TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

The Conestogo Easter Fair was again as successful as could be expected by its most sanguine promoters.

The difficulty between the townships of Peel and Maryborough, about the bridge on the townline, at the 4th con., has at last, been amicably settled.

SATCHELL BROS., butchers in Ottawa, have a flaming advt. in the papers of that city, extolling the Easter beef they bought at the Guelph Fair.

The Rev. R. CARSON, pastor of the M. E. Church, Mt. Forest, was presented with a well filled purse last week by the ladies of his congregation.

DRAYTON has been excited for the past week by a fortune teller, fat, fair and fifty, who has been collecting the loose quarters of love-born maidens and silly swains.

GOOD FRIDAY.—Good Friday was generally observed in town as a holiday, the stores and other places of business being closed. Service was held in the Catholic, Episcopal and Methodist churches.

OWING to the severe storm last week, the cars of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway did not pass Arthur, which necessitated two-extra stages to be put on the Arthur and Mount Forest route.

HOTEL CHANGE.—We understand that Mr. Joseph Hirsch has leased the "Union Hotel" to Mr. John Coghlan late of the "Bay Horse Hotel" in the same street. The change of landlords will date from Monday next the 1st of April.

LATELY a party of the young people of North Arthur and neighborhood surprised the dwelling of Rev. W. Millar, pastor of North Arthur Church, bringing with them a handsome suit of clothes and a small purse, amounting in all to $31.

Y. M. C. A.—The last lecture of the course will be delivered on Monday, 1st of April (instead of the 4th), by Rev. A. Sutherland, of Toronto, in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at 8 p. m. Subject—"Men for the Times."

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—A special meeting of the South Wellington Teachers' Association will be held in the Council Chamber, Guelph, on Saturday, the 13th April, at ten a. m. A full attendance is requested in order to reappoint office bearers.

The Drayton Enterprise says building is likely to be lively at Moorefield Station this summer. Dr. Mandsley intends building a new residence there. A stove factory is also to be started. Mr. Driver is building a new brick hotel. Mr. McClary, a new wagon shop, and Mr. Robinson, a new store.

A REWARD of $20 is offered for such information as will lead to the recovery of Samuel Chisholm, son of John Chisholm, of Orangeville, a young man, 24 years of age, who suddenly disappeared from Orangeville, on the 13th of February last. He was a very steady man, and the cause of his disappearance could not have been intoxication. It was known that he was to get some money that day and it is supposed that he had been foully dealt with.

A LARGE CALF.—The Fergus Express says:—Messrs. Scott & Barclay, two gentlemen from the township of Bruce Agricultural Society, purchased a thoroughbred bull calf, last week, from W. B. Telfer, Esq., of Pilkinton, paying therefor $250. The calf was sixteen months old when disposed of, and weighed 1,410 lbs. We consider the price a credit to the township of Pilkinton where it was raised. Mr. Telfer tells us that the calf was just as good as the Blood tells, and there is not a better calf in Pilkinton known to us better than Telfer's.

DEATH OF A MINISTER.—The Rev. David ... died at ... at the age of ... at the ... of ...

Too much cannot be said as to their superiority over the ordinary glasses worn—there is no glimmering, wavering of the sight, dizziness, or other unpleasant sensation, but on the contrary, from the peculiar construction of the Lenses, they are soothing and pleasant, causing a feeling of relief to the wearer and producing a clear and distinct vision as in the natural and healthy sight. They are the only spectacles that preserve as well as assist the sight, and are the cheapest because the best, always lasting many years without change being necessary.

CHAPTER XXIV.

SQUIRE OAKLEY OF OAKLEY ORANGE—A VISIT TO MANGLES THE GAMBLER.
"Oh, bless my soul! that's quite a different story. Assist you! Of course, I'll assist you to the utmost in my power. How long do you say it is since the affair happened?"

"Twenty years."
"A poor chance, sir—a poor chance. I was going the round of the hells then, and know how likely it is your friend was done as you suspect, for at that time there were a lot of singers up to the worst of devils."

"Singers?" said Edwin, interrogatively.
"Aye, singers—fleece—what you like to call them. Gamblers, sir, are just made up of two classes—those who fleece, and those who are fleeced. Now, at the time you mention there was a pack of as secondarily fleecers as ever swarmed about London. But then, bless you, a few years does for them, too; and it's a thousand chances to one if those connected with your friend's transaction are still to be found above the soil."

"That is just what I said, and what I fear," remarked the lawyer.
"Ah, Weggate, you know," said the Squire.

"Did you, for instance, know a frequenter of gaming houses named Jordan—Philip Jordan?" asked Edwin.

"Jordan—Jordan," repeated Squire Oakley in a reflective tone. "No, I don't remember the name."

"Or Mangles?"
"Mangles!" shouted the Squire vociferously. "I should just think I do know him. Why, he was my chief singer, and he singed me pretty close to the skin too. Weggate, you know."

"I know," assented the lawyer, "that you were pretty closely singed, but of course I know nothing of the operators."

"Then Mangles, I tell you, was one, and the earnestest of the lot. Had he to do with your friend's unfortunate business, Mr. Allerton?"

"He was the man to whom the money was lost."

"Then he cheated him, by jingo?"
"Very likely, though this would not be difficult to do, for my uncle—I may tell you, Squire Oakley, it was uncle who was the victim—knew as little of gambling as I do."

"Ah, I see—a lamb among wolves. Oh, I know—I know. Then I say distinctly Mangles cheated him."

"That, however," continued Edwin, "is not of so much importance—in fact, of no importance at all—to this investigation. It is the truth regarding the signing of the bill that I wish to arrive at, and Mangles can no doubt disclose it. Have you any notion, if he is alive, or where he may be found?"

"I could have answered both questions satisfactorily some time ago, for the fellow has had the impudence to apply repeatedly to me for help. Of course the inevitable fate overtook him. Through intemperance and other irregularities of life, he grew unfit for his work—such work as it was—his hand grew so shaky he could not even cheat at play; he descended from a player to a mere marker—then broke up so much that he could not even do that, and he became a miserable besotted longer-on, till, as a nuisance, he was kicked out altogether. Well, after that—would you believe it?—he had the impudence to apply to me for help—to me whom he had cheated out of hundreds, and did his best to ruin. By Jove, he did indeed. Weggate, you know Equal, no, you don't know that, but I do."

"Yes," responded Weggate with a smile, "and though I am no betting man, as you know, I'll wager a bottle of my best port that you responded to his appeal."

"Well, I did."
"I knew it."

"It's not a pleasant thing to know that a fellow creature is a singer, even though he has been a singer, and has singed you too; so I couldn't refuse him a mite."

"And therefore encouraged him to apply again?" added the lawyer.

"Equal, that's true; for he did apply again, and, in fact, so often that I got tired of his old attentances. He didn't seem to approve of that suggestion, for his application kept coming to the Grange till, finding I took no notice of them, they were dropped."

"But you will know where he is to be found?" cried Edwin, eagerly.

"Not I. It's ten to one if he is still alive. Let me see. It's—why, it's three years or more since he gave up sending his applications."

"And how did these applications come? What address did he give?"

"A public-house called the 'Half-Moon,' in the New Cut. We may hear of him there; and I'll be glad to accompany you if you think of going, but there is really little hope of finding him above ground. Weggate you know."

"I don't think the chance is great, but I rather suppose Mr. Allerton will wish to try it."

"And that at once," said Edwin. "So, as the Squire has kindly offered to accompany me to the place, I propose that we take a cab immediately. And, in case we should find him, as the Squire says, 'above ground,' we shall be the better of your assistance at the interview, Mr. Weggate, if you have an hour or two to spare."

The lawyer rapidly disposed of his remaining unpursed letters, and in little more than a quarter of an hour the four were being driven along the thoroughfares towards the New Cut.

A WORLD IN TROUBLE.—The world is in trouble, nations are convulsed; thrones are trembling; governments are agitated; people are excited, and the whole social organization appears to be sensitively influenced by something promontory of a great change; now for nervousness there is nothing like the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," which also cures rheumatism, neuralgia, tie doloureux, cramps and pains in the stomach, &c. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

POOR HORSERS.—There are thousands of poor horses dragging out a miserable existence, suffering from a variety of diseases, rendering them almost worthless, that would be restored to a healthy and sound condition, and a value given to them of which their owners never dreamed, would they but use the means within their reach. From one to three packages of "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" will in all cases produce a satisfactory result; hundreds have testified to the fact. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ontario, proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the MERRY, that "Parson's Purgative Pills" contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known, than that of Louis Napoleon.

"Tired Nature's Sweet Restorer, Balm Sleep." But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength" is denied us, times when our minds and bodies have been so over-worked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy God in vain." ENHANCED—EPPE'S COCOA—GRAPEFUL and COGNAC—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills.

FELLOWS COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

As all life-endowed bodies, whether they be Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, Insects, or even Zoophytes, and subjects of the Vegetable Kingdom are governed by vital force, which binds all the springs of existence, and anything that can save them from destruction when this principle leaves them, the discovery of means whereby vitality may be sustained in the living body is indeed a boon to the world. Modern Chemistry has ventilated the question and discovered the ingredients constituting the brain, muscles and nerves, and finds that by introducing these ingredients in proper proportions the brain and nervous system are strengthened.

This is substantially the basis on which FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES is built. Its direct action is upon the Blood, the Brain and Nervous System, and the Muscles, strengthening the Nerves, and causing the rapid distribution of Vitalized Blood in the Muscular Organs of the Body.

Having the Spleen, Heart and Liver, Strengthening the Action of the Stomach and Bowels, and enabling the Lungs to be fully inflated with Oxygen. It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, whether arising from a Sedentary Life, a tropical climate, from fever, or debility from any cause, and affections of the Lungs, Consumption, many confirmed cases having been cured and all benefited, where its use has been continued over a fortnight.

In Bronchitis it is a specific, and in Asthma it gives relief where every other remedy fails. For Nervous Debility it stands unrivalled, and may be used with confidence in all cases. As this is entirely distinct and different from every other preparation of Hypophosphites, be careful to ask for FELLOWS' SYRUP, and take no other.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES. PRICE, $1.50. SIX FOR $7.50. JAMES I. FELLOWS Chemist, Iwtmar St John N B. HAVE YOU A COLIC? HAVE YOU A COUGH? HAVE YOU BRONCHITIS? HAVE YOU THE ASTHMA? HAVE YOU ANY LUNG DIFFICULTY, OR WEAKNESS IN YOUR THROAT?
