Big Fire in Annapolis Royal Last Wednesday Night

A Cigarette Thrown in a Bundle of Hay Destroys a Large Portion of the Business Section and Many Dwellings. Causing a Loss of a Quarter of a Million Dollars. Insurance Less Than 50 Per Cent. Arrangements Being Made for New Buildings

When word reached here by telephone late Wednesday afternoon that a big fire was raging in the town of Annapolis Royal a MONITOR representative got there as quickly as an auto could take him. Several miles to the east of the town dense smoke and thick fog were encountered which made rapid driving dangerous.

On our arrival we found at least a third of the town in a mass of flames, and while everyone was doing all they could to save property there was no water available to fight the terrible conflagration, except what could be hauled in barrels from the harbor. It appears that about 4:15 a small fire which could have been extinguished with a pail of water, was discovered in a bunch of hay in the barn at the rear of the Queen Hotel, probably caused by someone throwing down a lighted cigarette. Those who discovered it immediately endeavored to stamp it out by covering it with an old bag or mat, but the fire shot down through the dry hay and quicker than the story can be told the little blaze was beyond control.

An alarm was given, the firemen promptly responded but had no water pressure to fight the fire. There was water, however, in the reservoir, with which is installed a syphon system, but air had got into the pipes and rendered the whole service useless.

The Queen Hotel was the next building to catch and soon the east side of St. George St., the principal business thoroughfare of the town, was a roaring furnace. Eleven buildings burned at one time. These contained business places on the lower floors, with an occasional tenement above. The boundaries of the fire were along St. George St., with the old Church of England at the south end, and the Royal Bank of Canada at the north. In the meantime the southwest wind hauled gradually from the westward and the flames immediately started to devour the buildings along Victoria, Albert and St. James streets.

At 10 p.m. it looked as if everything would be destroyed between the Royal Bank of Canada, and the Church of England, and everything east as far as the Dominion Atlantic Railway tracks. The station and round house were not in immediate danger. The streets were filled with furniture and falling timber and walls from the burning buildings. Fort Anne park was filled with dry goods, groceries and contents removed from the burning buildings. In fact nearly every dwelling house in the town had its contents removed as no one could predict that any portion of the town could be saved should the wind increase. A dense fog wet the trees and in this way the flames were in many instances considerably checked.

The first man the MONITOR interviewed was B. B. Hardwicke, the Mayor of the town, who was willing to give all the information available. It was impossible to talk insurance with any of the owners at that time.

but the Mayor thought that the loss in most cases was only partially covered. He was pleased to state, however, that very few poor people had lost their homes, and he thought that none would be destitute as the result of the terrible calamity which spread over the oldest town on this continent. Within an hour from the time the alarm was given Mayor H. T. Warren, of Digby, had reached the town, accompanied by several of his Councilors, bringing with him their Chief of Police Boyd Bishop, and fifty men ready to render every assistance possible.

Another man almost immediately on the grounds was W. W. Clarke of Clarke Bros. Limited, of Bear River, who was also offering every assistance available. The same can be said of Rev. A. W. L. Smith, rector of Clementsport, where several families whose homes were gone, were conveyed for the night. Mayor Hardwicke said that Bridgetown had also rendered aid, and our town officials and citizens generally were doing all they could. Many automobiles carried down parties from here. Dynamite was used to some extent in destroying the buildings to prevent the further spread of the flames, but the supply available was limited. Annapolis was just recovering from its fire of a year ago last March, and it is fortunate that the new Bank of Nova Scotia building, and the reconstructed Government building are still standing unscathed. Crowds rushed to the scene of the disaster as far west as Halifax and as far west as Yarmouth.

BRIDGETOWN GIVING ASSISTANCE

Mayor Warren, of Bridgetown, the members of the Town Council and many of our citizens are still continuing to give the people of our sister town all available assistance in their time of need. The E. A. A. A.'s big tent was shipped to them cooked meats and other food furnished in his auto several loads of bread, cooked meals and other food furnished by our citizens. Their efforts have been appreciated well by a letter from Mayor Hardwicke which appears on this page.

Among the agencies to render early assistance to the Annapolis fire sufferers was the Red Cross, Dr. Armstrong, of Bridgetown, the Annapolis County representative of that organization, arriving in the town shortly after the extent of the catastrophe was known.

One great regret is the looting which occurred while the fire was in progress and since it has been extinguished, Annapolis County is supposed to contain the largest number of regular church attendants for its population in any part of Nova Scotia. In an interview with Chief of Police Bishop of Digby, who guarded the goods in the old fort grounds from 8 p.m. Wednesday night until the following afternoon, he said there is still large room for improvement. The looting was the worst in his experience and he has attended many fires in the past. The looters went so far as to steal two very expensive chairs from the Church of England, a building which was not destroyed.

THURSDAY MORNING

A visit to the Annapolis ruins Thursday morning found the fire practically extinguished, with only the hard coal bins and debris in the foundations smouldering.

A special train from Kentville in charge of Conductor Harry Taylor and Driver Will Ritchie reached Annapolis about 11:30 Wednesday night, with firemen from Kentville and a chemical engine.

FOUR PERSONS INJURED

In the dense fog and smoke in the railway yard while shunting a portion of a train telescoped the van of a ballast train, injuring four persons, only one being seriously hurt.

In the meantime another special was being rushed from Yarmouth in charge of Conductor George Balcom, with Percy Balcom at the throttle of locomotive Oberon No. 19.

This contained the steam fire engine "Neptune" with 1500 feet of hose and fifteen men in charge of Captains R. K. Smith and G. W. Halstead. This train made the run from Yarmouth to Annapolis in three hours and twenty-five minutes and the steamer "Neptune" was immediately placed on Edward's wharf and with a Siamese soon had two streams of salt water from the harbor playing on the ruins, which did excellent work, although the fire had reached its natural boundaries before their arrival.

THE FIRE LOSSES

Chas. Dargie and Son are probably the heaviest losers. Their big furniture establishment and its contents were worth at least $50,000. Their insurance is about $20,000.

Mrs. Potter's big dry goods establishment contained more than $25,000 worth of up-to-date goods. She carried about $5,000 insurance.

The list of buildings destroyed and firms put out of business are as follows:

J. A. Lingren's residence.
Chas. Dargie and Sons' furniture establishment.
Crowe and Bayer, plumbing shop.
Doctor A. B. Crowe, dentist.
Douglas Weir, grocery.
Alex. Blackie, tenement.
A. E. Runciman's dry goods establishment.
Oddyfells' lodge room and hall.
A. E. Wentzell, boots and shoes.
G. W. V. A. rooms.
Western Union Telegraph Office.
Mrs. McFadden's tenements upstairs.
Mrs. Potter's dry goods establishment (formerly Potter Bros.).
F. H. Northup, groceries and feed, with tenement upstairs.
Mrs. H. E. Burton, grocery.
Queen Hotel Block, containing Layton's Tailor shop.
Cummings' meat market.
Copeland's ice cream parlor.
The Central Telephone office.
A. E. Atlee's drug store.
George Rice's tenement.
Mrs. John Brittain's tenement.
J. A. Langille's jewelry store.
Geo. Vaschere's residence.
L. DeV. Chipman's residence.
Langille's jewelry store.
Tom Wood's residence and bakery.
W. C. T. H. building, containing Miss Ruby Chisholm's millinery.
Herbert's garage.
Burrill's vulcanizing works.
The Queen Hotel's barns and out-buildings.
Harry Gormley's blacksmith shop.
Doctor A. B. Crowe's residence.
Mrs. James Crowe's residence.
Hardwick's tenement block containing the homes of Clifford Herbert, Arthur B. Herbert, railway men, and Mack Archibald, planer.
Mrs. James McKay's residence.
Salvation Army building.
Mrs. Walter McCormick's residence.
Mrs. Margeson's residence.
H. A. West's residence.
Bijou Dream Theatre.

Harry Rawding's residence.
Moore McDormand's residence.
Town Hall and Fire Station.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED

Clifton Hotel block, containing R. L. Hardwick's millinery establishment; Mr. Bayer's tenement, H. A. Armstrong tenement, manager of the Royal Bank; H. W. Rawding's tenement, Reginald Miller's residence, Miles McMillan's harness store, L. D. Wade's store with tenement upstairs, Charles Ritchie's residence, slightly damaged, also Mr. Neville's; Church of England rectory, Doctor Horsefall's residence (owned by Doctor Byers) C. Odell's residence.

Ex-Mayor West says it is the worst blow that has ever struck the old town but everybody appears to be in as good spirits as possible under their sad conditions and many of them say that within a short time a newer and better and brighter Annapolis will arise from the ruins.

A few of the widows who met with loss could be seen on the streets crying, but it was fortunate that the fire did not visit the poorest section of the town and, as Mayor Hardwicke said Wednesday night, he did not believe that any of the people would be destitute.

ALL WERE HOUSED

All were housed Wednesday night including the sick who wished to go to bed, but the majority were out all night. Many thoughtful citizens from the uptown residential section where properties were not injured, were seen at an early hour the following morning supplying the less fortunate with bread and various kinds of food. Assistance is being given from the surrounding towns, and Mayor Hardwicke is a busy man. Town Clerk F. W. Harris, who had left Wednesday on his annual vacation, returned home Thursday via auto before daylight.

C. L. Wood, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Oddfellows rushed all the way from Windsor to Annapolis by auto reaching there at three o'clock Thursday morning, assuring the brothers of the three link fraternity that he was ready to administer aid to all brothers in distress.

Safes were opened, insurance papers looked up and the ordinary routine work that follows a big conflagration of this kind was being rapidly proceeded with.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE

Incomplete and unofficial estimate of the losses involved in the blaze with the approximate amounts of insurance carried so far as can be ascertained, are as follows:

C. Dargie and Sons, building and part of stock destroyed, loss $45,000; insurance approximately $20,000.

Chas. Crowe and Bayer, plumbers, building and most of stock destroyed, loss $6,000; insurance on building, $2,000.

D. L. Weir, grocer, building, owned by W. Perkins, destroyed with most of the stock, loss $15,000; insurance partially covered building with $8,500 on stock.

A. E. Runciman, dry goods, building and most of stock destroyed, loss $20,000; insurance $8,000 on stock, and $5,000 on building.

Mrs. Hanna Margeson, dwelling, loss $3,000.

R. W. Hardwick estate, triple tenement, occupied by A. B. Hebert, MacDonald Archibald and S. Hebert, loss $8,000 on building.

Town Hall and Fire Station Building destroyed, fire equipment and instruments of town hand, saved, loss $3,000; partially insured.

Annapolis Fruit Co. garage, loss $20,000; insurance $1,000.

Bijou Dream Theatre, owned by A. M. King, loss $4,000; insurance $2,000. Mr. King managed to save the Motion Picture Machine.

Henry Rawding's, dwelling, owned by Mrs. Wm. Perkins, loss $1,500.

Moore McDormand, loss $3,500; insurance $1,000.

I. O. O. F. regalia and furniture destroyed, loss $700; insurance $700.

After the completion of the "missing link" as that part of the D.A.R. from Annapolis to Digby was styled, the town of Annapolis Royal enjoyed a large business, the daily steamer to and from St. John, a weekly line of steamers to and from Boston, besides considerable postal business by sailing craft. A small steamer, the "Evangeline," owned and commanded by Capt. Geo. E. Corbett, plied between Digby and Annapolis and a daily coach supplied transportation between Annapolis and Liverpool.

That was thirty years ago and the town was lively and prosperous. The building of the railway between Annapolis and Digby changed all this. The steamers made Digby their headquarters and the railway authorities abandoned the station which was in the centre of the business portion of the town and close to the waterfront for a new and smaller station on the new line of railway back of the town proper.

The first big fire destroyed the Whitman block, situated on Water street, which is the continuation of George street, the main residential centre. The second fire destroyed the Royal Hotel, which was located opposite the old railway station, as well as the J. B. Mills building, in which was housed the Annapolis Spectator.

But Annapolis took its losses philosophically. Men of the stamp of Pickles & Mills, F. C. Whitman, B. B. Hardwick, McCormack & Sons, Dr. Robertson, A. M. King and Son, A. E. Atlee, Runciman & Son, Charles Dargie, and others did not lie down and bemoan the hard knocks which their town received, but kept on "doing business" and it Annapolis lost on one hand it gained on the other.

Although the population had somewhat fallen off and certain streams of business had dried up, yet they kept their shoulders at the wheel and the result was that Annapolis Royal became an incorporated town, with modern lighting and water systems and a determination to again retrieve more than it had lost.

The people of Annapolis never lost faith in their town. They were always planning for better things and they were setting out to get them. Another disaster has overtaken their town. This means another fight for advancement and it may be accepted as a fact that Annapolis, Phoenix like, will again rise from its ashes, a prouder, more beautiful, and we hope a more prosperous town.

There is one thing fire cannot rob Annapolis of—her splendid situation, her incomparable scenery. Situated at the head of the beautiful Annapolis Basin, at the mouth of the Annapolis and Lequille Rivers and overlooking the stately hills on the Granville side of the river, Annapolis Royal commands an outlook of considerable grandeur. Running from the town proper to what is known as "The Mile Board" is George street, a broad and level thoroughfare, shaded for its entire length by stately trees and containing handsome homes set in grounds delightfully conceived and laid out forming an almost entire garden for its full length of one mile.

Along this thoroughfare are the principal churches of the town, the Anglican, Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist, while the Roman Catholic Church is situated in the heart of the town and near the waterfront. On this main thoroughfare is also situated the County Court House, the Annapolis Academy and the beautiful cemetery. On this street, but in the town proper, is old Fort Anne, the scene a few days ago of one of the most solemn and imposing anniversary celebrations ever held in North America.

NOT DOWN-HEARTED

As will be seen by a circular distributed around Annapolis Royal Saturday, which is reproduced on this page, the people of that town are not down-hearted.

Merchants and other leading citizens of Annapolis Royal are losing no time in endeavoring to recuperate from the devastating effects of the terrible fire which ravaged the business section of that town Wednesday night. Hardly was the fire out, when, coincident with efforts to prevent its re-occurrence, plans were made by many of the heaviest losers to start up their business again. Already several have started.

William Cummings has re-opened his meat market at the old McClarity building, while D. Wear is opening up his grocery in the Charles Corbett block. Charles Dargie and Son have begun over again in the second flat of the old Masonic Building, formerly used by the Customs Department. The lower floor of the building is the location chosen by E. Runciman for a new start in dry goods. These, all burned out Wednesday night, and others who lost their businesses by the disastrous conflagration are looking to the future.

SUNDAY'S BAND CONCERT

Annapolis Royal was the scene of

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

YARMOUTH LINE

The summer schedule of six trips weekly will continue until Saturday, September 17th inclusive. Commencing September 19th, the Steamships PRINCE ARTHUR and PRINCE GEORGE will make four round trips weekly between Yarmouth and Boston, leaving Yarmouth on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, returning from Boston on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

This service will continue until about October 10th, when the regular schedule of two trips weekly will be in effect. From Yarmouth Tuesdays, and Fridays, returning from Boston on Mondays and Thursdays.

THE DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER FIGHT

The pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pleased a large audience in the Primrose Theatre last Saturday night. These pictures will also appear in the Gem Theatre, Lawrencetown, Friday evening September 23rd, and should also draw a large crowd in our sister town.

Dr. Wacey, dentist, will not be at her office in Bridgetown from Thursday, 15th, till Monday morning, 19th, just as she is going to Kingston to do dental work there.

Tablets without "Bayer Cross" are not Aspirin at all

Get genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer" package, plainly marked with the safety "Bayer Cross".

The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for nineteen years and proved safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain generally. Made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger sized "Bayer" packages.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company, Ltd., will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross".

A Doubtful Compliment

The politeness of the Japanese is proverbial. At a social occasion in Washington a young woman happened to say to an attaché of the Japanese embassy:

"In your country you compress the women's feet, do you not?"

"No madam," responded the Japanese. "That is, or rather was, a Chinese custom. In Japan we allow our ladies' feet to grow to their full size."

And then, after a bow, he added in the politest of tones:

"Not that they could ever hope to rival yours, madam."

Mr. Edison announces MOOD MUSIC

BRING or send the coupon. Begin to use music in the remarkable new way developed by Mr. Edison.

Everybody admits music's power to banish unpleasant moods, relieve fatigue, bring peace and joy. But no one has been able to tell you which selections to play when tired, which when depressed, etc. Famous psychologists, associated with Mr. Edison, have been working on this problem for two years. They found certain Edison RECREATIONS which brought all these wonderful benefits of music. These they arranged under headings such as "To Make You Joyous", "For More Energy", etc. Get your copy of "Mood Music" at once. Bring or send the coupon.

LETTER FROM
MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place.
My nerves were in bad shape, I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and several of my friends
advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now
I am quite able to do all my own work, and I would strongly advise every suffering woman to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. CHARLES WAKELIN, 272 Christie
St., Toronto, Ont.
The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for more than forty years.
If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pink-

Mass.

They Contain More Sulphur
"The doctor was giving a lecture to a class of girls. "It has been found," he remarked, "that the human body contains sulphur!"
"Sulphur," exclaimed the pretty young girl. "How much sulphur is there in a girl's body?"
"Oh, the amount varies," said the doctor, smiling, "according to the girl."
"Ah," remarked the girl. "That's why some of us make better matches than others."

SHE WAS ALMOST NERVOUS WRECK

Had Suffered For Four Years, But Tanlac Restores Health, Says
Husband

"At the time my wife began taking Tanlac," said John A. Hayter, of 123 Maynard St., Halifax, N.S., "she had suffered from stomach trouble for four years and was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck.
She scarcely ate anything, as everything disagreed with her so bad, and often for days at a time she didn't eat a mouthful. She bloated terribly after meals and suffered from awful cramping pains in her stomach. She was constantly, and was hardly able to do her housework."
"One day a friend told her about Tanlac and got her to try it. Well she eats anything she wants now without the least pain or distress, has a fine appetite and in fact is rid of all her troubles and is doing her housework with ease. We can't praise Tanlac too highly."

Although it has been something over a year since Mrs. Hayter's experience with Tanlac, she stated in an interview with a special Tanlac representative that she was still feeling fine, which is another link in the chain of evidence regarding both the immediate and lasting results being obtained from the Master Medicina.

Tanlac is sold in Bridgetown by S. N. Wear, and by leading druggists everywhere.

A DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY
(Digby Courier)
Of the many happy events that have transpired at the Myrtle Home this season, the double celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Wickwire, of Halifax, and the thirty-first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. T.
Spurr, should be recorded.

Mrs. Wickwire's table was covered with flowers, and she was the recipient of many letters and messages from her friends.

A complete surprise was perpetrated on Mr. and Mrs. Spurr by a number of guests, who made up an impromptu wedding procession consisting of the ring bearer, flower girl, matron of honor, bridesmaids, best man, ushers, etc.

A long lace curtain was thrown over Mrs. Spurr, and a shower bou-quet thrust in her arms as the astonished couple were drawn into the wedding procession which marched into the dining room while the other guests stood, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Hale at the piano. Miss Collins, violin and Mr. Elliott, saxophone.

A table over which was suspended a large bell of flowers was decorated with sweet peas and placed in the centre of the dining room. On this was the wedding cake, ornamented with the figures 1890-1921, and surrounded with thirty-one pieces of silver. The wedding party gathered around the table as Mr. George Jacobs of Philadelphia, the toast master of the occasion, made a happy speech to bride and groom. This was followed by remarks from Dr.
H. W. MacIntosh and wife, Mrs. W.
C. Patterson and Irvin Hendrickson of Philadelphia, the Misses Grace and Eleanor Johnson, of Washington, Miss G. H. Hale, of New York, and Mrs. H. M. Wickwire, of Halifax.

An original poem was written and sung by Miss Bertha Hackman, of New York, called, "The Wedding Anniversary."

Mr. Spurr, though much affected by this surprise, and the good will and generous spirit of his guests, responded with an impromptu speech.
He referred to the happiness which had predominated these thirty-one years of married life, in spite of the cares and sorrows that always come, and closed with a happy allusion to Mrs. Wickwire's birthday and his appreciation of her second season as his guest.

Mrs. E. J. Weatherly had at her table two guests of Chautauque fame,
Miss Frances Maxwell and Miss Edna Lowe.

Philadelphia has 56 amusement houses and more than 160 moving picture houses.

N. S. FOREST FIRES OUT
Halifax, Sept. 7—Heavy showers of rain over large sections of the province and dense fog have subdued the forest fires in Nova Scotia, according to latest reports from the imperilled districts.

Reported losses from the latest outbreak of bush and forest fires include large tracts of timberland, several hundred thousand feet of stacked lumber along railroads, railroad ties, meadow growth and standing hay.

CLEMENTSVALE

Mr. David E. Trimmer is spending a few days in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Long entertained week-end company.
Selling cider seems to be the order of the day in this village.

Mrs. Alonzo Wright is spending a few days in Deep Brook.
Miss Margaret Laamore, of Boston, is visiting at her home here.

We understand there is soon to be more wedding bells in this village.
Mr. William Ramsay, Bear River, spent the week-end at his home here.
Messrs. Harry and Stewart Potter are engaged at road work in Granville.

We are glad to report Mrs. Marion Wright improving from her recent illness.

Mr. Frank J. Doogue, Nictaux West, spent Sunday with Mrs. Doogue, of this village.

Mr. Fred Potter and neices, Glen-dean and Gladys Potter spent Sunday 4th inst. at Deep Brook.

Miss Vivian Pyne, Lansdown, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. William Pyne.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bishop and other friends, of Lawrenceton, were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. G. H.
Potter.

Mr. Ralph Pierce and bride, of Victoria, have returned to the village.
We wish them a long and happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and three children, of Massachusetts, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Trimmer.

Mr. Julian, Glidden, and son Merrell, of Summerville, Mass., have recently visited Postmaster and Mrs.
Charles W. Trimmer.

A tea was held on the grounds of
Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Long, August 30th. The sum of $80 was received for Baptist Church purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Potter and daughter, Miss Elsie, and Miss Winnifred E. Potter recently enjoyed a trip to South Farmington, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Manning R. Potter.

Miss Freeton, V. D. Hubley, South Milford, and other friends, enjoyed a corn supper at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hubley, on the evening of the 4th inst.

We wish to state the great success of Miss Freeton Hubley in her provincial examinations of Grade X. Her average was 449. This is worth note as Miss Hubley was detained at home several weeks by illness of her mother last spring.

TORBROOK
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rice visited her aunt, Mrs. E. Eaton, one day last week.

Mrs. N. Hatt returned home from a visit to her old home at the South Shore.

Mrs. Bob Nelly left on Tuesday for Boston where we wish her every success.

Mrs. Minnie Jefferson is home after staying with Mrs. Elmer Jefferson for eight weeks.

Mrs. J. E. McAloney left on Thursday for a few weeks' visit at Halifax,
Truro and other Eastern towns.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bartheaux are spending a few days in Truro at the home of his brother, James Bartheaux.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jefferson, Victor and Zelpha, Mrs. Charlton and daughter Wyona, spent Sunday at Kingston.

Torbroke is indeed getting to be a dry town. If it don't rain soon we will have to stop washing and eating, and what a rest the women will have.

SEPTEMBER ROD AND GUN
Rod and Gun in Canada, the popular Canadian sportsman's monthly magazine appears in a new and improved size with its September issue.
The many improvements include a larger size of page together with a coated paper that adds considerably to the appearance of the stories and illustrations. This number is rich with stories, articles and anecdotes dealing with wild life in the various parts of the Dominion. The Great Mackenzie Basin is the title of the leading article, which is written by F. H. Kitro and tells of his 12,000 mile trip from Edmonton, north along the Mackenzie through to the Pacific coast and then east to Edmonton. In addition to this article, this number includes thirteen stories and articles which together with the usual departments makes an interesting issue of Canada's outdoor monthly. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont. A. J.
Burns, local agent.

THOSE WHO NEVER RESPOND

Again we wish to refer to the large number of people residing in this county and immediate vicinity who are almost constantly endeavoring to get something for nothing.

BRIDGETOWN JUNIORS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

In the final game for the championship of the Taxis League for Digby, Annapolis and Kings Counties—the Bridgetown boys defeated the Wolfville boys at Middleton last Wednesday afternoon.

SUNDAY WEDDING IN DIGBY CHURCH

An interesting wedding took place in the Digby Baptist Church immediately after Sunday School, when the pastor united John J. Lee, of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Alice Johnson, of Yarmouth.

BIG SHIPMENTS OF APPLES

A big C.P.R. freighter from Montreal for England is at Halifax to take on fifty carloads of Annapolis Valley apples, about 15,000 barrels, which will be the first big fruit shipment of the season from this port.

WISS EXHIBITION PRIZES

Mr. Allen Bezanon, one of the enterprising gardeners of Hampton, Annapolis County, won many prizes at the St. John Exhibition, including sweepstakes, $15.00, in grading vegetables, best collection of roots and grains and many others.

PRIZES PRESENTED TO-MORROW

All those interested in the work of our school are cordially invited to be present at a public meeting to be held in the Primrose Theatre to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, the fifteenth of Sept. at 3.15 p.m., when the prizes granted for last year's work will be presented.

WHAT WILL BRIDGETOWN DO?

The merchants in many towns have decided to keep their stores closed Wednesday afternoons throughout the entire year with the exception of the month of December.

Local Happenings

The St. John exhibition this year was largely attended and, as usual, a good show.

The traffic bridge at Bridgetown, is receiving a coat of paint, which is a great improvement.

Don't forget the Missionary meeting in the Baptist Church to-night. See adv. in another column.

Mr. T. B. Chipman in adding a very nice piazza, constructed of stone and cement, to his brick residence on South Street.

Middleton Outlook: E. O. Wood, the Supt. of the N. S. evaporators Ltd. for the western part of the Valley, bought 5,000 barrels of apples on Tuesday.

Don't forget to see the pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight which is referred to in another column, in the Gem Theatre in Lawrenceport, Friday evening, September 23rd.

The death occurred at Canis on Monday, September 5th, of William Kinsman, brother of Mrs. B. Wood, of Sheffield Mills, and the late Mrs. Geo. Cox, at the age of 93.

Rev. John Freestone and Mrs. A. J. Macdonald greatly assisted the choir of the Gordon-Providence United Church with a vocal duet Sunday night which was greatly appreciated by the congregation.

The Nictaux Church had a very narrow escape from being destroyed by forest fire last Friday afternoon. Had not the wind changed nothing could have saved it.

See advertisement of Hants, Kings and Annapolis Counties Exhibition to be held in Windsor, October 4th, 5th and 6th. Get your prize lists early from the Secretary and have your entries filed in good season.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Bridgetown Board of Trade will be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at which every member should be present as business of great importance to the town is to be considered.

Halifax was rocked by a terrific explosion shortly after three o'clock Monday morning. Three of the big tanks at the Imperial plant, Dartmouth, caught fire and exploded. A huge body of flame then shot high in the air, and illuminated the whole harbor and city.

No one would think that we could possibly receive another letter without the name attached after reminding our correspondents so many times. We, however, received one Monday, containing some W.M.A.S. news from Paradise which we will publish when we learn the name of the writer.

There was such a large crowd of auto parties in Annapolis Royal last Sunday afternoon, it is impossible to mention their names in our personal columns, as no complete list could be obtained. Many boating parties were also there from Digby and other points along the Basin.

While it is up to all of us to waste no water during this extremely dry weather, we are pleased to state that the town supply is keeping up extremely well under the circumstances, and is being closely observed by His Worship Mayor Warren and the members of the Water Committee, as well as our Water Superintendent, Mr. Goldsmith.

Hants County defeated Annapolis County in a cricket match at Windsor last Thursday, score being 80-55. A remarkable feature of the game was that Dr. Frank E. Rice, of Sandy Cove, who was the first to bat for Annapolis County, although only making 23 runs, was not out at the end of the game, having made the entire stand.

THE SEA WOLF

Realistic Presentation by Paramount—Arterial of Jack London's Grim Story of the Male Brute.

"The Sea Wolf" is sailing for a sealing cruise with a motly crew when he picks up young Van Weyden and his fiancee, Maud Brewster, from the sea. They implore him to send them ashore, but he is short-handed and impressed with the girl. He puts Van at work as a cabin boy under a degenerate cook, and the young fellow is degraded in every way before a sweetheart who has professed an admiration for men of great physical strength. She gets an example of it in "The Sea Wolf." In single encounters he easily disposes of an antagonist, and that means nearly every member of his brutalized crew.

When they all mutiny and attempt to kill him, he emerges from the mass of wounded mariners, bloody and triumphant, master of the situation by physical strength and courage alone.

Even when thrown overboard, "The Sea Wolf" manages to catch the log and return, but he loses his mate and Van is promoted as about the only man he can trust. Van uses his new position to escape with Maud and one sailor in a small boat well provisioned.

After storm, privations and the tragic loss of the member of the crew who accompanied them, the young people land on an island and manage to exist until a wreck drifts in. It is that of the "Hell Ship," the Sea Wolf aboard and blind. All s'one he has managed to survive, and he is to be dreaded in spite of his affliction. When death at last claims him, he makes one more vindictive effort, then yields. The young people sail on the wreck until they are picked up by a cruiser, the girl thoroughly cured of her false ideal, happy to be with a real man, who can be counted on for her security and happiness.

Mr. Stanley Kerr, of St. John, looking clerk with the Specialty Film Co., was in town Saturday night, accompanying the pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight. Capt. Amos Burns, of Clements-port, who has been visiting his sons, Dr. Burns in Kentville, and Mr. Wylie Burns in Bridgetown, made the editor a friendly call Friday afternoon. Mr. Harold Southerland and Miss Leota Banks, both of Halifax, motored from the city to the latter's home, at Mount Rose, where they were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allister Banks. Past Grand Master J. A. Craig, of Yarmouth, left by the Prince Arthur on Wednesday for Boston, where he attended the sessions of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. Massachusetts, which met in that city. Mr. L. K. McNinch, son of Rev. A. M. McNinch, of Clementsport, was in Bridgetown Monday. Mr. McNinch leaves to-day for Moncton, N.B., where he has a good position in the railway machine shops. Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Whitman, Mrs. John Spurr and baby, from Round Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Whitman, of Halifax, spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bartheaux, Clementsport. Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Hardwick, of Brooklyn, New York, who have been visiting the Mayor and Mrs. Hardwick, Annapolis Royal, the past two weeks, spent the week-end in Halifax, returning on Monday night. Rev. and Mrs. E. Underwood returned last Thursday from a well earned vacation which was spent in Annapolis and Digby Counties, including a week-end at Hillside Farm, Sandy Cove, a popular summer resort. Berwick Register: Mr. Ralph Eaton, who, with his wife and family, have been spending the past year in New Hampshire, was in Berwick last week and left on Saturday for Bridgetown, where they are visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Bennisson and Mrs. Child, of Boston, and Dr. and Mrs. Thomasson, of New York, who are on an auto trip through Nova Scotia, are visiting at the home of the latter's father, Mr. Wallace Rumsey, Bellevue Farm, Paradise. Mr. H. W. Jones, news editor of the Halifax Chronicle, who with Mrs. Jones, had been spending a pleasant vacation along the St. Mary's Bay Shore, returned to the city via Friday's express, having visited Annapolis and Bridgetown en route. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Chesley and little daughter, of Hantsport, spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. H. T. Chesley, Willowville Farm, Upper Granville. Among recent guests at the same home for a day were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Murray, of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacKenzie are occupying Mr. W. H. Dargie's residence at Carleton's Corner. Mrs. Dargie and family are spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. DeWitt, Granville street east, before leaving for Halifax where they expect in future to reside. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Fitch have returned from St. John. Among other Bridgetown people who attended the exhibition in that city were: Mr. A. S. Williams, Mr. H. F. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Messinger, Mrs. W. A. Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peters.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. MacDonald and two children, of Kingshead, Pictou Co., spent a week in Bridgetown, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Messinger. Mr. MacDonald, who is a Presbyterian clergyman, occupied the pulpit of the Gordon-Providence United Church last Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Wary are entertaining a distinguished guest from England, Miss Lyne Pirakis. During the war, Miss Pirakis was actively associated with the Canadian Newfoundland and Australian Red Cross Societies in the capacity of official visitor at the hospitals in Aldershot and Woking, England. Miss Pirakis comes of a military family, her father, General Pirakis, being a personal friend of General Gordon, of Khartoum, having served together for many years in China. Our visitor is a composer of note, her compositions being played by all the leading military bands in England.

WEDDING BELLS

MOSHER-SARTY
A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Sarty, Farmington, Lunenburg Co., on Wednesday August 17th, at 4 p.m., when their oldest daughter, Mable Mildred, became the bride of Russell Norman Mosher, of West Dublin. Rev. Prof. N. Willison, of Waterloo College, Ont., who has been spending the summer in Nova Scotia, officiated at the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked the picture of girlish loveliness in her gown of ivory satin and georgette, wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas and wood ferns. Miss Mae Sarty, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, was prettily gowned in mauve organza and carried a bouquet of golden rod and wood ferns. The marriage took place under an arch of maple leaves and evergreen. After the signing of the register the wedding supper was served to the immediate relatives of both contracting parties. Gifts of silver, glass, linen and money, attested to the loving esteem in which the bride was held. The groom's gift to the bride was a winter set of red fox furs and to the maid of honor an emerald and pearl pendant. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue tricot with dark brown hat. They took the train for Bridgewater and other points of interest and will spend two weeks before returning to their home in West Dublin.

TAIT-BENT

A pretty wedding took place in the Methodist Church, Tupperville, on Monday, September 5th, when Mr. John Tait, of Halifax, was united in marriage to Miss Ruperta, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Bent, of Tupperville. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. McNinch, of Clementsport, an uncle of the bride. The latter was prettily dressed in white silk, wore a bridal veil and carried a bouquet of Chrisanthemums. She was attended by Miss Cook, of Halifax, while the duties of best man were performed by Mr. Laurie McNinch, of Moncton, N.B., a cousin of the bride. After the knot had been tied the happy couple boarded the east-bound express en route to Cape Breton and other parts of the province.

A few nights previous to the wedding a miscellaneous shower was given the bride by a number of her friends. The church was also especially decorated for the occasion with potted plants, cut flowers, etc. The wedding gifts were numerous, many of them being very valuable. Both the groom and the bride have a host of friends who will join in extending congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

LEWIS-GRANT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Grant, Port Lorne, was the scene of a unique wedding on Thursday, September 8th, at 5 p.m., when their daughter, Alta Fuller, was united in marriage to C. L. Lewis, veteran in marriage. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. D. W. Dixon, the rings being used. To the strains of Loehengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Grant, the bride's mother, the bride party entered the lawn and took their places in front of an arch of maple leaves and golden rod. The bride was very becomingly dressed in a suit of navy blue serge with hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations the invited guests proceeded to the house, where a delicious wedding supper was served. Many gifts consisting of china and money, expressing the esteem of hosts of friends of the young couple.

FOSTER-THORPE

On Wednesday evening, August 24th, the home of Mrs. E. W. Fox, Wolfville, was the scene of a quiet wedding, when her niece, Violet Genevieve Thorpe, was united in marriage to Malcolm Cecil Foster, Ph. D., of Torbrook, Annapolis Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Douglas Hemmeon, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends. The bride looked most charming gowned in white duchess satin, with the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Ethel Miller, who was dressed in pale blue crepe de chene with bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Glen Thorpe, twin brother of the bride. The wedding march was excellently rendered by Mrs. Harold Bowby. The happy couple left by motor en route for Kegedunkoogee for a short honeymoon, after which they will reside at New Haven, Conn. where the groom has accepted a position on the staff of Yale University. Mrs. Foster was a popular teacher at Kentville Academy.

LONGLEY-DIXON
On Wednesday afternoon, September 7th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Paradise, Mr. Wm. Norman Longley, of West Paradise, was united in marriage to Mrs. Annie Logan Dixon, of Chicago, and formerly of Point Bute, N. B. A most impressive ceremony, performed by Rev. W. R. Robinson, assisted by Rev. W. Steadman Smith, was witnessed by the immediate relatives. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, was attractively gowned in grey satin. The groom is one of the highly respected and prosperous farmers of Paradise. Immediately after the wedding luncheon the happy couple left for a short motor trip before returning to their home in West Paradise.

WHAT ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN TRAVELLERS IN CANADA SAYS

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Heretofore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the slush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my legs and of course like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained rather boisterously. The good little wife says: 'I will rub them with some liniment I have.' 'Go ahead,' I said, just to humor her. 'Well, in she comes with a bottle of Minard's Liniment and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after, and you can tell the world I said so.' (Sgt. FRANK E. JOHNS, Montreal.)

ENTERPRISE BLAZER PIPELESS FURNACE

ONE TON IN THREE IS WHAT YOU CAN SAVE WITH A PIPELESS FURNACE—and it burns any old kind of fuel—hard or soft coal, wood or coke.

With Pipeless Heating the entire system is in the cellar but all the heat is in the house. Not a degree is wasted or absorbed by cellar pipes, none is thrown off around the furnace, and your cellar is always cool—just right for storing fruits and vegetables.

You can change to Pipeless Heating in a single day—there is nothing at all to the installation. If we start today, we'll be through tomorrow and your heating troubles will be ended. No matter what next winter has in store, you'll be warm and comfortable.

We have not the space to say all we'd like to in this advertisement, but if you'll call in, we'll turn the furnace inside out for you.

MRS. PAUL EDDY TO ENTER MEET

New Star to be Added to Entry List of Women's Events for the Tennis Tournament

(Formerly Miss Ethel Kenney, a Bridgetown girl, a sister of Mrs. F. R. Fay and Mrs. H. B. Hicks.)

Announcement by the tournament committee of the Fargo Tennis Club last evening says that a new star will be in the entry list of the women's events. Mrs. Paul Eddy, who has been in Canada for some time, is to play in the ladies' singles and will probably pair with Mrs. C. E. Nugent in the doubles event. She will play with Melville Hodge in the mixed doubles. Local tennis players who have seen Mrs. Eddy perform at the net declare she is one of the fastest women players in the Northwest and she is rated as one of the favorites in the women's singles event.

The three loving cups offered to the winners in the ladies' singles and doubles are on display at the Hagen-Newton store. Entries for the event are growing. It is said. Mrs. Bemis, the Minot net star, had not yet definitely decided to come but tournament officials are expecting her. Miss Marion Gray of Grand Forks, and Miss Florence Douglas, Gilby, holders of the ladies' doubles title of the state, are among the out-of-town entries. Miss Doris Lovell and Miss Nell Shotwell, two players who have entered tournament play for several years are expected to come out of retirement.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin Watery Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different nerves are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DO YOU WANT YOUR JOB?

There's many a man can do your job. As good—or better—than you; There's many a man to take your place. And be glad of the offer too!

If you want your job, get on with your job.

If not, it's up to you. To quit it now and so make room.

Get on with your job or get out of your job.

Which are you going to do? We can't waste time on slackers now.

So choose—it's up to you.

It's up to you to make of your job. The best success you can; If you can't do that it's up to you. To give it to those who can!

For there's many a man to fit your job.

And be proud to have it too; If you want your job get on with your job.

It's the sporting thing to do.

WILD DUCK FOODS

(Experimental Farms Note)

The majority of the plants which are important as sources of food for Wild Ducks are, as might be expected, those which occur either in water or in marshes. A few land plants, however, find a place on the list of which the principal is Barnyard Grass (Echinochloa crus-galli). This is an annual species, introduced from Europe, which grows well on waste ground and on the margins of lakes. It is the seed of this plant which is eaten.

Of importance also are the Smart-weeds (Polygonum) most of which occur on wet soil and have a wide distribution in Canada.

Of the plants which grow typically in marshes, or swamps two produce edible tubers. The Chufa or Nut-grass (Cyperus esculentus) extends from New Brunswick to the Great Lakes, while the Wapato (Sagittaria latifolia) extends across the whole of Canada.

Other important swamp plants are the Bur Reed (Sparganium eurycarpum), Bulrush (Scirpus validus), Meadow Grass (Panicularia nervata) and Cord Grass (Spartina Michauxiana). The first three occur all over Canada while the last extends from Nova Scotia to Saskatchewan. These and various other species are all important food-plants of Wild Ducks.

Occupying a foremost place among water plants, Wild Rice (Zizania aquatica) occurs from New Brunswick to Lake Winnipeg. A full description is given of it in Bulletin 42 Second Series of the Experimental Farms Branch.

Water Celery (Vallisneria spiralis) extends from Nova Scotia to the Great Lakes. No less important as Duck foods are the various species of Potweed (Potamogeton) most of which have a wide distribution.

Two species of the Waterlily Family namely, Water Shield (Brasenia Schreberi) which extends from Nova Scotia to Manitoba, and the Yellow Waterlily (Nuphar advena) which extends west to the Rocky Mountains are worthy of mention. The seeds only of the second species are of importance.

The Pickerel Weed (Pontederia cordata) is native in Eastern Canada only.

I used them for indigestion and teething and my baby is cutting his teeth without any trouble whatever. I can highly recommend the Tablets to other mothers." What Mrs. Beesley says thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regular the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DEATH OF CAPT. ELROY PECK

This Well Known Master Mariner Made Many Successful Trips During the Big War

Bear River, N.S. Sept. 6—On Wednesday, the 31st ult., after an illness of some months, there passed away at Bear River, N.S., Captain Elroy Peck at the age of forty years.

Captain Peck was the son of Joseph and Sarah Peck, of Greenland, N.S. Leaving home at an early age he chose the sea as his vocation and spent some five years in local vessels after which he entered the employ of the Red Cross Line, where his marked ability soon secured promotion. About ten years ago he became first officer on a steamer of the W. R. Grace Company of New York. He advanced rapidly and the year before the war was given command of one of their larger boats and during the first years of the conflict made several trips to Europe, carrying munitions for the Allies. It was during one of these trips that his steamer successfully engaged a submarine, sinking her with gun fire.

At the time of the Halifax explosion his steamer, the Curaca, partially loaded with munitions was lying in Halifax Harbor awaiting a consignment of horses for France. In the explosion, the Curaca was sunk and the entire crew of sixty men lost their lives. Captain Peck with his wife, was on board until the day before, when he was called to Deep Brook on account of the death of his mother, otherwise no doubt both he and his devoted wife would have met the same fate, as the officers and crew. The strain of voyages made in those strenuous times followed by the shock and anxiety attending the loss of his officers and crew and subsequent raising of the ship, no doubt was responsible for the break in his otherwise splendid health.

His next command was the Surico of the Transmarine Boat Incorporation in which he made several voyages to the Continent. In March last he came home much broken in health and it was soon seen that recovery was impossible.

He was a highly respected member of the Keith Lodge A.F. and A.M. and Friendship Lodge I.O.O.F. He leaves to mourn their loss a loving and devoted wife, Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. York of Bear River, two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Curtis of Deep Brook, Miss Beatrice of Boston, as well as two brothers, John, of Hudson, Mass., and Ernest of Marlboro, Mass.

The funeral was attended by Rev. Mr. Mack, of the Methodist Church, both Lodges of which he was a member attending in regalia. The services at the grave were under the direction of the Masons, whose burial ceremony was most impressive.

HEROIC FRANCE ONCE MORE

No more we wear a troubled brow. What time, in fashion columns we read, That blouses still are coming down. And skirts as rap,diy receding. No more we view, with furrowed brow, Clarissa, Mabel, Bess and Gwendy. And wonder, in a year from now, What raiment they will wear, if any!

It looked to us, for quite awhile, As if an act of legislature, Would be required to keep the style. From getting too blamed close to nature. "We know," we said, "the modest claim. That modern modes are chic and clever, Though rather brief; but just the same. This thing cannot go on forever!"

But as with low, embarrassed cries, We voice our avowed agitation, The Paris mannikins arise. To meet and save the situation. Like France's army, they have turned. Their snapping eyes give notice, mutely, That style, as far as they're concerned, Has gone the limit, absolutely.

Paquin and Worth may rage and roar. But neither noise nor bluff will scare 'em; If frocks are shortened any more. These models simply will not wear 'em. The brave, heroic little band. The rule of reason has asserted. And by their firm and gallant stand. A hideous crisis is averted.

EDIBLE AND POISONOUS FUNGI

(Experimental Farms Note)

There is a widespread lack of knowledge among the general public concerning edibility of so many of the common mushrooms growing, except in the very dry weather, in the fields, woods or in our gardens and lawns.

The common idea of fungi is that the one grown commercially, and which is also found in fields and pastures, is a mushroom, and all others are "toadstools" and therefore poisonous. The terms "toadstool" and "mushroom" are synonymous, and mushrooms are classified either as "edible" or as "poisonous". Fortunately among the hundreds of varieties of mushrooms there are not more than four or five poisonous varieties, but as some of the latter resemble somewhat an edible variety, there is danger in mistaking one for the other. All the so-called "tests" whereby one may ascertain whether a mushroom is edible or not, are absolutely worthless, and may be classed as old wives' fables. The only way to know the properties of fungi is by asking someone who is familiar with them, or by studying them one by one as one would take up the study of birds for instance. Unfortunately, popular works on fungi are not common, but several reliable works are available to the student who wishes to acquaint himself with the subject, as for instance:-

- "One Thousand American Fungi"-McIlvaine-Behbs, Merrill Co.
"Mushrooms, Edible and Otherwise"-Hard-Ohio Library Co.
"Mushrooms"-Atkinson-Heury Holt and Co.
"The Agaricaceae of Michigan"-C. H. Kaufmann-Wynkoop, Hallenbeck, Crawford, Co.

Practically no mushrooms are to be found during very dry weather, but two of the deadly varieties are likely to be met with after rains.-The Fly Amanita (Amanita muscaria) and the Death Cap (Amanita phalloides). The first of these is a very conspicuous mushroom, not resembling any other variety in the whole range of mushrooms. The cap is large, from 4-6 inches, rounded at first, then nearly plane, surface when fresh, slightly viscid. Its colour is subject to great variations, ranging from orange-red to yellow or almost white, the yellow colour being more common. The margin of cap in mature plants is marked with radiating lines or markings. The surface is covered with thick, angular persistent scales, usually white. These scales are often yellowish and easily removed; flesh white. The gills are free, but reaching the stem. Colour white, rarely becoming yellow. Stem, 4-8 inches long, shining white or pale yellowish, becoming hollow, enlarged at the base into a conspicuous bulb, marked by prominent, concentric, irregular rings. There is a ring or collar on the stem, very soft, large, white. The Fly Amanita is easily identified on account of its scaly cap, brilliantly coloured, large ring, and bulbous, ringed base. It occurs along roadsides, wood margins and open woods, generally from June till frost.

The other deadly plant, Amanita phalloides or Death Cap, is 3-4 inches broad, commonly shining white or yellowish, but may be grey or brown, olive or amber. It is viscid when moist, smooth, oval, and finally extended; the margin is even, not marked, flesh white, not objectionable to taste, gills free from the stem, largest at the middle, white. The stem is 3-5 inches long, generally hollow, white. The base of the stem is inserted in a semi-free, white, cup-shaped covering called a volva. It is of common occurrence from July to October in wood, groves and along borders of woods. It resembles somewhat the common field mushroom, but a slight examination will disclose in the field mushroom the dark colored gills and the absence of the cup at the base of the stem. A phalloides is the most dangerous of all fungi, and is responsible for most of the deaths caused by which the effects of the poison may be counteracted. A safe rule is to avoid eating all mushrooms. Ten to fifteen hours may elapse before symptoms of poisoning may appear. No antidote has been found by which the affected mushrooms having white gills, a ring on the stem and a volva at the base of stem, combined in the same plant.

THE MERITS OF PROPRIETARY MEDICINES

(By Fred C. Arner, Pres The Arner Company, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.)

The enemies of packaged or proprietary remedies have always contended that they were at least useless if not positively harmful. We all know they are extensively used, with great success, in the self-treatment of minor complaints, but I wonder if it has ever occurred to you that they are generally not used in the treatment of serious ailments until after one or more physicians have failed to cure or relieve, and often after given up by the physician as incurable.

Before entering the wholesale manufacturing field the writer had many years of retail drug experience, during which time he sold over the counter most of the leading proprietary medicines. In the majority of cases the purchaser had a story to relate to the effect that he or she had been treating with a physician or physicians, with the only result that partial or no relief had been obtained, but a large doctor's bill to pay, and that now they were going to try a proprietary which had relieved or cured and was recommended by someone they knew who had been similarly afflicted. Following the purchase of the first package, they later returned for another, if needed, expressing satisfaction with the benefits obtained.

We all know that if advertising produces only the one original sale, the life of that proprietary on the market would be short and unprofitable. The profit is realized only on the repeat sales, and repeats follow only if satisfactory results are obtained from the first purchase. It is certainly creditable to the efficacy of proprietaries in general, and particularly to those which have been a long time on the market, that they do produce satisfactory results almost from the very first dose. The user seems always to expect it. The same can not usually be said of medicines prescribed by physicians. If we stuck to the proprietary with the same faith and persistence, giving them the same fair trial we give doctor's medicines, I venture to say there would seldom, if ever, be any failures to record. Many physicians condemn proprietaries yet prescribe them very largely and successfully in their practice unknown to the patient and take credit to themselves for the relief and cures effected by them.

During the past twenty years of manufacturing special or private formulas exclusively for proprietary firms, among them the largest, best known, and most successful ever marketed, I am in a position better able than most anyone to observe that without exception every proprietary which has been on the market for any length of time, is as meritorious as could be devised for the purposes recommended. Their success as proprietaries has caused some unscrupulous pharmaceutical manufacturers having knowledge of the formula, to market these proprietaries as ethical preparations sold to and extensively prescribed by physicians. And on the other hand there are now marketed as proprietaries many preparations which had their introduction through physicians prescribing them so successfully and repeatedly that the public eventually demanded them in retail packaged form. The same physicians who formerly prescribed these same preparations promptly repudiated them, criticizing their merits and use, when they became obtainable in packaged form at a nominal price and without the doctor's prescription and fee.

Of the many thousand formulas entrusted to us by the proprietors to be manufactured for them not one has lacked merit and every proprietor has been genuinely interested in the quality and efficacy of his preparation. Never in the many years of our experience in the manufacture of proprietary medicines have we been asked by a proprietary firm to manufacture a formula containing opiates or narcotics. This should satisfy anyone of the conscientious effort of the proprietary companies to not only comply with the law but to safeguard the public from habit-forming drugs.

Proprietaries have been very unjustly charged with responsibility for drug addiction. While years ago there were marketed by some concerns, preparations containing narcotics, they have long since gone out of business and that reputation which once stigmatized all preparations sold as proprietary simply because they were packaged and trade-marked and classed indiscriminately as "patent medicines", no longer applies. During the last fifteen or twenty years the standards of all lines of business have advanced and in this the proprietary business has kept fully abreast of the times, even advancing farther than most others. In the face of continuous adverse legislation the business has prospered, convincing evidence, if any needed, that it is clean, sound and stable as any other. Proprietary or packaged medicines

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. supply a real need. They are conservatively recommended and as they are scientifically compounded by skilled pharmacists specializing in that line of manufacture rather than extemporaneously prepared according to a physician's prescription, or thrown together by the physician himself who knows little or nothing of pharmacy, chemistry and incompatibilities, the proprietary or packaged medicine of to-day may be safely relied upon. Remembering that your preparations have been called upon, with success, to relieve and cure when physicians have failed, proprietors should be proud of the standing their business has attained, and in this case should overlook the prestige gained through membership in the Proprietary Association, whose executives have been untiring in their efforts to elevate the proprietary business to the high plane it deserves. $150,000 LOSS IN ATLANTIC CITY Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 7.-Fire causing a loss estimated at about $150,000 destroyed the "Fun House," of the Rendezvous Park, injured seven men and threatened the entire so-called Bowery section of the city early this morning. Thousands of visitors and residents hurried from their homes and hotels in the belief that the central section of Atlantic City was in flames. New York City has now 56,539 draft horses as compared with 128,224 in 1910.

LOCAL DEATH ROLL

DOROTHY EVANGELINE DODGE

We regret to chronicle the death of Dorothy Evangeline Dodge, aged eight years and nine months, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kenneth Dodge, of Bridgetown. This bright little girl, who was a general favorite with all who knew her, was taken ill a week ago with appendicitis. She was conveyed to the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, was operated on, but passed peacefully away Friday morning at 8 o'clock. She was accompanied to Halifax by her mother and when news reached here Wednesday night that her strength was failing, her father immediately employed Murray Darling to motor him to Kentville to connect with the early train for Halifax, arriving at the hospital Thursday noon. The remains were brought here via Saturday's express, the funeral, which was said to be the largest attended child's funeral ever seen in Bridgetown, took place from St. James' Episcopal Church at five o'clock Sunday afternoon with interment in the Riverside cemetery, the sermon being conducted by the Rector, Rev. E. Underwood. Members of the Sunday School attended in a body. The pall bearers were: Porter Lowe, Melbourne Lane, Ronald Longmire and Cecil Gillis. The floral tributes were beautiful showing the high esteem in which the little one was held by her companions. The MONITOR extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

CARMAN SANFORD

Carman Sanford died at his home in Clarence at an early hour Saturday morning, aged 41 years. He is survived by a widow, one son Moody, a teacher at North Williamston, and four daughters, Lena, Theresa, Margaret and Madeline, at home. He also leaves four brothers and three sisters, Mrs. John Garber, North Williamston; Mrs. Edward Corkum, Newburn, Lunenburg Co., and one residing in the United States. The deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and his death will be keenly felt by his relatives and large circle of friends. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from his late home Sunday afternoon, with interment in Fairview cemetery, the service being conducted by Rev. H. T. Jones, pastor of the Lawrence-town Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. W. S. Smith, pastor of the Paradise Baptist Church. The pall bearers were Charles G. Foster, Albert Banks, T. C. Minard and C. C. Bartheaux.

MRS. A. SOULIS

At Winnipeg, September 8th, occurred the death of Iona, beloved wife of A. E. Soulis, of that city. Mrs. Soulis was the youngest daughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. William H. Soulis, of Smith's Cove, Digby County. Besides the sorrowing husband there are left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother, three sons and one daughter, William, of Medicine Hat; LeRoy and Miss Nellie, of Winnipeg, and P. O. Soulis, of Halifax. Mr. and Mrs. Soulis resided for several years in Bridgetown and her friends here will learn of her death with much regret.
