THE HIDDEN ROSES.

Even now within the frozen stems,
June's roses lie concealed,
Till throes sing, and larks soar up,
And Summer be revealed.
Even now, in their enchanted sleep,
Beneath the frozen clod,
The little baby-blossoms wait
The summons of their God.

The snow-time and winter-storm
Will vanish like a cloud;
Soon Spring will cast her swallows forth,
And May-trees blossom proud.
Rainbows will arch the sunny air,
Lamb's leap in every fold,
And thro' the dark warm earth pierce thro'
The crocus flamed with gold.

Winter, the disowned King, will cast
The white mask from his face;
And Spring, his rosy child, with smiles
Will see the swallows chase.
From Night's black grave, like Lazarus,
The striving day comes forth,
The winter-storm sows seeds of joy,
East, west, and youth and north.

Spring comes with sound of gliding leaves,
And songs of waking birds;
The joy of May-time is too great
To shape itself in words.
Soon buds will widen into flowers,
And Summer be revealed;
Even now within the frozen stems,
June's roses lie concealed.

THE MAN THAT KILLED HIS NEIGHBORS.

Reuben Black was a torment in the neighborhood where he resided. The very sight of him had a chilling effect. His wife had a sharp and uncomfortable look. His boys seemed to be in perpetual fear. The cows became startled as soon as he opened the barn-yard gates. The dog dropped his tail between his legs, and eyed him askance, as if to see what humor he was in. The cat looked wild and had been known to rush straight up the chimney when he moved towards her. Even the trees on Reuben's premises had a neglected and desolate appearance. His fields were red with sorrel or overrun with weeds. Everything about him seemed hard and arid as his own countenance. Continual lawsuits involved him in so much trouble and expense that he had not time nor money to spend on the improvement of his farm.

Against Joe Smith, a poor laborer in the neighborhood, he had brought three suits in succession. Joe said he had returned a spade he had borrowed, and Reuben swore he had not.—He sued Joe and recovered damages, for which he ordered the officer to seize his pig. Joe, in his wrath, called him an old swindler, and a curse to the neighborhood. These remarks were soon repeated to Reuben. He brought an action for slander, and recovered very small damages. Provoked at the laugh thus occasioned, he watched for Joe to pass by, and set his dog on him, crying out furiously, "Call me an old swindler again, will you?"

An evil spirit is more contagious than the plague. Joe went home and scolded his wife, boxed little Joe's ears, and kicked the cat, and not one of them knew what it was all for.—Joe's temper grew more and more vindictive, and the love of talking over his troubles at the ginshop increased upon him. Poor Mrs. Smith cried and said it was all owing to Reuben Black, for a better hearted man never lived than her Joe, when she first married him.

Such was the state of things when Simeon Green purchased the farm adjoining Reuben's. This had been much neglected, and had caught thistles and other weeds from the neighboring fields.

His steady perseverance and industry very soon changed the aspect of things on the farm. The trees soon looked clean and vigorous. Fields of grain waved where weeds had only grown before. Roses covered half the house. Even the rough rock which formed the doorstep was edged with golden moss. His wife was a woman of few words, but she sometimes said to her neighbors, with a quiet kind of satisfaction, "Everybody loves my husband that knows him. They cannot help it."

Simeon soon heard of Reuben's character, and remarked, "If he exercises it upon me, I will soon kill him."

"Kill me, will he?" exclaimed Reuben. He said no more; but his tightly compressed mouth had a significant expression. Reuben turned his horse into the highway that very night, for he hoped he would commit some depredation on neighbor Green's premises.—But Joe Smith, seeing the animal at large, let down the bars of Reuben's own corn-field, and the poor beast walked in and feasted as he had not done for many a year. It would have been a great satisfaction to Reuben if he could have brought a suit against his horse; but as it was, he was obliged to content himself with beating him.

His next exploit was to shoot Mary Green's cock, because he stood on the stone wall and crowed a few inches beyond the frontier line that bounded the farm.

A pear-tree in Reuben's garden very improperly stretched an arm a little over Simeon Green's premises. One day little George Green, as he went whistling along, picked up a pear that had fallen into his father's garden.—The instant he touched it he felt something like the sting of a wasp. It was Reuben Black's whip, followed by such a storm of angry words that the poor child rushed into the house with an agony of terror. But this failed also. The boy was soothed by his mother, and told not to go near the pear-tree again; and there the matter ended.

This good-nature caused Reuben to dislike Simeon more than all the rest of the people put together, because he made him feel so uncomfortably in the wrong.

Not long after some labourers employed by Simeon Green, passing over a bit of marshy ground with a heavy team, stuck fast in a bog occasioned by long continued rain. Simeon ventured to ask assistance from his waspish neighbor, who was working at a short distance.

Reuben replied gruffly, "I've got enough to do to attend to my own business."

"Wait awhile," said Green, quietly, smiling; "I will kill him before long. Wait and see if I do not."

It chanced after that Reuben's team did stick fast in the same bog, as the workmen had wished. Simeon noticed it from a neighboring field, and gave directions that the oxen and chains should be sent to his assistance.

"You are in a bad fix, neighbour," said Simeon, as he came alongside the foundered team; "my men are coming with the oxen; we shall soon help you out."

"You may take your oxen back again," replied Reuben; "I want none of your help."

However, the team was soon drawn out, and Simeon and his men went away without waiting for thanks.—When Reuben went home that night he was unusually thoughtful. After smoking awhile in deep contemplation, he gently knocked the ashes from his pipe, and said, with a sigh:

"Peg, Simeon Green has killed me!"

Next morning Reuben marched off to the garden, and cut a big ripe melon, saying that he was going over to Green's to thank him for the oxen.—His wife stood at the door, with one hand on her hip and the other shading the sun from her eyes, to see if he would carry the melon into Simeon Green's house. She could hardly believe her own eyes. He walked quickly, as if afraid he should not be able to carry the unusual impulse into action if he stopped to reconsider the question. "Mrs. Green, here is a melon my wife sent to you, and we think it is a ripe one."

The friendly matron thanked him, and invited him to sit down. But he stood playing with the hatch of the door, and, without raising his eyes, said, "Maybe Mr. Green is not in this morning?"

"He is at the pump, and will be in directly," she replied; and before her words were spoken, the honest man walked in.

"I am glad to see you, neighbour. Take a chair—take a chair."

"Thank you, I can't stop," replied Reuben. He pushed his hat on one side, rubbed his head, looked out of the window, and then said, suddenly as if by a desperate effort, "The fact is Mr. Green, I did not behave right about the oxen."

Never mind—never mind," replied Mr. Green. "Perhaps I shall get into the bog again one of the rainy days. If I do, I shall know whom to call upon. We must try to be to others what we want them to be to us." You know the good looks says so. I have learned by experience that if we speak kind words, we hear kind echoes. If we try to make others happy, it fills them with a wish to make us happy. Perhaps you and I can bring the neighbours round in time to this way of thinking and acting. Who knows?—let us try, Mr. Black, let us try. But come and look at my orchard. I want to show you a tree which I have grafted with very choice apples."

Coming Down in Life.—The great lesson which the wise man is learning all through life, is how to come down without giving up. Learning from the many mortifications and rebuffs to think more humbly of ourselves, and still resolve to do our best.

We aim high at first. Children expect to be always eating pudding and drinking cream; clever boys expect to be famous men. Our vanity and self-love and romance are cut in upon to-day; but if we are wise we never give up.

A form of social "coming down" falls to the lot of many women when they get married. Young girls generally have a glorious ideal of the husband they are to find; handsome, clever, kind, affectionate, probably rich and famous. But a sad pressure is put upon all such fancies.

And men of an imaginative turn do not always find the sympathetic companion of their early visions. Think of the great author walking in the summer fields and saying to his wife, as he looked at the frisking lambs, that seemed so innocent and happy, that he did not wonder that in all ages the lamb has been taken as the emblem of happiness and purity. Fancy the convulsion in his mind when the lady replied, "Yes, lamb is very nice, especially with mint sauce!"

But to return to solemn things, the heroic view is this: Things are bad, but they might be worse, and if we can do no better, rank ourselves with "Nature's underwood and flowers that prosper in the shade."

AT SINTOVA.

Sintova, says Edward King, of the Boston Journal, was inhabited by a large number of wealthy Turks, who have doubtless left much treasure buried in the neighborhood. All the visitors have brought back great quantities of plunder in the shape of elegantly printed and bound Turkish books, caps, pipes, slippers, a good red wine, which is not especially stimulating, and which, despite the famous protest of the Khoran, seems to have been the product of some Turkish vineyard. It appears that it was agreed by the Bulgarians that every one who wished distinctly to espouse the Russian cause should place a chalk mark representing a cross upon his house, and should wear the word "Christian" upon his arm, or shoulder, in short, declare his preference for the Christian faith in some marked manner. The whole town therefore now presents a curious appearance; it seems, at first sight as if every house in town had a cross upon it. It is announced on very good authority that the Turks, who are not lacking in rough shrewdness, marked their houses with the sacred symbol, and thus escaped the pillage which they feared. This is highly probable.

Hunting the Beaver.

"Have you ever hunted them yourself?" asked Willie.

"Once, when quite a young man joined in a hunting expedition with a number of others, some of whom were Indians and experienced trappers," answered his uncle. "Tell us all about it, Uncle," said both boys in the same breath. "It must have been a famous sport."

"For us it certainly was," said Uncle George, laughing; "but whether the beavers enjoyed it as well, I leave you to imagine. We started out armed with spears and other necessary instruments, and having arrived at a collection of their houses, we proceeded first to stake the river all the way across, to prevent them from passing. This done, the more experienced of the number walked along the edge of the banks, knocking repeatedly against the ice with a club attached to the end of a staff four or five feet long, with which each was provided. Those accustomed to it can tell at once by the sound when they strike opposite any of the holes which form the beavers' retreats, and an opening was made in the ice, large enough to admit an old beaver. In this way they proceeded until all, or at least, as many as possible of the holes had been discovered. While this was being done by the principal men, the others, including myself, were busy breaking open the houses, and I assure you we found it no easy work, for some were five or six feet thick, and one as less than eight feet thick on the crown. We could easily tell when the beaver retreated to their holes in the bank for shelter, by attending to the motion of the water. This being seen, the entrance was blocked up with stakes of wood, after which the animal was dispatched with a spear, and drawn up by the hand, if he could be reached; if not, by means of a hook fastened to the end of a stick intended for that purpose. Sometimes, however, they are caught in nets, and in summer very frequently in traps."

Fred, who was very fond of animals, and possessed pets of all kinds, now wished to know if they were ever tamed.

"Yes," said Uncle George. "I had one given to me, which had been trapped, when I was a youth. At first I confined it in a wire cage, but afterwards it became so tame that it would answer to its name and follow me around like a dog. If I were absent it evidently missed me, and, upon my return always showed unmistakable signs of pleasure. We were often amused by the little fellow's antics, and, one day on returning, found that he had woven the branches given him to nibble upon, through the bars of his cage, forming a dam; having filled up the holes by pieces of carrots and other vegetables, given as food, littered into the required size and shape. Before this he sat with a satisfied air, as though he had performed as necessary a task as the same would have been had it been erected in a lake or river. This feat was afterwards repeated several times in our sitting room, where I kept him during the winter, the dam being made up of such articles as he could contrive to lay hold of, thus showing that the beavers, ingenious and clever as he most assuredly is, must be guided entirely by instinct, and not by reason."—From "A Visit to the Beavers."

A North Carolina boy up a tree tied a rope around his neck, told his sister he was going to hang himself, and jumped to the ground, supposing the rope was long enough to reach, but it was seven feet too short and he broke his neck.

Amusing Incident at a Bridal Party.

One evening recently a member of the Elk Association, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was married to a young lady residing on Ham-boldt street. In the height of the festivities the joker of the association by some means got possession of the bride's tiny satin slipper. This he circled about his head as the guests, attracted by the bride's timid scream, began to gather about him. "How much, ladies and gentlemen," said he, "am I offered for this?" The guests, fully appreciating the joke, freely made bids. Upon a bid of $70 being made the amateur auctioneer feigned to be displeased, and exclaimed: "Why, the little bunch of fibbons on it is worth more than that." The bid having been raised to $125, by an admirer of the young bride, the members of the association themselves began to compete for the possession of the slipper, and with a call of $150 gained the prize. The fortunate gentlemen intends to cover it with a glass case and place it in a prominent position in their club-rooms. During this bidding the blushing bride and discontented groom stood utterly dumfounded on the outskirts of the crowd of laughing guests. The occurrence is said to have aroused the groom's mathematical ardor, and he is reported to be studiously engaged in endeavoring to solve the problem: "If the little slipper is worth $150, how much is the little girl herself worth?"

Vitriol Vinegar.

The Board of Health of the District of Columbia has condemned five car loads of vinegar sent there from Chicago, on the ground that it is not a genuine article, and is injurious to health.

An analysis of the so-called vinegar has been made. It appears, according to the report of the Board of Health, that the vinegar contains 54.34-100 grains per gallon of anhydrous sulphuric acid, combined with lime, to form a sulphate of lime equivalent to 117.25-100 grains of gypsum per gallon, and besides that, five grains of free sulphuric acid per gallon. The Board also reports that this sample was taken from an invoice of more than 1,000 barrels brought there to be sold as vinegar, and that it is likely to find a ready sale on account of its low price. The report concludes as follows:—"When we think that oil of vitriol (sulphuric acid) can be bought at five cents per pound, and that a pound of said acid would render a barrel of fluid as acid as the strongest vinegar, the wonder will cease that it is sold cheap. This, therefore, is a fraud upon commerce, and a dangerous substitute for vinegar." The fraud and danger are more general than the great mass of the people will readily believe. It is asserted that probably one half the vinegar sold at city groceries is a rank poison with either sulphuric or other objectionable acids for its base.—Scientific American.

The following verse is very common in some cemeteries, it first appeared with the date of 1493, as follows:

"Behold and see, as you pass by,
As you are now, so once was I,
As I am now, so you must be;
Prepare for death and follow me."
It caused some critic to write underneath,
"To follow you I am not content,
Until I know which way you went."

Cement for Fastening Knives and Forks into their handles.

Take one pound rosin and half pound of powdered sulphur; melt together, and mix in about twelve ounces of fine sand or powdered brick. Fill the cavity of the handle with this mixture, melted. Make the shank of the knife or fork quite warm and insert in place and let it remain until cool, when it will be found to be firmly fixed. The handles of knives and forks should not be put in hot water.

How to make Old Steel Pens Good as New.

A subscriber says a pen scratches because the inside corners wear off, and look like the bottom of a M. To restore it, rub the end square and even on a whetstone. Bring the slope of the nib to a point to suit you. Then, holding the pen nearly upright, roll it around, holding the nib on the stone to make the point round. Make it as round as you can.

James Gordon Bennett is to start a paper in London.

Mr. Blake's Address.

The speech of Mr. Blake at Teeswater is in marked contrast with the brilliant effort which startled the world of Canadian politics at Aurora. Compared with that masterly analysis of the political situation and of patriotic speculation as to the future of the Dominion, it is tame and almost pointless. He seemed to have descended from that lofty eminence whose summit towers so far above the plain that it afforded him glimpses into the far, indistinct future, and to have spoken the ordinary words of a plain man. During two long hours, with the exception of the allusion he made to the franchise and to Imperial Confederation, he defended himself and the Administration, of Mr. Mackenzie from the numberless charges that have been made in the press and in Parliament—from the steel rails purchase to the appointment of Mr. Cartwright as brother-in-law of a penitentiary. It is sad to reflect that the discussion of jobs and suspicious of jobs enters so largely into our politics; these violent contentions may possess a peculiar charm for extreme party politicians eager for the spoils, but to men of moderate views and the great mass of the public they are far from attractive. The few words that fell from Mr. Blake with reference to the franchise are, however, well worthy of attention. He is in favor of an enlarged and more popular suffrage, to be made uniform in all the provinces; and in this he is quite right as the disabilities which in several provinces weigh upon many persons who ought not to be deprived of a voice in the selection of their representatives in Parliament, is little less than an infringement of a personal right.—Star.

DEATH OF A GREAT ASTRONOMER.—The science of astronomy loses its most eminent disciple in the present century, by the death of M. Le Verrier. He died at Paris, on Sunday, Sept. 23d, in the 67th year of his age. As a rule, astronomers are long lived; there is no science and no profession in which so many eminent men have attained serene old age. Anxiety and overwork have cut short the years of M. Le Verrier before reaching the extreme limit, but not before the fulfillment of many great undertakings. His popular and world-wide fame rests chiefly and justly upon his prediction of the discovery of the outermost planet of the solar system—a feat that has no parallel in the history of the exact sciences. But many of other works, especially of later years, such as his determination of the solar parallax from three distinct sources, have, no doubt, called for a heavier and more prolonged strain upon his energies than the calculation which resulted in the discovery of Neptune.

James Labrushi, a stoker on the Grand Trunk railway, a resident of St. Johns and an Irishman by birth, heroically saved the life of a child a few days ago. Shortly after the train left Bonaventure depot, Labrushi perceived, only a short distance ahead of the engine, a little child only three or four years of age, sitting innocently on the track. As there was no time to stop the train, he rushed out to the front of the engine, and just as the train reached the unsuspecting infant, he lifted it with his foot and shoved it to one side of the track. The child escaped with a few bruises and Labrushi without a scratch. The railroad company voted him $5. [This shows the generosity of railway companies.]

A Colorado correspondent gives a description of the Maine Lode, which is described as the biggest bonanza in that great mining region. It is owned by Mr. E. C. Bassick, a native of Waldo county, who is the discoverer. It is of fabulous richness. It begins at the surface, plying as high as eighty-seven ounces of silver to the ton. At twenty feet it pays through out the ten and one-third acres at the rate of 100 to 600 in silver, and 11,000 dollars in fine gold. It is estimated that there is ore enough from the surface to twenty feet in depth to yield from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 in money. Mr. Bassick has written to his relatives, inviting them to come as he has enough for all.

A TRUANT TORPEDO.—A "truant torpedo" has been fished up in Portsmouth harbour. An inventor, who was experimenting with a patent leg, hauled up a torpedo, which was forthwith conveyed to the Vernon torpedo vessel; but the officers disclaimed any knowledge of the missile. The account of the incident states that the torpedo had evidently been in the water some considerable time. In the present state of our navy it is fortunate that none of our iron-clads had contrived to run foul of the dangerous "truant."

BOAT RACE.—M. F. Davis of Portland, and Ten Eyck of New York, have arranged for a three-mile scull race, to come off at Peekskill, New York, October 10th, for $300 a side, Davis to have $100 for expenses.

Orson Pratt and Joseph F. Smith, the two prominent Mormon chiefs, arrived in New York city Saturday. They report a cargo of Mormons coming on the steamer next week from Europe.

The treasury department had 300,000 ounces of silver bullion on the Union Pacific train recently attacked by robbers in Wyoming. The bars were so heavy that the robbers were unable to carry it away and not an ounce was lost. The bullion was purchased in Nevada for the Philadelphia mint.

THE WAR NEWS.

From the East, as reported, is scarcely to be relied on, the reports are so contradictory. The despatches of the 1st instant state that the campaign in Armenia and Bulgaria is over for the season; this is hardly probable, and yet the losses on the Russian side are immense—the large number of wounded at Plevna having filled the hospitals, and their removal to Russia is attended by much suffering; and it is said that the commanding General Todleben, has intimated to the Grand Duke Nicolas, that siege operations of the most extended scale are required to take the place. From all that can be gathered, there is a possibility of the campaign being near its end, and it is probable diplomatic efforts will be used to prevent a renewal of hostilities. From these reports it is plain that the Czar will not eat his New Year's dinner in Constantinople, nor indeed that he will ever do so, unless by invitation of the Sultan at some future time. From what over-crowd, the Christian nations are in sympathy with Turkey.

Rifle Competition.

The annual competition of the Charlotte County Rifle Association was held at the range Indian Point, last week, and Maj. Stickney, secretary, kindly placed at our disposal, the result of the firing, from which it will be seen that St. Andrews men carried off the highest prizes. UNITED STATES.—During the past week, several large fires have occurred in the United States, which destroyed an enormous amount of property. Several accidents have taken place on Railways, and many robberies have occurred, still the country thrives and is moving forward, with a degree of prosperity unparalleled. It will be but a very short time before specie payments will be the standard of the Republic, whose notes are now generally taken at par value.

The Montreal Herald is of opinion that there will be no dissolution of Parliament. A few months ago, argues our contemporary, commercial stagnation and depressed industries were the best cards in the hand of the Opposition; now, with returning prosperity they are being dropped out of the pack and the subject of depressed manufactures has scarcely been mentioned at the autumn picnics. With a full revival of trade Mr. Mackenzie's supporters will go to the country with better chances of success and the policy of the administration is not to be precipitate the contest.

LOCAL MATTER.

The Charlotte County Agricultural Show and Fair, will be held on Wednesday next, the 10th inst. at Bay Side.

Mr. Rich, the celebrated Ocellist is at the "Meganthe." He has some fine spectacles for sale.

Thomas Wheelock, Esq. of Shanghai, China, is visiting his relatives here at present.

We notice by Montreal papers that the Hon. J. J. Fraser, the Hon. B. R. Stevenson, were in Montreal last week. Wm. Whitlock and Robert Watson, Esq's, visited Quebec a few days ago doing Chatham, Newcastle, and Campbellton. They returned on Thursday last much gratified, and invigorated by the pleasant trip.

Lieut-Col. and Mrs. THURGAR returned to St. John on Tuesday. They expressed themselves delighted with their visit, and also spoke in commendatory terms of Miss Sprague's kindness and attention, and will recommend their friends who may intend visiting St. Andrews, to stop at her house, which is so situated as to command one of the finest views of the surrounding country. During their short visit they made many friends, and our friend the Colonel's health is completely restored.

The Semi Annual public examination of Schools for District No. 1 will take place on Thursday and Friday next the 4th and 5th instant.

The parents and the public generally are invited to attend.

A fire occurred on Sunday morning last, between one and two o'clock, in front of the Roman Catholic Church, which destroyed the building formerly known as the Catholic Schoolhouse, but for some time occupied by James Connolly and his family as a private residence. The flames were seen issuing from the porch, and the family awakened from their slumbers by a person who lived near. The bells were rung and the engines and populace were early at the spot, but owing to everything being so dry, it was impossible to save the building, which was consumed; the family however, saved their furniture. For a time, there was danger of the fire spreading, as the eumbers and sparks were blown down the streets, but happily, neither the Catholic Church or Parsonage which were in close proximity, nor the other buildings at a distance were injured. The building was insured.

From a Blue Book printed by order of Parliament, entitled "Return of Persons appointed to office between 1st January and 7th Nov. 1873; showing Increases and Decreases of Salary during the same period and Cancellations of appointments," much information can be had. A cursory glance at the Statistics shows the large saving made in "reductions of salaries," by the Mackenzie Government, which appears to be reasonable, and speak in unmistakable terms of their apparent desire to conduct the Departments with as little expense as is consistent with the nature of the offices and the public interest. In the County of Charlotte alone a saving of upwards $600 has been effected, by simply placing the salaries at the original amount, the officials took office under. The increase was made just before the late Government resigned. We also notice that two of the Collectors in this County are omitted in the list of employees in the Customs Department.

The following pleasing paragraph with reference to the return of our friend Col. DENISON, is copied from the Toronto Mail. The Colonel and Mrs. Denison, made several friends during their stay here; and their return next season would be gratifying to their many friends in St. Andrews and vicinity.

WELCOME HOME.—On the return home on Friday evening of Colonel and Mrs. Denison after an absence of two months in the Lower Provinces, their residence in the west end of this city presented a very lively appearance. An evergreen arch, decorated with the fruits of the season and Chinese lanterns, had been erected at the main entrance to the grounds, which were brilliantly lighted. Over the arch the motto "Welcome Home" was placed. The front verandah and door were also decorated. A large number of friends and neighbors assembled to congratulate the Colonel and his lady on their safe arrival at Dover Court.

LOCAL MATTER.

The St. Patrick Central Agricultural Society Show and Fair, will be held on Friday next, 12th inst. at the Agricultural Hall, Bocabee.

We are informed that the party who picked up the watch and chain advertised by Mr. T. Armstrong is known, it will save a trip to the Penitentiary by their returning it, and also receiving the reward offered.

In another column an old respected correspondent calls attention to disgraceful conduct on the streets at night, which should be put a stop to. It is to be regretted that any of the young men should be guilty of such reprehensible conduct, which, from its being attested to, is undeniable. The majesty of the law must be upheld, and order kept on the streets, at any cost.

CHARADE AND MELODY.—On Tuesday evening an entertainment was given by members of the Reform Club, in Stevenson's Hall—consisting of a Charade and Negro Melodies. The hall was well filled, and the entertainment gave great satisfaction, particularly the negro melodies given in character which called forth frequent plaudits.

Fredericton Brevities.

Partridges are very plentiful this season. Sportsmen may daily be seen winding their way to the country to try their luck.

The delightful weather which we have had for the past month still continues. The thermometer on Monday was 80° in the shade.

A Fredericton Company is about starting a tannery at Gibson. Tenders are asked for the erection of a suitable building.

As an indication of reviving business several factories in the city are working over their usual time, and the river steamers are carrying large freights each trip.

The Fredericton Curling Club held its annual meeting on Monday night when the following officers were elected for the ensuing season:—President, A. F. Street; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. J. R. Howie, and Wm. Grievous; Secretary, T. W. P. Flewelling, Esq. The club is in a flourishing condition.

Correspondence.

[FOR THE STANDARD.]

Mr. Editor—I am reluctantly compelled to notice the disorderly conduct of young men on the street almost every night; the shouting and blasphemous language would disgrace the parlours of any town. Monday night a gang of these rowdies paraded the street, among whom was a notorious fellow whose foul language was disgusting, and whose pugnacious disposition was exhibited by his striking the High Sheriff and knocking down Wm. Whitlock, Esq. one of the oldest and most respected Magistrates in the County. No constable could be found to take the fellow to prison, and his chums aided his escape by rowing him over the river. Complaints were lodged with Justice Hatheway who issued warrants for his arrest, but he had escaped for the present. Is it not time that a night watch was appointed, and quiet preserved on the streets. The fact of young men getting drunk, is no excuse for their disturbing the community and breaking the peace.

Yours, A. SEEVERS.

Hon. Messrs. Fraser and Stenerson, members of the New Brunswick Executive, Mr. Elder, M. P., W. E. Perley, and W. Beveridge, Esqrs., on their return from Restigouche and Gloucester, arrived in town yesterday, and put up at Bowser's Hotel. To-day they go up river in the "Andover" on a complimentary excursion, accompanied by quite a number of ladies and gentlemen of Miramichi.—Gleaner, Chatham, Sept. 29.

WILLIAM HENRY FOX TALBOT.—A cable despatch from London announces the death of William Henry Fox Talbot, the chief discoverer of photography. He was the son of the late William D. Talbot, of Looeock Abby, Wilts, and was born in 1800. He was educated at Harrow and at Trinity College, Cambridge, and represented Chippenham in the first reformed Parliament. In his "Pencil of Nature," published in 1844, he related the steps by which he was led to the discovery of photography, for which he received the medal of the Royal Society. Although he patented the process he generously left it open to the public. He was the author of several works, among which are "Hermes; or, Classical and Antiquarian Researches," "Illustrations of the Antiquity of the Book of Genesis" and "English Etymologies." Of late years he had devoted himself to deciphering the cuneiform inscriptions obtained from the East.

The Egg Trade.

The Allen steamer Sarmatian, which arrived on Tuesday morning, says the Liverpool Mercury, brought 280 barrels of eggs from Canada. This promises to become a great trade. From the Market report of the Hamilton (Ontario) Spectator of the 6th August, we learn that eggs were very quiet, there being really no wholesale trade in them at present. In Ottawa fresh eggs were selling at 12c (6) per dozen. Eggs to the value of £2,610,231 were imported into England last year, and still the market is not well supplied, as the present high prices will prove. The future extension of this trade between Canada and England cannot fail to be of interest to every household.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

The general Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, at its annual meeting, held last month at Chicago, adopted the following:

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the members of our beloved Zion to set an example of total abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and especially to discourage social wine-drinking wherever it prevails in the church.

Resolved, That we call upon the sessions of our churches to guard carefully the purity of the church by refusing to admit to membership or to retain those within her pale who are engaged in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, or who derive their livelihood from this sinful traffic.

EXTRAORDINARY CHARGE AGAINST A SHIP CAPTAIN.—Captain Robert Cochran, of the ship Crown Prince, of St. John, New Brunswick, was placed in the dock accused of culpable homicide or neglect of duty. The indictment stated that the accused was master of the ship, which partly belonged to him, from January 1875 to June 1877. During that period she sailed from London to Melbourne, thence to Callan, thence to Huamillio, thence to Stanley, thence to Queenstown, thence to Glasgow. It was the duty of the accused, it was stated, to provide for the use of the crew "a proper supply of food and drink of a sound and wholesome quality." On Monday the 20th November last, when the ship was sailing between Huamillio and Falkland Islands, he gave them putrid pork to eat. The result was said to have been a serious illness, the result of blood poisoning, which ended fatally for six of the men, while several others had their lives endangered. Of those who died the names were William Williams, Gustav Anderson, Thomas Balmforth, William Sullivan, Henry Beckholt, and Edward Harris. The indictment, in conclusion, accused him of having culpably bereaved these of life, and placed the lives of the others in danger. On the part of the accused, Mr. Balfour, advocate, who was assisted by Mr. Lang, advocate, advanced a plea of not guilty.—Glasgow paper.

RECEPTION OF THE INDIAN CHIEFS.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The President today received the Sioux and Arapaho delegations from the Red Cloud and Spotted Tail agencies, at the executive mansion. There were present Secretaries Evans and Schurz, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Smith, General Crook, Lieut. Clark, who commanded the Indian scouts at Red Cloud, and Spotted Tail agencies, Dr. Irving agent of the Red Cloud reservations, Mr. Hoyt the recently appointed commissioner of Indian affairs, who succeeded Smith, Mr. Welsh formerly the Indian commissioner, Bishop Whipple and several ladies, including Mrs. Crook, wife of General Crook.

A number of seven pounder field guns are being despatched to the Gold Coast, the defenceless nature of the settlements, as regards ordnance having been brought prominently to the notice of the War Office.

London, Sept. 17th.—General Grant was presented with the Freedom of the burgh of Ayr, Scotland on Friday.

DIED.

On the 1st inst., Rev. Warren Bailey, aged 59, leaving a sorrowing widow and relatives to mourn their loss. Mr. Bailey was much respected by all who knew him, and has left an unblemished character as an example to his friends. He suffered much for twelve months from cancer, which he bore with christian resignation, and looked forward to the time when he would exchange his sufferings for a state of bliss.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!!

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY of the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, impediments to Marriage, etc resulting from excesses. Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps. The celebrated author in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured, without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife, pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

A BLIND HORSE RACING WITH A TRAIN.

When the four o'clock train on the Cayuga Lake road whistled at McKinney's yesterday afternoon, says a recent number of the Ithaca (N. Y.) Journal, the noise frightened a horse standing in the yard connected with Wortman & Bates's slaughter house, and the animal dashed away with the skeleton wagon to which it was attached. In wheeling around to get out of the yard the wagon was overturned,
and with it in this position the horse,
which is blind, made direct for the railroad track, and with great speed continued to run toward town, dragging the wagon
along the road bed. Just as the horse got upon the track the train appeared in view at the curve a short distance north of the slaughter house, and for a few minutes
it looked as though everything was up with the poor beast. But on it run, crossing cattle guards and culverts with as much precision as though it were possessed of sight and the dangerous road a familiar one. The engineer succeeded in reversing the locomotive before overtaking
the horse, although running down grade,
and at Quick's slaughter house the runaway was stopped and led down from the track.

JAMES SMITH AND JUSTICE HOLROYD.—
Formerly, in England, it was customary,
on emergencies, for the judges to swear affidavits at their dwelling houses. Smith was desired by his father to attend a judge's chamber for that purpose; but being engaged to dine in Russell-square,
at the next house to Mr. Justice Holroyd's,
he thought he might as well save himself
the disagreeable necessity of leaving the party at eight, by despatching his business at once; so a few minutes before six,
he boldly knocked at the judge's, and requested to speak to him on particular business. The judge was at dinner, but came down without delay, swore the affidavit, and then gravely asked what was the pressing necessity that induced our friend to disturb him at that hour. As Smith told his story, he raked his invention for a lie, and finding none fit for his purpose he blurted out the truth:—"The fact is, my Lord, I am engaged to dine at the next house—and—and—" "And sir, you thought you might as well save your own dinner by spilling mine?"
"Exactly so, my Lord; but—" "Sir,
I wish you a good evening."

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Mechanic,
Inventor, Farmer, or Professional man, to keep informed of all the improvements and discoveries of the age.
IT PAYS THE HEAD OF EVERY FAMIL-Y to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States
devoted to MANUFACTURES, MECHANICS, INVENTIONS and NEW DISCOVERIES in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world.
Descriptions, with beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes
and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Receipts, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts forming a complete history of New Inventions and Discoveries containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions, and every branch of Engineering, Mechanics, and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Receipts are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.
MERCHANTS, FARMERS, MECHANICS, EN-GINEERS, INVENTORS, MANUFACTURERS, CHEM-ISTS, LOVERS OF SCIENCE and PEOPLE OF ALL NATIONS, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting-Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's number contains 832 pages and Several Hundred Engravings. Thousands of volumes are preserved for consulting and reference.
Terms, $3.25 a year by mail, including postage.
Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates, sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented
through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A pamphlet containing full directions for obtaining Patents, sent free. THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Cases of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar
Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT-TERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect
Renovator and Invigorator of the system.
Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been "compounded" possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a potent Tonic, as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs,
in Bilious Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use VINEGAR BITTERS as a medicine,
and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants
in every form.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

No Person can take these Bitters
according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bowels are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means,
and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR
BITTERS the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Braz-
os, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, St. John's, and many others, with their visitations, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangement of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary.

There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache,
Pain in the Shoulder, Gout, Tightness
of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck,
Gout, Rheumatism, Inflammations, Indolent
Ulcers, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In all these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Painters, Typographers, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VIN-EGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter,
Salt Rheum, Itch, Scalds, Pimples, Pus-
tules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald
Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurvy, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the term of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Jaundice.—In all cases of jaundice, read assured that your liver is not doing its work.
The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use VINEGAR BIT-TERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores;
cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
