

JUNE

CHIGNECTO POST AND BORDERER SACKVILLE N. B., JUNE 1, 1893.

BATHURST FREE SCHOOL.

The Legislature of New Brunswick having appointed His Honor, Judge Fraser, a commissioner to investigate the troubles respecting the free schools at Bathurst, the complaints were filed with him on the 26th. The complaints are: (1) That the Roman Catholic priests have made an arrangement to establish conventual schools.

(2) That teachers were licensed contrary to law. (3) That Roman Catholic priests interfered with the regular school routine.

(4) That their holy days have been observed as holidays. (5) That the report of the school inspector has not been laid before the board of education.

(6) That the grading of the schools was not fairly conducted. (7) That the efficiency of the schools has been lessened.

(8) That the establishing of the conventual schools has increased the cost of maintaining the schools. (9) That the conventual schools were established for the purpose of furthering the interests of the Roman Catholic church and injuring the Protestant.

(10) That regulation No. 10 of the School Manual was illegally changed to enable the trustees to cut down the rights of Protestant pupils. (11) That Protestant teachers have been refused employment because they refused to teach the Roman Catholic Catechism.

(12) That teachers have been engaged on the understanding that they are to impart religious instruction in the interests of the Roman Catholic church, after school hours, thus destroying the non-sectarian character of the schools. (13) That the acts of the Legislature of New Brunswick have been generally disregarded so as to deprive Protestant pupils of rights and privileges guaranteed them by law.

THERE IS STONE IN PLENTY.

Mr. Biggar reports enough for twenty Court Houses in the N. B. provinces. Toronto Telegram of May 23rd states: The City Solicitor has returned from his trip with the Neelon stone commission around the United States and New Brunswick and is looking much improved in health by the change.

When asked about the result of the enquiry Mr. Biggar said: "I am not a judge of stone or an expert in examining quarries, but I saw enough in Sackville, N. B., to convince me that there is plenty of New Brunswick brown stone to be had quite up to the standard of that which Lennox received and passed last year. I believe it is there in quantity sufficient for all the houses in the city. The question is the financial ability of the American company that controls the Wood Point quarry to get out the stone that is there. There is, besides, the Fairfield quarry and others in which precisely similar stone is apparently to be had. The only question in my mind is whether this Yankee firm which owns the Wood Point quarry has financial strength to work it themselves, and whether they have not they would play "they in the market and prevent anybody else from getting hold of it. In attempting to develop their quarry they evidently undertook more than they had money for, or in the graphic language of the South, "they bit off more than they could chew."

Races at Moncton.

The races at the Recreation Park Queen's Birthday were very interesting and attended by nearly 600 people. The track was in excellent condition and good racing was witnessed. The first race called was the 240 class and was won by Daring Dan, owned and driven by W. A. Nesos, Sackville, with Zita Child, red Brown, Amherst, second, and Country Girl, green, John Richardson, Sackville, third. Ledy Wallace, P. Hebert, Memramcook, and Isawood, R. Mitchell, Kingston, were shut out the first heat.

240 CLASS, PURSE $100. Summary at Moncton Driving Park, May 24th, mile heats, best 2 in 3. Daring Dan, ch. g., W. A. Nesos, 1:33.11. Zita Child, g. f., Fred Brown, 2:11.93. Country Girl, g. f., John Richardson, 3:22.22. Isawood, b. m., Robert Mitchell, 4:44.11. Time, 2:40, 2:38, 2:41, 2:45, 2:44.

GUESTS' DRIVING RACE.

This was won by Morris, J. P. Delahunt, Moncton, while Clayton, C. W. Bradley, and Fred, Mr. Patterson, Sackville, came in 2nd and 3rd respectively. Summary at Moncton Driving Park, May 24th, mile heats, best 2 in 3. Morris, M. G., J. P. Delahunt, 3:11. Clayton, C. W. Bradley, 4:12. Fred, Mr. Patterson, Sackville, 5:23. Hercules, b. s., E. P. Whitecomb, Moncton, 4:44. French Lady, m., Angus White, Moncton, 4:45. Ledy Wallace, ch. m., P. Hebert, 5:23. Best time, 2:55.

The judges were P. S. McMeles, Moncton; W. A. Brennan, Summerside; and O. P. King, Sussex. Mr. C. O. Sweeney, of Yarmouth, acted as starter, and Con. John Casey, distance judge.

The W. & A. Co., as we supposed they may soon be called, the Dominion Atlantic Railway Co. have arranged to run a daily steamer from Parrishboro to Kingsport, connecting with the Cornwallis Valley railway and Dominion Atlantic railway to Yarmouth. This will be a great boon for the people of Cumberland county to connect with the fast train from Kentville to Yarmouth, and steamer to Boston—Yarmouth Times.

Closing Exercises at Mt. Allison.

MAY 29TH TO MAY 31st, 1893.

As this is the fiftieth anniversary of the institutions a Jubilee character was given to some of the exercises and an extra day added. For the same reason a larger number of visitors and townspeople than usual was attracted and on every occasion the buildings were crowded. The weather in the main was fine and pleasant.

THURSDAY EVENING.

Although few visitors had then arrived, the piano recital in Beethoven Hall by the graduates in music was well attended. The piano solos by Misses Caldwell and Troy, and the vocal solo by Miss Jennie Fawcett deserve special mention. Miss Florence White recited in a pleasing manner Samuel Lover's "Low-Backed Car" and received a hearty encore. The programme closed with a vocal solo by Miss Jessie Strong.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Exhibitions of light calisthenics were given on Friday, Saturday and Tuesday mornings. No dumb bells, clubs, or other apparatus were used. The exercises consisted of light graceful movements of the arms and body, and terminated in a march to quick music by two, four, eight, and in single file. Miss Landers, the teacher is to be congratulated on the excellent discipline of her class. It occurred to many present, however, that some neat, loose uniform would have added much to the effect of the exhibition and to the comfort of the young ladies themselves. Misses Troy and McEwen supplied music. In the evening a good crowd assembled at the Union Election Contest which was held in Lingley Hall. The representatives of the Sophomore class were Messrs. Rice, Jos. Bailey, Marr, and Henry. The Freshmen were Messrs. Armstrong, Bowen, Warren, Tennant, Peters, Hart, Richards, Kelly and Lamb. The declamations were interspersed with music by students of the Ladies' College. The varied character of the pieces rendered it difficult to judge of their relative merit, but the favor of the audience was perhaps with Messrs. Marr and Rice of the Sophomore and Messrs. Warren and Kelly of the Freshman class. At the close Dr. Brecken explained that the evening's entertainment was only one of three tests to which the competitors were subjected and announced that owing to the lateness of the hour the audience would not be asked to wait for the decision of the judges.

SENIORS' SUPPER.

This feature in the Mt. Allison closing originated only last year, but is likely to become a permanent feature. It gives the other students in honor of the departing class. The jovial spirit of the boys was not restrained by the presence of professors or monitors and for religious purposes. The toasts of the evening were The Queen, the departing class, Mt. Allison, the ladies, and former students.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Those who attended the organ recital in Lingley Hall on Saturday afternoon were well repaid. As many were reserving their energies for the evening's entertainment, the organ was not crowded and the effect of the program was not marred by the discomfort of the audience. The organ solos by Misses Cole and Strong, Gibson, Palmer, McEwen, Troy, Caldwell, Brown, and Mrs. McGrath reflect great credit on Prof. Mack. The program was well varied. Recitations were given by Misses Cole and Read. The pipe organ did not carry off all the honors. Miss Ada Ayres and the pupils, managed in an excellent manner Eichberg's Sonata for three violins. Vocal solos by Miss Maud Hanington and Miss Troy. Mr. Allison's celebrated recital was highly appreciated. At the close the audience hurried away to prepare for the

and conversations of the Alumni and Alumnae Societies in Beethoven Hall. Rather an experiment than other wise the grand reception and Alumni supper were last year merged into one. The new arrangement proved successful and is likely to become permanent. Every one goes to "The Grand" as was shown last Saturday evening when the spacious parlors and halls of the Ladies' College were filled to their utmost capacity. After an hour spent in conversation all repaired to Beethoven Hall to hear addresses by some of Mr. Allison's "sons abroad." The Presidents of the Alumni and Alumnae societies, Mr. Bond and Mrs. Wm. Odgen occupied the platform and gave short addresses. Short speeches were also made by Mr. B. Russell, Q. C., Mr. W. B. Jones, Mr. H. A. Powell and Mr. Harrison, the representative of the graduating class. Vocal solos were given by Miss Mabel Whiston of Halifax and Mrs. Harrison. Mrs. Harrison was as her best and received a hearty encore. At the close of the evening incense was served in the old dining hall.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

In the morning the annual sermon before the theological union was delivered by Rev. Mayhew Fisher of Digby, N. S. The choir was in full force and the singing excellent. Rev. Mr. Jos opened the service by prayer. The text was from Psalm CXXIX, 130 and the subject the office of the Holy Scriptures in education. Mr. Fisher's delivery was pleasing, his discourse thoughtful and interesting. In the afternoon the farewell meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in Memorial Hall. The day was dark and cloudy and occasionally a few drops of rain fell. This did not deter the students from assembling and marching down in procession as usual to the

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Neither did it prevent the church from being crowded to suffocation. In addition to Dr. Sprague who was to deliver the sermon the pulpit was occupied by Drs. Stewart and Allison, Prof. Bond and Mr. Bond. Music was furnished by the college choir assisted by twenty-two violins. The text was from Galatians VI, 14. The discourse was popular and interesting and the congregation would willingly have listened longer. Dr. Stewart closed with prayer.

MONDAY.

The piano recital in Beethoven Hall Monday morning was well attended and well attended. In the afternoon the closing exercises of the Academy and Commercial College were held in Lingley Hall. The essays, recitations and dialogues displayed careful training and good erved applause. This year diplomas were granted to twenty-four graduates of the Commercial College. Under the efficient management of Mr. Harrison and Mr. Young this department is rapidly growing. Miss Oopp of Sackville, the first lady graduate, was especially mentioned by the principal. For commercial work the first prize, $15, was won by A. Gibson, the second, $8, by Charles Prescott of Bellefleur. In the Academy the mathematical scholarship, $25, was awarded to A. Buffet of Newfoundland; the Charles Pickard prize for general proficiency to Percy Butler of St. Andrews; the prize for essays and recitations to B. J. Porter of Yarmouth. Mr. Harrison's report showed that eighty-seven took classes at the Academy, twenty-three of whom were collegians. This year as usual one of the most attractive features of the closing was the Anniversary exercises of the Ladies' College. Lingley Hall was filled to its utmost capacity, even standing room being at a premium. Misses Melish, Morhouse and Smith read interesting essays. Miss Cora Simpson's valedictory was well written and well delivered. The graduates this year in arts number seven, in music twelve. Dr. Borden's report was full and interesting. He congratulated the loss of two of his most efficient teachers, Prof. A. A. Mack, under whose auspices the conservatory has developed, and Miss Oregaber of the art department. Mr. Hammond, who is a member of the Royal Canadian Academy of Artists will remain in charge of the Owen's Art Gallery after its removal to Sackville. He will have two competent assistants. The attendance at the Ladies' College this year has been: Boarders, 118; literary department, 145; musical department 138 and art department 55. Then followed the distribution of prizes, as follows:

Alumnae Mathematical Scholarship, $25; Miss Dorothy Webb. Alumnae Essay Prize, $10, Miss Louise Webb. Alumnae Natural Science Prize, $10, Miss Louise Webb. Highest Average, $20, Miss M. Morrow. Second Highest Average, two prizes $10 each, Miss B. Wotton and Miss Dicks. Miss Creagher has good reason to be proud of her last art exhibition at Mt. Allison. Several prizes were awarded. Best Oil Painting from Nature, $25 and basket of flowers, Miss Nettie Fawcett. Best Drawing from Nature, Miss B. Freeman. Writing Prize, Miss Bertie Curran. Over a dozen prizes for the various subjects of the M. L. A. course were awarded.

Maritime Matters. At Halifax on May 19th one of the largest mortgages ever recorded there was registered. It was given to the New England Trust Company by the Dominion Coal Company on their building areas—mines and wharves, equipment, railway tracks—to secure an issue of debentures by the Dominion Coal Company to the amount of $3,000,000. Captain Whidden has appraised the damages on the ship Mabel Taylor, recently towed to Halifax from St. Thomas, disabled, at about $30,000. The insurance is $21,000. The Dominion Coal Company are negotiating for the purchase of the Mabel Taylor to use her as a coal barge.

AN INCREDIBLE ATTEMPT was made on Monday morning to burn the building on Bridge St. owned by Alex Ford Esq., and occupied by J. W. Dobson as a harness shop. The fire was set in the alley between the lock up and shop and was discovered very shortly after the incendiary left. It was extinguished without doing much damage. There is no clue to the guilty party.

ON Monday night some one put the touch to the old rink. The fire was discovered about midnight and in a very short time the building was consumed. The dressing rooms adjoining were saved. The building was valued more for its associations than its intrinsic worth but the Liverpool & London & G. L. Ins. Co. offer a reward of $100.00 for the discovery of the offender.

Mr. Joshua Downey of Minotite succeeded in capturing a very large bear last week, the skin was 7 feet long, he would weigh about 400 lbs, he caught him on the east side of the River Hebert, back of M. Shipping is quite brisk, a number of vessels are busy carrying lumber and coal.

His reason for the above deviation from the acknowledged meaning of the word when Christian Baptism is under consideration is found in some difficulties that appear to him to be in the way of perceiving the act that the meaning of the word demands. The chief difficulty is in relation to the 3,000, and the 5,000. Others make 'the want of time' for the immersion of so many the difficulty but Dr. Robinson's difficulty is the scarcity of water.

This is to say, Jesus commanded his disciples to be baptized. The inspired record says they were baptized. The meaning of baptism is immersion but they could not have been immersed because of the scarcity of water. For the force of this difficulty, let the reader see Eccl. 2:4-5. 7:3; 22:11; 11 Chron. 32:30. John 3:2, etc. Five of the pools by actual measurement covered an aggregate surface of 1564 feet in length, 781 ft in breadth and in the center a depth varying from 18 ft to 75 ft. (see Robinson, Maundrell, Samson, etc.)

We add Dr. Robinson's definition of 'Baptism, abluo, to (baptizo) pr. any thing dipped or immersed in N. T. baptism Mt. 3:7, etc. Christian baptism is the immersion of the body in water, with which one is overwhelmed Mt. 20:22, 23.

IV. 'Greek English Lexicon of the New Testament Being Grimm's Wilke's Lexicon of the New Testament Translated and Enlarged by Joseph Henry Thayer, D. D. Bussey Professor of Greek in the Divinity School of Harvard University. (New York 1887). This Lexicon is the latest and best authority on the question at issue. In the S. S. Times of June 1st '89, I think, in answer to an inquiry as to 'whose Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament stands highest in the estimation of the best critical scholars?' the answer is—'unquestionably the best Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament is that known as Thayer's Grimm, published by Harper & Bros., New York,' and the following definitions of the verb baptizo and its noun baptism.

BAPTIZO. I. 1. prop. to dip repeatedly, to immerse, submerge. 2. To cleanse by dipping or submerging; to wash, to make clean with water; in the Mid. and the lat. ser. pas, to wash oneself, bathe. Mk. 7:4; Lk. 11:38; II Cor. 6:6.

Such, Mr. Editor, are the definitions of the five lexicons that lie on my table, the fifth in Listall and Scott which has already appeared in your columns. I shall look with interest for the Lexicon that will give 'to sprinkle' as 'the real and primary import' of baptizo, in the main, Mr. Editor, Yours with pleasant recollections.

D. G. MACDONALD. 119 Robt St., Halifax, N. S.

P. S. Since mailing some definitions of lexicons I saw your issue of the 11th inst. containing a strange deliverance from "another Bible student" in which you give "a list of meanings given by lexicons," containing the word 'sprinkled' among the rest. If I understand your offer it is to leave open for the open for the 'real and primary definitions' of 'baptizo' given by the Greek lexicons in the possession of your readers.

Another Dip into the Lexicons. To the Editor CHIGNECTO POST. It was a 'happy thought' that led you to open your columns for definitions from the Greek Lexicons around by your readers as 'to the real and primary import' of the Greek word used by our Lord. His special designation of the ordinance of Christian baptism. After waiting for some time for others to try and solve the question, I have not any other, which trust will stimulate others, and would humbly suggest that all writers come out over their real names.

SCAPULA. I. BAPTIZO—Mergo; see immergo; ut que tingunt ad abluendi gratia aquae immergunt, pluri de super. Ho baptizo, ut in 'specimen subit' de de super, obno aquae. Item pluri de super, Marco 7 & Luc. 11. Nothing less than a complete covering over will satisfy me. In the same way, baptizo, sprinkling is out of the question here. The famous saying from Plutarch—'He plunged himself into the sea, is here used by Scapula as an illustration of the meaning of 'baptizo'.

II. Novum Testamentum Graecum & Latine (Bohn's Colgate Series) Fourth edition, Lexicon of correct Greek London 1872. 'baptizo', f. iso, p. Lebaptika, i. 'baptia' (from Bapto) to dip, immerse or plunge in water, Mid. and pass. oneself, bathe oneself. (Mk. 7:4; Lk. 11:38). 2. To baptize, administer baptism pass, to receive baptism figuratively, to be immersed in suffering or affliction. 3. To baptize, immerse, immersion or washing in water.

III. A Greek and English Lexicon of the New Testament by Edward Robinson D. D., L. L. D., Professor of Biblical Literature in the Union Theological Seminary, New York. A New Edition Revised and in Great Part Rewritten (1860).

BAPTIZO, f. iso, (Bapto) a frequentative in form but apparently not insignificant; 'to dip in, to sink, to immerse, in Greek writer spoken of ships, valleys, etc.'

After giving a number of quotations from the classics he adds—'Also to dip in a vessel, to draw water.' In N. T., i. to wash, to lave, to cleanse by washing, mid. and pass. nor in Mid. sense, 'to wash oneself, to have one's hands or person, to perform abluo Lk. 11:38'

Here Dr. Robinson gives several Scripture refs. in which he says 'an enclitic in Mt. 3:11; Mk. 1:8 and Jno. 1:26 should be translated 'in water' and that the 'Jordanian' is not Mt. 3:12 should be translated 'into the Jordan' and follows with the figurative meaning of 'baptizo' to baptize with calamities, to overwhelm with sufferings.

In a note Dr. Robinson says 'While in Greek writers, as above exhibited from Plato onwards, 'baptizo' is everywhere, 'to sink, to immerse, to overwhelm, either wholly or partially; yet in Hellenistic usage, and especially in reference to the rite of baptism it would seem to have expressed not always simply 'immersion' but the more general idea of 'ablation' or 'affusion'.
