any kind situated anywhere either in the town or outside the limits as defined by this Act, it shall and may be lawful for the commissioners, in case they cannot agree with the proprietors of such lands respectively for the purchase or leasing thereof as may be required, to give notice in writing to the party or parties whose lands are intended to be taken, or to his agent, that the said lands are required for the purposes of this Act, and shall request the party or his agent whose lands it is proposed to take or occupy, to appoint one arbitrator, and the commissioners shall appoint one arbitrator, and the two so chosen shall appoint a third arbitrator, and the arbitrators so appointed shall proceed to determine and assess the damages (if any) and award the same to be paid to the owner or occupant, as the case may be, whose award or the award of any two of them shall be final and conclusive, provided the commissioners shall decide to take said lands; and thereupon the commissioners shall pay and satisfy within six months, with interest from the date of said award, to those entitled to receive the same the full amount of such award or valuation. And immediately upon payment or tender of the amount awarded as aforesaid to the owners, or in case of dispute to such parties as the judge of the county court for district number three shall direct the commissioners shall be and be deemed the rightful purchasers and owners in fee simple of such lots and parcels of land with the appurtenances. If the said award be for the purchase or leasing thereof for such time as in such award set forth, and in case the owner cannot be found, or is absent and has no agent residing in the province, or refuses or neglects to appoint an arbitrator, the said judge shall appoint such arbitrator. In case the two arbitrators shall not agree as to the appointment of another arbitrator, the said judge shall make the appointment, who shall be disinterested, and not a resident of Wolffville.

If the commissioners have reason to fear any claim or encumbrance against the property, or if such claim or encumbrance is greater than the amount awarded, or if any party to whom compensation is payable cannot be found or is not known, or if for any other reason the commissioners deem it advisable, they may pay such compensation into the county court, the judge of which shall by order direct it to be deposited in some bank, there to remain until directed to be paid out to the party entitled thereto. The commissioners shall deliver to the judge of the county court a copy of the award, and a copy thereof, certified under the hands and seals of the commissioners, together with the receipt of the county court judge for the amount awarded when registered in the office of the registry of deeds for the county of Kings, shall be deemed to be the title of the commissioners to the property therein mentioned, and the same shall absolutely rest in them notwithstanding the claims or encumbrances against the said property may exceed the amount of such award.

15. In the event of any damage being done in the execution of any work under the provisions of this Act, the party sustaining such damage shall be entitled to receive such compensation as shall be mutually agreed upon; and in case no such agreement can be made, arbitrators shall be selected and appointed, as provided in the fourteenth section of this Act, to assess the damage to be paid to the party entitled thereto, whose award or the award of any two of them shall be final and binding upon the parties, and the amount so assessed shall be paid within six months thereafter. The costs of such assessment shall be taxed or allowed by a judge of the county court at the same rate as in summary and appeal suits, and shall be paid by them at the time the damages are paid, he shall be at liberty to bring an action for the same in his own name against said commissioners.

16. The service pipes for water supply to houses, buildings, and establishments which are to be supplied with water under this Act, shall be carried from the main to the side line of the street at the expense of the town when requested by notice in writing from the owner of any house or building opposite to which a main is laid, and all beyond that distance at the expense of the owner or leaseholder for life or term exceeding five years of the premises to be supplied.

17. Before the bringing in force of this Act by vote as aforesaid, the said commissioners shall have power and are hereby authorized to employ and pay a competent engineer and assistants to make preliminary surveys for the purpose of discovering a suitable source of water supply for said town, and for making plans and estimating the cost of the proposed water works; and the sums expended by the said commissioners for such preliminary surveys, plans and estimates, may be paid out of the fund by this Act hereafter provided for and authorized to be raised by the said commissioners; and in the event of the defeat of this Act at the polls the said commissioners shall nevertheless have power, and are hereby authorized to assess the property within the limits of the said town as in this Act set out, for a sum sufficient to defray the expense of such preliminary surveys, plans, and estimates, together with all other necessary expenditure made by them in and about this Act. Such assessment shall be made in the manner hereafter provided for assessments under this Act, and the commissioners shall have the same power of appointing assessors, and otherwise providing for such assessment, as if this Act had been brought into force by such election.

And the commissioners may at all times after the bringing into force of this Act employ and pay engineers and assistants to make surveys and plans of the streets within the town of Wolffville, and to make all or any other survey or surveys or plans when necessary for the purpose of this Act.

18. The commissioners may from time to time, at such times as they may deem expedient, improve, extend, or enlarge the water works of the town, or make repairs, lay new pipes, and do all things necessary to afford a sufficient supply of water.

The Lady

Who has fine Hair, and desires to preserve its color, abundance, and lustre, should use Ayer's Hair Vigor as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean and cool, and is by far the most exquisite toilet preparation in the market.

B. M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo., says: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."

Mrs. S. A. Rock, of Anderson, Texas, writes: "At the age of 34, in Monroe, La., I had a severe attack of scamp, or hair commenced coming out, and continued until it had well nigh all gone. I used several kinds of hair restorers, but they did no good. A friend gave me a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before finishing the first bottle my hair began to grow, and by the time I used three bottles, I had a fine head of hair."

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., AUG. 2, 1889.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

John Lewis, of the Toronto Daily Globe staff, is on a pleasure trip, taking in the Maritime Provinces. He paid us a visit on Thursday and is much pleased with the varied beauties of the Annapolis Valley. He intends writing up his trip on his return to Toronto.

We notice that the Wolfville Water Commissioners are advertising in the Halifax papers for tenders for a loan of $25,000—the sum authorized by the Act. In other places the Commissioners have also advertised in the local papers; but as our Commissioners are doing all their work a little different from what was ever done in any other town, their action in this respect is in full accord with their other doings.

It is with sorrow that we learn of the death of Mr Henry S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Bridgetown Monitor, which occurred on Sunday morning last. Mr Piper was a comparatively young man, being only in his 37th year, and leaves a wife and family. He was a general favorite among journalists, and under his management the Monitor was one of our best exchanges. We tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Dominion Illustrated Company is keeping its promise to make its journal worthy of the Dominion. Some of the grandest features of Rocky Mountain scenery are a theme for artist and writer in the last number. The Minister of the Interior, of whom a capital likeness is given, represents the progress of the North-West. The Kellogg Cup reminds Canada that her sons are doing their duty in the Old World. A good number on the whole. The Dominion Illustrated deserves to be encouraged.

On our first page this week will be found the first half of the "Wolfville Water Supply Act," which will be concluded next week. As this Act is likely to take an important place in the future history of our town we think it only right that it should be read by every resident of the place. Those of our readers who reside in other parts of the county will also not doubt be interested in it. We would advise our readers resident in the water district to preserve the papers containing the Act for future reference.

Gaspereau Chips.

Mr E. A. Davidson has in his garden corn standing over six feet in height, with ears well formed and nearly fit for use.

The pickling establishments are now in full operation and are likely to receive all the cucumbers there are capable of converting into pickles this season.

Martin's Steam Barrel Factory is now running full time; but owing to the difficulty of getting stock last winter probably a lesser number of barrels will be turned out than usual.

Mr Jowdry met with a painful accident on Friday last, by which he came near losing a portion of his left hand; as it was two of his fingers were badly lacerated. He was splitting a narrow board with his small circular saw when the saw caught his hand inflicting a bad cut; but fortunately not sufficiently bad to render medical attendance necessary.

Mr Rufus Forsyth has a small piece of tomatoes containing some 200 hills which for luxuriance of growth and quantity and quality of fruit cannot be equalled in this valley, if indeed it can be in the county. A portion of the fruit is now large enough to gather and will very soon be ripe of cucumbers as is usually seen anywhere, and he has sold already over 700 lbs of fruit to Davidson's pickling establishment.

Long Island Items.

Vegetation of all kinds has been extremely rapid and the prospect for a large yield of vegetables is well assured. The shad fisheries have been almost a total failure on our shores this season, the tidal catch seldom exceeded 20 to 25.

Alexander Fullerton is building a new barn near the main road, which, when completed, will be one of the best in the neighborhood.

All are busily engaged at haymaking and are nearly done, having secured one of the largest crops for a number of years and saved it in excellent condition. The lacinate trees, which a few weeks ago were almost entirely destitute of their foliage had attacked them, are now putting on new foliage, giving our forests the appearance of early spring.

A larger number of pleasure seekers have visited us this season than before and the desire to rusticate with our farmers for a few weeks during the heat of the season is on the increase. Quite a number have been stopping here for a few days and many more applications have been made which could not be accepted.

TAKE NOTICE.—If your razor is dull, take it to J. M. Shaw's Barber Shop, and he will put it in first-class order for the small sum of 15c. 10

Vacation Jottings.

New Mines, July 23.—"So this is New Mines?" Our guide said it was, so out of our conveyance we leaped to see the place and get acquainted with it. Up on one of the lofty summits of the Cobequids, the view is grand and sublime. Away to the west we can see the waters of the bay and across the faint outlines of North Mountain, standing faintly against the gray background of cloud and sky. It is beautiful. Before I know it I am looking for Blomidon, but it is not there. The peak from which we view is not lofty enough. Still I involuntarily strain my eyes in scanning the opposite shore, for just beyond us is home. And it doesn't seem far. But nothing familiar meets the gaze. The view however is beautiful and our guide is looking at it. If Blomidon came within its range, it would be perfect.

We mount again and drive on. On every hand is beauty and grandeur and sublimity. The road sometimes is damp, green, and in many places not wide enough for two carriages to pass. On one side the steep mountain running up almost perpendicularly, on the other a deep ravine, steep and precipitous. We shudder as we come upon some place in the road unusually wild and dangerous and look into the depth at our feet and the summit at our right. But we have confidence in our guide, Mr Guest, the genial and obliging goods deliverer of the firm of G. W. Cox & Co., Acadia Mines. He has been over the ground before, he says, and we guess he is right. He says "like it." As we reached one place where the road was unusually narrow and the bend around a mountain peak made it appear as if we had reached the end of it and it was no more and the precipice below had a tendency to make one's hair stand on end, he looked down into its depths, we broached the opinion that it would be rather a bad place to be travelling after dark with a slipshod horse. "Oh," he said, "it is kind of wild here, but nothing to what's ahead of us." This assured but not comforted, we proceeded, an undaunted party. The spirited animal which he drove went over these dangerous passes as gently and as carefully, under his guidance, as if it understood the danger, as no doubt it did, and when the road was once more safe and smooth would pick back its ears and speed on as if glad the danger were over and it was once more free to go its "kidd."

New Mines, July 24.—Truly scientific weather. Just enough rain during the night to lay the dust and just enough clouds to make it pleasant for tramping, etc. Providence clearly shows approval of Science. Astronomy occupied the first hour of the session. The subject dealt with by A. Cameron, Esq., Mineralogy, Chemistry and Botany then followed. The numbers were so large in attendance at the latter subject that a division was made in the class and two classrooms were required. The number of Nova Scotian botanists will certainly be increased in the near future, judging by the interest taken in this subject. The afternoon included Zoology and explanation of Partridge Island.

A noticeable feature of the school is the method of conducting the lectures objectively. Whenever it is possible to produce the object alluded to, or illustrate the point spoken of by diagrams it is done. Thus Science simplified, its terrors are removed and work becomes play.

Thursday, July 25th.—At 8 a. m. 100 scientists boarded the train for Amherst, where they arrived at 11.30. Proceeding to the Y. M. C. A. Hall they received a hearty welcome from Senator Dickie on behalf of the citizens. President Eaton presented the thanks of the school. A magnificent banquet was then deposited by ladies from the elite of Amherst. The excellent management of this part of the programme was not unobserved. Every visitor felt entertained individually. Choice selections were rendered on a grand piano during the feast by Mr D'Anguerre. Introductions were general, and invitations for the afternoon drive were made personally.

At 2 p. m. the visitors were seated in the handsome tent erected in front of the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The lead was taken by Albert Black, Esq., chairman of the committee of management. The marshes and judges supplied pleasant variety until the old fort of Beaudouin was reached. Here the party alighted and drank in the delicious air and the uninterrupted scenery.

The visitors were invited to surround Judge Morse who delighted his audience with verbal pictures of the events that took place within sight. Dr Allison presented the Judge with a hearty vote of thanks. The last of the relics is a part of a wooden building standing in the middle of the fort which served as officers' quarters, and a stone powder magazine. These are fast disappearing from the depositions of relic seekers.

Leaving the fort, the party drove to the southern terminus of the ship railway. The particulars of this undertaking were thoroughly explained by the enterprising engineer, Mr Ketchum. The excavations proved interesting to the geologists who carried away pockets full of various colored mud, etc., and parts of a submerged forest. The return to Amherst was made at 6 p. m., when the citizens entertained their visitors so sociably at tea.

An open concert by the popular Amherst band was enjoyed in Victoria Square. After promenade to the inspiring strains an adjournment was made to the Y. M. C. A. Hall, where a short programme was carried out. Miss Knier, of Amherst delighted the audience with the exhibition of her fine dramatic powers. The faculty of the S. S. of S. occupied the platform. Hearty thanks were offered to the citizens for their magnanimous entertainment. It will be a day long to be remembered by those who participated in the pleasures of this Nova Scotia farewell at midnight. The delightful weather and star-light night added no little to the many enjoyments.

Friday, July 26.—Weather still fine. Students at their places in the classrooms manifesting the greatest interest in the subjects under consideration; analysis of flowers, dissection of grasshoppers, consideration of the formation

Summer School of Science.

MONDAY, July 22.—The Summer School of Science for 1889 opened at Parrsboro. A public meeting was held in the rink Monday evening. A cordial welcome was given the school by Councilor Upham. President Eaton replied on behalf of the school. Ex-president McKay followed with an impressive address delivered in his usual happy style. Invitations to visit Blomidon and Amherst were then presented, from the residents of Parrsboro and Amherst. A choir consisting of local talent assisted in passing a pleasant as well as instructive evening.

TUESDAY, July 23.—Weather perfect. The first hour was passed in registering. About 100 have availed themselves of the advantages offered by the S. S. of Science. The programme for the morning included Zoology by A. H. McKay, B. Sc.; Chemistry, by Prof. Caldwell; and Botany conducted by E. J. Fry, Esq., assisted by Miss Ida Creighton. A great deal of interest was manifested in each subject, the rooms being filled. The afternoon included laboratory work from 4 p. m. when the students and teachers, armed with leopards, bottles, test tubes, bottles for insects, vascutula for botanical specimens, etc., took the main street by storm, exploring the surrounding country for two or three miles with successful results. In the evening Dr Sawyer delivered a popular lecture on "The effect of Science on the Moral." The learned lecturer dismissed a large audience well pleased with the evening's entertainment. The afternoon included Zoology and explanation of Partridge Island.

WEDNESDAY, July 24.—Truly scientific weather. Just enough rain during the night to lay the dust and just enough clouds to make it pleasant for tramping, etc. Providence clearly shows approval of Science. Astronomy occupied the first hour of the session. The subject dealt with by A. Cameron, Esq., Mineralogy, Chemistry and Botany then followed. HOSPITAL REMEDIES. What are they? The growth of intelli- gence in medical matters has given rise to a demand for a class of genuine, reliable medicine. The opportunity of the ignorant quack, who grew rich selling everything out of a single bottle has passed. To supply satisfactorily this demand this list of remedies has been created. They are the famous prescriptions of the most famous medical practitioners of the day, gathered from the hospitals of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the patients of those specialists from $25 to $100 are here offered prepared and ready for use at the nominal price of one dollar each. Not one of them is a cure all; each one has only the reasonable power of curing a single disease, and each one keeps its contract. Sufferers from Catarrh, Diarrhoea, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Fever and Ague, Neuralgia, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea or Nervous Debility, should send stamp for descriptive catalogue to Hospital Remedy Co., 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada. If your druggist does not keep these remedies remit price and we will send direct.

AND British Military and Naval Operations

GIGANTIC SCALE.

1889. AUGUST 5 TO 10 1889.

The Bombardment of Halifax by Her Majesty's Fleet of Warships and the Defence by Immense Land Forces will be a Spectacular and Exciting Representation of Actual Warfare.

The Review of British Soldiers, Men-of-War and Local Militia, will be on a scale equal to anything of the kind to be witnessed in European Countries.

The Military Tournament presents Naval Exhibitions to be seen in only one other place in the world--at the Royal Agricultural Hall, London, Eng., once a year.

The Firemen's Tournament will be participated in by fire ladders from all over the country. The contests are open to all.

The Parade of Boston Odd Fellows in Uniform, with their own music, will be a unique feature of the Carnival.

The Torchlight Parade of Firemen, Trades, Manufacturers, Societies, Sporting Clubs, etc., will be the most extensive affair of the kind ever witnessed in Canada.

The Band Tournament will be taken part in by Musical organizations, visiting and local.

The Illumination of the Harbor, Ships of War, Mercantile, Marine and Surrounding Country, with the procession of Brilliantly Lighted Boats, will be of vast extent and unequalled grandeur.

Promenade Concerts in the Illuminated Public Gardens, with music by Military Bands and Elaborate Pyrotechnic Displays, will be prominent attractions among evening amusements.

The Chinese Lantern Bicycle Parade, by local and foreign wheelmen, will be a striking novelty.

The "Three-Days" Walking Match will be contested by champion American, English and Canadian professional pedestrians.

Among the other features of Carnival Week are Horse Races, Base Ball Tournament, Cricket, Aquatic Concerts, Harbor Excursions and Yacht Races.

Book of Wonders.

By L. DAVISON. NO. 13.

"Farmin' an' Workin'" a dialect poem, is the next one come in the "Book of Wonders." It reads thus:

FARMIN' AN' WORKIN'. It's not very well for 'em city folks, Who live by writin' and say, To say that us ole farmers' hands, Are all well-to-do an' rich.

It's all ve-y well for 'em wadin' folks To throw out their bits of talk 'Bout fert'izers an' ploogin' land, An' best ways o' keepin' stock.

I see their agricultural books, And their stuff in the papers too; I'm not what you call a prejudiced man, For I read 'em through an' through.

They say that the world couldn't get along, An' they're not far off the track-- 'Ez 'twain' for the stuff us farmers' hands, The stuff what the cities lack.

But then what sorter beskes me up Is thinkin' they know such a deal More'n us ole hands 'bout everythin'-- From seed oats to 'resin' veal.

They say that farmin's a noble work-- A farmer's a noble man-- But never a word 'bout the work you see, There's in workin' the land.

Now, if you're talkin' of buyin' a farm, And haven't much money, why, I'd like to tell you a thing or two Before you decide to buy.

The frim is a place where work abounds; But if that you intend to do No better place in the great wide world Than the farm there is for you.

But if your look is aimed for fun, And an easy life an' gay, You'd better get 'er from a farm As you ever get 'er in a day.

For there's enough of that 'ere kind Who live by other's toil-- Who will not work by other's do, For fear 'their hands they' so!

I'd like to see you on a farm, But look, my son, don't shirk, For if you're goin' on a farm, Don't be afraid to work.

How like the author was the poem above. He could laugh--right merrily; it was like him to laugh. Sunny-hearted and joyful, his humor was always bright and pure--never coarse and boorish.

Many articles of a humorous character he wrote, and good ones. In his article on "Noses," which appeared in the ACADIAN with others from his pen during that winter of '87-'88 when his pen ran so badly, humor of a striking character is displayed. But the majority of his humorous productions were never published. For reasons known to himself he never submitted them for publication. He was too severe a critic on his own writings. Two many of them were a victim only to be destroyed. In one article from his pen, on "Drunk," I remember a sentence which struck me as peculiarly original. I shall always remember it. After describing dress--the different kinds which different people wear, he said, "Some people think if they store a fifty-dollar suit they would be good-looking; others people know that in plain clothes they are handsome." And it was the way he would sign his name to the article, Yours truly, nevertheless, Less.

An autograph of his I remember of seeing once which struck me as comical. It was this: "May your shadow never grow Less."

Two little stanzas stand on the top of the next page. They were evidently the opening stanzas of a poem which the author intended to write. This is how they run: Over the meadows brown and serene, Over the mountains dark and steep, Where the birches and the maple rear Their summits to the sky-- The south winds softly, mildly blow, And from the quickly thawing snow That down the mountain slope will flow, The river takes its rise. BEN ZEENE.

Early closing. 'We, the merchants of Wolfville, agree to close our places of business Thursday evening of each week at six o'clock, to begin with August the first.

Paris Green at S. B. SHERB's.

Dr. Geo. A. Phillips, a very eminent doctor of Malbone Bay, N. S., says: "I know a man on this Bay who has been sick for a long time. All the medicine tried or would think of did not reach his case. He tried Canadian Bitters and other Patent Medicine, all failed and he was gradually growing worse. At last he tried a bottle of Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier. Imagine my surprise that in less than a week he was much improved in health, and by the time he had finished the second bottle he was a well man. I now have great faith in your Dock Blood Purifier, which in the case mentioned proved itself far superior to any Bitters or Blood Purifier that I have ever known."
