Haig Making Preparations For Big Offensive on a Very Wide Front

All the familiar signs which herald a great offensive are reported from the British front in France, and everything points to the near approach of a resumption of fighting on a great scale in the western front.

The great feature in the meagre official reports, is the repeated announcement of a tremendous artillery duel in progress around the little Belgian village of Wyschaete about five miles south of Ypres.

Wyschaete marks the head of a short salient held by the Germans south of Ypres. This salient is roughly three miles deep and averages about the same extent in width.

The relative lull in the war theatres has no counterpart in the field of politics, where events are happening rapidly. The opening of the Austrian parliament has caused something akin to consternation in the German press and the pan-German organs especially are filled with gloomy predictions over the political situation in the Dual Monarchy.

The Prussian junkers are still putting forward extravagant programmes of annexations and indemnities. They have apparently abandoned the idea of a separate peace with Russia and are now discussing the dismemberment of that country.

GERMAN DESTROYER SUNK IN A LONG RANGE FIGHT

Bulletin, London, June 5.—The German naval base at Ostend has been bombarded by British warships, the admiralty announced. The British forces were undamaged.

German Destroyer Sunk Bulletin, London, June 5.—A German destroyer has been sunk and another damaged in a running fight between six German destroyers and Commodore Tyrwhitt's squadron, the admiralty announces.

Long Range Target London, June 5.—2.22 p.m.—The text of the Admiralty announcement reads: "The Vice-Admiral at Dover reports that the enemy naval base and workshops at Ostend were heavily bombarded in the early hours this morning.

Commodore Tyrwhitt also reports that that early this morning a force of light cruisers and destroyers under his command sighted six German destroyers and engaged them at long range in a running fight. One of the enemy destroyers, the S-20 was sunk by our gunfire and another severely damaged.

FATAL EXPLOSION TAKES PLACE IN THE S. A. BARRACKS PARIS

Natural Gas the Cause of the Catastrophe—One Little Lad Named Earl Etherington Was Killed

(From our own Correspondent) Paris, June 4.—10 p.m.—About half past eight to-night a terrific explosion started the community, when it was found that the Salvation Army barracks, a brick building of some 30 feet by 60, had been completely shattered by an explosion of natural gas, so that barely one brick was standing upon another.

ALL TERRITORIES OCCUPIED BY GERMANY MUST BE LIBERATED

French Chamber of Deputies in Secret Session—Voices This Determination by Overwhelming Majority—Text of the Resolution Adopted

Paris, June 5.—By a vote of 453 to 55 the chamber of deputies, in secret session, has adopted a resolution declaring that peace conditions must include the liberation of territories occupied by Germany, the return of Alsace-Lorraine, to France, and just reparation for damage done in the invaded regions.

When the doors were thrown open to the public shortly after midnight, President Paul Deschanel read four resolutions which had been submitted. One was drawn up by deputies Klotz, Charles and Dumont, representing the opinion of the majority group, the other three were presented by different sections of the Socialists.

The Chamber of Deputies, the direct expression of the sovereignty of the French people, salutes the Russian and other allied democracies and endorses the unanimous protest which the representatives of Alsace-Lorraine, torn from France against their will, have made to the national assembly.

"The Chamber of Deputies, the direct expression of the sovereignty of the French people, salutes the Russian and other allied democracies and endorses the unanimous protest which the representatives of Alsace-Lorraine, torn from France against their will, have made to the national assembly.

"Far removed from all thoughts of conquest and enslavement, it expects that the efforts of the armies of the Republic and her allies will secure, once Prussian militarism is destroyed, durable guarantees for peace and independence for peoples great and small, in a league of nations such as has already been foreshadowed.

"Confident that the government will bring this about by the co-ordinated military and diplomatic action of all the allies and rejecting all amendments, the chamber passes to the order of the day."

Speaking to the resolution, Premier Ribot said: "The government asks you to vote for the Dumont-Klotz resolution. The long debate now awaiting to be held, has shown with what spirit of sincerity and patriotism the chamber is animated. This resolution affirms our national sovereignty, it declares that in a democracy the only there can be no secret diplomacy.

SERIOUS DISSENSIONS

Threaten in the Austrian House

Amsterdam, via London, June 5.—A Vienna despatch to the Vossische Zeitung, discussing the prospect of serious dissensions in the coming discussions of Reich-arat, says that the position of Premier Clam Martinic, has become more perilous since the opening of parliament.

"One of the questions which is expected to participate a bitter fight, is the imprisonment of the Czech leader, and deputy, Herr Klofae, who is in jail on charges of high treason. Herr Klofae has been elected head of the Czech union, and most of the parties in the Reicharat, the despatch says, agree that his release must be demanded.

Herr Klofae was convicted of trying to effect an agreement between Russia and Bohemia. He was sentenced to death but this sentence was cancelled by Emperor Charles.

MAXIMUM PRICES

On the Chicago Board of Trade

Chicago, June 5.—Maximum prices on trading in futures of the two principal grain foods of the world will govern dealings in wheat and corn when the Chicago board of trade opens tomorrow after the registration day holiday today.

The action is simply in support of the policy of President Wilson and his advisers to prevent the price of foodstuffs reaching an abnormally high level, said Joseph P. Griffin, President of the Board.

Weather Bulletin

Toronto, June 5.—A depression settled over Kansas, while pressure is comparatively high over the lake. Superior Rain is falling locally in Ontario and Quebec, elsewhere in Canada fair weather prevails.

STILL WAITING FOR LAURIER

Has Been Expected That He Would Make Answer Some Time Today

Ottawa, June 5.—Parliament expected to receive news of a decision on the political impasse some time today. The intimation that it would be forthcoming depended upon what stand Sir Wilfrid Laurier would take on the coalition proposal he has been considering with his lieutenants.

AIR RAID

London, June 5.—Official announcement is made that an airplane raid is now in progress over the Thames estuary.

By Courier Leased Wire Bulletin, Rome, via London, June 5. Massed attacks by the Austrians on the Italian lines south of Gorizia from Dosso Fazio to the sea have been repulsed after severe fighting.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

Meeting of the Town Council
I. O. D. E. Remembered by Soldier
THE GENERAL NEWS
(From our own Correspondent)
Simcoe, June 5.—The town fathers got down to business at 8.40. Members all present. After reading of minutes, the dangerous condition of trees on Metcalf St. north of Maple, came up. The special committee on the matter was not ready to report.
Mr. Wm. Turney was present to request council to make some improvement at the gore in the north ward. The residents there wish a watering trough and some curbs. Alderman Doughty estimated the probable cost at about $160 without the trough. The question was referred to the parks committee.
The usual report of the finance committee on current accounts was read and passed.
Ald. Langford gave a report of the special committee appointed to offer for sale school and local improvement debentures. The committee had received seven tenders. The best tender meant a discount of some $1600, and the committee reported that they entertained the idea of attempting to sell locally, or by direct retail, as it were. The matter was referred back for further action as the committee shall decide.
The Estimates for 1917.
Chairman Langford, of the finance committee presented the committee's estimates for the year, and announced a levy of 23 mills, which he explained was due to additional debenture debt, and increased county rate to meet the patriotic fund debentures.
Fortunately the town treasurer was present and detected an omission of provision for $867.12, which he had neglected to include in his statement to the chairman. This was happily offset by the chairman's neglect of a cash balance of $164.90 from 1916, and the statement was promptly adjusted by increasing the contingency allowance by $74.78.
The amended estimates then stood as hereunder, and though the treasurer registered his disapproval at almost every item, the committee's report was received and adopted, as the necessary by-law for the levy and collection of 23 mills was passed.
Reeve Carter thought that both the board of works and the fire, water and gas committees should get along with less money. The increase in street lighting is due to an increase of $2 per light per year on 228 lights, dating from April 1st, 1917.

Chairman Jaques reported the purchase of the 133rd battalion car for fire purposes and requested that it be fitted up as a chemical engine.

Chairman Carter reported the gift of a swing and merry-go-round for the park, from the Woman's institute of Simcoe, and thought the gift very worthy of recognition from the council.
His worship read a communication from the MacBride Press, Brantford, re certificate of honor to returned soldiers. The mayor was requested to get an estimate of the number of soldiers, and next of kin of fallen heroes and report.
A resolution was passed requesting the Simcoe Litho Co., to remove brick about the site of the plant from the streets before July 1st.
The Hydro-Electric Railway commissioners request for the annual membership fee.
The traffic by-law was passed through the various stages.
The by-law for the construction of a sidewalk on the west side of Metcalf street was put through its various stages. The by-law calls for a four foot walk from West to Stanley street.

Chairman Carter of the Special Committee, on Sewers, reported re inspectors for the work.
The Utilities Commission will take over branch sewers as completed, the certificate of the engineer as to completion to be given in each case.
The Unique Shoe Company report and remittance being over due, it was ordered that solicitor be asked to obtain a compliance with the agreement.
Moved by Mr. Doughty seconded by Mr. Jaques, that the finance committee be requested to arrange with the tax collector for the collection of the poll tax for the current year.
The local reporters left at 11 o'clock. Council rose at 1 a.m. 1917.
Soldiers Bequest Heads List.
Believed of the worry of finding ways and means of replenishing the treasury the I. O. D. E. meeting today was held under less pressure and anxiety.
The following donations were received and acknowledged: Monthly cheques: Robt. Fisdale, $10.00; Seneca McCall, $20.00; J. McClelland, $17.50.
The paper committee reported through Mrs. Agar. The collection brought $77.00. From St. Paul's Church workers 1 doz. suits by jamas; 1 doz. personal effects, bags; 15 pairs sox.
Lone Soldier Remembers Kindness.
Pte. Leo Schloss was a friendly Hollander who early signed up and went overseas with I. G. Curtis. While here, his loneliness was noted by Mrs. Geo. Werrett, who sympathetically became a mother to him while here. He served in the 58th and was killed in October, 1916.
Willed Personal Estate to His Benefactors
The young man had previously made a disposition of his effects. The I.O.D.E. was remembered with $20. The first of the kind from any soldier. Most of the remainder went to Mr. Werrett.
Soldier's Name to be Perpetuated.
Mrs. Werrett generously turns over to the I.O.D.E. $28.00, a first instalment on her recently acquired legacy, to perpetuate the memory of Pte. Schloss. It was suggested by a friend that Mrs. Werrett's name should be coupled with the same and the lady recorded for a primary life membership. Mrs. Werrett's own idea was to have the soldier's name head a proposed memorial list. But other members considered Mrs. Werrett, too, most worthy of honor. Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Whitehead offered a motion covering the matter and it carried by a standing vote.
Memorial Clock.
The Chapter have still in mind the question of a memorial clock, as after the project, whose half-hour stroke should remind citizens of the brave men and boys who paid the supreme sacrifice. But be done when may, the memorial fund is being opened by the generous donation in the name of the late Pte. Schloss. Doubtless the legacy of $20.00 left by Pte. Schloss will be designated by the Chapter to

Her beautiful voice was heard to exceptional advantage. Victoria Trevisan, as Mephistopheles, did a remarkable piece of work. The trio between these three in the closing act was the finest thing of the kind ever heard here.

Harry Parker, brakeman on the Port Rowan branch of the G. T. R., fell under a train in Simcoe yard this morning. Both legs were badly smashed above the knees, and other injuries sustained. Dr. Tol, who was immediately summoned, doubted his surviving the shock. In any case a double amputation close to the body is necessary. He was hurried to Woodstock hospital, accompanied by the physician and Miss Lawrence, a nurse, who was engaged near the scene. Parker was a former conductor on this line, and has a wife and family in Port Rowan.

CONSCRIPTION ENDORSED AT THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Subject Came Under Discussion Yesterday, and Received Approval of Delegates; Conscription of Wealth Also Favored; Report of the Committee on Social Service and Evangelism

Monday morning's session of the Hamilton Methodist Conference in the Wellington Street Methodist Church, presented for discussion, one of the most important items that has yet been considered by the conference, a resolution proposed by the Rev. W. J. Smith, to be forwarded by the Conference to Premier Borden, requesting that he exercise his powers to bring about legislative conscription.

"Whereas it is almost universally recognized throughout the Dominion that the duty of paramount importance before Canada at the present time is the prosecuting to a successful conclusion of the great struggle for world-wide liberty."

"And whereas it is an absolute necessity to continue sending more men to the front if our effective Canadian forces are to be kept at their present strength and the glorious record of our Canadian heroes during the past three years is to be maintained."

"And whereas this necessity has been emphasized again and again not only by our leaders on the field and in the Government, but also by the great numbers of wounded men who have returned."

"Therefore be it resolved: That this Hamilton Conference of the Methodist Church place on record its earnest endorsement of compulsory service on a selective basis and urge all parties to unite in making immediately possible this great national movement."

"I want to tell you," he said, "the Methodist Ministry is not afraid of selective conscription. There are three issues facing the nation at the present time, victory, stalemate and defeat, and if it is to be victory, every man in the Dominion must be prepared to shoulder his share of the burden."

"He related that it was the duty of every man to enlist and do his duty, he did not believe that the average Canadian appreciated the value of the noble land of our fathers, but its sterling qualities were recognized. Be careful that our Christian spirit does not tend toward the extreme, we will wake up to find all those things which we cherish most will be lost."

"He recognized the fact that the Methodist Church has always been opposed to military training, but the compulsory military training which was proposed was for the saving of our country and the maintenance of the Christian religion."

"The Rev. W. J. Smith thought that the most important item to be dealt with by the conference was that suggested by Lt.-Col. Williams. It was also the greatest issue that could be considered by any organization or body of leaders of the church who were facing one of the most serious crises that had ever confronted Canada, and that both leaders were prevailed upon to support the conscription of wealth."

"The Rev. F. M. Mather, of Waterloo called attention to the fact that to-day was the 52nd birthday of His Majesty King George, and that it was an occasion to be remembered. He moved that the secretary be instructed to wire congratulations to His Majesty."

It was announced that arrangements had been completed for the supper for those members of the conference whose names were serving under the colors, and that the event would take place tonight in Crompton's tea rooms at 6 o'clock.

A resolution was passed instructing the secretary to draft a letter of sympathy expressing the attitude of the conference, and that the same be forwarded to the Rev. Dr. Scanlon of Port Elgin, who has recently suffered the loss of his son, Lieut. Walter L. Scanlon, who died of wounds on April 11th. The deceased hero was formerly editor of the Regina Leader.

Mr. Sam Carter, M.P.P. of Guelph took a prominent part in the session, rising to his feet on one occasion, and protesting against excessive and superfluous clapping of hands, which he claimed had been indulged in too frequently under unjustifiable circumstances. He thought that conference members should remember to reverence the house of God. He also spoke on the subject of the sustentation fund, emphasizing the fact that a deficiency of $100 existed, and pointing out the sharp contrast that existed between the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in this respect. He maintained that the deficiency should immediately be made up.

POOR BLOOD AND WEAK NERVES (By F. Raymond Ward, M.D.) Lack of strength is about the first symptom of violation of the laws of health. There is some nervousness, untidy hands and limbs, skin eruptions, dizziness, sleeplessness, heart palpitation, and with the feeling that the life blood is being sapped comes complete prostration. In this condition the sufferer is indifferent to all things and looks upon life with a gloomy, melancholic view.

THE SITUATION.

The fighting on the Italian front has reached a very acute stage and the Australians are now making desperate resistance.

On the western front the comparative lull still continues but it is generally regarded as the prelude to another strong allied offensive.

The Canadians although they were unable to hold their Sunday gains near Lens, were not pressed back further than their own lines which they still hold against all assaults.

Gen. Alexieff who was appointed to succeed Grand Duke Nicholas, in command of the Russian armies, has resigned and is succeeded by Gen. Brusiloff, who some imaginative people believe to be the late Hector Macdonald, the famous British General, reported to have committed suicide.

The Russian Minister of War reports the power of the army to be increasing daily, although as a factor in the struggle they can at best be quite negligible for some months at any rate.

After getting beaten on the conscription issue complete returns show that Premier Hughes has swept Australia with his Nationalist party. The figures read for the House Nationalists 53, Laborites 22, Senate Nationalists 24, Laborites 12.

THE RUTHLESS HUN

Mr. F. C. Penfield, late American Ambassador at Vienna, before he left for home visited the region in France so wantonly devastated by the Huns. Here are some extracts with regard to a recent statement issued by him in the States:—

"Scores of towns and villages, isolated chateaux and factories, were raised to the ground. The entire Alsace department seemed destroyed beyond repair. The Germans appear to have an antipathy to Catholic churches, for battering had reduced all to shapeless piles of debris. The destruction everywhere was complete, outrageous, fiendish. During the day we saw no living native to the land—no cow, sheep, or horses; no dog, cat or fowl. We visited many stately chateaux that had been destroyed beyond man's ability to repair. At one place we found the private chapel of a historic family of France whose coffins had been opened by vandals searching for plunder. Everywhere French soldiers told us that it had been only five weeks earlier when the rout of the Germans had become so urgent that they hastened through villages, plundering and burning as they went—but not until all art objects and furniture of value had been dispatched beyond the Rhine. Critics of Germany claim that one has but to visit the northern departments of France to learn that the refinement of barbarism is not confined to Germany's program on the seas, for it is expressed in the invaded zone of France in a manner causing revulsion to witness. From every town and village, men and women had been driven into Germany like animals by the infuriated and beaten Teutons.

The two lads were better dressed than the others and wore neat suits of cotton corduroy. I engaged the elder of these brothers in conversation by asking where the garments came from, and he promptly replied: "From the American Clearing House committee, which has fed and clothed us since the Boches were driven away."

"Have you any relatives?" I inquired. To this the boy answered: "Yes, my poor mother lies sick in that cottage there," pointing to a poor peasant house. "Have you sisters?" I asked, and this was the reply: "Two, aged 19 and 21. Both carried off by the retreating army. Our poor father, who tried to protect our sisters, was shot dead by the Boches, who said he was disarmed, and his body lies buried there by the roadside."

And yet in Canada there are today some individuals, to use a polite term, who actually think that it is not the duty of Canada, in common with other civilized countries, to fight such devils to the last available man.

DESPATCH FROM LYONS

By Courier Leased Wire. (By Stewart Yvon, Representative of the Canadian Press in France.) Canadian Army Headquarters, June 5.—The electric light station southwest of Lens, for the possession of which two fiercely contested engagements have taken place, and where many hundreds of German, British, and Canadian soldiers have been killed and wounded, appeared to be safely within the Canadian lines this morning.

The German guns turned on it on Monday afternoon, in fairly conclusive evidence that the enemy was about to attempt to take it back. The Canadian troops taking the trench in the vicinity of the station pushed out to the east of it.

The situation is not quite clear on the front, but generally it was a very lively night. The enemy dropped bombs behind the lines and also sent out a raiding party which was discovered before it reached our trenches. It was driven off leaving 5 dead or prisoners. They were able to carry off the wounded.

From information that has come through, it has been established beyond doubt that the new enemy formations now in training in Germany and which were intended to supply von Hindenburg with his next army, are being broken up to supply the sorely needed reinforcements. A single division has recently been strengthened by the addition of a considerable number of these young lads of nineteen years. Their training is insufficient, although their morale appears good and they are physically fit. Among the older troops, who stand at front for a considerable time, the war weariness is spreading, aided greatly by the incessant pounding of the British guns and the deadly nature of the gas to which they are now so frequently subjected.

Faith in the U-boat as a means to victory is dying out and as it dies the morale of the men is lowering. They fight because they must, but many, perhaps the majority, would welcome peace at any price. Discipline holds the discontent within bounds, but it is significant that many prisoners express pleasure that they have been captured. As the man power falls, Germany is turning more and more towards machinery to make good the loss in fighting strength. There has been an increase in the use of machine guns.

It would appear that it is the intention hereafter to equip each company with more light machine guns in addition to heavier machine guns of the machine gun companies. Reliance of the individual rifle fire of the soldier is very slight. If the war is much prolonged, the Germans will rely on the final defensive of machine guns. These will be carefully placed wherever a protective spray of lead from well handled machine guns could be most disastrous for the troops to move through than even intense artillery barrages, although not so terrifying. The rations of the German troops in the field are barely sufficient to keep them in good condition.

One of the most demoralizing experiences to which the German in the field is now subjected, is the bombing of the trains in which he and his belongings are packed. The bombing of the trains in which he and his belongings are packed. The bombing of the trains in which he and his belongings are packed.

ANNIVERSARY OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Special Addresses to Epworth League Under Auspices of Conference

The Sunday School and Epworth League Anniversary of the Methodist Church was well celebrated last night in the Brant Avenue Church, when two splendid addresses were delivered to the young people, and large numbers of their elders who turned out in honor of the occasion. The two speakers of the evening were the Rev. W. G. Buell, B.A., B.D., and Captain Bartlett, who acted as speaker in place of the Rev. F. H. Langford, who was called away owing to the serious illness of his wife.

Rev. W. G. Buell He was glad, stated the Rev. Mr. Buell to be speaking to a gathering of young people from the Epworth League, knowing as he did that they, as well as the members of the Sunday School were a body actively engaged in furthering the cause of Christ. It was a noble and elevating aim which inspired these organizations, and he was glad to see them, as well as others, in a splendid goal, to strive to win the world for God. He pointed out that the speaker, as an individual was not an end in himself, but a means to an end, and that his plans and enthusiasm, breaks the way for progress. It was a vision of the great finished work toward which the laborer of the world is striving, and he pointed out that the speaker, as an individual was not an end in himself, but a means to an end, and that his plans and enthusiasm, breaks the way for progress.

He maintained that there was no better place for the young people than in the Epworth League and Sunday School, and outlined the essential factors in the success of that organization. There were four points which should be emphasized, a deepening of spiritual life, attention to literature, deeper interest in social culture, and a consecration of the lives of the members to the task of the salvation of the world.

Anniversary Take Two Capt. the Rev. S. T. Bartlett who is actively engaged in Sunday school and Epworth League work, and who is now on the staff of Lt.-Col. George H. Williams, chief recruiting officer of Military Division No. 2, spoke at some length, relating some of his interviews with returned soldiers, showing that the influence of the Epworth League and the teachings of the Sunday school were being carried on by the returned soldiers, and that the membership depleted to a great extent by heavy enlistment. It was exceedingly regrettable that in some cases the names of those who had enlisted had been struck off the membership rolls. The attendance had also been seriously affected by war time work in munitions and other factories. The work could be maintained at a satisfactory standard only by recruiting workers from the ranks of the 'teen age, boys and girls, and the older people.

It was indeed encouraging to know that the workers had faith in their organization, when it was realized that it had stood the testing fires of the present crisis. Commenting on the character of our soldiers, both in this country and overseas, Capt. Bartlett emphatically declared: "The average standard of excellence of those who have gone forth in the Canadian Expeditionary Force is superior morally, spiritually, intellectually to any other force that ever left any country under any flag, for any cause!" This judgment, the speaker stated, was based upon actual experience among the soldiers, and his first hand testimony given by officers who had spent much time among the troops. "They are carrying their religion and moral teachings with them, and I only regret that this fine type of manhood may be sacrificed that a greater Canada may be built up."

It was encouraging that we can trust in the manhood of our boys who have gone overseas, and know that they will not prove recreant to their trust. "No, they are not all saints, but thank God, they are not all bad—they are the fruitage of the seed that is sown in the Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues."

Referring to the crisis confronting Canada at the present time, Capt. Bartlett said: "The country is passing through a crisis of more magnitude than the mass of the people realize, and the Premier and Government are more worthy of our prayers than our criticism. "We cannot succeed in our work of the Epworth League and the Sunday school without the help of God, any more than we can win the war without the assistance of God. I therefore do the people of Canada believe this. If they did, there would be less pleasure seeking and profiteering, and more prayer."

Sons of the Paragon in Khaki. A unique and unprecedented gathering assembled at Crompton's on Monday at 6 p.m., consisting chiefly of ministers of the conference and laymen who have sons in khaki. There were about 30 present. Rev. Dr. R. W. Scanlon, whose son, Lt. W. M. Scanlon, paid the supreme sacrifice at Vimy Ridge was the presiding officer. By his side was Rev. Geo. A. Mitchell, M.A., the father of Lt.-Col. Sir Charles H. Mitchell, of General Duggan's staff. Around the tables were the following: Rev. Dr. R. W. Scanlon, chairman, Mr. J. N. Vollicke, J. A. Evans, Wm. J. Falkenhayn, Mr. W. G. H. Gilpin. It was also stated during the evening's proceedings that over 100 daughters of Methodist ministers were engaged as Red Cross and regular nurses.

After the supper was finished the meeting was resolved into an experience meeting in which ministers and laymen told the story of their boys' enlistments and records at the front. One minister has 3 sons, several have 2 at the front, but most have one. The son of one has been a prisoner for two years in Germany. Medals and decorations have been won by these sons of the paragon and many have been awarded. Nearly every branch of the service is represented, A.M.C., A.S.C., Flying Corps, Heavy Artillery, Infantry, Signal Corps, etc. Two of the sons of the ministers are themselves ministers but fighting in the trenches and preaching and conducting services among the men as opportunity arises, and especially welcome to their fellows in this capacity. The stories, too, were thrilling, tender, often of great interest. Nearly every one spoke, and the time was only too short.

The following resolution was passed and ordered to be sent to the Premier: Moved by Rev. J. H. McBain, B.A., seconded by Rev. Jno. A. Neal. "That we send greetings from this meeting of ministers and laymen, members of the Hamilton Conference, who have sons in khaki, to the Prime Minister, Sir Robert L. Borden and assure him that we are glad to have the privilege of sending to our sons, who have volunteered for military service in the C.E.F. permission to go forward to fight for the defence of the Empire and the liberties of the world, and having done so we are keenly solicitous for their welfare and with a great number of us especially we earnestly request that the Federal government use its full influence with the government of Great Britain, to throw around the camps in which the men of the C. E. F. are located, the most effective safe guards against the drink traffic and other kindred evils. It was a cordial vote of thanks was presented to Rev. J. W. Cooley, who made the arrangements for the occasion.

Resolutions endorsing conscription were unanimously adopted by the Montreal and Alberta Methodist conferences. Reports received at the Department of Agriculture indicate that frost has retarded growth in some sections.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it. A few drops of a drug called frezoon applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of frezoon, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue of the skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

EXPLOSION OF AMMUNITION IN FRENCH HOUSE—SET ON FIRE BY THE GERMANS

This is one of the most remarkable photographs taken recently in the British advance. It shows the actual explosion of a house in a French village, where the Germans had stored ammunition, and it occurred only a few seconds before the British neared the scene. Parts of the roof are seen hurtling skyward in the dense volume of smoke.

COUNCIL CLASHED QUITE CONSTANTLY

Fireworks Flashed, Fur Flew, Fast Fights Flickered Frequently

WORDY WAR WAGED

Various Matters of Routine Business Disposed of Last Night

HOUSING CITY CARS

Lengthy Dispute Over Erection of a Portable Garage

The virus of argument hovered in the atmosphere of the council chamber last night when the city fathers assembled in solemn conclave, and still became inoculated with the fighting spirit before the evening had passed. Hot debates and verbal clashes were frequent over matters of trivial routine business. The most acrimonious discussion arose from a clause in the report of the board of works permitting the housing of the civic cars at the homes of the superintendents of civic departments. Ald. Kelly took strong exception to the recommendation, threatening in case of the passing, to resign his position upon the special committee investigating the affairs of the board of works. Ald. MacBride and English arraigned Ald. Kelly for his stand, criticizing it as "petty, peanut politics."

The council set a new record for promptness for the entire year, being only five minutes late in obtaining a quorum and less than ten minutes in commencing their business. Minutes of the last meeting were taken as read and adopted. The usual time lists and other reports were submitted and read. The mayor advocated action in the matter of collecting income tax from government officials, suggesting a suit in the division court, followed by action to have the case transferred to the High Court of Justice, as a test case. Ald. MacBride queried the advisability of bringing the case before the county judge, who has already given a decision against a similar action. He suggested co-operation with other municipalities to secure a judgment. Municipal Convention. H. F. Leonard, city clerk and A. G. Ludlow, city assessor, were appointed delegates to the convention of the Canadian Municipal Association, together with any aldermen who may choose to attend. Decoration of Graves. Permission was granted the I. O. O. F. to enter the cemeteries of the city for the purpose of decorating the graves of their deceased members. Semi-Centennial. A debate occurred over the application of the Semi-Centennial Association for use of the Market square on July 1. The request was referred to the buildings and grounds committee.

"Such action is ridiculous," declared the mayor. "Who will grant the permission?" "The council will grant it, upon the recommendation of the buildings and grounds committee," replied Ald. Bragg. "I believed I was head of this council," declared the mayor. "You are head of it, but not the whole of it," observed Ald. Jones. "It is ridiculous," declared the mayor, as technical head of the council, I should grant this permission."

Mayor on His Dignity. Ald. Bragg demanded an explanation of the difference in opinions of Ald. MacBride and the Mayor during their recent trip upon municipal business to Ottawa, the former's being $30.00 and the latter's $38.00. "I decline to give an explanation," declared the Mayor. "I will not tolerate such querying of my personal business."

Ald. Dr. Wiley supported the stand of the Mayor, explaining that His Worship's additional expenditures had been entailed in journeying from Ottawa to Montreal.

The board of works reported as follows: That A. K. Bunnell, City Treasurer, be appointed by this council to act with County Clerk A. E. Watts, and agree as to the respective shares of the cost to be borne by the city and county for extending the sanitary sewer to the House of Refuge and Sanitarium, and that the work be carried out and the cost apportioned as agreed upon. That the resolution passed by the council on May 21st in reference to keeping civic cars at the corporation yard be rescinded, and that a portable garage be erected for the superintendent of sewers at his residence and that the same be the property of the city of Brantford.

Wordy War. Ald. Kelly opposed the erection of the garage at the home of the superintendent of streets, and took objection to such a recommendation by the board of works, the affairs of which committee were further complicated by real action. If the resolution passed, Ald. Kelly declined to continue as a member of the special committee investigating the affairs of the board of works. Ald. Jennings supported the recommendation of the board of works, urging that in a case of necessity, a car at the house of the streets superintendent proved a great convenience. Ald. Jones, paying tribute to the work of Ald. English, as chairman of the board of works, upheld the recommendation of the committee. Ald. Bragg doubted the advisability of establishing such a precedent and introduced an amendment that the city cars be kept at the corporation yards, as originally passed. His resolution was seconded by Ald. Kelly.

Ald. MacBride, reviewing the matter as a business proposition, supported the recommendation of the board of works. With reference to the special committee on the affairs of the board of works, he emphasized the fact that it was the past and not the present affairs of the board which were under investigation. The action of Ald. Kelly he characterized as "petty, peanut politics," declaring "it is the latter's duty to remain upon the committee to which he had been named for five months. He appealed for the conducting of the city's business upon a higher plane.

Ald. Dowling supported the stand of Ald. Bragg and Kelly.

Mayor Bowly considered it expedient and a common sense proposition to allow the superintendent to keep the car at his home.

Ald. English defended the report of the board, expressing indignation at the action of Ald. Kelly and Bragg, and declaring the desire of the board to put the matter over in the latter's hands.

Ald. Dowling considered the board of works capable of deciding the matter in the most satisfactory manner. In the case of emergency calls, officials of the board of works should be kept at the superintendent's homes, and he resented any insinuation against the officials in question.

Though objecting in principle to such a course, Ald. Wiley declared himself in this instance in favor of allowing the cars to be kept at the officials' homes. Ald. Symonds was of the same opinion.

Put to a vote, the amendment of Ald. Bragg was defeated, 8-7, being opposed by the Mayor and Ald. English, Secord, Symons, Jones, Wiley, MacBride and Dowling. The report of the board then carried.

Buildings and Grounds Committee. In its report, recommended payment of the increase demanded by the garbage collectors, and refusal to grant permission for the erection of signs upon the market sheds. Ald. Bragg queried the Mayor to the effect that the erection of such signs was illegal. The offer of Wm. James of $20.00 for the old pest house was accepted. Ald. MacBride went on record as opposing the sale.

Railway Committee. The Railway Committee submitted the following report: They have considered the communication of A. E. Watts, Esq., dated April 30, 1917, in relation to the claim of Mr. James A. Smith for rental in respect of a portion of the right of way of the Old Grand Erie Railway Company. The committee is of the opinion that the city is under no liability to Mr. Smith in respect to any unpaid rent, and that his claim is against the receiver of the Railway Company who represents the company.

Coal Supply. The following resolution was moved by Ald. MacBride, seconded by Ald. English: Whereas this council believes that there is an actual and anticipated scarcity of supply of fuel for use within this municipality, and that this council believes it to be an emergency in the scarcity of fuel. Be it resolved that the council petition the Lieutenant Governor in Council to approve of a by-law for borrowing such sums as may be needed for the temporary maintenance of the supply of fuel, and that the council be authorized to purchase supplies of such fuel and the selling and disposing of it to the residents of the municipality as may be deemed necessary by the council.

That the city engineer be instructed to prepare an estimate of the sum required and the city solicitor instructed to prepare a by-law covering the matter.

The Mayor doubted the legal right of such a by-law. Ald. MacBride declared that he had consulted with the city solicitor and with those of several other cities, and had received their opinions favoring his recommendation.

The Mayor asked that the motion be allowed to stand as a notice of motion, until the next session of the council, which was done.

Rehearsal on License. The city treasurer was authorized to refund to W. C. Wilcox the sum of $15.00, paid on his billiard room license, and to reduce the number of his tables in proportion.

Police Court. Ald. Symonds criticized the condition of the police court cells, in which arrested men were kept before trial. He introduced a motion calling for the provision of proper accommodation. Ald. MacBride seconded the resolution.

The Mayor asked that the resolution be withdrawn, and that he be allowed to deal with the matter. The motion was referred to the buildings and grounds committee.

H. C. O. L. The council requested T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, to appoint W. S. Brewster, city solicitor, as official examiner for the city in the matter of investigating the high cost of living and alleged combines in this regard.

City Auditor. Ald. Dowling reminded the council of the need of appointing a permanent city auditor in the near future.

Street Oiling. Ald. Wiley suggested that street oiling be carried out upon one side of the street at a time, for the convenience of residents and pedestrians. Ald. English replied that such a plan would entail additional cost. Ald. MacBride suggested a special meeting of the board of works to deal with the matter.

Trespassing. Ald. Mellen demanded police protection against the practice of careless pedestrians or cutting corners across cultivated land.

Gas Question. The customary demand for action upon the part of the gas company

MISS RUTH COX.

A bright young life took its leave of this world for a fairer and sweeter abode when on Saturday afternoon last Miss Ruth Cox daughter of Mrs. T. Cox, River Road, passed away at the age of 22 years, after an illness extending over eight years. Miss Cox was predeceased by her father, Mr. Cox who died three years ago. Mr. Cox was well known as a successful thoroughbred stock farmer in connection with his property on the second concession of Brant township, and at Oak Park farm.

The deceased was a particularly bright and promising young girl and had senior matriculation standing in school in spite of the illness which had too early attacked her life. She was of an artistic and imaginative mind, and during her long and wearying illness, found her chief comfort in the contemplation of God's handwork in nature and in life. She was a brave sufferer, never complaining, and while full of natural ambition to be well and do her work in the world, always knew full well that God's way for her was the best way—a way which would lead to the best and greatest in life. She was a member of Alexandra Presbyterian Church and a faithful attendant at all its services when able. In the unavoidable absence of her pastor, Rev. D. T. McClintock, at the General Assembly, in Montreal, Rev. J. W. Gordon, of St. Andrew's church, conducted the services at the house and at the grave, in Farringdon cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss, her mother, Mrs. T. Cox, and two sisters, Miss Agnes and Miss Jean at home, and five brothers, Frank, in Detroit, Richard in Alberta, Jim in Detroit, Albert in Saskatchewan and Harry at home.

Mrs. Crompton.

The Courier sincerely regrets to record the death of Mrs. Crompton, beloved wife of Mr. E. B. Crompton. She had been in poor health for a long time, but bore her great sufferings with much Christian fortitude. Last evening she peacefully fell asleep. Mrs. Crompton was a fond wife and mother, and her many gracious and lovable qualities endeared her to a large circle of friends. She was also the possessor of exceptional tastes in musical and kindred directions. Her departure will leave a great blank in the home circle.

In addition to the sorrowing husband, she leaves three children, Mrs. (Dr.) Lewis, Bairie; Dr. C. Crompton, recently from Saloniki, and Miss Jessie at home. Her last days were greatly brightened by the return to Canada of her son.

To the sorely bereaved, very general sympathy will be extended.

MRS. CARLYLE.

On Sunday evening, Margaret McVicar, for fifty years the devoted and beloved wife of Thomas Carlyle, passed peacefully to rest, in her seventy-second year. Months of gradually declining strength were borne with that cheerfulness and kindly thoughtfulness for others that had so characterized her during her long life. Her last days were happy days were spent in Godrich, the eldest daughter of the late Adam McVicar. Throughout the greater part of her long married life she and her husband lived at "Bleddy Knowes," their farm on the Paris Road, the last five years having been spent at their home a mile nearer Brantford.

By her friends who were privileged to know her, she will long be remembered for her gentle kindness and by her own children for her motherly affection and self-sacrifice.

Besides her aged husband there are left to mourn her loss two sons, Thomas, now on the old homestead, and John A., of the staff of Harbord College, Toronto, and three daughters, Mrs. James Hislop of Salmon Arm, British Columbia, who during her mother's illness, tenderly cared for her, Mrs. E. J. McCorkill and Mrs. E. D. Clump of Paris; one brother, Mr. James McVicar of Godrich and two sisters, Mrs. John A. Carlyle, Brantford, and Mrs. Alexander Carlyle, Edinburgh, also mourn her loss.

The funeral takes place this afternoon from her late residence, to the cemetery at Paris.

was repeated for the umpteenth time, being voiced by Ald. MacBride. Ald. Dowling addressed the council upon the subject, holding little hope of purified Tibury gas and looking to the Mayor for action in the matter.

The Mayor, in replying, charged that he was not receiving fair treatment at the hands of the gas company.

The council adjourned at 10:05 p.m., having had a full attendance during the evening.

PERFECT ORDER IN KRONSTADT

Action of Local Committee in That City Not in Nature of Revolt

LITTLE EXCITEMENT

Enthusiastic Reception Tendered to British Embassy

Petrograd, June 5.—The arrival of Arthur Henderson, Labor Minister in the British Commons, and the expected visit of Ramsay MacDonald, are welcomed as indicating British willingness for free intercourse among all sections of opinion in the allied countries. Now that the troubles which inevitably accompany great revolutionary movements are somewhat abating, people's minds are more open to receive friendly counsel. It is desirable that Russian public opinion be fully informed on the views of the allied peoples.

Little excitement was caused by the Petrograd demonstration of anarchists in favor of expropriating the funds and securities deposited in banks. Unnecessary importance was attributed to the demonstration because a remark had appeared in the organ of the committee of the Workers' and Soldiers' Delegates about the difficulties of coping with the demand for paper currency. It appears that notes are being hoarded and as a result paper currency has become as scarce as were gold and silver in the earlier stages of the war.

The resolve of the local Kronstadt committee to disregard the Provisional Government and to consider itself solely responsible for the exercise of authority in that town, while its dealings with the outside world are to be confirmed by the committee at Petrograd, merely embodies in written form a state of affairs actually in existence since the outbreak of the revolution. From officers serving in Kronstadt I understand the local committee enforces excellent order in the town and garrison.

The new commander-in-chief of Petrograd district has arrived. He is General Polovtsov, owner of large estates in British East Africa. He is a keen sportsman, and has lately been in command of a division of Caucasian native horse.

Eager to Fight. Minister of War Kerensky arrived at Odessa yesterday afternoon and met an enthusiastic ovation from the populace. He was carried in a chair on the shoulders of the crowd to his motor car and proceeded to the theatre where the congress of delegates from the front was sitting. He was received with acclamations by that body and delivered an eloquent speech, pointing out the necessity of work and self-sacrifice in order to complete and consolidate the structure of Russian freedom. All that had been granted was now at stake. Russia must work out her own salvation. Kerensky subsequently appeared on the balcony of the theatre and made a short speech to the crowd. His presence here is believed to have exerted a remarkable influence on the troops, who are now stated to be eager to proceed to the front.

BUNNY'S RETURN

Bunny Brief, who is working on 30 days' trial as the regular first sacker of the Pittsburgh Pirates, should be highly elated over the fact that crack first basemen are scarce. This fact alone brought Bunny back to the major leagues. He was purchased recently from the Salt Lake club by Barney Dreyfus, who was up against it for an initial bagger, and if he shows sufficient hitting and fielding ability, he will have a regular job with the Pittsburgh club. Otherwise it will be back to the Coast League for Bunny, and another "brief" stay in the majors. Several years ago Brief was given a tryout with the Browns, but at that time he was very much a strapping, not heavy enough for the job, and he failed to stick. In the Coast league last season Brief had the best year of his career. He finished the season with a batting average of .314, and the title of home-run king of his league in tow. He smashed out thirty-three home runs, which is said to be a world's record. The major league records since 1900 show that Gavy Cravath holds the title in the big show with twenty-four, made in 1915. HIS CHANCES GOOD So the chances of Bunny making good are bright, and if he sticks there will be a great load of work lifted from Jimmy Callahan's shoulders, for when he failed to land Fred Merkle he was at his wit's end for a player to plug up the hole Brief is trying to fill. So far Brief is doing as well as could be expected, for when he joined the Pirates he had not played in any regular games because he had not yet recovered from Salt Lake, owing to illness in his family. A little time should start him right. Brief's presence in the Pirate lineup fills up the roster of first basemen in the National league with regulars—providing Bunny sticks. In the American league, Clark Griffith has switched about from one player to another, using Judge and Garity, a catcher, alternately. Boston with Hoblitzel and Gainer, also switches players at first base. CHASE IS COMING Hal Chase, getting away to a slow start at the bat this year, will be bound to pick up as the season ad- vances, and Hal has lost none of his ability as a fielder. Jake Daubert, always a .300 hitter, is not the player he has been touted to be when or- die a good fielder, should hit bet- ter than he did last year. Luder- sone is steady player. Young Holke McGraw has a player of much promise, and if Brief sticks with the Pirates, both he and Holke have oppor- tunity before them. In the American league Stuffy McInnis and George Sisler are stag- ing a pretty battle for both batting and fielding honors. That one of the two will be classed as the best first sacker in the American league when the season closes is practi- cally certain. Yet the struggle is an interesting one to watch and to date McInnis' wonderful hitting has been an advantage to him.

PARIS RAGMEN ASK INCREASED SALARY

Pickers of French Capital Demand More Than Nine Cents Per Hour GROW INDEPENDENT

(By Lenora Raines) The rag pickers of Paris, held a re-union recently to arrive at some sort of an understanding as to how much the city must pay them. The result of the meeting was a decision by the "chiffonniers" that they will not work for less than nine cents an hour. No doubt they feel that they can make this much begging on the street. The administration of the Ville de Paris wishes to keep these ex-beggars at work, now that France's able bodied men are all at the front. There is no longer reason for any law against such ragmen as beggars taking care of the poor by allotting them a certain sum, and since soup kitchens were established. Beggars crippled in war are appearing all the time, and what kind of wages might be found there. Not much is ever left in the hods when the concierge has run through hers. As she empties her trained eye scrutinizes everything, from a piece of half burned coal to an old shoe. What coal or embers the concierge does not think worth the trouble, the first one that examines the can after her takes away, for all ashes are shifted by the beggars and this explains how they can afford to have a fire when coal is so dear. Anything else they take a liking to in the trash is taken away in the basket which they never forget to bring in the early morning quest. Can Now Be Leisurely The ragpickers' no nap till noon, but often hods stay on the sidewalk twelve hours awaiting attention. If the customary examiner is not "on the job" an earlier bird, he'll get no plums. Some of these persons visit apartments at New Year's and when they gain an audience with the housekeeper, inform her that during the year they have each day searched through the cans but found nothing of value thrown away, but that if in the future they should they will take the object to the concierge, to be returned to the rightful owner. As a matter of fact the rag-picker has never won fame for honesty. People are wondering if war will stamp out the beggar. With the renewed organization of labor, there will be a paying place for every man and woman, and as factories and looms will be crying out for workers, it will be something like an offence for any one to turn down labor for "chiffonniers." Anyway begging and the like has gone out of style in certain European countries, and such a thing as the "re- deemed chiffonnier" had not existed for ten years prior to the war. Be- fore that time it was something to hold the post of "first-beggar" in one of the big churches. All day long on Sunday and fete days they citizens lined up at each side of the doors. A very pitiful looking one was chosen as spokesman by the band—a leader in his way—who had a sympathetic voice and a sad eye. The "Master Beggar" This "Master Beggar" stood ready to open the church door when the worshippers came out, and he would begin his pleadings, to be echoed all along the line. At the end of each day this leader had to divide alms with those who had stationed him there. At a marriage in the Church of

PROVIDING FOR THE RETURNED SOLDIERS

The Ontario Government is apparently deeply interested in the welfare of the returned soldier, as was evidenced by a letter received this morning by Mr. George Macdonald, secretary of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, from the department of Lands and Forests, Toronto. It was pointed out in the letter that at intervals groups of returned men are being sent to the training school at Metteth, Northern Ontario, where they are training in the culture of the land, at the same time being paid $1.10 per day and their board. Of this amount $1.20 per month is allowed to the soldier, the balance being, in the case of men with dependents, turned over to the families, and in the case of single men, being held in trust until they take charge of their own clearing. Separation allowance equal to that provided when the men were overseas, is also granted to dependants. Board is also supplied during the time the men are engaged in clearing their own land, which is turned over to them free of charge on condition that sufficient work is accom- plished to warrant ownership. In addition, the government will supply the men with stock and implements to the value of $500 as a loan, the money to be repaid within twenty years at 6 per cent. Further particu- lars, regarding the proposition, de- scription of the soil and the climate and other useful information is con- tained in a circular that accompan- ies the letter. Mr. Macdonald ex- pressed his approval of the provision that has been made for the returned men, and thought that it would be a splendid opportunity for any who wished to enter the farming profession.

SUCCESSFUL SPORTS

Carried Out at School for the Blind A List of the Winners of the Various Events The idea of a sports program for inmates of the School for the Blind may sound somewhat strange to the average outsider, but they have re- cently completed their annual meet- ing in this respect, and the events were so keenly contested, and the entries so numerous, that it took two Saturday afternoons to finish the program. Many of the events created great amusement, notably, "Are you there Bill," the sack race, the three leg- ged race, jockey race, and the "tour- nament." FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES Louisville, Ky., June 4.—Differences among the club owners of the American Association, which began when the inter-league series was called off with the International League and culminated when the double umpiring system recently was abandoned, were brought to a climax by the publication yesterday of a letter from President Hickey, announcing that the headquarters of the association have been removed from Louisville to Chicago. The announcement immediately was fol- lowed by a statement from Vice-Presi- dent O. H. Wathen, of Louisville, that an appeal to prevent the removal would be made to the National Baseball Commission, or, that failing an injunction would be sought in the courts.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

THE GIRL REPORTER.
There is none of the ostentatious notebook play that mars the average stage conception of reporterism. The girl reporter, in "The Perils of Our Girl Reporters," released by Mutual Film Corporation. She goes about her work like a business woman as the girl reporter is, plus a vivid imagination, a keen intuition, and a cultivated power of analysis.

When important facts begin to crowd on the consciousness of the real woman reporter, she doesn't pull a note book and pencil. She concentrates on the happenings, remembers them, and reports on the story on the vivid picture her mind has retained.

AN OLD TIMER.
Harry Booker, who plays the executor in "The Betrayal of Maggie," Mack Sennett-Keystone is one of the oldest performers in the country, his experience, according to some of his closest friends, dating back to prior to the civil war.

"But I'm getting younger every day," he contends, explaining his statement by saying "for forty years I worked nearly every night of my life. Now I sleep at night and claim I am a splendid example of the early to bed, early to rise proverb."

THE APOLLO.
Two thrilling three part dramas of intense power and interest are offered patrons of the Apollo theatre at that house of amusement the first of this week, in "The Inspector of Police," a gripping detective picture teeming with excitement and stirring moments, and "The Blazing Sea," a powerful production of unusual nature. A one reel comedy completes an especially strong and well balanced program.

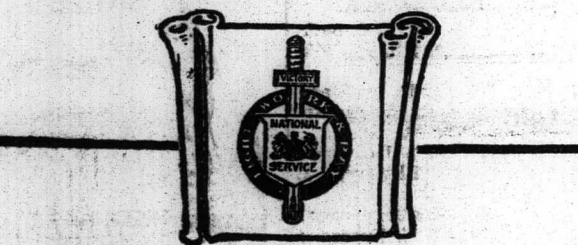

THE REX.
A modern Cinderella, and her brood of seven adopted children in Mexico; complications, humorous and very much otherwise, brought about by the afore-mentioned Cinderella and her lover, a thrilling development in which the children bear no small part, and serve to repair the mischief which they have wrought. Such, in substance, is "Let Katy Do It," the stirring Triangle production from the Fine Arts studio, which heads the bill at the Rex for the first of the week.

Starting Jane Grey and Tully Marshall, not to mention a cast of uncommonly clever child actors whose work is one of the features of the picture. Domestic triangle, smugglers and a pearl necklace form the plot of "The Great Pearl Mystery," a rife tiding Keystone Comedy production starring Sam Bernard and Harry Gibbons. Frank Daniels is seen at his best in the latest exploits of Kernel Nut.

THE BRANT.
A role exacting unusual versatility.

Save the Food and Serve the Empire!

The Average Canadian Family Wastes Enough to Feed a Soldier

"The Kitchen must help as well as the Workshop and the Trenches!"
Lloyd George.

INTELLIGENT economy in the kitchen can do much to prevent the threatened world famine—can counteract the effect of high prices—and can replace growing debt with systematic saving.

Careful investigations show that before the war the average British family wasted 25% of their food—and we Canadians were even more extravagant.

This waste is not in a few big things, but in many little ones, each, we used to think, too small to bother about—such as careless peeling of vegetables and fruit—failure to make good use of dripping and "left-overs"—and such others as will occur to every thrifty housekeeper.

For the Empire's sake as well as your own, hunt up and cut out these leaks! You'll be helping to relieve the food shortage—saving your own money—and putting yourself in a position to buy Canadian War Savings Certificates and help win the war.

War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post-Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% interest. Should you need it, you can get your money back at any time.

Interest in moving pictures. They are a wonderful study; have you ever seen one taken?

"Yes, I have," replied Mr. Cabanne, who was at one time D. W. Griffith's chief of staff, and has to his credit some of the most famous pictures ever filmed.

Then he passed the volume on his card.

NERVOUS CHILDRED

From early spring until July is the time that St. Vitus Dance usually develops, and nervous children should be carefully watched during that time for symptoms of the disease. Irritability is one of the first signs noted. The child frets, is quarrelsome and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease comes a little later. The patient becomes pale, languid, and often constipated. The limbs and sometimes the whole body jerks spasmodically, and in severe cases the power of speech is effected. Such a child should not be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet, giving a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible, and above all things given a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Without this treatment St. Vitus Dance may become chronic, and the patient a life-long sufferer.

Mr. W. A. Squires, Cannington, Ont., writes: "A few years ago my daughter was troubled with St. Vitus Dance. She was so bad she would lose control of her limbs, and her face would become contorted. We had to take her from school and had her under a doctor's care, but it did not help her. After the trouble had lasted for some time we finally decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the time she had taken five boxes she was completely cured. During the intermission, he pursued Mr. Cabanne into the lobby, and opened as follows:

"I have more respect for a saloon keeper than for a dancing teacher." "I don't believe the saloons will do as much to damp the morals of young people as the dancing schools." The evangelist made a bit to say about the theatre, too, the following remarks being a sample:

"I want to distinctly understood that my theatre is not a saloon as an institution, but what I am against hammer and tongs are the things that are done in the theatre, and the rot and filth and rubbish and trash that are spewed out over the stage."

"I do not mean to say that all plays and all actors are rotten. But you will find it in the theatre. If you want to see character destroyed you will find that both behind and before the footlights. Your show has to be trained in order to rate a voluble coin. The capacity for amusing people along decent lines seems to have gone by. Play Checkers, But Don't Dance Says Billy Sunday

New York, June 5.—From the Rev. William Sunday to the institution known as "The Dance." These few remarks, with Bill's compliments: "I'm with Li Hung Chang, the great Chinaman, who said, after looking at an American dance: 'Why don't they sit down to hug?'"

"I want to see the color of the buck's hair who can wrap his arms around my wife! I'm going to monopolize all that hugging business myself, take it from me!"

"Take it from me again, I'd consider it a nuisance to gallop three-quarters of a mile to get a hugging partner, and then I'd have to make a law for America, I'd have a law that no boy or girl over twelve years of age should dance until he or she was married, and then they should dance with each other."

"Some people may say: 'Mr. Sunday, you are too severe; we like dancing.' Exercise, the innocent pleasure it gives. All right, you men dance with each other, and you women dance with each other, you'll get all the exercise and all the innocent amusement in the dance that way. But if that system was put into effect, I bet the old dance would shut up shop between New York and San Francisco before the end of the week!"

Billy's sermon—20,000 heard it—was on "Amusements." He touched on the theatre and card playing, but devoted most of his attention to the tapersome stuff. Continuing, as to the dance, he said among other things:

"It will take your daughter when she is a rose-geranium of purity and make her into a poppy-flower of lust. The canola, glide and the Mobile Buck were made by the dance, and had to invent fire, Bunny Hug and the Puffy Snuggler and the kitchen sink and hell only knows what!"

"How do you like it when you see your wife in the embrace of a man who was once her lover?"

"I want to tell you I don't believe there are many people who can go on the ballroom floor and dance with a pretty girl hugged to his breast and look upon her charms under the influence of fascinating music, and with prayer and meeting feelings. I will bet you that if men who dance would tell the truth ninety out of one hundred I will tell you that."

"You are right, Billy; you are the first one who ever had the grit to tell it."

"I have more respect for a saloon keeper than for a dancing teacher." "I don't believe the saloons will do as much to damp the morals of young people as the dancing schools." The evangelist made a bit to say about the theatre, too, the following remarks being a sample:

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. MCCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

CROUPY BABIES.

TO AN INEXPERIENCED MOTHER nothing is more alarming than to be awakened in the middle of the night by the struggles for breath and the choking cough of a croupy child. In the first place there is the fear that the disease may be diphtheria. In the second, there is the fear that the child may choke to death.

If the attack is the first the child has had the mother has a right to suspect diphtheria. She may look in the child's throat and find no membrane, but then she is not certain of herself. The only way to know with certainty is to send for a physician and have the throat examined and a culture made.

But mothers soon lose the alarm occasioned by croup, because the child who has had croup once will have it again. Some children never have croup; others, commencing when they are six months old and continuing until they are ten years old, have croup with every bad cold.

An attack of croup starts in as does an ordinary cold. Toward evening the cough changes from the ordinary to a typical croupy cough. The croupiness continues through the evening until bedtime. The child goes to sleep, but wakes up an hour or two later fighting for breath. The mother gives a dose of sirup of ipecac, rubs the chest with goose grease, and gets through the night. During the day the cough is better, but as night approaches the croupiness of the cough increases, and again sleep is disturbed by the onset of an attack of choking.

There must be some essential difference between children, which difference makes the same infection in some cause ordinary colds and in others croup. It is children with spasmodic diathesis who have croup. Some people call it nervousness, but that is a very comprehensive and at the same time a very loosely used term.

Is there any way to tell whether a child is likely to develop into a croupy child? In the first place, there is the family history. Croup runs in families. In the second place, there is a history of convulsions or other nervous disorders in babyhood.

What can be done to prevent croup? A course of a month or two of calcium chloride each autumn is advisable. Three to fifteen grains of calcium chloride in water three times a day, according to the age of the child, should be given.

Spasmodic children should be out of doors as much as possible. They should live in well-ventilated rooms. They do best when they are fed plenty of starches, breads, cereals, potatoes, and sweets, and a limited amount of lean meat, eggs, milk, and protein generally. Their bowels must be kept regular.

NIGHT TERRORS.
A child, after sleeping somewhat fitfully for some hours, awakens screaming from fright. The mother gathers him in her arms and draws from him a story of some ogre or wild animal which would have reached him in a moment had he not screamed and tried to escape.

The difference between night terror and sleep walking or somnambulism is that in the latter the dream is fully acted out by the vocal organs, and by them only in part. When a somnambulist dreams that a lion is after him he gets up and tries to run. The subject of night terror dreams about yelling and running. He puts the yell part of the dream into execution, but the running muscles are not awakened out of their sleep.

If the fault does not lie with some violent bedtime impression it may be found in some vivid experience of the earlier hours of the day. Kerley tells of a boy who had night terrors because he wore himself out during the day trying to keep up with a strenuous older brother. A girl had night terrors because she wore herself out making glass eyes. The staring eyes got on her nerves and her dreams about them would bring her up out of sleep in a frenzy of fear.

Now, practically, what is to be done with a child subject to night terrors? Give him warm medicine and let it go at that? Not in this generation. Why the trouble? Intense fear from violent dreams. Can fear be controlled, and how? By mental training. The child must not be told stories about goblins and ghosts. He must be taught that darkness has no terrors. Next the study must be made of the habits of the child. Kerley thinks that indigestion due to bad eating habits is a frequent cause. He describes three cases in children with heavily-coated tongues, foul breaths, and intestinal indigestion. Such children are cured by changing the diet, changing the eating habits, and keeping the bowels open.

Night terror calls for change in habits, not for medicine.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapter
Jimmie Hallett, a young Canadian, wandering in the forest when a girl running suddenly thrusts a bundle papers into his hand and, dashing him, dashes off moment later a man rushes in pursuit. The bundle proved to contain a number of checks, drawn by one J. Greye-Stratton. Hallett goes to the address given, where he received by a man who says is a doctor, but who, as so Jimmie enters, knocks senseless. When Hallett awakes he finds himself in the body of a murdered man. Though weak, he gets to phone and calls up Weirzies, chief detective inspecting the case. He tells him of the murder and the bundle of checks had been stolen from Jimmie. He learns also, that Greye-Stratton has a daughter who has lived always abroad and a stepson, James Brown, of shady reputation, whom suspicion falls. The day, while at his office, daughter, Peggy Greye-Stratton calls on Hallett and asks for a little information. He called in, recognizes her as the girl who gave him the package, but for a reason clear to himself, does not give a stranger to him. Later, they leave the police station. Jimmie takes her to lunch to his blunt question, "Do you know where your father is?" she replied: "God me, I believe I do!"

CHAPTER VII.
Peggy's Story.
Hallett had come to him as Peggy Greye-Stratton was re him with an expression half appealing, half steady. He had an table that stood in a recess one of the marbled pillars, were thus separated from the company in a way which was afraid they might have been low attention. But no one else had observed them, and he once more to the room.

"Somehow she had repressed weakness. He signalled to the and ordered some tea. As it he observed that her hands were steady. And yet but ent before she had been on of hysterics."

"Tell me just what you like," said Jimmie, "just as much as you like." "You can't see me."

"I was sent to a convent at Brussels, where I was brought coming home for the holiday of course, being in Sussex. I ally I was brought to London, and I went into the life until I left school. I interest you. All this time I had no knowledge of my father. The first time that I knew my father was when I was a child. Mr. Pembroke, a came over to Bruges and very nicely. But—acting strangely—he took me home to my parents. I would be three hundred a about fifteen hundred dollars currency—payable to me by his firm. I was no longer to the Dinwards for support."

CHAPTER VII. Peggy's Story. Hallett had expected the answer, and yet it came to him as a shock.

"You will guess that I had some troubles. Art for art's sake is one thing, but I am afraid I haven't the true temperament. I wanted recognition, and though I could have existed without the money, I wanted money as a proof that I was recognized.

"I was sent to a convent school at Bruges, where I was brought up, coming home for the holidays—home of course, being in Sussex. Occasionally I was brought to London. I won't go into all the detail of my life until I left school; it wouldn't interest you.

"When I left school I learned for the first time that I was not my father's daughter. Mr. Pembroke, a solicitor, came over to Bruges and told me very nicely. But—acting on instructions, he said—he could give me no clue to my parents.

"I can't express how I felt. My quick anger against my father was no less intense than his long-nursed hatred.

"We talked long. I finally refused his offer to go back to Canada, and told him that I would never take another penny from my father. He was against that. He argued that it was the least Mr. Grey-Stratton could do for me.

"When he saw I was determined he pointed out the possibility that I might be Mr. Grey-Stratton's heiress, and that to refuse the allowance might embitter him against me."

MAID ANTAGONISM

Sex antagonism is an interesting phrase recently come into use. It means, of course, the peculiar antagonism which, because of their different viewpoints and interests, exist between the two sexes, even simultaneously with love.

They ARE AS CRITICAL AS THEY DARE BE. Towards the maids themselves their manner is a combination of the forbearance imposed by the fear that if they lose one they will get something worse, plus as much criticism as they dare to give.

Brantford's Semi-Centennial Celebration

For the benefit of its readers, The Courier prints today the full musical program to be followed in the pageant which is one of the principal attractions for the coming celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the confederation of the Dominion. Arrangements are now well in shape, and rehearsals for the event under way. The pageant will represent the entry of the various provinces of the Dominion into confederation, at various periods dating from 1867 onward, together with a representation of the accession to the throne of the late King Edward and King George, and a tableau of the allied nations. The full musical program prepared for the occasion is one of extensive and varied nature, comprising songs for each province of the Dominion as well as a high class selection of patriotic airs.

Maple Leaf

(Ontario)

In days of yore from Britains' shore,
Wolfe, the dauntless hero came,
And planted firm Britannias' flag,
On Canada's fair domain.

Here may it wave, our boast, our pride,
And joined in love together,
The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose con-
twine,
The Maple Leaf Forever.

Chorus:—
The Maple Leaf our emblem dear,
The Maple Leaf Forever,
God save our King and Heaven
bless,
The Maple Leaf Forever.

At Queenston Height and Lundy's
Lane,
Our brave fathers side by side,
For freedom, homes, and loved ones
dear,
Firmly stood and bravely died,
And those dear rights which they maintained,
We swear to yield them never,
Our watchword ever more shall be,
The Maple Leaf Forever.

We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall

(Manitoba)

Used by kind permission of the Anglo-Canadian Music Co., Toronto.

Britain's flag has always stood for justice,
Britain's hope has always been for peace,
Britain's foes have known they could trust us,
To do our best to make the cannon's cease.
Britain's blood will never stand for insult,
Britain's sons will rally to her call,
Britain's pride will never let her exult,
And we'll never let the Old Flag fall.

Chorus:—
We'll never let the Old Flag fall
For we love it the best of all,
We don't want to fight to show our might,
But when we start we'll Fight,
Fight, Fight,
In peace or war you'll hear us sing
God save the flag, God save the King,
At the end of the world, the flag's
unfurl'd,
We'll never let the Old Flag Fall.

Britain's sons have always called her mother,
Britain's sons have always loved her best,
Britain's sons have died to show they love her,
The dear old flag laid on each manly breast,
Britain's ships have always ruled the ocean,
Britain's sons will serve her one and all,
Britain's sons will show their true
devotion,
And we'll never let the Old Flag fall.

Repeat Chorus.

By Order of the King

Used by kind permission of the Anglo-Canadian Music Co., Toronto.

The Empire's pride stand side by side
Upon the battlefield,
Like knights of old, so brave and bold,
The King and Flag to shield,
For each brave heart will do his part

For Country and for King,
And gladly go to meet the foe;
Just hear them proudly sing—

Chorus:—
By order of the King (God bless him) we'll fight and win, or die
"Bless him" is the nation's cry,
Our country's pride are fighting,
"God bless them and victory bring,"
For they are gladly dying just to keep the old flag flying.

By order of the King,
The clash of steel may make us reel,
But we'll not give an inch,
For right and fame we'll play the game,
And we will never flinch,
Thro' sounds of war and cannon's
roar,
We'll ever pray and sing,
"God give us might to fight for right,"
By order of the King.

Soldiers of the King

(Saskatchewan)

Used by kind permission of the Anglo-Canadian Music Co., Toronto.

Britons once did loyally declaim,
About the way we ruled the wave
Every Briton's song was just the same,
When singing of our soldiers
brave,
All the world has heard it, wondered why we sang,
And some have learned the reason why,
But we're forgetting it,
And we're letting it,
Fade away and gradually die,
Fade away and gradually die,
So when we say that England's master,
Remember who has made her so.

Refrain:—
It's the soldiers of the King my lads,
Who've been my lads,
Who've seen my lads,
In the fight for England's glory, lads,
When we have to show them
what we mean,
And we say we've always won,
And when they ask us how its done,
We'll proudly point to every one,
Of England's soldiers of the King.

War-clouds gather over every land,
Our flag is threatened east and west
Nations that we've shaken by the hand,
Our bold resources try to test,
They thought they found us sleeping,
Thought us unprepared
Because we have our party wars,
But English men unite,
When they're called to fight,
The battle for old England's common cause.

The Battle for old England's common cause,
So when we say that England's master,
Remember who has made her so
Refrain repeat—

Rule Britannia

(Prince Edward Island)

Where Britain first at Heaven's command,
Arose from out the azure main,
This was the charter of the land,
And guardian angels sang the strain,

Chorus:—
Rule Britannia, Britannia rule
the waves,
Britons never shall be slaves.

The nations not so blessed as thee,
Must in their turn to tyrants fall,
While thou shalt flourish great and free,
The dread and envy of them all.

Repeat Chorus.

Still more majestic shall thou rise,
More dreadful from each foreign stroke,
As the loud blast that tears the skies,
Serves but to root thy native oak.

Repeat Chorus.

O Canada

O Canada! Our Fathers' land of old,
Thy brow is crown'd with leaves of red and gold,
Beneath the shade of the Holy Cross,
Thy children own their birth,
No stains thy glorious annals gloss
Since valour shields thy hearth
Almighty God! On Thee we call,
Defend our rights, forefend this nation's thrall
Defend our rights, forefend this nation's thrall.

Altar and throne command our sacred love,
And man-kind to us shall ever brothers prove,
O King of Kings with thy mighty breath,
All our sons do Thou inspire,
May no craven terror of life or death,
E'er damp the patriot's fire,
Our mighty call loudly shall ring,
As in the days of old, "For Christ
and King!"

As in the days of old, "For Christ
and King!"

God Save the King

God save our gracious King,
Long live our noble King,
God save the King;
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us,
God save the King.

Thy choicest gifts in store,
On him be pleased to pour,
Long may he reign,
May he defend our laws,
And ever give us cause,
To sing with heart and voice,
God save the King.

Red, White and Blue

(British Columbia)

Britannia the pride of the ocean,
Oh Canada, my Canada
My thought is all of thee,
Thy mountain chains and smiling
plains,
That stretch from sea to sea,
Thy sunlight gleams, on murmur-
ing
streams and sweetest melody Pours from feathered songsters in the spreading Maple Tree.

Chorus
Oh the Land of the Maple, is the Land for me,
The home of the stalwart, the brave and the free,
The rose and the thistle, the shamrock and lily,
All bloom in one garden, 'neath
the Maple Tree.

Oh Canada, dear Canada
None can compare with thee,
Neath sunny skies, the earth replies,
And laughs with harvest glee,
Thy winters cheer with air so clear,
But best of all to me
The summer and the sunshine
And the spreading Maple Tree.

In Canada, dear Canada
All dwell in unity,
The Saxon, Gaul and Celt agree
With Scots to keep us free,
Though we be four yet are we one,
If danger chance to be,
We'll boldly fight and stand for
right,
Beneath the Maple Tree.

'Till the Boys Come Home

(Yukon)

(Keep the Home Fires Burning)
Music by Ivor Novello

These words are reprinted by kind permission of Chappell & Co., Limited, for and on behalf of Ascherberg, Hopwood & Crew, Limited.

They were summoned from the gentle side,
They were called in from the hills,
And the Country found them ready,
At the stirring call for men,
Let no tears add to their hardship,
As the soldiers pass along
And although your heart is breaking,
Make it sing this cheery song.

Refrain—
Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning,
Though your lads are far away,
They dream of home,
There's a silver lining,
Through the dark clouds shining,
Turn the dark cloud inside out,
Till the boys come home.

Over seas there came a pleading,
"Help a Nation in distress,"
And we gave our glorious laddies,
Honour bade us do no less,
For no gallant Son of Freedom
To a tyrant's yoke should bend,
And a noble heart must answer
To the sacred call of Friend.

Refrain—Keep the Home Fires
Burning, etc.

—Lenz Guilbert Ford

My Country 'Tis of Thee

(America)

My country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side,
Let freedom ring,
My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free,
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills,
My heart with rapture thrills,
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees,
Sweet freedom's song,
Let mortal tongues awake,
Let all that breathe partake,
Let rocks their silence break,
The sound prolong.

Our fathers God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing,
Long may our land be bright,
With freedom's holy light,
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God our King.

Land of Hope and Glory

Dear Land of Hope and Glory crowned,
God make thee mightier yet!
On Sov'ran brows, beloved renowned,
Once more thy crown is set.
Thine equal laws, by Freedom gained,
Have ruled thee well and long;
By Freedom gained, by Truth maintained,
Thine Empire shall be strong.

Refrain:
Land of Hope and Glory, Mother of the Free,
How shall we extol thee, who art
born of thee?
Wider still and wider shall thy boundaries set;
God, who made thee mighty, make thee mightier yet.

Thy fame is ancient as the days,
As ocean large and wide;
A pride that dares, and needs not praise,
A stern and silent pride
Not that false joy that dreams content
With what our sires have won;
The blood, a hero since hath spent
Still nerved a hero son.

Mr. Clifford Higgin, Conductor

Marshall Took Part in Conference in America
By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, June 6.—A semi-official note says that Marshal Joffre in America had a conference with military chiefs of a plan of organization for American army was elaborated in agreement with the British. The note says: "It will surprise none that Marshal took a preponderant part in the plan, literally even which he advised, being adopted by the British. The Godfather of the Army at a moment when elements of this army are ready to take their place front beside our allies, the government considered it important to confirm the marshal in his sorship. The minister of war, well as his great experience in the present war, will ensure in accord with the American command, to give to the necessary advice as to how to prepare them from material for the efforts called upon to make."

Weather Bulletin
