

BATTLESHIPS ARE WATCHING OVER IRLAND--GRAVE SITUATION ARISES

A Civil War Outbreak is Feared by Government.

Gravest Concern is Held as to What Outcome Will be.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, April 28.—Notwithstanding yesterday's emphatic and apparently well based statements that not a single fresh soldier has as yet moved towards Ulster, reports from Dublin persist that three regiments are under orders and can start on brief notice. The fact seems to be that as yet the government is as yet undecided what course to take.

After replying to numerous questions in the House of Commons in regard to Ulster, especially in reference to the gun-running, Premier Asquith visited the King, after which he attended a meeting of the cabinet which lasted nearly three hours. An adjournment was then taken until this morning. The adjournment being taken is ascribed to the non-arrival of some Customs Service reports in regard to the smuggling of arms into Ulster.

Major-General C. F. N. Macready, of the Adjutant-General's staff of the war department, has taken over the command of the police forces in the Belfast district.

Premier Asquith spoke in a grave tone yesterday when he promised that proper steps would be taken to vindicate the authority of the government and the Ministerial papers to-day say the Cabinet is unanimous in the determination that strong measures will be taken to punish the parties implicated in the gun-running.

Arrests Hinted At The Daily News and Leader hints that the arrest of Sir Edward Carson and other Ulster leaders is contemplated. Sir Edward and Capt. James Craig, another prominent Ulster Unionist, say they are quite ready to be arrested. They say it would not affect the Ulster organization, which is now complete.

It is declared that no obstacles will be placed in the way of arresting the Ulster leaders. The men arrested will have their initial arraignment at Belfast, and their appearance there as prisoners is likely to cause serious trouble.

Belfast was very quiet yesterday. The Unionists confess complete unconcern about the threats of the Government to punish everybody connected with the gun-running. The only measure which the Government has taken up to the present is to order the Royal Irish Constabulary throughout Ulster to hold up all automobiles and search them for arms. If any are found in the cars they are to arrest the occupants.

Warships Off Lorne. A despatch from Belfast says five warships arrived off Lorne last night and flashed their searchlights in all directions.

ASTOR'S WEDDING SET FOR THURSDAY

Some Changes in Plans Are Necessitated by Illness of the Groom.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, April 28.—The wedding of Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington and Vincent Astor is to take place on Thursday, the date originally set, although the illness of Mr. Astor necessitated a change in the plans and the ceremony will be performed at Hopedale house, the Huntington home instead of in St. Margaret's Church, Staatsburgh, N. Y.

The ceremony will be performed at 12:30 o'clock and will be attended by a small assembly of relatives and friends, not exceeding fifty in number. Miss Huntington's only attendant will be her sister, Miss Alice Huntington, and Herman Oelrich will serve as best man.

No arrangements for the honeymoon have been made by Mr. Astor, but it is expected that he and his bride will remain for some time at his estate at Fernaldville, until his health improves sufficiently to undertake carrying out his original plans for a trip aboard his yacht.

Cannot Supply Demand For Men For Work On Farms Of The County

Mr. T. Y. Thompson of the Ontario Government's Labor Bureau in this city, announced to-day that it was nearly impossible to secure sufficient help for the farmers, the demand in all directions being greater than the supply. Already this month he had placed 37 at work on farms in every direction, many farmers coming here from Drumbo and Ayr to ask the assistance of the Government office. Eight men were wanted to-day, Mr. Thompson said, by farmers who would be in, but the men were not available for them.

The farmers regard the labor bureau established in this city a great boon to their interests, and many have expressed great praise to Mr. W. S. Brewster, M.P.P., for securing it. One of the biggest difficulties the farmer has to face is the labor question, and the Government bureau has facilitated this work to a great degree.

PLUCKY GIRLS AT ALMA COLLEGE

They Arrested Man Marauder in Early Hours of the Morning.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] ST. THOMAS, Ont., April 28.—A young lady student at Alma Ladies College here was awakened by a noise about 2 o'clock this morning, and quietly investigating, discovered a man in the corridor. The other girls were aroused, and while some stood guard at the windows and exits from the corridor, others flew to arouse the principal, his son and the janitor. These three arrived and took the man, who was still surrounded by the determined girls into custody. The police were called by telephone and the fellow was lodged in the cells. He gave his name as Thomas, and pretended to be intoxicated or dozy. He had climbed a fire escape to the second story and gained entrance through a window. Before he had time to secure any plunder, if that were his object, the plucky young lady students nabbed him.

PROMINENT IN HAMILTON. HAMILTON, Ont., April 28.—Jas. A. Publow, a prominent citizen and one of the original members and founders of the Canadian manufacturers' Association, died here to-day. Born in Perth, Ontario, 59 years ago, he spent the greater part of his life in Brockville, where for many years he was associated with the J. W. Man, Manufacturing Co., as superintendent. In Hamilton he was engaged in the real estate business. Deceased was a member of the Royal Arcanum. He is survived by a widow and daughter.

Niagara district growers fear that the peach crop this year will be decidedly small.

Irish Nationalists Get Ammunition in as Well

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDONDERRY, Ireland, April 28.—The Irish Nationalist volunteers, a body similar in organization to the Ulster Unionist volunteers, made matters even with their political opponents in the course of last night by successfully landing a large consignment of arms. The weapons, which are said to have been brought from America, were taken ashore at a remote spot on the coast of the County of Donegal, in the far west of Ulster. A strange steamer had been seen off the coast for three successive nights. Late last night a number of fishing craft approached, took off the cargo and succeeded in evading the coastguards and landing the rifles, which were quickly distributed. The size of the consignment is unknown, but it is believed to have been considerable, although not equalling the 40,000 rifles and 500,000 rounds of ammunition the Unionists received on April 25.

PROPERTY OF BRITISH FIRM SEIZED BY U.S.

Admiral Believed it Was Necessary to Facilitate Business.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] VERA CRUZ, April 28.—Rear Admiral Fletcher last evening seized the piers, yards and buildings of the Terminal Company, a British owned concern, control over which he regarded as necessary in order to facilitate the resumption of the normal business activity of the city. The admiral had been endeavoring to rent the property, but could not come to an agreement with the managers as to the price to be paid. The management quoted a figure which the naval authorities considered exorbitant, and Admiral Fletcher ended the controversy by taking advantage of his powers under martial law and assuming possession of the property. The seizure was made with no order formality than the announcement that Admiral Fletcher was in control of the property.

Prior to the seizure a high official of the company had a British flag raised over the water station far out in the yards in the belief that such action might prevent the Americans from taking over the property. It availed him nothing however, W. Morcom, manager of the Mexican railway, and president of the Terminal Company, called on Rear Admiral Craddock of the British Cruiser, Egess, and related the circumstances to him. The admiral advised Mr. Morcom to present his claims to the British foreign office.

The Terminal Company is a British concern, most of the stock which is held by the Intercon and Mexican are British owned.

For the operation of the property the military authorities are using railroad men who have just arrived in Vera Cruz and who offered their services in any capacity.

A Natural Action

LONDON, April 28.—The seizure yesterday by United States Rear Admiral Fletcher of the property of the British owned Terminal Company at Vera Cruz is accepted by the British foreign office as a perfectly natural action, quite within the admiral's rights and in accordance with propriety, both of which are considered unquestionable. Officials here regard the admiral's action as coming within the ordinary routine of such circumstances. It was stated to-day that if the Terminal Company presents a claim to the British foreign office it will be forwarded to Washington in the ordinary course.

HE WAS ARRESTED

Geo. J. Thomas is Charged With Defrauding His Landlady.

If the allegations of Mrs. Drake, Holmedale, are true, Geo. J. Thomas showed himself to be a base ingrate when he went off to Toronto, owing her, his landlady, the sum of $50. Mrs. Drake stated that she had taken him into her home and had kept him for some months during which time he was ill and unemployed and when he was thoroughly recovered she had set him on his feet. After all this kindness showered upon him, he deliberately packed his scanty trunks, unknown to her and decamped to the Queen City. She complained to the authorities and Thomas was apprehended and held under arrest and the local police notified. Detective Chapman left the city and will bring Thomas back from Toronto this afternoon to face justice.

STRIKE MOST SERIOUS TODAY IN COLORADO

Seven Mine Guards Killed in Clash With the Strikers.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] DENVER, Colo., April 28.—Conditions in the Colorado coal fields this morning became more serious than at any time since the inception of the strike last September. Violence spread from the southern fields to those of the extreme north, continuing with vigor in the southern zone which probably cost the lives of seven mine guards at the Walsen mine here Wednesday and being inaugurated in the northern field by simultaneous attack on the mines of Louisville, Lafayette and Marshall with an unknown casualty list. The conflicts between strikers and mine guards at Walsen and at the Hecla mine at Louisville continued throughout the night. The arrival of the militia from Ludlow at Walsen mine apparently had no effect upon the many strikers who kept up their fire at the mine from long range even after the troopers reinforced the defenders.

At midnight the militia reached Walsenburg and its force of fifty men was divided, half remaining in Walsenburg and the other half going to the Walsen mine by a round about route to avoid contact with the strikers. Upon their arrival they determined to do nothing more than aid in the defence of the mine property until the developments of the day more clearly defined the work that may be needed of them.

Fresh outbreaks in the Trinidad district were reported from the Forbes mine camp early to-day with no casualties. The main body of state troops is located at Ludlow only a short distance from the Forbes camp, but no orders went forth for troops to move upon strikers there.

Later yesterday the guards were driven from the McNally mine by strikers after two men had been killed and two persons wounded, one a woman. The strikers, then fired the tipple and other buildings in the mine camp, taking complete possession of the property.

In the meanwhile in Denver, state officials waited word from Washington that President Wilson had determined to send Federal troops into the state.

He Resigned William Brennan of Hamilton Works Department Quits Job.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] HAMILTON, Ont., April 28.—Wm. C. Brennan, secretary of Hamilton's works department for many years, resigned to-day. In tendering his resignation he wrote that he could resign with a clear conscience as he had been guilty of no wrong doing. The resignation was accepted by the Board of Control without comment. This is the first move as a result of the investigation that is under way here.

The probing committee found a rather startling state of affairs existing in 1912. This was blamed on the 'wrecked' book-keeping system in vogue then, but which has since been changed.

Mr. Chester Walters, an expert accountant, who is on the investigating committee, said that as much as $250,000 worth of material might have been missing in the last five years as there was no way of accounting for it. He did not say, however, that 250 cents worth was missing. The investigation will be continued.

Mrs. Clark Murray launched at Westmount, Que., a scheme to draw the parts of the Empire closer together by action pictures in the schools.

AMERICANS IN SORRY PLIGHT AT CORDOBA MEXICO

In Constant Danger of Assassination by Drunken Keepers.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] VERA CRUZ, April 28.—Sleeping on the stone flagging of the jail with insufficient food, no sanitation and threatened every night with assassination by drunken jailors, is the experience of the Americans and other foreigners, including women and children, confined at Cordoba. Their release to-day has been promised by General Maas, in reply to a request from United States Consul Canada, through a messenger who returned to Vera Cruz to-day.

W. H. Mechling, of the geological survey of Canada, who has been for some time in Mexico, in behalf of the Universities of Harvard, Pennsylvania and Columbia, spent two days at Cordoba. He was detained but not put in jail and finally was permitted to proceed here as an Englishman though he is in reality an American.

Mr. Mechling went to the jail in Cordoba Sunday afternoon and talked to the prisoners among whom are several he is acquainted with. They begged him to communicate their plight to Counsel Canada and Rear Admiral Fletcher in an endeavor to secure their release. The prisoners are herded like cattle and jeered at most constantly either by the keepers or the Mexican inmates of the jail. They are permitted to have food and drink only when the whim suits the jailors and are kept in a state of terror by frequent threats of death. The total number of prisoners of all nationalities, according to Mr. Mechling, is 85. One of the imprisoned men is Superintendent Henry of the Vista Hermosa sugar plantation at Vera Cruz, who entertains John Lind, President Wilson's representative, a few months ago. Mr. Mechling says there are 87 persons, chiefly Americans, held at Tuxtepec, state of Vera Cruz, from surrounding plantations, and that Consular Agent Wite is in jail at El Hule near Tuxtepec.

Mr. Mechling left Tuxtepec last Wednesday with a pass, giving an assumed name, and his nationality as British. An excited crowd of Mexicans surrounded the train, and it was with difficulty that he persuaded them to allow him to board. At El Barro, another mob searched the train and robbed him of all but two bills which he had hidden in his shoe. At Tierra Blanca fourteen whites and thirty-two negroes were brought aboard the train. A howling mob met the train at Cordoba and shouted insult at the Americans. The crowd surrounded the jail long after the doors had closed on the prisoners.

IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION

ST. THOMAS, Ont., April 28.—Hudson Lodge-house, of Detroit, feeling ill, went to the window of his room on the third story of the International Hotel at midnight last night and fell out, landing on the ground 30 feet below. He is at the hospital in a precarious condition. He came here to obtain work as an automobile repairer.

President Wilson is Pleased at Peace Proposals.

Some Incidents of Conflict in Zone of Trouble.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WASHINGTON, April 28.—With the swinging of the pendulum in the Mexican crisis—Huerta's formal acceptance of the good offices of the South American diplomats—President Wilson and his advisors to-day awaited the setting of the stage on which representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile hope to pave the way to peace. Until the early hours to-day the envoys remained in conference completing preliminary plans of proposed mediation. Their next move expected to-day, it was suggested, would be a request to the Washington and Huerta Governments for arrangements of probable demands each would make, preliminary to any attempt at formal mediation. The next step would depend upon the nature of those replies. Upon them probably would be based the proposals intended for submission to the Washington Government and Huerta.

Huerta's reply, conveyed through his Minister for Foreign Affairs to Mr. Riano, Spanish ambassador in Washington, was received late last night. Its tenor was expected, because Mr. Riano had received private advices the night before that Huerta would accept, and the South American envoys had been at work all day on that assumption. The text of the acceptance was not made public, but Huerta's minister was said to have thanked the South American envoys and the Spanish ambassador for their good offices and to have referred to the "real spirit of solidarity between peoples of the same race."

To what lengths the "good offices" of the South American might reach was an absorbing topic in official Washington and the entire diplomatic corps to-day. Other features in the situation largely were lost sight of except among army and navy officials charged with execution of preparations for eventualities. Taut nerves and the anxiety of the last few days were relieved by news that Americans were leaving danger zones in the southern republic, while reports of tranquility along the border were encouraging. "Things look very much better now," Secretary Daniels said. "We're getting Americans out of Mexico. That's the important thing now."

When news of Huerta's acceptance was taken to President Wilson he declared himself greatly pleased. However, he made no further comment, and White House officials let it be known that no announcement of mediation would be made that might embarrass the representatives of the South American countries. In official and diplomatic circles expressions were heard that whatever had been accomplished by the peace-makers up to this point must have a good effect in the situation.

BAPTISTS ARE CELEBRATING

Sum of $750,000 Raised to Increase Stipends of Ministers.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] MONTREAL, April 28.—The Baptists of Great Britain last night celebrated by a great mass meeting in Albert Hall the completion of the fund of $750,000 to provide more adequate stipends for the ministers of the church, says a London cable to the Daily Mail. At present 100 ministers receive less than $375 yearly; whilst 700 are paid less than $750. There is some heart burning amongst the more strict members of the denomination, because it is claimed that participation in the benefits of the fund means control of the individual minister by the board of trustees.

Weekly Drill and Parade Held by Local Regiment Last Night.

The Dufferin Rifles paraded 428 strong last night—a record of any drill season and unequalled before in the history of the regiment as a drill night parade.

Col. Howard and Staff, Maj. Genet and Capt. Balachewy were in command. The muster per Company was as follows: A company, 3 N.C.O.'s and men; B company, 40 N.C.O.'s and men; C company, 22 N.C.O.'s and men; D company, 34 N.C.O.'s and men; E company, 40 N.C.O.'s and men; F company, 27 N.C.O.'s and men; G company, 26 N.C.O.'s and men; H company, 36 N.C.O.'s and men; Signalers 27; Stretcher Bearers 17 N.C.O.'s and men; Brass Band 30; Bugle Band, 33 N.C.O.'s and men. The march out was much admired and complimentary comments were heard along the route, which was as follows: Brant Avenue, by way of Church, Wellington, Market and Dalhousie to parade grounds outside headquarters. Deploying and counter marching from quarter column to line; company formation into single rank and various movements completed one of the finest drills on record. The men adopted themselves with precision to their restricted manoeuvring area. Major Genet, as second in command exercised the men in battalion drill and other movements.

Addressing the men at the armories Col. Howard expressed great satisfaction with all ranks and hoped for a parade of 450 next Monday evening.

H company was acting on the advice given at their company supper to a man; before parade they captured five recruits. Last night the battalion marched off in succession from H company, a reversal of the usual practice of succession from A. Capt. Cutcliffe was on parade last night.

Golf Notes

The Buffalo Express of yesterday has a long article on the Park Golf Club of that city—a club which is very popular with Brantford players who regularly play home and home matches with its members and when in Buffalo are always made welcome guests of the course.

Mr. George Johannat for many years the popular captain of the club has resigned and Dr. Steele, a well known visitor to the Brantford links, is the captain for this season and "a right good captain too," he will make. A number of improvements are being made to the Park course which will greatly improve it. The Park Club will play in Brantford on July 1st, and Brantford in Buffalo on July 1st.

BRITAIN IS CONCERNED IN MEXICO

Sir Edward Grey Says Mediation Will be Welcomed.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, April 28.—"The trouble in Mexico is one of grave concern to the British Government on account of the large British commercial interests involved and we of course are ready to encourage and further in any way we can any proposals for mediation, which will have the effect of bringing the trouble to an end." This statement was made by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary in the House of Commons to-day when he formerly announced that the United States had accepted the proffered mediation of Argentina, Brazil and Chile. The British foreign secretary added that he had not definitely heard what attitude Mexico had taken in connection with the proposed mediation. Sir Edward paid tributes to Thomas B. Hoeller, British secretary of the legation at Mexico City and Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister and other British officials who have been active in getting foreign refugees out of Mexico City. He said: "All the arrangements seem to have been executed with great tact and have been of real service to British and other foreigners as well as to the Mexicans."

Sir Edward Grey did not refer to the mission of the Commander Hugh J. Tweedie of the British Cruiser Essex, who was sent to Mexico City. Neither did he mention the reports that the European powers were bringing pressure to bear on General Huerta to accede to the demands of the United States. It was learned later at the Foreign Office that circumstances accounts published in reference to Commander Tweedie's mission were wide of the mark and that he was simply carrying despatches concerning the succor to be given to the refugees.

An Election In the Fall

[By Special Wire to The Courier] TORONTO, April 28.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, in the Legislature this morning, made enquiry about the possibility of a June election. Certain rumors, Mr. Rowell said, were afloat, and with the session nearing its end, he said the House and the country will be interested to know whether it is the intention of the Government to bring on an election in June. Hon. James Duff regarded this as a joke, and laughed loudly. "I cannot give the House information that I have not got myself," said Hon. J. J. Foy. It is not thought an election will be brought on until the fall.

BOWMAN LAYS HIS CHARGE, HANNA DENIES

Visit of Inspector Snider is Basis of Attack Being Made.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] TORONTO, April 28.—"I charge that an agreement or understanding was corruptly or improperly made between the Provincial Secretary, acting in and for his department, and as such representing the government; and the organized liquor interests of the province of Ontario as represented by its organizations and representatives; that he (the Provincial Secretary) and his department of the government would co-operate with the organized liquor interests in helping to procure the defeat of the Scott Act in the Counties of Welland, Huron and Peel, and that the said understanding and agreement was arrived at under the circumstances hereinbefore set forth."

"I further charge that the said W. K. Snider did not go into the said counties in performance of any official duties of his office, or because he thought it part of his official duty to do so (as alleged by the Provincial Secretary), but went to the said counties upon the request and direction of the said Provincial Secretary in order to carry out the said understanding or agreement so arrived at by the said Provincial Secretary and the representatives of the organized liquor interests."

"I further charge that the said W. K. Snider in so visiting in his official capacity the said counties, then and there stated that he represented the department of the Provincial Secretary, and the government and endeavored to persuade the parties he interviewed to work for the defeat of the Scott Act and advised them that it was the desire of the department of the Provincial Secretary that the Scott Act should be defeated, and that the said statement of the said W. K. Snider in the said counties that he was there representing the said department and acting upon instructions from the said department was true in substance and in fact."

Paris Council Met Monday

Geo. Wheeler is Appointed Building Inspector - Paris News

PARIS, April 28.—The regular meeting of council was held last evening with all members present. Petitions for cement walks from Jane to St. Andrew on Broadway; east St. Andrew (Broadway) to Capin; Main street, Washington to King, were granted. A petition from the band asking for a grant of $250 for 1914 for the open air concerts given by the band during the summer months was filed. The band will be granted the usual $150.

A letter was received from Mr. John M. Westbrook, M. P. P., regarding the best road scheme. There are some probable changes to be made by the government in the matter, the letter was filed for future reference.

Mr. Geo. Wheeler was appointed building inspector for Paris, he to receive one quarter of one half per cent commission on total cost of buildings to be inspected. The sum of $10 was granted to the Great Waterways Union of Canada. Deputy Reeve Evans was appointed to represent Paris at the meeting of conversation in Convocation Hall, Toronto, May 25 to 28.

The report of the streets and sidewalks committee re. plank for William street bridge and grading of Laurel street, was passed. Miss Shellington wrote complaining that the water had overrun her property (the old Blakeley place) during the storm of Saturday. Referred to committee.

It was found that entrance had been made to Watson's liquor store by a hole being broken through the wall of an adjoining cellar, that was empty, into the cellar rented by Watson. For several nights Chief Felker and a staff had been watching the premises. About 9 last evening Chief Felker arrested a man named Al Brown, red handed, and the goods in his possession, consisting of several bottles of Holland gin. The kid will be held this morning. The police department have made a good catch in the above.

The denial of Hon. W. J. Hanna to these charges was as vigorous to-day as it has always been. The Hamilton Women's Liberal Association was organized.

A CLEVER MOVE.

Viewed merely from a utilitarian standpoint, the action of the three South American Republics, Argentina, Brazil and Chile, to offer as mediators between the United States and Huerta cannot be regarded as otherwise than as a clever move.

People are very apt to under-rate these nations. Brazil has an area of 3,300,000 square miles—or only 400,000 square miles less than Canada—and her population is 23,600,000, or some three times that of the Dominion.

THE BRANTFORD ROYAL TEMPLARS held their usual weekly meeting on Thursday last. It was decided to hold an "At Home" on the second Thursday in May.

Municipal boundaries have been adhered to, and the lines followed are much more consistent than prevailed under the Liberal regime.

The Liberal division of Bruce municipalities gave North Bruce 1,219 more electors than Centre Bruce.

For the present the tense war situation has passed from Mexico to Great Britain.

They have another big scandal in Quebec, this time with reference to the Dominion marine department.

QUIET AT VERA CRUZ

Stirring scenes to the south of Washington almost had reached a standstill. The only feature to disturb the peaceful routine of Vera Cruz over which the stars and stripes now wave, was the probable landing to-day of military forces from the transports and the assumption of supreme command by Brigadier-General Fumston.

The seaport rapidly was going back to its business. The terminal company which controls tracks, wharves and warehouses and other freight handling facilities resumed operations, adding materially to the adjustment of business of other commercial companies.

The United States flag was hoisted over Hotel Terminal headquarters of the naval forces on shore, in the presence of the commander-in-chief, the commander of the naval force on shore, their staffs, a regiment of seamen, a regiment of marines and numerous other naval officers and civilians.

The band played the Star Spangled Banner and the Minnesota fired a salute of 21 guns. The scene was most impressive and cheered by the civilians present.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels was much pleased to-day at the receipt of a despatch from Admiral Fletcher stating he had published this proclamation:

"It is gratifying to note that all business is resumed in Vera Cruz and good order prevails. Citizens may pass freely in the streets both day and night and resume their usual customs."

One of the sidelights incidental to the re-establishment of order in Vera Cruz was contained in Admiral Fletcher's report of arms seized from the inhabitants there. The list shows: Rifles 6,000; shotguns 4,000; revolvers 1,350; swords and other weapons 1,000, besides 133,000 rounds of ammunition, 6,000 pounds and cases of fuses.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported to Secretary Daniels to-day that "there appears to be no immediate need for provisions for the inhabitants of Vera Cruz."

"The amount of provisions in sight available for purchase is variously estimated at from one to two weeks exclusive of a considerable quantity of supplies in the railroad terminal yard not yet unloaded," the report stated.

"It is probable that a cargo of food stuffs comprised of whole corn, beans, rice and a limited quantity of sugar will find a market here in the near future. The local supply of fresh garden produce is still limited, but will doubtless improve as the back country is opened up. Fish is cheaper and more plentiful because none can be shipped to the interior. Milk is scarce. Beef, cattle, in considerable numbers are reported to be fairly near Vera Cruz, but the owners fear to drive them in without an armed guard, to protect their herd. There is no rice. The rice was damaged by gun fire, and the regular supply has been entirely consumed. Our force will repair ice plant."

Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS Copyright, 1914, by The Frank A. Munsey Company.

"Here," she called in reply. "Here! In the roadway!"

"You have answered. Now tell me why you would marry one you do not love."

"My father owes him money. Suddenly there came back to Tarzan the memory of the letter he had read—and the name of Robert Canler and the blated trouble which he had been unable to understand then."

"He smiled. His father had not lost the treasure you would not feel forced to keep your promise to this man Canler?"

"I could ask him to release me." "And if he refused?"

"I have given my promise," ventured Tarzan. "Jane Porter, if you were free would you marry me?"

"She did not reply at once, but he waited patiently. The girl was trying to collect her thoughts."

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA CANADIAN HEAD OFFICE BUILDING

The new premises of the Bank of British North America on St. James Street adds another to Montreal's list of fine buildings.

It is built on the site that the bank have occupied for upwards of sixty years. The old building was a landmark, and its demolition marked the removal of one of the oldest buildings in Montreal.

The new building, designed by Barott, Blackader & Webster of Montreal, and built by Norcross Bros. is in every way a handsome structure.

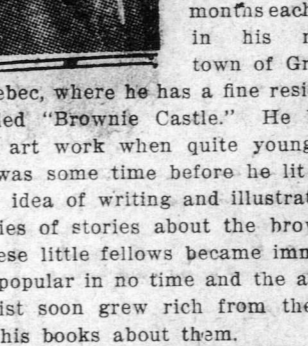

The walls, columns and counters of the spacious banking room are of Italian Haavville marble. Security vault, book vault and safety deposit vaults have been constructed in the basements.

The whole building is splendidly equipped and will be occupied in its entirety by The Bank of British North America.

Defendant asked at the court this morning to be tried by jury, but the magistrate decided that evidence would be taken.

His employer refused this amount of three dollars was deducted from his wages. Witness had given Gleason three months to pay, but he had never endeavored to settle up.

COAL TEAMSTER LAID A CHARGE

He Charged Ed. Gleason With False Pretences-- Police Court Today.

Edward J. Gleason ordered half a ton of coal on January 31st and tried to tip payment for the coal which was sent C. O. D., by saying that he had arranged with Mr. Gibson from whom he had ordered the fuel. As a consequence W. J. Argent, the driver, had to pay the cost of the coal which he had delivered and he brought action against Gleason and charged him with false pretences.

Defendant asked at the court this morning to be tried by jury, but the magistrate decided that evidence would be taken.

Argent said he gave defendant's wife a bill for the coal before he delivered it, and when he asked for payment she said her husband and Mr.
Gibson had many dealings and it was all right. His employer refused this and the three dollars was deducted from his wages. Witness had given Gleason three months to pay, but he had never endeavored to settle up.

Asked if he was willing to pay defendant said he was but he had no money. He had no authority to pay the money to any one but Gibson.

The magistrate told him to pay the cash into his office and not to bother about authority as to whom he had to pay it to. He was given a week in which to put matters right, but the cost of three dollars worth of coal to him now will be $7.85 for he will have court costs to defray.

Mrs. McCummins of Alfred street, aired a protest against the abuse she suffered at the court this morning.
She charged two colored children
James and Vina Turner, with breaking a pane of glass, and she was floored when the boy asked her how two of them could break one sheet of glass. Her brother-in-law, from her rambling statements, appeared to know more of the case than she did, and the charge was adjourned for a week in order that he might give evidence. The magistrate opined that she imagined a great deal more than she could complain of. She thought the children had come to kill her, and was, she said relieved when they only broke a window.

Another graft scandal looms up in connection with the Marine Department of Quebec, padding of pay lists being alleged.

HOW TO TREAT ALL SKIN TROUBLE

Greasy Ointments No Use--Must be Cured Through the Blood.

It is not a good thing for people with a tendency to have pimples and a blotchy complexion to smear themselves with greasy ointments.
In fact they couldn't do anything worse, because the grease clogs the pores of the skin, making the disease worse. When there is an irritating rash a soothing boracic wash may help allay the pain or itching, but of course it doesn't cure the trouble. Skin complaints arise from an impure condition of the blood and will persist until the blood is purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of eczema and skin diseases because they make new, rich blood that drives out the impurities, clears the skin and imparts a glow of health. The following proof is offered. Mrs. Fred Tremble, Gunter, Ont., says: "For more than a year I was steadily afflicted with salt rheum or eczema. My hands were so sore that I could not put them in water without the skin cracking open. I tried all sorts of ointments recommended for the trouble, but they did not do me a particle of good. I was told Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would cure the trouble, and began taking them. I took the Pills steadily for six or eight weeks and they completely cured the trouble. This was several years ago and I have never been bothered with it since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine-dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

Widow Gets Damages.

Three thousand dollars damages were awarded by Mr. Justice Britten at Osgoode Hall yesterday to Mrs.
Emma Moffat, of Arnia, widow of a Grand Trunk conductor, formerly of Prestford, who was killed while on duty owing to a collision between two freight trains near Kingscourt Junction, in November last. The deceded was in the conductor's van of the train, which was stalled in consequence of the main line being blocked when another train crashed into it from the rear. Mrs. Moffat sued the company for $10,000 damages.

Again Head Consul.

"The Canadian Woodman" has this time to say of a former Brantfordite, Dr.
Harrison was at one time a prominent practitioner in the East ward, and also occupied a seat at the aldermanic board. He has just been re-elected for the fourth year Head Consul of the Woodmen of the World for Canada.
Brantford Camp No. 12, by the by, is the largest camp of the order in Canada, having a membership of 720, which also makes it the largest fraternal lodge in the city.

Says the Woodman of Dr. Harrison who is now a resident of Toronto:
His business ability, his wide experience and integrity fit him well for the duties of guiding the destinies of Canadian Woodcraft during the next two years. Not a member but realizes there is a Master at the helm and that the ship of Woodcraft is safe in his hands. If he has ordered extra life boats, it is only in compliance with the demands of to-day--"Safety First." The Titanic, when she went down, carrying 1300 to a watery grave, didn't have them. The Woodmen will be safe for all time and in all seas. "Better be sure than sorry." Head Consul Harrison is just in the prime of life and is becoming recognized as one of the ablest fraternalists on the continent. Kindly, contemuous, sympathetic, every Woodman can realize they have in him a friend, one who will do the best possible and protect the interests of and for every member.

Dated April 28th, 1914.

City Engineer.

BATTLESHIPS ARE WATCHING

directions. The naval vessels are apparently small cruisers. The streets of Larne are crowded with people.
The battleship squadron which was scheduled arrived there yesterday.
The ships include the battleship Collingwood, with the Prince of Wales aboard. He is going for a short cruise before he returns to Oxford.

The small steamer Roma, which is owned at Larne, has been arrested at Ayr on a charge of participating in as landing coal. It is reported, but without confirmation, that the Roma was forcibly commandeered by the Ulster volunteers at Larne and compelled to take a cargo of arms to Belfast. The skipper of the Roma protested in vain against the practical seizure of his vessel. The captain and crew refused to talk when their ship was arrested at Ayr. They do not seem to be concerned about the matter.

In the House of Lords yesterday
the Marquis of Crewe, the Lord Privy Seal, said the Government had not ordered troops to Ulster. Lieut.-Gen.
Sir Arthur Paget, he said, had absolute discretion in reference to the movement of troops in Ireland. Gen.
Paget had not notified the Government of any movement of troops, or of his intention to move any. The Marquis of Crewe implied that he would move troops if necessary.

Liberal Amendment.

The following amendment to yesterday's vote of censure on the Government has been tabulated by several Liberal members:
"In view of the very serious nature of the preparations made by the Privy Councilors, members of Parliament, and others, in Ulster, supported by the leaders of the Unionist party, to resist the administration of law, resulting in unprovoked outrages on persons and property, including the obstruction of highways, interruption of telephone and telegraphic services and holding up of the police, customs house officers and coastguardsmen in the execution of their duty, this House undertakes to support the Government in whatever measures may be necessary to vindicate the authority of the law, to protect the officers and servants of the King in the execution of their duty, and to secure to his Majesty's subjects the enjoyment of their legal rights."

Subscription is being circulated for family of a coastguard who dropped dead during Friday night's excitement.

Same as Landing Coal.

The Standard argues, editorially, that gun-running in the absence of its express prohibition is as legitimate as landing coal, "the possession of warlike weapons with intent to use them against the King's peace is a different matter, continues the Standard," and no doubt the police would be entitled to seize and detain those German Mausers, but they have got to find them first, and men who manage their business with such marvelous skill as those Ulster organizers are quite capable of baffling Gen.
MacReady and his clumsy and perhaps unsympathetic constabulary. The Prime Minister and his colleagues are indeed in a situation of most painful embarrassment if they sit down and do nothing under this open demonstration that the provincial Government is already a real executive in Ulster. They have practically abdicated their authority. A Government which cannot govern has no right to be in office and that is the position of the Cabinet so far as Ulster is concerned.

The Ulster Morning Post questions if the error can be relied upon to put down Ulster's organization.
Firstly, because of the army's dislike to coercing the civil population, and secondly, because of the traditional friendship between Ulster and the army and the corresponding unpopularity of the Nationalists. The Post concludes by demanding the Government's resignation.

The Globe warns the Government that any movement of troops may kindle a spark that will break into the flame of civil war, reducing a province of the United Kingdom into a condition similar to Mexico.

The Westminster Gazette exhibits some measure of impatience at the Government being too weak, asking why the naval measures were not taken to intercept the illicit cargo Friday. It declares that Sir Edward Carson and other members of the Opposition on the front bench are gambling on the reluctance or inability of the Crown against them.
The success of the Ulster movement adds the Gazette, means the breaking up of authority in all parts of the United Kingdom. The Government cannot remain in office without power. If that power fails they must boldly appeal to the country against the promoters of anarchy.

Lorne Bridge Is Cracking

Stone Abutment Shows Signs of Weakening.

Lorne bridge is on the verge of falling to pieces. This fact was pointed out this morning when a citizen called the attention of the Courier to the wide cracks in the stone abutment on the east end of the bridge.

The stone blocks are separated from one to five inches all the way down to the ground from the top. Since the L. E. & N. excavated the Terrace for their tracks the abutment on the east end has been settling and large cracks have appeared in the wall. Fear is expressed of the wall caving in and leaving a bad hole at this end if action is not taken at once.

No work has been done at Lorne bridge by the L. E. & N. for some time as plans for the raising of the bridge are not as yet complete. Some time ago the sidewalk on the south side of Colborne street caved in at the bridge, but nothing has since been done to repair the damage. By all appearances the city is going to have considerable trouble.

SMASHED POLE

Three Young Men in Auto Had Narrow Escape Last Night.

Mr. Lloyd Almas, Dr. Elliott and George Patte had a narrow escape last night from injury at the corner of Colborne street and Brant Ave., when an auto in which they were riding collided with one of the new high-dro electric standards, snapping the front post in two. As it was, Dr. Elliott was rather severely cut with flying glass. The car of Mr. Almas was badly wrecked and the occupants received a severe shaking up.

The car was proceeding down Brant Avenue at a moderate pace when another car was met at the corner. Mr. Almas says he was on the right side of the road and the other fellow was in the way. It was either a case of having a head-on collision with most likely disastrous results or hitting the post, and Mr. Almas turned his car in that direction. As it turned out, the occupants were extremely fortunate in escaping serious injury although medical attention was required for Dr. Elliott, Mr. Almas states that he has not learned the identity of the owner of the other car, as that Knight of the Road did not stop to evince any interest in the accident caused by him.

The damaged car was taken to Brown's garage and it was described by the owner this morning as a positive wreck.

QUERY IS MADE

Can an Alderman Accept a Contract for Supplies From Police Board.

Editor of the Courier: Sir,—It was announced in your paper last week that Mr. Joseph Broadbent had been awarded a contract for supplying suits to the police department. Can you tell me if an alderman has a right to enter into a contract with the municipality? Is he not liable to be disqualified from sitting in the Council by reason of such contract? Yours, MERCHANT TAILOR.

[Ed. Note.—The Courier consulted legal authorities in regard to the matter and there is some doubt as to whether the police commission is under the control of the City Council or is a body separate and independent. This paper can only give the following clause in the Act which relates to the matter: "A person having himself or by or through another an interest in any contract with the corporation or with any commission or person or with any of the corporation or in any acting for the supply of goods or materials to a contractor for work for which the corporation pays or is liable directly or indirectly to pay, or which is subject to the control or supervision of the Council or of an officer of the corporation, or who has an unsatisfied claim for such goods or materials."]

If Griffith Wins Rag He Can Thank Other Pilots For Castoffs

Clarke Griffith's Senators, now playing a series with the Yankees at the Polo grounds, furnish the most striking example offered by any major league club on the possibility of the "come back" in baseball. A runner-up in the last two pennant races, Griffith is convinced that his team will be the first to the wire in October.

The remainder of the program consists of Walter Johnson making the National League pennant winners say "uncle" in the world's series.

If Griffith is able to realize what he now believes to be next to certainty—a pennant in the fall—he undoubtedly will be grateful to a considerable extent to Fred Clarke, Hal Chase and Hughie Duffy. These three notables, acting in the capacity of managers, turned loose a good part of the valuable talent which Griffith now sends against the enemy every afternoon.

No less than four of Griffith's regulars were tried and found wanting by other managers, but the Washington pilot did not let the say-so of another deter him from getting these players. He went to Washington at the beginning of the 1912 season, after Washington in eleven years as a member of the American league had finished sixth twice, seventh 5 times and eighth four times.

Building Up With Discards

It was with discarded players that Griffith built up the machine which beat out the Athletics and trailed the Boston Red Sox in 1912, following up with another second place team last season. Danny Moeller, who had been turned adrift by Fred Clarke; Chic Gandil, who had been sent to the minors by the Chicago White Sox, and Eddie Foster sent on his way when Hal Chase led the Yankees, were the players to round out a winner at Washington.

George McBride, who was in Washington for some time before Griffith's arrival, was also turned loose by Fred Clarke. Now Griffith is singing the praises of his new utility player, Wally Smith, who was not thought worthy of being held by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Baseball history of the past few years is replete with instances of one club turning a future star player back to the minors without even the formality of keeping a string attached. Using this "string" is the usual procedure when a player is considered likely to develop sufficiently for major league service. Many of the stars of the present day suffered this fate only to come back and show that somebody had made a huge mistake.

Jake Daubert's Experience

Jake Daubert of Brooklyn, the king of the present day first basemen, is a notable case of this kind. Cleveland had Jake once and did not think it worth while to exercise an optional agreement when he was turned back. Joe Jackson was under Connie Mack's wing at one time and Connie let him go in a trade, while he was still a minor leaguer.

Jean D'Inze and Oscar Stange were both cut loose by Cincinnati, only to bob up later and show to great advantage. Harry Davis and Dan Murphy were both turned down by the Giants before they helped Connie Mack to make the Athletics famous. Heinie Wagner, for years a star shortstop in the American league and was let out without any string.

Other players who became very useful elsewhere after failing to satisfy are Pierce of the Chicago Cubs and Dick Rudolph, who ranks as one of George Stallink's best bets.

Archer and Killifer

One of the most notable managerial mistakes of recent date was that of Hughie Jennings when he turned Jimmy Archer back to the Buffalo club without keeping a string attached. Jimmy was back in the majors again after one season in the minors and he quickly proved himself the best catcher in the game.

Another sterling backstop who was turned loose by the American league and later bobbed up as a star in the National league is Bill Killifer of the Phillies. He was turned back by the St. Louis Browns. Jeff Tesreau and Bob Bescher of the Giants also failed to show any promising talent at Detroit and on their next trip to the majors they were both with National league clubs.

Among the pitchers there are several notable cases. Elmer Brown, now with Brooklyn, was sent back to the minors by Boston, but he came back strong. Kink Cole was held by no strings by the Cubs and he is back again in the rival league. Bill Doak of St. Louis was at one time with Cleveland, and George McQuillan was not held by any ties by the Cincinnati club so Pittsburgh grabbed him and he showed some flashy work as a comeback. Jim Vaughan failed to impress as a Yankee, but as a Cub he showed enough to make Hank O'Day smile. Cravath of the Phillies, and Fred Falkenberg, last year with Cleveland, are other notable examples of the comeback in baseball.

REV. MR. JEAKINS EXPLAINS.

Sporting Editor, Daily Courier:

Sir—There seems to be a slight misunderstanding as to what was said in connection with "sport" at the Sons of England banquet on St. George's Day, and I shall be grateful if you will grant space for this letter.

I agree heartily with every word written in this connection under "Sporting Comment" in Monday's issue, and am with the writer in every endeavor to provide a clean, healthy and re-creating sport. What I did refer to in my address was the ABUSE of sport, not its rightful use. It surely is evidence of something wrong when a man will talk of nothing but sport, thinks of nothing else, dreams of it, and, in fact, lives on it day in and day out. Such an attitude of mind leaves no room for the manly and better qualities which lie at the foundation of a nation's greatness. What I did deprecate was the giving of too much thought, time and energy to this branch of human activity to the neglect of others. In their proper place, sports, and the watching of games of sports, are excellent recreation to body and mind, and have a distinct function to perform. As a former captain of a University hockey team, and a member of the University Rugby football team—ardonable pride I think—I hope ever to take a proper interest in sport. Cricket, bowling and lawn tennis have also claimed attention in the matter of playing, and as for baseball, well, I thoroughly enjoy watching a good game. Thanking you for space allowed.

Yours, etc.,
C. E. JEAKINS.

MUTUAL MOVIE MEXICAN WAR SCENE

GENERAL ANGELES CHATS WITH MUTUAL MOVIE PHOTOGRAPHER

Sent direct from the battlefields of Mexico the remarkable war pictures taken by Mutual Movie photographers, have aroused much interest. The Mutual Film Corporation has a contract with General Villa, leader of the Constitutional forces, by which it is enabled to secure unusual photographs.

This picture shows General Angeles, who superseded Col. Servin as commander of Villa's artillery, talking to a Mutual Movie photographer. The men are on the outskirts of San Pedro, the town to which the Federal forces fled after they were driven out of Torreón. General Angeles, who led the pursuit, is a conspicuous figure in the war. He is a courteous, polished gentleman, and an able commander, having received a thorough military education abroad.

Canadian League News Notes

Mackmen Still Shy.

The good pitching that Connie Mack expected to get from his more experienced youngsters hasn't yet developed. With a year's play behind them they were expected to be a greatly improved bunch this spring.

On the contrary, they haven't looked nearly as good as they did last April.

Not Likely to Crack.

It is just as well to remember that Pittsburg isn't a club likely to say, as Phillies and Dodgers did last summer. There is a good bit more of the machine morale to Clarke's club than either of these clubs carried.

Most of the Pirates are veterans—likely to play their best ball after June. They have done so for five years. And if by the end of May they are well out of the deep rut that has caught and held them for so long these first two months, John J. McGraw will have the battle of his career to win a fourth straight flag.

Strong Offensively.

Pittsburg now looks to have the strongest attacking machine in the National league circuit. It is all a matter of her pitching—and even this department doesn't have to carry any wood-bating staff. Just good average steady pitching will give Pittsburg an even shot at the flag, thereby ending all gossip as to Giant cinch.

Shag Not Satisfied.

Ottawa Free Press: Shag isn't satisfied with the pitching staff yet, although he admits that it is the best things so far. "I want to see these fellows in a game before I'll make any predictions" says the big manager. Yesterday the regulars beat the Goats 5 to 2 in a seven innings game with Kubat and Hall twirling for the regulars and Peterson and Shocker hurling for the Goats. In the first game at Alrian Shag intends to send Shocker in to twirl. Dolan will hold down first. Bullock third base, Spicer shortstop, Smejkal second and Wager will do the catching. Shag, Rogers and Pete Powers will play the outfield. Hall, Shocker, Kubat and Peterson will twirl the four exhibition games on tour. Danse, the outfielder from Detroit, who arrived yesterday is the one who wrote advising Shag to sign him up at once if he wanted a really classy gardener. He claimed to have hit somewhere around .650. He may turn out to be another Rose but looks a husky looking youngster.

Wager, the new catcher, arrived in camp yesterday. There were two departures, Rose, the Montreal outfielder, and Newman, the Toronto amateur twirler. With Lage and Kane reporting, the battery staff will just be about full strength and ready to start the season. Yesterday afternoon the regulars and the Goats played a seven innings practice game. Manager Shaughnessy putting up the cigars for the winner. The Goats won after a heavy hitting contest. "Lefty" Rogers cracked out a three base hit in the last of the seventh, scoring two men. Rose, Kubat, Shaughnessy, Rogers and Dolan all hit homers and there were three base hits galore. The offerings of Newman, Bernlohr and Peterson were pounded hard, but Kubat twirled good ball. The recruit pitchers hadn't a chance to show anything under the heavy bombardment. Shag will probably carry six twirlers until the league rules call for a reduction to fourteen men in June. Rogers, Kane, Hall, Shocker, Kubat and Peterson are pretty sure to be the twirlers held. Bernlohr still needs experience, and Kohl hasn't shown anything yet to justify his being held.

The work-out yesterday gave the squad a chance to work under some things like war conditions, although the pitching was very soft picking.

NOT ONE OF CONNIE MACK'S $100,000 INFELD KNOWS THE TASTE OF LIQUOR

McClure's magazine publishes an article in which Connie Mack, the famous baseball manager, gives voice to a few of his convictions regarding the general hearing of liquor on a man's efficiency, its relations to clean living and clean thinking, and the possible means of grasping with the liquor problem. The conclusion he reaches is synonymous with the principle which employers of men all over the world are beginning to recognize more and more every day as the only logical and practical one they can provide—that alcohol when drunk in excess inevitably and that the best method of inculcating temperance is to lay it down as an economic principle affecting employment.

Mack takes the view that the day is practically past when even the men who "only take ore now and then, are so much handicapped in the race for life that aspirants for championships in any vocation they are quite impossible. The reason he assigns to this is that no matter how few drinks a man takes, even if he only takes them by way of being companionable, those drinks will ostracize him from the clean living and quick thinking class and place him in the drinking class.

He describes one instance that is particularly applicable. He employed a young ball player who took a class of beer occasionally, sometimes a whisky, but always by way of being sociable. Sometimes he told Mack, he went without it for weeks at a time, and without missing it. Mack put the matter to him this way: "If anyone were to ask me if you were a drinking man I would have to say you were, I couldn't ring in exceptions. Is it worth while for you to place yourself in that class when you can say you don't miss a drink?" The ballplayer knew what it was to be characterized as a drinking man, and quit drinking.

The ball team that Mack controls has, since he assumed the management of it, won some five pennants and three world's championships. Not

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF

Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. about Michigan Central for the last three years.

About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate.

I treated with my family physician for two months for Gravel in the Bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by GIN PILLS, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did—with the results that the pains left me entirely."

TEAM GETS HARD WORKOUT; PLAY EXHIBITION GAME TODAY

Deneau Forces Hot Pace For Players At Agricultural Park—Team Shows Much Improvement.

The Brants held another practice at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, in which the men showed more life and snap than ever before this season.

Manager Deneau put his squad through a stiff batting practice, followed by a fast fielding practice, in which the ability of the fielders was more pronounced than ever before. Gero and Carroll took turns pitching to the batting practice, after which they were chased home for a shower bath. Gero opened up and astonished the natives. No one thought the big fellow had so much speed corked up in his salary wing, and the way he shot the ball across the plate astonished even his last year's team-mates. Carroll, although suffering from a sore arm, also opened up and showed that he is there with the goods. Chase and Connell were given a rest yesterday and went to the outfield during batting practice. They will in all probability be used against the Stars this afternoon and given a chance to show what they can do. All the batters are improving daily in their batting and the art of "laying 'em down" is being drilled into them, even Gabby Ivers can dump the pill in front of the plate to the King's taste. Sandusky and Honeck gave Chase in left field lots of work to do chasing their long flies.

But it was in fielding practice the men had to work the hardest. "Show a little life," yelled Rube, and they sure did. Manager Deneau is going to have the hardest job of all picking the man to guard the third sack. In fielding and batting both Beltz and Rickart are about equal. Both men are peppy infielders, who cover a lot of ground and handle the ball cleverly, and both use their tongues enough to instill a "little life" into the rest of the team.

The hardest worker on the infield is Honeck. "Honey," as he has been nicknamed, is one of the smartest little infielders ever seen here, and never seems to tire of work. He is on the job all the time, working his head off, fairly driving the other players to keep pace with him.

"Get on the job, make those throws good," yelled Deneau, when he made a bad peg. "I'll get 'em over, just hand them down here and see," shot back Honey.

On second base Wagner was slowed up on account of a sore arm, but nevertheless he stuck gamely to his job and worked as hard as any of them. It looks as if Wag will be seen at his old position at second when the season opens. Wag is a steady, heady player, who has a knack of holding up an infield when on the verge of going to pieces.

By all appearances Deneau is going to use Eddie Taylor on first base. Eddie has been given the job of holding practice, and to say the least, he is some first baseman. "Gets 'em any place," remarked some fan, and he sure can cover some ground.

The way Manager Deneau slammed the ball around the infield yesterday afternoon made them all hustle, but every man was on his job, and after the practice was over the main complaints were a tired feeling and an empty stomach. Connell had Gabby Ivers chasing flies all over the outfield, and Gabby was there all the time. Chase also hit to the outfield and kept Chubby Coose, Biddy Burns and Sandusky chasing flies at his mercy.

In all, it was the best workout the team has had since training commenced, and the team is in fine condition to hand the Stars a severe drubbing this afternoon.

W.O.B.L. OFFICIALS TO FIX SCHEDULE

Messrs. Humber, Dulmage and Williams Meet Wednesday to Set Dates.

BERLIN, April 28.—The executive of the Western Ontario Baseball League did not draw up the schedule for the season as was expected yesterday afternoon but appointed President Humber, Stratford; Secretary Dulmage, Guelph; and W. J. Williams, Berlin, to meet on Wednesday evening to draft the playing schedule providing for forty games or more for each team, two each week and holidays up to Labor Day. The Victoria Day games were arranged: Woodstock in Guelph. Stratford in Berlin.

Brantford and Galt alternating morning and evening. There was keen competition by the ball companies and the Reach ball was selected for a period of three years.

The umpires for the season will be selected from the following: Stratford—W. Miller. Brantford—W. C. Rutherford, Fred Francis, Alex. Waldron, Pete Cancell.

Guelph—D. O'Connor, J. McGonagle, F. C. Dyson. Woodstock—W. Kennedy. Galt—W. Marshall, W. Thompson, Jas. Fraser, Buck Eason.

Berlin—H. Rathman, S. Hallman, A. Reid and J. McAvoy.

The season will open May 16 with Galt at Berlin, Stratford at Guelph, and Woodstock at Brantford.

Watching The Score Board

Toledo beat Ottawa Senators 3-1. Benton of Cincinnati held St. Louis to two hits and the Reds won 2-1.

Holmquist of Newark allowed Montreal only one hit. Some name, some pitcher!

Catcher McAvoy formerly of Berlin has been released by Connie Mack to Baltimore.

Christy Mathewson is going back to his old job with the Phillies and won his game 4-3.

Rochester won two games right in Baltimore which means more chicken feed for the Federals.

Frill of Jersey City was too good for Toronto, Bunny Hearn notwithstanding. The Skeeters won 5-1.

Washington took the last game of the series from Boston 6-1, Boelhoff for the Senators pitching superbly.

The veterans of the Athletics had all they could do to beat New York Highlanders. Bender and Plank were both in the box.

Detroit and Chicago are heading the American League, that is anybody's race yet. Cleveland has been the only club to get off to a really bad start.

Connie Mack was lucky to beat Frank Chance 5-4 yesterday. Still Connie always has a reserve of some kind to draw on.

If Pittsburg wins the National this year, the Federal team in that city will not be much of a rival. The Pittsburg Federals occupy last place in their own league.

Sporting Comment

President Nelson says he has had nothing to do with the official announcing recently in regard to the changing of the "official" nick-name of the Brantford team from the Red Sox to that of the Brants. If the President hasn't called it off, who has? Why then is it heralded broadcast that the hired men of the Red Sox boss are to be known in future as part and parcel of the following of the great Joseph Brant, who never was a real chief, but a pretty fair captain? Mr. Fred Westbrook was almost real nasty to us yesterday in an argument about the affair, all of which suggested that Mr. Westbrook, holding multifarious mortgages in town, may hold one on the ball club, and from his privileged position is thus able to dictate as to what the wage-earners are to be called. As we understand it the name Brant or Brantford is the official nick-name of the pennant-chasers who draw their stipend locally. But an official nick-name, for all that it matters a hang, is something over which the ball magnates and the mortgages have no control. We sincerely trust and hope that before the season is on, we won't be calling the gang lemons, citrons, dubs, pirates, fakirs, or other sobriquets which might shrink the investment.

If Mr. Westbrook loves the name of Brant so well, why does he not name some of those selling-plates which amble around the street every day at a dog-trot "Thayendeageh"? Simply because the book-makers couldn't yell out the price on them.

The Nelsonites, pardon us, the descendants of Capt. Joseph Thayendeageh had a very fine work-out yesterday behind the dyke, which, by the way wasn't built when Joseph waded across in his bare feet. The water was shallow in those days; it had to be, because there was no bridge. Little did old Joe think that a Canadian Frenchman would some day, in his great honor and to perpetuate his memory name a team of Yank ball-players after him.

The Red Sox have been put on the Indian list, and this time Dick Eacrett didn't do it.

Business is business. We have got to get the gang from the reserve in every Saturday, same as in the old lacrosse days. Again, we see the fine hand of Westbrook dabbling in the financial end of the club.

On May 7, 1914, the Brants will ford the Grand river and endeavor to take Hamilton. They will, however, go over the river largely in automobiles, thus shaming their great ancestor who walked over in his bare feet.

President Nelson has already received word from several grocers that they propose closing their stores opening day to attend the ball game. London's Mayor has already declared that May 7 will be the official holiday of that city, the first for the year.

Brantford ought to be as good as London, and no doubt will be. The same rule as last year should prove satisfactory, that is have the stores close at 3 o'clock and re-open again after the game. There was no kick about this last year from any quarter.

The question has repeatedly been asked which is the proper way to pronounce the name of the manager of the Red Sox, Mr. Deneau. When asked to-day "Rube" replied that the correct pronunciation was Den-oo.

From what we can learn about the Red Sox there is a chance that some heads will fall into the basket, which will be quite a sensation to the fans. It is all a part of the Deneau conspiracy to have a bang-up team regardless of past popularity or past records. The time when a big howl would be raised if a certain player was released is past. The fans have got very hard-hearted in this matter and all they want is a winner.

There is some misapprehension about the book tickets being issued. The tickets are good for the grand stand, one ticket being good for two seats. It is not the intention to boost the price of grand stand tickets to a quarter. The times are hard, and the stands are old. In other cities the higher price is paid, and this is one of the handicaps under which the ball club is navigating.

If you want a nickname, why not call the Red Sox, when Connaught comes here, May 9, "the Duke's mixture."

The fans will have the pleasure of witnessing the Red Sox go against a first-class semi-professional team from Niagara Falls on Saturday afternoon as an exhibition game has been arranged.

Some of President Nelson's official advisers have told him to take the red hose off his ball players and put on moccasins. The President says he fell for it unconsciously.

"They looked good to-day," said a fan last night, probably because the debris had been removed last week.

The old Red Sox were pretty bad, according to last year's reports. Three of them fell down three flights of stairs 2 a.m. in a Peterboro hotel last summer. They were real Indians.

Why didn't the Presidential boss these and then name them the Brants.

"We will be up there fighting all the time," says Rube Deneau. Yes, glory be with tomahawks!

One of the co-partners of President Nelson was very sweet on the Giants when the Red Sox pelted said Giants out of the world's championship. Probably that is the reason he is sore on the very name Red Sox. Come on, Mr. Brown, buy 'em purple hose.

Mr. Fred Westbrook says he doesn't like the name Red Sox. This is one out of many ways Mr. Westbrook has of getting his name in the papers.

Whenever we meet Mr. Westbrook mean things are dished up. Well, here is our chance. We haven't heard of any Brantford millionaires offering to build a concrete grandstand at Agricultural Park. Oh be quiet, Rose!

Hoarah, they're off! Gabby Ivers, Rube Deneau and the new city road roller, Gabby leads at the pistol shot. Deneau crowds him! Flash—Road roller wins by 50 yards.

Late Bulletin.—President Nelson buys a new smoke stack for the roller. SOME SPEED ON THE "BRANTS."

Has anybody here seen Jack Bennett? President Nelson wants to sign him up with the Brants.

When the recruit members of the Brantford team meet Mr. Deneau in the morning, it is "Hall Chief Sago." This ensures them a life job.

This will be a fourth year for a Canadian League opening in Brantford. Inasmuch as Red Sox pitchers have hitherto had nothing but a prayer on the ball, we respectfully suggest that Mr. Nelson secure an able bodied clergyman to participate in the opening ceremonies May 7, and put a prayer on the whole season.

It is no longer Manager Deneau but Chief Deneau, "Him With the Big Clout."

Opening Day parade will bring out war paint and feathers. Messrs Westbrook and Brown believe it is a good "qd" for Brantford folk who know nothing at all about Indian customs.

Mabel, are you going to the dance May 7? Yes, kind sir. "Will you eat the white dog?" "Get out, you brute!"

New Malines Best for the Home Worker

By MADGE MARVEL

HOME milliners should understand the possibilities of maline," says Ora Cne, the milliner, who teaches thousands of women on the art of hat making each year. "I class the appreciation of this most excellent fabric as one of the fundamentals of millinery."

It ranks in the front of the list of "What Every Milliner Ought to Know," if I may paraphrase the play. Now that there is such a reaction against the use of feathers, maline becomes the most useful of fabrics for hat trimming, as well as for the hats themselves.

For example, there is the "plantain tree" where could one find a more attractive trimming where some height is demanded?

How to Make Bows.

"To make this, take a strip of satin-covered lace wire, and over it fold strips of maline, one thickness for each strip, pasting it in place with the paste which comes for the purpose. Make the middle of the ornament secure with ropes of the maline wound round and round, and leave the ends to fasten it on the hat."

Then there are the smart maline and moire bows which are used with such splendid effect at the back of hats. They are particularly good on the new high-crowned sailor hats which are so popular this season.

"The maline 'stick-up' has generally superseded the feather in thickness, and sticks them together on the machine, and run a wire between the sticking machine and the ends of the maline into any design that pleases and use four or five in a cluster.

"Rabbit ears seem never to go out of style. They are the simplest of all ornaments to make. They should be made with eight thicknesses, and in any size you wish. Stitch them in shape on a sewing machine and then turn them so the edges will be on the inside in a fine wire around them to keep them in shape.

"Little bunches of maline fruit are a splendid means of using up bits of stuff left over after making hats. They can be rolled into cherries or tiny apples or berries, and covered with two or three thicknesses of new and fresh maline, and held in place by binding silk thread around them. Clip off the surplus and fasten them on wire stems in the manner the natural fruit would grow, and where the stem is attached use it with green rope silk such as is used for embroidery. Arrange these bunches of fruit with the proper foliage, and you will have for a few pennies a hat that you would find an imported hat at a pretty cost.

"Now that everything in the hat world seems to have a lacquered appearance it may be useful for the home milliner to know how to shine up her black straw bonnet. Dissolve black wax in turpentine spirits and when it is thoroughly mixed apply with a stiff brush.

"Perhaps the little girl's white leghorn hat is simply soiled, but otherwise suitable for wearing this year. In that case it may be cleaned in wood alcohol applied with a sponge.

"Another excellent way to clean leghorn hats is by covering the hat with a paste made of sulphur and lemon juice. Cover the hat with the paste and let it remain until it is dried. Then brush the powder off and the hat will be its original color. Iron it under a damp cloth with a heavy iron."

Words of Wise Men

From hand to mouth will never make a worthy man.—Gaelic Proverb.

He who has acquired wealth in time, unless he saves it in time will in time come to starvation.—Plautus.

A fool can no more see his folly than he can see his ears.—Thackeray.

There is no legitimacy on earth but in a government which is the choice of the nation.—Joseph Bonaparte.

Riches amassed in haste will diminish; but those collected by hand and little by little will multiply.—Goethe.

Frugality may be termed the daughter of Prudence, the sister of Temperance, and the parent of Liberty.—Dr. Johnson.

The natural law of human life is, of course, that in youth a man shall labor and lay by store for his old age, and when age comes shall use what he has laid by, gradually slackening his toil, and allowing himself more frank use of his store, taking care always to leave himself as much as will suffice for him beyond any possible length of life.—Ruskin.

Sir Walter Scott regarded with reverence everything connected with antiquity. The influence of this poetic sentiment is discernible in his most trifling acts, in his tastes, his love of the arts, his social habits. Akin to the feelings of which we have been speaking was the truly chivalric sense of honor which stamped his whole conduct. We do not mean that Hotspur's honor which is raised only by the drum and fire, though he says himself "I like the sound of a drum as well as Uncle Toby ever did"—but that honor which is deep-seated in the heart of every true gentleman, shrinking with sensitive delicacy from the least stain, or imputation of stain, on his faith.—W. H. Prescott.

NOT a downright torrent of rain, you know, but one of those sudden, fitful showers which sometimes seem to come out of a clear sky.

In this particular case the blue sky glimpses between those long lashes of hers gave, perhaps, no preparatory hint. Then came a microscopic lightning flash, followed by the low thunder of protest from him, and PRESTO the drops were plunging down.

You can't usually explain these things. Sometimes, if you have GREAT talent, you can manage them.

Mostly it's a question of knowing JUST what to do and how to do it when the rainbow appears. That's the delicate moment after all. With lovers or with stage artists there is a lot in the "make up." No wonder Cupid so often holds his breath in anxiety.

My Best Complexion "Musts"

WHAT'S the use of rubbing sweet-smelling unguents into the face while we let "raggedy" nerves eat up our vitality?

In the mean time we may seek beauty and nerve balm in tonic baths.

We can all have the soothing luxury of a sea-salt bath before we go to bed, and we can have the cool sponge bath in the morning with diluted alcohol.

And here are baths which are not beyond the possibility of most of us.

Boil half a pound of pine cones a half-hour and strain the infusion into the bedtime tub.

Mix together one ounce of tincture of camphor, two ounces of cologne and half an ounce of tincture of benzoin.

Add enough to the tub to make it milky and soft.

Boil two pounds of bran for 15 minutes in a cheese cloth bag and add to the bath.

If your poor, tired body aches with fatigue there is nothing better than a rub-down with a tonic made as follows: Half a pint of alcohol. Two ounces spirits of camphor. Two ounces spirits of ammonia.

Five ounces of sea-salt. Enough boiling water to make a quart. Shake this until it is thoroughly mixed, always before using, and rub tired muscles before retiring.

LOVE the world if you would have it love you. Fill your whole being with a belief in humanity and interest in the welfare of mankind.

Just as all unpleasant thoughts and emotions are indexed in the eyes, so are all lovely qualities.

The system must be in good condition if the eyes are to be beautiful. Clogged systems mean muddy eyes.

Use your eyes if you would have them grow in beauty. Use them for the purpose they are intended, to see with. Learn by seeing.

Don't expect to strain and abuse your eyes and have them beautiful. The delicacy of the eye is almost beyond comprehension. If we possessed any jewels so rare or ornaments so delicate we should have them compassed with insurance and care. Yet we brutally mistreat our eyes.

The only remedy for eyes I shall give is the bath in the eye cup with tepid water and a weak solution of boric acid, which will remove dust and allay inflammation.

Let the eyes alone, is a safe rule to follow, for incalculable damage may be done by rubbing them.

Rolling them gently from side to side, looking down, then up, will help in making them expressive.

When you are tired and your eyes feel strained, go into your room and lie down and tie a bit of black silk in a bandage to shut out all the light and relax and rest.

Relaxation is the best beauty secret we can learn.

And another application of the fable, find out your best feature and make the most of it.

Even if the peacock couldn't sing, there is no record that he stopped preening his lovely feathers.

Pruning Rules for Rose Growers

By May Eldredge

ROSES that were planted last autumn or recently will require some close pruning this spring. It may seem a great shame to cut the shoots back so severely, but experience has shown that it is a wise thing to do so. It relieves the plant of a great strain upon its resources until it can make plenty of new roots to collect food to support new growth. Therefore, cut all strong shoots of dwarf roses to about three buds, medium ones to two buds, and weak ones remove altogether. Treat standards similarly. Climbers require special treatment.

Established rose trees do not need such close pruning, unless it is desired to grow flowers of exhibition standard. In such an event the object should be to retain only the strongest and healthiest shoots and to shorten these to three or four buds ("eyes"), so as to ensure not more than one good young shoot from each pruned growth. For ordinary purposes, that is, securing plenty of flowers, less severe pruning is required. Hybrid perpetuals and hybrid teas, which are more or less strong growers, should have all weak and sickly, also old worn-out wood cut clean away. The strongest shoots of last year's growth should then be pruned to six or eight buds, and the moderate ones to three or four buds.

Tea-scented roses, if fairly strong growing, treat similarly, but if weak growers shorten the strong shoots to 12 buds, the medium ones to eight buds, and the weakest to four or six buds.

Strong-growing standards, such as Gloire de Dijon, should have their vigorous growths shortened to 12 buds, the weak ones removed altogether, and the rest cut back to three or four buds.

Moderate growers should have their strongest shoots shortened to four buds, the medium ones to two buds, and the weakest cut away entirely.

Secrets of Health

Your Eyesight Betrays Your Natural Vigor

By Dr. L. K. HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

Do you ever feel sleepy while reading? If you do, your eye muscles need attention. "Doctor," a patient writes, "I have headaches of a tight-like feeling on the top of my head. My eyes are all right. I can see perfectly."

The very individual who, with absolute assurance, felt so convinced of perfect vision, was not only cured of the headache by correct glasses, but she discovered to her amazement that she never knew what she had not seen. The sense of sight is one of the most precious possessions of your body.

Why the ordinarily intelligent person should hazard an opinion as to his own capacity of vision is beyond me. Even doctors who are not specialists know little about eyesight. Psychologists have much to learn.

Indeed, it is the better part of wisdom to go to three or four different "best" eye specialists when you have the least trouble with your eyes.

In a large eye hospital, the other day all of the older doctors were too busy preaching ethics, teaching the young idea how to shoot, and charging $10 for five minutes to save the eyesight of a year-old infant.

One of the young eye surgeons, with time, ambition and "the love of publicity," as his envious, arrived elders put it, sliced off the cornea or clear part of a pig's eye, planted over the blind, bulging eye of the youngster, and, lo! a miracle was performed. The child sees.

What several "best" eye doctors may do badly, some others near "best" do efficiently. Never give up until your eyes are nearly 100 per cent. perfect. Optic nerves, however, are, even when crowded with work, only in part to blame for uncorrected eye-muscle defects and disturbances of vision. Miss A.—K.—, who should wear her lenses constantly, only does so as she wills it. The muscles of the iris, the lens, and the six big ones which roll and turn and guide the eyeball as reins do a four-hander, often complain of some minor troubles by straining themselves and thus holding the eyes in poorer position.

This sort of eye strain deludes you into the impression that all is well with your vision. This implies "neuritis," "neuritis," "neuritis" and other such "neuritis."

The eyes, like a Swiss watch, must be overhauled every six months.

Answers to Health Questions

J. D. K. Homestead, Pa.—My left leg bends forward. Knock-kneed is the name. I am 23 years old. How late to be operated on? Will you do the operation. I am willing to pay you well.

A very simple operation by one of your surgeons can straighten this with perfect safety to you.

E. J. S. Burnside, Ind.—My wife has a small goitre since she had typhoid at 15. We have one son 5 years old. What would you advise?

If your wife is in good health and the goitre is small, do nothing radical. If you will, and the goitre is bothersome, if you have an operation in view, permit only the most skillful surgeons to operate upon her.

If it barely shows let it severely alone. Forget it.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care this office.

If We Could Buy Brains

By WINIFRED BLACK

I SAW them on a bill of fare the other day at a funny little restaurant—brains in any style. And I wished and I wished—wouldn't you? If you could only go out into the market and buy brains in any style for yourself or for those you love, which style would you choose? Almost any style to my mind but "scrambled," and from what I saw at the restaurant the scrambled ones seemed to be the favorite, too.

Scrambled brains—that's what the man has who sends you lamp chops when you ordered porterhouse steak. When he has done it one time too many and somebody complains about him and he loses his job, he goes out and joins a marching club of the unemployed. Or gets a soap box and stands up on it and tells people what a cruel world this is and what he's going to do to make it a better one.

Poor fellow, he wants every one with a job to be without a job because he is.

He hates every man in an automobile, and he'd like to burn down every bank in the country—just because he knows anything real against either the country or the bank, but because they don't belong to him. He can't get automobile or the bank, they are all wrong.

Scrambled brains! That's what's the matter with the woman who lets her own family go uncared for while she stands on platforms all over the country and tells people how to bring up their children.

Scrambled brains! That's the trouble with the girl who works for a living and who's always a few minutes late in the morning and a few minutes early in evening home.

She never can think what she did with her notebook, the girl with the scrambled brains, and she finds office work "dull" and teaching "stupid."

She never fixes her mind on any one thing at any one time, and gets it done, decently and in order.

Scrambled brains, poor child, scrambled brains, and she thinks it's the fault of the man she works for or of the "system." Anything but scrambled, I'll take my brains if you please, good waiter.

My brain must be the kind that will obey orders. No moods and tenses for my brain, thank you. I'll let the geniuses get on with that sort of thing.

I want a brain that will work when I want it to work and not go and sulk in the corner somewhere and put a "not at home" sign on the door when it sees me coming after some work.

It's a terrible thing to be bossed by your brain. It's like having a clever, spoiled child in the house. Everything is all over the place and nobody can find anything.

The brain I'd order, if I could, would be obedient first of all—but not too obedient.

Not so obedient that it couldn't tell right from wrong—just because it wanted to please me.

No meek and "mechin" brain for me, so please you, good waiter.

No complaisant, credulous, too obedient brain for me or mine.

I want a brain that will say to me courageously: "You're doing wrong and you know it; you can fool yourself and you can fool everybody else in the world perhaps for a while—but you can't fool me."

Every great war that was ever fought was begun by some man who huddled his brain—by thinking that what he wanted to do was right because he wanted to do it.

Never a thief sneaked through life without first making himself believe that what was the other man's really ought to be his—because he wanted it to be.

I have talked with hundreds of thieves and murderers in every prison from one end of this country to the other, and I never saw one of them who had not persuaded himself that he was a long suffering and much injured human being.

No scrambled brains—no "bossy" brain—no "mechin" brain for mine.

Wouldn't it be glorious if we could only go somewhere and get them to order—really!

CORPORATION COUNSEL POLK AFTER WOUND WAS DRESSED

WILLIAM A. PRENDERGAST - FRANK L. POLK - AND - MAYOR MITCHEL

Michael P. Mahoney, who is seventy-two years old, attempted to shoot John Purroy Mitchel, Mayor of New York, in Park row at the easterly end of the City Hall Plaza.

The bullet missed the Mayor and struck Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk in the right cheek, passing through the fleshy part of the chin, knocking out one tooth and emerging from the left cheek. The wound is not serious unless blood poisoning sets in. The above picture shows Polk, accompanied by Mayor Mitchel and Controller Prendergast, leaving the City Hall after his wound was dressed.

ity of 196 to 73. But they have gone gallantly on for 46 years. Their perseverance puts Bruce completely in the shade.

Separated Beauties.
"On the other hand, quite remarkable license was permitted to men in many ways, and this was probably the reason why the Queen was so anxious that the Prince of Wales should not have much freedom of opportunity of mingling with the youngsters of his own age.

KING EDWARD NEVER SPOKE UNKINDLY

Memories of Monarch by a British Peer—Queen Victoria Opposed to Woman's Suffrage.

For forty years the intimate of Edward, as Prince of Wales, and as King Edward VII., Lord Suffield knew him, perhaps, as well as any man. He had been as a young man in attendance upon the Queen before he became so closely attached to the Prince, so that Lord Suffield's memoirs, just published by Brentano, have a Victorian flavor and give intimate glimpses of the Queen and her son and successor on the throne.

"At Windsor the Queen always dined at a round table," writes Lord Suffield. "I dined with her there hundreds of times, and it always interested me to see how, with just a comment now and then, her Majesty would make everybody else talk while she listened. She used to listen well, too; little escaped her, and she always heard what was said, no matter how many persons were talking at once."

Never Said a Cross Word
As to Lord Suffield's service with the Prince who became King: "For nearly forty years we were constantly together, and in all that time he never said one cross word to me or an unkind one, although I often spoke very plainly if anything happened of which I did not approve. But he never minded anything I said and he never forgot a friend nor refused a courtesy if it was in his power to grant. One peculiarity of his was that he never told funny stories and never spoke of people, at all events in company, but I do not remember his ever saying anything about anybody. A very good rule this, especially for a man in his position."

He Quits the Club
"For all his bonhomie, however, the Prince would not tolerate the slightest impertinence. I remember his leaving White's Club over something of the sort. His Royal Highness happened to light a cigar or a cigarette in a room people did not usually smoke in. Some officious official came up and said so, and the Prince replied quite pleasantly that he was just going; the official retorted rather rudely that the club rules must be adhered to, no matter who the member was, and the Prince without another word, left the club and withdrew his name next day. The Marlborough Club owes its existence to that little lapse or lack of tact on the part of one of White's people."

onial millionaires were unknown except in their own spheres of usefulness and from the court downward conduct was governed by rules and regulations, both spoken and unspoken, which would be scouted with ridicule to-day.

"I do not think the world was really any better than it is now; virtue, after all, is not so much a question of morals as of environment and circumstances. When there were no telephones, no cheap newspapers, no motor cars, no easy travelling of any sort, it was more difficult to escape the vigilance of our neighbor's eyes; but the same instinct of goodness governs us now as then, and if people are less conventional they are also far less addicted to such vices as drinking and gambling.

"Women used to disguise their figures in huge crinolines and hide their heads in huge bonnets, but I do not know that they were really better behaved or more genuinely modest than now; they loved to look on at executions, though they would faint at the thought of a mouse, and there was just the same disproportion in other matters. But we were all very prim and proper, at least in appearance, and the smallest unconventionality was promptly paid for by the more or less severe ostracism of the culprit.

"As to woman suffrages—who can imagine the disgust and horror with which such a measure was regarded. Queen Victoria held it in such abhorrence that she would not even permit discussion of it in her presence—yet Her Majesty was a firm believer in her own equality with men, so the attitude of the rest of the world can be easily conjectured.

"The subject was tabooed, and touched upon only behind closed doors, yet, though the campaign was carried on very decorously, almost by stealth, indeed, its supporters made sure if slow progress, until, in 1867, their bill was thrown out by a major-

Governor Hatfield of West Virginia is in charge of the relief while Earl Henry, chief of the department of mines, and H. L. Collier, general manager of the company are leading the crews.
