EVERYONE should clean up for the Fair—next Wednesday and Thursday. Brighten up your place of business, clean and attractively dress the windows, get out your flags and decorate. STATHROY AGE :- "One thing is STATHROY ACE:— "One thing is puzzling Strathroy citizens, and that is the fact that Watford, Glencoe and other nearby towns are receiving liberal supplies of coal these days." Pray, where, O where, did you get your information, Mr. Age? All the anthractic coal received in Watford so far you could hide in the chicken coop! THE NORWOOD REGISTER says:—The people of Canada were urged very strongly a year or so ago to save their old papers and magazines, and manufacturers were offering a good price for them. Many business men were induced to buy balers. Now they cannot get enough for their waste paper to pay for the baling, but the price of the paper maker's product is still going up. Ordinary mortals like ourselves, would like some explanation." Same here.

THERE were not many automobiles or our streets and highways on Sunday, outside the doctors' cars. The great mass of motor car owners either stayed at home or walked. True, you violate no law by motoring on Sunday, you are merely asked not to do so, and the bulk of car owners willingly complied with the request. That this is true may be taken as a matter of great pride. It forms a splendid tribute to the spirit of the people and to the force of public opinion. The person who motors for pleasure on Sunday loses the respect of honorable people.

IT is important that fruit and vegetables produced this year be canned or dried, and stored in the greatest quantities possible, but it is also necessary to conserve sugar. With economy in the use of sugar the Canada Food Board is confident there will be enough for jam-making and preserving. For apple jam, use four pounds crab apples to three pounds of sugar; for plum jam, eight pounds of plums to six pounds of sugar; for spiced pears, seven pounds of hard pears to four pounds of sugar.

A CORRESPONDENT speaking for the retailers, assures us that although matches now sell at fifteen cents per box, the retailers are not to blame, and that those of them who sell two boxes for a quarter are not making much out of it. He tells us that the manufacturer is charging nearly two dollars a case more for matches—apart from the tax—than he did be-fore the tax was put on. The attention of the Government needs to be given to this tax on matches and the way it works out.

THE HARVEST THANKSGIVING services held in Trinity church last Sunday drew good congregations. At the morning service the Rector preached to the child-dren from Duet. 16:13. The Rev. Capt. Saves Money For The Farmer

PRICES of farm products have reached a high level. The farmer can take full advantage of this situation only by adding to his equipment of time and labor-saving machinery. Time and labor are money. When time and labor are saved, money is saved.

Time and labor-saving devices for working the land do not produce complete results in themselves. The farmer must have rapid and dependable means of placing his products on the market.

The Ford One-Ton Truck will make trips to town so much more quickly than the horse that you will have many extra hours of time to devote to productive work. A large number of farmers have proven the Ford One-Ton Truck to be a time and money-saver-have you?

Prepare Now to Harvest and Store Root Crops.

Best Mixtures and Methods of Making Bread With Flour of Various

Cereal Grains. (Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.) TO the general farmer who grows good grain for seed, to the specialist in garden and truck crops, and particularly to the live stock man the Fall Fair offers an opportunity. It pays to advertise and the Fair is the place where the people see the goods produced, and seeing is believing. Moreover, the papers report the winnings and through these the exhibitor gets a large amount of advertising free which would otherwise cost him a considerable amount of money. Winning in close competitions under a competent judge adds dollars to the value of stock shown and in-creases the market price of any com-modity as well as giving the exhibi-tor a standing not only in his own community but over a section of country corresponding to the size and influence of the show at which prizes are won. The Fair is a good place to make sales. Prospective buyers see the good exhibits made and enquire about the breeding stock at home. Stockmen show at Fairs large-ly to make sales rather than to win prizes although the latter is a factor in the sales and they are not dis-appointed as evidenced by the growing interest in the Fall Fair. Showing at the Fair, coupled with a judi-cious newspaper advertising policy, which should never be neglected, is good business. The two go together and work hand in hand. It pays to let others know of your good stock. Use printers' ink and show at the Fall Fair - Prof. Wade Toole, O. A. College, Guelph.

AN OII, THAT IS FAMOUS.—Though Canada was not the birth-place of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, it is the home of that tamous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest it expellence for afield enough to attest it excellence in all these countries it is on sale and in Frints on Harvesting Root Crops. Root crops should be taken up before the weather becomes too wet and disagreeable in the fall if in any quantity. It is slow work at any time and becomes much more so un-der cold damp conditions. Lift the roots with a digging fork and twist off the tops, putting them in piles and covering with the tops. If a large area is to be lifted, and one is expert with a sharp hoe, he can very quickly remove the tops, but they will not keep quite as well. The roots should be ploughed out, throw-Bins with slatted sides and bottom should be used for storage where possible, as this gives the roots a chance to sweat. If the storage room temperature is above 40F. cover them with sand. Carrots should not be deeper than two feet in a bin, others may be four feet. Where cellar storage is not available use pits. These should be three feet wide, two or three feet high and of any length. Run the pits north and south where possible, and have them on welldrained ground. Put a layer of straw on the ground and cover first with straw 6 inches deep then 6 inches earth, and as the frost gets harder cover with fresh strawy manure. Have ventilators every 15 or 20 feet, as all roots sweat in storage. These may be filled with straw during cold periods.

All roots should be as free from dirt as possible when put in storage. It is often advisable to leave a few days in small piles so that at the second lifting any adhering will be removed.—A. H. MacLennan, B.S.A., Ontario Vegetable Specialist.

Cereal Grains for Bread-making.

Cereal Grains for Bread-making.
On this continent and in Europe we use wheat in much larger quantities than any other grain. This is because the flour made from wheat contains the constituents necessary to form gluten. Rye contains a similar substance to a lesser extent, while the other grains do not have any of this material. Gluten is a tough, elastic, tenacious substance, capable of considerable expansion. Consequently, when the gas liberated through the action of yeast seeks to make its way out of wheat flour dough the gluten expands, retaining the gas and causes the dough to rise. When the bread is baked the gluten When the bread is baked the gluten is "set" or coagulated, and this accounts for the light porous structure

They may be used in making biscults and cakes or quick breaks, which breaks easily dries jour readily, cannot be safely transported, and must be consumed within a few hours after heing premand. on the other hand, there is com-paratively little difference in the composition of the various cereal grains and, consequently, one will furnish about as much digestible nutrients as another. If, then, in a time of wheat shortage like the present, we substitute some of the flour of corn, oats, barley, buckwheat, etc., for wheat flour in making bread, we do not decrease its nutritive value. We do dilute the gluten and thus limit the power of expansion of the dough and we make the bread darker, but we have retained the desirable features of bread. Silkiness of texture and whiteness of crumb were counted points of excellence in the bread of the old high patent flour, but under the present conditions of longer extraction of the wheat grain and the introduction of substitutes, it is wrong for the consumer to place a high valuation on these points.— Prof. R. Harcourt, O. A. College, Guelph.

Made Brave Rescue.

Once a terror to mariners, Minots light, which stands on a reef off Boston harbor, has another thrilling story added to its history, says the Popular Mechanics magazine. Three days before Christmas, Captain Octavius Reamey, the keeper, approached the tower in his motorboat, which was loaded with provisions and fuel obtained on the mainland. As the craft drew up, it was overturned by the waves that were breaking over the base of the structure, leaving the captain battling alone in a tossing maelstrom of icy water. The assistant keeper was lowered on a rope from the door fifty feet above. He managed to selze the drowning man before it was too late, and both men were pulled from the water by their companions to the doorway high in the tower.

Great Apple Industry.

The apple industry in the United States today represents a stupendous commercial achievement. It had grown to 60,000,000 barrels in 1916: it dropped to 28,000,000 in 1911, and went up again to 40,000,000 barrels in 1912. From this date forward there is a continual increase in the production, for the great cities of the world are crying for apples, and people everywhere are just beginning to apprehend the actual value of this delicate fruit. We are turning backward to our heritage, for in the days of our greatgrandfathers the common adage was:
"An apple a day will keep the doctor away." Fruit as a part of the diet represents a most health-giving eleent.-Christian Herald.

Used Stamps Valueless. The Red Cross wishes to make it known, as widely as possible, that the report that used postage stamps have any value through the extraction of the dyes contained in them is absolutely false. This false report has already resulted in the receipt by the post office department of many stamps collected by misguided patriots who sought thus to do something to help win the war.—The Outlook.

Boy's Remark Got Results. Bob had been downtown with his mother shopping and was tired when they boarded a homeward bound street car. Every seat was occupied. A Letter from Pte. James McClung

The following extracts from letters received by Mrs. McClung of Watford, from her son James, who was wounded a short time ago will be found of interest

Town Hall Military Hospital,
Wallacy, Cheshire, England
August 30th, 1918.

August 30th, 1918.

Dear Mother:—
Just a few lines to let you know I am gefting along alright. Say, mother, it is just great to get into a good bed again and to get a good rest. This is a good hospital, they treat us fine, in fact are too good to us. I will be spoiled when I get out. This place is just across the river from Liverpool and is a very nice place. Frank Wiley from Watford was wounded in the push and some of the 149 boys were killed, but you don't know any of them.

Under the date of Sept. 3rd, Pte McCling writes:—

Clung writes:—
I am doing well. I was out yesterday.
I took the street cars to New Brighton.

I took the street cars to New Brighton. It is a very nice place ou the sands at the month of the river Mersey. Intend to go across to Liverpool to-day. Will send you some post cards. Here we can see ships coming in from Canada and the United States every day, At the front the Canadians have pushed still further. The tanks make the Germans run. I have seen the Germans lying dead all over the ground with their shoes off. We took a lot of prisoners and every one of them had a loaf of bread with him. It is black such as I would not care to eat, but some of our boys say it is not too bad, so you of our boys say it is not too bad, so you see they are not starving yet. They say the war will soon be over. I expect to be in France again after Christmas.

Your loving son,

A son of Rev. and Mrs. Charlton, of Glencoe, is believed to have been a passenger on the steamship "Galway Castle" torpedoed a couple of weeks ago.

THE BUSINESS WOMAN

To-day, more than ever before, is woman's opportunity. Many new occupations are now opened to her, which before the war, she was deemed unfitted to fill. And truth to tell she has risen to the opportunity, and now shares many business responsibilities in former times business responsibilities in former times confined to men. But, as women are subject to more frequent fluctuations of health than men, many will be handicapped early, if they regard their health requirements too lightly.

The nervous strain, long hours and prolonged mental or physical fatigue thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Such conditions as women are never called.

conditions as women are now called up-on to undergo can only be endured by a full-blooded constitution. This is as true full-blooded constitution. This is as true-for men as for women, only weaker women suffer soonest. The woman work-er, in any line, requires her blood re-plenished frequently. She needs new, rich blood to keep her health under the trying conditions of business life, and to fortify her system against the effects of overwork. This applies also to the woman in the home, who, perhaps, has more in the home, who, perhaps, has more worries and anxieties than usual. So let-all girls and women take heed and renew their blood promptly at the first approach of pallor, lack of appetite, headache or backache. This can be best and most effectually accomplished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make new rich blood and thus help woman kind so perfectly. No woman need fear failure of health if they take these pills occasionally to keep them well, or give them a fair trial if they find themselves rundown. You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.
