It's just like this—I have tried all the clothing stores in town and have at last settled down on the Union Clothing Co. The suit I got there is always sure to be stylish and of good material. Everything about it is right in every way. Now go around town and see for yourself, and I will wager you a good cigar that you can't beat the Union Clothing Co. on a $10, $12 or $15 suit. Try it.

THESE SEAL SKIN JACKETS GROW

(From the Suburban.)
Then dark they lie and stark they lie—
rookery, dune, and floe,
And the Northern Lights come down
o' nights to dance with the house-
less snow;
And God who clears the groundings
bring and stars that bring the flood,
He hears the cry of the little kit-fox and the wind along the snow.
—Rudyard Kipling.

The home of the seal-skin jacket is where in 57 deg. N. 170 deg. W. the Frigidities lift their "headlands" down out of Behring Sea.
When by treaty ratified on June 20, 1867, Russia gave up all her Alaskan possessions for seven millions of United States gold, neither contracting party thought much of gold mines nor of seal-skins. It was the coastal fisheries of salmon, halibut and cod, and the deep-sea whaling that seemed to make the country worth while.

Three years later the United States government granted a lease of the Pribilof Islands for twenty years to the Alaska Commercial Company, and in 1880 the lease was transferred to the North American Commercial Company, in whose hands the monopoly now rests.
During the Russian regime the poor Aleut had a pretty sorry time of it. He lived in a sod hut partly underground, his only fuel was seal-fat eked out with precious fragments of wood cast by some vagrant wave to the northern shores of St. Paul Island. When fuel failed, the rest of the dear winter was spent hibernating under seal-skins in the warmest corner of his dark and dirty dwelling.
He is a great tea-drinker, samovar or tea kettle is always on tap, and a gallon a day per man is not a record. Afters of old announced eight hours as a rational sleep-time. The Aleutian Islander in those lonely months of frozen solitude sleeps away eighteen hours of twenty-four; the tedium of the remaining six hours of wakefulness is covered in tea, smoking, drinking tea, smoking, gambling and going to church. He belongs to the Greek church and this gives him an aversion of the holiness of a week, so, taking one consideration with another he could scarcely describe him as a strenuous life.

Mr. Aleut is a decadent. It is not to moralize over him, but to study that gay blade Mr. Fur Seal that we have travelled north and south, east and west, and a glance at Dutch Harbor, and pass to the breeding-island of St. George's with its trim white cottages and the fital green-gings of its mid-summer sun.
It is the first week of June, scarcely a seal is to be seen, but a day or two will bring them in swarms. The bulls come first guided in from the open sea by that unerring smell of home which the north-winds bring from the last year's rookeries. They are big and gray and fat these new-comers, some surely weigh a full five hundred pounds. Close by the water they "haul up" and each declares, "Here I plant my harpoon, trespassers will be—done to the death."

In a month the ladies will arrive and the destiny of each bull must be settled before her round head and full amorous eyes break through the island fog-banks. Among the big bulls it is often a fight to the finish for the approved resting places, by actual combat on other grounds, either the bachelor in single combat forty-three miles, or the yearling, while awaiting the coming of the wives and sweethearts. A sea-fight is no wound of carpet-knight; torn skin and injured eyesight maimed flippers and deep-gashed body wounds remain as signs of the fierceness of the fray.
A sea-fight is the most singular combat that ever eye of man witnessed. Singular, too, in that selection of the fittest which it stands for. The defeated seals Nolens Volens must "haul up" on other grounds, either the farther inland parts of that island where they fought or the "free beaches" of other islands. These conquered ones must remain for that season at least lonely bachelors, or "holluschickies" to use the Russian word.
All this makes for the perpetuation of a strong vigorous herd, the most powerful in the world. It is the most powerful in Israel. Small wonder is it that seal fights with seal to the finish. Having conquered his rivals, the victorious bull becomes undisputed lord and master of his island. He is the one to whom the seal-skins are due for the ensuing season date disturb his serenity or dispute his sovereign authority. It is to the free beaches of the island that the seal-killer goes for his quota of skins, and so no blood is shed on the breeding-grounds. On those preliminary fights on the fore-shore was "manifest destiny" writ large.

But the ladies are arriving. In ones, and twos, and little entries they reach the breeding-grounds. It reminds one of the entry into Colonial America of the early vessels bearing would-be brides from "Home." At the landing rocks the males cluster and each "lady" runs the gauntlet of selection spouse picks her up in his teeth and carries her off to the new hearth-stone christened with blood where in due time other wives to the number perhaps of thirty or forty join her, for your seal is a true Mormon.

The wives live with one another and with their joint lord in emmentally amity, and it is on a true picture of domestic felicity that the lonely holluschickie is permitted to gaze, from afar off. For the whole of the breeding-season the fathers of the family neither eat nor drink, they soon become thin and ragged-looking. The well-fed bachelor from the hinterland is allowed to make a convenient party to the water through the married quarters, and all is well if he attends strictly to his own business. Should he neglect his duties and forgetting the fates of Lot's wife and Eurydice throw one hungry look at happiness into the haven of the Seal-Seraglio, he will find that the untidy-looking heat of the family can still fight, and that he lives strictly up to his motto, "What We Have, We'll Hold."

The Island of St. George is very small, about ten miles by five; but it swarms with life. The seals by no means monopolize the little republic. Sea-lions also appear, and the air is vocal with the voice of bird and seal and fox, discordant noises enough for the most part very unpleasant.

Let us take a walk upon the island toward the end of July. Here on a lichen-covered rock we stretch ourselves and take a look far out to sea. Lonely, indeed, the prospect. One has to be on good terms with himself to live on a lighthouse, in a prairie dug-out, or on St. George's Island. The world of theatres and street cars and daily newspapers? We shut our eyes and hear only the sea and the wind of a great city, the street-cries, and the familiar noise of traffic, we feel the warm thrill of human fellowship with the great crowd of humanity that touches us on every side.
Is this little island separated from the rest of mankind by thousands of miles of cold blue sea, in the same good world? If we would not be lonely we must study the "Younger Brothers" of the race that here roams about. Instead of the voice of the street-vendors is a very ponderous of noise, chiefly in the little Russian auk or choctider, where the seal breeds, and he is never tired of lifting up his voice in the market-places; in the seal and auk orchestra is borne the wail of a lonely blue-fur and the incoherent chatter of many kittiwakes. Over all and around all, night and day, is the sound of the surf on the rocks, roaring up the upper reaches and churning and breaking and splashing in impotent rage. In a tropic island the sound of the surf is the voice of man blend into one whole of cautious harmony; here on the fringes of the world is the note of breeding and the making seal "unmistakable to the Volskians' ear and harsh in sound." Who will explain?

As we cross dune and headland to take a peep at Sealville-by-the-Sea we tread a veritable carpet of wild flowers in vivid pinks and blues and crimson lifting their heads from the snow, the overhanging snows. But a new note arises from the happy family circles. It is the advent of the baby-seal. From the wrester of bulls, the lord of many dames, is now the father of a quiverful; funny, fat, little chubby chaps they are, and the old lord looks on with a mixture of pride and envy. The baby's father, his mother, a cow, and his bachelor uncle "holluschickie" ordains that baby himself be dugged a pup.
The cares of motherhood sit lightly on the ladies of the harem. In gay little picnic-parties they swim one to die, leaving Daddy to look after the wants of the kindergarten. In some Southern "school" Madame Seal read of the new woman and early became emancipated; it is rather hard upon Papa, for although one babe in the house may be a well-spring of pleasure, forty babies is a different story. At eight weeks the pups take to the water and begin to fend for themselves—all is fish that comes to their net. The seals leave us as they came, out of the great deep back to the great deep they go, for the rest of the year their business is in deep waters.
At the cruel carnage in the bachelor's quarters we scarcely care to look on. The seals are so helpless and so inoffensive, the soft look of incredulity and surprise that comes into their great eyes at the uplifted club of the hunter (save the honor of the name) is something which once seen would faint forget.
At earliest dawn the "hunting" party visits the free beaches where the holluschickies have hauled up, and establishes a cut-off retreat. The seals are tractable and in their own clumsy way they are forward, slowly in the direction in which they are headed. In this way ten skilled men can drive a thousand seals. The procession is an orderly as that of the more civilized sheep and the guarding collie. About a half a mile an hour is fast enough. It is not good for the fur that the holluschickie should be overhauled. The drivers have breakfast while the victims pant and blow and fan themselves with their flippers. About a hundred seals are surrounded and driven into a kraal where the selected ones are done to death with clubs and daggers.
The skinning process over, the skins are piled in large bins or kenches "fat to fat" and subsequently pickled and packed in boxes. The dressing being done in London, the modulus operandi being a carefully guarded trade secret.

To the native falls the denuded body of the murdered bachelor, and as the happy families of the elect with all the joy of living set out hilarious for the open sea, in unanimous laughter dies the bachelor sea with the death cry of hundreds of his fellows ringing in his ears. So ends his sad eventful history. His shorn body to a mean Aleut hut, his skin to a proud back of a society queen.

SHOT CROW THAT ATE $200 DIAMOND RING
Friendly Bird Flew Into a Room for Gem, Then Waited Outside for Gardener to Get a Gun.

VERONA, N. J., Feb. 3.—Probably the most valuable crow in the country was shot on the estate of Mrs. Herman Stoddard this morning, and the shooter, Adolph Schmidt, who is Mrs. Stoddard's coachman and gardener, has not been located for the bird. Mrs. Stoddard is a great bird lover, crows included.
Mrs. Stoddard has noticed recently about the edge of a piece of woods on the eastern slope of Second Mountain. The house is surrounded by every kind of bird, house placed in every conceivable location, and every article is resorted to to make the estate attractive to birds. No cats or dogs are allowed on the premises, and every precaution is taken to have the little songsters unmolested during the summer. The result is that almost every variety of New Jersey bird is attracted to the place. During the winter Mrs. Stoddard entertains the cold weather members of the feathered tribe. Seeds and crumbs are scattered about with a generous hand.
Mrs. Stoddard has noticed recently among the other recipients of her bounty a crow that seemed bolder than its fellows. This crow would come right up to the house and seize the food that she had designed for the smaller birds. It came at all hours and appeared to have little, if any, fear of human beings.
Minnie Walters, a housemaid, opened the windows of a room to air it this morning. As she did so she noticed a friendly crow sitting in the tree outside. On a dresser in open sight lay several articles of jewelry, including a diamond ring. The maid left the room, but returned in a few minutes to put down the windows. As she opened the door, she saw the crow on the dresser with a startled "caw" and flew out. Glancing at the dresser she noticed that the ring was missing.
Mrs. Stoddard was horrified, and would not believe that the ring had been taken by the crow. She insisted that a careful search be made for the missing ring. While this was being done without success, a shot was heard back of the house and a moment later the crow was seen to fly out of the window, accompanied with a gun and the body of the crow. The ring was found in the bird's crop.
Attached to one of the crow's legs was a small leather band, with three links of a small brass chain, indicating that the bird had once been somebody's pet.

SAYS HYPNOTISM MADE HIM CONFESS
Prisoner in Baltimore Arson Case Seeks to Upsell Signed Statement on This Ground.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 2.—A jury in the criminal court has been out twenty hours wrestling with the defence offered by Wm. Haase, that he made and signed a confession that he had set fire to the Edward Bennett Pottery plant after he had been hypnotized by Captain A. J. Pumphrey, chief of the Baltimore city detective force.
Haase claims that he was led through the dark halls of the court house and suddenly taken before Capt. Pumphrey, and that under the influence of an electric light, the large gold eyeglasses and the keen eye of the detective and the shining brasswork of him, he became hypnotized.
Haase says he does not recollect signing a statement that he three times set fire to the pottery plant. He does not recollect that he was locked up after talking to the chief of the sleuths last Saturday. He was taken to the Eastern police station last Sunday, tried and committed to court and locked up, but he says he knows nothing about it.
He regained his senses last Sunday when a cold water needle bath was turned on him at the city jail, forty-eight hours after he had talked with the head of the detective bureau.
"The light shone on his eyes and he seemed to be getting nearer and nearer to me all the time," said Haase in speaking of Captain Pumphrey. "Then he put a pencil in my hand and said: 'Write.' I did not know what I wrote. I did not recover my intelligence until I was given a bath at the jail."
The defence called Dr. Charles G. Hill, a well known alienist. He testified that he examined young Haase and found him physically much below the average and also weak mentally. He stated that he believed it perfectly possible that he had made the confession while under the hypnotic influence of Captain Pumphrey.
Dr. F. T. Tanner, another alienist, sustained Dr. Hill. Captain Pumphrey says he is innocent of any intent to influence Haase.
The jury reported tonight that it could not agree and the body was locked up for the night and ordered to report tomorrow.

NATIONAL RELICS
GOING TO JAMESTOWN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—An eagle, ten feet high, weighing a ton, and carved from wood, from the Boston navy yard, will be boxed up this week and sent to the Jamestown Exhibition. This massive figurehead was on the bows of Captain Perry's flagship, the Niagara, when the American squadron went to Japan in 1855.
Another relic to be exhibited at the Jamestown Exhibition, also from the Boston navy yard, is the steel scroll carved from the stern of the Olympia, the flagship of Admiral Dewey when he won his famous victory in Manila Bay.
Among the other monuments to be sent to the Jamestown Exhibition are pictures of the Constitution, Niagara, Susquehanna, of two British warships laying the Atlantic cable, model of the first lockyard and the old ship's bell, the Constitution.
We have no doubt that our advertising has been an important factor in our success.—Higgins & Selzer, N. Y.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 2.—Reports from all parts of the northwest including Winnipeg, Manitoba, say that the wind and snow storm of yesterday and last night was the most severe of the winter. A Winnipeg special says the whole province was in the grasp of a furious storm, and late last night a gale of wind began to blow. Railroads are blocked and only one transcontinental train has arrived. In St. Paul the weather is clear but intensely cold with a strong wind blowing. The temperature is about 10 below zero. Drops in temperature from 40 to 60 degrees in various parts of the northwest during the last 15 hours have been reported.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Feb. 3.—The most severe storm of the season is raging tonight. A northeast gale is blowing fifty-two miles an hour and the temperature has fallen 34 degrees in twelve hours. About 200 feet of the outer breakwater, the rebuilding of which has been provided for by Congress, has been washed away.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Kink Edward and Queen Alexandra left London for Paris this morning, duelling incognito as the Duke and Duchess of Lancaster. As their majesties desire the trip to France to be as private as possible there was almost an entire absence of ceremony on their departure.

LOVE NO INCENTIVE FOR GIRLS TO MARRY

Several Reasons are Urged by French Women Who Desire to Get Husbands

PARIS, Feb. 2.—A French statistician has been devoting considerable time recently to discovering the reasons for which women are anxious to get married.

Five wished to marry in order that they might get unchaperoned.

Four looked forward to possessing a family.

Three did not wish to marry at all, while sixty-one were anxious to be married but could give no specific reason why.

Disinterment of Egypt's Dead

Better Class of Egyptians Aroused to Anger by Desecration of Their Tombs.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Another royal mummy has been dug up in Egypt, and the find will again open a very thorny question.

It is right that the grave of the illustrious dead of Egypt should be pried open to satisfy the mummy-hunting specialist?

In this country it requires special legislation to touch a mummy in its grave and offer it for sale. In Egypt no such feeling seems to trouble the official mind.

It is estimated that within thirty years over 1,000 mummies have been taken out of the country, and hundreds more have been wretchedly destroyed in Egypt.

USED TO LIGHT FIRES.
An eminent Egyptologist said yesterday that a large number of mummies are used in Egypt as fire-lighters. "It is scarcely to be credited, but it is a fact: if you go into many houses you would find portions of what were once human beings used for this purpose."

Among the amusing features is the "fashions column," "Collars and ties," says the journal, "are still worn by well-dressed gentlemen, and the silk 'balloon cap' has been replaced by the motoring cap. Tatting is still fashionable. Silent shoes, with rubber soles, are much in vogue."

The "society column" contains news of the various doings of well-known "Apaches" in the penal settlements.

MRS. SAGE MAKES SPLENDID GIFTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Herald tomorrow will say: Announcement was made yesterday of a gift of $1,000,000 by Mrs. Russell Sage to the Emma Willard seminary of Troy, and also of $250,000 to the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

"Mrs. Sage finished her education at the Emma Willard seminary and has been for several years president of the alumnae association.

R. W. D. Forest, Mrs. Sage's counsel, made the arrangements, and then followed closely the gift of $1,000,000 to the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, mentioned by Palmer C. Rickets, president of the institute, at the dinner of the alumni here Friday evening. Russell Sage was a trustee of the institute, and also a nephew. Russell Sage, 2nd, was a graduate. All of the gifts are made unconditionally, and it is provided that in the event of Mrs. Sage's death before the money is paid, it will be turned over by her estate.

"Mrs. Sage was graduated from the seminary in 1847. She entered after she had received her early education in Syracuse, her birth place. The seminary is one of the oldest schools in the state.

"It is understood that the gift to the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Association will be used to erect a building here for the executive offices of the committee."

SUNDAY TRAGEDIES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A little rag shop on the first floor of a two story and basement house on Cherry street, was burned out early today and in the fire half a dozen persons were scorched, some perhaps fatally, while others were hurt by jumping from windows. All the injured were asleep in the house when the fire was discovered by a policeman.

NEWFIELD, N. H., Feb. 3.—The county authorities spent considerable time today in investigating the death of Mrs. Henry Spencer, sixty years old, the wife of a civil war veteran, whose bruised body was found outside of her house this morning. None of the officials tonight would venture any theory on the cause of death and it is probable that further investigation will be made and an autopsy will be held.

Mrs. Spencer visited the house of her son, Leander, last night, in company with her husband. The son lived about a hundred yards away and Henry Spencer told the authorities today that he left for home about midnight, believing that his wife had either preceded him or was about to follow. He admitted that liquor was served at his son's house during the evening and that nearly all had a drink.

The body was found to have sustained many bruises about the head and shoulders, and the clothing was wet. The latter fact still further mystified the officials as no rain fell here since last evening, and before the time the woman is said to have left for her home.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Howard P. Frothingham, while delirious from a nervous breakdown, jumped from the second story of his home, No. 20 West Seventy seventh street yesterday and died just before last midnight. The death was not reported to the police until today when the coroner instituted an investigation.

Nervous strain, due to recent reverses in Wall Street, is believed to have caused the despondency which resulted in the death. Mr. Frothingham was one of the best known note brokers in the financial district. He had passed his 64th birthday and was a native of New York city.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 3.—A woman and her two nephews were found frozen to death this afternoon in an upstairs tenement, with a third child in an adjoining room badly frosted but alive. The dead: Emma K. Livingston, aged 45; Albert Livingston, aged 7; Lincoln Livingston, aged 3.

None of the family had been seen since Thursday when two of the children attended school. It is supposed that after their retired Thursday night they became partially asphyxiated by coal gas and the fire going out they were frozen to death.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Nellie Seaman, whose husband was found dead in his bed at their home in Matteawan early today, was brought here tonight by the police and will remain in custody pending the inquest.

Abraham Seaman was shot through the heart some time during Friday night and the police did not learn of the shooting until some hours later. Seaman was past 60 years of age and his wife about 20 years younger.

TROY, N. H., Feb. 2.—Because James Hickey called James Chamberlain a peddler, illiterate and ignorant, Chamberlain murdered Hickey here tonight. The murder was a cold blooded one. The victim being kicked into insensibility and his head battered with the heel of a boot. Chamberlain was arrested. He made no denial of his guilt.

CANAAN, N. H., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Mary Warren, aged eighty years, died early today from burns which she received yesterday. Mrs. Warren lived alone in a small house in Lyme center. She set fire to her clothing while girdling a fire with kerosene and neighbors, who discovered that the house was on fire, found the woman terribly burned, but still living. They extinguished the blaze in the building after slight damage was caused.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—John Liveroni and his wife, Mathie, of 606 East Eighteenth street, were found asphyxiated today. The bodies were discovered by the young neighbors. Mrs. Liveroni's body was in the bed while that of her husband sat fully dressed in a chair by the bedside. The police believe the couple formed a suicide pact or that Liveroni, despondent because of lack of work, deliberately turned on the gas after his wife went to sleep.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—G. Sinclair Moulton, a well known hotel man, committed suicide by shooting in the Grand Union Hotel, some time between noon Saturday and noon today. At the time of his death he was president of the Sprague House Company, owners of the Manhattan Square Hotel on West 7th. He had been suffering severely from stomach trouble for some time and it is believed his illness was the cause of the deed. At noon Saturday Mr. Moulton left his own hotel, although his wife instituted a search for him, he was not found until a maid in the Grand Union Hotel found his body in a room at noon today. He left letters for his wife and several of his friends. There were three bullet wounds in the chest and back. The left temple, one through the chest and another through the heart.

Mr. Moulton began his hotel life in the Parker House in Boston, when but 13 years old, and remained in the hotel business until his death. He was at various times employed by the city of hostilities. Recently he bought control of the Manhattan Square Hotel. He is survived by a widow, a married sister living in Boston, and a mother living at Wolfboro, N. H.

WASHINGTON, Penna., Feb. 3.—The body of Miss Frances Livingston, 15 years old, was found in a room in the Forest Building in North Main street early today. Whether she committed suicide or was murdered has not yet been discovered.

A young man named John Innes, with whom Miss Martin attended the Lyric theatre last night, has been arrested and is being held to await the action of the jury.

The body was discovered by John V. Cook, stage manager on duty, in the Lyric Theatre, which is across the alley from the Forest Building, in which Cook lives. There are indications that the girl died last night or early today in the Lyric Theatre Building and that her body was then taken across a little alley which connects the theatre and Forest Building.

Cook and his wife say they cannot account for the presence of the body in their room as they did not know Miss Martin nor had they ever seen her before.

A postmortem examination was held by Dr. Shannon, but he refused to make a statement. There were no marks on the body indicating how it was killed. The dead: Emma K. Livingston, aged 45; Albert Livingston, aged 7; Lincoln Livingston, aged 3.

JAPAN AND THE UNITED STATES

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Despatches received here from the United States reporting renewed tension between the United States and Japan over the San Francisco school incident are published with rather derisive comment as the press takes the view that Japan is not as intelligent as she is represented, and the official view, while it does not minimize the delicate points involved, still does not regard the question as having entered upon the critical stage. It is pointed out that the reports of a Japanese ultimatum probably arise from the popular use of the word ultimatum instead of its decisive meaning under international law.

Government circles thus far have given little consideration to this question and it is likely to embroil Great Britain under the terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. Officials here point out that the whole thing is more a question between the Federal and State governments than between Japan and the United States.

During a recent informal exchange of views, one of the chief government officials said that the difficulties of the Federal Government in dealing with the different states would be appreciated here owing to the fact that the difficulties in dealing with Newfoundland and other colonies.

Concerning the Anglo-Japanese treaty for mutual support, the official view is that this treaty is limited by its preamble, to the maintenance of the territorial rights of Great Britain and Japan in the regions of eastern Asia and India. In explaining the foregoing limitations, the official referred to above related the following important incident:—

During the negotiating of the treaty, one of the negotiators asked this hypothetical question: "If Japan became involved with Germany upon a question entirely local to Germany and involving the situation in the Far East would the treaty require Great Britain to support Japan?"

Both the negotiators agreed that Great Britain would not be required to support Japan under such hypothetical conditions. The official pointed out that this hypothesis was practically the same as the existing San Francisco controversy which is local to California, and which does not involve the status in the Far East as is set forth in the preamble of the treaty.

The foregoing, however, is merely an expression of views and shows the general tendency in official quarters. There has not yet been any occasion for an official and formal ruling on the subject.

TOKIO, Feb. 3.—After a careful survey on public feeling here regarding the prospect of a satisfactory solution of the San Francisco school controversy, it may be stated that while the approach of the question is the subject of an agreeable affair is welcomed, yet the solution may be effected by a mutual treaty excluding the immigration of laborers is generally disbelieved as unreasonable.

According to the prevailing feeling a solution must be effected on Japan's treaty rights pure and simple.

However, confidence continues that the solution of the question will be reached without the least sacrifice of Japanese honor and prestige.

TOKIO, Feb. 3.—The war talk of the American press has been received here with great surprise and sincere regret. The correspondent of the Associated Press has talked with several leading men both in and out of the government. They concur in the opinion that the United States is the last country with which Japan would go to war. Besides, both nations are aggressive in their views and would not go to war without the strongest cause. In some quarters belief is expressed that the misrepresentation that Japan is suffering from account of the San Francisco school question is waiting for a from shown war correspondents in the late Russian war. It is believed these correspondents are waiting for a chance to misrepresent Japan. The Japanese press has been silent so far, apparently considering the matter unworthy of comment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 4.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz, and the members of the Board of Education, left yesterday for Washington to confer with President Roosevelt in regard to the segregation of Japanese pupils in public schools.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The Japanese-Corean Exclusion League yesterday passed a resolution asking the United States and the State of California to continue to exclude Japanese from the schools occupied by white children. The resolution declared that Mrs. Yoshida's return to Japan on the school question was tantamount to taking vengeance. President Roosevelt was severely criticized.

MADRID, Feb. 4.—The Socialists have decided to join the Republicans in the coming elections.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 4.—Quotations on gasoline and naphtha were again advanced one cent a gallon by the Standard Oil Co. today.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beattay, of the West Side, left this morning for Boston to visit relatives.

FATHER McAULEY DIED SUDDENLY YESTERDAY

Passed Away Yesterday Morning The Congregation Had Assembled at Nearby Chapel for Mass—The Whole Community Shocked—Father Savage's Tribute

NEW IRELAND, A. Co., Feb. 3.—Rev. Father McAuley, for many years in charge of this parish, died very suddenly today. Death was due to heart failure and came as a great shock to the whole community, for although it was no secret that he had been suffering with heart trouble for some time, he had not been confined in his house. For the last ten days Father McAuley had felt a severe pain around his heart which annoyed him greatly, although it did not materially interfere with his work. This morning about four o'clock, however, he was suddenly taken ill and continued to grow worse as daylight approached. He was soon seen by Miss Mabel Williamson and John Daley, who were with the priest, that his condition was serious, and a messenger was sent to Dr. S. C. Murray of Albert, who lost no time in getting to the priest's home. He arrived at 10 o'clock, only to find that Father McAuley had passed away half an hour before.

When those who had gathered at the chapel for the funeral learned of Father McAuley's condition a large number assembled at the priest's home and did everything that was possible to aid those who were waiting upon him. As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral, but word has been sent to Father Savage of Moncton, who will come to New Ireland and look after the funeral arrangements. He will be buried in the cemetery of age, leaves three sisters—Mrs. Hogan and Mrs. Harnett of Rexton, Kent Co., and Mrs. Hogan of Seattle. There are no brothers. Mrs. Charles Morris of Harvey, Albert Co., and Mrs. J. Ward of St. John are nieces, and Edward Hogan of St. John is a nephew. Father McAuley, it will be remembered, was the principal witness at the recent trial at Hopewell Cape, of Thomas Collins, who was convicted of murdering Miss Mary Ann McAuley, a cousin of the priest. It is altogether likely that the strain and worry of the last few months has done much to hasten the end. Since the tragedy in August last Miss Williamson has been keeping house for Father McAuley.

FATHER SAVAGE'S TRIBUTE

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 3.—In his sermon at St. Bernard's Church tonight the pastor, Rev. Father Savage, referred feelingly to the tragic death of New Ireland Rev. Father McAuley, characterizing it as the last chapter in the tragedy which has shocked this province. It was about five o'clock this afternoon when by a telephone message Father Savage learned of Father McAuley's sudden death and he was greatly shocked by the news. He had been a life-long friend of the priest. "I regarded him as a faithful priest and one true to his people, for whom I feel the greatest sympathy in their sad calamity," said Rev. Father Savage in his sermon tonight. "I regard his return to New Ireland after the tragedy as nothing short of heroic. He was an exceedingly sensitive man and had been suffering from heart trouble for some time. He worked to uplift the young people under his charge, but never saw the results of his work, for so soon as the tragedy broke, he was called to his rest. He was a man of delicate health, and Father Savage thought that the strain accompanying the trial and shock of the murder itself had worn greatly on the priest. Father Savage will go to New Ireland tomorrow and expects to officiate at the last sad rights of the burial."

McBRIDE GOVT. SUSTAINED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTIONS

Had a Majority of Six Over All — Campaign Was Fought On Local Issues—Three N. B. Men Among Successful Candidates.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 3.—The Vancouver ministry of the Pacific province, after a precarious term in office, has been returned by a substantial majority, having 24 members against 15 Liberals and 20 Socialists. The result was not unexpected, although few anticipated so decisive a victory. The chief theme discussed was the claim of the province to a larger grant from the Dominion, and while all joined in the demand for it, Premier McBride succeeded in making that cause seem especially his own. The Canadian Pacific railway influence too was exerted in support of the government. On the Liberal side the tendency toward divergent views was a source of weakness, the vote being divided by Socialist candidates. The questionable transactions shown up by the opposition did not seem to have weakened the government, and that is an unfortunate feature of the result. It is strikingly shown in the election of Neil McKay, formerly Deputy Commissioner of Lands and Works in Kootenai, the constituency of his deposed official chief. The old political division of island against mainland has passed away, for the mainland has grown and advanced, developing its own local and divergent interests in mining and agriculture. If any line of cleavage is shown in Conservative gains, it is the urban municipalities, the most noticeable deflection from Liberal strength being the four seats of Victoria. The McBride government has now a substantial majority and can afford to be firm in demanding for the province a return from its great wealth in minerals, timber and farm lands. This will afford a necessary basis for further discussion as to the claim for a larger measure of federal aid. PIERCE FIGHT IN VANCOUVER. VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 3.—The McBride government was returned yesterday with an increased majority. It carried the three coast cities—Vancouver, Victoria and Westminister. The battle ground of the campaign was at Vancouver, where the contest was the fiercest in the history of the city, a record breaking vote of nearly seven thousand being cast. Five Conservative voters were returned with slightly reduced majority.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF EXMOUTH STREET METHODIST CHURCH

Interesting Commemorative Services Held Yesterday Sermon by Rev. Dr. Stewart, the First Pastor, and Rev. Dr. Heartz, Also Former Pastor

The Jubilee of Exmouth street Methodist church began yesterday. In the morning Rev. Dr. Heartz, president of the Nova Scotia Methodist conference, was the preacher. The afternoon was taken up with special Sunday school services and in the evening Rev. Dr. Stewart of Sackville preached. Dr. Heartz took as his text a part of the eighth verse of the seventeenth chapter of Matthew, "Jesus only." This is contained in the story of the transfiguration, and Dr. Heartz showed the similarity between the church's jubilee and Christ's transfiguration. The ancient Hebrew festival of jubilee was a season of joy over the recovery of freedom or property. This anniversary of Exmouth street church is one of joy over the accomplishment of fifty years of Christian experience and work. The transfiguration was one of God's jubilees, the principal figure of which was "Jesus only," and the centre of this jubilee should be the same as of that upon Mount Hermon. The preacher went on to bring out certain points in connection with his text. Jesus only was the alpha and omega of the universe. He appeared in all natural phenomena and at the end of all things would come to His kingdom and be the actual beginning and end. The best in morals and ethics was represented by "Jesus only." For Christ the goal of endeavor should be to copy as closely as possible the Saviour's character, as artists try to reproduce a masterpiece. For Christ the goal of endeavor should be to copy as closely as possible the Saviour's character, as artists try to reproduce a masterpiece. For Christ the goal of endeavor should be to copy as closely as possible the Saviour's character, as artists try to reproduce a masterpiece.

AFTERNOON SERVICE. In the afternoon a jubilee service was held by the Sabbath school. The leader was W. A. Adams, the present superintendent. The programme was varied, music, conducted by E. Thomas, making up a considerable part of it. Addresses were delivered by James Myler, one of the former superintendents; Dr. Heartz; S. Howard, pastor of the church; R. S. Stevens, H. P. Sandell and William Baxter. To make the pupils take in a more vivid manner the exact meaning of a jubilee, it is the intention of the church to provide for them on Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 an entertainment and supper.

TORONTO MAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Locked Up in Pittsburg for Threatening to Shoot Wife of Retired Millionaire

PITTSBURG, Feb. 3.—Ernest Davis, 18 years of age who says his home is in Toronto, Canada, was locked up in the central police station in Allegheny yesterday, charged with threatening to shoot Mrs. Charles A. Painter, wife of a retired millionaire steel man, at her home in Western avenue, Allegheny, yesterday. Young Davis, who says he is well connected in Canada, met Mrs. Painter as she was leaving his house. He drew a revolver and said he had no money, that he had nothing to eat for some time and was desperate. He demanded that she give him money and food, and said if she refused he would "blow her brains out."

Mrs. Painter expressed sympathy for his distressed condition and invited him to her home. Inside she talked kindly to Davis, asking him to tell her the events leading up to his destination. Following his story she gave him a silver dollar and asked him to take the cartridges from the revolver. He broke open the gun and took out three shells. The remaining three were tightly fastened and Davis was unable to remove them. Mrs. Painter procured a crocheted needle nearby and at her request Davis handed her the revolver. In a short time she extracted the remaining cartridges. She gave Davis another dollar and he left the house.

Mrs. Painter immediately called police headquarters on the telephone and told her story. Early today word was sent to headquarters that a man named Davis had robbed his room mate of a gold watch and a sum of money. Several hours after the robbery Davis was arrested and confessed that he had visited the Painter home. Mrs. Painter said tonight that if the police ascertained that the story told by Davis was true regarding his unfortunate circumstances she would not prosecute him.

GEO. PALMER, SON OF LATE CHAS. PALMER, DROWNED HIMSELF AT COURTENAY BAY YESTERDAY, WHILE TEMPORARILY INSANE

While temporarily insane George Palmer of this city committed suicide yesterday morning by drowning himself in Courtenay Bay. He had been carefully watched all night as his mind had been unbalanced for some days. At eleven o'clock yesterday morning he ran from his room, jumped through the plate glass window of the front door, ran down Queen street to the railway track, crawled through an outlet leading to Courtenay Bay, waded out into deep water and deliberately drowned himself. Up to an early hour this morning his body had not been recovered.

George Palmer was a young man very well known in the city, and had at one time been employed in the customs brokerage office of H. Chipman, owner of the Courtenay Bay flats. This was for over a week he has shown signs of mental aberration, and on Saturday night wandered into the central police station to ask for protection. He talked quite rationally to the officers, but appeared to be rather disheartened. When he gave his address, 94 Queen street, Officer Crawford volunteered to take him home. The young man consented to go home, but during the journey demurred somewhat. The officer had no difficulty, however, in persuading him that his best plan was to go home, and when they arrived at Mrs. Palmer's residence the young man was quite cheerful. Mrs. Palmer desired some one to stay in the house all night in case her son should become worse. Officer Crawford accordingly summoned G. Fred Sanction of the Dominion Savings Bank, who is an uncle of the boy. Mr. Sanction went to the house to spend the night, and the young man gave little trouble. He was very moose, however, and seemed to suffer under a hallucination that everybody was against him. He was greatly discouraged, and he said he was thinking of congenial employment. He informed several people on Saturday night that he had been working at the Queen street, and the night of which he earned eight dollars for that week. His mother, he said, he gave to his father, through the bank, which he carried about his neck, and had thirty-five cents in his pockets. His mother intended consulting Dr. Anglin about him today, as he was getting worse daily for the past week. At eleven o'clock yesterday morning, when Mr. Sanction had relaxed his more contented than he had for some time past, he started for the front door, through the window of which he jumped and made his escape. It was some time before Mr. Sanction was able to gain the street, any when he did so there was no sign of his nephew. Thinking that the boy had run down Queen street Mr. Sanction started in that direction, and in a more vivid manner the exact meaning of a jubilee, it is the intention of the church to provide for them on Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 an entertainment and supper.

Unseen by any person near enough to prevent him, the young man had run in the other direction, and reached the Courtenay Bay flats. This was between eleven and twenty minutes past eleven o'clock. The tide was coming in and he was forced to wade out a considerable distance before he could get beyond his depth. John Henderson, who resides at 140 Mecklenburg street, while going out to the barn to feed his horse, noticed the young fellow in the water, a considerable distance from his house. He called his son, who went to the central police station, to give the alarm. Mr. Henderson says that the man was walking out into the water, waving his arms in the air, when he arrived breast high in the waves he seemed to dive. Mr. Henderson could see his head bobbing up and down several times and then it disappeared. There was no boat in the vicinity, and even had there been there would have been little chance of saving the unfortunate. When the water was very shallow for a long distance from the shore and it would have occupied considerable time in launching a boat. When the word reached the central police station Detective Killen and Officer Scott were detailed to try and recover the body. After the tide had receded from the flats at about five o'clock they organized search parties, which scoured the shore. When darkness came on lanterns were called into requisition. There were many parties searching, and the creek was dragged at low water. The unsuccessful search was not given up until the rise of the tide made it impossible for any further work, until low water. Mrs. Palmer was prostrated by the shock, and a physician was in attendance upon her last evening. The assistance was almost unbearable to the remainder of his relatives, and the unsuccessful attempts at finding the body proved most and to them. Among the searchers the supposition was that the body had drifted up the bay close to the breakwater, had been caught in the creek, or had been carried across to the Croucheville side of the bay. Parties were eagerly sent in all these places last night. About 100 people helping in the work expected that if the body did not drift out to sea it will be found on the shore today at low tide. Two colored boys who saw the occurrence from a distance told very nearly the same story as that stated by Mr. Henderson. They say that the young man swam for some distance and then disappeared. The unfortunate youth was in his twenty-first year and is survived by mother and one brother, Arthur, who is in St. Martin's. His father was late Charles Palmer, formerly a prominent lawyer of this city. His grandfather was the late Judge Palmer.

McGILL GIVES STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST PRESIDENT COCKBURN

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—Charles McGill, ex-manager, gave strong evidence against G. R. R. Cockburn, president of the defunct Ontario bank, Saturday. McGill swore the bank was insolvent when he joined it and that Cockburn knew of it. He said he had bought his own stock to keep the bank from collapsing. "Buy, but we must know about it," he said. All the directors knew there were stock speculators and Cockburn knew that certain portions of the government return to the bank had been signed then. The case continues Monday morning.

WAS FOUND DEAD AFTER DRINKING WOOD ALCOHOL

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Henry Rushlow was found dead in his room at the Arlington Hotel. Death was due to drinking wood alcohol. He was thirty-five years of age and hailed from Oshkosh, Wis., and was attending the ice races as trainer for McRoberts. The contest for the dramatic contest ended Saturday, a great success. The dramatic prize was won by Winnipeg and the musical by Quebec.

AWFUL CONDITIONS IN THE CANADIAN WEST

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 3.—Following the great storm of Thursday and Friday the most severe cold of the winter has settled over the entire west. Fifty-two below zero was registered at several points and in Winnipeg it was 42 at 9 a. m. Railways are in very bad shape, but will make desperate efforts to clear the lines at once. The condition of the railroads is well indicated by the fact that following the storm of a week ago nine engines and three snow plows were stalled on one piece of road between Thornhill and Winkler, Man., a distance of between fifty and seventy-five miles.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY FISHERMEN WILL FORM A UNION

ST. GEORGE, Feb. 2.—The fishermen of Les-vaux, Penfield, St. George and Hocking met in Court's Hall, St. George, today at 1 p. m. Lawyer Belyea of St. John, who represents the five rivers, was present and was appointed chairman. Capt. C. Johnston acted as secretary. The chairman in a brief speech stated that the meeting was called for. The fishermen of Charlotte county, he said, must organize to protect themselves, as it was impossible to build weirs and keep them in repair and sell their fish at four dollars a bushel. Something must be done. Mr. Belyea said that whatever agreement the fishermen came to they must stand faithfully and truly by the fishing industry in proper condition makes you a prosperous community. He was loudly applauded. A number of the fishermen of the county, he said, must organize to protect themselves, as it was impossible to build weirs and keep them in repair and sell their fish at four dollars a bushel. A CUSTOMER'S REASONABLE WISH IS THIS STORE'S PLEASURE

An Interesting Wrapper Happening

We have secured from a large concern the balance of their season's stock of flannelette wrappers at less than half their regular price, and the whole lot will be placed on sale Saturday night at such prices as have never been heard of before. The sale will continue all next week, or as long as the wrappers last. The lot is made up mostly of the better goods, worth ordinarily from $1.50 to $2.50. We have bought these so cheap that every single wrapper in the lot will be on sale at half its original price, and in some cases a little less than half.

AT 75c. The regular $1.50 wrappers, made from a good fast colored flannelette, nicely trimmed.

AT 79c. A wrapper made from a fast colored English wrapperette, nicely trimmed, body lined, founce on skirt.

AT 85c. This wrapper comes in five different styles, and the bulk of the lot is at this price. The regular price runs from $2.00 to $2.25. Neatly trimmed with plain sateen same shade as flannelette in wrapper. Sizes run from 32 to 44. A nice assortment of black and white in this lot.

AT $1.00. A wrapper worth $2.50, very handsomely finished and made from a good quality of English wrapperette. Shirred yoke, and shirred full around yoke. Nice wide founce on skirt. Wrapper extra full.

AT $1.25. A fine quality black sateen wrapper worth $2.50. All sizes.

WORST STORM OF THE WINTER RAGING IN QUEBEC

Maritime Express Today is Cancelled—
Father McAuley Will be Buried in Albert County

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 4.—Rev. Fr. Savage left this morning en route to New Ireland to perform the last rites at the funeral of Rev. Father McAuley, who died so unexpectedly yesterday morning. It is likely that the burial will take place in Albert County where the deceased priest has lived for so many years.

The storm which swept the provinces yesterday was even worse in Quebec where the worst blizzard in years raged, and continues today. The maritime express has been cancelled, being stalled in the snow at St. Fabien.

Weather reports from Quebec tell of terrible storms and intensely cold weather throughout the entire province. Many telegraph and telephone wires have been blown down.

THE LUDLOW WILL BE IN HOSPITAL FOR SOME TIME

Western Extension Has Been Running Without Any Certificate—New Fittings for the Ludlow Not Here Yet.

It was stated at the last meeting of the ferry board that the Ludlow would probably go on the route this morning. However the Western Extension was still busy today and the Ludlow is not likely to be on for some days yet.

The Western Extension was given an extension of her certificate to allow her being on the route. This, however, ran out a few days ago and the Western Extension has been running without any legal right. However, a further extension was made this morning until the 14th of February.

The repairs for the steam steering gear of the Ludlow have not arrived from New York and when this does take place the hand-steering gear will have to be tested, as decided at the last meeting of the ferry board.

H. F. McLEOD MAY BE FREDERICTON'S NEXT MAYOR
He Has Consented to Run and Will Likely Go in by Acclamation.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 4.—For some time past a number of citizens have been urging H. F. McLeod to allow himself to be placed in nomination as a candidate for mayor at the next civic election. It is understood that Mr. McLeod has consented to yield to the request made and the probability is that he will be elected mayor by acclamation.

At the city council meeting tomorrow evening the report of the water committee will be presented. This report will show that the filtration plant has cost the city in the vicinity of $60,000.

NEW PLANS MADE FOR HARBOR EXTENSION

J. A. W. Waring Suggests New Berths Above the Ferry Wharf

J. A. Willis Waring, draughtsman of the C. P. R., placed before Mayor Sears this morning some plans showing suggestions for future wharf extension work on the west side of the harbor. The plans were much admired this morning by those who saw them, both for the work and the suggestions offered. Mr. Waring would make the extensions up the harbor and not down the harbor. The extension for a part of which the contract is soon to be signed, Mr. Waring would make 500 instead of 1000 feet long on the south side, which would have the advantage of cutting less off the harbor space.

COMMON COUNCIL WILL HAVE A BUSY AFTERNOON

Presentation Will be Made to Kelly and Rogers—Several Important Matters to Come Up

The regular monthly meeting of the common council is being held this afternoon. The most interesting feature of the meeting will be the public presentation of twenty-five dollars in gold to J. J. Kelly and J. J. Rodgers in recognition of their bravery.

Ald. Bullock has also promised to give his views on a general pension system at this meeting. The matter is likely to be referred to the treasury board. The question of a grant to the Champlain monument fund will also be discussed. The sub-committee in regard to the old Chipman House met early this afternoon and will report at this meeting. The matter is to authorize the necessary expenditures of a delegation to Ottawa in order that no time may be lost when word arrives from the minister of railways.

FREDERICTON CURLERS TO PLAY THE THISTLES

The Fredericton curlers arrived at noon today and will meet the Thistles in their rink this afternoon and this evening. The two clubs have already had two rinks this year when they met on neutral ground in Montreal. The following will be the skips:

FREDERICTON, Feb. 4.—Six rinks of the Fredericton Curling Club left by this morning's train for St. John on their annual tour. Owing to the prevalence of grip and the inconvenience from a business standpoint for certain ones to get away, the representatives were not as strong as they otherwise would have been.

MR. ROBINSON'S FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Mr. J. M. Robinson took place this afternoon from his late residence, Queen square, at half-past two to Trinity church, of which deceased has been a prominent member. The services were conducted by Coadjutor-Bishop Richardson and the curate, Rev. J. W. Stewart. The funeral was very largely attended. The pall-bearers were W. Malcolm, McKay, James Manchester, W. H. Thorne, Frank P. Starr, J. Gordon Taylor and J. Douglas Hazen.

PROBATE COURT.

In probate court this morning before Judge Trueman citation in the estate of the late Susan A. Ryan was returnable. L. P. D. Tilley appeared for J. Ryan, a son of the deceased and D. Mullin, K. C., for Peter Ryan, the husband of the deceased, and for the other children. On application of Mr. Mullin Peter Ryan was made administrator.

In the estate of John Friel the accounts were passed by George Carvell, executor, amounting to $1,800. D. Mullin, K. C., appeared for the executors.

The case of John Litterer was postponed until the 15th when it will come up before C. M. Skinner, K. C., acting judge of probate.

The case of the late Madame de Bury has been postponed until the 22nd of July.

POLICE COURT.

Five drunks faced the magistrate this morning. Charles Cain, drunk on Richmond street, was fined $5 or 30 days in jail with hard labor.

ASKING FOR LENIENCY IN THE COHEN CASE

Mayor Sears Signs a Petition to the Attorney General of Maine, Prepared by the Prisoner's Friends.

A number of the relatives of Wm. Cohen, who was arrested at Calais, Me., and who was taken to Augusta, charged with attempting to bring undesirable aliens into the United States, called on Mayor Sears this morning and asked his worship to sign a petition to the attorney-general of Maine asking for leniency in the case, and setting forth that Cohen has a family of ten children dependent upon him, and that it would necessarily be a great hardship to them, if Cohen is imprisoned for a term of years. His worship signed the petition.

MOUNT TEMPLE ARRIVED TWO DAYS AHEAD OF TIME

Greatly to the surprise of local C. P. R. officials the company's steamer Mount Temple hove in sight off Paradise Island early this morning and anchored there awaiting the tide. The Mount Temple which is under command of Capt. H. B. Boothby, left Antwerp on January 23rd, and was thus not due here until Wednesday at the earliest and when the arrival of a steamer was reported this morning the officials were not inclined to believe it was the Mount Temple. The vessel has two hundred and two passengers, all steerage, from Antwerp, and has also a very heavy general cargo.

The Donaldson liner Athena with one hundred and ninety-four passengers from Glasgow is expected at any time.

Are You Going to Move? Have You Premises To Let?

If so, THE SUN and STAR will most certainly assist you. They cover St. John and surrounding country like a blanket. For instance: THE STAR has close upon 6,500 nightly readers in the city alone, and there are only about eight thousand families in the whole of St. John. This clearly means that THE STAR goes into very nearly every household. THE SUN, on the other hand, has over 6,800 (Jan. 15th, '07) voluntary patrons in the city and Lower Canada generally, circulating thoroughly.

With such a strong combination for Advertising purposes the benefits to be derived from these sources are very apparent. Therefore, we respectfully submit our mediums to the service of Landlords, Tenants, Boarding Proprietors, and others interested in what are popularly known as "Moving Day" matters.
