It speaks well for Britain's rule when her sons in Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and every quarter of the globe are so nobly responding to the call of the motherland.
THE practice of throwing waste paper on the street should be discontinued. It not only makes the streets look untidy, which all good citizens should guard against, but is a fruitful source of frightening horses.
WE are ready to take orders for suits in our ladies' tailoring department.—SWIFTS'.
THE man with a good article, who consistently advertises it in the newspapers cannot dodge prosperity if he tries. Newspaper advertising rightly used is the most profitable investment any business can make. Newspaper readers patronize advertisers because experience has taught them that it pays to trade with daylight men.

NEXT Wednesday is the last mid-week half-holiday.
It comes quite natural now to make a military salute.
EVERY day this week has been a holiday, judging by the number of people on the streets.

War makes right-minded men unselfish, but it should not be made an opportunity for the unscrupulous to overcharge their fellow-citizens.
WE don't want to fight
But, by jingo, if we have to,
We've got the ships, we've got the men
And we've got the money too.
THE itinerant system of the Methodist ministry is mild as compared with the peregrinations of the generality of teachers. As birds of passage they have all feathered creatures beaten.
IN Forest the electric current is turned on every Wednesday morning from 8.30 to 11 o'clock, to enable housekeepers to do their ironing by electricity. There are already 70 homes being served.

A MAN remarked Sunday evening that he had heard of raising the roof of a building by enthusiasts, but that the belling of the windows in Trinity Church by the lusty singing of the national anthem was a new experience.
THE first contingent of Canadian nurses to go to the front will number 130, though at the present time there is no certainty that any will be called on to go. Already nearly 300 have applied to the Director of the Medical Corps.
SOME of the war "extras" are a disgrace to Canadian journalism. The foolish and unfounded statements made in them convey absolutely erroneous impressions of what is going on. A press censor is badly needed in Canada just now.
SOME of our young ladies want to go to the war as nurses. Under the Militia Act only women who have had three years' training in a general hospital are eligible. Should there not be enough volunteers, nurses in training will be accepted.
MR. WM. MCLAREN returned on Thursday from a week's fishing at Kagewong, Manitoulin Island. He brought home some delicious bass which he generously distributed among his friends. H. A. Cook and W. K. Cook, Toronto, accompanied him on his trip.

LIEUT. COL. KELLY has been a busy man for the past few weeks, directing the affairs of the 27th Regt. The onerous duties connected with the position have been well looked after and it is largely through his exertion and deep interest in military matters that such a large contingent is being sent from here to the front.
AT the Armory on Tuesday morning the members of the overseas contingent were presented with prayer books or testaments by the A. Y. P. A. of Trinity Church. Prayer books were given to those who belonged to the church of England and testaments to those of other denominations. Lieut. Col. Kelly made the presentation.
"MAJOR and Mrs. J. M. Williams of Kettle Falls, Washington, are visiting at the home of Mr. Williams' brother, Principal L. J. Williams, 645 6th St. A. Mayor Williams is manager of the Bank of Colville branch at Kettle Falls." The above item is taken from a Medicine Hat paper. The Williams brothers are sons of our townsman, Joseph S. Williams.

THE pulpit of the Watford Presbyterian Church will be occupied next Sunday morning and evening by Rev. R. McKay, D. D., recently moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada. Dr. McKay has not long since visited India, Corea China and Japan, and his addresses will be full of incident, rich in experience he had while visiting the native churches in these countries. As Dr. McKay is one of the outstanding men of the church today certainly all who come will be rewarded.
NOT since the Old Boy's Reunion in 1907 has there been such a crowd on Watford's main street as there was on Sunday evening last when the whole town, and a large number from the country, assembled to honor our overseas contingent. After church service the band gave an excellent program of sacred and patriotic music, from the band stand, which was much enjoyed by all who heard it. The band went up a few notches in the favor of the public by their performance on Sunday night. Do it again, boys.

THE regular meeting of the Watford Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Shrapnell on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 12th, the president presiding. Meeting opened by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever." Master Hallie Potter played several selections on the violin with Miss Shrapnell accompanying him on the piano. The Institute have voted $5.00 to the Public School Fair, also special prizes for the three best in plant sewing in a handmade tea apron—1st 50c; 2nd 25c; 3rd 15c. A social hour was spent and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. Meeting closed by singing "God Save the King."—Sec.

As no doubt many of our readers already know, the Department of Militia has issued an order making Watford the headquarters of the 27th regiment. This should have been done last year when Mr. Kelly was gazetted Lieut-Colonel of the regiment, but on account of the headquarters having been at Sarnia for so many years the matter was not pressed. Watford is certainly the logical place for headquarters as our armory is the best equipped one in the county; many of the principal officers of the regiment reside here, and probably more interest is taken in military matters here than elsewhere in the county.
MR. GLEN NICHOL, who has been on the staff of the Guide-Advocate for nearly two years, leaves with the 27th Regt. overseas on the 21st inst. While the Guide-Advocate is sorry to lose his valued services we are proud to have him offer himself for the King's service. He has promised, should time and circumstances permit, that he will send an occasional letter to the Guide-Advocate from the front, giving information as to the movements and welfare of the 27th unit, and especially about the Watford company. These letters will certainly be of great interest to our subscribers and to "Nick's" numerous friends throughout the county. May he have a safe return.
THE weather on Watford civic holiday, August 12th, was ideal, and the citizens enjoyed the day in various ways. The principal attraction was the Band Excursion to Detroit, and 257 tickets were sold at the Watford station for the excursion and a number took the train at Kingscourt and Wainstead. A number of these spent the day at the Sarnia and Port Huron beaches while the rest spent a most enjoyable sail on the City of Toledo to Detroit. The return trip up the river was made in good time the boat arriving in Sarnia about 9.30, and the excursionists landed home about 10.40, well pleased with the day's outing. Others of our townspeople went to the lakeside or picnicked in nearby pleasure spots, and those who remained at home discussed the war and attended to those numerous small matters that are always cropping up around the home and awaiting leisure for attention.

MEMBERS of Court Lorne, C. O. F., to the number of fifty or over attended divine service in the Watford Methodist church on Sunday evening of last week, when the Rev. F. G. Robinson, the pastor, preached an excellent and exceedingly appropriate sermon to them from the text, James I. 27: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world." During the offertory the Rev. W. M. Connolly rendered a solo very acceptably, and the service closed with the National Anthem which was sung by the choir and congregation with a lustiness that would have struck terror into the hearts of Britain's foes if any had been present. On returning to the court room the brethren passed resolutions of thanks to Rev. Mr. Robinson for his inspiring discourse and to the choir for the excellent music rendered.

FARMER'S WIFE ALMOST A WRECK

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Own Story.

London, Ont.—"I am a farmer's wife and a very busy woman. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back so bad that I could not get up or scarcely move without pain, and my periods were painful. My husband called in a good doctor and I was under his care for some time, but he did me little or no good. One day a friend of mine told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had been greatly helped by it. I began taking it and soon got well, and my periods became natural again. Since then I have had perfect health. In fact I have never felt so well in my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine many women need. If you think this letter will help other women please publish it."—Mrs. K. C. YOUNG, Tambling's Corner, London, Ontario, Canada.

Women who suffer from those distressing ailments peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Germany's use of the territory of Luxemburg as a way of getting into France without taking French forts is an absolute violation of a European treaty that is older than the present German Empire. It was agreed to by the great powers and by Holland, Belgium and Italy in 1867.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture informs us that careful investigation extending over many years shows that 95 per cent. of the lightning rods in this province are efficient. In Ontario out of every two hundred farm buildings insured, forty-two are rodless, yet out of every two hundred struck by lightning in 1913, only three were rodless.

War has come suddenly, in the sense that it was precipitated by a cold-blooded assassination. In the larger sense it is the natural outcome of conditions which have been long years in preparation. For a decade continental nations whose borders march for hundreds of miles have been increasing their armaments on land and sea on an unprecedented scale, and it should have been obvious to the blindest observer that a disastrous conflict awaited only occasion or accident.

To staff the proposed hospital ship for one month will require one head surgeon, one hundred nurses, twenty-five doctors and twenty-five orderlies, with assistants.

The Cost of War

When a city burns down we only want to know if the insurance companies can stand it. If they can we esteem it as only so much cashing in. We do not realize that it is just so much value taken from the saved capital of the world, and that by the brotherly principle of insurance the loss is spread to the ends of the earth. The money must be found and it is drawn from industry everywhere. The chariot wheels of industry and progress drag the heavier the world over. But this is infinitesimal compared with the effect of war. When a war breaks out, we fondly think it is good for trade, and very profitable for those who keep out of it. We do not consider what it costs mankind and how well the burden is distributed. Of such a war as this, with all the great powers involved, it would be a very low estimate to put the direct cost to the public treasuries at ten million dollars a day—twenty would be a better guess—besides all the destruction of life, limb and property, that would not come into this count. Someone has said that Sir Edward Grey had told Mr. Bonar Law that he saw small chance of averting a war that would last twenty years. Supposing it only lasted twenty months, at a cost of only twenty millions a day, counting all forms of destruction, including the capital value of the useful abilities of the persons slain or injured, that would be twelve thousand millions of the world's savings burned up—savings that would have given life to industry in a thousand forms, and would probably have doubled themselves before long in the shape of progressive human betterments, making all men more comfortable and prosperous.

Who Makes War?

We used to hear that it was kings made war, and that if it were left to the people there would be no war. And so it would seem still when we note the fervid and at times violent opposition to militarism of those engaged in the labor movement, and their declarations that they will strike against war. But when the trumpet blows there never lacks popular support. A midsummer madness seems to seize upon men. Mob frenzy asserts itself as though the explosive force of ever heaping up arsenals had proved too strong for the cumulative reasoning which has clearly foreseen and earnestly foretold, though of course it has been unable to measure, the magnitude of the evil. It may be necessary to have wars to upset autocratic thrones. It may be that war has a mission to bring in the coming era of peace with a bridal dawn of thunder peals. But, so far as can be seen, the very opposite has been, and must be the fruit of war. Autocracies have always fallen back on war as their natural reviver, and war has always left trails of vengeance behind it.

An oil for all Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it has no equal. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicines and those taken on a journey.

London, Aug. 6, 11.50 p. m.—The passage of a war budget for $500,000,000 in the House of Commons today without a dissenting voice, and the granting of an army increase of 500,000 men, in accordance with the wishes of Lord Kitchener, the new Minister of War, shows that Great Britain has put her hand to the plow. The naval estimates provide for 67,000 additional officers and men, which will make the navy's strength 218,000 men.

Many mothers have reason to bless Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because it has relieved the little ones of suffering and made them healthy.

The Blind Child Should Attend School

The expenditure of public money upon "schools and school-masters" is regarded by our legislators, and by the people who elect the legislators, as a good investment. The educated man is more useful to the community than his illiterate neighbour; his labour is more productive, he lives a happier and more contented life, taking an intelligent interest in the various questions that come before him for decision; he is not easily misled by the demagogic agitator, and he knows better than to yield to temptations in a criminal direction. For these and numerous other equally good reasons, it "pays the state" to provide facilities for education for all the children of the people, whether born here or coming from a foreign country to make their homes among us—hence our free school system, reinforced to some extent by compulsory education laws. For the blind who cannot be taught to read by sight, a system for reading by touch has been devised, the printed characters representing letters, etc., being embossed on the paper, instead of being indicated by a difference in colour. Having learned to read and write, the education of the blind person can be continued to any desired extent, including the subjects taught in public schools for the seeing, music and several handicrafts. Happily the blind are not sufficiently numerous to necessitate the equipment of many schools for their accommodation, so the scheme of taking the blind child to the free school instead of bringing the free school to the blind child has been adopted. The Ontario School for the Blind, located at Brantford, admits as pupils blind persons of both sexes, between the ages of seven and twenty-one, without charge for board, tuition or books, but parents are expected to provide clothing and pay travelling expenses. It is a school—not a "Home," nor a Hospital, nor an Asylum—and among the pupils are many who though not entirely blind, have sight so defective that they cannot receive an education in the ordinary public schools. If any reader of the Guide-Advocate has a child so afflicted, or knows of one in his neighborhood, a letter or post card, addressed to H.F. Gardiner, Principal, O. S. B., Brantford, giving the name and postoffice of parent or guardian, will help the school to do all the work for which it was established and is maintained by the Government.

Good Roads Improve Social Conditions

No matter what your station in life or where you live, a certain amount of your time must be spent in pleasure to make life worth the living, and to obtain that pleasure you go to town or to your neighbors—especially is this true when living in the country.

Good Roads enable you to get into town or to your neighbors quicker, more often and without you or your horses or vehicles being covered with mud, and without regard to weather conditions or season. They enable your family physician to get to you quickly in times of illness. They enable your children to "foot it" to school every school-day. They keep your boys and girls on the farm by giving them better conditions generally.

Concrete Roads

are "every-day" roads—they have no "closed season" because they are open to traffic every day in the year. They are the most economical roads because they reduce the cost of maintenance to the minimum. They are easy of traction, clean, hard and free of ruts and holes. They keep your road money out of the mud.

Let us send you, without cost, complete information about concrete roads.

The Boy Who Didn't Pass

A sad-faced little fellow sits alone in deep disgrace. There's a lump arising in his throat and tears stream down his face; He wandered from his playmates, for he doesn't want to hear Their shouts of merry laughter since the world has lost its cheer. He has sipped the cup of sorrow, he has drained the bitter glass, And his heart is fairly breaking; he's the boy who didn't pass. In the apple tree the robin sings a cherry little song; But he doesn't seem to hear it, showing plainly something wrong. Comes his faithful spaniel for romp and bit of play; But the troubled little fellow sternly bids him go away; All alone he sits in sorrow; with his hair a tangled mass, And his eyes are read with weeping, he's the boy who didn't pass. How he hates himself for failing; he can hear his playmates cheer, For they've left him with the duffers—gone ahead a half a year. And he tried so hard to conquer, Oh, he tried to do his best, And now he knows he's weaker, yes, and duller, than the rest. He's ashamed to tell his mother, for he thinks she'll hate him too, The little lad who didn't pass, who failed of getting through, Oh you who boast a laughing song and speak of him as bright, And you who love a little girl who comes to you to-night, With smiling eyes and dancing feet, with honors from her school, Turn to that lonely little boy who thinks he is a fool, And take him kindly by the hand, the dullest in the class; He is one who most needs love—the boy who didn't pass.

Miller's Worm Powders act mildly and without injury to the child, and there can be no doubt of their deadly effect upon worms. They have been in successful use for a long time and are recognized as a leading preparation for the purpose. They have proved their power in numberless cases and have given relief to thousands of children who, but for the good offices of this superior compound, would have continued weak and enfeebled.

The Attractive Programme for The Western Fair, London, September 11th to 19th

Arrangements have all been completed for the free attractions at the Exhibition in September. They will be of a very high class this year and should certainly be very satisfactory.

The Canadian Royal Dragons will give their famous "Musical Ride" on the track before the Grand Stand every afternoon and evening. This act of itself will be well worth the price of admission. A few others will be Patrick and Francisco, the New York Hippodrome Haywagon Act, the funniest act on the road; the four Dordens, the sensation of the day; De Carlo, a new feature, the most daring act ever seen; The Pichanni Troupe, seven people, the most graceful and sensational act ever seen at the Exhibition; The Melvin Bros., America's greatest gymnasts; Apdale's Zoo, the most wonderful animal act in existence to-day. Every child within reach of London should see this act.

The fireworks will be furnished by the International Fireworks Co. of New York and will be entirely new and novel. The entire programme will be changed each evening. There will be plenty of music by the best available bands. The programme throughout will be one of the best which money can furnish and will be put on each afternoon and evening in a manner that will be pleasing to the visitors of the great Exhibition.

Do Not Use The Telephone During a Thunder Storm

We wish to draw the attention of all telephone subscribers, whether on the Brooke System or Bell System, to the danger of using the telephone during a thunder storm.

Apart from the fact that it is highly dangerous we wish to inform the subscribers and general public that working at the switchboard with a view to giving regular service, even if it were not dangerous is practically impossible, as every flash of lightning even 5 or 6 miles away from central will release the signal drops, sometimes of the entire system or in any event a large number of them, thus making it a difficult matter for an operator at Central to ascertain if any of the signals are from subscribers or the result of a flash of lightning.

We would call the attention of the Bell subscribers to "Instructions" on the first pages of the telephone directory, where it reads "Do not use the telephone during a thunderstorm" and would urge that subscribers refrain from its use when a storm is about the neighborhood and especially when nearly or right overhead.

As all lines run to Central, the operator at Central, therefore, apart from the are just the right medicine for the children. When they are constipated—when their kidneys are out of order—when over-indulgence in some favorite food gives them indigestion—Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills will quickly and surely put them right. Purely vegetable, they neither sicken, weaken or gripe, like harsh purgatives. Guard your children's health by always keeping a box of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills in the house. They element of danger, has, in any event, a great deal of trouble and confusion to contend with as a result of the electrical discharges, even though the storm may be miles away and practically beyond the danger zone and respectfully submit this as a reason, therefore, why the service is temporarily discontinued during a thunderstorm.

"BABYLON"

Wonderful Oriental Spectacle at Canadian National Exhibition

"Babylon," the magnificent Oriental spectacle now in preparation for this year's Canadian National Exhibition Toronto, will outshine in the beauty of its coloring and costumes, its life and the number of its people, any similar spectacle ever produced on the American continent.

The very name "Babylon" is a synonym for luxury and lavishness, and the story of the handwriting on the wall that dazed the rioters at the feast of Belteschazzar, and later the destruction of the most beautiful city of ancient times, lend themselves readily to romantic depiction and spectacular reproduction. The material is all ready to the hand of the author and artist.

When it is learned that a thousand costumes for the king, the nobles, the state officers, the envoys of other nations, the priests, the warriors, the Assyrian guards, the Nubians, the Arabs, the slaves, the charioteers, etc., etc., are being imported, that they will be accurate in every detail, you can form some opinion of the riot of color the stage will hold.

The stage setting will consist of a view of the ancient city 700 feet in length—the largest stage in the world.

Protecting Wild Game

A bulletin of the Dominion Conservation Commission refers in commendatory terms to the experiment so successfully carried on at his own expense and from pure love of bird life, by John T. Miner, of Kingsville, Ont.

In 1904 Mr. Miner, obtained seven wild geese, clipped their wings, and placed them on his pond as decoys, but wild geese were so scarce that it was four years before any others joined them. In the spring of 1908 eleven came. The following year 32, and in 1910 as many as 80. Since that time they have been too numerous to give any exact estimate, but probably about 1,000 may be found on the premises at one time. Since 1911 no shooting whatever has been indulged in within the reserve. By moving the feed by degrees the geese have been coaxed to come right up to the house. Wild ducks also frequent the pond and some of these have been identified aluminum bands, bearing Mr. Miner's address. By means of these he has established by the fact that they return to his place every spring, or, if they fail to return he has been able to learn what has happened to them. One was shot as far away as Paris, Kentucky. Those that return nest in the neighborhood and bring up their young before again migrating.

"Mr. Miner's experiments are a striking illustration of how easy it would be to conserve the migrating bird life of this continent if only refuges were provided, where the birds could remain for a short time unmolested, during their seasonal flights to their breeding grounds and back again," says the bulletin of the commission.

CHOP STUFF.

Wm. Clark, Glencoe, died last week in his 98th year. Theford is to have an independent mill. Wm. Clark, Glencoe's oldest citizen, is dead, aged 98 years. The pea crop in Bruce and Huron has been ruined by plant lice. At the Bosanquet council meeting Ezra Brenner was granted a billiard table license. Hydro power, it is expected, will be turned on in Strathroy early in September. Deputy Reeve Burgess, of Petrolia, died suddenly on Aug. 6th. He was 65 years old. John Smyth of Oil Springs has been appointed emigration inspector at Bridgeburg. W. Walters, Alderboro, picked 1800 boxes of raspberries from a three-quarter acre of land. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dinsdale, Parkhill, celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday last week. Strathroy council has fixed the tax rate at 28 mills, the highest ever in the history of that town. The Corunna Board of Trade will appeal to the minister of justice at Ottawa, to have a local magistrate appointed for that place. Mrs. Newbeger, of Mosa, now in her 86th year, cultivates a garden plot, which is said to be one of the best in the neighborhood. W. H. Piper, a young married man, employed at the Petrolia wagon works, had his hand caught in the machinery and severely lacerated. James Patterson, 7-year-old son of Henry Patterson, Strathroy, let a pick fall on his foot and crushed it so badly that one toe had to be amputated.

Archibald Hamilton, of Forest, went to West Lorne about three months ago to visit relatives, and died there on Sunday, August 2nd, after a brief illness. He was in his 75th year. B. Adams and Frank Isles, of the township of Carleton Place, have issued a writ against the township for $2,000 each for damage to their lands and crops by reason of the non repair of a drain. Mr. Peter MacGregor, Detroit, Mich., announces the engagement of his sister, Margaret, to Harry E. Lambert, manager of the Bank of Toronto, Kerwood. The marriage will take place in St. Thomas on September 16. The blow had been struck not by Britain but at her, and every soul in Great Britain, Ireland and the Empire will respond as one man in defence of the liberties of Europe. Something far more wonderful than the wireless telegraph is on the way. Adding to his past laurels, Signor Marconi is making the human voice travel through the ether waves by means of induced electric currents. There is no end to the triumphs of modern science; every day the pace quickens. We are not at war with the Germans. We have no quarrel with the Germans. The Germans in Canada are the best sort of citizens, and ought to be treated with special kindness at the present time. Those whom we know are as noble and lovable, man for man, as are Englishmen. We are at war with a machine of which the German Emperor is the impersonation.

OFF TO THE WAR

138 OFFICERS AND MEN IN LINE FOR THE FRONT

The Local Section Attend Church and are Entertained by the Ladies of Watford. "Watford's Own" Will Compare Favorably With Any Going to the Front

The seriousness of the war has been strongly emphasized to the people of Watford and vicinity during the past two weeks. Reciting for the overseas contingent had been going on quietly, but on Wednesday of last week when the order came for the men to mobilize and they were put on the militia pay roll, people began to think that war matters were affecting us right at home.

After drill Friday night the local members of the overseas contingent were addressed by Rev. W. G. Connolly, who was a member of the third South African contingent. He tendered to the men some very sound advice and many useful hints as to their conduct while in the King's service.

On Sunday evening the overseas contingent and other members of the local militia, about fifty strong, paraded from the Armory, headed by the Watford band, to Trinity Church where the Rev. S. P. Irwin, Hon. Capt. and Chaplain of the 27th Regt. preached to them. The sacred edifice was crowded to the doors, many worshippers standing in the vestibules.

The interior of the building was profusely decorated with flags. The scene was a bright one, the full dress uniforms of the soldiers and the white surplices of the choir lending a touch of attractiveness that was pleasing to the eye. The service was most impressive in its character, special prayers for the troops and for victory over our enemies were used, the processional hymn was "Fight the Good Fight" and the recessional "God Save the King," in which the congregation joined with a lustiness never before heard in Watford.

The train pulled out amid cheers from the spectators, and the band playing God Save The King. May they return without seeing active service, but should it so happen that they are called on to fight, may they come home singing:—

crowded with people. Tuesday forenoon was spent in preparation. At noon the ladies of Watford tendered the officers and men a luncheon in the Armory. It was the intention to have the Watford company go to Sarnia at 2.45 to join the rest of the unit, but shortly after noon Lieut.-Col. Kelly received word from the Department of Militia that Watford had been made the headquarters of the regiment, which news caused a complete change of plans. The Colonel made the announcement at the luncheon and it was received with cheers. The afternoon was one of excitement. The business houses were decorated with flags and bunting. The band gave a plentiful supply of patriotic music and a military parade was given which was witnessed by a large concourse of people.

On Wednesday at 11 o'clock the Sarnia and Petrolia men arrived by train and were escorted to the armory by the Watford band. Sarnia section was composed of 86 men and two officers, and Petrolia sent 18 men, which with the 32 from Watford compose the 27th unit. One hundred and twenty-five men were asked for and 138 have offered their services. The Company will be commanded by Capt. J. E. Hahn, of Sarnia, with Capt. Swift, of Watford and Lieut. Lucas, of Sarnia, as sub-alterns. Fifteen of the 27th regt. have offered their services and are in training for wireless service.

No 14 Field Ambulance Corps, 40 strong, under command of Major Dr. D. B. Bentley of Sarnia, are now on their way to Quebec. The equipment of each of the men while on march, weighs eighty pounds. It consist of rifle, cartridges, 2 blankets and rubber sheet, water-bottle, overcoat of Irish frieze and what is known as the Oliver equipment. Carrying a total weight of 80lbs. the average march when on active service is from twelve to eighteen miles, with forced marches half as far again when necessary.

On Thursday morning at 7.43 the company entrained for the east. Notwithstanding the early hour and a heavy rain shower, a large number of people went to the depot to see them off.

The train pulled out amid cheers from the spectators, and the band playing God Save The King. May they return without seeing active service, but should it so happen that they are called on to fight, may they come home singing:—

And when they say we've always won, And when they ask us how 'tis done, We proudly point to every one Of England's Soldiers of the King.

Toronto

Toronto, August 18.—The demand for butcher cattle was apparently well supplied yesterday, for there was almost no demand today, and trade was in consequence extremely dull. Buyers urged that there were no good cattle offering and, therefore, that prices were no lower. Actual transactions, however, would seem to bear out the contention of the sellers that prices were a good 25c to 30c lower all round on cattle.

There were no $8 cattle to-day and only a very few at or near the $8.50 mark. Medium butchers were very dull and hard to sell at concessions. There was a shortage of lambs and this market took a sharp upturn of 50c to 75c. Hogs were also firmer, with a tight run, and the market was up 25c.

London, August 18.—Dispatches from Belgium to-night indicate that the check of the German army advance is now complete, the kaiser's troops falling back in several places before the Belgians and French, the latter having advanced, following the arrival of the British, who have taken the places of a portion of the republic's soldiers in the long line behind Brussels.

London, August 18.—The French advance in Lorraine is proceeding rapidly and, according to military strategists, is most decisive fighting so far in the war. The work of the French forces has been marked by excellent strategy, ably carried out.

To-night it was officially announced that the Germans have abandoned Sarrebourg, where they were strongly established with heavy artillery. This was regarded as a strong point in the German line and the evacuation is a surprise.

London, August 19.—The British official news bureau announces that desultory fighting occurred to-day between the British patrolling squadrons and flotillas and German cruisers, which forces us. The government will not ask for $50,000,000 for war purposes. The Liege forts are still holding out. Not one of them has been taken.

Ottawa, August 18.—The war session of Canada's Parliament opened this afternoon with a simplicity of ceremony which emphasized the national crises which faces us. The government will ask for $50,000,000 for war purposes.

A Matrimonial Lottery. In Which One Man Owned Most of the Tickets. By DWIGHT NORWOOD.

There are in various countries curious customs with regard to matrimony. In Lapland the groom must chase his bride in a foot race. In Russia, which has a very large area, with many different peoples, one and all having their own peculiar methods, there are a number of varied customs. One of these is that a girl may go into the house of any man whom she wishes to marry and remain there till he marries her. If he refuses he is considered to have insulted her and her family, and they take revenge on him if they can.

whether those who usually made up such sums would do so in this case. Almost directly north of N. is Kara, in Siberia, where political offenders are sent to work in the mines. N. is the western side of the border between Russia and Siberia. Not long before the drawing of the marriage lottery was to take place Ivan and Nina, by a preconcerted arrangement, met in a wood to the northward of the village. The meeting was not to devise a plan, but to lament together over their approaching separation. They were in the heart of the forest under snow laden branches when, hearing a stirring in a thicket near by, they turned and saw a face that caused Nina to shriek. It was the face of a man, but so wild looking that for a moment they thought it some creature of the forest. Then a figure stepped forth, a man with unkempt hair and beard, ragged, shaggy, with cheeks shrunken and eyes glaring like those of a hunted beast. "My children," he said, "can you not hide me? If they get me they will take me back to the mines."

Ivan had once before been an escaped prisoner from Kara who had been pursued and arrested in N. and had never forgotten the despair on his face when, loaded with chains, he was taken away on his dismal march back to prison. Ivan knew well that this man was a fugitive, and the hearts of the children went out to him. They asked him what they could do for him, and after consultation it was arranged that they should return to the town and bring him food. This they did, and as soon as night came on they took him into the town, where Ivan hid him in his father's barn among the hay.

Early in the morning a number of officials entered the town looking for an escaped prisoner. But he whom they sought was safely hidden and ministered to by Ivan and Nina. After searching the village in vain the party left, and the fugitive as well as his preservers breathed more freely. Two or three days after the officials' departure Ivan took clothes and shaving materials to the loft, and the fugitive relieved himself of his beard, cut his hair and put on a peasant's suit. Then he asked Ivan to bring him pen, ink and paper, and he wrote a letter, which he addressed to some one in Moscow, and asked Ivan to put it in the post for him.

After this the fugitive occasionally left the barn and, growing more venturesome, at last took up his quarters at an inn. He invented a story that he had a little money, with which he proposed to buy a few acres of ground, and was looking about him for that purpose. This explanation of his presence in N. was welcomed by many, which, since he was rid of his wild appearance, marked him for a gentleman. However, the people with whom he mingled were not very acute, and even had they known that he was an escaped political prisoner would have shielded him so far as was possible.

peer, nor was he ever seen again in N. The happy couple sought him, but did not find him. It was rumored that he was a member of a noble family; that he had been pardoned by the czar; that he had been returned to Siberia. None of these rumors was ever proved. Both Ivan and his wife believe today that he bought all the unsubscribed chances in the lottery, thus having three out of four chances of winning, and that he had done this to repay them for succoring him. Nicholas Axelrod's real name was Paul Gerowsky, a Pole, whose family, related to the kings of Poland, submitted only because they were obliged to submit to the partition of their country among the three powers—Austria, Germany and Russia. But the Gerowskys did not give up hope that Poland would be redeemed and were ever watching for an opportunity to assert its reunion and independence. Some years before the marriage of Ivan and Nina, Paul Gerowsky became the leader of a plot with this end in view. It was discovered, and he was sent to Siberia. His escape from there, his success by the lovers, his purchase of the unsold tickets to the lottery, as has been stated, were all that was ever known of him by the people of N. Under his own name he spent the rest of his life as a citizen of the United States.

Endurance is more valuable than cleverness. It is the patient, steady plodder who gain and keep fortunes. Awakened from his sleep early Saturday morning to find his home in flames, Henry Marentette, an Essex farmer, had time to waken other members of the family and get them from the house. When the fire was discovered it had gained great headway, and despite the efforts of the neighbors, the building and contents were burned to the ground. The loss will be about $6000. The fire is thought to have originated from a defective oil lamp that had been left burning in one of the rooms. There was no other fire around the place. The barns and outbuildings were saved from the fire, but only after a hard fight.

James Harris, aged 70, a Detroit man who recently purchased a summer cottage at Linden Beach, Cedar Creek, near Kingsville, attempted suicide during Tuesday night by cutting his throat with a razor. Dr. Lee was called and dressed the wound. Small hopes are held for the man's recovery, his windpipe being nearly completely severed.

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct., 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months".

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Return of the Prodigal Son in 1914

No, it isn't that the world has grown hard hearted; it isn't that we are just as glad today to see the prodigal come back and just as lovingly anxious to lovingly welcome him home as ever was anybody in the 15th chapter of Luke. It is the manner in which the prodigal son of 1914 frequently returns that throws a wet blanket over the festivities of the welcome. When he comes down the road with his hat hanging on his ear and his hands in his pockets; when he kicks the faithful old house-dog as he lounges in at the gate; when he calls his father Gov'nor, when he wants to know what's for dinner before he has been in the house fifteen minutes; when he gives his elder brother two fingers to shake, and advises him to comb the hayseed out of his hair; when he throws himself into the easiest chair in the house, perches his feet on the window sill and announces that he'll "take a tub before dinner," when he comes back with a generally forgiving air of good fellowship about him, and tries to make all the rest of the family feel very easy and reassured—then it is my son, that your father longs to run and meet you while you are a great way off and fall upon your neck with a plow line and welt you into a state of becoming humility and penitence by the time you are able to take off your hat to the bound boy, and crawl up to the front steps and ask your brother to shake hands with you. Good people are just as glad to-day as ever they were, to see a prodigal come home, but it does rattle them to see him come in a hack and ask them to pay the driver and send for his baggage.—The Ledger.

Why Not Teach Conduct?

Toronto Star: Complaints are made of the manners of the rising generation, as they have been made since the days of Adam. It is said that children's manners have deteriorated, because parental discipline has been relaxed, because flogging has gone out of fashion. Various remedies are proposed, such as religious teaching and military drill. What is really needed is systematic training in conduct. There is a book on etiquette, but it is largely made up of rules relating to dress suits and other minor details of etiquette. It does not go straight to the point of childish conduct. How should children behave at school? How should they behave at home? How should they behave on the street? Religious training has hitherto been ineffective because the denunciations could not agree. As to conduct there is little difference of opinion. When children mock at a cripple or an insane man or woman, when the weak are bullied by the strong, when dumb animals are cruelly treated, everybody is shocked, and everybody agrees that children should be trained so as not to offend in these ways. But there is no systematic training.

Cruel Treatment of Russians by Germans

London, Aug. 17.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who has reached Stockholm, sends the following dispatch:—The scene witnessed at Sassnitz, a famous watering place on the east coast of the German Island of Rugen, in the Baltic Sea, baffled all descriptions. Some 5,000 Russian refugees, turned out on the quay, were left to struggle for access to a steamer which was reached by only a single gangway. The vessel was obliged to sail, leaving 3,000 of them in despair. One family had a letter of credit for $10,000, but were on the verge of starvation. Some of the refugees were half mad with hunger, thirst and lack of sleep.

The correspondent says that harrowing stories have been told by refugees, who are arriving at Stockholm by the thousands. "They were like poultry in crates," the correspondent adds, "without food or drink and almost without air for fifteen hours at a time. During the nights when they were not on the train, they were turned into cowsheds at slaughter-houses. Everywhere they were subjected to a continuous fire of insults from the troops, especially the officers. Women of delicate breeding were openly threatened with violence, and all before the declaration of war."

Among the victims were M. Kasso, former minister of education. Twice he was placed under arrest in spite of the knowledge of his identity, and packed into a fourth-class carriage. Councillor of State Schreiber and his wife were assaulted by officers, to whom they ventured to complain. Wives were separated from husbands and parents were separated from their children; no consideration was shown either for age, sex or infirmity. Many persons are now in ignorance of the whereabouts of those dearest to them.

You Can Help The Editor

BY REPORTING FACTS OF DEATHS, MARRIAGES, ETC. One of the most difficult tasks in a newspaper office is in getting the facts relative to marriages and deaths in the community. Many people take it for granted that when a person dies the editor is familiar with every detail of the life of the deceased and his activities, when in fact he sometimes knows absolutely nothing about him, but he has to get his information from other sources, same as other persons would have to do.

It is the same with marriages or other more or less important happenings in the community. In almost every case the editor has to dig up the particulars or satisfy himself and the readers with a meager and inaccurate account.

The average editor of a country paper has something like a million and a half of things to do and think about in a week, and the patrons can hardly over-estimate how much he appreciates any effort they make in furnishing him the facts for news items. Send in your items to the Guide-Advocate, and sign your name as a guarantee of good faith.

Gratitude Galore

"What's this one hour's overtime, Bill?" said the master of the mill, when settling up his wages on Saturday morning. "No one worked overtime last week that I know of."

"It's quite right, gov'nor; one hour," answered Bill, passing a horny hand across his mouth. "When was it then?" queried the master, suspiciously. "Last Thursday."

"Why last Thursday I sent you up to my house to help shake the carpets. And I knew you got off at six sharp."

"True, boss; but your missus gave me 'arf a meat pie to take home, and that there hour is for carryin' the dish back."

The City Farmer

The country "Rube" who came to town used to be a stock joke. But the "Rube" has made good. Most of the men at the head of any city's biggest affairs first came to town as "Rubes."

The tide of migration has turned, and when it's the joke has turned upon the city man who has the idea that a few thousand dollars and a few books on agriculture will make him a successful farmer.

Even a stupid turnip is said to know a city farmer as soon as it sees him; and the peas fairly rattle in their pods with derision as he passes, wandering too near the beehive with a book on honey-making he gets stung in three places; his cauliflower turns out to be cabbages; the thunder sours his milk; the drouth takes his corn; the rust gets in his wheat; the peaches drop before they ripen; the rot strikes his potatoes; the hogs destroy the watermelons; everything goes wrong, and farming is a failure.

Edmonton has coal beds containing sixty thousand million tons of coal directly under the city.

Take pleasure in your work. A task which appears distasteful at first sight soon becomes a pleasure.

One way:—"Woman, without her, man is a brute."

Another way:—"Woman without her man, is a brute."

An American exchange tells of a novel church contribution box. It is the invention of an Oklahoma man. If a person drops a quarter or more there is silence; if he drops a dime in, a bell rings; a nickel sounds a whistle, and a penny fires a blank cartridge. If one pretends to be asleep when the box passed, it wakens him with a watchman's rattle and a kodak takes his picture.

Scarcity of employment in the cities is forcing a back to the land movement that promises to be sweeping in extent, and it is the most effective cure for the mad rush to the cities that has been going on for some years past. Farmers are getting good help in the harvest field this season from tradesmen who have been laid off in the cities. A readjustment of conditions has commenced, as it was bound to do sooner or later. The cities have had their period of prosperity—it is now the turn of the country.

That Weak Back

accompanied by pain here or there—extreme nervousness—sleeplessness—may be faint spells—or spasms—all are signals of distress for a woman. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood—passing from womanhood to motherhood—or later suffering from that change into middle life which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any or all of these periods of a woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women.

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription

has successfully treated more cases in past forty years than any other known remedy. It can now be had in sugar-coated, tablet form as well as in the liquid. Sold by medicine dealers or trial box by mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps.

Miss Elizabeth Lordahl of Berkeley, Cal., in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce said: "I was completely broken down in health, I was aching and had pain all over my body and was so nervous that I could scarcely if anyone talked to me, but I had the good fortune to meet a nurse who had been cured by Dr. Pierce's Prescription. I have never had an occasion to consult a physician since—am in excellent health."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate stomach, liver and bowels—sugar-coated, tiny granules.

It's usually advisable to give a narrow-minded man a wide berth.

The man who cannot afford to advertise, cannot afford to be in business. He should be out in the woods cutting green timber.

Corwall, Aug. 6.—The work of guarding the Cornwall Canal has been taken over by the fifty-ninth Regiment, Co. "A" of Cornwall, under Captain W. R. B. Leslie, of Montreal, and Co. "B," of Morrisburg, under Captain Lawless, were called out yesterday. The men have been stationed at the locks and are fully equipped with tents and camp outfit.

Dust Causes Asthma. Even a little speck too small to see will lead to agonies which no words can describe. The walls of the breathing tubes contract and it seems as if the very life must pass. From this condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy brings the user to perfect rest and health. It relieves the passages and normal breathing is firmly established again. Hundreds of testimonials received annually prove its effectiveness. m

The army worm, now so destructive in this and other counties, secures its common name from its army-like formations. It is the larva of a noctuid moth, about an inch in length and nearly an inch and three-quarters across the full spread wings. The eggs are laid on blades of grass or grain in very large numbers. It is a northern or mid-American moth.

To give some idea of the enormous number of eggs laid by the moth, Mr. Chant, of Catlacart, estimates that on his farm alone 15 bushels of the grub were trapped in holes dug at intervals along furrows plowed to stop the advance of the destructive army. The worm prefers green grass for food, and when that fails will attack green grain, but will not eat ripened grain stalks.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

R. J. McCormick Protests the East Lambton Election

The Toronto Mail and Empire of the 13th inst. has the following:
The East Lambton contest in the recent provincial elections was again revived yesterday, when R. J. McCormick, the defeated Liberal candidate, filed a protest petition and made his deposit of $1,000 at Osgoode Hall.
At the election Dr. J. B. Martyn was declared elected by the returning officer, his majority being three votes. A recount made before the county judge declared Mr. McCormick elected by 27 votes. An appeal from the recount was made, and Chief Justice Sir William Meredith reversed the decision of the county judge, and declared Dr. Martyn elected by four votes.
Ever since there has been talk of protest, and the application was filed just in time, as to-day is the last day on which a petition can be filed.

The Hospital Ship

Watford Ladies Send Substantial Contribution
Funds are being raised by the women of Canada to provide a hospital ship to be equipped and presented to the British Admiralty. The work of collecting the necessary sum was not confined to any particular organization, although the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire set the ball rolling. Contributions were asked from all the women of Canada, because the gift is to be from them, irrespective of any organization. Watford ladies were canvassed last week and responded nobly, $110 being contributed towards the total. The ladies who did the collecting here were well pleased with the generous response to the appeal for funds. Nearly every one asked was not only willing but anxious to contribute, and the amount raised speaks well for the generosity and patriotism of the ladies of Watford.
