Trapped in Mine; Two Hundred Colliery Men Are Thought To Be Dead

Explosion in Wales Entombs 730; Gallant Rescuers Save 500

Piteous Scenes at Pithead Where Sobbing Wives and Children Anxiously Await News From Underground—Second Tragedy in Same Pit, Last Time Only One Out of 120 Saved

(Canadian Press.)

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 14—More than 400 Welsh coal miners perished, it is feared from fire and afterdamp in the Universal Colliery near here today.

A terrific explosion shattered the works a little after 9:31 men had descended the pit. It was at first said that the day shift was composed of 740 men, but later the larger figure was given out by the officials.

About 500 were brought to the surface alive by the rescue party up to noon and the managers of the mine then expressed the opinion that there was no further hope for the remaining 400 below.

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 14—More than 200 Welsh coal miners are believed to have perished this morning in the Universal Colliery pits near here, when a terrific explosion shattered the works soon after seven hundred and forty men had gone down the shafts. About 600 of the men had been rescued up to noon, when fire which broke out in the galleries hindered the work of rescue and gave rise to the fear that the remaining miners below had been killed.

The day shift of 740 men descended the shafts in the cages at five o'clock. An hour afterwards a deafening report brought the inhabitants in the vicinity of the mine running to the pithead, where they found that the ventilating and hoisting machinery at the top of the shafts had been blown to atoms by an explosion of great violence and a man who had been working twenty yards away had been decapitated by the force of the blast.

Rescue parties of miners belonging to the night shift were soon on the scene making preparations to enter the mine in an endeavor to save their comrades. The fire reputation of the mine, however, gave little hope that any of those below could be rescued alive.

Scenes Huddled Together

An entrance was found, however, by way of an adjacent shaft, and on descending in this manner, the rescuing parties came across some scores of men huddled together in portions of the mine, where the ventilation was still good. Soon 327 living miners were gathered together and taken up the shaft, with the bodies of six of their companions, who had been killed by being dashed by the explosion against the uprights supporting the galleries.

The rescuers, in the meantime, continued their search, in remote galleries of the pit for others who might still be alive and by noon had picked up and brought to the surface altogether 500.

Pathetic scenes had been witnessed in the interval at the pithead, where the wives, children and other relatives of the entombed miners gathered in thousands and waited in agony of suspense. This was only intensified when the first dead bodies were brought up from below. Women and children wept and clamored for news of those still in the pit.

The same pit was stricken by an explosion thirteen years ago, when 120 miners lost their lives and only one of those below at the time was rescued alive.

The rescued miners, the members of the life saving gangs, and the officials of the mine declared this afternoon that they could not hold out much hope for those of the miners still below.

The men brought to the surface were found on the east side of the mine, where the ventilation remained fairly good, while on the west side, where the explosion occurred, fire soon added its terror to the dread after-damp and the rescue parties were unable to make any progress toward the affected area.

The officials of the mine found it necessary to call a detachment of police to keep back the women and children, who had crowded round in the vain hope of obtaining some news of their relatives while the mine managers with their tears streaming from their eyes, replied to all enquiries: "There is little hope."

Most of the rescued men presented a pitiable appearance. Some of them were not expected to live, and nearly all of them were suffering from burns and shock or the effects of afterdamp.

London, Ont., Oct. 14—While decrying the tactics of the militancy of England, the delegates to the eighteenth annual convention of the national body of the Women's Christian Temperance Union last night, expressed their approval of the principal of woman suffrage, and were strong in their praises of Mayor C. M. R. Graham, who, in his address of civic welcome, touched a strain they appreciated.

Delegates from Alberta reported that much progress had been made in the province, and that at the present time, all women property owners have equal rights with men, and all wives of freeholders also are rated on the same plane with their husbands.

Mayor Graham alluded to the extenuations which have been made in dress and expressed the hope that the young women who invite insults by appearing in "slashed" skirts, might yet arrive at a sense of what was proper. This theme was commented upon and given the approbation of the visitors to the convention.

Later Lewis became unconscious, but was revived after strenuous treatment. While his condition is serious, the physicians said it is not critical.

BELIEVE FOUR MEN DROWNED

Two Barges Wrecked Off Highland Light

TOW LINE PARTED

One Driven Ashore in Forty Mile Gale and Broken Up by Pounding of Surf—Battered Dory Given Up By Waves

(Canadian Press)

Highland Light, Oct. 14—Four men are thought to be drowned in the wreck of the barges Summer R. Mead and Oakland, early today. The barges, in tow of the tug Paoli, from Perth Amboy for Boston, passed up along the Cape Cod shore last night. A northeast gale, with winds of about forty miles an hour, was encountered off here at midnight, and the tow line parted.

The Oakland managed to anchor in time to avoid being blown upon the beach, but the Mead was carried before the gale and driven ashore. Her pilot, the life saving patrol sighted her as she was breaking up under the terrific pounding of the surf.

The life savers shot a line across the stranded craft, but there was no sign of life aboard. A little later a badly battered dory came ashore.

It is believed that the captain, engineer and two seamen on the barge, attempted to land in the small boat during the night and perished in the surf. The Paoli patrolled around the Oakland and the vessel Mead during the force of the gale in the hope of finding some trace of the Mead's crew.

The rescued miners, the members of the life saving gangs, and the officials of the mine declared this afternoon that they could not hold out much hope for those of the miners still below.

The men brought to the surface were found on the east side of the mine, where the ventilation remained fairly good, while on the west side, where the explosion occurred, fire soon added its terror to the dread after-damp and the rescue parties were unable to make any progress toward the affected area.

WAS SEA DISASTER A GREAT MURDER?

Uranium Owners Believe Bomb Was Exploded?

THE STORY DENIED

Threatening Letters Said to Have Reached Manager Because of Clearing Out Dutch and Belgians From Crews—More Survivors Reached Land Today

(Canadian Press)

Liverpool, Oct. 14—The owners of the Uranium line believe that the terrible disaster to the Voltorno was a deliberately planned plot to destroy the vessel, and a direct outgrowth of a bitter fight on the part of the German and Dutch migrant-carrying lines to put the Uranium line out of business.

Captain Tinsley of the Royal Naval Reserve, who three years ago was assistant superintendent of the Cunard Line, but left the Cunard after a dispute and became manager of the Uranium line, has notified for the last year increasing bitterness and frequent disputes of the company with the sailors, dock laborers and others.

The Uranium Company's vessels sail from Dutch ports and are strong competitors in the Dutch and German emigrant trade. The Uranium Company's business increased so rapidly that threatening letters, in which he was urged to use the Uranium line, and Tinsley believes that the labor disputes were instigated by business rivals taking advantage of the fact that the Uranium ships are manned by Dutch and Belgian sailors and officers by Britishers.

Tinsley, who has been working for several months in an effort to clear all the Dutch and Belgians out of the Uranium service, lately received many threatening letters, in which he was urged just before the Voltorno sailed:

"If you don't listen to our demands out of your boats will be sunk."

The Dutch and Belgian sailors showed signs of discontent and made trouble before the Voltorno sailed, but no notice was taken of the hold.

Tinsley and the owners now believe that a bomb placed in the hold caused the fire, the destruction and the terrible loss of life.

On board the Voltorno were many remnants of families crazed with grief and in a great tragedy they had passed through.

Ernst Herrmann, a German passenger, asserts that he was the first to notice the fire in the hold of the Voltorno, and says that the flames even then had made such progress that it was impossible to subdue them.

Flung Babe Into Sea

Among the rescued was a baby, which the mother held in her arms, but she was Arthur Hazelwood, a seaman, of the Devonian, sprang overboard and rescued the babe.

An other pathetic figure was that of a tiny girl of four years old, whose nationality even is as yet unknown. She stood among the other bewildered and terrified and unclaimed.

Denies It

Captain Tinsley, the agent of the Uranium line, declares today that the reports of a plot against the vessels of the line, published in Europe and America last night, expressed their approval of civic welcome, touched a strain they appreciated.

Delegates from Alberta reported that much progress had been made in the province, and that at the present time, all women property owners have equal rights with men, and all wives of freeholders also are rated on the same plane with their husbands.

SCOW IS MISSING; FEARS FOR FOUR CARLETON MEN

Scow and Motor Boat Believed Driven Out to Sea In Gale

Were Taking Load of Gravel From Anthony's Cove to West St. John Last Evening—Last Seen by Men in Another Tow--Tug Goes in Search

The gale which swept the harbor last night is believed to have claimed as its victims four stalwart residents of West St. John. The men were last reported about midnight crossing from Red Head to the city, with a scow load of ballast and have not since been heard from. It is believed that their motor scow and that they were driven to sea. In the gale which prevailed last night there would be but little chance of their escaping with their lives and the worst is feared.

The ill-fated crew consisted of Charles Newcombe, George Cripps, Leo J. McLaughlin and the latter's brother, "Jumpy." They were employed on a scow owned by Paul McDade of West St. John and last evening went from Carleton to Anthony's Cove at Red Head for a cargo of sand for the new sugar refinery. They were in a motor boat which acted as a towboat for the scow. The cargo was secured and the homeward trip commenced about ten o'clock at night.

When the morning brought no word of them except the story told by Mr. McKee and his crew, the fears deepened almost to a certainty that they had been lost. Mr. McDade drove down to Lorneville thinking that he might find the men or some trace of them along the coast, but a message from him about two o'clock was to the effect that he had been unsuccessful.

With the gale coming from the direction it was blowing last night the helpless craft would be carried right out to sea with nothing to stop them. The motor boat was not of a size sufficient to face the terrors of the ocean on such a night, and that it would founder would be fairly certain. They might have taken refuge on board the scow, but it was not provided with a shelter and they would have had work to keep from being washed overboard. In the darkness they would have little chance of being picked up by a passing vessel, and altogether their chances for safety were regarded as very slight.

BUMPER GRAIN CROP OF CANADA

Government Bulletin on Conditions on September 30

YIELD MUCH GREATER

Nearly All Grains Show Increased Production and the Average Quality is High—Potato and Root Crops Show Good Figures

(Canadian Press)

Ottawa, Oct. 14—A bulletin issued yesterday by the Census and Statistics office of the Department of Trade and Commerce gives a provisional estimate of the yield of the principal grain crops and also the average quality of these crops at harvest time.

During the month ended September 30, ideal weather for the maturing of the grain crops prevailed over all Canada. In the greater part of Ontario and in the western provinces harvesting operations were well completed by the middle of September, and only in parts of Quebec and the maritime provinces, where the spring opened later, was harvesting carried on during the latter end of the month.

The estimates given a month ago are slightly greater than those now issued, which may be presumed to be based more or less on results of threshing. The final estimates, based together on threshing results now accumulated on corrected results, will be issued as usual on December 15.

The Wheat Crop

For spring wheat, the estimate for the end of September at 188,852,000 bushels, as compared with 182,840,000 bushels last year. For fall wheat the estimate is 5,264,000 bushels, as against 5,000,000 bushels last year and 18,810,000 bushels in the preliminary estimate this year.

The total estimated wheat production this year is therefore 207,375,000 bushels, as against 199,286,000 bushels last year, an increase of 8,089,000 bushels, or four and one-quarter per cent. The yield per acre for all wheat is 21.15 bushels, as compared with 20.42 bushels last year.

Big Increase in Oats

Oats show a total yield of 3,914,900 bushels, and an average yield of 46.87 bushels, as compared with 3,017,000 bushels and an average yield of 39.25 bushels.

Barley gives an estimated total yield of 44,848,000 bushels, and an average of 81 bushels an acre, as compared with 44,014,000 bushels and an average of 81-10 bushels in 1912.

For this year the total production of rye is 2,559,000 bushels; of peas, 8,974,000 bushels; of buckwheat, 7,600,000 bushels; of flax, 14,912,000 bushels; of mixed grains, 17,178,000 bushels; of corn for husking, 14,868,000 bushels; of beans, 989,500 bushels; as compared with a total yield last year for rye of 3,890,000 bushels; for peas of 8,778,000 bushels; for buckwheat of 10,168,000 bushels; for flax, of 21,681,000 bushels; for mixed grains, of 17,992,000 bushels; for corn, for husking, of 15,569,800 bushels; for beans, of 1,040,800 bushels.

For the three northwest provinces the total yield of spring wheat is estimated at 188,852,000 bushels; of fall wheat at 5,264,000 bushels; of oats, at 289,595,000 bushels; of barley, at 27,804,000 bushels; of rye, at 690,000 bushels; of flax, at 14,868,000 bushels.

PROFESSOR PRINCE HERE

Fisheries Commissioner Says Lobster Industry Has Been Helped

Prof. E. E. Prince, chief commissioner of fisheries for Canada, was in the city today on his return to Ottawa from Lunenburg, N. S., where he has been in attendance at a meeting of the Dominion Fishery Board. Many matters of interest to maritime fisheries were discussed, chief attention being given to the report of the lobster fisheries commission. Considerable discussion was evoked as to the benefits of the regulations regarding the size of lobsters to be caught in local waters and a report will be made to the department at Ottawa in the matter.

The professor said that he believed the regulating of the size in the maritime provinces had helped the lobster industry in that it provided better stock for market, and also helped to develop the fishery. He was very well pleased with the general showing of the lobster fishery in these parts. On his return to Ottawa, Professor Prince will confer with the important mission regarding the matter of international fisheries with the chief commissioner for the United States, both as regards inland and coastal waters.

WOMAN MASTER OF THE HARRIERS

Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton Remarkable For Prowess in the Hunting Field

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, Oct. 4.—England's only lady master of harriers is Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton of Wrensted Court, a historic old manor near Sittingbourne, Kent, who owns and hunts her own pack. In more than four years she has been absent from the semi-weekly pursuit of the hare only once, and who is one of the finest horsewomen in Great Britain.

Her prowess in the hunting field, where she also follows the foxhounds from the beginning of the cubbing season to the last run of the year—is only one of the many claims to distinction of Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton, who is by birth a Scotswoman and a niece of the late Sir Thomas Erskine, 6th Earl of Fife. Among a host of other things, she is a play-wright of no mean ability, and already has seven pieces to her credit, all of which have been acted with success.

To see Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton in the hunting green which is typical of this department of the chase, and mounted on her favorite hunter, a splendid chestnut named Ella, either leading the hunt, horn to lips, through the park gates, or with the hounds in full cry, heading the field in mad career over hill and dale, is indeed a sight to stir the blood.

In the Weald of Kent, the legend goes that Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton "can do anything" with a horse—she is a wonderful "whip" and always drives tandem—and it is significant that, in a hunting career extending over a score of years, she has had no "spill" worth mentioning. The only one, in fact, which caused her any discomfort was once when, on returning after a particularly break-neck chase, her mount succeeded in capsizing her into a water tank in her own grounds, from which she emerged with more alacrity than actual dignity.

"Really it was without any intention whatever that I became a lady master of harriers," said Mrs. Leigh-Pemberton, as, still in her hunting dress, she chatted with me in the cozy morning room of Wrensted Court. "The responsibility lies entirely at the door of my only son, Geoffrey, now a promising Oxford man who, some four years ago, was moved to while away the tedium of a holiday by constructing a couple of kennels. When these were completed, the obvious thing seemed to be the beginning of a pack, which now consists of twenty pairs. There are no subscriptions in connection with the pack, but the members and neighbors join us by invitation. We follow twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, during the harrier season, and in four years I have missed a follow only twice, and this only because I had judged the ground too hard after a heavy frost. Certainly we get our fair share of the chase for, besides hunting the hare, we follow the fox with the Tickham pack every Friday during the hunting season."

BEST LAXATIVE FOR BOWELS—"CASCARETS"

When Constipated, Headachy, Bilious, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters? Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, or Constipation. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

HIGHER SALARIES DEMANDED BY LADY TEACHERS

A delegation of two, Miss Elizabeth Corbett, of Aberdeen school, and Miss Margaret McClusky, of St. Peter's girls' school, appeared before the school board at their regular meeting last night, and presented a petition signed by 145 of the lady teachers of the city, asking that an increase in salary be granted to them, and that henceforward they be paid according to a schedule, which provided an increase of $100 for every one of the lady teachers for the ensuing year, and an additional increase of $50 a year until the maximum of $600 is reached. The petition was read and the board promised to consider it and do everything in its power to increase the wages of the teachers.

Other matters of importance were taken up, including the appointment of a janitor at the Aberdeen school. There were present at the meeting R. B. Emerson (chairman), M. D. Coll, George E. Day, Dr. Manning, Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of schools; T. H. Bullock, Dr. H. E. Nason, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Dever and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary. The secretary read the minutes of the previous board meeting, and also the minutes of the teachers' committee. At the latter meeting a committee was appointed to secure a site in the West Side. On motion, Mr. Bullock, the committee appointed to choose a suitable lot for a school on the West Side was increased so as to include the buildings committee. A motion was also passed that the matter of the over-crowding of schools should be considered by the buildings committee and a report made to the board.

Dr. Manning spoke of observing Trafalgar day in the schools by some short exercises, and by raising the flag. This was done last year, and instructions were given to have the day observed similarly.

Miss Catherine Robinson, musical instructor, wrote saying she had an offer of $1,000 to teach in Lethbridge and unless the board here intended to elaborate upon the course in music in the schools, she would be inclined to accept. Miss Hazel McLean, of Florenceville, wrote declining the offer of a position on the local teaching staff, as she had previously accepted an offer from Calgary.

Maud Gibson, janitress in Winter street school, wrote the board asking $80 for extra work done, and George Ogier asked $45 for work in Victoria. He was granted $20, while the other request was referred to a committee. The action of George E. Day, in appointing a new janitor, J. H. Kimball, in Central school, was warmly discussed, it being learned that Kimball and Thomas S. Hill, the former janitor, had been receiving pay from the board for duties as janitor in the same school. Mr. Day said he considered the case urgent and had appointed the new man, and Mr. Bullock said he objected to paying two men for doing one man's work, and Mr. Emerson said that the matter should first have come before the board. The Central Janitorship was one of the best in the board's giving, and those who had been for years in the employ of the board deserve promotion. The appointment, after much discussion, was finally confirmed.

Dr. Bridges said, in reply to a complaint from some residents of Millidgeville, that the teachers in the school there were holders of first class licenses. He reported that the building should be repaired next year.

Dr. Bridges reported on the record attendance at the schools during the last month, the percentage of pupils in daily attendance being 91.09, the number of pupils enrolled was 7,526, compared with 7,869 last year. Up to 12th Oct. 1,222 permits were issued to 1,105 last year. The truant officer reported 119 in irregular attendance, and nineteen truants. Dr. Bridges repeated his suggestion that an industrial school be opened to pay after habitual truants, but Mr. Emerson thought the Boys' Industrial Home should answer the purpose.

THE GIRL THE CRITIC DISCOVERED

Six months ago Louis Reeves Harris, a well known critic, went into one of Broadway's many motion picture theatres to see a much discussed production of "Carmen." The cast was composed of well known favorites, but Mr. Harris had no eyes for these after the appearance on the screen of a girl who was not even mentioned in the cast. The critic described her as possessing the most wonderful personality and immediately tried to discover who she was. Needless to say after this unsought tribute to her ability the young lady, "Miss Franciea Billington," had numerous offers to star in rival companies. In the picture "The Mountain Witch," shown at the "Empress," West St. John last evening, Miss Billington had a part that exactly suited her. Good looking Carlyle Blackwell played opposite and the character study was in the hands of the "Kalem" favorite, Jane Wolfe. In addition to "The Mountain Witch," the Empress is showing "The Power That Rules," a very strong Vitagraph drama and two excellent Selig comedies.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers. If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a medical authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the bladder gets sore, and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad's Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Women on One Acre Farm.

The women working the little acre farms did not appear to be heavily taxed. They were engaged in seeding, irrigating, weeding, raking, and that sort of thing. They took their self-imposed labor lightly, enjoyingly. And in my short spell of observation I had seen more than one act of neighborliness. Here was evidently the true community spirit, that oasis for no sacrifice of independence. Here a natural environment fosters the best qualities of the individual—qualities which the artificial conditions of the city stunt or strangle. The elements of their happiness are not far to seek. They "walk in the sunshine without fear of want." Shorn of superfluities, their lives know no desires beyond their reach. Today is theirs to shape at will; the morrow holds no dread uncertainties. What they enjoy is earned by honest toil, and no man can rob them of the full fruits of their labor. Presently I had my Littlelanders farewell with a strange feeling of envy in my heart. As I walked down the peaceful village street, the conviction was forced upon me that these simple people, with their sublime contentment, are richer than I in most that makes life worth the living. —Forbes Lindsay in October Lippincott's.

TO TRY PSYCHOLOGY CURE ON CRIMINALS. Harvard Expert to Make Experiment; Football and Church Songs of Same Family

Boston, Oct. 7.—Working on the theory that crime is a disease and should be cured instead of punished, Dr. Victor V. Anderson of Harvard, assistant to Prof. Hugo Muensterberg, will spend several hours daily in an endeavor to prove that psychology can make over the criminal into an everyday law abiding citizen. Chief Justice Wilbur Bolster of the municipal court of Boston, believing that there is hope for the criminal in psychology, appointed Dr. Anderson as special probation officer.

Prisoners who keep turning up in court will be watched. The nature of their crimes will be classified to see if they are the result of any mental defect. The shape of their ears, the form of their eyes and their facial expressions will be noticed. They will be compelled to attend little conferences and go through mental examinations and when it seems that there is hope of correcting mental defects they will be sent to the psychopathic hospital.

"The criminal must be examined from a different point of view in the future," said Dr. Anderson. "He cannot be reformed by law. He goes back to his haunts even after the church has corrected him for a time. We must try to get at the character of his thinking and the way in which his attention becomes centralized on certain subjects."

"I believe that psychology will be of the greatest assistance to me in my duties and that many criminals in the future will be cured by this method."

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone

Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heats the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system. So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions. Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

WHY THIS ACTIVITY?

Last evening the citizens of St. John at a mass meeting, which crowded and overflowed the old Nickel Theatre, passed resolutions demanding that the government withhold its sanction from the Gutelius-Bosworth agreement until it had been examined by experts to learn whether or not there was discrimination against the port of St. John.

Yesterday in Halifax, quite unconcerned about the movement in St. John, Messrs. Gutelius and Brady, now of the I. C. R., but formerly of the C. P. R., were busy with Mr. Andrew A. Allan selecting steamship berths and making arrangements to handle all the traffic of both the Empresses and the Alsatian and Calgarian at Halifax.

Why has not Mr. Borden stayed the hand of his C. P. R.-I. C. R. gentlemen until the request of the people of St. John has been granted? If Mr. Borden was sincere when he said that no discrimination would be permitted, he should not permit the steamship companies to settle this matter themselves, but should hasten an expert examination of the Gutelius-Bosworth agreement. If he fails to do so, he will bring upon himself the condemnation of his own followers in the city of St. John.

IT'S UP TO THE BOARD

Since the amendment of Mr. R. H. Bruce, asking that St. John be directly represented on the board of experts to examine the Gutelius-Bosworth agreement was not accepted at last night's meeting, it is up to the St. John Board of Trade itself to have such an examination made at the earliest possible date. The board has a large fund which was cheerfully subscribed by the citizens of St. John to promote the forward movement. It would hardly be a diversion of these funds from their legitimate use if a portion of them were devoted to the task of preventing a backward movement. It is all very well for ardent partisans to assert that St. John will receive the fairest of fair play, without being represented among the experts who will examine the infamous agreement which is being used to divert traffic from its natural channels; but no business man in relation to his own affairs would for a moment accept the position which some persons at last night's meeting urged the city of St. John to accept. The fight of St. John was not concluded with the adjournment of last night's meeting. It was only begun. Since the officials of the government railway are going right along with Mr. Borden's consent to arrange for handling all the mail steamers at Halifax, the citizens of St. John must also bestir themselves, or presently they will be told it is too late to get back again this year the vessels that should never have been diverted from this port. It is up to the Board of Trade.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

The resolutions adopted by the mass meeting last evening expressed in moderate terms the rightful demands of the people of St. John, entirely irrespective of party. The government must heed these resolutions or stand condemned not alone in this city, but wherever there is a regard for fair play. It was very evident throughout the meeting that full expression was not given by any speaker to the feelings of the determined citizens who crowded the theatre. They would have applauded a much more vigorous programme than that placed before them. The speakers made it perfectly clear, however, that it is to the government we must look for redress, and the government which must be held responsible if justice is not done. The ominous silence with which some apologetic remarks made by some of the speakers were received made it also clear that the audience were not in the mood to condone wrong-doing on the part of anybody at Ottawa, or any failure on the part of the government to do justice to St. John.

It was plainly stated that the fight is not with the C. P. R. nor with the port of Halifax, but with the government; and that the people of St. John are not disposed to assent to the suggestion that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is in any sense the master of the situation, or in any position to dictate to the government at Ottawa. The feeling was universal that there had been gross discrimination against St. John, and that it should not be tolerated; and, moreover, that the government of Canada should not be a party to any policy which would divert traffic from its natural channels, the natural channel for the mail and passenger business of Canada in winter being, because of our geographical position, through the port of St. John. All of Western Canada should join in a demand for the use of the fastest Canadian mail route, and that route in the winter season is through the port of St. John.

THE FIGHT ONLY BEGUN

Several speakers at last night's meeting declared that mails and passengers from Liverpool via St. John could be landed in Montreal and Western Canada many hours more quickly than by way of Halifax. We know that officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway in times past have made this assertion. That being true a much larger question is opened up than that of mere discrimination as between ports. If St. John is the better port for the Atlantic mail and passenger business in winter, by virtue of the fact that it is so much nearer to the heart of Canada than any other open port, there can be no justification whatever for depriving it of the benefit of its geographical position, or of depriving Canada of the fastest possible mail and passenger service in the winter season. All the older citizens of St. John remember very well the missionary tour made by the late Mr. George Robertson to Montreal, Toronto and other Canadian cities, addressing boards of trade and pointing out why the geographical position and other advantages of the port of St. John should be recognized by diverting to this port Canadian traffic which was then being handled in the winter season through Portland, Maine. The time has now arrived when the St. John Board of Trade and city council should take up missionary work to make it clear to the rest of the world that the claims of St. John are not based upon sentiment, but upon sound business facts; and that it is to the advantage of the whole of Canada to have such equipment at the port of St. John as will enable the steamship companies to handle mail and passenger business through this port.

Several of the western papers, including the Montreal Star and Ottawa Journal, have been making light of the present agitation in St. John, simply because they are either ignorant or wilfully blind to the facts of the case. Mr. Baxter urged at last night's meeting that the citizens get together more than they ever had done before to press the claims of this port. Why not prepare a brief for St. John, and send the ablest man available on a tour of Canadian cities to state the case for the city of St. John? Then, when the demand for increased facilities at the port is made in parliament, the representatives of all the provinces will be already well informed concerning the merits of the case.

MR. BORDEN AND HALIFAX

The Halifax Echo prints the following illuminating paragraph:—"If, apart from all political considerations, it is expedient that Halifax should be the fast mail and passenger port for the Dominion, and such is to be inferred from Premier Borden's statement to the St. John delegation; then the removal of the Royal Line steamers from this port would be indisputable evidence of discrimination against Halifax, on the part of the Dominion Government."

It is true that Premier Borden believes it expedient that Halifax should be the fast mail and passenger port for the Dominion? If so, why? Is it because a fair test has been made of the port of St. John, or because Mr. Borden desires to make votes for his party in Halifax? The Halifax Echo considers that the removal of the Royal Line steamers from Halifax would be "indisputable evidence of discrimination against Halifax." Is it not equally true, since the C. P. R. officials have declared St. John to be the better mail port, that the withdrawal of the Empresses from St. John is "indisputable evidence of discrimination" against St. John?

It was Sir Thomas Shaughnessy who used that striking phrase "by the grace of the I. C. R.," which, being interpreted, means by the grace of Mr. R. L. Borden, prime minister of Canada.

One of the speakers last night expressed surprise that the city of Halifax had not begun an agitation as an offset to the campaign in St. John. The explanation was given in one terse sentence by a man in the audience, who said—"They don't have to."

Some of the would-be leaders of the Conservative party would cheerfully see Mr. D. F. Pidgeon elbowed into the background. Mr. Pidgeon, however, has elbows of his own, and he has, moreover, the sympathy of the rank and file of his party in his determined stand for the rights of St. John.

While it is well to get so many influential members of the dominant political party of the day on record in favor of ten more steamship berths for West St. John, last night's meeting was not called to discuss that question. Nevertheless, the whole city stands behind the resolutions adopted, and if an educative campaign is needed to convince the rest of Canada that the proposed increase in facilities is urgently needed in the interests of the trade of Canada, no time should be lost in taking up the task.

"Our pastor preached a sermon on marriage last Sunday." "Did it seem to have a stimulating effect?" "No, on the contrary; it was so solemn, and conveyed so many warnings, that it broke off two engagements."

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 14.

This is the natal day of Sir Lyon Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and one of Canada's most noted authorities on banking and finance. He was born in the County of Haldimand, Ontario, on Oct. 14, 1848, and entered the service of the Bank of Commerce as a clerk in 1868. He is interested in science, literature and philanthropy.

His Honor Judge Idington, of the Supreme Court of Canada, was born near Morrison, Ont., on Oct. 14, 1840. He practised in Stratford and became a judge in 1904.

Dr. T. G. Allen, professor of diseases of children in the post-graduate Medical School, Chicago, was born near Brockville, Ont., fifty years ago today.

LIGHTER VEIN

There was humor of a dry kind in the old Duke of Wellington, the conqueror of Waterloo, and it came out in the story told by a lady whose French pooodle once ran into the grounds of Walmer Castle.

"Blucher, Blucher!" called the fair owner of the pooodle to the disobedient animal.

"The duke looked over the wall.

"Madam," he said, "time was when I, too, should have been extremely glad to see Blucher."

Mrs. Blew—"Oh, doctor, what alls him?"

Doctor—"Rheumatoid arthritis."

Mrs. Blew—"Oh, doctor, we are very poor—can't you make it something plainer?"

Mother (after the wedding)—"Well, our daughter and her husband are off at last. What's troubling you, John?"

Father—"I don't quite like that young fellow's parting words. He didn't say 'Good-bye'; he said 'Au revoir.'"

Why He Needed It

Small Arthur—"Mamma, I hurt my finger. Please tie a rag on it."

Mamma (after an examination)—"It isn't injured enough to need tying up dear."

Small Arthur—"Well, tie a rag on it, anyway, so I won't forget which finger it is that hurts."

The Reason Why

"Why do they say 'As smart as a steel trap'?" asked the talkative boarder.

"I never could see anything particularly intellectual about a steel trap."

"A steel trap is called smart," explained the elderly person, in his sweetest voice "because it knows exactly the right time to shut up."

Though ornaments which they devise

Have often made me stare.

The plumage, as she turns around,

I stand with respect profound

Mid an admiring hush.

From learned men the truth I've sought

While wandering through the zoo,

They say there are some lines of thought

A man cannot pursue.

But this far is my boldness stirred,

I say and say anew,

I'd simply like to see the bird

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience—Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world."

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacement, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

AWFUL BUNGLING IN HUDSON BAY

Charter Steamer on Wild Goose Chase, Paying First Cost of Craft, and Then Sending Host of Officials to North Sydney

(From the North Sydney Herald.)

After being buffeted all over the Atlantic, carrying thousands of dollars worth of valuable merchandise and material, all the property of the ratepayers of Canada, and with not a dollar of insurance on it, the chartered steamer Alcazar arrived in port Monday morning, and docked at the terminus wharf. Included in the steamer's cargo is some 1,600,000 feet of pine lumber, which was taken on board at Port Arthur, Texas, to be used in railway and wharf construction at the proposed terminal in the Hudson Bay.

Through stupid bungling and characteristic carelessness, the government officials did not take the trouble to find out whether there was any facilities for landing the cargo, and so, after exposing the ship and cargo, as well as the lives of the crew to the violent weather of the North, the Alcazar was forced to return to North Sydney (via Halifax) to land her cargo on the terminus wharf, where it will be stored until next year.

On the Alcazar's arrival she was towed into the terminus wharf by the tug Hillford, with the gasoline boat of James Kelly & Co. running the line. The latter firm have the contract from the government to discharge the cargo, and when the steamer docked, a gang of men were in readiness to receive the cargo.

An idea of the extravagance the country is subjected to may be gathered from the fact that the first item of expenditure in connection with the Alcazar was an outlay of thirty-five thousand dollars, the amount guaranteed for the return trip to the Bay. Besides this the owners of the ship are to receive $250 a day since September 21st, which will amount pretty well up to the cost of the Alcazar, whose owners paid $60,000 for her.

Then there is the army of "bosses" at the terminus wharf. No less than sixteen higher-ups arrived here some before the steamer reached port, and took up quarters at the hotel. All are here in connection with the unloading of the Alcazar's cargo. Some are from Ottawa, others from Halifax, and others from everywhere. The last arrival was James E. Lawlor, who is acting under orders from the department.

There are more high-colored, overcoated dignitaries in each other's way, at the terminus, superintending F. L. Kelly's (who is the real boss) men than there are workmen. Between them all, and the cost already incurred, these will be pretty expensive pine sticks to the ratepayers of the Dominion by the time they reach, if they ever do reach, the Hudson Bay.

IMPERIAL'S NOVELTY IS LIKE BIG PIPE ORGAN

Specially Good Musical Act and Nice Vocal and Pictorial Offerings

As if a great cathedral organ were pealing out the melody the Italian Saxophone Quartette at a concert yesterday added still further variety to the string of excellent novelties being offered in the new house. The overture to Rossini's William Tell, popular pot pourri, syncopated bits and concerted effects were played, displaying the wonderful possibilities of an instrumentalist of this kind. One did not have to be a music lover in the technical sense of the word to be enthralled with the effect of the soprano, alto, tenor and baritone saxophones. In a word, it was lovely and a week or rare enjoyment is in store for Imperial patrons on this score.

Signora Manetta, who is now upon his farewell week here, sang the big song from Fra Diavolo in costume and responded to the plaudits of the crowds with the never-unwelcome Funiculi-Funiculi. The pictures were good too. First there was a two-reel feature of country life entitled Home Sweet Home, which the orchestra very prettily framed up, as it were, with old-time household favorites. A strongly dramatic Vitagraph tenement fire-story supplied the thrills and a Whiffles burlesque handed out the laughing material aplenty. And yet, there were scenic pictures too—A Trip in the Caucasus, Mountains, Russia.

The Mary series is to be resumed Wednesday along with a whole new bill of films. Next week the three O'Neill Sisters come to town to dance and sing, and they are experts at both. Miss Margaret Breck is being booked also, she to sing the heavier songs in her brilliant soprano tones.

WONDERFUL YIELD OF POTATOES

(Hartland Observer)

The potato yield this season is far and away the greatest that was ever known in this or any other section. Ordinarily an average of 100 barrels to the acre has been considered a bumper crop, but that quantity pales to insignificance this year. Charles Palmer, a well-known Waterville farmer, is getting from his large field 150 barrels to the acre, and others in the same vicinity are digging 125 to 140.

Perhaps the record is held by Wilbur Kelly who rents land at Jacksonville. He planted forty-four acres. From seven acres he secured 1,100 barrels, which is a little better than 155 to the acre. From one spot in the field he picked a barrel of good spuds from a row three rods long, which figures out at the rate of 300 barrels to the acre. If Aroostook county or any other county on the globe can beat that, farmers here would like to know it.

There are few single fields so large as that of Mr. Kelly, most farmers having platted only from five to ten acres. The rot that appeared among the early Cobblers does not show in the Mountains, which comprise the principal part of the crop. Not only is the yield big this year, but the quality of the stock is the very highest.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON ON THE STAGE!

With John J. McGraw and Other Giants in Picture Story at Gem Theatre Tomorrow—A Pleasing Romance

The Kalem Co. in their two part drama, "Breaking Into the Big League," to be shown at the Gem Theatre tomorrow and Thursday, have as their leading characters no less famous baseball heroes than Christy Mathewson and John J. McGraw. They play important roles in the story, which has a pretty vein of love, a most interesting theme, and all the requisites of a successful playlet. It is one of the best baseball stories ever shown in St. John and should be seen by every fan.

OCTOBER CANADA MONTHLY.

The question of divorce is becoming an urgent one, according to George Clarke Holland, official reporter of the senate, who writes at considerable length in "Canada Monthly" for October, under the title "Should Divorce Have a Price?"

Frederick W. Wallace writes of the redoubtable McGonigal, whose red head ornamented alike the decks of a wind-jammer and the timber limits of the Riviere Ste. Anne, Lincoln Colored in "The Devil and the Deep Sea," tells a curious story of a China Sea pilot who called himself Dutch but shared his Holland blood with Chinese and Japanese, and whose beautiful Eurasian wife learned strange things about him when Krakatoa split its crater and let the full tide of the Pacific in on its boiling lava. "Their Game of Draughts" is a quaint French-Canadian story by Rodolphe Girard; A leisurely voyage on the little-known coast of Labrador is recounted by James Church Alford in "Men of the Labrador;" J. DeQ. Donohoe tells a mystery story of a purple room and a Mexican junta; Charles Stokes describes the quaint Swiss village of Edelweiss and the Swiss guides who live there; the love and adventure serial, "Unwilling Eve" is continued, and there are other articles of fiction. The cover design is from a painting by Ruth Bingham.

THREE ROYAL SISTERS

Three royal sisters and ex-queens at home, in the palace where they spent a simple and happy childhood together.

Queen Alexandra of England, in the centre, the Dowager Empress of Russia on the left, and the Duchess of Cumberland, gathered at the home of their father.

They have wielded mighty power in the history of the world, and now that their storms and changes of life are about exhausted for them, they are continuing to bless the world by charitable work in their respective countries.

MORE WILLING TO INVEST IN CANADA

London Investors Swinging Around to Dominion Securities - Insurance Companies More Kindly Disposed

(Times' Special Correspondence) tion in the city, so far as Canada is concerned, remains the subject of the most diverse views, though the consensus of opinion is that things are changing for the better.

Whatever the stringency may be in investment circles proper, it seems clear that men of small capital are turning in increasing numbers to Canada for investment. A call at the offices of the firms which cater for Canadian mortgagors indicates that there is no dearth of money for this purpose, and that the man of limited means is the chief customer. Again, the Canadian trust companies which have offices here, report brisk business in deposits. It cannot be said that there is a general knowledge of the conditions of such investments among men whose banker is the Postmaster-General, and it would undoubtedly be profitable if means were taken to spread information to this class. These are not the men who read an intricate prospectus in the newspaper, and if they did that would probably be "warned off" rather than attracted by its many clauses; by its associations with stock brokers and banks; but they are men who, in the aggregate, have a great deal of money which would be most useful in Canada. The large amount of business transacted by one Canadian trust company whose advertisements are models of plain statements, leaves no room for doubt that money can be secured if the appeal is made along the right lines.

Visiting Canadians who have been irritated refer to the decline in real estate transactions; but nowhere is the stagnation more apparent than in England. Details of some very "cold deals" have been made public, and it is clear that serious harm has been done to this business. One story going the rounds relates to well-known peer who purchased a large block of land in British Columbia on the reports of English friends. The new land was found out that the value of the land was just half what he had paid.

Real Estate Crooks It has been so generally assumed that the crooked real estate men were Canadian, that it is a surprise to find that many of the bad cases have no Canadian connection at all except the land. English and Scottish people have been among the worst offenders.

Reverting to the question of mortgages I learned this week that one of the biggest and most conservative insurance companies in Great Britain is contemplating large investments. Since the invasion of the British insurance field by Canadian companies whose references to the high interest obtainable in the dominion had considerable effect on the minds of prospective insurers, those British companies which had neglected Canada have paid more attention to this question, and one company of which the Earl of Rosebery is chairman, points out that its investments in Canada place it in a favorable position in comparison with other British companies. There seems to be little doubt that the extension of the investment of insurance funds in Canada is at hand.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS' NEW HALL The new assembly hall of the Knights of Columbus, St. John council, will be opened this evening, when there will be an exemplification of the first degree before a large class of candidates. The new hall has been completed, and is ready for the opening. It is most attractively finished in every particular, and is the largest of its kind in the city. The seating accommodation is about 600. There is an unrestricted floor space in the auditorium, while the cloak rooms, dining hall, etc., are roomy and well finished. The ornamental fixtures are elaborate, the floors of hardwood. There are corrugated steel ceilings, and throughout the whole building the appointments are of the latest and richest design.

St. John Demands That Government Withhold Assent To Agreement Mass Meeting of Citizens Endorse Resolutions Asking That I. C. R. Rates Should be Passed Upon by Traffic Experts and Urging the Construction of Additional Wharves at This Harbor

The voice of St. John's citizens, assembled in a great mass meeting at the Nickel Theatre last evening, was raised in protest against the use of the I. C. R. as a lever to divert four of the direct mail ships from this port.

Whereas, the work of wharf building which is at present being carried on in this harbor is not doing more than partially relieve the congestion which is bound to occur if the freight handled through this port continues to increase as rapidly as it has done in the past few years; Therefore Resolved, That this public meeting desires to impress most strongly upon the government of Canada the necessity of greatly increasing the facilities for handling both passengers and freight on the western side of the harbor and of making such provision as may be possible and that we suggest that contracts be let as soon as possible to separate tenders for the construction of additional piers providing at least ten berths in addition to those now under construction; and

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

At a meeting in Gagetown last night it was decided to petition the immigration department, asking that more care should be exercised in admitting immigrants to this country. The decision resulted from the indignation aroused by the action of a young immigrant at Gagetown a few days ago in brutally assaulting an elderly woman, Mrs. Penney. She is still in a critical condition.

Not Coming Here. Halifax, Oct. 15—The report that the Royal line steamers would desert Halifax and make their terminus at St. John during the coming winter is without foundation. The Canadian Press is authorized to announce that the company has no intention of sending its steamers to St. John, and that they will come here as usual this season.

Berths at Halifax. Halifax, Oct. 13—Andrew A. Allan, of the Allan Line, Montreal, arrived in the city last night, and today accompanied by Messrs Gutelius, Brady and Hayes (general traffic manager) inspected the piers at the terminals, and decided to occupy the north side of Pier 2 and the north and south sides of Pier 3 for the Allan lines Albatross and Calista.

“What Neilson thinks to-day—”

THEY have a saying in Lancashire: “What Lancashire thinks to-day, England thinks to-morrow.” Sounds somewhat conceited, perhaps, but history has given some justification to the statement that the rest of the country follows Lancashire's lead.

There had been package chocolates before Neilson's made them, but the Neilson quality set a new standard and started a new pace in the production of high class chocolates.

WHEN the Neilson package—the simple white box with rich gold embossing and the grey ribbon—made its first appearance some years ago, there was a rush by the chocolate manufacturers to emulate it. Then when Neilson began producing some wonderful new inventions, they, too, were copied. And to-day, whenever the Neilson experts invent a new confection, a copy of it is sure to appear some months afterwards.

CURED US—WHY NOT YOU?

Injury to Foot Healed. Mr. Reuben Atherton, of 367 Ferguson Ave., Hamilton, says:—While employed with the Otis Elevator Co. a heavy plank fell and severely crushed my big toe and right foot. The nail had to be removed from the toe when the doctor came to dress the injured member. The foot was terribly bruised, turned very black, and the foot and ankle became swollen and painful. I was laid off work for some eight weeks. The doctor attended regularly at first, but the wounds did not heal. At last I heard of Zam-Buk and began using this ointment. It really seemed to act like magic, cleaning all unhealthy matter from the wounds, and drawing out all discoloration, inflammation and soreness. In two weeks the toe and foot were well again. Zam-Buk balm is certainly a wonderful healer, and I would not be without a box in the house.

Try This Home-made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded. Mix two cups of granulated sugar with 1 cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis, and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough. This recipe makes more or better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualacol and all the natural pine elements, which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula. This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. The Courtenay Bay Contract. After looking over the situation at Courtenay Bay yesterday, J. Norton of the M.P., who came to the city today to inspect the work being done in company here, said that the work is being completed at least two years ahead of the expiration of the contract. The dredge Leonfield will start inside the breakwater, while the Federico will work in the channel. It is said that a large suction dredge is ready to be brought over for work if it was deemed advisable, but another large dredge was under construction to be finished in April, and it would be sent out here if it were needed.

COLORED BOXERS FOR LONDON

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 1.—George McDonald, the British sportsman, who came over with a young lightweight star, Snapper O'Neill, was also the bearer of an offer to both Langford and Jeannette to fight Jack Johnson at the Olympia in London. They will permit the colored men to fight it out there. Mr. McDonald wants Langford to meet Johnson first and the winner to take on Jeannette. Both men are managed by Langford, and Dan McKetrick, manager of Langford, and Dan McKetrick, manager of Jeannette, have practically agreed on terms, but Jeannette wants first chance and may get it, if not in London, then in Paris, as Theodore Vienne of the gay city has also made a fine offer and McKetrick will accept it unless the London offer is made more attractive. When they all get through, one of the white boys will be in line for a real title match. In the meantime, such hopes as Gunboat Smith, Carl Morris, Frank Moran, Arthur Pelkey, George Rodol, and Bombardier Wells, who fight it out as to who is the white champion.

Strong Temperance Lesson This

A Pitiful Sight Witnessed at Moncton Police Station — Young Man in Fearful Condition in Attack of D. T.'s (Moncton Transcript) About 10 o'clock last night, the patrol wagon was summoned to convey to the police station a young man, who is said to have been on a "bust" for about three weeks, and who on attempting to sober up was seized with a terrible attack of delirium tremens, otherwise known as "the horrors." He fought all the way down to the station, but seemed quieter on arrival. It was not known at the time that he was anything more than drunk.

Soon after being placed in his cell he began to shriek and kick the sides of the cell, but not much attention was paid to him, as many drunks cut up such antics, out of spite at the officers, whom they hope to annoy by the racket. Officer McKim, who was on duty at the time, happened to go into the cell corridor and, on looking at the prisoner, he was amazed to see him butting his head with great force against the steel wall of the cell. He concluded that the man was crazed with drink and sent out for a doctor.

Soon after this the man appeared to be seized with a new fury and, gripping his own clothes, he tore them into shreds until, within a few minutes, he had not a stitch of clothing on his back. Then he recommenced battering his head against the cell wall. The officer went in and assisted to hold him until the doctor arrived some little time later. In the meantime, the man had begun to "see things" and was screaming and shrieking in the most horrible manner. He required the efforts of a strong man to hold him down and the officers had to take turns at keeping him down.

An Awful Picture He seemed to have three principal hallucinations. One was that he was captain of a ship and that a squall was threatening, a second that the room was full of snakes, and a third that black cats and rags were after him. Between the acts, so to speak, the devil and a big fire would claim his attention.

"Haul down your main-sheet!" he would yell frantically. "Can't you see that squall coming? Now, then, down with the top's! Down with em'! Down with em'! Give me that wheel! and he would seize the cell bars and endeavor to haul the "wheel" over.

Next minute his eyes would be frantic with terror. "Look at 'em! Look at 'em!" he would ejaculate in a hoarse whisper, and with his eyes fairly popping out of his head he regarded something on the floor. "Ah!" he would snarl, triumphantly, as he ground his foot upon an imaginary snake.

WOLGAST IS THE MASTER OF THE BATTLER

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 13.—Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac (Mich.), defeated Belling Nelson, of Hegewich (Ill.) in a ten-round no-decision boxing contest here tonight. Wolgast had the better of eight of the ten rounds, while two were even. The contest was the hardest and fastest ever seen here, both men appearing anxious to put the other out. Wolgast fought a clean, swift battle, and three times had the Dane groggy. He used his left to the chin and right to the face with great force, but the Battler always came back hard.

Nelson bowed in continually, and at times showed flashes of his old time form, but his blows lacked force. Both tired toward the end of the contest, owing to their continual boring tactics, but Wolgast was far the fresher at the close. Blood was flowing from the Dane's nose, ear and lips from the hard and sharp blows of the Cadillac boxer.

It was Wolgast's fight after the first round. He drew his first blood with a blow to Nelson's mouth as the round was ending. The contest for the eighth round had much the better of his opponent.

In the second round four clean swings to the jaw caused Nelson to reel and on recovering himself he could not land effectively. Wolgast played for Nelson's head continually, and poured a shower of blows upon his face. Nelson played for the body, but his blows lacked power.

Wolgast forced his opponent to the ropes in the fourth round and in the fifth knocked him nearly through. In the fifth Nelson landed a heavy blow in the face, which Wolgast's head up. Nelson was apparently tired when the round ended.

Charlie White of Chicago challenged the winner of the fight, but the bout, Jimmy Britt and Jimmy Clabby were introduced to the big crowd of spectators.

THE CENSORS WERE SHOCKED

By Title of New Magazine "Tickle-Me" LITERARY GOSSIP H. G. Wells Roasts Hall Caine — Does Not Care For "Woman Thou Gavest Me" — Dumas 'D'Artagnan' (Times' Special Correspondence) London, Oct. 8.—Vere Smith, who owns and edits that popular English magazine, "The Lady's Realm," is, he tells me, the latest victim of the so-called "Library Censorship," which already has resulted in the "banning" of books by Compton Mackenzie and W. B. Maxwell—not to mention Hall Caine—and which gets more tyrannical day by day.

Mr. Wells has been arranging for some time to bring out a new monthly, mostly devoted to humor and had chosen for it the exceedingly catchy title of "Tickle-Me"—or, in full, "The Journal 'Tickle-Me,' the reference being, of course, to the stories in the magazine. On the eve of getting out his first number, however, Vere Smith has been informed by W. H. Smith & Co., who control all the railway book-stalls throughout the country and run a big circulating library besides, that they decline to handle "Tickle-Me" because of the title, which is 'too suggestive' for their ultra-puritanical taste.

Mr. Smith, it may be mentioned, was "reader" to the well known London publishing firm of Hutchinson & Co., before taking over "The Lady's Realm," and in this capacity "discovered" among others, Cynthia Stockett, "Poppy's" fame. He also published H. G. Wells's marriage as a serial in "The Lady's Realm."

Mr. Wells and His Hammer Speaking of Wells reminds one that he has got out his epistolary hammer again and is seen in long retirement—and this time his blows are aimed at the noble head of his fellow author—Hall Caine. Asked by a weekly journal to express his views on the Library Censorship, Wells takes the opportunity to have a shot at "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," (Punch called it "The Booming 'Woman Thou Gavest Me'") which libraries "banned" so effectively that 140,000 copies had been sold of it at last accounts.

"I think it is regrettable," says Wells, "that English people do not respect their own minds sufficiently to resent the Library Censorship. But I do not think Hall Caine has any great grievance in this matter. Whatever attempt has been made to suppress his very primitive novel (which I do not admire) has given him an opportunity to advertise it (of which he has availed himself fully), and thousands of respectable people in the country districts must be buying it and reading it in a state of inflated curiosity who would not have opened it had they had unrestricted access to it."

Of Cutcliffe Hyne who gave us the immortal "Captain Kettle" the world has heard comparatively little of late. Evidently he is still alive and kicking, however, for I hear that the charming village in Upper Wharfedale to which Kettle retired after his astonishing adventures has been chucking over a notice in the window of the largest shop, which is also the post-office.

"May I suggest to the individual who stole my apples that it is inadvisable to eat the specimens that have been dozed with strychnine for the birds.—C. J. Cutcliffe Hyne."

this side of the Channel. Speaking as an ardent Dumas worshipper, I never have seen a really adequate stage version of "The Three Musketeers"—no more than I have of "Monte Cristo"—and the news that James O'Neill has been filmed in "The Three Musketeers" on the other side of the Atlantic excited me not at all. The French production seems to promise better and the more so as one reads that the Louis XIII. period down to its smallest detail, has been correctly revived for these new pictures.

Dumas, it seems, spent the end of his life, was convinced that people would remember his D'Artagnan long after his other heroes had been forgotten. As he lay dying in his son's villa at Puy, near Dieppe, he begged him to tell him without humbug, whether he thought that any of his work would live. The younger Dumas tried to reassure him, but the old man only said: "I don't know—D'Artagnan perhaps."

The above I found in the Paris "Temps," which has been publishing some intensely interesting reminiscences of both the elder and the younger Dumas. It was at Puy, also, that the author of "Camille" spent his closing years, and there, it seems, he made friends with Lord Salisbury, who was so great an admirer of "Monte Cristo" that he used to sleep with it under his pillow.

One day the younger Dumas was standing talking to a friend on his terrace, which overlooked the sea. Suddenly the friend saw, coming up the garden, a fine old man with a fisherman's cap on and the general appearance of one of those shrimping worthies that make the neighborhood picturesque. The worthy advanced and gave the day's greetings in excellent French with a slight accent.

"Who's that picturesque old chap?" said Dumas's friend. "That's Lord Salisbury, prime minister of England, virtual ruler of India and the biggest empire in the world."

"A Change in 'Punch'" "Punch" is to undergo an alteration for the first time in sixty-four years. For that length of time the design by "Dicky" Doyle—his name really was Richard, and his signature appears in the left hand bottom corner of the cover in a hieroglyphic consisting of a small bird perched on a capital D—has been used, and the use of it will be continued, but for the future the cover will be printed in two colors.

This cover design, of course, depicts Mr. Punch, pen in hand, apparently about to dash off a jest, in company with his dog Toby and a crowd of imp-like figures, and the artist who drew it was an uncle of the famous Doyle who still is with us, and who gave us "Sherlock Holmes."

NORTH END FIRE
The North End fire department was called out a little after seven o'clock this morning in response to an alarm rung from box 128. The fire, which was only slight, was in the house occupied by A. E. Clark, near Murray, Gregory's mill, off Douglas avenue. The fire started from a spark from the grate in one of the rooms, and burned through the floor. A street from the mill was turned on and the blaze was well under control before the department arrived.

AN INCIDENT OF THE MEETING
Michael Kelly, of St. Martins, was in the audience gathered in the Nickel Theatre last night in the interests of fair play for St. John. Mr. Kelly, though lacking the gift of sight, is favored otherwise and is noted for his brightness in conversation and platform speaking, and the audience was given an impromptu illustration of this last evening. One of the speakers was working out an example of the effect of the Gullies rates and was figuring the number of passengers on a train, so many sections, so many cars, etc., and announced his total as "754, I think." "758," came from Mr. Kelly like a flash.

MISS MARY J. DALZELL
Many friends regret the death of Miss Mary J. Dalzell, which occurred on Monday. Miss Dalzell was a native of Upland, but had lived nearly all her life in St. John, making her home for the last thirty years with her sister, Mrs. R. D. Coles. She is survived by Mrs. Coles, another sister, Mrs. James Calder of Fairbury, Nebraska, and two brothers, George of Vancouver and James of New York, besides several nephews and nieces. One of her nephews, Elmer Calder of Fairbury, Neb., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Coles and family for two weeks. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the residence of R. D. Coles, 191 Charlotte street.

MUST LIKE THE PLACE
It would appear that the horse of Jas. McKinney of Strait Shore has a great fondness for the grazing grounds in Riverview Park. Whether that is the case or whether he is drawn there by the attractiveness of the scenery, cannot, of course, be said, but from any rate his presence there, using the park as a pasture, is objected to by neighboring residents. In the police court yesterday morning Mr. McKinney was fined $2 for allowing the animal to roam at large through the park on Saturday. He promised that the animal would not again use the grounds as pasture. Yesterday the animal was back again, and now Mr. McKinney will be back again in the court to answer another similar report.

POLICE PROBE TO BE BEGUN THIS EVENING

Chief First Witness in Open Session in Court House—No Counsel

The second investigation into the affairs of the police department conducted by Commissioner McLellan will open this evening at 7:30 in the court house. Unlike the last this investigation will be open to the public.

Commissioner McLellan said this morning that Chief Clark would be the first witness to be heard this evening. Speaking of the report that some of the members of the police department wanted to be represented by counsel, the commissioner said very emphatically that no counsel would be permitted.

"This is not a trial, nor a prosecution, nor a persecution," he said, "it is an investigation into the affairs of the department, and I am going to conduct it in my own person. I am going to open up there trying to bluff me or to run the investigation to suit themselves they are liable to be thrown out of the window."

Since the last investigation the police force has been steadily decreasing, as one after another member has left and no appointments were made in their place owing to the refusal of the city to appoint any more men over whom they have no control. This situation has led to complaints on the part of citizens regarding lack of protection, and from the chief that he has not sufficient men to protect the city.

It is believed that one object of this investigation is to show the public the condition of affairs in the department, which will justify the city in insisting upon a vote in its control.

COURT WOULD LIKE TO HEAR OF RELATIVES OF LATE WM. MCKELVEY

Matter of Two Estates Taken Up in Probate Today

The probate court today took up the matter of the estate of William McKelvey, yeoman. He died intestate in 1909. He lived on the corner of Sheffield and Wentworth streets, where he had some real estate. William G. Kee, a connection, was appointed administrator and, he having died without having fully administered the estate, John C. Kee, railway mail clerk, was appointed administrator de bonis non. There not being enough personal estate to pay the debts, the court ordered to sell the real estate. Subsequently this was sold, and now the administrator has filed his accounts and asks to have them passed and allowed and distribution made among the next of kin. Mr. McKelvey was never married. Some his relations live in the States and a few in New Brunswick. It is hoped that relations or connections who have not already done so will communicate with the court, or with the possession of the administrator. A citation was issued returnable on Monday, January 26 next at 11 a.m. Messrs. Baxter & Logan, are proctors.

The court also dealt with the matter of the estate of Miss Frances A. Jack, who died intestate, leaving one brother, William Arthur, and six sisters—Mary R., wife of Dr. Thomas Walker; Mrs. B. Derwyne MacKenzie, widow; Alice D. Jack; Edith H., wife of Warwick W. Street of Berkeley, Cal.; Helen R. Jack and Emma C. K. Jack. On the petition of the last two, with the consent of the others, resident within the province, they were appointed administrators. The real estate consists of an undivided interest only amounting to $500 and personal estate $2,800. Fred R. Taylor is proctor.

Missionary in Quebec Went Hunting and it is Feared Life is Lost

Quebec, Oct. 14—Rev. Father LeJolice, a missionary at Berisimis, has been missing for a few days, and it is feared he may have lost his life. He left Berisimis the other day on a hunting trip, taking two dogs, but nothing has been heard or seen of him since, and the dogs have not returned.

The bells of the church have been kept ringing and a search party is at work, but so far without avail.

Y. M. A. BOWLING SEASON OPENED

The bowling season on St. Peter's Y. M. A. alleys in North End was opened last evening with a very interesting match in the society league in which the Shamrocks took four points from the Malaisets. The Shamrocks were composed of F. White, captain; R. Hansen, J. Gibbons, J. McCurdy and J. McIntyre, while the losers were made up of T. McGivern, captain; E. Hanson, C. Shea, H. McCarthy and U. Pierce.

Much interest is being taken in the league, and the opening game last night was followed closely by a large gathering of spectators. The alleys have been nicely renovated during the last few weeks and are greatly improved. The Emeralds, captained by T. Cosgrove, will meet the Micmacs under G. Connell this evening. On Thursday night the Erins, Captain Jas. McIntyre, will bowl the Maples, under Jas. McGowan, while on Friday night the Thistles, under Joseph Dever, will meet the Roses, with E. Harrington as captain.

BUYERS FARM HERE AND COMES FROM WINNIPEG TO MAKE HOME IN EAST

The days when the east was drained of her best blood by emigration to the west are passing and the reaction is coming. This has been illustrated by the number of persons who have returned from the west to find an ideal home in New Brunswick, and a recent sale made by Alfred Burley & Co. gives another illustration of this movement.

This is the sale of the John H. Bradshaw farm at St. Martins to W. H. C. Chambre, of Winnipeg. The farm comprises 220 acres with good buildings and orchards and has been kept in a fair state of cultivation. Mr. Chambre, with his wife and family, is coming east in about two weeks to take possession. They intend to specialize in poultry raising and will bring a large quantity of stock with them from the west.

John Jackson has sold his two storey, two family wooden dwelling on a freehold lot, 40 by 125 feet, 65 Elliot row, to a local purchaser who will occupy one flat. The sale was made through Allison & Thomas.

The Business Man or College Chap Who Is About to Invest in Fall Clothing Should Know---

This is the twenty-fifth fall and winter season we've announced our readiness to supply the men and young men of Saint John and vicinity with the best clothing made.

That during all this stretch of years we've met all sorts of competition, and have not only held our own but have forged ahead and actually outdistanced all rivals.

That today our clothing store leads the entire country in volume of business.

That this great success is the result of selling better clothing for the money than any other store.

That at all other stores two profits must be paid—the manufacturer's and the retailer's, and this doubling-up of profits means an income of 25 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent. in the price of clothing.

That every garment sold at Oak Hall is up-to-the-last-tick-of-the-clock in style, and is guaranteed for satisfactory service.

That anyone can have his money back for any garment that doesn't turn out right.

NEW VELOUR HATS

MADE IN AUSTRIA

We have just opened several new lines of AUSTRIAN VELOUR HATS. As a serviceable and warm hat for Fall and Winter, our Velours cannot be beaten. They are the same in fine or wet weather.

The success we have had in past seasons with the particular make we handle gives us great confidence in it, and we know that every Velour we sell will wear as represented by our salesmen. Come in and see the new shapes.

The colors are Browns, Greens, Black and Grey.
