DUST ON RAILROADS, There is no necessity in having any dust in railroad traveling. In all parts of Europe, after a ride by rail the traveler does not need to have his coat brushed, the dust is effectually kept down by simply allowing the grass to grow over the road. In this country men are employed to dig up every or our opinions, it is absolutely out of our blade of grass and every weed that makes its appearance. The consequence is such a cloud of dust as to make railroad traveling a recreation as it is in other parts of the

The monument is about eight feet high, of plain cut freestope, surmounted by a neatly cut mortar-gus, and standing on a letter signed "An Old Soldier," we have an authentic account of what Canada is doing for the purposes of self-defence. If she upon deliberate consideration thinks these measures satisfactory to her, would be a self-defence. FATAL ACCIDENT .- We regret to learn that Wm. McClinehy, (son of Mr. McClinchy, who for so many years has been tax collector for the township of Mone), met with an accident on the 28th inst., which caused his death. It appears that the deceased had been to Tullamore with a load of wheat, and on his return home during the night the waggon, in which he and another person were riding, was upset, thereby causing his death. Mr. McClinchy leaves a wife and family to mourn his untimely cirisis—so inadequate that we are really end .- Orangeville Sun.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the night of Friday last, a man named William Morrison, eastern coast of North America would seem of Selkirk while driving along the road near Mr. J. H. Rogers', Oneida, was killed by being precipitated into a gully, and his waggon falling upon him. The crossing over the gully is quite narrow, with no railing; and requires nice driving at all times to pass over it safely, and the verdiet rendered was as follows: "Moderated death, deceationed by driving" off a greating many and many somewhat on the Frances near this inevitable by an army somewhat on the Frances near the safely and discipline. A few days ago, at Vichy, a little girl who was selling flours, offered the Emperor a carnation, without knowing to whom she spoke. His Majesty took the flower and gave her a napolean, with which she acampered off in great delight. A similar occurrence took place two mornings since when a little boy who was selling journals, meeting the Emperor returning from the bath, offered him Monitories is Sofr, which was accepted and paid for with a napoleon, to the young dealer's unbounded amazement.

Soll as content with mere Militia organization, there was no very urgent reason why Canada should not be coatent too. But the condition of things is altered. In the times that are coming we shall probably find America divided into at least two Confederations; their rivalry and emulation will maintain their armics at a high pitch of efficiency, and it will be fatal for Canada to suffer herself, as it seems only to probable, to be undone in discipline as well as numbers.

DEFENCES OF CANADA.

(From the London Times.) The prospect of an armistice in the Unit ed States naturally draws attention to the condition of the countries which border on the great Federation. In the extreme uncertainty which overshadows the destiny of the American Continent, we ask ourselves whether the result will be to disgust the public mind with that vain appetite for mili-tary glory which has led the nation into such unexampled calamities, or whether they will seek to avenge the discredit of their arms and compensate themselves for their recent losses by the invasion of neighbouring States. The question is momentous for Mexico and for Canada, and we endeavoured to discharge our duty by pointing out the necessity of defence and endeavouring to arouse our own colony to a sense of its danger. The language we have held has been plain and uniform, and yet, though plain, not such as could give season the onence to any community which feels a the name of David Moffat, in the room of respect for itself and activates according to the name of David Moffat, in the room of

We are the more anxious to impress this dreaded martyrdom, instead of a pleasant upon the Canadians because we observe in recent newspaper articles a feeling of irritation against this country, and disposition to accuse England of falling short of her duty. The cheapest plan for covering a track with grass would doubtles be to spread manure over it, and sow hayseed. It would perhaps be well to sow rye also, or some other grain, together with the hayseed. This is the right time of the year for the operation. Which one of the superintendents will win the blessings of the nation by taking the lead in this invaluable reform?

THE QUEEN AN AUTHORESS .- Many of THE QUEEN AN AUTHORESS.—Many of your readers are, no doubt, familiar with the collected speeches and addresses of the Prince Consort, and the touching preface by which they were ushered into the world. Of this volume Mr. Arthur Helps was, at Her Majesty's request, the nominal editor; but at a dinner recently held, he stated the interesting fact that the preface was mainly Her Majesty's own composition, thus adding one more to the scanty list of loyal authors whom Walpole enumerated and that have not increased much since his day. Very little Fall Wheat appears to have been sown last fall, not more than two or three fields having been seen, during the whole tour, and that of an inferior quality. Spring Wheat was generally light, and there will not probably be more than haif an average crop. The quality, however, appeared to be good.

Many fine fields of Oats were seen, particularly those which had escaped the dry weather, by being sown late. There will be very nearly an average crop.

Pease seemed to have suffered very much from the dry weather, and not more than half an average erop can be looked for.

Indian Corn forms but a small proportion of the products in this viainity, but what was seen was good, and a fair average may be counted on.

Of Barley, but few fields were seen, and these of very inferior quality. Indeed this

To the Editor of the C. P. Herald. MR. EDITOR-The Annual Agricultural Exhibition for the North Riding of Lanark was, on Tuesday, the 4th instant, held on the Society's ground at Almonte. The day was fair but the roads deplorable; nevertheless the show opened under favourable austhe test of a most rigorous examination.

The mares and foals for draught and for general purposes, were good. The draws horses brought forward for inspection and for a time to puzzle the Nesbitt, b RE Lyon reneral purposes, were good. The draught udges how to decide the question of superority. As the game drew to a close the most lively interest was manifested by the spectators: The game was decided by one of those nice points which always leaves behind a feeling of doubt as to its justice, except with those who are closely attentive and who at the same time stand close to the wickets. It was a clos run for two, and the ball which was fielded was sent into the wickets, while the batter in the act of running was over his ground, but neither foot nor bat was grounded. To those at a distance it seemed as if the batter was within his ground. He was so in point of fact, but he was not on his ground, which of course made a distinction with a differ pices, and was particularly rich in herds, of course made a distinction with a differ-flocks and fair humanity. The number of stock entries much exceeded that of any former exhibition; while the quality of the lation on the grounds, by the Richmond material constituting this class would stand ladies, who by their well-known kindness had prepared this agreeable surprise.

To the Rditor of the C. P. Herald. SIR-The anniversary services of the Sab bath Schools in Carleton Place and Mr. Mo Reary's neighborhood, was held in the Wes leyan church, Carleton Place, on the after noon of Thursday last. Although the weather was very unfavourable, there was a good attendance of scholars, teachers, parents and friends. The children were exam ined by Mr. Neilson, and evinced a tolerable acquaintance with those portions of Scripture which their attention had been directed The refreshments were then served, and ample justice was done to the tea and other good things which had been prepared in abundance by the ladies. Tea over; Mr. James Wallace was called to the chair, who, declining to give an introductory address owing to the lateness of the hour, introduced Mr. Daniel Cram as the first speaker.

Mr. Cram spoke of a very successful union school which had formerly been held in that place, referring to the fact that some who had been brought to "a saving knowledge of the truth" through the instrumentality of that school had goue, he had reason to be lieve, to the home of glorified spirits, whilst others were filling prominent places in the church of Christ, and closing his interesting but necessarily brief address, by expressing nis conviction that a union school would yet be more successful than the two denomina tional schools which had arisen instead.

The Rev. Mr. Halcroft next occupied the platform, and in a very neat and appropriate speech, pointed out the utility of Sabbath Schools, and the duties of teachers and par

Beside thy path, though none behold, Are angel shapes, the same As is the plains of Mamre old, To righteous Abraham came. They guide thy weak, descending feet,

As deeper grows the vale,
And faster dies the verdure sweet, And falls the fruitage pale.

But glorious, unseen ministers Dwell not with thee slone ; Each promise that thy spirit stire,
As deeply moves my own.
By faith is heard, in calm or storm, A voice o'er all the globe, To-day, as when the Eternal from The whirlwind answered Job :

To show, as in the time of yore, Man's weakness-his decay; And how God reigneth evermore.
Though all else pass away;
How strength and grandeur e'r abide In godliness and truth; Though humbled low be worldly pride, And vanished worldly youth.

To thee shall death come soft as one Who waketh man from dreams; To show, beyond the glorious sun,
Rejuvenating streams,
More precious than the fabled fount,
Once sought in southern shade,
By Mexic vale and Cuban mount,

And sun-bright everglade

WORM CANDY,

Dreadful indeed are the effects of these pernicious vermin on the constitution, destroying the appetite, vitiating the nourishing prizeiples, and their certain consequences are paleness, emaciation, a stoppage of the growth, etc., and often followed by consumption and decline. Even where werms are not discharged, this medicine acts as a gentle and safe domestic physic—clearing the passages of whatever is poxious, introducing a healthy chyle into the constitution.

B. R. The lessee will have the power of making any changes he may think necessary with necessary with the present machinery of the mill.

The short distance from the railway, and the facility by which logs can be brought down the river, afford an excellent opportunity for doing a large business. Apply, (if by letter, post-paid) to
