THE KING'S MESSAGE

Replying to Cable from Church of England Synod of Nova Scotia Extending Congratulation and Homage to Beloved Sovereign

His Lordship Bishop Worrell, following the resolution of Synod, forwarded last week to His Majesty King George the following congratulatory cablegram:

"To His Most Gracious Majesty King George the Fifth:

"The Synod of the church of England in the diocese of Nova Scotia desires to lay its homage at the feet of the throne on the happy occasion of His Majesty's coronation and to assure him of our fervent loyalty and our ardent desire to maintain unbroken the bonds which have ever united the Dominion of Canada and the Motherland. We offer to him and to his most gracious consort our hearty congratulations on their approaching coronation and assure him of our earnest prayers for the peace and happiness of the Royal Family.

"CLARE L. NOVA SCOTIA King George's reply to Bishop Worrell's cablegram was as follows:—

"The king is greatly touched by the message which you have addressed to him from the Church of England synod, diocese of Nova Scotia. His Majesty heartily thanks you for your congratulations on his approaching coronation, for your loyal assurance and desire to maintain the bonds of affection which unite Canada and the Motherland, and for your prayers for the peace and happiness of his family.

(Signed)
"A. VIGGE."

Bad Fire in College Residence

Student's Home is Damaged to the Extent of Several Thousands of Dollars.

Wolfville, June 8.—Last evening at eleven o'clock fire was discovered in the building known as "Chipman hall" in the college residence. It seems to have originated in a dust fire leading from the basement to the fourth story and when first seen, was burning at the top of the fire and soon communicated with the adjoining wood work and the roof. The fire company was on hand promptly and had two good streams playing on the building, but it was a matter of some difficulty to get directly at the flames. However, one line of hose was carried up in the interior and another on the exterior and the fire was soon got under control, though the damage to the building and furniture from fire and water will amount to several thousand dollars.

It was insured in a number of companies whose syndicates carry the risks on all the educational plant at Wolfville.

The college residence was built in 1875 at a cost of $18,000.

FAMILY AFFLICTION.

Kentville Chronicle.—Mr. H. G. Harris, editor of the Kentville Advertiser has had severe illness in his family for several weeks past. Two children have been attacked by a malignant form of mastoiditis, following scarlet fever. Doctor W. S. Woodworth and W. B. Moore, with Dr. Kinsman, of Truro have performed successful operations on both children, who are now recovering as speedily as could be expected. Editor Harris has the sympathy of the whole town in his prolonged affliction.

A Summer Fair for Halifax

The lady members of the Halifax County Anti-Tuberculosis League are planning and preparing for a Summer Fair, to be held at the Provincial Exhibition Grounds. The Fair will continue five days, from the 24th to the 28th of June. The proceeds are to be devoted to the procuring of a home for advanced cases of tuberculosis. At present, there is no institution or hospital to receive such cases, and the need is urgent.

Space in the Main Building is already taken up. Many manufacturers have donated largely of their products, and these will be exhibited in attractive booths.

Afternoon tea, ice cream and cooling drinks can be had in various parts of the Main Building, and a good hearty supper from six to eight.

Other attractions in the Main Building will be Gipsy and Witch's booths; Punch and Judy Show for the children; and a Chrysanthemum Garden which will be one of the beauty spots.

There will be a Tuberculosis Exhibit, prepared and shown by a special committee of the League, to keep before the general public the fact that this is a preventable disease.

Every afternoon there will be a May Day Pageant of one hundred and thirty children with dance and chorus every evening a Grand March of one hundred young ladies, also a short entertainment of dancing, singing and drama, by the best local talent.

The Fisheries' Building will be devoted to dancing and will be in charge of a Committee of well-known organizations. The Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron, the North-west Arm Rowing Club, the Fanoak Canoe Club, of Dartmouth, the Waagvoet Club, etc.

The dates embrace Coronation Day, for which a special program is being prepared.

The Fair will be formally opened on Tuesday, July 20th, at 2.30 p.m., by His Honor Lieut-Governor McGregor. All railways are reducing fares for the week.

BOSTON EXPRESS DERAILED NEAR BANGOR.

St. John, June 9.—The Boston train due here at 11.45 o'clock last night did not reach St. John until this morning, owing to a derailment at Bangor. The passengers said the Express ran off the track and two cars were turned over. Fortunately no one was injured, but many narrowly escaped accident. A special was sent up from McAdam and brought the passengers through to St. John. On board were several bound to Halifax and other points, but as the Halifax Express had left on time, they were bound to stay over in this city.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor Monitor-Sentinel.—Kindly permit me, through your columns, to ask the indulgence of all would be friends of boys toward the Boy Scout movement especially in what we hope, eventually to make its most attractive feature—viz. Scouting.

For this work we shall really need permission to do what, for want of a better term, we may call "a little petty trespassing." It will, of course, be understood that we will use our best endeavour to do no damage, and if in our excitement, we unwittingly do, we hope to make suitable amends.

Will our friends then, bear with us and grant this permission in the interest of the movement. There should be no difficulty as soon we hope to have sufficient uniform to mark a Boy Scout when on Scout work and any request made will be cheerfully obeyed.

I should not have thought it necessary to write this in a community where kindness and friendly "give and take" is the predominant note, had it not been that last Saturday we received a check in our operations where we supposed we could do no damage. Boy Scouts do not break down fences or, if they do, the rule is to repair them straight away and make good all damage. At least this is our intention and this being understood, we hope our former friends and others will help our cause by allowing us to take it for granted that we may sometimes go off the main road or beaten track in our enjoyment of educative and healthful recreation.

On behalf of the boys,
Truly Yours,
Ernest Underwood.
(Scout Master)

P. S. We would gladly ask personal permission but for the editorial difficulty of knowing just where one man's property ends and another's begins.

Auto Accident and Fatality

One of the saddest fatalities ever known in this vicinity was that through which Mrs. Abram Young met her death, when the accident to Mr. L. D. Shaffer's automobile in which she was riding occurred at Round Hill on Wednesday afternoon last. The driver while undertaking to escape a rut in the road turned too sharply, the auto being over-turned into the ditch throwing out the occupants, who were Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer, Mrs. Young and son, Max, and Mr. Percy Burns. Mrs. Young struck upon a sharp rock which pierced her temple, death ensuing almost instantaneously. Mr. Percy Burns was seriously injured having his thigh bone and pelvis bone broken. Though he has suffered severely, it is hoped and believed that he will recover from his injuries. Strange to say, beyond the shock, the others escaped serious injury, but all received a mental and nervous shock from which it will take them long to recover.

A message by telephone from Mrs. F. M. Armstrong, before whose home the accident took place, quickly summoned Mr. Young and Doctors Dehman and Burns, Mr. Wear offering his service with his auto to convey them to the scene, where they met a heart-rending sight. No earthly skill availing Mrs. Young, she was tenderly cared for by others while the doctors gave their attention to Mr. Burns, alleviating his suffering, so that a few hours later he was brought home and as soon as his condition permitted the broken bones were set. The others of the party returned later, and the body of Mrs. Young was conveyed to her home from which she had gone forth so happily a few hours previous.

When the tragic event became known here our townspeople were deeply stirred with grief and sympathy, and all possible kindness and consideration was shown to those associated with the sad affair.

The Monitor had gone to press a couple of hours previous and about half of its edition was run and distributed, but on learning of the lamentable occurrence the forms were held until a brief notice could be inserted in the remainder of the issue. The automobile was not wrecked completely as was at first stated, but was considerably damaged.

Did They Violate the Law?

(Truro News)

Dr. W. H. S. Phinney and Principal Homer, accompanied by Dr. Vernon Miller, of Truro, returned on Tuesday evening from a fishing trip on the Tusknet River. They were fortunate in securing about one hundred trout.—Yarmouth Times.

Three fishermen in one day under the new Order-in-Council can take about ninety trout, thirty each.

The Fish Warden will be nosing around likely to see how long these men were fishing.

By the same Order-in-Council the catch of all these jolly fishermen together must not weigh more than thirty pounds; so we do not see how one hundred fish weighing the legal thirty pounds can be called "fine trout."

Or, suppose a case, two fishermen from Truro should go to Stewiacke or any other lake, and come back with three hundred fish in two days they would have violated the law by one hundred and eighty fish too many—and a fish warden could "go for them" under this new order in Council.

Brother sportsmen, you will have to be careful hereafter in reporting your catch of fish to the newspapers;—in fact the day of big fish stories—and the ages of the cheerful liar are now gone—apparently by legal enactment in Nova Scotia.

Woman Civil Engineer

Chicago, May 28.—Women have moved a wide swath in many industries and professions, but it remained for Mrs. William B. Ewing, of Chicago, to break the ground for women in the engineering business.

Mrs. Ewing is the widow of William B. Ewing, the Chicago consulting and civil engineer who died suddenly a few weeks ago, leaving her a large family support, but a number of unfinished contracts as well.

The little woman without fear or hesitation jumped into the position so suddenly vacated by her husband, so that after his burial finding her at his desk in the Menard building, "I hadn't thought about it being unusual at all," said Mrs. Ewing. "It seemed to me the most natural thing in the world. I have always had a great many business cares and responsibilities. I always kept in touch with my husband's profession. He did much of his work at home, and we talked it over together. I kept all of his blue prints and accounts."

Mrs. Ewing advocates strongly every woman's interesting herself in her husband's profession, and associating herself with him as much as possible in business.

"It draws them more closely together," she said, "besides the practical value it has in making a woman independent and fortifying her against any emergency that may arise. It takes a pretty large amount of money to allow one to live off the income, and it's a tragic thing for a woman to be thrown on her own resources when she has none."

The work which this woman manager has assumed has already amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mrs. Ewing intends to handle all of the contracts awarded her, even those in the state of Washington, which her husband was figuring on at the time of his death.

According to Chicago engineers she is the first woman in the actual field of engineering.

"I don't know why that profession shouldn't be open to women as well as any other," said Mrs. Ewing, "even including the work in the field, if she has the physical strength for it."

BURNED TO DEATH.

A little daughter of Mr. George Foster, of Millville, twelve years old, was burned to death on Friday. She used kerosene in lighting the fire. Her dress caught and she rushed out of doors. A neighbor saw her, and by rolling her in the sand, extinguished the flame. The injuries, however, were sufficient to cause her death, which occurred in the afternoon. Her mother is seriously ill with tuberculosis.

LAI'D TO REST

Masonic and Church Ceremonial Attend the Obsequies of Rev. Henry D. DeBlois, Retired Clergyman and Grand Chaplain of Masons

The funeral of Rev. Henry D. DeBlois on Thursday afternoon of last week was conducted with the impressive ceremonies of the Church of England and the Masonic Order, attended by a large concourse of people. The removal of the body from his late residence to the church was presided over by the Annapolis Royal Masonic Lodge, who marched in a body before the hearse, preceded by the Annapolis Brass Band, playing a funeral march. After the usual services at St. Luke's church, conducted by the Rector, assisted by Rev. F. P. Greatorex, the cortege proceeded to the Round Hill cemetery, where the interment took place, with Masonic ceremonies, conducted by the Grand Master of the Annapolis Lodge, E. B. McDaniel and Chaplain Rev. Porter-Shirley. A number of members of the Rotheray Lodge of Bridgetown met the cortege at Round Hill and joined in the service. Among the numerous floral tributes was a beautiful wreath from the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia a tribute of respect to one of its high-standing in their noble order, having served a term as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia, and having had the honorable distinction some years ago of being appointed permanent Chaplain of the Grand Lodge.

The following obituary notice is contributed by an intimate and valued friend of the reverend gentleman:

Rev. Henry DeBlois, D. D., who died at his home in Annapolis Royal on Tuesday last, June 6th, was a son of William Minet DeBlois, a prominent merchant, and his wife, Jane Vermilye Pryor, of Halifax. For an admirable account of the family, the reader is referred to Dr. Eaton's splendid History of King's County, lately issued, to which the writer will only add that the family was descended from the Counts of Blois in Normandy, who gave a king to England. Dr. DeBlois was born in Halifax, Oct. 13th, 1830, but was not baptized till Nov. 10, 1831. He entered King's College, Windsor in 1847 and left college after passing his B. A. examination with honours in June, 1850 and took charge of the Academy at Annapolis Royal, where notwithstanding his youth, he taught with great success, until having reached the full canonical age of twenty-three he was ordained Deacon, Dec. 21st 1853.

He resided, exercising the functions of the sacred ministry in Antigua, W. I., St. Stephen, N. B., and other places abroad several years. Returning to Nova Scotia he was Rector of Granville about seventeen years from 1860 to 1876, was Rector of Bridgetown two years, and then became the first Rector of the Parish of Rosette, holding that office till his superannuation in the autumn of 1900. He continued to officiate often there and elsewhere voluntarily so long as his strength held out, for he loved the various duties of the ministry and was reluctant to give them up.

He was Rural Dean of the Deanery of Annapolis many years. He was Commissioner of Schools for the County of Annapolis and Chairman of the Board, for nearly half a century, and was deeply interested in education, and was especially a warm friend and liberal supporter of King's College, and promoter and supporter of the Church School for girls. He was a splendid classical scholar, and as a recognition of his services in the cause of education as well as his ripe scholarship and literary ability, the honorary degree of D. C. L. was lately conferred on him by his university. Besides a short History of the Church in Annapolis Royal, he wrote in his earlier years, several pamphlets and short treatises the subjects of which the writer regrets his inability to give. He was very high up in the Masonic Order, being permanent Grand Chaplain for Nova Scotia and High Priest of the Royal Arch Chapter. As a Christian minister in the sick room and by the dying bed he was at his best as a model pastor; as a Churchman he was essentially and truly a no-party man, and held strictly to the old Church of England doctrine concerning the Presence in the Lord's Supper, not regarding that sacred rite as a sacrificial offering on the one hand, nor degrading it into a mere rite on the other, nor did he in his ministrations by attitude or posture encourage any other view than that reasserted by the great English Reformers as the pure and primitive doctrine. Thus he retained the confidence of his people and there was never any disaffection or party divisions in his parishes. He was a regular and diligent attendant at the Diocesan Synod in Halifax and the Ecumenical and other yearly meetings at Windsor, and would have been an honored and useful member of the Provincial and General Synods if his clerical brethren had elected him to those higher bodies.

He was in private and public an earnest and conscientious and at the same time temperate advocate of temperance.

Dr. DeBlois married first Miss Eleanor Esmond Spurr, of Round Hill who died in 1858, and second, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, of Lunenburg. He left two sons surviving him, living a bachelor and a widow and a daughter, Mrs. Charles McCormick, both ladies being highly esteemed in social circles in Annapolis, and zealous church workers in St. Luke's Parish. He is also survived, out of a family of nine by a brother, Dr. Louis G. DeBlois, of Bridgetown, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Austin, residing in England.—COM.

MORE KIND WORDS FOR MONITOR

(Dartmouth Patriot.)

There are two newspapers in Nova Scotia owned, edited and run by women. Mrs. Fielding runs the Windsor Tribune, and Mrs. M. K. Piper publishes the Bridgetown Monitor, which has just entered upon the 39th year of its existence. It is a bright interesting paper of eight pages neat in appearance and well edited. It is doing its full share in building up the province and deserves fully the success it has achieved.

Policy of New Zealand

Toronto, April 1911.—"Square Deal", official organ of the Tax Reform and Direct Legislation League of Ontario reports that in an interesting interview with the editor of the Toronto Globe, the Hon. Dr. Finlay, Minister of Justice of the Government of New Zealand, who with the Prime Minister, Sir. Jos. Ward, was on his way to the Conference of the Colonial Premiers in London, gave some interesting information regarding the solving of the vexed land question in New Zealand.

With only a limited area, and with private estates of 200,000 acres devoted to sheep raising and supporting only a few shepherds, the situation grew up akin to that in Britain. The Government "reclaimed" much of the land, leased it to small farmers, loaned capital upon it, provided needed facilities, and conveniences, and in the end disapproved every argument of the obstructionists by showing wide spread prosperity and trebled land values. One-sixth of all New Zealand is now held by the Crown and will not be sold but only leased in small holdings at reasonable rentals and revealed after sixty-six years.

Absolutely and a very particular our land policy has been justified said Dr. Finlay, and he did not refer to the refrain of the campaign song of the British radicals, "God made the land for the people."

The policy of the Government of New Zealand, as Dr. Finlay describes it, is very different from that of Ontario. "The policy of our government says Dr. Finlay, "is not to delay it a moment until we have, or claim it, or the pressure of half instructed public opinion under crowds us into action. Our plan is to lead. There came a time when it was plain that New Zealand was face to face with a crisis. Things could not go on as they had been going, without revolt and reaction. The ideal was received of what kind of place New Zealand ought to be and it has been the aim of our policy to work steadily and determinedly towards that ideal. We have sixty million acres and one million people, and our purpose is to make each of those acres yield the utmost good for the people, and to secure to each of these people access to all the opportunities which life in New Zealand affords.

Access to opportunity, as Dr. Finlay understood it, meant access to the land as source of wealth, access to education, free and efficient as essential to the right of opportunity to wholehearted conditions of life, and the reward; access to justice such as gives the poorest seamstress as fair a chance before the court as the wealthiest corporation; access to capital at moderate rates of interest and easy terms of payment; access to all the conveniences provided by railways, telephones, and other public services at the minimum cost to the state; and access to insurance against accidents and a pension for old age.

THE CONTAMINATING HOUSEFLY

(From the Philadelphia Inquirer.)

So recognized has the common house-fly become as a disease-producer that, for a number of years past, physicians and others interested in promoting healthful conditions have repeatedly called attention to its destructive influences and issued warnings against it. It seems a somewhat significant coincidence that just about the time Dr. James M. Anders was inveighing against it at the pure milk show, Dr. Neff was engaged in writing a bulletin calling attention to the dangers that lurk in food that has been exposed to it.

In his address at the show Dr. Anders concluded his remarks by saying: "Above all, keep the common house fly out of the milk, for it is a most harmful agency, if permitted to gain access, since it is acknowledged carrier of disease-producing germs." Dr. Anders is one of the recognized medical authorities of this city and such a warning coming from him is invested with more than ordinary importance.

Both of these warnings are timely. Throughout the whole country the press is engaged in an agitation concerning the fly, and the importance of the campaign against the contaminating little pest cannot be underestimated. By taking the most ordinary precautions, householders can keep their homes free from these insects. At this season of the year screening is the best kind of insect-screens. It can be had very cheaply and the lack of it is the sort of economy that borders on criminal negligence. By keeping one's premises free from refuse, garbage cans well closed and devoting attention to other little details of a similar nature the housefly can be reduced in number. It is a labor that is well worth the time and will pay for itself ten times over.

How, with this new point of view, he works back to prosperity again, how his wife helps him, and how they save on $9.00 a week where they hadn't been able to on $30.00 is the rest of the tale.

It is a thoroughly original, though provoking little story, but it is particularly because of the part that Ruth, his wife, takes, that I want you middle-class women to read it.

Her studies in economy—the economy of thrifty buying, but merely of doing without, ought to be suggestive to every woman who is appalled by the high cost of living.

One Man's Way

Have you—"you" this time means particularly the housewives of the middle class—read Will Carleton's "One Way Out?"

"If you haven't, you should at once. No, I am not attempting to press agent the book.

I am merely voicing a warm conviction. "One Way Out," is the story of a man who is typically of the modest salaried middle class, with a standard of living just above its means.

At the age of thirty-eight this man, with very little laid by and a wife and boy of eleven dependent upon him, loses his position. He has only a highly specialized knowledge, almost useless outside of the office where he has been employed for many years, and when he starts his hunt for employment he is unaided and turned down by employers, who all want younger men or men with some more specific training.

After some horrible weeks of this humiliating and hopeless hunting he happens to find out by accident that Murphy, the man who empties his ashes, is building houses and putting his sons through college. He looks about him and realizes that not only Murphy but other immigrants are making good to an astonishing degree and he suddenly thinks he sees "one way out"—that is, to immigrate to America and start where the immigrant does and take what offers regardless of pride of class. His wife approves. They sell their furniture and with $100 clear start life anew in one of Murphy's tenements—rent $3.00 a week.

The next day he secures work as a laborer with a subway construction gang at $1.50 a day. He has immigrated to America and they begin the new life by looking about them to find what opportunities and possibilities are open to them.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months; viz, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by all dealers.

HEAVY ELECTRICAL STORM AT LIVERPOOL

Gilbert Fawkes' House Was Struck And all the Windows Shattered.

Liverpool, N.S., May 30—Liverpool experienced the worst electric storm in its history this morning. In every direction trees were struck, while the power house five miles up the river sustained slight dynamo damage, plunging the town in darkness. By dawn, the tempest had worked out to sea. Just enough rain fell to extinguish the forest fire that had been blazing for some days in this vicinity. Much property was destroyed fifteen miles west of here. The house of Gilbert Fawkes, Bruce Harbor, was struck and all the windows torn out. No one was injured.

A despatch from Yarmouth says:—A heavy lightning and rain storm visited this section Monday night breaking a long spell of dry weather. The rain was very much needed by our farmers. Lightning struck the house of George Johnson at Plymouth, doing considerable damage. No one was injured.

President Taft's Great Step Towards Universal Peace

Dr. Dandurand of Montreal Speaks Before the Mohonk Lake Conference on International Arbitration—Canadians Will Hail with Enthusiasm the Conclusions of Such a Fact.

Mohonk Lake, May 25—In discussing the proposed Anglo-American arbitration treaty before the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today, Royal Dandurand, LL.D., of Montreal member of the Canadian senate, said in part:

"Mr. Taft's offer to arbitrate all questions of disagreement without reservation whatever is the most important and serious step towards the goal of universal peace which has been made since creation. The acceptance of the suggestion by Great Britain's foremost representative men, Messrs. Aquith and Balfour, should insure the signing of this treaty. It was fitting that this offer should come from the American republic and go primarily to Great Britain. Let us all hope that the terms of this agreement will be drafted in the same liberal and lofty spirit in which the offer was made and accepted.

"This document will be an object lesson for the world. It will be the foundation of the league of peace to which will gradually rally all the nations. I venture to prophesy that the French republic will then give its cordial adhesion to this policy alliance.

"Canadians will hail with enthusiasm the conclusion of such a compact, because they will see in it the promise of immunity from ever-increasing armament. They have lived, up to the present, the happiest people in the world, without any fear of attack from a foreign foe. The day is at hand when the responsibilities of nationhood will weigh heavily upon their shoulders. Their greatest desire, their prayer is, that they may be protected against the plague of militarism."

DRUGGIST PRAISES D. D. D.

"Your D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema is the best thing we have ever handled, and is giving good satisfaction with our customers."—Spur Steveson Drug Co., Birtle, Man.

"Fruit-a-lives" Brings Natural Results In A Natural Way.

"I am a seventy-nine-year-old man and a great believer in, and user of, "Fruit-a-lives".

"Stricture of The Bowels was the complaint I suffered from and I found that "Fruit-a-lives" did me more good than any other remedy. My doctor advised me to stick to "Fruit-a-lives" and I have done so with best result.

"I have been in business here for a good many years and have been a resident of Otterville for over fifty years."

W.M. PARSONS,
OTTERVILLE, ONT., July 8th, 1910.

Fruit is Nature's laxative. "Fruit-a-lives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. "Fruit-a-lives" acts on the human system like fresh fruit—easily and gently—yet just as effectively as the old-time pill.

"Fruit-a-lives" does not gripe or irritate the intestines. It regulates the bowels and cures Constipation because "Fruit-a-lives" acts directly on the liver.

Just try "Fruit-a-lives" when you need a mild, gentle yet effective laxative and liver regulator.

MONOPOLISTIC GREGD.

The city of Prince Rupert, British Columbia, recently paid to the Prince Rupert Power and Light Company $15,018.75 for the water and power rights of Woodworth Lake and its outlet to Shavathness Lake.

The important thing to note is that the city pays not for any material thing but merely for the privilege of using one of the undeveloped natural resources of the country, and that the city paid the money not to the British Columbia Government, but to a private corporation.

WITH HER SWEET HELP

(Chicago Record-Herald)
Miss Derrington felt a delightful little fluttering in the vicinity of her heart.
Addison Wetmore seemed to be nervous and eager. It was clear that he had something on his mind. He picked up one of the six best sellers and glanced for a moment at one of the illustrations, then threw the book aside and drew a deep sigh, gazing earnestly at his pretty companion.

"What has come over you this evening?" she asked. "You seem to be awfully nervous."
"He crossed to the babygrand, and, leaning upon it, gazed down into the beautiful girl's deep, dark eyes. There was in his look, an earnestness that she had never seen there before, and suddenly she realized that this was perhaps the most thrilling moment of her life.

"We have known each other a long time, haven't we, Shirley?" he replied in tones that were tense with emotion.

"Yes," she admitted, permitting her pretty slim fingers to fall upon the ivory keys and modestly avoiding his eager gaze. "It is nearly three years."

"You have had a chance in that time to get to know me pretty well, haven't you? I have always tried to be a perfect gentleman when I was with you, haven't I?"

"Yes, I have never seen you do anything to be ashamed of."

"Has your father ever objected to our friendship?"

"No, father has always liked you very much. He has often said he did not think you were one of those young men who thought their lives would be wasted unless they squandered their money on women; who smoked cigarettes and drank wine in public places."

"I'm glad to hear he has such a good opinion of me. There's something I want to ask you."

"Is there?"

"Yes, it's something very important."

The folks have all gone out. We are alone here."
He took one of her soft hands in his, and she looked up at him with sweet, girlish innocence.

"It is something I have been thinking of for several days."

"What is it, Addison?"

"I hardly know how to say it."

"But I can't say it for you, can I?"

"No, of course not. You are sure your father likes me?"

"Yes, he couldn't think more of you if you were his son."

"Well, I want to borrow $50. Do you think he would let me have it?"

"I don't know," she replied, drawing her hand from his. "If you wish me to do so, I shall ask him at breakfast tomorrow morning. If you don't hear from me you will know that he has refused. Dear me! How late it is, I will be glad to lend you a nickel if you need car fare to get home."

GENTLE REMINDER

It was midnight. The man had entered the house as quietly as possible. His shoes made some noise. He had just reached the door of the bedroom when he heard someone moving in the bed as if about to get up, a woman's voice floated in his ears.

"If you don't take your boots off when you come into this house," it said, "hers's going to be trouble, and a whole lot of it. Here it's been raining for three hours, and you dare to tramp over my carpets with your muddy boots on! Go downstairs and take them off this minute!"

He went downstairs without a word but he didn't take off his boots. Instead he went straight out into the night again, and the "pal" who was waiting for him saw a tear glisten in his eye.

"I can't rob that house," he said, "it reminds me of home."

ECONOMICAL WIFE

"Henry, dear, the children are needing shoes."

"Needing shoes again. Do you think I am made of money? Where are the ones I bought for them just a few days ago? I suppose you have given them to some beggars under the impression that their father's amusement was to buy new ones."

"No, my dear, I have not given them away. I have put them through the meat chopper and will serve them tomorrow as hash. Be home early for dinner, dear."

A Prison Farm Needed

(St. John Times.)

Merely to provide a conveyance for jail prisoners to the place of their daily toil will not in the very smallest degree tend to improve either the health or the morals of the prisoners. It is quite as disgraceful to have these men riding daily through the streets as to have them walk, and the daily ride will not do anything to lesson the probability that the same men be arrested over again for breaches of the law after they have served their term. The real disgrace of St. John is not that it made these men walk through the streets, but that it did not provide a prison farm where the large majority of them could probably be developed into useful citizens.

The most striking utterance on this subject of the treatment of prisoners that we have seen of late is that of Warden Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary, published in the Success Magazine. He points out that imprisonment and labor should not be for revenge but to correct and reclaim; and that the penitentiary which releases men without having improved them is not only a burden upon the tax-payers but an injury to society!

"Yes, the farm's the thing," says Warden Tynan, who conducts the Colorado Penitentiary on the open-air plan. "Most of my criminals are city products—ill-nourished, drink sodden, stunted. We must bring them back to the land, for in the land there is healing and increasing strength. Under the instruction of employed experts, they will come to health, wholesomeness, usefulness and profit. In the fields they would learn soil values, crop care and all the details of scientific farming and agriculture. In the orchards, the nursery business; in the barns, all about dairying; in the brooderies, the secret of poultry raising, and in the pens, hogs and their care. Look at Frank, the chap that takes care of the chickens and ducks and geese at the 'pen.' He didn't know a thing when he came in, and now three men are waiting to employ him as a poultry expert when he gets out. On a 1,200 acre tract I could make use of two hundred and fifty men."

No stronger testimony to the value of a prison farm could be given. It agrees with what is being proved by the province of Ontario on its prison farm at Guelph. If instead of sending a man for a short term to jail he were sent for a longer term to a farm, the chances are ten to one that he would be reclaimed. Under the present conditions the majority of those released from the chain gang in St. John go back to their old habits.

Warden Tynan declares that the parole system should be extended so as to apply to felonies as well as misdemeanors, assuming, however, that it would be exercised with discretion, by a judge of sound judgment. There are, he holds, certain cases where men are serving time wron justice would have been better served had they been paroled from the bench. He states the case thus:

"What if a man has stolen to get medicine for a sick wife? I have a fellow who's doing three years for that very thing. What if there is technical guilt without criminal intent? What if it is a first offence attended by unusual mitigating circumstances? Right there—in the court room—is where such men should be given another chance. What's the danger? The sentence hangs over them; and they live under the eye of the law. If they fail to make good or if it turns out that confidence has been falsely reposed, they can be re-arrested and imprisoned without further proceedings."

The views of Warden Tynan in this respect are those of Parole Officer Archibald of Canada. The value of the experiment, however, depends upon the judge. If he is erratic or unduly imbued with the spirit of generosity, some prisoners are likely to be paroled who ought to be failed. Assuming that the parole system is properly administered and that there is some one to keep an eye on the paroled prisoner, there can be no doubt that its general results would be beneficial to the individual and to society.

One other statement made by Warden Tynan is worthy of note. He claims that after a prisoner has been reformed, strengthened in body and mind, taught means of livelihood and the habits of industry, he should not be turned out penniless to face the world. He says:

"The released convict must have some money; enough at least to tide him over the first few months—to keep him from feeling like a vagrant—to prevent his despair and relapse. I am in favor of a law that will pay the men a certain salary toward the end of the sentence—say one dollar a day for the last sixty days. It is my endeavor to have every prisoner go back into the world from the ranch or road—clear-eyed, brown faced and Heaven knows these fellows earn the money."

Large Land Colonization Scheme on Foot

(Moncton Transcript.)

Mr. W. Leonard Palmer, of "The Financial News," London, Eng., who delivered such an excellent address on his impressions of Moncton and the Maritime Provinces generally, before the Moncton Board of Trade, some five weeks ago, returned to the city on Saturday from Upper Canada. He spent a few hours here, and left again by Maritime Express on Saturday night for the Canadian with most all the leading financial men of the province. He visited Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other Upper Canadian cities.

Speaking with a Transcript representative on Saturday evening, Mr. Palmer said that he had conferred with most of the leading financial and business men of those cities.

"Impressed as I was," Mr. Palmer said, "with the prospects of the Maritime Provinces, I never let slip an opportunity whereby I might put in a good word for them, and while at the outset I was surprised to find that so little was known of your conditions, I am pleased to say that I consider I have been successful in arousing no little interest in the suggestions I have made for the development of the resources of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia."

"While I have been over the greater part of Ontario," Mr. Palmer went on, "and fully realize the value of its land from an agricultural standpoint, I have not, up to the present, seen any part of that country, which in my opinion is so admirably adapted for settlers from the Old Country."

"I am glad to see that since I was here in the early spring you have taken on greater activity amongst yourselves, as, after all, the main spring of progress should come from the inhabitants."

Continuing, Mr. Palmer said that while he was pleased to see a greater stir in evidence, he did not propose to allow his interest in New Brunswick to rest with eulogies, but that before he left for England he hoped to have taken definite steps to influence both Canadian and English capital in considerable sums into this province.

Asked to what end the proposed capital was to be utilized Mr. Palmer said that as yet the matter was rather indefinite, but it was safe to assume that the capital would be used for the purpose of forming a large land colonization scheme for New Brunswick.

"All that is needed here now," Mr. Palmer concluded, "is an awakening of interest among yourselves—a general co-operative movement for the betterment and development of the province at large. What has always in my mind hitherto retarded your progress has been a lack of confidence in yourselves and the great resources of New Brunswick."

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

Electric Beans Are a Natural Remedy for Nerve, Stomach and Liver Disorders.

Once upon a time disease was thought to be due to direct influence of evil spirit and magic was invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits still exist we call them "Disease Germs," and they must also be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines biliousness with its aches and pains, or in fact seventy-five per cent of the ills that affect the human race, is the result.

Electric Beans are the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Their action is quick and thorough, they clear the intestines, rouse the torpid liver to new life, stimulate mucous membranes to healthy action and cleanse and invigorate the whole digestive tract. Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a box in the home.

See our booklet of remarkable, true, testimonials. Test this remedy at our risk, if it is not satisfactory we will cheerfully refund the money paid for it.

Electric Beans can be had from the stores of S.N. Wear, W. A. Warren, Mrs. S. C. Turner, J. E. Lloyd & Son and C.L. Piggott or direct from us 50c. a box.

A million barrels of apples is the expectation from present prospects of Nova Scotia fruit-growers. The climatic conditions have been exceptionally favorable for the setting of the fruit, and the welcome showers of the past few days have been the one thing needed to confirm the hopes and expectations of our orchardists.

Following is an excerpt from an exchange which verifies our claim.

Berwick Register:—Mr. S.B. Chute has handed us a letter from a Kings County boy now in British Columbia which reads in part as follows:—

"I see now after having spent a season in the Okanagan Valley, the best apple valley on or near the coast, that, when you said to me a little over a year ago, 'stay in Nova Scotia to raise fruit, especially apples,' that you gave me what I have found by experience to be the best advice that could be given a man who is thinking of leaving the Annapolis Valley and hitting British Columbia to raise fruit.

"I have been travelling over the farming districts on the coast from the Sumas Prairie at the United States border to fifty miles north of Vancouver, and find conditions here, like those in the Okanagan, not what they are advertised to be, either in the way of climate or in the amount of crop produced to the acre.

"To tell you the truth, I plan to return to Nova Scotia and raise apples some time, and that time will be as soon as I can make it."

DOMINION ENTOMOLOGIST IS ASSISTING IN THE CAMPAIGN IN NOVA SCOTIA.

The energetic measures which the Federal and Provincial Governments are taking and intend to take against the Brown Tail Moth in the province is shown by the fact that Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, the Dominion Entomologist is now in the province looking into the work which the Federal and Provincial departments have been carrying on in co-operation under his direction during the past winter. He is arranging for the work during the coming summer. During the winter a systematic search has been made by two parties of inspectors, trained and equipped for the work, throughout the entire fruit growing region lively to be infested with this interest. The whole region from Yarmouth to Windsor in the east has been thoroughly worked over, and the south shore has also been scouted. Many thousands of winter webs in which the insect passes the winter in the young caterpillar stage have been collected, the most seriously infested districts being Bridgetown, Bear River and Weymouth with scattered infestations throughout.

A recent dispatch from Berlin states that an increase in the dog tax from $5 to $7.50 resulted in the immediate slaughter of seven hundred dogs. No doubt the people of Berlin understand what has caused the sudden scarcity of dogs in their city. In Ontario we tax houses, but many Ontario people have not yet learned what it is that causes the scarcity of houses.

Obituary.

MRS. ABRAM YOUNG The sudden and accidental death of Mrs. Abram Young, referred to elsewhere in these columns, caused a wave of grief and sympathy throughout the community, where she has been during all her married life a resident, extending also through a wide circle of friends and acquaintances of the deceased lady and her deeply bereaved husband, scattered throughout the county.

MRS. JOSEPH PALMER Mrs. Joseph Palmer, daughter of the late Samuel Chesley, of Wilmet, died May 7th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Sprowle in Clarence. She was well and strong in mind and body till a few days before her death. All that loving hands could do for her during her short illness was done and she peacefully went to rest.

MRS. EDWARD RICE Edward W. Rice received a telegram last week announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. Edward Rice, of Worcester, Mass. The deceased was born in Halifax in 1838. She was a daughter of the late William Woodruff of that city. She ever maintained a cheerful spirit, was kind to all and so gained a large place in the affection of all who knew her.

Hymeneal MACLEAN-FISKE. A profusion of ferns, roses and white flowers decorated the parlors of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fiske, of Lockport, on Monday in honor of the nuptials of their youngest daughter, Jean, who became the bride of Mr. A. J. MacLean the popular manager of the Bridgetown branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. Mr. MacLean is well known in Halifax having been for a number of years prominently identified with the Union Bank of Halifax and the Royal Bank of Canada.

Fruit and Flowers in June

A district which is becoming recognized as one of the leading apple producing sections of Canada is the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. The manner in which co-operation has helped solve the marketing problems of the fruit growers of this section and enabled them to greatly increase the profits from their orchards, is described in the June number of The Canadian Horticulturist, by S. C. Baker, secretary of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

Amateur horticulturists will find much to interest them in the articles on flower growing and vegetable growing. Some of the subjects dealt with are the treatment of evergreens, herbaceous borders, care of the lawn, rose growing, Delphiniums. June planting notes and a page of hints for amateurs. One of the leading contributors, is Wm. Hunt, of Guelph, a prominent authority on Canadian horticulture. The issue is well illustrated. Persons desiring a copy of this number may secure same on application to the publishers at Peterboro, Ontario.

Principal Cumming, of the Agricultural College, Secretary for Agriculture, will spend a few days in the County after the 20th and will address three or four meetings. He desires to get in touch with the farmers also to see students who wish to attend college at Truro.

Farmers should take advantage of this opportunity of talking with and hearing Principal Cumming, who is anxious to know farmers' needs and to help them. L. W. ELLIOTT, Secty. A. C. F. A. Richmond, Que., Times Guardian.—H. Price Webber and his Boston Comedy played to a capacity audience in the Opera House, Richmond, May 14th. Big shows with carloads of scenery and puffed to the skies actresses and actors are stranded all along the line, yet Price Webber goes on in the even tenor of his successful way in giving people good, clean moral entertainments that are appreciated. The Company is now filling a four nights' engagement in Danville.

"Go to Annapolis Royal for Coronation Day. Special train back to Kentville in the evening."

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

Election Day
Election returns at the Nickel tonight.
Coronation Day, June 22nd, will be a public holiday.
Mr. J. M. Fulmer is offering his residence for sale.
The June term of Supreme Court meets at Bridgetown on Tuesday next.
Mr. George Dixon has bought the house of Mrs. Alfred Hoyt on Church Street.
Rev. S. C. Freeman, of Paris, Kentucky, India, is the guest of Mayor and Mrs. Harlow.
The Methodist Conference for the Province of Nova Scotia is held in Yarmouth this week.
There will be no preaching services in the Methodist church Sunday. The Sunday school will meet as usual at 10 a.m.

The summer time-table of the H. & S. W. Ry. will go into effect on Monday, June 19th. The train arrangements will be the same as last summer.
A political meeting was held in the Court House here on Saturday night last by the Liberal candidates, Messrs Daniels and Hall. John Irvin, K. O., presided as chairman.

The Sch. Dorothy will continue the packet service for J. H. Longmire and Sons, the Frances having been sold, until the arrival of the new steamer, which is to be launched shortly.

Mr. H. I. Munro will open his home, Mt. Pleasant Farm, for summer boarders, his plans for conducting a hotel at Hampton having been blocked by the destruction of the hotel by fire.

Among the prize winners at Acadia were H. B. Fitch, of Clarence, who won the Sir Frederick Borden prize and Roy I. Balcom, of Paradise, to whom was awarded the class prize of 1908 for sophomore standing.

The Messrs. Payne, of the government orchardist service, have been spraying the trees in this section as a final preventive against the Brown-tail moth for this season. They think the pest is pretty well subdued.

The six-year-old son of Robert Walker, of Granville, is convalescing from an attack of diphtheria, under the attendance of Dr. DeBlois. The case is a mild one, but the house has been placarded and quarantined, and all possible precaution taken to prevent the contagion.

Ex-Councillor John Piggott having become again a benedict, is expected to arrive home from Boston today with Mrs. Piggott, who, as Mrs. H. E. Brown, left for that city to visit relatives a few weeks since. The marriage took place on June 6th. Congratulations and best wishes are extended.

Among the younger social element an interesting occasion during the week was a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Fay in honor of Miss Aimee Fay and her fiancé, Mr. Lafamme on Saturday night. On Monday night a large number of Miss Fay's friends surprised her with a "shower." Both occasions were highly enjoyed by all present.

Two weddings of great interest in social circles take place today. One is at the home of F. R. Fay, Esq., at 9.30 this morning when his eldest daughter, Miss Aimee Fay, is united in marriage to Mr. Jules Lafamme, of Montreal. The other is in the Baptist church at Paradise at 10 o'clock, when Miss Francis E. Ruggles, daughter of Mrs. J. C. Phinney, becomes the bride of Mr. Harry H. Hopkins, of New Brunswick.

The Sch. Frances, of Bridgetown, has been purchased by Capt. Fraser, of this city, for James Baird, Ltd. St. John's, N.B. This schooner has been running as a packet between Bridgetown and St. John, having been specially built for this service three years ago. The Frances is a splendid looking vessel and is up to date in every respect, being fitted with duplicate engines of the best American make. M. Power, of James Baird, limited, who has been in Halifax for the past few days in connection with this business, has returned to St. John's.—Halifax Herald.

PERSONAL

Mr. Mark Curry spent the week end with Dr and Mrs. Anderson at Hampton.

Miss Dearborn, of St. John is the guest of her cousins, the Misses Hoyt.

Mr. Mills, of Truro, was a guest at the home of W. A. Chesley over the week end.

Mr. Burpee P. Phinney has taken up his residence for the present in Hingham, Mass.

Mrs. Wm. Taylor, of Halifax is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ruggles, at "Lawrsdale."

Mrs. Sydney Patillo, of Halifax, was the guest of Miss Emma Johnson over Sunday.

Mrs. A. C. Johnston, of Dartmouth is the guest of her brother, Mr. Stephen Ruggles.

Mrs. Rollings and little son, of Halifax are guests of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Calder.

Capt. S. H. Beardsley is president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Nova Scotia.

Rev. Dr. Jost and Rev. B. J. Porter are attending the Methodist Conference at Yarmouth.

Mr. Peter Meek, Mt. Allison student was a guest of his classmate, Mr. Fred Kinney over the week end.

Mayor Dawson and Mrs. Dawson of Bridgewater, spent Friday, guests of Mrs. John Cameron and daughter.

Rev. L. F. Wallace and wife leave on Friday for Philadelphia to attend the World's Congress of Baptists.

Mrs. W. R. Longmire and little son, Charles, have returned from a visit with friends in Boston and vicinity.

Miss Frieda Giles, Registrar of Deeds for Annapolis County, is severely ill from an attack of the measles.

Mr. William Dargie left for New York on Saturday, where his marriage was expected to take place today.

Mrs. R. W. Elliott and little son, Howard, of North Sydney, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beckwith.

Mr. Frank Hoyt, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Kingston, Jamaica, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hoyt.

Miss Annie Miller, of Bear River, is the guest of Miss Marguerite Hicks. Miss Lillian Hicks, of Clementsport, also a guest, has returned home.

Mr. Fred Beckwith, who has been suffering from a dislocated knee for some weeks, has recovered and is able to get about again quite comfortably.

Mrs. Saunders and daughter, Miss Lizzie, who have been spending the winter in Sheffield Mills were in town recently and moved their furniture to Windsor, where they will reside.

Mrs. C. F. DeWitt and daughter, Miss Daisy are in New York, and may go as far south as Savannah, Ga. before returning. They expect to be accompanied on their return by Miss Alice DeWitt, who has been sojourning for her health in Asheville, N. C.

At the First Baptist church in Boston on Sunday evening a large congregation gathered to welcome the new pastor, Rev. Austin K. DeBlois, D.D., who has had charge recently of the First Baptist church of Chicago. The reverend gentleman is a nephew of Dr. L. G. DeBlois of this town.

Indications point to a banner day at Annapolis Royal on June 22nd and large crowds are assured. Base ball matches, sports of all kinds, military drills, parades and two bands are all on the programme. In the evening the Halifax Dramatic Club will produce "Our Boys" at the Academy of Music. Special train leaves for Kentville after the performance. S. S. "Granville" will run an excursion to Bear River, touching at Port Wade.

Fire at Hampton

Fire destroyed the summer residence of Mr. Mark Curry at Hampton last week. The property had been leased by Mr. H. I. Munro for a hotel, and he had only taken possession that day. The evening being chilly a fire was built in the fire place, and allowed to burn down before bed time, but it is supposed the fire was defective. The smell of smoke alarmed the occupants soon after they retired. A small amount of furniture was saved. There was $1000 insurance on the house.

Coronation Day

In the morning of Coronation Day at 10.30 a Coronation Service will be held in St. James' church. Special music is in preparation by the choir and printed forms of the service will be supplied.

At 2.30 p.m. a meeting will be held in the Baptist church under the auspices of the Town Council, consisting of devotional exercises, and a brief address suitable to Coronation Day.

At 2 p.m. a procession of the Councillors, the young people of the school and the schools of adjacent districts as far as possible, together with the Boy Scouts, and such other citizens as can make it convenient to be present, and a deputation of the militia, headed by the Band, will be formed on the school grounds, to march to the church. After the half-hour service, the procession will be re-formed and return to the school grounds, when a flag will be raised, patriotic addresses delivered, patriotic songs rendered, and such athletic sports as may be possible will be enjoyed.

As an illustration of what one moderate industry will do for a town, the Yarmouth Light states that Truro has not only secured the removal of the Durkee Shoe Factory from Yarmouth but fourteen families and seventy persons go with it.

Niagara Falls Threatened

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Unless the people of the United States who have an interest in preserving Niagara Falls exert themselves in behalf of the pending Burton bill they are likely to see this great natural spectacle forever ruined by selfish corporations. The measure is before the foreign relations committee of the Senate, whose chairman is Cullum of Illinois. It is greatly to be feared that the co-nothing policy of the Senate will prevent the enactment of this thoroughly desirable bill.

The action which Mr. Burton asks of Congress is merely an extension of the present Burton law, which will expire by limitation in July. This law is simply liberal in its terms, allowing the diversion of all the water that may be spared without the practical violation of the wondrous contract. Unless the act is extended the only limitation upon the privilege of the power companies to take water will be that written into the Canadian waterway treaty which permits the use of some seventy per cent. more water than is now diverted.

Niagara Falls belong to the people of the two nations. They should not be so thoughtless as to permit the falls' destruction; to do so would mean the surrender of a possession that could never be regained. It would be an offence beyond condemnation to permit the expiration of the Burton law.

It is a situation eminently justifying a "write your congressman" policy. The Senate graveyard yawns for a people's measure, and the people should raise a mighty protest.

Eczema is Curable

In Every Case Where Our Remedy Fails it is Supplied Free of all Cost.

In making this statement we back it up with our promise that if our remedy does not subvertiate our claim in every particular, we will, without question or quibble return every cent you paid us for it. We take all the risk—you take none.

We strongly recommend REXALL Eczema Ointment, which possesses remarkable cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal soothing and healing qualities. It is a grayish-white emollient, with a pleasant odor, and is especially for use. The first application produces a refreshing sense of relief, and it quickly subsides and overcomes the inflammation, irritation, and discharge when present.

It is intended to be applied with a piece of muslin or linen, or it may be applied and allowed to dry in. It affords very prompt relief for pimples, blotches, discolorations, ringworm, acne, tetter, barbers, itch, ulcers, insect bites, nettle rash, hives, sores and wounds.

Rexall Eczema Ointment relieves itching and irritation of the feet. It is ideal for the treatment of children who are tormented with itching burning and disgusting skin diseases. Try a box at our risk. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Remember it is only sold at our store—The Rexall Store, W. A. Warren.

THE MERRY MERCHANT.

"Yes," remarked a country merchant, "I certainly have a snap. Wholesale houses send duns every month and draw on me at sight; but if I send a bill to a farmer he becomes swearing mad and quits trading at my store. While I am hard up for money many of these who are owing me are sending money in advance to mail order houses. If I contribute money to any cause people say I am bidding for trade. If I don't they say I am a hog. Every day I am expected to dip up for everything that comes along, from a raffle ticket to a church fund by people who claim I ought to do this because they do part of their trading here, but our friends of the Toronto department stores neither buy tickets nor help the church fund, and yet they get the cash-in-advance business. If I sell a pair of pants I must treat the family to candy or cigars; if I buy a load of potatoes I must do the same. Customers who are able to pay, hang on their money, while I pay ten per cent at the bank to get ready cash. I have big business during hard times and four crops from people who are willing to trade with me provided I can duplicate catalogue house prices and wait until harvest for money. My scales weigh too much when I sell sugar, and too little when I buy butter. I am a thief, a liar and a grafter. If I smile I am a soft soapy hypocrite, and if I don't I am a grump. Yes, certainly, this is a snap." And he looked over $10,000 worth of accounts, all good, and wondered how he could raise $250 to pay a sight draft due tomorrow.

Mist. k s -The Seen And the Unseen

My friend the coal merchant's book keeper, was seated on a high stool, when I entered. He was busily engaged in making some alterations in a day-book with his ink eraser.

"Say," he began, "you fellows—(meaning newspaper writers) 'make me L.R.D. A couple of nights ago my little girl took part in a Sunday school concert and her name was spelled wrong in your paper. And yesterday in that accident of our tramps you didn't half the details."

"What do you mean just now," I asked.

"What's that to do with it? I was erasing a wrong addition."

"How many people will see the mistake you corrected?" I asked again.

"None, I only made it yesterday and changed it today."

"That's just it," I told him. "You a book-keeper, rub out your mistakes or they go to prison; a doctor writes a fresh prescription when he makes a mistake, or quietly gives a certificate as to the cause of death. But a mistake in a newspaper stands out for all the world to see. A man comes to his office in the morning feeling poorly. In your case he checks his work over next day and corrects it, and no one is the wiser; in the case of the newspaper no revision is possible, the work is done at high speed a man's mistakes are recorded on the printed page—and the chances are that he finds them first, and feels more annoyance over them than they could possibly give you."

"I never thought of that before," said the coal merchant's book-keeper, as he started to work again with his eraser.

Burglars in Digby County

There appears to be a gang of burglars carrying on operations in various parts of Digby County. Almost every day some slight burglary is committed with an occasional one of considerable importance. No arrests have been made and the guilty ones go un punished.

Last Sunday night Coun. E. A. Cidney's store at Minx Cove was entered and the cash till containing eight or nine dollars was stolen. Mr. Cidney says that some things might have been taken from his store, but he has missed nothing as yet except the e.

Monday and Tuesday nights cellars were entered at Roxville and more or less food taken. Wednesday night some tough looking tramps were seen around Digby having evidently entered the town via the Neck Road.—Digby Courier.

PASTORAL LETTER ON MIXED MARRIAGES FROM THE ANGLICANS.

Ottawa, May 8—On May 21st there will be read in all the Anglican churches in Canada a pastoral letter signed by Archbishop Matheson, of Winnipeg, primate of all Canada, and Archbishop Hamilton, of Ottawa, metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Canada on the question of mixed marriages. The pastoral will deprecate the performance of these marriages, but says that when once performed they are indissoluble by the Church of Rome. The disbelief of the Anglican church in divorce is also strongly brought out, and the clergy are prohibited from remarrying divorced persons, during the life of either party to the first marriage. The pastoral is issued as a result of the recent cases in Quebec, which it cites.

RUSH ORDER FOR BALLOT BOXES

Toronto Paper Sees Signs of Early Election.

Toronto, Ont., May 27.—The Mail and Empire this morning says: "Another indication of the imminence of a federal general election was furnished by a report current in the city that J. G. Foley, the clerk of the crown-in-chancery, had come to Toronto and placed a rush order for several thousand ballot boxes with a local firm. Mr. Foley expanded his visit by saying that at each general election trouble had been experienced in obtaining the use of suitable ballot boxes. In the past some boxes used belonged to the federal government, some to the city of Toronto and some to the county of York. Mr. Foley stated that he had been endeavoring to make arrangements whereby the difficulties arising out of this diverse ownership of the ballot boxes will be obviated, it was said that the contract for the manufacture of the new ballot boxes has been let to the firm of Wheeler and Bala.

SIR WILLIAM GILBERT'S BODY CREMATED.

London, June 2—The body of Sir William Gilbert, the noted English dramatic author and librettist, who died of syncope May 29th, while attempting to rescue one of the women of his bathing party at Harrow, was cremated today. All the persons prominent in the art circles attended the subsequent burial of the ashes at Stanmore.

You Can Get FREE a 50c. Bottle of Psychine (Si-Keen)

Because we want you to know this wonderful remedy as we know it.

Do you know another such sweeping proposition as ours?

Did you ever hear of anyone offering to prove any curative preparation along similar lines?

All the risk is ours, all the cost is ours.

You yourself are to be the sole judge of all we claim for Psychine.

Its beneficial effect alone will tell you, without prejudice, without any self-interest from any source.

It shows our confidence—this plan does it not?

Yet our confidence to you is not phenomenal, not out of the way.

Nor would our confidence seem extraordinary to you were you in our place, and were you to know the things we know.

We've known Psychine for a third of a century—almost a generation. We know of the hundreds of thousands it has cured.

We have hundreds of thousands of unsolicited testimonials.

It doesn't require any great stretch of confidence to know from facts like these.

Psychine cures by increasing and strengthening the white corpuscles of the blood, or phagocytes.

These white corpuscles eat every disease germ that finds entrance to the body, when they're strong enough and in sufficient numbers.

And Psychine builds these white corpuscles because of certain medical herbs it contains, nature's true remedy.

Which science now knows will do just that.

We go to great expense to make Psychine.

Our materials come from the ends of the earth.

What's flour gluten, Bud?

"It's what makes your dough rise, Rose."

"Yes"—she encouraged.

Added Bud very sagely:

"Makes it rise in the mixer and expand in the oven. It's the elastic part of flour—absorbs all the water and milk—and things."

Rose grew interested.

"FIVE ROSES, said Bud, is exceedingly rich in gluten. I s'pose because it's all made from Manitoba wheat. Takes up a lot more water—makes those fat loaves—lasts longer too."

"Saves money, doesn't it?" asked Rose.

Bud in a big voice:

"The fat loaf makes the fat pocketbook."

Use FIVE ROSES always.

And Rose said YES.

THE INDEPENDENT POINT OF VIEW ESSENTIAL TO CLEAR SIGHT.

To see any question clearly you must go far away from it and study the picture as though you had no place in it.

Suppose that you were a superior being on another planet, looking at this earth with its rivers, mountains, flowers, trees, beautiful green fields and about fifteen hundred million human beings scattered over it.

The earth would look to you like a great garden in need of cultivation and you would look on the little microscopic two-legged creatures as gardeners. If any one asked you, "Why are the little human beings put on that planet?" you would probably answer:

"God owns the planet. His pride is in that beautiful round earth. He has put the little men there to cultivate it, drain the marshes, irrigate the deserts, wipe out the jungles and finally make a glorious and beautiful park of the whole earth.

"I marvel at His patience with these little human beings that fight each other and rob and cheat each other and waste their time instead of working at the great round garden confided to their care."

The woman of today who has good health, good temper, good sense, bright eyes and a lovely complexion, the result of correct living and good digestion, wins the admiration of the world. If your digestion is faulty Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct it. For sale by all dealers.

THE HOME

LET CHILDREN BE SIMPLE

Encourage the Little Ones to Enjoy the Wholesome Life of the Country.

It is curious that grown people forget so soon the delights and griefs of childhood. They forget the vague feeling of bewilderment that creeps up from all sides when one is beginning to get acquainted with the world. They forget the utter bliss of swinging in an old hammock under the trees, and gazing up into the sky and crooning some song with a long monotonous refrain.

They forget the feeling of isolation and self-completeness of living with one's fancies—during that mystical time when the real things are the things that grow up people never see, and when common events, like washing one's face and coming in on time to meal quite unimportant and uninteresting. And they forget that sense of complete trust and faith with which a child puts her sleepy arms around her mother's neck and is carried upstairs and slipped into bed in a drowsy haze of comfort.

Surely grown people must forget all these things or they would never break so readily in upon the reveries of their children, suggesting the moving picture show to replace the vision that float by the eyes of every child—offering fancy creams and collie ics to one who is quite content with the sprinkle of sugar on a rose leaf.

I saw a child the other evening who is everything we mean when we say "a lovely child." She has lived all of her five years in the country with her mother as a companion and gentle guide. This little girl has for toys her flower bed and her own watering pot; she knows every true for acres around, and each soft baby leaf is welcomed with a ripple of delight, or with the gentlest touch of tiny fingers. The soft grass is caressingly loved, and each wee green thing that pushes its head up through the earth is anxiously waited for and tenderly guarded.

Can you think of anything more exquisite than a little child who feels a kinship with everything in nature? Can you think of a better school in gentleness than the garden, or a wiser teacher of observation than nature herself in pasture or in wood?

Now that spring has come let your children wander as they will. A little guidance is all that they need. Encourage them to learn the birds; help them to search for the shyest flowers. Let them feel your wise hand and watchful eye—but let them feel most the lure and loveliness of out-of-door.

Instead of going this summer to that seaside resort where the whizzing merry-go-round and the scintillating soda fountain eat up their pennies and upset small digestions, why not spend the long days in an old farm house in the country, where every huckleberry bush and mud-turtle and brook end bird's nest has its own secret to tell?

A healthy, sweet body is a great gift to a child, and a pure mind responsive to fine feeling is a gift immeasurable.

Give your children a chance. Let nature open to them the magic chambers of her treasure house.—Agnes Edwards in Boston Herald.

LETTUCE GROWING

Sow the seeds in flats or in the benches, and when the first true leaves appear prick them out and transplant them into rows two and a half inches apart and one-half inch apart in rows. As soon as they grow sufficiently to make good sturdy plants, they are transplanted into the permanent beds six inches apart each way. Keep sowing seed every few days so that there will be plenty of seedling plants, so that if anything should happen to one batch there would be others ready. It is a mistake many make not to have a sufficient number of plants. So to be on the safe side sow plenty of seed.

The soil should be a light sandy loam, of a coarse sharp nature, made as rich as possible. I depend almost entirely on stable manure. Sometimes if plants are not making sufficient growth use a little nitrate of soda.

TO CURE CROUP.

A lady writing to an exchange speaks of what she has found to be a cure for croup.

She says:—"We always keep a bottle of raw linseed oil and a teaspoon in our room, and if I waken and hear a child with labored breathing, I rouse him up if he does not waken himself, and commence the treatment. "If the attack is severe, I give a teaspoonful of oil, if not so severe half a teaspoonful is sufficient. Next I wet one end of a towel, enough to cover well the throat, in cold water, bind this on with the dry portion of towel, fastening with a safety pin. The while I talk soothingly and brightly to the child, who is usually very much frightened. To help the cure, the little nerves need to be quieted. Next cover up warmly in bed, in a few minutes the breathing is easier and the child falls asleep. "Often one treatment is sufficient, but the oil may be given again in two or three hours, if necessary. If the patient does not sleep, the cold towel should be changed every fifteen minutes, and a flannel may be held around the lamp and heated to lay on the chest."

THE SALT TOWEL RUBBINGS.

When vitality is low and a good reaction does not follow the cool bath, use daily the dry, warm salt towels. This will invite blood and warmth into the skin and aid greatly in propelling the same systematic effects produced by cool bathing followed by friction. Take a number of old soft towels and wring them out of strong salt water. A heaped teaspoonful of salt to two quarts of water is the right strength. These towels are to be hung up by the stove to dry. On retiring and on rising, rub the towels in the hands until they are perfectly soft, and then give the body a thorough rubbing with them. This cleanses and stimulates the skin, and leaves it warm and dry and in a glow. These towels may be used under covering in bed for the feeble. After perspiration and over-fatigue or exposures, use the towels hot.

TO CHILDREN GIVE PLENTY OF FRESH MILK, EGGS, CREAM, BREAD AND BUTTER, POTATOES, AND SUCULENT TENDER VEGETABLES, AND FRUIT. GIVE LITTLE MEAT UNTIL SECOND DENTITION IS WELL ESTABLISHED OR AFTER THEY REACH THE AGE OF NINE YEARS. THE FEEDING OF CHILDREN IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE. THE NERVOUS SYSTEM DURING CHILDHOOD UNDERGOES ENORMOUS AND RAPID DEVELOPMENT AS COMPARED WITH OTHER BODILY STRUCTURES. FATS ARE PRE-EMINENTLY NERVE FOODS. CHILDREN NEED AS MUCH OF THEM AS THEY WILL TAKE, AND BUTTER, CREAM, EGGS AND RICH MILK ARE THE BEST SOURCES OF FAT FOR THEM. NEVER URGE ANY FOOD UPON A CHILD, HOWEVER, IF IT DISAGREES OR IS ESPECIALLY DISTASTEFUL.

TO MAKE DUSTLESS DUSTERS.

To Inquirer:—I make my dustless dusters in the following simple way and find that they give perfect satisfaction: Cut cheesecloth into the desired length and soak in kerosene oil until the cloth is completely saturated; then hang in the open air for twenty-four hours; when they are soiled, they can be washed and soiled again.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with chronic constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills. That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial. They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

During hot spells in summer eat lightly and make the diet mostly fruit and vegetables. Drink copiously if you confine yourself to cool water, but not ice cold. Overeating is the cause of more illness than is generally recognized, and particularly during hot weather. The expression "too hot to eat" should be lived up to. Make the desire for food the guide, and cut down on sweet producing foods, which are fats, sweets and starchy foods.

WHITE OF EGG.

White of egg is most nourishing and should be given freely to invalids. Beat it slightly and add to tea or coffee, or it may be stirred into any kind of farinaceous food just before serving.

Get enthusiastic over the usefulness of your work in life and see how it fits into the general scheme of existence.

JUNE—A RHAPSODY OF DEFIANCE.

Stand back, ye irksome devils of despair! Behold my hand is bare To the balmed breeze from off the sapphire sea

And lifted to the sun. For unto me The Voices call, call resonant and clear— "Live, man! Live strong! Another June is here!"

June—Look—a belted bee is in the rose, And soon will stagger in his flight to close The comb with weight of gathered sweet.

And, see— A rainbow's on the flag and swinging free! I catch the flash of crimson mid the jet.

As there he balances above the wet Lush grass beside the pasture-pond, where slaw Brown cattle at the evening go,

Now, too, the brook its cheery gossip spills Into the pools among the shaded hills,

Or wakens in the meadow to caress The crisp tangled leaves of the o'er-bending cross

While in the rills the finning trout await With up-stream heads the fall of fly or bait.

Up from their earth the floral children rise And blow their kisses to the wooing skies

In gleeful troth and deck themselves anew With filmy fabrics spangled o'er with with dew.

The useful grass along the fertile plain Stirs in the heat and beck the friendly rain,

And high the lark his silver lyre tuns To sit on all below its mystic runes. Bird-song and bloom and reach of the trellised vine!

The Voices call and all the earth is mine, And for my feet the clovered paths that go Where peace and peace abide!

And so— Stand back, ye irksome devils of despair! A glass of June-wine in the odored air

I lift to nature—to her hills and trees, To wave and shallow by the boulder-edged leas

To star and sun, to night and dewy dawn, To days to be, to plants and sorrows gone,

To life, to love, to women and to Man, And to the utter goodness of the Plan.

—Richard Wigham, Success Magazine

May The Honey-Moon Last Always

While a party of women were talking over the afternoon tea cups the other day, an argument arose as to whether men owed it as a duty to their wives to discuss their business affairs with them. One woman thought it was a divided question, depending in a measure upon the men and also upon their wives. "If," said she, "a wife has business faculties and keen perceptions, by all means let him make her his confidante; but if she is without any business capacity and shows little interest in them, it would be a waste of time to talk with her on such matters."

I am a firm advocate of the wife having at least sufficient grasp of her husband's financial position to know when to spend, and just how much economy ought to be exercised in domestic affairs. I think she ought to be consulted, if she is the right kind of a wife, about new undertakings, for the question of finance in the home is an important one and should be solved soon after the "hanging of the crane," or complications more or less irritating are almost certain to arise.

I don't think any self-respecting woman should be made to feel her independence by having to ask for every cent she is obliged to spend. A large percentage of women who get married today have been practical business girls, handling their own earnings, probably for some years before marriage. To be obliged to petition for money could hardly mean anything else than mortification. Men sometimes forget or overlook these things that mean so much in the long run, for happiness. A woman should be perfect mistress of the home and absolutely independent in its management. If the husband accords her what is, after all, only her just right, it will mean a vast deal, not only in his well being, but in the respect the children will have for the mother.

All this, of course, brings us to the "newly wedded," which seems in order now that we are in the leafy month of June—so here's to the happy pair

Young man, may the "dearest girl in the world," whom you now fondly call wife, be able to fulfill all the exalted ideas you cherish of making your life complete. At the same time it is as well to say, may it be that you have not married an angel, no, nor even perfection, as time will reveal. And as she will do well to realize, neither are you. Your wish will not be all of roses, and it is as well to begin right now by not expecting too much on both sides.

And as for you, little girl, who have left home and its associations to cast your lot with your husband's life and future, don't be too insistent in your demands for the delicate attentions and compliments he has been bestowing on you during the days of courtship.

What shall I say to the brand new husband who is so set up with his pretty dainty little wife and with the dignity of setting up his new home? Well, I should like to remind him not to forget that the heart of a woman goes on through life craving for the little tendernesses that mean so much. Remember, that a loving word carries great weight—praise has often the power to throw aside gigantic obstacles and attune the heart to singing. It is also well for the women to realize that a man is only a boy grown up, a great baby, perhaps dependent upon her for his happiness. May the honeymoon last always!—Joan in Halifax Herald.

MONKEY LAND.

Where Armies of Gibbering Apes Make Life Miserable.

If at any time you should happen to be in India, just remember to let the monkeys alone, for to kill one would mean to get yourself very cordially disliked by the Brahmins, whose religion forbids them to take the life of any creature. As a result the people of India are overrun by a great many animals against which they can make but a feeble resistance, the monkey in particular being a real tyrant.

The shops of the cities are without doors and windows, and whatever is offered for sale is exposed to the open air. The monkeys are always at hand watching their opportunity and if the merchant absent himself for a moment, instantly the nimble apes are helping themselves to anything they fancy.

On one occasion the streets of Benares, the sacred city of India, had become so overrun with these impudent little plunderers that the merchants held a meeting and decided that something must be done. Inasmuch as their religion forbade them to kill the monkeys, they decided to banish the pests.

The streets were surrounded and invaded, the monkeys were all captured and placed in cages. Then they were taken to a large forest at a considerable distance from the city and freed in the middle of the trees. The scampered into the branches as if they were having a very good time; and there the merchants left them and returned to their shops, rejoicing that now they could nod in peace. That evening there was a rare sight in Benares. Into the streets, just at dusk, there came a great capering army of apes. They were the monkeys of Benares, who had found their way home from the forest into which they had been banished, and though they must have been very tired from traveling on foot so long a distance, their joy on reaching home again was so great that they gambled like a troop of school children coming home from a picnic.

Being town bred monkeys, they had not enjoyed country life. Next day they were all at their old posts, raiding the food shops with renewed and eager appetites and greatly refreshed impudence.

The Effects of Arsenic. "You no doubt have observed the illly white complexion of some women. These women are sacrificing years of their lives for that beautiful skin by the use of arsenic," said D. V. Dursi, a chemist, of Manchester, Eng.

"It is a well-known fact that thousands of women in all countries of the world use the poison in small quantities to bleach their skin. It is an effective means of whitening and clearing the complexion, but the complexion given by its use has no permanency unless the absorption of the drug be continued.

"Arsenic, as science has long told us, is an accumulative poison. When one takes it either by prescription for the bleaching of the skin he does not feel any ill effects for several years. The effect of the drug is bracing and makes one feel like eating. It also aids the digestion. The average user of the poison takes it in such small quantities that he does not realize how much of it will accumulate in his system in the course of four or five years.

"Being an accumulative poison it often takes that length of time to see the results of the drug. Then the user may complain of not being able to control his fingers or toes. Subsequently he loses control of his hands and arms. Arsenical poisoning is the result.

"Five years ago in Manchester there was an epidemic of paralysis. Several thousands of persons were stricken. Several hundred died and the medical profession of England made a thorough investigation of the malady and traced it to beer. The investigators discovered that the brewers were using a glucose in the brewing of their product which was found to contain a small quantity of arsenic. This drug, imbibed in small quantities in beer, had gradually accumulated in the bodies of thousands of persons, had impoverished their blood and left a great percentage of them helpless."

Too Expensive to Eat. Mr. George Graves, who is appearing with such success on the variety stage in "Koffo of Bond Street," in London, is an enthusiastic sportsman, and recently had a day's shooting in Norfolk. Missing his train back he endeavored to catch it at Cambridge by motor-car, but failed, owing to the bursting of a tire. In order to appear at the theatre he was compelled to charter a special train from the University town. Mr. Graves' remark, as he alighted from his expensive conveyance at Liverpool street and handed his man a brace of partridges, was very characteristic of him. "Get those birds stuffed, they come too high to eat."

Ambassador as Mountaineer. Mr. James Bryce, the British ambassador at Washington, who was recently granted an audience by the King, was born in Belfast seventy years ago. His father was Scotch and his mother Irish. He is credited with the ability to speak—or acquire—nearly every known language. He has talked with African kings at the councils, has banqueted with the Dyaks, has climbed some of the highest mountains in the United States; has stood on the top of Mount Ararat—the first man since Noah—has been in Russia, in India, and Japan, and knows nearly every part of the British Empire, even to the Fiji Islands.

Prevaricator. The word prevaricator is from the Latin and originally meant a straddler with distorted or misshapen legs. In the Roman courts of law the expression was applied to one who in a suit was discovered to be in collusion with his opponent to compass some dishonesty. As falsehood was the necessary part of such a performance, the word by and by came to have the significance at present attached to it.

ED.—Unfortunately our Bear River budget of last week, which was mailed by our correspondent with his customary punctuality, went astray and did not reach this office.

Clementsvale

Mr. Walter Pitts, who is our agent in Halifax says: "I would like your EARTHINE and EARTHINE PLASTER to be in every city, town and settlement."

Some of Mr. Pitts' patients have written me how wonderfully they were cured with our remedies.

Mr. Pitts is a live agent. He orders our remedies by the hundred, and has cured some who failed to get cured at the hospital. We invite correspondence with those who will help us cure their friends. We want an agent in every town and city in the province.
