ALD. LOUNSBURY'S DINNER TO THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

One of The Jolliest Functions of the Season.—Significant Remarks Made in Response to Toasts.—Chatham Will Have Another Pulp Mill.

The dinner given by Ald. George A. Warden Kerr made a witty reply to Lounsbury last Thursday evening in the Waverley Hotel to the members of the Municipal Council was a very jolly affair. There were present besides the host, Warden Kerr, Couns. J. S. Ford, W. A. Campbell, Frank D. Swin, Ronald Hurley, F. A. Brophy, George Hayes, Thomas Johnston, Everett Parker, Christopher Crocker, Thomas W. Flett, A. M. Saunders, Henry Bograque, Placide Chaisson, Lawrence Doyle, George Watt, James Cameron, Wm. V. Ullack, Phineas Williston, Dan Lewis, Wm. Anderson, and Romain Savoy, Hon. John E. Burchill, M. P. P., Mayor Morrison, Collector Park, County Auditor E. J. Williston, and Messrs. C. E. Fish, M. P. P., John O'Brien, M. P. P., J. L. Stewart, and A. E. Golding.

Mr. Lounsbury was a delightful host. His genial though unassuming manner, combined with the Scotch wit of Warden Kerr, and the spontaneous and pleasant remarks of Hon. Mr. Burchill inspired cheerfulness in the party and infused a home-like feeling in everybody. The Council members one and all proved to be jolly fellows. They did not possess that unbecoming restraint and diffidence of manner which makes some dinners dull and tiresome. They are—as the French would say "beau esprits".

Mr. Lounsbury of course occupied the seat at the head of the table and on his right was Warden Kerr, and on his left Mayor Morrison. The dinner—well—too much cannot be said in praise of this all important part of the function. It was elaborate enough to suit the most ardent follower of Epicurus and dainty enough to suit the most fastidious. But judging from the heartiness with which everybody ordered and re-ordered we would say there were very few, if any of the latter present. Yes Mr. McKee is to be congratulated on the excellence of the meal and on the manner in which it was served.

The speeches were brilliant, witty, and in some cases full of significance. After the Queen's health had been drunk, the toast of the Army and Navy was proposed and replied to by Mr. C. E. Fish, M. P. P., and Rev. A. F. Brown. Mr. Fish who is an ex-lieutenant in the 13th Field Battery made a bright and interesting speech. He felt that the subject of Queen Victoria had never taken a greater interest in the army than they were taking at present. The interest manifested was not due to a love of spoil or gain, but to a love of liberty, justice and equality. Our feelings were different now from what they were a year ago. We were preoccupied and troubled then; now we were happy with the knowledge that we had turned reverses in South Africa to victories and a tedious war to guerrilla-like skirmishes. He referred to the honor that our soldiers had bestowed upon themselves and upon Canada by their glorious work, and he felt that we would always be indebted to them.

No speaker at the dinner was probably more conversant with the subject of his toast than was the Rev. A. F. Brown and when he rose to respond to the toast of the army silence prevailed the room. After a few introductory remarks, Mr. Brown said that there had been a lot of newspaper criticism of the British Army of late. He explained the injustice of it all, emphasizing his remarks by vividly describing the heroism of the late Lieut. Roberts and others, and the clever work of several generals in South Africa. He felt that the British army had not only been fighting the Boers, but she had been face to face with the whole world. The speaker referred to the part Canada had taken in the war and afterward to Great Britain's navy. He sat down amid a storm of applause.

Mr. W. A. Park made a splendid reply to the toast of the Dominion Parliament, although on rising he expressed a doubt as to his ability and fitness to do so. He remarked that he felt out of place. He had never been in parliament, and never had aspirations in that direction. However Mr. Park invariably does a toast full of justice and his speech that night was no exception to the rule. He paid glowing tributes to the men who had represented the County at Ottawa.

Hon. J. P. Burchill in rising to respond to the toast of the Local Legislature said that he could not complain of his toast, as he had replied to it almost as often as he had said his prayers. In the course of his remarks he paid tributes to the late Messrs. Legere and Kent and to the late Wm. W. S. Thompson, remarking that Mr. Thompson's general conduct was greatly missed.

OUR QUEEN IS DEAD.

Osborne House, Jan. 21, 12.15 a.m.—An official bulletin issued at midnight says the Queen's condition late this evening became more serious with increasing weakness and diminished power of taking nourishment. A message was sent to the Prince of Wales and Emperor William summoning them to the Queen's bedside. The Prince starts for Osborne House at 8 o'clock this morning. Details are not obtainable at this hour but it is asserted that Her Majesty's condition is chiefly due to a severe spell and an increase of the paralytic symptoms.

Cows, Jan. 22, 12.15 a.m.—A bulletin issued at midnight announced that there was no material change in the Queen's condition. London, Jan. 22.—The Queen passed away at 8 o'clock this morning, in the presence of the immediate members of the Royal family including Emperor William. Messages of condolence were pouring in from all parts of the world.

The news of the Queen's fatal illness and subsequent death was heard in Newcastle with profound sorrow. When the word reached here early in the afternoon, flags were hoisted at half mast and at 6 o'clock the bells of every church pealed forth a solemn requiem. It is likely a day of mourning will be set all over the British dominions. It will probably be Friday. Schools and stores will be closed and public services held. 8 o'clock London time is 12.10 Newcastle time.

OUR MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

(Continued from page 4) List of parish officers for South Esk passed on motion of Coun. Tozer. On motion of Coun. Savoy the following returns passed—W. B. Ross (returning collector)—$7 to be paid com'r for his services, Wm. L. Davidson ($10 to be paid com'r for his services), Benonie Russell (commission charged that com'r is not entitled to; $14 to be paid com'r for his services), highway com'r. It was ordered that the return of J. W. Robertson, highway com'r be furnished next session, this report to be furnished in correct and return being incorrect and impossible to audit. S. Thomson's bill for Alnwick by selection $18, passed at $10.

On motion of Coun. Connors the following returns passed—Highway com'r: F. W. Russell (to be paid $8.40 more commission leaving $9.81 on hand), Alex. Dickson, P. Connors ($5.00 to be paid com'r), Geo. E. Fisher and Chas. Sargeant ($5.00 commission due com'r); collectors rates; Albert J. Frazer (mistake of $8.20; Sec. Treasurer to collect for collector) Wm. Johnston and Thos. King, J. L. Stewart's bill, $7.45, and T. M. Gray's bill, $2.00; Geo. J. Vaughan's bill against Com'r Blake, $20.05 and J. Kelly's $20 passed, to be paid by the com'r this year. A. & R. Loggie's bill against Com'r Blake, $38.63 passed less amount included in it for kerol.

Coun. Watt submitted the County Accounts Com. report respecting Scott Act accounts, as follows: Your committee on Public Accounts here with present you with annual report of John Menzies, Inspector under the Canada Temperance Act. We regret that the Inspector appears to find it so difficult to get the necessary support from the public to enable him more efficiently to carry out the act. Since revenue is not the only result desired, your committee cannot complain at the Inspector's failure to show a large balance on hand. Personal expenses, since we learn that his efforts are resulting in the very material lessening of the sale of liquor in our county.

Your committee feeling that in order to insure a more thorough carrying out of the enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act, it is necessary to grant your Inspector a larger salary than he now receives. We therefore recommend that his salary for the ensuing year shall be $500. Respectfully submitted, F. D. Swin, Chairman.

The returns of Justice Niven shows that the fines imposed during the year were $900 and costs $209.00, of which $600 fine and 77.15 costs were collected. Former fines collected $106. Inspector Menzies says in his report that 23 prosecutions were commenced during the year, of which three failed because defendants could not be served. Three were dismissed want of evidence. Sixteen were fined for first offence, and one for second offence to jail. Five have so far evaded arrest. The act has been enforced as rigidly as it was possible to enforce it, every violation discovered or believed, on reasonable grounds, to have been discovered, was prosecuted with the utmost vigor.

I found many drawbacks in the enforcement of the act arising from various causes, the chief among them is the nearest of counties where licenses are issued and where they may be had without offence to any statute. The vendors, too, or at least one of them, has refused to allow me to inspect the prescriptions filed in the books or entries recorded in the sales, as provided by the act; and I am advised by my Council that I have no redress in this respect, as the act, while commanding the books and prescriptions to be open for my inspection, provides no penalty in case of refusal. Owing to this I cannot believe that large quantities of liquor are being sold in the licensed counties. I have the pleasure to say that the revenue for the year was $100,000.00.

A DAY'S MOOSE HUNTING IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

The Thrill and Excitement of the Chase Described by One Who Has Hunted in Our Northern Wilds. —An Interesting Account.

Sportsmen's tales are frequently classed in the same category as the proverbial fish story, and their graphic accounts of thrilling adventures and hairbreadth escapes are received with the serene indifference or open laughter which betrays the incredulous listener. In spite of this, I still maintain that a successful moose hunt is one of the most enjoyable experiences which the mind of man can contemplate. One should, however, possess more spirit and muscle than Byron's Don Juan, who "thought at heart like courtly Chesterfield." Who, after a long chase o'er hills, dales, bushes And what not—though he rode beyond Ask'd next day "if men ever hunted twice."

September of the present year found me in northern New Brunswick, seventy miles from the terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. The forest here is dense, and so isolated that the voice of the great city is hushed, and the comforts of home are enjoyed only in retrospect or anticipation. Long chains of beautiful dated mountains ranging from a thousand to twenty-seven hundred feet in height, supplement these timber lands; and here are lakes and streams which keep an even more temperature of little more than forty degrees, where countless trout and salmon are seen darting through the transparent water.

Here the hunter and fisherman are in their element amid the haunts of nature, where winds and rushing waters hold high carnival, and echoes sound through the primitive woods in mad revelry, uninterfered by the sounds of human life. This is the home and playground of nature's unnamed children. And yet, like everything else it bears itself the seeds of inevitable change; it will not be long before the lumberman's ax and the stevedore's saw will rival the echoes, for here abound the noble and stately spruce, birch and fir trees, whose grand branches and lofty trunks seem to mock the puny stature and brief existence of mankind.

It was on the 10th of the month that I gathered up rifle, blankets, cot, moccasins, gun clothing and everything else necessary to a hunting expedition, and started out with a firm determination to kill the moose—the largest and noblest game in the Western Hemisphere. To those unfamiliar with the appearance of this mammoth deer, a few words of description may prove interesting. The bull moose is a fine specimen of strength, swiftness and beauty, weighing at the age of two years, from three hundred and fifty to five hundred pounds and increasing in size until the adult weighs from twelve to fifteen hundred pounds. His strength is that of a giant, the huge muscles covering his closely knit form are capable of great endurance, and he is known to have traveled fifty miles in one day without noticeable exhaustion.

His fore feet are his means of defense, one of these formidable weapons will instantly kill his enemy, whether man or beast. Like most other wild animals he prefers retreat and peace if possible, but if brought to bay, he is ferocious and dangerous. His speed is as the wind, impossible as this seems when one considers his great bulk and massive cumbersome antler spreading a breadth of from thirty to sixty inches.

The results have been very satisfactory. During the many demonstrations which took place this year, the best of order prevailed, and drunkenness was almost, if not quite unknown; and I found the same good order and sobriety at all the picnics and assemblies which I attended throughout the county. From a financial standpoint, considering the cutting off at both towns, the results were quite satisfactory. The net receipts were over and above all outlays and expenses, $189.15, which amount nearly balances the deficit of last year. There are still $250 of fines outstanding, besides a considerable amount of costs against offenders who have thus far evaded process, and a portion of which will, no doubt, be realized at a later date, as they will not all be able to evade arrest very long.

The accounts showed $100.40 paid for travelling expenses and $105 to T. W. Butler for professional services. The report was adopted. Coun. Watt moved that the Sec. Treasurer be empowered to prepare a bill to authorize the county to borrow $10,000 per centum per annum. It was carried in the affirmative. It was further resolved, that the county be authorized to borrow money to pay county expenses. The bill was passed. (Continued on page 17.)

NORTHUMBERLAND MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

NEWCASTLE, Jan. 23, 1901.—The Municipal Council met at the courthouse at 10 o'clock a.m. Warden Kerr called the Council to order. Sec-Treasurer Thompson said he was ill, having taken a severe cold that had settled on his lungs, and he would have to beg the indulgence of the Council for the day. Mr. Charles Thompson would take the minutes, and he (the Sec-Treasurer) hoped to be able to perform his duties to-morrow. On motion of Coun. Watt it was ordered that the Sec-Treasurer be excused for the day. The roll was called, as follows: Ludlow—J. S. Pond, W. A. Campbell. Blissfield—Frank D. Swim, Ronald Hurley. Blackville—F. A. Brophy, Geo. Hays. North Esk—Michael Ryan, David Whitley. South Esk—Thos. Johnston, Jared Tozer. Derby—Everett Parker, Chris. Crocker. Nelson—Jos. W. Flett, A. M. Saunders. Rogerville—Henry Bourke, Placide Chausson. Newcastle—A. A. Davidson, Lawrence Day, Geo. A. Lounsbury. Chatham—Wm. Kerr, Jas. F. Connors, Geo. Watt. Ulock—Jas. Cameron, Wm. V. Ulock. Hardwicke—Phineas Williston, Dan. Lewis. Alnwick—Wm. Anderson, Roman Saunders. The resolutions of Coun. Watt as representative of the Chatham Town Council, and of Coun. Lounsbury, as representative of Newcastle Town Council, were read. Minutes were read and approved. Coun. Tozer moved that J. L. Stewart be official reporter, Coun. Pond nominated A. E. Golding, Stewart was elected, 19 to 6. On motion of Coun. Pond the following committee was appointed to nominate standing committees—Connors, Tozer, Swim. Constables Irving and Cassidy were appointed to attend the Council. Coun. Connors reported the following standing committees: County Accounts—Swim, Tozer, Pond, Watt, Davidson. Alnhouse Accounts—Parker, Cameron, Hurley, Whitney. Petitions—Flett, Doyle Ulock, Johnston, Anderson. Contingencies—Connors, Parker, Tozer, Lounsbury. Parish Accounts—Johnston, Parker, Ryan, Brophy, Hurley, Campbell, Bourke, Doyle, Savoy, Ulock, Saunders, Connors, Lewis. To Examine Jail—Campbell, Savoy, Williston. To Visit Almshouse—Doyle, Swim, Cameron. Printing—Kerr, Davidson, Parker. By-laws—Davidson, Connors, Tozer. Report adopted. On motion of Coun. Tozer adjourned till 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON. On reassembling the Warden read a letter from R. A. Lawlor asking that a fine of $100 and costs imposed on Roger Flanagan, Chatham, in 1895, by Parish Court Commissioner Fraser, for a second violation of the Canada Temperance Act, be refunded on the ground that the Supreme Court, on Mr. Flanagan's appeal against a subsequent conviction for a third offence, had decided that Mr. Fraser had no jurisdiction in Scott Act cases. Upon therefore, Mr. Flanagan had not been legally convicted of a second offence. The Warden suggested that it be referred to a committee, and on motion of Coun. Ryan this was done in the following committee appointed—Davidson, Tozer, Cameron, with instructions to investigate and report. Coun. Anderson presented the petition of John Flanagan, M. D., J. Baxter, M. S. H. and others, praying that the small grant $100 towards the $250 required to purchase a set of chairs for the 73rd Regiment. Referred to Com. on Petitions. Coun. Lounsbury presented the petition of Patrick Hennessey, that the lease of a lot now occupied by Patrick Regan be transferred from the petitioner to the latter. Referred to Com. on Petitions. Coun. Watt moved that the Sec. Treasurer be asked to furnish a list of county lands, with the names of the holders, the rents paid, and if they were leased by public auction or otherwise. Coun. Pond thought a committee, of which Coun. Connors was a member, had been appointed to secure this information. Perhaps they could report. Coun. Connors had no recollection of any such committee. Coun. Davidson moved to amend by asking for a list of all the properties formerly belonging to the county that are now held by Chatham. Coun. Watt accepted the amendment and the motion passed. Coun. Tozer said Inspector Menzies desired to be heard in reference to the Flanagan petition, and moved that he be heard which was carried. Mr. Menzies said he had listened attentively to Mr. Lawlor's letter, and some of its statements were not true. The conviction for a third offence was not quashed. Mr. Lawlor and Mr. Flanagan had appealed to him to let it drop, as Chatham had passed out of his jurisdiction and the county would get no money out of it if the conviction were sustained. He had agreed to let it drop and it was dropped accordingly. It was never finally settled in the Supreme Court. It was taking a mean, contemptible advantage to bring it up here and now Mr. Murray, who had prosecuted the case ought to be heard on it, but he (Mr. Menzies) was not afraid to argue it himself with Mr. Lawlor. Mr. Flanagan could not get the money back, as the conviction had not been quashed. He had his remedy appeal—if the Court Commissioner had no jurisdiction, and had not taken it. Coun. Connors said that this was out of order. The petition had been referred to a committee, and the committee should be left to act on it. He was, moreover, opposed to allowing everybody who wanted to air his views on any subject to take up the time of Council. The Warden thought he was justified in putting the motion that Mr. Menzies be heard, though he entirely concurred in Coun. Connors' view that the committee should be left to consider it. Coun. Tozer thought if anybody was out of order it was Coun. Connors in making such remarks. Coun. Connors said he did not intend his remarks to apply so much to this case as to others.

WEDNESDAY. The Warden presented the petition of Mr. Urquhart, Blackville, for the return of $3 taxes paid to him, as he did not come of age, as proved by his mother's sworn statement, till June 3rd, 1901. Coun. Ryan took the objection that it should have been presented by the Councilors of Blackville. It passed to Com. on Petitions. Coun. Flett read a communication from the chairman of the County Board of Health, Dr. Wilson, asking that $500 be appropriated to pay the bills incurred by the Board in respect to smallpox, and two more cases had developed since Jan. 12th. Houses had been quarantined, guards placed on duty and provisions supplied.

The total expense, including fumigation and vaccination was estimated at $600. Coun. Watt said it was the duty of the Council to grant the money, but the Board should have the bills passed by its Council and paid out of contingencies. He read the law, showing that the County Councils are compelled to pay all properly certified bills incurred by Boards of Health. He explained, in reply to the Warden, that all bills had to be approved by its Provincial Board, and that the Premier had intimated that the Provincial Government might refund a certain amount of the expenditure. Coun. Flett had understood from Dr. Haves that the bills would be brought in. The $500 was surely an approximation of what would be required to be in the Sec-Treasurer's hands for the payment of bills incurred in connection with the smallpox cases. He would see that the bills were brought in. Coun. Connors moved that Coun. Flett be requested to get the County Board to submit bills that had been incurred. Carried. On motion of Coun. Campbell the following Ludlow returns passed—Richard Pond ($3.69 due com'r.) Wm. A. Brown and Wm. R. McClusky no vouchers for money expended—vouchers to be filed next session, highway com'r; Geo. Neagles ($5.27 to be regarded to collection), col. rates, G. O. Neagles, gold road tax. On motion of Coun. Ryan, Council adjourned till 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON. Coun. Saunders read the petition of Anthony Dempsey, Nelson, for the return of $2.25 taxes, as he had paid his taxes in two places. Referred to Com. on Petitions. Coun. Parker moved that the Highway Commission for No. 2, Derby, be authorized to expend half of the road tax for that district in extending the sidewalk from Wilson's corner southward. Coun. Connors said that the Council had no authority to deal with the matter. The com'r could not expend the money as he pleased. Coun. Parker said that this had been done here before. Coun. Pond—No harm will be done by approving of the proposed expenditure. Coun. Ryan—If the Derby Councilors are willing other should not object. Coun. Connors—I am not trying to interfere in the affairs of the parish of Derby. It is merely a question of law. The Councilors should appoint a com'r who will expend the money as required. Coun. Watt—We should not interfere at all in the matter. Coun. Parker—Arrangements have already been made for the expenditure of the money on the sidewalk. A resolution such as this passed this Council last year. Coun. Swim—The same thing was done in our parish last year I spoke to the Sec. Treasurer of our desire to expend the money on a sidewalk, and he advised me to get a resolution of this kind passed by the Council. This may be a question of the right of a com'r to expend road taxes on a sidewalk. The resolution was adopted. On motion of Coun. Tozer road division No. 1, South Esk, was divided into two districts. Coun. Flett said Mr. Berchill had asked him to have a few highway commissioners appointed as possible, as there was not much money to divide among them. Descriptions of the districts for which they are appointed were also given. Constables Pond, Saunders, Ryan, Watt and Connors, discussing the law regarding the com'r to furnish the Council with detailed descriptions of their districts. Coun. Doyle presented the petition of John Gordon, Newcastle, for a reduction of taxation.

One of the soldiers from the front says that in South Africa he was several times at the house of an Englishman who married a Boer woman. The woman told him that in a fight near their place an English officer who was mortally wounded was brought in to her doorstep where he died in a few moments. She said that he cursed in a most blood curdling fashion until he died. The dead officer's mother had secured her address and had written her a pathetic letter asking what were the last words of her son. The Boer woman told the Canadian said, "tell her his last words were 'thank God I did my duty.' It won't hurt you and it will do her a world of good." The Boer woman took his advice and now the English mother has a most satisfying picture of her son's last moments than if she knew the truth. Woodstock Despatch.

Mr. A. J. Heath, District Passenger Agent of the C. P. R. was in the city last evening and while he was there the Tourist Committee and the big game guides who were in town, together with Mr. W. T. Chestnut, had a conference with him regarding the coming Sportsmen's Shows at Chicago and New York. As outlined in THE GLAZIER several days ago several of the leading guides have made a proposition to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to attend these Shows, make a good exhibit of the big game of New Brunswick and generally advertise the province as a sportsman's and tourist's resort, the C. P. R. to furnish the guides with transportation to and from New York and Chicago, and to supply the advertising matter for distribution at the Shows.

While Mr. Heath was unable to give the guides a decided answer as to what the Railway Company would do, he was personally in favor of the scheme and assured the meeting that he would recommend it to the General Passenger Agent, Norman F. T. G. Grant.

She will present her aquatic trilobite to the County Natural History Society. We congratulate Miss Murray on her find.

At the annual session of the Gloucester Municipal Council held at Bathurst last week it was decided to have a new valuation prepared at once. As is well known there has been no valuation since 1884, and there must be many changes since that date. The matter has been brought to the notice of the Council many times, but as it is an expensive undertaking, and the county has had uphill work for several years back, meeting liabilities of one kind and another, the very needful work of valuing property has been postponed from time to time. It is felt that there should be no further delay principally because under the old valuation the parish of Bathurst is paying about one third of the whole expense of the county business, while under a new valuation it is confidently expected that Bathurst will not have to pay more than a fifth at least.

We are pleased to acknowledge receipt from Rev. E. P. Wallace of Chatham, of a handsome souvenir of the visit of His Excellency Mgr. Falconio to the diocese of Chatham. It is illustrated with half tone pictures of the Appointed Delegate and Their Relationship, Boston and Bathurst also of St. Michael's and St. Bernard's Churches, and of the various religious and social events which took place during the visit of His Excellency to the diocese of Chatham.

The beautiful new Roman Catholic Church at Bathurst which is not surpassed in workmanship and design by any structure of the kind in the province, is now under the hands of five French Artists who are painting and decorating the interior. It is expected that from six weeks to two months work of these gentlemen will be required to carry out the artistic designs which have been accepted by the Bishop. As these Artists have a reputation for their beautiful work, the interior of the building will present a noble and appropriate appearance.

Employ Your Idle Time.

The Knitting Syndicate, Limited, of Toronto are offering remunerative home work to be done with their Automatic Seamless Knitting Machine. There's work that any one can easily learn and could be done by different members of the family according as they had leisure, a good way to make the idle minutes pay the rent and buy the things. ### DIED.

A banquet was held in the Odd-Fellows Hall, Chatham, Monday night in honor of Mr. R. S. Ward, a South African hero who has justly earned a high mark for the new century, and whose remarkable enterprise on the part of the publisher when we consider that it is intended solely for free distribution. The numerous publications of this character are usually gotten up with the single idea of cheapness, while the thought of expense has certainly been set aside in the case of the New York Almanac.

The artistic colorings of the cover, the accuracy of its calculations and its fund of information all go to make it well worthy of special and preservation. It has innumerable hints for mothers as to the care of children. A unique page is the "Baby's Record" page, which is in blank to be filled in with baby's name, date of birth, etc. first with the mother, and then by the doctor.

The work is a very creditable piece of work, and is prepared in any language.

World Wide.

A WEEKLY REPRINT OF ARTICLES FROM LEADING JOURNALS AND REVIEWS SELECTING THE CURRENT THOUGHT OF BOTH HEMISPHERES.

As many of the ablest writers are now engaged in journalism, much writing of the highest quality in matter and style is being seen only by the readers of each peculiar newspaper, and by them often lost before it is read. Much of such writing is only of local and very transient interest, but a large amount of human interest is the various fields of human interest—the shifting scenes of the world's great drama to letters and science and beautiful thought.

It was first intended to publish WORLD WIDE upon the paper at a higher cost, but recalling the long list of elegant publications, and the fact that the past has been started in Canada, only to fall and reflecting that good taste in literature does not always imply the means to pay for costly journals, and appreciative literary excellence on the plain sheet, it has been decided to offer WORLD WIDE at the lowest possible price, in order to give all who desire good reading an equal opportunity.

Published weekly, sixteen pages. Two cents.

75c per annum, prepaid to any address in Canada or U. S.

25c additional for delivery in Montreal or to foreign countries.

A leading physician told me that it was only a question of time until it would wear me out, but thanks to this wonderful remedy of Dr. Chase's I am now a strong man." 25c a bottle, all dealers.

SOMEONE GOT IT.

Detective John Hinz of St. John has been suspended, pending investigation into the charge that he accepted "hush" money from the proprietors of houses of ill-fame. The detective denies the charge. In our opinion the people who gave the detective the money are fools or else the charges are false, for we understand that it is not a part of the detective's duties to raid these houses. It comes under the chief's jurisdiction. The detective may participate in a raid, but he is not supposed to investigate or suppress one. However someone has undoubtedly received "hush money" from these demi-mondes, for it seems years and years ago since we saw an account of a raid on fast houses in St. John. Have the people been asleep!

OUR NEXT MAYOR.

Mayor Morrison, in the course of his speech at the County Council dinner the other night, conveyed to us the impression that Ald. Lounsbury would be a candidate for Mayor at the next civic election. During Mr. Lounsbury's short experience in public life he has succeeded in winning the confidence, the respect and the admiration of the electors. And no man on the present Council Board deserves the good opinion of the people more than the chairman of the Board of Works. To say the least he has been faithful to the trust reposed in him, and while the road work was in progress, he spent night and day in the performance of his duties. Yes, it is our humble opinion that the people of this town could not choose a better Chief Magistrate than George A. Lounsbury.

SAGE REMARKS.

As Josh Billings would say, "there was more meat than drink" in Coun. Flett's remarks at the Lounsbury dinner the other night. Yes, Coun. Flett, we would like to hear more men speak as you do. You have given us the thread of a question which we intend following up. Lack of space prevents us from saying any more on the subject this week.

We wouldn't be surprised to see the Intercolonial the greatest railroad in the country before Andrew G. Blair gets through with it. He will expend $2,000,000 on the line between Truro and Sydney; he has ordered sixty-five new engines, he will greatly improve Sydney's terminal facilities and establish a new ferry boat service at Mulgrave.

Commodore Stewart objects to John L. Carleton's criticism of Everett King's, Hamlet. A man who has played Hamlet as often as our downriver friend should be a good judge of the character.

You can take your choice between farce and tragedy next Thursday night. Price Weiber is at the Masonic Hall and the Liberal Convention occupies the Temperance Hall.

Majuba Day.

The days between the 19th and 20th of February 1879, will be memorable in the history of the South African war. The part taken by the Canadian troops on that day when the "lion of the north"—General Cronje—was forced to surrender, will be spoken of as a work worthy of any regiment. The position they occupied is clearly depicted in the picture which The Weekly Freeman is giving free to its yearly subscribers. A simple eye can see at this office. It is certainly worthy of a place in every Canadian home.

Ald. Lounsbury's dinner.

There are no business persons who are better qualified to make this a great dinner than the subject in question. The man who of his own free will had accord has gone through the many steps of that which is a great dinner. The man who has been so successful in his work has been so successful in his work. The man who has been so successful in his work has been so successful in his work.

But I feel this evening that I cannot pay too high a tribute to woman's worth for it is not that that this world owes to it, but that it is the spiritual development of the age of woman's maturing years.

The motion of Coun. Davidson, 19, which was carried by a vote of 12 to 7, was that the Council should have a committee to look after the public interests as if they were their own.

Coun. Ryan would treat all alike, and would not make a distinction between the rich and the poor.

Coun. Davidson said the effect of the motion would be to stand Mr. Rundle out for another year. It would be unfair to shut the application. It should be dealt with at once.

Coun. Ryan thought it of no use to appoint another committee.

Coun. Flett asked what further report another committee could bring in.

A Goddess of Africa

A Story of the Golden Fleece.

BY ST. GEORGE RATHBORNE

Author of "MISS CAPRICE," "DR. JACK'S WIFE," "DR. JACK," ETC., ETC.

Although he had hated to use his revolver for many reasons, it began to look as though such a thing would become necessary, and he fumbling among numerous dangling cat-tails with the intention of dragging the six-shooter into the argument, when by a mere accident the wooden pole of his assaet struck the black knuckles of the savage whom he had marked for an early and swift transit to the happy hunting grounds of the Zambodi.

The effect was simply electrical, for the toughest sort of a man's circulation burst from the lips of the black duelist, almost petrifying Rex, who burst out with a gasp:

"Jim Hudsoe, is it you?"

And the wild looking savage, with whom he had been fencing so desperately in the attempt to have his life staggered back and dropped his own weapon while he cried:

"The devil! It's Mr. Hastings, sure pop!"

At this a couple of figures ran forward, bursting through the sheltering bushes.

No need to tell Rex who they were, for the one in the lead was tall, of form, with the figure an athlete might envy.

Another moment and he found the arms of the Englishman around him in spite of the paint and paraphernalia that went to make a full-dressed Zambodi warrior out of him, and he enjoyed the felicity of a genuine bear hug; while Hudsoe danced around them endeavoring to imitate the eccentric gestures and hops of a warrior preparing to go upon the war-path, and Little Phil stood near by, evidently in sympathy with it all.

This was an event worthy of being celebrated—an event to be marked in the calendar of their lives with a white cross.

From despair they had suddenly found reason for the wildest hope, and Rex gave his artist friend as good a thing in the line of a bear hug as he received.

"This is a miracle—we had reason to believe you might be in that house they were bombarding, but I never dreamed you had changed to a Zambodi," declared Lord Bruno.

"And how came you here—where are the others, Monsieur Jules, the doctor, Red Eric?" asked Rex, with a horrible suspicion flashed over him that these brave fellow adventurers might have met the fate that even hangs over those who invade hostile lands.

"Don't worry—the boys are all right. We were to meet them here after they had set fire to the kraal."

"What! Was that your work?"

"I rather think you got in ahead of the boys. When I saw the fire balls popping over the stockade I knew it was all day with the whole business. What a grand sight, Rex! Perhaps some day we may paint it between us. It would make a score for an exhibition. But tell me, my dear fellow, is this young girl with you the party known as the fair god of the Zambodi?"

Lord Bruno's voice took on a strain of earnestness and anxiety, as he turned toward the party in whom he was so deeply interested.

Before Rex could make a reply several figures loomed up close by, a signal was uttered, and upon Hudsoe answering, who should advance but Red Eric and his two companions.

"The old cabin's a wreck—couldn't locate 'em there—must have skedaddled, I reckon. But they set fire to the pesky kraal with them fireworks before we could see a match. Glory, just see it across. Gives a fellow a taste of what he can expect afterwards," rattled off the cowboy.

Then he noticed the addition to their number, and when his eyes fell on Maid Marian he guessed the truth, for these independent cattle punchers are quick as lightning.

"Say, that must be Mr. Hastings. This here is quite a neat surprise, and the gal too. Well, if we us know what's good for us, we'll want out of this cussed country like jack rabbits before a prairie fire."

His advice was as sound as a nut and all of them appreciated the fact. Lord Bruno made no effort to address the girl. The first thing to be done was to make good their escape, and once this had been effected minor matters could be easily settled.

So they quitted the little glade that had come so near being the scene of a desperate hand-to-hand combat between two friends in deep discussion, and without bringing on a general battle with the natives seemed good.

Overhead the very heavens were bowed with the reflection of the terrible sea of fire below, and to a timid soul so wonderful was the spectacle that some fears might have been aroused as to the destruction of the whole universe by a wave of flame.

He immediately sought the side of Marian. Much as he despised his ridiculous costume he could not keep his distance. At least she would not consider him less a man because circumstances had compelled him to adopt such a disguise, she who had been beside him when he yielded that weighty sword, hallowed by a history connected with many a Scottish battlefield when Highland clan and Lowland lord pitted their strength against the hosts of Edward.

Haste was a quality essential to success in this game, for although the blacks were for the hour apparently panic-stricken by the terrible quantity that had befallen them, their recovery would be almost as sudden as their collapse.

When the fire died low, and only ashes remained to mark the site of the kraal, the voice of the vindictive and stout-hearted Hastings would make itself heard in the land, calling aloud for vengeance upon those who were primarily responsible for the curse that had fallen upon them.

Then would begin a pursuit that might continue to the very stockade of Bahuvayo, for these Zambodi warriors know little what fear in warfare means. Zulu braves have proven that in mere hand-to-hand battles with British regulars, and the blood of a young Prince of France was consecrated by the assaets of these hard fighters.

Looking backward occasionally they could see that the conflagration was growing gradually lower in volume, as the lodges became more scattered.

The work had been accomplished, and when the shock of desolation passed away they could expect to have a desperate pursuit inaugurated.

But I should have mentioned that in a position to defy the most determined of foes, provided they avoided pitfalls and ambushes, for which these Zulu tribes are noted, trap in their usual means of securing game, and in war they naturally apply the same tactics with a view to exterminating their foes.

The high spirits consequent upon the success of their plans, were not destined to hold out.

Rex saw that something was wrong when a halt was called, and Lord Bruno entered into an earnest discussion with Hudsoe.

The latter struck a match and dropped to the ground as if bent upon examination, and Rex, who had used some strong language.

"What's wrong?" asked Hastings, hurrying to where they stood.

"The horses are gone!" replied the cowboy.

"Here was a fearful calamity, and while Rex could not grasp its full scope as readily as the prairie rider, he realized that an exceedingly grave condition confronted them.

To be afoot in this African wilderness, with a whole tribe of enraged warriors hunting high and low for them was a state of affairs calculated to alarm the boldest.

It must needs be something beyond the ordinary that could make Lord Bruno frown and shake his head.

A closer examination was made. The fact, however disagreeable they might appear.

Some cunning enemy had either seen them hide the animals or else some mere accident had run across them.

At any rate the horses were gone, and it would be useless looking for them.

But for the presence of the young girl the air in that neighborhood would have been fairly sulphurous, such was the rage of Hudsoe and Red Eric.

The doctor being a philosopher, took things as they came, much as a disciple of the prophet Mohamed might have done, and Little Phil without making himself heard, declared that it was pretty much his fault. Hudsoe had suggested having some one to guard the various animals, but he had believed every arm would be needed at the kraal, in order to carry out their designs.

The mischief was done, the horses had been stolen, and now it remained to them to make a safe retreat.

Such emergencies bring out all their wits, and Hudsoe was deeply mortified and inwardly furious at the trick played upon him. He had recovered himself almost to consider what was best to do, when under ordinary circumstances it would have been the only remaining consideration until some

Chronic Bronchitis

Mr. Wm. Davidson, St. Andrews, Que., states:—"Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my chronic bronchitis. I have, without success, tried many remedies for the past six years. Last winter when I had a severe attack and was unable to work I procured a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and am happy to state that the third bottle has cured me as well as usual."

Mr. W. R. Alger, insurance agent, Dallas, Tex., writes:—"I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a severe attack of bronchitis. Permit me to testify to its splendid curative properties. I got better from the time of taking the first dose. Having a family of young children, my doctor's bills have annually come to a considerable sum. I believe a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup occasionally will aid me in reducing them very materially. It costs a bottle, all dealers."

When their horses could be recovered. Now the case was different—Lord Bruno desired to place as much distance between the destroyed kraal, with the vengeful Zambodi, and their own persons, as possible. Perhaps the presence of Marian had something to do with this. At any rate it was determined to make the move.

Hudsoe was fully aroused. He knew full well they would be followed by a swarm of eager vengeance seekers, and to throw these trackers off the trail it was necessary that he bring to bear all the tricks learned in his wild life along the Texas border.

As they turned their backs upon the silent volcano which in the ages gone by had been such a factor in the landscape of that country, with their cries of terror and rage, Lord Bruno managed to get Rex at his side, in order to question him concerning the girl.

"What he heard seemed to give the Briton great satisfaction, for he squeezed the hand of his companion several times.

"You have done me a great favor, my dear fellow. The story is necessary to tell now, and you shall hear it later; but Marian is my sister. The man she called father was my uncle since she was at the bottom of it all, as you may well believe. No wonder he spoke my father's name in that manner, for he had wronged him. I know you will rejoice with me, and if the future shows us that I deserve more than those which now bind us—"

"Stop, I beg," interrupted Rex, "and consider my present condition. I am growing gradually lower in volume, as the lodges became more scattered.

"Hang the looks—beauty's only skin deep after all. I know you to be a brave, big-hearted comrade—a man, I should be honored in claiming as a brother, and any sensible girl must think the same way," returned the impulsive Waterford.

"Let us change the subject. You must explain all this to me, of course?"

"I shall wait until we make our first halt, and then have a quiet talk with Marian. I am sorry to think she has been ignorant of many of the truth, believed me an enemy. You must prepare her for my revelation, Hastings."

"Gladly, and at once."

"By the way, you do not ask after your coat, with its contents, and the horse's treasure?"

"Because I take it for granted they have fallen into the hands of the enemy, and that's the end of the argument's course."

Lord Bruno laughed.

"You are mistaken, right there, Rex."

"But—none of you appear to be staggering under a load of riches—ah! I see, you have cached the whole lot."

"Correct. When we had left the barbarians in the lurch, and believed ourselves safe, we went into camp to cache it as a field of honor. Every man's voice was for you—you had fallen into the hands of the Philistines and must be rescued. Besides, the secret mission that brought me to Zambodi had not been fulfilled. It was Hudsoe's suggestion, about a cache, and as he was a veteran in such work I gladly allowed him to assume the burden. He will explain the marks to you so that you can find the hiding place of your treasure-trove, even should the rest of us never live to reach civilization, which you know is a possibility, now that we

CHAPTER XXVII. IN THE COUNTRY OF THE MATABELE.

All sounds in their rear finally ceased to disturb them. Whether this came from the distance they were placing between themselves and the devastated kraal, or the fact that the blacks were no longer racking the air with their cries of terror and rage, could not of course be known.

"Through the balance of the night they continued to push on. Marian stood it bravely, her life having been spent freely in the open air, so that she was able to endure much that must have exhausted an ordinary girl fresh from civilization.

Jim led them, Jim who was alive to the emergency, and determined that if their foes did overtake them, he would give the black impus a run for his money.

"Twice had they crossed the drift, and it was here the cowboy's ingenuity was brought into full play. The intention of course was to throw their pursuers off the trail, and as water breaks the scent for the dogs, so it could be utilized to distract human trackers.

Thus, the first time they entered the drift, and the water was deep, and in this way walked up the stream half a mile, Marian carrying off her share with the most perfect good nature, accepting the hand of Hastings as they splashed along.

When they left the stream, Hudsoe placed a certain plan, which no trail would remain, and unless the warriors showed unusual shrewdness they were apt to hunt a long time ere the bluffs became manifest.

On the second occasion, when the drift was struck, material for a raft was gathered, the men fashioned a rude one, upon which they floated a long distance, when the course of the stream changing for the worse, they were compelled to force more strike terra firma, and resume their weary tramp.

Rex realized that his companion was growing tired. She leaned more heavily on his arm, and he took occasion to let Lord Bruno know this fact.

A hasty consultation with the guide followed, and Rex was informed that the destination was only a mile further on.

When he told this to Marian she answered cheerfully that she could keep up, and she kept her word.

Rex was pleased with the selection made for a bivouac. He admired the shrewdness of the cowboy in picking out an elevation, for the approach of a foe could be the easier detected.

Maid Marian was only too glad to sit down and rest, and Rex feared she had really overtaxed her powers of endurance.

Lord Bruno took him aside, and after clambering along the bed of a small creek, carefully distributed some loose stones, and healed the missing coat of a cliff.

This then was the secret cache—they had been led by the wonderful shrewdness of Jim Hudsoe directly to the spot which had been the turning point in their flight when mounted.

The little packets of jewels were still in the side pockets just where he had left them.

Thus Rex was able to throw aside his disguise in a measure. The doctor had a spare flannel shirt to loan him, and he managed in some way to cleanse his skin of the coloring matter that had served him so well. It is really surprising how a small thing will sometimes give a great amount of pleasure. Rex could not remember feeling more pleased than when he drew his coat on over that rather aged flannel shirt, and accepted the loan of a cap from his friend. He was in full dress, and it was presented to the queen, if his personal sensations were to be relied on.

And how proudly he stalked into the presence of Marian again, though the darkness gave her but a scant opportunity of learning the change in his attire.

Sleep was needed badly, and Lord Bruno wisely retired from a dress-bed the young girl upon the subject nearest his heart. All that would count in the morning was to get her to form a habit of coughing her from leaving the camp, and he would have been glad to see her in the morning.

Consumption No Barrier.

Shiloh Counteracts Hereditary Tendencies.

Many a man's life has been wrecked simply because he dare not marry. Being conscientious, and knowing that his ancestors have suffered an undied from the dreaded disease of Consumption, he feels himself deterred from the pleasures and responsibilities of married life. Happily, it is now proven that this form of Consumption is no longer an insuperable barrier. The tendency toward Consumption may be overcome in youth or early manhood and womanhood. Proper care, proper diet and proper exercise—top-dressed with Shiloh's Cure—will conquer the handicaps of heredity and make every body so placed equal to the burdens and joys of married life. A prominent young merchant of Winnipeg—who asks that names be not publicly given—has been engaged to marry.

If taken in Time Cures Consumption.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure has been carried hereditary taints of Consumption, and he feared to marry. One day, being in a very despondent mood, his sweetheart trying to cheer him, mentioned having read of several cures effected by Shiloh's Cure and tried to persuade him to give it a trial. He at last consented and once began to take Shiloh's regularly. The result was so encouraging that after a while they were married. That event occurred some eight or nine years ago and no signs of the dreaded malady have yet appeared and neither he nor their two children show exceptional proneness to coughs, colds, or any pulmonary weakness.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure is no common medicine. It is a medicine that cures. We find that the Almshouse has cost about $175 above what was estimated, and the Keary house property realized only $1400, which is about $350 less than the commissioners expected it would bring. We think that the commissioners have been very economical in their running expenses, and are pleased to find no excessive charges.

E. J. PARKER, JAMES CAMERON, DAVID WHITNEY, RONALD HUBLEY.

Coun. Lewis objected to the Hardwicke assessment and moved that it be reduced to $100. It was only $75 last year, and some parishes had not been increased.

The Warden said the Commissioners had recommended these assessments, and they were supposed to look after the interests of their several parishes.

Coun. Lewis said Hardwicke was not always represented at commission meetings. Sometimes notice was not received in time.

Coun. Anderson strongly urged that no change be made in the scale recommended in the report. Hardwicke had nothing to its credit while some other parishes had a surplus. If one had reduced all would ask reductions. He had asked the Chairman why the Keary house had depreciated in value, apparently, and that gentleman had said he knew of no reason for it but the best price obtainable had been got for it. He was satisfied that the Comr's had made every effort to keep down the expenses. The Chairman had given him good and sufficient reasons for the increase of the expenditures beyond the estimates.

Report adopted.

On motion of Coun. Farker a list of parish officers for Derby passed.

Coun. Swim reported Wm. Irving's bill for prisoner's board, $157.40, correct and it passed.

On motion of Coun. Ryan the following North Eek returns passed: Jerh Copp, John Sobie, Jos. Hordford, highway comrs. Robt Adams and Wm. Nowlan, whose highway returns include no vouchers or detailed statements of expenditure, were ordered to make proper returns next January. The returns of John S. Mullin, Chas Smith, Geo McLean ($1 due colr), col. rates, passed; also the returns of Geo. McLean, John S. Mullin, Jas. Urquhart and Chas. Smith, col. of road taxes.

Coun. Flett submitted Board of Health bills amounting to $235 60. Coun. Watt—I move they be referred to the County Accounts Committee. Carried.

Coun. Lewis moved the adoption of a by-law to establish a third polling place in Hardwicke.
