HYDRO DEVELOPMENT DOES NOT THREATEN STRAIN ON FINANCES

Sir Adam Beck Tells Members of Legislature About Ontario's Big Enterprise—A Absolutely No Danger of Municipalities Defaulting in Their Payments—Money Spent on Scheme is Investment, Not Debt—Must Not Impose Super-tax on Power.

Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, addressed the members of the legislature last night for three hours on the power situation in Ontario. It was a cheerful message he had to deliver. Hydro development, it was true, had cost and was costing a staggering amount, but the benefits accruing justified the expense, and as Sir Adam put it, "Have no fear; we are spending $28,000,000 more than estimated at Chippewa, but even at that you can sell the development tomorrow at a fair profit despite the enormous increased costs."

The chairman of the commission also insisted that the millions paid out for Hydro enterprises was not a debt to the province but rather an asset. Further, Sir Adam declared that the possibility of any municipality defaulting in its payments was too remote to consider.

Opposes Super-tax. The proposal to charge a $2 super-tax on Hydro, made by the legislative committee, was vigorously opposed by Sir Adam.

"After all we are not so far apart," said the premier, after Sir Adam had concluded his address. "And I would like to add that the relations between the government and the Hydro Commission are perfectly harmonious."

Premier Drury explained that a report on Hydro power distributed throughout the province had already been tabled in the legislature, and it was thought advisable to have Sir Adam Beck explain the situation to the members.

There were some members who might not understand Hydro matters as well as they might, said Sir Adam, and he would explain it the best he could in a limited time. However, the subject was of such magnitude that Sir Adam thought it might be better if he would simply answer questions and in this way clear up any misunderstanding or elucidate any points that might not be clear.

Genesis of Hydro Power. However, back in 1909, Sir Adam explained, a committee of the Toronto board of trade was appointed to consider the feasibility of bringing power from Niagara Falls. This was the first step which led up to the present organization. Then in 1911 the government was asked for permission to transmit power from the Falls. Government Bills Receive Consideration and Progress is Made.

REFORESTATION WORK

Business rather than oratory was the feature of yesterday's sitting of the legislature. From the point of accomplishment it was the most fruitful so far this session. The question of reforestation provoked considerable discussion and emphasis was laid on the fact that more careful conservation of the province's present timber resources would do more than anything else to preserve a supply for the years to come.

GOVERNMENT TO TEST STRENGTH

To this Mr. Meighen curtly replied by giving notice that he would tomorrow move to give the temperance legislation right of way over the debate on the address and the King amendment. There is no doubt that the government will press this motion to a vote. Unless the Liberal leader withdraws his opposition.

Expected Savage Attack.

When Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux rose to speak on the debate tonight galleries were crowded in anticipation of a savage attack upon Mr. Gauthier, of St. Hyacinthe. Mr. Lemieux, however, intimated that he would not engage in private practice, and give his entire time to the position.

One Head Necessary.

Liberal Leader Dewar agreed that one chief crown attorney for the county and city was desirable, because the work was so closely associated. The present arrangements were primitive and had long since become antiquated.

Resuming the debate on the address Dr. Peter McGibbon (Muskoka) criticized Hon. Meighen's statement because the leader of the opposition had called for a vote of no confidence, yet he had not one word of condemnation of the policy of the government, nor had he put forward any policy as a substitute for what was being done.

The Young Mother

Youth with its vitality makes for the young mother's health and happiness. But later maternal experiences bring a different result. The care of a family, multiplied household duties, and very often the weakness caused by womanly disease, tend to prolong the suffering and to make convalescence a slow and weary process. Many women — perhaps your own neighbors — have had beneficial experience with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which prepares the prospective mother. It promotes the appetite, ends nervousness and sleeplessness, and gives a consciousness of buoyant health. It is unexcelled as a strength-giving tonic for mothers during the period of convalescence. This Favorite Prescription was used by Dr. Pierce with great success over 50 years ago. It's still good today. Ask your neighbor!

SEEK ENFORCEMENT OF VIADUCT ORDER

Council Authorizes Legal Department to Take Immediate Proceedings.

QUESTION FOR COURTS

Railways Ask Board of Commissioners for Order to Extend Time.

The city council yesterday authorized the legal department to take immediate proceedings to force compliance with the viaduct order by the railways. Mayor Church presided during the early part of the session before leaving for a holiday in the south, and succeeded in having a motion put thru to instruct the legal department to take the necessary steps to enforce the order of 1913 to build the viaduct or at least a variation of that order more favorable to the railways. Mayor Church said he anticipated just such a move by the railways and he appealed to council to act with the harbor commissioners in taking the whole question to the courts.

Controller Maguire suggested that the question be referred to the board of control with instructions to confer with the corporation counsel, but Mayor Church insisted upon council voting at once to go to court, and Controller Maguire finally assented.

Notice of the action of the railways was contained in the following letter from the solicitor of the Toronto Terminal Railway Co. to the secretary of the board of railway commissioners:

"The Toronto Terminal Railway Company on behalf of itself, the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, hereby applies to the board of railway commissioners for an order extending the time for the completion of the works ordered and ordered by order No. 1234, dated July 1913, and other orders therein referred to, or for an order amending the provisions of said orders.

"The application is founded on financial conditions. The cost works originally estimated at $15,000,000 is now, in consequence of the universal advance in the cost of labor and materials, estimated at $27,000,000. The financing of such a sum is at the present time a practical impossibility, or at least only on the most exorbitant terms.

"The companies ask that the execution of the works be deferred until these conditions improve, or for such alternative relief as may be proper in the circumstances. I am sending a copy of this letter to the solicitor for the city of Toronto, and to the chairman of the Toronto harbor commissioners."

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company, of Toronto, Limited.

Get Down to Business.

Meetings of ratepayers were held on Friday and on Saturday nights, last, one at West Toronto and one at North Toronto, at which the question of installing new car lines by the suggested local improvement system were discussed.

Having tried out the idea on the citizens, the members of the transportation commission were well advised to drop it and adopt a course which would be more in keeping with a public enterprise which should be administered so that all sections of the city would receive as nearly as possible equal treatment.

There may be something in the contention of the commission that the street railway enterprise should not be charged up with the total costs for the construction of the old road beds which have to be replaced and built. On this matter there is room for discussion. An argument can be found in favor of asking the city as a whole to bear a proportion of the road bed expense as a general obligation rather than the capital cost being charged up against the railway.

Hydro-Electric Power.

The chairman of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park Commission seems to take considerable satisfaction in having evolved an idea fifteen years ago that the province should have charged five dollars per horse power for development at the Falls. Just why this idea should be revived at the present time does not appear quite plain to The World.

The suggestion of the committee appointed by the provincial government to look into the Hydro-electric system of imposing a two-dollar-per-horse-power tax on the public enterprise was bad enough, but if Mr. Ellis' idea is that it should be five instead of two it is open to stronger condemnation. The publicly-owned and operated Hydro-electric system is being run at or near cost to the people whom it serves and who have invested their credit in the enterprise, and there is no justification for imposing a tax on this system to benefit other sections of the province.

Mining Taxation.

Aside from a shortage in power which is looked upon as purely a temporary matter, the northern Ontario mining camps are looking for a great outburst of activity during the present year. For upwards of six years now the gold camps have met rebuffs in the way of continually rising prices for such goods as were needed to carry on mining developments, high priced labor, and even worse than this, a shortage of competent labor. Conditions became so onerous towards the end of the war that even the best of the mines in the two gold camps were forced to close down for a period. The improvement which is now being experienced in the way of cheaper supplies and more abundant and efficient labor at fair prices is promising, but there remains an apprehension regarding what might be done in the matter of provincial taxation which might again throw an obstacle in the way of a mining program of considerable action.

It is well to remember that in the matter of taxation that the mining industry of northern Ontario while remunerative when successful is also extremely hazardous. Capital can only be had for mining development from those who are willing to take extreme risks in the hope of getting

(Continued From Page 1.) expense of the city at large. His argument, however, failed to make an impression. The lot to be expropriated has a frontage on Yonge street of 150 feet and a depth of 76 feet. It is owned by R. C. Bustard.

Desired Cheap Fares. Ald. Beamish was anxious for council to inaugurate immediately cheap fares on the Metropolitan line, but Con. Maguire thought it would be well to get control of the line before demanding a change of fares. A deputation protested against the dumping of garbage and debris on lots along Neville Park boulevard. Ald. Baker also presented a resolution urging the public health department to take action to have this nuisance abated. The resolution was carried.

Remarked in Passing.

Judging from the Telegram's story of the cock-fight his idea of a good new yarn is blood-buckets of blood. There is talk of the bay-front viaduct being taken into the law courts. In that case we may expect to open the new station sometime after the year 2000. An Oxford professor has discovered a method of greatly lengthening the lives of rats. Going to give 'em an even chance with the cats, perhaps.

New York has a 12 1/2 inch fall of snow and to read the New York papers you'd think the whole town had been moved up to Mattice. An American has discovered that Japan intends to take Australia from the British Empire for her own use. Reminds one of Dr. Cook's discovery of the North Pole.

Mayor Church left at 5 o'clock yesterday for a holiday in the south, and at time of going to press he had not returned, but there are already two to one bets that he will not stay away two weeks. Council yesterday decided to widen Kings street. Now watch the transportation commission get down to work on its plans for a North Toronto service.

THE MAN FROM TALL TIMBER

THE WORLD'S WEEKLY NOVEL. By George Sully & Co. Copyright, 1919.

(Continued From Yesterday's World.) When she sprang out from the face of the cliff, she seemed wasted like a leaf into his arms. Her dark, pliant face laughed up at him. She lay in his arms for a space, getting her breath. Then she slipped out of his grasp with a motion as sinuous as that of a snake, leaving his arms feeling more empty when she had gone, it seemed, than they had ever been before.

CHAPTER VII. A Visit and a Promise.

SOMETHING more than prettiness and ingenuously about Gypsy attracted Stafford. Something held his interest in a greater degree than had any of his fancies since boyhood. It was not altogether her freshness of mind and spirit of her physical grace; it was something deeper down in the girl's nature. This attraction drew him toward Paradise two days after he had added the forest girl on the road to John Longfoot's cabin. He rode up the pine-tar carpeted tote road through Breakway valley, coming at late forenoon to the foot of the knoll on which St. Patterson's cabin was built.

CHAPTER VI. New Interests.

YOU seem to have much the advantage of me, young lady," Stafford said, with that cultivated smile of his which Gypsy noted softened all the hard lines in his countenance and made his expression really winning. "You appear to know my name, while I haven't the first idea of who yours is."

CHAPTER V. The Girl's Story.

"I think the advantage is the other way around," the girl rejoined, demurely. "You spoke of having seen me shoot Brindle rapids last evening, and I am sure I do not recall seeing you on the river bank."

CHAPTER IV. The Girl's Story.

"You were much too earnestly engaged at the time, I fancy. Really," he said, with admiration in his voice, "you got that canoe thru the white water in a most remarkable manner."

CHAPTER III. The Girl's Story.

"I only looked so to you—a stranger." "Yet I do not seem to be a stranger," he said, "yet you seem to know my name well enough."

CHAPTER II. The Girl's Story.

"Surely everybody should know you around here. You do not expect to hide your light under a bushel, Mr. Stafford? You being the chief of the company that owns most of this timber, everybody will recognize you."

CHAPTER I. The Girl's Story.

"All very well," he interrupted, looking down at her from his saddle with a complexion that she was laughing at him. "But I have not been at Tall Timber in person for—well, pot—well, I was a boy."

FRIENDS NOTICE A BIG CHANGE IN HER

"Tanlac Has Done Me a World of Good," Declares Little Toronto Woman.

"Since my friends are all telling me how much better I am looking, I think it's time for me to be recommending Tanlac," said Mrs. S. Ashman, of 227 Ashdale avenue, Toronto.

"Up to about two years ago I always enjoyed splendid health, but from that time on I was in a terrible condition. My appetite was poor and my digestion bad. My nerves were all upset. I couldn't get any sound sleep and had constant pains in the back of my head. I fell off in weight and strength and the least effort would tire me out completely."

"What I needed most was a general all-round building up, and Tanlac has certainly done that for me. By the time I had finished my fourth bottle all my troubles were gone too. I now eat heartily, sleep fine, have gained ten pounds in weight and feel like an entirely different person. Everybody notices the improvement in my condition. Tanlac has done me a world of good and I just feel like praising it to the skies!"

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tamblin Drug Stores and by an established agency in every town.

STOP WASTING TIME IN RADIAL INQUIRY

Justice Sutherland to Exclude All Matter Not Having Direct Bearing.

While willing to take all time necessary to get at the facts, Justice Sutherland announced at the opening of the radial commission at Osgoode Hall yesterday that only matters tending to show whether the undertaking was going to pay or not would henceforth be admitted as evidence.

Matters had been brought to a head by the anti-radial municipalities commission in its evidence in Ontario municipalities in inducing electors to pass Hydro endorsement.

Some of these matters are far beyond the scope of this commission, objected Robert McKay, K.C., provincial counsel. "I'll have to see whether I'll devote the rest of my life to this particular business and also the commission will have to consider this. The real question is whether it was advisable to build certain roads or not. These questions will lead to nowhere. It is endless."

The report of the official stenographer showed 1,403,400 words so far submitted in evidence and the end was not yet in sight.

Mr. Robertson contended that the Hydro power commission ought to be the last body to promote and build radials that will exist in existence to sell power. According to him the matter of radial development should be placed in the hands of an independent body. He further charged that by voting money to help in the passing of Hydro bylaws the Hydro commission had acted illegally and were open to great criticism.

Justice Sutherland pointed out that these were matters upon which the radial commission had no right to decide and had nothing to do with the present investigation.

Admits Bad Service. Ex-Mayor Conant, of Oshawa, under questioning of Mr. McKay, admitted writing three articles against the Hydro, in spite of which the by-law had carried in Oshawa by 474 to 57. He objected to the Hydro Commission being asked to fix the rates charged on the radial instead of Oshawa being allowed to do so, and also wanted Oshawa to have control of future extensions. He admitted, however, that the present passenger service between Oshawa and Toronto left many hours between trains, during which that town was practically isolated from this city.

J. J. Bell, traffic manager of General Motors, Ltd., of Oshawa, who had been called by the anti-radial interests, admitted that the present freight service was so bad that all autos were driven to the consignee in preference to using railways if the distance was less than 150 miles. Often they were driven as far as 200 miles. Although it was shown that the cost of sending them over the proposed Hydro line would not be in excess of cost of driving the cars, he was both surprised and pleased that his firm would use the radial route. He would not, however, go on record as saying that they would not.

FIRST NIGHT AT THEATRES

"Cinderella on Broadway" is Attraction at the Royal Alexandra—"Listen Lester" Big Fun Maker at Princess—Good Vaudeville and Pictures at Other Toronto Houses

"Cinderella on Broadway"—Alexandra. "Cinderella on Broadway," a fantasy of dialog, singing and dancing, billed as an approach to the old English pantomime, held the boards at the Royal Alexandra Theatre last night and was greeted by a good-sized first-night house. Alno (Cinderella) is featured in the title role and a sketchy shadow of the old fairy legend runs thru the production, yet the ensemble at the Royal Alexandra this week is simply a "vaudeville" from the New York Winter Garden.

Opening with a prolog in which the audience are invited to assist at a fairy play, the production unfolds its self scene after scene in 20 successive shifts and two acts. The chorus was unusually large and the costumes and setting elaborate, that of the Cinderella ball being a charming color scheme of lavender, pastel pink lamps and silver, large slipper opening at the centre of the stage revealing a silver stairway bordered with violets.

One of the best features of the evening was the song and dance of John Murray and the slight little "glooms" who did a ghost act that roused great applause. The fine work of the Barrymores was one of the most enjoyable contributions. "Have Somebody's Heart" by Vivian Oakland, and "The Last Waltz I Had With You" by Lora Ho man and chorus, secured a success as did "Number in which the feet of the dancers were chained together with silver anklets. The scene in which the devil examined the records of the good imitation of the old morality play portraying youth led away by beauty and dice. In this again John T. Murray did good work. "Gloom, Gloom, F. Young as the Prince and Vivian Oakland as Beauty. "The Top of the World" showed living pictures of the Queen of Hearts, Jack of Diamonds and Diamonds and other cards besides a number of symbolic figures representing the misfortunes which they bring their devotees.

The first part of the program, which at times was somewhat riotous, would have been improved by the elimination of the duo act which tried to be funny but only succeeded in being vulgar. The meeting of the league of nations in the scene and the jeweled castle were all part of an altogether colorful performance.

"Listen Lester" at the Princess. "Listen Lester" has been popular as a musical comedy for a number of seasons, and will continue to be for some time to come. It is a true burlesque, which received at the Princess Theatre last night can be taken as a criterion. Although the plot is a trifle thin, the regulation musical comedy, the singing, music and comedy itself is of the best. What little plot there is, is in the trials and tribulations of one Col. Yusuf Doherty, played by Earl Higley, who has written a number of promising letters to one, Arbutus Quilly, a lady of doubtful character. In the endeavor to regain them, many screamingly funny situations are brought about. Concurrently with this part of the plot is a love affair progressing between the colonel's daughter, Mary, played by June Roberts, and Jack Griffith (the hero). The comedy end of the show is really upheld by Fred Heider, the popular comedian, who plays the part of William Penn, a hotel clerk, to perfection. He is ably supported by Duano Dell, who later in the hotel porter, and by Lester Leater, who plays the hotel porter, and the comedy centres. Heider, in addition to being one of the best natural comedians on the musical comedy stage, is an accomplished gymnast and dancer. He did some of the best during the action that would have put a big-time acrobat to shame. Miss June Roberts also did some of the best. Tiltie Mum, a widow, played by Claire Grenville, also contributed largely to the success of the comedy. Betty Kirkbride as Arbutus, the chorus lady, has a role with much entertainment. "When all is said and done "Listen Lester" occupies a high rank among musical comedies.

"The Maple Leaf Boys"—Grand. "The Maple Leaf Boys," Morley Plunkett's company of ex-service men, playing this week at the Grand, contains a number of delightful acts, the dance scenes with more than average skill and presentation. This was especially true of the Spanish dance, in which Morley Plunkett and Ormonde Perley featured. They have the "Colonial Episode," with its powerful and its quaint reminiscence of the earlier days in America and its minutes, provided the most delightful note of the evening.

Another notable skit, was that in which W. Russell Scott, imitating attired for the occasion, took his part as the fat dame in song with the quartet, singing a new song "Swing Me" to the man. Ernie Hetch, too, as Solomon Isaacstein, proved a winning number. Ormonde Perley was another who took dual roles with ease and finesse. He was especially good as "Ayasha" in "A Tale of the Orient," Bob Anderson, too, in his song skit, "Six Days' Leave," provided much a hearty laugh.

George F. Moore and his "Fidelity, Fudge Revue," headlining at Shea's Theatre this week is one of the best musical revues which has been presented here in vaudeville for some time. The comedy and character stunts are upheld by Moore, who is more than ably assisted by Alice Hayward, Betty May, Francis Lacey, Marsbury Sidman, and Eddie Litchfield. Moore assumes a number of characters, including the English Johnny, which he portrays to perfection. His assistants are wonderful dancers and singers, which he portrays to perfection. He has no mean ability. "All Right" is an absurd skit, presented by Frankie Wood and Bunce Wadde, is billed as a "Jokemaster." It is a strong-arm act entitled "An Art Class."

Shea's Hippodrome. Vera Gordon's whose wonderful interpretation of motherhood was a feature of the great film "Humoresque," holds the star role in the latest release, "The Greatest Love," which is being presented at Shea's Hippodrome all this week. Although different as plot, "The Greatest Love" is a best comparison with "Humoresque," because of the great acting of Vera Gordon. Her characterization is natural and compelling to the hearts of all. Mother's love is shown beyond a doubt as "The Greatest Love." On the excellent vaudeville bill, the Danes Sisters and company, who are performing par excellence, have uniform good voices. Two excellent comedians are Taber and Green, Ann Gray can almost make a man talk under her nimble fingers this instrument which made a great hit. James Kelly, who has a novel sketching talent and song act which drew a good house. "The News" and a comedy film called "A Good Bye."

Loew's Downtown. A bill of fare that will assuredly meet with highest appreciation through the week, was presented at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden yesterday. Crowded audiences, both afternoon and evening, were witness to the demonstration of appreciation of the entertainment offered them. The photo-play, "Cinderella on Broadway," which is being shown in the kitchen maid who enjoys quite as happy a life as the princess, is a take part in the story, Connie McGill, passed thru a trying time, and is compelled, against her will, to become a part of a gang of crooked work, which is a delightful adaptation of the story. The picture, which is a masterpiece, needs no further commendation. The picture, which is a masterpiece, needs no further commendation. The picture, which is a masterpiece, needs no further commendation.

Loew's Uptown Theatre. This week another attractive program is presented for patrons of Loew's Uptown Theatre, corner York and Bloor streets. The vaudeville tunes, the average and much entertainment is also suffering from hoarseness and snappings. The headline, "Florence and the Blue Bird," is a series of songs and dances which will be hard to forget. The three Edie Sisters render charming songs in a harmony which is hard to forget. The picture, which is a masterpiece, needs no further commendation.

"WAY DOWN EAST" COMING TO ROYAL

Art Wonder Spectacle is Outstanding Attraction of Current Theatrical Season.

D. W. Griffith's eighth art wonder spectacle, "Way Down East," is the attraction announced for the Royal Alexandra Theatre, where it begins a special engagement of one week with matinees every afternoon and another performance each night following the opening performance.

As is quite well known, this wonderful evolution of dramatic effects is based upon the original story by Lotte Blair Parker which as a play toured the country for many years with unrivaled success. It is a tale of human love and rural conventions in a simple, soul-reaching way. It develops amidst scenes of pastoral charm and sleepy beauty covering the four seasons of the year in that section of America where liberty was herded in.

Griffith is not a preacher. He is an illustrator of fundamentals which find their rarest expression in this enlargement of a play whose worth was long since proven. These deft touches which he drives home his expressions round out a new art form of impelling grandeur and with mighty nature at war with stern human experiences he attains a climax in the great storm scene and the ice floe on the river which for sheer dramatic sweep is the greatest thing ever seen within the four walls of a theatre.

These attributes explain why "Way Down East" is the outstanding attraction of the current theatrical season, and it will be as successful here as it has been everywhere. Seat sale opens Thursday.
