GIRLS ARE FRIGHTENED

Peeping Tom Creates A Scare Among City's Fair Sex

Loiters Around Windows
at Night and Startles Inmates

It is becoming quite evident that a Jack-the-Peeper is carrying on his low and debasing pastime in this city. It would also appear, from the number of ladies who have been annoyed and frightened in this way, that there are more than one of his unsavory kind at work.

Recently two young ladies, living in the vicinity of Park street, were badly frightened by this scoundrel. In both of these cases, the young ladies discovered that the shutters on their room windows had been opened. One of them remembered closing the shutters earlier in the evening, and suspecting something wrong, she passed out of the room without taking the light with her, and on looking from the window of a darkened room, she could distinctly see a man standing a short distance from her room window, and staring in. The male members of the household were awakened, but before they could get outside the Peeping Tom had taken flight. The other young lady discovered the Peeper when she opened the window to close the shutters. He made off in a hurry, but on the following night he was seen loitering in the neighborhood again.

A few nights ago, a lady living on King street was retiring when she heard a strange noise near her window. It sounded as though the shutters were being opened. She thought possibly that they had not been securely fastened, and that perhaps the wind was blowing them open. She stepped the window and found that one side of the shutters had been opened, but she could see no one. She thought that she could hear a sound as though something were moving on the ground beneath the window. Just as she leaned out of the window to look, a man arose from beneath the ledge where he had been crouching, and stood facing her, then bolted and ran. The great fright she received may be imagined. She was unable to sleep that night and for several nights afterwards from nervousness resulting from the shock.

There is little need of dilating on the meanness and cowardice of the animal resembling a man who would resort to this insane and obnoxious practice. He should take due warning, however, as if he visits a certain window again he will meet with a reception which he will not be quick to forget.

ALL SHOULD ATTEND

It is to be earnestly hoped that there will be a large turnout of members of the Board of Trade at the meeting to be held in the Council Chambers in Harrison Hall this evening, when Hon. Adam Beck will be present and deliver an address on hydro-electric power.

This is a matter in which all manufacturers and business men of the city should be greatly interested, as the Niagara power question is at present a live question. Chatham should not be behind the times in considering it.

Hon. Mr. Beck will be the guest of President Robert Gray of the Board of Trade while in the city.

IT IS A NUISANCE

H. S. Clements Thinks Young Men Should Take United Action re the Poll Tax

The presence of the poll-tax collector on the streets is causing great interest, and in many cases, anxiety on the part of the young men of the city. There is a general complaint on the part of those who are, according to the statute, forced to pay the tax. Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., who is interested in anything which affects the young men, in conversation with The Planet, threw out a few hints which should be of value to the young men who are called upon to contribute towards this tax.

"We must have taxes," said he, "but it seems to me to be unreasonable to hold up young men and force them to pay a paltry dollar. It is not always the amount of the tax which is offensive, but the way it is collected. It is not the nicest thing in the world for a young man to have a policeman chasing him around on the streets looking for his money. These young men spend almost 90 per cent. of what they earn and the tax is not necessary.

SHE TALKED TOO MUCH

Mrs. John Dungey Upsets
The Court With Her
Prattle

Papa Dungey Relates A Pathetic Tale of Woe

With a voice full of tears and two semi-rings under his eyes, several shades darker than his skin, John Dungey, a colored resident of the East End, related the touching tale of his domestic troubles in Judge Houston's Court this morning. The fearful voice was the result of half an hour's pent-up emotion, which he had kept in check while his partner in life recited her side of the story. The dark rings under his sad eyes were put there by his son, who proved too much for the old man in a recent scrap.

Mrs. Dungey had Dungey up for calling her several impolite names, which were hardly proper on the lips of a fond husband. According to Mrs. Dungey, they were so much so that they are unprintable. She said that he also rapped her over the fingers with a stick, when her son interfered. Result, the black eyes and Papa Dungey's hasty exit through the back door on the toe of Dungey Junior's boot. According to Dungey, everybody didn't work but father, and "the poor old man" had to make ends meet on nine plunks per. Mrs. Dungey says that they all worked, and that the scrap arose over paying the rent. She wanted to move into a new house, and Dungey did not want to move till the rent was paid in full.

"She called me an old fool," sobbed Dungey, "and she was always throwing up a girl, named Lizzie Wright, to me. She's a good deal like other women, Judge, she talks too much."

"Judge, yer honor—" began Mrs. Dungey for about the seventh time. "Woman!" thundered the Court, "I think that possibly you talk so much that Dungey gets sick. I am sick now."

A CLEVER PREACHER

Large Congregations Attend Park St. Church Every Sunday

Dr. Daniels Gave Eloquent Sermon Yesterday—Fine
Choir Music

Large crowds are flocking to the Park Street Methodist Church every Sunday to hear Rev. Dr. Daniel, who has recently assumed the pastorate of that prosperous church. Dr. Daniel is fast winning for himself a place in the hearts of the Chatham people as a preacher of more than ordinary ability. Dr. Daniel is one of the cleverest and most interesting pastors that the Park Street Church has had in years. His sermons appeal to everyone, probably on account of the simplicity of the truths expounded, and the forceful and eloquent manner in which they are put to his audience. There is a vein of human interest running through his sermons, which shows that he is a deep and careful student of human nature. He has a way of putting the many pretty and sympathetic truths of the Bible, which brings home to his hearers the message for which they are hungering, and which is at the same time elevating and encouraging.

His text yesterday morning was, "God careth for you." In the course of his remarks he showed three things—Why He careth. How He manifests His regard, and the What purpose He careth.

WAS ARRESTED

Anson Fraefick, the father of the two girls who were arrested last week for being inmates of a disorderly house, was arrested this morning, charged with keeping the house. He is now in the county jail awaiting trial.

PRAISE FOR CHATHAM

Hugh F. Jones of Guelph is an Enthusiastic Admirer

One of the Veteran Printers of Ontario Visits
Maple City

Superintendent Hugh F. Jones of the Guelph Herald, who is at present in Chatham visiting his son, B. Roy Jones, buyer for Wm. Gray & Sons Carriage Works, is a veteran newspaperman, and is one of the Old Guard of the Art Preservative in Canada. Superintendent Jones made his acquaintance with printers' ink in his early youth, and though his hair has been whitened by the snows of many winters given over to his chosen calling, he is still as vigorous and as enthusiastic as many younger men. He can still take off his coat, stand up to the case, and "set up a stick" in the record time of which they used to boast before the advent of the typograph and the linotype type-setting machines.

The Guelph Herald, where Mr. Jones works, like The Planet, is one of the pioneer newspapers of this country, established away back in the early forties. Like The Planet also, the Herald can boast of its veteran employees, of whom Mr. Jones has been with the paper the longest, having spent very nearly a quarter of a century as Mechanical Superintendent for Proprietor Gummer. Before coming to Guelph, he was associated with newspapers in Kingston and Toronto. He served his apprenticeship in Milton, when the weekly paper there was printed on an old Washington hand press, one page at a time. While in this city, he called around to see his old friend A. C. McKay, of Taylor & McKay's liquor store, whom he had not seen since they worked together in Toronto over twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Jones is an enthusiastic admirer of Chatham. "You certainly have a beautiful city here," he told The Planet during the course of an interview. "Such fine, clean-looking paved streets. There is certainly a wonderful change in the place since I visited here some ten years ago."

"The beautiful lawns and boulevards in the residential sections are swayed ahead of anything I have ever seen in a city of Chatham's size, and they prove that the citizens here must have considerable civic pride, and that they must devote a great deal of time to beautifying their premises."

"It seemed to me when travelling about Chatham to-day, that every street in the city is paved. I was not aware of this and it was quite a surprise to me. I was particularly struck with the bitulithic pavement, which I noticed on Queen street. It appears to be almost noiseless, and must be a great comfort and convenience to traffic."

"Chatham is just such a beautiful place that it makes one feel that they would like to live here."

Mr. Jones returned to Guelph this afternoon.

FINE LECTURES

A course of military lectures will be delivered at the Armories—once each Friday night of each week—during the Provisional School Drill, which is being held for the benefit of the thirty-five students who are qualifying for offices in the Twenty-fourth Regiment. These lectures will be delivered by Adjutant Snider, of London, and the first of them—a very interesting discourse—was delivered in able style by that gentleman Friday night.

Sergeant Webster, of London, is master of the drills. Quite a large number attended on Friday night to see the drills and hear the lecture.

GOT TWO YEARS

Andrew McDonald, an Indian, who was recently committed for trial by Justice of the Peace W. C. Ingall, of Thamesville, on two charges of forgery, was tried in the County Court House this morning before Judge Dowlin, Crown Attorney Smith prosecuting.

McDonald was accused of forging two notes with the name of Archie Gillespie, a farmer living near Thamesville. He afterwards passed these forged notes at Hardie and McGuffey's store in Thamesville. The notes were made out for $35 and $25 respectively. McDonald received money and goods for these notes. The forgery was afterwards discovered and he was arrested.

On looking up the prisoner's record, it was found that he had already served a term in Central Prison for a similar offence some time ago.

He was found guilty, and was sentenced to two years in Kingston.

EXPORTATION OF PULPWOOD.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association have brought up a very important question in sending a deputation to Ottawa to ask that the exportation of pulpwood be prohibited. The deputation was composed of men representing the pulp and paper section of the Association, and the case which they presented before the Government was a strong one and one deserving of more than the passing amount of attention and consideration.

Canada has large areas of pulpwood, and under present conditions, the people of the United States are the ones who are reaping the greater benefits of this great Canadian asset, while Canada's own commercial and industrial interests suffer. These large pulpwood resources, the value of which is almost incalculable, should be protected and reserved for Canadians. It is the sincere belief among statesmen who have the best interests of this young nation at heart, that if Canada is to attain to her height, her resources must be developed by Canadian labor and Canadian industry. If the proper protection were given to pulpwood, it should be a short time before paper mills would be springing up in different parts of the country, but under present conditions this is almost entirely out of the question. In the meantime Canadian pulpwood areas are being rapidly depleted by American capitalists, and Canada is losing her chance to reap the benefits which it is possible to derive from the splendid natural advantages granted to her.

The views of the delegation from the Canadian Manufacturers, were set forth in a memorial which represented that it had been the policy of the federal government to encourage and promote manufacture "by duties sufficiently high to protect home manufacture, and by bounties to encourage the use of home raw material," and that large amounts had been expended to promote agriculture and encourage immigration. Further, it said, "Canada has spruce pulpwood capable of providing employment for her people and others who may come here. But this pulpwood is being shipped to the United States to keep American mills running, although Canada's natural advantages should make pulp and paper our greatest industry."

After pointing out that the exporters are stripping the lands of wood, while those with permanent interests in the country are striving to conserve the forests, the memorial declared that "the crop of pulpwood is of very slow growth, and the supply is already becoming inaccessible, and the free export of pulpwood to the United States, combined with the tariff against our pulp and paper, favors the development of the paper industry in the United States rather than in Canada." All of which, it was declared, justified the request that the exportation of pulpwood be prohibited by the federal government.

It is hoped that the efforts of the delegation may not be in vain, and that the government will realize the importance of protection in this case at least, as a means of reserving for Canadians that to which they are so strongly entitled.

DO YOUR EARS RING?

When they buzz and signal slightly deaf, beware of catarrh, inflammation. This grows steadily worse, but can be cured by Catarrhose. J. A. Hammill, of Greenpoint, P. E. I., proved the merit of Catarrhose and writes: "No one could have worse Catarrh than I had for years. It caused partial deafness, bad taste, upset my stomach, made me sick all over. Catarrhose cleared my nostrils, stopped the cough and gave me a clear feeling in my breathing organs. I am absolutely cured." Doctors say nothing is better than Catarrhose. Try it and you'll say so, too. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00, at all dealers.

BURNS MAY FIGHT BIG JACK JOHNSON

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Not only has Tommy Burns given out a signed statement to the effect that he will fight Jack Johnson, but he also announced to-day that he would insist on a 16-foot ring for the go. Jimmy Coffroth, of Los Angeles, has offered a purse of $25,000 for the match, and the bout may be held there.

STEAM PUMPS SAVE THE LIGHTING PLANT

Ridgetown, Oct. 11.—The town was threatened with a serious fire last night about 9.30, when flames were discovered in the paint shop of the Ridgetown Carriage Works building, owned by Bikes & Son.

The building, which is a frame one, adjoins the electric light power house, also a frame structure, and the fire burned furiously.

However, the big steam pump at the electric light plant was put into operation and held the flames in check until the fire engine arrived and in half an hour the work of extinguishing the blaze had been accomplished.

Fortunately there was no wind at the time, or the electric light works might have been destroyed as well as the carriage works, and then the town would have been in a dilemma for light, as electricity is its only available supply. The Ridgetown flour mills are also just across the way from the carriage works, and it would have been difficult to save them, as the building is a five-story structure.

It is thought $800 will cover the loss.

MEAT INSPECTION ACT A DETRIMENT TO FARMERS

Dominion Government Measure Will Mean a Great Loss to Hog Raisers—A Few Pointers of Value to The Farmers—The New Terms

A general complaint is being raised in this county in reference to the new meat inspection bill which has been put into force by the Dominion Government. The new regulations which have been introduced are strongly characterized as a game to give the live hog men control of the situation, and the most aggravating part of it is that Hon. Mr. Fisher accedes to it.

The new inspection act, according to those who have made a study of the subject in all of its phases, makes it almost impossible for a farmer to dress his own hogs in the future, thus barring the farmers' wives from putting up their yearly lard, and compelling them to buy packers' lard. What this means to the farmers is quite apparent, and it is no wonder that they are up in arms against a Government which will impose such heavy and unwarranted hardships upon them.

According to the new regulations all of the dressed hogs will have to be inspected by Government inspectors before they can be sold. It is presumed that the inspection will take place at the destination of every shipment, as this is the only way in which a competent inspection would be possible and practicable. As a result a buyer will be afraid to purchase a carload of hogs in the future, for he is at the direct mercy of the inspector, whoever he may be, who will have the power to cut out as many of the hogs as he sees fit. Some of these inspectors will not doubt be efficient, but it is hardly possible in the usual course of events, that every man appointed will be thoroughly efficient to say whether hogs should be admitted or not. In matters of this kind it would be almost impossible to secure men who would give entire satisfaction.

The result will be that in a carload of hogs, probably a dozen, in some cases, will be culled out. In any event, the buyer will have to take this risk, and when he makes a purchase of say a carload of hogs, he will have to protect himself against all possible loss in the matter of inspection, and as a result the farmers will not receive the price for their dressed hogs that they would otherwise receive, and at the same time, their hogs may—and no doubt will—be just as good as they ever were. So that it is easily seen that the loss falls directly upon the farmer, and that the new legislation is entirely detrimental to the farmers, and in the interest of the packers.

Any farmer who has any experience in killing hogs will know full well that there may be small defects in some of the organs of the hogs, caused probably through overfeeding. It is well known that these are no detriment to the meat. It is quite a common thing to find a perfectly healthy hog with some defect, which would probably have come, and passed away again in a day without injuring the value or the health of the hog. All such hogs will be culled out by the inspectors, so that a farmer is taking a great risk even in killing his hogs at any particular time. The result will be that nearly every farmer will come to the same conclusion, that until such unfair legislation is repealed it will be in his interests to sell his hogs on hoof.

The reason given for introducing such legislation was the recent Chicago exposures. The fact was lost sight of that the situation in Canada is entirely different to that in Chicago. The Chicago packing house is the largest distributing centre in the world. In Canada the canneries and packing houses are all individual concerns, and the success of these factories is entirely dependent upon the quality of the goods turned out. There is no monopoly in Canada whereby a packer can force anything upon the public, and every packer realizes this, and as a result they use every discretion to give to the public the very best canned goods in the world, and legislation such as compelling the farmer to sell his hogs on foot, and practically barring them from dressing them, is only another blunder of a Government which is legislating for its friends with no thought for the people by whom they were elected.

If a very cold snap should come at present, there would no doubt be many farmers in this county, who, ignorant of the terms of the recent inspection act, might innocently kill their hogs in the same manner that they have done for years, and bring them to the market expecting to find a sale for them. These would find a great surprise awaiting them, and so it would be well to sound a warning to all farmers with hogs for sale, that the new regulations require more from them than they have been in the habit of doing in the past. According to the new law it is necessary to ship with every hog, its head, liver, heart, lights, and windpipe. These must be left in for the purpose of inspection, and no hog can be shipped unless this regulation is complied with. If any farmer should fail to do this, and bring in hogs the same way as he has been in the habit of doing, he will find that he will have to dispose of them to local butchers.

The new law means that there will have to be about 175 inspectors appointed, which will cost the country probably $250,000 a year in salaries alone. This will all come out of the pockets of the people, besides the times that amount which will be lost as a result of this unfortunate measure.

Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., who is directly and emphatically opposed to such treatment to the farmers, describes it as a calamity to the hog raising industry of this country, and one which he stoutly opposed. He is now, however, doing his best to avert all unnecessary loss which might come to the farmers through ignorance of the new law, and is making as many farmers as possible acquainted with the terms of the new act so that they will know what to do when killing hogs. Judging from the expressed sentiments everywhere, however, the farmers are becoming tired of leaving their interests in the hands of a Government who are continually enacting laws to their detriment, and there is no doubt that they will show this warranted dissatisfaction when the next opportunity comes to express their cordialness to the whole in this constituency who has their best interests at heart with the courage to follow up his expressions of opinion, with strong vigorous action.

Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription, known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy.

PRESENT SYSTEM O. K.

Chief Justice Gives Hint as to Judgment on Betting Case.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—The test case before the Court of Appeals yesterday to decide really whether there will be betting at the Canadian race tracks, was concluded last night. Judgment was reserved.

Patrick J. Moylett and Herbert G. Bailey were each fined $50 by Magistrate Denison in the Police Court for conducting a "place" at the Woodbine.

Col. Denison, in his stated case, remarked that the bookies did business in a radius of five or ten feet. Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright maintained that as they were always to be found within that area during the races, it was occupying a "place," under the meaning of the law.

Granite Suitings for School Dresses—42 in. wide, pure wool, firm, granite weave, in black and wide range colors, very serviceable and very special at a yard, 50c.

Freight Cars Derailed.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Two freight cars derailed and two overturned and badly smashed and traffic held up for some hours was the result of a wreck near Port Credit yesterday morning.

A broken axle was the cause. No one was injured, although the whole train narrowly escaped being thrown into the Credit River. Traffic was clear by 11 o'clock.

The Montreal express was delayed about an hour just west of Bay Street by the forward track of the third passenger car jumping the track at a defective switch. The car was moved clear of the track and a new coach put in its place. No one was injured.

Hayti Warming Up Again.

Kington, Pa., Oct. 12.—Mail arrives from Haiti state that 16 men were sentenced to death there for conspiring to overthrow the Government of the republic. Many persons fear a revolution soon.

Conservatives Nominates Morrison.

Vermilion, Alta., Oct. 12.—Alberta is preparing for the Federal elections, and Thursday F. A. Morrison of Vegreville was nominated as Conservative candidate for the constituency of Victoria.

BETTER THIS YEAR THAN EVER.

Any person who has read the Family Herald and Weekly Star for a few years back would wonder how it could be improved from year to year. Still every one will admit that during the past twelve months there has been a wonderful improvement and the Family Herald and Weekly Star is to-day bigger value than ever before. Newspaper, Magazine and Agricultural Journal all combined, it is certainly a unique publication. Any person who does not know the Family Herald and Weekly Star should give it a trial for 1908. It is a wonderful dollar's worth.

The sick man is generally ill-advised. Pride is expensive.

DR. GRENELL'S TRIBUTE.

Finds Heroes in Humble Life Among the Labrador Fishermen.

In a recent number of the Halifax Morning Chronicle, Dr. Wilfrid writes of his return to the Labrador fisherfolk, after some months' absence.
A religious revival, under the guidance of a peripatetic Methodist preacher had, so they told me, broken out here during the winter, and that its good results were being evidenced by the changes in the lives of some of our old acquaintances. In the very first house I was inspecting the baby that had arrived since our last meeting, a process that is always expected, with a view to getting it well marked as Al. at Lloyd's. My eyes happened to fall on a few notice over the mantelpiece. It read: "No smoking Allowed Here." And it testified eloquently to a very radical change, indeed, judging by the last visit I paid this house. In spite of the crudity of the literary effort, it bespoke increased cleanliness, if not godliness.

No Nervous Wrecks.

As the conversation proceeded and these meagre queries and utterly unconcerned of every day experiences that would have made the modern tourist rank as a hero, especially in the "Yellow Press," I thought of the unstable nervous equilibrium which here runs after Joseph Smith, there after Elihu Davis, here again after Mary Baker Eddy, whose twomillion-dollar cathedral only eclipses by a little its neighbor, a half-million-dollar temple for the cult of Spiritualism. Both products of the Hub of the Universe in America. And my ears seem to ring with the querulous complaints and criticisms I had heard in England of dishes and repasts before which I had sat, by the side of the humble fare of these simple folk were rank starvation, or, at best, a prison diet.

Not Like Paris Clothes Pegs.

As I stood still looking at the splendid specimens of manhood, clad in the homely, serviceable and therefore to me, all the more artistic, garb, there arose in my mind, trilled and fur-bowed clothes-pegs I had seen moving in the streets of Paris. My mind came to the decided conclusion, though rapidly arrived at, that the environment of homobimans in the year of grace 1907, considered so absolutely essential in these regions, was not so indispensable as they suppose it, or even so devoid of danger as its devotees estimated. I felt sorry for this deduction, and remembered somewhat gladly that Charles Wagner had fired down the book on the "Simple Life" amongst them for their better education.

Grew In Storm and Stress.

Here circumstances are apparently harder, and we have yet to read from a reluctant environment the wherewithal to fill our money bags. But here the truth was forced upon me once again. A truth which the genius of our race has owned as its special prize during the centuries that are gone. Blundering along, these humble folk have been led true every time. For not under palm trees and under sunny skies, amidst the islands of the South Pacific, where the freedom requires nothing but an open mouth to fall into, are Viking bred and races renewed. Out of the north and its hardships come many good things unsought for. These barren rocks, these stormy seas, these ice-bound hills are evolving for the Empire a race of the highest physical and mental balance and physical development, it seems to me, our national existence will one day stand in much sorer need of than of that kind of "much learning" which sometimes makes races mad.

SOME TECHNICALITIES.

Why the Drummer Lost Suit in a Kansas Court.

"While I was working a Kansas lawn for business a few weeks ago," said the drummer, "I got into a dispute with a young fellow in a pool room, and he plunked me in the eye.
Before I could hit back we were pulled apart, and at the instance of half a dozen citizens I swore out a warrant for assault and battery. I had six witnesses to swear that the defendant struck first, and, in fact, he admitted it, but the justice gave him the verdict and his liberty. I got mad at that and went for his honor with:

"Don't you see this black eye?"

"Certainly do."

"Do you think all six of my witnesses lied?"

"I do not."

"Didn't the defendant as good as admit that he struck me?"

"He did."

"Then will you please tell me why he was not punished?"

"I will. You were beaten on technicalities."

"I don't understand."

"Well, you didn't prove whether it was your right eye or your left that was blackened; whether he struck you with his right fist or his left; whether you are married or single; whether you belong to the church or the world; whether you are a Democrat or a Republican. I could name at least ten other things."

"You might give me one more from your stock," I said, with a sneer.

"I will, sir. You heard the crier adjourn court. That was formally. Technically court is always in session, and I therefore fine you $5 for contempt!" —Chicago News.

Womanly Instinct.

It was a happy and neighborly little party that was enjoying the cool evening breezes on the porch. Education was the theme of conversation, and the host was airing his views.
"Nobody can learn in a lifetime all that should be known," he said. "A man ought never to assume that his education is complete. I must and will keep abreast of the times, and I propose to begin the study of astronomy at once and to continue it through the winter."

"Jerome," said his wife calmly from the hammock in the corner, "you'll have to think of some better excuse than that for staying out until all hours of the night."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Lying to the Occasion.

Captain Homer W. Hedge of the Aero Club of America, with two other members and a society woman who is an enthusiast over the new sport, was recently discussing at the tea table in an uptown hotel certain details of a proposed balloon ascension. There has been some slight hitch in the arrangements, but an idea popped into the lady's head, and she exclaimed, "Oh I have a proposition to make!" Out went her hand, and over went a cup of hot tea right into the captain's lap.
"That strikes me unfavorably," said he, rising hurriedly.
The general laugh which followed relieved the lady's embarrassment.

Different in This Case.

Judge (in the law courts during a divorce case to the husband)—Well what is it you wish?
Husband—A divorce.
Judge (to the wife)—And you?
Wife—A divorce.
Judge—But when you came in you said that neither of you could ever agree on any one point—Nos. Loists.

The Greater Love.

"She was engaged to a millionaire, but she jilted him to marry another man."
"Ah, so she's really marrying for love?"

"For love of money, yes. The other man's a multimillionaire."—Bohemian.

Contrary.

"Isn't she the most contrary thing?"
"Why so?"
"She's been coaxing and coaxing me to go to that picnic, and I just won't do it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Too Late.

help teach my little brother to swim?

your little brother.

BORROWED BOOKS.

The Way Their Return Pricked an Artist's Conscience.

In the course of some reminiscences of Sir Edward Burne-Jones a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette remarks: Those who are not "offended" by the paradoxes of Charles Lamb would have delighted in Burne-Jones' play of humor and imagination. Let me justify my reference to Charles Lamb.

I once returned to Burne-Jones some books which he had lent me thirty years before, writing to him to the effect that if it was base to keep borrowed books so long it was heroic to return them after such long possession as might well breed the sense of ownership. In reply he said:

"The return of those books has simply staggered me. It has also pained me, for it seems to raise the standard of morality in these matters and perhaps to sting the susceptible con-sciences of book borrowers. I have many borrowed books on my shelves.
I would rather the owners should die than that I should have to think about these things and return them. I have two costly volumes that were lent to me before that little incident of ours, which, you may remember, was in Red Lion square. I hope the owner is more, but I simply will not give them

Spain's Popular Beverage.

"Horchata de chufa" is the singular name of the most popular drink in Madrid. This is made from a nut called "chufa," yielding a milky liquid when reduced to a pulp. This is diluted with water and forms a most cooling and refreshing drink. However, it is an acquired taste. Very few like it at the first trial. The horchata may be made from different kinds of nuts. The almond is used also. Strange to relate, the horchata de chufa is always sold where matting is kept for sale, so that when you spy a roll of the latter outside the store door it is a sufficient indication that in that particular place you may procure a glass of the horchata. In spite of inquiries, I was unable to discover the origin of the singular combination of articles on sale.—London Truth.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good," and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drummers.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have been forgotten. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomachs, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popularity. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, and distress after eating, or nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper —no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an interesting tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Ever Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equalled.

SPECULATING ON SHIPS.

How Underwriters Gamble on Overdue Vessels Posted at Lloyds.

When a ship is overdue, an opportunity is sometimes afforded for a gamble at Lloyds. It can be readily understood that underwriters who are interested in the "overdues" are only too willing to get rid of the risk by paying a premium on the insured rate to those who are willing, on their own terms, to relieve them of their responsibilities. The premium varies with the chances of the vessel turning up.
The smaller the chances the higher the premium and vice versa.

The rates paying on "overdues" serve as accurate barometers of the probabilities or otherwise of the ship ever being heard of again. These underwriters who speculate on "over-dues" are generally known by the significant name of "doctors." The insurance on an "overdue" may pass through many channels before the ship is, on the one hand, "posted" at Lloyds as "missing," or, on the other hand, she arrives in safety.

A ship is never "posted" until the committee is thoroughly satisfied that her case is hopeless and until the owner is of the same opinion. Before "posting" a notice is put up for a week inviting any information concerning the vessel. If this elicits no news, the committee at its next meeting votes the ship as "missing," and a notice is then settled and paid for. It may be incidentally remarked that "posting" at Lloyds constitutes a legal death certificate for any one on board the missing ships.—London Express.

FOUGHT FOR LIBERTY

DARING ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP BRITISH STAFF OFFICER.

Colonel Elliot Makes Plucky Stand Against Fifty Bulgarians—Shots Five of His Captors With Pistol Although Bound—Has Thrilling Escape—Gendarmes Come to His Assistance.

Telegrams received recently from Salonica give a sensational account of an attempt made by brigands to capture a British staff officer while on special duty in Turkey, in Europe, and of the remarkable fight that saved him.

Colonel Elliot was the British staff officer in charge of the work of gen-darmes reorganization in the Drama district of Macedonia.

In the course of a tour in his district Colonel Elliot arrived on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 30, at the Bulgarian village of Gyrodzi, situated about seven hours' march from the road to Nevrokop. It seems clear that a Bulgarian band had planned to carry him off from the house in which he was staying, and that this project was frustrated only by the vigilance of his escort in guarding the place.

About seven o'clock the following morning Colonel Elliot strolled round the village. He had only gone some forty yards in a side street when he suddenly found himself seized by four men. They were all in khaki uniform, and armed with Mauser carabines and bayonets, carrying, besides, bombs in small sacks attached to their belts. They tried to hurry their prisoner away towards the hills, explaining that they intended to do him no harm, but merely to make the Turkish Government pay a ransom for him.

Shoots His Captors.

He resisted with all his might, his jacket being torn to pieces in the struggle; but when they tied a rope round his left arm he relaxed his efforts, fearing that he might be secured in such a way as to leave no hope of escape. He continued, however, to make the pace as slow as possible.

Strange to say, his captors did not search him for arms, being probably in too great a hurry. While the prisoner was being carried off other parties of the same band were posted to fire down the streets by way of intimidating possible pursuers, and these desperadoes afterwards formed themselves into long lines of skirmishers to cover the withdrawal of the party in charge of the prisoner.

Two of the gendarmes composing Col.
Elliot's escort started pluckily in pursuit, and soldiers from an adjoining blockhouse began to fire across a ravine on the retreating Bulgarians.

Meanwhile Colonel Elliot had been hurried some distance onwards, and wards the forest, and his party reached an open meadow, where, finding themselves under fire, one of the party lay down and began to return the shots of the two gendarmes, who were only about seventy yards off.

Three other Bulgarians could be seen trying to force their prisoner to the down. At this moment Colonel Elliot succeeded in drawing his Browning pistol, and made very effective use of it, shooting the three men who were struggling with him. As they fell away from him he started a wild run down the slope, dragging with him the cord that was knotted to his left arm. A few steps down he saw the fourth of his captors, whom he supposed to be Daieff, chief of the band, taking aim at the gendarmes sergeant Ferhad. This man (Daieff) swung round his rifle to bear on Col.
Elliot, who immediately shot him.

Gallant Gendarmes.

Still further down the Colonel saw a fifth Bulgarian lying on the ground with a rifle, and shot him through the head. Not till afterwards did it occur to the Colonel that this man might already have been wounded.
It was at this point that the Colonel was wounded in the thigh, and understood from the bullets splashing in the mud in front of him that he was being fired upon from behind, but in a few more steps he gained cover and was out of danger. He called off the two gendarmes, who, however, continued to fight, in the hope, as they afterwards said, of capturing some of the wounded Bulgarians. He then proceeded to the house where he had spent the night, and had his wounds dressed.

The two gendarmes returned some time later, the elder Ferhad, a man 60 years of age, having been seriously wounded. The younger, Mehmed, had exhausted his ammunition after an hour's fight, and, moreover, having had the mud splashed in his face by the explosion of a bomb, thought it was time to take his wounded companion out of danger.

The same evening Colonel Elliot returned to Drama, and on Sunday, the 4th of August, he arrived in Salonika, and was received in the Turkish Civil Hospital. His wound is progressing favorably.

Peer's Privilege.

The Earl of Aberdeen is entitled to vote for a member of the Canadian House of Commons—a privilege he does not enjoy on the other side of the Atlantic. He votes as the owner of a fruit farm in Okanagan, Western Canada. In a recent conversation with a Canadian visitor, Lady Aberdeen said: "Oh, yes, we consider ourselves Canadians still. You see, my husband is allowed no privileges over here. In Canada he has a vote, but here he is classed with minors, women, paupers and lunatics, and he doesn't like it."

At the evening service the rector, Rev. J. W. Hodgins, exchanged pulpits with Prof. Burgess, of Thamesville.

The residents of William street are very much pleased with the excellent way in which the rubbish has been cleared away from the front of Park Bros. foundry. The large machines and boilers, which have for so long a time adorned the front lawn, are to be seen no longer, which is indeed very acceptable to the residents of that part of the city. The rubbish and iron has all been removed and a creditable lawn and front is now presented.

FINE SERVICE

Yesterday was anniversary Sunday in Victoria avenue Methodist church. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. Mr. Graham, occupied the pulpit, and in the evening he exchanged pulpits with Rev. Daniel, of Park street church.

BLAZE NEAR MONTREAL

Roman Catholic Church Destroyed—Estimated Loss $75,000

Origin a Mystery—Firemen Had Narrow Escapes

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Fire destroyed the Roman Catholic church at Cote St. Paul on Saturday morning, causing a loss of $75,000. There was $30,000 insurance on the church and contents. No person knows how the fire originated, and it had made considerable headway before it was noticed. Firemen from Montreal and Verdun went to the assistance of the local brigade, but were unable to save the structure. Several firemen had narrow escapes from death owing to falling walls and towers.

The convent near by, belonging to the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame, was in serious danger for some time, and all the sisters and some sixty children were removed to a place of safety. Fortunately the convent escaped the flames. The present church was erected in 1895 to take the place of the church which was burned in that year.

Belleville, Oct. 14.—What promised to be a serious fire broke out in Madden's paint and oil shop on Front street Saturday afternoon, but fortunately was extinguished after some difficulty. The damage amounted to about $200, covered by insurance in the Anglo-American. Origin of the fire is a mystery.

Yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the separate school for girls adjoining the convent. In half an hour the firemen had the blaze under control. Damage $200, covered by insurance. No one was in the building at the time, and as there was neither stoves, gas nor electricity in the school, mystery surrounds the origin of the fire. The caretaker says there were not even matches in the building.

Blaze at Foxboro.

Foxboro, Oct. 13.—On Saturday about 9.30 the evaporator, owned by J. A. Holgate, was discovered to be on fire. Heroic measures were taken to extinguish the flames, but they had made such headway that it was impossible.

The fire originated in one of the furnaces and on the alarm being given Mr. Holgate, who, along with some of his employees, was in another part of the building, rushed down to the basement and was only rescued by a door being broken open.

The building contained a large quantity of apples, some in process of drying, some already dried and some already boxed for shipment. Insurance on building and contents was $1,200, which will only partially cover the loss.

EMPEROR FRANCIS SINKING.

Great Anxiety Shown by All Classes in Austrian Capital.

Vienna, Oct. 14.—Although Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday morning was reported as slightly better, he again became worse during the day. His physicians now fear an outbreak of lobular pneumonia. His Majesty's fever is higher.

A feeling of depression reigns among the members of his entourage. The condition of Emperor Francis Joseph took a turn again for the worse at noon yesterday, and at a late hour last night the symptoms of inflammation of the lungs had increased. Taken as a whole the day cannot be said to have been one of progress, although the physicians who examined His Majesty at 10 o'clock declared that the condition of the patient was unchanged. At 11 o'clock His Majesty was quiet and fell asleep.

Marie Christians, the Dowager Queen of Spain, who is also an arch-duchess of Austria, has arrived here from Madrid.

The physicians in attendance, as well as the members of His Majesty's entourage, are endeavoring vainly to calm the public nervousness by assurances that the life of Francis Joseph is not seriously threatened.

The patient is generally weaker than he was Saturday. He asked to be permitted to go to bed, but his physicians advised him it would be much better if he remained seated in his arm chair.

SCIENCE FINDS CANCER CURE.

Parisian Doctor Obtains Splendid Results With Electric Treatment.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Dr. Keating Hart of Marseilles gave a practical demonstration here on Saturday of the new electro-surgical cure for cancer, which up to the present time has shown the most wonderful results.

The system consists of applying in a special manner high tension intermittent sparks to the cancerous growths. These are softened by the electricity and their cutting out is made most easy. At the same time the electricity causes the wound to heal with magical rapidity, kills all pain and prevents a recurrence of the growths.

This electrical process, which has been named "fulguration," can be applied safely to cancer in the head, where operations are impossible. Its application causes the growth to disappear gradually and puts a stop to the dreadful pains that accompany cancer.

Prof. Samuel Poni and a number of other eminent French surgeons, as well as several of the foreign delegates to the surgical congress now in session here, witnessed the demonstration of Saturday and declared it to be of the greatest value.

STEAMER WRECKED

Twenty One Lives Lost in Disaster on Lake Superior

"Cyprus" Rolled Over and Plunged to the Bottom—One Saved

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 14.—The steamer Cyprus, owned by the Lackawanna Transportation Co. and carrying a cargo of ore, was wrecked Friday night in Lake Superior off Deer Park, about 30 miles from Grand Marais, and all of the crew of 22, excepting the second mate, were lost. Recovering consciousness after hours of constant nursing, Second Mate Pitt gave a graphic account of the last moments of the crew on board the ill-fated vessel.

The mate said the Cyprus was making fairly good weather in the storm, when suddenly the cargo shifted, giving the craft a heavy list. This was about 7 p. m. and the vessel was off Deer Park in the regular course of vessels bound up and down.

Water began pouring in the hatches and a panic ensued, many of the crew putting on life-preservers. Captain Huyck, however, felt confident he could reach shelter behind Whitefish Point, and the boats were not lowered. Both engine and pumps were working and the crew felt sure the vessel would sink without warning, but suddenly the big freighter rolled over on her side and almost instantly plunged to the bottom.

Escaped on Life Raft.

When the vessel rolled over the first and second mates, a watchman and wheelman, were close to a life-raft which they cut loose and cast off just in time to escape the whirlpool caused by the Cyprus as she plunged beneath the surface of the water. The boat sank about 7 o'clock in the evening, and until 2 a. m. the four men clung to their frail support, while the waves drove them toward shore.

Five times in the angry surf off the rocky shore their raft was upset, the men each time having to fight the heavy tow for their lives. Each fight weakened the benumbed and disheveled sailors, and after the fifth battle with the surf only one of the quartet remained upon the raft, but the next time the raft was caught upon the surf it was thrown upon the beach. Mate Pitt had just strength enough to crawl out of the reach of the waves before he fell exhausted, where he was later found by the patrol of the life-saving station.

Nine Bodies Recovered.

The vessel lies in 19 fathoms of water, and those who were caught in the vessel will probably never be heard of. Nine bodies in all have been recovered. These seem now to be little doubt that the sinking of the Cyprus was due directly to the failure of the captain and crew of the wrecked vessel to cover the hatches with the canvas tarpauline designed for that purpose.

Wreck of a Steamer. Bound down from the head of the lakes, on the second trip she had made since being launched at Lorain, Ohio, on Aug. 17 last, the fine steel freighter Cyprus, 440 feet long, and owned by the Lackawanna Transportation Co. of Cleveland, foundered Friday night in Lake Superior, off Deer Park, taking down with her 22 members of the crew. Second Mate C. J. Pitt, washed ashore lashed to a raft, is the only person left alive of the ship's people. Pitt is suffering from the dreadful experience in the icy waters of Lake Superior, in addition to the buffeting he received from the breakers.

Deer Park is about 30 miles south of Grand Marais, on the shore of Lake Superior. Several bodies from the wreck have washed ashore and two are known to be those of the first mate and the wheelman. The names of but five of the drowned members of the crew are definitely known.

Ketchikan Goes Ashore. Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 14.—Reliable information from Canadian sources gives the information that the little steel steamer John B. Ketchikan, ran on Copper Island in the Nipigon Bay region of the north shore of Lake Superior, Thursday night. Her forward compartment is full of water, and she must be lightered. The Ketchikan is loaded with pulpwood for Detroit.

PRINCE ALBERT BY-ELECTION.

Provincial Rights Candidate Victor by Majority of Four Votes.

Prince Albert, Oct. 14.—The Prince Albert provincial by-election here Saturday to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Hon. J. H. Lamont to the bench, resulted in the return of ex-Mayor Bradshaw, Provincial Rights candidate, by a majority of four.

It was a bitterly fought election. There are, however, nearly 300 challenged votes, so that it is still anyone's election.

Liberals claim that of contested ballots they will have two to one, but Provincial Rights expect to break even.

A. Surgeon, law partner of Lamont, was the Liberal candidate.

Only Hustlers Make Good.

London, Oct. 14.—Walter Hasell, M. P., who returned Saturday from Canada, said the central unemployed body of London had sent 5,400 men, women and children during the past year to Canada, and during his visit to Canada he had heard of none who wished to return to England.

Mr. Keir Hardie, writing to The Labor Leader, says for the quiet plodding sort of chap Canada is distinctly not the place to emigrate to.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The Board of Trade have been fortunate enough to secure Hon. Adam Beck, of London, to address the Board and citizens of Chatham on "Hydro-electric Power," of which commission he is chairman, and in consequence gives a pleasing and profitable address.

The meeting will be held in Council Chambers, Harrison Hall, on Monday evening, 14th inst., at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to every citizen.

Coriscan Had Stormy Voyage.

Quebec, Oct. 14.—The Allan line steamship Corsican, Capt. Pickering, from Liverpool, which arrived in port Saturday, had an exceedingly stormy time of it during this passage, and one death is attributable to the stormy weather.

It appears a woman passenger had just arisen and was standing with a child in her arms when the ship gave a sudden lurch and the two were knocked down, the child sustaining such injuries that it died the next day from the effects.

Another male passenger had to have twelve stitches put in his head through being knocked down, besides having one of his wrists broken, and a second man had several ribs fractured.

DAY'S TOLL OF WRECKS

Freight Trains Suffered The Most Serious Damage

Two Trainmen Killed—Some Very Disastrous Smash-ups

St. Thomas, Oct. 14.—Jas. Burden, a trackman, aged sixty, while working on the M. C. R. at Attlebridge on Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock was struck by a work train and died from his injuries an hour later. He failed to get out of the way in time. He leaves a wife, but no children.

Fort Erie, Oct. 14.—A wreck occurred on the G. T. R. at the station known as Amigari. The wreck occurred at 10.30 a. m. A freight car was derailed and dented. Samuel Hodgskin, an employee of the road, was killed beneath the car. A wrecking crew was quickly on the scene and the body of Hodgskin was removed from beneath the wreck. Hodgskin was about nineteen years of age and unmarried, a resident of Stevensville.

Three Trainmen Killed. Reynolds, Ga., Oct. 14.—Three trainmen were killed and much property damaged Saturday by the explosion of an engine on the Central Georgia Railroad, standing near the station here.

Rear-End Collision on G. T. R. Belleville, Oct. 14.—A rear-end collision between two freights occurred Saturday at Shannonville, nine miles from here. A freight was standing at the section and another, westbound, pitched into it. The engine of the rear train and four cars of the other were derailed and badly smashed. The heavy mogul engine is now lying right across both tracks. The damage will be heavy. A fire broke out in the caboose, but was soon extinguished.

The engineer and fireman of the way freight jumped just in time to save their lives.

Northern Central Smash. Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Engineer John Maxey of this city lost his life Saturday in a head-on freight collision on the Northern Central Railroad at Troy, Pa., 25 miles south of Elmira.

A southbound local freight was standing on the track in the Troy yards taking water when a through freight, northbound, came down the grade on hill and crashed into it. The air brakes failed to work, when Engineer Maxey applied them at the top of the grade.

Both engines and about ten cars were demolished, and the freight near the water tank was badly damaged.

Freight Ditched on C. P. R. Owen Sound, Oct. 14.—A fast freight on the C. P. R. was derailed near Chatsworth on Saturday morning. The engine and 10 cars are in the ditch and almost a total loss. No one was injured. The train was loaded with general merchandise for the west. The cause of the accident is not definitely known at present. All traffic was delayed for some little time.

Rifle Kills Farmer. Dunbar, Ont., Oct. 14.—Thomas Kirby, lumberman and farmer of this place, was found with a bullet hole through the head, in the woods near his home Saturday night. It is thought that he accidentally discharged his rifle in setting the weapon down. There probably will be an inquest.

CHUTES AND DIPS FALL.

High Wind Causes $20,000 Damage at National Exhibition Grounds.
Toronto, Oct. 12.—The "shoot the chutes" and "dip-the-dips" at the exhibition grounds were blown down by the storm early yesterday morning, causing a loss of $20,000.
The owners of the attractions are C. E. Mills of Coney Island and E. M.
Harten of Pittsburgh. They were erected in early summer.
The top over the turn-table of the "shoot the chutes" was carried 100 yards west, up toward the military barracks. It knocked down a fence in its journey. The top was about seven or eight feet square.

Springhill Strike Over.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 12.—The strike in the Springhill coal mines, which has continued for 11 weeks and has involved 1,600 men, was called off by the men last night after a loss of more than $200,000 in wages.
The trouble was a demand by the men for payment for stone removed from the coal.
The matter was referred to the board of conciliation under the Canadian Industrial Disputes Act. The board decided against the men. They rejected the award and struck. Now they accept the award.

Sold Liquor Illegally.

Chatham, Oct. 12.—For selling liquor during prohibited hours M. J.
O'Mara of Wallaceburg was fined $300 and costs on Thursday.
This is the third offence since the new act came into force, and it is likely that the case will be reported to the provincial authorities, which may result in his license being taken from him.
It is rumored, however, that he has sold out, thus outwitting the Government.

MORE TROUBLE IN MOROCCO.

French Warships Despatched to Mogador—May Bombard the City.
Tangier, Oct. 12.—Tidings received here from Southern Morocco are anything but reassuring for the "pacification" of this distracted empire. It would appear, from credible native sources of information, that the famous chief, Anloos, the Raisuli of the south, has occupied Mogador, thrown Bargash, the local governor representing Sultan Abd-el-Aziz, into jail, and assumed control of that important strategic point.
Two French warships have been hastily despatched from Tangier to control the situation at Mogador, but the best informed of the residents here, knowing the character of Caid Anloos, are convinced that he will resist intervention, and they dread a repetition of the Casablanca bombardment.

Reports regarding the submission of fighting tribes should be received with suspicion, as they emanate from political and financial sources. The subservience of Abd-el-Aziz to French control, including his acceptance of the crown of the Legion of Honor, is increasing Mulai Hafid's power daily. Caid Anloos declared his allegiance to Mulai Hafid the latter part of August.

LOSS OF APPETITE AND ENERGY.

Singly they are a worry—combined they become a burden, telling that waste has been immensely greater than the body's power to rebuild. The first need is to reconstitute the blood, and the deficiency of red cells. Ferrozone improves digestion, makes blood, the kind that nourishes, and rebuilds. Quickly the nervous system responds to the new power supplied by Nerviline. Strength returns, ambition revives, energy and endurance give the system just what it needs to maintain the balance of health. No tonic better than Ferrozone; 50c. per box at all dealers.

Deport 180 Hindus.

Vancouver, Oct. 12.—Out of 561 Hindus arriving on the C. P. R. steamer Tartar yesterday, the Dominion immigration officer rejected 180, over 100 not having sufficient money to cover the rest were physically unfit. All will be deported.

YOUTH'S VITALITY SAPPED.

Your child looks poorly, listless and fretful. You would like this boy or girl to be more robust, more energetic and vivacious. The "something" that is wrong is simply this. Stomach and bowels need attention. Constipation and indigestion must be relieved. New life and vigor are required in the blood, slight assistance is needed for the kidneys and liver. Nothing is so effective as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They put new life into young folks as well as the old ones. Every child should use this medicine regularly because its benefits are not to be had in any other way. 25c. at all dealers.

Stratford Girl Attacked.

Stratford, Oct. 12.—While returning to her home on Duro street on Thursday night, Miss Florence Wheeler, aged 17, was assaulted by an unknown man, who attempted to strangle her.
Her cries frightened the man, who, after striking the girl to the ground, fled in the darkness.
His identity is not known.

Stated Murder Case Argued.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Judgment was reserved by the Court of Appeal yesterday in the state case brought by T. C. Robinette on behalf of Frank Capelli, the Italian sentenced at Parry Sound for the murder of William Dow on Christmas Day last year.

A Sample of What V.S.G. does—Mr. Mortimer—I was severely stricken with Joint Rheumatism that I was confined to bed for a long time with swollen and stiff joints; it even affected my stomach. I gave up all hope of ever being cured. The doctor finally told me he could "cure my pain but could not cure me." My sister heard of your Veteran's Sure Cure, and sent for a bottle. I took half of a $1 bottle. This enabled me to walk about as usual. This was about six years ago, and I have had no return of Rheumatism. Mrs. H. Priest, Williamsford, Ont., Sept. 11th, 1907.

THE DAINTY BUTTERFLY.

It Has a Perverted Taste in the Matter of Food and Drink.
Beautiful butterflies, a splendid and silent host, fluttered and floated above the tall white lilies in the quiet garden.

"How lovely they are!" said a nature student, sipping his tea. "How very lovely they are, yet the richer their beauty the ranker their taste. The purple emperor, one of the finest butterflies, likes nothing for dinner as well as a dead cat—a cat five or six days dead."

"Other beautiful butterflies subsist upon spoiled fruit. Fresh fruit they won't look at. It must be falling to pieces with rotteness."
"Even in their drink some of the loveliest butterflies have a perverted taste. Turning scornfully from dewy rose petals and from crystal springs, they seek out the vilest, foulest puddles whereat to quench their thirst."
"And nearly all butterflies are drunkards. Collectors entrap them by means of stale beer mixed with molasses. This they smear on the holes of trees. Unable to resist the dose, the most respectable butterflies—fathers of families, capitalists, elderly matrons—get hopelessly drunk and in the midst of their wild, silent orgy are crammed in big handfuls into the collector's pouch."

THE GRAY EYED MAN.

He is a Fighter, So Be Cautious in Provoking Him.

"I always feel a bit nervous," remarked a sergeant of police, "when I have to arrest a man with gray eyes, for I know that he is a born fighter and that I am likely to have a tough job."

"Most men when they are fighting retain a certain amount of discretion and remember that a brutal assault on the police is a very serious offense. But the man with the gray eyes, though he may in his calmer moments be quite aware of the folly of resistance, forgets all about that when his blood is up. He thinks of only one thing, and that is to win the fight."
"It isn't among criminals only that the gray eye denotes the fighter. I have observed the same thing among professional pugilists, an enormous proportion of whom have gray eyes."
"With soldiers and sailors it is just the same. Many of our foremost generals and admirals have eyes of this color. It is the more remarkable when we remember that the number of people who have gray eyes is small compared with other shades."
"The moral is that when you are dealing with a gray eyed man you should be cautious in provoking him."—London Answers.

Mexico's Famous Parrots.

In the state of Tamaulipas, in Mexico, parrots of the much prized "double yellow head" variety, famous to ornithologists, are found in countless flocks. Indeed the woods are literally full of them and are vocal with their harsh cry from sunrise to sunset. They seem to have but one note. It is only in confinement that they are imitative. In this country they are worth $10 apiece. Parrots build their nests in holes and hollows of trees, and in parts of Mexico they are so numerous that every available cavity is occupied by them in the nesting season. Nevertheless the work of procuring their young is extremely arduous, even for the expert natives. Trees in the tropics are commonly festooned with many climbing vines of thicknesses varying from a thread to the size of a ship's cable, and all this network of vegetation is usually infested by myriads of desperately fierce ants of large size, which both bite and sting. Many an unfortunate peon, it is said, has lost his life while engaged in this pursuit, because, tortured beyond endurance by the ferocious insects, he was unable to retain his grip.—Argonaut.

East Indian English.

Here is part of an actual speech delivered in an East Indian court of law by a pleader: "What they say is very, if not most, ridiculously absurd to believe. Indeed, it is incredible. They say that the blood flew, and they did nothing to put the wounded into ease. This, sir, is a lie, an unmitigated lie, or, rather, a falsehood or fable or story or, as Byron sarcastically observes, a terminal exactitude. These buffaloes never used to graze on the field, they were actually eating grass in meadow. The destination which they started was half a mile from the cynosure to which they went. Unless they did not ride on lightning horses, how could they reach to that premises in five minutes? Can any man—idiot even—will not believe such a stupid concoction?"

Bits From Shakespeares.

Users of everyday catchwords are constantly quoting that ubiquitous person Shakespeare. "Dead as a door-nail," "long and short of it," "getting even," "tag-rag," "birds of a feather," "that's flat," "mum," "scarecrow," "solid," "milkop," "joggerhead," "bag and baggage," "a mere song," "dancing attendance," "send him packing," "kill with kindness," "give and take," "an eyecore," "to boot" and "the man in the moon" are all his.

THE WATCHTOWER OF WOMEN.

Modesty is woman's watchtower. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits diseases of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questioning, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a cruel, repugnant and modesty. Any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no advertising or other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God-send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol. All its ingredients are printed on every bottle wrapper.

BANDIT CHIEF'S STORY

RAISULI TELLS WHY HE KIDNAPED CAID MACLEAN.

Wanted to Get Ear of Civilized World—Claims to Be Victim of Sultan's Treachery—Seeks Sympathy of Great Britain—Declares Caid Shall Be Kept Safe From All Harm—Man of Many Grievances.

According to his version of his troubles, given in an interview with a British correspondent, Raisuli is a man of many words and as many grievances. He is a diplomat and a politician, too, as his effort to inspire sympathy in England proves. He tells a plausible tale of the kidnapping of Percival and Caid MacLean. He did not seize them for ransom, he says, but merely to call the attention of the civilized world to his wrongs. These wrongs are thus set out by Raisuli himself:

"Abdul Rahman, former basha of Tangier, was the cause of my first quarrel with the Government. He oppressed me and seized my property and that of my relatives and friends. I am of Sherrefian birth and have in my possession letters addressed to my ancestors by sultans who owe their throne to my people, conferring privileges upon them and acknowledging their descent from the prophet. These royal letters the present Sultan renews, exempting my family from taxation and forbidding oppression of them. Abdul Rahman ignored these commands, and was ever intriguing against me and seeking to deprive me of my liberty. Finally he caused me to be arrested on a charge of which I was innocent. It was taken to Mogador and sent into prison, where I was kept five years with head bowed before the will of Allah. I lifted my eyes and besought the most merciful to hear my prayer.

"The days of man are numbered, and even chains cannot bind for all time. The most merciful heard my prayer, and opened the prison door. I went forth to my village.
All His Property Seized.
"What did I find? Not a vestige of my possessions remained. Even my papers had been taken by the basha and his people. Meanwhile Rahman had been appointed basha of Tangier by Sadiq Barghash. I took measures of revenge, but put myself under the wing of the Government, hoping that it would do justice. Barghash promised restitution. That promise was never fulfilled.
"Then did I shoulder my rifle and demand justice. Again the basha silenced me with fair promises. My friends advised me to lay aside my rifle. I consented. Still nothing was done. I could not even repay in private debts. Despairing of justice I went to my tribe, Gharbia, six hours from Tangier, where I had a farm. My intention was to collect a few cattle and devote myself to agriculture. I desired to live in peace. But again men spoke evil of my farm, and when I came out they fired on me. But Allah cast a shield before me. The men of the village came to the rescue, and drove off the soldiers whom the basha had sent to slay me. I complained to Tangier and had no reply. Friends wrote that the Government was bent on my destruction. I feared to go to Tangier, but went and saw Torres (then Minister of War and a man of great influence).
"I told him I was just released from prison at Mogador and that there had been another attempt on my life. Torres replied: 'The man who has no fire may borrow an ember from his neighbor. Return to your village. To those that are kind to you in the same coin.' I went back to my village and after a short interval departed for Arzila, whose caid, Abdul Rahman, was my greatest friend. He invited me to live at Arzila and accept the jurisdiction of Barghash.
"I stayed two months at Arzila, eating out of the same dish as the governor. Then the pretender took the field and the basha of Fez was sent to Algiers. On the way he stopped at Tangier, where he met my cousin from Arzila and poisoned his mind against me. A hundred men were sent to seize me. By God's mercy I was not at Arzila, having gone to the country of Gharbia to look after my property. Letters from Fez, Tetuan, and Tangier warned me that the governor of Arzila sought my life. I did not believe it, for were we not the best of friends? Soon afterwards I sent men to Arzila to buy provisions. Soldiers refused to permit them to enter unless they laid aside their arms. The men returned and told what had happened.
"I was amazed at the conduct of my friend. I received information that the governor was plotting with my cousin to seize me and sent men to intercept the servants of the governor. I searched them and found on them letters saying that they were only waiting for me to come to Arzila to lay me by the heels. In despair at my continued persecution, I lifted my eyes toward heaven and exclaimed, 'Wallah, houlah, allah kowat-e-ah-illa Belah.' (There is none more sublime, powerful, just, and merciful than God.) Was ever man in such straits? Fate has turned her face against me, but Allah will protect me. Deposed From Office.

"Soon afterwards a royal letter was read in the mosque deposing me from my office and proclaiming me an outlaw. The mahalla camped at my village of Zinat and next day destroyed my house. The tribes urged me to fight, but I had no wish to head a rebellion. 'Have patience,' I said to them. 'God will find a way.' I collected my children, leaving behind all my possessions, and went to the shrine of my ancestor Mulai Aboelmin, in the Beni Aros country.
"Thither these Kaffirs of soldiers followed, with intent to avoid violence, as the caid El Bagdadi intended to attack the shrine, which is held in reverence throughout Morocco. Not wanting the Beni Aros to suffer on my account, I went to El Khmes.
"Finding threats and promises useless, my enemies adopted another ruse and invited me to negotiate. I replied that I had no faith in the pledge of a Moor, but would accept terms negotiated by England or Germany. I demanded this foreign intervention as a guarantee. El Guebbas would not agree.
"Then MacLean, who always acted in good faith, came on the scene, declaring that he himself would take charge of the negotiations.
"Took Him by a Trick."
"They sought to betray me, therefore I betrayed MacLean. I took him by trick, desiring to avoid violence, as the caid is an old man and had acted honestly with me. The people who really betrayed him were the ministers who sought to betray me by sending him with such false letters.
"Now MacLean is in my possession, and will be kept in 'Aman, Aman, Aman' (that is, in perfect safety). No harm shall befall him till the British Government says what it proposes to do.
"The British people now know how I have been oppressed and have taken these measures to call attention to my wrongs. I know the British Government is powerful as well as just. Before them I lay my griefs.
"What I tell you is truth and nothing but truth. You will let the world know I have not taken MacLean for money. Had I wanted money, there was Tangier in my hands, with its banks, merchants, and wealth.
"No, it is not money I want, but justice, justice, justice."

Ancient Monastery Once Used by Buccaneers, Now a Store.

An ancient monastery now used as a grocery store is one of the curiosities of Fez, in Morocco. To be precise, only a part remains—a long, low, battressed building on the quay variously called the Town Cellar or Wool House. Each appellation is significant of the uses to which it has been put since the disestablishment of the monastery.
The fate of the building has some counterpart in the history of the place itself. When its near neighbor, Bournmouth, was but a collection of rude huts, Fez was a port of importance. By 1294 an embargo laid by Henry III. on all vessels lying in the port of Poole, among others, proves that it was a place of considerable maritime resort. When Parliament broke with Charles I. Poole declared zealously for the cropped heads, and proved a very troublesome neighbor to the adjacent country.

THE OLD MONASTERY.

Its labyrinth of creeks has often afforded convenient shelter to many dangerous vessels and buccaniers. One of the most daring of English buccaniers was Harry Page, of Poole, or, as he was more commonly called, Attripty. His activity was such that in 1406 an expedition against him was fitted out by the Kings of France and Spain. The force routed Poole, and a fierce battle was fought, the foreigners taking off much booty and some prisoners.
Poole, by reason of the potter's clay in the district, still preserves some trading reputation. There is besides a good traffic in corn and flour, and much shipbuilding.

A Terrible Fall.

Jno. Goldie, one of the most active and intrepid of steeplejacks, has been killed while following his occupation in Glasgow. He fell a distance of 80 feet from the top of the chimney of Messrs. Joseph Townsend & Co.'s works—the highest chimney in the world. Goldie, whose climbing exploits had won him world-wide fame, started on his arduous climb in the early morning. This he accomplished by means of foot rests in 20 minutes. He reached the top of the chimney, which has an aperture of 15 feet, in safety, and began "pointing" work. He went on for several minutes, when he suddenly reeled, lost his hold, and his body crashed through a wooden platform some 10 feet from the top, and thence fell on the roof of the works, which gave way. It was subsequently picked up on the floor. Every bone was broken.

THE HEELERS' SIDE OF IT.

Chatham, Oct. 12th, 1907.

To the Sporting Editor:

Dear Sir,—In your last Monday's issue of The Planet there is a letter from the Wagon Works employees, regarding the baseball game played, they claiming for the Wagon Works team a game which they say was not allowed them by the Tammany Heelers.To simplify matters we will say no more about that game, but claim we still win, in as much as the rules say no further games shall be played after the final schedule game, as a league game, and that in case of a tie between teams, the team having won the majority of games from the team it is tied with, shall be declared champions. Now as we have won three out of five from the Wagon Works and the game from the Flour Mills, we are entitled to, and claim the championship for 1907 season.Thanking you in advance for your kindness in publishing this letter,

Campaign to Curb Lords.

London, Oct. 14.—The Liberal campaign for the restriction of the power of the House of Lords to alter or reject bills passed by the House of Commons, which was inaugurated by the Premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, at Edinburgh, is now in full swing throughout the country.Members of the Cabinet are addressing meetings almost daily, the keynote of which is the Government complaint of the treatment of measures it considered first importance by the Upper House. That this flood of oratory will affect the House of Lords is not expected, the object on the other hand being to influence electors who, if the session of 1908, which convenes Jan. 20, again brings the two Houses into conflict, will before long be called upon to settle the question.Tenders for Supplies, 1908THE UNDERSIGNED will receive tenders up to noon on Monday, 4th November, 1907, for supplies of Butter, Flour, Oatmeal, Potatoes, Cordwood, etc., etc., for the following institutions during the year 1908, viz.:—At the Asylums for the Insane in

BLOODREMEDYPrescription Makes The Kidneys Filter the Poisons from BloodMix it Yourself, Acts Gently and Cleans Blood of all ImpuritiesA leading health journal, in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following:Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.A well known local druggist who is familiar with this prescription states that it is harmless, being composed of simple ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear the sores, boils and pimples.
It puts vigor and energy into rundown debilitated men and women.
For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Fluid Extract Dandelion works wonders.
This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little and are easily mixed at home.
Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.The Kargon to clean the kidneys and vitalize them so they can clean the blood, Sarsaparilla to make new rich blood and Dandelion to tone the stomach, clean the liver and make it active and relieve constipation is the way the prescription acts, and so mildly and gently that one does not consider they are taking medicine.DOMINION OF S. A.Supreme Court Judge Studying System Prevailing in Canada.Victoria, B. C., Oct. 14.—Empowered by a mandate from the British Government, Hon. Mr. Justice Lawrence of the Supreme Court Bench of Cape Colony has, during the past few weeks, been studying the conditions which prevail in the various states of the Dominion, with no less an object in view than the combining of the various states in South Africa into a confederation.Justice Lawrence has arrived in Victoria, and although he is somewhat doubtful about the subject of his mission, he states that he had an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who carefully explained to him matters relating to the constitution of the Dominion, and informed him of the privileges and responsibilities of the different provinces.The question of a confederated South Africa is a comparatively new one, and as far as can be gathered this is the first intimation of the subject of Justice Lawrence's visit to the country. He goes back to inform South African politicians who are intensely interested in the subject of his enquiries, and it is also understood that he will furnish his views in the form of a statement to the Imperial Colonial Office.What his findings will be he did not say, but from the tenor of his conversation it is practically safe to assume that the near future will see all the British possessions in South Africa brought under one great confederation.DAIRY PRODUCE

To the Editor of The Planet:

With the scarcity and high price of all kinds of feed and the unusual high price of butter and cheese at this season of the year, there is little doubt but that the supply of milk will be limited during the winter months, and that all dealers will find it necessary to charge a cent or two more a quart for good pure milk.The retail price of milk has been raised in all cities, Kingston and Windsor taking the lead at ten cents a quart, Toronto nine cents, Windsor, St. Thomas and many of the smaller cities seven cents, while the citizens of Chatham are being supplied with milk above the standard in quality, and in the most up-to-date way, at six cents; but many of our citizens are wondering why our milk men do not wake up to the fact that they are just as much entitled to eight cents a quart for their milk as the milk men of other cities are, and that customers are always willing to pay a reasonable price for pure milk, when they can see the cream on it, and know they are being supplied with a first class article, in which purity, quality and cleanliness count for so much.Yours, etc.,

BRIDE BURNED TO DEATH.Six Members of Family Lost Their Lives After Merry-making.Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Half an hour after a party of merry-makers, early yesterday, had left Solomon Frank's home, where they had celebrated the approaching nuptials of the daughter, Dora, fire swept through the house and six members of the family, including the betrothed woman, were killed. Only the mother and two infant sons escaped.The dead are: Solomon Frank, aged 40 years; his daughters, Sarah, 21 years of age; Dora, 19; Rose, 17; Minnie, 12, and Mary, 10.They were suffocated by smoke, which filled the rear of the house in which they had retired. That portion of the building was destroyed and the bodies were recovered from the ruins by firemen.Frank was a well-to-do glove-maker, whose home was the scene of occasional social gatherings of the circles of which his daughters were a part.
Dora was to have been married early in December, and Saturday night her parents gave her a betrothal party. The festivities lasted until 1 o'clock, when the party broke up. Soon after the girls had retired, Mrs. Frank discovered the flames, which apparently originated in a defective chimney. She gave the alarm, but was able only to save her two little boys and herself.The father lost his life in attempting to reach his daughters, who were overcome by the smoke while seeking exits. The position of their bodies when found indicated that they had left their beds and made futile efforts to escape from the windows.TRAGEDY IN BUFFALO.Hungarian Disembowels Man Whom He Found With His Wife.Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Unable to control his jealous rage at finding a man emerging from his home, shortly before midnight on Saturday, John Vas, a Hungarian, attacked Alex.
Borza with a butcher knife. Several well-directed slashes with the murderous weapon disemboweled Borza and he sank dying to the pavement.
The assault took place directly in front of the Vas home. Vas saw his wife open the door and Borza depart.
Vas was arrested.Will Japan Accept?London, Oct. 14.—The Japanese here anticipate that what Lemieux may be empowered to propose is what Japan will be able to accept without hesitation.It is, however, added, that it must be remembered that the treaty on which Japan takes her stand is a properly executed and concluded contract, which it was hoped would set the question at rest for all time, and that the privilege of unrestricted entry, trade and travel in the Dominion is highly valued by the Japanese, who may perhaps evince less readiness to part with it as something they prize than in some quarters is supposed.Hamilton, Brantford,

CROWDED TROLLEY AFIRE.Burst Into Flames on Trestle 70 Feet From Ground.New York, Oct. 14.—Crowded with theatre-goers returning from New York and half way across the high trestle, a Hoboken trolley car suddenly burst into flames shortly before midnight Saturday night. At the point on trestle, the car was 70 feet above the ground. Many of the passengers were women, and it was with difficulty that a panic was quelled.The conductor and the motorman begged the passengers to be calm and assured them that all would escape in safety. As soon as the car was stopped the passengers streamed out and made their way to a narrow plank pathway, made slippery by the rain.
On this dangerous footing, surrounded by live trestle wires, they walked for some distance in the dark, before reaching solid ground. All got off the trestle, which is 150 feet high at its highest point, without accident.
The car was entirely consumed.TO-DAY'S NEWS AT BRADLEY'S*Jelly Powder
