ALMOST EVERY CITY AND TOWN OF OHIO STATE PREY TO RAGING FLOODS AND TORRENTIAL RAINS; THOUSANDS DEAD, A QUARTER MILLION HOMELESS

Worst Inundation Ever Experienced Prevails From Lake Erie to the Ohio River and From Indiana to Pennsylvania.

MIAMISBURG REPORTED SWEPT AWAY BY WATERS

[Canadian Press.]

Columbus, Ohio, March 26.-From Lake Erie to the Ohio River, and from the Indiana to the Pennsylvania state line today is experiencing the worst flood the state has ever known. With an appalling loss of life at Dayton, estimated today to run over 500, almost every city and village in the state follows with a death toll that cannot be totalled until the raging waters subside.

TOWN WASHED AWAY.

Although first reports had put the loss of life at Dayton as high as 5,000, refugees arriving in Xenia from the flood-stricken city say that it would not be beyond 500. News today says that Miamisburg, population 5,000, had been washed away.

Heavy rains continued throughout most of the state last night, and all flood records in most sections of the state have been Bridges have been washed away, railway and inter-urban traffic is at a standstill, and in many cities there is grave danger of fire loss, due to the shutting down of plants supplying water. QUARTER MILLION HOMELESS.

Governor Cox estimated that more than 250,000 people have been rendered homeless. The state is unable to cope with the situation in its entirety, and the governor has called upon the National Red Cross Society in the adjoining states for aid. The immediate need is for tents and food for the homeless. Every militia company has been ordered to report today for duty, and the troops will be sent to the points of greatest emergency. The state commissary department is making every effort to rush supplies to the many points which need them.

DAYTON, LATEST REPORT

[Canadian Press.] AT 2:45 P.M.

Wolf Creek, Ohio (two miles west of Dayton), March 26 .-One thousand persons lost their lives in the Dayton flood, according to a report received here by the Western Union Telegraph cessary, at a rental equivalent to in-Company, which has established a sending station.

Most of the victims were residents of North Dayton, who McCormick company interest at 6 per were caught without warning. Today Dayton is reported under 15 cent on the purchase price of $125, feet of water, and although the flood is receding the rain is beginning again, and the chances are that the flood will remain at the present level until the rain ceases.

Late news from Dayton said that St. Elizabeth Hospital was probably carried away, although the Dayton informant was unable were authorized to make with the Mc to verify this report. Dayton also inclined to doubt report that 400 Cormick Company, and which it school children had been drowned, because the flood came up hours before the children were due to go to school.

Harrowing tales are beginning to filter in from various sources of familles who spent the night in drenching rain in tree tops or on the roofs of their flooded homes. Many of those marooned in tree tops are believed to have been worn out from cold and fatigue, and to have dropped from their perilous places of death in the flood waters.

property damage cannot yet out number as are also unavailing efbe calculated, but it will run far into forts to rescue persons seen to be the millions. This includes actual loss or on chance driftwood. The list of by fire and flood and prospective loss missing is also swelling, but it is be lieved that this will be materially re duced when scattered families hav

> he opportunity to reunite. This city is completely cut off from the rest of the county by rail, and almost practically so by telephone and telegraph, but reports received show the greatest loss of life at Dayton, a which may run from 500 to 1,000 Piqua, where 52 are reported drowned. Delaware where the loss will be over 30, Hamilton 16 or more, and Troy, where great loss of life has been reported with no definite figures available

In this city three are known to be dead and eleven more are reported to rental charges after offering free rent-These last were either seen to pass the city clinging to drift or reported to have fallen from boats. As Aldermen Robinson, Spittal, the city is without lights, and the White, Richter and Moore. whole west side is flooded, nothing definite could be learned early today.

Greatest Flood. The flood is the greatest ever known in Columbus, and business activities are practically paralyzed. The waterworks shut down last night and will not be in condition to furnish water for a week, as two large mains have been washed out by the flood which took away every bridge in the city. Last night the city was in darkness as the municipal electric light plant was flooded. Gas pressure is low, and little hope is held out that it will last throughout the day. The flood in the Scioto and Olentangy Rivers came so suddenly yesterday that workers of all classes who had crossed them early in the day were unable to return to their homes in the west side when the torrents tore loose the bridges connecting the two sides of the city. All available state departments were thrown open to refugees and thousands of dollars have been raised to care for them. A bill will be introduced in the Legislature today as an emergency measure, providing that $250,000 appropriated for the relief of flood sufferers.

Latest Figures On Loss of Life

Chicago, Ill., March 26.-Day broke upon the desolation brought by flood througho at Ohio and Indiana, with a slight hove that the estimates of the loss of life might be somewhat reduced when search revealed more fully the situation of the tricken cities.

At daybreak only partly verified reports from the flood swept cities in the two states showed the following revised estimates of the loss of life, based upon an apparent reduction in the figures from Dayton, according to refugees and upon a possible diminution in the reports from TORONTO, March 25.—A very long sale at the Repository yesterday, lasting from 1 a.m. to after 7 p.m. resulted in the sale of about 150 horses of the 250 offered. The horses were very good in quality, and included all classes, but the bulk of the trade was in the cheaper classes of working horses. While the leases of working horses. While the usual big demand, there was a good business in all classes. It would seem that good heavy draughts are costing too nuch money, and the shippers are not ble to secure on the Toronto market the prices they have to pay the farmers in the country. Of the large consigners, the Britnell Contracting Company sold 25 good animals at prices from $170 to $225. Mr. Townsend, of the Yorkville Livery, sold 25 of his horses at prices ranging from $100 to $150. A number of the country consignments were apparently abought at to high prices, though a number of shippers cleared out their stocks. Some of the buyers were as follows: W. H. Yates, Hamilton, six fine heavy horses, averaging around $250 each; Gammon & Weir, New Glasgow, bought a carload of draught horses, paying over $225 a head; lamps, of an angry lake. Fences draught horses, paying over $225 a head; lamps, roofs of small sheds and chicken coops the only things visible.

Weir, New Glasgow, bought a carload of draught horses, paying over $225 a head; Joseph Ross, King street, city, four horses; A. Graham, Baden, bay gelding, and bay mare. $215 each: W. Harris, br. and bay mare. $215 each: W. Harris, br. and bay mare, $215 each: W. Harris, br. m. 215, and b. m. $175; City Dairy Com-pany, br. m. $180, and bk. g. $185; J

THE OHIO DISASTER.

The appalling stories from Ohio and Indiana may be modified by later dispatches. Estimates of the loss of life made in the excitement of the moment by those on the scene are likely to be exaggerated. But making allowances for this the disaster is the worst of the kind since the flood at Johnstown, Pa., in 1889, when the collapse of a dam swept away nearly 5,000 lives, and millions of dollars' worth of property The present calamity is far more widespread. The State of Ohio, which has suffered most, is interlaced with rivers, mainly tributaries of the Ohio, and all have been swollen by abnormal rain-Apparently scores of cities, towns and villages have been swept by the raging waters. Many thousands of persons have lost their belongings, and are in need of instant relief. To a single stricken city, as at Johnstown, Galveston, and San Francisco, aid could nothing; who boasted that they had to be rushed from all quarters, but to succor immediately scores of communities is a problem in organization which all the resources and goodwill of the country cannot solve. In Canada even though it would cost the western prairie country, where rivers are few, the cyclone is the enemy; in the well-watered east, it is build battleships in Canada, and the flood. Governments are being makes this confession: forced by disaster into policies of forest conservation. They should go further and in every practicable way encourage reforestizing in settled communities where much land is suitable for tree-growing if for nothing else. A system of dams and retaining reservoirs would also do much to prevent the damage annually inflicted by the Grand, the Thames and other Ontario rivers. This must be a provincial undertaking. Cities and towns try to protect their own property from floods, not always successfully, but the prevention of floods is a work beyond

ONCE MORE ON THE CURVE.

Many years ago a certain Conservative newspaper was an advocate of free trade. When Sir John Macdonald introduced his National Policy of pro-He is reported to have said: "It is sharp curve, but we can take it." And it was taken promptly. We refer to this bit of ancient history only to illustrate the facility with which the Conservative party and the Conservative press can take a sharp other it is the promptness with which it can change the planks in its political platform to suit the exigencies of the moment.

The Conservative naval policy has been marked by inconsistency from its inception. First, it was a Canadian navy pure and simple. Then, when the Liberal Government proposed a Cana- $100,000 which accompanied the Birkdian navy, the Conservative party at once voted against it, and wanted an appeal to the people before anything should be done. Then when faith. Mr. Borden became premier he turned his back on Mr. Borden's Canadian of money to the wealthiest country in

But not only is the Conservative naval policy inconsistent with itself; it is inconsistent with their policy of it could be readily adapted to battle-Canadian protection. In advocating protection, one of the strongest arguments has been the plea that it encouraged and developed our own industries. No longer should Canada be the dumping ground for the manufactures of other countries. Everything used in Canada should be made in Canada. Tell the protectionist that a manufacturer with a home market of seventy or eighty millions of people could make a better article and sell it cheaper than a manufacturer with a of its valor, and going cap in hand small market like Canada, and that the to the Opposition for supply. [Canadian Press.]

Peru, Ind., March 26 .- Death faced hundreds of persons who at dawn today were clinging to the roofs of buildings where they sought refuge from the flood which last night swept in from the overflown banks of the Wabash River, drowning within a few minutes probably 60 persons.

The prospect at daylight was distressing Currents of muddy water from ter to twenty feet deep were racing through he main streets at twenty miles an hour. The water, however, was then believed to be receding slightly

Don't Diet Yourself TO BEATH TO CURE DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. IT ISN'T RECESSARY.

While it is necessary for the dyspeptic to abstain from rich, greasy, highly seasoned food, it is useless and injurious to deprive the sufferer of a full supply of good nutritious food sufficient for the needs of the body.

Weakening the body will never remove dyspepsia, on the contrary, all efforts should be to maintain and increase the strength. Burdock Blood Bitters will increase the strength, and at the same time enables one to partake of all the wholesome food required, without fear of any unpleasant after results. Miss Martha A. Brooks, Gagetown

Having heard of the many cures effected by Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to give it a trial. I have taken only one bottle, and that one has done me more good than all the other medicines I have used. My appetite, which was very poor, is now good, and I can eat most everything the body.

Until She was Nearly Crazy. Began with Watery Blisters. On Ears, Eyes, Hands and Ankles. Could Not Sleep for Scratching. Cuti-cura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Brunswick St., Fredericton, N. B .- "I had a very bad case of eczema. The trouble began with watery blisters and itched and burned until I was nearly crazy. It was on my ears, eyes, hands and ankles. I could not keep the bed clothes over me at night for the smarting and itching. My ears would swell. I would scratch until the blood would run and then form a scab. I felt as if I could take a knife and cut the flesh on my hands. It would disfigure my face and make it smart and burn and swell. I could not sleep at night for scratching.

"I tried everything I heard of without getting any benefit. I used lots of home remedies, such as lard and sulphur, and also was treated for it. Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they gave me great ease. I used them about four months and I am happy to say I am never troubled now. The Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me completely." NO COMPROMISE AS YET

Chicago, March 25. - Denying that he had made any appointment with Holdout Jimmy Archer, or that he would seek an interview with him President Murphy, of the Cubs, arrived in the city yesterday.

"No one is going to dictate to me how to run my baseball club," he said. "Just because one player holds out won't disturb the Cubs or keep them from winning the pennant. have made my best offer to Archer, and if the turns that down I think we can struggle along without him In fact, right now, I think we have the best catching staff in the league If I should make concessions to Archer it would spoil discipline in the club, in that any player could demand a certain amount, and his terms would be met. If he wants to see me he knows where I am, and admitted to my office the ame as any visitor."

Predictions are freely made, however, that some compromise will be speedily reached and that the holdut catcher will soon be on his way o join the Cubs. Archer demands $7,500, and it is understood that $5,000 is the figure set by President Murphy as his limit.

Lajoie Throws to First Base Without Looking at the Bag

New Orleans. March 25.—Larry Lajole is probably the only second baseman in the big leagues who can throw to first without looking at the bag.

During the Sunday game Larry scooped one up just over second base and, without turning his head to look shot the ball straight into the waiting hands of Doc John exclaimed a fan in the stands. "He didn't even look to see if the first baseman was there.'

And it is true. Often-times the play is so close, and the ball comes so slowly that Lajoie has just time enough to pick and throw, without daring to look. He has practiced this and trained himself so much that now, no matter what position he is in, he knows exactly where the initial sack is and throws the ball to it without looking, as true as an arrow.

"Why didn't you send for me at once?" asked the older man with increasing brusqueness. He took a turn about the room. "What does it all mean? What do you know about McBride's death?" he continued, halting suddenly.

"Absolutely nothing," said North.
And for an instant the two men looked straight into each other's eyes.

"You are sure you don't need anything."

"You are sure you don't need anything—money, for instance?" the general asked, shifting his glance.
"I am quite sure, but I am very grateful to you all the same." "Of course, the evidence against you is purely circumstantial?" "I believe so, yes," answered North.

"I am coming in tomorrow morning to gee you, and talk the whole thing over with you, North."

"I shall be very glad to talk matters over with you, General." said North.

"I wish I could do something for you tonight," the general said with real feeling, for he realized the long evening, and the longer night that were before the young fellow.

There was a pause. The general could not bring himself to speak of Elizabeth, and North lacked the courage to ask concerning her.

"I heard through one of my men of your arrest. He brought word of it to the farm," the general said at length.

"Miss Herbert knows—of course, you told her—"

"Yes, thank you, Conklin. Good night, Good night, North," and Elizabeth's lather hurried from the room.

For a moment North stood silent, staring absently at the door that had just closed on the general's burly figure. He still held Elizabeth's letter in his hand. In fancy he was seeing her as she had bent above it, her face tender, compassionate; and then there rose the vision of that crowded room with its palpable atmosphere, its scores of curious faces all turned toward him in eager expectation. In the midst of these unworthy surroundings, her face, beautiful and high back.

He tore it open, and Elizabeth's father, watching him, saw the expression of his face change utterly, as the lines of tense repression faded from it. Judge Finkle Heard Evidence All Day in Farm Rental

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, March 26 .- At a sitting o he division court yesterday, at which His Honor Judge Finkle, of Woodstock, presided, considerable interest centred in the action of Downing vs

Case.

Long, a jury case. The hearing of this case occupied he greater part of the day, and attracted a large number, especially from the immediate vicinity in which the parties reside, to the courtroom

The action was brought by Downing who resides near Beachville, against a man by the name of Long, a former tenant, to recover the sum of $111, in connection with the rental of a farm. The defendant claimed that he had been wrongfully evicted from the premises, contrary to the provisions of a lease, and claimed damages to the extent of $400. After the taking of evidence and the addresses of counsel, the case was rested with the jury, who, after considerable deliberation, returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $38.55. Water is Receding.

Although considerable ence was caused at many places by sajd North, soberly enough.

"That's true; yet we mustn't count the cost now, or at any future time. But I promised Elizabeth I'd come back at once. What shall I say to her, North?"

"Tell her that her letter has changed the whole aspect of things for me. You must try to make her feel the fresh hope she has given me," John replied, extending his hand.

"Conklin!" called tht general. He took North's hand. "Good night; I'm infinitely sorry to leave you here, North, but I suppose it can't be helped."

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

[From The Clubwoman.] She ho'ds the true secret of facial re uvenation who has learned how to re-nove the dead skin particles as fast as move the dead skin particles as last as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you venience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, black-heads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 7-pt, witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results.

Right of Discussion. Mr. Emmerson argued that the auhorities which authorized Mr. Speaker o take the chair when there was grave disorder restricted him to bringing the House under control or, failing in that, adjourn the House. He did not beeve that Mr. Speaker had the right to ommand the chairman of the committee to rule upon the point of order without hearing the same fully disussed. It was unnecessary, he conluded, to recall the incidents of March 15, or to venture any criticism upon his honor's ruling upon that occasion. cussion, which would result in an auin force, which would guide the fore March 15 last, to take the action thoritative declaration as to the rules occasions.

An Unfortunate Metaphor.

> Threatened Violence, Sproule was justified in taking the chair on March 15. He was in the chamber as a member of the commit-ged by Mr. Pugsley and others. Mr. Meighen contented himself with other desks. Mr. Pugsley was going saying that there was a scene of disorder, and Mr. Speaker Sproule deserved the thanks of the House and he country for his action. Conceding, or the sake of argument that Mr. Speaker exceeded his powers in diecting the chairman to rule on the point of order, it then followed merely that he had given the wrong reason for doing the right thing.

No Intent to Censure. Mr. Guthrie deprecated the evident desire of Mr. Meighen to revive the angry controversies of March 15. The Opposition had no desire to censure the Speaker, for whom they enter-tained the highest respect. He reviewed the Fuller case, and declared that May's work had gone through twelve editions without any change in the text, which Mr. Meighen undertook to brush aside as incorrect. No precedent could be found for Speaker Sproule's ruling on March 15; the right had never been asserted by the speaker of any British parliament bewhich on that day had been taken by Speaker Sproule.

White to Defence. Hon, W. T. White said it was idle to say that the discussion was an academic one, and that it should not deal most any subject can be discussed, and Mr. Emmerson, not having heard all of with the events of March 15. Mr. White then spoke at some length upon order, Mr. Nickle had been asked to the duties and responsibilities of the Speaker, who was charged with preserving order. He should not be hampered by rulings in advance as to his duties, but should be left free to deal with emergencies as they arose. MacDonald's Sarcasm.

Mr. E. M. MacDonald sarcastically observed that it was refreshing to hear a mere tyro in parliamentary practice, after an experience of one session, instructing Mr. Speaker and House, as were all the members. Mr. Pugsley replied that if his stepping into the gangway was disorder! This statement was indignantly and up and down it, not only in front of his own desk, but in front of many on to argue that Mr. Aikens had been called to the chair for the express pureose of making certain rulings and at of the Government.

Too Much for Blondin. Deputy Speaker Blondin interrupted to say that he had called Mr. Aikens to the chair without any suggestion. "I was sick and tired out," he add-

"I am sorry, but not surprised, to learn that you were sick," Mr. Pugsley retorted. "The Government, however, compelled us to remain here for two weeks under the most insanitary con-

Deplores Waste of Time. W. F. Nickle defended Mr. Aikens rom the charge of collusion with the Lovernment in taking the chair just before Mr. Borden asked that Laurier amendment and the Mackenzie sub-amendment be declared out of act, but had called upon Mr. Aikens. The member for Kingston regretted the terrible waste of time by the House of Commons and feared that in the near future businessmen would refuse to accept seats and the House would become filled with professional

Legal Question, Says Laurier. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the question was a legal one, namely, whether the Speaker had the right to take the chair while the House was in committee, for the purpose of quelling disorder. In House, which authorizes the Speaker gram. when disorder arises to adjourn the House, had no application. It had been adopted long after July 1, 1867, that whatever authority our Speaker had must be derived from some rule of the Canadian Parliament, or from some rule or precedent recognized by British Parliament on July 1, 1867. No recedent had been shown to justif;

he action of Speaker Sproule. The Prime Minister ,upon rising to onclude the debate, complimented Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon the judicial tone egal issue, quite narrow indeed. Personally. Mr. Borden believed that the recedents justified the course taken y Mr. Speaker, but in any event that course was supported by the argument of common sense. The Speaker had performed a great public duty in saving the Canadian Parliament from asting disgrace to the country. The House then adopted the formal motion and went into committee of schools came in for criticism in the nspectors' department at the university yesterday, where the eighteen sections of the Ontario Educational Association are holding a three-days' convention. The fact was evinced that the present model school system had only increased the difficulties of the inspectors, that they only half-educated prospective teachers and students were advised to keep away from them Plans for the consolidation of rural schools were laid on the table. This, it was stated, would solve the shortage of legally qualified teachers, and improve the children from an educational standpoint.

Criticism For Pyne. The Government did not escape the attention of the superannuation committee, which in its report called attention to the dilatory attitude taken towards their requests by the Minister of Education, who did not see fit to answer its correspondence. This committee has asked that a commission be after promises of attention nothing further has been accomplished. Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, was present at the Convocation Hall last night and explained his position. He stated that the late Finance Minister had collected sufficient data to enable him to come to some conclusion, but his unfortunate death had brought matters to a standstill. Nothing was said as to irritation, indigestion, or dyspepsia of whether the data on which the minister was going to base his decision was taken up by his successor with a similar end in view. "I don't think time has been unnecessarily lost," said he, "but nothing should be done until we have decided on a system which is actuarial-Actuary Useless. President James L. Hughes thought hat progress could be made in this important question without the aid of an actuary. "It is thirty years since I was chairman of the superannuation committee, and I know something about it. I worked twenty years in Toronto before I secured a superannuation scheme for the teachers and I would tell the Hon. Dr. Pyne that an actuary knows nothing about it. You cannot establish a system on such a basis unless you get an actuary who will listen to reason. Dr. Pyne promised to give the natter his earnest consideration. During his short speech of welcome o the delegates, he announced that Dr. Kerr, the noted London medical expert, had been invited to deliver a series of lectures on the medical inspection of school children, and the establishment of proper hygienic surroundings in public schools. He is seeming next fall, under the ausuices.

He supported Dr. Putman's plan o consolidate rural schools, and to onvey the pupils of several sections o a school of three or four situated at some central point. Economize the teaching forces of the province and thus enable a fewer number of teachers to do more effective work. Mr. Field would revise and amend the academic and professional courses for teachers' certifiates, making the course more attractive and imposing less financial buriens upon the students, attracting in this way to the profession a larger number.

'Are we satisfied with the present conditions?" he asked. "The minister innounces that there are 969 students at Normal schools this year. We Nay assume that 900 will be granted certificates. This would give less than twenty for each inspectorate, without taking into account the absorption of considerable number of our experienced teachers by larger cities, whose places must be taken in the rural chools by recent graduates. Under these circumstances the time is yet ter will agree to dissolve Parliament distant when our rural schools will tomorrow. We want an election and be filled with legally-qualified teachers.

"The present model schools had done little more than increase the difficulties of inspectors. I have no hesitation in strongly advising students not to attend them."

Some Mysteries of the Nervous System Explained

HERE are two sets of nerves in the human body—those which have to do with external objects, and control seeing, hearing, feeling, moving, etc., and the involuntary nerves, which control the action of the vital organs, as the heart, lungs, stomach and bowels.

is that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood-builder, is so remarkably successful in curing

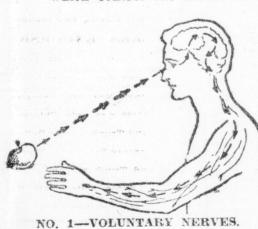

Illustration No. 1 shows how at sight of an apple the message is carried by the optical nerve to the brain, which receives, thinks and decides on some form of action, and sends out its command through the nerves which lead to

Simple as it may seem to see and pick up an apple, this act cannot be carried out if there is anything wrong with any of the nerves involved.

Injury to or weakness of the optical nerve means defective sight; disease of the brain or nerves may mean paralysis of the nerves which control the movement of the

The brain is the source of all nervous energy, for here it is that blood is converted into nerve force, and for this purpose fully one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is consumed. This explains the necessity of looking to the condition of the blood at the first sign of nervous trouble, and shows how it diseases of the nerves. Now, when we turn to the great sympathetic nervous system, Illustration No. 2, by which are operated the vital organs of the body, we find conditions somewhat different. For who, by taking thought, can cause his heart to beat or his stomach to digest food ? To be more definite, consider the stomach, which is a regular network of nerves. Some of these report to the brain sensations of hunger, others keep up the peculiar churning motion, and again others control the flow of the all-essential gastric juices by which digestion is brought

From this you can readily understand that when nerve force is consumed by excessive mental strain, worry, intense emotion or disease, the supply to the stomach becomes limited, and nervous indigestion is the result, and dmilarly other organs are deranged and weakened when the nervous system becomes exhausted.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

tures nervous exhaustion and resulting derangements by supplying to the brain an abundance of pure, rich blood, the material from which alone nerve force can be manufactured. Because exhaustion of the nerves leads slowly and surely to locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and even insanity, it is most important that effective treatment, such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, be employed just as soon as warning symptoms appear. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Every box of the genuine bears portrait and signature of A. W. KIDNEYS WERE SO SORE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO.

GRAVEL AND SMALL STONES PASSED THROUGH THE URINE.

One of the most painful forms of kidney disease is Gravel or Stone in the Bladder, and is caused by the acid and lime in the blood uniting and forming a gritty substance which lodges in the inner surfaces of the kidneys or bladder, and sets up a painful irritation.

To relieve these terrible pains it is necessary to keep the kidneys healthy for healthy kidneys secret fluids that dissolve the gravel and stones, and they pass out through the urine harmlessly and without pain.

Mrs. Elmire Baldwin, Windsor, Ont.; writes;—"I was so weak I could not do my own work. I tried many doctors, and every one of them told me to go to some institution. Reading of Doan's Kidney Pills, I tried them, and am now well, and can recommend them to all. My kidneys were so sore I did not know

CORRESPONDENCE

The Hired Man's Wages.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: In the first issue of Thursday, March a farmer residing near Granton, in discussing farm topics says that farmers are complaining about the "enormous' wage demanded by the hired man. Answering his own question of "Who s to blame?" he quotes an instance of farmer offering a young man $275 per year and board if he would work for him. Then, he says, the other hired nan hears of this "enormous" wage and wants the same; so there it goes. Looking at this from a wage-earner's point of view, it does not seem any short ut to wealth for the young man who aires out, as it figures out at about 88 cents per day (six days per week) and, course, hired man's board. It surely would be interesting to know just what the farmers of that section onsider a "reasonable" wage for a young man, if 88 cents per day and board is so "enormous" that it brings censure on the head of the farmer who INQUISITIVE. London, March 26.

BETTER CONDITIONS FOR THE WORKERS

Liberals in Legislature Fighting for Better Regulations of Factories.

WOULD AMEND THE ACT

Mr. Rowell Points Out Ways in Which Lot of Labor Could Be Improved.

Toronto, March 26 .- When the bill to revise the shops and factories act was in committee in the Legislature last evening the members of the Opposition returned to attack the provisions of the present act, and urged upon the Government the need for more advanced legislation. Several divisions were forced, but the amendments were voted down.

The Opposition were not satisfied to have these questions disposed of sum-marily. If the Government would onsider the proposals the Opposition vould not press the amendments for he time being. "We are prepared to tay here until Christmas if necesary to get a decent factory act for the workers of this province," said the Liberal leader. "The day is com-ing when a man must earn a wage hat will support his family and insure his children an opportunity secure an education that will them for their work in life." tain it was that the Government had neglected its duty to provide better legislation in this direction. Six ears ago a special committee of the House was appointed to look into the question and no action had been taken to carry out their recommendations, Mr. Allan Studholme voted all through with the Opposition

SHORT WEIGHT BREAD CAME FROM LONDON

Dealer Was Fined for Selling It by

Magistrate at Shedden. Shedden, March 25 .- Wm. G. Eddy, grocer, was fined $5 and $2.85 costs today by County Magistrate Hunt, for selling short-weight bread. The bread, seized by the recently-appointed inspector, was about one and a half pounds short in ten pounds, and was manufactured by a London firm, which has undertaken to pay Mr. Eddy's fine for him. As a result of the evidence given, the magistrate advises all municipalities to appoint inspectors at an early date to check the supply of this short-weight bread by firms outside the county.

They Need the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Actually Make.

Perhaps you have noticed that your daughter in her "teens" has developed a fitful temper, is restless and excitable. That she complains of weakness and depression; feels tired out after a little exertion; appetite variable, complains of headaches and is growing pale. In that case remember that the march of time is leading her on to womanhood, and that at this period a great responsibility rests upon mothers. These are symptoms of anaemia—that is ploodlessness, and no time should be lost in increasing and enriching the blood supply. Unhealthy girlhood almost always leads to unhealthy womanhood. All young girls in their teens need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich and increase the blood supply, and give sickly, drooping girls the brightness and charm of perfect health. In proof of this Miss Zola Gordier, Morrisburg, Ont., says: "I was pale and bloodless and suffered from many of the symptoms of anaemia. I would tire easily and suffered from frequent headaches. My appetite was poor and I was very pale and easily discouraged. The medicine I was taking did not seem to help me, and then one day I read the story of a young girl who suffered similarly and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes of the pills and started to take them. Before they were done I began to feel better and look better. Then got half a dozen more boxes, and before they were all used I was en-Joying the best of health, and have continued to do so since. My young brother was troubled with rheum-
