Mothers know what is best for babies.
 For 63 years thousands have chosen brought the Poles, Alsace-Lorrainers, and other oppressed nationalities into the open with the truth about the feeling of their constituents towards Germany.

A letter from Hindenburg was read after Herr Erzberger's speech. This must have made it plain to the Reichstag that the German army had shot its bolt and looked to the navy alone for salvation. Hindenburg wrote that "as he hopes that the conclusion of an early peace has had to be abandoned it is necessary to hold on until we bring victory from the enemy. The enemy is held at a distance from the frontiers of stuffs and raw materials in the country for continuing the war until the U boat forces a decision. Our food conditions will not get worse during the coming year. But every peace discussion helps prolong the war."

Herr Erzberger responded by quoting Admiral Capelle, who had said that America as a military power was equivalent to nought, and that the war would be over before she could intervene. He also quoted a letter from Lundenhoff, who said:—"The navy has undertaken that England is to be destroyed before the end of August." After their experiences, he said, they could not put unlimited faith in government utterances.

Finally Herr Hansen depicts Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Chancellor, declaring that "if the enemy wants peace he must come to us."

Speaking in Ottawa last week a Montreal man urged the value of parks and playgrounds in cities. Parks existed for two purposes, health and recreation. He had to use for the keep-off-the-grass variety.

WHEN THE HUNS REALIZED THAT THEY WERE BEATEN

Berlin, April 19—(By Canadian Press)—It was in July, 1917, that the German military machine first admitted they were beaten and could be saved only by the submarine warfare. This is brought clearly out by an article in Die Glocken, on some dairies of Herr H. P. Hansen, former Danish member of the Reichstag. In these are given some new details of events in the Reichstag on the debate on Herr Erzberger's peace resolution of July, 1917. Ruthless submarine warfare had then been in progress for a whole year, and there had been grumbling and dissatisfaction at the non-fulfillment of the promises that six months of it were to bring England to her knees.

Herr Erzberger's speech in the Reichstag on July 6 was regarded as, in many respects, the turning point of the war. The voting of the credits, he said, meant that the war would continue for another year. That would cost 50 milliards (25,000,000,000) and more than 200,000 lives. Could Germany, he asked, bring England down before she herself collapsed? He did not believe it was possible, and Germany must therefore recede. He warned the Kaiser against living in the background out of touch with his people, and cited the aloofness of the Czar from the Russian people as the cause of the Russian revolution.

Herr Hansen says this speech of Erzberger's stripped the veil from Helfferich's juggling with figures, and it education of children, and outdoor gymnasium were of even more value than indoor.

That St. John is to have a new garage will be of much interest to the automobile owners of this city, as the St. John Garage and Supply Company, now located at 90 Duke street, have been forced to seek larger and better quarters to enable them to accommodate their increased business.

This firm has recently purchased the property formerly occupied by the Universal Car Company in Princess street. The garage is now being completely renovated and will be when completed one of the most modern garages in Eastern Canada.

The St. John Garage and Supply Company, which is under the control and management of Fred and Lloyd Ryan, has been established in this city for a number of years, during which time they have made a marked success in the garage business due to their splendid management together with the courteous treatment extended to their customers.

The new garage will have a well equipped repair shop under the supervision of the best automobile mechanics procurable, who have been in their employ for a number of years, during which time their reliable repair work has gained the confidence of the most particular motorists.

The garage will have all alterations made and equipment installed ready for business by May 1.

All Veterans

Meet at 10.30 a. m. Sunday, April 24, Court House, King street east, for Memorial Service Parade. Remember your pals. Turn out in honor to their memory. 4-25

This is Chapter 1 of a story just as wonderful as any you've ever heard or read.

Ordinary air no longer is good enough for the making of your favorite delicacy; Ice Cream!

A wonderful thing has happened to the ice cream-making business; a thing which opens up undreamed-of possibilities in making this, your favorite delicacy, a purer thing; a finer thing; a BETTER thing than ever before. And this has happened at a time when we thought we had made ice cream as pure and fine as it was possible for human skill and care to produce.

We have found out that ordinary air—the air that fills our rooms and covers the whole world—NO LONGER IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR THE MAKING OF YOUR DISH OF ICE CREAM! It is NOT good enough, because this astounding new discovery has placed at our disposal a STERILE atmosphere, which is ONE HUNDRED TIMES PURER THAN THE PUREST AIR!

By means of a complicated little mechanical device, the ordinary air is driven out of the freezer while the ice cream is being frozen, and this super-pure atmosphere is substituted for it. This process is called "CARBONATING"—and we speak of the super-pure ice cream it produces as "CARBONATED" ice cream.

PURITY carbonated ice cream is the only ice cream made in this province by this marvelous new method of "CARBONATING"!

AND now that we know about it, and are using this process to make your ice cream, we WONDER why no one thought of it before. The whole thing is reasonable. We pay out enormous sums of money to buy the best of everything else—just to make the ice cream pure and good. But, up to now, we hadn't THOUGHT of buying a 100 p. c. PURE atmosphere, to perfect the purity of the finished ice cream. You know, yourself, how housewives seal their "preserves" and other "canned" goods, to EXCLUDE ALL AIR—because THEY know that even a spoonful of air would spoil the fruit or vegetables or meat. Why NOT ice cream?

Well, at any rate we've got it NOW. And the result is ice cream which really IS PURE—purer than we'd ever dreamed it COULD be made. It costs us a little more to make—because NOW we PAY for this PURE atmosphere, where the AIR used to be FREE. But it costs YOU no more, for a brick—or a quart—or a dish—because we assume the additional expense.

And—on top of this tremendous advance in PURITY—"CARBONATING" does other things to make the ice cream BETTER. First of all, it enhances the actual flavors—makes them a shade more noticeable as you eat the cream. Then, it actually increases the FOOD-value of ice cream—because this super-pure atmosphere we use has long been used in foods and beverages; has been proved to be GOOD for your stomach. Finally, it makes the ice cream EASIER TO KEEP! Doesn't melt quite so quickly.

No greater purity known to man

The atmosphere we use in carbonating your ice cream is 100 p. c. pure—and there is no more perfect purity known to man. By careful selecting, testing and buying we use only the purest of milk and cream and sugar and flavors; in fact only the PUREST OF EVERYTHING WHICH GOES INTO YOUR ICE CREAM! Now we freeze the cream in atmosphere which is ABSOLUTELY pure. The result—the super-pure, better-than-ever ice cream—is ready for YOU to try, NOW, at any of the stores where you see THIS name displayed:

DARING ROBBERY.

Bandits Escape With Motor Driven Van. London, April 20.—For the most daring hold-up in London in many years past—and with it the theft of £2,254—the following three men, whose identity is at present unknown, are wanted by the police. The circumstances of the theft were of a most audacious character. All three men, armed with revolvers, stopped a motor van in the Inner Circle of Regent's Park, and got away with the vehicle and the sum of money mentioned, which was intended for the pay of the pensions staff at Acton. Traveling on the motor van, a half-ton vehicle, chartered by the ministry of pensions, were Mr. Grant, cashier, Mr. Miller, his assistant, Ernest Savidge, messenger, and the driver, Herbert Frank Rand. Grant and Miller rode inside, Savidge sat with the driver. The motor van left the pensions office in the park about 9.30 a. m., to proceed to Acton. The car had only gone about a quarter of a mile when it was stopped, near York Gate, by three men, who levelled revolvers at the driver and told the others to clear out "if they valued their lives." The men then boarded the van and ordered the driver to proceed. He had no alternative, as the muzzle of a revolver was planted behind his car. The members of the ministry staff watched the car make off, and they ran back to the office. A park ranger gave chase on a bicycle, but could not pick up the car. Driving to orders, Rand reached Russell square, where he was "dropped" by the bandits, one of whom took over the wheel. They soon abandoned the car, however, for it was found early the same afternoon, derelict, in Mecklenburgh square. The stolen money was made up in little wage envelopes for each employe at Acton.

Riordon, whose startling slump has attracted so much attention, was weaker today, although it opened a half point stronger than its close at 46. During the first half hour, however, it leagued four points to 39. Atlantic Sugar was 8-8 of a point stronger at 34. Breweries was up a 1/2 point at 53 3/4. Other issues were quiet.

RESTIGOUCHE ELECTION CASE

The Restigouche county election appeal of P. M. Anderson vs. D. A. Stewart and H. Diotte was continued yesterday afternoon before Chief Justice Sir J. D. Hazen, Justice McKeown and Justice Grimmer.

F. J. Hughes, opposing Dr. Baxter, who appeared for the defendants, was heard in the afternoon. Taking the Elections Act he pointed out that there were several matters obligatory on the sheriff as returning officer, which he had in no particular carried out, also that there were things which he should not have done which he did. Violations of the provisions of the act were enumerated by Mr. Hughes as follows: The sheriff was not sworn in as returning officer; he appointed no election clerk; from the proclamation a number of polls were omitted; Labillois and Duncan were not nominated in the manner prescribed by the act; after accepting the nomination of six candidates the sheriff gave a certificate that four were nominated; deputy returning officers were not all appointed by the sheriff; certified lists of voters were not furnished all polls as required under the act; two new polls were established by the sheriff.

Mr. Hughes pointed out that it was not the duty of the sheriff as returning officer to administer the oath at the time of the filing of the nomination papers unless requested so to do, any justice of the peace having the power. He contended also that Labillois and Duncan were not nominated and cited a case in which it was held that when electors were permitted to cast ballots for candidates, not nominated, the election was invalidated if sufficient votes had been cast for such candidates to effect the result. Another contention was that the burden was on the other side to show that the irregularities had not affected the result of the election.

Recent Matters.

Dealing with the recount proceedings, Mr. Hughes said that after Judge McLachey of the Restigouche county had declared that he could make no return because of the confusion, in which he found everything, the proper course would have been to apply to a judge of the supreme court to order him to continue the recount proceedings. Application for a recount could be made within eight days of an election. Within two days of the election the sheriff forwarded what purported to be a return to the office of the provincial secretary. That was not a proper return because the act stated that on recount the returning officer must wait till he receives the certificate of the judge. In the event of refusal of this judge the returning officer should wait until application is made to a supreme court judge to force the county court judge to go on. If the county court judge refused to go on after that, and returned all papers it might be considered an abortive recount and the returning officer might make a return.

123 YEARS OLD; SHE CREDITS LONGEVITY TO HER SPINSTERHOOD

Warsaw, April 4—(Associated Press by Mail)—Poland claims the oldest spinster in Central Europe. She is Miss Anna Dobek, living in Chocholow, who recently celebrated her 123rd birthday. Miss Dobek is still quite active, physically and mentally, and does some house work each day. She has also a sense of humor, and to her acquaintances, attributes her longevity to the fact that she has never been bothered by having a man about the house. Miss Dobek doesn't like cats either.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

To the Editor of the Times:—Sir:—While Health Week is being observed and so much emphasis being put on Public Health, it is well worth our while as citizens to realize what is being done in our public schools by the school doctor and nurse.

If all of the parents of children, who are requested to attend during the examination of their children in the schools, would take the trouble to see what is being done for them, they could not but appreciate that an invaluable service is being rendered, which costs nothing. If parents would only follow the advice given by the school doctor, they would gain very much for both themselves and their children.

Thanking you for your valuable medium.

Yours truly,
St. John, April 21. CITIZEN.

A concert was held by the Mission Band of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West St. John, last evening, in the school room of the church. Rev. J. H. FREE TRADE FOR ESKIMOS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Danish Royal Commission Has Matter Up—King of Denmark to Visit Greenland.

Copenhagen, April 5.—(Associated Press by mail.)—The Danish government is trying to formulate a new system of government for its colony of Greenland, but the royal commission appointed for that purpose has been unable thus far to agree whether the Eskimos of that far northern land shall be allowed to have free trade with all nations.

King Christian is to visit Greenland in June, the first time a Danish king has ever visited that colony, and the commission hopes to reach an agreement in time to enable him to announce the new plan of government when he is greeted by the Eskimos.

A well known Greenland explorer, who is not a member of the commission, told the correspondent that one section of the commission was holding out for free trade between the Greenland Eskimos and the nationals of all countries. "This section," he added, "rightly says that the present system of the Danish state granting a monopoly to a single company, even if this company is managed by Danish state officials, and for all practical purposes is a government department, is a direct violation of all democratic principles.

"Without any competition, no company, and particularly a company managed by state officials, could possibly be expected to obtain for products of the natives the same high prices as would be obtainable in the open market. Monopoly never bred efficiency.

"On the other hand, the other section of the royal commission asserts that the Eskimo is a child and must be treated like a child, that intoxicating liquor and other of the 'blessings' of civilization must be kept away from him, or he will go to rack and ruin.

"Every Greenland settlement has been visited by illegal traders who have shamelessly taken advantage of the confiding nature of the Eskimos. For a bottle of vile spirits, or a row of glass beads these 'traders' have robbed the natives of bear skins and other products of great value. So a grandmotherly trade restriction may not be right in principle but certainly in practice."

CANADIAN STUDENTS' CLUB IN PARIS

The Cercle des Etudiants Canadiens de Paris, or the Canadian Students' Club of Paris, was founded February 21, under the distinguished patronage of the Commissioner General for Canada, when a large number of the students, representing practically every province of the Dominion, met in the rooms of the Canadian Commissariat, 17 Boulevard des Capucines, and gave an enthusiastic vote for the establishment of the association.

There are approximately one hundred and thirty Canadians registered as students in Paris at the present time. In view of this and the fact that the number will probably increase next year, it became apparent that there should be a centre where they could meet. And the success of the undertaking seems assured from the satisfaction expressed on all sides at the meetings held since the inauguration.

It is the intention to have meetings twice a month where there will be a programme usually given by the members, refreshments and an opportunity to become acquainted; but this will be only one phase of the club's activities. Recognizing that one of the greatest advantages possible to the student in Paris is the opportunity to meet people from the many countries represented here in the student life and to broaden the point of view by the exchange of ideas, the Canadian Students' Club intends to encourage this by entering into relation with other student bodies here.

As an organization our students will be able to obtain the numerous favors accorded to student groups here such as theatre reduction, invitations to lectures, etc. Excursions, too, will be organized and the question of athletics dear to the heart of the real Canadian will be promoted. In this city where sports don't seem to hold an important place, this Canadian Club expects to organize a hockey team next winter, and arrangements are already being made for tennis courts which will be at the disposal of the members.

But probably the most important is the fact that it will be a reliable source of information for Canadians who intend pursuing their studies in Paris, there are very few of our students here who have not had great trouble on their arrival in getting information that they wanted. The club makes it its responsibility to be able to counsel newcomers as to courses of study, to refer them to members who have already experienced their difficulties and to do everything possible to facilitate matters for them. They will also have ready a list of pensions known to be reliable, etc. This will prove invaluable to students arriving here and at the same time will give them a sense of being "at home."

As soon as circumstances permit, it is hoped that the club may be able to have some permanent headquarters open all the time as a corner of Canada for the Canadian students.

The honorary president of the club is the Hon. Philippe Roy, Commissioner General for Canada in France. Up to date several Canadians passing through Paris have registered as honorary members, among others Sir Lomer Gouin, Brig. Gen. F. S. Meighen, Mr. Goodwin, J. E. M. Robert, Alfred Lambert, Wm. St. Pierre, La. Pratt, L. T. Tetrault, L. G. Beaubien & Co., M. Godfrey Langlois, etc.

The executive committee is composed as follows:— President—Augustin Frigon, E. S. Montreal, (Central Laboratory of Electricity). Vice-presidents—Maxwell B. Singer, Law School, Sussex, N. B.; Francois Veilins, School of Science and Politics, Montreal. Treasurer—J. E. M. Robert, manager Banque National de Quebec, Paris. Secretary—Alice Raymond, vocal, Montreal. Councillors—Abbe Armand Chausso, Catholic Institute, professor, St. Jean de Richelleu, P. Q.; Miss Alta-Lind Cook, arts, Sorbonne, Toronto; Arthur Tetrault, School of Political Science, Montreal; Dr. Romeo Boucher, Medical School, Montreal.

All communications are to be addressed to the secretary, 17 Boulevard des Capucines, Paris.

USE OF CONCRETE IN TIDAL WATERS

The problem of obtaining sound and permanent concrete structures that are exposed alternately to the action of air and sea water was dealt with last night by A. G. Tapley, A. M. E. I. C., in a lecture entitled "Concrete in Sea Water" given before the members of the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada in the old post office building. At the conclusion of Mr. Tapley's address, P. G. Goodspeed moved a vote of thanks which was seconded by George Hatfield. The chairman, J. A. W. Waring, tendered the vote to Mr. Tapley. The thanks of the meeting were also expressed to Mr. Gray, through whose efforts the tests were made possible.

The third of a series of four dances, being given under the auspices of the house committee of the G. W. V. A., was held last night in their hall in Wellington Row. The dance was attended by a fair sized number, all of whom spent a most enjoyable evening. The chaperones during the dance were Mrs. W. H. Harrison and Mrs. J. S. Williamson. The fourth dance of this series will be held in the near future.

The wedding took place in Holy Trinity Anglican church, Toronto, on April 18, with Rev. Ralph Sherman, formerly of St. John, officiating. Mr. Barrett-Lennard's brother, Richard Barrett-Lennard, was the witness.

M. W. Wilson, superintendent of branches, and S. R. Noble, general inspector of the head office of the Royal Bank of Canada, left Montreal last night for St. John. They will sail on the Empress of France for England and the continent. While on the other side they will visit the bank's offices in London, Paris and Barcelona.

BRIDE AND GROOM WELL KNOWN HERE On the outgoing C. P. O. S. steamer Empress of France today a bride and groom well known to St. John will proceed on their honeymoon. They are John Villers Barrett-Lennard, the popular and cultured comedian of the F. Stuart-Whyte productions of recent years, and Miss Mona Warren, of Victoria, (B. C.), who has been understudying and playing leading parts with Miss Zara Clinton in various productions seen in this city. Miss Warren is a niece of Major J. C. F. Hyndman, of Victoria, prominent in social circles in that city.

IRON, STEEL, METAL AND MACHINERY MARKET

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for week ended April 21, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment:
The Canadian steel trade seems to give a very favorable reception to the new schedule announced in the United States Steel Corporation. Dealers in steel are glad that the cuts went as far as they did and they are also pleased that they stopped where they did. Many manufacturers, for the present at least, take the same attitude, as a deeper cut would take too much ground out from under their feet and embarrass them for future operations. As the schedule stands at present the market agrees that it should form a basis for operations for the next three months and after that deviations from it, if there are any, will be small. No one claims that it is going to start a buying movement, for if that were possible by announcing a new schedule, it can be taken for granted that the corporation would have put out the new list weeks ago. The market is undoubtedly stronger today than before the list appeared and the bringing about of that condition was essential to better business in the future.
The machine tool trade has had a quiet week and the selling of used equipment experiences the same conditions. There are a number of very good inquiries in the market, but the absence of pressing need for equipment makes it possible for the should-be buyers to keep putting off the actual purchasing of equipment.
Small tools are being taken for actual

A Canadian Research Institute
Would Aid Native Industries
Solve Problems With Experts

HUME CRONYN, M. P. BEFORE OTTAWA BRANCH ENGINEERING INSTITUTE TELLS OF PURPOSE TO MAKE TWO BLADES OF GRASS GROW WHERE ONE GREW BEFORE

(Ottawa Journal.)
The value of research work as an aid to the country and humanity in its march of progress was emphasized by Mr. Hume Cronyn, M. P., chairman of the select parliamentary committee on scientific and industrial research, in the course of an able and illuminating address at the luncheon of the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada at the Chateau Laurier yesterday.
Mr. Cronyn said that he did not intend going into any general question respecting scientific or industrial research. Pure and fundamental science and applied or industrial science, the speaker said, were two distinct things. Pure science discovered and endeavored to extend the boundaries of knowledge, while applied or industrial science had always aimed at attaining the utilitarian end. One science discovered and the other applied and utilized. Applied or industrial science was the application of pure science to particular problems.
A large body of public opinion believed that the universities were the proper institutions to develop industrial science. In England, where the matter had been carefully looked into, in the United States and in Canada, where the million dollars for the establishment of a research institute at Tokio. In the United States, apart from what the government was doing, the larger corporations were devoting enormous sums to research work. Fellowships totalling $200,000 were contributed by the industries to the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh. This institute, founded by Mellon brothers, was a commercial institution, but it was not operated for profit.

In Canada, outside of the various departments of government, mines, agriculture and some other departments, the country as a whole was doing very little in the way of aiding research work, and practically nothing was done in the field of industrial research. Of course, this was not to be wondered at, as the industries of Canada were not large or powerful enough to devote large sums of money for such work. The Council of Industrial Research was founded in 1916 to survey the field, report to the government what should be done, and spread the information and gospel of research.

Main Functions.
Some of the main functions of the Institute would be to enable Canadian industries to solve some of their problems, increase production and utilize waste products, Mr. Cronyn gave it as his personal opinion that there existed perhaps some misapprehension about the object of the proposed institute. The object of the institute was to aid native industries by establishing a rallying point where they could be advised by experts and helped in the solution of their problems.
Mr. Cronyn commented on the extraordinary results that had been obtained in research work at the Mellon Institute and other American institutes engaged in industrial research work. At the Mellon Institute, the discovery of the use of tungsten in the making of nitrogen lamps had resulted in an annual saving of $200,000,000. In conclusion, Mr. Cronyn said the establishment of a National Research Institute would undoubtedly yield the country and humanity in its march of progress.

War Gave Impetus.
Reviewing the accomplishments of different countries in the field of industrial research, Mr. Cronyn spoke of Germany's activities before the war. In Great Britain, the government had established a bureau of research at Teddington. Shortly after, the United States founded the bureau of standards at Washington. The war gave the greatest possible impetus to the movement in favor of industrial research. The British parliament voted one million pounds to his fellow-members of the House of Commons.

THE KINGSTON PENITENTIARY
The following is a report of an address by Brig. Gen. W. S. Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries, on the penitentiary at Kingston:
"This institution was built by the British government, and was first opened in 1838. When built it was considered the model penitentiary of the world—something far in advance of anything then known. In solidity of construction and in beauty of architecture it was all that could be desired. In those days, however, whipping with the cat-o-nine-tails was common. Dark cells and dungeons were used continually. After depicting the conditions of the penitentiary years ago, the speaker drew a contrasting word picture of the life there at present.
Some years ago reconstruction of the cell wings was begun. Cells were now sanitary and fit for human habitation. Workshops were installed and were models of their kind. In these shops tailoring, carpentry, shoe-making, book-binding and many other trades were taught the inmates by capable and qualified instructors. All work pertaining to the construction or maintenance of the institution was done by the inmates. Large farms were worked at all of the penitentiaries. The value of the farm products produced in the final year ended March 31, 1919, was $94,257, while the cash revenue returned to the government for the same year was $188,619.04.

Reducing Crime.
"General Hughes declared that to cope successfully with the problem of reducing crime and reforming the offending ones, they must first be understood. The deliberate criminal was one who believed himself cleverer than other people. He plotted against society and was very frequently successful. This encouraged the criminal and his associates and they continued to lead a life of crime. However, after they were convicted no prison should be made a place of horror, nor should the unfortunates be abused or ill-treated. Some methods of management and reformation should prevail and be continually improved, and restraint relaxed as the inmates showed themselves worthy of it. General Hughes believed that the most successful treatment in the reformation of the criminal was one of vigilance, gentleness, patience, persuasion, education, example and religion. Persons upon discharge from the penitentiary should not only be prevented from returning to their former course, but helped and directed into better ones."

A TRIBUTE TO ENGLAND.
(From the address of Colonel Harvey, newly-appointed ambassador to Great Britain, at the Lotus Club dinner in honor of the Earl of Reading, March 27, 1918.)
As we meet tonight to pay tribute to our distinguished guest, we may well recognize at the outset that the time, though filled with anxious hours as it is, could not be more fitting, because it is the day of England's greatest glory in the service of mankind. Never before in her long career has she, never before in the history of the world has any nation stood more nobly for all that makes life worth living. Pausing first as I do, and as our guest would have me to do, to salute with gratitude and with reverence our sister, France, we must all realize that at this moment through force of circumstance, the highest honor rightfully attaches to our mother England. Well might our president express to that undaunted host the admiration of the American people of their "splendid steadfastness and valor," and breathe "a perfect confidence" that they will emerge from the frightful conflict victorious. That we should be bearing so small a portion of the mighty burden is naturally a source of deepest grief; but if, as

COUNTERFEIT COINS.
Suspicions of Light Weight Silver Led to Capture of Pair.

London, April 20.—In another case of passing counterfeit "hime-crowns," warehouseman, and Henry Thomas Hassell, twenty-four, horsekeeper, again figured. The latter pleaded guilty. It was alleged that on January 28, Joseph walked into the shop of a baker named Howell, on Caledonia road, and asked if any change was required. He tendered Treasury notes in exchange. Mrs. Powell took the coins into the parlor, but noticed that they felt light. Her suspicions aroused, she returned the coins on the pretext that she had no paper money available. Joseph then proceeded to the shop of a dairymaid, but here the proprietor "did not like the look of the money," and handed it back. Still persisting, Joseph went into the local post office, but no change was required. In the meantime, Mrs. Powell had communicated with a policeman, and the latter pulled up Joseph. The constable asked him what he had in his hand, to which Joseph replied, "Two pounds worth of silver." The constable examined it, and requested the man to accompany him to the police station. He replied, "My brother gave it to me for a quid, and he is waiting down the road for me for the rest of the change." On the way to the station, Joseph produced eight similar coins from his pocket, and handing them to the constable, remarked, "You may as well have these as well. I did not know the coins were bad." Henry was arrested later, and admitted that he had given the coins to his brother. Joseph was found not guilty, and acquitted. Henry was sentenced to eight months' hard labor.

MODERN DRESS AND IMMORAL FILM DENOUNCED

Unspeakeable Night Shows and Y. M. C. A. Also Criticized

Teachings of Association Lead to Vague and Undecided Religion, Asserts Archbishop Bruchesi.

(Montreal Gazette)
Modern feminine fashions, certain tendencies of the cinematograph film, the extreme in dancing and the Young Men's Christian Association—the latter organization being termed "a special danger"—are among the topics dealt with in a pastoral letter of Dr. Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, which was read yesterday from the pulpits of the various churches of the archdiocese.

"The evil of the Day" is the title of the pastoral. The letter is of rather length than is usual in such communications. At the beginning the Archbishop comments: "The Sovereign Pontiff has, of late, repeatedly exhorted Christian people to become more thoroughly imbued with the teachings of the Gospel. Christian practices once withdrew the world from the degradation of paganism; today, disregard of the Gospel doctrine bids fair to lead us back to it again."

The lack of religion in the enlightened pagan nations the coming of Jesus, and the moralizing action of the church are touched upon successively. The story of the foundation of New France leads the archbishop to remark that the new colony was not free from human weaknesses, adding "but its faith was lively, its piety sincere, active and generous." From this phase the pastoral proceeds to a tirade of the present day, the writer declaring: ". . . although we note with joy magnificent examples of virtue in our midst, at the same time we cannot fail to see the lowering of ideals, and the ravages of vice that are fast making of our modern society a modified form of paganism."

Immorality in Dress.

The archbishop continues: "A great fully is now widespread, though our Holy Father, bishops, priests and right-against it. Some of the most repulsive styles are merely ludicrous still, ridicule does not banish them, others, by adding indecency to wretched taste, shock the upright and science. The reserve suitable to women is now rarely seen and Christians modesty is outraged. In spite of all assertions that no evil is intended, one cannot deny that women's dress today is a ready provocation to evil. These semi-nude fashions are not fit for even questionable characters, yet respectable married women and young girls do not hesitate to appear in public places even in the House of God, nay, at the very altar rail, attired in a manner which is shocking to common decency. What has become of our sane judgment? How is it that our Christian sense has not long ago dealt summarily with those imported degrading styles."

The Dance Evil.

"On a par with the dress-vice we must place the dance evil. Dancing has become a mania with young and old. It is indulged in on all occasions, at home, in the club-room, restaurant, and hotel. The old-time quiet home-gatherings marked by friendly discussions, singing and other simple amusements have been almost replaced by noisy reunions, theatre parties and public balls. The dancing permitted at these gatherings is the most modern and most suggestive of evil. And yet these barbarous dances are condemned by the natural law, by the commandments of the Church, and by the authority of our cherished traditions."

The Movie Pictures.

"The moving picture film, which could, under wise management, become a powerful factor in uplifting the masses adds also its quota of corrupting influence. Day after day, in our big cities, towns and villages, even, millions of children of both sexes are ruining their health in darkened halls and germ-laden air. The soul has still more to fear from the lewd suggestions too often, alas, in evidence, than the body suffers from sense-fatigue or improper ventilation. Investigations have revealed an appalling state of affairs in many of these picture halls, shameless passions are excited when not glorified. Free love, under its most abject forms, mock-marriage, seduction, rape, prostitution, adultery hold sway, dealing when not obliterating the moral sense of those who frequent such dens of vice. Add to this the scenes of violence, robbery, murder, in which the criminal is, usually, the hero, and we no longer wonder why so many young people are familiar with crime."

"The theatre, too, is trying to outdo the film in its race for money and corruption. By alluring titles, brazen posters, cynical plays, by the novelty of unspeakeable 'night-shows,' the theatre carries on an industry which should not be tolerated in a decent city. Moreover, some newspapers are always ready to publish and applaud such doings."

"Note also the increased diffusion of obscene books and questionable magazines. These are freely distributed, carried from house to house, sold in some book stores as openly as devotional works and sometimes found on the same shelf."

"Whoever is at all familiar with the history of Graco-Roman civilization is struck by the alarming similarity of modern modes of living to those of the ancient pagans. Indecent dress, lascivious dances, free love, marital infidelity, effeminate education, mark alike the two systems."

"Who or what has led the world so far astray? Jesus Christ, in the parable of the sower, gives the answer: 'It is an enemy who has done this,' the sower of cockle among the wheat, the arch-enemy of mankind, a murderer from the beginning."

His Grace appeals to the people to be on guard lest they be caught by the manifold snares of this wily enemy, and advises that the danger may be overcome by the constant development of religious practices, recommending especially the use of family prayer, the Way of the Cross, constant attendance at mass and frequent communion. This is regarded as the first remedy. Y. M. C. A. "A Danger."

The archbishop continues: "Another danger must be noted, a special danger, as it threatens our faith. We refer to the association known popularly as the Y. M. C. A. The Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office has made known to the entire episcopate the dangers in tendency and effect of such an association. These associations, reads the Holy Father's letter, 'under color of bringing light to young people, turn them away from the magisterium of the Church constituted by God, the torch of truth, and incite them to demand each only from his own conscience, and then at the narrow seat of human reason, the light which should guide them. The principal victims of these snares are the young students of either sex. Those adolescents—who, to learn the Christian doctrine and preserve the faith inherited from their fathers, would have most need of the help of another—behold these carried off by persons who despoil them of this precious inheritance and lead them insensibly to hesitate today between contrary opinions; tomorrow to doubt them all, whatsoever they may be; finally to embrace a sort of vague and undecided religion which has absolutely nothing in common with the religion preached by Jesus Christ!'"

Organs of Propaganda.

"The duty of our young people of both sexes is clearly traced. They must avoid such associations, since the Holy Office deems them dangerous to Catholics and to the faith. They must not attend their lectures treating of religious or moral subjects. They must not read their pamphlets, periodicals, etc., which by the very fact that they are their organs of propaganda, are declared forbidden by the Roman decree. On the other hand, we beg that our patriotic and literary societies already commendable for their good work, put forth greater efforts to help furnish innocent recreation for our Catholic youth. Our different associations of Catholic men are accomplishing great works in their own sphere. Many parishes can boast of their young men's clubs and sodalities; but new recruits create new demands and call for further initiative."

GERMAN CUT PRICES ARE KEENLY FELT

Their Competition Affects All Countries to Which They Export Goods.

German rock salt, produced from German sources, was recently offered in Montreal and district at prices much below the bare cost of supplying Canadian salt. Cheap German cotton stockings have recently been offered in Canada at prices as low as $1.65 per dozen, which is much below the cost of producing even the cheapest grade of cotton stockings in the dominion. German manufacturers have to import all their cotton, but they have the advantage of exchange on their labor, overhead expenses, and profits—in fact on every item of their cost except those raw materials which have to be brought into Germany from abroad.

During the ten months ended January, 1921, German goods were imported into Canada to the value of $872,628, as compared with a value of only $27,146 for the ten months ended January, 1920. Other low exchange countries have similar advantages which vary only in degree in exporting to Canada.

While Germany, facing tremendous indemnities, pleads almost financial and industrial collapse, there can be no question that its industrial competition is beginning to make itself felt amongst the nations of the world. There is no reason, says the New York Journal of Commerce, to doubt that Germany will resume her economic progress, although which to pay the allied indemnities. Such indications of poverty as are visible in Germany are the result of the financial policy of the government. Money has been spent lavishly and recklessly, partly to make the men in power popular at the expense of the taxpayers, and partly to create the impression that Germany is utterly ruined.

Germany is dumping goods into Sweden to such an alarming extent that the Swedish government has had to consider the imposition of higher import duties, to protect the home market. The Stockholm, Sweden, correspondent of the London Times, writing in a recent number of the Times' trade supplement, said: "This German competition, which here goes by the name of value dumping, as it is based on the difference between the value of the German mark in foreign exchanges and its actual purchasing power in Germany, is on the increase, and is having a distribut effect on most Swedish industries, where the rate of wages and costs of production are so much higher. Cases are quoted where German goods have been offered at prices 50 per cent lower than those of corresponding Swedish products. Underselling to the extent of 80 and 40 per cent, is not uncommon. But the benefits derived from the rates of exchange are not the only advantages which render the German dumping possible. German costs of production, it is known, are reduced by special subventions from one of the largest coverage countries in Cleveland, Ohio; we have stopped receiving fuel from the coal mines of Ohio; we have stopped receiving coprae from one of the largest coverage countries in Cleveland, Ohio; we have stopped receiving magnesite mined in the United States, and the railroads are deprived of the haul on this tonnage."

the C. P. O. S. liner Tunisian sailed last night for London via Havre with sixty-nine cabin and seventy-five steerage passengers, in addition to a large mail and parcel post matter. Among the passengers on board this trip were: Mrs. F. C. Baker, Londonderry, (N. S.); Mrs. J. E. Brown, of Arichat, (N. S.); Miss N. Headach, of Sackville, (N. B.); Hon. Athanase David and Mrs. David (Montreal); Rev. Father Joly, of Winnipeg; Rev. Sister Marie Boudrot and Sisters Christine Pariz and Marie Bonnetain, all of Montreal. This is the last trip that the Tunisian will make to this port during the present season.

The Clarke Chemical Company of Wickliffe, Ohio, in a communication to the ways and means committee of the United States House of Representatives, says: "The Clarke Chemical Company, Wickliffe, Ohio, is a manufacturer of Epsom salts in large quantities. Up to a few months ago we enjoyed a very flourishing business, but because of the low priced German Epsom coming into this country our plant is now shut down, our men dismissed and we are in idleness."

"In addition to this we have stopped receiving acid in tank carload lots from

Guaranteed!

NOT only did the proprietors of Rubberset Company originate and perfect the process of gripping brush bristles everlastingly in hard vulcanized rubber, but they originated the policy of guaranteeing brushes against bristle shedding, to the end that the manufacturer and not the individual brush buyer must bear the cost of any shortcomings in their goods.

That trade and public might identify the brushes so made and so guaranteed, the manufacturers adopted, many years ago, the trade name "RUBBERSET" and affixed it prominently and permanently upon every brush they made.

"RUBBERSET must make good—or WE WILL!" is not an advertising slogan. It is a straightforward statement of the principle which made and maintains RUBBERSET brushes as the world's standard article of their kind.

Imitation of the process, the trademark, or the principle, can be viewed only as an attempt on the part of those practising such imitations to profit by the standing and esteem accruing rightfully to the originators of all three.

Identify the brushes made by this company by the presence of the trade name RUBBERSET as shown below.
