Washington, D. C., April 15.—The turning point in the battle on the west front is being reached, says the United States war department's review of the military situation for the week ending April 13, published today. The Germans by stubborn and costly thrusts were able to force the French and the Oise, the Allette and the old line stretching from La Fere to Anizy-lement continues, and will soon be forced to resume their old tactics, seeking to gain limited objectives, striking first at one point, then at another, in order to render the Allies' position untenable and give themselves greater security.

"We must bear in mind," the review says, "that the enemy is waging a battle of annihilation to achieve victory. He is fighting today with the sole aim of annihilating the British armies. Thus terrain conquered counts for little.

To give themselves elbow room south of the Oise.

"The German by stubborn and costly thrusts were able to force the French out of the triangular area formed by the Oise, the Allette and the old line stretching from La Fere to Anizy-le-Chataeu.

French Hold Firm.

"The German high command also made desperate attempts to enlarge its gains in the areas stretching from Montdidier to Noyon, but were everywhere repulsed by the French, who hold firm along this important sector.

"Lively shelling took place along the whole Italian front and the Allies executed a number of minor raids on the whole Italian front and the Allies executed a number of minor raids on the Asiago region. Objects Folled.

"While it must be admitted that German operations since the beginning of the present offensive have resulted in more than a mere plowing up of part of the Allied trench system and the capture of local objectives along a wide front, nevertheless the aim of the German high command to obtain a decisive strategic success by the assaults has not been attained.

"There has been less activity along the southern flank of the Picardy salient. After the bloody battles which have been raging between Montdidier and Noyon, the enemy, fearing a counter-attack, struck repeated blows" the summer of a man of the probability of an enemy offensive in this area taking place as soon as the weather becomes more favorable is increasing.

"While no events bearing directly on the general military situation took place in the east, it is to be noted that German and Finnish forces have occupied and passed beyond Tammerfors and hostile units are moving northward with the object of cutting the Russian rail-way through Finland to Sweden.

"In Siberia the situation remains obscure. The Japanese landing at Vladious discovered as a minute of a minute and the continuation of concentration of hostile units is reported. GOVERNMENT CAUCUS.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, April 15.—The Government intends submitting to full caucus of all its supporters assembled tomorrow the results of its deliberations over the week-end and to seek advice on the matter of proposed amendments to the military service act. Meantime, complete secrecy is being maintained as to the intentions of the Administration on the whole question. The caucus promises to be a lengthy one, and there are bound to be some frank expressions of opinion. BOLSHEVISM IS GIVING NORWAY MUCH TROUBLE

Stockholm, April 14.—Anti-military demonstrations which began in the Sulitelma mining district where the Bolsheviki found excellent ground for propaganda, have now spread over the whole of Northern Norway. The anti-militarists are armed and the situation facing the Government is considered. DID SHOT HIT PRISONER?

Counsel's Cross-Examination Leads to This Belief of What Defence Will Be.

Toronto, April 15.—Smiling the smile of a school boy on summer holidays, Jack Roberts, the alleged gunman, arrested in London, who is accused of trying to shoot Detective John Stewart rested in London, who is accused of trying to shoot Detective John Stewart in front of the Toronto City Hall on November 16 last, came up in police court today and cheerfully took his committal for trial at the hands of Magistrate Kingsford.

Some inkling of the line of defence likely to be adopted by his counsel, T. C. Robinette, K.C., was furnished by the latter's cross-examination of the accusing officer.

Drew a Pistol

The detective told how, when leading Roberts by the sleeve to the eastern entrance of the city hall, the resourceful prisoner suddenly leaned forward, doubled up as if in pain, and said: "My God, get me some whiskey." The prisoner, who had his hand inside his vest, suddenly drew a revolver and with the butt end, hit the detective behind the left ear. As the officer lay prostrate, a shot was fired.

"Will you swear that he shot at you?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"The gun was pointing at me at the time."

"Will you swear that he shot at you?" repeated counsel.

"I will swear that such was his in-repeated counsel. "I will swear that such was his intention at the time," replied the witess.

"How do you know my intentions?" demanded the prisoner.
Counsel will probably try to prove that the bullet, which the detective declared he heard whistle past his ear, actually wounded Roberts himself in the leg.

THREE MILLION ACRES MORE GRAIN CROPS IN

Estimate Made Is Promising, and Bet

Considering labor conditions, that can be regarded as a decidedly encouraging outlook. In addition to the large a careage there is reason to hope for a larger yield per acre provided weather conditions are at all normal through the spring and summer. The heavy snowfall of the winter has left admirabel soil conditions.

In the west seeding operations have been carried well up to the northern parts of the provinces and cultivating operations are getting well under way

SEVEN FIERCE ATTACKS BY ENEMY IN MERVILLE SECTOR ALL REPULSED

THE WAR SITUATION

The British lines on the Lys front, near the Franco-Belgian border, are holding well against the terrific drives which the Germans are continuing to Make upon them.

All around the sweeping semi-circle created by the enemy attacks to the southwest of the Messines Ridge positions he was fought to a standstill yes-trons he was fought to a standard yes-terday and last night and in some local-lities the British positions were improved by counter-strokes, at only one point did the defence give way in the least. This was at Neuve Eglise, on the ex-treme lower edge of the Messines spur, where the British finally withdrew from the village after heating off attack after the village after beating off attack after the village after beating off attack after attack.

The probabilities seem to be that the German tenure of even this small bit of ground will be a short-lived one. The village has changed hands repeatedly during the fighting of the past few days, and the British were once before definitely out of it, only to recapture it again in a counter-attack. This morning the British again were back at the Germans here and were reported to be giving here and were reported to be giving them a hard pounding.

Large results hinged on the battle further within the salient, in the Merville sector, where the Germans have effected their furthest westward penetrating. They are pushing here for Hazebrouck, occupation of which would cut off important rallway connections of the British and make the holding of the line northeast extremely difficult.

The Germans displayed their appreciation of this by attacking no less than here and were reported to be giving ciation of this by attacking no less than beven times in the Merville region, the desperation of their attack being evidenced by the fact that one assault was carried out by troops in five waves. This was the only attack that bent the Britzien line in the slightest and the nosl. tion here was speedly restored in its entirety by a counter-attack.

The Germans similarly have been foiled in their efforts to push in further in the Bailleul region, and this important town is still in British hands. Far to the southwest on the Lys from Far to the southwest on the Lys front they have failed likewise, in their attempt to drive in back of Bethune. The British in local operations here have advanced their lines and pushed the enemy back from the Clarence River. They took 150 prisoners and some machine guns in one of these operations.

Eglise has changed hands several times in furious fighting, and is now held by the Germans, after a fight in which the enemy suffered grievously. It is an important strategic point, as it is one of the outposts of the Messines Pides A Pacific Port, April 15.—Viscount Ishii, Japanese ambassador to the United States, arrived here today en route to Washington. Discussing suggested Japanese activities in Siberia, Ambassador Ishii said that if the imperial Japanese Government deemed it necessary to undertake the sending of a military expedition into Siberia, such intention would be for the benefit of the Entente Allies and not for Japan. He declared any suggestion of a Japanese German alliance to be absurd.

"Germany may establish bases in Pacific waters by a successful drive through Siberia," said Ambassador Ishii.

"In this event," he continued, "it would be up to Japan to sweep them away. We cannot guarantee that Japan could do this, but we would try our best, and we must not relax our vigilance."

The fallen minister is a close friend of Count Berchtold, the political instructor of Emperor Charles. Berchtold was forced out as foreign minister by the pan-Germans after he had played a prominent part in starting the war, and it is probable Count Czernin has fallen victim to the same influence, his usefulness having ceased because of his clumsy diplomacy. Count Czernin remains in office until a successor is announced.

The foregoing was the summing up of his views on the subject of "Titles," by Rev. Dr. F. Louis Barber, in his Sunday evening sermon in the Colborne Street Methodist Church. Further, in regard to this, he said: "It speaks well for democracy when we find men in both the Government and Opposition benches using their influence against the perpetuation of titles of honor in this country, and when you find some of the biggest and best men in both our own land, and the old land refusing to be labelled. The titles under discussion in our country at this time are not those spoken of by Mr. Gladstone, when he said, "The three highest titles that can be given a man are those of martyr hero, saint," but are those titles which Oliver Goldsmith had in mind when he wrote, "The wise man sometimes condescends to accent titles, but none but they are not hereditary."

Now Begins Our Complete Display The New Silks For 1918

SPRING AND SUMMER And this announcement is none too early—it will afford the necessary time for turning these exquisite fabrics into beautiful garments, and at the same time many novelty effects are now shown that will not be obtainable later. There is a brisk demand for silks of all kinds for separate waists, skirts, suits, dresses and undergarments, and the demand is increasing greatly every day. We prepared for this emergency by foreseeing future market conditions and buying when prices were much easier on silk stocks that are scarce today. A great many of the usual solid and dependable lines are selling at prices of previous seasons. We cannot replace the greater portion of the silk stock at our today's prices, and also the exceptional everyday use of silks is lowering quantities—and we suggest, whether you live in or out of London, to buy your silk now (which you are sure to require shortly) before the particular kind or color you had in mind is gone, at Smallman Brantford, April 15.—George Duncan, charged with the murder of Alfred Isaacs, his half-brother, during a fight in his home, was arraigned again this morning. Crown Attorney Wilkes asked for a committal on the murder charge, but stated that it was likely that it would be reduced at the assizes to manslaughter, the crime having been committed in the heat of passion.

Only two witnesse were heard, Mrs. Gerrard, who jumped from the window of 83 Alfred street and gave the alarm, and Dr. Phillips, who testified to the extent of the injuries. Mrs. Gerrard testified that she saw Duncan strike Isaacs, heard Isaacs say that he did not claim to be the bully of Brantford as had been charged by Duncan, and saw Duncan kick Isaacs six times with his heavy boots. Isaacs then lay unconscious at the head of the stairway and she gave the alarm.

The report of a vice commission elsewhere was quoted at this point.

"It was found that of 800 cases of vice which came under observation, the great cause of social sin was poverty. This did not involve alone low wages paid to girls and women, but low wages as well to fathers, who were required to work hard day and night, and were unable to give proper time, housing, care, living conditions to their children, poverty in the larger sense. I am not mentioning this in connection with London, but I do mention it because I think the subject should be followed up by the alliance. It is of profound interest and profoundly religious.

JIMMY COON STORIES

Now, Jimmy Coon and Mrs. Jimmy lived in this nice pen of the colored family for three weeks. Of course they were prisoners; but they made the best of a bad business. And Jimmy said to Mrs. Jimmy, "Well, my dear Mate. let's look at the bright side of life. It might be worse, And I want to tell you that this family sets the best table I ever struck."

The darkies fed them "scraps" from their table. But do you suppose "scraps" were enough for Jimmy and Mrs. Jimmy. The darkies gave them lots of persimmons, cabbages, sweet potatoes, corn, and sweet apples for dessert. And they liked the dessert the best of all!

the shoe clerk, about the girl with the voice. Simpson was an unromantic soul; he looked puzzled.

"The only new girl I've seen around here is that little dressmaker who sits at the next table. And I shouldn't call her a girl exactly, either; she'll never see thruty-five again in this life."

"Aw, that isn't the one," Matthew said in deep disgust. "The girl I mean is young and has curly—a sort of nice voice. I've heard her talking over the 'phone."

Simpson shook his head.

The girl I mean had forgotten the curly hair and dimples. He really thought that he had imagined Alice as she was, dark hair, not withstanding. And perhaps he had, for after all beauty is only skin deep.

HENSALL. TWO DIE WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS IN DITCH

IN DOVER TOWNSHIP Joseph Bowlby and James Gamble of Tilbury Were

Suffocated. CHATHAM, April 14 .- Joseph Bowlby and James Gamble, Jr., were killed last evening when the auto in which they were driving was overturned in the ditch on the 3rd concession of Dover were driving was overturned in the ditch on the 3rd concession of Dover Township, near Paincourt. There is a turn in the road just after crossing a bridge and indications are that the auto struck some obstruction just after crossing the bridge, and slewed to the ditch. One front wheel was torn from the car. The machine turned turtle, pinning the men down in about eight inches of water.

Alfred Bourassa, who lives near the scene, says he saw lights coming down the road and suddenly disappear, and then he heard a crash. He and his brother called neighbors. It required a block and tackle to remove the car before the men could be released. They were dead when taken out.

Coroner Dr. Bray was called and declared death was due to suffocation following the accident. No inquest will be held. The men were gas drillers and have been working on a big well at St. Luke's Club, Mitchell's Bay, and were going out there when the accident happened. Both were married and their families live in Tilbury.

Bowlby was at one time interested in a garage in that town. The men were highly esteemed by all who knew them. The auto was owned by Bowlby, who was an experienced driver.

Mrs. Bellair is in St. Joseph's Hospital with a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee. She was the victim of an auto accident on the Raleigh-Harwich townline last evening. The machine in which she was a passenger was not damaged, nor was her companion injured.

TUESDAY, APRIL 16.

Another very active and interesting day in all spheres of human endeavor is promised by this day's astrological testimonies. Excepting that money should not be loaned or risked, and that there should be no attempt at radical changes or removals, it is a time for industry, perseverance and initiative, with the possibility of gain and advancement from combinations, syndicates and secret alliances, emphasized. Elderly persons and Saturnine enterprises—like printing, publishing, mining, agriculture and machinery—will assist to good fortune. The domestic and social circle, and also artistic and affectional interests will be under the benignant rule of the Lunar trine to benignant rule of the Lunar trine benignant rule of the Dunar tribe to Venus.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a lively and successful year, but should not change or risk money. A child born on the day will be accomplished, artistic and fond of society, but should be schooled in economy and may well remain in employment.

Katle held out a card to me, the corner damp from her hand, which she had evidently just taken from the dishwater. I frowned in quick disapproval.

"Katie!" I exclaimed reproachfully.
"Surely you didn't forget again to use the card tray!"

Katie's face fell.

"Oh, dear, I sooch a bunch of soup greens, Missis Graham! You can't never learn me nottings. An' she's an awful stylish lady too."

I looked at the card. It bore in irreproachable engraved old English the superscription:

Mrs. John Edward Hadley,

Oak Lodge,

28 Merrick Road,

Marvin, Long Island.

The name wasn't familiar to me. I knew that Oak Lodge, wherever it might be situated, wasn't one of the great estates with which Long Island is dotted. Dicky and I, in our rambles around Marvin and the neighboring villages, had passed and remarked upon all of them. But I knew also that the around Marvin and the neighboring vil-lages, had passed and remarked upon all of them. But I knew also that the habit of christening one's home and putting its name upon one's calling card wasn't confined atone to the own-ers of the large estates. Many women of all grades in the social scale did it. "Where did you leave her?" I asked Katle.

Katle.

She raised startled eyes to mine. Evidently she had forgotten another of my instructions.

At First Clance.

"She standing by door," was her shamefaced answer, and I saw that the girl was upon the verge of tears. I hastened to reassure her, for I had no desire to send a weepy maid with a message to the unknown caller.

"All right, Katle," I said reassuringly, "Go down stairs and say; Mrs. Graham will be down directly, Will you please be seated in here?" And then take her into the living room, draw out one of the big chairs for her, and raise "Sure. Vot you tink? I always feex dot first ting." Katie's voice held offended reproach. "But." anxiously. "say dot again, vot I say to her."

I repeated the words, and Katie said them over twice. Then she hurried down the stairs, and I confess I went to the hall window and peeped through the curtain to the street below to see the car in which the visitor had come, for I heard a motor purring just before the bell rang.

It was a beautiful limousine—I saw at a glance that it must have cost a good deal of money. But there was no chauffeur at the wheel. Mrs. Hadley must have driven the car herself. My opinion of her went up, and a vague feeling of envy crept into my heart. It is about the only pet vanity I have. It desire to own and drive a motor car. But I have sternly repressed it, and Dicky's inclinations on the subject besides, because of Dicky's reluctance to consider anything but an expensive car.

"No, I'd rather have mine than yours," he laughed.

"But what good is it? It only makes you look pretty," squeaked Willy Field Mouse.

"What good is your tail, I'd like to know?" chattered Danny Grey Squirrel.

"Why, when I want to get anything out of a deep dish or a bottle that I can't crawl into, I just put my tail down and fish it out," replied Willy Filed Mouse. "When our mamma sends us out after food, I take the food in my four feet, lie on my back and my brothers pull me home by my tail."

"Well, I can't do anything like that with my tail, of course," laughed Dany Grey Squirrel. "But I like my tail just the same, and I'll not have it changed. Maybe some day I'll find some important use for it other than to inake me look pretty."

There was a loud bark and a scramble in the bushes behind them. Both Danny Grey Squirrel and Willy Fleid Mouse knew who it was—their most dreaded enemy, Mr. Dog, on the hunt for anything to give him a chase.

Willy Fleid Mouse was too far from home to run for shelter. His tiny heart pounded against his little grey coat in fright. He knew that if e ran under the grass Mr. Dog would soon dig him out, and that would be the end of him. "What shall I do?" squealed Willy Fleid Mouse, too frightened to move. Danny Grey Squirrel, who had started up a tree, turned and called to his friend:

"Jump upon my tail, quick!"

Willy Field Mouse hardly left the ground when Mr. Dog dashed up to the toot of te tree, and Danny Grey Squirrel nimbly ran up the tree and out on a branch.

new league. Knotty Lee is enthusiastic over the idea of having baseball in Canada this summer, and is confident that the league will have a successful season. Today he starts on a trip over the Canadian towns to complete arrangements for their entering. He will be in St. Thomas tomorrow, and from there he will visit Brantford and Hamilton, and later on Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Lockport, N. Y. Lee is keen to have the two American cities in the circuit. He believes that they will be able to play Sunday ball over there, despite the new law against it.

Open May 20.

The Canadian League season will likely open about May 20 and will close on Labor Day. Six cities will be in the league and clubs will carry about twelve players. As soon as it is definitely known what other cities besides London will be in, meetings will be called to draw up the schedule and make other playing arrangements. It is likely that one of the meetings will be held in London.

SINCE HAIG SAID "NO MORE RETIRING" BRITISH LINE HAS NOT BUDGED AND ENEMY ATTACKS HAVE MET DISASTER

Repeated Assaults Against Neuve Eglise, Which Britishers Regained Saturday, Have Been Repulsed.

THOUSANDS OF GERMAN DEAD TELL AWFUL STORY

LONDON, April 14.-The entire Allied line in Belgium and France is holding firm, Nowhere have the Germans been able, notwithstanding the great numbers of men hurled against it and especially that portion of the line in Flanders where the British are holding forth, to gain an inch of ground.

Field Marshal Haig's order that no more ground be ceded is rigidly being complied with, as is attested by the thousands of German dead now lying before the British positions southwest of Ypres, where it is the ambition of the high German command to break through and envelop Field Marshal Haig's forces and gain an open highway toward the English Channel.

Struggle for Neuve Eglise.

At Neuve Eglise, northwest of Armentieres, where the Germans are endeavoring to drive their wedge in farther in order to outflank Ypres, the heaviest fighting has taken place. Throughout Saturday night and Sunday battles of a most obstinate character took place, the Germans throwing thousands of men into the attack, notwithstanding their wastage in killed or wounded. Several times the village changed hands, but at last reports the British were still in possession of it and holding tenaciously under repeated German onslaughts.

Turn of the Tide?

Nowhere along the eight-mile front was launched with the intention of separating the British and French armies and the crushing of the British.

Nowhere along the eight-mile front where the Germans are trying to drive through between Wulverghem and Meteren have the Germans met with anything but repulse, and the price they have paid for their attempts to breach the British line has been enormous. On no other sector have they been able to surmount the stone-wall of the defence and for the moment, at least, there seems to be justification for the hope that the turn in the tide of the battle is at hand.

Documents captured from German prisoners show conclusively that the new great offensive of the Germans on various sectors, the troops of both sides remaining in their trenches.

To Destroy the British Army Germany Is Wasting Her Own HAIG'S ORDER HAS

OTTAWA, April 14.—A British of ficial report of operations at the front during the week ending April 11, received by His Excellency the Governor-General, after reviewing the progress of battle, says:

"To dstroy the British army is clearly the enemy's aim. He falled to separate the armies of the Allies and failed to take Afniens, while the solid wall of the Arras front made it imperative for him to find a weaker spot. Vimy is the stronghold which more than any other blocks his way west, and since Arras holds firm he has tried to win his way to the rear of Vimy is his object. There is therefore sat-

"Although there is no sign of a cessation of the enemy's offensive against Amiens, which he renewed in due course, it is clear his main effort was checked and his second effort north of the Somme defeated. His flerce though brief attack south of the Somme being also completely repulsed, he is now ceeded more rapidly though the situation is still serious. To date the British army has been attacked by double its number of enemy divisions, supported by an enormous mass of artillery of all natures. In these circumstances it is not surprising that the enemy gained undeniable successes, but at a great price."

NUJOL LABORATORIES, STANDARD OIL CO. (New Jersey), BAYONNE, N. J.

Dear Sirs:-

I have given Nujol to my two year old daughter with very beneficial effect. She had always been constipated, and I think the regular use of Nujol was what cured her and caused her to form regular habits.

Very sincerely,

mended in the following letters:-

SELINA L. (MRS. N. S.) HOPKINS.

Now read this extract from a mother in Winslow, Arizona: "With the children Nujol has done wonders. A dose or two when they begin to fret results in their being as bright and happy as possible the day following.

EVERY mother knows how insidiously constipation saps vitality. The moment your children's bowels fail to act, their bodies become easy prey to many serious ailments. By all means keep their bowels and your own—naturally regular by the use of Nujol—the pure, safe, drugless remedy which cannot harm the smallest child, and which thousands now use instead of harmful pil and physics. Remember that repeated dosing with strong laxative drugs dangerously weakens the na al bowel-vitality. Nujol relieves gently and thoroughly, without stimulation, griping or injurious reaction Nujol is palatable, healing and reliable. Be "regular as clockwork"—use Nujol

PENDED, IS VIEW FINDED, IS VIEW From the strategical points. There has been no trouble since, while the people have been very friendly to the soldiers and have given them hospitality which was unheard of in the Land League times. Ireland is enjoying a prosperity hitheroto unknown. She is the chief feeder for England. Her farmers are becoming rich. They are the backbone of the country, and rebellious events would destroy their prosperity. The Sinn Feiners, of course, are freconcilable. SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

IN MEMORIAL CHURCH

CLEAR UP ALL DEBTS

Special collections in the Cronyn Memorial Church yesterday wiped out a mortgage of about $$35 on the rectory property and a deficit making up a total of $1,500. In addition, there was a nice balance, nearly $200, in fact.

The deficit, by the way, was not due to any shrinkage in the revenue for the turned soldiers, and has three or four more settings to give away to returned men if they but ask.

It was decided at this meeting to hold the association's annual show this year during Thanksgiving week, and that event is to be held at the poultry building, Western Fair grounds. The names of Messrs. Oke, McNeil and Slessor have been sent forward to the Ontario Winter Fair Board, and from these the two judges allowed by the Government will be selected. If other years count, it is anticipated that a
