similar work at the same time.

Although specifically reserving claims to racial equality in certain islands of the Pacific which will pass under control of Australia and New Zealand, Japan, Friday, abandoned the policy whereby she has prevented the granting of mandates of the type known as class C. The Council, therefore, approved plans drawn up by the Allied Supreme Council whereby New Zealand will assume the mandate for Samoa, Australia for New Guinea and other former German possessions south of the Equator; England for the island of Nauru, the Union of South Africa, for German Southwest Africa, and Japan for German Islands in the Pacific.

"Fifty years ago, according to a statement made by Mr. Lloyd George in the House, between one-third and one-fourth of the population of Great Britain worked on the land, and when the war broke out in 1914 the proportion was between one-ninth and one-tenth."—Toronto Star. Edmonton papers contain lengthy accounts of the reception tendered his Grace, Archbishop O'Leary, on his advent to his archdiocesan city. His Grace was accompanied by Archbishop Sinnott, of Winnipeg; Archbishop Mathieu, of Regina; Bishop McNally, of Calgary; Bishop Bulke, and other ecclesiastical dignitaries, besides numerous priests. Apart from the religious ceremonies, the civic reception evolved on a very elaborate scale. His Grace was presented with an address of welcome by the Mayor of the city, and tendered a banquet, at which over three hundred guests assisted.

The Cruiser Aurora and two destroyers, Patricia and Patriot, presented to Canada by the Imperial Government anchored in Halifax Harbor at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. They were welcomed by a salute of 21 guns from the Citadel. Capt. Adams of the Aurora spoke enthusiastically of the seamanship of his crew and the seaworthiness of the fleet. Rough weather was experienced on the trip up from Bermuda. At one o'clock, Capt. Walter Hose, N. R. acting director of the Naval services was the host at luncheon given aboard the Aurora at which the following were present: The Duke of Devonshire, Lieut. Governor Grant, Sir Robt. Borden, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Mayor Parker, Capt. Adams of the Aurora, and others. The party left the cruiser at 2:30 and Sir Robert Borden and Hon. C. C. Ballantyne immediately entrained for Ottawa. The Governor General left for Ottawa last night following an inspection of the Boy Scouts of the Halifax Districts.

A very sad and unfortunate affair occurred at one of our wharves a few evenings ago. Philip W. Lecky, one of the men employed on Dominion Dredge No. 9, laid up for the winter at Bruce Stewart & Co's wharf, left the Dredge early in the evening to visit his friend, Mr. Levanio, fireman on the tug "Sogameda," near by, who was to leave for his home in Nova Scotia the following morning. To reach the tug deceased had to cross a scow, at the side of the wharf, and the tug "Rona," alongside. When he did not report for duty next morning on board the Dredge, Captain Osgrove thought he might have gone on the morning train with his friend. However, after waiting a few days, and making enquiries in all directions, the worst was feared, and on Monday of this week the water in the vicinity of the tug was dragged, and in the afternoon the body of the unfortunate young man was recovered. He had evidently fallen into the water when returning towards the dredge, and from the locality of the body when found, had missed his steps when attempting to pass from the Rona to the scow. It was quite dark on that night, and at this particular spot. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict of accidental drowning was returned. It was on Tuesday night, Dec. 14, the unfortunate and fatal accident happened. Deceased had been employed on the Dredge a little over a year, and was a splendid man, esteemed by everybody. He was a returned soldier; had served three years and a half at the front, and came through it all without a scratch. He belonged to Miscouche, where his father and other members of the family reside.

The train was delayed nearly two hours.

The crew of the two masted schooner Genevieve of Halifax, which was abandoned in a sinking condition off Briar Island last Wednesday, arrived at St. John on Thursday. Practically nothing was saved, and the loss is about $6000, half covered by insurance.

"The Liberal policy is not one of free trade. It is a policy of revenue tariff with the incidental protection which such a method of taxation must of necessity afford. In this way our industries would receive reasonable backing, and the country at the same time would secure a customs revenue sufficient to meet its needs. Even the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will admit that the manufacturers were never more prosperous than they were during the existence of the Government of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier."—Toronto Globe. The manufacturers did very well under Laurier, because the practice of the Laurier Government was protection. The tariff was considerably higher under Sir Wilfrid Laurier than it is now.

Right Hon. James Lowther, speaker of the British House of Commons, announced last Thursday that he hopes to visit Canada about Easter in connection with the presentation of a new speaker's chair to the Canadian House of Commons by the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association. It is expected the chair will be ready for the opening of the next session of the Dominion Parliament, and it had been suggested that Speaker Lowther should go to Canada during the Christmas adjournment of the British House. But as the speaker remarked, Christmas holidays for the British Parliament seem to be gradually receding and it would be impossible for him to spare the time. He hoped however, to be able to visit Canada at Easter or Whitsuntide. Having occupied the British chair for fifteen years, he thought he was well qualified to explain its advantages and disadvantages to his Canadian colleague.

Your Heart! Does It
Palpitate?

The component parts of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are indicated to do away with palpitation and other heart weaknesses and thus strengthen both the heart and nerves.
Mrs. F. X. Gaultier, Tilbury, Ont., writes: "During 25 years past I was greatly troubled with palpitation of the heart, and sometimes so much so that those around me thought I would die at any moment, being so much weakened by the sharpness of the pulsation which would last sometimes up to three hours. I had the doctor who kept me taking his medicine to overcome the disease, but to no effect. There was no change at all for the better.
Two years ago a friend advised me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.
I began to use them at once, and at the second box I began to feel some relief, so I continued to use them according to directions, and now I am perfectly well. Before using the pills, I weighed 100 pounds, now I weigh 117, and feel as if I were young although I am over 66 years of age."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold in a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T.
