

Queen of the Arts

Foremost event of the Art Society's Caveman Capers last Friday night was the crowning of Arts Queen, Penny Watters.

An attractive 17 year old freshette from Beaconsfield, Quebec, Penny received her laurels from Dr. A. G. Bailey, Dean of Arts. Last year's Arts Queen, Miss Ursula Rodzewicz, presented the new empress with a gorgeous bouquet of roses.

Enrolled in Physical Education, Miss Watters is presently the Canadian Junior, Women's Gymnastics Champion.

22nd CUP Conference Stresses Press Freedom

A new charter for the student press in Canada was created during the 22nd annual Canadian University Press conference held in Quebec City during the holidays. 80 delegates representing 24 Canadian university newspapers attended the meeting as hosts of Le Carabin of Laval University.

Formulated after much heated discussion, the charter states in effect that student editorial opinion should be free from influence by outside bodies, including students' councils and university administrations.

National Magazine

National CUP President, Doug Parkinson, was directed to continue negotiations with the National Federation of Canadian University Students concerning the feasibility of establishing a bilingual national university magazine. With NFCUS picking up the tab, the proposed magazine will be brought out on a trial twice yearly basis.

The CUP presidency, which was confirmed as a full time paid job, was challenged by Arnold Amber, present editor of the University of Ottawa Fulcrum. The delegates re-elected Douglas Parkinson on a close vote of the final session of the Conference.

In a movement designed to raise $3,000, for support of CUP activities, a new registration fee scale for members was devised. The new fees will be based on a sliding scale according to university population.

Brunswickan Managing Editor, Don Redstone, was elected by acclamation as the CUP Atlantic Regional President.

Trophies Awarded

In the annual competition for the best paper in the twice-weekly or more class, the Western Gazette, University of Western Ontario, took Southam Trophy honours. The Silhouette, McMaster, was judged the best paper in the weekly class.

The Quartier Latin, University of Montreal, captured the remaining trophies for the best editorials, and best French language newspaper.

School Song Committee

chairman Steve Hart is getting rather desperate these days. Steve is the guy you see wandering around the campus mumbling, "Have you written a school song yet?"

In fact, Steve is getting so desperate with the January 31 deadline date fast approaching that last Sunday night he attempted to call the well known west coast song writer Sammy Cahn. Unfortunately, Mr. Cahn's telephone number was unlisted and our School Song Chairman was unable to make contact.

Nevertheless, there is still $200 in prize money waiting around for the writer or writers of a UNB song. Only four entries have been received to date.

All entries should be addressed to the School Committee and placed in Box "H" of the Arts Building.

'ROSE MARIE' MUSICAL MOST COSTLY PRODUCTION

The most expensive production ever presented in the history of UNB will take place during a two night stand at this year's annual Winter Carnival. The name of the extravaganza is the celebrated musical Rose Marie.

Dr. A. F. Trythall, musical director at UNB, and his popular choral society will be in charge of presenting this famous Hammerstein music. In all, there will be a 35 member chorus working with the rest of the cast.

Leads Announced

The production is in three acts and will have five scene changes against the background of the Canadian Northwest. Roger Cattlely of Vicki fame, will fill the only comedy role in the play, while Ray Zerr and Grant McKenzie are expected to share the spotlight as male leads. The rest of the billing is not yet complete, but Producer Jerry Scarfe has stated "some last minute problems have come up, and I would prefer the rest of the names be withheld until a future date." He hastened to add, however, that the roles would be announced in the near future.

Sets Specially Designed

Assistant Chairman Ian Ferguson said that Professor Alvin Shaw has done a terrific job designing the sets for the production. The sets have been specially scaled down to fit into the Fredericton High School auditorium. The largest set in the musical will be that of a saloon. Mr. Ferguson said that set designer Prof. Shaw has completed stage specifications for this task to near perfection. Stirl Gorham is faced with the gigantic task of building all properties for Rose Marie.

One distinctive feature of this year's show will be an organ accompaniment for part of the production. Plans are already in progress for required additional orchestration. The organ will be specially transported from outside Fredericton for the show.

Rose Marie is slated to first appear on Wed., February 3rd, one evening prior to the official Carnival opening. The second and final performance is to be on Friday, Feb. 5th. The play will be held in the FHS Auditorium. Admission will be limited to Carnival pass holders, as well as a limited number of separate admission tickets.

TO PRESENT BRIEF

Ottawa (CUP) — A student committee of UBC is preparing a brief on the financial problems of university students to be presented to the federal government early next fall.

Areas of study include scholarships, bursaries, loans and tax exemptions.

A spokesman for the joint NFCUS university administration committee stated that the executive "does not believe families must be forced to sacrifice unduly their standard of living because of the extremely high cost of helping their children attend university."

According to figures published by the DBS in 1957, the average student is able to save only $443 from summer and part-time employment. The cost of one year at the university is, on the average, $1212.

Two UNB Scholars Honoured

University authorities recently announced the names of the winners of two top scholastic awards.

Miss Marcella MacDonald, a senior Arts student at UNB has been granted a Rotary International Fellowship for post graduate studies.

The fellowship covers all expenses for one year at university. Miss MacDonald had a choice between the University of Oxford and the University of Melbourne in Melbourne, Australia. She has decided to study in Australia and is eagerly anticipating the trip.

Miss MacDonald is from New Glasgow, N.S. and is honouring in History and Political Science. She has made tentative plans to take graduate courses in Political Science.

An IODE scholarship, valued at $2,000, has been awarded to Miss May Ann Keith, Moncton, N.B.

Miss Keith has already obtained her B.A. from UNB, and is presently working on her Master of Arts in History at this university.

Her scholarship covers a year of post-graduate studies at the University of London, England. Miss Keith plans to study Diplomatic History.

... src finances ...

The preliminary spring budget meeting of the SRC will be held Wednesday, January 20.

All budgets and club books must be given to the SRC treasurer Ed Daughney by Friday, January 15. These may be left in the SRC office or the Lady Beaverbrook Residence.

Any club submitting a budget must be represented at the two budget meetings on the 20th and 27th.

Hot Toddy Time Carnival Finale

One of the many new features to be introduced at the fifth UNB Winter Carnival will be a gigantic Sugar Derby to be staged at Royal Roads Ski Hill on Sunday afternoon, February 7.

This exciting highlight will wind up the four day long round of activities, it was announced this week by Norm Goodridge, 1960 Carnival director. The scheme of the outdoor event is but one of the Winter Carnival Committee's new ideas of extending the annual UNB festival an extra day, and is rapidly reaching the final stages of the planning process.

Among the major events of the day will be the finals of the proposed Intercollegiate Ski Meet in the downhill slalom, and jumping. At the same time the Carnival Committee is encouraging all student amateurs to bring skis and toboggans and to get into the act themselves, only on a different hill than the more proficient jumpers.

If, however, students are not skiing or tobogganing enthusiasts, they will be able to take advantage of one of the three sleighs that the Committee will provide, and to take one of those old fashioned sleigh-rides virtually non-existent nowadays.

When the skiing, tobogganing, and sleigh-riding have all but exhausted the Carnival ticket holders, the Committee has prepared a special Hot Toddy Time when refreshments will be served.

FIFTH ANNUAL UNB WINTER CARNIVAL FEBRUARY 3-7, 1960

not the kind of refreshments that will do anything to infringe upon the liquor legislation, but refreshments such as coffee, hot chocolate, and hotdogs.

Highlighting the day's entertainment will be a torchlight parade down the slopes of the hill, the ski team members bearing the torches. In conjunction with this, a fireworks display will be held for the enjoyment of spectators.

The 1960 Carnival Committee has inaugurated this special day in an attempt to appeal to everyone. If some students do not want to participate actively, it is felt that they can enjoy a highly entertaining time by simply attending, enjoying the fresh air; and watching people smash toboggans into trees, trip over their skis, and fall off sleighs. The Carnival Committee is confident that this extra day will prove to be highly popular, and are consequently expecting a mass turnout.

Transportation by bus to and from the ski hill will be provided by the Committee. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock, and will conclude shortly after dark.

Letters to the Editor

Sir:

During the current academic year the Brunswickan has committed many sins. Among the most serious of these has been the sin of omission. This is evidenced by the complete lack of any critical remarks concerning the two major productions recently undertaken by UNB students, The Red 'N' Black Revue and the Drama Society's The Mousetrap.

My remarks are not directed against these productions themselves; only the treatment they received in your pages. It seems strange to the average student that in issues previous to these shows, story after story contained nothing but more and more publicity for them (free or paid for, I do not know). But once we had an opportunity to see these presentations, the Brunswickan did not live up to the obligation of the press to review them. Indeed, those on campus who wanted reviews of campus productions had to turn to The Daily Gleaner! I do not know whether the absence of such reviews in our campus paper was an unfortunate oversight on the part of the features staff of the paper or simply because the Brunswickan policy under the current editors does not deem such articles to be newsworthy.

With Winter Carnival approaching, as well as another Drama Society production, I trust that the Brunswickan will fill a real need and supply reviews for the student body.

A Name in the News

Her Name Is Penny

Good things come in small packages. At least that seemed to be the opinion of the Arts Faculty when they elected pert, blue-eyed Penny Waters as their Queen, shortly before Christmas.

A native of Montreal, Penny came to UNB because of the excellent reputation of its Physical Education Faculty and because she wanted to live in residence. In her high school days, she attended John Rennie High School in Point Claire, Quebec.

Penny's ambition is to be an airline stewardess for a year or so, then to teach in an elementary school. After that . . .

Gymnastics and athletics are Penny's chief interests, and she is now an active member of the newly-formed UNB Gymnastics Club "The Red Rollers". Other interests include Cheer Leaders and the Ski Club.

Seventeen-year old Penny is 5' 3" tall, and weighs 110 well-distributed pounds. Asked if she were enjoying life at UNB, she replied that she was really having a good time, and that "It's a wonderful place."

Payola On Campus

In the adjacent column there appears a letter in complaint of the fact that the Brunswickan did not review either the Red 'n' Black Revue or the Drama Society production of The Mousetrap. The writer asks whether this was "an unfortunate oversight on the part of the features staff of the paper or simply because the Brunswickan policy under the current editors does not deem such articles to be newsworthy."

Neither reason offered by the writer is correct.

Reviewing a play, a musical comedy, or a revue is much the same as any other newspaper assignment. It involves work while the actual presentation is occurring. Notes on individual performances, on the sets, on costumes and on various other technical devices employed must be made as they are seen—not reflected upon from memory. For this reason the reviewing of presentations such as the Red 'n' Black Revue and The Mousetrap is a task for the reviewer. It does not allow him to sit back and enjoy the play, then pen his plaudits and criticisms sometime later—on the basis of a general overall impression. The fine points must be noted as they are seen.

This, then, brings us to the explanation of why the two aforementioned presentations did not pass before the reviewing stand of the Brunswickan. The reason is simple and the question is hardly academic. We did not receive tickets to the productions. Therefore, why should we pay for our material which is, in effect, what we would be doing if we were to purchase admissions for our reviewers into the productions.

Let us turn back briefly the pages of the Brunswickan of last semester. The issue of November 24 contained two pages devoted entirely to the Red 'n' Black Revue. Our remuneration for that endeavour: a faint "thanks"—no tickets. Came The Mousetrap and we developed into the largest portion of cheese in said trap by devoting our columns to four stories on the play. We would have carried a fifth, a review of the play—had our reviewers received tickets.

This is the reason why our reviewers have stood idly in the wings while the curtain has risen and fallen on two campus productions.

What we are advocating in this presentation of complimentary passes to the press might, of course, be interpreted as a form of payola. But payola in this form would seem to serve a very definite and useful purpose. It would provide a reader service. Readers want to read reviews and it should therefore be the duty of every organization presenting a production of some type to provide the press with admissions to their productions.

When this form of payola is instituted by these organizations, then the Brunswickan will begin carrying reviews of their productions

IN IRON ORE . . .

A FUTURE

Well established and stable, the Iron Ore Company of Canada and its Associates are at the same time pressing forward a vigorous development programme of significance to the country. By participating in this growth, a young engineer may hope to use his imagination and resourcefulness while finding the professional satisfaction that is possible in a mature operation.

Operations of the Iron Ore Company of Canada and its Associates include: the open pit mines at Schefferville, Que. (Knob Lake); the complete railroad system of the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway; and the terminal shipping facilities at Sept-Iles, Que., where ore may be moved on to vessels at the rate of 100,000 tons every 24 hours. Among the newest developments of the group is an important mining and beneficiating undertaking, Carol Project, north of Sept-Iles, destined to process 6 million tons of ore a year.

Geologists or engineers — mechanical, electrical, metallurgical, civil and mining — are invited to visit the representatives of the Iron Ore Company of Canada and its Associates when they come to your campus on January 14 and 15.

Festival of the Arts running this week

"Everyone is welcome." This, as in other years, is the theme of the eighth annual Festival of the Arts. It is running this year from Jan. 11 to 18, with all programs except the first in the Art Centre.

The festival got underway last evening with the second of Mr. Goodridge Robert's lectures, and an opening reception afterwards in the Art Centre.

This evening, photography "takes the floor", with a program of colored slides presented by the Camera Club, beginning at 8 pm. A social hour will follow.

Wednesday evening, Mr. Mike Loach is being featured in a program of folk music. He will accompany himself on the guitar. This entertainment gets underway at 8.30 pm.

Reading from Shakespeare by Alvin Shaw and Mike Gordon highlight Thursday evening. This program begins at 8.30 pm.

Drama gives ways to the marionettes on Friday evening. At 8 pm, a program featuring two plays, "Jack and the Beanstalk", and "The Surprising Story of Alfred" will begin.

Poetry is featured on Saturday evening. Mr. Irving Layton, a distinguished Canadian poet, will give readings from his poetry, beginning at 8.30 pm.

Sunday afternoon, local literary talent has an airing at a reception at 3.30 pm. Student contributors to the Arts' magazine "Intervalles" will read selections from their own work.

Sunday evening, from 8.30 to 11.30 pm, a program of recorded music will be presented. These recordings have been donated by various artists who have appeared in the Arts' Committee Concerts, during the past years.

The Fredericton branch of the Canadian Humanities Association is sponsoring a lecture on Monday evening, at 8.30 pm. Dr. Morris Engel, a member of the Philosophy Department, will lecture on "The Nature of the Yiddish Drama."

Not only are these outstanding programs being presented during the Festival of the Arts, but exhibits will also be on display. Photographs, paintings, handicrafts and publications exemplifying cultural activity on the campus will be on display in the Art Centre during the entire festival. A good deal of credit should be extended to Miss Lucy Jarvis, director of the Art Centre, for her efforts in arranging the festival. The success of the endeavour, however, depends ultimately on the support of the student body. Remember — "Everyone is welcome."

THE HOTBED

Happy New Year! Compliments of the season! These are the greetings offered to us by the professors of UNB. We hope you had a good "vacation" they say. "Vacation"? Hmmm. What does this word mean? Webster's dictionary says that a vacation is "a being free from a duty, service, etc."

However, here at UNB this word doesn't actually exist. Vacation to a good many of the Profs. means a time when the students can do a whole bunch of extra reading, essays, and a lot of studying for finals.

How many UNB students got indigestion because they had to gobble their yuletide turkey so they could bat off an essay or two before bedtime. It is rumoured that the fifth year Engineers were more than a little concerned because they had two final exams to write the week they returned after Christmas. They must have had a real fun-filled holiday, using formulas, designs and calculations in their cocktails, and slide-rules for their swizzle sticks.

Seriously, if the Profs. want students to work during the celebration of this sacred festive season they should not call it a vacation which is a time to be "free from duty, service, etc." They should wish us a very pleasant time during the UNB Winter Works Programme. Hotbed thinks they should not give any work to students. Oh well, such is the price of education at UNB—along with the high cost of room and board.

The next time a Prof. says, "Compliments of the season! Have a good vacation—and by the way you do a few theses for me in your spare time"—well, we at UNB will know enough to take this with a large grain of salt. Won't we?

* * * * *

It seems that the Winter Carnival committee is having collective ulcer trouble because of difficulties regarding the Queen contest in the fast-approaching Winter Carnival. Plans were made last spring to give the students a chance to see a bit more of their queens (no pun intended). They planned to have a show run more along the lines of the Miss Canada contest. It was expected by the Committee that the queens would appear before a student audience prior to the Carnival and they would (1) express a talent such as singing, dancing, etc. (2) they would walk across the stage in evening dress (3) and they would walk across the stage in bathing suits. As usual the Carnival Committee was a bit naive. Administrative pressure has already forced them to drop the bathing suit bit and the other two events were still under administrative survey at press time.

Hotbed will not offer an opinion as to whether the cancelling of the bathing suit contest was a wise move. Some sources say that it is cheap to wear bathing suits, while at least one committee member has called this attitude medieval. However, it is the principle of the matter that is annoying.

It is supposedly the students at UNB who are putting on this carnival—not the administration. The Carnival committee should be the group that determines policy—not the administration. Yessiree, the changing times have certainly reached UNB.

Twenty Countries at Model UN

The Second Annual UNB Model United Nations will sit in the Legislative Assembly Chamber on January 15th and 16th. It is expected that about twenty countries will be represented by approximately forty delegates. The Assembly is again being sponsored by the UNB World University Service of Canada Committee.

Proceedings will get underway on Friday evening with the election of the Assembly president, Dr. K. B. Sayeed of Pakistan. This will be followed by the Report of the Secretary-General, Mr. Lewis Perinbam, former General Secretary of W.U.S.C. Mr. Perinbam is presently associated with UNESCO.

After this, debate will begin on a Russian-sponsored resolution rumored to be dealing with some aspect of the Caribbean situation. Georgi Bastinski, member of the USSR delegation, was very non-committal when asked the exact nature of the proposal to be put forward, but he said it would undoubtedly be supported by all "truly peace-loving countries." Debate on this subject will, in all likelihood, continue into the Saturday morning session.

After the Soviet proposal has been voted upon, a Canadian resolution dealing with the internationalization and peaceful uses of space will be considered. This debate will wind up the Saturday morning session and be carried over to the afternoon sitting.—Adjournment at approximately 4.30 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

There will be a meeting of delegates in the All-Purpose Room of the Student Centre at 7.30, Tuesday evening (Jan. 12). All delegations should have a representative at this meeting. All interested newcomers are invited as there are still a few delegations unfilled.

WUS Note

The Summer Seminar is to be held this year in Israel. All third year students and any senior or post-graduate students who are returning to this university are eligible. Application forms are available from Zeta Rosenberg, and they and all relevant documents must be returned to Dr. Bailey, Chairman of the Selection Committee, by January 20th. RAIDERS ROMP TO 75-53 WIN

The Red Raiders gained their second victory in the North-east College Conference Friday evening when they overpowered Fort Kent Normal School 75-53. The Red and Black squad led from the opening whistle and were never behind throughout the game. Raiders were assured of their victory early in the second half when they went on a scoring spree.

Leading the UNB scoring in Friday's game was Francis McHugh with 14 points. He was closely followed by Bob Baber and Don Morgan who netted 13 and 11 points respectively. Ken Pelletier of Fort Kent topped all scorers on both teams with 22, as he led his team in a losing cause. A total of 41 fouls were called in the game by referees Bill Ritchie and Malcolm Early. UNB was credited with 20 while Fort Kent was tagged with 21. Raiders proved to be the most successful of the foul line as they sank 17 for 32 while the visitors made good on 16 out of 26 free throws.

If the performance which the Raiders put forth in this game is any indication of their showing in the future they should have a very successful season in their quest for the Maritime Intercollegiate Championship.

In the preliminary exhibition game, the highly rated Nashwaaksis Nationals won over Vern Ireton's Junior Varsity squad 66-45. All players figured in the scoring for both teams. Guy Collins set the pace for UNB with 13 points. The Nats' Harry Niles led all scoring with 20 points. The Junior Varsity squad collected 13 points on 19 tries at the foul line while the Nats made on only 8 out of 20.

This week-end the basketball games should arouse much enthusiasm for UNB sport fans. Friday evening the Red Raiders clash with the Moncton North Americans, a highly rated Senior "B" team, while the J.V.'s meet St. Joseph's University in a preliminary exhibition game. On Saturday both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams from Ricker visit the campus. Game time for the J.V. fixture is 2.30 pm, while the Conference game is set for 4:00 pm.

NORTHEAST COLLEGE CONFERENCE

The UNB Red Raiders win Friday night moved them into fourth place in the Conference Standings after a very slow start in the season openers. Prior to the Christmas Holidays, the Raiders dropped games to Husson College 94-79, and Washington State Teachers College 86-63. Fort Kent was defeated 77-75 by the Raiders before dropping the game the following night to Aroostock State Teachers College 102-59.

Devils, Army Battle To 6-6 Tie

The UNB Red Devils opened the new year last Saturday night at the Lady Beaverbrook Rink with a hard fought 6-6 tie in an exhibition game with the 3rd Royal Canadian Horse Artillery squad from Camp Gagetown.

The scoring was confined to the first and last periods with seventeen penalties being called throughout the contest by referee Wif Miles, nine of them going to the boys from the hill.

Varsity Game

On Thursday evening the UNB Girls' Basketball Team, the Red Bloomers, will play their first home game against St. Stephen High School. Game time is at 7:00 o'clock.

The line-up will include forwards, Dede Smith, Jo-Ann Carr, Eileen Stiven, Barb Barnes, Elaine Mooers and Sandra Pomeroy. Guards, Laureen MacElmon, Biddy Wilson, Doady Armstrong, Lorraine Gardiner, Sharon Bickle and Elaine Ross.

ahead 1-0 early in the period. The lead held up for only a minute as the army men rushed back with three unanswered tallies in as many minutes. Johnson scored on a solo effort down the boards, firing a shot which caught goalie Stan Porter by surprise: Boyce and W. Vantassel rounded out the period scoring for the horsemen. Before the stanza ended the Devils came from behind to score the equalizer. Don Feeney bent the twine on a perfect pass from Richard Clark and then Norm Bolitho clicked to end the period in a 3-3 deadlock.

Second Period

There was no scoring in the period as both goaltenders came up with some outstanding saves. The action was highlighted by end to end rushes with an abundance of hard checking. In the final minutes of play UNB put on the pressure and it appeared as if the Devils might pull ahead but army goalie Allingham was spectacular as he turned away the barrage of shots.

Third Period

Totten put the army ahead in the early minutes of the final stanza but the lead was short-lived. UNB fought back with two goals in less than a minute to pull ahead 5-4. Cloutier scored his second of the night and then Curry McCarthy clicked on a pass from Frank Barteaux.

The spirited cavalry-men charged with G. Shea leading the attack with two goals, again putting them into the driver's seat 6-5. The tide turned a minute later with Tom Jarrett blinking the light on a rush with Morrow and Barteaux to score tying goal of the game.

The results of the game showed the steady improvement of the Red Devils as they prepare for the Intercollegiate League games which begin this month.
