DISTRESS IN IRELAND. DUBLIN, Jan. 23.-Mr. Wm. O'Brien, M.P., has written a letter to the Freeman's Journal, stating that famine is threatened in the west of Ireland. ARCHBISHOP IRELAND AHEAD. ROME, Jan. 23.-The Vatican has closed the Ireland-McQuaid incident. Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary, of state, has written on behalf of the Pope a letter to Cardinal Gibbons in which he administers a reproof to Bishop McQuaid for his deplorable violation of church discipline in his attack upon Archbishop Ireland. In it he reviews the situation and appeals for funds to enable the Irish members to attend constantly to their parliamentary duties, and conduct in Great Britain the active campaign by which alone the success of the impending measures can be assured. He remarks that the industrial depression in America and Australia excludes hope of much assistance from Irishmen in either continent. LORD CHURCHILL DEAD. LONDON, Jan. 23.-Lord Randolph Churchill's condition this morning was extremely critical. He slept none throughout the night, and early this morning was seized with an attack of womiting. He gradually lapsed into unconsciousness. All of the members of his family were at his bedside expecting the end. At 10 o'clock Lord Randolph had not rallied in any particular. His pulse was extremely weak and the coma was not broken. His relatives denied this evening that his wife was ill. They said she had shown wonderful fortitude and endurance in nursing him, and had not

HEAVY SNOW STORM IN LONDON. LONDON, Jan. 23.-A heavy snowstorm prevailed in London during the night and turned into rain this morning. At 9:20 this morning the sky suddenly became dark, the darkness resembling that of nightfall, and a violent hail storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning, set in. The thunder and hail storm lasted until 10 o'clock, when snow began falling again. The snow fell for about an hour, when the skies cleared and the sun shone brightly. The storm caused a tremendous rising of the Thames. Thousands of acres at Windsor and Eton are flooded, and many other sections are submerged. The violence of the wind uprooted trees and threw down walls. The steeple of St. Stephen's Church, Westminster, was struck by lightning and set on fire. A high northwest wind is blowing over the channel. Tugs sent out from Dover are helping many vessels in distress. The night mail boats are not making their usual trips. THE SPOILS OF WAR. Writing under date of Jan. 8, the United Press correspondent at Tokio

FLOWERS FOR HER GRAVE.

The Monte Cristo Order Which Will Keep a Lucky Florist Busy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 .- That order hich William Waldorf Astor gave a Broadway florist for a cover of lilies of the valley and violets to put over his wife's grave fresh every day for a year, was the largest single order for flowers ever given in New York. It means over $100 worth of flowers for the grave every an electric light pole, and the sidewalk, pole and box were saturated with water day. It means the experienced and laborious forcing of lilies of the valley during the eight months that they do not grow in nature. It means a trip of cover of the box firmly, but the next the florist himself to the country every day, and a man, especially hired by Mr instant was sprawling in the mud entirely dazed. The pole and box were heavily charged with electricity, and Astor, to see that the cover, costly enough each day to make a robe for when he had unthinkingly completed a the bed of a queen, is properly placed. There was something very Monte Cristo-like about the way Mr. Astor dealt with the florist. The day before Williams went home to care for his the funeral he walked into the shop and clothes instead of attending the universaid: "How many orchids can you get on 24 hours' notice?" The florist, not knowing to whom he was talking, and wishing to impress his caller with the vast resources of a Broadway florist, said, indifferently, "Oh, about 5,000." "Very well," said the caller, giving his name. "Get all you can and have them at Trinity in time for the funeral. I want all you can get-twice 5,000, if it s possible The florist bestirred himself, bought every orchid he could hear of, but was only able to get 3,800. This made a bill for $3,800 for orchids alone. Mr. Astor was so pleased that he gave the $38,000 order for the daily cover. His instructions were that this cover should be removed every day, no matter what its condition was, and that all the flowers in it should be destroyed. It takes about 4,000 lilies to make the cover and about the same number of violets. On the upper end of the cover, into the warp of the lilies is woven a cross of violets, and from the front of the cover hangs a cross of violets. On each side are five points, from which hang tassels of violets suspended by bows of satin ribbon.

Mr. James Fleming, inspector of legal offices, presented a report on the library of the Middlesex Law Association. It was in a most flourishing condition, and the officers and members of the profession were showing a deep interest in its welfare. As to the location of the library, Mr. Fleming thought it was very inconvenient. The room could be more suitably used by the grand jury and the library transferred to the room on the second floor of the court house now used by the grand jury. This was the only room which could really be used with advantage as a library.

The discussion following the report was along the same lines as had been heard in the council hall before. The report was referred back to the special committee, in which Reeve Macdonald (London West) will act in place of ex-Deputy Reeve Scarrow.

ON VARIOUS MATTERS. A report on various matters referred to them by last year's council was presented by ex-Warden Calvert and Jas. Gilmour. In respect to the sinking funds it was thought advisable that some well considered and uniform method of raising the fund should now be formulated, in view of the inevitable accumulation. lation under existing laws. The council, with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governer, was fully anthorized to invest sums outstanding to the credit of the sinking funds of the corporation by the purchese of the sold or unsold debentures of the county. It was there-upon recommended that the council avail itself of such authority, and that steps be taken by the treasurer to se cure the Lieutenant-Governor's approval in that direction, and that a bylaw be passed to regulate the manner in which such investments shall be made. There were now standing to the credit of the ridings under the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act some $8,605 57, as well as $7,299 90 from the sum levied re the addition to the county jail. Twenty thousand dollars taken from the debenture account in 1875 and 1876 to supply a deficiency in the levies for current expenses had not been replaced. It was further recommended that $16,000 be appropriated from the funds provided for current expenses and be applied to redeem a similar amount of debentures which mature on the last day of this This would clos ween the portions of the county which s not and that which is liable for the consolidated debt. It was also urged that London West be charged $316 as full payment on its county rate interest up to Feb. 14, 1895. The report was sent to the financiers, and the council adjourned till 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

WELCOMING THE GENERAL

Arrival of the S. A. Commander at Orillia.

Hundreds Turn Out in a Blinding Snov Storm at Midnight to Welcome the Popular Leader.

ORILLIA, Jan. 23.-It was 11:30 o'clock last evening when Gen. Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, reached Orillia. The Atlantic Express was nine and ahalf hours late, but regardless of the late hour and a blinding snow storm upwards of 500 people assembled at the depot to await the arrival of the distinguished visitor. At the station, in addition to members of the local corps' staff officers, Brigadier De Barret and the Provincial Brass Band, there were dozens of hallelujah lasses and soldiers from many adjacent towns and a considerable number of the townspeople. When the general stepped from the train the band played, and the crowd went wild with delight. Amid loud shouts he walked across the platform to a cab that was in waiting, and drove to the residence of Mr. A. Tait whose guest he was during his stay in Gen. Booth was accompanied by Col. Lawley, the general's secretary Major Malan, Commandant Booth, Staff Captain Jewer, Ensign McMillan, and

apt. Taylor, War Cry correspondent. There was keen disappointment when t was known that Gen. Booth could not reach Orillia in time for the meeting arranged for him in the Presbyterian Church, but notwithstanding this the large chnrch was packed to the doors. Rev. Dr. J. K. Smith, of Port Hope, occupied the chair, and addresses were delivered by Revs. Dr. Grant, Brigadier De Barret and others. The army offi cials made a great mistake in holding this afternoon's meeting in the bar-racks. The building would not accommodate more than one half who desired admittance, and no accommodation was provided for representatives of the press. The doors were locked at 2:30, and remained closed until the visitors left on the afternoon train south.

AT BARRIE. BARRIE, Jan. 23.-Notwithstanding heavy snowstorm a large number of eople gathered at the Grand Trunk Railway station at 5 o'clock in the afternoon to meet the incoming train from Orillia bearing the distinguished general of the Salvation Army, Gen Booth. The warden of the county of Simcoe and a number of the county councillors and the mayor of Barrie, attended by a number of town councillors, presented he general with an address of welcome The local Salvation Army attended the stations with their extensive band, and the warmth of the welcome re-sounded in vociferous cheers on the part of the whole gathering present During his visit here the general is the guest of Mr. D. D. McLeod. The general addresssed an enormous audience this evening.

BIG LIBERAL GAINS

At the Dominion Voters' List Court of Revision.

A Falling Off in Attendance-The Court

Will Last Until Next Week.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The Liberals made splendid gains during the afternoon, as the list below will show. Severa! interesting incidents cropped up as the revision proceeded, the most amusing of which was the following: The Liberals objected to Mr. Frederick Porter, and Mr. Porter proved to be the funniest witness that has taken the stand so far during the proceedings. He never expected replies. The fun started when Mr. Elliot asked Porter if he was not a storekeeper. He said he had been. "Where are your goods?" asked Mr.

Elliott. "Somebody else has got them now. (Laughter.) "What do you do?" next asked Mr. Elliot.

"Nothing," replied the witness. "How long have you been doing that?" "About eleven years." (Laughter.) "Are you a boarder?" "Yes; and a very peer one at that," (Laughter.) "Do you cook your own meals?" "Yes; quite otten." (Laughter.) "Do you rent the place?" "No; I live with my son. My wife is dead. She was the boss. She ran the place." (Laughter.) "Have you made $300 during the last year ?"

"No; nor yet 300 cents." (Laughter.) Mr. Elliot nearly fainted. "But I own some property," put in th

Like a drowning man in sight of a straw

Mr. Elliot revived. "You do?" he asked.

"Yes. Do you want it? (Laughter.) I own two houses and a lot." "Where?' asked Mr. Elliot. "Over Clarke's bridge. I did not bring them with me." (Laughter.)

"How much rent do you get? "I get $60 if the man don't run away and jew me out of it, like the last fellow did. (Laughter.) Mr. Porter will not vote.

A TORY TRICK. The Conservatives sought to add J. E. Johnston and T. F. D. Johnston. The firstnamed lives in St. Thomas and the lastnamed in Windsor. The young men were assessed on their father's property in this city, but John would not take the oath at the recent municipal election. Mr. Me-

Killop referred to this matter.
"Oh, well," replied Johnston, "if he had been a client of yours he would have taken the oath." Mr. McKillop took decided objection to the remarks, and the judge rebuked the witness. Mr. McKillop scored the man soundly, and Mr. Toothe objected. "I don't blame the lawyer one particle," said the judge. "If a witness chooses to use insulting language to a lawyer he deserves all he gets. Johnston said that he always intended giving the property to his sons and produced a deed, dated January 4, 1895, which had never been registered, to show that the son John E. was an owner. He denied that the deed was drawn for the purpose of giving his son a vote, and admitted that his son had not been in London since the deed was drawn and was not aware of it. Mr. McKillop referred to the deed as 'patched up," and the judge said that it was not sufficient to put the man on. WILL NOT VOTE. During the afternoon the judge gave decisions on the cases of Williams and Keenleyside, which he had reserved earlier in the day. David Williams was a man who wanted to vote because he left his clothes at Johnnie Walker's house (brick yards) while he worked in the township felling trees. He will not vote. Mr. C. B. Keenleyside also will not vote. As he wished to qualify on income it Mary Dunlap, reside at Kincardine, Ont. would be necessary, the judge said, to live in the city for a year previous to the application. Mr. Keenleyside spent part of the year at Yale University. This would have been all right had Mr. Keenleyside wished to qualify as owner's son. But he admitted having supported himself while at college. RESULTS. Conservative objections dismissed-Thos.

Thursday Morning. This morning's session of the court of revision was a continuation of the splendid Liberal gains of yesterday as the result as given below will show. Now that the assizes are over the court is being held in the main court room and the proceedings are much more comfertable. The morning was very stormy and the number in court was not nearly so large as on former days. The proceedings were of necessity very quiet; there were no rushes, and at times the wheels of the court almost ceased to grind. The arguments were of the ordinary kind and the court adjourned sooner than usual because the supply of voters and would-be voters had apparently become exhausted. The judge remarked that he would take up the matter of repeaters on both sides directly after lunch. In the course of the usual inquisition into the private affairs of Mr. Peter Taff it came out that Mr. Taff's house had only been assessed for $250. Mr. Hume Elliot expressed some surprise at the lowness of the amount, but Mr. Taff told him that his place had been brick veneered last August.

pompous manner, "we will have to see that it is assessed higher this year." And those present smiled. It is likely the court will sit all this week and part of next, as there are nearly 1,000 cases to deal with. RESULTS. Conservative objections dismissed-P. B. Owens, John Harding, John Fried, Chas.

In the office of George Ertel & Co., in that portion of the Masonic Temple facing the Market Square, a very peculiar sight was seen vesterday-one not very often viewed in cities. It was nothing more or less than nearly 100 little chicks in an incubator while the heads of several others were peering from the shells. A coal oil lamp supplies the heat usually generated by hen power, and the lamp is the most reliable. The hen is done away with altogether and the young chicks, after being artifically hatched, are cared for in another machine called a "brooder." The Victor incubator and brooder is now manufactured here by Mr. Ertel. The company was established in 1867 in Quincy, Ill., and the machines are so perfect that 100 per

The Charges Against Lawyer Brown Disproved and an Alibi Established-Arrests to Follow.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 23 .- In the trial here this morning against Lawyer Brown, of Norwich, charged with tampering with crown witnesses in the late Hartley murder trial, the crown counsel announced that an alibi had been clearly made out, and Magistrate Field, without any comment, dismissed the case.

Lawyer Brown immediately appeared before the police magistrate and asked for the arrest of Louis Henry Ling and George Ling on a charge of perjury, and of Detective Rogers, Sylvester Robbins and J. J. Bannon, of Norwich, for alleged perjury and conspiracy. As yet these requests have not been acted upon, and it is understood Mr. Brown does not care to press any charges himself, but asks the police magistrate to do so. On being discharged Mr. Brown was congratulated by his many friends on the result of the case.

NEWCOMB MILLS, Jan. 24 .- Chester Loomis, of this place, is willing to pay $100 for what can now be bought for fifty cents, in case the price rose to that high figure. Mr. Loomis says Dodd's Kidney Pilis are worth that to him or any man afflicted with kidney disease. He ought to know, too, for he had kidney disease so bad for some years that he could do no work and could not ride in a buggy because of the pain it gave him to do so. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him, and he is willing to make affidavit to this fact it his plain statement is not sufficient.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH. - Gentlemen,-My medical adviser and others told me that I could not possibly live when I commenced the use of Northrup & Lyman's VEGE-TABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat, and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for three months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cared me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to contribute this testimony, and trust it may be the means of convincing thers of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. ### THE HUMANE SOCIETY

Have Been Looking After the Street Car Horses.

Mr. Break Doing His Best to Make Their Hard Work Easier—How Citizens Thoughtlessly Impose Unnecessary Strain Upon the Animals.

The numerous complaints made by the public of the terrible condition of the London Street Car Company's horses was the chief topic of discussion yesterday at the monthly board meet-ing of the Humane Society. The Very Rev. Dean Innes was in the chair. Inspector Sanders' report fully satisfied the members present that the society was doing all in its power to aid the company in relieving the horses from unnecessary suffering, and that the inspector had given much time and thought to the subject, but nevertheless there undoubtedly was suffering, which under the present condition of the road seemed unavoidable. The city engineer had kindly allowed sand to be put upon the track to obviate as much as possible the constant slipping of the animals.

The large cobble stones in the road and the question of proper shoeing was much discussed, but in view of the anticipated change to the electric system and the present season of the year no further action could be taken at present more than to ease as much as possible the poor horses, and to facilitate this no is more anxious than Mr. Break, who is willing to do all in his power to lighten their burdens, and has consented to lengthen the time for each trip six minutes, which will be equal to placing eight more horses on the road.

Mr. Sanders had spent three days lately at the stables, and reported that though to an inexperienced eye horses seem to be sent out unfit for work, yet no horse is allowed out without the veterinary surgeon's sanction. One horse in particular with a sore leg, which has been the cause of several complaints, is on the road by the advice of the surgeon, who has ordered it to be exercised

It has also been ascertained that sometimes the loudest complaints against the London Street Car Company are made by thoughtless citizens, who forget that in stopping the car, perhaps a few yards from a previous halt, or a short distance from the usual stopping place, or going up grade, they are inflicting needless toil upon the poor animals, as there is always an extra strain in starting the cars. The society beg to remind the public that they have the remedy for this constant grievance in their own hands, and they alone are responsible for this act of cruelty. From the whole tenor of yesterday's proceedings it was fully demonstrated that the inspector is doing all in his power to carry out the aims and objects of the society, and to further in every way the wishes of the president and the board of directors.

A SURVEYOR'S LIFE.

One of Hardship and Frequent Great Exposure.

of the Troubles That Beset Men of His

The life of a land surveyor, while in many respects a fascinating one, is one also of frequent trial and great hardship. This is especially the case with Government surveyors, who are sent into sparsely settled districts, opening colonization roads, and performing like duties in all kinds of weather. Mr. John J. Robertson, government surveyor at Arichat, N. S., says: "In following my profession I have been exposed frequently to the most disagreeable kinds of weather, with wet clothing, wet feet and general discomfort. Some five years ago this culminated in a severe case of rheumatism, which, beginning in my feet and legs, worked up into my body. I also suf-fered much from cold feet, which was accompanied by such a profuse perspiration that I was frequently obliged to change my socks several times a day. The pains accompanying the rheumatism were at times almost unbearable, and it is needless to say that I tried many preparations alleged to be a cure for this trouble, but without finding beneficial results. By chance a pamphlet describing the cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills came into my possession and decided me to give this medicine a trial. I think I took in all nearly a dozen boxes, and I must say that judged by results they are one of the most remarkable medicines known. My rheumatism has entirely disappeared, and although I have since frequently been exposed to bad weather, I have never felt better in my life, and t is now upward of a year since I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which shows that they have effectually reached the root of the disease and driven it from my system. I cheerfully give my experience with this great medicine in the hope that it may prove valuable to

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier on the Pending

Dominion Elections. Gentlemen, when will the time of battle come? That I do not know. I am not in the secrets of the false gods that sit at Ottawa-(laughter)-but as you know, it is said in Scripture that death will come like a thief in the night, and the Government at Ottawa represents death in more senses than one. (Laughter.) It has already come like a thief, it may come again. (Laughand ter.) I grant you, gentlemen, that the Government has the constitutional pow-er to apply to his Excellency the Governor-General for a dissolution, but they have not the power to do that from mere caprice. They have that power when they show adequate cause. sir, it is not for cause adequate that the Conservative party of late years have ever asked for a dissolution. They obtained the dissolution of 1891 on a falsehood, but with that falsehood they snatched a verdict from the people of Canada. I say this because I think it is an outrage upon our free Parliamentary institutions that the people today should be left in the dark, as they are, as to whether there is to be a dissolution of Parliament or not. Let it be known or not whether there is to be a dissolution. I care not. (Cheers.) Whenever it comes we shall be ready for the fray. (Loud cheers.) We shall fight a fair battle and we shall win. (Cheers.) Understand me, I do not wish to be guilty of such a low thing as boasting. There is nothing so uncertain, as Sir John Macdonald used to say, as an election, a horse race and a cock fight. (Laughter.) But all the signs of today are that the people of Canada are determined to have a change at Ottawa. (Cheers.)-Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at Montreal.

London's Hockey Team Do Up the Toronto Boys

In a Clean and Closely Contested Match.

London Curlers Play a Draw With Detroit-Pugilism on the Decline.

HOCKEY.

The Varsity Hockey Club came to London yesterday to teach the Londoners how hockey is played in the east. After the game it was rumored that they would go back and teach their Toronto brethren how bockey is played in the west-and especially in London. They came fresh from a victory in Stratford, where they won with the score 8 to 3. Stratford is the team that defeated London last week, and the fact that 'Varsity beat that team caused the London boys to regard them as very formidable opponents. The score last night was 6 to 4 in favor of London. But for unfortunate off-side plays two more goals would have been counted for London, and if the puck had not glanced of a Londoner's skate 'Varsity would have secured one less goal than they did. The crowd was fairly large considering the short notice of the game. It was most enthusiastic over the good showing of the home team, and cheered lustily every play. Sheppard, 'Varsity's captain, was the most dangerous man the Londoners had to contend with. Whenever he got the puck he rushed it from one end of the rink to the other, and on two occasions sent it through London's goal posts, despite Becher's almost faultless defense. Poussett is also a vigorous player, and in his anxiety to win he came in contact with somebody's stick. He received a nasty cut over the eye, and the game was de-layed fifteen minutes while a doctor attended to his wounds. Just before the game was finished Barr of the 'Varsities twisted his ankle and was carried off the ice. He was evidently not feeling well all evening, and did not exert himself very much. The game finished without him, 'Varsity playing with six men. It was Lind's first game of the season, and he placed three goals to his credit. He scored four, but through no fault of his own, one did not count. Then Skey played a rattling game, but he was over anxious and played off side on a couple of important occasions. He also secured a goal which did not count because somebody else played off. Beltz scored two goals and played a magnificent game. He has apparently entirely recovered from the timidity that appeared to trouble him on former occasions. Sippi takes more chances to get hurt than anyone else in the team, and generally lands right side up with care. He does not play roughly, but he has an entire disregard for the anatomy of anyone who gets in his way. Brown's lift shots went a long way towards winning the game, by night. In weight and speed the clubs were very evenly divided. SUMMARY. Position. Goal 'Varsity. London. Point Cover point Brown Skey Lind Beltz Sheppard Forwards Allen Poussett Sippi J Referee—Alex. Furness.

First half-Sheppard, 'Varsity's captain, made the first goal after five minutes' play. Then Lind tied the score and the crowd cheered. In another minute he had scored again, but Skey had played off side and it did not count. 'Varsity made the next goal by a glance off a London players' skate. Varsity scored again at nine minutes to 9. and things looked blue for London. They only looked blue for about a minute, when Lind scored again. After ten minutes sharp play Skey scored, and half time was called. Score, 3 to 3. Second half-Beltz scored twice for Londen in the first five minutes, and the crowd became jubilant. Then Skey scored, but someone had blazed off and spoiled the goal. Barr scored once again for Varsity at 9:37. Then there were a couple of delays owing to 'Varsity player's injuries. When play was resumed, Lind, by a magnificent individual play, scored once more. The whistle blew for time with the puck close to 'Varsity's goal. Score: London 6, 'Varsity 4. ATHLETICS.

PUGILISM ON THE WANE. New York, Jan. 23 .- Prize fighting and boxing contests between professional fighters are on the wane and are likely to b: wholly suppressed in the near future, say some sports. The managers of athletic clubs are not to blame, as the average professional boxer is bereft of every principle of decency and honesty. A widely advertised boxing contest between Jack Dempsey and Thomas Ryan took place on Friday night. Dempsey was for years a public favorite with the elements that admire that class of sport, while Ryan is a well-known Chicago boxer. Dempsey was wholly unfit for violent exercise and should not have been permitted to enter the ring. He and his managers insisted that he was all right and would not listen to forfeiting the fight to Rvan. The crowd, who paid as much for seats as it costs to attend the grand opera at the Metropolitan Opera House, were compelled to witness a tottering wreck of a once skillful boxer go through three farcical rounds for their money. Ryan was ex-tremely careful not to hit Dempsey, as he felt that a severe blow, in all probability, would cause a repetition of the Fitzsimmone-Riordan affair at Syracuse.

Boxers who meet each other at the entertainments given by the leading athletic clubs are unable to earn $3 a week at any legitimate occupation. Although they are liberally remunerated for each bout in which they take part, they seldem train for them, and go into the ring wholly unfit for even a moderate contest.

The disgraceful fiasco caused by Dempsey's miserable showing on Friday night is likely to prove a serious blow to boxing contests. Dempsey, like John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell, lived too rapidly when he was a "leading exponent" of the so-called manly art, with the inevitable re-sult that youth, that had not been undermined by excesses, gained easy victories over a victim of past "greatness." A GREAT DAY AT DETROIT. Sixteen members of the London Curling Club went to Detroit yesterday, and were hospitably entertained by the curlers of the City of the Straits. Three of the London rinks defeated three of the Detroit rinks, but the score of the four rinks taken collectively was a tie. The Londoners returned home last night, speaking well of their treatment in Detroit. The rinks and scores follow:

QUERIES ANSWERED.

Fair Play.-A husband was married eighteen years before his death, last July. His wife helped to pay for the farm. They had no children. He made his will, leaving all the property to his people, she to get the rent of the farm as long as she lives or stays single. If she marries she doesn't get anything more. Ans.-Upon the facts stated the will is valid and cannot be set aside. The widow might, however, claim dower in the real property if she marries again, as her right thereto is independent of the will.

Constant Reader.-How much personal property assesment does a person require to have in order to be entitled to vote in municipal elections? How much assessment as tenant, and how much as freeholder? Ans.-A personal property assessment does not qualify a voter. An income assessment of $400 will qualify. The real property qualifications as a municipal voter requires an assesment—as freeholder or tenant of $400 in cities, $300 in towns having a population of 3,000 and over, $200 in towns having less, and $100 in townships and villages.

-If high taxes supply work and wages, why is the policy powerless the moment there is the slightest depression in trade?

-Hawaii disturbers have two Canadians among them. They favor the ex-Queen, and do not like the republic. But the republican form of government seems to be a fixture.

-How easy it would be for the men in power at Ostawa to set at rest their troubled followers by either calling Partiament together or dissolving the House. The new Premier stands shivering on the brink. No wonder he suffers from cold.

-It is highly commendable on the part of the Trades and Labor Council, the Woman's Council and other civic organizations to be thinking up means whereby the unemployed may be aided. The best aid that can be given tojan able-bodied man is to find him work.

-It is to be regretted that the crop failure of last year has brought a condition of affairs in the west of Ireland akin to famine. In the best of times the district does not afford much scope for making a living, and when the crops fail, and the absentee lords have to be paid, there is always distress. The great heart of the British people will no doubt respond to the appeals for help.

-Toronto Junction, according to the Toronto News, is a striking object lesson tary, and at times after-events sadly on the evils of bonusing. "That town cheapen their importance to the possessors, tried to grow rich by aiding everything in sight and the result is that today the revenue is insufficient, after provision is made for the debt charges incurred, to meet the most ordinary expenses of civic government." It pays to proceed on sound business principles in public as well as in private affairs.

-It is said that Mr. Goldwin Smith has reconsidered his decision not to speak at the Press Association banquet on the toast of "Canada," as originally requested. The attacks upon Mr. Smith and upon the officers of the association have been uncalled for, and it would be a good thing for Mr. Smith to accede to the request addressed to him if for no other reason than to vindicate the British principle of freedom of speech.

-Hon. Wilfrid Laurier's exposition of the Liberal policy at Montreal was a clear and courageous statement of the issues which separate the two political parties. But we suppose the fact that he has once more emphasized his adherence to a Canadian policy on British lines will be ignored by his determined-to-be-dissatisfied newspaper opponents. He could not satisfy them. But they are not the masses; they represent the views of the monopoly holders and the monopoly seekers, the office holders and the office seekers.

-They were accustomed to look upon Lord Randolph Churchill as the rising star of the Conservative party-the one man who could combat the progressive Liberals and their democratic policy, whose star would shine brightly as that of Gladstone waned. Lord Randolph died in his summer day, while the Grand Old Man of the Liberal party, who has renewed his youth through a temporary retirement from active politics and devotion to book writing, expresses his desire to return to Parliament next session, and aid in passing several of the measures for the amelioration of the condition of his fellow-countrymen. Such are the uncertainties of life.

-The feeling in favor of Christian union grows. Recently the Presbyterian churches of Australia and Tasmania formed a federmoderator. It has no legislative or executive powers, so that the meetings were in the nature of a conference. There was a report in regard to missions, and a large advance in their support was urged. But the chief business was the consideration of churches of the six colonies of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia, Western Australia and Tasmania. The Australian Presbyterians will doubtless profit by the experience of their brethren in Canada. Union has been of infinite benefit in this country both to the Presbyterians and to the Methodists.

THE British Premier, Lord Rosebery, has formally handed over to the town council of South Queensbury, a new public hall and library which he had built as a permanent memorial of his late wife. The proceedings which were of the briefest descriptions were conducted in private, Lord Rosebery making touching allusion to "the darkest shadow over his life."

SHEARS AND CORONETS.

Lord Rosebery has made a baronet of one master tailor and a knight of another and a candid British contemporary thus moralizes upon the subject; "Lord Rosebery enjoys the distinction of having been the first Prime Minister of Great Britain to recommend his sovereign to confer nobiliary titles upon tailors. Mr. John Barran, who has just received a baronetcy-that is to say, an hereditary distinction-has achieved large fortunes in the clothing business at Leeds, while Mr. Israel Heart, who was knighted on New Year's day, and who consequently must henceforth be addressed as Sir Israel, is one of the cheap, hand-me-down clothes dealers and tailors of Leicester. Tailoring is a very respectable and lucrative profession. There are many honorable and estimable citizens who earn their living by that calling. It is scarcely, however, a profession in keeping with the somewhat medieval notions of chivalry, knighthood and nobility. "Lord Beaconsfield, who was wont to profess the most profound contempt for the order of baronets and for the dignity of knighthood, and who did not hesitate to distribute them with a lavish hand to every one who cared to pay for them in the shape of contributions to the Tory election funds never went so far as this. But Lord Rosebery seems determined at all cost to democratize the aristocracy, and his procuring baronetcies and knighthoods for retail tailors is quite in keeping with his recent appointment of a retail grocer and a retail cattle dealer to the proud position of lord lieutenant of an Irish county, positions that have until now invariably been held by peers of ancient lineage and high degree. Lord Rosebery has merely the intention of keeping abreast of the times; for, on the one hand, there is quite a large number of the nobility actively engaged in retail trade (including Lord Rosebery himself), while on the other, there are several titled ladies, such as the Countess of Dudley, Lady Trowbridge, Lady Beaumont, etc., who have commenced life as shopgirls. Surely in these days it is no worse for a retail hatter to become a member of the mate with the two families that the union British nobility than it is for a peer to become a shopkeeper." There is much good sense in these strictures. For ourselves, if the medieval system of rewarding faithful party service, or of acknowledging distinctions honorably attained, are to be continued, we cannot see why a successful tailor, operating either in Great Britain or in Canada, should be passed over when the distribution of name handles by the British Prime Ministers of the day are in progress. But if tailors, why not men following any other honorable handicraft? Why not have the best farmer in every county made a "Sir?" Why not have the most successful shoemaker, tinsmith, carpenter, in every center of population knighted? There is one merit in the system of conferring knighthcods upon party friends that is not to be found in the making of lords and of baronets. In the last named instances the titles are herediif they do not prove a disadvantage to them. It is said that there are several hundred counts of continental origin driving street car or other conveyances in the cities of the United States. We in Canada had, until recently, a clerk occupying a subordinate position in a Government office at Toronto who was a baronet, and entitled to be addressed as "Sir James" whensoever he was requested to go a message or copy a sheet of foolscap. We have one or two of these hereditary titles in Canada yet, though everyone must admit that they are out of place in a democratic country like this, and by-and-bye one will fall to a Tupper. Who knows, in the evolution of time and events, how great a nuisance this hereditary title may be to its possessor in the Tupper line of succession? Some of us may live to see a "Sir Charles' carrying a hod for a Winnipeg contractor! That is an honorable occupation, yet it would seem somewhat ridioulous to hear the demand come from aloft to the hereditary title holder, "More bricks up here, Sir Charles, and be quick about it!" To the proud first possessor of a hereditary title this outlook may not be very attractive, but we all know that it is

CHURCHILL. By the death of Lord Randolph Churchill, at an early hour this morning, a unique figure is removed from British ation, the Federal Assembly, meeting in public life. Lord Randolph, who was the Melbourne, with Dr. Cosh, of Sydney, as third son of the Duke of Marlborough, entered the British Parliament as member for Woodstock in 1874, at a very early age. He was only 46 years of age at the time of his death. For a number of years he was a modest, unassuming member, rarely a project for the organic union of the taking part in debate and seldom giving evidence of more than ordinary ability. A marked change came over him after the death of Lord Beaconsfield. He suddenly developed qualities of audacity and eccentricity, along with fecundity of phrase and vigor of ideas, which lifted him to the front rank of Conservative politicians, and led to the belief that the mantle of Disraeli had fallen upon him. He served as Secretary for India several months, and was subsequently made Chancellor of the Exchequer by Lord Salisbury. This rapid advancement unsettled the young statesman. He was recognized as the leader of the "fourth party," which consisted of Bartlett, Gorst, Wolf, and himself. His resignation of the sensation, but it fell short of the result predicted by his friends, inasmuch as it did not shatter the Ministry and give Lord Randolph the coveted place of Premier of the British Empire. His speech in explanation of this step was a masterpiece of rhetoric, and saved his reputation from the charge of sheer and irascible shiftlesaness. He posed as the apostle of economy, and said he disagreed with his colleagues on the policy of needless interference in the affairs of other nations. This declaration came at a time when the foreign relations of England were palpaby strained, and enhanced Lord Randolph's popularity with the working classes.

Another peculiarity Lord Randolph revealed in his earlier struggles for fame was not so readily condoned. He took delight in nagging Gladstone, the Grand Old Man of the Liberal party. Some of his attacks were noted for their violence, but the venerable statesman invariably treated his hot-headed assailant with dignified silence. In 1891 Lord Randolph made a tour of Mashonaland as the agent of syndicate of capitalists desirous of dev. 1 p ing its resources. It was said that his mission was cunningly devised to keep him out of the political conficts then arising over the delicate juncture of English

Much of Lord Randolph's activity in politics is attributed to the ambition of his wife, who is a daughter of Leonard Jerome. of New York. Lord Randolph and Miss Jerome met at one of Delmonico's balls, while he was making an American tour. The society columns of Gotham's news papers at that time gave it out that Miss Jerome was attired on that particular evening in a white tulie and silk gown, with rosebuds. She wore a single pink rose in her hair. In some way the simple ornament became unfastened and fell to the floor. By chance Lord Randelph Churchill was standing near, picked it up, and thus gained an introduction. The engagement was soon afterward announced. and the wedding took place in Grace Church and was the event of the season.

It was generally conceded by those intiwas a genuine love match. Others, however, have asserted that it was not entirely devoid of all elements of a commercial arrangement. Lord Churchill was much in love with Miss Jerome, but still retained an abundant regard for himself. When it came to a question of marriage he, it is said, told Miss Jerome frankly that unless her family was in a position to do something for their joint establishment he could not, in justice to himself, and in view of the ambitious career which he had mapped out, take on the responsibilities necessarily attendant upon a union. The matter was referred to the young woman's father. At one time Leonard Jerome's fortune had been such that he could have made a very handsome settlement on his daughter, but for several years previous to Lord Churchill's visit to New York his career on Wall street had not been attended with success, and he impoverished himself to raise the dower for his daughter.

For a number of years Lord Randolph fought against the inroads of an insidious disease that wrecked him physically and mentally, but the struggle was in vain. Thus there passes away the first Churchill of individual quality and national importance since his famous ancestor the Duke of Marlborough died.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. H. Mathewson, traced the work of the council since its inception on Jan. 16, 1894, and its final organization at the great meeting in the Opera House, addressed by Lady Aberdeen on Feb. 14. Local delegates had returned from the annual meeting at Ottawa on April 11-12, filled with inspiration, new thoughts and new ambitions. The report continued: "We have agreed to unite in a petition to the Government to take steps to have a police matron appointed for female prisoners and for the appointment of women inspectors for factories and workshops where women are employed; also, to further the introduction of manual training for girls into the public school system of Canada, believing that such

Bloodshed in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 23 .- Blood was shed in starting the cars on the Hicks street line of the Atlantic avenue system this after-noon. The Second Battalion got a hot reception in the region about Hicks and Harrison streets. Stones, bottles and other missiles were thrown at them from windows. They were taunted and ridiculed by people who stood on the doorsteps, and in at least one instance a revolver was pointed at them from a window. The troops fired and bullets whizzed past several heads. Thos. Carney, a roofer, was shot. A bullet entered his right thigh and passed upward through the groin and abdomen. There were in all about 40 shots fired. Carney was the only man hit. The car proceeded without interruption after that. There was apparently a widespread plan to follow the order for a general strike of linemen with wholesale wire cutting.

The provincial plan of work was discussed seriatim, and in most cases referred to the superintendents of the various departments of work.

Principal topics of discussion were:
The desirability of securing the services of physicians to give health talks in the bands of hope; also, believing that the more children are taught the principles of kindness to animals, the less likely they are to become hardened in crime. It was suggested that bands of mercy be introduced into bands of hope and Sabbath schools wherever possible. The furtherance of temperance in the Sunday schools and the advisability of urging public school boards to employ only those teachers who do not use liquor or tobacco or indulge in profane language were discussed. The inspectors' section of the Provincial Teachers' Association will be asked to prepare questions on the subject of scientific temperance with the same care they give to those on other studies pre-

A LUXURIOUS BATH-HOUSE.

That of Mr. Pulitzer's New House Is Like a Roman Emperor's.

The Vanderbilt and all other places in Bar Harbor will soon sink into in-significance before the splendor of Chatwold, Mr. Pulitzer's place near Bear Brook, about a mile from Vanderbilt's. Mr. Pulitzer is the chief proprietor of the New York World. The chief glory of this place is the bathhouse. A cavity about 50 feet deep and 40 feet square has been excavated down to low water mark. A wall 8 feet deep is to be built around this of native granite, the northern side and all exposed surfaces finely cut, About half of this is to be used as a plunge bath and will be lined with terra cotta. Adjoining this will be the luxuriously fitted up dressing rooms, with all the modern conveniences. The plunge is to be heated with steam.

Over this will be built Mr. Pulitzer's private house, a beautiful building of cut stone, about 30 feet high. A piazza will connect this with Chatwold, where the family live, move, and have their being, remote enough so that the sounds of their merriment may not penetrate the editor's sanctum. There is quite a bevy of little Pulitzers, and they are by no means on the crushed and subdued order, so it is not to be wondered at that, while worshiped by their father, he prefers to hie himself hence when work of great moment needs his undivided attention.

At the northeast of this new building is to be the swimming pool itself, which will be an exceedingly fine affair. A flight of about 100 stone steps will lead from Chatwold. It has been built after the same idea as the famed Vanderbilt swimming pool where the owner came near meeting his death two years ago. More than 100 men are now employed at Chatwold, and as many more will be added as soon as they can work to advantage. Three large sheds are filled with stone cutters; two big steam derricks are kept constantly in the "hole," as the workmen designate it. It is proposed to put in electric lights and work the men night and day in order to get the work finished by the month of

FOOLING THE SCHOOLMARM.

How an Omaha Girl Communicates With the Forbidden Sweetheart.

A friend of mine out in Omaha has a daughter, and that daughter has, among other girlish trinkets, a sweet-rendered doubly dear to her by the fact that her parents have forbidden her to see him, says the Washington Post. He is, to be sure, a very commonplace person, but no girl can resist a man her parents have for-bidden her to see, you know. This particular girl is in Washington now for safe keeping, in a private school, where incoming and outgoing letters are read by a stern-faced teacher. I went to see her the other day, just after the mail was in. She had received a letter from a school girl friend in Omaha, and there wasn't a noun or pronoun of the masculine gender in the whole of it. The girl read it demurely and showed it to me. The door was no sooner closed than she flew to her curling tongs, heated them, held them close to the written sheet, and read with delight the yellow letters in a masculine hand which appeared between the lines, and faded again as soon as the paper cooled.

The moral of this is that love will find a way, and so long as chloride of copper in solution is to be had I advise every keeper of a girl's school to toast letters well before she delivers them.

Bank Notes a Medium for Disseminating Smallpox.

TORONTO, Jan. 23 .- Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, has received a letter which says that the causes of smallpox which have developed from the St. Thomas case were caused by money. Stover, the man who came from Detroit and died in St. Thomas, had contracted the disease by working on repairs to the smallpox hospital in Detroit. Before he was taken down he spent several dollars, and some of the money found its way to Henry Pressett, farmer, and Wm. Swartz, of Guelph, both of whom are now ill with the disease.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 23 .- All hopes of safety of the steamer Chicora have been abandoned on account of finding wreckage from the vessel off South Haven. Two pet canines-one of them of the bulldog species-were the cause of four cases being entered in the Police Court blotter for trial this morning. The magistrate's reception room was for once entirely free from the odor of bad whisky, and the prisoner's cage was deserted. Nancy Niosi, of 132 Queen's avenue, was accused of keeping a dog which had no love for strangers. Fred Platt, of 468 Ridout street, was the complainant. He stated that when he was passing Mrs. Niosi's the dog caught him by the clothes, which gave way. Police Magistrate Parke ordered the dog to be destroyed. Mrs. Niosi censented to bring the animal to the police station, and the execution took place this afternoon. David and George Gowers, of Front street, South London, were charge with assault by Thomas Carroll, a neighbor. This case arose over a dog. The Gowers family has a bulldog which Carroll claims attacked him. He further stated that because he endeavored to drive the canine away with a stick the Gowers boys struck him in the face. James Gowers, father of the two boys, was also accused of keeping the vicious dog. Alfred Cox, another neighbor, was the complainant, and he brought about a dozen witnesses to court to prove his case. An enlargement of both cases was made for a week, owing to the very

BROOKLYN, Jan. 24.—The linemen of the trolley lines are out on strike this morning. and at a number of the depots not a single lineman nad reported for duty up to 8 o'clock. BROOKLYN, Jan. 24.—The beginning of the end of the great trolley strike was reached today. The strikers played their last card yesterday in ordering out the electrical workmen on all the lines affected. They announced that the roads would be paralyzed today by the lack of go out. The companies started new lines today, and while normal traffic is not yet restored, cars are operated on all the men. After a time repairs were made by arteries of travel. Smaller branches and cross town lines are still idle. On the Third avenue line whole sections Second street not a single overhead wire of this line was left. President Morton this morning issued a formal statement, containing his reasons for his refusal to entertain the proposition of the men to arbitrate with the strikers. His main reason for the refusal was that the strike was practically over, and it would only be a matter of a few days when the cars on all the lines would be running as regularly as they were before the strike

"What did you say? What is her name?"
eried Roderick, feeling all the blood rushing to his heart—to his face.
"It is an English name. I will call my taughter to pronounce it English fashion."
And with an amazement that even mounted to awe Roderick discovered that this girl—the first girl in all his life who had won from him a second thought—was his cousin; very distant, but still a cousin.

and another Silence Jardine.

In his quixotic search he had done nothing—had almost forgotten what he meant to do; yet here was all done for him. With a feeling as of a man pursued by fate—biind, irresistible, and yet most blessed fate—he, without asking a single question more, got away as soon as he could. Once outside that door, and away from everybody's sight, he rushed almost, staggering as he went, down to the water-side, and as no week, down to the water state, and spent an hour there, walking wildly to and fro in the moonlight—the wonderful, sweet moonlight, bright as day—which poured itself in silver glory over the smooth lake and the sleeping town,

CHAPTER III.

The one hour of passionate pacing up and down under the stars seemed to have made a man of him; like the solitary virgil which the young esquires of old were left to spend, previous to being dubbed knights. When he awoke, quite early, long before daybreak, he was no longer a dreamy boy, but a belted knight ready to go out and fight, with his lady's token on his helm and his lady's love in his heart.

"The stars shall falll and the angels be weeping. Ere I cease to love you—my queen, my

He kept humming the song to himself in a passionate undertone all the way to M. Reynier's, whither he had determined to go and explain what Mr. Black, in the feeble French of his letter of introduction, had left wholly unexplained, the why and wherefore of young Mr. Jardine's visit to

How he got through that explanation, as he sat face to face with the kind old professor, in dressing-gown and slippers, Roderick never could tell. Nor what M. Reynier thought of it, though he vailed his opinion in most sympathetic politeness, and gave at once the address which the young man asked, or believed he had asked, in the most business-like and indifferent manner possible. "Certainly, certainly, yes; and my wife and daughters shall call at once to con-gratulate the dear ladies on their good fortune in being discovered by so excellent a relative. Stay, perhaps monsieur would like Madame Reynier to go in advance and break to them the good tidings? It might startle them, and Madame Jardine is in very delicate health, and they are very poor, monsieur knows?"

Yes, he knew it, but he did not take it in -no more than the young queen who, hearing her subjects lacked bread, suggested their eating cake.

"I think, Monsieur Reynier," he said, with modest hesitation, "I should like to tell them myself. It is a family matter, and they would not feel my visit a liberty. They are my cousins, you see. "If," with a sudden idea that almost made him smileif you would kindly vouch for me that I am—well, respectable, in short."

"Even if monsieur did not carry his letter of recommendation in his face, Mr. Black's guarantee would have been quite sufficient, answered the professor, with grave polite

Another time, Roderick would have laughed to think what his mother would have thought of her son's owing his sole credentials of character to Mr. Black the factor! but now he was in too great haste to linger an instant more than courtesy de-manded; and it seemed hours, rather than minutes, before, armed with M. Reynier's petit billet, he found himself mounting the long stair (so like a Scotch one, only clean, stage after stage.) Mme, Jardine lived au qua trieme, almost up to the roof of the tall

"Are they so very poor?" he thought with a sharp pang, followed by a wild delight. To come as the Daus ex machina—the good genius, the protecting angel—how delicious! Ay, even though it were actual want he was

But no such discovery presented itself to the eyes of the young man, delicate in his tastes, quick, morbidly quick, to detect and revoit from anything coarse or squalid. A little Swiss damsel, in sabots, opened the door of the appartment and showed him into a salon—very foreign, certainly; his mother would have been shocked at the almost carpetless floor and curtainless windows: but exquisitely neat, harmonious in color, refined in arrangement.

And when she entered—not madame, but mademoiselle—he felt more than ever as if the whole thing were a vision of the night. She entered with a soft, silent grace, which made her Puritanic name seem the most appropriate possible, and standing still in the doorway, bowed to him in the distant oreign way. But she spoke in Englishher sweet, sow, precise English, very correct in accent, though the sentences were sometimes arranged French fashion, and the monsieur, translated into sir, frequently appeared therein in a funny un-English

But he could not explain. His the seemed to cleave to the roof of his mth. All his self-possession, his good conon sense, even his good manners, seeme to have fled from him.

The young man sat for fully half an le forlorn as a sparrow on a house-top, d very near the house-top, too, before y sign reached him that his possible mot-in-law—the sweet Swiss lady whom he he loved already, she twas so like or daughter in some things—had recognid his existence or his eagerly claimed coubbin. An inquest was held on Monday over the body of Miss Morrish, of Chatham, who died suddenly. THE DEAD STATESMAN.

Press Estimates of the Late Lord Randolph Churchill.

Good Words for Him-A Man of Fiery Talent-Royalty Notified.

LONDON, Jan. 24.-Lord Randolph Churchill was unconscious for 30 hours. His wife and mother remained with the dying man throughout the night. Early this morning he began sinking rapidly, and at 6 o'clock Dr. Rose was summoned. Fifteen minutes later he died. The body will be buried at Woodstock. The Queen and the Prince of Wales were at once informed of Lord Randolph's death. London, Jan. 24 .- The Star says: Lord Randolph Churchill was an audacious and splendid fighter. He was the only man with Disraeli who was able to make Toryism interesting, but he was unable to harness his fiery talents to the Adminis tration car, hence he left behind him only the reputation of an adventurer.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: The Conservative party owe far more to Lord Randolph Churchill than he owed to them. His rare political insight, his unflinching courage and his restless enterprise roused the party to a commanding position when its fortunes were at the lowest ebb.

The Gazette attributes his defect of temper and judgment largely to physical infirmities which troubled his whole life. fullest extent a magnetic charm which cannot be underestimated. The Toronto Mail says: "The piece is a The Globe says: He possessed to the genuine up-to-date production, with a dialogue that is smart, and, as the English would say, decidedly spicy, lyrics of a popular order, and music of a tuneful, though reminiscent character. The play is handsomely staged and costumed, and glows with color from beginning to end. It would be difficult to say wherein consists the special merit which has won celebrity for "A Gaiety Girl," but the whole combination makes an amus-ing entertainment which is pretty certain to please the general theater-going public. There are no stars in this company, but the performance is given without hitch and with considerable enap, and the principals all sustain their roles in a very satisfactory manner. Of the singers, Mr. Langley, as Charles Goldfield, who has a capital voice, made the hit of the evening, and in the celebrated "Tommy Atkins" song aroused the audience to enthusiasm. Miss Ethel Sydney and Miss Nina Martino also sang very prettily, and gained a good share of the honors. The bewildering skirt dances of Miss Margaret Fraser and the carnival dance of Miss Margaret Fraser, Miss Helen Fraser and Miss Maud Percy elicited tumultuous apdaughter in the first act also made a hit. City Hall was held last night. It was the ninth annual assembly of Forest City Lodge, No. 240, of the Brotherhood of the public. London was not only well represented, but Detroit, Toronto, Hamilton, Woodstock, St. Thomas, Niagara Falls, Ingersoll, Stratford, Chatham and Windsor sent delegations. There were about 150 couples present, and the scene was a very pretty one. The walls and galleries were decorated with bunting, flags, miniature arches and Chinese lanterns, while the emblem of the trainmenthe brake and lantern—showed up prominently in more than one place. The attentive and energetic committee worked well, with one object in view-to make the affair a thoroughly enjoyable one to those who tendered their patronage. Success followed their efforts in every respect, and they can look forward to the tenth assembly with an assurance of a still greater triumph. The grand march took place at 8:30 and then the first half of the programme commenced. It included quadrilles, waltzes, cotillions and polkas. Excellent music was furnished by Prof. Day-ton and his orchestra, and with Mr. James McCormick as master of ceremonies it is almost unnecessary to say that the numbers were carried out to the letter. At the conclusion of the first portion of the programme the company adjourned to the versary of Burns' birth, though two nights in advance of the actual day of the month on which the "blast o' Januar' win' blew hansel in on Robin," was a decided success. The entertainment was under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Benevolent Society, and the Grand Opera House was well-filled by the members and their friends. Opening with a Scottish reel by the Misses Snand and Messrs. John Rattray and William Templeton (in elegant Highland costume), the programme never lagged for nearly three hours, when "Auld Lang Syne" and the "National Anthem," led by the company of performers, gave the signal, all too soon for some, that the end was reached. Mrs. A. E. Cooper was in excellent voice, and had an enthusiastic reception. She sang 'The Lea Rig." and in response to an encore gave "The Spinning Wheel." Later in the evening she sang "The Scottish Blue Bells" to the delight of all. Miss Mutch is a favorite at these annual gatherings. She did herself full justice in her selections last night. Her first was "Cam' Ye by Athol, Prince Charlie," and being encored she sang "Do You Remember." Probably her best effort was "Jessie's Dream, which was rendered with much expression By singing "Angus Macdonald" with spirit, Miss Gilmore was also warmly encored. In response she gave, with sweet expressiveness, that ever welcome song, "The Land o' the Leal." In a different vein, but equally effective, was her "There's Nac Room for Twa." Mr. J. W. McIntosh, who was an efficient master of ceremonies, gave with much spirit the most appropriate song, chronicling the arrival of the great poet on earth, "There Was a Lad Was Born in Kyle," but unfortunately was too busy to respond to an encore. Not so was it with Mr. J. R. Todd, who appeared for the first time at these annual celebrations, and sang "Macgregor's Gathering" with so much vigor that he elicited an encore, in response to which he sang, "O' a' Airts." Both efforts were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. Capt. T. E. Robson sang "Scots Wha Hae" in excellent voice, and being recalled gave "Come All Ye Jolly Shepherda." Capt. Robson's reception was decidedly warm. The Misses Shand contributed in no small degree to the success of the concert. They danced and sang in equally good taste, and were again and again recalled. Their best effort was the duet, "You Can't Play in Our Back Yard"; it was loudly applauded. Of Mr. J. H. Cameron, the comedian, mimic and elocutionist, much might be said. He proved equally pleasing in serious and in comic selections. Probably one of the most effective of his serious pieces was "The Old Man's Visit to the Town," while his recitation and pantomime describing a man away from home when he gets a supposed
