Ald. Beattie was elected mayor of the city of London by the large majority of 1503 on New Year's Day. There was an upheaval in the council, for the eight old members who sought reelection, four were defeated and four elected. The four aldermen chosen were, by the way, at the bottom of the list.

The Water Commission. The three candidates brought out for water commission by a petition of the citizens—Messrs. A. T. McMahon, Phil Pocock and Wm. Wyatt—polled a very heavy vote and won easily. His Worship Mayor Stevely and ex-Alderman Matthews were the defeated candidates.

The contest for the board of education was rather a keen one, and a large vote was polled for the candidates. The discussion over the kindergarten reorganization was quite an important factor in the result. Both the advocates of double sessions won—Mr. G. N. Weekes and Mr. J. A. Hunt. Two single-sessioners, Dr. Teasdale and Dr. Balfour, were also elected. Of the four, three are anti-vaccinationists.

The Citizens' Municipal League had considerable success in its maiden venture. Of the nine candidates endorsed by the league for the council seven were elected—Messrs. Hubert Ashplant, James Fitzgerald, Jas. H. Jeffries, Henry Pocock, John G. Richter, J. A. Tancock and William Underwood. Messrs. John Dunkin and Harvey Kilbourne were among the defeated.

The league also endorsed Messrs. McMahon, Pocock and Wyatt for the water commission.

One of the features was the very large vote polled by Mr. R. C. Eckert. This was his first venture into the municipal arena. He is an advocate of Sunday cars.

The slain. Among the fallen of the old brigade are Ald. Neil Cooper, with more than a decade of service in the council; Ald. Gerry, who has served well nigh 20 years; Ald. Garratt, who has been in the council for almost as many years, and Mayor Stevely, with 11 years of municipal experience.

As stated before, eight of the new aldermen have never held public office. They are untried men, an experiment in truth, and their work will be watched with interest. Ald. Saunders, Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Fitzgerald and Ald. Rose, while they have not had as much experience in civic affairs as some of the defeated candidates, have each seen several years of service.

FACTS ABOUT NEW COUNCIL IS A REPRESENTATIVE BODY

Where the Mayor, Water Commissioners, Aldermen and School
Trustees Were Born and Began Life—Interesting
Story of the City Governors.

Ald. Beattie, mayor-elect, is a native Londoner. He was educated here, and later took a law course at Osgoode Hall. For some years he was connected with the Anglican Synod as secretary-treasurer. Later he resigned, and practiced his profession. He has been a member of the council for four or five years, and was looked upon as an able and upright servant. He is an Anglican in religion, and a Conservative in politics.

Water Commissioners. Mr. A. T. McMahon, commissioner-elect, was born in London township, but has resided in London since 1872. About 20 years ago he established the business of McMahon, Granger & Co. He has been chairman and member of the court of revision for many years. He has never been elected to public office prior to this year. He is a Presbyterian in religion and Conservative in politics.

Mr. Philip Pocock, commissioner-elect, was born in London Township in Belmont. Some 30 years ago he came to London. He came to London in 1870, and shortly after started in the boot and shoe business, under the name of Pocock Bros. In 1885 the London Shoe Company was organized, and he became president and general manager. He is also a director of the Dominion Fire Insurance Company, and a member of the London Health Association. He has served two years on the court of revision, last year being chairman. He is a Liberal in politics and a Catholic in religion.

Ex-Ald. William Wyatt was born in Hull, Quebec, but came to London when but two years of age. He has lived here ever since. Some 38 years ago he engaged in the hardware and tin-smith business. Some time ago he retired. He was alderman for 10 years, some of which time he was chairman of the board of works. He is a Methodist in religion and a Conservative in politics.

MASHER KILLS HUSBAND OF INSULTED WOMAN

William Keller, of Detroit, Gives Up Life in Attempt to Avenge Wife's Wrong.

Detroit, Jan. 3.—William Keller, a teamster, was shot dead by a "masher" who had followed Mrs. Keller from down town to her home, 519 Fort street, and whose arrest the husband was attempting to bring about at 7:10 last evening. Peter Keller, a brother, chased the man and a companion for half a mile, but was distanced. The police at once put out the drag net in the hope of capturing the man who did the shooting.

The Keller brothers had been summoned from the home of Peter Keller, 519 Fort street west, by the woman, who is now a widow. She told them two men had followed her and her sister-in-law home. In their shirt sleeves the brothers rushed into the street and pursued those who had followed their wives. On the Twelfth street bridge William caught and struck one man and Peter caught the other. Before they could even ask questions, the one held by William Keller drew a revolver from his pocket and fired, the bullet entering the left eye and causing almost instant death.

The hunted men are believed to be Italians, and because of this, Little Sicily was filled with patrolmen and plain clothes officers all last night.

HURLED INTO RAVINE

St. Thomas Man Has Narrow Escape
—His Horse Killed.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 2.—Mr. John Kains, retired farmer, of this city, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when his horse leaped into the deep ravine at the end of Chester street. The horse turned a complete somersault when he plunged over the steep bank and was killed instantly, but Mr. Kains, when dragged from under the cutter, was found to be not seriously injured.

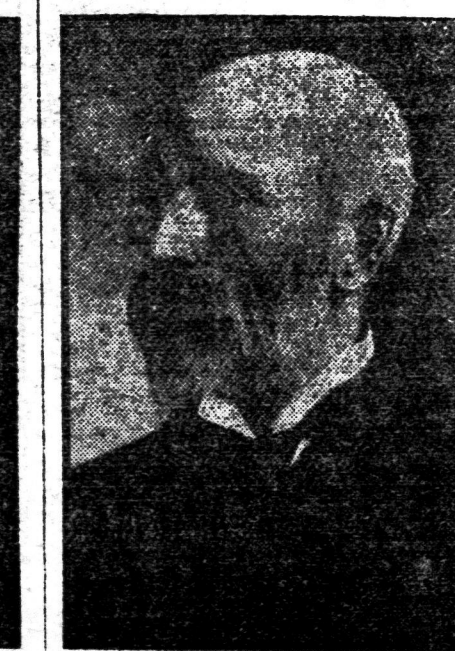

LORDS DAY ALLIANCE AFTER THE BANKS

Winnipeg, Jan. 2.—Representatives of the Lord's Day Alliance secretly visited the offices of a number of local banks, where the staff was busy balancing accounts. This is a very busy time with banks, and necessitates working overtime. Prosecutions may follow.

FELL DEAD IN DEPOT

Middlesex Woman Died While Purchasing a Ticket.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Sarah Jane Copeman, of Belmont, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Barrett, was purchasing a ticket for Detroit at the Michigan Central Railway depot last night when she suddenly fell to the floor and before her friends could reach her she had passed away. Deceased, who was 66 years of age, was the widow of the late John Copeman, of Belmont.

161 PLACES ARE VOTING TODAY ON QUESTION OF LOCAL OPTION

Many Municipalities in Middlesex and the District Are Interested
—Two Will Decide the Matter—Reduction
Bylaw in Hamilton.

Today is municipal election day throughout the Province. Toronto and London voted on New Year's Day, the only cities in the Province to do so. All the other municipalities hold their elections today. A great deal of interest is being taken in the local option campaign. In Western Ontario a very large number of votes will be taken, with prospects of success in many.

Throughout the Province 161 municipalities are voting on local option, and the temperance party are hopeful that at least half this number will adopt local option.

A list of the towns, villages and townships in Western Ontario where a vote is being taken, with the number of licenses at stake, is given below—
Towns—Galt 3, Brantford 4, Clinton 6, Dresden 3, Essex 4, Hespeler 2, Leamington 5, Parkhill 3, St. Marys 8, Wingham 5, Strathroy 5.

Villages—Brussels 5, Ailsa Craig 2, Blythe 2, Bayfield 2, Delhi 2, Dunlop 2, Exeter 4, Kingsville 2, Oil Springs 3, Teeswater 3, Tiverton 1.

Townships—Adelaide 2, Bayham 6, Glenora 4, Brantford 2, Brooks 1, Bonney 2, Barford 2, South Colchester 2, Delaware 1, North Dorchester 2, Downey 3, Duganoun 1, South Dumfries 1, Dunwich 2, Elma Eramosa 3, Hay 3, Hibbs 2, Lobo 2, London 12, Malden 2, Oxford 2, Oxford 2, South Sandwich 2, Sombra 5, Stephen 8, Tilbury West 3, Tuckersmith 2, Turnbury 1, Walsingham 2, Westminster 4.

The list is rather an imposing one, and shows that in Western Ontario the local option wave is creating quite a little interest.

The Cities. Two cities are voting on the question—Brantford and Peterborough. There is considerable feeling in both these cities, and both sides are claiming a victory. In Brantford the question is involved in other issues, and in many quarters it is thought that local option will carry.

Hamilton is voting on a reduction bylaw. A very strenuous campaign, under the direction of Sam Small, has been under way for some time. It is thought a reduction will carry.

Many Places Voting. "There are a large number of municipalities voting on local option today," said Mr. D. A. McDonald, secretary of the Temperance League. "I know that 161 municipalities are asking for an expression of opinion. We expect at least 61 to carry the bylaw."

ORGANIZE BUYERS' EXCURSIONS AND ALSO A 100,000 CLUB

Water Commissioner Pocock Contributes $500 to Buyers' Excursion Movement—Looks Like a Live Year for London —Will Inaugurate a Boosting Campaign.

A 100,000 club will be organized in the city. The advantages of the city will be put forward in a most attractive manner, and a publicity campaign will be inaugurated. Whether or not a publicity agent will be named is a matter for future action.

It will be a "Boosters' Club." For some time a number of leading businessmen have had under consideration the organization of such a club, and it is fully believed that before spring it will be perfected, with a number of the leading citizens in control.

Chubs of this sort are very popular in the United States and Canada. In the Canadian West a very large number of them are to be found, and they are meeting with great success. The object will be to induce manufacturers to settle in London, and in other ways to keep the city of London abreast of the times.

Buyers' Excursion. In connection with this it is intended to run buyers' excursions. The club will establish a fund for the purpose of inducing the steam railways and traction companies to give excursion rates to the city.

In many cities large firms run such excursions. The rate is a 25-cent excursion rate, for instance, from certain places, the recipients of such tickets agreeing to go to the firm which sends the tickets, and to buy goods to the value of $5.00.

Purchasing is optional, but the scheme is looked upon with favor as an advertising medium, and as a "booster" for the city.

Contributes $500. To start this fund, Mr. Phil Pocock agreed to subscribe $500. This is the first contribution.

A BATTLE ROYAL AT HAMILTON

Indications Point to a Heavy Vote in Municipal Elections.

Hamilton, Jan. 3.—Indications point to a heavy vote in the municipal elections today. The temperance and hotel interests are engaged in a battle royal for a majority of the council, and the result will be very close. It is thought, however, that the city will go temperance, as the organization behind the citizens' campaign committee is very strong. The centre of interest is in the election of a board of control, for which there are 13 candidates.

THE WEATHER TOMORROW—COLD.

Forecast. Toronto, Jan. 3—S. S. a.m. Today—Fresh to strong westerly to northerly winds; some light snowfalls or flurries, but mostly fair and becoming much colder.

C. P. R. EXPRESS DITCHED BY BROKEN RAIL AT DRUMBO THREE PASSENGERS INJURED

Crowded Train Had Narrow Escape From Complete
Destruction in Accident Forty Miles East of London Last Night.

COACHES WERE SPILLED BY WAYSIDE

Passengers Badly Shaken Up—Some Slightly Hurt, But the Majority Escaped Injury of Any Character—Auxiliaries
Cleared the Tracks By Noon.

THE WRECK.

Train—C. P. R. express No. 3, due in London at 10:50 from Toronto.

Cause—Broken Rail. Place—Dempsey's Siding, four miles west of Drumbo, and 47 miles east of London.

Injured—Mrs. W. Fulton, this city, severely shaken up; John Mordon, of Des Moines, Iowa, nose broken; Mrs. John Walsh, of Detroit, cut over eye. No one seriously hurt. Time—9:54 last night.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Drumbo, January 3.—While running at full speed through a cut five feet deep, C. P. R. express No. 3 struck a broken rail at Dempsey's Siding, four miles west of here, at 9:54 last night and was wrecked.

Three persons were slightly injured by being thrown from their seats.

John Mordon, of Des Moines, Iowa, nose broken. Mrs. John Walsh, of Detroit, slight cut over eye. Mrs. W. Fulton, of London, wife of Mr. W. Fulton, C. P. R. ticket agent, severely shaken up.

The train was made up of Mogul engine No. 1100, a baggage car, a smoker, a day coach and two Pullmans, and was in charge of Conductor J. Anderson, of Toronto, with Engineer W. Pickrell, of West Toronto, in the cab.

The express was crowded with people returning from spending the holiday, and in addition there were a large number of passengers from the west on their way home to visit friends.

The train was making splendid time, and was just approaching the cut when the passengers were suddenly thrown from their seats, and a moment later felt the coaches bumping along over the ties.

COACHES DERAILED.

It went 200 yards before coming to a stand, and as quickly as possible the crew went through the coaches to find if there were any injured.

The engine and baggage coach are lying parallel with the rails and close to the track. The train is turned around and lies directly across the rails, and the day coach and two Pullmans are leaning against the south bank of the cut, which at this point is about five feet deep.

The accident occurred so suddenly that no one had much time to think, and when the train stopped there was a scramble to get outside and see what had happened.

AUXILIARIES ON THE SCENE.

Conductor Anderson at once set out for Inverkip, and notified both London and Toronto.

Auxiliaries arrived from London and West Toronto at midnight, and commenced the work of repairing the line, which is badly torn up for a distance of 200 yards.

It is expected that the line will be open for traffic today. In the meantime C. P. R. trains are being sent over the G. T. R.

The passengers all remained in their coaches, and a special train of empty coaches were sent out from London.

PASSENGERS TRANSFERRED.

It arrived at the scene of the wreck about half-past one this morning, and passengers for western points were transferred, and arrived in London about 5 o'clock this morning. The whole line is completely blocked, and the early morning express went through to Toronto by running over the C. P. R. as far as Woodstock, and from there to Toronto via the Grand Trunk.

The regular 9 o'clock express left London as usual, and passengers were taken as far as Dempsey's Siding, and transferred from there to another train waiting at the east side of the wreck, and carried into Toronto.

MR. VICTOR SMITH. Victor Smith, the well-known football player, and teller at the Huron and Erie, was a passenger in the combination smoker, immediately behind the baggage car. When the air-brake went on he was standing in the aisle, and we had a long and awkward time immediately behind Conductor Anderson, who was in his seat making up a report. Mr. Smith was thrown forward, but grabbed the seats and steadied himself.

MR. FULTON, AGOARD. Among the London people on the train were Mr. and Mrs. W. Fulton. (Continued on Page Eight.)

THE ELECTIONS.

The voting on Saturday showed the electors to have been influenced mainly by two appeals—"new blood" and "economy." Only four members of last year's council survived, by a narrow margin. It was a bad day for the veterans. Several of them met their first reverse. The defeat of old-timers, such as Ald. Cooper, Ald. Gerry and Ald. Garratt, testified to the strength of the feeling in favor of a change. Eight of the twelve aldermen-elect are new to municipal politics.

Ratepayers are uneasy over the enormous financial obligations they have assumed in respect of Niagara power, and are not disposed to add to their burdens if there is any pretext for not doing so. A number of citizens, Mr. Beck in particular, took the responsibility of advising them to vote down every money bill. Two of the bylaws, in The Advertiser's opinion, should have been adopted. The city can get along without a scavenging system so long as it chooses to tolerate filth and dirt. The board of health and other organizations which have been agitating for the reform should not weary in well doing. Perhaps they can produce a scheme next year more fully digested. The absence of a municipal garbage removal service would be a reproach to a city much smaller than London. The sewer bylaw was also rejected, although a system of storm water sewers is absolutely necessary. The city has failed to follow the advice given by the engineers who were consulted when the present system was planned fourteen years ago. The sewers now in use were not intended to take care of storm water, and conditions in some parts of the city are becoming insufferable. It is probable that emergency measures will have to be taken this year, and that money will have to be found somehow. The proposal to spend $70,000 in burying the Niagara power wires in the congested district was properly voted down. It will be time enough to indulge in this luxury when the power scheme is paying its way.

The fact that Messrs. Weekes and Hunt head the poll for the school board may indicate that many people are more impressed by the saving of expenses in the kindergarten system than by the argument that there will be a sacrifice of efficiency under the new regulations. Opposition to the recent changes did not, however, prevent the election of Messrs. Teasdale and Balfour. The introduction of the compulsory vaccination question may have influenced the result.

Messrs. McMahon, Pocock and Wyatt, the newly-elected members of the utilities board, are successful businessmen, and have had civic experience. The inception of the municipal power and light service will make the work of the board this year of great importance.

There were several "states" and "tickets" in the election, but party politics had no place in them. The majority candidates are to be commended for the friendly and non-partisan spirit in which they conducted their campaign.

AFRICA'S BLACK PROBLEM.

The problem of the black race in Africa, which numbers between 140,000,000 and 150,000,000, on an area about double that of Canada and the United States combined, is discussed in the Outlook by W. S. Rainsford—presumably Rev. Dr. Rainsford, well remembered in this city. The writer points out that the country is unevenly distributed, so that the density varies greatly in different parts of the continent, and includes immense wastes that are not likely to be reclaimed. It is estimated that five-sevenths of the population are of the native race. Mr. Rainsford is of the opinion that the black man is in Africa to stay, and will increase in numbers, that the peculiarities of the climate are in his favor, and that the country cannot be a country without him. Taken as a whole, the continent gives little promise of colonization in the full sense of the term. The European powers among which the greater part of the vast territory has been divided, proposes to do something with its natural resources, and to accomplish their purpose they will make use of the native race so far as they can.

The question is, How are these powers to treat these people? The white man has assumed the burden, but he cannot forever treat the natives as if they were animals of the chase. Thus far, Mr. Rainsford says, there have been two lamentable failures in the methods pursued under foreign direction. He accuses the Congo Government of economic waste and monstrous wickedness. The folly of submitting much of richest Africa to the Portuguese, who seem to have learned nothing and forgotten nothing in three hundred years, will also in time be apparent. In both these cases foreign control, far from helping the native, has terrorized and brutalized him. He is the victim of government or corporation slavery, which makes his plight worse than that of the slave of an intelligent master. It is in the master's interest, however cruel he may be, to protect his chattel, but government or corporation slavery is only interested in forcing from him his stint of ivory, rubber or toll.

British rule in South Africa has been free from the atrocious treatment of the blacks, characteristic of Belgium and Portugal in other parts of the continent, and the Imperial Government is ever desirous of bettering their condition. Germany, in making a beginning with industrial schools, shows that she, too, is studying the interests of the native African. Enlightened self-interest should lead to careful training and guidance in all the foreign possessions, and Mr. Rainsford believes that much can be accomplished with patience, sympathy, leadership, and a settled policy of government.

THEN AND NOW.

That great little man, Judge Lindsey, of Denver, points a moral by describing the atrocities of the penal code less than 100 years ago. He cites the case of one Mary Jones, who was hanged in London for theft early in the last century. The parish officers testified that she had lived a praiseworthy life until a press-gang stole her husband from her. She was left with two small children and turned into the streets to beg. She had no food to eat, and they were almost naked. She went into a linen-draper's shop, took some coarse linen off the counter and slipped it under her cloak; the shopman saw her, and she laid it down. She was sentenced to death on the plea that there had been a great deal of shop-lifting on Ludgate street, and an example had to be made of some one. The woman went to the gallows at Tyburn, with her child on her breast. She was only 19 years of age, and the account in the volume, "Old Bailey Experiences," written by James Fraser in 1832, says she was "remarkably handsome."

Many pious and well-meaning people look complacently upon such a sentence, and such a law. No doubt they regarded as "cranks" and sentimentalists the law and prison reformers of that day. The criminal law came through feudalism tainted with extreme respect for property and a corresponding regard for human life and feeling. It has been gradually softened, and the idea of redemption now mingles with that of punishment. We shudder today at the sight of an age-old, far distant—which could hang men, women and children for petty theft. Perhaps 100 years from now people will look back with horror upon some of the features of civilization today. An Englishman, for instance, will read that in his own country early in the twentieth century, in the midst of increasing wealth and luxury, scores of thousands of children were sent to school breakfastless; that hundreds of thousands of wives and little children were compelled to work at hard manual labor, that nearly a million free-born Britons were branded as paupers, supported by public charity; and that several millions lived just above the starvation line. He will read, perhaps, with equal amazement that statesmen who challenged these conditions and attempted to apply remedies, were denounced as traders in class hatred and prejudice, firebrands, and revolutionists.

"Where are the Boys of the Old Brigade?" It is to be hoped the example of a non-partisan election will be also a precedent.

It is a pity the general desire for a change shown by the electors did not include a desire for a cleaner city.

The council will have a year to think over the proposal of a board of control, endorsed by the electors. To define the functions of such a board will not be an easy matter, in view of the fact that there are now about 75 members of various governing bodies, appointed and elected.

Mr. Balfour feels impelled to publicly warn his followers that tariff reform will not cure unemployment, though he claims it will be a palliative. The "whole-hoggers" are angry at him for repudiating their cry that a 10 per cent tariff will make England an industrial paradise.

SEAGULLS AND WRIGHT.

The brains of these two seagulls were undoubtedly in a state of very intense celebration when the following incident, during Wilbur Wright's aeroplane flight

at New York, occurred:
Seagulls, the prototype of Wright's machine, seemed to be as much interested in his flight as the people on shore. Two of the birds started with him at Governor's Island and accompanied him up the river. They were the only living things that could keep up with him. One of them was still with him when he returned. At times it flew along under his craft, like a coach dog under a cart.

There must have been lively discussion among the gulls in New York bay when they heard the report of the bird that followed Wright up and down the stream. No official statement has been given out, but it may be fancied that before adjourning the gulls passed unanimously a resolution that Wilbur Wright should be made an honorary member of the Seagull Union.

DOING HER BEST.

(Puck.)
"I have tried," she replied, kindly but firmly.
"My rich aunt has just died," he went on.
"In that case, dear, I will try again."

SELF-DECEIVING MACE.

(Life.)
Many a man passes for wise because he asks questions which cannot be answered even by himself.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

(Saturday Evening Post.)
A traveler in Arkansas came to a cabin and heard a terrifying series of groans and yells. It sounded as if murder was being committed.

He rushed in and found a gigantic negro woman beating a wretched little old man with a club, while he cried for mercy.

"Here, woman," shouted the traveler, "what do you mean by beating that man?"

"He's mah husband, an' I'll beat him all I likes," she replied, giving the man a few more cracks by way of emphasis.

"No matter if he is your husband, you have no right to murder him."

"Go 'long, white man, an' luf me alone. I'll swab beat him some more."

"What has he done?"

"What's he done? Why, this triflin' 'nigger nigger done let de door of my chicken house open, an' all mah chickens done gone out."

"Pshaw, that's nothing. They will come back."

"Come back? No, sah, they'll go back."

EXPLANATION DEMANDED.

(The Bits.)
"Did you ever stop to think, my dear," said Mr. Mcawber, gazing at his plate of lobster salad, "what the things we love most in this life are the very things that never agree with us?"

"Will you be so kind," said Mrs. Mcawber, straightening up, "as to tell me whether you are speaking of the salad or of me, sir?"

DIFFERENT FROM FRANCE.

(The Press.)
In France a divorced woman forfeits her alimony if she marries again, according to a national law. In this state there is no law against a woman living with her tenth husband and drawing alimony from each of his nine predecessors if they are still living.

"This is where a woman has greater protection from the government under which she lives than her French sisters. The courts may, at times step in to prevent her from being downed by her own man, but the woman has the law in her favor."

IMPOLITENESS NOT INTENTIONAL.

(New York Times.)
A man hired a Swedish carpenter to repair some blinds on the outside of his house. During the day the man's wife looked after things, and once or twice came out to see if the man was getting on all right.

"Is there anything you need, Mr. Swenson?" she asked on her second trip. The carpenter gulped once or twice, but made no reply. The lady repeated the question.

"Again a gulp, and no answer. 'Why don't you answer me, sir?' said the lady, indignantly.

The Swedish man turned and looked down at her gravely.

"My mouth is full of screws," he said. "I cannot speak until I swallow some."

SHARING THE BURDEN.

(London Post.)
"Little boy," asks the well-meaning reformer, "is that your mamma over yonder with the beautiful set of furs?"

"Yes, sir," answers the bright lad. "Well, do you know what poor animal it is that has had to suffer in order that your mamma might have the furs with which she adorns herself so proudly?"

"Yes, sir, my papa."

TROUBLE IN ROOM 23.

(Independent.)
Speaking of accommodating hotel managers, said Mr. Morgan, "the best I ever met was in a small western town. I reached the hotel late in the evening. Just before I went to bed I heard a scuffling under the bed and saw a couple of big rats playing tag. I rushed down to the office to complain. The manager was as serene as a summer breeze. 'I'll make it all right, sir. Here, boy, take a cat to room 23 at once.'

[The author of the following beautiful little poem is unknown.]
A little maid with sweet blue eyes
Looked upward with a shy surprise
Because I asked her name;
While she bent her golden head,
While o'er her face soft blushes spread
Like some swift, sunny flame;
Then looking up she softly said:
"My name is Mother's Darling."

"Tell me your mother's name's my dear." The little maid went up to her—
"Why, mother's name's like mine, you know."
And just because we love her so,
We call her Mother Darling."

"Tell me your father's name," I cried;
The little maiden's eyes grew wide;
"My father? Don't you know?"
Like some swift, sunny flame,
Mother and I have always tried
To cheer him from his sorrowing;
And so we always just love best.

To call him Father Darling."

"What did you call the baby, dear?" The answer came quite low, but clear: "The baby—oh, I wonder what they call him now in heaven? But we had only one name here, and that was Baby Darling."

Swift years flew by, and once again that little mind so tender, stood by my side, but she had grown. Like lilacs, tall and slender; This time 'twas I that called her name, and it became a dressing case with a French plate mirror. USEFUL CONTRIVANCE.

(The Bits.)
Mrs. De Plat—Can you show me anything new in folding beds?

"Quite a success," on arising in the morning you touch a spring and it turns into a washstand and bathtub. After your bath you touch another spring and it becomes a dressing case with a French plate mirror. If you breakfast in your room a slight pressure will transform it into an extension table. After breakfast you press these buttons at once, and you will have an upright piano. That's all it will do, except that when you die it can be changed into a rosewood coffin.

COMMERCE ON THE LAKES

Nearly 2,000,000 Greater Last Month Than in November, 1908.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The volume of commerce on the great lakes during the month of November was nearly 2,000,000 tons greater than for the corresponding month last year, and more than a million tons in excess of that for November, 1907, according to figures of the department of commerce and labor.

All items showed an increase in volume, excepting lumber, with one exception, the increase. The total tonnage for the month of November during the three years was: In 1909, 9,962,811; 1908, 9,434,404; 1907, 8,951,851. The total for the season to the end of November is given as 79,040,047, with 59,333,822 and 32,365,841 net tons reported for the corresponding periods of 1908 and 1907.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—An insurance of $2,000,000 against fire has been placed on the buildings and contents of the University of Toronto, at a rate of 85 cents per $1,000 for three years.

The amount of insurance is about $350,000 in advance of the amount of former years, due to the increase in buildings and the new equipments in the various departments.

The Provincial Government has placed an insurance against fire of $60,000 on the books in the temporary legislative library in the private house in Queen's Park. The rate is 95 cents per $1,000 for three years.

BOY DETECTIVE SOLVED MYSTERY

An Eighteen-Year-Old Sleuth Located Express Robbery Thieves.

DOLSON'S CONFESSION

Tells How He Plotted and Carried Out the $14,000 Theft at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 2.—The arrest of Cashier Dolson for the theft of $14,000 from the company and the clearing away of the deep mystery that has surrounded the bold express robbery of Nov. 4 is proving even a greater sensation than the hold-up itself.

Dolson, who was first suspected of having some knowledge of the hold-up, has withstood the onslaught of a score of the best detectives of two detective agencies and as many more express officials and police officers. The last line-up of Dolson and his associates, the clearest of two detectives, after gathering what they considered the best theory to follow, they placed one of their men in the express office to work alongside of Dolson and do his every move. Another they employed at the Carborundum works at Niagara Falls, N. Y., where Paul S. Whistler, an ex-employee of the United States Express company, and known companion of Dolson, worked, the latter being a frequent visitor at the home of the former prior to the robbery, but has not been there since.

Gathering Evidence.

The young man detective set on Whistler's tracks was only 18 years of age, and hailed from Montreal. He made a companion of Whistler and accompanied him to all his haunts, one of these being a cheap saloon at 1913 Main street, where pool tables are run; also a room in the rear where games of chance are said to be carried on.

The young detective made himself a good "all rounder" and soon gathered sufficient evidence to place a third detective in the role of saloon "hogger," looking for occasional free drinks. The detective in the express office learned that a set of furs had been received for a certain address and returned to Toronto, and a set valued at $125 was sent. These furs were taken care of by Dolson just before Christmas. The following Sunday a detective shadowed Dolson and his accomplices to a church and sat immediately behind them, and noted the value of the furs. Dolson was taken up and questioned about where he got the money to purchase such furs. The first sign of his guilt came in the replies to the questions he gave.

Admits the Theft.

Last Thursday the chief of the Thiel detectives brought Dolson to the Hotel Savoy and behind closed doors cross-examined him for three hours, and having sufficient evidence from Whistler's confession in the case, caused Dolson to break down and make a full confession of the whole affair, implicating Whistler and Flynn and two other unknown men. Although the detectives and officers will not speak or give a word of Dolson's confession, sufficient has been learned that the whole plot was conceived in the minds of Whistler and Flynn, and Dolson, being approached, consented. This was as far back as last August. Once or twice previous to Nov. 4, attempts were made to pull off the job, but something would intervene to prevent it.

It was known that on the afternoon of the robbery Dolson called up his insurance company, for Flynn to hand over $1,500 as he had to get out of town and go to Florida. It is said this letter got into the hands of the detectives.

The Theft.

It has been learned on good authority that Flynn engaged two unknown thugs to pull off the job, Whistler driving the pair over to the Canadian side of the river and to the corner of Welland avenue and Bridge street, about two blocks west of the depot. The two thugs got out of the rig at this point, leaving Whistler in charge of it. They walked down to opposite the little express office and waited the signal from Dolson, which was to be uplifted right hand along with cheek. This given the two men walked into the office, entering the door next to the station, Dolson handed the package over to one of the men, who covered it with a black cloth, and quietly walked out up Bridge street to the waiting-room. The other man said "Turn round Dolson and let me hit you on the back of the head." Dolson turned around and received the blow that felled him to the floor uncon-

CAMPAIGN NOTES FROM OLD LAND

Incidents Amusing and Other wise of the Election Fight.

MR. BOWLES' APPLE STALL

How One Unionist Agent Missed Fire
On a Grand Opportunity.

London, Jan. 2.—An amusing campaign incident has been related by Mr. A. Lister, the Liberal candidate for the Tewkesbury division. A Circulator laborer was standing filling his pipe when the enterprising Tory agent, seeing a grand opportunity of pointing out the wickedness of the Government, remarked: "Ab, John, your tobacco costs you more now. I should think you will not vote Radical again." And John replied: "I have figured it out. My tobacco costs me one penny per week more; but my mother is 73 years old, and the Liberal Government is giving her 3s a week pension. I reckon my family is 11d per week better off, so I am not going to change this time."

A Challenge to Farm.

Speaking at a meeting at Billingham, Lincolnshire, Mr. G. H. Parkin, the Liberal candidate for the Stamford division, was frequently interrupted by a Tory enthusiast—a well-known farmer in the district. He remarked that, being a commercial traveller, Mr. Parkin knew nothing about the requirements of an agricultural constituency. In reply Mr. Parkin said that at one time he worked on the farm and did such work as milk cows, spud thistles and assist in the harvest field. He considered it no disgrace to do such work as that. He became poor and had suffered many privations. He was going to sit in the House of Commons to try to ameliorate the condition of the poor. (Applause.)

The interrupter thereupon said that he could find a man who would do three times as much work on a farm as he (Mr. Parkin) would. Mr. Parkin's retort was that he would accept the challenge without the slightest hesitation, if the man referred to was his political opponent—Hon. Claude Williams—and he would begin the task by cleaning the pigs.

Mr. A. M. S. Methuen, the Liberal candidate for Guildford, who in just over a month has outdistanced in popularity the Tory candidate, Mr. W. E. Forrester, who has been before the constituency two years, mentioned at a local meeting that in the local cemetery there lay the remains of James Webster, who, as a member of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, was one of six who assisted Cobden and Bright to found the Anti-Corn Law League. The inscription on Webster's tombstone is as follows:

In Loving Memory of James Webster Esq., Merchant, late of Constantinople and Liverpool, born at Brechin, N. B., died in this parish Dec. 15, 1868, aged 77. He studied at the Universities of Aberdeen and Glasgow—a Mathematician, a Linguist, a Traveller, and a Political Economist.

As a member of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce he was one of six persons who assisted Richard Cobden, M. P., and John Bright, M. P., to found the famous Anti-Corn Law League, which abolished the landlords' tax on the people's food. This tomb was erected by his sister, Mrs. White, late of Cheltenham, and his brother, George Webster, M. D., of Dulwich, and J. P. for this country.

An Effective Retort.

Mr. Methuen, by the way, was able to make a neat retort to a questioner at a village meeting in the division. Do you adhere, asked a local Tory leader, "to your statement that in searching English history you can find nothing that the Lords have done for the benefit of the working classes? Do you happen to remember Lord Shaftesbury?" "Yes, I do remember Lord Shaftesbury," Mr. Methuen retorted. "It was Lord Shaftesbury who said that never in the whole history of civilized politics was there any policy so cruel and so hard on the people as the policy of the House of Lords."

A Fine Retort.

One of the best scores of the election has to be credited to Mr. Philip Snowden, M. P., who, with Sir Thomas Barclay, is confronted by Lord Robert Cecil, and Mr. Stewart Bowles, M. P., with the fine courtesy of the "gentlemanly party," said Mr. Snowden, "ability enough to keep an apple stall."

Mr. Snowden had said that of Mr. Bowles; I should have said that of Mr. Snowden. He made a very definite appeal as to the second vote. At the last election, he said when he was asked his advice, he replied that the man who had sense enough to vote for him had sense enough to know what to do with his second vote. This time he must go farther. All questions were overshadowed by the House of Lords issue, and the second vote should be given to the candidate who was against the Lords.

Why Not Sign It?

There is a Tory enthusiast in the Faversham division, Mr. Kenneth Neame, who has been elected as Liberal. He was the cause of much laughter at a meeting addressed by Mr. Neame, a member of the Liberal Government. He quoted an account of the little incident from the Faversham and Northeast Kent News, the Liberator in question, Mr. Herbert Neame, asked for a deed by which the man from the platform, as he being given, Mr. Neame promptly unburdened himself.

Among other things, he said, he would guarantee that when tariff reform was an accomplished fact, he would increase his men's wages. Dr. Napier at once asked him if he would put the guarantee in writing. Mr. Neame replied that he had come away without his fountain pen and a sheet of paper.

Dr. Napier promptly overcame this trifling difficulty by producing his own pen and a piece of paper, and the amusement of the audience, but Mr. Neame then wriggled out by saying that there was no need for him to sign as he was so well known. (Roars of laughter.)

Another Guarantee.

In answer to Sir Henry Norman's suggestion that the agreement entered into by Sir Alfred Hickman—to pay double pensions to old-age pensioners in Wolverhampton parliamentary borough—might lead to the consequence of the action of a Conservative Government—was not legally binding, because of lack of consideration, Sir Alfred has now published the deed, or deed, by which he binds himself, his heirs, executors, and administrators to pay the amount. This, he states, an eminent counsel has certified to be a valid document, and that it can be legally enforced in a court of law.

All that need be remarked is that it is the Tories' own fault if their promise is not kept, for they have signed it. Sir Alfred has been so suspicious that he has had local leaders find it necessary or advisable to make a legal guarantee such as that signed by Sir Alfred Hickman.

A Popular Candidate.

Mr. B. S. Jones, the present member for Mile End, has been adopted as Liberal candidate at the general election by the Mile End Liberal and Radical Association. The proceedings were enthusiastic and a large number of members of the last Parliament has worked with greater energy for his constituents than has Mr. Straus. He has looked after their interests in every possible way. His most recent effort was in connection with the contract for a Dreadnought for the Thames, and it was largely due to his work and that of Sir John Bethell, M. P., and Mr. W. Pearce, M. P. for Lincolnshire, that the matter was pressed forward so successfully. He had also exerted himself in the matter of the speed of the ship. His most recent effort was in connection with the contract for a Dreadnought for the Thames, and it was largely due to his work and that of Sir John Bethell, M. P., and Mr. W. Pearce, M. P. for Lincolnshire, that the matter was pressed forward so successfully.

A pamphlet has been circulated in the division by some Roman Catholics accusing Mr. Straus of breaking his pledges because he voted some years ago in favor of the inspection of Roman Catholic convents. Mr. Straus points out that if the question was raised again in the same form, he would do as he did before. He could be no party to allowing a Roman Catholic or any other convent competing unfairly with outside industries, and therefore he voted for their inspection under the factory acts. On May 18, 1909, however, the question came up again, but in the meantime, the Roman Catholics decided that their bakeries and laundries should not be exempt from inspection, but they did not desire that their religious institutions should be inspected, and that occasion Mr. Straus voted with the Irish members and against the proposal for the inspection of convents.

TRAINS TO GOWGANDA

New T. and N. O. Line From Sellow Declared Formally Open.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—By an order of the board of railway commissioners, issued today, the C. N. O. Railway's new line between Sellow and Gowganda Junction has been declared formally opened for traffic. A through passenger service between Sallow and the new terminal point will accordingly be inaugurated, to commence on Jan. 3, 1910.

A few days ago one of the commission's engineers went over this new extension, 20 miles long, in company with Mr. Angus Sinclair, the railway contractor who constructed the branch.

A passenger rate of 2 cents a mile will be charged on the line, in harmony with the charges imposed all over the Province.

This new piece of railroad places Toronto in closer connection with the mining country lying to the west of Gowganda Lake than ever.

PEARY'S STEAMER WILL NOT BE SOLD

Offer to Purchase the Roosevelt Refused by U. S. Officials.

Washington, Jan. 2.—An offer to purchase the steamer Roosevelt, in which Commander Peary made his last trip to the Arctic regions preparatory to his dash for the North Pole, has been declined by the treasury department.

The promoters of the Peary expedition were of the opinion that the Roosevelt would be available to patrol duty in Bering Sea, where the Government annually dispatches a vessel for the purpose of preventing illegal sealing, and that it might be attached to that branch of the service. No price was put on the ship.

RADIANT HAIR

New York Society Women's Hair Matched Only by Parisians.

While much attention is given to choicest gowns by New York society women, the turbulent fad just now is the care of the hair.

For many years the clever women of Paris have been famed for the magnificent beauty of their hair. "Glorious hair," a Virginian calls it, "so radiant and luxuriant that it not only attracts but fascinates and compels unstinted admiration."

But now that the elite of New York, ever anxious to improve their beauty, have learned that Parisian Sage, a remarkable and almost marvellous hair nourisher and beautifier, is almost entirely responsible for the charming hair of the ladies of France, the demand for it has become enormous.

Parisian Sage is now sold all over Canada, and in London by W. T. Strong, who is glad to guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. Large bottles 50 cents.

Cost $1,000,000.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 3.—Work on the second of four race tracks planned by the Mexican Jockey Club will begin soon near the City of Mexico. The subsequently constructed tracks at Guadalajara and Monterrey.

The Mexican Government is lending moral and financial support to these ventures, and is not inclined to regard seriously the attempt by various reform bureaus to induce Congress to ask for the suppression of racing and betting at Jurez.

Preparing for Lumbago!

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One
Rubbing Will Cure The Pain.

THOUSANDS USE "NERVILINE"

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested cords and muscles.

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Millan, a farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, and for days at a time I would have to lie up. I tried to move or turn. Lumbago, pneumonia, and other ailments failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test 'Nerviline.' I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, Sciatica, neuralgia and Rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline.

SOMEONE IS KIDDING
CATCHER GEO. GIBSON

New York Dispatch Says That He Is Seeing Spooks "in Wilds Near London."

Someone is kidding Mooney Gibson. A "Duckoo" from New York states that he is writing a tale of a phantom black-rabbit, which he has seen at different times "in the wilds near London, Canada."

George says that the story started with a series of cartoons in the Pittsburgh Dispatch, and that New Yorkers have evidently fallen for the story as a true one.

The Pipes.
New York, Jan. 3.—George Gibson, premier catcher of the National League, is bending his hand to literature. He is writing a great yarn called "The Phantom Black Rabbit," based on a remarkable adventure. It seems that for two winters Gibson has been chasing a mighty animal in the wilds near London, Canada, his home.

Lake Gibson says the thing it loomed up fully three feet high. Just as Gibson was about to pull the trigger, the animal disappeared into the night. Only its tracks convinced Gibson that he was not dreaming.

LIBERALS WILL HAVE MAJORITY OUTSIDE LABORITES AND IRISH; THE BETTING FAVORS ASQUITH

Centre of Aristocratic Wagering in Old London—Expects Government To Be Returned and the Victory Is Indicated by the Investigation in the Divisions.

London, Jan. 2.—Another week's electoral energy has passed without yielding much assistance to the would-be prophets. Never in modern times has a British election aroused such widespread interest at home and abroad, and never has one been fought on such a confusion of issues. The questions of the House of Lords, the budget and tariff reform occupy public interest, not to equal degrees, but to a varying extent in different localities.

Investigation into the feeling among the constituencies seems to point to the Government returning to power with a small majority, although the possibility of a Unionist landslide cannot be dismissed as an absurdity. Nothing has occurred to show that Blatchford's articles on the German peril have become an issue, but they have certainly been widely read, for apart from their publication in a newspaper with the greatest circulation, they have been issued as a two-cent pamphlet. One of the many railway stations ordered 500 copies only the first day and found itself obliged to increase the order daily until it reached 63,000 on the fifth day after the publication.

GERMANS NOT SEEKING WAR.

Charles Luchmann, a German writer of Anglophile sentiments denies in the Nineteenth century that Germany had any ambitious attack on Great Britain, although he admits that she is desirous of annexing new lands under the pressure of an increased population. But India, he maintains, does not attract Germany. Neither does Egypt, Australia or Canada, nor would the Monroe doctrine permit her landing in America. She may covet Java or Sumatra, but "the day is not far distant when Asia Minor will fall to pieces. It would be a contretemps to Germany's liking. Who could prevent annexation in that direction when Germany would only have to walk through Austria to plant her flag on the desired spot?"

A. J. Balfour, Lord Curzon and Lord Milner are leading the opposition's fight with Asquith. Chamberlain putting tariff reform to the front and Lord Curzon declaring that a hereditary chamber is sure to contain more able men than an elective one, has been the most discussed utterance of the week.

THE BETTING.

Betting at White's Club, which is the sporting rendezvous for the aristocracy is even that the Liberals will have a small majority independent of the Laborites and the Irish members. The Liberals already are conceding the loss of some London constituencies which turned the color of the last election and which will be the first to poll in the coming election.

London, Jan. 2.—At a conference of representatives of various trades unions here today it was decided that the organization should declare themselves in favor of an alteration in the definition of a trades union as given by the House of Lords in the recent case of Osborne v. The Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, so as to allow unions to engage in the political activities that they have pursued from 1868 to the present time.

This is conditional on the approval of the members of the various unions, at a special conference which is to be held at Newport on Feb. 8. The effect of the resolution, if approved, will be the introduction of a motion in the House of Commons early in the session of the new parliament, asking for an alteration of the definition and scope of a trades union.

The House of Lords' decision referred to was that unions could not contribute to election funds. It came up through the practice of assessing members of the unions to pay salaries to labor members of Parliament.

Reform of the Lords.

Lord Curzon, at Burnley, said the members of the House of Lords ought to be reduced from 600 to something like 400. They ought also to relieve from the duty of obligation of attending those peers who had neither the aptitude nor inclination to engage in their duties. Their idea also was to make the entry for a hereditary peer into the House of Lords the fact that he had rendered some qualifying service to his country in a public capacity. For his part he would not object to an elective element.

He predicted that as the result of the present controversy there would emerge a House of Lords remodelled on something like the lines he had placed before them.

Lord Crewe's Appeal.

The Earl of Crewe addressed an enthusiastic meeting of Liberals at Burnley. His lordship's arrival in the town was delayed by a snowstorm. "If a day or so ago," said Lord Crewe, "anybody had ventured to say that the House of Lords was going to reject a budget, I think the friends of the speaker would kindly and hurriedly have changed the conversation, and when he had the vision of a room would have been touched by torches to indicate where they considered his disorder was located." (Laughter and cheers.)

If the people accepted the present situation like a flock of sheep with blent submission, all he could say was that their forefathers, the great parliamentarians of the nineteenth century, and the great liberalists of the nineteenth century, all would rise from their graves and cry "Shame!" (Cheers.)

Peers Poor Patriots.

Mr. Walter Runciman, who addressed a meeting at St. George's Hall, Bradford, organized by the Liberal Association for the neighboring division of Shipley, referred to the visit of Earl Curzon to the town. He had just stated that if home rule were passed a foreign fleet would soon appear at the port of Belfast.

"I think we may reassure him on that point," said Mr. Runciman. "If a foreign fleet goes to Belfast, it will either be on a visit of courtesy or as prizes flying the British flag. (Cheers.) These noble lords, too little faithful in their own country, and if the patriotism is to be measured by that fear it is quite consistent with his views on British trade."

Some of those who now sat in the Lords and formerly sat in the Commons were declared by popular constituencies to be unfit to sit in the Commons, and Lord Curzon was one of them. (Laughter and cheers.)

Revolutionary Peers.

Mr. Masterman, M. P., spoke at a Liberal meeting in Coventry in support of the candidature of Mr. Silas K. Hocking, and met with an enthusiastic reception.

Mr. Masterman said it was stated that the Liberals were trying to stampede the country with the cry of the House of Lords, as they stamped it with the cry of Chinese slavery. The comparison was not flattering to the Lords. (Laughter.) It was the Lords, who had thrown down the challenge, who were on the side of revolution.

It was intended to perform two operations immediately—first to repel the invasion on the rights of the Commons in finance, and to say that invasion should never occur again; second, to

WORKY OF HINDUS

Colony in British Columbia Planning to Bring Their Families From India.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Representatives from Vancouver, who are members of the local colony, have sent a letter to their relatives in India, asking them to come to join them in the colony, which is now being organized in British Columbia.

The people of British Columbia are opposed to an increase in immigration, and are especially opposed to the coming of Hindus, who are said to be bringing their families with them. The Hindus are said to be bringing their families with them, and are said to be bringing their families with them.

The British Columbian Parliament repeatedly enacted laws designed to exclude all Asiatics, but out of consideration for Japan, as well as for the subjects in India, the Dominion Government disallowed these laws.

Now, it is reported that the Hindus have been asked to leave Canada. This will mean the end of the race in British Columbia. The Dominion Government has not been called on to inquire into this aspect of the case, but it is stated that if the Hindus are expelled, the Dominion Government will be required to pay the cost of their removal.

DIVORCE FOR FIVE YEARS

Couple May Return to Each Other Then, Says the Court.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Judge V. S. Reiter, in the Lake County superior court at Hammond, declined yesterday to grant Robert Wohrie and his wife an absolute divorce, but gave a "limited divorce" for five years. The Wohries were married in 1904, and their relationship is likely to be after the five years have expired, Wohrie is a Standard Oil Company employee.

Statistics are given from the evidence that incompatibility of temper was the only reason for separation and that the limited divorce was all that should be allowed.

Both are forbidden marrying any one else during the five years. They must be reconciled sooner. At the end of this period, however, they may return to each other and the original marriage holds good.

COACHES SAVED THE COLE.

"The only thing that saved the passengers from being killed," said a railroad man who was on the train, to The Advertiser today, "was the solid manner in which the coaches were constructed. Notwithstanding the terrific bumping they got, the day coach and Pullmans are absolutely unharmed, and as soon as placed back on the tracks will be ready to continue their journey. I was sitting in the day coach when I felt the emergency air brake go on, and with others was thrown from my seat. The train was enough to throw several little children out of their mother's arms, and one or two little ones fell against seats and had their faces hurt."

COACHES BUMPED OVER TIES.

A moment later there was a terrific jolt, and jumping as the coaches started to bump along over the ties, the coach that I was in went about 10 yards and then stopped. I never saw a bump like that before. The passengers seemed never to have thought of a wreck, but were more interested in recovering their seats after being thrown out by the application of the air brake, and by the time they had done so the cars had stopped. Several of the men went out to see what had happened. They did not hurry, and they were in no excitement. When we got out I found that the engine, the baggage coach and the smoker had broken away from the rest of the train, and were about 150 yards up the track.

COACHES WERE UNHARMED.

"The day coach and the two Pullmans were both off the rails, and the Pullmans were leaning over at an angle of about 45 degrees, with their sides against the south side of the track. The coaches were unharmed in any way. On going up to the other coaches I found that the smoker was tilted at an angle of about 45 degrees, and had apparently struck heavily against the baggage coach, for both the end of the baggage coach and the end of the smoker were smashed slightly. The rest of the car was not injured in any way. The engine and tender and baggage car were standing close to the rest of the train, and almost parallel with them. The track was badly torn up."

OFFICIALS COURTEOUS.

"The C. P. R. officials were most courteous, and did everything possible to make the passengers comfortable. Superintendent McNeill came down and comforted the passengers, and another train to take the passengers back. When we reached Woodstock refreshments were provided by the C. P. R. free of charge, and then we came on to London. When the accident first happened the crew of the train were looking for any who might be hurt, and all who were hurt in any way were cared for at once."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Jan. 2.—That there was not a heavy death list as the result of an accident on the C. P. R. half-way between Dresden and Inverness, last night at 10 o'clock, is little short of a miracle.

Express No. 3, due in Woodstock at 10:10, was coming along at 50 miles an hour, when it suddenly left the rails, due, it is thought, to the breaking of a wheel on the tender.

Instantly there were scenes of the wildest terror. Passengers were thrown from their seats, and those in the sleepers were tossed from their berths.

Occurred in Cut.

Fortunately, the run-off occurred in a deep cut, and the cars piled up against the side of the bank, or were thrown across the track. Had the accident occurred on an elevation lives must have been lost.

A Child's Escape.

Apart from this possibility no one was seriously injured. One man whose name is unknown was thrown from his berth in the opposite section, and his nose was broken. Several passengers were badly bruised and shaken up. A little child in the day coach was thrown from her seat under a seat on

CZARINA DYING
Empress of Russia Expected to Pass Away at Any Moment.

Livadia, Jan. 2.—Upon high authority it can be stated that the Czarina has suffered another complete mental breakdown. Her condition is serious, and at one time today she was thought to be dying. Each of these attacks leaves her weaker than previously, and a frequent recurrence of them could only have a fatal termination. Specialists who understand the Czarina's constitution have been hastily summoned from St. Petersburg, and her majesty is never left night or day.

All hope of a permanent cure of the Czarina has been abandoned. She seldom has lucid moments or a clear brain, and in these moments she is so concerned over the czar and her children that a nervous spell completely prostrates her and beclouds her mind.

BLUE-PATTERSON

The home of Mrs. Alex. Patterson was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 29, at 5 p.m., when her daughter, Mary Ann, was married to Douglas Blue, of Waltham. The ceremony took place in the parlor under an arch of evergreens, officiated by Rev. T. P. Atkinson, priest of the Holy Trinity.

The bride was given away by her brother, Douglas Patterson, and was becomingly attired in a princess gown of cream satin, with satin and lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white hyacinths. After congratulations and good wishes the guests to the number of forty repaired to the dining-room, which was decorated in red and white, to partake of the beautiful wedding dinner.

The presents were many and beautiful. The groom's gift to the bride was a fur-lined coat and to Miss K. Patterson a pearl crescent brooch. The bride went away in a blue suit, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Blue left on the ten o'clock train amid showers of rice and good wishes for Hamilton and Toronto. They will be at home to their friends after Jan. 5. Guests were present from Dutton, Lalgie, Iona Station and Waltham.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Canon Bryan, of Toronto, a former Londoner. The bride was charming in a princess gown of ivory silk, wearing a tall veil. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Olive M. Tune, of Toronto, formerly of this city, was as sweet as ever in a dainty gown of white silk mull, and carried a huge bouquet of Killarney roses. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Edgar Nelles.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelles left on the 6:50 train for points east. The bride wore a smart tailored costume of grey, with hat to match, and mink furs.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Dr. Balfour is the newcomer on the board of education. This is his first venture into the municipal arena also. The New Commissioners.

Of the three new members of the water commission but one, ex-Ald. W. J. Clack, had experience on the council. He served as alderman for some years, but had nothing to do with the commission. Both Mr. Pocock and Mr. McMahon are new to the work, although both have rendered efficient service on the court of revision.

No Politics.
The election was a quiet one, but in spite of the smooth surface there were many undercurrents. The new commissioners had taken neutral ground, and the question of politics was absolutely eliminated.

Election returns came in slowly, but it was very evident that the winning that a great change would be made in the personnel of all the civic bodies.

The race was a close run for the twelfth place on the aldermanic ticket. With but one sub-division to hear from, Ald. Cooper led Ald. Rose by 10 votes, and looked like a winner. When the figures did come in, Ald. Rose was found to be far in the lead. It was a hard blow for the old war horse.

Mayor-Elect Speaks.
Shortly after nine o'clock, Mayor-Elect Beattie addressed the gathering in front of The Advertiser.

"I want to thank you all heartily for the honor you have done me in electing me today," he began. "It is an honor of which any man might be proud, and I hope to prove worthy of the great confidence you have reposed in me. I have stood as an advocate of no politics in civic affairs, and I stand in The Advertiser window, as I stand in the Press window, with the people have spoken today as being in favor of no politics, and I trust that a precedent has been established that will result in much good for the city."

"I have made mistakes in the past, but where these have been made they have been of the head, not of the heart. I again thank you, and I thank the press for their fairness. I have been a fair fight. My opponent and I have been, and are still, on the best of terms. I again thank you, and wish you all a Happy New Year."

Ald. Ferguson.
Ald. Ferguson followed.

"I stand before you tonight the defeated candidate," he said. "I am pleased to think that I allowed my name to go before the electors. In that I have done a great service for the city, my friend, Ald. Beattie. We have done another service. We have shown the people that two men can fight a good battle and still be friends. Dan and Fred are just as good friends now as when this contest began, and we will be until the end of the piece. Ald. Beattie will make a good mayor, and a man of whom we may be proud. If the council elected is as good as he is, the city will be well governed. I thank you all for the service done me. The people have spoken and I am satisfied. I will now leave more time for my own business."

Mr. Adam McMahon.
Mr. A. T. McMahon, who was elected at the head of the water commission slate, thanked the electors for their support.

"I am glad something practical has been done today in wiping out politics from municipal life," he declared. "In my canvass I found many political friends arrayed against me, but the citizens were not so divided. I will do my utmost to serve you faithfully, and will hope that you will be satisfied."

"The press gave every man a fair fighting chance, and I thank them. On behalf of all the commissioners-elect, I thank you for your support."

Mr. R. C. Eckert.
Mr. R. C. Eckert, who headed the aldermanic slate, also spoke. "I thank you for placing me at the head of the poll," he said. "It is an honor I little anticipated. At this season of the year it is customary to turn over a new leaf, and the electors seem to have done so in this case. With many new men on the council we will need the sympathy and assistance of the citizens in working out our business. Let us all get together and boost for the city. I thank you."

Many other successful candidates were present, but they did not speak.

THE CANADIAN NOBLES TO HAVE SPECIAL RATES

Railways Offering Unusual Inducements for Those Going To Shriners' Convention.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
New Orleans, La., Jan. 2.—Representatives of the Imperial Council, Mystic Shrine, as well as all Shriners over the States, Canada and Mexico, will enjoy a special round trip rate of one fare, plus 25 cents, which was recently granted by the Southwestern Passenger Association. This valuable concession was made for the benefit of all Shriners who desire to attend the 26th annual session of the Imperial Council in New Orleans, beginning April 11, 12 and 13.

Have Many Routes.
The association met here and besides granting the foregoing, made it possible for the nobles in different sections to get the benefit of diversified routing. Those who take advantage of this will have an opportunity of seeing two sections of the country instead of one.

Announcement is also made that tickets will be placed on sale in Washington, D.C., Evansville, Cincinnati, and points in Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia, April 9, 10 and 11.

The sale in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana becomes effective April 12.

The return limit will be good until April 25, but tickets may be extended to May 10 upon the payment of $1 to a special agent.

In accordance with the request of the Shriners for a diverse routing, arrangements may be made from Cincinnati, Cairo, St. Louis, Louisville, Norfolk and Washington, as well as other northern points for the journey to New Orleans over one road and the return trip over another. This may be secured by the payment of about $5 in excess of the regular rate.

There is not the slightest doubt but that these valuable concessions will have a tendency to encourage a larger crowd to visit this city during the present period. It is also safe to presume that similar concessions will be granted by other lines not in the Southwestern Passenger Association. The latter organization is composed of all the lines east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers.

Having been informed of the action of the Southwestern Passenger Association, the executive committee of Jerusalem Temple is directing its attention to the programme of entertainment and the reception of the representatives who attend the Imperial Council session, as well as all Shriners who may visit New Orleans this coming April. Secretary Joseph Simi, in a recent announcement said the programme will be peculiarly local, unique in every respect, and of the very highest character. The decorations and illumination will also be of a unique and novel, and at the same time appropriate. On the whole the visiting Shriners will be royally entertained by Jerusalem Temple next April.

FOUND DEAD.

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—Dr. Wm. Monish, formerly a physician in Atlanta, Ga., was found dead in his hotel last night. An empty chloroform bottle lay behind the bed. He was 43 years old, and leaves a 13-year-old daughter. Dr. Roa Monish, his wife, committed suicide at her home in Atlanta several months ago, after having been guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment for violation of the United States postal laws.

STILL GUESSING OVER CONVENTION

Conservatives Now Said to Have Arranged Meeting for Next Fall.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—It is officially announced that the convention of Ontario Conservatives, which had been arranged for Jan. 11 in Toronto, has been postponed, and a convention which will discuss not only the organization, but other questions, will be held in Toronto next fall, probably during the exhibition.

PEANUT BREAKFAST FOOD.
Chicago, Jan. 2.—The Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the national Council to investigate the use of peanut shells constitute the basic element in the manufacture of breakfast food.

In a recent freight train wreck it was discovered that several cars consigned to breakfast food concerns were loaded with peanut shells from the peanut butter factories in the rear door, which they opened by breaking a window and unlocking the spring lock. It is the belief of the police officers that the robbery was committed by some person who is familiar with the interior of the saloon building, and they are now working on this clue.

BACK TO WORK.

Waltham, Mass., Jan. 2.—Four thousand persons returned to work today, when the Waltham Watch Company's factory was reopened. The factory was closed on Dec. 4.

WAS FADING AWAY

A YOUNG WOMAN—SCARCELY THIRTY—SEEMED TO BE DYING ON HER FEET.

DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS CURED.

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nanette E. Naydon, well-known and highly-esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, awakened in the night and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again and all my color, spirits, vigor and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 50c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhzone Company, Kingston, Ont.

COLLINS SIGNS TO PLAY SECOND.

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—Edward Collins, the Philadelphia American's second baseman, who was second to Ty Cobb in the batting averages last season, signed a contract to play the second base position next season. While Collins' terms are not announced, it is understood that he has been given a big raise in salary. His work last season was nothing short of sensational. Collins is the second player to sign a contract with the team. The first was Jack Coombs, who put his signature to a paper last week.

Mooney-Lackey.
A very pretty event took place at St. Andrew's manse, Thamesford, on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 23, when Mr. George Lackey and Miss Jean Mooney, both of Evelyn, West Nisour, were united in marriage by Rev. T. A. Watson, B.D., their brother, Mr. Alex. Lackey and Mr. Frank Mooney, acting as the part of witnesses. The bride was becomingly attired in cream duchesse satin, trimmed with buttons and silkline cord. After the ceremony the young couple went to London, where they were entertained at supper by Mr. Wm. McDonald, Dundas street, previous to their leaving for a trip to Cleveland. The bride's trousseau was very blue, broadcloth with hat to match. Their many friends extend congratulations and wish them happiness and prosperity.
