HOPE FOR ANGLO-FRENCH DEBT SOLUTION

CHURCHILL AND GAILLAUX MEET, DISCUSS TERMS

Compromise Expected In Amount of Annual Payment $623,000,000 DUE

French Offer Likely To Be About $10,000,000 Annually, U. S. Angle

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The French Finance Minister, M. Caillaux, and the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Winston Churchill, today began discussion of terms of settlement of France's debt to England, amounting to $23,000,000,000.

Today's conversations between the two ministers, were expected to review the ground covered by similar talks during the London conference of last month, which broke up when it seemed impossible to reach an agreement, as to the amount of France's annual payments.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED

It was understood at that time that there was wide divergence between the British desires and the French offers. The British were reported to have asked the payment of about $21,000,000 annually, while the French said they were only able to offer less than half this amount.

In official circles, it is believed that the visit here by M. Caillaux and her personal discussions over the table with Mr. Churchill, will bring these figures closer to gether, and quite probably effect a definite and workable agreement.

FRANCE'S OFFER

Recent statements in the French press, have created the opinion here that France is not prepared to consider the payment of anything like $20,000,000 yearly, which Great Britain mentioned as being an acceptable sum, when the French financial experts were here recently, and the expectation is that M. Caillaux's offer will not exceed $10,000,000 annually, although it is suggested that this sum might be increased if France were able to make an advantageous arrangement with the United States respecting her debt to that country.

U. S. OBLIGATION

The question of an agreement between France and the United States, enters largely into the press discussions of the debt question, and developments in this respect are being eagerly watched.

In today's comment by the London newspapers considerable stress is laid on Great Britain's having cancelled more than 50 per cent. of her allied debts, requiring only enough to enable her to cover her own indebtedness to the United States.

There were no marks of violence on the body, death apparently being due to natural causes. Solid Silver Cup to Ocean Eagle Commander for Bravery in Rescue

The bravery of Capt. A. L. Greenlaw, commander of the tug Ocean Eagle of the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding fleet, in risking his life morning to rescue six members of the crew of the steam trawler, Mikado, was to be officially recognized this afternoon at City Hall when it was arranged that he would be made recipient of a handsome silver cup, the memento of the Board of Trade of London, England.

Lieut. Governor Todd arrived in the city at noon, accompanied by his secretary, R. S. Barker of Fredericton, to officiate at the presentation. The cup is of solid sterling silver and is set in a handsome cabinet and bears the following inscription: Presented by the British Government to Captain Alonzo Lord Greenlaw, master of the tug Ocean Eagle, for his gallant and heroic conduct in rescuing the crew of the steam trawler Mikado, of Brimsby, which was wrecked on the coast of Nova Scotia on the 26th day of May, 1924.

When Capt. Greenlaw reached the spot he was unable to bring his ship near the wreck but, with two members of the crew, launched a life boat in which they drifted down to the wreckage and were able to float a line down to the trawler and by this means hauled the survivors of the crew into the life boat and then transferred them to the tug. Eight of the 15 members of the crew died from exposure before Capt. Greenlaw reached the site and one died just as he was being hoisted onto the deck of the Ocean Eagle.

PREMIER KING REFUSES TO BE FORCED INTO ELECTION

Doesn't Propose Contest to Please Opposition Leader; Another Session Rests With Government for Decision

The responsibility of carrying on the country's affairs has been given by the people. We have exercised it, notwithstanding all the difficult circumstances with which we have been confronted...

STILL HAS MAJORITY OF ONE. The statement deals in some detail with the political situation. While not making any specific declaration whether it is or is not the intention of the government to call another session of Parliament before advising dissolution...

REPLIES TO MEIGHEN. He remarks that Mr. Meighen did not hesitate, when Sir Robert Borden resigned in July, 1920, to form a Conservative administration and hold office for a year and a half without any authorization on the part of the people...

MUCH WORK HELD UP. "The recent session of Parliament was a long and very arduous one. It was followed by the West Indies conference, and we were well on into the middle of July before there was opportunity to give consideration to numerous matters arising out of the work of the session, and which we held over for consideration at the present time...

SEES ATTITUDE CHANGED. "Mr. Meighen is saying we will have a general election this fall. He was very careful to make it clear that Parliament any motion to call an election, or any formal expression of want of confidence in the administration, is the confidence in the results of the election of the provincial legislatures in Saskatchewan and the new redistribution, Saskatchewan would send the third largest delegation to the House of Commons to be followed also by larger delegations than at present from Alberta and Manitoba...

MARITIME RESULTS. "The changes of Government in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is alone responsible for Mr. Meighen's change of attitude and outlook, and not any change in the policies under which, or the manner in which Federal affairs are being administered. The leader of the Opposition fails to reflect that these provincial elections were fought out on purely local issues, and have no significance federally beyond the fact that our past political history has shown that where the public comes to believe that one party is about to have a lease of power in the Federal arena, it is inclined to balance matters politically by giving its support for the time being to not a few of the provinces to the other party...

OLD DAYS RECALLED. "This was the case in the days when the Conservatives under Sir John A. Macdonald were in power at Ottawa, and most of the provinces became Liberal; also after Sir Wilfrid Laurier...

MEIGHEN RECORD HIT. "Should I be alive after a Liberal administration has been continuously in office at Ottawa for 43 years, as was the case with the Liberal administration in Nova Scotia, I shall undertake to do my part to see that Mr. Meighen or his successor in the leadership of the Opposition is given a chance, by way of change, to form a Conservative administration. I believe the public will be with me. I do not believe, however, that the record of Mr. Meighen's brief administration is as yet sufficiently forgotten to cause the public to wish to see so many errors repeated, for a while at least...

UP TO GOVERNMENT. "Whether or not the present government will call another session of Parliament is for the government to decide. We do not propose to be stamped into any dissolution of Parliament just to please the leader of the Opposition, or his press. "The responsibility of carrying on the country's affairs has been given by the people; we have exercised it, notwithstanding all the difficulties with which we have been confronted, in a manner which, we believe, has won us steadily increasing measure of public confidence. "Under the circumstances that we are now faced with, it becomes Mr. Meighen to attempt to dictate the time of dissolution. "To tell appeal reasons. "Under the circumstances the responsibility of advising a dissolution would appear to be quite as great as he was so roundly defeated, not having carried a single seat in six provinces out of the nine, and that it was this identical program he put forward anew in the form of a manifesto when Parliament assembled at the last session, and which when presented in the House of Commons on June 2 as an amendment to go in the supply was voted down on a division of 147 to 82, the largest majority recorded against any motion declaratory of party policy in many years, if not in the history of the Parliament of Canada.

FORCES JOIN TOGETHER. "It was noticeable that on that parallel and independent members, including the only lady member, joined together to declare their opposition to the platform that Mr. Meighen now offers to the country in the name of his party. In these circumstances, what can there be in anything Mr. Meighen has to offer the country which would justify the bringing on of a general election at this time, to say nothing of a possible change of Government?

RETAINS MAJORITY OF ONE. "There have been four sessions of the present Parliament. The leader of the Opposition prophesied that it would not survive a single session. It began with a majority of one before the Speaker was appointed. It has today at the end of four sessions, after some 41 by-elections, a majority of one, without counting the Speaker. This surely does not look like any lack of confidence on the part of the electorate such as would necessitate a general election before another session.

LEGAL RIGHT TO CONTINUE. "Having regard to the provisions of the constitution of the present ministry—so long as it is supported by the House of Commons—the legal right to continue in office until January, 1927, this being five years from the date at which the last of the writs of the election of 1921 were returned. I see no reason to believe such support as we have all along been able to command in Parliament will not continue to be accorded at another session.

UP TO GOVERNMENT. "Whether or not the present government will call another session of Parliament is for the government to decide. We do not propose to be stamped into any dissolution of Parliament just to please the leader of the Opposition, or his press. "The responsibility of carrying on the country's affairs has been given by the people; we have exercised it, notwithstanding all the difficulties with which we have been confronted, in a manner which, we believe, has won us steadily increasing measure of public confidence. "Under the circumstances that we are now faced with, it becomes Mr. Meighen to attempt to dictate the time of dissolution. "To tell appeal reasons. "Under the circumstances the responsibility of advising a dissolution would appear to be quite as great as that of continuing to carry on, despite the difficulties of government which we necessarily experience. When we have reason to believe that there are national considerations so imperative as to necessitate an appeal to the electorate, I shall not hesitate to acquiesce in the Government-General with our views and to press for a dissolution of Parliament. When that time comes, I shall be equally prepared to state the reasons to the public."

Strong Soaps

No soap that is safe for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive

If guarding a good complexion is your aim, use a soap made to protect it

THIS is to protect beauty seekers from some false impressions. Good complexions are too precious for experiments. There's an idea, we are told, that some soaps combat germs; and others not. That for aseptic reasons certain soaps must be used.

Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only on advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. No soap suitable for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive.

In your own interest, carry that in mind. For beauty's sake, take care. Would you gamble with the good complexion it has taken you probably years to attain? In old days, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps were too harsh. Then Palmolive came... a soap made of cosmetic oils... a soap made to protect the skin.

Women tried it, and found amazingly improved complexions and charm. Palmolive became quickly the leading toilet soap of the world. In France, home of cosmetics, Palmolive is one of the two largest selling soaps. French women have found it their ideal of a soap.

That is because Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is made solely for the skin. Palmolive is not intended for laundry use or even for fine fabrics. For to be good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And millions of good complexions be thus endangered. As a "germ remover" no other soap suitable for toilet use is more effective.

But Palmolive results don't come from those other soaps. They don't come from strong soaps. They don't come from medicated soaps. Don't expect them. And don't take chances. To protect your beauty, use a soap made to protect it.

Palmolive, we frankly grant, is not the only fine complexion soap. We know of two others. But they cost you 25 cents, while Palmolive costs but 10 cents—no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

Wash, launder, clean up with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That School-girl Complexion."

No "Two-Purpose" Soap Will Bring Palmolive Complexion Results Palmolive Soap is made for ONE purpose ONLY—to guard your complexion and charm. It is not intended for laundry use, or even for fine fabrics. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be thus injured. Don't expect Palmolive results from common soaps. Don't expect them from "jack-of-all-trades" soaps claiming to be good for scores of different uses. Palmolive is a secret blend of rare cosmetic oils, a scientifically made soap to be used freely and safely on the skin—millions of clear, pretty skins prove Palmolive results. (MADE IN CANADA)

THE PREMIER SPEAKS

Premier King, in an interview given to the press, says that the Government does not propose to be stampeded into a dissolution of Parliament to please the Conservatives. He says the Government still has a majority, and only national considerations such as would make an appeal to the people imperative would prompt him to bring on the general elections.

Advising Dorcas

(Questions and Answers in Toronto Star.) Dorcas: Your recent experience has made you too pessimistic. The fact that some person in your last employer's office had a habit of engaging you in conversation, pretending to be friendly towards you, and then treacherously reporting to your employer that you "talked too much," does not justify you—although the act of duplicity led to your dismissal—in thinking that there is a Judas in every office.

Girl, 17, Guilty of Slaughter in Matricide

San Francisco, Aug. 23—Dorothy Ellingson, 17, confessed matricide, was found guilty of manslaughter by a superior court jury last night.

The young defendant took the verdict calmly. Manslaughter carries a penalty of from one to ten years, eligible for parole after one year.

REAR COMMODORE J. FRASER GREGORY had charge of the fleet and those attending the service included Commodore F. M. McKelvey, Vice-Commodore G. D. Sweeney and Honorary Commodore J. C. Chesley and Dr. H. J. Barton.

Mr. Patstone took for his text "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." He said that Jesus had kept a little boat at his disposal and it had been to Him a place of rest and on more than one occasion Christ had used a boat for a pulpit.

Montreal, Aug. 24—In a fall from the third story window at the home, Arthur Abbey, two years of age, of 30 Eleanor street, suffered a fractured skull which brought about his death at the Royal Victoria Hospital an hour later.

The police were told that the boy's mother was in the kitchen while the boy was playing in one of the front rooms of the house. He climbed on a chair and pressed his hand on the shutters, which were not tightly closed, lost his balance and pitched out of the window into the street. He was picked up by witnesses, carried into the house and a doctor was summoned. The latter found that the boy had suffered a fractured base of the skull, and ordered his removal to the hospital.

Saint John Scouts Reach Province Capital on Hike

THE four Rover Scouts, who set out from Saint John Tuesday morning carrying their packs with camping outfit and cooking kit, arrived in Fredericton at noon Saturday having walked every step of the way, despite many inviting offers of a ride.

The Rover Scouts are working for a "Rambler's" badge and to do that they must take a hike of 100 miles carrying their equipment. The hike to Fredericton is just 15 miles short of the required distance, but that extra distance will be tramped off around Fredericton which the rovers will make their headquarters until they start for home on Wednesday. They are camping on the tourist grounds there and report that in the capital as well as along the route they have encountered nothing but the greatest kindness of hospitality.

SLEPT IN OPEN.—The four Rovers, members of the Saint John Headquarters Rover Scout troop, are Clarence

G. Hoyt, mate; L. L. Johnson, second mate; John J. Legate and William Edwards. They carried with them pop tents but did not have to erect them during the hike as they slept in the open. Two thunderstorms that did not last too long were the only drawbacks to the trip and on the whole the four reported ideal hiking weather.

The first day they walked 16 miles and slept that evening at Belyea's Point. They covered an equal distance the following day and slept that night at 2 miles. On Thursday they put 17 miles behind them and arrived at Gagetown to spend the night.

THEIR BEST DAY.—Friday was their best day as they covered 22 1/2 miles and reached Oromocto. On Saturday morning there were just 12 miles to go to get to Fredericton and the Rovers made it by noon.

Since they had to carry cooking utensils as well as blankets and sleeping gear their packs averaged about 25 pounds.

RETAILERS PUT FAITH IN TRADE SECTIONS TO PROMOTE INTERESTS

Urge Development of Particular Divisions Within Association—Hold Individually Operated Stores Best For Both Dealers and Public

N. B. DOUGLAS, recently appointed secretary and general manager of The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, who had been acting in this capacity since April, has returned from the annual executive convention of the council and Dominion board of the association and reports that from statements made by the delegates who were in attendance, it was one of the best conventions in the history of the organization.

The convention opened on Monday morning, July 27, when the secretaries of all the provincial boards in Canada, with the exception of the provinces of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, were present.

FAVOR TRADE SECTIONS.

The succeeding days of the convention, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, were taken up with the discussion of the various reports which were presented, the resolutions which came before the attendees, and the development of future policy of the association, which was outlined in a program submitted by Mr. Crowder.

INDIVIDUAL OWNERSHIP.

A great deal of discussion followed with reference to the service which the retailer could give to the community, and it was generally felt that as long as there were consumers there would be a necessity for retail stores to distribute the goods which were required.

OPPOSE EXCISE TAX.

Resolutions were passed protesting against the excise stamps on checks and receipts; a request was made that judgments should be transferred inter-provincially. The question of a preservative in meat was left to the representative committee to take up with the provincial buyers' trade sections.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Protest was also made against the method of collecting cartage by certain firms for delivering their goods from their warehouse to the place of shipment. It was also decided that the cost of inspecting weights and measures which amounts to approximately $300,000 as a protection for the purchasing public, should not be paid out of the general revenue of the country.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At the close of the convention the election of officers took place for the following year, when J. T. Crowder, of Vancouver, was elected president,

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—While Patrolman Harry Moore, riddled by bullets from the pistols of three negro bandits, lay between life and death, police pushed their hunt for the lone member of the trio they have failed to capture thus far.

Patrolman Moore was shot down by two of the gunmen at the foot of a house at 441 West Thirty-third street, Patrolman Michael O'Rourke of the 110th street station, stepped into his companion's place as Moore fell through a hatchway, and fired at the dark form moving across the roof.

CHASE FOLLOWED HOLDUP.

The pursuit of the negroes began soon after they had held up a drug store at Forty-first street and Ninth avenue. Patrolman Frank O'Brian of the traffic squad, called on them to halt when he saw them running for their automobile, and they laughed at him and drove off.

7 EGYPTIANS DIE FOR MURDER

Executed for Slaying of British Sirdar, General Sir Lee Stack

One Confesses Murdering 35 Englishmen Before He is Hanged.

CAIRO, Aug. 24.—Seven men were taken from their cells and executed at intervals of 40 minutes Sunday. Their crime was the murder of Sir Lee Stack, Governor-General of the Sudan and Sirdar of the Egyptian army. Stack was shot down several months ago as he sat in his automobile.

Premier Zaghloul Pasha resigned, and Egypt paid heavy indemnity and otherwise atoned as a result of the crime.

More than four hours were required for the execution of the penalty prescribed by the court that heard the trials of the seven Egyptians.

ADMITS 35 MURDERS

Abd Del Hamil Enayat, the first handcuffed murderer, was led from his cell at 7 a. m. to the scaffold situated at the end of a spacious room. Standing shackled, he listened to the reading of the death sentence and then was invited to reply to it in the hearing of the acting Governor of Cairo, police, prison officials and three newspapermen, who were the only spectators.

Enayat heard his doom to the end and then confessed to murdering 35 Englishmen.

CARRIED FROM CELL

The next to march toward the scaffold was Dr. Shafiq Mansour, who had to be carried from his cell because he refused to do anything except fight. Despite his pinions he exerted his strength, finally bursting the leather thongs with which his hands had been bound.

Calm protestations of innocence or cynical contemptuous nonchalance marked the last moments of the remaining five. They were Abraham Mousseau, Aly Ibrahim Mohammedan, Mahmoud Raspid, Mahmoud Ismail, and Raghi Hassan.

DECEPTION PRACTISED

It had been announced that the hangings would occur Monday. Not even the relatives of the condemned men were informed of the deception, which was adopted to forestall the gathering of a crowd.

"HODGE PODGE"

Canadian Press Despatch.
MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—That Canada's opportunities are not confined solely to youth was evidenced here on Saturday when two old ladies, aged 84 and 80 respectively, disembarked from the White Star Dominion Liner, Regina.

Mrs. Mary Hunter, was en route to join her son at Nelson, B. C., while Mrs. H. T. Killingbeck, whose span of years reaches to four score and four, is traveling with her son-in-law to Moose Jaw.

Some difficulty with the Canadian immigration officials developed at Quebec, with regard to Mrs. Hunter's admission to Canada, but after the Regina had been held up for half an hour, the aged lady was permitted to continue her voyage to Montreal, and from there she proceeded to her destination.

A sturdy family of eleven arrived in Canada on Saturday when William Stanley, his wife and nine children landed from the Regina, traveling to this country under the auspices of the Overseas Settlement Board.

The Stanleys will settle in the vicinity of Brantford, Ont.

By the same boat another English family reached the country under the same settlement scheme, F. B. Birch, accompanied by his wife and five children, are proceeding to Porcupine Reserve, Sask.

The Regina also brought 80 persons to Canada traveling under the auspices of the British Dominion Emigration Aid Society. They will proceed to different parts of the country.

AUTO CRASH CASE IS DISMISSED

Point Made on Matter of Time if Drink was Taken

Spirited Session in Magistrate's Court in Fairville in Musquash Collision Case.

A loophole in the evidence which left doubt in the mind of Magistrate Allingham of the Lancaster court, and the non-appearance of the complainant brought the auto collision case of Gerald Walsh vs. Stephen Farmer of Everett, Mass., to a rather abrupt ending this forenoon. The case was dismissed but both the prosecuting officer, Robert Crawford, and Attorney William A. Ross, estimated the matter might be further prosecuted, the latter under a civil suit for damages.

QUESTION OF TIME

The magistrate, in delivering judgment, said he would certainly impose the full penalty on Walsh in view of reputable witnesses' evidence as to his condition when he arrived on the scene of the accident at Musquash a week ago last Sunday were it not that a question of intervening hours arose. The accident occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock and the witnesses against Walsh did not arrive on the scene until about 2:30 or later. In the meantime Walsh had returned to the city for repairs. Upon his return journey in the magistrate's opinion it would have been possible for him to have partaken of intoxicants.

WERE LIVELY.

The proceedings were lively during the two-hour session. Former witnesses told their story over again and were vigorously cross-examined. Ramsey, on Mr. Ross' cross-examination, said Walsh had not had a drink up to the time of the accident. The witnesses, Fenton and Colonel Stewart said that when they saw Walsh in the afternoon he was sober and proceeded to the scene of the accident. He further said Walsh was on the extreme right side of the main highway, Musquash bridge when the American car, coming towards Saint John, suddenly swerved and struck the head of John auto on the side and not a head-on collision.

The address at the service in Fern Hill will be given by Knight Rev. J. J. Finckton, pastor of the Fairville Methodist church, and the scripture reading by Past Chancellor E. E. Thomas.

As Hiram Sees It

"Kin you tell me," said Mr. Hiram Hornsman, "why there's so many otomobel accidents every day?"

"The human desire to take chances," said the reporter. "Do you remember the time when you were a small boy that you climbed the close to the top of the small spruce that it bent over and only for another tree alongside you would have broken your neck?"

"I do," said Hiram. "An' I never tried it agin'."

"I do," said the reporter, "but you pranced over the timbers above the river bridge when a false step or a daisy moment would have broken every bone in your body."

"Well," said Hiram, "I quit that, too."

"But you also went poing about the river on a log in deep water when a per. H. B. Schofield, president of the Board of Commissioners, thanked the visitors for their kindness to the patients.

PUBLIC BARRED IN MURDER CASE

Marguerite Colpitts, Ill, is Taken to General Public Hospital

Hearing Private When Case Resumed—Women in Court in Interest of Girl.

The preliminary hearing of the case in which Marguerite Colpitts is charged with murdering her five weeks' old baby girl by throwing the child into the Reversing Falls was further postponed this morning in the police court owing to the illness of the defendant. The girl, after being remanded, was taken to the General Public Hospital for treatment.

Magistrate Henderson announced this morning that the general public would be excluded from the hearing when the case is brought up later this week. C. Earle Logan appeared for the girl.

A large number of women, including several members of the Women's Council, were in court this morning and showed their interest in the girl. She appeared calm although the details of the strain were marked on her face. Among the women who have interested themselves in the girl's case and were in court this morning were Mrs. E. A. Young and Mrs. A. W. Estey of the Women's Council; Mrs. Hope Thompson, president, and Mrs. I. Hoar and Mrs. Seymour of the W. C. T. U., also several Salvation Army women.

The girl's father, Senevay Colpitts, came here as soon as he heard of the affair from a letter he received from his daughter after her arrest. He is a barber and was working at Seneville, Me., at the time. He arrived on Saturday morning and visited his daughter and then interviewed G. Earle Logan concerning the case. He later went to Westfield and returned to the city yesterday and again visited his daughter. He has returned to Maine but plans to return.

Mr. Colpitts is a veteran of the war and served overseas with the Canadian forces going over with the first contingent in the 10th Battalion. He was greatly broken up when he received news of the daughter's trouble. His wife died a few days after this girl was born.
